Judge Adams Eden Will Organize Scout Troop

Justices Justices of the peace who are members of the Capital Area Juschurch for the purpose of estabtice of the Peace association, lishing a Boy Scout troop in that heard a talk by Judge Roy W. community. Adams of Mason justice court. Tuesday night when they met at the offices of Judge Joseph G. Pearce of the Meridian justice court in Okemos. Judge Adams gave a talk illustrated with colored slides on a boat trip he took last summer. The trip started at Cincinnati and the boat went down the Ohio river to Paducah, Kentucky and thence up the Tennessee river to Chattanooga, with stops along the way and a 2-day layover at Chattanooga before the return trip began. The journey required 2 weeks.

The journey took passengers through the Tennessee Valley Authority (TVA) country and Judge Adams said he learned much about the TVA operation.

Seventy-five percent of the TVA power is generated by steam Nellie Hawkins and the rest by water power which is used as a standby source and put into use when the load increases, he said, adding that 2 plants have as much power as the entire power generated by the Tennessee river itself.

On streams running into the Tennessee river, Judge Adams continued, are 30 dams, 5 of which are leased and the rest owned by the TVA system.

"Taxpayers paid $926 million for construction of steam plants and $460 million for dams in the Tennessee river itself," Judge Adams said. "Exact figures on the cost of the 30 other dams are not available but it is estimated at around $500 or $600 million.

"The smaller dams are largely for flood control and power only. Those on the Tennessee river are equipped with locks which permit the passage of large ships. Big tow boats and barges operate to haul coal to the TVA plants. One plant will burn from 50 to 100 tons an hour."

Judge Adams said the plants run at full capacity at all times. The water power in some cases is controlled by push buttons and in others are automatic, being operated by a computer at the headquarters of the system.

Chamberlain Seeks Academy Applicants

Rep. Charles E. Chamberlain is accepting applications through November 20 for appointment to the 3 U.S. Service Academies and the Merchant Marine Academy at Kings Point, N.Y.

Applications received by that date will enable candidates for nominations to take a civil service designation examination on December 1, Chamberlain said. He explained that he set the November 20 deadline for applications to allow time for making arrangements for the tests and that those applying will be notifled personally when and where to take the examination.

Although appointments to the U.S. Coast Guard Academy are not made by members of congress, Rep. Chamberlain stated he would be glad to furnish full information about applying for admission to that school to those requesting it.

Applicants must be American citizens between the ages of 17 and 22 in excellent physical condition and with high scholastic Candidates must also be legal residents of Michigan's new Sixth. District (Ingham, Jackson and Shiawassee counties, and Bath and DeWitt townships of Clinton county). Chamberlain explained that because of this year's redistricting of Michigan congressional seats, he will forward his files on applicants from Livingston and Genesee counties to the congressman who will represent those counties in the 89th Congress. Chamberlain will continue to represent Ingham county in Michigan's new Sixth District.

The congressman said applications may be made to him at the House of Representatives, Washington, D.C., and emphasized that he must have the applications by November 20.

Post Election

Last Tuesday's election gave us 2 polished politicans to head our government. Polish may be used to preserve something fine or gloss over the shoddy.

How will these 2 men react? Will they interpret the election as mandate to govern or a privilege to serve. They could well follow the example of George Washington who served his country most of his life. After liberating his country and serving as the first president he could well have retired to his beautiful Mt Vernon estate and finished out his life in peace and splendor. Instead he spent most of his time looking after his country's welfare.

4-H Leaders Study Use of Electricity

About 50 Michigan men and women, all 4-H leaders in their home communities, learned new and different uses of electricity and electrical projects during the 4-H electrical leaders' training workshop at Camp Kett near Tustin, November 6-7.

Delegates from Ingham county were Frank Phillips, Gerald D. Robinson and Harold Rappuhn. Sponsored by the 4-H club foundation of Michigan, the workshop informed leaders on electronics, wiring and equipment and electrical science.

During the Saturday morning meeting, they attended skill sessions and worked on various electrical projects to gain knowledge and experience in the operation of simple and complex electrical equipment. Some of their projects included electronics, films as teaching tools, electrical science, wiring and equipment ideas and study center lighting.

Following this a panel discussion by Charles Lang, Kent county 4-H agent, and Harry Foster, Livingston county 4-H agent, dealt with the learning process and evaluation of 4-H exhibits.

In the afternoon the group plan-ned a local 4-H electrical program and discussed ways in which the leader should advise trical project.

Apparently, though, to judge from all the noise being generated in the few days since the election, a man was elected who wasn't on the ballot.

With the labor-controlled Democratic party taking full advantage of gerrymandered districts in both state houses, it would appear that Gus Scholle was elected.

Already Fiery Gus is telling legislators what will be done in the way of legislation for the next 2 years.

He's outlined his legislative program, geared of course, to the aim of making organized labor stronger.

It will be interesting to see if Democratic legislators, especially those representing the out-state rural areas where the meaning of the tax dollar is a little clearer, will jump through the hoop at the command of Gus and for the benefit of Gus and his kingdom.

Once the election is over legislators represent all the people in their district, regardless of their politics. What Michigan needs is a legislature and senate composed of men dedicated to making Michigan and all its people its No. 1 responsibility, without regard to political labels and special interests.

This approach probably won't be followed but think what a job of good work it would accomplish if all public officials of both parties adopted such a goal.

Sure Way to Communism

(Reprinted from the Gladwin County Record) The Rev. Kenneth W. Sollitt, Pastor of the First Baptist Church in Midland, Michigan, was preaching to his congregation. He said: "If I were the Devil and wanted to turn America into a Communist hell, I think I would do something like this:

Guest Editorial

"I would cultivate among the people the idea that the individual is nothing, the indiscriminate mass of people everything. I would also seek to convince Americans that God and Christian ethics and an honest desire to make ones way in the world are old-fashioned. I would get elected to office on the promise of helping everybody at someone elses' eypense. Then I'd treat the Constitution as a sort of hand-book on the philosophy of government to be referred to only if it served my purpose.

