

Once more, the radiance

of a Holy Night shines across the years, and with scripture, song and prayer we recall the Miracle of His birth. At Christmas, as we return in heart and spirit to the sacred manger, let us rededicate ourselves to the meaning and message of this wondrous time, that we may know "Peace on Earth, Good Will to All Men."

As many Ingham county residents prepare for their annual post Christmas trek to Florida, the News reprints this article compiled by the Automobile Club of Michigan, describing the best routes to the Sunshine state.

How you get to Florida depends upon several things, but probably the most important is how much time do you have? Besides time, other factors are economy and the number of person in the group.

Auto, air, train and bus are the main ways to get to the Sunshine State.

Whatever means you choose to go there, it's getting easier all the time. And once there, you'll find more interesting things to see and do than ever. Florida is seeing to that.

Upon arrival, Michiganians will find the cost of accommodation practically unchanged from last year. Auto Club members using the new AAA Florida Tour book will find it easier to select a place to stay and get the most for their money at the same time.

If time is important, air travel is the best way. The fastest planes put Detroit and Miami just 2-1/2 hours apart. Both Eastern and Delta, the two main airlines that offer service between Detroit and Florida's three major resort areas -Miami, Tampa and Jacksonville - have beefed up their schedules for the winter.

Air travelers likely will want to consider car rental once in Florida. They will find the largest winter fleet ever assembled awaiting them.

A majority of Michiganians - some 86 percent - bound for Florida choose the automobile. And here again the old travel rule applies - the larger the party the more economical is

Those driving to Florida should plan to spend at least three days going each way, 3-1/2 days if the destination is Miami. The motorist will find that improved roads have shortened slightly two of the main routes to Florida. Nearly 100 miles of additional four-lane highway have been completed within the last Four major routes are recommended by Auto Club. For convenience, they are designated as Routes A, B, C, and D. The one selected depends upon preference.

*Route A, with an ultimate destination of St. Petersburg, is popular with all Michigan residents, eventhose going to Miami. It is practically nonmountainous, and during winter it is usually in better condition than other routes. From Detroit to Miami it is 142 miles longer than Route B, but improved highways have shortened the distance from last year. Route A is 1,560 miles long, has 1,172 miles of four-lane highway, the most of any of the routes, and road tolls totaling $6.20.

*Route B, through Cincinnati, Lexington, Knoxville and Atlanta, is the most direct for Michigan residents. It is 1,418 miles long, has 1,072 miles of four-lane highway and tolls of $4.80 to Miami.

*Longest of the routesis C, which takes advantage of the Ohio and Pennsylvania turnpikes. The mileage is 1,599, of which 1,020 are four-lane highway. Tolls cost motorist $6.60. *Route D is hazardous when snow and ice conditions prevail in West Virginia and North Carolina mountains. It is scenic, however. The mileage is 1,1489 with only 607 miles four-lane highway. Tolls will cost $4.35. A stop at your Auto Club office several weeks in advance will be helpful. A free "planning map" is available to help you decide on a route. Afterward, you can get a routing made up, with maps, Triptiks and Tour Books. Just before departure, a final check is advisable with one of the Club's 57 offices in Michigan. This may save you time and trouble. For one thing, the latest weather information is available. Hotel or motel accommodations also can be reserved Once in Florida, motorists will be happy to know that the state now has 2,030 miles of four-lane highways. By next summer, this may be upped 207 miles. Biggest segments to be completed by summer are I-75 from Wildwood to Tampa, a 60-mile stretch, and I-95 from Jacksonville to Daytona Beach, 86 miles. Michigan motorists now may take I-75 south of Atlanta and travel to Wildwood, Florida. From here, they are assured of tending college may put a fifour-lane highway all the way to Miami on the Sunshine State Parkway. I-75 travels 571 miles in Georgia and Interstate superhighway in the southeast United States. By next spring, US-27 will be four-laned from the state line through Tallahassee and all the way to Chiefland, 50 miles west of Ocala. For those who enjoy traveling State AlA along the scenic east coast route, completion of the Sebastian Inlet Bridge above Vero Beach allows unbroken travel all the way to Cape Kennedy.

In north central Florida, completion of US-441 from Alachua to Kissimmee now provides 147 miles of four-laning. Heavily traveled US-301 is now four-laned between Citra and Ocala. Four-laning of an additional 71 miles between Callahan and Citra is expected to completed by early 1966.

US-41 between Sarasota and Fort Myers is now fourlaned for a 30-mile stretch. Completion of the four-laning of this highway all the way from Tampa to Naples is expected by the end of 1966.

The motorist enroute to Florida again must be alert in areas that insist upon strict enforcement of traffic laws. These are few, however. On Route A, Bonvieville, Kentucky, is listed, while Livingston, Kentucky, is on Route B. Ludowici, Georgia, is back with us again and must be watched on Routes C and D. In Virginia, the area from Staunton to Lexington US-11 on Route C is listed on the AAA report, while in addition to Ludowici, Route D includes a stretch on Virginia 100 from US-11 to US-221 and on US-52 from Mt. Airy to County Route 607.

Basic Detroit-Miami one-way fares are: First class jet (day), $92.50; toruist jet (day), $73.40; deluxe night jet, $65.10; night jet, $57.60. Air fares to Tampa, Orlando, West Palm Beach and Jacksonville are somewhat lower.

Air travelers also can take advantage of Delta's family plan, available on all days of the week, through which a family of four can save as much as 40 percent on their tickets. A tax of 5 percent must be added to all fares. Delta uses Metropolitan Airport in Detroit.

Eastern Air Lines offers 42 jet flights weekly, its most expansive schedule ever offered from Detroit. Starting December 15, Eastern will offer three daily non-stop jets to Miami leaving Willow Run Airport near Ypsilanti at 10 a.m., 4:15 p.m. and 10 p.m.

The west coast of Florida served at Tampa-St. Petersburg will get first time non-stop jet service on January 5 when a 12:30 p.m. departure arriving at Tampa at 2:53 p.m. enters the schedule. Over the Christmas holidays a 9 a.m. and a 10:45 p.m. jet schedule will serve Tampa - both onestop Eastern flights.

The east coast to Florida will be served at West Palm Beach and Fort Lauderdale as well as Miami this winter. Over the Christmas holidays (December 15 to January 4), the 9 a.m. Boeing 720 jet departure will arrive at Fort Lauderdale at 1:21 p.m. and, starting January 5, the 12:30 Whisperjet (Boeing 727) will serve West Palm Beach arriving at 4:02 p.m.

Northern and central Florida will be served by a 10:45 p.m. jet that arrives in Jacksonville at 1:30 a.m., making direct connections there to Orlando.

Train-minded travelers - those who have the time and want to see the scenery - have a choice of routes into Florida. They can go to Chicago and take the Pennsylvania's South Wind or the Illinois Central's City of Miami which leave on alternate days or they can go to Washington on the Baltimore & Ohio where connections can be made on the Atlantic Coast Line or Seaboard.

Those wishing to go roundtrip from Chicago can take either the Grand Trunk Western or the New York Central there from Detroit. Grand Trunk Western, which has two trains roundtrip. Grand Trunk offers a lower berth on its 11 p.m.

RENT-A-CAR

Hertz Rent-A-Car will have more than 8,000 automobiles, the largest winter fleet ever assembled in Florida, on hand this winter. M. R. Howerton, Florida zone manager for Hertz, recommends that resevations be made for vehicles.

Special winter package rates are available in such key cities as Miami, Fort Lauderdale, Palm Beach, Jacksonville, Sarasota, Tampa and St. Petersburg. Arrangements can be made through AAA World-Wide Travel Service.

Weekly package rates for a car begin at $24.95 a week plus 9 cents a mile for a four-door economy car with standard shift. Rates include gasoline, oil, maintenance and proper insurance. This special rate applies only, however, when air tickets and hotel or motel accommodations are booked and paid for prior to departure.

Also available for winter visitors is Hertz's revolving credit plan, exclusive in the car rental field. A motorist can enjoy as much as $200 in auto rental credit by paying only $10 a month. The exclusive Hertz Certified Service $50 pledge of daily to Chicago, charges $24.75 coach or $33.99 first class, customer satisfaction covers all car rentals from the company. Remember, regardless of how you travel, or what type accommodations you require, your local Automobile Club of Michigan office can help with all arrangements and reservations. It's a good way to be sure that a worry-free time awaits at your destnation.

nancial burden on both partners while they are still students, but it seems to have little economical effect over the long run. A recent study of 156 men and women who were enrolled as juniors or seniors at Michigan State university in 1958 and 1959 showed very little difference between married and unmarried students in terms of economic well-being up to 7 years after leaving the university. The study was conducted by Dr. Frances Magrabi, associate professor, and Marcia P. King, graduate research assistant, both of the department of home management and child development in MSU's college of home economics.

