

Surgeons Report of Deaths and Discharged

List of Deaths in the Eighth Michigan Regiment from Sept 23, 1861, to Jan. 13, 1862.

COMPANY A

Private Theodore Jennings, small pox; Private Albert Newman, remittent fever; Private Peter Friety, typhoid fever; Private Oliver J. Cone, typhoid fever; Sergeant James H. Atchinson, typhoid fever; Sergeant David B. Foote, gun shot wound; Private Ira Armstrong, gun shot wound; Private Edward Brooks, gun shot wound; Corporal J. Q. Adams, gun shot wound; Private Thos. Heather, chronic dysentery.

COMPANY B

Capital Area District Libraries

Correspondence of the Lansing Republican.
From the Twelfth Michigan Regiment.

BETHEL STATION, Tennessee, }
June 11th, 1862. }

Editor Republican:—

Dear Sir: Allow me to state to your readers the condition of Capt. I. M. Cravath's company, in the 12th Regiment Michigan Infantry, as there has been a great change in said company since the last communication you have received from Capt. Cravath.

I believe you have not heard anything direct from this company since the battle of Shiloh.

As this company was raised mostly from Ingham and Eaton counties, it will be interesting to the citizens of those counties to hear something about it, and find out where their sons, brothers and neighbors are, and how they are doing.

On the 8th day of April, one day after the fight, Capt. Cravath was taken sick with a fever. About a week afterwards he got leave of absence and went North on board of a steamboat, and has never been heard from directly by this regiment up to this time. We once heard that he was dead, then it was contradicted. Afterwards we heard that he was in Ohio, and then that he was about well. Then again we heard that he was dead, but the latter is not confirmed. The Captain ought to let us know something of his whereabouts, and how he is getting along. So much for that.

At the same time Capt. Cravath left, more than fifty out of this company were sick with fever and diarrhoea. Some of them have returned to their company and are now doing duty, while others were sent North to hospitals—some to St. Louis, others to Cincinnati, Quincy, Ill., Evansville, Ind., and elsewhere.

At the battle of Pittsburg Landing, we lost in killed one, John Schleicher, from Lansing.

Lieut. A. G. Davis was wounded and afterwards died at Cincinnati.

Austin Miller, from Leslie, wounded, and afterwards died.

Martin Ackley, Leslie, wounded and is getting well.

John Roeddles, jr., Meridian, wounded and doing well.

John B. Botz, from Vermontville, wounded and getting better.

William Belcher was wounded slightly, but has not been heard from since.

I will now give you a list of the missing since the battle:

Sergt. Samuel W. Grinell, from Sunfield.

Corp. Thomas C. Kenyon, and privates John Nagel, Wm. Oatly and Jerome B. Lafferty, from Lansing.

Private Talcott B. Irish, Alaiedon.

" Wm H. Lombard, Vermontville.

" Asahel Parker, Meridian.

These are all we lost at the battle of Shiloh, April 6th and 7th, 1862.

“ Abner Parker, Meridian.

These are all we lost at the battle of Shiloh, April 6th and 7th, 1862.

Since then we have been stationed near the landing to guard the boats and to gather up our men as much as possible, but we met with poor success, and the regiment is not so strong to-day as it was the day we marched back from the lines, 4 miles this side of Corinth.

We have lost a number of men who died by disease, which was raging like fury all over the battle field. I will give you a list of members of this company who died while we were stationed near the river :

Sergt. Henry C. Guest, died May 26th—disease debility.

Corporal Henry B. Palmer, Washtenaw, died May 27th with Lung Fever.

Daniel Ellis, Lansing, died of fever at Savannah Hospital, 9 miles below Pittsburg Landing.

Milton P. Hall, Castleton, died of Lung Fever.

Wm. H. Lennan, Meridian, died of Lung Fever.

Yesterday, I received notice that Gilbert Allen, Delhi, died at Quincy, Ill., of Typhoid Fever, and how many more have died in hospitals North, I cannot tell.

It seems as if this company, or the regiment, (for other companies lose in proportion) is going as fast as a body of men can go; where I cannot tell, but one after another disappears from the ranks.

Our company reports now 79 members, of which there are only 30 present, including one commissioned officer, and of these 30 there are only 21 fit for duty, and we are one of the largest companies in the regiment. The balance of the company is scattered all over the country, from West Tennessee to Michigan—wherever a hospital can be found. It is said that there is not a hospital without men in it from the 12th Michigan regiment.

As far as news, from the war is concerned, there is none. We are now stationed at Bethel, a railroad station 20 miles north of Corinth, but we expect marching orders every day. The Colonel says that this regiment is going towards Memphis, which we all would like very much. I hope this will be the case.

Mr. Editor, if you know anything of the whereabouts of Capt. Cravath, I wish you would be so kind as to let us know all about it.

I hope that Corporal John Strong will follow up his company as soon as possible, as every man's services are needed here at the present time, and I do further hope that those now in hospitals will soon return to their regiment or company.

For about two weeks I have been confined to my bed and tent on account of fever and “Tennessee Quickstep,” but am all right again.

Yours, &c.,

GEO. H. GASSENMERE,

1st Lieut. Co. G, 12th Regt. M. I.

Anthony, Lydia F, 1833-1862, Lansing Republican,
June 25 1862, p. 3

D I E D .

In Meridian, June 22d, of Consumption, LYDIA E wife of Frank Anthony, aged 25 years.

Armstrong, Ira, 1862, Lansing Republican,
February 5 1862, p. 2

Surgeons Report of Deaths and Discharged

List of Deaths in the Eighth Michigan Regiment from Sept 23, 1861, to Jan. 13, 1862.

COMPANY A

Private Theodore Jennings, small pox; Private Albert Newman, remittent fever; Private Peter Friety, typhoid fever; Private Oliver J. Cone, typhoid fever; Sergeant James H. Atchinson, typhoid fever; Sergeant David B. Foote, gun shot wound; Private Ira Armstrong, gun shot wound; Private Edward Brooks, gun shot wound; Corporal J. Q. Adams, gun shot wound; Private Thos. Heather, chronic dysentery.

Capital Area District Libraries

Surgeons Report of Deaths and Discharged

List of Deaths in the Eighth Michigan Regiment from Sept 23, 1861, to Jan. 13, 1862

COMPANY A

Private Theodore Jennings, small pox ; Private Albert Newman, remittent fever ; Private Peter Friety, typhoid fever ; Private Oliver J. Cone typhoid fever ; Sergeant James H. Atchinson typhoid fever ; Sergeant David B. Foote, gun shot wound ; Private Ira Armstrong, gun shot wound ; Private Edward Brooks, gun shot wound ; Corporal J. Q. Adams, gun shot wound ; Private Thos. Heather, chronic dysentery.

Letters from the Michigan 3d Regiment.

HEADQUARTERS BERRY'S BRIGADE,
 (Near the Battle Field of May 31st.) }
 June 3, 1862. }

GEO. I. PARSONS, Esq., Dear Sir:—I wrote on the evening of the battle to my wife, giving a hasty description of the part which our Brigade took in the action of that day; also, a partial list of the killed and wounded of our company.

The reports were not completed until late last night, and I now enclose an abstract from them of the loss of the three Michigan Regiments of our Brigade:

MICHIGAN 2D.	KILLED.	WOUNDED.	MISSING.
Officers,	none.	2	none.
Enlisted men,	10	41	2
MICHIGAN 3D.
Officers,	1	8	none.
Men,	25	104	27
MICHIGAN 5TH.
Officers,	1	4	none.
Men,	57	115	14

Making an aggregate of 378—some of the missing will undoubtedly be found.

The loss of our Lansing company is severe, and comprises some of the best men of the company.

Sergt. Chas. T. Foster, the Color Sergt. of the Regiment was the first to fall. He was bravely holding the colors, and by his coolness and courage, doing much to encourage the boys to press on. Orderly E. F. Siverd was soon after wounded, but still did his duty and urged his comrades on. Soon after this, Corporals Case B. Wickham, John Blanchard and Nathaniel T. Atkinson, and privates Samuel Dowell and Charles T. Gaskell received fatal shots. Atkinson and Dowell were brought from the field before they died. All have been buried, and their resting places marked with a board giving the name, company and regiment.

Jackson, Clays, Benson, Trimmer and Crane, are in camp, and the balance of the wounded have been sent on the cars to White House Landing to be forwarded to their homes, and

All have been buried, and their resting places marked with a board giving the name, company and regiment.

Jackson, Clays, Benson, Trimmer and Crane, are in camp, and the balance of the wounded have been sent on the cars to White House Landing to be forwarded to their homes, and where they are not able to stand the journey will be taken to hospitals at Fortress Monroe, Washington, and Baltimore, but I think it is the intention to send them home when they are able to go, and can be better cared for. There is an order from the War Department commuting the rations of the sick and wounded soldiers at 25 cents per day while away from the charge of the Department.

Gen. Berry's Assistant Adjutant General Capt. E. M. Smith was killed during the engagement. He was a most gallant and brave officer, and beloved by all who knew him. He distinguished himself at the battle of Williamsburg for his bravery, as will be seen by the official report of both Generals Kearny and Berry. Four of my comrades, with myself, carried him back to the station and buried him in a pleasant orchard where many more have been buried since.

Capt. Judd, of Co. "A," 3d Regiment, was killed while in charge of the Sharpshooters in the advance of our Brigade.

Captain Quackenbush, of the 5th, was also killed.

Col. Champlin was wounded severely though it is not considered dangerous. He walked some distance after he was wounded, and by his presence and energy did much to encourage his men.

I would gladly speak of the merits of each of our company who are dead, had I the ability of doing so as they deserve; they were beloved by all, and their many mourning friends may be assured they have the heartfelt sympathy of every one of us.

Our knapsacks are all back with the wagon train across the river and may not soon be up, facts of those who are gone, and forward them to their friends as soon as possible.

Our Division moved last evening farther to the front and across the railroad, to the right, and in the rear of Generals Sedgwick and Richard

fects of those who are gone, and forward them to their friends as soon as possible.

Our Division moved last evening farther to the front and across the railroad, to the right, and in the rear of Generals Sedgwick and Richardson's Divisions.

Gen. Richardson's Division was engaged last Sunday and he lost about 900 men. He came to our camp to day, and was immediately surrounded by the Brigade who greeted him with the wildest enthusiasm!

The weather is very warm, with frequent showers, which keeps the roads in a horrible condition.

Our boys are feeling quite tired out, but stand it as a general thing well. Corporal Shattuck, and private W. F. Hogan, arrived in camp yesterday from the Hospital at Yorktown; they report Sergt. J. B. Ten Eyck as getting better, but not yet able to return for duty.

The rebels are holding their position here better than at any other place in Virginia, still we have no doubt of our final success.

The official reports of the engagement of the 31st of May, I suppose will soon be published, so that you can have a better idea of the part our regiment performed. They were in the advance of the balance of the Brigade, and fought with a determination seldom equalled. General's Kearney and Berry both gave us great praise.

The loss of 37th N. Y. Regiment was 81 killed, wounded and missing.

I earnestly hope it may not be my duty to again report losses such as these to our brigade. Our numbers are small, but each feel that we still have a duty to perform, and while there is a man left to do duty, I trust you will hear of it being done well.

I will try to keep your readers informed of our whereabouts and doings, but I am well aware they will miss "Stray Leaves from Camp," and with us, mourn the loss of their author.

Capt. Jefferds has been obliged to forward his resignation on account of continuing ill health, and will probably soon be at home so that our many friends can hear more particularly from each.

Yours,

HOMER L. THAYER.

Resolutions of the 8th Michigan Regiment
on the Death of Adjutant N. Miner Pratt,
and Lieut. Frederick M. Badger.

CAMP OF THE 8TH MICHIGAN, }
Beaufort, S. C., April 21st, 1862. }

At a meeting of the officers of the 8th Michigan Regiment, held in Beaufort, S. C., April 21st, 1862, and of which Major A. B. Watson was Chairman, and Capt. S. C. Guild Secretary, a committee was appointed to draft resolutions expressive of the feelings of the officers in regard to the death of Adjutant N. Miner Pratt, and of Lieut. Frederick M. Badger, of Company C, who were killed in the action on Wilmington Island, Savannah River, April 16th—the former while standing by the side of the Colonel—the latter while commanding the advance pickets. The following officers were appointed on the Committee :

Lieut.-Col. Frank Graves, Capt. E. W. Lyon, Capt. S. C. Guild, Lieut. Asa Gregory, Lieut. G. E. Swincoe.

The following resolutions in regard to the death of Adjutant Pratt were presented by the committee, and adopted by the meeting :

Whereas, It has seemed good to the Almighty Disposer of all Human Events, to cloud the hour of victory by the death of our beloved Adjutant, N. Miner Pratt, who fell in the action on Wilmington Island, Savannah River—a victim to this accursed rebellion ; therefore,

Resolved, That while we bow in submission beneath the heavy stroke which has deprived our regiment of one of its most active and valued members, and us of a true and genial friend, yet we cannot refrain from the expression of our sincere and abiding grief for the loss of one so admirable, as well for his manly character, his brave and loyal heart, and his peculiar fitness for the office which he adorned.

Resolved. That, in his death, the service has been deprived of one of its most energetic and gallant officers while the 8th Michigan Regiment has met a loss while even time cannot repair sincere and abiding grief for the loss of one so admirable, as well for his manly character, his brave and loyal heart, and his peculiar fitness for the office which he adorned.

Capital Area District Libraries

Resolved, That, in his death, the service has been deprived of one of its most energetic and gallant officers whice the 8th Michigan Regiment has met a loss while even time cannot repair.

Resolved, That, to his widowed mother, who gave him to his country, and to the family and friends who mourn the loss of him who was their stay and pride, we tender our deep and earnest sympathy, and beg that we may be permitted with their grief to mingle ours. Yet let us be comforted; for one glorious death is worth more than a thousand aimless lives. He lived and died like a soldier and a christian, and we are assured that his spirit now free from strife and at peace with God, is enjoying the rich rewards of a pure and lofty life.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family of the deceased, and also furnished to the papers of Flint, Lansing and Detroit, for publication.

Resolutions commemorative of the death of Lieut. Badger, were also adopted. And Rev. Wm. Mahon, Capt. B. B. Church, and Lieut. H. Belcher were appointed a committee to make arrangements for procuring suitable monuments for the lamented dead.

Meeting adjourned.

Capt. S. C. GUILD, Secretary.

DIED.

In this city, August 15, CORDELIA, wife of Hon. Milo L. Baker, and daughter of Wm. F. Davis, Esq., aged 25 years and 4 months.

Mr. Baker removed from Ionia county the present season, and has been engaged in the erection of a large Foundry, in this city, but while thus employed he has been stricken by disease, and to this affliction is now, by a mysterious act of Divine Providence, added the bereavement of his wife.

Com.

Barnes, George, 1862, Lansing Republican,
April 30 1862, p. 2

COMPANY H—CAPT. JOHNSON.

Killed—Privates Wm. Wilson, Geo. Barnes

—2.

Barnes, Heenan, 1859-1862, Lansing Republican,
March 12 1862, p. 3

In the township of Delhi, on the 3d inst., of Lung fever, HEENAN, son of Allen and Rhoda A. Barnes, aged 21 months. COM.

SAD ACCIDENT.—A painful accident occurred in this city, on Wednesday afternoon, resulting in the death of Mr. John Bates. Mr. Bates was engaged in digging a well, at the residence of John A. Kerr, Esq., and had got down to the depth of about twenty feet, when the earth caved in upon him, burying him to the depth of five or six feet. Being so far down, and the nature of the soil being that of a light, loose sand, it was found necessary to curb the well before the unfortunate man could be reached, as the earth kept continually giving way. The operation of curbing and removing the loose earth took so long a time, that altho' the most strenuous efforts were made to save the man alive, upon reaching him it was found that life was extinct. No blame can be attached to any person, except to Mr. Bates himself, as he was adjured by Mr. Kerr to curb the well, and knew full well the nature of the soil. Mr. Bates was an old well digger, having been engaged in the business, in this city, for several years past. He was a poor man, and leaves a large family in indigent circumstances.

Bates, Mary Ann, 1862, Lansing Republican,
April 9 1862, p. 3

In this city, April 4th, MARY ANN BATES.

KILLED.

First Regiment — Colonel Roberts, Captain
Pomeroy, Lieut. Haupin.

Third Regiment — Lieut. Hess, Co. D; Corporal
Van Dusen, Co. D; Corporal Berringer,
Co. D; Corporal Traverse, Co. D; Corporal
Mead, Co. K; — McGrath, Co. D; H. D.
Beckwith, Co. K; C. W. Bullen, Co. K; W.
Halsey, Co. K; J. J. Powley, Co. K.

First Cavalry — Lieut. G. Morse.

Beebe, Emily F, 1830-1862, Lansing Republican,
December 17 1862, p. 3

Also, at the same place, Dec. 6, 1862, of Typhoid Fever, EMILY F. BEEBE, aged 32 years.

Beebe, Marcia, 1806-1862, Lansing Republican,
December 17 1862, p. 3

Also, at the same place, Oct. 25, 1862, of Typhoid Fever, M. RCIA BEEBE, widow of Silas Beebe, deceased, aged 64 years,

Also, at the same place, Dec. 2, 1862, of Typhoid Fever,

Beebe, Marcus, 1852-1862, Lansing Republican,
December 17 1862, p. 3

DIED.

At Stockbridge, Mich., April 5, 1862, of Diphtheria, MARCUS BEEBE, aged 10 years.

Bennett, George V, 1858-1862, Lansing Republican,
December 31 1862, p. 3

In Blackman, Jackson Co., Mich., on Friday, the 26th inst., of Diphtheria, GEORGE V. BENNETT, aged 4 years 2 months and 15 days, infant son of Wm. C. and Harriet Bennett, late of the city of Lansing.

How many hopes lie buried in the grave of little George. Truly the ways of Providence are past finding out.

COM.

Berringer, Corporal, 1862, Lansing Republican,
September 10 1862, p. 2

KILLED.

First Regiment — Colonel Roberts, Captain
Pomeroy, Lieut. Haupin.

Third Regiment—Lieut. Hess, Co. D; Corporal
Van Dusen, Co. D; Corporal Berringer,
Co. D; Corporal Traverse, Co. D; Corporal
Mead, Co. K; — McGrath, Co. D; H. D.
Beckwith, Co. K; C. W. Bullen, Co. K; W.
Halsey, Co. K; J. J. Powley, Co. K.

First Cavalry—Lieut. G. Morse.

WOUNDED.

Correspondence of the Lansing Republican.
Letters from the Michigan 3d Regiment.

CAMP OF MICHIGAN 3D REGIMENT, }
Near Richmond, Va., June 20, 1862. }

GEO. I. PARSONS, Esq., Dear Sir:—Since writing my last, giving the loss of our company, &c., we have again moved to the front. Our position is well to the left, while the main force of the rebels is supposed to be further to the right, though we have sufficient indication of their presence near us, to keep all well on the look out.

The preparations which are being made for future operations I have no right to describe, but of this much you may be certain, we feel certain of success. Richmond is doomed. It is only a question of a few days time.

Lieut. Baker, of the Sharpshooters, came to see us to-day, his company having just come from Mechanicsville to this part of the lines, and is attached to Gen. Granklin's division.

The following is an abstract from this morning's report of our company, present and absent:

Present for duty—1 Captain, 1 2d Lieut., 10 non commissioned officers, and 33 privates.

On daily duty—6.

Present sick—6.

Total present—2 officers and 56 men.

Absent on detached service—1 1st Lieut. and 1 private.

Sick—16.

Total absent—1 officer and 17 men.

Aggregate of company—75.

The following are the names of the officers of Co. G:

Captain—Abraham J. Whitney.

1st Lieut.—Joseph Mason.

2d Lieut.—Homer L. Thayer.

Orderly Sergeant—George Ellis.

Sergeants—Jerome B. Ten Eyck, Joseph Stevens, Artemas G. Newman, and George M. Cook.

Corporals—Chas. H. Church, Chas. A. Price, Allen Shattuck, William F. Hogan, Benjamin F. Hammond, John Bissell, Joshua R. Benson and Peter Clays.

Lieut. Mason is now in Michigan on the recruiting service.

Sergt. Ten Eyck, Corporal Church and private Lemuel Smith were, when last heard from, (some 8 days ago,) in the hospital at Yorktown.

John Broad is in hospital on Davis Island, East River, New York. Peter Causally, Okemos, Mich. Wm. Clark, DeWitt, Mich. Lawrence Croy, State Hospital, New Haven, Conn.

O. C. Ingersoll, Norman L. Johnson and Jas. Trimmer, General Hospital, Judiciary Square, Washington, D. C. Francis Lackey and John Sayles, Annapolis, Md. Alex. Ross, Portsmouth, Va. Chas. H. Rose, Watertown, Mich.

John Shaft left at hospital near the Chickahominy. William R. Stall and Chas. H. Adams, have just gone to regimental hospital. Arthur Watkins has returned from the hospital at Washington, recovered from the wound received on the 31st, which proved not so bad as was first supposed. Charles H. Adams has just returned from the hospital at Annapolis, where he has been since sometime last January.

By notice received from Douglas Hospital at Washington, we learn that Augustus Billings died on the 17th from the effect of his wounds.

Several of the regimental officers are away, either wounded or on sick leave. We have only 4 captains and 8 lieutenants in the regiment.

Saturday, June 21st.

Last evening our regiment was ordered to prepare for 48 hours picket duty, to be ready at 8 o'clock this morning, and we are posted in the

Capital Area District Libraries

Letters from the Michigan 3d Regiment.

HEADQUARTERS BERRY'S BRIGADE,
(Near the Battle Field of May 31st.)
June 3, 1862.

GEO. I. PARSONS, Esq., Dear Sir:—I wrote on the evening of the battle to my wife, giving a hasty description of the part which our Brigade took in the action of that day; also, a partial list of the killed and wounded of our company.

The reports were not completed until late last night, and I now enclose an abstract from them of the loss of the three Michigan Regiments of our Brigade:

MICHIGAN 2D.	KILLED.	WOUNDED.	MISSING.
Officers,	none.	2.	none.
Enlisted men,	70	41	2
MICHIGAN 3D.
Officers,	1	8	none.
Men,	25	104	27
MICHIGAN 5TH.
Officers,	1	4	none.
Men,	57	115	14

Making an aggregate of 378—some of the missing will undoubtedly be found.

