To Spend $1,050,000 On Roads

Some $1,050,000 is earmarked by the Ingham County Road Commission for construction work this spring.

A large chunk of the money will go toward the reconstruction of Onondaga road between Columbia and Plains road. This 5-mile stretch will undergo a grade widening providing 32 feet from shoulder to shoulder, ditches recessed and 2-inch thick bituminous surfacing.

Continuing the highway development project in Alaledon township, the road commission plans to spend in the neighborhood of $280,000 on the construction of a Class A highway on Okemos road between Sandhill and Holt roads.

A widened 24-foot concrete road with re-built shoulders is planned which would complete the easterly-northerly highway complex from Cedar street in Holt to Grand River avenue in Okemos.

Centralizing much of the work in the Holt road area, an additional $145,000 will be spent to finish the reconstruction of the Class A highway on Holt road from the New York Central railroad tracks west to Elfert road.

Variable levels of improvements will be made in this section of road. Some of the plans call for widening the grade to 4 lane highway within urban areas and black top surfacing. The improvements cover an area 2 miles long.

Contracts are expected to be let this spring for a bridge on Waverly road just north of Willow street in Lansing. Specifications call for it to be 4-lane, 44 feet between curbs, 280 feet long with a 5-foot wide sidewalk.

This construction will actually be built onto the east side of an existing bridge. Estimated cost for the project is $80,000 with work expected to be completed by November 1.

The county road commission also plans to widen Waverly road between Saginaw and Willow streets in Lansing to a 4-lane highway complete with a 5th left-hand turn lane for added traffic safety. This work will cost the county about $70,000.

A $170,000 improvement project is also planned on Lake drive Haslett beginning at Kaiser road and on around Lake Lansing. This is about 3/4 of a mile of base reconstruction, grade widening and bituminous surfacing.

Friends Mourn Dansville Leader

After a valiant battle covering months of hospitalization and several operations, Mrs. Dorn Diehl, 42, succumbed Saturday morning to cancer. Death came at Hurley hospital in Flint where she was taken in November.

Lucile Diehl, active in many organizations in Mason and Dansville, was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Dean of Mason.

Just one month ago she was selected as 1965 winner of the Vernon J. Brown community service award, attesting to her contributions to the Dansville-Mason community.

Her unanimous selection was based on letters listing her many accomplishments as mother, homemaker, 4-H leader, hospital volunteer, music teacher, musician and interest in other civic affairs. Mrs. Diehl served as co-chairman of the Mason Gray Ladies organization. She was a leader in county Republican circles and for 20 years served as organist of Dansville Methodist and Presbyterian churches and playing for other music organizations and programs.

She graduated from Mason high school in 1942.

Besides her husband, Dorn, she is survived by 2 daughters living at home, Kathy

Police To Crack Down On Traffic Violators

★ Accident Toll Up 61 Percent

Traffic violators in Mason are in for a bad time this year unless they watch their step. Mason police officers will devote a good share of their attention to traffic violations in 1966.

Chief Tim Stolz of the Mason department made that plain this week as he issued a full report of operations of his department in 1965.

The report shows, among other things, that property damage accidents here during the past year soared 61 percent over the figure for 1964. Personal injury accidents were 24 percent less in 1965 but the number of persons injured was 7.7 percent greater than in 1964.

There was but one fatal accident in 1965, the same as in 1964.

The police plan to use speedometers on various streets of the city, especially in high accident areas and in residential sections where complaints of speeders are reported as a means of reducing speeds and cutting down accidents.

Parking violations also have shown an increase with the numbers of tickets issued up about 22 percent, Chief Stolz says.

"Our goal in 1966 is to step up the summons on accident violation causes," Stolz said. He pointed out that in towns the size of Mason about 80

Must Show You're Insured To Get 1966 Auto Plates

When you get your 1966 car plates this year you must show proof that the car is insured.

This is new this year. It was adopted into law at the 1965 session of the Michigan legislature. At least 4 of the larger insurance companies in the state have issued to their policy holders certificates of insurance which show the car for which the policy is issued. This must be brought in when buying the plates.

Joy O. Davis, head of the secretary of state's branch in Mason handling plate sales, said this week that there are some companies which have not issued the proof of insurance certificates. In case of such a case, persons wishing to obtain plates must bring their insurance policies with them when applying for plates. All purchasers also must present either the titles to their cars or the registration slips.

Up to this week about 4,000 plates for passenger cars and about 5,000 plates for trucks and other motor vehicles have been issued, Davis said. The deadline is March 1.

Davis' office at 218 E. Maple street is open daily Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. and on Saturdays from 8:30 a.m. until noon.

On the last 3 Wednesday evenings of February Davis will operate an office at Morey's appliance store in Leslie and on the last 3 Friday evenings on the last 3 Friday evenings of February at Signs Ford Sale of plates for 1966 began last November 1. The new plates this year carry black numerals on a sand-colored background.

Centennial Meeting Date Set

Directors of the Mason Area Centennial committee will make the final decision on what to do with the 100-year celebration profits at a meeting February 2 at 7:30 p.m. at the Mason city hall.

For several months suggestions for profit projects were accepted by members of the centennial corporation board. They include:

1. Pavilion (roof and floor--no walls) for the County Park. Suggested size to hold 10 to 12 tables.
2. Endow a historical society.
3. A museum--purchase the Pink school and move it to the court house lawn; obtain space in the old jail for the museum or if an older home in Mason could be donated, use the Centennial money to transform it into a museum.
4. Purchase bleachers for the swimming pool.
5. Start a fund for a new athletic field and a new stadium to be located south of the new high school site.
6. Community building.
7. Assist the 8th Michigan Light Artillery, a re-activated Civil War Artillery Unit.
8. Senior Citizens' meeting place.

Those making the decision will be corporation officers: N. Richard Magel, president; Muri Eastman, vice-president; Frank Guerriero, secretary and Leonard Carter, treasurer.

Also voting will be members of the corporation board of directors: Russell Bement, Richard W. Brown, Mrs. Abe Cohn, W. Oren Hall, Mrs. Charles J. Hubbard, M. Chandler Nauts and Mrs. Lyle Oesterle.

Paul Richards Heads Mason Hospital Board

Paul Richards is the new president of the board of directors of Mason General hospital. He was elected Monday night at the board's reorganization meeting following the annual meeting of the shareholders of the Mason General Hospital association.

At the meeting 2 board members, William F. Dart and Richards were re-elected and a new board member, Bob Cone, was selected to fill the expired term of Al Rice. Under the hospital charter Rice could not succeed himself as a maximum of 2 terms is set.

At the re-organization meeting Dick Brown was named vice-president, Mrs. Cecil Hall secretary and Ed Duke treasurer.

Other board members besides the 3 elected are Winston Dancer, 1965 president, Mrs. Hall, Brown, Duke, Roscoe Arnold, Lawrence Tripp, Dr. George Clinton and Dr. Milton Bergeon.

At the annual meeting reports of the volunteer organizations serving the hospital were given. Mrs. C. E. Johnson presented the report of the Gray Ladies and Mrs. Fred Young, president of the Hospital Auxiliary.

Mrs. Maude Bergin was introduced as the new auxiliary president.

Richards brought those attending the meeting up to date on the planning and preliminary work on providing additional hospital space and services. Arnold gave a report on the personnel and operation committee.

Dr. Clinton reviewed the year's operation and Assistant Administrator Bob Reicher reported that the hospital finished the year slightly in the black.

BLAZE ORIGIN - A fire which completely destroyed the barn of Lyle Glenn, 3325 Swan road, Dansville, started in the upper hay loft centered between the milkhouse and silo. Ingham county deputies are investigating the Monday night blaze as there are indications the fire was the work of 2 suspected arsonists.

Employees Come to Terms With Road Commission

After months of negotiations the Ingham County Road Commission has tentatively come to terms with the county employees' union for a 2-year contract to be officially ratified Friday.

The proposed agreement will mean an additional cost of $89,000 over the 2-year period to the commission which gives concessions in the areas of fringe benefits, increase in hourly wage rate and hourly established rate for labor outside the normal workday or week.

"This contract is in line with the pattern of other wage and economic adjustments within the industry," Frank "Tex" Evans, superintendent engineer at the Ingham County Road commission, said.

Included in the proposed contract is a provision for the county to pick up the tab for hospital and medical insurance covering the employees and their families. Evans estimates this will cost the county about $180 per employee. With 110 employees on the road commission payroll, this will cost in the neighborhood of $18,000, Evans said.

The tentative contract has provisions for an hourly wage increase plus guaranteeing employees time and a half for all work done outside a normal day or week. The hourly wage hike will require an estimated extra expenditure of $17,500.

If the proposed contract is approved it will be the first signed contract between the road commission and the employees union. This was just recently required by state law.

For the past 5 years the road commission has recognized the employees' organization which is Local 499 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees (AFSCME). Contracts between the commission and union are no actual change other than procuring a more formal agreement as opposed to the prior work policies agreed to.

Blaze Destroys Barn

For the second time in 8 days, firemen from Stockbridge, Dansville and Mason Monday night joined forces to fight a fire when a blaze of undetermined origin destroyed a huge barn on the farm of Lyle Glenn, 3325 Swan road.

The loss, estimated at $15,000, included more than half of Glenn's herd of some 50 milk cows along with 30 bales of hay and 100 bales of straw.

The building was already beyond saving when firemen arrived and it was at risk of their own safety that firemen and neighbors were able to save as many cows as they did. When it became apparent that more cows could not be saved, those remaining in the inferno were humanely killed by a fireman using a high powered rifle. Even this task was risky as burning debris was falling all around nearby.

Stockbridge firemen received the first alarm at 10:45 p.m. and the Dansville and Mason departments were also summoned. There were seven pieces of fire fighting equipment at the scene and firemen were on the job until 8 a.m. Tuesday.

Howard Ashmore, Stockbridge fire chief, said the fire is under investigation.

Another fire, only a week ago, destroyed a large barn on the Lee Beam Farm on Carter Road, not far from the Glenn farm.

Alton J. Stroud, Ingham intermediate superintendent of schools, will preside at the morning meeting and John Swain of Webberville at the afternoon session.

The Webberville band will provide music for the opening of the day's program and Rev. Philip Hirtzel of the Mason Presbyterian church will pronounce the invocation.

Plans Shaping for Fair

Plans for the Ingham County Fair of 1966 were finalized at a meeting of the program committee during a convention at the Fort Shelby-Pick hotel Detroit January 15-18.

The first day of the fair, August 1, there will be pony races, light and heavy weight pony pull and in the evening King Kovaz' Auto Thrill show will entertain the Grand Stand crowd.

As in past years, Tuesday will be designated as Children's day. The evening program will feature "Little Jimmy Dickens" who currently has one of the nation's top record hits.

For the harness racing fans, Wednesday afternoon's grand stand program is planned for you. Then "Johnny and the Hurricanes" will come on strong for the evening's entertainment. A little added feature after the program is that the band will continue to play for those who wish to dance on the race track.

Harness racing will again be featured on Thursday afternoon with the evening centered around a county-wide 4-H show. Friday is the last day of the harness racing program.

Danny Fleenor with his Hurricane Hell Drivers, which have been coming to the Mason fair for several years, will again appear to give spectators thrills and chills Friday night.

Saturday afternoon's program will feature the light and heavy horse pulling contest. Then Saturday night there will be a big wrestling show with women wrestlers and also a tag team.

Bigger and better attractions are promised for the Mason fair midway as the W.G. Wade shows will again provide the rides and entertainment.

Members of the program committee are D.J. Dickinson, C. Puffenberger, Mary Black, Fred Ruthig and Dorr Eckhart.

Bomb Threat Brings Holt School Evacuation

"There's a bomb in your building; clear it."

The voice came over the telephone to Mrs. Helen Spraker, a secretary in the principal's office at the Holt Senior high school at 7:40 a.m. last Friday.

After delivering his message, he hung up.

Police were called and Dr. Maurice Pernert, superintendent of Holt schools rushed to the building which had been cleared of all students about 3 minutes after the call came in.

Police spent about 40 minutes checking every nook and corner of the school but found no bomb.

It was the first bomb scare Holt schools have had in 3 years, Dr. Pernert said.

Mrs. Spraker said the voice sounded like that of a teenage boy.

The call came in 20 minutes before the hour for school to start--8 a.m., so fewer students were inside than would have been had the call come in after the start of work.

Buses began arriving with pupils while police were conducting an investigation of the structure and it was not until about 9:40 a.m. when classes were able to get under way.

The normal enrollment of the high school is 843 pupils. John Wellington, school principal, estimated that about half to one third of them were in the building when the phone call came in.

They were, however, scattered in all parts of the large, sprawling structure, but the entire building was immediately alerted and cleared in a matter of minutes.

Captain Versile Babcock and 6 men from the Ingham county sheriff's department converged on the scene immediately and began a systematic search of the building.

"The case is still under investigation, but in my opinion, this was a typical bomb scare and it appears that some student thought he would get a day off from school with the prank," Babcock said. "Nevertheless, this is a serious matter and all efforts are being directed to the apprehension of the individual responsible."

CONSTRUCTION BEGINS - The long-awaited Delhi Shopping center located on the north west corner of Aurelius and Holt roads is finally getting started. Trench diggers and large earth movers are working daily on the job. Last Thursday the footings for the Schmidt's supermarket were poured and other work is going along rapidly.

Subdivision Ordinance Is Studied

HOLT-A massive 25-page document will be brought to the attention of the Delhi Charter township board and the Delhi Township Planning commission at a special joint meeting Monday February 7.

The document is a suggested subdivision regulation ordinance for the township.

The proposed ordinance was prepared by the Tri-County Planning commission. The purpose of the proposed statute is to regulate and control the subdivision of land within the charter township of Delhi in order to promote the safety, public health and general welfare of the community.

These regulations as proposed are designed to:

Provide for the orderly growth and harmonious development of the community sites and other public facilities.