The study did not indicate that the married students "had been disadvantaged in respect to incomes, assets or debts within a period up to 7 years. In fact, the married students tended to have slightly higher incomes but smaller liquid as-

Dr. Magrabi and Mrs. King noted that those who had been married while in college tended to be older. Also, they generally came from larger families, from parental homes broken by death or divorce and from families less well off than those of their class-

Looking, in general, at all of the ex-students in the study, Dr. Magrabi and Mrs. King noted that most of these students are now married, have one or 2 children, own their own homes, have substantial assets and earn salaries considerably higher than the median income in the U.S. Most of them owe sizeable amounts of money for consumer goods, mostly for automobiles or household furnishings and equipment.

The study revealed that half of all the students (married or unmarried) who had been juniors or seniors in 1958 and 1959 were receiving a family income of $10,000 or more about 6 years after leaving college. About 10 percent were receiving $15,000 or over.

Individual salaries were highest among those male students who received degrees. About one-half of those who had graduated were receiving salaries or wages of $8,500 or more compared with only 11 percent of those who had not graduated,

Nearly all of the women in the sample who were employed at the time of the study were working in professional occupations. But many had held no jobs after leaving college and about half had held

Dr. Magrabi and Mrs. King found relatively high degree of achievement among male students who had graduated from MSU. Over 90 percent who had received degrees were in either professional or business and managerial positions are compared with only about half of the men who had not received degrees.

This degree of achievement --90 percent in managerial positions -- was even more im pressive when compared with the occupational level of the students' parents. About 56 percent of the parents were businessmen or members of sicians, teachers, etc.).

The ex-students were found fifths of all the students to another.

To be Opened By Mid-Summer

Heavy earth-moving machinery this week moved into a 17 1/2 acre tract of land at the northeast corner of Holt and Aurelius roads in Holt to break ground for a $1 million shopping center complex, which is expected to be completed by midsummer.

county News

The facility is being constructed by William Thorburn of Mason and his cousins, Robert Holmes and Myron Ballard, both of Marshall.

Financial arrangements were completed by the firm of Hartger and Willard of Grand Rapids, Thorburn said.

The Eisenhauer Construction company of Marshall has the general contract for the center which will contain 13 stores fronting on Holt road in a "J" shape layout. The center will cover 36,000 square feet of floor space.

Leases already have been signed by 11 prospective tenants. Two store areas are still available for lease, Thorburn Firms which have signed leases include the following: Schmidt's super market,

Kwast bakery, Mr. Jerry, Florist, Bob Petersen, barber shop, Bob Watkins shoes, Sprague Beauty Salon, State Farm Insurance claims office, D & C Stores, Highlander Center laundromat, Humble Oil company gas station and a restaurant to be operated separately by Schmidt's super market. The gasoline station will be located at Holt and Aurelius roads in the Southwest corner of the center. The stores will set back from Holt road a distance of about 500 feet and the area in front of them will be made into a parking lot for about 275 cars. The center's frontage will be 425 feet with a canopied sidewalk the entire length. Parking will not be permitted along the curb in front of the stores this roadway will be kept free for moving traffic. The complex will be known as the "Holt Plaza" and it will be the first complete shopping center ever constructed in Holt.

The entire center was developed by the 3 owners. Architects for the project are Hornbach, Steenwyck and Thrall of Grand Rapids.

The property has been in the Douglas and Thorburn families for 80 years. Alfie Douglas, great grandfather of William Thorburn Holmes and Mrs. Ballard, purchased the property in 1885 and farmed it until his death in 1905, when it was inherited by Thorburn's grandfather, William Douglas who farmed the land until his death in 1939, when the property reverted to William Thorburn's mother, Mrs.

aunt. Mrs. Flossie Holmes. William Thorburn, Holmes and Ballard acquired the property in 1955.

The original farm contained 21 acres.

By the time this goes to press, Christmas vacation will have about begun for all the kids. This means, for one thing, that I'll have to listen a bit closer for the alarm in the mornings. The teens and pre-teens at our house are always up and jumping ahead of me lately in the mornings. The radio just doesn't penetrate the foggy brain very easy lately. Maybe it's because it stays dark so late these mornings. Then again, it might be that I just need to go to bed earlier.

At any rate, among the blessings I'll count because of and during Christmas vacation will be the beautiful peace, quiet and elbow room every morning in our one and only bathroom. Oh, blessed elbow room!

We don't need a family room at our house. We have one. You've guessed it -- the bathroom. I used to think a 2-bathroom house was darned near a necessity. Traffic in our bathroom is so thick in the mornings, it's like wall-to-wall kids.

I think my boys have discovered girls. Why else would they need to comb their hair for an hour? I know No. 3 child (girl) has discovered boys. What's worse, the boys have discovered her, and she has discovered that they have discovered. That may sound confused, but moms with 11-year-old girls are sure to under-

Thank heavens the 9-year-old girl child is too short to see in the mirror. And behind all this mass of humanity bobbing up and down in front of the mirror, stand I, trying desperately to put my face on straight and face the world with both eyebrows matching.

Then, scratching his bare midriff and showing a nasty stubble on his chin, Pappy appears in the doorway and has the nerve to yawn, "Good morning, gang." With a glare and a sneer (the nastiest I can produce because basically I'm very sweet-natured, it says here in small print), I make a frantic grab for the spare mirror and head for another room. With trembling hands, I usually manage to finish the paint job before it's time to make the mad dash for the car and the peace and quiet of the presses rolling at the News office.

The kids may wear out the telephone during vacation time . . . and I may come home at night to a house that looks like it was shot at and hit ... but for a little more than an entire blissful week, I'll be able to get close enough to the bathroom mirror to see my own image -- even without my contact lenses snapped in

An around-the-clock shower on December 11 was hosted by Mrs. G. N. Grimes and Miss Mary Wasson. Guests were high school and college friends of the bride. Guests assigned a time of day and brought gifts appropriate to the time. Bridal games were played. The bride's parents were the late Mr. and Mrs. Nelson D. Brown of Mason. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Don Doolittle of Mason. Miss Brown approached the altar, which was decorated with vases of white chrysanthemums, with Richard W. Brown, her brother. For her wedding she chose a gown of silk peau de soie. The floorlength skirt featured a carriage back ending in a chapel train. A panel of reembroidered Alencon lace extended to the lower skirt. Small fabric roses were scattered over the entire lace panel. A cabbage rose accented the back waistline. Her veil of triple bouffant lace illusion was secured by a wreath of orange blossoms and pearls. The bride carried a white Bible and single red rose. Preceding Miss Brown down the aisle was Mrs. George Bauer of Port Huron, sister of the bride. She wore afloor. length dress of red velveteen with a white satin skirt. Bridesmaids, Mrs. Donald Lehman of Big Rapids, Miss Kathy Brown of Lansing, and Miss Bette Gaines of Oak Forest, Illinois, were dressed identically. Each attendant carried a hurricane lamp with a lighted red candle and holly and red carnations at its base.

Other highlights of the program included a solo by Miss Jean Roe, high school chorus soprano, and the song "Make a Joyful Sound" complete with a special brass ensemble accompaniment.

Warren Emrick, high school vocal director, put all of his students through their paces and came up with a firstrate concert that all enjoyed.

Annual Christmas concert by the various bands throughout the Mason schools under the direction of George Murthum are atraditional sell out and Tuesday night's concert was no exception.

Included in the program were the 77 piece senior high school organization, the 77 piece junior high school band and the 46 member 7th grade

Some of the special numbers were "Scherzo Pomposo" by Harold L. Walters featuring a bass solo by band member Eugene Dowling; "Baby Ele-phant Walk" arranged by Henry Mancini and "A Hymn Festival" arranged by Hawley Ades, who has done several arrangements for the Fred Waring organization.

Murthum selects musical numbers with care to insure that the audience has a listenable variety of music and yet the selections still presents a challenge to the band members. Members of the bands performed like professionals and provided an enjoyable evening for all attending.

Churches Will Mark Holiday

Four Mason churches will observe Christmas eve or Christmas day with special services Friday night and Saturday.

All Saints Lutheran church will have a special service at 7:30 p.m. Christmas eve. The service will include celebration of the Holy Communion and special Christmas music by the senior and youth choirs. Rev. Paul A. Tidemann, the pastor, will preach the sermon. His topic will be "Taking a Census".

Christmas eve candlelight services are planned at the Mason Presbyterian church at 8 p.m. in the church sanctuary. Both choirs and the bell choir will provide Christmas music.

Saint Augustine of Canterbury Episcopal church will celebrate the Holy Eucharist at 11:30 p.m. Christmas eve.

Three masses will mark the Christmas holiday at St. James Roman Catholic church. The first mass will be celebrated at midnight Christmas eve and the other 2 at 8:30 a.m. and 10:30 a.m. on Christmas day.

Other churches in the city conducted their Christmas services last Sunday. Several are planning Watch Night services on New Year's eve.

School Buses' Tires Deflated By Pranksters

LESLIE -- Pranksters deflated tires on 12 school buses in the school bus garage here this week. The prank was discovered Tuesday by William Durfee, bus maintenance superintendent, when he went to the garage to start the buses. Keys from the ignitions of all the buses also were stolen.

