

GARAGE DEAL TO BE AIRED MONDAY

Springport Bindery
Springport, Mich.

One of the big items on the agenda of the Mason city council when it meets next Monday night is expected to be the matter of the purchase of the Al Rice garage at Jefferson and Oak streets.

The deal through which the council bought the building for $52,500 has been declared null and void by John O'Brien, city attorney. O'Brien is endeavoring to unravel the mess and start over again on a legal basis if that is what the council wants.

Mason's 2 banks are involved to the extent that they loaned the city the money with which to make the purchase.

Meanwhile reports have been circulating during the past week that a purchaser for the garage building has been found. Mayor Gilson Pearsall said that an individual has indicated an interest in it and has been shown the building.

"As yet I have not met the man," Pearsall said.

The question of who owns the deed has also arisen. "We, the city, have a deed of sorts to the garage, but according to the attorney the former owner, Bud Reniger Construction of Lansing, still has legal claim to it," the mayor said.

"I am no lawyer, but according to some I have talked with, the city is not responsible to the Mason banks for the 2 loans, but that in a court of law the banks would have some recourse for recovering the funds."

The purchase was made without the approval of the Michigan Municipal finance commission, which is necessary when such transactions involve a governmental body.

A problem facing the council is the probability that the city taxpayers will turn down the proposed new city hall when it gets to the voting stages.

"If the city hall is turned down the city will be in a very bad situation," Pearsall said. "Right now the city assessor and police department have no room in the existing city hall and even the court facilities are inadequate."

Members of the council have been in session twice during the past week according to the mayor.

On Monday night they considered the garage purchase problem and then Tuesday night Robert Studt of the Michigan Municipal league advised the council on methods of financing the curb and gutter improvements being considered for Okemos street.

10 Year Bonds Get OK

Now that the Mason board of education has the go ahead for a $460,000 expansion and improvement program, the big problem is to decide whether or not to finance the project on a long (26 years) term or short (10 years) term.

Board members pondered the problem at the special Monday night meeting and decided to use the short term method.

M. Chandler Nauts, superintendent of schools, figured out that the total anticipated cost over 10 years to the district would be $561,000 while over a 26-year period the total cost would be $745,700.

Marvin Lott, board member, commented that the district could build another school with the money saved by financing through the short term.

The state regulates the amount of indebtedness a school district can assume which is not more than 15 per cent of the state equalized value.

On a qualified bond sale, which in the Mason school district is 26 years to maturity, the state would pay the required added millage over 7 mills of qualified bonding with the idea that it would be paid back when the school's indebtedness is reduced.

Consensus of board members was that it would be best to follow the short term bonding and save interest costs.

In attempting to foresee the future, Nauts said that the schools are in good shape as far as students to classroom ratios are concerned and he didn't expect any big problem until 1969.

"There will probably be an overcrowding problem in the elementary schools by 1969, but at that time the high school bonded indebtedness would be reduced enough to allow re-financing.

In other business the board decided to purchase a pickup truck from Al Rice Chevrolet for $2,798. The truck comes equipped with a hydraulic lift snow plow, 4-wheel drive and 4-speed transmission. Other estimates considered were for a Ford and International truck, the accepted offer was the lowest price.

Mason Girl Saw War in Vietnam

Fighting a war in Vietnam is no picnic, but American soldiers are doing an excellent job, according to a Mason girl who has just returned from the southeast Asia battle fronts.

She is Miss Jolynn Cappel, daughter of Mrs. Norman Brodie, 1108 S. Lansing street. She spent 10 weeks this past summer in southeast Asia, most of the time in the Delta area, scene of heavy fighting.

Miss Cappel was under fire during one engagement in the area and spent 6 hours in a bunker at Ha Tien with mortars crashing nearby.

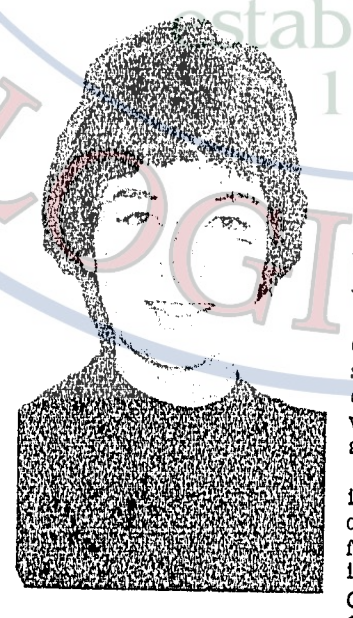

Eighty percent of the population of South Vietnam lives in the Delta area, Miss Cappel told the Ingham County News. She had gone to the village of Ha Tien to witness a civic action program. The Viet Cong had recently left the area and it was considered safe.

When she arrived villagers and special service forces (combat trained soldiers who also fill in as teachers, medics and laborers as the need arises) were rebuilding the damaged areas when suddenly the Viet Cong again bombarbed the area and a quiet evening of conversation for Miss Cappel turned into the 6 hour wait in the bunker. The Viet Cong left at daybreak.

Miss Cappel talked with many American soldiers. She said their morale is high and "99 out of every 100 feel that the United States should be in Vietnam."

"They believe," she said, "that if the war isn't fought in South Vietnam, it will break out in the Philippines or even on the American continent."

Salary Hikes Proposed For Employees of County

Campaign For Chest Funds On

Many hours of work and planning will be culminated today, October 13, with the official kick-off of the Mason Area Community Chest.

A continental breakfast was served to all section chairmen and key workers for the drive on Monday. During the breakfast the individual goals for the various campaign divisions were announced.

Local business is expected to come up with the biggest portion of the $14,744 goal. Volunteers will be out trying to subscribe $4,357 from business. The goal for industry has been set at $3,493 and for professional, $1,073.

Area residential drive workers will be working toward $873 from the city, $597 from Alaledon, $544 from Aurelius, and $407 from Vevay Townships.

Other goals are established at $639 from schools, $544 from the hospital and $1,717 from government. All out efforts will be made by the volunteers, because this year's goal is up $2,500 over last year.

The goal gauge was set up this week on the courthouse lawn and as soon as volunteers bring in their gathered funds, the results will be registered on the thermometer.

General chairman of the Community Chest, Dr. T. Vander Boll, asks everyone to give their "fair share" promptly so that all the funds can be collected within the 2 weeks set aside for the drive.

This year the Mason area Community Chest has set its sights high so that a more complete recreation program will be available to the Mason area residents.

The expanded program is to include a part-time recreation director and more activities for people of all ages to participate in. In years past the Community Chest has allotted $800 to the city recreation program.

To Cost $90,000 1st Year

Salary increases are in the offing for some 284 employees of Ingham county if the recommendations of the salaries committee of the board of supervisors is approved -- possibly at its November meeting.

The cost will be around $90,000 for the first year of implementation.

With some changes the program follows recommendations made by a private consultant firm that studied the wage structure of county government.

If the board of supervisors approves the committee's recommendations the salary hike will go into effect January 1, 1966.

Committee members hope the salary increases will be such as to stop a big turnover in county employees.

Under the proposed program minimum starting salaries have been established for each category and classifications have been raised to higher scales.

But the salary committee recommends that the consultant's plan be followed only from starting through 5th year pay scales.

The old longevity scale would continue for long term employees. This covers a 2 per cent raise for employees after 6 years of service, 4 per cent after 12 years, 6 per cent after 18 years and 8 per cent after 24 years.

Pay scale for beginners will range from grade 4 (jail matrons) to grade 33 (public health director) $15,473.

For instance, the top scale after 4 years for a jail matron will be $4,013, while the 5 year ceiling for public health director will be $19,748.

Current employees will be moved up to higher grades and will be paid at the beginning scale of the new classification or somewhere on the one to 5 year bracket.

Particular attention is given in the recommendations to 2 branches of county government, the sheriff's department

30 Sheep Killed By Vicious Dogs

Around the clock watches are in effect south of Mason on Coy, Eden and Jackson roads for 2 vicious dogs that are killing sheep.

Striking regularly for the past month, the dogs have killed some 30 sheep. William Bravender, Ingham county dog warden, reports the sheeps are literally torn to shreds and left bleeding to death.

The dogs hit at night and in the morning Bravender is called to destroy the dying animals. The county is responsible for animals killed by dogs and reimburses the owners for their loss.

So far only one farmer has reported a loss to the county. Howard Coy of Coy road has placed a claim to the county for the loss of 9 sheep which he values at $30 apiece.

The livestock committee of the Ingham county board of supervisors decides whether or not claims are valid and at what the loss will be evaluated. In past years the high-

Is it true blondes have more fun? Since you have but one life, should you live it as a blonde? These slogans are heard far and wide. I have it from one of my blonde (recent vintage) friends that really, blondes do have more fun. Redheads and brunettes say, "Ain't so." But, how, not being blonde, can they really know? Think about it some. Have you ever known a miserable blonde? True, some wives might refer to a blonde as, "that miserable blonde," especially if she's a mousey brown, like me. Hairdressers might rave over the aspects of being blonde, but let's face it . . . they could have mercenary reasons.

Being basically honest, I must admit that blondes often do catch the eye of the masculine portion of the population. This is strictly from close observation . . . even my 2 teen-age boys whistle at blondes. Maybe that isn't quite a fair observation, though. They whistle at girls. All girls. It takes quite some doing, sometimes these days, to distinguish, but somehow they always manage to whistle at only girls. But, back to blondes.

It turns out it takes quite a bit of doing to be blonde. The initial cost is staggering and the upkeep is something else again. Not to mention the long process of becoming blonde. I'm no expert . . . there are too many experts around these days. I try to be an expert at not being same. Recently, however, I was a close observer of a blonde becoming an "Innocent Ivory" blonde. It takes hours, literally.

Anyone who has become a blonde will testify that it is worth all this misery. Maybe it is true that blondes have more fun. At any rate, while my friend became "Innocent Ivory," I took one little tress and processed it. All things being equal, if I had much more fun . . . it might be illegal!

Thieves Break Store Window, Steal Cigarettes

Thieves broke out a window at Denmore's IGA store on US-127 sometime early Monday morning. Employees told investigating sheriff's detectives that they reached in the window and made away with some cigarettes.

Detectives think that the thieves also took an Ingham County News rack from the Doll House that same morning. It was a wasted effort though, because employees had emptied the canister on Sunday. The rack was found discarded in a ditch a short distance from the restaurant. The cases are under investigation.

Gregory Man Dies After Car Crash

GREGORY -- William C. LaPrad, 88, of 19702 Unadilla road, Gregory, died in a Howell hospital Monday afternoon about an hour and a half after his car was hit broadside by a truck near Pinckney and Coon Lake roads.

Dr. Charles Black of Williamston, state pathologist, attributed LaPrad's death to congestive heart failure. He noted that LaPrad had a rheumatic heart.

Livingston county sheriff's officers arrested Alfred H. Plummer, 33, of Fowlerville, the driver of the truck and booked him on a charge of driving while intoxicated and operating a vehicle with defective equipment. He was arraigned on these charges Tuesday before Justice Earl Spencer in Fowlerville.

Plummer was fined $100, costs of $15 and 60 days in jail. If Plummer failed to pay the fines and costs he was ordered to serve 90 days in jail. He was committed to the Livingston county jail at Howell.

LaPrad was on his way to the Livingston county sheriff's office when the accident occurred. He had telephoned the sheriff inquiring about obtaining a duplicate for his driver's license which, together with his wallet, was stolen over the past weekend. Ironically the deputy with whom he talked was the one who policed the accident.

Born in Monroe, LaPrad moved to Gregory in 1948. He had been a real estate and insurance broker in Detroit and since moving to Gregory had been a representative of a shoe firm.

Besides his wife, Hazel, he is survived by 4 sons, Robert G. of Des Moines, Iowa; William Jr. of Detroit, James B. of Lincoln Park and John A. of Napoleon, Ohio; 6 daughters, Mrs. Paula Green, Lansing; Mrs. Ann D. DiDonato of Ann Arbor, Mrs. Mary Donnelly of Detroit; Mrs. Julie Ann Zimmer, Whitmore Lake, Mrs. Catherine Hoard and Mrs. Patricia Beck, both of Pinckney; a brother, Edward of Monroe, and 4 sisters, Mrs. Clara Perry, Petersburg; Mrs. Cecelia Reay, Mrs. Alice Raymond and Mrs. Sarah Leonard, all of Monroe; 38 grandchildren and one great grandchild.

A funeral mass at St. Mary's Catholic church in Pinckney will be said Thursday at 9:30 a.m. and burial will be in St. Joseph's cemetery at Monroe. The Rosary will be recited Wednesday at 8 p.m. at the Swarthout funeral home in Pinckney.

For 24 years, Rhodes was a supervisor in the mailing department of a Detroit post office and for a short time worked in the Lansing post office. He was also the township clerk for Onondaga township.

Surviving are his wife, Evelyn; one daughter, Jean Patricia; his father, Samuel R. of Muir and one sister, Mrs. George Johnston of Muir.

Those enlisting were, Gilbert Kelly and Rene Mata from Leslie, Patrick Sammett, Ronald Ruby, Steven Lidstrom, Bruce Johnson, Michael Erskine, Richard Alverson, all from Haslett, Thomas DeNike, Williamston, Ronald Phelps, Duane Bazzett and Richard Mitchell from Lansing. This was the biggest single shipment to leave the Lansing office in some time.

Federal Poverty Grants To Aid Ingham Schools

Using 1960 census figures, the latest available as a yardstick, the Ingham Intermediate Board of education with the help of local school districts is determining the number of children in each school district of the county who come from families with incomes of less than $2,000 a year. The elementary secondary education act of 1965 eligible school districts are entitled to receive federal funds based on the number of children who come from such low income families.

Latest figures show there are approximately 2500 such children in Ingham county and of these about 1100 are in the city of Lansing.

The money is used by the schools in improving their programs for pupils. Each school district choosing to participate will present a proposal which will represent improvement in its educational offerings over what it has now.

Upon approval by the state department of education the school district will qualify for a maximum of $238.34 per pupil of the district's poverty group.

"If all 2500 pupils were eligible and all school districts qualified the county would receive about $600,000," Alton J. Stroud Ingham Intermediate school superintendent said. "However, this is a maximum figure."

The elementary and secondary education act authorizes the expenditure of $1.3 billion.

Schools may use the grants to finance a broad range of programs designed to meet the special needs of these children from low income families.

Possibilities include inservice training for teachers, increasing the number of teachers to reduce class size, supplementary instructional materials, special classes for talented and handicapped children, remedial instruction, supplemental health and food services, work experience programs, preschool training and provision of clothing, shoes and books where necessary.

It total authorization for this Title I of the act is appropriated, Michigan will be eligible to receive an estimated $32,730,000 and Ingham county $600,000 for the fiscal year of 1966.

Other sections or titles of the act cover library and instructional materials, supplementary education centers and research and training.

Already the Stockbridge board of education has passed a resolution applying for funds under the act. Jesse Batchelor, superintendent of the Stockbridge school district, says his district is eligible for the $238 grant for each child from low income families.

The Stockbridge district is composed of 8 townships and the aid must be worked out on a percentage basis, Batchelor told the board.

Almon Lathrop, president of the board wanted to know how much local control would be taken away if the Stockbridge schools came under the act.

Batchelor told him "we cannot afford to turn away from it and say no."

"We want to do all we can for our school children," Lathrop replied, "but we don't want to give up local control."

Batchelor pointed out that if Stockbridge doesn't take the grant some other school district will and added that Stockbridge children deserve it as much as they.

MASON RUNNERS were the victims of many gang tackles Friday night as blockers were unable to carry out assignments. Here Mason's Ross Ginter is swarmed over by Joe Fitzgerald and Mike Trieweiler after a short gain. The Rock defense was rock-ribbed.

Lakers Top Greyhounds

Haslett had to resort to a rally in order to nip Eaton Rapids 13-7 Friday night. It was the first touchdown of the year for the Greyhounds but it wasn't enough.

Friday night Eaton Rapids will take on the Highlanders at Howell. Haslett will see if a roadblock can't possibly be thrown in front of the Gabriels express. It will take some doing. The touchdown machine put together by Coach Phil Brooks is something to behold. The Rocks have proved that they can score every way possible and with frequency.

In the Haslett-Eaton Rapids contest neither team could get on the scoreboard during a sloppy and slimy first half but midway through the third quarter the Greyhounds got the ball on the Haslett 38 and marched in from there thanks for the most part to a set of good gainers by Quarterback Bill Gayton. It was Gayton who went the last 4 yards for the score.

The Lakers then came alive. Striking through the air, Mike Nestell tossed a scoring pass to Roy Hooze for the first touchdown. Jeff Erskine added another score.

Hornets Topple Pinckney

The Williamston Hornets defeated the Pickney Pirates 31-12 Friday. For the second week in a row the Hornets limited the rushing attack to under 20 yards. Pickney passed for 100 yards.

The first half was played loosely, ending at 6-6. The first Williamston touchdown came on a 5-yard plunge by Dave Grainger. In the second half of the defense was good and finally the offense began to click. Steve Dunckel made an interception and went 45 yards for a touchdown early in the third quarter. Later in the game he intercepted another pass. Dunckel was voted player of the week by his teammates for his outstanding play on defense.

In the third quarter Robbie Koss hit Mike McNeilly for a 25-yard touchdown and Barry Lott for a 20-yard score. The Hornets led 24-12 going into the last 24 minutes of the game. Then they tried the old statue of liberty play with Mike McNeilly carrying the ball for about 30 yards. A few plays later with seconds remaining Koss threw the bomb to McNeilly for his second touchdown.

In all Koss threw 3 touchdown passes and directed the offense with 200 yards passing and 135 rushing.

Outstanding defensive players were Gary Perkins, Roger Daignault, Dick Parmelee, Stan Hill, and Mike McNeilly. Again the defense as a unit was terrific. Mike McNeilly led the team in tackles with 10 followed by Parmelee and Daignault.

On offense Gerry Christensen let the ground attack with 50 yards. He was followed by Tom Shear with 40, Dave Grainger and Robbie Koss with 30 each.

Although the team looked poor the first half it looked much better the second half.

Hornet Jayvees Defeat Pinckney

The Williamston junior varsity Hornets traveled to Pickney last week. The weather was bad - it had rained all day and during the first half the water came down in buckets. This must have inspired the Hornets as they posted their first victory of the year. Their record now stands at 1-2.

The defense played well, containing the Pirates in their own territory. Pickney was able to penetrate Williamston's 30-yard line only once. Standouts on defense were Mark Hatt, Duane Gilroy and Tom Mouser.

Steve Studt scored the first touchdown in the first half on a 25-yard run. In the third quarter Dave Faustman plunged into the end zone with a 9-yard score. The final score was Williamston 12 - Pickney 0. Next week's game is at Fowlerville.