"I would increase the size and scope of government in every way possible, going into every conceivable business in competition with established enterprises, paying the state's business losses out of the treasury. I would try to keep hidden how this could lead at the right time to the nationalization of industry. I would create a government strong enough to give its citizens everything they want. Thus I could create a government strong enough to take from them everything they have.

"By a combination of inflation and taxes I would rob the very people I pretended to help until, if they should to return to freedom they couldn't - but would be completely dependent on the state. Next, I would gradually raise taxes to 100 percent of income (we are one third of the way there now) - so that the state could have it all. Then I'd give back to the people enough to keep them alive and little enough to keep them enslaved. In the meantime I would take from those who have and give to those who want until I killed the incentive of the presentl ambitious man and satisfied the meager needs of the rest. The police state would then be required to make everybody work - and the transformation of America from a republic to a second-rate Communist nation would be complete.

"Do you see in this any similarities to what we have been doing for thirty years The Communist slogan is 'From each as he is able, to each as he had need.' We are acting as if our slogan were From anyone who has something, to anyone who wants something.' The difference between these two is the same as the difference between the alligator and a crocodile."

Thoughts for the Week

Read Romans 7:14-25

I find it to be a law that when I want to do right, evil lies close at hand. -Romans 7:21 (RSV)

FAIRY tales and wild-West films portray the fight between good and evil. The hero is good. The villain is bad. We feel glad when the hero triumphs over the villain; for we know there is a struggle between good and evil in the world, and we want the good to win.

Such stories show the struggle of life made simple. On the other hand, great novels and plays show how complex life's struggle is. So does the Bible. The fight between good and evil goes on, not only between good men and bad, but also between the good and the bad in each of us.

Paul knew that this fight takes place in us all. He saw keenly our need of the Savior, who enables good to conquer bad, love to overcome hate. When Paul cried, "Wretched man that I am! Who will deliver me?" his triumphant answer was, "Thanks be to God through Jesus Christ our Lord!" So say all who accept the Savior's

PRAYER: O God, we know that, within our hearts, the evil would defeat the good if we were left to ourselves. We thank Thee that in Jesus Christ Thou hast entered the battle on the side of good and on the cross He won the fight for our salvation. May His victory be ours this day. We ask in His name. Amen.

barbs, praise and consequence

Last week's reprint of Down by the Sycamore relating to the old crony hangout at the old Spenny Garage where the Dart Drive-in bank parking lot is now located brought a lot of nostalgia to many Mason men and some wives too.

There just isn't any spot today where the affairs of the world, state and nation plus a goodly smattering of sports, gossip, rumors and ribald jokes can be discussed as they were discussed at the Spenny garage.

Wives entered the picture when they voiced beefs because the breadwinner of the family failed to come home for dinner on time. A late supper always meant that Dad had stopped at the garage.

There are a few places today which approach the cracker barrel atmosphere of Spenny's emporium but they never quite reach it.

Maybe it's because the individualists such as S. A. Laxton, Jack Healy, Joe Brower, Dr. Jay Corsaut and others of the day weren't as busy looking at television or trying to keep ahead of taxes as we all have to be now.

For years Joe Brower was the dean of the Spenny college of public opinion. Joe was an old-time printer with 50 plus years at the Ingham County News, most of that time as foreman. Three generations of Browns had Joe as a teacher and a good one he was—although slightly on the rough side. A chewing out by Joe was frequent and always a masterful job,

My father always believed in facing up to tempations so the kids in our family quite often hung around the fringes at Spenny's to see what was new in the community.

"You're here to listen, not to talk," he'd say.

It took a couple of mouth soapings by Mother after repeating some of the phrases gleaned at Spenny's before the full impact of his fatherly advice soaked in,

In his later years Joe Brower had a bout with poor health and worked only a half day. The other half he spent in a straight-backed chair at Spenny's garage or sitting on the running boards of the new cars. an impossible feat today.

One day A. G. Spenny was holding down the fort all by himself with Joe for company when a service call came in. A. G. asked Joe to mind the store while he was gone.

When he returned he asked Joe if he had had any business.

"Sure," Joe said. "A fellow came in and wanted a quart of oil put in his car's crankcase."

A. G. asked Joe where he got the oil.

"Out of that drum over there," Joe said, pointing to a barrel in a cor-

"Heavens to Betsy, Joe! that's kerosene," A. G. said.

"I don't give a '&?$(?, Joe replied as only he could do. "I got 30 cents a quart for it."

There was the athletic side to the Spenny garage curriculum. In season there was a horseshoe pitching arena across the street, and many of the Tri-County league baseball players of the day warmed up along side the garage and there were some reports of a few small card games in back of the grease rack on occasion.

It's too bad life's fast pace plus the wide-spread opportunities for entertainment of today has cut down on the hot stove league communication centers such as the Spenny garage offered.

Saturday was a day for getting out for a "last look" at what's left of Ingham's colorful fall landscape. After helping install Jim Stubbert as Mason's acting postmaster, I shed my dress-up attire in favor of old clothes that at face value would have qualified me as a major pocket of

We headed south and west into the beautiful rolling land of Onondaga township. It seemed logical to make a stop at Miller's dairy bar in Eaton Rapids.

"You're not going in there looking like that, are you?" the wife asked as we pulled into the parking lot. I explained that there wasn't the slightest chance that we would see anyone we would know and that anyhow some of the rest of the family didn't look so hot either.

And that was a keen observation. I detected a dirty face or 2 in the back seat and the Christine Dior the wife was wearing did nothing for her material silhouette. At any rate, we walked into the dairy - to come face-to-face with Mr. and Mrs. Bert Applegate. Triple A — as we called him when he headed Michigan State's journalism department "a few years ago" — has been under the delusion that all of his former students have gone straight to the top of the journalistic world. It must have been

Bert Applegate is the best argument I know of in condemnation of the idea that when a man reaches a mandatory retirement age he's all done. He was let out of Michigan State university in the early fifties after making the MSU journalism school one of the most respected in the country. This year he's 75 years old and head of the journalism department at Hillsdale college. Hillsdale students and hundreds of former MSU students have one thing in common — the complete adoration of Bert Applegate. At Hillsdale each year the student body selects the "outstanding professor of the year" - if the professor has been at Hillsdale at least 4 years. Last year Hillsdale waived the 4-year requirement and Bert Applegate won the acclamation of the Hillsdale students in a unanimous decision - and Bert Applegate had been there just 3 years. No other professor was even nominated to compete with the man who is known in educational as well as work-a-day journalistic circles as Mr. Journalism. MSU made a horrible decision in allowing Triple A off the Dried apples are making a comeback. I was reared in the last days of the dried fruit business. Working at the family grocery store, we sold many boxes of apples, peaches and apricots. I always liked the dried fruit. In some ways dried fruit has advantages over fresh fruit. I am never able to eat a fresh peach without having the juice run off my elbows. A dried peach squirts no juice.

