Vander Ven Resigns As Superintendent

Comty News

James H. Vander Ven, superintendent of Mason public schools for the past 18 years, is stepping down, after more than 40 years in the field of education.

He announced this week he has notified the board of education he will not renew his contract. It expires July 1, 1964.

He said he and Mrs. Vander Ven plan to move to the western part of the state and that his plans for the future are as yet uncertain.

It has never been his policy, he said, to remain in a city where he has been superintendent because he believes his successor should have a free reign to handle the superintendency as he sees fit. Vander Ven came to Mason from South Lyon in 1946, after 12 years as superintendent of the South Lyon schools.

When he came to Mason the school district was only 4 square miles in size. Now it is 105. There was one school here-the Jefferson Street school which is now the Mason junior high school. It contained all elementary grades and the 4 grades of high school. Kindergarten classes were taught in a residence across the street from the school.

During his superintendency, Mason built 3 elementary schools and a new high school. The elementary schools are new Steele Street, Cedar Street and Alaiedon.

In 1946, Mason's school enrollment was about 700 pupils, and the teaching staff was less than the number of teachers now employed in the junior high school alone. Today the enrollment in Mason schools is approximately 3,000 pupils and the teaching staff numbers well over 100.

Vander Ven began his teaching career in 1920, at Hesperia, Michigan. He remained there a year and then took over a one-room school at Claybanks township in Oceana county. In 1922, he enrolled at Hope college at Holland where he received his bachelor of arts degree in 1926. He received his master's degree from the University of Michigan in 1937.

After graduation from Hope, he taught in Oceana county during 1926 and 1927, when he accepted a post as principal of the North Holland school at Holland, Michigan. After 7 years there he became superintendent at South Lyon.

During his years in Mason he has played a leading part in the educational life of the city and also in the civic life. He was elected to and served on the Mason charter commission and as a member of for the boys and girls of Mathe session of the Mason Presbyterian church for 6 years, 3 as secretary, and was a mem- and girls are worthy of the ber of the church building nouncement at a meeting of the board last Wednesday night. He said it was difficult for him to make the decision to step down, but that he believed it to be for the best. He expressed his best wishes son and said, "Mason will have a good school; the boys best.

Mason's play didn't have the sharpness Saturday night that it had Friday night in taking Okemos but the edge was sharp enough to cut down O'Rafferty 70.65.

The win coupled with the Okemos loss to Haslert puts the Bulldogs right back in the Capital Circuit race.

Mason started strong against the raiders, moving to a 25-15 first-quarter lead on the shooting of Stu Thorburn and Mike Combs.

In the second quarter Don Wright and Gary Jackson joined in the bombardment and Mason appeared on its way to an easy win, but the Raiders had other ideas.

Taking a 45-31 lead into the second half, Mason suddenly lost its scoring punch. The Raiders whittled away at the lead until it was reduced to 57.47 at the three-quarter mark, Still the Raiders came

The issue was in doubt right up until the final minutes when Mason went into a stall and the Raiders became overzealous in trying to get the ball. Three times Combs was fouled and 6 times he stepped to the foul line and dropped the shots. That's the story of the game. O'Rafferty just couldn't do any more gaining. ## Raiders Raid In Overtime O'Rafferty picked up a victory Friday night, a rare thrill for Coach George Fox and his boys. They topped Haslett 75-72 in an overtime after a crowed pleaser for the first 4 quarters.

Larry Shoemaker gave life to the Haslett cause when he dumped in a shot to send the game into an overtime. The tie at the end of regulation play climaxed a long rally in which the Lakers ate up a 15-point third-quarter Raider lead.

By Nancy Brown Pictures were taken last week for the yearbook and individuals. Retakes will be taken in 3 weeks. The pictures and year book will be back before spring vacation in A student council meeting was last Wednesday during first hour. At the meeting dance prices were raised to 30 cents per person. The next dance was announced for February 15 and will be a Valentine dance. Treasury was reported as $66.51 in the red. The talent assembly, consisting of local talented students, will be given early in February.

A display of books was in the library for the past week. Mrs. Ferris is the librarian. This is the second week of the first 6 weeks in the second semester. Report cards are to be returned no later than Thursday.

An honor society under the sponsorship of Mrs. Stid met on Tuesday at 12.

Freshmen Stop Okemos

Mason freshmen snowed under Okemos Thursday night 64.28. The game didn't start out as a runaway. At the end of the first quarter Mason trailed 12-10 but a big second period shoved the Bulldogs in front and they coasted home from there.

Paul Allaire was the big shooter for Mason with 24 points on 11 field goals and 2 free throws.

Butch Brumbaugh was next with 14 and Brian Doolittle came through with 13. Hassell was the only Okemos player in double figures. He hit for 12.

Mason Bowler

Harry Colby, Mason bowler, has a chance to bowl his way to 2 weeks in the Bahamas.

Colby came in first in the Lansing area roll-off for the March of Dimes bowling extravaganza. Next for him is the state tourney at Benton Harbor. He rolled games of 198-232-198 for a 628 actual and with his handicap jumped the total to 676.

Wilma Shinevar won sixth place money in the women's section. She came up with a 600 series.

300 Teachers Plan Meeting In Mason

Approximately 300 teachers will gather at Mason senior high school Wednesday, February 12; at a teachers institute of selected schools of Ingham county.

Schools to be represented will include Mason, Williamston, Leslie, Dansville, Webberville, Maple Grove, Island and White Dog.