The loss of our Lansing company is severe, and comprises some of the best men of the company.

Sergt. Chas. T. Foster, the Color Sergt. of the Regiment was the first to fall. He was bravely holding the colors, and by his coolness and courage, doing much to encourage the boys to press on. Orderly E. F. Siverd was soon after wounded, but still did his duty and urged his comrades on. Soon after this, Corporals Case B. Wickham, John Blanchard and Nathaniel T. Atkinson, and privates Samuel Dowell and Charles T. Gaskell received fatal shots. Atkinson and Dowell were brought from the field before they died. All have been buried, and their resting places marked with a board giving the name, company and regiment.

Jackson, Clays, Benson, Trimmer and Crane, are in camp, and the balance of the wounded have been sent on the cars to White House Landing to be forwarded to their homes, and

Capital Area District Libraries

All have been buried, and their resting places marked with a board giving the name, company and regiment.

Jackson, Clays, Benson, Trimmer and Crane, are in camp, and the balance of the wounded have been sent on the cars to White House Landing to be forwarded to their homes, and where they are not able to stand the journey will be taken to hospitals at Fortress Monroe, Washington, and Baltimore, but I think it is the intention to send them home when they are able to go, and can be better cared for. There is an order from the War Department commuting the rations of the sick and wounded soldiers at 25 cents per day while away from the charge of the Department.

Gen. Berry's Assistant Adjutant General Capt. E. M. Smith was killed during the engagement. He was a most gallant and brave officer, and beloved by all who knew him. He distinguished himself at the battle of Williamsburg for his bravery, as will be seen by the official report of both Generals Kearny and Berry. Four of my comrades, with myself, carried him back to the station and buried him in a pleasant orchard where many more have been buried since.

Capt. Judd, of Co. "A," 3d Regiment, was killed while in charge of the Sharpshooters in the advance of our Brigade.

Captain Quackenbush, of the 5th, was also killed.

Col. Champlin was wounded severely though it is not considered dangerous. He walked some distance after he was wounded, and by his presence and energy did much to encourage his men.

I would gladly speak of the merits of each of our company who are dead, had I the ability of doing so as they deserve; they were beloved by all, and their many mourning friends may be assured they have the heartfelt sympathy of every one of us.

Our knapsacks are all back with the wagon train across the river and may not soon be up, facts of those who are gone, and forward them to their friends as soon as possible.

Our Division moved last evening farther to the front and across the railroad, to the right, and in the rear of Generals Sedgwick and Richard

fects of those who are gone, and forward them to their friends as soon as possible.

Our Division moved last evening farther to the front and across the railroad, to the right, and in the rear of Generals Sedgwick and Richardson's Divisions.

Gen. Richardson's Division was engaged last Sunday and he lost about 900 men. He came to our camp to day, and was immediately surrounded by the Brigade who greeted him with the wildest enthusiasm.

The weather is very warm, with frequent showers, which keeps the roads in a horrible condition.

Our boys are feeling quite tired out, but stand it as a general thing well. Corporal Shattuck, and private W. F. Hogan, arrived in camp yesterday from the Hospital at Yorktown; they report Sergt. J. B. Ten Eyck as getting better, but not yet able to return for duty.

The rebels are holding their position here better than at any other place in Virginia, still we have no doubt of our final success.

The official reports of the engagement of the 31st of May, I suppose will soon be published, so that you can have a better idea of the part our regiment performed. They were in the advance of the balance of the Brigade, and fought with a determination seldom equalled. General's Kearney and Berry both gave us great praise.

The loss of 37th N. Y. Regiment was 81 killed, wounded and missing.

I earnestly hope it may not be my duty to again report losses such as these to our brigade. Our numbers are small, but each feel that we still have a duty to perform, and while there is a man left to do duty, I trust you will hear of it being done well.

I will try to keep your readers informed of our whereabouts and doings, but I am well aware they will miss "Stray Leaves from Camp," and with us, mourn the loss of their author.

Capt. Jefferds has been obliged to forward his resignation on account of continuing ill health, and will probably soon be at home so that our many friends can hear more particularly from each.

Yours,

HOMER L. THAYER.

Bloss, Charles, 1862, Lansing Republican,
February 5 1862, p. 2

COMPANY F.

Private Charles Bloss, typhoid fever; Private J. F. Phillips, typhoid fever; Private Wm. H. Stoker, typhoid fever; Private Jno. B. Tatro, typhoid fever.

Branch, H, 1862, Lansing Republican.

April 30 1862, p. 2

COMPANY C—CAPT. ALBERT.

Killed—Privates H. Branch, 'S. Potter,' H.

Hudson—3.

Brooks, Edward, 1862, Lansing Republican,
February 5 1862, p. 2

Surgeons Report of Deaths and Discharged

*List of Deaths in the Eighth Michigan Regiment
from Sept 23, 1861, to Jan. 13, 1862.*

COMPANY A

Private Theodore Jennings, small pox ; Private Albert Newman, remittent fever ; Private Peter Friety, typhoid fever ; Private Oliver J. Cone typhoid fever ; Sergeant James H. Atchinson typhoid fever ; Sergeant David B. Foote, gun shot wound ; Private Ira Armstrong, gun shot wound ; Private Edward Brooks, gun shot wound ; Corporal J. Q. Adams, gun shot wound ; Private Thos. Heather, chronic dysentery.

DIED.

In Howell, Livingston Co., Mich., on the 12th of February, 1862, of dropsy on the brain, CHARLES H., son of W. D. Brown, aged 6 years and 11 months.

Like the birds of summer little Charlie sang his life away, and when the winter of death came he plumed his bright spirit wings for an Elysium of eternal Summer, where he shall sing in concert with the angels, in bowers of truth, on the banks of the rivers of life, the praises of God and the goodness of Him who said "Suffer little children to come unto me." Com.

Capital Area District Libraries

KILLED.

First Regiment — Colonel Roberts, Captain Pomeroy, Lieut. Haupin.

Third Regiment — Lieut. Hess, Co. D; Corporal Van Dusen, Co. D; Corporal Berringer, Co. D; Corporal Traverse, Co. D; Corporal Mead, Co. K; — McGrath, Co. D; H. D. Beckwith, Co. K; C. W. Bullen, Co. K; W. Halsey, Co. K; J. J. Powley, Co. K.

First Cavalry — Lieut. G. Morse.

Burke, Fred, 1862, Lansing Republican,
February 5 1862, p. 2

Thos. Heather, chronic dysentery.

COMPANY B.

Corporal Charles F. Vallean, remittent fever;
Musician Gill. C. Hinckley, pneumonia; Private
Hiram Gardner, pneumonia; Private Samuel
Strickland, typhoid fever; Private Fred. Burke,
typhoid fever

Burke, L.A., 1862 Lansing Republican,
April 30 1862, p. 2

COMPANY B—CAPT. WALLACE.

Killed—Corporal L. A. Burke ; Private G. C.

Post—2.

Burnell, Stephen M, 1862, Lansing Republican,
April 30 1862, p. 2

— 9.

COMPANY F—CAPT. WESTON.

Killed—Privates Stephen M. Burnell, Isaac

N. Tewksberry—2.

Bush, R, 1862, Lansing Republican,
September 17 1862, p. 3

D I E D .

In the Hospital at Philadelphia, on Thursday, September 4th, after a lingering illness, R. BUSH, of Co. K, Fourth Michigan Regiment, aged 37 years.

“ He sleeps his last sleep,
He has fought his last battle,
No sound can awake him
To glory again.”

Calhoun, Wm, 1862, Lansing Republican,
April 30 1862, p. 2

COMPANY I—CAPT. BROWN.

Killed—Sergeant H. L. Johnson ; Privates H.
Treat, Wm. Calhoun, John Treadwell, Wm.
Willis—5.

Carr,. Isaac, 1862, Lansing Republican,
November 19 1862, p. 3

D I E D .

In Redford, Wayne county, Mich., Nov. 1st, 1862, Mr.
ISAAC CARR, aged 72 years.

Carson, Samuel, 1862, Lansing Republican,
February 5 1862, p. 2

COMPANY I.

Private William Freeman, congestion of the lungs; Private Samuel B. Carson, dysentery.

the deceased.		Age.
1861.		Year.	Mo.	Days.
DATE.	NAME.
January 3	R. C. Madden, infant,
10	Almira Blumberg,	8
22	Joel Burgess,	74	7	..
30	Eliza McClure,	65
	Infant son of John Spanier,
Febru'y 8	George B. Crane,	1	11	..
8	Ira Seymour,	82	1	19
24	James Crowley,	16
24	Herbert B. Sheldon,	3	8	..
26	Joan Garrow,	18
28	Charlie Smith,	4	11	..
March 2	Harriet Sagendorph,	16
5	Infant of A. P. Sutherly,
12	Eber Crandall,	33	11	10
13	Helen F. Bertch,	24	7	..
13	Paulina Huber,	7	..
13	David C. Mosely,	25	9	..
17	Henry Eichler,	3	10
20	Charles W. Mosher,	7	12
30	Helen J. Jones,	2	9	20
31	Betsey H. Dryer,	45	10	..
April 2	Frank W. Rapp,	2	1	..
6	Emil Anneke,	1	3	..
7	Marshall M. Kent,	3	..
May 18	Elihu Elwood,	57	6	22
21	Infant son of Rev. Ad. Burckle,
26	William Delong,	50	6	12
27	Colonel Norton,	4	..
June 5	Betsey Morrison,	66	4	..
9	James Carly,	49
27	John Kimball,	15
July 27	Rosa Maria Lawrence,	1	7
August 2	Chauncey Higgins,	28
4	Byron C. Barker,	1	4	..
6	Davie Dally,	2	10	..
6	Infant daughter of Wm. Gardner,
13	Albert D. Carr,	22	5	..
14	Edward H. Savage,	4	23
15	John J. Hull,	4	5	..
16	Jessie E. Turner,	1	10	..
17	Caesar Walter,	5	..
17	Harmonia Walter,	4	..
18	Lydia Murphy,	77	9	17
18	Ernest H. Rulison,	2	1	14
20	Gottlieb Berner,	1	3	3
21	George C. Lewis,	50
21	Charley Crane,	11	..
23	Libba Turner,	7	11	..
25	Seymour A. Sitzer,	5
27	Wm. Jimmerson,	74
30	Lilly A. Ralison,	3	8	..
31	Henry Lovejoy,	61
31	S. M. Hinman,	2
31	Edwin Parker,	1	3	3
Sept 1	Mary Ann Winter,	2	4	..
2	Nelson Torrance,	54	..	15
4	Marion Post,	65
4	Ada May Stevens,	3	6	13
6	Selina A. Spender,	80	4	..
6	Helen L. Spender,	3	..	11
6	Elizabeth Barker,

	21	George C. Lewis,	50
	21	Charley Crane,		11
	23	Libba Turner,	7	11
	25	Seymour A. Sitzer,	5		27
	27	Wm. Jimmerson,	74
	30	Lilly A. Ralison,	3	8
	31	Henry Lovejoy,	61
	31	S. M. Hinman,	2
	31	Edwin Parker,	1	3	3
Sept.	1	Mary Ann Winter,	2	4
	2	Nelson Torrance,	50	2	15
	4	Marion Post,	65
	4	Ada May Stevens,	3	6	13
	6	Selina A. Spencer,	30	4
	6	Helen L. Spender,	5		11
	6	Ulalah Parker,	1	6
	9	Maria Bollinger,	72
	12	Emily Ann Lewis,	1	8
	12	Olive Smith,		11
	14	Freddie M. Pratt,	1	1	3
	18	Jane Elliott,	64
	19	George A. Smith,	4
	19	Lucy A. Smith,	3	1
	26	George Seppla,	45
	30	Harriet Diffenbaugh,	61
October	3	Anson Kimball,	40	2	2
	6	Morrett Stoddard,	35
	6	Marshal Turner,	48
	11	George Rapp,	53	2
	13	Arthur Glassbrook,	1	4
	27	Lillian Louisa Crane,	2	1
	31	Stevens B. Dubois,	43	7
Nov.	8	Francis E. VanKuren,	6	9	19
	24	Van S. Murphy,	44	11
	28	Ann T. Weller,	31
Dec.	8	Thomas Smalley,	33
	11	Frances E. Scofield,	25
	15	Mary Sullivan,		3
	21	Rheuby Duncle,	28
	24	John T. Raynor,	55

H. H. SMITH,
 THEODORE FOSTER,
 J. W. BARKER,

Cemetery Commissioners.

Lansing, February 10, 1862.

A practical old man, and yet a dreamer,
He thought that in some strange, unlooked-for way,
His mighty Friend in Heaven, the Great Redeemer,
Would honor him with wealth some golden day.

This dream he carried in a hopeful spirit,
Until in death his patient eye grew dim,
And his Redeemer called him to inherit
The Heaven of wealth long garnered up for him.

So if I ever win the home in Heaven,
For whose sweet rest I humbly hope and pray,
In the great company of the forgiven
I shall be sure to find old Daniel Gray.

Correspondence of the Lansing Republican.

Letters from the Michigan 3d Regiment.

CAMP OF MICHIGAN 3D REGIMENT, Near }
Harrison's Landing, Va., July 5, 1862. }

GEO. I. PARSONS, Esq., Dear Sir:—When I closed my last we were preparing for an attack, as it was evident that the attack on our right was not terminating in our favor. We prepared Saturday for the field in earnest, by giving each man 90 additional rounds of ammunition, and filling canteens and haversacks, ready for quick work, whatever it might be.

At dark the men were ordered to put up their best clothes and most valuable articles in their haversacks, with a blanket each, and prepare to abandon the rest if necessary. This looked like retreat, but at the same time men were kept at work strengthening our rifle pits.

After dark the officers packed the most important company books and papers in two desks, and their own most valuable clothing in a small satchel, each limiting himself to as little as possible, and about 12 the two regimental wagons had taken the desks, some provisions and the best tents, while the sutler's wagon, under charge of Mr. Nelson, took the officers baggage, and started out to join the train which was forming back in the woods.

We then laid down, waiting patiently for orders to move, but none came until after daylight, when the balance of the tents, desks and extra clothing were burned or thrown into the wells, and we fell in, looking, as a general thing, rather blue.

When the brigade was ready to move, the pickets were drawn in, and we moved back to the rifle pits from which we moved into the engagement at Fair Oaks, and then rested until afternoon. We could hear firing on our right had begun to retreat the infantry withdrew, and all the batteries which were in position together with one or two of the gunboats, finished the job by filling the woods with the contents of their heavily caissons.

After dark the scene was the grandest imaginable. There was probably 50 cannon at a time throwing shot as fast as they could load and fire. Especially, the shell from the gunboats, looking like large comets, was rather the most extensive exhibition of fireworks that I ever saw.

About this time a Minnie ball, (of which there were many still dropping around us although we could not hear a gun,) struck one of our company, Charles W. Leroy, who was lying near me at the right of our company, and inflicted a painful wound in his foot.

Another struck one Corporal Clapper, of Co. I, killing him almost instantly. One or two others have been wounded slightly in our regiment, but I have not the names. Several in the brigade were killed and wounded during the day, but it is impossible yet to give a correct list.

About 3 o'clock on the morning of the 2d, we started at 5 o'clock after a hard march in the rain which fell in torrents. The roads were bad, and the large number of troops, together with the long trains, made it slow work.

Large amounts of property were destroyed, many of the wagons getting fast and having to throw away their loads in order to move to let others get along, and as fast as the men began to give out they would throw away clothing, guns, provisions or anything to get along.

These military strategies are somewhat played out with all of us when we come to hard marching in retreat, and having to throw away so much that must be paid for and more got to replace it. And this is not the worst feature. Many of our friends were left to fall into the hands of the enemy, and especially does it seem hard in the case of the wounded.

But if this rebellion can be crushed out by this terrible loss of life and property, and men are still plenty who are willing to take the risks and lose their lives in any way that may seem necessary to carry out the purposes of the government, and we can have Statesmen and Gene-

you-
to y to atives
bled,
s au-rank ngs-
' and owned New
e the William ate of ves-issue atives
bled, ed to
' and State
, but all be atives
bled, n the tachmay of aba post ress.
atives
bled, ollars easusuch s the pedia Ter-atives
bled,
all be
of the which y the rimes

Capital Area District Libraries

Surgeons Report of Deaths and Discharged

List of Deaths in the Eighth Michigan Regiment from Sept 23, 1861, to Jan. 13, 1862

COMPANY A

Private Theodore Jennings, small pox ; Private Albert Newman, remittent fever ; Private Peter Friety, typhoid fever ; Private Oliver J. Cone, typhoid fever ; Sergeant James H. Atchinson, typhoid fever ; Sergeant David B. Foote, gun shot wound ; Private Ira Armstrong, gun shot wound ; Private Edward Brooks, gun shot wound ; Corporal J. Q. Adams, gun shot wound ; Private Thos. Heather, chronic dysentery.

THE FIGHT NEAR CHARLESTON—DEATH
OF LIEUT. COTTRELL.—A letter received by Paymaster A. C. Winter, of the U. S. Steamer "Eagle," from his Clerk, J. H. Story, Esq., gives the following particulars of the fight near Charleston which commenced at 4 A. M. of the 16th.
After three hours hard fighting our troops were compelled to fall back. The 8th Michigan lost about 500, killed, wounded and missing. Lieut.
Cottrell was killed while leading his company to the front. Your friend Chapman behaved nobly and was now in command of the company." *

THE WOOL MARKET. On Monday last the market opened upon the various wool purchasers of this city, for the purpose of ascertaining the quantity purchased since the opening of the season, and found that up to that time the quantity purchased, had reached 80,000 pounds; at prices ranging all the way from 37 1-2 to 43 cts.
On Monday the prices of some lots reached the figure of 48 cts. Of the above quantity Mr. T. D.
Cottrell had bought 24,400, Messrs. Peck &
Field 24,000, and Messrs. D. L. Case & Co., 12,000.

We think this one of the best wool growing counties of the State, considering the newness of the country, and look forward to the time, when Ingham county will rank as the first of wool growing counties.

The purchases of this market this season, already exceed that of any previous year. The reputation of our city as a wool market is fully established. At no market in the State, (if we believe the reports of our exchanges,) has a single bale of wool been sold for more than

At her residence in this city, on Saturday, the 27th inst., of disease of the lungs and heart, Mrs. FANNY, wife of J. P. COWLES, Esq., aged 60 years 2 months and 8 days.

She died rejoicing in the faith which has been her comfort and her guide through life—a broad christian faith in the redemption of the WHOLE WORLD.

The funeral services were held at the Presbyterian Church, on Sunday afternoon, the 28th inst. Sermon by Rev. C. W. Knickerbacker, from John, 18—11. “The cup which my Father hath given me, shall I not drink it?”

Crum, William, 1862, Lansing Republican,
February 5 1862, p. 2

COMPANY K.

Private Denis Parrish, variola; Private Wm
Crum, variola; Private Samuel Haynes, variola
Private Wm Smith, variola; Private John H
Davis, variola; Private Amos Smith, cholera
morbus.

DIED.

At his residence, in this city, on the 24th inst., of typhoid pneumonia, JOHN G. DARLING, aged 29 years, 7 months and 14 days.

Mr. Darling was one of the first settlers of this city—having removed here with his father's family, in 1847. He has grown up from boyhood to manhood in our midst. His life among us has been blameless and honorable, and in his death this community suffers a severe loss.

The funeral was held at the Presbyterian Church, on Saturday, the 27th inst. Sermon by Rev. C. W. Knickerbacker.

Davis, A.G., 1862, Lansing Republican,
April 30 1862, p. 2

SNOW, A. SPEARS, JAMES WYANT—15.

COMPANY G—CAPT. CRAVATH.

Killed—Private J. Schleicher—1.

Wounded—Lieut. A. G. Davis, (since died);
Privates M. L. Ackley, W. W. Barnes, W. Bel-
cher, John B. Bettz, George A. Graves, W. H.
Lombard, A. Miller, John Roeddles, D. Scheible
—10.

Correspondence of the Lansing Republican.
From the Twelfth Michigan Regiment.

BETHEL STATION, Tennessee, }
June 11th, 1862. }

Editor Republican:—

Dear Sir: Allow me to state to your readers the condition of Capt. I. M. Cravath's company, in the 12th Regiment Michigan Infantry, as there has been a great change in said company since the last communication you have received from Capt. Cravath.

I believe you have not heard anything direct from this company since the battle of Shiloh.

As this company was raised mostly from Ingham and Eaton counties, it will be interesting to the citizens of those counties to hear something about it, and find out where their sons, brothers and neighbors are, and how they are doing.

On the 8th day of April, one day after the fight, Capt. Cravath was taken sick with a fever. About a week afterwards he got leave of absence and went North on board of a steamboat, and has never been heard from directly by this regiment up to this time. We once heard that he was dead, then it was contradicted. Afterwards we heard that he was in Ohio, and then that he was about well. Then again we heard that he was dead, but the latter is not confirmed. The Captain ought to let us know something of his whereabouts, and how he is getting along. So much for that.

At the same time Capt. Cravath left, more than fifty out of this company were sick with fever and diarrhoea. Some of them have returned to their company and are now doing duty, while others were sent North to hospitals—some to St. Louis, others to Cincinnati, Quincy, Ill., Evansville, Ind., and elsewhere.

At the battle of Pittsburg Landing, we lost in killed one, John Schleicher, from Lansing.

Lieut. A. G. Davis was wounded and afterwards died at Cincinnati.

Austin Miller, from Leslie, wounded, and afterwards died.

Martin Ackley, Leslie, wounded and is getting well.

John Roeddles, jr., Meridian, wounded and doing well.

John B. Botz, from Vermontville, wounded and getting better.

William Belcher was wounded slightly, but has not been heard from since.

I will now give you a list of the missing since the battle:

Sergt. Samuel W. Grinell, from Sunfield.
Corp. Thomas C. Kenyon, and privates John Nagel, Wm. Oatly and Jerome B. Lafferty, from Lansing.

Private Talcott B. Irish, Alaiedon.
" Wm H. Lombard, Vermontville.
" Asahel Parker, Meridian.

These are all we lost at the battle of Shiloh, April 6th and 7th, 1862.

" Abner Parker, Meridian.

These are all we lost at the battle of Shiloh, April 6th and 7th, 1862.