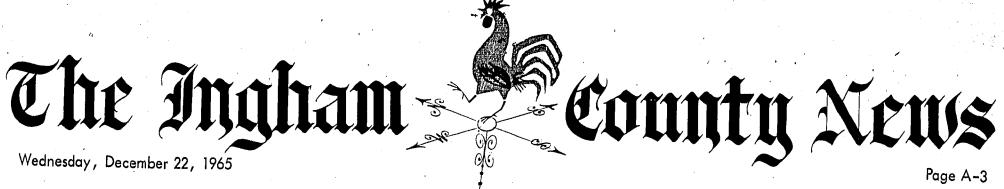

Durfee, however, solved the problem. With a portable air pump he went to work on the 12 tires. Fortunately, he also had duplicate ignition keys.

Classes were delayed about 20 minutes by the pranksters' work.

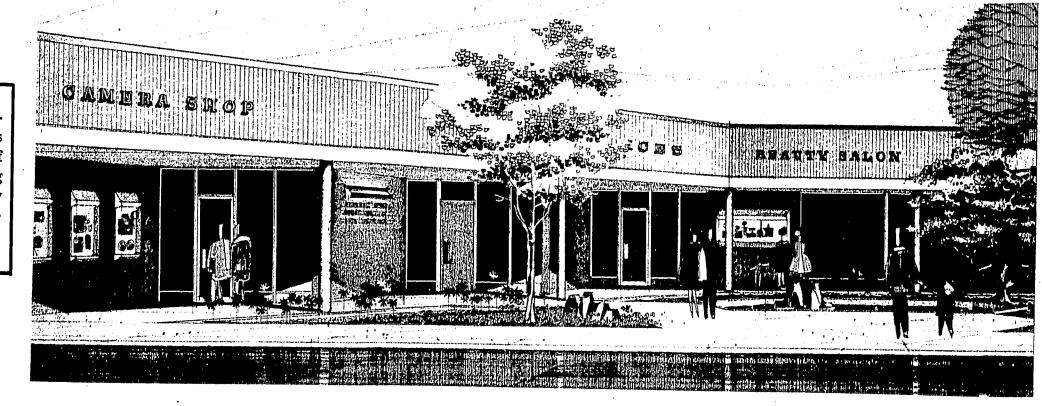

Tuesday was the last day of school before the Christmas vacation and school officials are a loss to determine why the pranksters picked that day for their prank.

Leslie police are investigating. Marshal Donald Haynes found some tracks in the snow near the garage.

Sterling R. Thorburn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gail Thorburn, 3159 Willoughby road, Route 4, Mason is among the more than 50 students who have been accepted as new members in the Honors College at Michigan State university.

Thorburn is in his sophomore year at the university and is majoring in art. His grade average is point 4. All students who have a 3.5 (Aminus) all university grade average in their freshman year are eligible for admission to the Honors College.

Honors College provides special academic programs for superior undergraduate students. As a member of the college the student has many benefits. He may waive all normal course requirements. Working closely with his own faculty advisor, he is given the opportunity to develop his own program of study suited to his interests and abilities. The study program will include honor courses specially designed for Honors College students, seminars and independent study. The Honors College student may take advanced graduate work in his field whenever he is ready.

Each student of the college is in the academic upper 5 percent of the student body. Thorburn is a graduate of

Forty five persons attended a public hearing in Williamston last Thursday night which was called by the Ingham County School Reorganization Study committee. The committee reported on z recommendation to combine the Williamston and Wheatfield District No. 6 (White Dog). The committee also reported on its recommendation that certain property transfers be made at a later date in the interest of facilitating pupil transportation. The report was presented by Alton J. Stroud, chairman of the committee with the assistance of committee members. Representatives from the White Dog district and in general who attended the hearing opposed the plan which would combine the 2 schools, but the committee insisted that the location of White Dog district was such as to make Williamston the only logical high school district to which it could be attached.

he said, "but it is bad because so many hog raisers will come into the market and the supply again will become so heavy that the prices will fall. Then the cycle will start all over."

Educators Pay Tribute To Memory of Dr. Rich

Mason and Holt educators joined those of Lansing this week in paying tribute to the memory of Dr. Dwight HL Rich, retired superintendent of Lansing schools who died last Thursday while attending a conference at Purdue university, Lafayette, Indiana. He was superintendent of schools in Lansing from 1945 until he retired in 1962, and prior to that was principal of Lansing's Eastern high school for 17 years.

After his retirement he worked for the Michigan Education association and late became an adviser for the Midwest Program on Airborne Television Instruction (MPATI) which has its headquarters at Purdue university. He was attending a meeting of MPATI when fatally stricken. Mrs. Rich was with him when he collapsed, and died of an apparent heart attack.

Funeral services were Monday at the Plymouth Congregational church in Lansing and burial was in Lansing's Evergreen cemetery.

Dr. Rich was prominent in many civic affairs in Lansing and was one of the founders of the American Legion Boys' State which meets annually at Michigan State university.

He was born in Michigan, North Dakota in 1897 and spent his boyhood there and in northern Michigan. He graduated from Hancook high school. Declaring that he had lost a friend in the passing of Dr. Rich, Alton J. Stroud Ingham Intermediate superintendent of schools, said:

"I lost a good friend in the passing of Dwight Rich. As superintendent of the county's largest school system, he was always willing to cooperate with and assist other schools in the county. His life was given unstintingly to his job and its many demands. Lansing has one of the best school systems to be found anywhere. No small part of the credit for this goes to combined a keen mind that analyzed problems well with a determination to see the colutions become realities. He was truly a great humanitarian who dedicated his life to education." "Dwight Rich was a really

The apprehension of a 20year-old Mason man last Tuesday night may have cleared up 75 percent of Mason's window peeping complaints according to Tim Stolz, Mason police chief.

Patrolmen questioned the man and he admitted to many such prowling instances inside Mason. No arrest has been made yet as the young man is seeking medical help.

program. He was a real helpful type of person."

John Wellington, principal of Holt senior high school, made this comment: "I knew Dr. Rich through his work in educational television and I had a great respect for him as a very capable administrator. After he retired as superintendent of Lansing schools he contributed agreat deal to the schools of Michigan. His passing has come as a great shock to us all." Harvey Wood, assistant superintendent of Holt-Dimondale schools: "Dr. Rich was one of the most respected school men in Michigan. His death is a real loss to education in this state. For many years he was the one of the great leaders among school administrators.

John B. Waldo, principal of the Cornell elementary school in Okemos, and a former principal of Mason junior high school, made this comment: "Dr. Rich was a highly respected leader in the community both educationally and community wise. He probably was the best friend Lansing children ever had and people who knew him enjoyed him. He will be greatly missed.

John D. Alexander, principal of the Holt Junior high school said: "I have always admired Dr. Rich as a leader in the field of education. His place in the Michigan school picture will be hard to fill. Most of us educators would hope to think we could be as greatly admired as he

In Tudor Times

In England during Tudor times, Christmas celebrations began an All Saints' Day, November 1, and continued until Candlemas, on February 2. "The Lord of Misrule" was the master of ceremonies at the Yuletide festivities. Much of the music for all this merrymaking was extemporaneous. Many songs were passed on by word of mouth from generation to generation -songs such as "The Boar's Head Carol," referring to the "boar" or pig wich was tra-"The First Noel".

Michigan's 1965 firearm card survey of hunter success, from last year when the state's deer harvest was the best on season.

> On the basis of hunter numbers, the individual success rate took a sharper drop. With a good possibility that there were at least 600,000 hunters this fall. . . some 40,000 more than a year ago . . . about one of every six sportsmen got what he was aiming for.

> The department estimates that 67,700 bucks were taken this year along with 45,650 antlerless deer. Both figures are below those of last year.

> A regional look at the Department's estimates shows hunters in the northern-twothirds of Michigan had less luck than a year ago, while

During Puritan times in England, the singing of carols and, indeed, the entire celebration of Christmas, was banned. The Puritan-minded ditional at the Yule fest, and American colonies followed suit.

Yule Tunes Blend Joy, Reverence

Across the centuries, man has looked to music to express his happy feelings at Christmas time.

From the medieval "Hail, Mary, full of Grace" and Mervele noght, Josep" to the modern "White Christmas" and "Rudolph the Red - Nosed Rdindeer", songs have been a favorite part of Christmas celebrations.

In the tradition of Christmas music, there are simple carols, blending reverent wonder with quiet joy - Martin Luther's "Away in a Manger," for instance, or the midnineteenth century humns, "It Came Upon a Midnight Clear." "We Three Kings of Orient Are" and "O Little Town of Bethlehem."

There are merry songs, celebrating the jolly mood of the Yuletide, such as the timehonored "Deck the Halls," or the modern "Rudolph" and "Frosty the Snowman".