Secure adequate traffic circulation through coordinated street systems with proper relation to major thoroughfares, adjoining subdivisions and public facilities.

Achieve individual property lots of a minimum utility and livability.

Insure adequate provisions for water, drainage, and sanitary sewer facilities and other health requirements.

Secure adequate provisions for recreational areas, school sites and other public facilities.

Facilitate the further subdivision of large tracts into smaller parcels of land.

The proposed statute is divided into articles, each of which is divided into several sections.

Article 2, for instance, covers, among other matters, definitions of an alley block, building line or setback line, plan (master plan), cross street surfacing, curb and plan (master plan), cross-walkway (pedestrian walkway), dedication easement, greenbelts or buffer parks, improvements such as grading, street surfacing, curb and gutter, industrial development, streets, major and minor subdivisions.

Other articles cover procedures for submission of plats, specifications for plans and plats, subdivision design standards, subdivision improvements, variances, enforcement provisions, amendments to the ordinance and miscellaneous provisions.

The meeting February 7 will be a start on the proposed township statute but township officials say it will require much more than one meeting to study the proposed ordinance before it will be finally placed on the books.

Holt Gets It Done

Five of 6 Goals Set a Year Ago Were Achieved in 1965

HOLT - When the Delhi Charter township government and the Holt Kiwanis club set out to accomplish something for the community they usually get it done.

The one goal they didn't reach evaporated into thin air later in the year when the Lansing Community college decided to stay where it is in Lansing.

But the other 5 goals were reached. They were:

1 - To get a stop and go traffic light at Aurelius road and Cedar Street (US-127).

2 - To make a survey of residents of the township regarding taxes.

3 - To set up a government day in the schools.

4 - To establish a township planning commission.

5 - To have a spring clean-up and fix-up week in the spring of the year.

Silver Blades Flash Again As Skating Ponds Are Opened

Recent record breaking cold temperatures have brought out a rash of fresh air enthusiasts especially those who love to ice skate.

Most anytime of the day Saturdays and Sundays you can find young and old skimming around the Rayner county park pond, on flashing ice skates.

The skating pond is maintained by the city through efforts of the recreation committee plus a warming house at certain hours of the day.

Melvin Brown is at the warming house during the most popular hours at the pond, after school and early evenings. The cozy little house poses a pleasant refuge for those frozen by the wind or recovering from a couple bad collisions with the ice.

SUNDAY AFTERNOON is a busy day at the Rayner ice rink.

Mason Man To Move to N. Dakota

William G. McClure of Mason game management agent-in-charge for the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife in Michigan, will transfer to Bismarck, N.D. on March 1.

DADS ARE great as sled pullers.

For a while it looked as if Mason's skaters would not have a chance to get out and participate in the winter sport as mild weather prevented ice from forming.

Once the cold snap came it became difficult to keep youngsters off the pond until the ice would support their weight. Several times Mason city police had to park a patrol car down by the pond to keep the children off.

All is fine now though. The ice is relatively smooth, solid and last Sunday a big crowd of skating enthusiasts turned out. Several persons who were not brave enough to venture out on the ice spent an enjoyable time watching skaters from parked automobiles as the usual games of tag and crack the whip were played.

Off in a corner here and there several beginners could be seen getting special advice from skating experts not to mention one lucky youngster who had a dad willing to pull him round and round the pond on a sled.

Weather

Winter's cold blasts which have been plaguing this area for the past few weeks will continue at least for 5 days more.

Medicines constitute the most common poisons in children, accounting for one-half of the total; aspirin, liniment, and sleeping tablets. Cleansing agents are the second most common cause of accidental poisoning. Petroleum products and pesticides are third and fourth in order of poisoning in children.

Precautions to take include keeping all drugs out of children's reach or locked up, not storing potentially poisonous substances in food or beverage containers, reading all labels carefully, discarding all old medicines and other chemicals in such manner that children or pets cannot reach them, not taking medicines in the dark, taking medicines only with doctor's directions, fully understanding his instructions, safely storing medicines and insuring adequate ventilation when using cleaning fluids.

The Holt Convalescent home was the setting for a happy event Saturday, January 22, when at 2 p.m. guests gathered in the dining room of the Holt home for the wedding of Miss Lana Kaye Shaver to George Ray Kepler.

Giving his daughter in marriage was one of the convalescent home's best known residents, Norman Shaver, former Lansing photographer, who has been confined to a wheelchair since an automobile accident several years ago.

Many of Norman Shaver's friends had a part in the wedding. Joseph Pierce, justice of the peace, performed the ceremony; Mrs. Robert Dow, soloist at the Holt Presbyterian church, sang and Frank Hart, florist, arranged the decorations.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Darwin Kepler, State road. He attends Lansing Community college and is employed at the Michigan National bank.

Starr Gazing by Edie Starr

Every few years, I've noticed, the Lord and Master at the Starr ranch suffers terribly from a commercial disease. It's never fatal -- sometimes he survives without even an outlay of cash. This disease, I discovered after chatting with other women about town, is a common thing among the male of the species. It comes on gradually. . . never hits all at once, as most viruses do. My name for it is "new car-itis."

Usually it starts when the whole family is enjoying a peaceful drive. The word pacific is used loosely in connection with any family drive, when it's my family. Let's face it -- there is seldom any peace in an automobile with 4 kids, 2 adults and 3 dogs. But, I digress. . .

The family may be just out driving through the country, when over the chaos of our group Father will shout, "Listen, did you hear that noise?" This leads to a sudden stillness with each and everyone straining to hear "that noise." I may ask, "What did it sound like?" to which a reply is sure to come, "Oh, I can't hear it now." I guess all the quiet in the family automobile drowns out the funny sounds. I, of course, wouldn't want to hurt Pappy's feelings by telling him he's going punchy or anything like that, so I follow the wisest course, which is silence.

Pretty soon the crew is at it again, recess at the insane asylum style, and Pop will say, "There it is again." Once more quiet reigns supreme and everyone dutifully listens to hear "it," as per usual, no sound is heard but the tires on the pavement. That may end the first phase of the sickness, but it actually is far from the end.

A few days later, I am sure to hear all about the funny way the transmission is acting. Later on, the exhaust system is going to pot. Then again, there may be a roar in the rear end, which can only mean a shot differential -- whatever that might be.

As I said, sometimes Father just manages to survive with a few kind, soothing words from yours truly, such as "Absolutely no, No, NO. We can't afford it."

This year, Pappy got cagey on me. Somehow or other he managed to talk that Dodge into not starting every morning. My little bomb caught the bug from the Dodge and also refused to ramble like a Rambler should. I cajoled, pampered, and even said a couple of naughty words, but all in vain. A good friend of ours just happens to sell automobiles -- bless his heart. Pappy got together with him and Prestol Changol -- and that's the way the mop flops. Pappy got his new car.

To be square about it, it is a real dream. Drives and rides beautifully -- and do you know? It starts every morning, right on schedule. One morning right after Pop took delivery, it started so good it snapped its cap of something. How about a new car that has loose hoses and loses all the anti-freeze? My Lord and Master says this sort of thing happens all the time with new cars, and who am I to dispute his word?

and Mrs. Larry Kavanaugh. Winners were Mr. George Stewart, Mrs. Carolyn McManamon, Mr. Walt Klewicki and Mr. Larry Kavanaugh.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Lounsbury and family spent last Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Ashe in Detroit.

A bridge luncheon and baby shower in honor of Mrs. John McGoff was hosted this past Tuesday by Mrs. Donald McCortie and Mrs. Bob Banwell. A lovely buffet luncheon was served and guests played bridge at tables decorated with booties and small plants. Guests included Mrs. Bill Lamoreaux, Mrs. Robert Knutilla, Mrs. Russell Strong, Mrs. Zack Clayton, Mrs. William Sheidler, Mrs. Donald Kenyon, Mrs. Robert Rentchler, Mrs. Wayne Fate, Mrs. Donald Emery, Mrs. Lloyd McCausland and Mrs. Glenn Waxler.

New Report Area Pastor Returns From South America

DANSVILLE -- Dansville high school report cards will be distributed this Friday, January 28, 1966, according to the Principal, D.S. Mueller. Dansville adopted the new N.C.R. (No Carbon Required) type of report card this past fall. This style of report card provides the parent with a permanent copy of the student's grades each six weeks.

As soon as the semester grades have been recorded, the principal will compute grade point averages and class standings for all senior high students.

The Dansville curriculum committee has been quite active this semester. Earlier in the year each high school teacher developed a descriptive paragraph concerning the subjects which he instructs. These paragraphs have now been assembled for distribution to students as a part of the orientation program for 7th and 9th grade as well as students new to the school.

The high school curriculum committee includes Mrs. Myrna Campbell, Mrs. Margie Briggs, Scott Dean, John VanWinkle, Lawrence Lintinger, Vince Carlen, and the principal, Searl Briggs.

The D.H.S. English staff also has been involved with the revision of the English course of study. The English staff includes Mrs. Sandra Major, Mrs. Helen Laughlin, Mrs. Myrna Campbell, Robert West and William Tibbets.

Retired Farmer Dies Here

John Colvin Warner, 83, of 215 W. Middle street, Williamston, died at his home Monday afternoon.

He was born February 23, 1882 in Wheatfield township and resided in that area as a farmer until his retirement several years ago.

As a young man he was a member of the Wheatfield Methodist church. He served as a director of the Crowwell school for 21 years and was associated with the local telephone company for 19 years. For many years Warner was a member of the Wheatfield Grange and served 2 terms as master.

After retirement he and his family moved to Williamston. They spent some winters in Lakeland, Florida and summers at their cottage at Indian lake in Isosco county.

Survivors include his wife, Minnie, 3 sons, Fred of Williamston, Roy of Lake Odessa and Russell of Eaton Rapids; a daughter, Irene Pollok of Royal Oak, 14 grandchildren and 21 great grandchildren. Mr. and Mrs. Warner observed their golden wedding anniversary in 1954.

Funeral services will be Thursday at 2 p.m. at the Gorsline Brothers funeral home here. Rev. Harold Reese of Williamston will officiate and interment will be in the family plot at the Leek cemetery in Alaledon township. Pallbearers will be Allan Cassidy, Barton Johnson, Elmer Leach, Gaylord V. Fisher, Carl Beckert and Carlton Place.

Rev. Donald Allbaugh pastor of the First Baptist church of Okemos returned Saturday from 3 weeks in Central and South America. He traveled with Rev. Roy Ackerle, executive director for South America with United World Missions, to visit mission stations and conduct rallies.

Rev. Allbaugh's tour took him to Guatemala City in Guatemala where city-wide rally meetings were conducted and to the village of Chichicastenango where fire worship is practiced. He was able to conduct a recorded interview there with a former witch doctor who is now engaged in Christian missionary work.

A one day stop over between planes in Panama City permitted the men to visit a Christian radio station and the Canal Zone. Arriving in Nicaragua he visited a branch of the University of Nicaragua. The pastor commented that compared with this university the labs and facilities at Okemos high school would seem like a palace and that the students in Nicaragua really struggle for an education.

In Venezuela meetings were conducted in Caracas and La Guaira and Maracaibo, making a total of 18 meetings on the tour.

The pastor's travels included a visit to Antigua where he was able to observe res-tations under way on the ruins there.

Rev. Allbaugh, whose trip was sponsored by the Okemos church, had been looking forward to an exciting trip but found much of his excitement before he left the state of Michigan when his plane developed mechanical trouble on take off at Detroit and had to dump its fuel over Lake Erie and make an emergency landing. Fortunately the landing was a safe one and with a day's delay the pastor was able to continue his trip.

Delhi Rents Its Hall

The Delhi Charter Township board announced Monday night that it has rented the Delhi township hall for an all day meeting of the American Party on Saturday, February 5. The meeting is scheduled to start at 9 a.m. and continue until 6 p.m.

The announcement came in a resolution introduced by Richard Dart, township treasurer and approved by the board.

The text of the resolution follows:

"Since the so-called American Party has rented the Delhi township hall for a meeting on February 5, 1966

"Be it resolved that the Delhi Charter Township board in no way sympathizes with or endorses the aims of the so-called political party. In the interests of free speech the board will not rescind the right of the so-called American Party to rent the Delhi township hall at this time, but may do so in the future if police problems become too serious to handle."

Board officers said the person who made arrangements for the use of the hall for the meeting told them about 100 persons are expected to attend.

Zoning Ordinance To Supply Grain Is Introduced

Township's new zoning ordinance, No. 24, was introduced at Monday evening's meeting of the board, with minor changes, and will now be published in The Ingham County News (See Page B-10 of this edition).

After that it will be returned to the board for adoption, which probably will be at a special board meeting on February 17.

The board also referred to the planning commission a request of the Theroux Development company that an area of low priority in the east corner of a 77 acre farm at 6300 McCue road, which is owned by the Theroux company be rezoned for agriculture to industrial to permit the operation of a privately owned public sanitary landfill.

Approved claims totalling $5,052.

Area Man Resigns

Ira Grinnell of Williamston is retiring from the Family Service board after having served 2 three-year terms of the agency board. His resignation became effective at the 55th annual dinner meeting a letter to the Higgins-Olds mobile post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, notifying the post that the debris and litter left after the razing of the old Presbyterian church on the site on Cedar street must be cleaned up within 30 days or the post will be cited for violation of a township ordinance covering unsightly places. The post purchased the property from the church some time ago and now has its headquarters in another building on the property.

Frank Light, chairman of the Michigan ASC state committee, confirmed this week a recent announcement that government-owned feed grain would be available at reduced prices to farmers in 21 Michigan counties, recently declared an emergency area. This area was declared an emergency area because of the shortage of livestock feed, due to unfavorable weather conditions which have reduced supplies of feed and forage for livestock this winter.