Since then we have been stationed near the landing to guard the boats and to gather up our men as much as possible, but we met with poor success, and the regiment is not so strong to-day as it was the day we marched back from the lines, 4 miles this side of Corinth.

We have lost a number of men who died by disease, which was raging like fury all over the battle field. I will give you a list of members of this company who died while we were stationed near the river :

Sergt. Henry C. Guest, died May 26th—disease debility.

Corporal Henry B. Palmer, Washtenaw, died May 27th with Lung Fever.

Daniel Ellis, Lansing, died of fever at Savannah Hospital, 9 miles below Pittsburg Landing.

Milton P. Hall, Castleton, died of Lung Fever.

Wm. H. Lennan, Meridian, died of Lung Fever.

Yesterday, I received notice that Gilbert Allen, Delhi, died at Quincy, Ill., of Typhoid Fever, and how many more have died in hospitals North, I cannot tell.

It seems as if this company, or the regiment (for other companies lose in proportion) is going as fast as a body of men can go; where I cannot tell, but one after another disappears from the ranks.

Our company reports now 79 members, of which there are only 30 present, including one commissioned officer, and of these 30 there are only 21 fit for duty, and we are one of the largest companies in the regiment. The balance of the company is scattered all over the country, from West Tennessee to Michigan—wherever a hospital can be found. It is said that there is not a hospital without men in it from the 12th Michigan regiment.

As far as news from the war is concerned, there is none. We are now stationed at Bethel, a railroad station 20 miles north of Corinth, but we expect marching orders every day. The Colonel says that this regiment is going towards Memphis, which we all would like very much. I hope this will be the case.

Mr. Editor, if you know anything of the whereabouts of Capt. Cravath, I wish you would be so kind as to let us know all about it.

I hope that Corporal John Strong will follow up his company as soon as possible, as every man's services are needed here at the present time, and I do further hope that those now in hospitals will soon return to their regiment or company.

For about two weeks I have been confined to my bed and tent on account of fever and "Tennessee Quickstep," but am all right again.

Yours, &c.,

GEO. H. GASSENMERE,

1st Lieut. Co. G, 12th Regt. M. I.

Davis, John H, 1862, Lnasing Republican,
February 5 1862, p. 2

COMPANY K.

Private Denis Parrish, variola; Private Wm
Crum, variola; Private Samuel Haynes, variola
Private Wm Smith, variola; Private John H
Davis, variola; Private Amos Smith, cholera
morbus.

Davis, Sarah Selena, 1862, Lansing Republican,
April 2 1862, p. 3

In this city, March 25th, of Measles, SARAH SELENA, only child of Francis and Julia A. Davis, aged 16 months.

Delano, Cyrus H, 1862, Lansing Republican,
Febraury 5 1862, p. 2

PRIVATE W. BROWN, typhoid fever.
COMPANY E.

Private Harvey Sowles, dysentery; Thomas
W. Perry, typhoid fever; Private John A.
Hull, typhoid fever; Private Lyman Hull,
typhoid fever; Private Cyrus H. Delano,
typhoid fever; Private Peter Shiek, Variola.

FROM THE EIGHTH REGIMENT. — We have received from William Wiley, who went out with Dr. H. B. Shank, Surgeon of the Eighth Regiment, the official report of all the deaths that have taken place in the Regiment. We have not time to insert the complete list, but give the list of deaths that have taken place in Capt. Elder's Zouaves of this city, which is company E of the Regiment. The deaths are as follows: Harvey Sowles, Thos. W. Perry, John A. Hall, Lyman Hull, Cyrus H. Delano, Peter Shick.

The following have been discharged from this company from physical disability: John Burgoyne, Thomas McCarthy, Jas. Dillapaugh, Dorman K. Fuller. Doct. Shank has resigned. The total number of deaths in the Regiment is 41, of which the largest number, 16, were in company A; the smallest number 1, in company D. Twenty-one have been discharged from disability.

the city, when we received orders to counter-march to Alexandria, which having done, we embarked on the steamer Geo. Peabody, arrived at Washington at 8 o'clock P. M., and bivouacked near the dock.

The next day (Tuesday) we remained in Washington till night, for the purpose of resting, purchasing necessaries, and making preparations to continue our march. Just before we were to start again our camp was thrown into an intense excitement by one of our company, W. H. H. Dixon, of Aurelius, being shot dead by a secessionist. Some of the boys had been confiscating some of his corn, in an adjoining field. He rode into the field, saw what had been done, and fired three shots from his revolver into a group standing on the camp ground, one of them taking effect and the others striking in the ground near by.

Letters from the Michigan 3d Regiment.

HEADQUARTERS BERRY'S BRIGADE,
 (Near the Battle Field of May 31st.)
 June 3, 1862.

GEO. I. PARSONS, Esq., Dear Sir:—I wrote on the evening of the battle to my wife, giving a hasty description of the part which our Brigade took in the action of that day; also, a partial list of the killed and wounded of our company.

The reports were not completed until late last night, and I now enclose an abstract from them of the loss of the three Michigan Regiments of our Brigade:

MICAIGAN 2D.	KILLED.	WOUNDED.	MISSING.
Officers,	none.	2	none.
Enlisted men,	0	41	2
MICHIGAN 3D.
Officers,	1	8	none.
Men,	25	104	27
MICHIGAN 5TH.
Officers,	1	4	none.
Men,	37	115	14

Making an aggregate of 378—some of the missing will undoubtedly be found.

The loss of our Causing company is severe, and comprises some of the best men of the company.

Sergt. Chas. T. Foster, the Color Sergt. of the Regiment was the first to fall. He was bravely holding the colors, and by his coolness and courage, doing much to encourage the boys to press on. Orderly E. F. Siverd was soon after wounded, but still did his duty and urged his comrades on. Soon after this, Corporals Case B. Wickham, John Blanchard and Nathaniel T. Atkinson, and privates Samuel Dowell and Charles T. Gaskell received fatal shots. Atkinson and Dowell were brought from the field before they died. All have been buried, and their resting places marked with a board giving the name, company and regiment.

All have been buried, and their resting places marked with a board giving the name, company and regiment.

Jackson, Clays, Benson, Trimmer and Crane, are in camp, and the balance of the wounded have been sent on the cars to White House Landing to be forwarded to their homes, and where they are not able to stand the journey will be taken to hospitals at Fortress Monroe, Washington, and Baltimore, but I think it is the intention to send them home when they are able to go, and can be better cared for. There is an order from the War Department commuting the rations of the sick and wounded soldiers at 25 cents per day while away from the charge of the Department.

Gen. Berry's Assistant Adjutant General Capt. E. M. Smith was killed during the engagement. He was a most gallant and brave officer, and beloved by all who knew him. He distinguished himself at the battle of Williamsburg for his bravery, as will be seen by the official report of both Generals Kearny and Berry. Four of my comrades, with myself, carried him back to the station and buried him in a pleasant orchard where many more have been buried since.

Capt. Judd, of Co. "A," 3d Regiment, was killed while in charge of the Sharpshooters in the advance of our Brigade.

Captain Quackenbush, of the 5th, was also killed.

Col. Champlin was wounded severely though it is not considered dangerous. He walked some distance after he was wounded, and by his presence and energy did much to encourage his men.

I would gladly speak of the merits of each of our company who are dead, had I the ability of doing so as they deserve; they were beloved by all, and their many mourning friends may be assured they have the heartfelt sympathy of every one of us.

Our knapsacks are all back with the wagon train across the river and may not soon be up, facts of those who are gone, and forward them to their friends as soon as possible.

Our Division moved last evening farther to the front and across the railroad, to the right, and in the rear of Generals Sedgwick and Richard

fects of those who are gone, and forward them to their friends as soon as possible.

Our Division moved last evening farther to the front and across the railroad, to the right, and in the rear of Generals Sedgwick and Richardson's Divisions.

Gen. Richardson's Division was engaged last Sunday and he lost about 900 men. He came to our camp to-day and was immediately surrounded by the Brigade who greeted him with the wildest enthusiasm.

The weather is very warm, with frequent showers, which keeps the roads in a horrible condition.

Our boys are feeling quite tired out, but stand it as a general thing well. Corporal Shattuck, and private W. F. Hogan, arrived in camp yesterday from the Hospital at Yorktown; they report Sergt. J. B. Ten Eyck as getting better, but not yet able to return for duty.

The rebels are holding their position here better than at any other place in Virginia, still we have no doubt of our final success.

The official reports of the engagement of the 31st of May, I suppose will soon be published, so that you can have a better idea of the part our regiment performed. They were in the advance of the balance of the Brigade, and fought with a determination seldom equalled. General's Kearney and Berry both gave us great praise.

The loss of 37th N. Y. Regiment was 81 killed, wounded and missing.

I earnestly hope it may not be my duty to again report losses such as these to our brigade. Our numbers are small, but each feel that we still have a duty to perform, and while there is a man left to do duty, I trust you will hear of it being done well.

I will try to keep your readers informed of our whereabouts and doings, but I am well aware they will miss "Stray Leaves from Camp," and with us, mourn the loss of their author.

Capt. Jefferds has been obliged to forward his resignation on account of continuing ill health, and will probably soon be at home so that our many friends can hear more particularly from each.

Yours,

HOMER L. THAYER.

Easton, Henry Marshall, 1857-1862,
Lansing Republican Extra Edition,
December 3 1862, p. 1

DEATHS.

On Sunday, Nov. 3, of brain fever, HENRY MARSHALL, only son of Thomas M. and Elizabeth C. Easton, aged 5 years. His remains taken to Nantucket for interment.

Correspondence of the Lansing Republican.
From the Twelfth Michigan Regiment.

BETHEL STATION, Tennessee, }
June 11th, 1862. }

Editor Republican:—

Dear Sir: Allow me to state to your readers the condition of Capt. I. M. Cravath's company, in the 12th Regiment Michigan Infantry, as there has been a great change in said company since the last communication you have received from Capt. Cravath.

I believe you have not heard anything direct from this company since the battle of Shiloh.

As this company was raised mostly from Ingham and Eaton counties, it will be interesting to the citizens of those counties to hear something about it, and find out where their sons, brothers and neighbors are, and how they are doing.

On the 8th day of April, one day after the fight, Capt. Cravath was taken sick with a fever. About a week afterwards he got leave of absence and went North on board of a steamboat, and has never been heard from directly by this regiment up to this time. We once heard that he was dead, then it was contradicted. Afterwards we heard that he was in Ohio, and then that he was about well. Then again we heard that he was dead, but the latter is not confirmed. The Captain ought to let us know something of his whereabouts, and how he is getting along. So much for that.

At the same time Capt. Cravath left, more than fifty out of this company were sick with fever and diarrhoea. Some of them have returned to their company and are now doing duty, while others were sent North to hospitals—some to St. Louis, others to Cincinnati, Quincy, Ill., Evansville, Ind., and elsewhere.

At the battle of Pittsburg Landing, we lost in killed one, John Schleicher, from Lansing.

Lieut. A. G. Davis was wounded and afterwards died at Cincinnati.

Austin Miller, from Leslie, wounded, and afterwards died.

Martin Ackley, Leslie, wounded and is getting well.

John Roeddles, jr., Meridian, wounded and doing well.

John B. Botz, from Vermontville, wounded and getting better.

William Belcher was wounded slightly, but has not been heard from since.

I will now give you a list of the missing since the battle:

Sergt. Samuel W. Grinell, from Sunfield.

Corp. Thomas C. Kenyon, and privates John Nagel, Wm. Oatly and Jerome B. Lafferty, from Lansing.

Private Talcott B. Irish, Alabedon.

" Wm H. Lombard, Vermontville.

" Asahel Parker, Meridian.

These are all we lost at the battle of Shiloh, April 6th and 7th, 1862.

" Asahel Parker, Meridian.

These are all we lost at the battle of Shiloh, April 6th and 7th, 1862.

Since then we have been stationed near the landing to guard the boats and to gather up our men as much as possible, but we met with poor success, and the regiment is not so strong to-day as it was the day we marched back from the lines, 4 miles this side of Corinth.

We have lost a number of men who died by disease, which was raging like fury all over the battle field. I will give you a list of members of this company who died while we were stationed near the river :

Sergt. Henry C. Guest, died May 26th—disease debility.

Corporal Henry B. Palmer, Washtenaw, died May 27th with Lung Fever.

Daniel Ellis, Lansing, died of fever at Savannah Hospital, 9 miles below Pittsburg Landing.

Milton P. Hall, Castleton, died of Lung Fever.

Wm. H. Lennan, Meridian, died of Lung Fever.

Yesterday, I received notice that Gilbert Allen, Delhi, died at Quincy, Ill., of Typhoid Fever, and how many more have died in hospitals North, I cannot tell.

It seems as if this company, or the regiment, (for other companies lose in proportion) is going as fast as a body of men can go; where I cannot tell, but one after another disappears from the ranks.

Our company reports now 79 members, of which there are only 30 present, including one commissioned officer, and of these 30 there are only 21 fit for duty, and we are one of the largest companies in the regiment. The balance of the company is scattered all over the country, from West Tennessee to Michigan—wherever a hospital can be found. It is said that there is not a hospital without men in it from the 12th Michigan regiment.

As far as news, from the war is concerned, there is none. We are now stationed at Bethel, a railroad station 20 miles north of Corinth, but we expect marching orders every day. The Colonel says that this regiment is going towards Memphis, which we all would like very much. I hope this will be the case.

Mr. Editor, if you know anything of the whereabouts of Capt. Cravath, I wish you would be so kind as to let us know all about it.

I hope that Corporal John Strong will follow up his company as soon as possible, as every man's services are needed here at the present time, and I do further hope that those now in hospitals will soon return to their regiment or company.

For about two weeks I have been confined to my bed and tent on account of fever and "Tennessee Quickstep," but am all right again.

Yours, &c.,

GEO. H. GASSENMERE,

1st Lieut. Co. G, 12th Regt. M. I.

Ferris, Abby, 1788-1862, Lansing Republican,
September 10 1862, p. 3

DIED.

At the residence of her son, Rev. J. C. Ferris, in this city, on the 5th inst., of Congestive Fever, Mrs. ABBY FERRIS, at the advanced age of 74.

Finn, P, 1862, Lansing Republican,
April 30 1862, p. 2

COMPANY K—CAPT. BRETHSCHNEIDER.

Killed—Privates H. Post, F. P. Row, P. Finn

A. Godfrey, S. H. Roosa—5.

Fish, Frederick Irving, 1860-1862, Lansing Republican,
July 23 1862, p. 3

DIED.

At the Agricultural College; July 19, FREDERICK IRVING FISK, aged 2 years and 2 months, son of Professor L. R. Fisk.

Surgeons Report of Deaths and Discharged.

List of Deaths in the Eighth Michigan Regiment from Sept 23, 1861, to Jan. 13, 1862.

COMPANY A

Private Theodore Jennings, small pox; Private Albert Newman, remittent fever; Private Peter Friety, typhoid fever; Private Oliver J. Cone, typhoid fever; Sergeant James H. Atchinson, typhoid fever; Sergeant David B. Foote, gun shot wound; Private Ira Armstrong, gun shot wound; Private Edward Brooks, gun shot wound; Corporal J. Q. Adams, gun shot wound; Private Thos. Heather, chronic dysentery.

SEE ORIGINAL RECORDS FOR DETAILS

Foster, Charles E, 1851-1862, Lansing Republican,
July 9 1862, p. 2

DIED.

In this city, on the 6th inst., CHARLES E. FOSTER, oldest son of Mrs. Lydia M. Raynor, aged 11 years, 4 months, and 8 days.

Freeman, William, 1862, Lansing Republican,
February 5 1862, p. 2

Private Lyman Hayes, Variola;

COMPANY I.

Private William Freeman, congestion of the lungs; Private Samuel B. Carson, dysentery.

Surgeons Report of Deaths and Discharged

List of Deaths in the Eighth Michigan Regiment from Sept 23, 1861, to Jan. 13, 1862

COMPANY A

Private Theodore Jennings, small pox; Private Albert Newman, remittent fever; Private Peter Friety, typhoid fever; Private Oliver J. Cone, typhoid fever; Sergeant James H. Atchinson, typhoid fever; Sergeant David B. Foote, gun shot wound; Private Ira Armstrong, gun shot wound; Private Edward Brooks, gun shot wound; Corporal J. Q. Adams, gun shot wound; Private Thos. Heather, chronic dysentery.

Gardner, Hiram, 1832 Lansing Republican,
February 5 1862, p. 2

ENOS. Deather, chronic dysentery.

COMPANY B.

Corporal Charles F. Vallean, remittent fever,

Musician Gill. C. Hinckley, pneumonia; Private

Hiram Gardner, pneumonia; Private Samuel

Strickland, typhoid fever; Private Fred. Burke,

typhoid fever

COMPANY C.

Garlock, Edwin W, 1858-1862, Lansing Republican,
Febrary 5 1862, p. 3

W. W. U.

In Watertown, January 19th, 1862, EDWIN W., son
John and Rebecca Garlock, aged three years.

Folded we the lily hands
Upon the little breast;
For angels bright were whispering,
"Come to heavenly rest."

Tenderly they bore him hence,
Upward to the skies,
And safe in our Father's arms
Darling Eddie lies.

M. J. T.

Letters from the Michigan 3d Regiment.

HEADQUARTERS BERRY'S BRIGADE,
 (Near the Battle Field of May 31st,) }
 June 3, 1862. }

GEO. I. PARSONS, Esq., Dear Sir:—I wrote on the evening of the battle to my wife, giving a hasty description of the part which our Brigade took in the action of that day; also, a partial list of the killed and wounded of our company.

The reports were not completed until late last night, and I now enclose an abstract from them of the loss of the three Michigan Regiments of our Brigade:

MICHIGAN 2D.	KILLED.	WOUNDED.	MISSING.
Officers,	none.	2	none.
Enlisted men,	0	41	2
MICHIGAN 3D.
Officers,	1	8	none.
Men,	25	104	27
MICHIGAN 5TH.
Officers,	1	4	none.
Men,	57	115	14

Making an aggregate of 378—some of the missing will undoubtedly be found.

The loss of our Lansing company is severe, and comprises some of the best men of the company.

Sergt. Chas. T. Foster, the Color Sergt. of the Regiment was the first to fall. He was bravely holding the colors, and by his coolness and courage, doing much to encourage the boys to press on. Orderly E. F. Siverd was soon after wounded, but still did his duty and urged his comrades on. Soon after this, Corporals Case B. Wickham, John Blanchard and Nathaniel T. Atkinson, and privates Samuel Dowell and Charles T. Gaskell received fatal shots. Atkinson and Dowell were brought from the field before they died. All have been buried, and their resting places marked with a board giving the name, company and regiment.

Jackson, Clays, Benson, Trimmer and Crane, are in camp, and the balance of the wounded have been sent on the cars to White House Landing to be forwarded to their homes, and

All have been buried, and their resting places marked with a board giving the name, company and regiment.

Jackson, Clays, Benson, Trimmer and Crane, are in camp, and the balance of the wounded have been sent on the cars to White House Landing to be forwarded to their homes, and where they are not able to stand the journey will be taken to hospitals at Fortress Monroe, Washington, and Baltimore, but I think it is the intention to send them home when they are able to go, and can be better cared for. There is an order from the War Department commuting the rations of the sick and wounded soldiers at 25 cents per day while away from the charge of the Department.

Gen. Berry's Assistant Adjutant General Capt. E. M. Smith was killed during the engagement. He was a most gallant and brave officer, and beloved by all who knew him. He distinguished himself at the battle of Williamsburg for his bravery, as will be seen by the official report of both Generals Kearny and Berry. Four of my comrades, with myself, carried him back to the station and buried him in a pleasant orchard where many more have been buried since.

Capt. Judd, of Co. "A," 3d Regiment, was killed while in charge of the Sharpshooters in the advance of our Brigade.

Captain Quackenbush, of the 5th, was also killed.

Col. Champlin was wounded severely though it is not considered dangerous. He walked some distance after he was wounded, and by his presence and energy did much to encourage his men.

I would gladly speak of the merits of each of our company who are dead, had I the ability of doing so as they deserve; they were beloved by all, and their many mourning friends may be assured they have the heartfelt sympathy of every one of us.

Our knapsacks are all back with the wagon train across the river and may not soon be up, facts of those who are gone, and forward them to their friends as soon as possible.

Our Division moved last evening farther to the front and across the railroad, to the right, and in the rear of Generals Sedgwick and Richard

fects of those who are gone, and forward them to their friends as soon as possible.

Our Division moved last evening farther to the front and across the railroad, to the right, and in the rear of Generals Sedgwick and Richardson's Divisions.

Gen. Richardson's Division was engaged last Sunday and he lost about 900 men. He came to our camp to day, and was immediately surrounded by the Brigade who greeted him with the wildest enthusiasm.

The weather is very warm, with frequent showers, which keeps the roads in a horrible condition.

Our boys are feeling quite tired out, but stand it as a general thing well. Corporal Shattuck, and private W. F. Hogan, arrived in camp yesterday from the Hospital at Yorktown; they report Sergt. J. B. Ten Eyck as getting better, but not yet able to return for duty.

The rebels are holding their position here better than at any other place in Virginia, still we have no doubt of our final success.

The official reports of the engagement of the 31st of May, I suppose will soon be published, so that you can have a better idea of the part our regiment performed. They were in the advance of the balance of the Brigade, and fought with a determination seldom equalled. General's Kearney and Berry both gave us great praise.

The loss of 37th N. Y. Regiment was 81 killed, wounded and missing.

I earnestly hope it may not be my duty to again report losses such as these to our brigade. Our numbers are small, but each feel that we still have a duty to perform, and while there is a man left to do duty, I trust you will hear of it being done well.

I will try to keep your readers informed of our whereabouts and doings, but I am well aware they will miss "Stray Leaves from Camp," and with us, mourn the loss of their author.

Capt. Jefferds has been obliged to forward his resignation on account of continuing ill health, and will probably soon be at home so that our many friends can hear more particularly from each.

Yours,

HOMER L. THAYER.

George, Johnathan K, 1862, Lansing Republican,
February 5 1862, p. 2

COMPANY C.