Grab Safe ICL Lead Aggies Add Fowlerville To Their Victim List

It would appear that this is Dansville's year in the Ingham County league. The Aggies knocked off Fowlerville Friday night 12-6 and thereby extended the Dans-

Raiders Push by Chiefs

O'Rafferty edged Okemos Saturday night 8-0. It was a defensive battle all the way with O'Rafferty being held to only 4 first downs and Okemos managed only 7.

It was the first win for the O'Rafferty Raiders who had had 3 straight ties up until the Okemos encounter. Friday night O'Rafferty will move over to Mason. The Raiders will catch Mason either in deep dolldrums or at fever pitch after the whipping the Gabriels gridders handed the Bulldogs last week.

It should be a tight game. Okemos, having far from a successful season, will entertain always powerful Holt. The Rams are charged up waiting for Gabriels to falter so that the Rams can move in on another Circuit title.

Lynn Ried and company should prove to be a tough crew for the Chiefs to handle. Okemos outplayed O'Rafferty for 3 quarters Saturday night but the Raiders earned the victory by capitalizing on a first-quarter break, a recovered fumble. The Raiders took over the bobble on the Okemos 21. Six plays later Mike Flynn banged his way into the end zone for the game's only score.

Okemos had a previous break when the Chiefs recovered a Raider fumble deep in O'Rafferty territory but Raider defenses were up to the occasion.

In the second half Okemos was in scoring position 3 times but the Raiders staved off scores.

Gabriels Tops JV's

Gabriels beat the Mason Jayvees 6-0 on a rain soaked field Thursday night.

Mason still lacks an offense that can score when the chips are down, according to Coach Herb Schultz. In their last 2 outings the Bulldogs have not been able to score a point.

Gabriels completed a pass in the first quarter for its touchdown, but failed on the P.A.T. when trying to run it through the line.

Mason's offense piled up close to 200 yards, but never had a scoring opportunity.

The entire defense team played an outstanding game forcing the larger Gabriel team to punt on several occasions.

Doug Engle was a standout on both offense and defense and a repeat performance this week will be needed if Mason is expected to win. Joel Garlingsinger, Dave Stroud, and Jim Powers played outstanding games on defense.

Mason should be hungry for another victory when O'Rafferty plays here Thursday at 7.

Frosh Split In First 2

Mason's freshmen gridders are batting .500 after their first 2 games. In the season opener for Coach Mary Pulver's crew the Bulldog puppets stopped Okemos 18-14.

Last week Mason fell before the mighty Gabriels squad 42-6.

Ron Taylor has been the big gun in the Mason attack. He has accounted for all the touchdowns in the 2 games. Wednesday night, October 13, Mason will entertain O'Rafferty. On October 20 Mason will play at Haslett.

ville perfect string to 4 for the season and 2 in league play.

This Friday the Aggies will take on Stockbridge at the Panther field. The Panthers have shown a lot of improvement but they will have to show even more if they are to stop the touchdown happy Aggies.

Still to be hurdled by Dansville in addition to Stockbridge are Williamston and Leslie.

Fowlerville, perennial Ingham County league champs, have fallen on evil days. In order to repeat the Glads must not only go the rest of the way with victories but they must have some assistance from the Dansville opponents.

Mud and rain didn't slow down Dansville's Jerry Ernst. The topflight Aggie quarterback tossed the ball around with no trouble. In the second quarter he came up with his seventh and eighth of the season.

The first toss went 4 yards to Gary Baker. The second one was aimed at Colin Curtis on a play covering 12 yards.

While Dansville had no trouble hanging onto the ball, the Gladiators found the situation different. The slimy weather plus hard hitting Dansville defenders made for lots of Fowlerville fumbles.

Four of those fumbles were recovered by linebacker Dale Dillingham, an effort which just had to make him the outstanding defensive player on the field.

Fowlerville scored its touchdown in the second half on a one-yard drive. There was some glory left over for Fowlerville. That touchdown was the first scored on the Aggies this year.

Panthers Win By Taking Leslie

Stockbridge high school's first home football game of the season ended on a happy note as the Panthers notched their first victory of the season in a hardfought battle with long time rival Leslie, 12-6.

The field was wet, slippery, and muddy in spots and while the quality of play was probably hampered some, there was a lot of good hard football played by both teams.

The first quarter was scoreless as both teams played cautiously. However in the second quarter, the tempo of play picked up considerably and both teams were running, blocking and tackling hard.

The Panther's first score came in that period when quarterback Tim Howlett sneaked across from the one yard line after completing a 20 yard pass to end Dave Mills to set up the tally.

The third quarter saw a lot of exciting action but with neither team able to sustain a scoring drive.

Then in the fourth stanza, Stockbridge took the ball on their own 15 yard line and marched 85 yards for the winning TD. The drive was capped by a 32 yard pass from Howlett to end Bob Stephens who deftly eluded several would be tacklers on his dash into the end zone.

The long scoring drive included some fine running by Panther backs Dale Risner, Steve Collins and Roger Poe.

Leslie's only score came on a 60 yard punt return by Blackhawk Tom Cooper.

Twice during the game, Leslie marched deep into Stockbridge territory but the Panther defense, led by Joe Slinger, stood firm and the Blackhawks were unable to score until Cooper's dash late in the game.

Slinger's defensive play was outstanding throughout the game and he was responsible for six unassisted tackles.

Grid Winner Misses 2

Jim Marquardt kept the Ingham County News football contest prize money in the family. This week the former Mason player was the winner. Last week it was his wife.

He came through the 16-game slate with only 2 losers. He thought it was time for East Lansing to get on the winning track and he was too much of a Detroit Lions fan.

He can pick up his check at the Ingham County News office.

Get in on the fun. This week's $10 can be yours.

Spartans Lose

Webberville bumped into trouble Friday at Potterville. The Spartans fell before Potterville 20-6. Webberville's lone score came in the fourth quarter when John Swain got off a 29-yard pass to Jack Jolly.

Raiders Here Friday

Rocks Crush Bulldogs With 40-0 Whollop

They came by land, they came by air and they came by water. Gabriels scored in just about every way possible Friday night in handing Mason a 40-0 whipping. Played in slippery, sloppy mud the breaks and the talent seemed to all belong to the Rocks-- at least in the first half because that is when they scored all 40 points.

If Mason is going to bounce back it will take a mighty bounce. Friday night O'Rafferty will be in Mason to help celebrate Mason's homecoming.

There were plenty of O'Rafferty players and coaches on hand last Friday and they all had smiles on their faces in anticipation of catching Mason this week.

Mike Flynn has proved to be an able back for the Raiders and he will be in the forefront of the Friday night battle. The Raiders have some size and have exhibited a talent for defense. Only on offense have they failed to live up to pre-season expectations. Gabriels has a Friday night date at Haslett. This could be a surprise. The Lakers are not setting the world afire but they have demonstrated that they have a well-balanced attack and a tough defense.

It didn't take long in the Gabriels-Mason encounter to determine how the game was to go. In a wild first half Tom Jacovak opened the touchdown parade by sweeping the end for a 51-yard touchdown romp. Before the first quarter ended Chris Clark had gone Jacovak a few yards better by breaking loose on a 64-yard scoring run.

Then it really became wild. Jacovak went 28 yards for another touchdown and seconds later turned hero again when he picked up a fumbled punt touched by a teammate, reversed his field and went 35 yards to score.

Don Cook then broke into the scoring with a 2-yard smash and Clark wound up the festivities by intercepting a pass and going in from 30-yards out just before halftime.

Cook, Clark, Mike Mitchell and Jerry Hayes ran the extra points.

A popular way to view Michigan's spectacular autumn color show is by boat or canoe on the state's 11,000 inland lakes and 38,000 miles of rivers and streams. Some 60 canoe trails are listed in the free publication, "Michigan Canoe Trails," which can be obtained by writing the Michigan Tourist Council, Stevens T. Mason Building, Lansing, Michigan, 48926.

It was a different game in the second half. Mason tightened up the defense and held the Rocks pretty much in check--at least they didn't score.

Mason's attack just couldn't get into high gear, due in part to some good sharp tackling on the part of the quick Rocks.

The only real Mason threat came in the third period when Mason moved the ball to the Gabriels 7-yard line but penalties plus a stout defensive stand forced Mason to give up the ball on downs.

Ross Ginter was the biggest ground gainer for the Bulldogs. He slammed for several good runs.

Failure to open the Rock defense up with passes brought on much of Mason's troubles.

Aggie Jayvees Lose to Glads

The Dansville junior varsity played Fowlerville last Thursday, October 7, and lost 19-7. Even though Dansville lost the game they played a good game.

Dansville's touchdown was made by Rodney Clickner. He intercepted a pass and ran 76 yards for a touchdown.

Ried Leads Holt Past Howell

Defending champion, Holt, led by senior Lynn Ried, stayed at the heels of Capitol Circuit leader Gabriels by defeating Howell 26-7 in a home game Friday night. Holt stands one game back of the Shamrocks who have won 3 league games.

Ried raised his season touchdown total to 6 by scoring a pair against Howell. He put Holt on the scoreboard in the first period with a 2-yard run set up by his 35-yard punt return. He gained 31 yards in the 40-yard push.

In the third quarter Ried intercepted a Howell pass, returning it to the Highlanders' 30-yard line. He picked up 23 more yards in the drive, including the final one for a touchdown.

In the second quarter, Ried helped to give Holt a 19-7 halftime lead by carrying 39 yards in a touchdown drive capped by Joe Bochenek's one-yard run.

Holt's other touchdown came early in the second quarter when Gary Roberts recovered a Howell fumble in the end zone.

Howell was within a touchdown of the winners at 13-7 in the second quarter when Denny Cunningham scored on a 17 yard run. John Theil set up Howell's score by completing a 32-yard pass to Bill Simmons.

THE LONG STRETCH paid off for Gabriels on this play when a whiteshirted Rock pulled down Mason's Ron Underwood on a punt return. The Rocks stopped Mason with regularity all through the game.

Schools Save On Milk Bill

The Mason school district will be saving enough on their anticipated milk bill for the 1965-66 year to buy a complete milk refrigeration system for all the schools.

In accepting the low bid of the Sealtest Dairy to supply 385,000 one-half pints of milk for the year, the board saved an estimated $1,800 over last year. The bid was approved at a special meeting of the Mason board of education Monday night.

A former milk supplier to the school district offered to provide the district with milk at the same price that they had the previous year.

Paul Cheney, school district business manager, suggested to the board that the milk purchase be put up for bids, as he knew the farmers had been given an increase for milk this past year and it seemed strange that the existing supplier could still afford to sell milk for the same price.

There were 4 bids submitted to the board of education. The lowest bidder, Sealtest Dairy, offered to deliver one-half pints of milk to the schools daily at $.052 for white milk and $.057 for chocolate milk.

"In year's past the school has relied on individual dairies to supply a refrigeration unit for each school," Cheney said. "Many times obsolete equipment would be placed in a new modern school, but because the dairy was providing the units the schools had no choice in the matter."

By accepting the low bidder the schools will save an estimated $1,800 over last year which would be enough money to purchase refrigeration for all the schools.

Proposed units include an upright refrigerator to match the equipment at the junior high school and chest type units for all the elementary schools. The senior high already has its own refrigeration unit.

"Milk must meet all the state and federal requirements before it can be sold, since the quality is uniform it doesn't really matter from which dairy the schools buy," Cheney said.

"With this new equipment the schools will be in a better position to get future milk bids also," he said.

May Channel

All Fire Calls

Through Mason

HOLT -- Arrangements may be made for all fire calls in the Holt area to be channeled through the Ingham County sheriff's department in Mason, provided the plan is given approval by the Ingham County board of supervisors.

Joe Kiersey, Delhi charter township supervisor, presented the plan Monday night to the township board. If approved, all calls would move to the sheriff's department in Mason where officers would, through the telephone setup, press a button which would sound the siren at the Delhi fire station on Cedar street in Holt.

The Delhi fire department telephone number would be unchanged and persons reporting a fire would call the same number they now do and it would be answered at the sheriff's department in Mason. The city of Mason has such a system now in operation.

Warming Trend

Due This Week

Autumn will be kind to this area during this week, at least. The forecast issued Wednesday morning by the U.S. Weather Bureau in Lansing predicted a warming trend the latter part of the week and through the weekend. Precipitation will total 1/2 to 2/3 of an inch mostly during the weekend.

Workers Needed

If high fields opportunity camp for boys now under construction near Onondaga, is to stay on its building schedule so as to be ready for use next spring it will need more help from volunteer laborers, John F. Ghastin, director of the project, said this week.

But he added that donations are coming in fine, including gifts of cash, equipment and furnishings.

War

Miss Cappo, who is working toward her masters degree in political science at Michigan State university, spent most of her time working in South Viet Nam hospitals with surgical teams from the United States and Australia.

"There is a pressing need for medical help and facilities in the country," Miss Cappo said. She described conditions as 2 to 6 patients in a bed with no screens, patient care hours limited to 8-5 and 2 nurses for 60-80 patients.

In the places she worked the laundries were the size of a small kitchen and served more than 300 patients. Miss Cappo said the doctors worked 18 hours a day or until they were physically and mentally exhausted.

Because of the nursing shortage, families of the sick or injured moved into the hospital around a particular bed and set up housekeeping adding to the congestion and confusion.

Miss Cappo saw the Chieu Hoi camp which is used for Viet Cong defectors. She described them as being weak physically and militarily.

"The Viet Cong are not having an easy time of finding people to fight their war; they have resorted to terrorism tactics," she said. "A normal procedure is to capture a member of a family and threaten torture if male members of the family don't join Viet Cong ranks. Often times they are recruiting 12 and 13-year-old boys."

Miss Cappo spent 3 weeks in Saigon, the capital of South Viet Nam.

"Saigon is a city with definite French overtones, but resembles none of the actual country outside it," she said.

"During the French occupation they tried to make the city a small Paris, but it does not represent Viet Nam. The elite and intellectuals live in the capital and know very little of the villagers' problems."

Commenting on the South Viet Nam government she said it could not function independently as yet, because the country has too many problems and is too weak economically.

"United States aid to Viet Nam is not channeled through the government, but is distributed directly to the villagers with the idea that we supply and the villagers build," she said. "This type of aid is effective because the people then take pride in their gains."

School May Do Landscaping

The Mason board of education is thinking about going into the landscaping business for their own properties.

A plan for landscaping the lawn area around the North Aurelius school was presented to the board at a special meeting Monday night. Cost of supplying and planting all of the trees and shrubs was estimated to cost from $1,250 to $1,650.

After some consideration board members decided to pay the architect for the drawing and then have school employees buy the proposed trees and shrubs and do their own planting.

This brought to mind the fact that the school district didn't actually have anyone trained in this area.

"Our whole external upkeep is getting to the point where we should think about hiring a competent person to supervise all the lawn work for all schools," Rexford Stribley, board member, said.

M. Chandler Nauts, school superintendent, said that he had been looking for just such a person, but that a person with the qualifications to take on the job would demand a salary much higher than the school district could afford.

"I personally feel this is a highly inflated field -- there is no magic to digging a hole and putting in a tree," Stribley said.

Members decided it would cost the school district much less to have the school do their own plant purchasing and planting. Lyle Thorburn, board secretary, suggested that the school purchase a large size of seedling.

"It doesn't pay to put in too small a seedling, more often than not the kids decide to play ring around the tree and that usually spells death to the small plantings," he said.

Nauts told board members he would continue to look for a man that would be interested in taking on the job for a reasonable wage.

He also reported that the grass seed for the front yard of the North Aurelius school was in and some of it had started coming up. "It is still too wet for any of the earth movers to get to work on the back yard," he said.

LIABLE TO EXECUTION. North Vietnam has warned that all American pilots shot down over North Vietnam will henceforth be liable to execution. Above, pilots from the USS Ranger, of the Seventh Fleet, get a briefing before an air strike on North Vietnam. Hanoi has said these pilots will not be considered prisoners of war if captured, but "criminals caught in the act." — WFS Photo

Under the county dog law, all dogs must be confined from sundown to sun up with all dogs in towns and villages complying with the individual ordinances.

Bravender along with sheriff's officers have been keeping constant watch in the general area of the killings hoping to catch what they think are wild dogs. Farmers in the vicinity are also keeping watches from trucks at night.

"Any dogs on the loose in the area at night will be apprehended one way or another," Bravender warned. "Anyone with dogs or pups they do not want are asked to call the county dog warden."

Under the proposed plan beginning deputies will draw $5,935 to a 5 year rate of $7,214 rate; detectives, $6,539 to $8,349; sergeants, $6,867 to $8,766; detective captain, $7,973 to $9,964; chief deputy, $7,961 to $10,462; undersheriff, $8,349 to $10,985.

Assistant prosecutors, grade 1, would go from $7,214 to $9,204 after 5 years; grade 2 from $8,349 to $10,985; grade 3 from $9,964 to $12,717 and chief assistant from $10,985 to $14,034.

The chief probation officer and the probate court registrar will follow the same scale as that of a assistant prosecutor, grade 1.

The increases in these 2 departments are designed to make the various offices more attractive and prevent turnover of help.

THIS HIGH SPEED GOSS SUBURBAN PRESS is what makes for increased production capacity. Bob Lamphier, veteran News pressman, checks over a tabloid publication for ink coverage. It takes a 3-man crew to keep the press going plus lots and lots of newsprint.

THIS CAMERA is a far cry from the old fintype days. Here Joe Ciokajlo, head of the camera department, shoots a page line shot. Another giant camera does the screened shooting of pictures.

SCREENED HALFTONES and the line negatives are joined in the stripping department and page flats made. Here Larry Root, Ted Glynn and Vern Brown perform the stripping chores.

BUILDING THE PAGES, paste-up style, is big business. The average week will see 200 to 300 pages being put together on the battery of light boxes. Caught by the camera putting the Ingham County News together are Bill Suggitt and Linda Nyberg.

How Newspaper Empires Are Built

JAMES BROWN

RICHARD BROWN

The Ingham County News today is the 2nd largest industry in Mason, exceeded only by Wyeth Laboratories Inc. Approximately 62 persons are employed in the News plant, which in addition to publishing its own paper, also prepares and prints 20 other publications, including all but 2 of the weekly newspapers published in Ingham county, an entertainment magazine which is distributed in Detroit, newspaper supplements, trade magazines and shopper publications, bulletins, monthly publications and circulars.

The weekly newspapers printed in the Ingham County News plant include those of Williamston, Howell, Stockbridge, Grand Ledge, Eaton Rapids, Dearborn Heights, Olive, Milford, Pottersville and Mason.

The Ingham County News, itself, was established back in 1859, but its greatest expansion began 42 years ago when Vernon J. Brown, grandfather of the present owners, purchased the News from Schuyler Marshall who wished to transfer his newspaper activities to St. Johns, his former home. On that day a newspaper family was born in Mason. In the 40 odd years since it has been continuously under the management of the Brown family.