The opening session, starting at 9:30 a.m., will include a symposium on teacher tenure. Speakers will include Dr. James Heald, school of education, Michigan State university; Howard Nunn, superin-

Men To Host Program

Thursday night, February 6, the Men's Council of Mason Presbyterian church has planned a potluck dinner. Their, guests will be men from the Mason Methodist and Mason Baptist churches.

The dinner is scheduled for 6:30 with the program for the 'evening beginning at 7:30.

Judge James Kallman is the speaker for the evening and will talk about Bible Reading in Public Schools.

All men attending should take their own table service and a dish to pass.

Steele PTA Gains 27

Fifty-seven parents and teachers attended the Steele Street PTA meeting at the school Monday evening.

Mrs. Mary Hannah, from the Michigan State library, spoke to the group about children's books and presented a film on school libraries in action.

Mason residents are fortunate in having both the Ingham county and Michigan State libraries in this area. There are over one million Michigan residents living in sections of the state not serviced by a library of any kind. Mrs. Hanna explained some of the State library facilities available to the public. Her talk was followed by a question and answer period.

Twenty-seven new members attended the meeting this

Shopper Didn't Like Treatment

This week on Tuesday afternoon I was shopping in Mason for an article of clothing. I had tried 2 previous places and could not find what I needed for a coming special event. Courtesy and consideration was given in the first 2 places. I then continued on el. down to the next store. I went into the store and was approached by a gracious looking lady. you cannot do this, then you

I soon learned later her should retire like your businame. I told her what I was looking for and she showed me what she had in the line of a black blouse. The 2 she had were nice, but not suitable for what was needed. While I was considering the one blouse, she sarcastically suggested that I try an exclusive shop in East Lansing, and very nasty-like informed me she didn't have anything I wanted and refused to sell

Filter Tip Lounges

My thought for the week; Why blame our children for adopting the cigarette habit when our educators have asked for millions of dollars in bond issues with some of that money used so that educational institutions may have a beautiful filter tip lounge for teachers? Harry H. Doesburg

John Mitchell Says:

Be Proud Of Your Home Town

By Charlotte Camp LESLIE — "By golly, a man should be proud of the town he lives in, and I am." That's what John M. Mitchell, retired merchant, says about Leslie, where the interests of the community are also his life. He has served on the village council and was president of the school board.

'One Leslie resident said, "John Mitchell keeps the rest of us on the ball. He is always encouraging his fellow citizens to take an interest in local government issues and to be a part of them."

Mitchell wants his home town to present a neat appearance and to further this desire, he has constructed one new building which houses a restaurant, and has installed modern fronts on 2 others he owns.

Leslie residents are well aware of several instances in which he bought homes and in

Moore's Open 'Doll House'

Sterle's restaurant on US-127 next door to the Bill Richards agency, Mason, is soon to be known as The Doll House.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Moore, who took over the place on lease just after Christmas, are planning to put up new signs announcing the new name of the eating place, which is open 7 days a week.

Moore, a resident of Mason for the past 12 years, is an employe of Wyeth Laboratories Inc. He will continue in his position there and operate the restaurant at night. Mrs. Moore will be in charge of the place during the day. The restaurant has a staff

"I like to see young folks own their own homes," he said. "it makes it better for them and also contributes to the stability of the community."

Mitchell, who is 79, celebrated his 3rd year of retirement on February 1, having spent 60 years in the business started by his father. Even before graduating from Leslie high school, Mitchell worked in his father's store, and he and his brother continued there afterward. During the ensuing years,

Smoking's Here to Stay

We fail to understand why it is that so many people fear that the tobacco industry will be damaged as a result of the recent report establishing the connection between smoking and lung cancer.

Some have even implied that the economy will be hurt, that the tobaccoproducing states will suffer, that radio, television and the newspapers not to mention outdoor advertising and magazines will be seriously affected by smaller advertising budgets since the tobacco industry is a major advertiser.

There is no precedent to indicate a decline in this industry because authorities have connected its product with lung cancer.

Take the liquor industry, for example. It is no secret that alcohol has been a physical problem as well as a social problem. It is much easier to prove to the satisfaction of all concerned that alcohol has wrecked bodies, lives and homes than it is to prove that smoking causes lung cancer, despite the overwhelming evidence. If 999 out of a thousand smokers developed lung cancer, some might continue to call it coincidence. Certainly it is no coincidence when alcohol wrecks marriages, careers and bodies.

marily the atheists . . . they are persons who accept the orthodox doctrine of hell, but remain indifferent and unconcerned.

The night after the lung cancer report was made public there was a radio program in which smokers were asked their reactions to the report.

Although scores of persons were interviewed, not one expressed an intention to abandon smoking. A few indicated they would like to quit, but quickly said they knew they wouldn't.

The reaction of most smokers was indignation. barbs, praise and consequence Dick Brown of the thousands of small contractors in the building trades who are faced with filling out a new form required by a new state law.

> There are no exceptions. Even contractors hiring 2 or less employes must comply. The law calls for registration, the prelude to regimentation in most instances of the past, and to take part in this mandatory reg-Istration the contractor, regardless of his business size, must cough up $35. All this is a part of the program of the state safety commission.

It's just another example of the ever-increasing heavy load the small businessman is asked to assume. No wonder he is going out of existence.

Here at The Ingham County News, we threw another party Saturday. This one was for Michigan's newspaper publishers, editors, their wives and staffers with the main item of interest a trip through the new plant and a view of new equipment.

Armed with fancy sandwiches and good coffee provided by Jim Glotta's catering service, visitors saw News personnel demonstrate the wonderful world of offset.