Light added that the first counties to be designated for the assistance in Michigan this year are Alger, Antrim, Baraga, Charlevoix, Cheboygan, Chippewa, Delta, Dickinson, Emmet, Gogebic, Houghton, Iosco, Iron, Kalkaska, Mackinac, Marquette, Menominee, Ogemaw, Ontonagon, Oscoda, and Schoolcraft.

An unusually wet spring which prevented some plantings, Light added, was followed by a cold dry summer that held back plant growth and together with a wet fall, prevented harvest in some instances. Early snows in the northern part of Michigan had also ended availability of pasture, Mr. Light stated.

Panthers Maul Pinckney 102 to 28

Following Friday night's 102 to 28 victory over hapless Pinckney, Stockbridge high school's basketball team finds itself in a three way tie for second place in the Ingham County League.

Dansville, undefeated with five straight wins holds down the top spot, followed by Stockbridge, Fowlerville and Williamston each with 3-2 records in league play. The Panthers could narrow the field with a victory over Fowlerville Friday night.

Stockbridge had a well balanced scoring attack against Pinckney with Rob Sooy netting 23 and Ron Collings, Dave Mills and Steve Collins 14 each.

Ron Collings was again the Panthers top rebounder, grabbing off ten while Steve Collins had 9 and Brian Sommer collected 8.

Although the Pinckney Pirates have the size, they were unable to generate an offense, scoring only eight points in the first half. The leading scorer for the Pirates was Mike Sepulveda with nine.

The game marked the second in a row in which coach Duane Clark could use his reserves throughout most of the second half. It is believed the Panthers set a school scoring record with their 102 points, and a great cheer went up from the fans when Bob Zick sank the basket that made an even hundred in the final minute.

Stockbridge has two games on tap this week. Besides the Friday night contest at Fowlerville, they will face Jackson St. Johns in Jackson on Saturday night.

The junior varsity will host the Jackson sophomore team on Saturday night.

Hornets Stay in Race By Downing Blackhawks

Williamston got by Leslie Friday night 69-60 but the Blackhawks had the Hornets hanging on the ropes at the end.

The win enabled Williamston to move into a tie with Fowlerville in the Ingham County League.

The Hornets led all the way against Leslie. In the first period Williamston grabbed an 18-16 lead. Both teams were cold in the second quarter but still the Hornets managed to outscore Leslie 9-5.

Leslie came on in the last quarter with its best shooting of the night but the Williamston bulge was too much to overcome.

Mike McNeilly had another one of his good nights with 24 points. Stan Duncel was next with 14.

For Leslie Chuck Lay was high with 18. Lon Cooper contributed 14.

Friday night the Hornets will have a crack at Pinckney. It should be an easy night for the Hornets as Pinckney has not come up with a win yet.

In the last 2 times out the Pinckney opposition has gone over the century mark.

Leslie has a rough night scheduled, though. Dansville will be in town and the Aggies are really rolling with a perfect string in league action.

Aggies Add To ICL Lead

Dansville moved out in front in the Ingham County league by 2 games as the surprising Aggies continued to pile up victims. The latest team to end up second best to the Aggies was Fowlerville. The Aggies powered their way past the Glads 75-67 Friday night.

Fowlerville had a hard time getting started. When the Glads did find the range the Aggie lead was too great. Taking advantage of Fowlerville's cold streak in the 20 shots, Dansville moved in front 19-8 by the end of the quarter. The Aggies came out 3 points better in a wild shooting duel in the second period.

Fowlerville pared 5 points off the Aggie lead in the third period and managed to knock one point off the margin in the last quarter.

Jerry Ernst continued his hot shooting pace. This time he hit for 21. His total was matched by Dave Beatty, developing into one of the steady players in the league.

Colin Curtis scored 13 and Jim Mullins contributed 11. For Fowlerville Dey was high with 16. Carson had 13, Kenroy 13, Ganton 11 and Benjamin 10.

O'Rafferty Turns on Haslett for Win

O'Rafferty kept its new-found steam up Friday night by downing Haslett 77-58.

The Raiders, a different team with Bill Murphy back in action after missing the first games of the season, started slowly and ended the first quarter trailing Haslett by 2 at 17-15.

In the second period O'Rafferty moved in front to lead 38-35. In the third quarter The Raiders added 4 more points to their lead and then really opened up in the last period to win going away.

The win was the third straight for O'Rafferty in its last 3 starts and the string takes the edge off the early season losses.

Murphy, the 6-6 center, controlled the backboards and led in the scoring with 20 points on 7 field goals and 6 free throws. Mike Early and Tom Churma helped the Raider cause by scoring 15 points each.

For Haslett Randy Goodman had one of his best nights with 19 points on 6 field goals and 7 free throws.

The Vikings were outscored both from the free throw line and from the floor.

Larkin finished as the top scorer with 25 points. Tom Jakovac and John Parker each contributed 13 points to the Gabriels cause.

For Eaton Rapids Dana Houston was high with 15. Dave Salisbury added 11 and John Sealey put in 10.

Mason's Jayvees won one and lost one in action this week. Against Okemos Friday night Coach Bruce DePus's cagers came out on the short end of a 75-60 count. It was a much sweeter story Tuesday night when the Jayvees overpowered Waverly 80-57.

In the Okemos game Mason fell behind at the start and never caught up. Doug Engle was the top Mason scorer with 21 points. Dan Crowe contributed 15 and Gary VanderVeen added 10.

In the Waverly game Mason started with a rush and continued it. Everyone on the squad saw action with 10 of them figuring in the scoring.

VanderVeen and Gary Underwood paced the shooters with 14 points each. Engle and Pat Birney hit for 12 each.

Capital Circuit leader Holt worked fast Friday evening to defeat Howell 69-61 behind a pair of good performances by Rick Van Houten and Lynn Ried.

The Rams now lead the circuit with a 6-1 record. They received 22 points from Van Houten and 20 from Ried for their sixth victory in 8 games this season. Van Houten got the Rams started in a hurry by scoring 8 points in the opening quarter as Holt built up a 23-11 advantage.

The Highlanders, who were paced by Bill Neathamer's 21 points, couldn't seem to make a dent in the deficit after that.

In the Junior Varsity, Holt also defeated the Howell team by a score of 56-51.

Friday night Coach Dan Hovanessian will take his front-running Rams over to Gabriels for a make-it-or-break-it game. The Rocks have got to win to stay in contention. Holt will be out to keep its Capital Circuit victory string intact.

Gabriels Stays in CC Race

Gabriels continued its uphill fight to stay close to the Capital Circuit leaders by stopping Eaton Rapids Friday night 76-57.

Eaton Rapids pushed the Rocks all the way. At the end of the first period the Greyhounds held a 15-14 lead.

It was a different story in the second period with Jeff Larkin coming up with the spark which carried the Rocks to a 20-15 edge in second quarter scoring and allowed the Rocks to leave the floor at halftime with a 37-30 lead.

From there on out it was all Gabriels.

Larkin finished as the top scorer with 25 points. Tom Jakovac and John Parker each contributed 13 points to the Gabriels cause.

For Eaton Rapids Dana Houston was high with 15. Dave Salisbury added 11 and John Sealey put in 10.

Okemos Bops Mason To Stay in CC Race

It was Okemos all the way at Mason Friday night. The Chiefs came through with a 74-58 win over the Bulldogs. The win enabled the Chiefs to stay in a tie for second place in the Capital Circuit with Gabriels.

Mason skidded lower down the Capital Circuit ladder. The Bulldogs started out with a full court press which caused Coach Bob Baker's crew some difficulty. Mason ended the first period on a happy note with 17-15 lead. After that all the joy belonged to Okemos.

Taking advantage of the long pass down court to open men in an effort to beat the press, the Chiefs caught the Mason defense napping and cashed in some easy baskets to lead 33-23 at the half. The third period was played on pretty much an even keel with the Chiefs adding just 2 more points to the bulge in the quarter.

Both teams opened up in the last quarter but still Okemos shooters had the better of it.

Mason's top scorer was Jim Powers with 17 points on 7 field goals and 3 foul shots.

Brian Doolittle was next with 12 points. Ten of them came from the foul line. Paul Allaire added 10.

For Okemos Jay Breslin was high with 18 with a good number of his shots driving lay-ups. Vary added 16.

All 3 ended up with 6-1 records in the games played on the big floor at the high school.

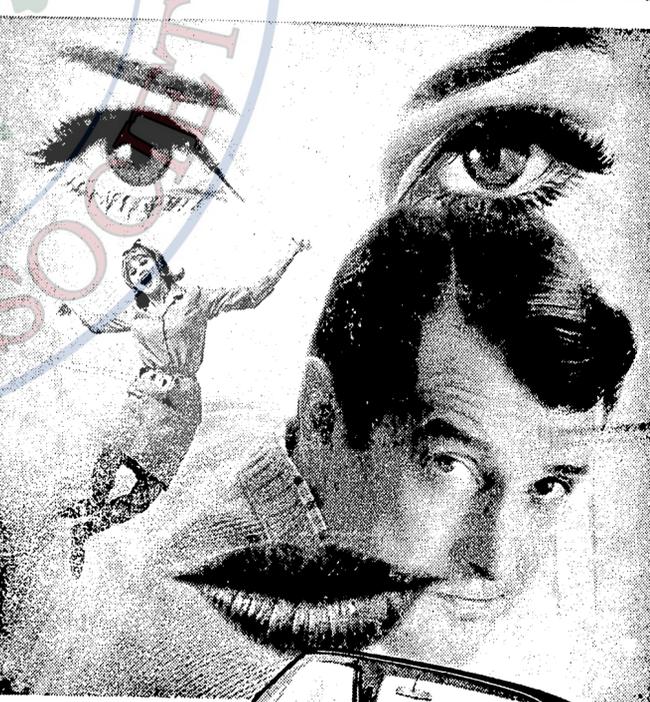

Next in line were the Nazarenes with a 4-3 record. Aurelius Baptists finished at 3-4. Eden United Brethren came in at 2-5, the Methodists compiled a 1-6 record and the Lutherans ended up in the basement at 0-7.

3 Teams Tie In Mason Church Play Rousing!

The Okemos High School gymnasium last Thursday echoed to the rafters with rousing music from three musical groups.

The concert band played 3 numbers; the orchestra played 5 selections, all under the direction of Okemos High music coordinator Philip E. Hillstrom.

Mothers and fathers and brothers and sisters filled the gymnasium bleachers, and hopeful comments were heard that soon, (in a year or two) perhaps the band and orchestra could play in a new auditorium.

The Melting Pot

By HAYDEN PALMER

Francesco Formisano is a peanut vendor in Naples, Italy. Every week for many years Francesco has been placing a bet on Number 15 and 78 in Italy's state operated numbers lottery.

Finally he won when both his numbers turned up in the draw. His winnings amounted to 200 lire or about $80. But his joy was short-lived. When he arrived home he found that he had been robbed by pickpockets.

The peanut vendor was so upset by his loss that he jumped into the sea twice, but was rescued both times.

Governor George I. Terry Jr. of Delaware will get protection now when he wants to enter Delaware's state house of representatives. The other day he went to the house to attend a joint session, he reached for the door knob and pulled. At the same time the doorknob also reached for the knob and they staged a tug of war over the door knob.

From now on the governor will be escorted to the house by a delegation of the senate and house. They will knock at the door and the doorknob will say: "Who seeks to enter?"

Then he will open the door wide and the governor and his delegation will march in without any trouble.

Over in Holt the Kiwanis club has discovered that the most popular first name in the club is that of Richard. There are 6 members bearing that name: Richard Bacon, Richard Huber, Richard Sabrosky, Richard Tetro and Richard Dart.

Street cleaners in Nottingham, England, are soon to be equipped with orange fiberglass wheelbarrows. This will make easier for motorists to spot them.

The Holt Kiwanis bulletin tells a story of one of its members, an ardent golfer who was returning from the golf course wearing his golf snickers. His journey took him past a bar and just as he reached it a drunk came stumbling out, looked at the golfer and commented: "Andy Hardy, you sure have gone to pot!"

Parents of 10 teen-agers in Fort Worth, Texas, have a date with the principal of a junior high school there to talk over the behavior of their youngsters.

It seems that the 10 didn't like the style of haircut worn by a 13-year-old junior high school boy, so they grabbed him and cut it off. All 10 were suspended. They can't come back to school until after their parents and the principal have a talk.

Martha M. Andrews of Hagerstown, Maryland, came to get her car in a parking lot and found the 2 bucket seats were torn and the seats were loose. And besides that, they weren't the seats that were in the car when she parked it. Police surmised that some one who liked the looks of the new seats stole them and put the seats from his car in their place.

Remember the Charleston, the Lindberg waltz, the Lame duck and a few other dance steps that were popular back in another generation. Folks enjoyed an evening of them without getting too tired out.

But how some of the youngsters of today can spend an evening doing the Watusi, Sim swim and The twist of modern dance routines, without tiring is somewhat of a mystery. Anyway, they fastened a pedometer to a Go-Go girl in Lincoln, Nebraska, the other day to find out how far she walked while doing these newer steps.

A pedometer is a measuring device that records the distance a person walks. When the Go-Go girl finished 15 minutes of prancing around the dance floor the pedometer showed she had traveled 1 3/4 miles. In an evening of dancing the swim, the Watusi and the twist she recorded 7 3/4 miles or almost the distance from Mason to the southern city limits of Lansing.

These Go-Go girls really go.

HONORED CITIZENS

MR. and MRS. HOWARD SEIBERT of 1120 E. Ash Street Mason, are this week's Ingham County News honored citizens.

Both in their own way have given freely of their time and leadership talents to make Mason a better place to live.

Managing director and assistant vice-president of Wyeth Laboratories of Mason, Seibert was at the helm of the Mason General Hospital board of directors during the planning, fund campaign, construction and opening of the new Mason General Hospital.

He joined the board of directors in 1956, was elected president of the board and served in that capacity until 1961. In addition Seibert was general chairman of the hospital fund campaign that raised some $530,000 making the hospital construction possible.