Vernon Brown was a fine editor—a great editor. He had a strong background of civic activity, sound business judgment and he and his newspaper waged a continuous campaign for community betterment.

Working at his side was his son, Nelson D. Brown, who later took over the reins of ownership and management when Vernon Brown moved up in the political arena to auditor general and lieutenant governor of Michigan.

But his guiding hand was still there to aid his son and the newspaper prospered and went forward as one of the finest weekly publications in central Michigan.

Like his father, Nelson Brown had genius, vision and understanding to carry on to further achievements the newspaper his father had built over the years.

But Nelson Brown's career was cut short by his death in 1961 and his 2 sons, James N. and Richard D. Brown, picked up the torch and carried on.

Both college-trained in journalism and steeped in the traditions of a newspaper family, they stepped into their father's shoes and the Ingham County News went on.

Jim and Dick Brown had visions, too. Visions that led them 2 years later into a step that might have been regarded as audacious, to say the least. But these 2 men took the plunge. They purchased property at 222 W. Ash street and built a new newspaper plant. Then they installed the process of off-set printing, a comparatively new venture in the publishing field.

The Brown Brothers had "built a better mouse trap" and customers came to their door. Contracts for preparing and printing newspapers poured in and the new offset press they had purchased was operating night and day.

At the formal opening of the new plant the man who pressed the button that started the press on its first run was none other than Vernon J. Brown, then in his 90th year—the man who started this journalistic endeavor 42 years ago.

The new press which handles color and operates at a speed of 18,000 papers an hour was a far cry from the slow, hand fed machine on which Vernon Brown published his weekly 40 years ago.

In the early part of 1965 James and Richard Brown purchased the Stockbridge Shopper and turned it into a tabloid weekly newspaper they named The Town Crier. They entered a field where there already was another weekly newspaper, The Brief Sun. But within a few months later they purchased the Brief Sun from John Rudnicki of Fowlerville and merged the 2 publications into the Town Crier and Brief Sun.

All this required more employees and the payroll increased. Today it stands at approximately $185,000 annually.

In 1965 the Browns and Sheldon Bibbins formed the Mason Printing company to handle fine printing. The business is located in the former News building on S. Jefferson.

Offset printing has been the answer to many a weekly newspaper publisher's problems. A plant such as this one in Mason can take a big load off his shoulders when he contracts to have his newspaper prepared and published through the offset system.

There is no such thing as type in an offset plant. The printer's makeup rule has been replaced by a sharp cutting knife. There is not a single linotype machine in the Ingham County News plant.

News and advertising copy is prepared and sent to the production department, where girls, trained in operating what are known as verityper machines and justwriters, type out the copy which comes from the machines on a punched tape. This tape, in long strips is then fed through a reproducing machine which adjusts the typed material to one column or multiple column widths.

Another machine prepares the headlines by photographing letters which come out on another long strip which is then cut up to form the proper width headline.

The heads and the copy to which they belong then are assembled and run through a waxing machine which applies an adhesive substance on the back of the paper.

From here the process moves to the makeup tables where a sheet of paper outlined by columns is placed over a light table and the copy is pasted on it. Then it is photographed and a negative of the page is produced. Then it is checked and spotted in much the same manner as a stereotyper fills in low spots on a newspaper mat.

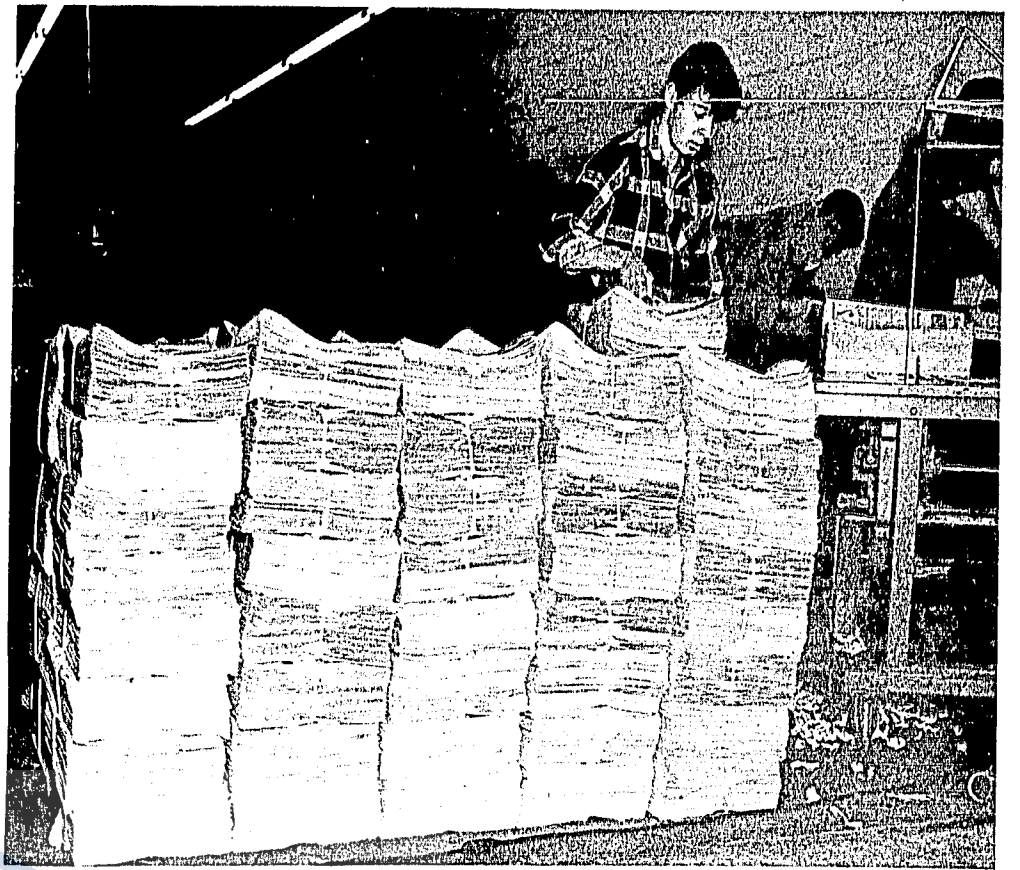

When this is done the page is ready to be placed in an oven-type machine with a sheet of thin aluminum and the negative is transposed to the aluminum to become a positive print. The aluminum page is then placed on press cylinders and is ready for printing.

The page reproduction is a marvel to behold. Pictures look like finished photographs and come out sharp and in great detail. Printing is clear and easy to read.

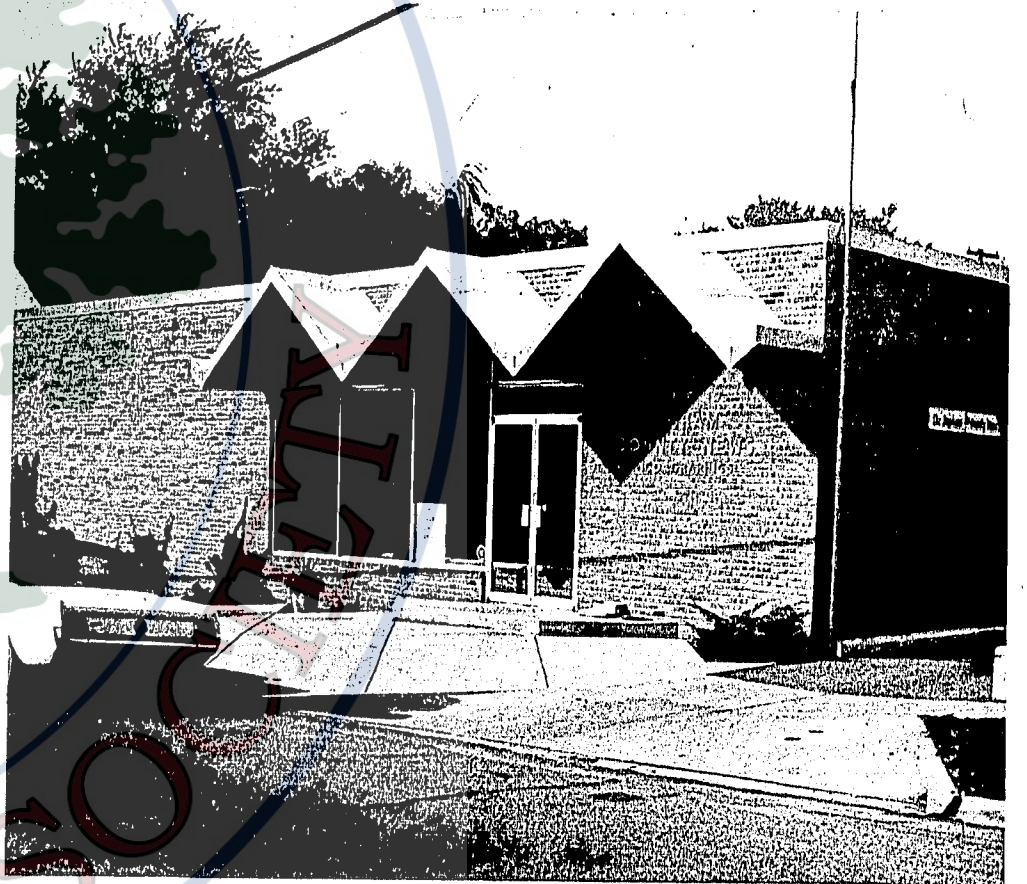

The Brown Brothers are ever alert to new wrinkles in the publishing industry. Progressive thinkers, ready to adopt to changing conditions as they arise. The newspaper industry is one that will never die, for there is nothing in the communication field that can replace the printed word.

The Ingham County News

Wednesday, October 13, 1965 - Page B-1

MAILING IS ONE OF THE BIGGER CHORES with 3/4 of a million pieces a week coming off the press. Mason housewives and high school students man this important operation. Here Charles Ammeman operates the automatic bundle tyer.

TO HANDLE A NEW TECHNIQUE in newspaper production, that of the offset process, the Ingham County News built a new building, considered as ideal for the job. Other publishers interested in off-set make frequent stops at the News facility before making their own switch.

TURNING THE COPY into "type", offset style, is the responsibility of these 3 justwriter operators. Working on putting news onto perforated coded tape to be processed by other machines into reproduction proofs are, from front to rear, Judy Cole, Kathy Hausser and Sue Sanchez.

East Lansing Man Is New Ag Chief

B. Dale Ball of East Lansing has been appointed director of the Michigan department of agriculture, and took office October 1. The announcement was made by Edward J. Wright, Saginaw, chairman of the commission of agriculture.

The new director of agriculture has served as the Department's Deputy Director since 1953, under former Director G.S. McIntyre, who resigned to accept a position with Michigan State University.

Mr. Ball, 50, lives at 637 Grove street, East Lansing, with his wife Francis and daughter Barbara, 14. A son Jim is a medical student at Northwestern University.

The new director of agriculture has had a long association with agriculture. Born on a Livingston county farm, he worked his way through Michigan State University by milking cows in the college dairy barn. He graduated with a Bachelor of Science Degree in soils, farm management and animal husbandry in 1939. Following graduation, he taught vocational agriculture for five years at Yale and Leaper. In 1951, after six years with the Soil Conservation Service, he joined the Michigan department of agriculture as Coordinator of Institutional Farms and Herds. He was appointed Deputy Director in 1953.

Appointment of the director was made by the five-man commission of agriculture, policy making body for the large state agency. Members of the commission are: Chairman Edward J. Wright, Saginaw; Vice Chairman Donald R. Barden, South Haven; Secretary Blaque C. Knirk, Quincy; Kay D. Sleik, Iron Mountain; and R. K. Stout, Marshall.

Upon learning of his appointment, Mr. Ball said: "This is a tremendously responsible and challenging position. I look forward to the opportunity to be of service to this dynamic industry, and intend to do my best to carry out policies of the Commission of Agriculture."

He continued: "Michigan's proud position in agriculture has been won through combined efforts of many, including the department of agriculture staff, the legislature, the executive office, farm and commodity groups, and others. If my direction is to prove a success, it will be with the continuation of this cooperation, and especially with the aid of the department's top-notch staff."

Divisions within the Michigan department of agriculture are administration, dairy, food inspection, finance, laboratory, livestock disease control, and plant industry. Department duties include consumer protection through enforcement of more than 100 laws. These, for example, assure the public of a wholesome milk supply, disease-free nursery stock, and inspected meats.

Through reorganization of state government under the Executive Organization Act of 1965, the department's responsibilities will increase and commissions will be merged into the Michigan department of agriculture.

DEMANDS FOR STATE contribution to various government services which previously were financed locally are not exactly new. But a few new variations from familiar themes are being heard.

With the state rolling in dough, as compared with the past six or more years, more groups would like to share the pie. This is seen despite the fact the experts say it will take only a few years for the present surplus to be eaten up by existing agencies through the rising costs of services.

Mental health, social welfare, higher education, elementary and secondary school officials all say the past years of austere budgets have pushed needs to the critical stage and the gaps must be filled with the healthy surplus now on the books.

This select list can be magnified by the number of state agencies now in existence.

COMMUNITY COLLEGES have received considerable boosts in state aid the past few years. Legislators saw this approach as one way to possibly alleviate some of the problems of the four-year colleges and universities.

Now there comes forth a report from a national management consultant firm which says the state needs to make a concentrated financial push to bring Michigan's community colleges up to standard in the single area of libraries.

The New York firm says 12 of the 18 community colleges in operation at the end of the last school year had library collections below the minimum standards recommended by the American Library Association. Staff and facility problems also were cited as critical or nearly so.

REFLECTING ON THE EFFECT of this deficiency, the organization said inadequate library service results in the community and state being short-changed because it prohibits the community college from fulfilling its intended role in the higher education program.

The conclusion is that if the community colleges are to be a meaningful part of the higher education picture they must have adequate library facilities, staffs and books.

On another front, Michigan this year saw the state police organization get a good-sized boost in staff and general operating budget to help it do its job of traffic and crime control more effectively.

Now the question arises the question of whether the state should throw some support to local police agencies as well. A number of law enforcement people at both the state and local levels support the idea.

TEACHING GROUPS have come to the state several times with a similar plea, contending that school standards could be enhanced by having a uniform salary scale.

The new suggestion calls for the state to financially contribute to police training programs and policemen's salaries.

Although details of the idea are still being considered, it might be presumed to take on a pattern similar to the state contribution plan now in effect for circuit judges. The state pays $15,000 a year per judge and circuit sets its own contribution, the highest now being $14,800.

HEADLINES SOMETIMES bring to the public eye the function and purpose of private organizations. A good recent example was the work of the Michigan Association for Retarded Children as explained because of the case of the Troy child left by his mother at the Miami airport.

Most often, however, a person may have heard of groups like this but generally does not know anything more than the name and that its new local president gets his picture in the paper every year. One such agency is the Michigan Welfare League.

Some even think of this one as being a part of state government.

THE SELF-DESCRIPTION of the League relates that it is the "only statewide organization concerned with the social welfare and health problems affecting all the people in Michigan."

This citizens organization, now in its 53rd year, annually selects what it considers to be the greatest problems in the health-welfare area, studies them and attempts to implement whatever ideas it considers valuable.

Some of the areas in which study has been concentrated the past few years have been poverty and people on relief, rehabilitation of the handicapped, community social planning, migratory labor, and unemployed youth.

FIELD SERVICES are provided by the League staff to localities through the United Fund and related local groups, planning councils and government agencies.

Assistance to an Otsego County probate judge in developing an approach to the handling of juveniles is one example of the field consultation work performed by the League.

The Michigan Welfare League is essentially financed by the Michigan United Fund. Smaller amounts of money also are raised from membership, conference and publication fees.

The seminar was part of the Bank's program of placing the latest management tools in the hands of the local FLBA management.

Academies Seeking Applicants

Rep. Charles E. Chamberlain has announced that he will accept applications up to October 29 from young men of the Sixth congressional district interested in attending the nation's service academies as members of the class of 1970, entering in the summer of 1966.

This year residents of Ingham, Jackson, Shiawassee counties and Bath and DeWitt townships of Clinton county, who are between the ages of 17 and 22 as of July 1966, may compete for openings at the army, navy and air force schools. The East Lansing congressman stated he would also be glad to provide information about the Merchant Marine and Coast Guard Academies as well.

Because of new admissions policies at the academies, Chamberlain urged those interested to take the college entrance board examinations which are to be next given in December. Full information about all admission requirements will be provided prospective candidates by writing to Rep. Chamberlain, U. S. House of Representatives, Washington, D. C.

In making the announcement, the Michigan representative said, "World conditions make it mandatory that the best qualified men available be appointed for our future military leaders, and as our high school seniors make plans for their further education, I hope that they will seriously consider this opportunity to serve their country. I will look forward to considering the applications of many outstanding young men."

Accident Claims Fund To Aid Insured Driver

The "$64 question" in Michigan these days centers about the payment of $1... the sum which all persons with liability insurance will have to pay into the state's new Motor Vehicle Accident Claims fund when they begin registering cars and other motor vehicles November 1.

The question is usually about the same... "Why me? Why do I have to pay when I already carry liability insurance?"

The answer is simple, according to Secretary of State James M. Hare. "The dollar actually buys insurance protection."

Hare said the $1 fee along with the $25 from each uninsured vehicle owner will be used to finance the fund from which innocent victims of accidents with uninsured drivers will be able to draw upon when the claims are filed starting January 1, 1966.

"The dollar paid into the fund actually protects the insured motorist against accidents with negligent uninsured drivers."

"It protects against contingencies such as personal injury in accidents with hit-and-runners and persons driving stolen vehicles, and out-of-state uninsured drivers who are involved in Michigan accidents."

Hare cautioned against dropping the private uninsured protection rider, however.

"The fund and the rider offered by private insurance companies compliment one another," Hare said. "One covers any contingencies in Michigan, while the rider offers complete protection outside the state."

"With most persons traveling outside Michigan these days," Hare said, "my advice is to continue or buy the private option." There is legislation which would make such coverage mandatory.

Hare said one of the main intents of the fund is to force as many uninsured motorists as possible into the insured category.

"Percentage is about 85 percent insured as near as we can presently calculate," said Hare. "Most funds of this type have resulted in about half of the uninsured getting into the insured class which would bring Michigan to more than 90 percent insured drivers."

"I'm hopeful of getting it even higher than that," Hare said.

He said he doubted that too many of the "high risk" drivers would buy insurance. "Actually, the $25 they will be paying into the fund is a small part of what they would pay for complete liability coverage. Being a realist, I doubt that many of these people will become insured."

"Persons who drive without liability coverage are taking a terrible risk," Hare said. "They are gambling with their future solvency... because a bad accident could mean that they would have to pay back into the fund hundreds and perhaps thousands of dollars."