There's something invigorating about trading ideas with newspaper people from all over the state. They're as opinionated a bunch as can be assembled.

The visit was part of the annual Michigan Press association convention.

In another part of the convention the News was again a bridesmaid. We are proud of the fact that in general excellence the News placed third behind Lapeer County Press and the Tuscola County Advertiser. Competing with Lapeer and Tuscola is a challenge.

Here's a warning, though. They had better watch out next year. Monthe

All of which tends to prove the power of the fleshly nature over the will of a human being.

Behind these false fronts is one underlying reason for this behavior . . the people have become slaves to a habit. Whether or not they admit it, they are too weak to break the chain. Rather than admit their weakness, they put up many false fronts. They refuse to admit the danger. They pretend to value the habit even more than life itself. They pretend fatalism.

Perhaps the only value of the government report will be its effect upon serious-minded youths who have not yet developed the habit. If it can convince the next generation that smoking is a vice, is harmful, is of no social value, it will be worth its cost.

Let's Face The Parking Problem

Times are going to change in Mason. The change can be for the good or it can be for the bad. There will be no standing still.

Mason's geographic location at the crossroads of 3 of the state's busiest freeways, the advent of the ostepathic college and hospital facility 4 miles from the city limits, the general growth which is taking place in Ingham, the trend toward shopping centers and other factors are going to bring on the change.

Mason's uptown shopping area and the businessmen doing their retailing there need to take steps to see that the change is for the good. Right now is the time the initial steps should be taken in one area of change — the area of off-street parking.

Businessmen should not expect city hall to solve the problem. If the uptown business area is to hold its own in the coming era of business growth which everyone is expecting, businessmen are going to have to get in the battle and help themselves.

Parking is a problem and will continue to be one. Some plan to alleviate that problem should be initiated at once.

Here is an opener as proposed by 2 or 3 businessmen this last week.

Businessmen should form a parking authority corporation. This corporation should raise enough capital to buy the present city hall with the idea of tearing it town and turning it into parking area to be used in conjunction with the parking area plan proposed by the Mason State bank after the old theatre is torn down.

In the near future the present county jail will be utilized by the county for office space. Such a move by the county would probably mean that the county intermediate board of education will be moved out of its present leased quarters. Conceivably this building could be leased or purchased for much-needed city hall space.

Such a plan would provide offstreet parking. Such a plan would lick the city hall problem.

If this idea doesn't have merit, then some other idea will have to be developed.

How about it? Let's get the ball rolling so as to insure the continued growth and prosperity of Mason's uptown area.

Thoughts For The Week

Read Romans 12:1-13

I have laboured in vain, I have spent my strength for nought, and in vain: yet surely my judgment is with the Lord, and my work with my God. (Isaiah 49:4.)

IN his book Farthest North, the Norwegian explorer Nansen describes his plan and attempt to reach the North Pole. Others before him had struggled against the mighty ice current. But Nansen built the Fram, a ship especially designed to resist being crushed by ice. Sailing into the current, he moored the ship between two ice floes and then let her drift. Thus he went farther north by water than anyone else had been able to do.

This was the advantage-he had all the forces of nature helping him along instead of tugging at him and holding him back. He co-operated with nature, and nature helped him.

If we want to triumph in our work, we must place ourselves in the current of the power of God-work with Him. Man may boast of his power to do things; but when he becomes a fellow worker with God, man's achievements cannot but be infinitely greater than those accomplished in his own strength.

PRAYER: O God, we thank Thee for calling us to be fellow laborers with Thee. When we feel that we are face to face with tasks that are beyond our strength, reinforce us with Thy strength that we may go forward with confidence. Assure us that our labor is never fruitless when done for Thy sake, in Jesus' name. Amen.

THOUCHT FOR THE DAY

The wilderness can become a garden when we work together with God.

J. Clifford Mitchell (England)

Henry Ford gave me a new Ford over the week end. Well, sort of. Because of rare punctuality demonstrated by being among the first 50 newspapers to register for the Michigan Press association convention last week end, the News was given a new Ford to test drive for a week.

Actually, it was Lee Iacocca, general manager of the Ford division, and not Henry who gave the car. Iacocca was one of the speakers at the convention. He would have made a hit with his 50-car give-away plan even had his speech been humdrum. Which it wasn't. Iacocca stressed the importance the Ford company places on young people and why it is the after-school and youngmarried group that constitutes the biggest auto market.

But back to the free Ford. There are 50 newspapers in Michigan driving them this week. It was Iacocca who suggested that the cars be given out on the basis of early registrations.

He explained that he spoke at a banquet in New York a while back and the Ford company elected to. give out cars to banquet guests on the basis of numbers which had been taped to the bottoms of chairs prior to the banquet. Iacocca said that the announcement of the lottery turned the dignified event into a wrestling match. Ladies in gowns and gentlemen in tails were hoisting chairs over their heads in search of the numbers, casting gentility to the wind.

Roy Christensen had known about the gift destined for the News a week or so ago. One day when a carry-all truck unloaded a shipment of cars, a maroon Galaxie beauty stepped off the plank. There were no shipping orders and the Mason Ford dealership had no record of any customer waiting for such an automobile.

Thinking a Ford computer had started thinking for itself, Christensen called the factory, only to discover that Iacocca himself had sent the Ford to Mason for the News.