Women Take Over In

Driver's Seat Women drivers will outnumber men drivers within a few years, according to a report published by Michigan

State University.
Dr. Daniel D. Gage of Sacramento State College and Dr. Anne C. Gregory Briefs

GREGORY - The Gregory Brownies met last week at the school for their Christmas party and supper. The girls sang carols and played games. Two Girl Scout pencils were given by the leaders to each member and World Association Pins were presented. In preparation for Christmas the girls made ornaments for their family trees. Nearly 50 persons gathered at the Methodist church Sunday evening to begin a round of caroling. The original plan called for the members of the Youth Fellowship of the church to make the rounds but word got around and many older members, as will as several younger ones, joined the group.

The evening was perfect, dry and not too cold, with a clear star filled sky overhead. As the singers moved from house to house, singing for the shut ins and the aged,

Yule Inspired Composers

Famous composers have found in Christmas inspiration for some of their most renowned music. At Christmas, and Easter, too, people gather to hear performances of Handel's "Messiah". Bach's Christmas Oratorio" and Berlioz' "L'Enfance du Christ" are other examples of "serious" music often specially performed at Christ-

Twentieth century composers, too, have written music around Christmas themes. Probably the most familiar example is Menotti's "Amahl and the Night Visitors," and opera commissioned for television and performed annually. Honegger's "Christmas Cantata" and Britten's "Ceremony of Carols" are other notable examples.

1st Yule Carol Composed in US

First Christmas carol composed in the United States was the work of an 18th century leather worker named William Billings, reports the Book of Knowledge. A tanner by trade but a tunesmith by inclination, Billings composed the carol, "A Virgin Unspot-all the old familiar carols could be heard drifting through this quiet village.

Altogether the group sang at some 25 homes and were rewarded with a smile here, a grateful thank you, there, and even an occasional tear. After the caroling was over, the entire group was entertained at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Stevens. The singers entered the house to hear Christmas carols emanating from the Hi-Fi and found a table laden with sloppy joes, cakes and steaming hot cocoa.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Riggs and family of Grosse Pointe Farms spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Riggs. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hartley of Grass Lake were callers in the afternoon.

Police Clear Up Series of Larcenies

Investigation of a minor moving traffic violation by Mason patrolmen turned up a stolen car and cleared up several larceny complaints for the Lansing police department.

Officers spotted a cartrayeling through the red flashing light on Oak street and stopped the auto. The driver and 2 passengers, all juveniles, were from Lansing.

The driver first produced a woman's license. Policemen then checked further and found the car was stolen and being operated on a stolen set of license plates.

The juveniles were placed under arrest and were turned over to the Lansing police department juvenile authorities where the youngsters admitted several larceny cases

HONORED CITIZENS

The pharmacists 3, Ed, Bob and Harold, at Ware's Drug and Camera are the Ingham County News honored citizens this week. The men have carried on the family business which was established by D. Lee Ware in 1935, Since then the business has prospered and expanded 3 times.

All golf enthusiasts, Ed was the first one to take to the links. Since then he has developed his talents, played in several tournaments and won

He is currently on the board of governors of the Lansing Country club and has been general chairman of the country club invitational golf tournament.

Work at the drug store requires a great many hours of the 3 brothers' time, but Ed finds time to be a member of the Mason Merchant's association and has been a member of the Mason Kiwanis club.

He and his wife Mary Kay are members of the First Presbyterian church of Mason, They have 2 daughters Mary Lee, a student at Northwood Institute at Midland, Jenna and son, Eddie.

Ed received his pharmacist training at Grand Rapids univeristy. Soon after graduation he entered the Navy as a pharmacist's mate and later attended midshipman's school at Notre Dame, gradualing as a lieutenant JG. He went on to command a landing craft tank in the Pacific and was discharged in 1945 as a Lieutenant.

All of the brothers are members of the Ingham county and Michigan Pharmaceutical associations.

After she hung up the phone she packed a bathing suit in an overnight bag and took off for a gefilte fish queen contest She won second place.

All this happened because her mother, Mrs. Betty From is an expert at making geflite fish, thought it was a cooking contest and entered it. Then she found it was a beauty contest and withdrew, she told the contest officials about her daughter and Joan was permitted to enter the event.

The contestants were judged 80 percent on looks and 20 percent on how much they liked gefilte fish.

After the contest when photographers began taking pictures of the winners, Mrs. Rosenburg realized her fib to her principal would be revealed. So she called him up and told him the whole story.

Many times the inability of a first offender to find work forces him into crime, the sheriff said. On a first offense, the individual is usually given a suspended sentence, fined and place on probation. Along with probation, fees are imposed on the offender which he often can't

By training the first offender so that he qualifies for a job and can gain employment, this situation would be eliminated in many cases, Preadmore said.

Mrs. Leslie Hodgson is the chief cook who presently works with those inmates showing an interest in learning a skill. This skill may prevent the "first offender" from repeating his crime.

One of Queensland's most remarkable features lies off its eastern coast. This is the Great Barrier Reef, regarded as one of the wonders of the world. It attracts visitors from all parts of the world to gaze in wonder at its rare world of mystery and beauty.

The Great Barrier Reef is really a long chain of reefs separated from the shore by a shallow channel. These reefs are built by a tiny sea creature called a polyp. It secretes limy substance of which its skeleton is made. After the death of the creature this remains to form the coral of which the reef is mainly composed. Most dead coral is white, but the living popyps, like a garden in the sea, display many bright colors such as blues, pinks, greens, and yellows.

The polyps are simple, jelly-like creatures that developed million of years ago. They are no larger than a pinhead, but they are usually takes 1 1/2 hours from found in large groups or col-Caerns. # Yuletide Spirit at Mason HS

Mason High School 'Tis the season to be jolly, and in keeping with the spirit the high school has taken on an air of festivity. Ruth Phillips, Brian Sitler, and other members of the Art club used their artistic talents extremely well, and the cheery office, Mr.

Beagle's room, and the front showcase are proof of this. The Home Economics classes also have organized an interesting showcase of Christmas gifts.

The students were especially joyful Wednesday as it marked the beginning of a 10 day vacation. The Drama club, taking advantage of the annual Christmas assembly, presented 2 Christmas plays. Andy Gilpin, a Mason senior, is the author of "Crime Doesn't Play", a comedy in which a gang of ruffians turn sweet at Christmas. Jon Burhans, Bruce Peek, Bill Ely, and Roger Olney played the leading roles in the play, which was directed by Mary Peek.

"The Gift of Tenyin," a Japanese drama, was the second play to be presented. The setting of the play was 2000 years ago in the time of Christ, but with 20th century ideas. The theme was that it was the Emperor's (Tom Ruthfuss) birthday, and his daughters (Margaret Bolton, Mary Anne Snook, Jean Gilpin, Judy Robinson, Celia Van DeMortel and Cyn'hia Tear) give him presents. One daughter presented him with a play about the birth of Christ, and thus Japan learned about Christianity, Randy Kalamber portrayed the servant who also narrated the story. Mrs. Oesterle directed the play. The assembly ended on a sweet note with the Chorus leading a carol sing.

Besides speculation about Christmas presents, another major topic of conversation is the New Year's Eve ball. This dressy dance is sponsored by the senior class and will replace the traditional Snow Ball. It will be staged in the cafeteria with a professional band entertaining.

A TEEN EDITORIAL Teens vs. Commercial Christmas

Has the true meaning of Christmas been lost in the advanced society in which we love? Are the good old-fashioned Christmas traditions disappearing? Has the true spirit of Christmas been overshadowed in todays' young minds by the commercialism of the season?

Teens in the area can sincerely answer "NO!" to these questions. Various clubs and organizations are working hard to combat the idea of a commercial Christmas and to preserve the true spirit of the Yuletide season for all to enjoy.

Who, other than perhaps the manufacturers, wants Christmas to be aluminum trees, artificial snow, and gaudy decorations? Or the greedy "Santa Claus, bring me this" and "I want that."?

Many clubs are promoting the charity baskets to be given to needy families at Christmas time. The response to such projects is usually fairly good. Students need something like the baskets to remind them that Christmas is a time of sharing and giving and not just a 2-week vacation. How can people expect children to grow up knowing Christmas as it should be known if Santa is all they ever hear in relation to the holiday!

Many youth groups are sponsoring orphans or needy families by furnishing food, clothing, and toys for them, not just for the Christmas season but in a continuing project for the whole year. In this way they are able to carry the spirit of Christmas in their hearts from one season to the next.

Many groups are caroling at the homes of shut-ins or invalids to help them get into the spirit of things.

School and church groups are presenting pagaents of the true story of Christmas and concert for the entertainment of all. By doing so these young people are sharing the most important thing -part of themselves.

These are just a very few of the ways in which local teens are attempting to promote the true spirit of Christmas in in the minds and hearts of our young people. I'm sure that teens in other parts of the nation and other countries are doing the same. But success in the campaign isn't up to these people alone -they must have the full support and cooperation of all.

By RUTH CAMP The question put to students at Stockbridge High School this week concerns the space program and the race to the moon. They were almost unanimous in their replies.