Governor Romney Reports

October 7, 1965

Our series of nine Governor's Regional Traffic Safety Conferences are nearing completion. They have been quite successful in focusing attention on the need for an all-out effort to drastically reduce our highway death toll.

The fact is that despite Michigan's progress in modern road building, and the increased attention given to correcting hazardous locations, drivers are getting into more and more traffic accidents.

This demonstrates many needs—for improved driving behavior, for strengthened driver education, for safer vehicles, and for better enforcement of traffic laws.

These needs are here, and I plan to seek a minimum program of traffic safety legislation next year the following:

1. We should provide greater discretionary authority for driver improvement action. We need to be able to re-examine drivers who have been involved in even one flagrant violation or one accident in which they were criminally at fault.

2. We should require a periodic renewal examination for drivers.

3. We should raise the minimum driving age to 17, requiring both the completion of a driver licensing course and at least three months' prior experience behind the wheel under the supervision of a licensed adult.

4. The licenses granted to all new drivers should be on a probationary basis for the first year.

5. We should increase state payments to high schools for driver education courses. At present, we reimburse schools up to $25 per pupil, if funds are available. That doesn't cover costs. The maximum should be raised to $40, but payments should not exceed the particular school district's actual cost per student.

6. We need to provide enough money to the State Department of Public Instruction for effective supervision of the driver education program.

7. We should require all beginning drivers, regardless of age, to complete a driver education course before they get their licenses.

8. Driver education for youngsters under 18 should be provided only by schools which offer a high school diploma program and conduct a driver training course approved by the State Department of Public Instruction.

9. Michigan needs a sound program of periodic motor vehicle inspection. At least once a year, we should check out every vehicle to be sure that it meets minimum safety standards.

10. An important new tool for enforcement of our traffic laws would be the "implied consent" law. This simply means that, when a person gets his license, he would be considered to have agreed, by implication, to allow law enforcement officials to conduct chemical tests to determine whether he was clinically under the influence of alcohol.

11. Enforcement would also be improved by requiring the uniform traffic and complaint forms. This would help keep accurate records on drivers and their points.

12. Also for improved enforcement, and to give us better information about accident experience, we should require all accidents involving death, injury, or total property damage of $100 or more, to be reported to the police immediately. We also need to set up adequate facilities to make proper use of this information once we have it, so that we can develop sounder programs of accident prevention.

Weather To Determine Future Peach Yields

Peach production in Michigan should increase from 33 to 100 per cent between now and 1980, depending on the weather.

A team of Michigan State university scientists points out that Michigan's peach acreage fluctuates more than most other fruit crops, primarily because of cold injury to trees. They note that bearing peach acreage has gradually climbed to 20,300 acres in 1960, but was again reduced to 18,400 by the cold winters of '61-'62 and '62-'63. Production dropped from an average of 3.4 million bushels during 1958-61 to 1.6 million in 1962 and 2 million in 1963.

If Michigan continues to produce 4 per cent of the U.S. crop, it should be producing slightly over 4 million bushels of peaches by 1980. But the scientists say that projections of long time production and processing trends indicate that Michigan should be producing approximately 6.7 per cent of the U.S. crop in 1980, or 6.7 million bushels.

A 1980 bearing acreage of 20,000 to 25,000 and average acreage yields of 300 bushels would give Michigan a production of 6 to 7.5 million bushels. But whether Michigan reaches this level of production will depend primarily on the extent of cold injury during the 1970s.

These projections were made as part of Project '80, MSU's futuristic look at Michigan's rural potential by 1980. Involved in the study of the peach industry are R.P. Larsen, horticulturist; Myron Kelsey, agricultural economist; Paul Wooley, entomologist; and George McManus, Jr., extension agricultural agent in Traverse City.

MORF BLUEBERRIES IN 1980

Michigan's blueberry production will probably increase 25 to 50 per cent between now and 1980, according to Michigan State university scientists.

They say that most of the increase will be due to increased acreage, since little change in yield is expected. Any increase in yield from improved cultural technology will probably be offset by crop loss and damage as growers harvest most of their crops mechanically.

Farm Views And News

By R. C. LOTT

Soil tests can actually save farmers money. Knowing the qualities of the soil you have to work with in making crop plans can mean wiser use of fertilizer. Many farmers actually overfertilize fields because they did not use soil tests.

Fall is an ideal time to take soil samples and get testing done. If lime is needed, it is best to apply it in the fall so it will have ample time to break down and aid the fertilizer applied next spring.

For general rotations, soils should be tested at least once every 3 years. There is an advantage to testing the last sod year of a rotation, because lime if needed, can be applied before breaking the sod.

Lime and fertilizer recommendations can be no better than the samples tested. Poor samples result in recommendations that are misleading and costly.

Before sampling a field, size it up for differences in soil characteristics. Consider its productivity, topography, texture, drainage, color of top soil, and past management. If these features are uniform throughout the field, each composite sample of the top soil can represent 10 to 15 acres.

If there is great variation in these features, divide the field accordingly, and take a composite sample from each predetermined area. A composite sample made up of samplings from 2 distinctly different areas is not representative of either area.

Soil samples may be taken at any time during the year when temperatures (lack of frost) and moisture conditions permit. From each determined area, prepare a composite sample by taking not less than 20 samplings consisting of vertical columns or cores of soil approximately 1/2 of a square inch in cross section and to plow depth.

Avoid sampling unusual areas unless such locations are sampled and packaged separately - those close to gravel roads, dead furrows, previous locations of brush, lime or manure piles or burned muck areas.

As the individual samplings are taken, place them in a clean pail until 20 or more are collected from the area involved. Then mix the soil in the pail thoroughly with the hands and by revolving the pail while held at an angle of 45 degrees.

After the sample is thoroughly mixed, place a pint of the soil in a container for transferring to the testing laboratory. If these are not available, any clean container of one-pint capacity that can be tightly closed should prove satisfactory. Do not use rusty or otherwise contaminated metal cans - any foreign material may affect the soil test.

Changes in nutrient availability in the soil samples, particularly phosphorus, have resulted from drying the soil samples prior to the analysis. Do not force-dry the samples by placing them on radiators or inside ovens before submitting them to the laboratory.

The MSU soil testing laboratory is supplying reasonable testing service at $1.50 per sample. Results include the pH test, the quantity and kind of lime needed, plus the amounts of available phosphorus, potassium, magnesium and calcium. Many of the lighter soils in Ingham county are found to be low in magnesium. The most reasonable source of magnesium is through the application of dolomitic lime if lime is needed.

Fall is an excellent time to collect soil samples and avoid the spring rush. Also, soil in the fall is easily sampled and mixed when it is not saturated as it often is in the early spring.

Why not take time out this fall to have some soil tests made of every field in your farm? These results will be a guide for your fertilizer and liming program for the next 3 years at a very reasonable cost.

Seeking Good Relations Between Farmer, Hunter

With the hunting season near, Michigan hunters should review a few simple hunting rules while carefully checking equipment, a Michigan State university game management specialist notes.

Michigan United Conservation clubs, farm organizations, the state conservation department and the MSU Cooperative Extension service have joined in an effort to maintain good relations between farmers and sportsmen. Charles Shick, specialist in game management, adds that some Michigan conservation clubs are offering rewards for the conviction of hunters causing damage to farm property.

Shick gives some simple rules for hunters:

1. To hunt on another man's land is a privilege. Abuse of that privilege has but one result -- loss of a place to hunt.
2. Never hunt on any farm without permission. Ask the farmer first. Farmers expect and have a right to grant or refuse hunting privileges on their land.
3. Don't impose upon a farmer by hunting with a large group of companions or when another hunting party is already on the land. An army of hunters and dogs is resented. Three or four persons to a party is sufficient.
4. A proper introduction to a farmer goes a long way toward getting permission to hunt on a farm. Farmers like to know who is on their land.

5. Guns and dogs should be kept in the car until after hunting permission is granted by a farmer. As common courtesy, a hunter should not approach a house with gun in hand.

6. Locate farm boundaries before you venture into the field. This will prevent trespassing problems.

7. Note location of livestock and perishable crops such as soybeans, alfalfa, clover and buckwheat. Farmers do not appreciate hunters and dogs trampling through these fields or near areas where livestock are pastured.

8. Dogs should be under control at all times. They should never be allowed to chase livestock.

9. Always close gates. No farmer likes to round up his cattle on a neighbor's farm.

10. Do not break down fences. Go under them, or climb over at fence posts. If necessary, dogs should be placed over fences.

11. Observe all game laws and gun safety rules. A shotgun should not be fired in the direction of livestock or buildings even though they may be out of range.

12. Guns should be unloaded and pointed in a safe direction near people and livestock. And, don't fire a gun near farm animals. Farmers resent having livestock frightened by a shotgun blast.

13. Be careful with matches and cigarettes.

14. Don't be a litterbug.

15. Common sense and a little courtesy will go a long way toward creating a good relationship between farmers and hunters.

Diverted Acres May Be Grazed

Frank Light, Chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation State Committee, has announced that farmers who diverted acreage under the 1965 feed grain and voluntary wheat certificate programs now may graze this acreage without losing program benefits. The starting date for such grazing was October 1, 1965, marking the end of the six month period during which the "no grazing" provision was in effect under the diversion programs.

Mr. Light stressed, however, that this program relaxation regarding use of this acreage applies only to grazing the feed grain and wheat diverted acres. Hay on such acreages still may not be harvested.

Mr. Light also stressed that land under the Conservation Reserve Program may not be grazed or harvested through the whole year.

Michigan farms participating in the 1965 feed grain and wheat certificate programs number about 55 to 60 thousand.

Permits Soaring In Delhi

HOLT -- Building permits in Delhi township for the 1st 9 months of 1965 reached a total of $2,768,900, it was reported this week.

Permits issued in September totalled $397,500. Permits for each of the 9 months of this year were as follows:

January	$107,000
February	122,000
March	181,500
April	263,400
May	246,550
June	378,050
July	293,800
August	799,100
September	397,500

Permits during the 1st 9 months of 1964 totalled $3,042,328, but of this amount some $1,500,000 was for a building constructed by the Lansing Board of Water and Light in the Maple Grove area, which this year was annexed to Lansing.

Holt is showing a rapid growth with subdivisions rising in all parts of the township. Plans are being studied now for a $1,067,000 expansion of the area's sewer system made necessary by the tremendous building programs going on in the northeast section of the township.

AMERICAN METHODS — Robert Stevenson, 29, of Ireland, (right) was able to see how some of the Ingham county dairy farmers operate recently. One of his stops was at the Marvin Lott farm located on Meridian road. Lott was chopping corn the day of Stevenson's visit.

Irish Student Views Area Farm Operations

An Irish exchange student studying for a master's degree at Michigan State university recently spent a day visiting Mason area dairy farms with James Mulvany, extension agent.

Robert Stevenson is from Ballymena, North Ireland. He is 29 and single. On his farm tour he was particularly interested in seeing large dairy operations, pipe line milking, up-right silos and dairy production averages.

While visiting at the Lott farm he was able to give the Mason farmer a few tips on constructing a new type of calf pens, which are used frequently in Ireland.

Farms in his country number about 9,400. Somewhat like agriculture in this country only about 2/3 of them or about 6,000 are family units that can depend on farming for their entire income.

Bob says that farms are small in his country, the average farm consisting of 30-40 acres as compared with 125-150 acres in this country.

Irish dairy herds average 10 to 12 cows in size with only a few herds over 50 cows. Most farms find it necessary to diversify their farm programs with hogs or poultry because of the limited land acreage for pasture.

This was Bob's first time to see alfalfa grown until he came to this country. In his country they pasture their cows on grass that grows rapidly in the cool, wet climate. They can pasture all but one or two months of the year. For these reasons legumes like alfalfa are less profitable than grass.

He says that water contamination control programs have been underway in Ireland for some time. Dairy farms are forced to handle barnyard waste on larger dairy farms in liquid form. It is illegal to drain yards directly into running streams or where it might contaminate drinking water. Stevenson spent a good deal of time at the Lott farm and the Gerald Elfert farm on Willoughby road.

Lott has about 300 tillable acres and 70 milking cows. This year Lott had a fair yield of corn, but is putting more acres than usually high-moisture, ground ear corn in for silage.

At the Elfert farm Stevenson saw the new dairy facilities, new hay barn, bunker silo which was recently enlarged to hold 500 tons of silage and a recently converted pole barn into a free stall system.

Elfert operates 250 tillable acres and has a herd of 30 Holstein cows.

New Law To Aid War On Insects

Should an enemy force make a landing upon American soil, all states of the union have pledged their resources to help stamp out the invader. Now, under a new Pest Compact Law passed by the 1965 Michigan Legislature, plant destroying insects and diseases may be treated similarly and fought wherever discovered.

Called a compact, or agreement, Public Law No. 187 of the 1965 allows the Michigan department of agriculture to join forces with other states to fight plant pests wherever they gain a foothold. Sponsors anticipate long-term savings of millions of dollars in battling insects. A little early prevention they say, is often worth millions spent later on a cure.

Sometimes plant pests take hold in states that do not have the funds or the inclination to institute eradication measures. Their neighboring states, endangered by spread of the pest, are powerless to act without a compact.

Under the new law Michigan will enter into compact when four or more other states have passed similar legislation. An insurance fund based on a carefully worked out formula and administered by a governing board of member states will provide financing. For example, with the com-act in effect, a western wheat state could help Michigan fight cereal leaf beetle on Michigan soil. Both states would benefit, since eradication of this serious grain pest in Michigan could save millions in practice wheat, should the pest spread westward.

The pest compact bill passed by the Legislature and given immediate effect had the support of the council of State Governments, the National Association of State Departments of Agriculture, both the Michigan and U.S. Departments of Agriculture, and state legislative leaders.

TITHE

This is my Tithe. Let us not attempt to 'tip' God for His benefits. Jesus said, "Bring ye all the tithes into the storehouse, and I will pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive it." Mal. 3:10. Jews and Christians agree that a tenth part of one's income is the accepted tithe. He said, to those who fail to give back a tenth part... "ye have robbed me in tithes and offerings."

"The Earth is the Lord's and the fullness thereof"; Psalms 24:11. May we write our tithing check freely. May we give back to the Lord a tenth of what He has so graciously and so abundantly given us. It is God's plan for financing His church. Christ approved it as the best way to carry on His work in the world. This is My Tithe.

You In The Church... The Church In You... Form a combination for good. We should attend church regularly. Every man, woman and child needs the influence of the CHURCH. Be faithful to a Churchman!

Stockbridge Gets Set For Homecoming Friday

By RUTH CAMP
Stockbridge High School
STOCKBRIDGE -- All of the classes are busy working on floats for Friday's homecoming at Stockbridge. The theme this year is "Famous Places", and some very interesting floats should be on display Friday night.

RUTH

E a c h class had a sponsor to furnish the materials for their float, the limit being $20 for each. The groups are building their floats in various garages around town. Because of the M.E.A. meeting in Lansing last week, the kids had two extra days to work on their projects.

The members of the senior class had their graduation pictures taken last week. Pictures of the rest of the student body will be taken soon.

A record dance took place in the new gym following the victorious football game last Friday night. Mr. Clark was in charge of the records. Again this year, the post-game dances will be closed and any student who wishes to bring a guest is required to purchase a ticket for him ahead of time.

Let's all go to the game Friday night prepared to yell. Let's do our share to boost our team to victory.

Congratulations to our Stockbridge Panthers for their victory over Leslie Friday night.

Congratulations also to the mothers of the players who had to wash the uniforms... boy were they muddy.

The magazine sale sponsored by the Washington club ended last week with a total sale of $2,928.94. The exact amount of the profit will be released later. When all the figures are in the top salesman will be announced and the drawings will take place. The top seller will receive his choice of several valuable gifts.

Candidates for Homecoming queen and the undergraduate class queens were chosen during an assembly last week.

Bonnie Teachout and Marilyn Boyce are the candidates for Homecoming queen and the winner will be announced at the game Friday night, with the runner up being the senior class queen.

Ninth grade queen is Kathy Jarrell; 10th grade, Jill Owen, and 11th grade, Karen Hamlin.

Robert Boyd announced the rules of the election, saying that the 7th and 8th grade students were not eligible to vote. Members of each class then cast their ballots at separate tables, voting for their own class queen and homecoming queen.

The Stockbridge high school student body sat spellbound during an assembly last week as the "Chicago Percussion Trio", presented an hour long program. The group, composed of two men and a woman, had with them several percussion instruments including drums, wood blocks, xylophone, vibraphone, and bells. The trio played and explained many different types of music. Their repertoire included jazz, progressive jazz, boogie woogie, blues and others.

One member of the group explained that if you enjoy rock 'n' roll, you enjoy a very simple type of music.

The trio also featured a woodblock number, a drum solo and a handclapping song.

Last Friday night the Stockbridge high school marching band made its first public appearance of the year when it performed at the Stockbridge-Leslie football game.

The band members worked hard and long to get their show ready in time for the game. The band went to the field to practice every day during the regular band class and also had rehearsals every Wednesday night. There was another long session the afternoon of the game.

The halftime show was a presentation of various kinds of bands. These included: marching band, a British band, circus band, a dance band, and a military band. A snappy drill accompanied the number "Anchors Aweigh".

It was also decided that this year, the band would remain in the stands during the home football games till the game was over instead of being dismissed at half time as was done in previous years. It was felt that this would help bolster school spirit and give the team an added lift.

Mr. Davidson, the band director said he would like to organize a pep band and also a dance band.

Williamston FFA Boy a Candidate For Farm Degree

WILLIAMSTON -- Six members of the local F.F.A. Chapter left for Kansas City Tuesday to attend the National Convention of the Future Farmers of America. A member of the local chapter, Mike Dietz, a graduate of the W. H.S. class of 1962 will be a candidate on Friday for the American Farmer Degree.

Because of the serious sickness of his father, Casper Dietz, he was unable to attend the national meet.

The members who did attend were: William Lehnert, Edd Allen, Robert Martin, Bill Benjamin, Terrence O'Connor and Robert Dore.

Salute To A Teen

HOLT - This week's teen salute goes to Miss Diana Dart, a senior at Holt High school. Diana is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard B. Dart, 1947 Walnut street, Holt. She was president of her sophomore and junior classes. She was general chairman for the junior-senior prom, and she was selected to receive the Citizenship Medal given by her class last spring. She served as a senator at Wolverine girls state this past summer. Diana was also chosen to be the football homecoming queen and reigned with Lynn Ried Friday night when Holt met and defeated Howell on the football field. Diana will graduate in June with a B scholastic average, and will enter Michigan State university next fall, majoring in elementary education.