Lieut. Chas. B. Holiday, typhoid fever; Private Wm. B. Huntington, chronic dysentery; Private Darius Waite, peritonitis; Private Johnathan K. George, peritonitis; Sergeant Henry T. Wagmire, typhoid fever.

soon clear of the enemies Infantry, and comparative quiet restored until towards dark. Gen. Reynolds with some of his staff rode up in front of us, and directed a shot to be fired on some of the enemy in the edge of the woods, which was immediately answered by at least two batteries, which concentrated their fire on that point, causing the General to make a speedy exit, and every body else to lay low. Our Brigade lost during the day in all about 150 in killed and wounded, including Lt. Col. Gilluly, of the 5th, who was killed while leading his Regiment. There are five men of the 3rd wounded, but none seriously. At dark the 3rd was placed on picket along a ditch in the field in front of the position held during the day. It was a cold night and the ground wet and muddy, but each man felt that he was doing his duty, and it certainly was done well and without murmuring. The Pennsylvania reserves had fought on this ground just as our Brigade came up, and their wounded still lay in the field beyond our picket line, and could be heard asking piteously for water, and to be brought off the field, but it was not in our power to assist them. Our company brought in one poor fellow during the night, and did what they could for him, but he was mortally wounded, and died soon after. We were kept on picket during the day (Sunday,) and frequently exchanged shots with the Grey Backs who were in another ditch about 40 rods from us, but with little damage to either side unless we shot closer than they did. During the day a flag of truce was sent out to get permission to bring away the wounded and dead, and while the officers on each side were consulting, some of the pickets improved the time by crossing the field each half way, shake hands, talk a few minutes, and then return. It was altogether a novel proceeding, and of course entirely wrong. In a short time the bearers of the white flags were seen seperating, and each side took their old places and firing soon com-

Godfrey, A, 1862, Lansing Republican,
April 30 1862, p. 2

COMPANY K—CAPT. BRETHSCHNEIDER.

Killed—Privates H. Post, F. P. Row, P. Finn

A. Godfrey, S. H. Roosa—5.

Correspondence of the Lansing Republican.
From the Twelfth Michigan Regiment.

BETHEL STATION, Tennessee, }
June 11th, 1862. }

Editor Republican:—

Dear Sir: Allow me to state to your readers the condition of Capt. I. M. Cravath's company, in the 12th Regiment Michigan Infantry, as there has been a great change in said company since the last communication you have received from Capt. Cravath.

I believe you have not heard anything direct from this company since the battle of Shiloh.

As this company was raised mostly from Ingham and Eaton counties, it will be interesting to the citizens of those counties to hear something about it, and find out where their sons, brothers and neighbors are, and how they are doing.

On the 8th day of April, one day after the fight, Capt. Cravath was taken sick with a fever. About a week afterwards he got leave of absence and went North on board of a steamboat, and has never been heard from directly by this regiment up to this time. We once heard that he was dead, then it was contradicted. Afterwards we heard that he was in Ohio, and then that he was about well. Then again we heard that he was dead, but the latter is not confirmed. The Captain ought to let us know something of his whereabouts, and how he is getting along. So much for that.

At the same time Capt. Cravath left, more than fifty out of this company were sick with fever and diarrhoea. Some of them have returned to their company and are now doing duty, while others were sent North to hospitals—some to St. Louis, others to Cincinnati, Quincy, Ill., Evansville, Ind., and elsewhere.

At the battle of Pittsburg Landing, we lost in killed one, John Schleicher, from Lansing.

Lieut. A. G. Davis was wounded and afterwards died at Cincinnati.

Austin Miller, from Leslie, wounded, and afterwards died.

Martin Ackley, Leslie, wounded and is getting well.

John Roeddles, jr., Meridian, wounded and doing well.

John B. Botz, from Vermontville, wounded and getting better.

William Belcher was wounded slightly, but has not been heard from since.

I will now give you a list of the missing since the battle:

Sergt. Samuel W. Grinell, from Sunfield.

Corp. Thomas C. Kenyon, and privates John Nagel, Wm. Oatly and Jerome B. Lafferty, from Lansing.

Private Talcott B. Irish, Alaiedon.

" Wm H. Lombard, Vermontville.

" Asahel Parker, Meridian.

These are all we lost at the battle of Shiloh, April 6th and 7th, 1862.

“ Abner Parker, Meridian.

These are all we lost at the battle of Shiloh,
April 6th and 7th, 1862.

Since then we have been stationed near the landing to guard the boats and to gather up our men as much as possible, but we met with poor success, and the regiment is not so strong to-day as it was the day we marched back from the lines, 4 miles this side of Corinth.

We have lost a number of men who died by disease, which was raging like fury all over the battle field. I will give you a list of members of this company who died while we were stationed near the river :

Sergt. Henry C. Guest, died May 26th—disease debility.

Corporal Henry B. Palmer, Washtenaw, died
May 27th with Lung Fever.

Daniel Ellis, Lansing, died of fever at Savannah Hospital, 9 miles below Pittsburg Landing.

Milton P. Hall, Castleton, died of Lung Fever.

Wm. H. Lennan, Meridian, died of Lung Fever.

Yesterday, I received notice that Gilbert Allen, Delhi, died at Quincy, Ill., of Typhoid Fever, and how many more have died in hospitals
North, I cannot tell.

It seems as if this company, or the regiment,
(for other companies lose in proportion) is going as fast as a body of men can go; where I cannot tell, but one after another disappears from the ranks.

Our company reports now 79 members, of which there are only 30 present, including one commissioned officer, and of these 30 there are only 21 fit for duty, and we are one of the largest companies in the regiment. The balance of the company is scattered all over the country, from West Tennessee to Michigan—wherever a hospital can be found. It is said that there is not a hospital without men in it from the 12th
Michigan regiment.

As far as news, from the war is concerned,
there is none. We are now stationed at Bethel, a railroad station 20 miles north of Corinth, but we expect marching orders every day. The Colonel says that this regiment is going towards Memphis, which we all would like very much.
I hope this will be the case.

Mr. Editor, if you know anything of the whereabouts of Capt. Cravath, I wish you would be so kind as to let us know all about it.

I hope that Corporal John Strong will follow up his company as soon as possible, as every man's services are needed here at the present time, and I do further hope that those now in hospitals will soon return to their regiment or company.

For about two weeks I have been confined to my bed and tent on account of fever and “Tennessee Quickstep,” but am all right again.

Yours, &c.,

GEO. H. GASSENEMERE,

1st Lieut. Co. G, 12th Regt. M. I.

FROM THE EIGHTH REGIMENT. — We have received from William Wiley, who went out with Dr. H. B. Shank, Surgeon of the Eighth Regiment, the official report of all the deaths that have taken place in the Regiment. We have not time to insert the complete list, but give the list of deaths that have taken place in Capt. Elder's Zouaves of this city, which is company E of the Regiment. The deaths are as follows: Harvey Sowles, Thos. W. Perry, John A. Hall, Lyman Hull, Cyrus H. Delano, Peter Shick.

The following have been discharged from this company from physical disability: John Burgoyne, Thomas McCarthy, Jas. Dillapaugh, Dorman K. Fuller. Doct. Shank has resigned. The total number of deaths in the Regiment is 41, of which the largest number, 16, were in company A; the smallest number 1, in company D. Twenty-one have been discharged from disability.

Correspondence of the Lansing Republican.
From the Twelfth Michigan Regiment.

BETHEL STATION, Tennessee, }
June 11th, 1862. }

Editor Republican:—

Dear Sir: Allow me to state to your readers the condition of Capt. I. M. Cravath's company, in the 12th Regiment Michigan Infantry, as there has been a great change in said company since the last communication you have received from Capt. Cravath.

I believe you have not heard anything direct from this company since the battle of Shiloh.

As this company was raised mostly from Ingham and Eaton counties, it will be interesting to the citizens of those counties to hear something about it, and find out where their sons, brothers and neighbors are, and how they are doing.

On the 8th day of April, one day after the fight, Capt. Cravath was taken sick with a fever. About a week afterwards he got leave of absence and went North on board of a steamboat, and has never been heard from directly by this regiment up to this time. We once heard that he was dead, then it was contradicted. Afterwards we heard that he was in Ohio, and then that he was about well. Then again we heard that he was dead, but the latter is not confirmed. The Captain ought to let us know something of his whereabouts, and how he is getting along. So much for that.

At the same time Capt. Cravath left, more than fifty out of this company were sick with fever and diarrhoea. Some of them have returned to their company and are now doing duty, while others were sent North to hospitals—some to St. Louis, others to Cincinnati, Quincy, Ill., Evansville, Ind., and elsewhere.

At the battle of Pittsburg Landing, we lost in killed one, John Schleicher, from Lansing.

Lieut. A. G. Davis was wounded and afterwards died at Cincinnati.

Austin Miller, from Leslie, wounded, and afterwards died.

Martin Ackley, Leslie, wounded and is getting well.

John Roeddles, jr., Meridian, wounded and doing well.

John B. Botz, from Vermontville, wounded and getting better.

William Belcher was wounded slightly, but has not been heard from since.

I will now give you a list of the missing since the battle:

Sergt. Samuel W. Grinell, from Sunfield.

Corp. Thomas C. Kenyon, and privates John Nagel, Wm. Oatly and Jerome B. Lafferty, from Lansing.

Private Talcott B. Irish, Alaiedon.

" Wm H. Lombard, Vermontville.

" Asahel Parker, Meridian.

These are all we lost at the battle of Shiloh, April 6th and 7th, 1862.

" Asahel Parker, Meridian.

These are all we lost at the battle of Shiloh, April 6th and 7th, 1862.

Since then we have been stationed near the landing to guard the boats and to gather up our men as much as possible, but we met with poor success, and the regiment is not so strong to-day as it was the day we marched back from the lines, 4 miles this side of Corinth.

We have lost a number of men who died by disease, which was raging like fury all over the battle field. I will give you a list of members of this company who died while we were stationed near the river :

Sergt. Henry C. Guest, died May 26th—disease debility.

Corporal Henry B. Palmer, Washtenaw, died May 27th with Lung Fever.

Daniel Ellis, Lansing, died of fever at Savannah Hospital, 9 miles below Pittsburg Landing.

Milton P. Hall, Castleton, died of Lung Fever.

Wm. H. Lennan, Meridian, died of Lung Fever.

Yesterday, I received notice that Gilbert Allen, Delhi, died at Quincy, Ill., of Typhoid Fever, and how many more have died in hospitals North, I cannot tell.

It seems as if this company, or the regiment, (for other companies lose in proportion) is going as fast as a body of men can go; where I cannot tell, but one after another disappears from the ranks.

Our company reports now 79 members, of which there are only 30 present, including one commissioned officer, and of these 30 there are only 21 fit for duty, and we are one of the largest companies in the regiment. The balance of the company is scattered all over the country, from West Tennessee to Michigan—wherever a hospital can be found. It is said that there is not a hospital without men in it from the 12th Michigan regiment.

As far as news, from the war is concerned, there is none. We are now stationed at Bethel, a railroad station 20 miles north of Corinth, but we expect marching orders every day. The Colonel says that this regiment is going towards Memphis, which we all would like very much. I hope this will be the case.

Mr. Editor, if you know anything of the whereabouts of Capt. Cravath, I wish you would be so kind as to let us know all about it.

I hope that Corporal John Strong will follow up his company as soon as possible, as every man's services are needed here at the present time, and I do further hope that those now in hospitals will soon return to their regiment or company.

For about two weeks I have been confined to my bed and tent on account of fever and "Tennessee Quickstep," but am all right again.

Yours, &c.,

GEO. H. GASSENEMERE,

1st Lieut. Co. G, 12th Regt. M. I.

KILLED.

First Regiment — Colonel Roberts, Captain
Pomeroy, Lieut. Haupin.

Third Regiment—Lieut. Hess, Co. D; Corporal
Van Dusen, Co. D; Corporal Berringer,
Co. D; Corporal Traverse, Co. D; Corporal
Mead, Co. K; — McGrath, Co. D; H. D.
Beckwith, Co. K; C. W. Bullen, Co. K; W.
Halsey, Co. K; J. J. Powley, Co. K.

First Cavalry—Lieut. G. Morse.

Harkins, Hugh Stanton, 1862, Lansing Republican,
June 4 1862, p. 3

In Delhi, Michigan, on the 20th inst., HUGH STANTON, only son of R. W. and Fanny A. Harkins, aged 3 months and 16 days.

Dear little Hugh has gone to rest,
Where never a sin shall stain his breast;
No trouble disturb him, no fear annoy,
No cloud o'ershadow his innocent joy.
He has gone home to Heaven, that land of love,
Of light and gladness and blessing above:
His head is pillowed on Jesus' breast,
Our dear little Hugh is now sweetly at rest.

Drowned, in the Red Cedar River, on the 29th inst.,
FRANK, son of Wm. Hartwic, aged six years.

This calamity resulted from the following circumstances, as near as can be ascertained. Some six or eight boys all between the ages of six and eight years old went down to the river a few rods above the village for the purpose of "going in swimming." Arriving at the river they stripped and waded in. Poor unfortunate Frank happening to wade a little too far, fell into a deep hole and drowned.

His little comrades made for the village, and as they passed, some of the citizens overheard them whispering among themselves not to tell, "so nobody would find it out;" but upon being interogated said that Frank was drowned—that they threw sticks to him but could not help him.

The citizens rushed down and found the little corpse lying at the bottom of the river, in about eight feet of water; being brought out, all attempts at resuscitation proved unavailing, having probably been in the water over an hour

This sad calamity solemnly warns us of the imperative necessity of keeping the "dear little ones" under constant parental supervision.

J. A. L.

Williamston. July 30, 1862.

Haupin, Lieut, 1862, Lansing Republican,
September 10 1862, p. 2

KILLED.

First Regiment — Colonel Roberts, Captain
Pomeroy, Lieut Haupin.

Hayes, Lyman, 1862 Lansing Republican,
February 5 1862, p. 2

COMPANY H.

.Private Arthur McDonald, typhoid fever

Private Lyman Hayes, Variola;

COMPANY I

DIED.

September 27th, CLARISSA J. HAYNES, aged 16 years ;
also, on the 29th same month, SARAH ALMA, aged 3
years, only daughters, of John B. and Frelove Haynes,
of Williamston, formerly of Phelps, Ontario Co., N. Y.

At a meeting of the Ladies' Social Circle, of Williamston, held November 23d, 1861, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted.

Whereas, God in His Divine Providence, having seen fit to remove by death our much loved sister Clarissa J.
Haynes, and also, her sister, Sarah Alma :

Be it therefore Resolved, That while we mourn with deep sadness the death of a sister so useful, young, and lovely, and much as we miss her loved form, and kind, intelligent voice, at this, our social meeting, where she was ever ready to give and receive instruction, we bow to the will of an all-wise and merciful father.

Resolved, That we shall ever hold in grateful remembrance her efforts to make our Social Circle interesting and pleasing to all, and her setting an example of unflinching virtue we would all do well to imitate.

Resolved, that we unite in affectionate condolence with the bereaved family whose grief is doubled by the loss of their only one who was taken from their arms to be cherished by loving parents in a new and brighter sphere, and we desire as far as possible to lighten their affliction, by pointing out to them their dear ones united and happy in that blessed land, where we have full assurance death and sorrow can never part them more ; and where in a few years, they can rejoin them, a united family, in that happy home where all is joy and gladness, and where tears are wiped from all eyes.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be presented to the beloved family in token of our sympathy, and although called upon to bear so heavy a burden, may they be comforted by these thoughts so well expressed by the poet,

Ere sin could blight or sorrow fade,
Death timely came with friendly care,
The opening buds to Heaven conveyed,
And bade them bloom forever there.

The infant died before its soul
Had ever burned with wrong desire,
Had ever spurned at heaven's control,
Or ever quenched its sacred fire.

They died to sin, to woe, and care,
Yet for a moment felt the rod,
Then, springing on the viewless air,
Spread their light wings and soared to God.

And let us hope for these deeply afflicted friends,
that

There are days of sunny rest,
For every dark and troubled night,
Grief may abide an evening guest,
But joy shall come with early light.

For God hath marked each anguished day,
And numbered every secret tear,
And heaven's long age of bliss shall pay,
For all His children suffer here.

COMMITTEE ON RESOLUTIONS :

MRS. JAMES WALFORD,
MAGGIE LINDELLY,
ABBY LIGHTON.

[COM.]

Capital Area District Libraries

Haynes, Samuel, 1862, Lansing Republican,
February 5 1862, p. 2

COMPANY K.

Private Denis Parrish, variola; Private Wm.
Crum, variola; Private Samuel Haynes, variola;
Private Wm Smith, variola; Private John H
Davis, variola; Private Amos Smith, cholera
morbus.

DIED.

September 27th, CLARISSA J. HAYNES, aged 16 years ;
also, on the 29th same month, SARAH ALMA, aged 3
years, only daughters, of John B. and Frelove Haynes,
of Williamston, formerly of Phelps, Ontario Co., N. Y.

At a meeting of the Ladies' Social Circle, of Williamston, held November 23d, 1861, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted.

Whereas, God in His Divine Providence, having seen fit to remove by death our much loved sister Clarissa J. Haynes, and also, her sister, Sarah Alma :

Be it therefore Resolved, That while we mourn with deep sadness the death of a sister so useful, young, and lovely, and much as we miss her loved form, and kind, intelligent voice, at this, our social meeting, where she was ever ready to give and receive instruction, we bow to the will of an all-wise and merciful father.

Resolved, That we shall ever hold in grateful remembrance her efforts to make our Social Circle interesting and pleasing to all, and her setting an example of unostentatious virtue we would all do well to imitate.

Resolved, That we unite in affectionate condolence with the bereaved family whose grief is doubled by the loss of their only one who was taken from their arms to be cherished by loving parents in a new and brighter sphere, and we desire as far as possible to lighten their affliction by pointing out to them their dear ones united and happy in that blessed land, where we have full assurance death and sorrow can never part them more; and where in a few years, they can rejoin them, a united family in that happy home where all is joy and gladness, and where tears are wiped from all eyes.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be presented to the beloved family in token of our sympathy, and although called upon to bear so heavy a burden, may they be comforted by these thoughts so well expressed by the poet,

Ere sin could blight or sorrow fade,
Death timely came with friendly care,
The opening buds to Heaven conveyed,
And bade them bloom forever there.

The infant died before its soul
Had ever burned with wrong desire,
Had ever spurned at heaven's control,
Or ever quenched its sacred fire.

They died to sin, to wo, and care,
Yet for a moment felt the rod,
Then, springing on the viewless air,
Spread their light wings and soared to God

And let us hope for these deeply afflicted friends,
that

There are days of sunny rest,
For every dark and troubled night,
Grief may abide an evening guest,
But joy shall come with early light.

For God hath marked each anguished day,
And numbered every secret tear,
And heaven's long age of bliss shall pay,
For all his children's suffer, ere.

COMMITTEE ON RESOLUTIONS :

MRS. JAMES WALTON,
MAGGIE LINDSELY,
ABBY LIGHTON.

[COM.]

Surgeons Report of Deaths and Discharged

List of Deaths in the Eighth Michigan Regiment from Sept 23, 1861, to Jan. 13, 1862

COMPANY A

Private Theodore Jennings, small pox ; Private Albert Newman, remittent fever ; Private Peter Friety, typhoid fever ; Private Oliver J. Cone typhoid fever ; Sergeant James H. Atchinson typhoid fever ; Sergeant David B. Foote, gun shot wound ; Private Ira Armstrong, gun shot wound ; Private Edward Brooks, gun shot wound ; Corporal J. Q. Adams, gun shot wound ; Private Thos. Heather, chronic dysentery.

Capital Area District Libraries

KILLED.

First Regiment — Colonel Roberts, Captain Pomeroy, Lieut. Haupin.

Third Regiment—Lieut. Hess, Co. D; Corporal Van Dusen, Co. D; Corporal Berringer, Co. D; Corporal Traverse, Co. D; Corporal Mead, Co. K; — McGrath, Co. D; H. D. Beckwith, Co. K; C. W. Bullen, Co. K; W. Halsey, Co. K; J. J. Powley, Co. K.

First Cavalry—Lieut. G. Morse.

DIED.

In Eagle, of inflammation of the lungs, ESTHER ANTA-NETTE HILL, adopted daughter of Chester C. and Fran-ces G. Hildreth, aged 11 years, 10 months and 26 days.

Her death was sudden and unexpected, and is a severe blow to her doating parents and fond foster sister whose affections were closely bound to her by all the endear-ments which twine around the hearts of parents and children. She was one of those rare specemens of girl-ish loveliness which are said to be doomed to fall the ear-liest; she was loved by all who knew her. Funeral ser-vices were performed by the Rev. Larman Chatfield, on the 27th of March.

Farewell sweet Nettie's dust,
In earth's cold bosom laid,
The dearest, brightest, sweetest trust,
To heaven has been conveyed.

The sweetest flower that blooms
Is earliest doomed to fade,
The richest too of earth's perfumes
Their exit first have made.

Farewell sweet Nettie, dear,
Till we shall meet above,
Where free from sin and every tear,
We'll sing our father's love.

At the Agricultural College, in Ingham county, on Sunday, the 18th inst., of diphtheria, after an illness of 18 days, THOMAS WILLIAM HILL, aged 18 years.

His remains were taken to Portland, and deposited by those of his mother, who died several years since. Mr. George Hill, father of the deceased, who has long been a resident of this county, attended upon his son during his last sickness, at the Agricultural College, and expresses the warmest gratitude for the kind treatment and sympathy manifested by the professors and their families toward him during the season of his trying affliction, and we cheerfully yield to his request to give place to the following, which he has written upon the subject:

"Justice compels me to make public my sincere thanks to the faculty of the Agricultural College, for their kind and untiring attention to my son during his last sickness. It is my humble opinion that they do all that can possibly be done for the comfort and convenience of the pupils in their charge, notwithstanding the many backhanded thrusts at them which I have heard from the lips of many who assume the garb of aristocracy. My heart would be calloused to every principle of humanity did it not break forth with fervency and thankfulness for past favors. The last, though not the least, of the kindnesses shown to all the students, and especially to the sick, are cheerfully bestowed by Mr. Tibbitts, his lady and the entire family. I hope they will receive their just and full reward, when God shall say to them, 'Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these little ones, ye have done it unto Me. Enter thou into the presence of thy Lord.'"

GEORGE HILL.

Hinckley, Gill C, 1862, Lansing Republican,
Febrary 5 1862, p. 2

COMPANY B.