Getting back to dried apples, peaches and apricots, we always had a box of each on the counter. They sold well and the box of dried apples made a comfortable couch where the cat could sleep. A box of newly-opened dried fruit had a stimulating scent but the taste was better after a week or so of aging. During that week the dried fruit would absorb just enough of the scent of kerosene oil, molasses. cheese, meat and other pungent odors and just enough dust and dirt to give it more body and flavor.

I don't believe our cat ever slept in the dried fruit, although some customers so insisted. We never had a black cat around the store and all the hairs ever found in our dried fruit were black. The hair belonged to my father. Of that I am sure. He had coal black hair in those days and it was just beginning to fall out. We stood up under the accusation of having the cat sleep in the apricots better than our nearest competitor did under the terrible charge that he permitted his cat to nest in the peanut butter which in those good old days was dished out from big buckets. He never lived that charge down and I don't believe there was a bit of

The senior shop class of Stockbridge high school, took a field trip to the Stockbridge Manufacturing company on Friday, November 6. The plant is a screw machine shop, manufacturing parts for the automotive and allied fields.

Robert Woodman, class instructor, said the purpose of the visit was to give the boys the opportunity to see metal working machines in action and to see what was made in the local factory. Woodman also said that most of the boys had never visited the plant and that it was an interesting experience. The visit was typical of the many field trips taken by the class each vear.

It is not unusual to find pictures, newspaper clippings and other such items pasted inside student lockers in many high schools. This reporter, being a member of the Stockbridge band, had planned a big story of the band's recent trip to Detroit to play at the Lions-Rams football game. Two days before the scheduled trip however, a case of bronchitis developed, and the BIG day was spent in bed, taking pills every 2 hours. Other band members reported however that the weather was great and everyone had a wonderfultime. Some didn't feel too good the next day however, because the good weather had increased their appetites and many had overindulged in hordogs and other refreshments.

The marching band closed out its season at home with a great show at the Williamston-Stockbridge game. During the halftime show, Director Keith Saxton introduced all seniors in the

In addition, the coveted "oil can award" was presented by Saxton to Karen Kishpaugh, Karen is a senior and a great drummer in the band. The oil can award is presented to the person who, in the opinion of the director, has contributed the most toward the success of the marching band.

Now the football season is back some good musicians, boys who gave up band temporarily to compate on the gridiron.

Leslie Dedicates New High School; Too at Ceremony

LESLIE - Between 600 and 700 persons attended the dedication ceremonies of the new Leslie high school last Sunday afternoon. Special tribute was paid to Miss Zora Greiner, former Leslie teacher.

Appearing on the program were Charles Bode, superintendent of Leslie schools, the high school band, Rev. Frank Sines, Richard Frohriep, Roddy Jupp, Richard Stuckman, J. B. Hyatt, the high school choir, Miss Greiner, and Robert Stuart.

Also speaking on the program were Douglas King, high school principal, Russell Miller, Dennis Abbey, Mrs. O. G. Chamberlain, John Frey, and Rev.

The program opened with the national anthem by the high school band, directed by John Schubert. The invocation by Rev. Frank Sines, of the Leslie Free Methodist church followed.

Richard Frohriep, athletic director and counselor, dedicated the flags. He pointed out that the flag in front of the school had been given to the school by Congressman Charles Chamberlain and had flown over the capitol in Washington, D.C.

He also pointed out that the flag displayed in the gymnasium had been willed to Roddy Jupp by his father, the late Robert Jupp. Mrs. Jupp and Roddy inturndonated the flag to the school. Roddy was called forward to lead "The Pledge of Allegiance."

Superintendent Bode introduced present and past board members, and presented the members of the citizens committee, present and former Leslie teachers, present and former administrators, members of the village council, contractors and workers on the building. He also paid special tribute to the taxpayers, who made the building possible.

Richard Stuckman, representing Warren Holmes, architects, was introduced and formally presented the building to J. B. Hyatt, president of the board of education, who accepted the building for the school district. The high school choir was introduced and sang a moving rendition of "America, the Beautiful," directed by Mrs. Imogene Crane, vocal music director. The choir appeared for the first time in its new brown and yellow robes. Accompanist for the choir was Carla Townsend.

Richard Garant, former high new materials center (library) to Miss Greiner, former longtime Leslie teacher. He pointed out that throughout her career Miss Greiner had "a true love and understanding of boys and girls, a deep desire to want to help them, and was willing to give freely of her time for her stu-

He said: "Miss Greiner taught students any time they were near her, regardless of where it was. She was the kind of teacher that students wanted to go to for help and guidance.

"She held every office in the local PTA, except president, and only the constitution of the organization prevented her from serving in that capacity."

The bronze plaque to be placed in the library reads: "This library is dedicated to Miss Zora Greiner in appreciation for the many years of unselfish service she has given to the Leslie public schools and community." It is signed by the board of education.

When Miss Greiner arose to accept the plaque, she was given a standing ovation by the audience. She recalled many of her fond memories of Leslie and Leslie students. She concluded, "Time marches on and we must march with it. We pass this way but once." Upon completion of her remarks, she again received a standing ovation.

Robert Stuart, chairman of the "Bucks for Books" drive then presented a check for almost $1,400 to Superintendent Bode to buy books for the new library. He commented that this was a symbol of Miss Greiner's students' love for her.

In speaking on the flexibility of the building, Douglas King, said: "This building is a monument to us -- to do better and expect the most with our educational facilities. We will be limited only by our imagination. The tools have been provided by you, the people of Leslie."