Monday morning after the convention we rushed to the Ford agency in Mason with the official letter from the general manager. We thought it would take some doing to convince Roy that the company general manager (he's also vice-president of the Ford Motor Co.) would be nuts enough to trust the News with a Ford for a week. But the Christensens were expecting us. The car had been polished to a breathtaking shine and we stepped into our Galaxie (with the fold-away steering wheel) as the Christensen staff fired away with the company camera.

Iacocca didn't know it, but we're really giving our new Ford a test drive. We're trucking papers off the new web offset press in the Ford trunk. I've had 6 kids in the back seat, we've christened the upholstery with a trip to MacDonald's Hamburger and we're planning a rugged shock test over Washington street from Columbia to Maple just to see what guts our Galaxie really has. This will be like driving across the High Sierras a la television commercial.

Salvage Elm Timber Now

Elm timber should be harvested before Dutch elm disease kills the trees, says Elton Twork, district forester at Mason. To sell it on the stump, one must have a quantity which will make it worthwhile for cutters to operate. It may be necessary for the owner to sell some trees of other species to increase the volume, so a deal to salvage the elm can be made.

This "sweetening of the deal," should be such that it doesn't become so good that the woodlot will be over-cut. The degree of harvest greatly affects the time when the next harvest-cut can be made Twork says, "Light cuttings made at shorter intervais leaves more good-growing stock and each cutting stimulates this to faster growth." A woodlot should be put in a condition whereby a harvest cut can be made at least every 10 years if timber growing is to be made profitable. It is possible to grow and harvest 3000 board feet per acre every 10 years, and continue to make such a harvest. This can be done as long as no more volume is removed than grew during the period between cuts.

Many owners will need the assistance of a forester if they are to manage their woodlots for higher values. Assistance is available through the Michigan department of conservation free of charge. The forester in your area can help you with tree planting, management of standing timber, harvesting and sale of timber and marketing of products.

This Kitchen "GREW" In A Bank Book!

THIS GLEAMING, modern kitchen began as an idea in the mind of a home-maker. It didn't really begin to take form, though, until somebody did something about it! What was done was to open a savings account with Mason State Bank with the specific objective of turning this idea into a reality. With each regularly scheduled deposit (plus interest) the totals kept growing. The kitchen, too, "grew up" ..... from just an idea to the real thing!

National Electrical Week, February 9-15, is indeed worthy of note. Just 85 years ago the magic of electricit) sprang forth to change the world with the invention of the first successful light bulb by Thomas Alva Edison.

National Electrical Week calls attention to the fact that without electricity and all the great services it performs, our present way of life would be virtually impossible! And, if you doubt that statement, you have simply to look around you ... on your job, in your home, on farms and in communities throughout the country to see the growth and progress and better living promoted by that dependable, economical servant, Reddy Kilowatt.

National Electrical Week is a good time to enjoy electricity ... to remember that its purpose is to serve you and industry. Remembering too, that in the future, as in the past, electricity's vital contributions will continue to increase America's strength and high standard of living . . . which at the present time is the best in the world.

* YES, PEOPLE WHO REALLY CARE ABOUT THEIR FAMILY... WANT TO LIVE BETTER ... AND THEY CAN LIVE BETTER ... ELECTRICALLY!

STOCKBRIDGE - The drive to obtain industry for Stockbridge progresses. Announcement of a committee for industry and procurement was made public this week by Ronald Fillmore, president of the Stockbridge Junior Chamber of Commerce. One of the first tasks of the committee when they meet this week will be to select a date for a proposed public meeting.

Present committee members are Ronald Fillmore, Donald Julien and Charles Bumpus, Fillmore said that the plan calls for the addition of more members to the committee, this to be done at the public meeting.

After the date has been set, the organization will then send out invitations to all village businesses and organizations and also the general public, in an effort to get everyone in town to attend the big, important meeting.

When parents at Stockbridge, of the he finally remembered where importance of attaining the he had left it and went to highest degree of perfection in look, it was still right where their studies. he had put it down.

The event, a banquet staged to honor the vocal and instrumental music departments and the debate and forensic classes of Stockbridge high school, took place last Wednesday evening in the Smith elementary school.

Cavender, who was introduced by Keith Saxton, toastmaster, told his audience how study and hard work can prove to be a great asset. In relating the experience of the trip by the U of M concert band to Europe, he said they were not permitted take all the band's members. In determining who would go and who wouldn't, it was necessary to resort to competition between some members of the group, and that some pretty good musicians missed the School Band trip of a lifetime by playing only one wrong note during Sets Concert the tryouts.

Cavender also said that the band left a tremendous impression on the people whereever they played. He said that people over there and particularly in the Soviet Union, simply could not believe that young students such as those in the U of M group could perform in such a flawless manner.

Cavender pointed out many things regarding the Russians which are seldom heard. For instance, the honesty that preFRANCES PROCTOR,

Mother Says 'No' To Car Request

THE WEEK'S LETTER: "I am 16 years old and my mother won't let me have her car to go out on dates and shows and other places young boys like to go. I have asked to have a car of my own, but she says 'NO'—I am too young. She won't even let me go out with other young boys my age and have any fun. I had chances to go out with other boys and hang around where there are lots of pretty girls. Do you think I should go places without her knowing it or wait until L get older?

until I get older? OUR REPLY: Respect your mothers wishes (and her authority --remember that you are her responsibility until you become an adult and take on your own responsibilities); but at the same time work to win her confidence. Prove to her by your manners and attitude that you are responsibleminded.

It may well be that your mother does not want to let you have her car, or one of your own, because she feels you want a car in order to spend all your time at some teenage hangout or roaring up and down the countryside.