The question was; Do you think the United States be spending so much money on the rate to the moon?

Sue Brown, a junior said; "No. We should be spending more money on more important things in our country such as the poverty program. The United States and Russia are making it too much of a contest . . . more of a race than for science."

Laura (Janie) Stevens, a senior-"It's a good program, but they could be using the money for other things that are more important. If God had wanted us to go to outer space, He would have put the means on earth to do so."

Beth Frayer, 8th grader-"I don't think so. They could use it for other things that would be for a better cause like making shelter for poor people . . . and using it for agriculture."

Chris Millhouse, senior-"I don't think they should be doing it. I don't see what good they are doing, but if they're going to go to the moon, it's going to cost a lot of money."

Jan Hannewald, junior-"We could use all that money for other purposes. We should go into space research, but there are other things we could scientist in agricultural research while in Brazil attempting to help increase the food supply production of developing countries.

WANDERING THOUGHTS - Mrs. Lawrence (Alberta) Johnson of Holt finds it hard to concentrate on her work as secretary to the superintendent of Holt public schools. She will soon be traveling to Recife, Brazil with her husband for a 2-year stay in the country. Much planning of things to do, necessary items to take and just plain excitement have filled her life since she started making definite trip plans.

All sorts of plans must be made before the Johnsons can leave for their temporary home in South America. Recife, Brazil is located 8 degrees from the equator, is a city some 400 years old and is the commercial capital of the Northeast.

Sometime ago Mrs. Johnson started thinking of the adjustments she would have to make once she and her husband arrive in the country. She has had some special lessons in Portuguese, the native Brazilian language.

Anticipating some difficulties with the language, Mrs. Johnson says she is going to concentrate most of her time learning the language first and then she intends to enjoy herself by traveling somewhat and just relaxing on the beach.

While in Brazil the Johnsons plan to rent their Holt home, but will take all their home furnishings with them. When the 2 years are over the Johnsons expect to be back in

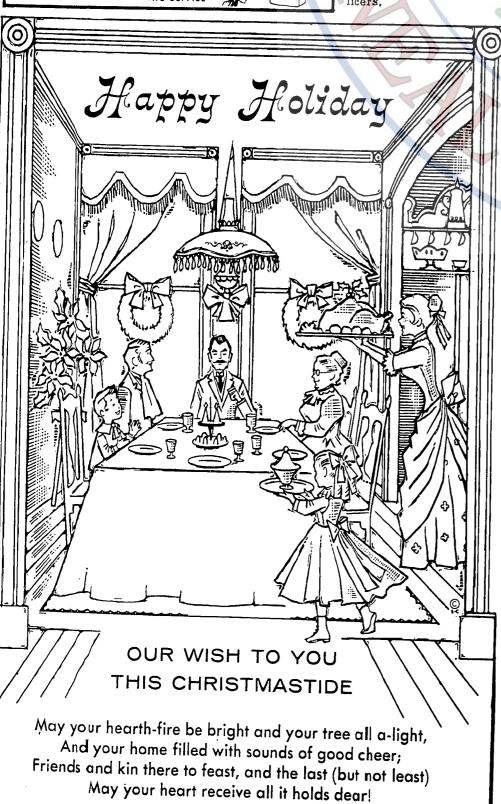

The first thing to do after arrival will be finding a place to rent. They hope to get an apartment and all their furniture should arrive about one month after they do.

Because Mrs. Johnson doesn't expect to pick up the language within the first 2 or months, she plans on hiring all the work done as she won't know how or where to get household chores completed in the foreign country.

The Johnsons have 2 children, A son Edward is in electrical engineering research at Peoria, Illinois. Their daughter is Mrs. Harland Dodge, II, a senior at Michigan State university.

It is free. "Messiah" Performance Set for Christmas Eve

A special program featuring George Frederick Handel's "Messiah" (Part 1) will be presented on WSWM radio Friday, December 24, from 9-12

Sponsoring the program will be the Dart National Bank Mason. Featured soloists are Joaan Sutherland, Grace Bumbry, Kenneth McKellar and David Ward, Sir Adrian Boult conducts the London Cymphony orchestra and chorus for the program.

Shortly before "Messiah" was produced in Dublin in 1742. the compiler of the libretto sent the following text to be printed at the oratoria:

"And without controversy, great is the mystery of Godliness; God was manifested in the flesh, justified by the Spirit, seen of Angels, preached among the Gen'iles, believed on the world, received up in Glory. In whom are hid all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge.'

No one knows how much a letter from home can mean especially at holiday time until he or she has been all alone on Christmas or Thanksgiving.

While not one to write letters or even notes, it sure is fun to rush home each noon and check the mail box around Christmas time. Imagine what it is like to answer mail call somewhere in Germany or Viet Nam and then go away empty hand-

The holidays aren't over until January 2 so if you would like to make someone happy check up on some of your friends or servicemen living in a foreign country and drop them a ine

These little notes aren't forgotten. Years later your serviceman will be home, established in business and some year about this time he will remind you out of a clear blue sky how much your thoughtfulness meant at a lonely time.

Sending Christmas cards is an old tradition that will continue and expand as the years go by. Each year the Christmas card list gets a little longer. One good thing though, one often hears from long lost relatives at least once a year via a holiday

In a way this is good because without Christmas cards the distant relatives would probably become more distant. In another way it is bad -- it is too bad people can't take an hour or so a month and catch up on their correspondence instead of trying to squeeze a year's family happenings onto a small Christmas

Now days with the hustle and bustle that seem at a continuous peak, it takes a definite effort to sit down and whip off a letter. It is a strange thing with letter writing though, in order to get any mail, one must return a letter occasionally.

This year's resolution: Number one, write more letters. By next week the resolution list will be so long, it would challenge even the most determined person, but you have to admit the good intention is there.

By the way, much as I try, it is a major accomplishment to get Christmas cards addressed to those friends not living in Mason. So To all here Merry Christmas and Best Wishes for Second, realize that some kinds of stains are set by heat, but few are set by cold. when in doubt try cold methods first. Protein stains are set by heat, and should be sponged or rinsed with cool water first before applying any other treatment, if the fabric will not be harmed by cool water. Examples of protein type stains would be animal products such as blood, egg,

Fat or grease is often combined with protein in a stain; as for example milk containing cream, or a meat gravy, or milk chocolate candy. For this, blot up all the stain possible with a clean white blotter, or soft absorbent cloth. Sponge with the cool water first to loosen and remove the protein; then treat with a grease solvent.

Many greasy stains yield to ordinary washing, especially when you have first gently rubbed the spot with the soap or detergent you're using, before putting the article in the suds.

For grease or fatty stains on non-washable things a grease solvent must be used. Most of the really good grease solvents are dangerous to use at home. Some are highly flamable (such as petroleum naphtha products); others are non-flamable but have fumes that are highly poisonous if

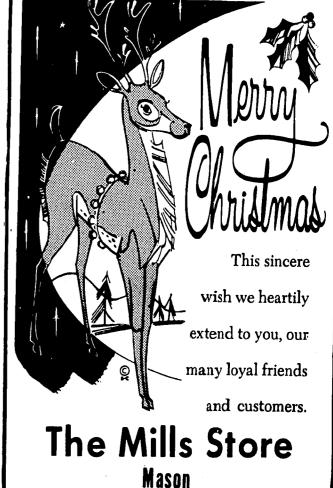

The holidays bring lots of inhaled in quantity (such as chlorethylene), are poisonous

> If any of these effective solvents are used, it should be done outdoors if possible, or in a room thoroughly ventilated with fresh air, and away from any flame or spark. Under these conditions they may be used to sponge away small spots. Never use large amounts of these solvents at home.

To absorb small grease stains, place the stained side However, there are some down against a clean, absorbtowel folded several tim Apply the solvent with a clean soft cloth. Move the spot often to a clean place on the pad so that as the stain is dissolved it will be absorbed into the pad.

> There is one final word to be said: it is best never to rub a spot hard or for a long time. This is especially true of a dark fabric.

Marriage and Money

Getting married in college may put a financial burden on both partners while they are still students, but it seems to have little long-term economical effect.

A recent study by Dr. Frances Magrabi and Marcia P. King of Michigan State university's college of home economics showed very littledifference between married and unmarried students in terms of economic well-being up to 7 years after leaving MSU. "In fact," the study notes, "the married students tended to have slightly higher incomes but smaller liquid as-

The Phototropics Science club sponsored a closed dance Friday evening, December 16. The cafeteria was decorated with Christmas trees.

The club has been busy building 12 mouse cages. The students plan to conduct an experiment, giving diets to the mice to see how they are affected by them.

Holts Spanish club had its Christmas party Tuesday in the school cafeteria. Members sang Spanish carols, broke pinatos and had refreshments.

Stolen Cars Found

Although more than 90 percent of all automobiles stolen in the United States are recovered, according to the Insurance Information Institute, about 30 per cent of the recovered cars have been damaged or stripped of parts -many to the extent that they represent total losses.