Russell Miller, agriculture teacher in speaking on educational opportunities, stated: "We teach because we are dealing with the most precious possession we have--our children. This is why you had this building constructed--because you also recognize this possession."

Dennis Abbey, president of the student council, commented that the new building and facilities have made it "a joy to go to school. Nowhere in the world is it as easy to get an education as it is here in Leslie or in communities of this country where similar facilities are provided." "This is a legacy to our children." said Mrs. O. G. Chamberlain, representing the parents. "This is a place where our children can grow, play, and work.

MRS. ZORA GREINER

Honored at Leslie high school dedication.

It is not only a duty but also a privilege to provide this school for our children so they can take their rightful places among the citizens of the world."

She also pointed out that adults of the community could continue to grow with their children by taking advantage of adult education. She also remarked about the many other areas where the school helps the community.

John Frey, secretary of the board of education, said that the new school has values unlimited. He commented that the value of a building can be determined, in part, by the construction cost. operating cost, and the flexibility for future change.

He also stated that in the final analysis the value of a building is in providing the atmosphere and materials so teachers can teach young people.

The program concluded with the 47 member high school choir singing "Brothers James' Air" and the Benediction by Rev. Robert Bowden of the Childs Baptist church in Leslie. The high school band also provided both prelude and postlude music for the pro-

An open house and coffee hour from 4 to 6 p.m. succeeded the formal dedication ceremonies. Members of the high school faculty served as hosts for the many

After the program King said to the custodians, Leon Wheeler and Gale Harkness, for all their work in readying the building for the dedication. They received assistance from George Biggs, Bill Craddock, and Jim Bobzien. He also expressed his appreciation to the students for their efforts in helping make arrangements for the program.

3. to elect a board of trustees for such a college.

The area to be included besides all of Ingham county will include that portion of Livingston county which is in the Stockbridge School District. The reason for this, according to a spokesman, is because the Stockbridge school district has elected to be included in the Ingham county school district, While portions of the Stockbridge school district are in Jackson and Washtenaw counties also, those residents will not be included in the December vote because there are

Churches Launch Appeal

The 11th annual Thanksgiving appeal of protestant denominations for funds to carry on their joint program of food distribution to the world's needy will be marked Sunday, November 22, in churches throughout America.

Highlighting nationwide services dedicated to the appeal, which seeks $1,073,850 to finance the SOS (Share Our Substance) program for 1965, through which millions of needy persons overseas will receive life-sustaining foods, will be the National Service of Thanksgiving in Washington, D.C., at the New York Avenue Presbyterian church, 1313 New York Avenue N.W.

This service is sponsored annually by the Council of Churches Greater Washington, and Church World Service, the overseas relief and rehabilitation agency of major protestant communions.

Since its inception the SOS program has accounted for the distribution of more than two and a half billion pounds of foods made available-from America's agricultural abundance by the U.S. department of agriculture, distributed in more than 40 acres of acute need with funds contributed in the SOS appeal and similar efforts of the churches, and in community appeals of CROP (Christian Rural Overseas Program) of Church World Service. Church World Service is a department of the National Council of the Churches of Christ, and cooperates with the Division of Inter-Church Aid, Refugee and World Service of the World Council of Churches in its international programs.

Holt Church Slates Film

The new Billy Graham feature length sound-color motion picture, Lucia, will be shown at Holt Baptist church Wednesday, November 18, at 7:15 p.m.

Lucia was made in its entirety in Buenos Aires and directed by World Wide Pictures' president. Dick Ross. The fire and excitement of gaucho folk music, South America's unmatched scenic grandeur and the excitement that bellongs to one of the world's largest cities, are all enriched by full color and authentic sound.

But the real impact of Lucia is found in its intimate, utterly honest treatment of an individual's emptiness and frustration apart from the filling of the Godshaped vacuum with which all mankind is born. With this newest of the Billy Graham films, Lucia enters into the area of domestic discord and the romantic triangle-- and what the Bible has to say resolving the emotional problems that are the hallmark of 20th century living.

MASON OPPONENTS all year long had to contend with Mason's Dennis Bodell, the best defensive player to come along in years. In this bit of action Bodell is putting the stop on a Howell back after Brian Johnson, No. 51, and Dick Miller, No. 82, had slowed the runner up slightly.

Williamston Bows To Morenci 32-12

The Williamston Hornets finished the football season by bowing under the strength of Morenci to the tune of 32-13. After a season with only 2 wins, this was rather difficult to take for team and fans alike.

This was the second year for play with the Morenci Bulldogs, and neither time have the Hornets been able to take them.

In the first quarter the Bulldogs scored on a 43-yard pass. The extra point try was good. A one-yard run in the second quarter netted Morenci another goal but the extra point try was not good. Then a 46-yard pass clicked for another score. The extra point was good. Then an 11-yard run added another 6 points to the score. The extra point was not good.

After a came up with a 53-yard touchfew more plays, Bob Dykeman. on a cross-continental play, caught a 20-yard pass from Dave Granger for another Hornet touchdown. Again the extra point was not good. The Bulldogs were not lax in this period, but managed to add another 6 points with a 5-yard run for another goal.

Morenci controlled the game from the opening gun and had a total of 14 first downs to Williamston's 4.

A total of 246 yards rushing was racked up by the Bulldogs with 69 managed by the Hornets. Only 2 of their 12 passes were completed by Moenci but both of these resulted in a score. On Williamston's side, 4 out of 12 were caught.

Morenci had a total of 89 yards passing, Williamston had 65 yards of passing. The Bulldogs were also able to intercept one Williamston pass.

Morenci had a total of 355 yards altogether, while Williamston had only 134.

The Hornets did close the season with some hope, though, as very few of the team will be

Chieftains Upset Haslett

Okemos saved its best game for the last night of the season. The Chieftains surprised a fav. ored Haslett squad 25-20. It was the first win of the season for the Chiefs.

It was Jay Guertin's 8-yard run around end in a fourth down situation with only 38 seconds left that did the trick.