True, this is a teenage hobby. Yet, the responsible teenager, should consider a car nothing more than a method of transportation a means of getting from one place to another.

Consider also the fact that your mother's refusal to let you go to some hangout with a bunch of boys doesn't necessarily mean she will not permit you to go to a movie with friends, perhaps even have a "date" for a party. If she won't let you have the car and insists on driving you herself, be grateful. It beats staying home. The best recommendation

The best recommendation we can make is that you work to win your mother's confidence. Don't go places without telling her. You'll get caught, sooner or later—and delay the day when you'll be trusted with the family car.

West was surprised to find the king of spades in the dummy when the hand was put down. West knew that South possibly held a singleton spade. This posed a problem as to what West could lead. West finally decided on the king of diamonds and when the trick held, West returned a small diamond. South trumped in the closed hand, finessed the king of hearts, then went to the dummy with the ace of hearts. South ruffed a club on the king of spades, ruffed a spade in his own hand, then ruffed the losing club in dummy to make the bid.

Comment: South was in a bad position. He actually had no good lead and should have considered this before doubling.

New Faces Cause Capitol Confusion

By Elmer E. White Michigan Press Association Changes Coming

Even seasoned observers of the state capitol arena will need a scorecard to tell the players in next year's legislative game.

This will be especially true in the state senate, which had a considerably high turnover in the past 4 years. Now many of the relatively new members of the upper chamber are setting their sights on higher goals.

The creation of an appellate court in the new constitution is drawing the eyes of at least 2 senators who have already announced their interest in one of the 9 seats still to be set down in districts.

New Congressional districts also are a big drawing card. At least 4 and possibly more senators are viewing a job in the Washington house.

Three others are known to be either retiring or seeking a higher state office.

To have 9 potential vacancies this early in an election year, when petition filing is still months away, is a rarity but perhaps a sign of the times. Political campaigns seem to begin earlier each successive election year.

House changes also will be many, but this figure is less firm because fewer members in that body have committed themselves: One element in the house, however, will cause an automatic dropout of at least a dozen members. The new constitution prohibits a legislator to be on the payroll of another governmental unit. House membership includes several school teachers, and a number of other city, township and county officers who must this year choose which public office they wish to maintain. The possibility of new districts in the state legislature also could open the door for major fights for these positions and the loss of still other imcumbents.

Needs and Opportunities Educators viewed Gov. George Romney's budget request in their area with relative optimism, but will be keeping an especially keen eye on the legislature this year where appropriations are cludes all vehicles. Busses rank nearly as high as passenger cars in average speeds, but trucks travel at a considerably lower pace, with just less than a 50 miles per hour average.

The average is pulled up sharply by passenger cars, at about 58.4 miles per hour, and busses at 56 miles per hour in the 1963 study. The "fast river" category is also on the upswing, the survey showed. The percentage of all vehicles which exceeded 65 miles per hour last year was 20.5 per cent, as compared to 15.8 per cent the previous year. Michigan's speed survey is not designed to draw conclusions about the total effect of motor vehicle speed, but rather to indicate the trend of travel in the state.

Department officials conduct the survey with radar machines set up at 25 daytime and 10 nighttime locations, using the same posts each year to eliminate variables in the test.

concerned. Romney's recommendations came closer to the higher education requests than any previous budget proposal.

The special interest in budgeted funds cames as the result of federal action on the $1.2 billion aid to education bill. The congress provided a one-third matching system under the act whereby state, local or private funds must supplement the federal aid.

The concern of Michigan's various colleges and universities was summed up well by John G. McKevitt, business and financial officer for the University of Michigan. "It remains to be seen whether the legislature provides the funds necessary to attract the federal grants over and above current appropriations, or whether it considers the federal constributions as an excuse for cutting back on state monies," he said.

Best estimates are that Michigan's more than 30 fouryear institutions could share $8 or $10 million a year under the aid to education program, if homebased funds were available.

Speed Studies If speed kills, as has often been said, a statistical survey by the State Highway Department would indicate the roadway slaughter will continue on the rise.

Bell set up his telephone, regarded by many as a toy, on a table in the Massachusetts educational building. Above the table, he placed a sign that read, "Telegraphic and Telephonic Apparatus by A. Graham Bell."

The day for the judging of the exhibits was a hot one in June. By the time the judges reached Bell's exhibit they were tired and bored. They had seen many exhibits and were probably anxious to go home.

The judges, hurriedly walking through the building, probably never would have seen Bell's telephone had it not been for the emperor of Brazil, Dom Pedro. The emperor had attended one of the in-ventor's lectures in Boston and when he saw Bell he called out to him. This greeting from an emperor caused quite a stir and attracted the attention of the judges to Bell's exhibit.

While Bell was explaining the telephone to Dom Pedro, the judges collected around the exhibit. Bell had strung a wire the length of the room, and to demonstrate the new Bruce Fowler has his roots well planted in Williamston, although he is not a native son.

For 33 years he has made Williamston his home. He came there with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fowler, now of East Jordan, when he was 12 years old. That was in 1933.

He was born in Detroit in 1921. His parents moved to Williamston to be with his grandmother. His grandfather had only recently died when they made the move from Detroit.

In 1937 the Fowlers purchased a fruit farm in Williamston. It later was subdivided and the Fowler home today is located in the subdivision at 308 S. Circle drive. Bruce Fowler enrolled in the Williamston schools and graduated from Williamston high school in 1938. Today he is mayor of his adopted city and is held in high esteem by his fellow citizens.