It's Homecoming Friday Night At Mason High

By PAT O'BRIEN
Mason High School

There is a flurry of excitement around Mason as the students prepare for Homecoming Friday. On Monday the signing of petitions for king and queen, and Sophomore Day were the starting events in Pep Week. Tuesday was Junior Day, and Wednesday was Senior Day. Also on Wednesday students voted for the homecoming court and the members of the court were announced. Thursday, students will vote for king and queen. At noon Hank Markeson, of the Avantis, and Werner Peters, an exchange student, will play their guitars, and the Madrigals will sing at a noon-time Hootenanny. The purpose of this will be to build pep for the bonfire and pep rally that night.

To Honor Mothers of Grid Stars

By MARCIA LOTT
Webberville High School
WEBBERVILLE -- A new event will take place at Webberville Friday as all the mothers of the Spartans will be honored at the first Mothers Night at the big home football game as Webberville goes against Portland St. Pat's. All mothers of the players will be admitted free to help cheer their sons on to victory.

Although Webberville was defeated by Potteryville last week the Spartans hope to make a come back. At the Potteryville game Webberville was missing four important players who were out with injury. The team hopes to have some of these boys back by game time. After the St. Pat's game there will be a Sock Hop.

The Band Boosters will have a home supper October 14, at 7 p.m. The regular Band Activity will take place.

On October 19 the P.S.A.T. tests will be given for students in the 10th through 12th grades. This gives them a chance to see what their strong and weak subjects are.

Also on October 19 the Seniors will sponsor a fun night in the gym. There will be basketball, volleyball, ping pong, badminton and dancing for everyone attending.

There will be no school at Webberville on October 20 as it's the opening day of hunting season. Everyone will have a chance to see how many pheasants they can get.

The F.F.A. had its annual chicken barbecue Saturday night. There was a good turnout and everyone enjoyed a wonderful meal.

The students received their colored photographs last week. Everyone is now busy signing them and giving them to all their friends.

Nancy Eddy was the guest of honor at a surprise birthday party given for her by her sister, Judy. Everyone enjoyed dancing and refreshments. Those attending were: Jerry Arnold, Raymond Ryan, Joanne Arnold, Pam Smith, Jim Firlan, Connie Roll, Chuck Ross, Sandy Ryan, Gary Graham and Ron Vicelli.

OKEMOS - "Mythical Magic", Okemos high school's Homecoming weekend, will be highlighted by a parade of floats and game against Holt Friday night, October 15, and topped off with the dance and coronation Saturday night.

Classes and clubs are making final touches on their floats as the judging Friday night draws near. There will be a $15 first prize, a $10 second prize, and a $5 third prize.

Last week's Student Parliament considered holding a bon-fire pep rally to set the stage for 'fiery' game against the Holt Rams. Holt boasts a second place in the Circuit with 2-1 while Okemos is 1-2 second.

School spirit spurred many girls and parents to buy white mums encircling maroon O's (school colors) from the cheerleaders to wear at the game. "This ought to add spirit and determination to the players," said Jacquie Caul, Homecoming co-chairman with Zandra Zweeping.

The high school marching band will entertain at half-time as Queen Nancy Marmon and King Jim Westwood are presented to spectators by their court. The king and queen were elected by the whole school. Each class also elected a girl and boy representative to the court.

JIM WESTWOOD

4-piece combo will serve to continue the "Mythical Magic" Saturday night at the semi-formal homecoming dance from 8 to 11. The coronation of the queen by Kristin Powell and Bob Graham who reigned last year will be included in the festivities.

Representatives from each of the classes are: Seniors, Debbie Wood and Marc Prium; Juniors, Sheila Corkery and Jack Nimphie; Sophomores, Carolyn Shultz, Jon Patenge, and Freshmen, Barb Marmon and Marc Neifert.

Rain Fails To Hamper Festivities

DANSVILLE -- Last Friday was Dansville High's 1965 Homecoming. At 4 p.m. many Aggie fans braved the cold, rainy weather to watch their favorites play the Fowlerville Gladiators. The Aggies posted a 12-6 win over the Gladiators, thereby retaining a still undefeated season.

During the half time, the floats which were entered in the Float Contest paraded around the field. The winners as announced later were:

The Sophomore float, 1st place; the Junior float, 2nd place; and the Freshman float, 3rd place. The candidates for King and Queen and Prince and Princess rode on the float of the class which had nominated them.

During the intermission at the annual Homecoming Ball, the 1964 King and Queen and Prince and Princess crowned their successors. The Queen for 1965 is Susie Wagner; the King is Jerry Ernest; the new princess is Elizabeth McPhee; and the Prince is Tim Basor.

Regular class meetings took place last Monday at Dansville high. The Seniors discussed the results of their magazine sales and the opening of their Christmas card drive. They were also informed that their Senior picture proofs could be picked up.

The Juniors discussed the opening of their sweat shirt sales and how their homecoming float was progressing.

On Tuesday all students in grades 9-12 voted for the 1965 Homecoming King, Queen, Prince, and Princess, the results of which were announced at the Homecoming Ball.

Also on Tuesday, a representative from the Intercolligate Press came to talk to the members of the Journalism class. The members selected the yearbook cover. The yearbook subscription drive started last Monday and will continue through October 19.

Both the Junior Varsity and the Varsity cheerleaders put on a skit at a pep rally Wednesday afternoon. The girls gave their version of the Aggie football boys working out at a practice session. Later the Varsity coach, John Van Winkle, introduced all the varsity football players and gave a short pep talk. The junior varsity coach, Robert West, introduced the junior varsity football players. After being led in several cheers, the student body was dismissed.

Last Thursday and Friday all Dansville high students enjoyed a short vacation from school because of a County-wide Teacher's Institute.

All Dansville High students are wishing Jim Mullins a speedy recovery from his emergency appendectomy. Jim is a member of the Senior class and the Varsity football team.

Leslie Awaits Year's Big Day, Friday, Oct. 29

By KATHY ISHAM
Leslie High School
LESLIE -- After the Freshman class meeting last Wednesday the entire princess court was known for the Homecoming October 29.

The freshman class elected Linda Webber as its princess to the Homecoming court. Sophomores had previously elected Sara Wallas as their princess. Each princess selects her own prince.

All the clubs and organizations which met last Wednesday had most of their business centered around the Homecoming game. All the classes and many organizations are planning floats for the parade before the game and at half-time.

"Royal Knight of Victory" is the theme for the evening and the seniors will sponsor the dance after the game.

The staff for the Leslie yearbook the "Blackhawk" has set to work. Subscriptions were sold last week and part of this week. Students on the staff have been selling ads to the merchants to help raise money for the yearbook.

Cedar PTA Group Meets

Mrs. Jane Parker, Mrs. Barbara Hudson and Mrs. Irma Cheney arranged a beautiful display of dishes for the annual Cedar PTA potluck supper last Monday evening. After a delightful meal, the group met and approved the 1965-66 budget and the allotment of $10 per teacher to be used to purchase equipment for their rooms. A set of phonics records was purchased for the use of all early elementary teachers of the building.

Mrs. Jerry Bates, as president of the Cedar PTA centennial Ring-A-Ding Belles, accepted a red second place ribbon from Dick Magel, centennial chairman. The belles group won the second place award for their float in the centennial parade.

Mrs. Bass' first grade won the traveling trophy which is presented each month to the room with the highest parental representation at the meeting.

Programs for the coming year were distributed. Mr. Jerry Bates, TV coordinator at the Southern Michigan State Prison, will be the speaker at the next meeting, November 8. His topic will be, "Educational TV."

Because of teachers' institute there was no school at Leslie Thursday and Friday. This gave clubs a chance to start floats but better yet it gave seniors a chance to sell magazines. Wednesday found the seniors with only 25 percent of their goal. It was hoped that the weekend boosted this percentage. Class sponsor Richard Byrum announced to the class Wednesday that the metal had arrived for mounting the scoreboard and the scoreboard arrived Friday. The board will be put to use at Leslie's Homecoming game which is the next home game.

The chorus class and glee clubs have started selling candy bars again this year. The sales started last week and will last as long as there is a demand for the candy. The same as last year a contest is being held and the top seller will receive a fine gift.

The staff for the Leslie yearbook the "Blackhawk" has set to work. Subscriptions were sold last week and part of this week. Students on the staff have been selling ads to the merchants to help raise money for the yearbook.

Troop 633 Has Camp-Out

On October 7, 8 and 9, Troop 633 of the Mason Girl Scouts enjoyed another expedition. This was in the form of a camp-out at Hunter Lake. "Gypsies" was the theme of the camp-out. Nine cadette troops from the south district of the Capitol Girl Scouts were a part of this outing.

There were 5 categories of competition; tent pitching, first aid, knot tying, fire building and the troop's campsite appearance. Troop 633 from Mason placed 3rd in tent pitching, 2nd in first aid and 2nd in campsite appearance.

The adults that went camping with the troop were Mrs. Ed Mullin and Mrs. Temple Christian. The girls attending were Amy Boughner, Celeste Christian, Debra Dombrausky, Elaine Ferris, Sally Franklin, Cath Groh, Vicki Hafner, Keitha Ingram, Shirley Jensen, Martha Mueller, Beth Mullin, Kathleen Mullin, Debra Post, Cynthia Priest, Linda Sharp, Cindy Silsby, Karen Smith, Carol Smith, Cheryl Swift and Mary Heintzelman.

Weather Dampens Homecoming

HOLT - Holt's homecoming was a great success, even though the weather did not cooperate.

The floats were judged at 4 p.m. in the school drive. Taking first place was the junior float entitled "Sound of Music."

It consisted of four music notes making a path up to a tinted blue music stand, the path was covered with crepe paper. The back was a music staff. The float was constructed under the direction of John Leonard and Jim Spencer.

The senior float took second place. The name of their float was "Goldfinger" as Diana Goldfinger moved to point at a large cup.

Third place went to the freshmen and sophomores who tied.

During halftime the band, directed by Gerald Winters, played "Anchors Aweigh", a modern version of "Joshua" and "Miss America" as Diana and Lynn walked to their honored place.

The king and queen were introduced to the crowd. The queen, Diana Dart, wore a full-length pale pink formal. Lynn Ried, the king, played in the game so he was dressed in his uniform.

The Rams topped off the evening by winning their game against Howell. The final score was 26 to 7.

The Key club met at 6:30 p.m. in the shop room on Tuesday of last week. Lynn Ried, the president, conducted the meeting. Business of the club was discussed and reports were given. The meeting was adjourned.

A huge bonfire and a snake dance set off the week end of fun. Students gathered at the baseball field to light the fire at 7:30 p.m. The varsity cheerleaders led the group in cheers. The king and queen were introduced and the snake dance started. The football players rode in a wagon while students made a huge chain and followed behind weaving in and out.

Everyone ended up at Griffith drug store for cider.

Homecoming Excitement Grips Haslett Students

Haslett High School

HASLETT - The excitement of homecoming soon will be at Haslett high school. This year's homecoming is set for October 15.

The traditional parade will start at 6:30 p.m. at the Wilkshire school and end at the football field. Kick-off time against Gables is 7:30 p.m.

The judging of the floats and the crowning of the queen will be the highlights at the half time. John Snell will be master of ceremonies.

HEY KIDS
Free Dance, Saturday Night, October 16th Mason Teen Center.

The theme for this year is Award-winning motion pictures. The freshmen's float will be the movie "It Happened One Night." "Molly Brown" is the movie elected by the sophomores. The juniors chose "Mary Poppins" for their float. The candidates for queen are: Alana David, Gayle Whitehead, and Michele Antaya; all 3 girls are seniors. Representatives from the freshman, sophomore and junior classes are: Cindy Hall, Pam Shaw, and Mary Gorman, respectively. The judges for this year's floats will be Mrs. James Hicks, Scott Femelee, and Harry Malloch. Originality and how well the float followed the theme, will determine the winner.

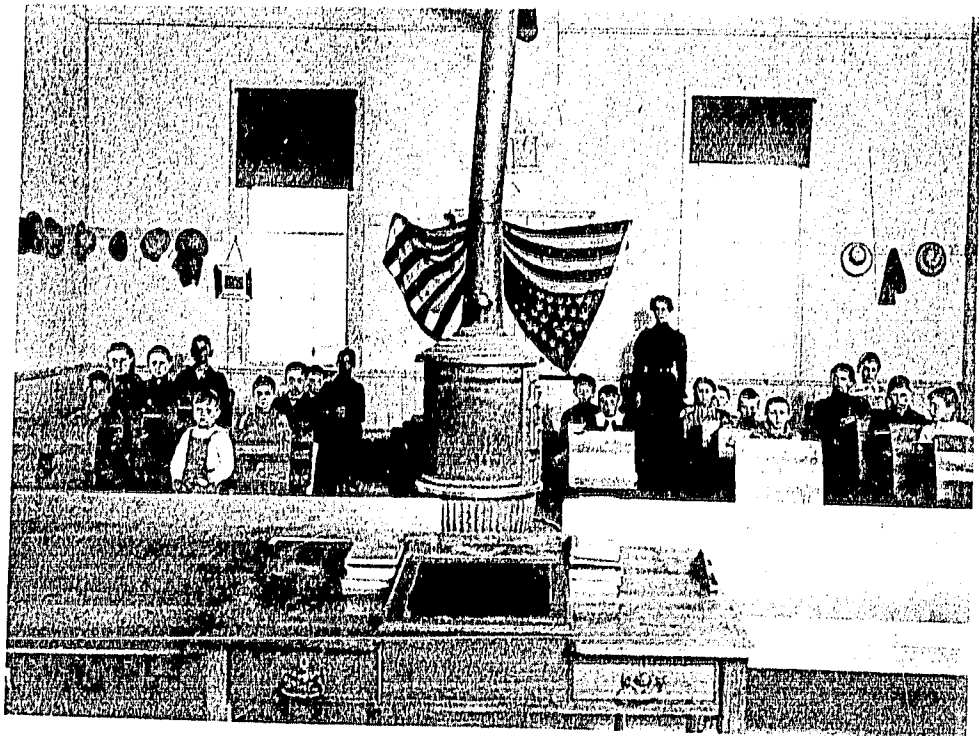

"Saturday Night at the Movies, Featuring My Fair Lady" is the theme for the homecoming dance which will be on Saturday, October 16. The Rogues will entertain from 8 until 11 p.m. The admission is 50 cents stag and $1.00 drag. Refreshments will be served and dress is semi-formal.

These are the main attractions of HHS's homecoming and from all indications it seems it will be the best homecoming we have ever had.

The Freshmen cheerleaders were chosen last Wednesday, October 6. The girls are: Sue Bobcock, Marney Knecht, Melody MacGillivray, Cindy Smith, and Debbie Stanky. The 5 were chosen from 15 candidates. They were judged on their appearance, personality, poise, and how well they performed during try-outs. Judging the girls were Mrs. Sandra Felter, cheerleading advisor; Sandy Bamford and Marcia Campbell, varsity cheerleaders.

Laura Kelley, from the junior class of HHS was chosen to be on the Knapp's Young American Advisor board at downtown Knapps. Laura had to write a paragraph telling why you wanted to be on the board and what experiences she had in being a salesclerk. The faculty of HHS graded the girls paragraph and then commented on who they thought would best fill the job.

Listen to This Expert

J. Edgar Hoover has many friends who think he is infallible. He has many enemies who think he is wrong. It's safe to assume that he is neither 100 per cent right nor 100 per cent wrong.

He does know his job as director of the FBI. He does have a greater opportunity than most to take the pulse of the United States and assess the criminal problems we are facing.

Here are some pertinent points he put forth on juvenile delinquency and his idea of what is happening.

Judges, social workers, parents and educators should take notice.

"Young thugs and teenage criminals may be pressing their luck by increasing their violent escapades while blaming society for their faults.

It appears that the public is beginning to gag on the steady sociological diet of excusing the conduct of teenage hoodlums because "society has failed them." Resort communities racked by senseless riots and citizens who cannot venture from their homes without being assaulted and beaten are getting fed up with pampered and insolent youth gangs.

Certainly, the mere desire of young miscreants to have a "blast" or to "let off steam" is no excuse to ravage a community and to maim and terrorize its residents.

The immediate objective, of course, is to put a stop to these rumbles and mass vandalism. Meanwhile, the question puzzling most people is what caused the principles and morals of some of our youth to degenerate to near animal level. Recognizing the problem comes much easier than its solution. However, of all the factors involved, I am convinced one of the most damaging is the false teaching which tends to blame society for all the frustrations, woes and inconveniences, real or imaginary, visited upon our young people. Teenagers, and their parents, have been subjected to a foolhardy theory which condones rebellious conduct against authority, law and order, or any regulatory measures which restrict their whims, wishes, desires, and activities.

No doubt, society has failed our youth, but not in the way many seem to think. Rather, the dereliction has been in the failure to teach them the meaning of discipline, restraint, self-respect, and respect for law and order and the rights of others. Consequently, the lesson now is both painful and costly.

Namecalling Won't Help

City hall talk has prevailed for 2 years — some of it based on hearsay and some based on fact. That talk came to a climax last week with the official pronouncement that the procedures of the sale of the Chevrolet garage property to the city was improperly executed according to charter and state statutes.

There is other talk, too, that is of the vicious variety. This talk of wrong doing. Some of the talk has been directed at people who had no connection with the transaction at all.

There is no evidence of willful wrong doing. None has been intimidated by anyone connected directly with the transaction. The only debatable subject is the judgment used in purchasing the building and the judgment used in procedures.

There has been enough guessing.

The council last week brought the issue out into the open and steps to legally rectify the charter violations and statute violations have been spelled out.

The decision must be made by the council as to whether to honor the commitment made by the council of 2 years ago, a commitment which legally they do not have to honor. The other alternative would be to back off from the whole deal and leave someone else holding the bag.

It's a tough decision to make. Mason's councilmen are honorable men devoted to doing what they think is best. There is no glory in being councilmen. There is no financial gain. It's hard work.

Supposedly some decision has been or will be reached as to what direction the council will take on this issue. When that step is taken critics should base their assessment of that step on questioning the judgment — not on personalities and name-calling.

Legislators Should Raise Gas Tax

Lapeer County Press

The State Highway Dept wants the Legislature to raise the state gas tax from 6 to 7 cents per gallon and boost auto license fees.

While the interstate freeway system, which is built with 90% Federal funds, will be completed on schedule by 1972, we will fall 54% short of meeting needs for other roads and city streets.

Unless we want to raise local property taxes, there's no place to get more road and street money except by raising gas and weight taxes.

Failure to face up to the problem is folly. Road building must keep up with our growing needs. People want good roads and are willing to pay for them. As long as they have confidence in the Highway Dept there won't be much squawking about a higher gas tax.

The Legislators should forget their political maneuvering long enough to act on this problem.