Tom Keller was never better for the Chiefs than he was Friday night. The Okemos back scored the first touchdown on a 3yard plunge in the second quarter. Then he scored on a 70yard kickoff return after Haslett had picked up 2 touchdowns. The Chiefs entered the last quarter trailing 20-13. A drive carried to the 8 and Keller went over from there. The Lakersappeared to have the game sewed up but Guertin intercepted a pass and started the Chiefs on their game-winning drive.

Leslie Blackhawks finally clicked at the same time and the 'Hawks won their final game of the season against the Potterville Vikings on the Vikings' field last Friday night 12-6. The victory climaxed a frustrating season for the Leslie eleven who lost their first seven games.

The contest was a hard-fought struggle throughout and time after time the Leslie defense rose up to stop the Vikings when it seemed they would get rolling and pull out the victory. Potterville runners were thrown for losses nine times in the game, three times in the final period.

With Leslie holding a narrow 12-6 edge in the final quarter, the Vikings moved to the Blackhawks' 20 yard line. Here Leslie's defense really rose to the occasion and on three successive plays threw the Potterville runners for losses, pushing them all the way back to midfield.

Leslie's fullback Jim Bobzien scored the Hawks' first touchdown on a five yard run in the opening quarter. The extra point run failed. The TD gave Bobzien four for the season.

With Leslie leading 6-0 in the second period, the Vikings moved down field after a short punt. Aided by two penalties for twenty yards against the Blackhawks. Potterville quarterback Rick Van Fossen knotted the score on a two-yard quartervack sneak. The Vikings also missed the extra point and the halftime score was tied at 6-6.

Leslie came out strong in the second half and quarterback Phil Brown scored the clinching TD on an 11-yard quarterback trap play. The run for the extra point again failed and the score remained at 12-6, the final margin of victory. Leslie also held a statistical edge in the game as the Blackhawks! offense netted 196 total yards and 11 first downs to Potterville's 76 yards and five first downs. Quarterback Phil Brown also completed four of eight passes, three to Lon Cooper, the last, a 25 yarder which set up the final Leslie TD.

Cooper's three catches gave him 29 for the season, good for 531 yards. The fourth pass was a picture play from Brown to Bill McDaniels. Leslie had Holt was stopped by Bill Gayton's intercepted pass. Holt held and Eaton Rapids got off a poor punt. Holt moved in for a touchdown on the 25-yard pass play from Miké Bostrom to John Walsh.

In the final quarter the Rams played ball control and held the ball for eleven minutes. They scored when Bostrom intercepted an Eaton Rapids pass and ran forty yards for the points with twenty seconds to go. Ron Karr passed to Walsh for the extra point. Eaton Rapids, which had moved to Holt's nine-yard line in the third quarter, outrushed the Rams 151 yards to 136 and had thirteen first downs to Holt's eleven. Jim Mills and Steve Pew led Holt's defensive charge with seventeen assisted and unassisted tackles each.

In behalf of the new Senior Music club of Mason and the group which they are sponsoring, The Community Chorus giving the Messiah, I would like to thank you most heartily for the notice of this coming event which you published in your paper. It was very kind of you to provide the space for this.

We really appreciate a newspaper which supports the cultural events of the community it serves. You have helped us begin a venture which should be very inspiring to all who participate and who attend the performance. MRS. ROBERT PRUDON

The defeat of the Republican candidate, Barry Goldwater, certainly brings out the complaints against everyone; newspapers, magazines, television, radio, ministers and Democrats.

Why not put the blame where it belongs, on the Senator, himself? He had ample time in campaigning, to state definitely what his plans and beliefs were, without leaving it to others to decipher. A Political party can not progress with only negative promises.

The churches were very much involved in the election of President Kennedy in trying to discourage the idea of having a Catholic president. Ido not remember one word in your paper in opposing this idea. Senator Goldwater inferred that President Johnson used his power as president to obtain votes. You took the position of judging President Johnson as morally unfit to hold the office as president, and I have heard the complaint, we were too ignorant to vote for Goldwater.

If Governor Wallace and Ross Barnett are symbols of intelligence, I thank the Lord we are ignorant. All of these accusations are very immature for a party, which holds itself above the actions of others.

There is a poverty program, whereas a family can move into a poverty area, receive living expenses plus $50 a month for teaching the people in these areas how to become self-sufficient. As the Republicans are so well in this talent, I suggest they take over the task, and in doing so, may convert these people to the GOP, thus they may stand a chance of winning

Needed: NEW City Hall

Dear Taxpayer, I agree with Taxpayer on the city hall. We read and hear talk about Mason and other small town businesses falling behind. Then I take a look around and see new buildings in Mason. The local business personnel are showing trust in us as patrons. Their investments are giving this community a forward look and the people like it. Look at what the

I say the people owe themselves a new city hall to help Mason make another forward step. Let's ask ourselves some questions.

taxpayers have done schools,

How much will the old garage cost in the end? Will it meet present day building standards? How much more will it cost to operate than a new building? Does it stand within our zoning ordinance?

How much would a new building cost? Is there enough parking space? Can a new city hall help Mason keep going forward? Do our city leaders know how we feel?

Do I want my tax dollars spent on an old or new city hall? I would like to interject some of my thoughts on why we are facing this problem. Did the last city council members whom we elected stand on an issue? No. I know, that it is non-partisan council but there are always 2 sides to every issue. Look at the city hall, if some of the candidates would have stood on the issue that we need a new building and would do everything to accomplish such, this would give us a chance to express our views. If we wanted a new building we would have elected these candidates. If we did not we would defeat them, The taxpayers wanted a swimming pool. Which candidate took a stand on this? The taxpayers did. They signed petitions and pool. Where were the non-par- the state fire marshal, a repretisan city leaders whose job is sentative of the arc to represent the voter? Buying an old garage.

Dansville PTA To Talk Over School Questions

DANSVILLE - The Dansville Agricultural School's Parent-Teacher association program at the November 19 meeting will feature a panel of school administrators and teachers to discuss school-related questions submitted by parents, Jack Cook, program chairman, announced this week.

Parents are invited to submit their questions before the meeting to the school superintendent's office, Cook said. The questions should be placed in a sealed envelope, he added, but need not be signed.