Corporal Charles F. Vallean, remittent fever;
Musician Gill. C. Hinckley, pneumonia; Private
Hiram Gardner, pneumonia; Private Samue
Strickland, typhoid fever; Private Fred. Burke, typhoid fever

COMPANY C

Hogan, William F, 1862, Lansing Republican,
September 10 1862, p. 3

Correspondence of the Lansing Republican.
Letter from the Michigan 3d Regiment.

ALEXANDRIA, Va., Sept. 2, 1862.

GEO. I. PARSONS, Esq., Dear Sir:—The 3d Regiment has again been engaged with the enemy, and has suffered severely. The lists of killed and wounded are not completed, but as near as I can learn, the following is the loss of Co. G:

Corporal, Wm. F. Hogan and private Albert Lewis, killed.

Holiday, Charles B, 1862, Lansing Republican,
Febrary 5 1862, p. 2

COMPANY C.

Lieut. Chas. B. Holiday, typhoid fever; Private Wm. B. Huntington, chronic dysentery; Private Darius Waite, peritonitis; Private Johnathan K. George, peritonitis; Sergeant Henry P. Wagnire, typhoid fever.

COMPANY D.

Hudson, H, 1862, Lansing Republican,
April 30 1862, p. 2

H. BRANCH, F. F. WOODRUFF, D. GUY—12.

COMPANY C—CAPT. ALBERT.

Killed—Privates H. Branch, 'S. Potter, H.

Hudson—3.

Hull, John A, 1862, Lansing Republican,
February 5 1862, p. 2

Private Wm. M. Brown, typhoid fever.

COMPANY E.

Private Harvey Sowles, dysentery; Thomas
W. Perry, typhoid fever; Private John A.
Hull, typhoid fever; Private Lyman H. H.,
typhoid fever; Private Cyrus H. Delano,
typhoid fever; Private Peter Shiek, Variola.

COMPANY E.

Hull, Lyman, 1862, Lansing Republican,
February 5 1862, p. 2

COMPANY E.

Private Harvey Sowles, dysentery; Thomas
W. Perry, typhoid fever; Private John A.
Hull, typhoid fever; Private Lyman Hull,
typhoid fever; Private Cyrus H. Delano,
typhoid fever; Private Peter Shiek, Variola.

COMPANY F.

FROM THE EIGHTH REGIMENT. — We have received from William Wiley, who went out with Dr. H. B. Shank, Surgeon of the Eighth Regiment, the official report of all the deaths that have taken place in the Regiment. We have not time to insert the complete list, but give the list of deaths that have taken place in Capt. Elder's Zouaves of this city, which is company E of the Regiment. The death are as follows: Harvey Sowles, Thos. W. Perry, John A. Hall, Lyman Hull, Cyrus H. Delano, Peter Shick.

The following have been discharged from this company from physical disability: John Burgoyne, Thomas McCarthy, Jas. Dillapaugh, Dorman K. Fuller. Doct. Shank has resigned. The total number of deaths in the Regiment is 41, of which the largest number, 16, were in company A; the smallest number 1, in company D. Twenty-one have been discharged from disability.

Hunt, John O, 1839-1862, Lansing Republican,
January 15 1862, p. 3

In camp, January 2d, of disease of the throat, Corporal
JOHN O. HUNT, aged 23 years, of Onondaga, Ingham
Co., Michigan, also of the same company.

Hunt, Willie, 1862, Lansing Republican,
June 4 1862, p. 3

COM.

In Lansing, April 28th, 1862, WILLIE, only son of C. S. and Emma Hunt, of this city.

Huntington, William B, 1862, Lansing Republican,
February 5 1862, p. 2

COMPANY C.

Lieut. Chas. B. Holiday, typhoid fever; Private Wm. B. Huntington, chronic dysentery; Private Darius Waite, peritonitis; Private Johnathan K. George, peritonitis; Sergeant Henry P. Wagmire, typhoid fever.

Hurley, Mary, 1832-1862, Lansing Republican,
August 6 1862, p. 3

DIED.

In this city, on Sunday, the 3d instant, of consumption, MRS. MARY HURLEY, aged 30 years.

Of congestion of the lungs, on Monday afternoon,
Dec. 8th, 1862, after an illness of four days, CAROLINE
C., wife of Francis A. Jeffers, and daughter of Jos. H.
Kilbourn, aged 28 years, 1 month and 1 day.

Though suddenly called, she was prepared. Her house was in order, her lamp brightly burning.

So passes, in the transit of a day,
Of mortal life the verdure and the bloom—
Nor will the sunshine of a second May
The leaf re-open, or the flower relume;
Yet stricken mourners, cherish no regret,
Ah! No! I'd have thee fondly cherish this,
That all our former joys and fleeting bliss.
Our songs of love, our halcyon days of yore,
Will be renewed within a brighter shore
Where sorrows come not—Death ne'er dare intrude,
And banished is Eternal solitude.
Thus fondly think, to us the hope is given,
That all our joys come back again in Heaven.

Surgeons Report of Deaths and Discharged

List of Deaths in the Eighth Michigan Regiment from Sept 23, 1861, to Jan. 13, 1862.

COMPANY A

Private Theodore Jennings, small pox; Private Albert Newman, remittent fever; Private Peter Friety, typhoid fever; Private Oliver J. Cone, typhoid fever; Sergeant James H. Atchinson, typhoid fever; Sergeant David B. Foote, gun shot wound; Private Ira Armstrong, gun shot wound; Private Edward Brooks, gun shot wound; Corporal J. Q. Adams, gun shot wound; Private Thos. Heather, chronic dysentery.

COMPANY B

Johnson, H.L., 1862, Lansing Republican,
April 30 1862, p. 2

COMPANY I—CAPT. BROWN.

Killed—Sergeant H. L. Johnson ; Privates H.
Treat, Wm. Calhoun, John Treadwell, Wm.
Willis—5.

HENRY AUGUSTUS THOLUCK MEYER, eldest son of the Rev. Edward and Mrs. Mary E. Meyer, of this city, died on the battle field of Sharpsburg, Md., on Wednesday, September 17th, 1862, aged 17 years 7 months and 13 days.

He was born in Albany, N. Y., Feb. 4th, 1845. He was in the battle of South Mountain, on Sunday, Sept. 14th, from which he escaped unharmed, sending home a splinter from a tree cut down by a rebel ball close behind him; but in the battle following, he fell by a bullet passing entirely through him, lodging in his cartridge box. One of his messmates, William Jordan, was also killed. Henry lies on the field, in a soldier's grave. The testimony of his Colonel is, that he was ever cheerful, ever ready to do his duty. In character he was mild and gentle, a kind and loving brother, a dutiful son. His loss will be mourned by all who knew him. He forms one of the many of our noble, brave and heroic sons, who have found their last resting place on the field of glory.

Com.

Letters from the Michigan 3d Regiment.

HEADQUARTERS BERRY'S BRIGADE,
(Near the Battle Field of May 31st,) }
June 3, 1862. }

GEO. I. PARSONS, Esq., Dear Sir:—I wrote on the evening of the battle to my wife, giving a hasty description of the part which our Brigade took in the action of that day; also, a partial list of the killed and wounded of our company.

The reports were not completed until late last night, and I now enclose an abstract from them of the loss of the three Michigan Regiments of our Brigade:

MICHIGAN 2D.	KILLED.	WOUNDED.	MISSING.
Officers,	none.	2	none.
Enlisted men,	10	41	2
MICHIGAN 3D.
Officers,	1	8	none.
Men,	25	104	27
MICHIGAN 5TH.
Officers,	1	4	none.
Men,	57	115	14

Making an aggregate of 378—some of the missing will undoubtedly be found.

The loss of our Lansing company is severe, and comprises some of the best men of the company.

Sergt. Chas. T. Foster, the Color Sergt. of the Regiment was the first to fall. He was bravely holding the colors, and by his coolness and courage, doing much to encourage the boys to press on. Orderly E. F. Siverd was soon after wounded, but still did his duty and urged his comrades on. Soon after this, Corporals Case B. Wickham, John Blanchard and Nathaniel T. Atkinson, and privates Samuel Dowell and Charles T. Gaskell received fatal shots. Atkinson and Dowell were brought from the field before they died. All have been buried, and their resting places marked with a board giving the name, company and regiment.

Jackson, Clays, Wenson, Trimmer and Crane, are in camp, and the balance of the wounded have been sent on the cars to White House Landing to be forwarded to their homes, and

Capital Area District Libraries

All have been buried, and their resting places marked with a board giving the name, company and regiment.

Jackson, Clays, Benson, Trimmer and Crane, are in camp, and the balance of the wounded have been sent on the cars to White House Landing to be forwarded to their homes, and where they are not able to stand the journey will be taken to hospitals at Fortress Monroe, Washington, and Baltimore, but I think it is the intention to send them home when they are able to go, and can be better cared for. There is an order from the War Department commuting the rations of the sick and wounded soldiers at 25 cents per day while away from the charge of the Department.

Gen. Berry's Assistant Adjutant General Capt. E. M. Smith was killed during the engagement. He was a most gallant and brave officer, and beloved by all who knew him. He distinguished himself at the battle of Williamsburg for his bravery, as will be seen by the official report of both Generals Kearny and Berry. Four of my comrades, with myself, carried him back to the station and buried him in a pleasant orchard where many more have been buried since.

Capt. Judd, of Co. "A," 3d Regiment, was killed while in charge of the Sharpshooters in the advance of our Brigade.

Captain Quackenbush, of the 5th, was also killed.

Col. Champlin was wounded severely though it is not considered dangerous. He walked some distance after he was wounded, and by his presence and energy did much to encourage his men.

I would gladly speak of the merits of each of our company who are dead, had I the ability of doing so as they deserve; they were beloved by all, and their many mourning friends may be assured they have the heartfelt sympathy of every one of us.

Our knapsacks are all back with the wagon train across the river and may not soon be up, facts of those who are gone, and forward them to their friends as soon as possible.

Our Division moved last evening farther to the front and across the railroad, to the right, and in the rear of Generals Sedgwick and Richard facts of those who are gone, and forward them to their friends as soon as possible.

Our Division moved last evening farther to the front and across the railroad, to the right, and in the rear of Generals Sedgwick and Richardson's Divisions.

Gen. Richardson's Division was engaged last Sunday and he lost about 900 men. He came to our camp to day, and was immediately surrounded by the Brigade who greeted him with the wildest enthusiasm.

The weather is very warm, with frequent showers, which keeps the roads in a horrible condition.

Our boys are feeling quite tired out, but stand it as a general thing well. Corporal Shattuck, and private W. F. Hogan, arrived in camp yesterday from the Hospital at Yorktown; they report Sergt. J. B. Ten Eyck as getting better, but not yet able to return for duty.

The rebels are holding their position here better than at any other place in Virginia, still we have no doubt of our final success.

The official reports of the engagement of the 31st of May, I suppose will soon be published, so that you can have a better idea of the part our regiment performed. They were in the advance of the balance of the Brigade, and fought with a determination seldom equalled. General's Kearney and Berry both gave us great praise.

The loss of 37th N. Y. Regiment was 81 killed, wounded and missing.

I earnestly hope it may not be my duty to again report losses such as these to our brigade. Our numbers are small, but each feel that we still have a duty to perform, and while there is a man left to do duty, I trust you will hear of it being done well.

I will try to keep your readers informed of our whereabouts and doings, but I am well aware they will miss "Stray Leaves from Camp," and with us, mourn the loss of their author.

Capt. Jefferds has been obliged to forward his resignation on account of continuing ill health, and will probably soon be at home so that our many friends can hear more particularly from each.

Yours,

HOMER L. THAYER.

DIED.

Of Consumption, at Michigan State Agricultural College, April 16, 1862, DEXTER M. KENYON, aged 20 years.

Whereas, It has pleased the Ruler of the Universe to remove from us by the hand of death, one who by his kind and gentlemanly deportment has endeared himself to all;

Resolved, That by the death of Dexter M. Kenyon, we, his fellow students, have sustained an irreparable loss—a loss that is deeply felt by all of us.

Resolved, That we, as a body of students, do tender to the parents and friends of the deceased our heartfelt sympathies, in this, their hour of bereavement.

Resolved, That Professors Miles and Thurber are deserving of our warmest gratitude for their untiring labors and care in rendering medical assistance for the relief of the deceased.

Resolved, That Mr. and Mrs. Tibbits have merited our thanks for their kindness and attention to his wants during his illness.

Resolved, By the students assembled as a committee of the whole, that the foregoing resolutions be unanimously adopted, and that they be published in the Lansing State Republican, also in the papers of the county of which the deceased was a resident, and a copy of the same be forwarded to the friends of the deceased.

Committee on resolutions :

J. H. KILBOURNE,
A. J. COOK,
C. C. FITCH.

Kerr, Catherine, 1800-1862, Lansing Republican,
March 26 1862, p. 3

DIED.

In this city, of consumption, at the residence of her son, John A. Kerr, Esq., Mrs. CATHARINE KERR, aged 62 years. Mrs. Kerr was a native of Princeton, N. J.

DIED.

In Lansing, on the morning of the 10th inst., MARY daughter of John A. and P. P. Kerr, aged 6 months and 11 days.

A shadow has fallen across the blue sky,
And the messenger-angel swept silently by;
A sweet tuned life-harp is lying unstrung,
The little hand wearied, the sweet hymn unsung,
Clasp the wee fingers, close the blue eyes,
Our little earth-angel has gone to the skies.
Tenderly, lovingly kiss the sweet lips,
Losing their rose flush in death's pale eclipse.
O carefully robe her, O, hushingly weep,
So sweetly our darling has fallen asleep.
The pearl gates of heaven hung lightly ajar,
Unloosed from their clasping of sunbeam and star,
And the song of the angels pealed softly and low,
To the heart of our treasure its tremulous flow.
One moment of listening with uplifted wing,
To the clear hallelujahs the bright choirs sing:
Then trembled the soul-wings, and with the sweet lay
The little-freed spirit fluttered away.
Another fair blossom its sweet bloom has given
To the beautiful garland twined in Heaven.
Another lamb folded from earth sin and blight,
"Beside the still waters" in meadows of light.
On the bosom of Jesus our darling will rest;
Only lent for a season, He loved her the best;
His loving voice pleaded "let the little ones come,"
And we would not call her away from His home.
Dear little angel, singing in Heaven,
Gladly to Jesus thy sweet life is given;
Gladly we yield thee back to His love,
A pearl in the diadem shining above.
In tenderest mercy the dark shadow fell;
He loveth and chastens—we know it is well.

LaRue, Abbie Ellian, 1859-1862, Lansing Republican,
May 21 1862, p. 3

D I E D .

At Lansing, of diptheria, May 3, 1862, EVA ISABELLA, aged 6 years, 3 months and 27 days; and May 11th, ABBIE ELLIAN, aged 2 years, 8 months and 21 days, the youngest daughters of Franklin and Amelia LaRue.

While yet a blessed glimpse of heaven,
Pure in their eyes did play,
Without one thought to be forgiven,
Our darlings passed away.

LaRue, Eva Isabella, 1856-1862, Lansing Republican,
May 21 1862, p. 3

D I E D .

At Lansing, of diphtheria, May 3, 1862, EVA ISABELLA, aged 6 years, 3 months and 27 days; and May 11th, ABBIE ELLIAN, aged 2 years, 8 months and 21 days, the youngest daughters of Franklin and Amelia LaRue.

While yet a blessed glimpse of heaven,
Pure in their eyes did play,
Without one thought to be forgiven,
Our darlings passed away.

Correspondence of the Lansing Republican.
From the Twelfth Michigan Regiment.

BETHEL STATION, Tennessee, }
June 11th, 1862. }

Editor Republican:—

Dear Sir: Allow me to state to your readers the condition of Capt. I. M. Cravath's company, in the 12th Regiment Michigan Infantry, as there has been a great change in said company since the last communication you have received from Capt. Cravath.

I believe you have not heard anything direct from this company since the battle of Shiloh.

As this company was raised mostly from Ingham and Eaton counties, it will be interesting to the citizens of those counties to hear something about it, and find out where their sons, brothers and neighbors are, and how they are doing.

On the 8th day of April, one day after the fight, Capt. Cravath was taken sick with a fever. About a week afterwards he got leave of absence and went North on board of a steamboat, and has never been heard from directly by this regiment up to this time. We once heard that he was dead, then it was contradicted. Afterwards we heard that he was in Ohio, and then that he was about well. Then again we heard that he was dead, but the latter is not confirmed. The Captain ought to let us know something of his whereabouts, and how he is getting along. So much for that.

At the same time Capt. Cravath left, more than fifty out of this company were sick with fever and diarrhoea. Some of them have returned to their company and are now doing duty, while others were sent North to hospitals—some to St. Louis, others to Cincinnati, Quincy, Ill., Evansville, Ind., and elsewhere.

At the battle of Pittsburg Landing, we lost in killed one, John Schleicher, from Lansing.

Lieut. A. G. Davis was wounded and afterwards died at Cincinnati.

Austin Miller, from Leslie, wounded, and afterwards died.

Martin Ackley, Leslie, wounded and is getting well.

John Roeddles, jr., Meridian, wounded and doing well.

John B. Botz, from Vermontville, wounded and getting better.

William Belcher was wounded slightly, but has not been heard from since.

I will now give you a list of the missing since the battle:

Sergt. Samuel W. Grinell, from Sunfield.
Corp. Thomas C. Kenyon, and privates John Nagel, Wm. Oatly and Jerome B. Lafferty, from Lansing.

Private Talcott B. Irish, Alaiedon.
" Wm H. Lombard, Vermontville.
" Asahel Parker, Meridian.

These are all we lost at the battle of Shiloh, April 6th and 7th, 1862.

" Asahel Parker, Meridian.

These are all we lost at the battle of Shiloh, April 6th and 7th, 1862.

Since then we have been stationed near the landing to guard the boats and to gather up our men as much as possible, but we met with poor success, and the regiment is not so strong to-day as it was the day we marched back from the lines, 4 miles this side of Corinth.

We have lost a number of men who died by disease, which was raging like fury all over the battle field. I will give you a list of members of this company who died while we were stationed near the river:

Sergt. Henry C. Guest, died May 26th—disease debility.

Corporal Henry B. Palmer, Washtenaw, died May 27th with Lung Fever.

Daniel Ellis, Lansing, died of fever at Savannah Hospital, 9 miles below Pittsburg Landing.

Milton P. Hall, Castleton, died of Lung Fever.

Wm. H. Lennan, Meridian, died of Lung Fever.

Yesterday, I received notice that Gilbert Allen, Delhi, died at Quincy, Ill., of Typhoid Fever, and how many more have died in hospitals North, I cannot tell.

It seems as if this company, or the regiment, (for other companies lose in proportion) is going as fast as a body of men can go; where I cannot tell, but one after another disappears from the ranks.

Our company reports now 79 members, of which there are only 30 present, including one commissioned officer, and of these 30 there are only 21 fit for duty, and we are one of the largest companies in the regiment. The balance of the company is scattered all over the country, from West Tennessee to Michigan—wherever a hospital can be found. It is said that there is not a hospital without men in it from the 12th Michigan regiment.

As far as news, from the war is concerned, there is none. We are now stationed at Bethel, a railroad station 20 miles north of Corinth, but we expect marching orders every day. The Colonel says that this regiment is going towards Memphis, which we all would like very much. I hope this will be the case.

Mr. Editor, if you know anything of the whereabouts of Capt. Cravath, I wish you would be so kind as to let us know all about it.

I hope that Corporal John Strong will follow up his company as soon as possible, as every man's services are needed here at the present time, and I do further hope that those now in hospitals will soon return to their regiment or company.

For about two weeks I have been confined to my bed and tent on account of fever and "Tennessee Quickstep," but am all right again.

Yours, &c.,

GEO. H. GASSENMERE,

1st Lieut. Co. G, 12th Regt. M. I.

Leslie, Nelson D, 1839-1862, Lansing Republican,
January 15 1862, p. 3

In camp, Washington D. C., January 3d, 1862, of measles, NELSON D. LESLIE, formerly from the township of Meridian, Ingham Co., Michigan, aged 26 years, a member of the same company.

Lewis, Albert, 1862, Lansing Republican,
September 10 1862, p. 3

Correspondence of the Lansing Republican.
Letter from the Michigan 3d Regiment.

ALEXANDRIA, Va., Sept. 2, 1862.

GEO. I. PARSONS, ESQ., Dear Sir:—The 3d Regiment has again been engaged with the enemy, and has suffered severely. The lists of killed and wounded are not completed, but as near as I can learn, the following is the loss of Co. G:

Corporal, Wm. F. Hogan and private Albert Lewis, killed.

Lewsi, George W, 1844-1862, Lansing Republican,
January 15 1862, p. 3

In camp, January 21, of measles, GEORGE W. LEWIS, aged 18 years, son of John R. Lewis, of Onecida, Eaton Co.
Michigan, a member of the same company.

Lindsley, Silas, 1817-1862, Lansing Republican,
January 15 1862, p. 3

TO BE FOR SUCH A SLUMBER MEET."

Departed this life in the City of Washington, at the Indiana Hospital, (Patent Office,) of typhoid fever, January 1st, SILAS S. LINDSLEY, aged 45 years, of Co. B., 2d Regiment, Berdan's U. S. Sharp-Shooters, formerly of Dansville, Ingham Co., Michigan.

In the city of Lansing, on the 1st instant, WILLIAM SPENCER, oldest child and only son of Amos and Lucy F. Lindsley, aged 13 years, 3 months and 9 days.

Measles, followed by typhoid fever was the immediate cause of his death. But little Willie had been for many years a most intense and constant sufferer, which made him helpless and dependent as an infant, but he has gone where disease can no'er crush out his little life again.

Our "Willie Boy" has gone to sleep,

His eyes are closed in dreamless rest;

Pain no more shall wake his slumbers deep!

For he is now supremely blest.

A little lock of silver hair,

Which oft we've smothered with gentle hand;

His toys—the clothes he used to wear,

Are here! but HE is in the spirit-land.

Little, Infant, 1862, Lansing Republican,
April 30 1862, p. 3

DIED.

In this city, on the 24th inst., the youngest and infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Little.

Manly, Shubael U, 1810-1862, Lansing Republican,
June 25 1862, p. 3

WILLIAM FIELD ARCHBOLD, aged 20 years.