In other areas of activity, Howard has been president of the Mason Kiwanis club and has been a member of the organization since 1949. He has worked on the Mason City Planning commission and is a member of the F & AM Masonic consistory and shrine.

For relaxation the Seiberts enjoy golfing and traveling. While their children Dick of Grand Blanc, Michigan and Claudia of Nevada were in school, the Seiberts were active members of the Mason PTA. Howard served as vice-president of the organization at one time and Lee was a room mother for 8 years.

Mrs. Seibert has provided able leadership for Mason Girl Scouts since 1951 when she became a troop leader. Her scouting work began when she took over duties as a Cub Scout leader for 3 years prior to her Girl Scout work in 1951. Since then Mrs. Seibert has actively participated in all types of Scouting work and is today leader of the only Mason Senior Girl Scout troop.

Trying to teach her troop members to strive for a goal, Mrs. Seibert encouraged a group of 9 Girl Scouters to work toward a trip to Mexico. In 1958 the project came true when 9 Mason Girl Scouts took off in 2 cars for south of the boarder.

Mrs. Seibert was instrumental in getting Mason Scouts to join the Michigan Capital Girl Scout council. Since then she has served as a neighborhood chairman and counselor. Just Tuesday Mrs. Seibert was elected as a vice-president of the Michigan Capital Girl Scout council.

Last July Lee was one of the few leaders to be selected to attend the National Girl Scout Round-Up in Idaho. While there she was a troop advisor for an international troop.

You Don't Say

By Sally Robinson

Each week the Ingham County News inquiring reporter asks a question of 5 persons in downtown Mason. This week's query is:

"Why don't more people take an interest in Mason city government and run for city council?"

Alfred F. Forche, 123 E. Cherry street, former Mason city council mayor:

"Serving on the Mason city council requires too much time and is a very thankless job. Business men often feel their decisions made while on the council will injure their business."

"Others are just not interested in working for their city. There are a lot of well qualified people that would be an asset to the city if on the council, but they just won't run for election."

L. R. White, 703 S. Barnes street, retired director of the Mason State bank:

"Why people won't serve as councilmen is a big question with a good many answers available. People just don't appreciate what a city council means to a city like Mason."

"Councilmen have a great deal of responsibility and most citizens don't want to get into this amount of work and responsibility. Another reason could be that people do not like to be criticized and when one serves on the city council--you are open to criticism."

Mrs. Charles Kipke, 709 Steven street, Mason:

"I am a relatively new resident of Mason and have often wondered why more people don't take an interest in running for council election. I think primarily people just don't have time for the job and many other things come first before a public office."

"It is too bad that more people won't participate in the government functions. Actually people should want to serve. Possibly one reason more people aren't interested is because those not assuming the decision responsibilities are usually the first ones to criticize."

Joy Q. Davis, Davis Insurance, 218 E. Maple street, Mason:

"I can see that it would be hard to get candidates for each vacant position on the council as a lot of people are not civic minded enough to give their time for council duties. You have to be civic minded enough to give their time for council duties. You have to be civic minded enough to take the often undeserved abuse and criticism handed out to councilmen."

"Mason hasn't anything to worry about. I have been active in business here since 1920 and can't remember when the city wasn't capably represented. If the council job had a $20,000 salary going along with it there would probably be lots of people running for election, but they probably wouldn't be any better than the councilmen we have now and possibly not as good."

Mrs. William Carl, 402 S. Lawton street, Mason:

"I haven't really given the question much thought but I imagine a lot of men feel they don't have the time to spare, which is required for such a job."

"I think most people are willing to do their part for government, but realize too that it is quite a job to satisfy all the people and yet do what each individual councilman feels is best for the city of Mason. It is a big responsibility."

Mrs. Carl

I enjoyed your last week's article, in Country and Town, on the city manager's office.

Yesterday, I received this news release from our ICMA headquarters and I thought you might be interested in it.

The city of Mason is a dynamic, growing community and your city council could certainly use the full time help of a qualified city manager.

Good luck in your program!

Policemen Go to School

Some 76 law enforcement officers from 12 police units in Ingham county are learning more than just "reading, 'riting and accident reports," at a special FBI sponsored Basic Law Enforcement Training school underway at the Ingham county jail.

Many of the officers on Sheriff Kenneth L. Preadmore's staff are feeling the "pressures of school," that they had almost forgotten from their childhood school days.

There is the regular 8 hours of class conducted in the jail chapel required each week--but there is also that nasty homework. Each deputy attending must keep an accurate type-written notebook detailing everything discussed in class, plus regular vocabulary spelling tests and written examinations on topics discussed.

It is not uncommon to walk into the sheriff's department and see deputies walking around with dictionaries under their arms of thumbing through a pile of hand-written class notes during a spare moment.

Grumblings are heard, but often times the grumblers turn into praise for the school, such as, "today's instructor was a real expert in fingerprint interpretation and a great speaker. I learned a lot."

Some of the subjects that deputies are really "boning" up on include: ethics of law enforcement, laws dealing with arrests, scientific areas of police enforcement, fraudulent check investigation, new civil rights legislation, criminal law, search and seizure laws and even emergency child birth. All subjects are taught by FBI specialists.

"These class subjects are carefully chosen with the idea in mind that police work is demanding more and more of individual officers because of recent legislation and supreme court rulings which have effected many changes in law that officers have to keep abreast of," Preadmore said.

ATTENTION STUDENTS--Law enforcement officers representing 12 police units in Ingham and Livingston county attend 8 hours of classes per week at an FBI sponsored school. The classes are conducted each Tuesday and Wednesday in the Ingham county jail chapel with police specialists acting as instructors.

Ingham county is the most extensive one ever began in the state of Michigan. To complete the course Ingham county law men will have to attend approximately 132 hours of classes. In comparison a similar school is underway in Eaton county that requires only 90 hours to complete.

Deputies have indicated that they find the general information from instructors most beneficial especially when in conjunction with a regular question and answer period following the lecture.

This school is interesting to the men, but there are also disadvantages, such as, if classes fall on a particular officer's day off he must still attend. While in school the men are not compensated for their time spent there, they must still work their regular shift. So far the men appreciate the opportunity to attend the school and take advantage of the opportunity to pick up knowledge from law enforcement "cream of the crop" officials.

Commenting on the school Sheriff Preadmore said, "The school is just a continuation of my efforts to provide an experienced police force for the residents of Ingham county. My officers must know a lot about every phase of law enforcement because in the morning a deputy may answer a dog bite complaint and in the afternoon stop an armed robbery in progress."

The school will not be held in Ingham county again for sometime, but the sheriff said he intended to require the course of all men in his department and would see to it that new men joining his staff will have the opportunity to attend other FBI schools being staged in neighboring counties in the future.

Michigan Week Daily Program Is Outlined

There'll be a switch in 2 of the 7 special days of Michigan Week this year. As the week always begins on the third Sunday of May, the 1966 dates are May 15-21.

Tuesday, which has been Hospitality Day since Michigan Week began in 1954, will be Our Heritage Day.

Friday, which has always been Our Heritage Day, will be Hospitality Day.

In announcing the change, general chairman Paul Penfield, advertising director of Detroit Edison Co., explained that the switch results from a suggestion by the Wyandotte Board of Commerce that in a great vacation state in spring-time the most appropriate time for hospitality celebration is at the start of the week-end.

Traditionally scores of communities celebrate Hospitality Day with special visitor greeting programs, often having police issue tickets to out-of-county motorists for free coffee and doughnuts, lunch, dinner or even overnight accommodations.

The Wyandotte group also urged that Friday would be the ideal time for hospitality activities in business places so many stores are open Friday evening in shopping centers and elsewhere.

A survey among state and local Michigan Week leaders brought complete agreement with the Wyandotte suggestion. It turned out that county historical societies, usually in charge of Heritage Day arrangements, felt Tuesday will be a much better time than Friday to get people out for the civic dinners that are held in many places to toast local history.

The other special days remain as in the past--Sunday, Spiritual Foundations Day; Monday, Our Government Day; Wednesday, Our Livelihood Day; Thursday, Education Day; Saturday, Our Youth Day.

Barbs and Praise

After reading several newspapers and watching television news programs over the weekend the impact of a piece in the Lutheran Digest was and is especially appropriate.

Labor unrest, civil rights marches, anti-VietNam protest marches, news of crime syndicates, of murder, of embezzlement, thievery and general mayhem which is on the rise. News of the Bobby Bakers, the police fixes being probed in the large cities, the smut available as "literature," the suggestiveness of much of the television commercial time, the permissiveness proposed and displayed in many of the television programs is bad enough. What is worse is the blase acceptance of the general public.

The piece in the Lutheran Digest is entitled "We Mass Produce Almost Everything--Except Character." This should be must reading in every home for every person.

"It used to be that, when you wanted something, you worked to earn it. Now you stage a riot to get it given to you at someone else's expense.

"If your father or grandfather lost his job, he took whatever work he could get, and he went (probably walked miles) to where there was work--any honest work--being done. Now hordes of relief "clients" refuse a job unless it is to their liking, and they demand the job be brought to them in their community.

"This nation was built by immigrants (beginning in the 1600's and earlier) who struggled here for opportunity, and would have scorned the false idea of "something for nothing". Now it seems to be an almost universal (and all-too-often the only) ambition.

"It used to take a lifetime of gruelling work and scrimping for a family or a country to earn a little surplus, a taste of security. Now mobs of stupid "students" and whole "emerging nations" demand they be given it, out of your earnings and with no effort on their part.

"Minority groups' all over the earth seem to think the world owes them everything they want. So vicious destructiveness makes necessary higher taxes to pay for more police to protect decent citizens; higher taxes for playgrounds; higher taxes for schooling for gangs who don't seem to want or are unable to be educated. The minority groups whose rights no one seems to consider are the taxpayers and decent citizens--who may have been pampering evil too long."

As Jim Fitzgerald of the Lapeer County Press so aptly put it, we are all too much concerned over finding a spot in the playpen of the Great Society. We are sacrificing moral character for the material things which so many deem more important.

The Bigness Plague Strikes Again

Bigness as a disease, a common one among state bureaucrats, is threatening a couple of Ingham county school districts.

The big brass in Lansing have a hard time recognizing that Dansville and Webberville school districts are happy with their school systems.

Under a legislative directive a special study commission was set up in Ingham county, as in other counties, to study school district re-organization.

The committee studied over a period of several months. It submitted its plan to the state re-organization commission. The state boys didn't like it. They returned it for more study. They find that the districts are too small. They are worried because the districts are not in any big growth area and are apt to remain the same size as far as enrollment is concerned.

Dansville and Webberville have excellent school systems. Graduates are leaving these two schools and entering colleges, business and farming with no great trouble. They are competing on an equal footing with graduates from the largest schools.

Dansville and Webberville taxpayers have provided fine school facilities. Teaching staffs are doing their job well if the student--the end product--is any measurement. There is no indication that the 2 communities won't continue to provide these things.

So, it seems that the wise thing would be for the disciples of bigness on the state re-organization commission to keep their hands off. At least before making any changes they ought to find out how the 2 communities feel about their schools.

Schools should be a local matter. Size of enrollment isn't an infallible method of measuring educational worth.

A Warning on Polio

A warning of interest to all members of the medical profession has been issued by Albert Sabin, MD, one of the winners of the 1965 Albert Lasker Clinical Research Award in Medicine.

Dr. Sabin was honored for his role in the development of oral polio vaccine, which has helped to reduce the number of cases of polio in this country from 30,000 in 1955 to less than 100 so far this year.

In spite of the reduction in polio cases, he warned, the nation now faces the possibility of renewed epidemics of the disease because of the decline in interest in immunization programs. "We are building up a pool of unprotected children who will soon be able to reestablish the chain of transmission of the disease," he said.

Alex Langmuir, MD, epidemiology chief of the U.S. Public Health Service's Communicable Disease Center in Atlanta, agrees. He commented that, "I think we are due for a number of local brushfires in areas where there has been inadequate immunization," and said that such areas are those of economic depression, both rural and urban.

There is an interesting similarity between the status of polio today and the venereal disease situation shortly after World War II. At that time, widespread use of antibiotics had brought the spread of syphilis and gonorrhea under control. When this occurred, VD became an almost-forgotten area of public health concern.

The result of this relaxation of effort was a tremendous resurgence of venereal disease, which today is one of the nation's major public health problems and the target of an intensive AMA public education campaign.

In the case of polio, there appears to be a similar sense of complacency today. Although the resurgence of the disease has not occurred, as it did in the case of venereal disease, the possibility of new epidemics is apparent.

Michigan Ski Resorts Rate 2nd in Nation

Plagued by warm weather, Michigan's 87 ski resorts can still entertain more than 200,000 visitors if the cold weather stays through March, says Jerry E. Fisher, automobile club of Michigan touring manager.

More Michiganians will fall down on more ski slopes, ride in more chair lifts, swim in more snow-scattered pools than ever before for the remainder of this season, Fisher says.

Resorts which have had the edge so far this winter are those with their own snow-making equipment, according to Fisher. Given a favorable cold snap and they are in business.

Michigan's 87 ski resorts make the state second nationally only to New York, which has 113. Third is California with 83. Trailing are Colorado, Wisconsin, New Hampshire and Vermont.

The Michigan breakdown shows 16 winter sports centers in the Upper Peninsula, 39 in western Michigan, 12 in eastern Michigan and 12 in the southeast corner of the state.

Iron Mountain boasts the world's highest artificial jump. Ski jumps of various heights are found at nine Michigan centers. Eighteen centers feature ice skating. Five have swimming pools.

Debuts this winter were made by Cannonsburg Ski Area northeast of Grand Rapids, Fry's Winter Sports Park near Kalamazoo and Binder Park near Battle Creek.

Many centers this season feature new and expanded slopes, trails, ski shops, instruction programs, tows, lifts and eating facilities. Two dozen centers now have overnight lodging.