Any man in Dansville who has been thirsting for fame has had his thirst slaked this past week. Dansville has been famous for Aggie athletic teams for years. Dave Diehl with his football prowess at Michigan State and with the Detroit Lions kept Dansville in the news. Then came the war and Dansville was too frequently in the news because so many young men from the community will never come back. A few weeks ago Almond Wing brought fame to the village with a monster pike he speared in Pleasant Lake. Then came last week and the big fire. While the fire was still burning Sunday night a Shortway bus tore out two store fronts. Thus Dansville has become a small town of great renown.

I have spent much of my time the past week going to and coming from Dansville. Dansville is full of friendly people. I have known some of them for many years—from the days when the Brown youngsters used to visit Uncle Charlie and Aunt Nettie Clark. "If I only had as many friends as I have relatives how happy I would be," Uncle Charlie used to mourn.

Never has ice cream tasted so good as those generous servings dished out in the ice cream parlor just south of Young's store. A big dish of fresh crackers was always on the table and for 5c a boy could have almost a square meal of ice cream and crackers. If I were operating an ice cream bar today I would tear down all those Coca Cola signs and put up a neat card bearing the legend, "Home Made Ice Cream and all the crackers you want—5c." I might lose money on every sale but with such a volume I would soon be driving a Cadillac.

As I recall, just south of the ice cream parlor was a cheese factory. Uncle Charlie was a part owner. I believe. At any rate, he used to sell some of his milk there and hauled whey back to feed his hogs. I don't think I ever saw so many flies in one place as used to swarm over the vats in the cheese factory. That was before the day of health units. Uncle Charlie held to the theory that plenty of flies meant good cheese. He always insisted on buying cheese made during fly time. "If cheese ain't made good enough to attract flies, then I don't want any of it," Uncle Charlie replied when I mentioned the flies to him.

Barbs and Praise

Last week a former Mason businessman and civic leader left the Mason scene. To most of today's Mason residents, especially those who have moved to Mason within the last 15 years, the name might not register, but Earl Salisbury made his mark on many.

Earl, as employe and proprietor of Salisbury Hardware, which became Dart and Cady Hardware, then Perkins hardware and now Smith hardware, was the friendly philosopher who served as dean of Cast Iron Stove university at the rear of the hardware store.

It was one of the gathering places for men of all ages and philosophies back in the days when Saturday nights meant something besides turning on the TV set.

It was around that old pot bellied stove that many of the ideas for bettering Mason originated and Sal, as he was known to all, molded a lot of them.

The old stove, set in a box of sand, was the stopping place for most Mason men sometime during the week where ideas, jokes of the day and politics were traded. I'm thankful that I am old enough to have tagged along with my father and to have sat in on the edge of some of the discussions. This is a part of the past which has disappeared with nothing to take its place.

Thinking about that old stove brings to mind one time when Dad, sporting a brand new overcoat, stopped in for one of the friendly but loud Salisbury U discussion sessions. The argument was so hot that no one noticed the smoke until the entire tail of Dad's new coat was charred beyond repair.

Such was the intensity of debate at Salisbury's.

Sal, as he preferred to be called, was a good talker. He was an even better listener. This is a combination of talents which provided him with an army of friends.

****

Friendships are going by the wayside down in VanderVeen drive, at least between the Browns and their next door neighbors, the VanderVeens. There isn't any border dispute. The differences aren't related to any broken windows. It's just that the big day of the Mason Peewee football season is Sunday. The Golden Eagles with Dave and Jim VanderVeen as important cogs, and the Powers Vikings with Bob and Tom Brown in uniform, are going to battle it out for the title.

That's an awful strain to put on a couple of next-door neighbor households.

****

All this talk about friendship brings to mind that old chestnut about the fellow who cured his halitosis and BO only to discover that people just naturally didn't like him anyway.

country and town

By Hayden Palmer

A week has gone by since Jim and Joan Brown took off on a trip to London and by this time they must be pretty well acquainted with British life.

Jim may be wearing a bowler and carrying an umbrella and Joan may be wearing a new hairdo from one of the famous hairdressers' shops in the Soho district.

The Mason travelers by this time probably have seen many things in London. They have heard Big Ben toll away the hours, they probably have ridden those London buses with the advertisements all over the sides and they probably have read the London Times and the many other prominent newspapers of the city which are much different in makeup and design than American publications.

London is a city of historical interest and to the American visitor it seems at times as though the ghosts of such famous personages as William Shakespeare, Charles Dickens, Lord Tennyson, Conan Doyle and others almost live again.

There is a home at Monkwell and Silver streets where Shakespeare once lived when he was doing his greatest work. And the Baker street where Conan Doyle's Sherlock Holmes and his assistant, Dr. Watson, solved many crimes, is still in existence.

And there is Wimpole street where at No. 54, lived Elizabeth Barrett, an invalid poetess and the friend of Robert Browning. From this romance came a play, "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" which had long runs on American stages a few short years ago.

I presume by this time Jim and Joan have watched the changing of the guard at Buckingham Palace, which always has been a must for tourists.

I wonder though, if they have visited the Caledonia Market, a sort of rag fair—operated on Fridays. It is interesting and once in a while you can pick up a bargain.

They are probably finding by now that London is a city of contrasts.

Like all large cities, it has areas where danger lurks and where about every kind of lawlessness exists.

Some of this is in the alleys and side streets of the West Side. Fabian, a famous Scotland yard official, points out in a book he has written on London night life that The Soho district for one, the pavements which lead by famous stores and theaters, at night "cease to echo to London's proud history and become the wickedest pavements of history where you can buy anything, and where in the right circumstances you could get your throat slit more promptly than on a pirate ship in the China sea".

London's West End is roughly a mile square.

And this is the end of a somewhat thumbnail sketch of London. We hope Jim and Joan enjoyed every minute of their visit there. But I know there are many in Mason who will join me in welcoming them back to the old home town again and giving them a hearty British Cheriol.

By Sally Robinson

This Week's RECIPE

Some 200 persons enjoyed a supper at the First Methodist Church of Mason last Wednesday night. The early birds were the lucky ones to get a piece of a delectable hickory nut cake.

Mrs. D. L. Bray of 833 S. Lansing street, Mason, owns the recipe and has agreed to be our cook of the week.

Hickory Nut Cake
Step 1: cream together well 3/4 cup shortening, 1-1/2 cups sugar and 1 teaspoon nutmeg. Add to this one whole egg and beat well.

Step 2: sift together 3 cups cake flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt and 4 teaspoons baking powder. Add flour mixture alternately with 1-1/4 cups of milk, beating well after each addition. Combine this with 1/2 cup chopped hickory nuts and fold in 3 stiffly beaten egg whites.

Step 3: bake at 350 degrees for 20 minutes. This makes 2 nice 9 inch layers.

Creamy Nut Frosting

Step 1: blend and cook over a medium heat 1 cup of milk and 1/2 cup flour. Stir this constantly until it makes a thick paste, then cool.

Step 2: cream together with an electric mixer 1 cup butter (room temperature), 1 cup brown sugar, a dash of salt and 1 teaspoon of vanilla.

Step 3: add the paste gradually by the spoonful to the creamed mixture and continue beating until fluffy. Then gradually add one cup of sifted powdered sugar. Beat well. Add 1/2 cup chopped hickory nuts. Spread the frosting between and on the top of cooled cake layers.

Hair Fashions Trend To Color, Wigs, Curls

Hair care is basic and simple, but nothing else in the way of appearance improvement is more important.

In days past women thought that if they brushed their hair 100 strokes every day nature would take care of the rest. One's hair would be long, lustrous and pretty to look at. Now days things have changed. Hair styles are long and straight, short and curly, wigs and wiglets, bleached, tinted and dyed. Nature has to have a little help now other than just brushing and shampoos.

Basic hair care rules call for keeping hair in condition and cleanliness. Mrs. Randy Gerry Powers, cosmetologist at Marguerites Hair Fashions, stresses the hair condition point. "Before deciding to change your hair color or even your hair style, it should be in a healthy condition to insure good results.

"Many people feel only those with damaged hair need conditioning, but this is not so", she said. "Everyone should pamper their hair to insure that it stays in a manageable state."

For a quick home conditioning treatment at home Gerry suggests you try this. Buy a hair conditioning cream and apply it according to directions, then cover your hair with a baggie or some saran wrap and leave it on for 30 minutes.

In a beauty salon the process is more effectively carried out because heat, vibration and a massage is often applied. This can also be done in the home if you own a hair dryer that gives off heat but not a great deal of air circulation for drying.

One of these treatments used every 3 weeks or so in combination with regular shampoos and brushing should eliminate dried splitting ends and other common damaged hair conditions. Stylists are stressing the short, curly, wind-blown look for the fall season, but this isn't the only hair set that is fashionable.

"There is never just one hair style that is the only fashionable answer for a certain season," Mrs. Powers said. "Usually there are three or four styles that are popular of which one is flattering to every shape face."

This season Gerry says the trend around Mason is for the straight flip, a twist or the curly short effect. "Most people go to a beauty salon with a basic idea of the type of hair style they want and I find that nine times out of 10 their idea is flattering to their particular facial features."

The cosmetologist who specializes in bleaches and tints has noticed a big increase in the number of people changing the color of their hair. "I think two reasons for the coloring trend among women today is 1. colored hair is usually easier to manage and 2. it is a fad right now.

Wigs and wiglets have also come into their own within the last two years. "Wiglets tend to be more popular around Mason because they are relatively inexpensive, more comfortable than a wig and much easier for the average woman to care for," Mrs. Powers said.

Gerry cautions anyone thinking of changing their hair color to carefully investigate each product before trying a particular brand. There are any number of do-it-yourself bleaches, tints, etc. on the market now and any number more coming.

FINAL TOUCHES--Mrs. Donald Oesterle of 1229 S. Eden road, wears her hair in one of the fashionable styles for this fall, a twist. Mrs. Randy Powers shows her how to get a little added height to her hair style by lifting the hair up gently.

Sour Cream Isn't Sour

Commercially cultured cream, as we know it, is a far cry from the product for which the name was given. Actually sour cream as mentioned in famous European recipes dating back as far as the 17th century was truly that--cream that had soured.

In fact, today's sour cream was not possible until the advent of the cream separator in the late 1800's. So the first dairy-made sour cream made its debut in 1917.

What a transformation! It was a new product with a name that no longer applied. But the name "sour cream", nevertheless stuck.

Today's sour cream isn't sour; it is pasteurized, homogenized sweet cream cultured, then under controlled conditions allowed to develop acidity to give character and zest.

This dairy product, made fresh daily is satin-textured and always uniform. One of the most popular uses of sour cream is as a topping for baked potatoes.

Homemakers across the nation have popularized the topping. Sour cream uses should not be limited to just one or two dishes. It is an ingredient that turns every day dishes into something new and different.

Symphony To Start Season

The Lansing Symphony orchestra's opening concert Monday, October 18, will feature James Tocco, young Grinnell award-winning pianist, as the guest artist.

A native of Detroit, Tocco began his professional career at the age of 18 by winning the Grinnell piano competition award in 1962. He studied at Wayne State university for 2 years and then for a year at the Magda Tagliaferro school in Paris, France.

For the concert which begins at 8:30 p.m. in the Sexton high school auditorium, Tocco will play the Piano Concerto No. 1 in E minor by Chopin.

Conducting the symphony for the 1965-66 season will be Hugo Vianello, a native of New York. For the past several years he served as assistant conductor of the Oklahoma City orchestra, the Kansas City Philharmonic and as music director and conductor of the Kansas City Civic orchestra.

Vianello has also been appointed head of the orchestral department at Northwestern university in Evanston, Illinois.

Arrange Menus Ahead of Time Around 1 Dish

A grocery list is a kind of meal plan. But is it enough?

"Why not take that list a step further and break it into blocks of menus?" asks Mrs. Anita Dean, Michigan State university foods and nutrition specialist. "You may not want to plan ahead for an entire week, but you can plan 3 or 4 days at a time."

She says some homemakers feel it's easier to arrange menus on a day-to-day or meal-to-meal basis, but they are missing the opportunity to make better use of leftovers. "If you plan ahead, you can often save time by cooking large amounts of some foods and freezing what's left. This is particularly useful for women who work," Mrs. Dean comments.

And planning can help make meals more attractive. Garnishes, for example, are more effective if you plan them, rather than using whatever happens to be laying around in the refrigerator. In planning, Mrs. Dean suggests that you decide first what your main dish will be. This might be the meat you serve or a main dish casserole. Whatever it is, it provides the focal point for the meal.

"Plan the rest of the menu around this main dish," she stresses. "Other dishes should compliment it."

To avoid repeating flavors and textures, plan appetizers, salads and desserts simultaneously. You wouldn't want to serve an orange gelatin salad and an orange chiffon pie at the same meal. Mrs. Dean reminds that the meal is more pleasant if you choose a dessert in relation to the main course. In other words, serve a light dessert with a rich, filling main course and vice versa.

For example, a rich Michigan blueberry pie is more pleasing after a chef salad luncheon. But an easy-to-prepare platter of fresh fruit is better than cake or pastry for complementing a steak and french fries meal, she said.

An IFYE in Australia

Eleanor Foreman Tells Of Life 'Down Under'

Miss Eleanor Foreman, of Webberville is spending 6 months in Australia as an International Farm Youth Exchange delegate (IFYE). She has arranged to write several articles for the Ingham County News during her stay "down under". This is the first one. By ELEANOR FOREMAN

Greetings form the continent "down under". I am beginning my 6 months stay in Australia as an International Farm Youth Exchange delegate. I have been assigned to the states of Queensland and Victoria.

The International Farm Youth Exchange was started in 1948 by the 4-H clubs of the United States. It is conducted by the National 4-H Club Foundation of Washington, D. C. in behalf of the Federal Extension Service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture and the Agricultural Extension Services of the land grant colleges and universities. IFYE operations in other countries are administered by rural youth groups and ministries of agriculture.

The IFYE program was established to help develop better understanding between the U.S. and cooperating countries through sharing daily activities with people of another culture.

So far 1,647 U.S. delegates and 1,850 foreign exchanges from 68 countries have participated in the program. In 1965, 104 young men and women will be exchanged for 113 foreign youths of 33 countries. For six months IFYE's live and work with rural families in their host countries.

In the U.S. the program gets support from local 4-H clubs and from other private sources on the state and national levels. IFYE sponsors include banks, businesses, foundations, industries, and individuals.

Australia, my host country, is the smallest continent and the largest island in the world. Its area is 2,974,581 square miles or just under that of the continental United States (3,026,789 square miles). The whole continent is a low irregular plateau. Its center is flat, barren, and arid. The mountain chains lie mainly close to the coast. The southeastern quarter is a great expanse of fertile plain. Average elevation above sea level is little more than 900 feet.

Because of its size Australia experiences wide variations in climate, but its insular position and absence of striking physical features makes it less subject to extremes of weather. The seasons are opposite of ours. It is now spring here.

The people of Australia number close to 11 million. Compare this with the U.S. population of about 180 million. Remember the two countries are similar in size. Two-thirds of the people are concentrated in the states of New South Wales and Victoria, with one-third living in the two cities of Sydney and Melbourne. Substantially all Australia's population and industry are found in the area corresponding geographically to our southern states.

Australia is considered the greatest industrial producer in the southern hemisphere. Mining, quarrying, manufacturing, electricity, gas and water, building and construction, transportation and storage, communication, finance and property make up the major types of industry.

I am now with my first host family at (Roma) in the state of Queensland. It is an 8,000 acre cattle and sheep property. Since I am just beginning my stay here, I cannot begin to make comparisons. But if you will continue to follow my travels from host family to host family throughout the next 6 months, I will try to bring these to you. So please join me as I travel around Australia.

New Textiles Discussed At Extension Meeting

Rhoda M. Peck, extension 4-H Agent in Ingham County, attended a two-day professional workshop at Michigan State university recently.

The workshop featured "Textiles News and Views," Bernetta Kahabka, Jean Schubel and Mrs. Judy Stam, specialists in textiles, clothing and related arts with Cooperative Extension Service, presented the latest information in the textiles field.

According to Miss Peck, the workshop provided up-to-date information on washable wools, factors in selecting knits and bonded fabrics and other developments in the fabric field.

"The specialists emphasized that the consumer must rely on the retailer to a certain extent for information about new fabrics and new developments in the industry," Rhoda says. "But she must be able to depend on herself too. She has a responsibility to keep herself informed, and to consider the advantages and disadvantages in relation to her situation."

"The most satisfied consumer of clothing and household fabrics is the one who carefully thinks out the balance of what she wants and what is available BEFORE she buys."

Information on buymanship, construction resources and techniques in sewing will be presented by Miss Peck to 4-H leaders and junior leaders at the county-wide clothing meeting, Wednesday, October 20, at the Delhi Township Hall, Holt, at 7:30 p.m., and again on Thursday, October 21, 9-12 noon at the Court-house, Mason.

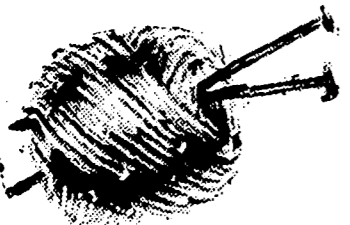

One of the objectives of the Cooperative Extension Service in this area is to provide basic information in clothing and textiles to consumers, 4-H leaders and members to help them in making individually satisfying and economically sound investments," she adds.

Seminars Scheduled At MSU

Plant, animal and medical scientists will share research findings of mutual interest in a series of monthly seminars to be held at Michigan State University starting Tuesday, Oct. 12.

The public is invited to attend these seminars, sponsored by the Institute of Biology and Medicine. They will be held in rooms 105 A and B of Kellogg Center at 7 p.m. on the second Tuesday of each month.

The first seminar will feature talks by two MSU scientists who have won Research Career Awards from the National Institutes of Health as a result of their promising research on behavior.

Dr. John A. King, professor of zoology, who is studying the interaction of heredity and environment as they affect animal behavior, will discuss "Ontogeny of Behavior." His talk will concern the processes by which an animal acquires its distinctive characteristics of behavior as it grows from an embryo to maturity.

Dr. John I. Johnson, lecturer in biophysics and psychology, is doing research on the ways in which differences in animal brains are reflected by differences in behavior. He will take up "Phylogeny of Behavior and Neuroanatomy," a discussion of the evolution of behavioral characteristics with particular emphasis on the anatomy of the brain.

Persons attending the seminars are invited to dine together in the Kellogg Cafeteria at 6:15 p.m.

WARREN 'Sonny' Galvin

'Sonny' Galvin Is Gone And Williamston Mourns

By LULA HOWARTH
News Special Writer

WILLIAMSTON — Funeral services were Thursday at the Gorsline Brothers funeral home here for Warren L. "Sonny" Galvin.