In the township of Delhi, on the 22d inst., of Consumption, Mr. SHUBAEL U. MANLY, aged 52 years, 1 month and 3 days.

Martin, Mary Ann, 1852-1862, Lansing Republican,
December 24 1862, p. 3

At the residence of her uncle, (James Martin,) in Delhi, on the 20th inst., of congestion of the brain, MARY ANN MARTIN, daughter of John Martin, aged 9 years, 8 months and 2 days.

Mccarthy, John W, 1799-1862, Lansing Republican,
October 1 1862, p. 3

... home to die.

Com.

On the 26th ult., in the township of Delhi, Mr. JOHN W. McCARTHY, aged 63 years, leaving a companion and one daughter, with several more-distant relatives in mourning.

McCormick, Patrick, 1862, Lansing Republican,
April 30 1862, p. 2

COMPANY D—CAPT. GRAVES.

Killed—Privates Jas. Worden, Patrick Mc
Cormick—2.

Wounded—Orderly Sergeant N. H. Claff.

McDonald, Arthur, 1862, Lansing Republican,
February 5 1862, p. 2

COMPANY H.

Private Arthur McDonald, typhoid fever
Private Lyman Hayes, Variola;

McGrath, 1862, Lansing Republican,
September 10 1862, p. 2

Romeroy, Lieut. Haupt.

Third Regiment—Lieut. Hess, Co. D; Corporal Van Dusen, Co. D; Corporal Barringer, Co. D; Corporal Traverse, Co. D; Corporal Mead, Co. K; — McGrath, Co. D; H. D. Beckwith, Co. K; C. W. Bullen, Co. K; W. Halsey, Co. K; J. J. Powley, Co. K.

First Cavalry—Lieut. G. Morse.

McPhelps, Noah H, 1861-1862, Lansing Republican,
October 8 1862, p. 3

DIED.

After a brief illness, at his father's house, in Meridian
NOAH H., youngest son of Noah and Esther McPhelps, aged one year and two months.

“So fades the lovely blooming flower,
Frail smiling solace of an hour.”

H. W. McRoberts died in the hospital at Fortress Monroe, March 23d. He was taken sick with measles while in cantonment at Grand Rapids, from which he never recovered. He has never been able to do severe duty, but such was his patriotism that he refused an honorable discharge which was offered him. When we had orders to embark on this expedition, he was again urged to remain, but he had determined to cast his lot with the company, and forfeited his life to his patriotism. The exposure we were subjected to after our arrival at the Fort, was too much for his fragile constitution, and he succumbed. He was sick but one day. Everything was done for him that science or attention could do.

Capital Area District Libraries

He was buried with military honors in a beautiful live oak grove on the beach, about two miles from the fortress. His ashes will there remain in peace, undisturbed, we hope, by the vandal grave robbers of Manassas. The beautiful, wide spreading branches of the live oak will wave over his resting place, while the waves of the Chesapeake almost lave his feet. Rev. Mr. May, Chaplain of the Michigan 2d, kindly volunteered to perform the funeral services, and while he discoursed most eloquently a practical sermon to the boys, I busied myself in rudely sketching the name, company, and regiment of our late lamented comrade upon a shingle, which was nailed to an ancient live oak near the head of his grave. He is the first member of the company we have lost since we left Michigan, and his loss is deeply mourned.

At this hour, 10 P. M., it still rains; no fighting except a little skirmishing. God is for the right, and we must be victorious.

Respectfully yours,

FRANK.

Mead, Corporal, 1862, Lansing Republican,
September 10 1862, p. 2

Third Regiment—Lieut. Hess, Co. D; Corporal Van Dusen, Co. D; Corporal Berringer, Co. D; Corporal Traverse, Co. D; Corporal Mead, Co. K; — McGrath, Co. D; H. D. Beckwith, Co. K; C. W. Bullen, Co. K; W. Halsey, Co. K; J. J. Powley, Co. K.

First Cavalry—Lieut. G. Morse.

Melvis, Polly, 1862, Lansing Republican,
May 16 1862, p. 3

DIED.

In this city, on Friday, the 9th inst., Mrs. POLLY MELVIS, in the 53d year of her age.

HENRY AUGUSTUS THOLUCK MEYER, eldest son of the Rev. Edward and Mrs. Mary E. Meyer, of this city, died on the battle field of Sharpsburg, Md., on Wednesday September 17th, 1862, aged 17 years 7 months and 13 days.

He was born in Albany, N. Y., Feb. 4th, 1845. He was in the battle of South Mountain, on Sunday, Sept. 14th, from which he escaped unharmed, sending home a splinter from a tree cut down by a rebel ball close behind him; but in the battle following, he fell by a bullet passing entirely through him, lodging in his cartridge box. One of his messmates, William Jordan, was also killed. Henry lies on the field, in a soldier's grave. The testimony of his Colonel is, that he was ever cheerful, ever ready to do his duty. In character he was mild and gentle, a kind and loving brother, a dutiful son. His loss will be mourned by all who knew him. He forms one of the many of our noble, brave and heroic sons, who have found their last resting place on the field of glory.

Correspondence of the Lansing Republican.
From the Twelfth Michigan Regiment.

BETHEL STATION, Tennessee, }
June 11th, 1862. }

Editor Republican:—

Dear Sir: Allow me to state to your readers the condition of Capt. I. M. Cravath's company, in the 12th Regiment Michigan Infantry, as there has been a great change in said company since the last communication you have received from Capt. Cravath.

I believe you have not heard anything direct from this company since the battle of Shiloh.

As this company was raised mostly from Ingham and Eaton counties, it will be interesting to the citizens of those counties to hear something about it, and find out where their sons, brothers and neighbors are, and how they are doing.

On the 8th day of April, one day after the fight, Capt. Cravath was taken sick with a fever. About a week afterwards he got leave of absence and went North on board of a steamboat, and has never been heard from directly by this regiment up to this time. We once heard that he was dead, then it was contradicted. Afterwards we heard that he was in Ohio, and then that he was about well. Then again we heard that he was dead, but the latter is not confirmed. The Captain ought to let us know something of his whereabouts, and how he is getting along. So much for that.

At the same time Capt. Cravath left, more than fifty out of this company were sick with fever and diarrhoea. Some of them have returned to their company and are now doing duty, while others were sent North to hospitals—some to St. Louis, others to Cincinnati, Quincy, Ill., Evansville, Ind., and elsewhere.

At the battle of Pittsburg Landing, we lost in killed one, John Schleicher, from Lansing.

Lieut. A. G. Davis was wounded and afterwards died at Cincinnati.

Austin Miller, from Leslie, wounded, and afterwards died.

Martin Ackley, Leslie, wounded and is getting well.

John Roeddles, jr., Meridian, wounded and doing well.

John B. Botz, from Vermontville, wounded and getting better.

William Belcher was wounded slightly, but has not been heard from since.

I will now give you a list of the missing since the battle:

Sergt. Samuel W. Grinell, from Sunfield.

Corp. Thomas C. Kenyon, and privates John Nagel, Wm. Oatly and Jerome B. Lafferty, from Lansing.

Private Talcott B. Irish, Alaiedon.

" Wm H. Lombard, Vermontville.

" Asahel Parker, Meridian.

These are all we lost at the battle of Shiloh, April 6th and 7th, 1862.

" Asahel Parker, Meridian.

These are all we lost at the battle of Shiloh, April 6th and 7th, 1862.

Since then we have been stationed near the landing to guard the boats and to gather up our men as much as possible, but we met with poor success, and the regiment is not so strong to-day as it was the day we marched back from the lines, 4 miles this side of Corinth.

We have lost a number of men who died by disease, which was raging like fury all over the battle field. I will give you a list of members of this company who died while we were stationed near the river :

Sergt. Henry C. Guest, died May 26th—disease debility.

Corporal Henry B. Palmer, Washtenaw, died May 27th with Lung Fever.

Daniel Ellis, Lansing, died of fever at Savannah Hospital, 9 miles below Pittsburg Landing.

Milton P. Hall, Castleton, died of Lung Fever.

Wm. H. Lennan, Meridian, died of Lung Fever.

Yesterday, I received notice that Gilbert Allen, Delhi, died at Quincy, Ill., of Typhoid Fever, and how many more have died in hospitals North, I cannot tell.

It seems as if this company, or the regiment, (for other companies lose in proportion) is going as fast as a body of men can go; where I cannot tell, but one after another disappears from the ranks.

Our company reports now 79 members, of which there are only 30 present, including one commissioned officer, and of these 30 there are only 21 fit for duty, and we are one of the largest companies in the regiment. The balance of the company is scattered all over the country, from West Tennessee to Michigan—wherever a hospital can be found. It is said that there is not a hospital without men in it from the 12th Michigan regiment.

As far as news, from the war is concerned, there is none. We are now stationed at Bethel, a railroad station 20 miles north of Corinth, but we expect marching orders every day. The Colonel says that this regiment is going towards Memphis, which we all would like very much. I hope this will be the case.

Mr. Editor, if you know anything of the whereabouts of Capt. Cravath, I wish you would be so kind as to let us know all about it.

I hope that Corporal John Strong will follow up his company as soon as possible, as every man's services are needed here at the present time, and I do further hope that those now in hospitals will soon return to their regiment or company.

For about two weeks I have been confined to my bed and tent on account of fever and "Tennessee Quickstep," but am all right again.

Yours, &c.,

GEO. H. GASSENMERE,

1st Lieut. Co. G, 12th Regt. M. I.

Morehouse, A.H.P., 1841-1862, Lansing Republican,
December 31 1862, p. 3

At the Hospital at Alexandria, Va., on the 13th day of December, inst., of chronic diarrhoea, A. H. P. MORE-HOUSE—a private in Co. A, 20th Regiment of Michigan
Infantry. Aged 21 years, 9 months and 29 days.

THE SOLDIERS' FUNERALS.—On Monday last, the funerals of H. W. Paddleford and A. H. P. Morehouse, members of Co. A, 20th Regt. Mich. Infantry, were held in this city, their remains having arrived on Saturday evening, in charge of Dr. J. W. Holmes. That of Mr. Paddleford was held in the forenoon, at the Episcopal Church, and that of Mr. Morehouse in the afternoon, at the Methodist Church.

Both were buried with Masouic honors; they, with many others of their Company, having been made Master Masons but a few days before their departure for camp. A squad of soldiers, under command of Lieut. Chapman, attended the funerals—escorted the remains to the Cemetery and discharged their "farewell shots" over the graves of their fellow soldiers. The scene was impressive and solemn.

Morse, G, 1862. Lansing Republican,
September 10 1862, p. 2

First Cavalry—Lieut. G. Morse.

Mosher, Edward, 1843-1862, Lansing Republican,
February 26 1862, p. 3

DIED.

At the house of his father in the town of Delhi, on the 19th inst., EDWARD, eldest son of Abial Mosher, in his 19th year.

His disease was of the lungs, from which he suffered much for more than six weeks. I am informed by residents of that township that the young man is the eighth one now dead, of a party that attended the last New Year's Ball at the centre of Delhi.

L. B. POTTER.

DEATH OF MR JOHN MULLETT.—On Friday last, Mr. John Mullett, formerly of this city, died at Meridian, Ingham county, his residence. Mr. Mullett was one of the first settlers of Detroit, and when he died was 75 years of age. He was a Government surveyor, and surveyed, probably, a larger portion of this State than any other man; he also held the office of City Surveyor. He owned a large tract of land in the city, which has been known as the Mullett Farm. One of our streets bears his name. Mr. Mullett stood at the head of his profession in the West, was a strictly moral man, and was always held in the highest estimation — Det. Advertiser.

Surgeons Report of Deaths and Discharged

List of Deaths in the Eighth Michigan Regiment from Sept 23, 1861, to Jan. 13, 1862.

COMPANY A

Private Theodore Jennings, small pox ; Private Albert Newman, remittent fever ; Private Peter Friety, typhoid fever ; Private Oliver J. Cone typhoid fever ; Sergeant James H. Atchinson typhoid fever ; Sergeant David B. Foote, gun shot wound ; Private Ira Armstrong, gun shot wound ; Private Edward Brooks, gun shot wound ; Corporal J. Q. Adams, gun shot wound ; Private Thos. Heather, chronic dysentery.

Capital Area District Libraries

North, Joseph E, 1791-1862, Lansing Republican,
November 12 1862, p. 3

DIED.

At his residence, in the Township of Lansing, Nov. 5th, 1862, JOSEPH E. NORTH, aged 71 years.

Mr. North was one of the first settlers in this Township, having moved here 23 years ago last Spring. Upon the organization of the Township, he gave it the name of Lansing, from Lansing, Tompkins Co., N. Y., his former residence.

Northrup, Alanson, 1844-1862, Lansing Republican,
April 23 1862, p. 3

DIED.

At the United States Hospital in Philadelphia, on the 7th inst., of Consumption, ALANSON NORTHRUP, private in Co. B., 2d Reg. U. S. S. S., aged 18 years.

His remains arrived in a good state of preservation, at his father's in Meridian, on Sunday last. Funeral will take place at Okemos, at 1 o'clock P. M., April 23d.

O.Neil, De Witt, C, 1819-1862, Lansing Republican,
September 24 1862, p. 3

D I E D .

In this city, on the 19th instant, of Congestive Chills,
Mr. DE WITT C. O'NEIL, aged 43 years, 4 months and 3 days; leaving a companion, with three children, and a large circle of other relatives in deep mourning.

Ostrum, William R, 1840-1862, Lansing Republican,
January 15 1862, p. 3

At the same place, January 7th, of measles, Corporal WILLIAM R. OSTRUM, aged 22 years, a member of the same company.

Thus in less than eight days, have we lost six of our company, and three of them in 24 hours, and the country has lost the services of six as good soldiers as ever enlisted to fight her battles. Corporal Hunt will be greatly missed by us all, as he was a faithful soldier, and ever ready to do his duty. Peace to their ashes! May we never see the like again.

COM.

Capital Area District Libraries

Paddleford, Corpoal, 1862, Lansing Republican,
Decemeber 17 1862, p. 2

We received news of the death of Corporal Paddleford, a few days ago. He died in the General Hospital, at Weavertown, Md., the 30th of Nov., having been transferred to that place, with the others who were at Waterford, to secure them from the guerrilla bands who were making depredations in our rear. He was a fine young man and well liked by all the Company, and the news of his death was received by all with deep feelings of regret.

THE SOLDIERS' FUNERALS.—On Monday last, the funerals of H. W. Paddleford and A. H. P. Morehouse, members of Co. A, 20th Regt. Mich. Infantry, were held in this city, their remains having arrived on Saturday evening, in charge of Dr. J. W. Holmes. That of Mr. Paddleford was held in the forenoon, at the Episcopal Church, and that of Mr. Morehouse in the afternoon, at the Methodist Church.

Both were buried with Masonic honors; they, with many others of their Company, having been made Master Masons but a few days before their departure for camp. A squad of soldiers, under command of Lieut. Chapman, attended the funerals—escorted the remains to the Cemetery and discharged their "farewell shots" over the graves of their fellow soldiers. The scene was impressive and solemn.

Paddleford, Harmon W, 1862, Lansing Republican,
December 10 1862, p. 3

D I E D .

In the Hospital, at Weaverton, Md., on Sunday, Nov. 30th, 1862, HARMON W. PADDLEFORD, Corporal Co. A, 20th Michigan Infantry.

Corporal Paddleford was a fine young man, a good soldier, greatly esteemed by the officers and members of his company, by whom his loss is sincerely lamented.

JOSEPH JONES, Chaplain 20th Regt.

Correspondence of the Lansing Republican.
From the Twelfth Michigan Regiment.

BETHEL STATION, Tennessee, }
June 11th, 1862. }

Editor Republican:—

Dear Sir: Allow me to state to your readers the condition of Capt. I. M. Cravath's company, in the 12th Regiment Michigan Infantry, as there has been a great change in said company since the last communication you have received from Capt. Cravath.

I believe you have not heard anything direct from this company since the battle of Shiloh.

As this company was raised mostly from Ingham and Eaton counties, it will be interesting to the citizens of those counties to hear something about it, and find out where their sons, brothers and neighbors are, and how they are doing.

On the 8th day of April, one day after the fight, Capt. Cravath was taken sick with a fever. About a week afterwards he got leave of absence and went North on board of a steamboat, and has never been heard from directly by this regiment up to this time. We once heard that he was dead, then it was contradicted. Afterwards we heard that he was in Ohio, and then that he was about well. Then again we heard that he was dead, but the latter is not confirmed. The Captain ought to let us know something of his whereabouts, and how he is getting along. So much for that.

At the same time Capt. Cravath left, more than fifty out of this company were sick with fever and diarrhoea. Some of them have returned to their company and are now doing duty, while others were sent North to hospitals—some to St. Louis, others to Cincinnati, Quincy, Ill., Evansville, Ind., and elsewhere.

At the battle of Pittsburg Landing, we lost in killed one, John Schleicher, from Lansing.

Lieut. A. G. Davis was wounded and afterwards died at Cincinnati.

Austin Miller, from Leslie, wounded, and afterwards died.

Martin Ackley, Leslie, wounded and is getting well.

John Roeddles, jr., Meridian, wounded and doing well.

John B. Botz, from Vermontville, wounded and getting better.

William Belcher was wounded slightly, but has not been heard from since.

I will now give you a list of the missing since the battle:

Sergt. Samuel W. Grinell, from Sunfield.

Corp. Thomas C. Kenyon, and privates John Nagel, Wm. Oatly and Jerome B. Lafferty, from Lansing.

Private Talcott B. Irish, Alaiedon.

“ Wm H. Lombard, Vermontville.

“ Asahel Parker, Meridian.

These are all we lost at the battle of Shiloh, April 6th and 7th, 1862.

" Asahel Parker, Meridian.

These are all we lost at the battle of Shiloh, April 6th and 7th, 1862.

Since then we have been stationed near the landing to guard the boats and to gather up our men as much as possible, but we met with poor success, and the regiment is not so strong to-day as it was the day we marched back from the lines, 4 miles this side of Corinth.

We have lost a number of men who died by disease, which was raging like fury all over the battle field. I will give you a list of members of this company who died while we were stationed near the river :

Sergt. Henry C. Guest, died May 26th—disease debility.

Corporal Henry B. Palmer, Washtenaw, died May 27th with Lung Fever.

Daniel Ellis, Lansing, died of fever at Savannah Hospital, 9 miles below Pittsburg Landing.

Milton P. Hall, Castleton, died of Lung Fever.

Wm. H. Lennan, Meridian, died of Lung Fever.

Yesterday, I received notice that Gilbert Allen, Delhi, died at Quincy, Ill., of Typhoid Fever, and how many more have died in hospitals North, I cannot tell.

It seems as if this company, or the regiment, (for other companies lose in proportion) is going as fast as a body of men can go; where I cannot tell, but one after another disappears from the ranks.

Our company reports now 79 members, of which there are only 30 present, including one commissioned officer, and of these 30 there are only 21 fit for duty, and we are one of the largest companies in the regiment. The balance of the company is scattered all over the country, from West Tennessee to Michigan—wherever a hospital can be found. It is said that there is not a hospital without men in it from the 12th Michigan regiment.

As far as news from the war is concerned, there is none. We are now stationed at Bethel, a railroad station 20 miles north of Corinth, but we expect marching orders every day. The Colonel says that this regiment is going towards Memphis, which we all would like very much. I hope this will be the case.

Mr. Editor, if you know anything of the whereabouts of Capt. Cravath, I wish you would be so kind as to let us know all about it.

I hope that Corporal John Strong will follow up his company as soon as possible, as every man's services are needed here at the present time, and I do further hope that those now in hospitals will soon return to their regiment or company.

For about two weeks I have been confined to my bed and tent on account of fever and "Tennessee Quickstep," but am all right again.

Yours, &c.,

GEO. H. GASSENMERE,

1st Lieut. Co. G, 12th Regt. M. I.

Parish, Denis, 1862, Lansing Republican,
February 5 1862, p. 2

COMPANY K.

Private Denis Parish, variola; Private Wm
Crum, variola; Private Samuel Haynes, variola;
Private Wm Smith, variola; Private John H
Davis, variola; Private Amos Smith, cholera
morbus.

Perim, Peter, 1818-1862, Lansing Republican,
January 15 1862, p. 3

WOM.

At the Hospital of the 12th Regiment, at Niles, January 5th, of lung fever, Mr. PETER PERIM, aged 44 years—a private in Capt. Reeves' Company, from Aurelius, Ingham county.

Surgeons Report of Deaths and Discharged

List of Deaths in the Eighth Michigan Regiment from Sept 23, 1861, to Jan. 13, 1862.

COMPANY A.

Private Theodore Jennings, small pox; Private Albert Newman, remittent fever; Private Peter Friety, typhoid fever; Private Oliver J. Cone, typhoid fever; Sergeant James H. Atchinson, typhoid fever; Sergeant David B. Foote, gun shot wound; Private Ira Armstrong, gun shot wound; Private Edward Brooks, gun shot wound; Corporal J. Q. Adams, gun shot wound; Private Thos. Heather, chronic dysentery.

COMPANY B.

Corporal Charles F. Vallean, remittent fever; Musician Gill. C. Hinckley, pneumonia; Private Hiram Gardner, pneumonia; Private Samuel Strickland, typhoid fever; Private Fred. Burke, typhoid fever.

COMPANY C.

Lieut. Chas. B. Holiday, typhoid fever; Private Wm. B. Huntington, chronic dysentery; Private Darius Waite, peritonitis; Private Johnathan K. George, peritonitis; Sergeant Henry T. Wagmire, typhoid fever.

COMPANY D.

Private Wm. M. Brown, typhoid fever.

COMPANY E.

Private Harvey Sowles, dysentery; Thomas W. Perry, typhoid fever; Private John A. Hull, typhoid fever; Private Lyman Hull, typhoid fever; Private Cyrus H. Delato, typhoid fever; Private Peter Shiek, Variola.

COMPANY F.

Private Charles Bloss, typhoid fever; Private J. F. Phillips, typhoid fever; Private Wm. H. Stoker, typhoid fever; Private Jno. B. Tatro, typhoid fever.

COMPANY H.

Private Arthur McDonald, typhoid fever; Private Lyman Hayes, Variola;

COMPANY I.

Private William Freeman, congestion of the lungs; Private Samuel B. Carson, dysentery.

COMPANY K.