In August 1959 he was appointed to fill a vacancy on the city council. The following April he was elected to the post for a 4-year term. In 1961 he was chosen mayor of Williamston for 2 years and was reappointed for one year in 1963. Under the new city charter the city council must appoint a mayor each year.

In 1946 Fowler married his high school sweetheart, Bunny Barrows. The ceremony took place in Williamston and they went to California on a wedding trip.

Prior to that he attended Albion college for  $2\frac{1}{2}$ years in 1939, 1940 and 1941 and then entered the army in 1942 to serve in the European theater in World War II until 1946.

After his marriage he took up studies at Michigan State university in 1946 and graduated in 1947.

were down 13 per cent . . . Tax reduction to help spur economic growth will fail unless the government acts to improve farm income, says the National Agricultural Advisory commission.

After graduation he took a position with the John Bean company of Lansing and later was with the firm of Wood and Son in Williamston, where he remained until 1953 when he joined the district sales office of the Ford Motor company in Lansing where he now is zone manager.

The mayor and Mrs. Fowler and their children are a typical American family. They have common interests and are a strong family unit.

Fowler is an outdoor man and active in various sports. He played football and baseball while in high school and in his senior year was captain of the Williamston high school football team. Later at Albion he played freshman and varsity football.

His greatest hobby is golf, he says, but he also bowls and is an ardent sports enthusiast from the spectator standpoint.

But Fowler's first interest is in his home where he and Mrs. Fowler and their 5 children work, worship, sing and play together. Four of the 5 children are enrolled in Williamston schools. They are Judy, 15; Jan, 13; Tom, 11, and Patty, 9. Four-year-old Pam is too young just yet to go to school.

Because of the children the Fowlers have a great interest in school affairs and there is also a wide range of activities in the Fowler household.

Mayor Fowler is active in Williamston's recreation program and other civic activities in addition to holding the top post in city government. He and Mrs. Fowler and the children also are active in the Williamston Community Methodist church.

Because of the many duties connected with his work, his city government responsibilities and his family, he has never joined many lodges or clubs, he says, but does recall that in 1951 he was a charter member of the Williamston junior chamber of commerce which no longer is in existence, although the city does now have a flourishing senior Chamber of Commerce.

Mayor Fowler is proud of Williamston and Williamston is proud of the Fowlers who have played a prominent part in the growth and progress of the city over the years.

Farmers Recognize Soil Need

Four thousand Michigan landowners became soil conservation district cooperators in 1963, making it the biggest year for the 80 Michigan districts in their 26-year history. More than 41,000 cooperators are on district rolls, Russell G. Hills, Michigan State university extension specialist in soil and water conservation, said.

Hill, who is also executive secretary of the Michigan Soil Conservation committee, said that over 30,000 of these cooperators received technical assistance from the U.S. Soil Conservation Service. In 1963, Hill said, 17 million evergreen trees were planted on 17,000 acres, 815 farm ponds were built, nearly twice the number that were built in 1962, and soil surveys of 800,-000 acres were completed. In applying conservation practices, nearly 25,000 farmers received financial help by cost-sharing through the Agricultural Conservation program.

"Special interest was shown by cooperators in converting land to recreational use," Hill said.

"Fifty-six landowners changed from farming operations to recreational land use as a primary source of income, and 199 added some recreational facilities to supplement income."

District cooperation of the conservation programs was not limited to farmers. Cities and subdivisions received assistance on soil surveys, water control and erosion management.

School districts, planning commissions, zoning boards, townships and utilities obtained help with the management of their land through district cooperation.

Teachers were sponsored to attend conservation education schools. School classes, 4-H projects, FFA land judging and other youth activities were encouraged and assisted through district cooperation, Hill said.

Tours and other educational events were carried out for home management and adult groups with help from the Cooperative Extension Serv-

The number of farms operating in the U.S. last year declined another 3 per cent from the year before. At the beginning of 1964, the number of farms was estimated by the USDA at almost 3.5 million. Ten years ago there were about 37 per cent more farms operating in the U.S. The peak was back in 1925, when there were almost 6.5 million farms in existence. # Ingham Crime Rate Still Increasing

Ingham county crime is on the increase. That's the indication as presented by the annual report of Ingham county Prosecutor Leo Farhat, Farhat presented the report at Monday's meeting of the board of supervisors.

Farhat's report cited 2,388 criminal complaints and warrants handled by the office in 1963 as evidence of the increase in crime. His report pointed out that this represents an increase of 992 cases or a 70 percent jump over 1957.

Though 1963 did not showan increase in the commission of the most serious criminal offenses, it did, however, keep pace with the record high of 1962, and was far ahead of all previous years,

In the past year, the prosecutor's staff authorized 2 warrants for murder, 5 warrants for negligent homicide, one for manslaughter, 5 for armed robbery, 34 for breaking and entering, 37 for criminal assaults (which include assault with intent to murder), 40 for felony non-support, 148 felony warrants for bad #### checks, 67 warrants for felonious larcenies. 47 warrants on morals charges, 25 warrants for car thefts, 12 for fraud and deceit, 2 for kidnapping, and one warrant for possession of narcotics.

Crimes such as these, by their very nature, require more effort in the preparation of complaints and warrants and researching the legal problems. There are more witnesses to interview and lengthy police reports that must be reviewed in order to reasonably insure that we have the proper evidence when it comes time for trial. A total of 805 warrants for felonies and circuit court misdemeanors was authorized in 1963.