Galvin was in high school when the draft called him into service in World War II. In Italy he was wounded. He was awarded the Purple Heart and Bronze Star Medals.

When he was released from the hospital he came back to his home at 505 Fulton St. Williamston, but not to join in sports, he had liked so much, or ride horses or drive a car.

He was to live the rest of his life immobile. He had no bitterness or self pity in his heart. He read, he fixed toys for the kids. He filled Christmas boxes, he worked at ceramics and leather tooling. He made friends with all of the people he met. He waved at the trainmen as the trains went by day after day. They became good friends and they all were soon enjoying a code of whistle signals given to their veteran friend. Sonny added to his friends and extended sunshine from his throne — a wheel chair —.

Five sisters survive him, Mrs. Mary Povey, Mrs. Helen

Sonny Galvin

Foreman, Mrs. Patricia Norton, Mrs. Eleanor Sampson and Mrs. Jo Ann Ketchen; three brothers Clarence, Robert and James, who is with the U.S. Army in Alaska, and 22 nieces and nephews. # Introducing the tuned car. 1966 Buick.

What makes a car a car is styling, performance, ride and handling. Only when they're all tuned together is the car a Buick. Like this 1966 Riviera Gran Sport.

You know how well your car's engine runs after a tuneup? Buick tuning has the same effect on the whole car. Not just the engine. The whole Buick. Everything blends with everything else. Styling. Performance. Ride. Handling. All tuned to work together in harmony. That's what the tuned car is. A Buick. Only Buick is the tuned car. (And every Buick is the tuned car.) What the tuned car is is a masterful blending of all the things that make a great car greater. The Riviera for 1966 is the tuned car. It features six-passenger seating, disappearing headlights, a silently efficient new ventilating system and the kind of roadworthiness you'd expect in a car that costs twice as much. (You can get a Riviera for your desk as well as your garage. Send $1 in check or money order to Riviera, P.O. Box 68, Troy, Mich., for an accurate 1/25 scale model '66 Riviera.) But Riviera's not the only tuned car. LeSabre is, too. And Wildcat. Electra 225. Special. Skylark. Sportwagon. See them all at your Buick dealer's. The tuned car may not mean much to you now. But then you haven't had a chance to drive one yet.

Wouldn't you really rather have a Buick?

There's an authorized Buick dealer near you. See his Double-Checked used cars, too.

Willoughby and US-127 Intersection a Problem

HOLT--Rapid community growth in the Holt area may bring another traffic light at Willoughby road and US-127 (Cedar street) in the near future, Joe Kiersey, Delhi township supervisor, told the township board Monday night.

He said the intersection has become the scene of 10 traffic accidents for this year. The accident rate there has been mounting steadily during the past 3 years, Kiersey said, pointing out that there were 7 accidents at the intersection last year and 3 in 1963.

Three other law enforcement agencies also police the area--Lansing police, Michigan state police and the Ingham county sheriff's department. Willoughby road is the dividing line between Holt and Lansing.

Kiersey said he hopes to obtain a conference of traffic engineers from Delhi township, the city of Lansing and Ingham county to see what can be worked out to make the intersection safer.

Kiersey also told the board that he has conferred with state highway department officials regarding the traffic light at Aurelius road and US-127 and they have agreed to operate it until 9 p.m. daily. It has been operating only until 7 p.m. and then changed to a flasher light until 7 a.m. Kiersey hopes also to have the light operate until 11 p.m. on Fridays and Saturdays, if it can be mechanically arranged.

The board also hired Robert L. Graves of Mason as a full time Delhi township patrolman at a salary of $5,651. Graves now lives in Mason but plans to move to Delhi township.

Gave Supervisor Kiersey authority to inquire into the cost of hiring for 30 days a dog catcher in the township. The board has received numerous complaints of dogs running loose in violation of the dog ordinance and knocking children down in the street. Kiersey said he believed one man assigned to the task of searching out the dogs causing the trouble could clear up the situation.

Received an offer from Murl Sancerant and Associates, Detroit finance firm to sell the township 125 sewer assessment bonds for $139,077.90, which includes interest for 11 months. No immediate action was taken, but the board will give the proposal consideration.

Received a letter from the Michigan department of health concerning federal aid available to eligible communities for public works projects under the public works and economic development act of 1965.

White Dog Story

Thank you for the fine article about the White Dog school. We are trying to teach our children respect for law and order, and to think for themselves, as well as teaching the basic subjects.

I was left with a feeling that perhaps some of your readers may wonder why we are doing battle to save our "Little Red School." Let me put it very bluntly and plainly.

The issue is not whether White Dog school is offering its students an education -- but shall the "State" take more control of our children? Make no mistake about it. Those who desire to dictate to White Dog district are not going to be satisfied to stop with telling us what to do. What local control you have left in your district is on the verge of being taken away from you.

Please don't say, "I can't do anything about it." Granted, you might not be able to do much, but you can do something! Will you get involved? Clarence Bird Williamston

The senior class selected Paula Gilpin and Patrick Brown as the senior court. Debbie Charland and Craig Schultz represented the junior court. The sophomores chose Nancy Rodebaugh and Jim Cooley. Pat Burt and Jim Griffith were the freshman's choice.

The homecoming theme "Records" was chosen by the seniors. Each float was based on a record title and related in some way to the football game with Howell.

The floats entered were "Big Rock Candy Mountain" by the freshman class, "See the Funny Little Clown" by the sophomores, "Sound of Music" by the juniors and "Goldfinger" by the seniors, "Do you Believe in Magic" by the cheerleaders and "Tonight" by the Campus Life club.

The king and queen from the 1964 homecoming crowned the new king and queen during the half time. The senior class sponsored a dance after the game in honor of the 1965 Homecoming queen, king and their court.

Members of the junior class sold yellow mums with a brown "H" in the center of each during the game.

After all of the work the students put into these various floats, they were unable to have their parade, due to heavy rain all day Friday, which did much damage to the floats.

Plymouth Satellite

Sitting around a Plymouth Dealer's showroom isn't exactly the Satellite's idea of excitement.

Give it a go.

Satellite is the spirited new leader of the all-new Plymouth Belvedere line. Standard equipment runs like this: Front bucket seats. Center console with glove box. Special wheel covers with spinner hubs. A padded instrument panel. Variable-speed windshield wipers with windshield washer. Back-up lights. Torsion-bar suspension. A 273-cubic-inch V-8.

Power is a passion with the Satellite. Optional V-8s check in at 318, 361, and 383 cubic inches. That's forceful. And that's Satellite.

Satellite. The top of the Plymouth Belvedere line for '66. The line forms at your Plymouth Dealer's.

Ford Styling Is Dramatic

Dramatic fresh styling -- including a new 2-door hardtop roof line -- a new "7 Litre" series with 428-cubic-inch V8 engine and front-wheel power disc brakes, and even higher standards of quietness, luxury and performance stand out among 1966 Ford features.

"The Ford was all-new just a year ago," said M. S. McLaughlin, Ford Division assistant general manager. "It represented the greatest tooling investment in Division history and was superior in ride and quietness to some of the world's finest cars.

"In every sense, we had a sound competitive base for 1966 but we chose not to stand still. On that solid foundation we have built still more safety, convenience, quietness and performance into all 1966 Fords."

Important revisions have been made in the revolutionary Ford suspension design introduced in 1965 to provide an even quieter ride and better handling in 1966. Front spring and shock absorber rates have been modified, and the rear suspension track bar has been lowered to achieve a better "balanced" ride. This fine tuning of the 1966 Ford suspension provides a better handling feel with reduced pitch and improved straight-line stability.

Front-wheel power disc brakes are another standard feature of the 7 Litre series. They may be ordered on all other Fords for 1966. Disc brakes were pioneered on the Thunderbird and Mustang in 1965.

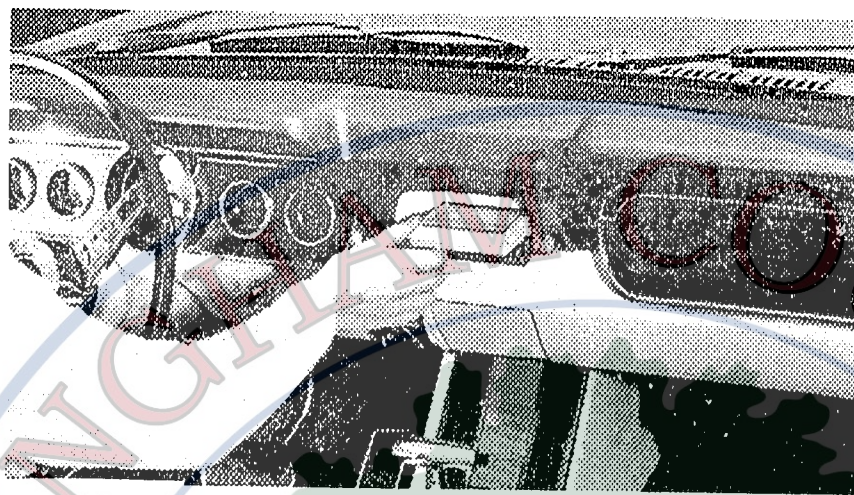

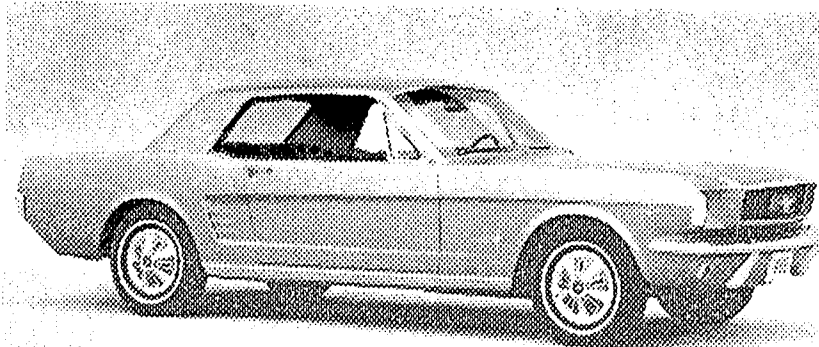

Advantages include optimum fade resistance, quieter operation, easier serviceability, self-adjustment, and lining life equal to or better than regular brakes.

A Stereosonic tape player that provides up to 80 minutes of selected stereo music is another option new for Ford buyers in 1966. The tape player mounts underneath the dash.

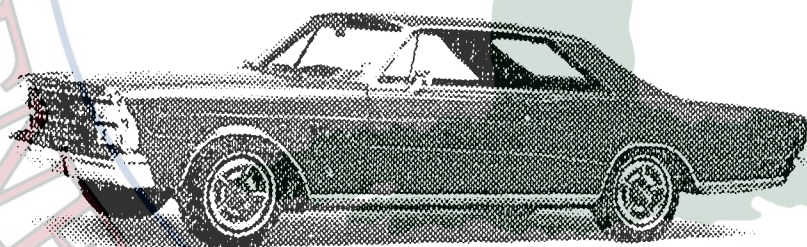

Ford pioneering in station-wagon design also continues in 1966. To the dual center-facing rear seats and built-in rear window air deflector introduced last year has been added a new standard equipment dual-action tailgate. The dual-action tailgate may be opened either as a conventional tailgate for carrying long loads, or as a door to permit easy access to the cargo area or the dual-facing rear seat.

Introduction of the all-new Ford Galaxie 500 7 Litre series with convertible and 2-door hardtop models expands the 1966 Ford lineup to 19 models in nine series from 17 models in eight series.

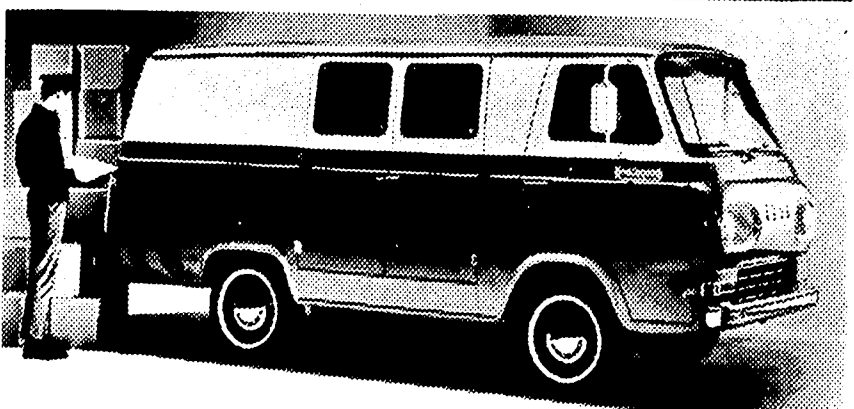

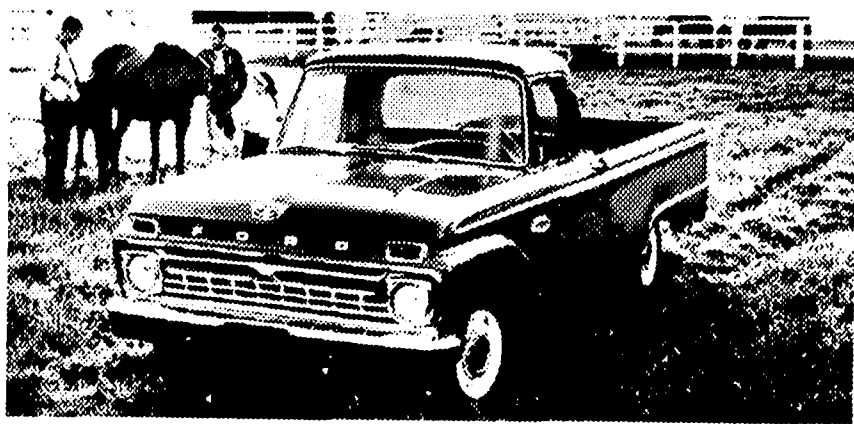

New safety features standard on all 1966 Fords include outside rear-view mirror, backup lights, padded dash and visors, rear seat belts, windshield washers and emergency flashers. New Fords also feature a thicker laminate windshield which has been shown to provide added protection in the event of a collision.

The third series of changes since it was introduced as a 1965 model 17 months ago mark the debut of the Mustang as a 1966. New styling touches -- shown on the hardtop model above -- include a new grille, simulated magnesium wheel covers and side ornamentation. A five-dial instrument cluster and new safety features also are standard for all 1966 Mustangs. New Mustang options include a Stereosonic tape player -- shown below -- that provides up to 80 minutes of true stereo music or the equivalent of two long-playing records. The tape player is incorporated into the car radio which may be used at any time for news or information simply by removing the cartridge.

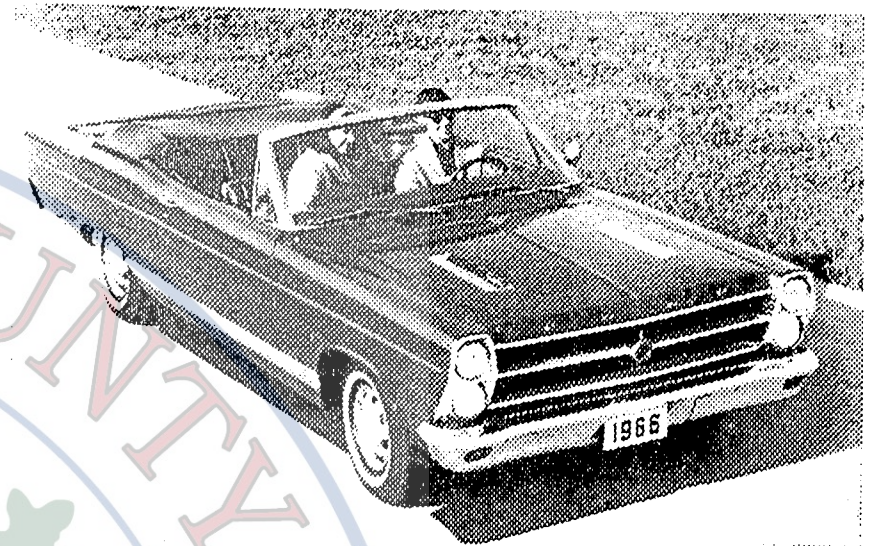

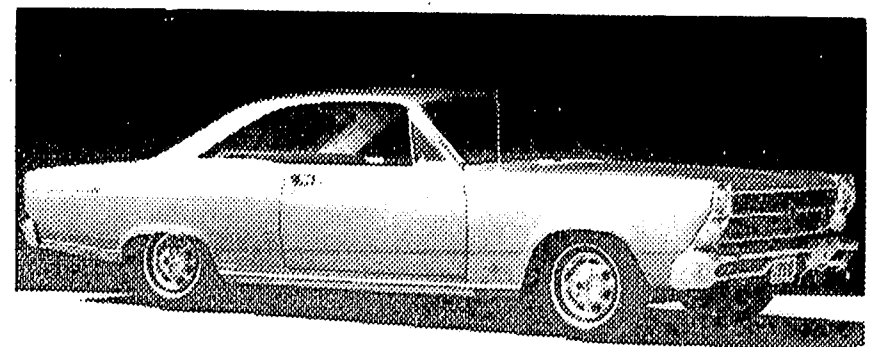

Dramatic styling -- including a new 2-door hardtop roof line -- is shown in these photos of the Ford Galaxie 500 2-door hardtop, top, and the Ford Galaxie 500 7 Litre 2-door hardtop, bottom. The "7 Litre" is an entirely new series available in 2-door hardtop and convertible models. It features a new 428-cubic-inch V8 engine and front-wheel power disc brakes as standard equipment. Both the disc brakes and the new 428-cubic-inch engine are optional on all other Fords. Other features include unique 7 Litre identification, distinctively styled steel wheelcovers, and special "dual accent paint stripes."