Private Denis Parrish, variola; Private Wm. Crum, variola; Private Samuel Haynes, variola; Private Wm. Smith, variola; Private John H. Davis, variola; Private Amos Smith, cholera morbus.

Discharged from the 8th Mich. Reg. for Physical Disability.

COMPANY A.

FROM THE EIGHTH REGIMENT. — We have received from William Wiley, who went out with Dr. H. B. Shank, Surgeon of the Eighth Regiment, the official report of all the deaths that have taken place in the Regiment. We have not time to insert the complete list, but give the list of deaths that have taken place in Capt. Elder's Zouaves of this city, which is company E of the Regiment. The death are as follows: Harvey Sowles, Thos. W. Perry, John A. Hall, Lyman Hull, Cyrus H. Delano, Peter Shick.

The following have been discharged from this company from physical disability: John Burgoyne, Thomas McCarthy, Jas. Dillapaugh, Dorman K. Fuller. Doct. Shank has resigned. The total number of deaths in the Regiment is 41, of which the largest number, 16, were in company A; the smallest number 1, in company D. Twenty-one have been discharged from disability.

Phillips, J.F., 1862, Lansing Republican,
February 5 1862, p. 2

typhoid fever; Private Peter Sniek, variola.

COMPANY F.

Private Charles Bloss, typhoid fever; Private J. F. Phillips, typhoid fever; Private Wm. H. Stoker, typhoid fever; Private Jno. B. Tatro, typhoid fever.

COMPANY F.

Piersons, Sylvanus L, 1840-1862, Lansing Republican,
January 15 1862, p. 3

Co., Lansing, also of the same company.

In camp, Washington D. C., January 3d, 1862, of measles, NELSON D. LESLIE, formerly from the township of Meridian, Ingham Co., Michigan, aged 26 years, a member of the same company.

At the same place, January 3d, of measles, SYLVANUS L. PIERSONS, of the City of Lansing, aged 21 years, a member of the same company.

Pomeroy, Capt, 1862, Lansing Republican,
September 10 1862, p. 2

KILLED.

First Regiment — Colonel Roberts, Captain
Pomeroy, Lieut & Haupin.

Post, G.C., 1862, Lansing Republican,
April 30 1862, p. 2

Company—A.

COMPANY B—CAPT. WALLACE.

Killed—Corporal L. A. Burke ; Private G. C.

Post—2.

Post, H, 1862, Lansing Republican,
April 30 1862, p. 2

COMPANY K—CAPT. BRETHSCHNEIDER.

Killed—Privates H. Post, F. P. Row, P. Finn,
A. Godfrey, S. H. Roosa—5.

Potter, S, 1862, Lansing Republican,
April 30 1862, p. 2

COMPANY C—CAPT. ALBERT.

Killed—Privates H. Branch, 'S. Potter,' H.

Hudson—3.

KILLED.

First Regiment — Colonel Roberts, Captain Pomeroy, Lieut. Haupin.

Third Regiment — Lieut. Hess, Co. D; Corporal Van Dusen, Co. D; Corporal Berringer, Co. D; Corporal Traverse, Co. D; Corporal Mead, Co. K; — McGrath, Co. D; H. D. Beckwith, Co. K; C. W. Bullen, Co. K; W. Halsey, Co. K; J. J. Powley, Co. K.

First Cavalry — Lieut. G. Morse.

Capital Ave. District Library

Resolutions of the 8th Michigan Regiment
on the Death of Adjutant N. Miner Pratt,
and Lieut. Frederick M. Badger.

CAMP OF THE 8TH MICHIGAN,
Beaufort, S. C., April 21st, 1862. }

At a meeting of the officers of the 8th Michigan Regiment, held in Beaufort, S. C., April 21st, 1862, and of which Major A. B. Watson was Chairman, and Capt. S. C. Guild Secretary, a committee was appointed to draft resolutions expressive of the feelings of the officers in regard to the death of Adjutant N. Miner Pratt, and of Lieut. Frederick M. Badger, of Company C, who were killed in the action on Wilmington Island, Savannah River, April 16th—the former while standing by the side of the Colonel—the latter while commanding the advance pickets. The following officers were appointed on the Committee :

Lieut.-Col. Frank Graves, Capt. E. W. Lyon, Capt. S. C. Guild, Lieut. Asa Gregory, Lieut. G. E. Swincoe.

The following resolutions in regard to the death of Adjutant Pratt were presented by the committee, and adopted by the meeting :

Whereas, It has seemed good to the Almighty Disposer of all Human Events, to cloud the hour of victory by the death of our beloved Adjutant, N. Miner Pratt, who fell in the action on Wilmington Island, Savannah River—a victim to this accursed rebellion ; therefore,

Resolved, That while we bow in submission beneath the heavy stroke which has deprived our regiment of one of its most active and valued members, and us of a true and genial friend, yet we cannot refrain from the expression of our sincere and abiding grief for the loss of one so admirable, as well for his manly character, his brave and loyal heart, and his peculiar fitness for the office which he adorned.

Resolved. That, in his death, the service has been deprived of one of its most energetic and gallant officers while the 8th Michigan Regiment has met a loss while even time cannot repair.

sincere and abiding grief for the loss of one so admirable, as well for his manly character, his brave and loyal heart, and his peculiar fitness for the office which he adorned.

Resolved. That, in his death, the service has been deprived of one of its most energetic and gallant officers while the 8th Michigan Regiment has met a loss while even time cannot repair.

Resolved, That, to his widowed mother, who gave him to his country, and to the family and friends who mourn the loss of him who was their stay and pride, we tender our deep and earnest sympathy, and beg that we may be permitted with their grief to mingle ours. Yet let us be comforted; for one glorious death is worth more than a thousand aimless lives. He lived and died like a soldier and a christian, and we are assured that his spirit now free from strife and at peace with God, is enjoying the rich rewards of a pure and lofty life.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family of the deceased, and also furnished to the papers of Flint, Lansing and Detroit, for publication.

Resolutions commemorative of the death of Lieut. Badger, were also adopted. And Rev. Wm. Mahon, Capt. B. B. Church, and Lieut. H. Belcher were appointed a committee to make arrangements for procuring suitable monuments for the lamented dead.

Meeting adjourned.

Capt. S. C. GUILD, Secretary.

FUNERAL OF N. MINER PRATT. — The Wolverine Citizen says, the funeral of Adjutant N. Miner Pratt took place at Flint on Monday the 21st inst., "The funeral sermon was preached by Rev. C. S. Armstrong, of Lansing. In conception, composition, and tone, it was one of the finest discourses for such an occasion we ever heard. His tribute to the virtues, manly character, and practical religion of the deceased, was touchingly beautiful and classical; and found a ready response in the breasts of those present who had known Miner here where he had been brought up from his boyhood—that drew tears to many eyes.

Letters from the Michigan 3d Regiment.

HEADQUARTERS BERRY'S BRIGADE, }
(Near the Battle Field of May 31st,) }
June 3, 1862. }

GEO. I. PARSONS, Esq., Dear Sir:—I wrote on the evening of the battle to my wife, giving a hasty description of the part which our Brigade took in the action of that day; also, a partial list of the killed and wounded of our company.

The reports were not completed until late last night, and I now enclose an abstract from them of the loss of the three Michigan Regiments of our Brigade:

MICHIGAN 2D.	KILLED.	WOUNDED.	MISSING.
Officers,	none.	2.	none.
Enlisted men,	0	41	2
MICHIGAN 3D.
Officers,	1	8	none.
Men,	25	104	27
MICHIGAN 5TH.
Officers,	1	4	none.
Men,	57	115	14

Making an aggregate of 378—some of the missing will undoubtedly be found.

The loss of our Lansing company is severe, and comprises some of the best men of the company.

Sergt. Chas. T. Foster, the Color Sergt. of the Regiment was the first to fall. He was bravely holding the colors, and by his coolness and courage, doing much to encourage the boys to press on. Orderly E. F. Siverd was soon after wounded, but still did his duty and urged his comrades on. Soon after this, Corporals Case B. Wickham, John Blanchard and Nathaniel T. Atkinson, and privates Samuel Dowell and Charles T. Gaskell received fatal shots. Atkinson and Dowell were brought from the field before they died. All have been buried, and their resting places marked with a board giving the name, company and regiment.

Jackson, Clays, Benson, Trimmer and Crane, are in camp, and the balance of the wounded have been sent on the cars to White House Landing to be forwarded to their homes, and

All have been buried, and their resting places marked with a board giving the name, company and regiment.

Jackson, Clays, Benson, Trimmer and Crane, are in camp, and the balance of the wounded have been sent on the cars to White House Landing to be forwarded to their homes, and where they are not able to stand the journey will be taken to hospitals at Fortress Monroe, Washington, and Baltimore, but I think it is the intention to send them home when they are able to go, and can be better cared for. There is an order from the War Department commuting the rations of the sick and wounded soldiers at 25 cents per day while away from the charge of the Department.

Gen. Berry's Assistant Adjutant General Capt. E. M. Smith was killed during the engagement. He was a most gallant and brave officer, and beloved by all who knew him. He distinguished himself at the battle of Williamsburg for his bravery, as will be seen by the official report of both Generals Kearny and Berry. Four of my comrades, with myself, carried him back to the station and buried him in a pleasant orchard where many more have been buried since.

Capt. Judd, of Co. "A," 3d Regiment, was killed while in charge of the Sharpshooters in the advance of our Brigade.

Captain Quackenbush, of the 5th, was also killed.

Col. Champlin was wounded severely though it is not considered dangerous. He walked some distance after he was wounded, and by his presence and energy did much to encourage his men.

I would gladly speak of the merits of each of our company who are dead, had I the ability of doing so as they deserve; they were beloved by all, and their many mourning friends may be assured they have the heartfelt sympathy of every one of us.

Our knapsacks are all back with the wagon train across the river and may not soon be up, facts of those who are gone, and forward them to their friends as soon as possible.

Our Division moved last evening farther to the front and across the railroad, to the right, and in the rear of Generals Sedgwick and Richardson's Divisions.

fects of those who are gone, and forward them to their friends as soon as possible.

Our Division moved last evening farther to the front and across the railroad, to the right, and in the rear of Generals Sedgwick and Richardson's Divisions.

Gen. Richardson's Division was engaged last Sunday and he lost about 900 men. He came to our camp to day and was immediately surrounded by the Brigade who greeted him with the wildest enthusiasm.

The weather is very warm, with frequent showers, which keeps the roads in a horrible condition.

Our boys are feeling quite tired out, but stand it as a general thing well. Corporal Shattuck, and private W. F. Hogan, arrived in camp yesterday from the Hospital at Yorktown; they report Sergt. J. B. Ten Eyck as getting better, but not yet able to return for duty.

The rebels are holding their position here better than at any other place in Virginia, still we have no doubt of our final success.

The official reports of the engagement of the 31st of May, I suppose will soon be published, so that you can have a better idea of the part our regiment performed. They were in the advance of the balance of the Brigade, and fought with a determination seldom equalled. General's Kearney and Berry both gave us great praise.

The loss of 37th N. Y. Regiment was 81 killed, wounded and missing.

I earnestly hope it may not be my duty to again report losses such as these to our brigade. Our numbers are small, but each feel that we still have a duty to perform, and while there is a man left to do duty, I trust you will hear of it being done well.

I will try to keep your readers informed of our whereabouts and doings, but I am well aware they will miss "Stray Leaves from Camp," and with us, mourn the loss of their author.

Capt. Jefferds has been abliged to forward his resignation on account of continuing ill health, and will probably soon be at home so that our many friends can hear more particularly from each.

Yours,

HOMER L. THAYER.

Roberts, Colonel, 1862, Lansing Republican,
September 10 1862, p. 2

KILLED.

First Regiment — Colonel Roberts, Captain
Pomeroy, Lieut Haupin.

Roosa, S.A., 1862, Lansing Republican,
April 30 1862, p. 2

COMPANY K—CAPT. BRETHSCHNEIDER.

Killed—Privates H. Post, F. P. Row, P. Finn,
A. Godfrey, S. H. Roosa—5.

Row, F.P., 1862, Lansing Republican,
April 30 1862, p. 2

larg, Jasper Wins—3.

COMPANY K—CAPT. BRETHSCHNEIDER.

Killed—Privates H. Post, F. P. Row, P. Finn,
A. Godfrey, S. H. Roosa—5.

Rumrill, Melissa, 1862, Lansing Republican,
December 24 1862, p. 3

DIED.

In Stockbridge, Michigan, whither she had been summoned for the third time within four months, to close the eyes of her relatives for their last sleep, Dec. 16, 1862, of rhumatic fever, MELISSA, wife of Henry Rumrill, of Buffalo, N. Y., and sister of Mrs. Beebe, whose death was noticed in our last issue.

In Leslie, June 28, 1862, Mrs. MARY F., wife of S. O. Russell, Esq., aged 47 years.

The deceased was a native of Seneca county, N. Y. In 1836—26 years ago—she emigrated with her husband and the family of a brother-in-law, (J. Royston, Esq.,) to Michigan. These two families were the first permanent settlers in the town of Leslie. In the year 1837, the deceased assisted in the organization of the first Christian church ever constituted in this vicinity. As a person of much energy and activity, and sincerely sympathizing with every good work, her death could not fail to prove a most serious event, mournfully affecting the whole community. She will not soon be forgotten, but long remembered as a sincere Christian, a faithful wife, and an affectionate mother. She died in peace; and although kindred and friends may be sorrowful at her departure, yet doubtless their loss is her gain. May this bereavement be made the means of awakening those that remain to heed the words of the Master, "Be ye therefore ready also, for in such an hour as ye think not, the Son of Man cometh.

At Lansing, April 24th, 1862, WILLIE SAGE, only child of A. C. and Mary E. Winter, aged 3 years, 8 months and 6 days.

Willie had been sick of measles, and just when all thought him recovered, he was suddenly prostrated, and almost without warning snatched away—a bright and beautiful boy, an absent father's hope, and a fond mother's joy.

Mr. Winter was at his post in the Navy of his country, and this sad bereavement has fallen upon the mother in her lone anguish with a crushing power, but we bless God for a christian fortitude, that can look up through blinding tears and say: "He doeth all things well," tho' the most precious light is quenched upon the hearth-stone, another star adorns the Savior's diadem. It is not vain to have loved, though so early to have lost—for that bright star serenely shining on through life's dark pilgrimage, may sweetly attract our tired hearts thitherward.

Com.

Schleicher, J, 1862, Lansing Republican,
April 30 1862, p. 2

HOW, A. DEPOSED, DURING W. Y. 1862—10.

COMPANY G—CAPT. CRAVATH.

Killed—Private J. Schleicher—1.

Wounded—Lieut. A. G. Davis, (since died);
Privates M. L. Ackley, W. W. Barnes, W. Bel-
cher, John B. Bettz, George A. Graves, W. H.
Lombard, A. Miller, John Roeddles, D. Scheible
—10.

Correspondence of the Lansing Republican.
From the Twelfth Michigan Regiment.

BETHEL STATION, Tennessee, }
June 11th, 1862. }

Editor Republican:—

Dear Sir: Allow me to state to your readers the condition of Capt. I. M. Cravath's company, in the 12th Regiment Michigan Infantry, as there has been a great change in said company since the last communication you have received from Capt. Cravath.

I believe you have not heard anything direct from this company since the battle of Shiloh.

As this company was raised mostly from Ingham and Eaton counties, it will be interesting to the citizens of those counties to hear something about it, and find out where their sons, brothers and neighbors are, and how they are doing.

On the 8th day of April, one day after the fight, Capt. Cravath was taken sick with a fever. About a week afterwards he got leave of absence and went North on board of a steamboat, and has never been heard from directly by this regiment up to this time. We once heard that he was dead, then it was contradicted. Afterwards we heard that he was in Ohio, and then that he was about well. Then again we heard that he was dead, but the latter is not confirmed. The Captain ought to let us know something of his whereabouts, and how he is getting along. So much for that.

At the same time Capt. Cravath left, more than fifty out of this company were sick with fever and diarrhoea. Some of them have returned to their company and are now doing duty, while others were sent North to hospitals—some to St. Louis, others to Cincinnati, Quincy, Ill., Evansville, Ind., and elsewhere.

At the battle of Pittsburg Landing, we lost in killed one, John Schleicher, from Lansing.

Lieut. A. G. Davis was wounded and afterwards died at Cincinnati.

Austin Miller, from Leslie, wounded, and afterwards died.

Martin Ackley, Leslie, wounded and is getting well.

John Roeddles, jr., Meridian, wounded and doing well.

John B. Botz, from Vermontville, wounded and getting better.

William Belcher was wounded slightly, but has not been heard from since.

I will now give you a list of the missing since the battle:

Sergt. Samuel W. Grinell, from Sunfield.

Corp. Thomas C. Kenyon, and privates John Nagel, Wm. Oatly and Jerome B. Lafferty, from Lansing.

Private Talcott B. Irish, Alaiedon.

" Wm H. Lombard, Vermontville.

" Asahel Parker, Meridian.

These are all we lost at the battle of Shiloh, April 6th and 7th, 1862.

" Asahel Parker, Meridian.

These are all we lost at the battle of Shiloh, April 6th and 7th, 1862.

Since then we have been stationed near the landing to guard the boats and to gather up our men as much as possible, but we met with poor success, and the regiment is not so strong to-day as it was the day we marched back from the lines, 4 miles this side of Corinth.

We have lost a number of men who died by disease, which was raging like fury all over the battle field. I will give you a list of members of this company who died while we were stationed near the river:

Sergt. Henry C. Guest, died May 26th—disease debility.

Corporal Henry B. Palmer, Washtenaw, died May 27th with Lung Fever.

Daniel Ellis, Lansing, died of fever at Savannah Hospital, 9 miles below Pittsburg Landing.

Milton P. Hall, Castleton, died of Lung Fever.

Wm. H. Lennan, Meridian, died of Lung Fever.

Yesterday, I received notice that Gilbert Allen, Delhi, died at Quincy, Ill., of Typhoid Fever, and how many more have died in hospitals North, I cannot tell.

It seems as if this company, or the regiment, (for other companies lose in proportion) is going as fast as a body of men can go; where I cannot tell, but one after another disappears from the ranks.

Our company reports now 79 members, of which there are only 30 present, including one commissioned officer, and of these 30 there are only 21 fit for duty, and we are one of the largest companies in the regiment. The balance of the company is scattered all over the country, from West Tennessee to Michigan—wherever a hospital can be found. It is said that there is not a hospital without men in it from the 12th Michigan regiment.

As far as news, from the war is concerned, there is none. We are now stationed at Bethel, a railroad station 20 miles north of Corinth, but we expect marching orders every day. The Colonel says that this regiment is going towards Memphis, which we all would like very much. I hope this will be the case.

Mr. Editor, if you know anything of the whereabouts of Capt. Cravath, I wish you would be so kind as to let us know all about it.

I hope that Corporal John Strong will follow up his company as soon as possible, as every man's services are needed here at the present time, and I do further hope that those now in hospitals will soon return to their regiment or company.

For about two weeks I have been confined to my bed and tent on account of fever and "Tennessee Quickstep," but am all right again.

Yours, &c.,

GEO. H. GASSENMERE,

1st Lieut. Co. G, 12th Regt. M. I.

FROM THE EIGHTH REGIMENT. — We have received from William Wiley, who went out with Dr. H. B. Shank, Surgeon of the Eighth Regiment, the official report of all the deaths that have taken place in the Regiment. We have not time to insert the complete list, but give the list of deaths that have taken place in Capt. Elder's Zouaves of this city, which is company E of the Regiment. The death are as follows: Harvey Sowles, Thos. W. Perry, John A. Hall, Lyman Hull, Cyrus H. Delano, Peter Shick.

The following have been discharged from this company from physical disability: John Burgoyne, Thomas McCarthy, Jas. Dillapaugh, Dorman K. Fuller. Doct. Shank has resigned. The total number of deaths in the Regiment is 41, of which the largest number, 16, were in company A; the smallest number 1, in company D. Twenty-one have been discharged from disability.

Shiek, Peter, 1862, Lansing Republican,
February 5 1862, p. 2

COMPANY E.

Private Harvey Sowles, dysentery; Thomas
W. Perry, typhoid fever; Private John A.
Hull, typhoid fever; Private Lyman Hull,
typhoid fever; Private Cyrus H. Delano,
typhoid fever; Private Peter Shiek, Variola.

Sickles, Harrison, A, 1862, Lansing Republican,
May 21 1862, p. 3

Private Harrison A. Sickles died in the Hospital, near Yorktown, April 24th, of typhoid fever. He was buried with military honors. Rev. Mr. May, Chaplain of the Michigan 2d, officiated.

Sitzer, Elizabeth Ann, 1845-1862, Lansing Republican,
April 2 1862, p. 3

DIED.

In this city, of Diphtheriae, on Saturday, March 22d, ELIZABETH ANN SITZER, aged 17 years, 1 month and 19 days.

COMMUNICATION.—We have received the following letter, which will be of interest to the numerous friends of the lamented E. F. Sivard:

GAP, PA., June 16th, 1862.

MR. G. I. PARSONS—Dear Sir:—To day I received the Lansing Republican, and find it contains the death of my dear son, E. F. Sivard. My thanks are due to you for sending me the paper, also to Mr. and Mrs. Thayer, for the only particulars I have heard of his death. I hope it is not too much for me to ask if you will have the goodness to let me know any further particulars you may hear, also to hand my direction to any one having business with him. Your kindness of heart will forgive me for troubling you, but I know of no one else to go to for particulars.

My direction is, Mrs. Elizabeth Sivard,
Christiana, Lancaster Co., Pa.

Yours Respectfully,
ELIZABETH SIVARD.

Letters from the Michigan 3d Regiment.

HEADQUARTERS BERRY'S BRIGADE,
 (Near the Battle Field of May 31st.)
 June 3, 1862.

GEO. I. PARSONS, Esq., Dear Sir:—I wrote on the evening of the battle to my wife, giving a hasty description of the part which our Brigade took in the action of that day; also, a partial list of the killed and wounded of our company.

The reports were not completed until late last night, and I now enclose an abstract from them of the loss of the three Michigan Regiments of our Brigade:

MICHIGAN 2D.	KILLED.	WOUNDED.	MISSING.
Officers,	none.	2	none.
Enlisted men,	0	41	2
MICHIGAN 3D.
Officers,	1	8	none.
Men,	25	104	27
MICHIGAN 5TH.
Officers,	1	4	none.
Men,	57	115	14

Making an aggregate of 378—some of the missing will undoubtedly be found.