Also on the agenda for the meeting will be the question of endorsement for the Citizens Study of Area Community College Needs Committees' recommendation that the Ingham Intermediate area school district be incorporated into the proposed enlarged Lansing Community college district. The Community college offers an excellent Liberal Arts program as well as Vocational-Technical and Semiprofessional training careers.

Two members of the Citizens Advisory Council from Dansville will give a report on the study. They are, Mrs. Warren Mueller, who served on the location and facilites sub-committee; and David Diehl, who served the finance resources and costs sub-committee. Superintendent Searl Briggs will discuss the role that the Commun. ity college can play in the plans of the Dansville school graduates to continue their training, Lucien J. Ruest, PTA president said.

Mrs. Dorn Diehl, legislative week and various grades are sponsoring projects in keeping with this event. This year the Parent-Teacher conference has been extended in the early elementary grades. Heretofore only the kindergarten teachers have had conferences with parents but this year the plan will be enlarged to include the first 3 grades. These conferences have been scheduled for this week Thursday and Friday, November 12 and 13. On those days there will be no school in these grades and regular schedules have been arranged for parent-teacher interviews. By Elmer E. White NEW COURTS

Nine men elected to newlycreated posts in the November 3 election will have their work stacked up when they take office formally at the first of the year.

Even before the election it was estimated there would be 200 cases filed for consideration by the new state Court of Appeals as a matter of right, a new appellate procedure under the 1963 Constitution.

In addition to these criminal cases granted automatic right to appeal, many more cases will come before the new curt as it attempts to handle some of the heavy load now burdening and slowing the judicial process in the Supreme Court.

Each voter helped select three judges from three state districts, but the bench members will serve the state as a single unit under court rules set down by the Legislature and Supreme Court this year.

Court sessions will be held in Lansing, Grand Rapids, Marquette with three-member panels. The central office will be in Lansing.

Holding monthly sessions nine months of the year, the new Court will handle most appeals except those dealing with the validity of legislative acts, constitutional questions or major legal principles of statewide concern, and "significant public interest" problems involving governmental units.

The Supreme Court reserved for its own deliberation those special categories as well as any appeals sought from the decisions of the intermediate court.

With three separate court sessions each month, in effect, it is anticipated appeals can be handled much more rapidly than at present.

The four locations for hearings also were viewed by the Supreme Court as a means of lessening costs of court procedures to litigants.

Internal organization of the Appeals Court has been left largely to the nine judges sitting on it, but the Supreme Court retained for itself final determination in the event the case load gets too heavy for even this new unit to handle.

FLAW IN FEE Michigan motorists would be more uniformly good drivers if each met the same qualifications for licensing, according to Secretary of State James M. Hare. This may sound like a contradiction of present law which sets standards for motorists, but Hare says other factors currently influence driver licensing.

His proposed answer to the problem of licensing is to put this responsibility into the hands of a state agency.

"A substantial weakness in the system is the political involvement in driver licensing," said Hare. "We unfortunately operate on a fee system and the only way that fees are paid to local law enforcement agencies is if technology. This evaluation was the applicant passes his driver

Hare's office currently administers the production and distribution of driver licenses, but examinations are given and fees collected locally, frequently by politically elected officials.

"Certainly a staff of civil servants performing the same chores would be under less pressures to favor the applicant," said Hare. "In short, under our present system it is almost impossible to keep the driver licensing examinations out of the sphere of political influence."

APPROVED November 3, 1964 STATE OF MICHIGAN MUNICIPAL FINANCE COMMISSION

If you think hospital costs have risen in the past two years in Michigan, your observation is correct. A survey by the Michigan Hospital Association showed 1963 patient care costs in state shortterm community hospitals averaged $42.66 per day. This was over $3 above the national average and $2.33 more than the average daily cost in Michigan the previous year.

Rising costs were noted during 1963 in all types of Michigan hospitals, including federal, state and county institutions, the survey showed.

Total patient care expenses last year in the state were $538.2 million, a hike of $28 million over 1962.

The rising costs in the past two years were attributed largely to increased salaries, medical specialization and advanced made by Association Executive Director Allan Barth.

"Many hospital specialists and technicians today are performing jobs that were unknown 10 years ago but are commonplace today,' he said. "At the same time. the public has increasingly turned to hospitals for more health care, adding to the demand for larger

STOCKBRIDGE - In the November 3rd election, all of the township offices were filled by Republicans. Their margin of victory, however, was not as large as it has been in past years, and in one case, only 17 votes spelled victory for a candidate.

In the race for supervisor, the incumbent, Ted Fay was re-elected with 462 votes over his rival, Duanne Glenn, who polled a total of 421. Harmon Camburn, the incumbent, ran up a total of 503 votes as he easily won re-election as township clerk. Frank Trapp, running as a sticker candidate, received 226.

For treasurer, incumbent Maxine Roepke had 514 to 353 for Alethe Lehman.

There was one position of trustee to be filled and John Nichol won the seat with a total of 479 to 255 for Richard Howlett, who also was running as a sticker candidate. Paul Stephens, the incumbent trustee had declined to run this year. The closest contest was for the office of Justice of the Peace with incumbent Hubert A. Bearss winning re-election by a margin of 17 votes. He had a total of 442 to 425 for his rival Irving Steffey. Two constables were elected. They are Clyde Stephens with 487 votes and Max Mills with 494 as compared with their opponents Donald Fizer and Roland Cobb who polled 353 and 383 respectively.

Chest Goal Is Reached At Leslie

LESLIE - With four workers still to report, Malcolm Stuart, United Fund Chairman, reported that Leslie had reached its goal of $2,707.

He pointed out that there were 78 workers helping with the annual United Fund Drive and all had worked hard to reach the goal. It was not possible to estimate how far over the goal the drive would finish.

Largest amounts in the drive were turned in by the business and industry units captained by William Durfee and Guy Kiefer respectively.

Stuart also pointed out that Gline's Frozen Foods had made the single largest contribution of $457. He stated, too, that he felt the local workers should be commended for reaching the goal when they started two weeks later than other workers in the county. He also expressed his appreciation to all those who had contributed to the United Fund for its worthwhile purposes.