As this season opened, millions of dollars had been spent on new ski facilities and enlargements of old favorite places. This trend should continue through this year and next at least. The number of winter resorts has nearly tripled in the last 10 years and income from skiing has nearly quadrupled in the same period.

The ski boom has been the key in turning Michigan into a year-around vacation state. Winter lodges also are serving an increasing number of guests in the fall and spring seasons. The state's tourist industry now is a 12-month business rather than a short summer period ending with Labor Day--as was the case a generation ago.

The winter sports season as it is now known is only some 20 years old. Boyne Mountain Lodge at Boyne Falls was the first complete winter resort, established in 1948. Caberfae, west of Cadillac, was the early pioneer ski center, opened in the late 1930's, but it was not a lodging resort.

According to best estimates, there were no more than 5,000 skiers in the nation 25 years ago. The winter sports boom has brought the current number up to the 10 million mark and skiing has become a national sport.

"Why don't more people do it that way?" was what most people asked after the Cotton-Otis wedding on Wednesday night of last week. They referred to the pledges made by the pair. The preacher did not have to read off snatches of sentences and then wait for Jim and Belva to mumble back what they could catch of the words. Jim led off with "I take this woman--" and never missed a word. Neither did Belva. It would be a great thing if every man and woman learned the vows and repeated them to their mates at least once a week. It would be even better if the vows were kept.

In addition to one of the sweetest brides anywhere, the wedding conferred yet another boon on Jim. He is now a member of the Grimes family, famous for virtue, thrift, loyalty, good nature and culinary skill in its women. And in all fairness to the bridegroom, it should be said that Jim's ambition, his dignity and his good manners will make him a marked man even in such a group of paragons as gather at the Grimes reunion once a year.

There was not a man or woman who attended the wedding of Jim and Belva who didn't profit by it. Weddings of such fine young people are as sacred as an Easter service.

There's always a ready market for news. The greatest market in the world is the United States. We have weekly and monthly news magazines by the score. We celebrate the week just like the lords of the press in Detroit or Lansing or Jackson.

Holt Youth Named Semifinalist in Merit Competition

HOLT--John Wellington, principal of Holt high school announced this week that Michael Smith, a senior at Holt high school, has been named a semifinalist in the 1965-66 merit scholarship competition.

He was among the highest-scoring students in the state of Michigan on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test, administered last March in over 17,600 schools nationwide. More than 14,000 semifinalists were appointed across the country.

To become finalists, the students must substantiate their qualifying test performance on a second examination, submit recommendations by their schools, and fulfill routine requirements. All Merit Scholars for 1966 will then be selected from the Finalist group.

Two other students, Linda Hanson and Timothy Meyer, attained scores high enough that letters of commendation have been sent to them by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

The final exams were taken Monday and Tuesday. Wednesday there was no school for students. The exam schedule was changed around this year so that there were four classes in a day instead of three. Subjects that had two different hours of teaching, the classes took the test at the same time.

Okemos High To Poll Students On Lowering Voting Age to 18

By JOEL ELLINWOOD
Okemos High School

OKEMOS--The Michigan legislature will open debate on the subject of lowering Michigan's voting age to 18 on February 3 and Okemos High has been asked to help in the evaluation of the issue. Okemos student parliament received a Lansing Human Relations board asking for a poll of student opinion about lowering the voting age. The Board also asked to have detailed breakdowns as to age and grade included in the information, SP President D.J. Drake said.

This poll and others like it from other selected schools in the area will help the legislators evaluate the feelings of the group of young people who would actually be affected by any change in the voting age.

Okemos students heard the issues of the 18-year-old vote bill debated at an assembly last Friday by members of Okemos' Capitol Circuit Debate Team. The assembly served the purpose of showing the student body what a debate is like and how it is judged. Members of Okemos' State League Debate team judged the debate and gave a critique. A question and answer period followed the debate to help give the student body the facts of the issue so they could make their own decisions before the poll was taken.

SP President D.J. Drake explained the polling procedure and urged the student body to express their opinions meaningfully owing to the importance and possible impact of the poll.

The poll will be taken and tabulated sometime this week and turned over to the legislature by February 1, Drake said.

Student parliament is handling all the details for the project in the school.

Exams Are Over, Everyone's Happy

By CHRISTY STEWART
Williamston High School

Exams are finally over and I don't think anyone is too unhappy about that. This weekend everyone is back to their regular routine with games, after game dances and parties.

There was an after game dance Friday night in the high school cafeteria. The dance was held from ten o'clock to eleven fifteen. Frank Bovee was the disk jockey. Quite a few students and graduates attended the dance, and enjoyed music of the "live 25".

A group of sophomores went sledding Saturday afternoon at Culver's hill. After sledding they all gathered at Sue Sundeen's house to get thawed out and enjoy dinner. Those participating were: Rony Murray, Cynthia Zaldokas, Kay Powell, Phil Everett, Jerry Neigh, Tim Cogswell, Jim Cole, Duane Gilroy and Bruce Onweller. After dinner the evening was concluded by a trip to the local movie theatre.

Williamston has a win and a loss in the field of sports this past week. We lost our wrestling match to Haslett on Tuesday night, but we came back and had an important basketball win on Friday night.

The GAA had a business meeting, Tuesday during second hour. It was decided that they would again have a skiing outing, as the one held last year was a great success. Some other activities that were suggested, for later on in the year were: a dance, swimming party and skating at M.S.U.

The Williamston Chapter of F.H.A. had a meeting on Wednesday during third period. It was decided that three members would be sent to the regional convention in April. It was decided that Kathy Lightfoot and Jane Bancroft, would be two of the representatives with third yet to be selected. The F.H.A. will be selling cookbooks again this year.

The Aggies basketball team traveled to Fowlerville to play Friday and won 75 to 87. Members of the student council provided the program for the monthly P.T.A. meeting Thursday evening with discussions by several members of the council regarding the students' views and hopes for Dansville high.

LESLIE--After the school board's announcement about Senior trips last week, the Seniors at Leslie high started shaping a few plans.

In a class meeting last Wednesday they voted on one of two places which they wish to visit, but school officials must approve their choice so final announcement about their trip cannot be made yet. There was also some discussion about some money-making projects to earn money for the trip.

It is exam time at Leslie high just like every place else so as usual one finds the pupils a little more serious minded and cramming a lot. A few had some exams last week but most exams were the first of this week. Because of exams and the semester ending the students will be given Friday off from school while the teachers grade cards.

The Leslie FFA is making plans to attend Michigan State Farmers Week at Michigan State university next week.

Friday morning at 10:30 the basketball teams and cheerleaders had their pictures taken for the year book.

A pep meeting Friday afternoon included a little of something new. Leonard Slinke, principal introduced the new superintendent to the student body for the first time since he took office last week and he took office last week. Slinke pointed out how he seemed to be a stroke of luck for our game last Tuesday. That was the first game the superintendent attended and both teams won with the Varsity beating their high score of 99. They scored 109 points. The pep meeting proceeded with the usual pep talks and cheers led by the cheerleaders.

Stuffing the Purple Tub

By RONDA BALZER
Haslett High School

"Let's Beat Berkeley!" This is Haslett's cry for the big party which was held at Haslett High School last Saturday night.

Last year Berkeley College in Southern California set a national record for stuffing people in the "purple tub". Their record of 34 has never been broken.

Now the tub has come to Michigan and Haslett was the first in the Lansing area to have it.

Each of our classes, headed by co-captains had a chance to stuff the "purple bathtub" Saturday night. There were special guests dressed as Go-Go girls to entertain with their dancing. The senior Go-Go Girls were John Snell and Dean Armstrong. The juniors Go-Go Girls were Tom Groom and Rick Sack.

The juniors, who narrowly edged out the seniors, swept up the profits of "The Dance" with a total added to their treasury of $37.14.

"The Dance," the first school activity of 1966 at Haslett, was sponsored by the Student Council in an effort to boost dance attendance.

The Student Council promised the profits to the class with the highest percentage of members attending.

Honor Students of Month Are Chosen at Holt High

By CONNIE BROWN
Holt High School

The Honor students of the Month were chosen last week. They are Margaret Myers and Tom Danielson from the freshman class. Congratulations to them!

Students at Holt high school will be taking semester finals Wednesday and Thursday of this week. Students have Friday off but the teachers must stay and compile grades.

Dr. Leroy Augenstein, chairman of the Biophysics Department at Michigan State university, spoke to Holt high students Thursday on the topic of "Population Explosion." He began by quoting several figures about the rate of population explosion which really opened the students' eyes. He went on to tell us the cause of concern in the matter and ways of overcoming it. It was a very interesting talk and certainly gave the students much "food for thought." Dr. Augenstein was invited to Holt high to speak by the Holt Honor Society.

On Thursday evening, January 20, the Holt Chapter of the Future Teachers of America met. The guest speaker at the meeting was Mr. Dale Abraham, a Peace Corp worker who had been in Ecuador for two years. He explained how Peace Corp workers are selected and what the training involves. He showed the group slides of the work being done to help the people of Ecuador. While there he helped in the construction of a school for a village. All in all it was a very interesting talk. Future Teachers in Holt is co-sponsored by Miss Alice Baumbach and Mr. Peter Kressler.

Foreign Language Club met Monday, January 17, at 7 p.m. in the High School Cafeteria. At the business meeting the club decided to meet every third Wednesday of every month. Rindy Premoe and Russ Roberts told the group about their trips to England. Mrs. Leona Steinfatt, the club sponsor, related some of her experiences in Europe where she spent the summer. Cookies and root beer were served after the meeting.

The Holt Girls basketball team did very well Wednesday, January 19, when they played Leslie. The score was 53-2 in Holt's favor. The game was played in the Holt high school gymnasium. Wednesday, January 26, the girls will play Fowler at Fowler at 7:00 p.m.

The Student Council received two letters last week in reference to its contributions to United Service Organization. The first was from the state headquarters of the USO informing us that the 2 checks had been forwarded to the National Headquarters. The second letter was from the National Headquarters thanking us for our contribution and saying that it had been sent on its way to help finance entertainment for our soldiers in Viet Nam.

Key Club members met Tuesday night, January 18. Student pictures had arrived and had to be properly identified and labeled for the annual. The staff members also worked on several different layouts for the pictures. The group will be meeting often now to get the book together. The Annual Staff is under the guidance of Mr. Howard Bliss.

The Holt Chapter of the National Honor Society met Wednesday after school to discuss the initiation of new members. It was decided that initiation will be February 21 in

Draft Causing Quandary For Job-Hunting Seniors

The draft is throwing job-hunting seniors into a quandary, reports John Shingleton, director of placement at Michigan State University.

"They are uncertain of what path to follow as they consider the alternative of employment, the draft, and in some cases, graduate school," Shingleton said.

One of the best employment markets ever, Shingleton says, and the highest starting salaries for college graduates in history await the 1966 graduating class.

Evidence of the perplexing situation, according to Shingleton, is the drop in the number of employer visits to MSU increased 13 per cent during the same period.

Starting salaries in all fields are up four to five per cent, Shingleton notes.

"Most of the large employers' recruitment quotas are up substantially, averaging 50 per cent over last year," Shingleton says. "There will not be enough graduates in many categories."

Samplings, Shingleton said, show that mechanical, electrical and chemical engineers with bachelor's degrees will average $677 per month to start. Accountants will average $602, and liberal arts majors will fall between $515 and $540.

Education majors can expect to average $5,350 on a 10-month contract, Shingleton noted.

Employers will hire, Shingleton says, even though military service may come within a few months of graduation. The company will wind up with a contact advantage after military service, Shingleton points out.

The highly favorable job market, Shingleton adds, is giving students an opportunity to exercise the independence they have been asserting on college campuses in recent years.

"They (students) say they want individuality, or an opportunity to demonstrate their individuality," Shingleton reports. "They do not want to get lost in a group. Conformity in big business is with us, however, and many business are not yet ready for those of a highly individualistic nature."

The new executives, Shingleton reports, want opportunity with flexibility; security is not as significant as it once was; and they won't hesitate to "fire their company" if it does not live up to expectations.

"Right or wrong, loyalty to the profession and one's self seems to be more important than loyalty to an employer," according to Shingleton.

A decreasing percentage of the 1966 graduates, Shingleton says, will be attracted to business and industry.

"Business and industry do not appear to be doing the selling job that they have in years past," Shingleton said.

"Employers from education and government groups have stepped up their recruiting efforts with the result that many graduates that normally would have gone into business have taken other routes."

Community College Gets Boost From Romney

By Noel Hornbeck
115 community college board and trustee members and administrators met at Kellogg Center at Michigan State university Saturday, to discuss the role and needs of community colleges in Michigan.

The main speaker, Governor George Romney, referred to the community college movement as "one of the greatest educational movements of our time." He said that the community college enrollment of 13,000 in 1955 has increased to 61,275 for this year.

Romney said that the community college fills many needs, such as low cost education close to home, and equipping students with productive skills.

The distinctive character of community colleges was recognized by the constitutional convention by the appointment of the State Board for Public Community and Junior Colleges, to act as an advisory committee to the State Board of Education, according to Romney.

He said that he plans to recommend in his budget an increase in operational and capital expenditures, and that construction and vocational expenditures be doubled or tripled. He also said that he plans to recommend to the legislature the formation of a tripartite study of school aid for the State Board.

He also stressed the need for greater cooperation among the state community colleges to avoid wasteful duplication of programs and to find instructors who reflect the belief in a Creator and the moral values upon which the nation was founded.

The need for education was stressed by Raymond D. Dzenzel, majority leader in the state senate, who said that "education is one of the most crucial problems confronting us today."

According to Dzenzel, finances account for one half of the male and one third of the female college drop-outs. Community colleges are fulfilling their objectives, one of which is to provide a general education for all students, he said.

Through fulfilling their objectives, he said that they are doing more in overall job progress than any other institution.