FOOD, FOOD - The Holt Community Council Christmas project kept many hands busy packing food, toys and clothing into baskets for needy families in the Holt area. Pitching in with the packing duties are (left to right) Steve Dorer, Mrs. Alton Kinney, treasurer, and Mrs. Howard Updike, general chairman. The young girls looking on are (far left) Lori Watson, daughter of John Watson, and Debbie Hanes, daughter of Robert Hanes.

There IS Room In The Inn

Nearly two-thousand years have passed since the heartless answer, "We have no room," was given by the Bethlehem innkeeper. This coarse refusal was to precede the greatest act of love in history ---God becoming Man. Let us hope that His love now transfuses the hearts of men in such a way that --- were the scene re-enacted --the 20th century answer would be instantaneous: "Yes, please come in. We will make room in the inn.'

Haslett Pastor Resigns

HASLETT-Rev. Charles E. Erickson, who has been pastor of the Haslett Community church for the past 10 years, has resigned to accept a call as the senior pastor of the First Congregational church of Topeka, Kansas which has a membership of 1.000.

His resignation becomes effective February 21, 1966 and he will assume his duties in Topeka at the start of the Lenten season.

Prior to coming to Haslett, he was chaplain and assistant to the president of Defiance college at Defiance, Ohio. He is the only pastor the Haslett church has ever had. During his pastorate here he has led his congregation in building in 1956 a $72,000 multi-purpose first unit of his church. A house for church school classes was purchased in 1958 and this year an addition which houses other classrooms and a youth room was completed at a cost of $50,000.

Rev. Erickson also has been active in civic activities here. He has been a chaplain and troop committee for Haslett boy scout units for 10 years and organized and was the 1st vice president of the Haslett Community council.

Holt Man Hunts Snowshoe Rabbit In North Woods

HOLT - Ed Sierkowski of Holt has just returned from an exciting hunting trip into the upper peninsula. He has been hunting snowshoe rabbits in a cedar swamp near Whitefish Bay. He said that it was also an exciting experience to his small beagle who has only hunted cottontail rabbits, and he could not believe that any rabbit could leave a track the size the snowshoe rabbit leaves. The snowshoe rabbits are almost twice the size of regular cotton tails. They are difficult to see and to hit as they are white and the cedar swamp is a thick tangle. The rabbits also are very fast. Sierkowski shot one of the big rabbits on his trip.

To Relocate Old US-16 Across Campus of MSU

The Michigan department of state highways this week announced approval of an engineering report for the relocation of highway M-43 (Grand River Ave. or Old US-16) from a point one-half mile east of the Park Lake road intersection across the Michigan State university campus to the Pine Tree connector and I-496.

Howard E. Hill, state highway director, said the cost of the proposed 3.16-mile project of divided highway including right-of-way acquisition is estimated at $5.9 million.

The proposed plans call for a grade separation (bridge) at Farm Lane and daimond interchanges at Red Cedar road and Bogue street in East Lansing. Both streets will be extended to intersect with the new route.

M-43 from its proposed intersection with Grand River avenue on the east to Hagadorn road will be 4 lanes divided. From Hagadorn to the Pine Tree connector (496) plans call for a six lane divided facility.

The segment of proposed M-43 from the Bogue street interchange west to west of the Red Cedar road interchange will be depressed.

serve east-bound traffic will be constructed over the Grand Trunk Railroad just east of East Lansing. The existing bridge will be retained to serve west-bound traffic.

Hill said that the University campus is the largest single generator of traffic in the Lansing area. Educational, athletic and social activities on campus are expected to continue and expand. Traffic studies show that by 1980, an anticipated 50,000 vehicles per day would be carried by Grand River avenue. This represents a 150 percent increase over existing counts of 20,000 per day. It is not practical to widen or adjust existing M-43 in East Lansing to accomodate this anticipated volume, he

The proposed relocation of M-43 across campus also will serve as an eastern connection to the city of Lansing and provide access to the Interstate system for East Lansing, Meridian township and Michigan State university.

The route across campus will follow a course that has been reserved as part of a long-range, over-all system of transportation facilities for Michigan State university. It will generally parallel and be north of the Grand Trunk Western railroad. No existing college structures will be required for the right-of-way, Highway programming schedules call for the letting of contracts on this project in the first quarter of 1969. An additional 2 years will be required for construction.

fifth in muskemelon acreage in the United States, only 3,200 acres were grown commercially in 1963. More than half of the muskemelons grown in the United States are from the irrigated land in the arid and semi-arid area of California and Arizona.

Ingham county extension agricultural agent, reports a new Extension bulletin "Commercial Muskemelon Production in Michigan'' (Ext. Bulletin E418) provides farmers with complete information regarding melon growing opportunities in Michigan. The publication is available from the county Extension Service office in Mason.

Studies at Michigan State university show the cost of growing muskemelons exceed $750 per acre. This means good returns are necessary for a profit which depends a great deal on control of diseases and finding a good market. Muskemelons do best on well-drained, sandy or sandyloam soils. The use of rye strips to protect the young, tender plants from wind in the early growth stage is extremely important.

Flock Records Pay Off

For the average Michigan farmer, the gross income for a dozen eggs has dropped 5.5¢ in five years. In looking at farm account and TelFarm accounting records of Michigan poultrymen, M. D. "Mike" Kelsey, Michigan State university economist, sees costreduction as the only way producers can make a profit. Record analysis shows feed and layer costs continued about the same level over this five year period -- at about 25¢

TelFarm records show if it costs 27¢ a dozen for producing 15 dozen eggs per bird per year, the cost could be reduced to 23¢ a dozen if each hen laid 20 dozen eggs ayear. Each bird would increase its net income margin from 60¢ a year to $2.00 a year, giving the operators a much greater income because fixed expense

There Are 2 Sides

The wage earner and the labor organizations representing the wage earner should recognize the fact that the wage earner has the same limitations in the United States economy as the owners of non-producing capital--neither can advance except at the expense and pleasure of American society as a whole.

When both are receiving a fair share for comparable efforts and risks, the economy runs like a well-regulated clock.

This is not just theory--it's a fact.

When facts are not faced they have a habit of sneaking up and puncturing our balloons of self-satisfaction.

Probably at no other time in our history have so many had it so good. It frightens many who have the feeling "it's bad when things are too good," Such an assumption need not be a fact but it might well be used as a warning.

Our 2-sided economy is so designed that neither does well for very long unless both do well.

But the danger signs are there, according to the experts, and unwarranted wage spiraling or unwarranted price jumps could end the rosy days.

Congress and the administration should use the vast powers in their hands to see that both sides of our economic picture stay healthy. They should exert just as much pressure on one side of the successful U.S. economic system as on the other.

Watch Out!

Mason businessmen will be getting some mail this week which won't necessarily make for holiday cheer. The mail will consist of personal property tax forms and a warning.

The state tax commission and the new county tax equalization office have expressed a deep interest in Mason personal property tax reports.

These 2 offices have pointedly stated that they want the personal property tax information sheets filled out completely and accurately -- and they are going to be checked.

Statements lacking insufficient information to permit a comprehensive evaluation by City Assessor Clifford Walcott are going to be called on by the state and county offices for explanations.

Special attention is going to focus on leased equipment, fully depreciated assets still in use, stored assets, especially those assets represented by equipment which might be idle, and standby equipment which must be valued in the same way as equipment in production.

There is also going to be some checking on gross sales and inventory figures.

Spot checks in past years by the state tax commission has pointed out that there is a minority of businesses which have not met the personal property tax report fairly and squarely.

The state and county has Mason in its sights. It would be well if Mason businessmen came up with prompt and accurate reports. It would save a lot of trouble, money and red faces -- and it would give those businessmen meeting their obligations squarely a feeling of being treated equally in the area of paying personal property taxes.

Yester Years

One Year Ago-1964 Mason's newly reactivated chapter of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, has elected the following officers for 1965: David G. MacLean, president; Michael L. Turdeau, exterior vice president; Len Musselle, interior vice president; Gene Worhtinhton, secretary: Douglas Langham, treasurer, and Maynard W. Julian, director. Three helium-filled baloons released from the courthouse lawn here October 7, traveled more than 600 miles before they found a resting place in Amelia, Virginia, near Richmond. The ballons were released by 3 Mason boy scouts. Robert Tear, Paul Everett and Steve Armstrong. The boys received a letter from Pamela Boyle of Amelia this week in which she said the balloons were found on her father's property October 11.

10 Years Ago-1955 Meritorious service citations were presented to Police Chief Harry Chandler and Fire Chief Leland Austin Monday by the Mason post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. ## LBJ's Other Side Showing

Reprinted by Gratiot County Herald years ago someone wrote a boot entitled "Will !! Success Spoil Rock Hunter?" Maybe today's title should read, "Has Success Spoiled LBJ?"