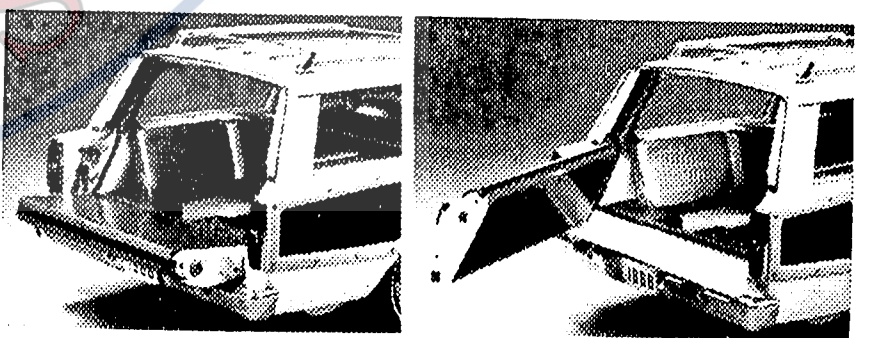

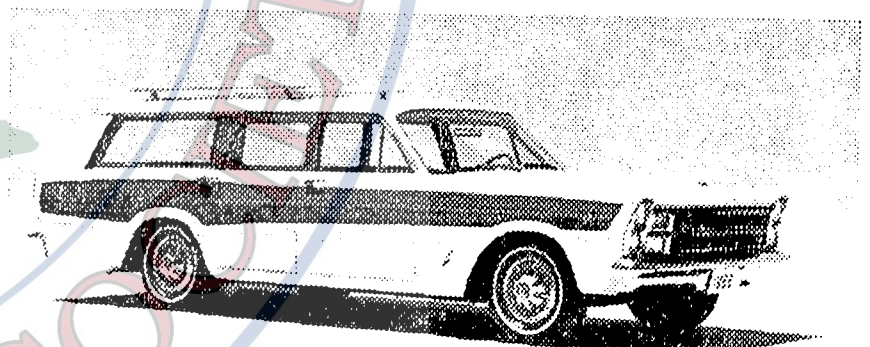

Ford Division's 1966 light-duty trucks range from the Econoline with its economy and ease of handling, through a full line of conventional light trucks that offer passenger-car ride plus rugged durability. Sporting a handsome new jet-scoop grille, Ford's new F-100 and F-250 (top) pickup offer customer-proven "Twin-Beam" independent front-axle suspension, a choice of three high-displacement engines, and a new four-wheel-drive model with Mono-Beam front suspension.

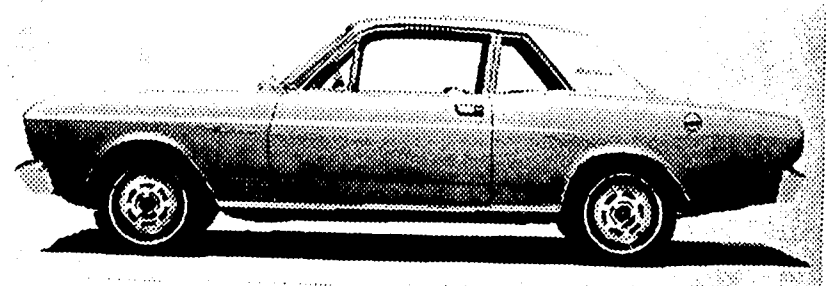

The 1966 Econoline SuperVan (bottom), an enlarged version of the popular Econoline Van, features all the handling and economy characteristics of the regular Econoline Van plus an additional full 18 inches in load space. The additional length provides 23 per cent more load space with a total capacity of 251-cubic-feet.

Entirely new styling of the 1966 Fairlane is dramatically displayed in the photo of the Fairlane 500/XL 2-door hardtop, above, and the Fairlane GT convertible, below. Indicative of the broadened family and sports appeal of the 1966 Fairlane is the new model selection -- four series instead of two and 13 models instead of eight. The two new Fairlane series -- the Fairlane 500/XL and the Fairlane GT -- are available in convertible and 2-door hardtop models designed for sports- and luxury-oriented customers. Simulated hood louvers and the famed Ford GT racing stripes above the rocker panel are among distinguishing features of the Fairlane GT.

There are two ways to get into the rear of every 1966 Ford station wagon -- over the tailgate or through the door. Ford's latest station wagon innovation is a dual-action tailgate. Open it with the center latch, left, and it's a tailgate. Open it with the handle, right, and it's a door. Illustrated on the 1966 Ford Country Squire Wagon, top, the new feature is standard on all Ford and Fairlane station wagons and is optional on Falcon wagons. The door feature permits easy passenger entry and provides ready access to a lockable storage compartment, while the tailgate is available for hauling or loading cargo. Earlier innovations which pushed Ford to station wagon sales leadership in 1965 -- dual center-facing rear seats and built-in rear window air deflectors -- are retained for 1966.

Key features of the two most successful cars ever introduced -- the Falcon and the Mustang -- are combined in the 1966 Falcon. The Mustang styling influence is readily apparent in the long hood, short rear deck, rear quarter "hop-up" and round wheel openings of this 1966 Falcon Futura Sports Coupe. The 1966 Falcon has new roominess, outstanding economy and technical innovations. Lengthened wheelbase and wider tread improve riding comfort. Reversible keys and keyless locking, curved side glass and integrated air conditioning are among other customer comfort and convenience features in the 1966 Falcon.

Tom Christensen and Dale Phillips Are Enthused About the '66 Ford Line.

'Ingham County's Oldest Ford Dealer'

Roy Christensen is Ingham county's OLDEST Ford Dealer, but his history with Ford goes way back to 1920. He was employed with various Ford dealers and was with Ford Motor Co. for 14 years prior to purchasing his present business from J.B. Dean in 1950. And in 1960 Tom Christensen became associated in the Ford business with his father. For the past 15 years Roy and Tom have established their reputation for fair dealing and honest business practices.

Since 1960, except for a short interval of time, Dale Phillips has been employed as a Salesman. During this time, Dale has gained the confidence of a large clientele of customers.

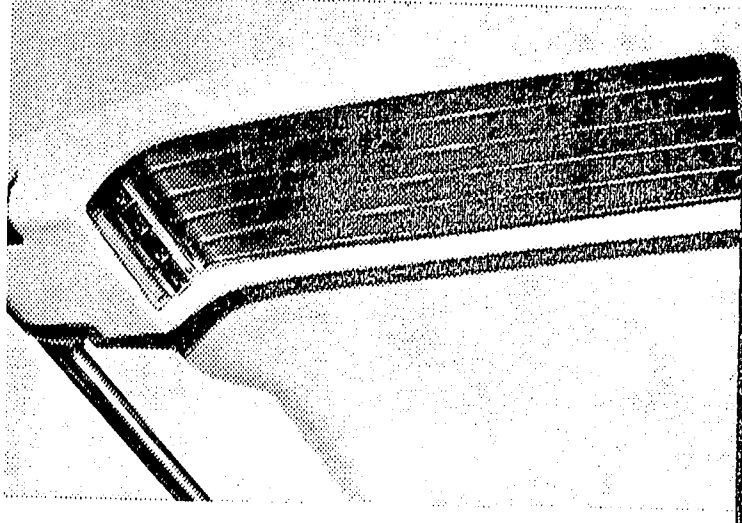

Roy and Tom invite you to visit their showroom and inspect the full line of 1966 Fords. And what a line-up it is!! Falcon still America's economy champ, Fairlane - re-invented, new from bumper to bumper. Mustang - America's favorite fun car. Galaxie - the quiet one. Thunderbird - the personal luxury car.

See and test drive these "Total Performance" Fords now at Roy Christensen, Inc. and don't forget, when you deal with Roy, Tom, or Dale, you get that famous Christensen "Service After The Sale." The kind of service that keeps customers coming back year after year.

See Us Today!!

210 State Street

An all-new sporty Ranchero (above) paces Ford Division's 1966 parade of light trucks. Longer, wider and lower, the Ranchero also has additional brawn with a pickup box that has been enlarged to a full 39.1 cubic feet. A new Custom model blends luxury car features with pickup truck utility. Ford's N-600 medium-duty truck (below) with stake body has a bigger, roomier cab for 1966, with an inch of new headroom and more than two inches of additional legroom. A flatter and larger steering wheel and new molded fiberglass headlining are other new features.

A distinctive roof line is featured on two new Thunderbird models for 1966, the Town Landau, top, and the Town Hardtop. Both cars offer an elegant "town car" look as contrasted with convertibles and the traditional and more sporty Thunderbird roof line continued on 1966 Thunderbird hardtops. New sportiness is reflected in the styling of all 1966 Thunderbirds and in availability of an optional 428-cubic-inch performance engine. Other new options include a Stereosonic tape player integrated into the radio in the center console, and fingertip automatic Highway Pilot speed control integrated into the steering wheel. An overhead console containing door-ajar warning light, fasten-seat-belt warning light, emergency flashers and low-fuel warning light is standard on all "Town" models.

Futuristic innovations in the 1966 Thunderbird include an overhead console, top; fingertip operated Highway Pilot Control, center; and Stereosonic tape player, bottom. The overhead console — standard in Town Landau and Town Hardtop models — includes warning lights for low fuel, door ajar and fasten seatbelts, as well as an emergency flasher switch. The Highway Pilot speed control permits the driver to set, reduce and resume cruising speed simply by touching buttons located on the steering wheel. Each Stereosonic tape player cartridge provides up to 80 minutes of stereo music ranging from Broadway to the concert hall. Four speakers are located strategically to bring the full stereo richness to driver and passengers.

'JEEP' Has New "Action Look" ...

A new grille, fashion-styled interiors and extensive mechanical improvements are highlights of advanced models of the 'Jeep' Wagoneer Station Wagon series being introduced by KAISER Jeep CORPORATION. Buyers now have a choice of a new 145-h.p. "Hi-Torque" six-cylinder engine or a 250-h.p. "Vigilante" V-8 engine which is offered as a high-performance option. Both engines are available with Turbo Hydra-Matic automatic transmission, overdrive or standard transmissions. 1966 Rambler Rebel Hardtop

American Motors has revealed a wide range of new features and changes in its cars for 1966, and announced three new names in the line-up -- DPL, Rebel and Rogue.

The DPL is the top-of-the-line hardtop of American Motors' luxurious 1966 Ambassador series, while the Rebel and Rogue will lead the Rambler Classic and Rambler American series, respectively.

These new models, along with the fastback Marlin, Ambassador 990, Classic 770 and American 440 will give their solid representation in the fast-growing hardtop market.

The two-door hardtop was the best-selling body style in the 1965 model year, accounting for approximately a third of total sales and topping the long-favored four-door sedan.

They have made important styling changes throughout all lines, adding new distinctiveness and individuality to each.

The Ambassador, which more than doubled in sales in 1965, and the top-volume Classic feature new roof panels for hardtops, and for station wagon models. Overall length of Ambassador and Classic station wagons has been increased two inches to provide added cargo space.

The American, economy champion of the compact field, has been increased nearly four inches in overall length with the added inches most evident in the front for a longer, more balanced profile. Only minor changes have occurred in the Marlin, which was introduced in mid-March.

They have continued to move in the direction of more luxury, more sporty styling and special options for 1966. Their choices have been broadened to meet the full range of variety sought by today's customers.

New options include a four-speed floor shift transmission, "Cruise-Command" automatic speed control, a special handling package for American and Classic sixes, "Turbo-Cast" wheel covers, and a four-way hazard warning signal.

New in Ambassador The 1966 Ambassador by American Motors features a newly-styled extruded aluminum grille with a V-line motif and all-new styling at the rear. Vertical wrap-around tail lights compliment the dual vertical headlight theme which has been retained.

DPL and 990 hardtop models have a new crisp-line roof which closely resembles a convertible top -- an effect achieved by changing the angle of the window opening at the rear posts.

Classic Changes The Rambler Classic for 1966 has an all-new grille of extruded aluminum and die cast frames for the dual horizontal headlights.

New rear end styling includes wrap-around horizontal tail lights which can be seen from the sides as well as from the rear.

Rebel and 770 hardtops feature new crisp-line roofs. Classic station wagons also have new roofs and tailgates, and over-all length has been increased from 193 to 195 inches. Cargo space has been hiked to 83 cubic feet, an increase of three cubic feet.

Classic interiors have new instrument clusters and, as with the Ambassador, front seat headroom has been increased by a half-inch on most models.

Compact American The Rambler American for 1966, which has been increased in over-all length from 177.3 inches to 181 inches, remains the shortest U.S. built car, and with a turning diameter of 36 feet is the easiest domestic car to park.

American styling is all new from the windshield forward and aft of the rear windows, including a new extruded aluminum grille, new square shaped housings for the large single headlights, a new, longer hood, and an all-new rear end highlighted by a concave sculptured section between the new rectangular tail lights.

Fastback Marlin The Marlin by American Motors, introduced as a mid-1965 model, continues its unique fastback styling theme for 1966 and has a number of changes for product refinement and improvement.

Interiors, including the instrument panel, have been newly trimmed, and the Marlin extruded aluminum grille has been restyled. The center portion of the grille has a black anodized finish.

A sway bar has been added as standard equipment on the Marlin six for improved handling characteristics.

50 Models In Chevrolet Line

DETROIT -- Variety, safety and new peaks of luxury highlight the 1966 Chevrolets -- plus the greatest assortment of models in the division's 55-year history.

E. M. Estes, general manager, said the new Chevrolets, totaling 50 models in six passenger car lines, will go on display in dealer showrooms on Thursday, Oct. 7.

"Model, option, color and interior combinations in the new Chevrolets number in the billions, giving the buyer an unparalleled opportunity to individually customize his car," Estes said.

Principal features include:

New Models -- A Caprice top-of-the-line series with four prestige models is added to the top selling regular Chevrolets. A four-door hard-top joins the Chevelle line, plus a distinctive Super Sport 396 series.

Styling -- The Chevy II receives its first complete redesign since introduction in 1962 models. The Chevelle is restyled, there are design refinements in the Corvair and Corvette, and the regular Chevrolet has an even "bigger car" look.

Safety Features -- Numerous safety features are made standard on all models ranging from a padded instrument panel and padded sun visors to rear seat belts and backup lamps.

Mechanical Features -- New engines include a 250-cubic inch L6 and two 427-cubic inch V8's. A new three-speed fully synchronized transmission is standard on all Chevrolet models.

Options -- Offered for the first time, in addition to the more than 400 options and accessories already available to Chevrolet buyers, are a single-dial automatic heating and air conditioning system, a bench front seat with center armrest adjustable front seat headrests and tilt-telescoping steering.

Interiors -- Restyled, high fashion interiors are featured in all models. Bucket seats in Chevrolet, Chevelle and Chevy II models are a new slim "Strato" design. Each of the 14 station wagons has an all-vinyl interior.

Here are details on the six Chevrolet lines for 1966:

Regular Chevrolet -- Headed by the luxury Caprice series, there are 19 models in five series. A color-keyed paint stripe distinguishes the Caprice Custom coupe -- which has a special roofline unique among all Chevrolet models -- and the Caprice Custom sedan. The two Caprice Custom station wagons have walnut grained exterior trim. All Caprice models have high prestige interiors.

The regular Chevrolets have a more powerful appearance, with a forward-thrust to front fenders and bold horizontal bars in the grille. Individual moldings and ornamentation designate each series. All have taillamps integrated into the rear quarters and deck giving a wider look.

Structural improvements have been made in both chassis and body. New springs, shock absorbers and softer bushings and body mounts increase smoothness and quietness of ride. The 110-inch wheelbase is retained.

Performance of the base six cylinder engine is improved by increasing displacement from 230 to 250 inches. Six V8's are available, including the two new 427-cubic inch engines. Horsepower range is from 155 to 425. Five basic transmissions are offered, including Turbo Hydra-Matic.

AL RICE CHEVROLET

Dedicated Service Is Reflected By Al Rice Employees

Al Rice Chevrolet has been in operation for 18 years after purchase from C.H. Hall in 1947. It was run as a Company for about 5 years when the Company was dissolved and the present sole proprietorship of Al Rice was begun.

In modest surroundings the business expanded over the years. First came the purchase of the old Mason Hotel lot directly across Jefferson St. for necessary space for the sale of OK used cars. Working space in the garage became cramped and to ease this situation and to be able to serve the public better, a four car body shop was erected in 1954 on the rear corner of the used car lot.

Al Rice Chevrolet continued its planned growth with the addition of a 2nd used car lot on the North side of Holt, Michigan. This fine sales lot was open for 5 years until the purchase in 1959 of the used car sales and reconditioning building on the West side of Mason. This addition increased the customer service area by 4 stalls.

All of this growth was due to fine customer relations by the excellent staff of employees of Al Rice Chevrolet. Earl Cavender, Elmer Crandall, Bernard Plakke, and Lawrence Burgess have been here since before Al Rice started in business. Bob Inghram came in 1949 and Stuart Ross in 1950. The rest of the staff are led by Fern Glotta 1952, Gail Every 1953, Clarence Theaker 1953, Doris Brown 1954, Lester Rice 1955, Earl Hagedorn 1955, Ken Brown 1960, Leo Allaire 1961, Richard McCulloch 1964, Bob Brown 1964, Dale Hagadorn, Al Torbet & Kurt Fellows in 1965. Nearly 2 centuries of service is reflected by the men and women of Al Rice Chevrolet.

Al Rice, the owner of Al Rice Chevrolet has been affiliated with Chevrolet for 37 years. At the time of purchase of this business Mr. Rice was Assistant Manager of the Flint Zone. As the oldest dealer in Mason, Al has always had his sights set on bigger and better things.

The new service department handles 16 to 20 cars and trucks at one time. There are three new twin post hoists for mechanical use and a new single post hoist for the lubrication dept. The Body and Paint Shop has facilities for 6 cars at one time. The all glass showroom is designed to display 6 to 7 cars at one time. Zoned overhead gas heating is used in the service, body, and parts department, with climate controlled heating in the offices and showroom.

We are proud of our parts department. It is without a doubt the finest, most complete parts department for a dealership of our size in this section of the United States. Bernard Plakke our parts manager has been a Chevrolet parts man for 37 years, seventeen of them with Al Rice.

The attractive Al Rice Chevrolet sign is set on a new grass lawn and just last week the paving of the modern, well lighted used car lot was completed. We invite your inspection of the finest facilities in Central Michigan.

New Power & Styling for '66 Plymouth

Plymouth is introducing four separate series of cars for 1966 including completely new Plymouth Belvedere models in the intermediate size class and a luxury edition four-door hardtop in the standard size series called the Plymouth V I P.

The offering gives Plymouth an even broader coverage of the low price market than in the 1965 model year when Plymouth made major gains in sales and market penetration.

There are two new production high performance engines for Plymouth cars in 1966. A 426-cubic inch hemispherical head V-8 will be available in Belvedere cars in mid-November and a 440-cubic inch V-8 with dual exhausts and a twin-snorkel air cleaner is optional in Fury and V I P cars.

Other outstanding features include a new safety inside remote door latch release in Belvedere, Fury and V I P cars and new shell type bucket seats with new center consoles for premium two-door hardtops and convertibles.

All 1966 Plymouth cars have substantial appearance changes. The Plymouth Belvedere cars have wholly new unitized bodies with curved glass windows and completely changed body lines which make them look longer and lower than 1965 Belvedere cars.

The 1966 Fury - Engineering improvements for outstandingly smooth performance and appealing appearance changes are among the new features of the 1966 Plymouth Fury. The smoother operation comes from refinements in the TorqueFlite automatic transmission, engine mounting, and other drive line components. All models have a new grille, new wheel covers and rear bumpers. Sedans, hardtops and convertibles have new quarter panels, a new deck lid with new upper and lower deck panels. Options include a telescoping and tilting steering wheel and power front wheel disc brakes. There are 23 Plymouth Fury models. Shown is the Plymouth Sport Fury two-door hardtop.