Community colleges, according to Thomas Brennan, president of the State Board of Education, "are literally an educational phenomenon in the country."

He said that the state board has been active in the operation of all levels of education and in legislation to provide an adequate budget. Budget recommendations from the advisory board include a proposal for $500 per student, and a raise from 4 million to 16 million in capital expenditures, he said.

According to Richard L. Travis, vice-president of the Genesee Merchants Bank of Flint, Mich., the present cost per student is $630 and is expected to rise to $760 by 1970.

This growth in community colleges has posed districting problems according to Dr. John McLean, professor of chemistry at the University of Detroit.

The purpose of districting, he said, is to insure all Michigan citizens the availability of a community college and to equalize the tax base.

The problems posed stem from citizen apathy and scattered population in the rural areas, he said.

Three possible solutions he offered were: forming districts in unserved areas by blocking them into serviced areas, allowing districts to be formed by local initiative, or by increasing state support, providing standardized tuition, thereby making any community college available to any state student.

Dads, Lads Clothes to Be Subject

"Pacesetter Clothes for Dads and Lads" is the title of a talk and demonstration you can enjoy on Tuesday morning, February 1, of Farmers' Week.

At 10:20 in Fairchild Theater on Michigan State University's campus, the J.C. Penney company in cooperation with the clothing extension project at MSU will present models wearing men's and boys' fashions.

Highlighted will be shopping tips on choosing correct sizes, guide-lines to good fit, trends in today's textile fabrics and how prices in men's clothing get that way.

If you select or help choose the clothes your menfolk wear, you'll want to come early to this open meeting and sit in front where you can really see.

Mrs. George Romney, Michigan's first lady, will also speak at Fairchild Theater the same day beginning at 1:30 p. m. Her subject is "The Family of Japan", a firsthand account based on the Romneys' recent visit. You can spend a worthwhile day right there in one place.

The complete program for Farmers' Week is available at the cooperative extension office, Ingham county court house, Mason. Stop in or telephone, OR 7-9411, extension 25.

Homemakers To Have Farmers Week Program

"What will they think of next?" This amazed attitude is a sign of our times in homemaking, where new products and new methods of making or doing things are sprouting up constantly.

In tune with the times is the 1966 Farmers Week program offered at Michigan State University campus, January 31 through February 3.

The first program of special interest to homemakers is titled "Michigan Families Now and in 1930". Mrs. Loa Whitfield, Assistant Director, and Miss Anne Kinsel, as Program Leader, both of the Family Living Education branch of Michigan's Cooperative Extension Service, are featured that day.

The meeting is planned especially for women whose husbands will be attending the dairymen's meeting that day, but other homemakers may go too. It will begin at 1:30 p. m. in Room 104 A and B in Kellogg Center.

Advance information about the program says, "The family of 1980 will be using items unheard of in 1930. We will take a look at the 1930 family and their living conditions."

The whole program of Farmers Weeks offerings for women looks especially good this year. For a special treat there is Mrs. George Romney's talk on, "The Family of Japan" on Tuesday afternoon, February 1, at 1:30 in Fairchild Theater.

Week is next week's "News." Right now just save at least some of these dates. The meetings are of interest to all women, not exclusively rural ones, and there's no charge. Remember -- January 31 through February 3.

Advisory Board Council Meets

The advisory board of the Ingham County Extension Family Living Council met Friday morning, January 21, in Delhi township hall.

In the afternoon the board members were joined by representatives of each family living education group, for the regular bi-monthly general council meeting.

Presiding at both meetings was Mrs. Clyde Corbett of Lansing, council chairman.

Recently appointed to the advisory board were 3 who will complete the terms of members resigning. The new members are Mrs. Gerald Runciman of Stockbridge; Mrs. Kenneth McManus of Rt. 4, Mason and Mrs. Alvin Launstein of Rt. 1, Williamston.

Adult Ed Classes To Start

The Williamston adult education classes will begin Thursday, January 27, 1966, at 7:00 p. m. in the high school. The following classes will be offered: Oil painting in room 12; knitting in room C-15; and cake decorating in room 11.

The classes will run for ten weeks and two hours each night (7:00-9:00 p. m.). The cost will be $10.00 for the full course plus whatever supplies you might need. You will register at your first class meeting.

If the interest for oil painting is as great as it was last year another class will be given on Monday nights. For further information call the Superintendent's office, 655-2142.

A BUSY GAL--Miss Enid Lewis, Delhi township clerk for 6 years, has a smile for everyone who enters the township hall, regardless if they are seeking a $100,000 building permit or just directions to the health clinic.

Lutheran Churches To Sponsor Concert

The Gustavus Band, musical representatives from Gustavus Adolphus College, Saint Peter, Minnesota, is scheduled to appear in Lansing at a public concert at Dwight Rich junior high school auditorium on Sunday, January 30, at 8 p. m.

The Lutheran Church in America congregations of Lansing and Mason are sponsoring this event. There will be no admission charge for the concert, though a free-will offering will be received.

Myron R. Falck, director of the Gustavus Band, explains that the band is organized along the lines of the concert wind ensemble where each performer in the band plays a part that is not duplicated by a large number of other members of the band. Each year new members who have the required degree of musical skill to perform in such a group are admitted to the band through auditions. The music performed by the band will include a variety

Michigan Winter Ideal Time for Picture Taking

Winter in Michigan is a thing of beauty, especially for vacationers who bring camera and film along, according to the Michigan Tourist Council.

Towering snowdrifts, skiers making graceful jumps and turns, clumps of fresh snow and ice on a pine branch -- all are found in Michigan and a collection of good pictures, carefully taken and properly preserved, will bring back a flood of memories.

You don't have to be an expert with expensive equipment to take good pictures. While high-prices, complex cameras usually offer greater flexibility and performance, good pictures can be made with simple, inexpensive equipment.

The best photo results can be obtained by following instructions that come with camera and film, and by observing simple "do's" and "don'ts".

One of the challenges associated with winter photography is that of balancing the sharp contrast of sunlit snow and dark backgrounds. It is sound idea to make plenty of pictures, experimenting with exposure and composition.

Don't always take pictures with the sun at your back. A good way to emphasize the texture of snow is with back and side lighting, increasing the exposure for the shadow side of the subject or scene.

When photographing ski action, try a low angle, moving the camera with the skier to capture his form poised against the blurred timberline, the snow showering from his skis.

Cold weather can be a problem, affecting both camera and film. Normal equipment lubricants congeal at low temperatures, slowing down the camera and resulting in overexposed film.

One solution is to winterize your camera, but this can be expensive. Another answer is to keep the camera close to your body, under protective clothing, removing it only to take pictures.

Taking a camera from freezing temperatures into the warmth of a ski lodge results in condensation which may ruin your film. An answer is to warm the camera gradually, by placing it in a leather case or wrapping it in a jacket before taking it inside.

Other helpful hints, recommended by the experts:

---Don't jar the camera when releasing the shutter. A gentle squeeze is all it takes.

---Put people in the foreground of your pictures. They'll add depth and interest, but don't have them look directly at the camera.

---Use the camera viewfinder so that you shoot only what is desired in the picture.

---Remember to change focus when switching from nearby to distant subjects.

---Make your pictures tell a story and keep them informal, showing people at work or play. Vary composition with close-ups.

Delhi's Miss Lewis Enjoys Clerk's Job

Miss Enid Lewis, Delhi township clerk, could easily qualify as a rose among thorns. Why? She is the only woman serving on the township board and is also the only elected Republican on the board.

The vivacious redhead and her right hand helper Mrs. Harry R. Ammons, deputy township clerk, see that everything runs according to schedule at the town hall.

As clerk Miss Lewis is responsible for conducting elections, which includes voter registration, keeping a financial record of the township, secretary to the board of trustees and issuing building permits.

These are some of the actual duties, but there are several little jobs that automatically accrue to the clerk. In fact Miss Lewis laughingly calls herself "Jack of all Trades." Some of the miscellaneous things she takes care of include blowing the noon fire siren, taking charge of the township hall rental, the coffee pot tender occasionally and acting as a traffic cop for persons looking for the library, town hall, justice court and the health clinic.

The Delhi township clerk for 6 years, Miss Lewis still finds time to actively participate in the Holt Women's club, Capital Girl Scouts, Republican Business and Professional Woman's club and First Presbyterian church of Holt.

Enid will soon be installed as the first vice-president of the Southeast district of the Michigan State Federation of Women's clubs. She is the immediate junior past president of the county federation of women's clubs and is president of the Past President's club of the County Federation of Women.

For some years she taught an adult leadership class for the Capitol Girl Scouts and is nominated for an adult membership in the Capitol Girl Scout council board.

A member of the First Presbyterian church session, Miss Lewis is currently serving as chairman of the finance committee and is also the church treasurer. She recently gave up her office as clerk of the sessions, a position she held for 2 years.

With all her clerk responsibilities and outside interests, Miss Lewis looks forward to having time to sit and relax, read, sew, plus pursuing her hobbies of oil painting and ceramics.

Another future goal of Delhi's clerk is to return to college someday and get her degree.

This Week's RECIPE

Mrs. Renwick Garyple, wife of the director of the Ingham county library, made a real big hit at the recent Welcome Wagon Newcomers club dessert smorgasbord given in honor of the sponsoring Mason merchants with her special mincemeat filled cake.

She originally saw the cake recipe in an advertisement and then decided to try it with some slight modifications. A very simple recipe, she recommends it to those cooks who limit their time in the kitchen.

MINCEMEAT FILLED CAKE
layer spice cake
can of prepared mincemeat
1/2 pint whipping cream
4 tablespoons instant egg nog
Prepare and bake a spice cake, either your own recipe or a commercial mix cake. After the cake layers have cooled spread about 8 ounces or the desired amount of prepared mincemeat on the lower layer. Whip the cream and add to it 4 tablespoons of instant eggnog. This is spread over the top and sides of the cake.

Sallies from Sally

By Sally Robinson

The unpredictable newspaper world is really something. You have probably heard more than once the saying-- "It gets in your blood."-- Well, it's true.

For instance, take this women's page. When a certain reporter started work at the News there was a vague mention of something along this line, but yours truly made it quite clear that although her intentions might be good, it could and still may turn into a slight disaster. Sally feels a little shaky about attempting to tell anyone what the latest thing in styles will be next fall or better yet how to boil water in 3 easy lessons. After a few gentle hints from the author of The Melting Pot and Boss J.B., the "especially for women's" page was created. I decided to be a little evasive about the whole thing by writing of people who are known experts in the areas women are interested in reading about without committing myself. This has worked out, but also backfired in a way.

It seems everyone I write about has such a love for her particular specialty that the women's page writer finds herself soon wrapped up in a similar project.

For example, one of the first "musts" on a women's page was a special recipe from a Mason cook. It is a real challenge to hunt around and find out what some of the fantastic formulas for happily eating are. My interest in this has even carried far enough so that each week this writer gets a little braver in dealing with pots, pans, flour, eggs and a stove.

Then came the feature stories about women and their special careers or hobbies. Shortly after interviewing hair stylist: Mrs. Randy Powers, my hair style and color changed. A little while ago 2 young Mason women, Mrs. Gary Nesbitt and Mrs. Barry Wentland, expanded their Knit and Kit shop--that was 2 hand knit sweaters ago to be more exact.

This could go on and on. A couple weeks have passed since Mrs. Lawrence Blood and her sewing talents, plus Mrs. Agnes Cogsdill and her hand sewn quilts, were featured. You guessed it. There's one more person in Mrs. Blood's sewing class and there is a catalog of available quilt patterns open on my desk.

Just to make sure I don't forget I have to earn a paycheck, occasionally a working gal like Mrs. Elliott Moore at the Mason police department or Enid Lewis, Delhi Township clerk, get a special spot on the women's page.

Can you imagine what it would be like to work on a daily newspaper? I have the feeling the fellows wearing white jackets would be regular visitors of mine.

Milestone Marked By Recovery Inc.

An international mental health organization known as Recovery Inc. marked an anniversary last week with a dinner at Horn's restaurant in Lansing.

The anniversary was the 12th since the organization was organized in the Lansing area. Guests of honor included Lieutenant Governor William D. Milliken, Mayor Max Murningham of Lansing and Mrs. Murningham, Mrs. Treasure Rice organizer of Recovery Inc. in Michigan and its president; Mrs. Kitty Shuma, of Midland, area leader of Michigan Recovery Inc. and Mrs. Margaret Sullivan of Saginaw, assistant area leader.

Other guests included representatives of the medical fraternity in Lansing, Lansing hospitals, the Michigan Nurses' association, Michigan department of mental health, the Ingham County Medical society, the Ingham county chapter of the Michigan Society for Mental Health, the Ingham county probate court and the Michigan Lions club.

Following the dinner guests listened to a panel demonstration of the after-care methods developed by the late Dr. Abraham A. Low of Chicago, a psychiatrist of national reputation, for the prevention of relapses in the former mental patient and the chronicity of the nervous patient.

Dr. Low founded Recovery Inc. in 1937 which was brought to Michigan by Mrs. Rice in 1947. A former patient she read an article in a magazine about Dr. Low. She went to Chicago to study his methods. Upon her return she met with 2 other patients of Dr. Low's in Detroit and they organized Recovery Inc. in Michigan. Since then the organization has grown extensively.

Recovery Inc. is self-supporting, non-profit, non-political and is not associated with any other group or individual.

George E. Winn of Lansing, one of the leaders in the movement in this area, points out that Recovery Inc. does not offer any medical or spiritual advice and in no way supplants the physician.

"Each leader", Winn said, "is a former nervous or mental patient, thoroughly trained in the use and application of these psychotherapy techniques and the format for moderating the meetings of the groups."

"The organization is managed and operated by lay people, all having been rehabilitated through the use and practice of Dr. Low's methods."

