Abstract	As a teacher in the Lansing school district, Mrs. Trebilcock gave her students at Everett elementary the assignment of writing to their favorite authors. This collection contains the responses to some of those letters, as well as material on Laura Ingalls Wilder that Trebilcock herself likely collected.

Preferred Citation

[Item], The Hazel Trebilcock Collection, Forest Parke Library & Archives, Capital Area District Library.

Biographical Note

Hazel (Paulic) Trebilcock was a 5th grade teacher at Everett elementary school in Lansing in 1953, when the letters from her students were written.

Arrangement

Records organized by the children's author's last name, with the first box also containing a piece of correspondence from Hazel Trebilcock. The second box contains materials related to Laura Ingalls Wilder only.