The staff of the prosecutor's office serves all the various magistrates courts throughout the county. In 1963, 394 examinations on circuit court misdemeanors and felonious matters, 477 non-jury trials and 73 jury trials were scheduled in 8 lower courts within the boundaries of the county, all of which show a decrease in the lower court trial area, due in part, no doubt, to a lack of personnel during the year to handle cases as they should have been.

MMPA Negotiates A New Price Pact

Southern Michigan dairy farmers and milk dealers have reached agreement on a new one year premium price contract.

The agreement came at the third meeting of dairy spokes-men and negotiators for Michigan Milk Producers association and other cooperatives early in the morning of Janu-ary 31, the day the old contract expired.

The new pact guarantees farmers a fixed price of $4,97 per hundred pounds of Class I (drinking milk) sold in Detroit during the next 12 months, and that price less a zone differential in other southern Michigan cities, This is 4 cents higher than the average price paid for Class I milk last year.

In recent years the prices paid farmers varied during the year on a long-standing belief that it cost less to produce milk in summer than in winter. Modern farming methods, under which cows are often kept in feed lots year around. have leveled production costs, however, and have made the seasonal pricing concept obso-

the full year through negotiations is a major advance," said Glenn Lake, president of MMPA and chairman of the dairy farmers' bargaining group. "The increase in price, while not as much as we would have liked, assures Michigan dairy farmers of the highest negotiated premiums in the nation, and assures that they will share to some degree in the prosperity forecast for the coming year.

"With the prospect of im-proved milk sales in 1964, and indications that production will continue to level off; we believe the outlook for dairy farmers is somewhat better than it has been in recent years," Lake said.

Premium prices negotiated by the cooperatives will average a record 88 cents per hundred pounds more than farmers would get for Class I milk under the Federal Milk Marketing Order.

Total value of this premi-um to southern Michigan dairy farmers is estimated at $17 million — a million dollars more than they got through negotiated premiums during

Red Grain Clogging Shipping

The movement of grains from this country to Russia is causing some real transportation problems. There's not only congestion and long delays in loading ships at many leading U.S. ports, but unloading grain from ships in Soviet ports is slow with long waits holding up ships there. Some U. S. ship owners have lost interest in the Soviet wheat deal because of the great loss of time at both the loading and receiving ends. Some of our biggest tankers, which operate at the lowest costs. can't navigate Russian ports. They draw over 34 feet of water. But most of the Russian ports can't handle ships that draw over 31 feet of water. This may be a significant factor in using more foreign ships to transport Russian wheat purchases from the U.S.

How Creep Feeding may Consumers Plans

help your cattle profits

Lots of cattlemen in this area have found it pays to creep feed their calves. Helps the calves, and their mamas, too.

Here's proof from work with 2800 head of cattle where calves were fed Purina Creep Rations:

1. 34% more choice and good grade calves.

- 2. Heavier calves. Every 10 calves creep-fed Purina returned weight equal to one extra calf. (No extra cow to breed, feed and care for, either.)
- 3. Better cow condition. Cows suckling creep-fed calves carried 44 lbs. of extra condition.
- 4. This extra condition meant 16% more calves the following season.

That's a big return for just a little outlay in creep feeding the Purina Way. Come

Questionnaires Sent Out

Quiz Landowners on Opening Elk Hunting

Conservation Department questionnaires have been mailed to some 800 private landowners in the northern Lower Peninsula's Pigeon River area to get their opinion about a possible elk hunting season.

The survey comes under the Department's accelerated yearold research study which indicates that the area's growing elk herd will soon have to be controlled.

In the questionnaire, landowners are asked about elk damage to their crops, trees, and other values. Property owners are quizzed on how many elk they would like to

Taxpayers Are Reminded Of Refunds

Taxpayers are reminded of the plan allowing them to take federal tax refunds in U.S. savings bonds, by R. I. Nixon, district director of the internal revenue service,

Taxpayers due refunds can choose between Savings Bonds and a check began last year. Nixon stated that during the 1963 filing period 11,099 Michigan taxpayers took advantage of the optional tax refund have in their individual areas.

Department field studies reveal that elk and deer compete for limited winter food supplies. The questionnaires also cover this situation.

The survey asks that deer, elk, farming, and timber be rated on the basis of their importance to each owner in managing the Pigeon River area. It also poses the question as to what extent owners would allow elk hunting on their lands.

Skilled Help In Demand

"Skilled farm workers will be in growing demand by 1970," says Art Mauch, agricultural economist at Michigan State university.

"Agriculture has become a skilled occupation and can no longer be considered the last resort or dumping ground where one can get along who can't work elsewhere," he says.

Even the chance of finding work as a hired farm hand will be less for the person lacking education or a particular skill by 1970. Yet a ready supply of farm-trained youth should be available as 9 of every 10 farm youths are forced to seek jobs other than farming for themselves. Only one of 10 farm youth can expect to enter farming on a profitable scale by 1970.

School superintendents Ingham county will gather in Mason Thursday for a meeting of the superintendents roundtable in the offices of the Ingham intermediate board of education, 147 W. Maple street, at 1 p.m. The meeting will be preceded by a luncheon at Turney's restaurant.

In an action last October the Intermediate board of education asked the superintendents organization to nominate some of its members to serve on an advisory committee to evaluate suggestions which may be made by schools for new services requested of the intermediate district.

Later the superintendents group decided the entire group would constitute itself as a committee of the whole for this purpose. A portion of the special meeting Thursday will give opportunity for the group to function in this way, Alton J. Stroud, intermediate superintendent, said.