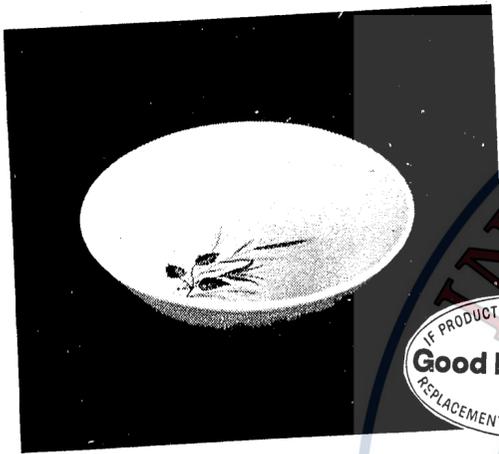

Winn said it has been estimated that more than 3,000 persons in Michigan each week avail themselves of these self-help psychotherapy techniques by attending meetings which are conducted regularly.

Michigan, he said, has more than 160 groups meeting regularly. Lansing has 8 such groups. All meetings are open to the public.

State Police School Ends January 28

Separate state police recruit and advance trooper training schools at East Lansing headquarters will end Friday, January 28, with new ones starting soon after, Col. Fredrick E. Davids, department director, said this week.

Fifty-six recruits will be graduated as probationary troopers in brief ceremonies starting at 2 p.m. January 28 in the auditorium of Kelllogg Center at Michigan State university. As is customary, there will be no formal program for the 30 troopers who complete their 4-week advanced training that day and then return to their respective posts.

Sixty-three officer candidates have been notified to report for the new 8-week recruit school starting Monday, January 31. A week later another month-long advanced training school will begin for 31 troopers. The advanced trooper training follows a period of field experience at posts, usually 6 months, served by officers after graduation from recruit school.

In addition, a first aid instructor's school is set at East Lansing February 1-3. Twenty new instructors will be trained during the 3-day session while 36 already qualified instructors will receive refresher schooling in a one-day meet February 3.

Safety Council Opens Campaign for $10,000

In the face of the mounting toll in traffic accidents, The Safety Council of Greater Lansing has launched a drive for $10,000 in additional membership funds in order to carry forward an expanded educational program to reduce accidents.

Plans for the campaign were announced at a dinner meeting for press, radio and television medias in Lansing last Wednesday evening. The Greater Lansing Safety Council serves all areas of Ingham and fringe areas of Clinton and Eaton counties.

Jack P. White, Oldsmobile public relations director and president of the Safety Council, in announcing plans for the campaign, said need for an intensified year-around program stems from the great economic loss in accidents which is certain to exceed $12,000,000 in Ingham County alone for 1965.

Statistical reports of the 4 major police enforcement agencies in Ingham county, Lansing and East Lansing police, state police and Ingham county sheriff's department reveal that traffic accidents are increasing at a rapid rate. This is reason for all citizens and organizations to redouble their efforts to reduce the traffic toll.

"While the Safety Council is supported by a large number of businesses, industries, government and individuals in the county, there are hundreds of firms that do not participate in the program. In this fund drive we are seeking greater participation and increased contributions where possible," White said.

"The Safety Council's educational program is far reaching in the schools and extends across county lines into Eaton and Clinton counties, White pointed out. With population growing fast in all areas within the 25 mile radius, demands for help from the Safety Council are increasing far beyond the present financial capacity. While work of the Council covers all areas of safety including the home, school, store and factory, fire prevention, water safety, and recreation, the major demand for increased activity is in the field of traffic, where the toll in death and human suffering has reached alarming proportions."

All solicitation in the drive for new memberships and increased funds will be by communication from the Safety Council offices and through personal contacts by members of the Council. Each member is provided with a plaque for display.

The program has full support of all governmental units in the county as well as the law enforcement agencies, schools and leading business and industrial institutions.

The Safety Council was founded in 1939 and is affiliated with the National Safety Council. Through its efforts many outstanding safety

Millage Vote Is Explained

Board members of the Dansville School Board explained the millage proposal that is to be voted upon on February 9 to Parent Teacher Association members at the January meeting held last week.

Three mills are being asked for operating expenses; this is a continuation of millage voted in five years ago. On the ballot also is a proposal to raise three mills for the building and site fund. A companion ballot to this is one to raise the millage over the fifteen mill levy now in effect. These both must pass in order for the three mills to be levied.

It was explained that a millage vote of three mills was passed 5 years ago for operating expenses and the expenses and the excess for building. Out of this amount a new science building was constructed, the home economics building was renovated and the entire school was brought up to fire code standards.

With the allocated money from the new millage proposal plans call for the building of additional classrooms on the south wing so that rooms presently used maybe released for the high school. The shop building is also to be renovated.

Board members are Mr. Fred Graft, president; Mr. Orla Sheathelm, treasurer and Mr. Grant Putman, secretary. Trustees are Jack Garner, Jearl McCabe, Rex Townsend and George Young.

There was also considerable discussion about the results of the Ingham County Reorganizational Study Committee Report and the fact that the State Study Committee had sent the report back for further information on both Dansville and Webberville Districts.

Clarence Bird, president of the school board for the White-dog school district, which is to be incorporated into the Williamston School District as a result of this study committee report, was present to offer any aid that he might give.

David Diehl, also a member of the county reorganizational study committee, expressed his feeling that this was a formality to question the smaller school districts, such as Dansville or Webberville, but that the bill was aimed mainly at districts such as White-dog, which did not offer the kindergarten through high school program.

Business Specialist at MSU Sees Prosperous Year Ahead

Michigan's economy will share in the expected unparalleled prosperity of 1966, according to a business specialist at Michigan State University.

"It seems a near certainty," says Dr. Leo Erickson "that 1966 will be another excellent year for automotive production and sale, probably exceeding the record year of 1965."

"Last year at this time," he adds, "one of our major concerns was the high rate of unemployment. Today that concern has abated and instead we are now worrying about the pressures of demand on labor force--particularly skilled labor." Dr. Erickson's optimistic outlook will be contained in the January issue of the Michigan Economic Record, a publication of the MSU Bureau of Business and Economic Research.

Dr. Erickson heads the bureau, a research and publishing function of the graduate school of business. The expectation of higher personal income in 1966 is reflected in increased consumer plans to buy during this year--particularly the high ticket items of automobiles and appliances, Dr. Erickson says.

Business investment nationally, Dr. Erickson notes, is expected to increase approximately 14 per cent.

"An increase of such magnitude," he explains, "is consistent with a situation in which 1965 corporate profits were up to the extent that, even with an increase in dividends, retained corporate profits were up about one-third."

"Add this to the pressure on capacity that is becoming more nearly general in industry, rising wage rates and increasing difficulty in obtaining high quality labor, and the result seems certain to be a substantial increase in capital outlays--both for expansion and improved technology."

Anticipated interest rate boosts, Dr. Erickson says, will not have a significant effect on expansion.

He also points out that increased expenditures by all levels of government, will also contribute to the rising level of the economy.

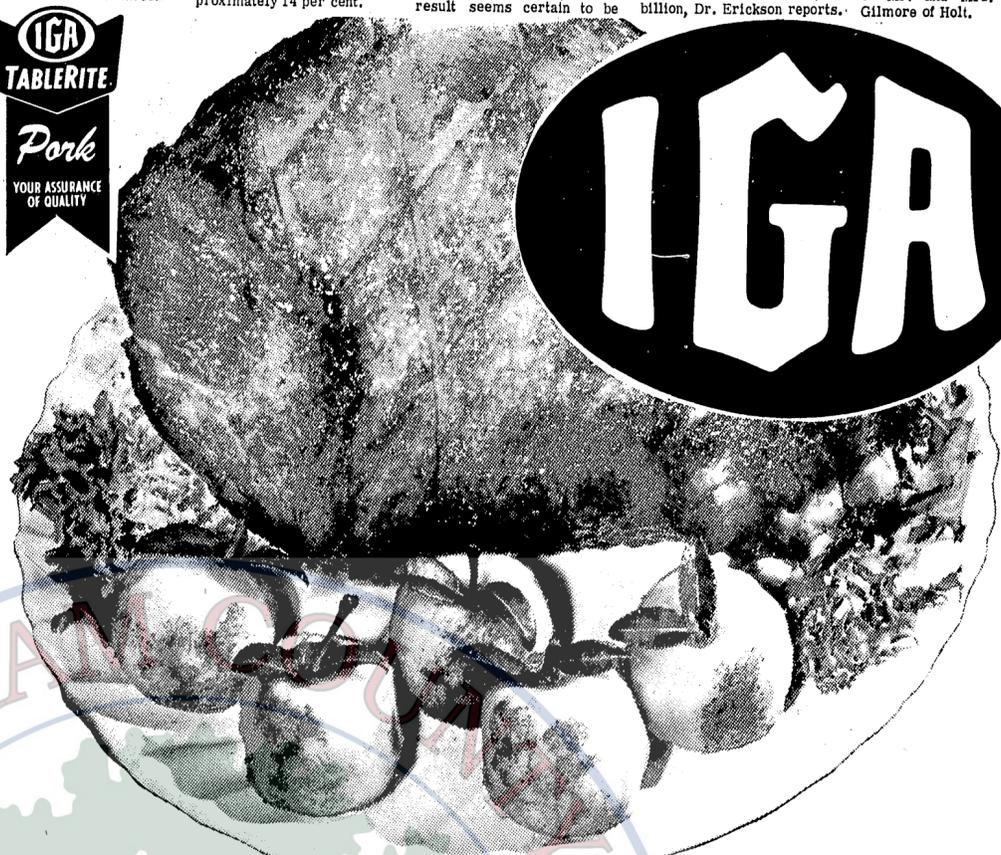

The gross national product may be in excess of $720 billion, Dr. Erickson reports.

In computing capacities of any joint use, the total space requirement is the sum of the individual requirements that will occur at the same time. If peak space requirements for individual uses occur at distinctly different times from the peak requirements for other joint uses, the maximum capacity required for joint use will be less than the sum of total space requirements. WATCH OUT BELOW--Mason's Gary Barker is about to have the boom lowered on him by Waverly's Steve Ayers, No. 10, and Roman Yatchak, No. 52, as he tries to get this shot off. Mason's Brian Doolittle waits for the shot which never came.

Mason Bounces Back

Mason got back in winning stride Tuesday night with a 75-67 win over Waverly in the Waverly court. The victory reversed a loss to the Lansing suburbanites in the second game of the season back in December.

It was an uphill fight all the way with Mason trailing by as much as 11 points until late in the third quarter when a fast breaking spree coupled with a full court press threw the Waverly team off stride.

Friday night Mason will take on O'Rafferty in Mason. The Bulldogs will find the Raiders a different team from the one which Mason upset back in December. The Raiders have a couple of tall boys in action who were not on hand for the first encounter.

Mason's win over Waverly came in a game which didn't have a lot in the way of smooth, fancy basketball but it did have a lot of excitement and Mason's fight and desire played the major part in earning the victory.

Mason matched Waverly basket for basket for the first 3 minutes of the game but the Bulldogs fell behind when Mike Kuchuk found the range with 3 straight long shots and a couple of foul shots. When the period ended Waverly was in front 19-10.

Late in the second quarter the Bulldogs put on the press and the fast break. The strategy paid off with some quick baskets allowing Mason to close the gap to 7 points after falling behind at one point by 13.

In the third quarter Mason started to click. Paul Allaire bagged 13 points in the period to give Mason a 15 point lead to take into the final quarter.

Waverly came on strong and pared the Mason lead to 3 early in the final quarter but Mason outlasted the rally, thanks to some timely shooting from the foul stripe and a scoring spree by Jim Powers which accounted for 13 points.

Allaire ended the game as the top shooter for Mason with 26 points. Powers was next with 23 and Ron Schneeberger and Gary Barker each bagged 10.

For Waverly Kuchuk was high with 19. John Yatchak finished with 15, Steve Ayers put down 16 and Steve Hatch scored 11.

Mason outshot Waverly from the floor 31-23. It was a different story at the foul line

Mason Man Sends Corn To Pilot in Viet Nam

Vietnamese people living in the Central Highlands of An Khe have a surprise in store for them. An area man Capt. John Ghere, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Ghere of Barnes road, Eaton Rapids, will soon be cultivating a crop of special Michigan corn.

Ghere, who was brought up on a farm, was recently assigned to the Viet Nam area with the First Cavalry Air Mobile division as helicopter pilot. He noticed the rich, fertile soil there which grows rice entirely and decided to try his luck with some corn. Ghere wrote home asking for some special seed corn.

Dorr Eckart, an Ingham county supervisor from Aurelius township and also sales representative of Cowbell Seed corn, learned of Ghere's request and recently shipped off 2 quarts of seed corn and is now awaiting word of how the seed grows in the far east.

Ghere decided to try raising some corn as an experimental hobby and to relieve the tensions of warfare. Capt. Ghere is 31 years of age and a graduate of Central Michigan university with 2 years of ROTC.

He received his wings as a graduate fixed-wing aircraft pilot in 1959 and later served as flight instructor of same at Ft. Rucker, Alabama. Ghere graduated as a helicopter pilot from the Army's Ft. Walters Helicopter school in Texas and was sent to Korea in April 1963 for a year's tour of duty.

The pilot flies one of the large Hueys that carries 2 machine gunners on each side and 24 rocket pads, 12 on each side. This squadron does the scouting and reconnaissance by helicopter.

Ghere is married to the former Barbara Nye of Olivet. She is now living in Charlotte, Michigan. They recently purchased a farm in Ingham county where they plan to live after their Army commitment is completed.

Agriculture In Action

A mid-winter trip through the Mississippi delta country reveals why Michigan farmers have cause to become much more thoughtful about the effects of government farm programs.

Although it is general knowledge that cotton farmers face heavier restrictions as the acreage-control programs develop, until now the full implications of the 1965 farm program have not been obvious.