They then followed the astronaut from the training period through his flight, Return to Earth and even The Hero's Welcome, This was in the form of an impressionistic suite written for piano by the English composer Joan Last, and played by Carol Fogle. Jane Bebee also played Brahm's Hungarian Rhapsody No. 4. The Madrigal group charmed their listeners with several numbers including the Junior club hymn.

Farm Notes

Starlings destroy more than $2.5 million worth of fruit annually in south-western Michigan, reports Frank Madaski, Berrien County Cooperative Extension Service director. Some growers of fruit, wheat, field corn, sweet corn and other crops reported losses as high as 75 per cent of their crops, he says.

The most satisfactory time to shape and seed natural waterways to protect farm land from unnecessary erosion is when sod fields are plowed, according to Russell Hiss, Michigan State university conservation extension specialist.

INGHAM'S ANNUAL CORN DAY at the Diehl farm in Dansville brought out several FFA contingents who were there to get the word on new corn varieties, equipment and growing techniques. Mike O'Malley had his Mason FFA contingent on hand. Professor Stuart Hildebrand of the MSU farm crops department, shown with his notebook, described the various test plots to the Mason group.

Corn Day

Corn Production Technique Learned at Diehl Farm

Attendance was excellent at the Ingham County Corn Day at the C. A. Diehl and Sons Farm at Dansville last Thursday. Several essentials to obtain high yields of corn were demonstrated in the 60 different 4 row plots. Two rows of each plot were harvested with a picker-sheller. The corn on each plot was weighed, tested for percent of moisture, and yield computed of No. 2 corn at 15.5 per cent moisture.

In spite of the extreme dry conditions during the pollination and grain development period, some hybrid varieties yielded nearly 100 bushels per acre. Each variety was planted next to the check variety of Pioneer 368. This averaged 65.16 bushels per acre, varying from a low of to a high of 99.36 bushels, indicating the soil variation in the same 20 acre field. All varieties were adjusted in yield to conform to the average

The plot receiving 100 pounds of extra nitrogen yielded 46 percent more than its closest check variety. This increase in yield resulted even though there was 300# of 14-14-14 and 50 pounds of 45 percent urea plowed down plus 300 pounds of 10-20-10 applied as starter fertilizer. One dollar spent for extra nitrogen returned $2.50 worth of extra corn, while $1 in extra complete fertilizer for a 150 bushel goal returned $2 in dollar corn. This is equal to 100 to 150 percent rate of interest earned on the fertilizer investment. Early planting of corn again was proven to be important to obtain improved corn yields. Also rainfall following atrazine application is necessary for effective weed control. In the cover crop plots, it was shown that rye grass or field brome grass produced excellent corn if sown immediately following the last cultivation.

Farmers Should Plan for 1965

get soil samples taken and to send them to the laboratory for tests. If tests show lime is needed, spreading in the late fall and early winter will allow time for the lime to react in time for spring planting and fertilization.

The soil scientist thinks farmers should list the problems they encounter with different fields and crops. Then they should spend fall and winter time finding an answer that will solve these problems to bring greater returns for investment of labor and equip-

Farmers Did Well in '63

Cash crop farmers participating in the Michigan State university farm account project earned the highest returns on investment among all types of farmers during 1963.

The average rate earned on total investment was 10 per cent after deducting all operating costs including family labor charges, says Leonard Kyle, MSU agricultural economist. "Many cash crop farmers found 1963 very favorable," he adds, "These farmers had earned a 7.8 per cent investment in 1962 and only 5.9 per cent in 1961." The 55 cooperating farmers were located mainly in the Saginaw Valley area and grew sugar beets, navy beans, wheat and corn as their main crops. The average farmer, operating 238 tillable acres with an investment of slightly over $104,000, sold $31,000 worth of crops during 1963. Total costs averaged $28,090.

Average labor and management return for the 55 operators was $7,920 during 1963. "This was more than $2,300 higher than during 1962 and was substantially higher than that earned by other types of farm groups keeping MSU farm records," points out

Corn Picking Mishaps Offers Way To Curb

One safety rule, if followed justed, there will be less clogby all harvesters, would eliminate most accidents with mechanical corn pickers, Ken Woods, chairman of the Farm Safety committee of the Dansville chapter of the Future Farmers of America, said this week.

"Most corn picking accidents are caused by the operator trying to unclog the picker while it is running," he said. "So the safety rule is obvious; 'Never attempt to unclog a machine while it is in motion."

The Dansville FFA chapter has joined the Safe Corn Harvest program aimed at increasing harvest-time safety. It is sponsored by the Farm Equipment Institute and the National Safety Council.

Beet Seeds Are Taking A Beating

Processing equipment can give sugar beet seeds -- and farmers' pocketbooks -- quite a beating.

Recent experiments conducted by Michigan State university scientists show that impacts received by sugar beet seeds during processing can greatly decrease germination and seedling

Im making their findings, the researchers duplicated the two most common types of impact which occurs in commercial processing: (1) when a stationary seed is hit by processing equipment and (2) when a moving seed strikes another object.

To stimulate these situations, MSU agricultural engineers O.R. Kunze and Carl W. Hall and USDA plant physiologist F. W. Snyder dropped steel ball bearings through glass tubes onto seeds held rigidly in place. Various steel ball weights plus tubes of different lengths were used to produce impacts like those received by seeds in processing. The second condition was duplicated by propelling seeds on a jet of air against a steel Both kinds of impacts reduced root and shoot development. Ima steel plate also reduced the percentage of germination. The impact of the steel ball bearings also revealed information about the different effects of impacts on individual parts of the seed. Greatest damage occurred when seeds were hit on the seed cap. Growth was reduced up to 50 per cent, depending on the degree of impact.

In the jet air tests, impacts seemed to have a cumulative effect on germination. When the seeds were battered against a steel plate three times, there was only a slight drop in germination. But the fourth impact cut germination to as low as 79 to 81 per cent.

The MSU tests demonstrated that seed allowed to "free fall" from any height does not produce the speed and impact necessary to decrease vigor or decrease germination. But the speed and impact caused by mechanical processing can produce damage which is not visible to the naked eye.