It is becoming increasingly apparent that Lyndon Johnson intends to run this country only one way-his. If anyone tampers with the Johnson formula, the President immediately flies into a rage, like the spoiled little rich : kid who doesn't get his own way. Cases in point:

-The recent pressure applied to aluminum manufacturers to rescind price hikes, which the President felt ... not to be in the national interes

-And the displeasure shown over the decision of the Federal Reserve Board to increase the ceiling on interest 🕃

Bring the aluminum boys back into line was simple. Johnson resorted to having the federal government dispose of its huge stockpile of aluminum. Such economic pressure was more than the manufacturers could stand. The interest rate situation still is in the developing stage. But it seems a little unusual that the Democratcontrolled Joint Congressional Economics Committee immediately decided to launch an investigation, centered on hearing testimony from all seven members of the Federal Reserve Board, a group with whom the President has warred before.

And isn't it unusual that the Committee's chairman just happens to be Wright Patman, of all things a Democrat from Lyndon Johnson's home state of Texas.

After viewing several happy signings of key bills in the White House rose garden, we're now seeing a different side of our President.

When he was in Congress, Johnson was said to be a wheeler and dealer in the best Texas tradition, a master at winning his way with power politics.

Such tactics are slightly unpleasant when executed from the nation's most prestigious position.

The main trouble with being a father is that no father knows whether he has been a success or a failure until it is too late to do anything about it. A father may reach 50 or 60 or 70 or even 80 under the delusion that he has been good father, and then suddenly be confronted with the fact that a booby father had a booby son.

Among my little flock I have found that the best time of fatherhood is from the cradle through kindergarten stage children become too knowing for com-

At first I could see little good in Father's Day, aside from increased sales of neckties, socks, and other gift articles. Now I am beginning to like it. I look forward to it each year and hope the time will soon come when sons present corsages-a new hammer or a shovelto their fathers on Father's

What is there about the newspaper business you want to learn first?" I asked the two girls who reported for work Monday morning, just as though I could easily give them all the answers.

"Why is it," they asked, "that people never get well? Week after week we read items which say that Mrs. John Murray is sick, that Henry Jones has been taken to a hospital, that Horace Holmes is bad off again. We look in the paper the following week but don't find much about how the sick are getting along. Is it news only when a woman is sick? Isn't it news when a woman gets well

Those are good questions. A newspaper should be as concerned with getting folks well as with getting them sick. It should be as much news when a man builds a barn as it is when the wind blows it down. It should be as much news when the sun shines as when the rain came.

In last Saturday's Free Press was one of those pitiable accounts of the first Detroiter to die of the heat. A man up in the eighties was pushing the lawnmower and died of a heart attack. Had he had the attack last winter while shoveling snow he would have been another blizzard victim. Metropolitan news can sound just as foolish as country news.

Barbs and Praise

This past weekend was one of the more active ones in the Brown household. Activities ranged from marching sister Margaret down the isle to meet Dave Doolittle for a wedding date, to greeting grandsons and assisting in their baptism Sunday morning, to meeting a bunch of pool sharks in Don VanderVeen's rec room pool lounge and card parlor.

It was the second time I had assisted in a family wedding and on both occasions I experienced foot problems.

When brother Jim did the trick in Chicago, I spent the evening wearing a pair of borrowed shoes which turned out 2 sizes too small.

This year the shoes fit but some shoe craftsman left a nail showing.

It was also a tough week for Reverend Philip Hertzel of the Presbyterian church. He came close to panic as the wedding party gathered to go down the aisle when he discovered he had left his robe at home. He displayed his athletic prowess, though, with a mad dash to retrieve the garment in time to tie the knot.

Then on Sunday morning he again demonstrated how quick and athletic he is when he baptized Grandsons Eric and Peter. Peter didn't give him any problems but he had to hit a moving target when he went after Eric. After a few suspenseful moments the preacher won.

It's real nice having a couple little feet pitter-pattering around the house this week. It's even more of a pleasure just pulling the covers over the head when 3-month old Peter shouts for that night feeding. For once I can ignore the summons with a clear conscience.

Vander Veen's pool hall experience cut me down to size, though. What a bunch of sharks!

I had the same feeling Daniel must have had when they turned the lions loose.

I hereby issue a warning to beware of such super athletes as Frank Guerriero who kept calling his shots pure luck, Bud Dunn who showed a penchant for running the table, Ed Duke who demonstrated the fancy East Coast style and whose wife might question how he spends his time on the road, John O'Brien who learned his game in the tough league at Bill Bailey's emporium in Grand Marais, Gordon Byron who attacked the game with engineering proficency, Joe Spiccuza who exhibited a lot of practice, Jim Birney who spends a lot of time in pool halls, Host Don VanderVeen who was trying his best to pay for his new pool table, Don Edgington who picked up his game in the teacher's lounge at Everett high school, Mike Burandt who exhibited the sharp eyes of youth and sonin-law Greg Gates who proved that hitting the medical books didn't dull his vision too much.

If you got this far you probably have already surmised that I came out the loser.

OKEMOS - Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Roney, Jolly road have returned from a 6 weeks stay at the Milham home in Dayenport, Iowa. They were there caring for the family while Mrs. Joan Milham, their daughter, convalesced from a serious shoulder operation. Mrs. L. A. Murray, of Okemos is making good progress in her convalescence from a broken hip, suffered last sum... mer. She gets around with a walker at present.

Word received from the Albert Johnsons at Tarpon Springs, Florida, indicates that their mother, Mrs. Nora Manderville, who broke a hip in the summer of 1964 and who has been bedfast for months, is now using a walker and enjoys getting around in the house. Mrs. Manderville is in her 90's and has shown great determination to make a recovery.

The Pioneer Farm Bureau group discussed traffic hazards on rural roads under the leadership of Joe O'Leary. Several places were specifically mentioned and the secretary was asked to draw the attention of the county highway department of them. This meeting was hosted by the Ralph Stillmans with 21 present. The topic under discussion was statewide for Farm Bureau groups.

A "Doing For Others" work shop was concluded at the Community church social hall in Okemos Thursday. Among the projects were the wrapping and labeling of gifts for a cottage of women patients at Coldwater Training school. Lap robes for the Ingham County Rehabilitation hospital were tied off also. A Christmas devotional program closed the afternoon portion of the day's work.

An 8 p.m. Christmas eve service is planned at the Okemos Community church, Infants and small children will be baptized by Reverend Allen 33 years this unique charity Wittrup as part of the service. This Christmas eve service has over the past few years, appealed to many families as a fitting obervance.

WAR KNOWS NO HOLIDAY. While Americans at home were packaging Christmas presents, U.S. Air Force servicemen overseas were parceling a far deadlier load, such as this 750 lb. bomb being fastened onto a B-52 bomber at Guam prior to a raid against Viet Cong targets in Vietnam. The Viet Cong has offered a 12-hour ceasefire on Christmas Eve, however, and it is hoped this could be a first step towards peace in Vietnam.

With the nation-wide help of countless individuals and service organizations it collects discarded eyeglasses, jewelry and pieces of precious metal. Each year some 752,000 carefully wrapped pairs of glasses and hundreds of pounds of jewelry find their way to New Eyes from every corner of the country. What happens to the eyeglasses you give? Each pair is unwrapped, sorted and processed by volunteer help. There are 250 people who work hard each week to keep New Eyes going. . . and all are volunteers. MICHIGAN'S REPUBLICAN PARTY has taken a nation-wide lead in a new political endeavor, the creation of a State Agricultural Council as an arm of the Republican organization. The Council's stated purpose is to help Michigan farmers by promoting the general welfare of Michigan agriculture and by improving the general prosperity of rural Michigan within the framework of our American free choice economy. At its first organizational meeting in Lansing recently, the Council elected an Executive committee and outlined a program for the coming campaign year. Members of the Executive committee are shown here with Governor George Romney, who addressed the meeting. Seated, left to right, are Chairman Paul Scott of Northport (Leelanau County), Governor Romney, Secretary Nick Smith of Addison (Hillsdale), and Vice Chairman Robert Zeeb of Bath (Clinton). Standing, left to right, are committee members Harry Nye of St. Joseph (Berrien), Richard Wieland of Ellswroth (Antrim), Duane Baldwin of Stockbridge (Ingham), Dean Pridgeon of Montmorency (Branch), Dave Morris of Grand Ledge (Eaton), and Ernest Girbach of Saline (Washtenaw).

Consumers To Convert Gas Wells for Storage

pany's Ray natural gas field in Macomb county has turned out to be a mightier asset than was bargained for, and now ranks as Michigan's largest producing field.

But it won't be a producer for long; plans for its conversion into a gas storage field are already underway.