The "new" farm program is incredibly complex. One southern county Agricultural Agent reports that there are 28 alternatives facing the cotton grower within the plan. For the first time, the farm program legalized the sale of cotton allotments and has reportedly brought about much allotment buying and selling activity on the part of oil mills and cotton gins as they attempt to control production necessary to keep their plants running.

Prices for allotments in many cases are almost as great as the market price of the land itself, running from $50 to $75 per-acre on land normally selling at the $100 per-acre mark. Further, much of the acreage held by small farmers is being bid in by nearby larger farmers, subverting the announced aim of the program described as "designed to keep cotton in the hands of the family-sized farmer."

The smaller farmers are sorely tempted to sell, not only because of the sudden increased allotment and land value, but because they have had such acreage cuts that there is scant income-ability remaining. One grower reports that only about half of last year's cotton acreage in his county will be planted, the balance left idle to allow the grower to qualify for the government supports and payments.

Fortunately, for the southern farmer, cotton is interchangeable with soybeans and Michigan farmers can brace themselves for an expected southern increase in this cash-crop. In the words of one Mississippi delta farmer, "remember, I can raise a winter crop of small grain and a crop of soybeans in the same year on the same land--and I can get a yield of soys that is fully as high per acre as you can get in the north."

Farm Views And News

By R. C. LOTT

Anyone commercially feeding beef cattle will be interested in the cattle feeders' short course at MSU. There are 5 sessions scheduled, 10 to 3:30 on February 16, 23, March 2, 9, and 16. Topics to be discussed include practically every important concern in the beef cattle business.

Program folders are available at our office and will be mailed upon request. A nominal charge for the short course includes 5 luncheons in the international building at MSU where the course is to be offered. Beef feeders cannot afford to miss this opportunity to make their enterprise profitable.

Beef feeding, like most enterprises, is keenly competitive. Any mistake in its operation can eliminate the chance for a profit. The Ingham county beef committee is made up of Duane Baldwin and Doug McKim of Stockbridge, Ray Launstein and Eldean Herbler of Williamston and James Frost of Dansville.

Are you considering planting an evergreen windbreak around your home or farm buildings or planting tree seedlings for Christmas trees or timber on your farm this spring?

The Ingham county soil conservation district are pooling orders at very reasonable costs. Order blanks are available and orders should be received by February 20, 1966. Paul Rowe, 4291 W. Columbia road of Mason, telephone OR 7-5883, is in charge of this program for the district. He will pick up the trees in the spring and notify those with orders as soon as they are here to pick up.

If you haven't got your program for Farmer's Week at MSU, we have extra copies available at our office. Programs are scheduled for practically every farm enterprise. The homemaker and children will find many worthwhile meetings and exhibits also.

This educational event has no equal at any land grant university in the United States. Many people come from distant points in Michigan to spend the entire week and feel it is the best opportunity of the year to keep well informed. We in Ingham county are so close that we cannot afford not to attend programs of our major concerns.

We have received a supply of income tax guides and various filing forms. Should you need copies, they are available.

Farm Service Group Officers Attend Meeting

Elton Smith, president of Farm Bureau services, Inc., and L.A. Cheney, executive secretary of Michigan Association of Farmer cooperatives, have been named as the organization's voting delegates to the 37th annual meeting of the National Council of Farmer Cooperatives, to be held at Washington, D.C., January 18-20.

Other representatives will be Maynard Brownlee, manager, Farm Bureau services, Inc.; Jack McKendry, manager, Farmers Petroleum cooperative; Carl Heiser, president, Farmers Petroleum cooperative; Leon Monroe, treasurer, Farm Bureau services, Inc.; Edwin Steffen, legal advisor, Michigan Farm Bureau, and Robert Braden, secretary-manager, Michigan Agricultural Cooperative Marketing association.

The Council is a nationwide association of farmers' marketing and purchasing cooperatives which represents some 5,700 individual units serving nearly 3,000,000 farm memberships.

The meeting will be the first ever held at Washington, and more than 500 farm and cooperative leaders from all parts of the nation and Puerto Rico are expected to attend.

Farm Outlook

Here is the mid-January market report from Dr. John Ferris, agricultural marketing specialist for the Michigan State University Cooperative Extension service.

MILK -- Prices should continue to increase in 1966 because many of the same market forces of 1965 will continue. Base prices in Detroit (Southern Michigan marketing area) averaged about $4.40 per hundredweight in 1965. This is seven cents above 1964 and eleven cents above 1963.

The general business climate in Michigan will be favorable. This will provide a strong demand for Class 1, milk but will also perpetuate the tight labor situation which tends to hold down milk production, Ferris says. The strong cattle and hog market will attract some resources away from dairy in Michigan and other farm areas.

Price supports on milk will at least increase slightly in line with rising prices paid by farmers. The Class I price of $5.10 established by the MMPA for August 1965 to July 1966 runs about 10 cents over the year before. In addition, the change in the Federal Order which reduces the direct shipment differential is adding from 5 cents (Detroit) to 8.6 cents (Muskegon) to Class I prices.

CATTLE -- The key question in the outlook for 1966 and the next few years is the timing of a general expansion of beef herds. If this picks up momentum in 1966, cattle prices could easily go higher as heifers are bid away from feed lot operators and cow slaughter drops sharply. There is little indication that this is happening. Cow slaughter is above year earlier levels and more heifers are on feed.

Prices on choice steers at Detroit averaged about $25.75 in 1965. Holstein (standard) steers averaged $20-$21 and choice heifers, $24. Prices should average near these levels in 1966. More fed cattle, particularly steers, will be on the market. Cow slaughter should taper off.

HOGS -- Prices on 200-220 pound barrows and gilts averaged over $22 per hundredweight at Chicago in 1965, $6 higher than in 1964. Pork production dropped about 10 per cent. P1 percent. Pork production has been down twenty percent from last years since mid-October. Prices advanced sharply in November and December.

PORK production should continue to decline in the first half of 1966 and increase moderately in the last half. The '65 pig crop was down 5 per cent from the previous year. Despite increased farrowings in the first half of '66, the exceptionally strong market will continue to support favorable prices. These prices will be stronger than '65 in the first half, somewhat lower in the fall.

LAMBS -- Prices on choice lambs averaged about $25 in Detroit in 1965, $2 higher than in 1964. Prices should average somewhat higher in 1966 as marketings continue to decline. Fewer lambs are on feed, indicating a strong winter market. The 1966 lamb crop may be about the same as in 1965 but more ewe lambs will likely be retained for building flocks.

BGGS -- On a yearly basis, egg prices were the same in '65 as '64. The prices were higher early in the year, however, and higher later on. First receivers in the Detroit market have paid about 36 cents a dozen for Grade A. Prices in 1966 are expected to average slightly above 1965, although higher in the first half and lower in the second half than 1964.

TURKEYS -- Prices to Michigan farmers averaged about 22 cents late in 1965, about the same as the previous year. Prospects are for slightly lower prices in late 1966.

WHEAT -- Prices advanced to around $1.55 - $1.60 per bushel in Central Michigan late in 1965. Wheat sold at harvest brought the same as last year, $1.25 - $1.30. Prices on the 1966 crop based on production prospects. Seeded acreage in the Midwestern states is down about 10 percent. Production in this area may be the same as last year's small crop. Elsewhere, the winter wheat crop may be slightly larger than in 1965.

DRY BEANS -- The December 1 estimate of Michigan's 1965 navy bean crop was 28 per cent below 1964. Prices on navies frimed up in late December to $8.50 per hundredweight. Light reds edged up to $10 while other classes remained steady. A good export movement coupled with the smaller crop should keep navy bean prices on a firm basis for the remainder of the crop year.

SOYBEANS -- Prices continued to climb at the year's end, reflecting a reduction in the crop estimate, a heavy rate of crush and exports combined with the international tension. Prices in southeast Michigan pushed above $2.50 per bushel in late December. The crop has been estimated to be 20% over last year. Carryover levels are likely to increase but are not going to be burdensome.

CORN -- Prices moved up above $1.10 in December in central Michigan. The market is generally near the minimum CCC sales price. As in the past, the CCC will offer feed grain for sale at a schedule of minimum prices throughout the crop year. The schedule involves an escalation of a 1 1/2 cents per bushel per month carrying charge, which may about set the upper limit on the corn market here through mid-summer.

POTATOES -- After the start of the new year, there will probably be some increased pressure to move potatoes. The demand may increase as stores rebuild stocks following the holiday season. There is a demand for good chipping potatoes. However, stocks presently in stores are above last year's substantial amounts. Florida and California crops are up 40 percent over last year.

APPLES -- The nation's '65 commercial crop totalled 135.7 million bushels. This is 3 percent below the '64 crop but 11 per cent above Michigan's crop of 16 million bushels was down 3 percent from the previous year, but accounted for more than

Scientists Studying Lactations

Cows are milked 10 months and are "dried up" for two. Farmers have their animals bred so they fall into this pattern. Furthermore, nearly all dairy herd records are kept on a 305-day lactation basis.

Why? Scientists are wondering... and they're trying to figure out if there might be a more profitable lactation period. Dr. Clinton Meadows, Michigan State university dairy scientist, is currently experimenting with 2 groups of heifers to see what would happen if the animals had calves every 14 months instead of every 12. Half of the heifers are being bred to produce on a 305-day lactation, while the rest will produce 365 days before getting a 2 months' rest before calving.

Production per day of the animal's productive life, the number of lactation and breeding efficiency are being examined.

half the production of the Central states. On a national basis, these states accounted for more than 21 percent of the total crop.

Cropland Sign-up Is Heavy

Frank Light, chairman of the Michigan ASC State committee, reports that thousands of farmers applied on the opening day of January 10, 1966 at their local county ASCS offices for participation in the 1966 Cropland Adjustment program. Many counties filed over a 100 requests by producers who wish to participate in this voluntary program.

The Cropland Adjustment program is designed mainly to offer producers an annual adjustment payment for diverting land from corn and wheat production to conservation uses. After diverting either the corn or wheat acreage, a producer is also offered an opportunity to place the balance of the eligible land on his farm in the program at a lower rate.

Light further points out that counties and communities within counties are limited to the amount of land that can be taken out of production. This limitation was reached on the opening day of sign-up in many areas. Those producers who have requests on file that cannot be accepted this year will be offered an opportunity to participate in the program during the next sign-up period which will be early in 1967.

'Hamlet' Returning To MSU

Michigan State University's Performing Arts company is bringing their production of "Hamlet" back for a return performance at the University auditorium February 22 - 23. For this special run there will be only general admission tickets with no seats reserved. "Hamlet" is being repeated especially for students and teachers who were unable to see the production during its first run. The company especially welcomes theatre parties and groups interested in this play.

The auditorium box office will be open February 14 - 18 and 21 - 23 from 12:30 - 5 p.m.

"Hamlet" is a revenge tragedy in which the hero attempts valiantly to accomplish revenge for the death of his father but is frustrated in his attempts by the cleverness of Claudius.

The play is tragedy in the sense that the death of these people, particularly Hamlet, Ophelia, and Laertes, is awe-inspiring, terrifying waste. The point that Shakespeare makes - the nub of his tragic vision - is that the world does indeed so combine in an inexplicable manner to crush valuable and lovely people.

"Hamlet" is set in Denmark in the Byzantine period. This period allows the setting to have a primitive, rich atmosphere which is quite important in the visualization of the play and its conflict. Hamlet's environment is labyrinthine and prison-like.

The costumes are elaborate with deep rich colors and elegant fabrics.

March of Dimes Asks for Funds

March of Dimes leaders appealed for increased public support to meet new commitments in the fight against birth defects, especially the needs of thousands of victims of the recent measles epidemic in the nation.

Speaking for the Ingham county national foundation-march of dimes organization as the traditional January campaign opened, Fred B. Towns, campaign director, and Robert Yelvington, chapter president, underscored the necessity for additional funds this year.

"Our programs to strike against the cause of birth defects as well as their results are being stepped up dramatically in 1966," Towns said. "We will be making a major effort to increase the opportunities for every American baby to be born healthy.. while offering significantly improved diagnosis and treatment for substantially more birth defect victims."

While doing this, Towns added, the March of Dimes will be sponsoring a program aimed at providing better prenatal care because healthier mothers usually have healthier babies.

"And, of course," the campaign leader pointed out, "we must continue to expand our scientific research program into the causes and means of preventing birth defects."

The 1966 Michigan Garden Queen will be chosen from regional Garden Queens representing Metropolitan Detroit, Central Michigan, Saginaw Valley, Kalamazoo Valley and Grand Rapids chapters of M.A.N. This year she will be called Michigan's Natural Beauty Queen as well before the court without jury, proof in full, taken under advisement.

Radio Station Seeks Rezoning

The Vevay township zoning board has called a public hearing for Friday February 11 at 8 p.m. in the Vevay township hall on an amendment to Ordinance No. 3 which would rezone property at Ives and Tomlinson roads as C-commercial.
 The property is the proposed site of a radio station to be operated by Melvin Wirth of Howell. He plans to erect a tower on the property and use a house on the property as a studio. The station, which he hopes to have in operation about June 1, will carry the call letters WSMN.
 Wirth operated a radio station in Howell for about 5 years, but sold it 4 years ago. He is now employed as an engineer at radio station WJIM in Lansing.

For God

Here men give evidence of some deep, deep decisions. They are casting their lots for God. In a heart-to-heart talk a father gives his witness for the deepest faith he possesses. He has been successful in business because he kept the approval of his God. Now he wants to know from his sons if he can count on them to perpetuate the integrity, justice and godliness which marked the history of his business. God wants to know that of you, too, Mister. This is a moment of high decision with these men. Maybe you are making important decisions too. One thing for sure... your success will be greater when God is your Senior Partner. If you are "For God" you will attend His church and support His cause on earth... be For God.

YOU IN THE CHURCH THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are associated with traditions that build and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are molding religious character. Students today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we with our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you" form a combination for good. The regular CHURCHGODDER and a daily BIBLE READER.