The group also will discuss developments to date with respect to area vocational schools.

ASE

The superintendents will meet again Tuesday night at the high' school in Webberville when the availability of tax funds for the 1964-65 school year will be discussed. Speakers will include Jack Patriarche, city manager of East Lansing and chairman of the ways and means committee of the Ingham county board of supervisors, and Max Cochrane, a financial consultant of the Michigan department of public instruction. Robert Robinson, supervisor of Meridian township, also is expected to appear on the program.

Vocation Schools Discussion Topic

Prospective legislation in relation to area vocational schools was presented by Ben Leyrer, principal of Everett high school, Lansing, to school superintendents of Ingham county at a meeting in the offices of the Ingham Intermediate board of education here Thursday.

Leyrer said bills are to be introduced in the Michigan legislature shaped to provide for area vocational schools and tying in with federal statutes regarding such schools.

Chance to Boost Local Economies

Michigan has a bargain-priced opportunity to lay the groundwork for greater wood use and economic growth in local areas under a three-year survey to be started by the U.S. Forest Service early in 1964. The forest inventory, originally planned to provide information on a statewide scale, can be intensified with state funds to yield much-needed facts and figures on a county-bycounty basis. Such a detailed survey would answer questions to promote better industrial planning by communities, and show the way for development of new and existing wood-using firms. The Forest Service will contribute $321,000 toward the study, reducing Michigan's share of the cost to $146,000. Conservation Department foresters look upon this figure as a very small investment compared with its potential returns to an industry that already adds more than $700 million a year to the state's economy. The Department is seeking a legislative appropriation of $52,000 to launch the first year of this work .--- Mich. Dept. of Conservation

Williamston Police Have a Busy Year

liamston police han released a summary of the department's activities for the yearof 1963.

The police department received 4,684 calls of which 2.470 were active complaints and 505 traffic summonses were issued for moving violations.

Chief Nemer said that the department assisted 541 motorists in the city, policed 79 accidents and worked 29 blockades. There were 68 court appearances made by the department.

There were 168 complaints made by residents on stray and noisy dogs and 41 dogs were picked up after May 1.

The night patrol discovered and secured 182 windows and doors of business establishments left open during the night.

Police received 49 complaints from neighbor troubles and 44 complaints or prowlers. Thirty-seven family trouble complaints were checked plus the investigation of 51 larcenies and 6 break-ins.

The department made 22 drunk arrests, delivered 54 emergency messages, investigated 19 bad check complaints

Blue Cross Will Offer Scholarships

Michigan Blue Cross will sponsor 10 nursing scholarships of $300 each in a competition open to all Michigan high school seniors and graduates.

It marks the 14th year for the program which has helped train 130 nurses to reduce the Michigan nurse shortage. William S. McNary, president of Blue Cross, said the nursing shortage can affect the quantity and quality of hospital care and is a matter of grave concern to Blue Cross members and the community as a whole. Cost of the scholarships will be less than 1/10th of a cent per Blue Cross member, and the entire 14-year program has added up to-only a fraction over WILLIAMSTON - Chief and reports of 112 lost and Ellis M. Nemer of the Wil- found articles. The department also handled 6 mental cases and 6 morals complaints.

Two stolen cars were found, 255 suspicious cars checked and 3 escapees from the Boys Training school at Lansing were picked up.

The department also check ed 224 suspicious persons and transported 58 prisoners to and from the Ingham county jail and justice court.

The Williamston police received 34 vandalism complaints, 19 complaints of lost or missing persons and issued 483 warnings.

Department cars traveled 49,968 miles and officers worked a total of 9,318 more hours during the year.

Party Bickering Takes Place

A new phenomena is taking place in state government, but it will be repeated every decade in the future.

The new constitution provides for dicennial apportionment of the state legislature to be accomplished by an evenly divided bipartisan commission named by the major political parties.

The first commission operating under the apportionment provision has been at work for several months. By the end of January the 8-man group hopes to have an apportionment plan ready.

A deadlock appears likely even though the method of dividing the 110 house seats and 34 senate spots is spelled out in the constitution.

The 4 Democrats on the commission, of course, want to write the district plans so their party can gain seats in the legislature. Republicans, who have held the majority in both houses for many a year, are anxious for their 4 commission members to maintain this edge s never before, this nation is experiencing a dynamic upsurge of concern over our future supply of what is logically referred to as "specialized or leadership" talent. Accelerated economic and technological growth conflicting with international tensions has made us more aware of our dependence upon qualified scholars and leaders.

What do these facts mean to us as a nation? Quite basically, they mean that we must become more active in the areas of higher education as well as becoming to a greater degree more reliant upon our colleges and universities. It is from these sources that will rise the professional careermen who will operate or guide our schools, hospitals, plants, farms, churches and research centers. Now, and in the future, the 71 Michigan public and private colleges and universities, community colleges, professional and technical schools will train men and women for responsible positions within their communities and at the various state and national levels.

Currently, more than 178,000 students are filling the campuses and classrooms of Michigan's schools where they share the talent of 10,000 faculty members who "light the way to a brighter future for all of us." Your support is vital to the continued development of higher education in Michigan.

This is one of a series of education features published as a public service in cooperation with the Michigan Press Association, the Michigan Education Association and this newspaper.

with poise, the verdict. That, too, is serious. But we have had ample opportunity and have been warned many times. The church steeple on the corner points the way and His word on the pulpit tells us how to get there. When we come before His court, and we shall, the book will be opened ... our eternal destiny known ... and He will read the verdict.