The Ray field, which Consumers Power purchased from the Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Company in 1963 was at that time believed to be fully defined, with gas in place estimated at about 10 billion cubic feét, and cover- of underground storage for

By June of 1965, as Consumers Power, and its as-sociates in the oil and gas development business, com-pleted a Ray field drilling program, the results showed Ray field's productive area covers 650 acres, with five times as much gas in place as was originally estimated - or, 50 billion cubic feet. The company's gas service area encompasses much of Michigan's Lower Peninsula, including such markets as. Royal Oak, Pontiac, Mt. Clemens, Flint, Saginaw, Bay City, Jackson, Kalamazoo and

ing about 360 productive gas, because most of the supply it sends its customers comes from the far southwestern states, including offshore in the Gulf of Mexico. To supply Michigan customers all the gas they need in winter, underground storage is used in the warm months of the year. Then, in cold weather, when the big transcontinental pipelines are working at capacity to meet daily demands, the Consumers Power storage system is put into use sending out gas to customers. Without underground storage in handy locations around Michigan, Consumers Power estimates it would be able to supply only one-third of all the gas customers it now has.

Dairy Herd Investments Should Look to Future

Michigan dairy farms ranges from $1,300 to $4,600 according to Michigan State university TelFarm records. Dr. Ray Hoglund, MSU agricultural economist, says the average 1s about $2,000.

The farm management authority believes an efficient dairy setup can be put together for about that price. Each $100 extra investment adds about $15 to the annual cost per cow. If a dairyinvests $400 extra per cow, $60 extra per cow must come from savings of feed, labor and from increased production.

Many new labor-saving ideas are beneficial, Hoglund admits. But a liquid manure disposal system adds about $60 to $80 per cow in investment. These added costs must be offset by an increased value of the manure savings in labor or some other savings if the investment is to be profitable. Hoglund believes one of the best paying new improvements a dairy farmer can make is a free-stall housing system. These cost only about $10 more per animal per year and are more than offset by savings in bedding.

Another modest investment is a better set of over-all farm records, such as Tel-Farm, to provide information to help farmers make management decisions.

Farmers making plans for investments should keep these

It's Winter

That lucky old sun reached its farthest point south of the equator Tuesday, December 21, marking the beginning of winter in the northern hemisphere.

The sun reaches its winter solstice (the point 'dlrectly over the Tropic of Capricorn) at 8:41 p.m. Tuesday, notes Von Del Chamberlain, astronomer at Michigan State university's Abrams planetar-

For residents of the northern hemisphere, Tuesday was the year's shortest day in terms of daylight, with the sun at its lowest point in the southern sky.

From now on the sunbens its slow climb in the sky and is scheduled to be directly over the equator on March 20, which is the vernal equinox. Actually, Chamberlain points out, the apparent movement of the sun is due to the motion of the earth about the sun.

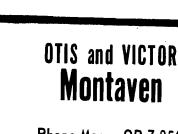

And it is for this reason that the Ray field will shortly lose its status as a gas producer. Because Consumers Power will convert the field to storage beginning early in 1966, to have it ready to supply stored gas to the company's system in time for the 1967-68 heating season.

This project will involve conversion of producing wells to storage wells, meaning they will be able to receive gas as well as send it out. It also involves construction of an 11,000-horsepower compressor station, and related pipeline and gathering facilities. The pipeline to connect the Ray storage field to the company's state-wide gas transmission system will also be installed next year.

Farm Views And News

Local agriculture may be facing one of its greatest labor dilemmas in history. The most often asked question in my office is, "Where could I hire a married man to milk cows? I'll pay $400 a month, furnish a house, meat and milk for his family." If you ask more about the situation you find the last man left for a $3.50 per hour job in Ann Arbor, Lansing or maybe thought he would try some sunny Arizona cow ranch for the rest of the winter.

Let's don't misunderstand this as a bad situation. Agriculture cannot help but benefit from high employment as well as the rest of the economy. Nothing could do more to help farm prices received, than to have a number of marginal farm operators close up shop for better income alternatives in industry. This is, of course, contradictory to the age old theory that agriculture leads the nation's economy. Farmers should be the first to agree that this hasn't been the case for twenty-five

Already the unavailability of labor for farm work and better opportunity for dairymen off the farm has shown its effect on total milk production in Michigan. Total state production of milk for the month of November 1965 was 18 million pounds short of November 1964. Total production for the months January through November 1965 is 121 million pounds under the period in 1964. Theoretically, the inelastic demand for milk would indicate that a 1% decline in milk supply should bring about more than a 1% increase in price. Maybe, like Hi Brown, farm management specialist, MSU says, "The dairy business might get well by 1967". Butthis statement assumes that some of us won't be left to enjoy it.

George Covert, Leslie dairyman and I discussed one way farmers may relieve the pressures of not being able to hire labor. George was busy getting linedupfor a trip to Florida for the holidays. Mahlon, his partner son, will take over with the 80 cow milking herd. The idea we concluded is that farmers could afford to hire more services done. For example, do the $500 an hour farm jobs first, and take the tractor tires to the garage for fixing. Few farmers can afford to own a welder when they can get the job done on a hire basis for $5.00 an hour. This is especially true if they just let 10 calves die in the back pen because they needed that hour of attention, Many could well afford to hire someone to paint the barns, treat the sick cow or overhaul the tractor, rather than do the job himself. This kind of labor is available.

To close, may I leave you to think about the contradiction of two articles written in a farm magazine on my desk. The first, "Mechanizing Makes Time For Managing" and "The Farm Shop is the Heart of our Farm". The latter might better "Farm Shop causes Heart Trouble.", if ones insist on spending his time there instead of doing more important jobs. One boy recently explained his job to me, "I am the assistant operator on a big machine that replaced one whole man's labor". Try your pencil out on this idea, on your farm.

Quarantine Removed Til Spring

Rye, wheat, oats, and barley may now be shipped without regard to the cereal leaf beetle quarantine, according to the Michigan department of agriculture.

"Selma and Montgomery seductively call," Rep. Mackie said, "while the nearby poverty-stricken widow with arthritis looks in vain for a visitor. A great tuition-free university is turned upside down, while pollsters report that at least 50 percent of those students cheat regularly, and in full knowledge of their associates."

"And," he continued, "ignoring the repeated proofs of history that eternal vigilance. is still the price of liberty," students attack the government's Vietnam policy "without suggesting any alternative but capitulation to tyranny and the dishonoring of 3 U.S. Presidents' pledges to our friends abroad."

Rep. Mackie made his remarks in commencement exercises December 11 during which 1,173 students received degrees. He also received an honory doctor of laws degree. An honory doctorate of science was awarded to Dr. Sundaram Krishnamurthi, director of agriculture in Madras, India, and manager of the Banana and Fruit Development Corp., Ltd., in Madras.

Women Drivers To Influence Auto Makers

Women drivers will outnumber men drivers within a few years, according to a report published by Michigan State university.

Dr. Daniel D. Gage of Sacramento State college and Dr. Anne C. Garrison of MSU note that the "coming predominance of women at the wheel will influence car makers to stress safety, dependability and ease of handling. Women are more practical-minded about cars, drive less aggressively than men and have an overall better accident rec-

Marine Corps Reserve Starts Viet Aid Fund

To expand the work of U.S. Marines in Vietnam who are digging into their own pockets to buy food, clothing, medicines, and tools for liberated Viet citizens, the Marine Corps Reserve has joined forces with CARE, Inc., to promote a "Civic Action" fund. The Michigan campaign was kicked off recently by Governon Romney when he appeared at ceremonies in the Brodhead Naval Armory, Detroit, and issued a proclamation calling for citizen sup-

The "Civic Action" funds will be received by CARE, which will assume responsibility for the distribution of goods to the Marines in Vietnam. CARE has indicated that funds received at its office can put much needed material in the hands of combat Marines in Vietnam within a week. According to Col. Wm. J. Weinstein, Michigan chairman of the Marine Corps Reserve Clvic Action fund for Vietnam, this program has grown out of the spectacular results realized by the efforts of individual fighting Marines who have been spending their own money to help the people they liberate from Communist tyranny. They find these people suffering personal loss, intimidation, and deprivation, to the point of giving up hope. "But," Colonel Weinstein relates, "when a big smiling, American combat Marine can drive out the treacherous Viet Cong, and then back up the action with handouts of food, clothing, medicine, farm tools; when he gives them aid in rebuilding roads, bridges, homes, schools and lives, hope is rekindled and faith in democracy is regenerated with astonishing results."

Marine spokesmen state that the winning of the support of the people through this program is an important part of the war itself. The best concealment for the Viet Cong guerrilla, veteran Marines point out, is to hide among the South Vietnamese civilian population, "People are to guerrillas as the sea is to fish," Mao Tse Tung once said when commenting on guerrilla need for the support of the populace. This "Civic Action" program has been set up to effectively cut this support from under the Viet Cong, leaving him exposed to proper military action.

Any organization that would like to know more about the Ingham. Civic Action fund and how the money is being used in Vietnam may call or write Lt.

Pollution End Getting Near

A Michigan State university scientist has developed a process that he hopes will someday help clean up polluted streams and rivers.

Dr. Karl L. Schulze, assoclate professor of civil and sanitary engineering, has added an extra step to the standard sewage treatment water and purified water to the point where it provides an almost ideal environment for the minute organisms that consume pollutants.