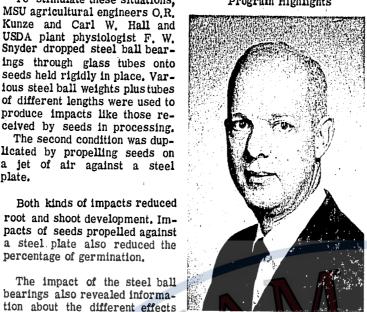

In view of these test results, the scientists suggest that a new look at processing em be in order. They recommend using more conveyor chutes, fewer impact points, and slower conveyor belts or pneumatic systems with the minimum air velocity needed to move the seeds.

Set 3 Dairy Herd Health Meetings

Local dairymen are urged to register soon for a series of dairy herd health meetings. They can do so by mailing a post card or calling the Extension office in the courthouse, Jim Mulvany, county agent, agriculture said this week.

These meetings have involved a great deal of preparation on the part of extension veterinarians and dairy specialists. They will be highlighted with practical information on disease control and also involve depth study of disease control problems. I would especially urge the young dairymen to attend and think it would be worthwhile for many dairymen to ask their hired dairy hands to attend. On larger farms these are the fellows that have a great deal to do with controlling health problems in the herd, says Mul-

Agriculture in Action

A Matter of Attitude accidents. More and more evidence is piling up in support of the philosophy that "as a man ing the number of State Police. thinks, so he drives." Underwriters, safety engineers and researchers are reaching the conclusion that "mental attitude" is a prime accident cause.

According to Mrs. Anton Hoort. Ionia housewife who represents the Farm Bureau Women on the Governor's Commission on Safety, many accidents are traceable to the attitudes found in the home. "These have a big effect on traffic safety, especially how children are brought up to respect the property and person of others. Even the fundamental basic beliefs of mankind today affect driving habits."

Mrs. Hoort's observations are reinforced by insurance underwriter, James Rathbun, who sees people led into wrong attitudes by some automobile manufacturers.

"It appears that people are urged to buy a big, new and powerful car, and then drive it like they hate it. Wrong attitudes are encouraged by naming the car with such descriptive terms as 'Mustang,' 'Marauder,' 'Barracuda,' 'Fury,' 'Sting Ray,'--to say nothing of putting a 'Tiger in the Tank.' Not that the cars titude of hostility that surrounds

The apparent results of this encouragement to take out the hostility of the driver--on the road and on his fellow motorists--is an unbelievable nationwide death toll. During the first seven months of 1964, we killed 25,630 Americans in traffic ac- of the group. A MSU resource cidents. More people between the ages of 5 and 25 years now die from traffic accidents than from any other single cause.

Here in Michigan, the Governor's Safety Commission has completed its report and has endorsed a number of recommendations which farmers support. Among them is the "implied consent" provision to the Driver's Law. This would provide that at the time of getting a driver's license, a motorist gives his "implied consent" that he is willing to take a chemical intoxication test whenever a law officer has reason to request this be done.

Attitude is a prime cause of clude: applying the "point" system to the driving records of 16-year-olds and strengthen-

Recreation Farm Owners Organized

Increased interest in converting farm and rural lands to recreational uses has led the Michigan Association of Rural Recreation Enterprises to incorporate as a non-profit organization.

The recently incorporated association is apparently one of the first such organizations in the nation.

"The new association reflects the continuing interest of farmers and rural land owners in this comparatively new use of agriculture lands," says Louis F. Twardzik, extension recreation specialist at Michigan State university. "But most importantly, it represents efforts by private landowners themselves to join together to meet mutual prob-

Formation of the association was suggested by people attendthemselves are bad -- just the at- ing a Farmers' Week program last winter on farm recreation opportunities. Organization of the Association took place in March when 150 interested farmers elected a steering committee.

is open to people operating recreation enterprises, interested in learning more about farm recreation or providing commercial services to the rural recreation industry.

Here are three kinds of tigers. We sell two.

(Have you priced a tiger lately?)

The quick ones are ours. The agile ones. That's a Pontiac Le Mans, top left. Fierce. You can get it with 250 hp like most people. Or 285 hp like some. That's a Pontiac GTO, above. Ferocious. Comes complete with 335-hp Trophy V-8. Bucket seats. Hurst floor shifter. Dual exhausts. Heavy-duty springs. Redline tires. Even a real walnut dash. The whole package. Lithe. Lean. Nimble. That other tiger? A puzzled cat. He checked out a "sporty" kind of car, learned it doesn't come with fangs at that stripped-down price. You look around. You'll see.

TACKLE TALK Chicago Bears Football Club

League season in full swing, you'll want to be sharp on some important facts about professional football that'll make you stand out when the gang sits around the clubhouse in one of those "did you know" sessions. For instance, how many players are there on each professional football club's roster? You're right if you said 40. How long is a football field? If you said 100 'yards, you're wrong. It's 120 yards long (the end zones are 10 yards deep) and 531/3 yards wide, Are today's players bigger in size than players of a few decades ago? Yes. The Chicago Bears made a recent study which showed that in 1936 the average weight of their 19 linemen was 204 pounds. In 1963 their linemen averaged 236 pounds. More-

With the National Football | average being 60% passing and 40% ground game. Now that you've sharpened up on some important professional football facts, I'll give you some tips on good grooming that will make you a hero off the field as well as on. Keep in top physical condition. Eat the right kinds of foods, get plenty of sleep, exercise daily, practice those football techniques that you're now weak in (we all have weaknesses . . for some its blocking, others tackling, passing, et al). Then, too, you'll feel better all around if you keep your off-the-field appearance as sharp as your game. Most young men in their teens and early twenties are plagued at one time or another by embarrassing acne pimples, blackheads and oily skin. You're not alone because statistics show that 90% of young males experience these very same skin conditions. My brother, Dave, had this problem recently. I recommended the use of Tackle medicated gel because it's made specifically for young men. He applies it each day like an after shave. It's a clear gel (not a "girlie" cover-up) and it has a fine masculine aroma. For Dave, it did the job. Shortly there was a noticeable improvement in his acne pimple problems. Now that you're ahead of the rest of the gang in your football and good grooming knowledge, here's some good advice: an important part of any game . . . including the game of life . . . good sportsmanship. Keep that in mind and you'll be on the winning side every time. By the way, if you'd like to