The loss of our Lansing company is severe, and comprises some of the best men of the company.

Sergt. Chas. T. Foster, the Color Sergt. of the Regiment was the first to fall. He was bravely holding the colors, and by his coolness and courage, doing much to encourage the boys to press on. Orderly E. F. Siverd was soon after wounded, but still did his duty and urged his comrades on. Soon after this, Corporals Case B. Wickham, John Blanchard and Nathaniel T. Atkinson, and privates Samuel Dowell and Charles T. Gaskell received fatal shots. Atkinson and Dowell were brought from the field before they died. All have been buried, and their resting places marked with a board giving the name, company and regiment.

Jackson, Clays, Benson, Trimmer and Crane, are in camp, and the balance of the wounded have been sent on the cars to White House Landing to be forwarded to their homes, and

All have been buried, and their resting places marked with a board giving the name, company and regiment.

Jackson, Clays, Benson, Trimmer and Crane, are in camp, and the balance of the wounded have been sent on the cars to White House Landing to be forwarded to their homes, and where they are not able to stand the journey will be taken to hospitals at Fortress Monroe, Washington, and Baltimore, but I think it is the intention to send them home when they are able to go, and can be better cared for. There is an order from the War Department commuting the rations of the sick and wounded soldiers at 25 cents per day while away from the charge of the Department.

Gen. Berry's Assistant Adjutant General Capt. E. M. Smith was killed during the engagement. He was a most gallant and brave officer, and beloved by all who knew him. He distinguished himself at the battle of Williamsburg for his bravery, as will be seen by the official report of both Generals Kearny and Berry. Four of my comrades, with myself, carried him back to the station and buried him in a pleasant orchard where many more have been buried since.

Capt. Judd, of Co. "A," 3d Regiment, was killed while in charge of the Sharpshooters in the advance of our Brigade.

Captain Quackenbush, of the 5th, was also killed.

Col. Champlin was wounded severely though it is not considered dangerous. He walked some distance after he was wounded, and by his presence and energy did much to encourage his men.

I would gladly speak of the merits of each of our company who are dead, had I the ability of doing so as they deserve; they were beloved by all, and their many mourning friends may be assured they have the heartfelt sympathy of every one of us.

Our knapsacks are all back with the wagon train across the river and may not soon be up, facts of those who are gone, and forward them to their friends as soon as possible.

Our Division moved last evening farther to the front and across the railroad, to the right, and in the rear of Generals Sedgwick and Richard facts of those who are gone, and forward them to their friends as soon as possible.

Our Division moved last evening farther to the front and across the railroad, to the right, and in the rear of Generals Sedgwick and Richardson's Divisions.

Gen. Richardson's Division was engaged last Sunday and he lost about 900 men. He came to our camp to day and was immediately surrounded by the Brigade who greeted him with the wildest enthusiasm!

The weather is very warm, with frequent showers, which keeps the roads in a horrible condition.

Our boys are feeling quite tired out, but stand it as a general thing well. Corporal Shattuck, and private W. F. Hogan, arrived in camp yesterday from the Hospital at Yorktown; they report Sergt. J. B. Ten Eyck as getting better, but not yet able to return for duty.

The rebels are holding their position here better than at any other place in Virginia, still we have no doubt of our final success.

The official reports of the engagement of the 31st of May, I suppose will soon be published, so that you can have a better idea of the part our regiment performed. They were in the advance of the balance of the Brigade, and fought with a determination seldom equalled. General's Kearney and Berry both gave us great praise.

The loss of 37th N. Y. Regiment was 81 killed, wounded and missing.

I earnestly hope it may not be my duty to again report losses such as these to our brigade. Our numbers are small, but each feel that we still have a duty to perform, and while there is a man left to do duty, I trust you will hear of it being done well.

I will try to keep your readers informed of our whereabouts and doings, but I am well aware they will miss "Stray Leaves from Camp," and with us, mourn the loss of their author.

Capt. Jefferds has been obliged to forward his resignation on account of continuing ill health, and will probably soon be at home so that our many friends can hear more particularly from each.

Yours,

HOMER L. THAYER.

morally and politically.

For the Republican.

Death of E. F. Siverd.

EDITOR REPUBLICAN — Dear Sir: Truly, a friend has fallen! The sad intelligence of the death of Mr. Siverd has cast a gloom over those who were his personal friends. To know, was to respect and love him. He was a young man of great intelligence; of high toned religious sentiment, always desirous of keeping the Sabbath, having the bible for his constant companion. He was a self made, generous, whole souled man, the embodiment of virtuous principles, one of which was temperance—we might say he was so in all things. He was one whose memory we shall ever cherish. Frank was always welcome at the fire side, and indeed the home circle seemed incomplete without him. We can now hear the echo of his hearty laugh, and still feel the warm shake of the hand, while we remember his ready wit and kindly greeting.

Mr. S. distinguished himself at the battle of Bull Run by relieving the sufferings of the sick and wounded in various ways; while under the fire of the enemy he carried water to those who were fainting by the way, not unlike the good Samaritan. Frank found three of his brothers at this battle who belonged to a Pennsylvania Regiment, and whom he had not seen for three years.

His heroic bravery is manifest by an extract from a letter written just before the army of the Potomac started on its march; speaking of commissions honorably won on the battle field he says, "I shall win or die if the occasion offers." Again he says, "When I entered the service and knew the fatigue and exposures an enlisted man was subject to, I made up my mind it would be impossible for me to live through a six months campaign, but a return to health changed my mind, and I believe now that nothing short of a rebel sixty four pounder will send me to the other side of Jordan."

Siverd's energy and great fortitude did not save him from the enemy's shot, but his life blood has been poured freely out as a sacrifice to this unholy war. We deeply sympathize with his affectionate mother in the loss of so good a son, but what is our loss we trust is his gain. E. F. Siverd was 26 years old, Feb. 22, 1862.

Skinner, James Jr, 1862, Lansing Republican,
May 28 1862, p. 3

DIED.

On the 15th inst., JAMES S., youngest son of Oramel Skinner, Esq., of Lansing.

DIED.

Dr. D. W. SMEAD, at his residence on Franklin street,
Thursday morning June 10th.

The deceased will be remembered as one of the oldest regular practitioners in the State, who began his practice when Michigan was yet a Territory. Before coming to Lansing, he had for many years labored in the region of Chelsea. His remains now lie in Oak Grove Cemetery, by the side of Dr. Lears—a quiet resting-place chosen by kind friends there, for whose kindness and sympathy the friends of the deceased tender their sincerest thanks.

Detroit and Ann Arbor papers please copy. Com.

Simth, Amos, 1862, Lansing Republican,
Febraury 5 1862, p. 2

COMPANY K.

Private Denis Par-h, variola; Private Wm.
Crum, variola; Private Samuel Haynes, variola;
Private Wm Smith, variola; Private John H
Davis, variola; Private Amos Smith, cholera
morbus.

Letters from the Michigan 3d Regiment.

HEADQUARTERS BERRY'S BRIGADE,
 (Near the Battle Field of May 31st.)
 June 3, 1862.

GEO. I. PARSONS, Esq., Dear Sir:—I wrote on the evening of the battle to my wife, giving a hasty description of the part which our Brigade took in the action of that day; also, a partial list of the killed and wounded of our company.

The reports were not completed until late last night, and I now enclose an abstract from them of the loss of the three Michigan Regiments of our Brigade:

MICHIGAN 2D.	KILLED.	WOUNDED.	MISSING.
Officers,	none.	2	none.
Enlisted men,	70	41	2
MICHIGAN 3D.
Officers,	1	8	none.
Men,	25	104	27
MICHIGAN 5TH.
Officers,	1	4	none.
Men,	57	115	14

Making an aggregate of 378—some of the missing will undoubtedly be found.

The loss of our Lansing company is severe, and comprises some of the best men of the company.

Sergt. Chas. T. Foster, the Color Sergt. of the Regiment was the first to fall. He was bravely holding the colors, and by his coolness and courage, doing much to encourage the boys to press on. Orderly E. F. Siverd was soon after wounded, but still did his duty and urged his comrades on. Soon after this, Corporals Case B. Wickham, John Blanchard and Nathaniel T. Atkinson, and privates Samuel Dowell and Charles T. Gaskell received fatal shots. Atkinson and Dowell were brought from the field before they died. All have been buried, and their resting places marked with a board giving the name, company and regiment.

Jackson, Clays, Wenson, Trimmer and Crane, are in camp, and the balance of the wounded have been sent on the cars to White House Landing to be forwarded to their homes, and

All have been buried, and their resting places marked with a board giving the name, company and regiment.

Jackson, Clays, Benson, Trimmer and Crane, are in camp, and the balance of the wounded have been sent on the cars to White House Landing to be forwarded to their homes, and where they are not able to stand the journey will be taken to hospitals at Fortress Monroe, Washington, and Baltimore, but I think it is the intention to send them home when they are able to go, and can be better cared for. There is an order from the War Department commuting the rations of the sick and wounded soldiers at 25 cents per day while away from the charge of the Department.

Gen. Berry's Assistant Adjutant General Capt. E. M. Smith was killed during the engagement. He was a most gallant and brave officer, and beloved by all who knew him. He distinguished himself at the battle of Williamsburg for his bravery, as will be seen by the official report of both Generals Kearny and Berry. Four of my comrades, with myself, carried him back to the station and buried him in a pleasant orchard where many more have been buried since.

Capt. Judd, of Co. "A," 3d Regiment, was killed while in charge of the Sharpshooters in the advance of our Brigade.

Captain Quackenbush, of the 5th, was also killed.

Col. Champlin was wounded severely though it is not considered dangerous. He walked some distance after he was wounded, and by his presence and energy did much to encourage his men.

I would gladly speak of the merits of each of our company who are dead, had I the ability of doing so as they deserve; they were beloved by all, and their many mourning friends may be assured they have the heartfelt sympathy of every one of us.

Our knapsacks are all back with the wagon train across the river and may not soon be up, facts of those who are gone, and forward them to their friends as soon as possible.

Our Division moved last evening farther to the front and across the railroad, to the right, and in the rear of Generals Sedgwick and Richard

fects of those who are gone, and forward them to their friends as soon as possible.

Our Division moved last evening farther to the front and across the railroad, to the right, and in the rear of Generals Sedgwick and Richardson's Divisions.

Gen. Richardson's Division was engaged last Sunday and he lost about 900 men. He came to our camp to day, and was immediately surrounded by the Brigade who greeted him with the wildest enthusiasm!

The weather is very warm, with frequent showers, which keeps the roads in a horrible condition.

Our boys are feeling quite tired out, but stand it as a general thing well. Corporal Shattuck, and private W. F. Hogan, arrived in camp yesterday from the Hospital at Yorktown; they report Sergt. J. B. Ten Eyck as getting better, but not yet able to return for duty.

The rebels are holding their position here better than at any other place in Virginia, still we have no doubt of our final success.

The official reports of the engagement of the 31st of May, I suppose will soon be published, so that you can have a better idea of the part our regiment performed. They were in the advance of the balance of the Brigade, and fought with a determination seldom equalled. General's Kearney and Berry both gave us great praise.

The loss of 37th N. Y. Regiment was 81 killed, wounded and missing.

I earnestly hope it may not be my duty to again report losses such as these to our brigade. Our numbers are small, but each feel that we still have a duty to perform, and while there is a man left to do duty, I trust you will hear of it being done well.

I will try to keep your readers informed of our whereabouts and doings, but I am well aware they will miss "Stray Leaves from Camp," and with us, mourn the loss of their author.

Capt. Jefferds has been obliged to forward his resignation on account of continuing ill health, and will probably soon be at home so that our many friends can hear more particularly from each.

Yours,

HOMER L. THAYER.

Smith, L, 1862, Lansing Republican,
April 30 1862, p. 2

COMPANY E—CAPT. GEPHERT.

Killed—Privates L. Smith, J. Uga—2.

Smith, William, 1862, Lansing Republican,
Febrary 5 1862, p. 2

ings; Private Samuel D. Carbon, dysentery.

COMPANY K.

Private Denis Parrish, variola; Private Wm.
Crum, variola; Private Samuel Haynes, variola;
Private Wm Smith, variola; Private John H
Davis, variola; Private Amos Smith, cholera
morbus.

Surgeons Report of Deaths and Discharged.

List of Deaths in the Eighth Michigan Regiment from Sept. 23, 1861, to Jan. 13, 1862.

COMPANY A.

Private Theodore Jennings, small pox; Private Albert Newman, remittent fever; Private Peter Friety, typhoid fever; Private Oliver J. Cone, typhoid fever; Sergeant James H. Atchinson, typhoid fever; Sergeant David B. Foote, gun shot wound; Private Ira Armstrong, gun shot wound; Private Edward Brooks, gun shot wound; Corporal J. Q. Adams, gun shot wound; Private Thos. Heather, chronic dysentery.

COMPANY B.

Corporal Charles F. Vallean, remittent fever; Musician Gill. C. Hinckley, pneumonia; Private Hiram Gardner, pneumonia; Private Samuel Strickland, typhoid fever; Private Fred. Burke, typhoid fever.

COMPANY C.

Lieut. Chas. B. Holiday, typhoid fever; Private Wm. B. Huntington, chronic dysentery; Private Darius Waite, peritonitis; Private Johnathan K. George, peritonitis; Sergeant Henry T. Wagmire, typhoid fever.

COMPANY D.

Private Wm. M. Brown, typhoid fever.

COMPANY E.

Private Harvey Sowles, dysentery; Thomas W. Perry, typhoid fever; Private John A. Hull, typhoid fever; Private Lyman Hull, typhoid fever; Private Cyrus H. Delano, typhoid fever; Private Peter Shiek, Variola.

COMPANY F.

Private Charles Bloss, typhoid fever; Private J. F. Phillips, typhoid fever; Private Wm. H. Stoker, typhoid fever; Private Jno. B. Tatro, typhoid fever.

COMPANY H.

Private Arthur McDonald, typhoid fever; Private Lyman Hayes, Variola;

COMPANY I.

Private William Freeman, congestion of the lungs; Private Samuel B. Carson, dysentery.

COMPANY K.

Private Denis Parrish, variola; Private Wm. Crum, variola; Private Samuel Haynes, variola; Private Wm. Smith, variola; Private John H. Davis, variola; Private Amos Smith, cholera morbus.

Discharged from the 8th Mich. Reg. for Physical Disability.

COMPANY A.

Capital Area District Libraries

FROM THE EIGHTH REGIMENT. — We have received from William Wiley, who went out with Dr. H. B. Shank, Surgeon of the Eighth Regiment, the official report of all the deaths that have taken place in the Regiment. We have not time to insert the complete list, but give the list of deaths that have taken place in Capt. Elder's Zouaves of this city, which is company E of the Regiment. The death are as follows: Harvey Sowles, Thos. W. Perry, John A. Hall, Lyman Hull, Cyrus H. Delano, Peter Shick.

The following have been discharged from this company from physical disability: John Burgoyne, Thomas McCarthy, Jas. Dillapaugh, Dorman K. Fuller. Doct. Shank has resigned. The total number of deaths in the Regiment is 41, of which the largest number, 16, were in company A; the smallest number 1, in company D. Twenty-one have been discharged from disability.

Capital Area District Libraries

Sternburg, A.G., 1862, Lansing Republican,
May 14 1862, p. 3

From a wound received in the battle of Pittsburgh
Landing, April 7th, A. G STERNBURG, Second Corporal
Co. H, 1st Nebraska Volunteers, General Lew Wallace's Division.

Stillman, Daniel, 1862, Lansing Republican,
April 9 1862, p. 3

In Alameda, on the 1st inst., DANIEL STILLMAN, aged about 60 years. Mr. S. was one of the earliest settlers of that township.

Stoker, William H, Lansing Republican,
February 5 1862, p. 2

COMPANY F.

Private Charles Bloss, typhoid fever; Private J. F. Phillips, typhoid fever; Private Wm. H. Stoker, typhoid fever; Private Jno. B. Tatro, typhoid fever.

COMPANY H.

Strickland, Samuel, 1862, Lansing Republican,
February 5 1862, p. 2

Thos. Heather, chronic dysentery.

COMPANY B.

Corporal Charles F. Vallean, remittent fever;
Musician Gill. C. Hinckley, pneumonia; Private
Hiram Gardner, pneumonia; Private Samuel
Strickland, typhoid fever; Private Fred. Burke, typhoid fever

COMPANY C.

Swegles, John, 1861, Lansing Republican,
January 1 1862, p. 2

DEATH OF JOHN SWEGLES — Hon. John Swegles died at St. Johns, on the 17th of December, of erysipelas. He was the founder of that village, and to his energy much of the prosperity of that place is due. Mr. Swegles was Auditor General of this State from 1851 to 1855, and had filled other important positions.

Tatro, Jno B, 1862, Lansing Republican,
February 5 1862, p. 2

TYPHOID FEVER, PRIVATE FEVER OTHER, VARIOUS.

COMPANY F.

Private Charles Bloss, typhoid fever; Private J. F. Phillips, typhoid fever; Private Wm. H. Stoker, typhoid fever; Private Jno. B. Tatro, typhoid fever.

Taylor, Harmon C, 1848-1862, Lansing Republican,
January 15 1862, p. 3

D I E D .

In Sparta, on the 9th inst., of scarlet fever, HARMON C., son of Hon. William H. and Ursula A. Taylor, aged thirteen years, ten months and three days.

He was a boy of much promise—the pride of the household, and the burden of grief was greatly intensified by the absence of his father in the performance of Legislative duties at Lansing, who hastened home on receiving intelligence of the sickness of his son, and arrived but just too late. The vital spark was fled.

“Asleep in Jesus, oh! how sweet,
To be for such a slumber meet.”

Capital Area District Libraries

KILLED.

First Regiment — Colonel Roberts, Captain Pomeroy, Lieut. Haupin.

Third Regiment — Lieut. Hess, Co. D; Corporal Van Dusen, Co. D; Corporal Berringer, Co. D; Corporal Traverse, Co. D; Corporal Mead, Co. K; — McGrath, Co. D; H. D. Beckwith, Co. K; C. W. Bullen, Co. K; W. Halsey, Co. K; J. J. Powley, Co. K.

First Cavalry — Lieut. G. Morse.

Treadwell, John, 1862, Lansing Republican,
April 30 1862, p. 2

COMPANY I—CAPT. BROWN.

Killed—Sergeant H. L. Johnson ; Privates H.
Treat, Wm. Calhoun, John Treadwell, Wm.
Willie—5

Treat, H, 1862, Lansing Republican,
April 30 1862, p. 2

COMPANY I—CAPT. BROWN.

Killed—Sergeant H. L. Johnson ; Privates H.
Treat, Wm. Calhoun, John Treadwell, Wm.
Willis—5.

Uga, J, 1862, Lansing Republican,
April 30 1862, p. 2

COMPANY E—CAPT. GEPHERT.

Killed—Privates L. Smith, J. Uga—2.

Vallean, Charles F, 1862, Lansing Republican,
February 5 1862, p. 2

COMPANY B.

Corporal Charles F. Vallean, remittent fever;
Musician Gill. C. Hinckley, pneumonia; Private
Hiram Gardner, pneumonia; Private Samue
Strickland, typhoid fever; Private Fred. Burke,
typhoid fever

Van Riper, J.M., 1860-1862, Lansing Republican,
April 23 1862, p. 3

In Dexter, Mich., on the 11th inst., of congestion the lungs, J. M., son of James M. and Betsy Van Riper, aged 2 years and 2 months.

Christ will gather in his own
To the place where he is gone,
Where their hearts and treasures lie,
Where our life is hid on high.

Had he asked us well we know,
We should cry, "Oh spare the blow,"
Yes with streaming eyes should pray,
Lord we love him, let him stay.

Com.

Wagmire, Henry T, 1862, Lansing Republican,
Febrary 5 1862, p. 2

COMPANY C.

Lieut. Chas. B. Holiday, typhoid fever; Private Wm. B. Huntington, chronic dysentery; Private Darius Waite, peritonitis; Private Johnathan K. George, peritonitis; Sergeant Henry P. Wagmire, typhoid fever.

Waite, Darius, 1862, Lansing Republican,
February 15 1862, p. 2

COMPANY C.

Lieut. Chas. B. Holiday, typhoid fever; Private Wm. B. Huntington, chronic dysentery; Private Darius Waite, peritonitis; Private Jonathan K. George, peritonitis; Sergeant Henry T. Wagmire, typhoid fever.

COMPANY D.

Waldo, Shubael, 1792-1862, Lansing Republican,
February 6 1862, p. 3

D I E D .

In Williamston, January 4th, 1862, SHUBAEL WALDO
aged 70 years and 10 months.

“ Few knew the glory of his spirits shrine,
He passed through life serene and still and calm,
His life was like some poem half divine,
Its close a Psalm.

Such lives as these though glory yields them not;
Shed lively radiance round the worlds great way,
Such souls leave traces of the starless light
Of heavens bright day.”

W. W. O.

Walker, Katie Adams, 1862, Lansing Republican,
October 1 1862, p. 3

In this city, Sept. 23, 1862, KATIE ADAMS, infant daughter of Henry W., and Jane B. Walker, aged 5 months and 20 days.

Wells, Eunice, 1805-1862, Lansing Republican,
September 3 1862, p. 3

DIED.

Of Typhoid Fever, August 28, 1862, at the residence of Rev. J. C. Ferris, in this city, Mrs. EUNICE WELLS, aged about 57 years.

Funeral services were held at the Free-Will Baptist Church, last Sabbath.

Wescott, Annie Elizabeth, 1862, Lansing Republican,
Novmeber 5 1862, p. 3

D I E D .

In this city, Oct. 30th, MRS. ANNIE ELIZABETH
WESTCOTT, wife of Mr. D. Westcott.

"The memory of the just is blessed."—Prov. 10: 17.

Whitely, Isabella, 1858-1862, Lansing Republican,
December 3 1862, p. 3

DIED.

In this city, December 1st, 1862, ISABELLA, daughter of John and Elizabeth Whitely, aged 4 years and 6 months.

MRS. H. R. PRATT, Sec'y.

DEATH OF LIEUT. J. J. WHITMAN.—

We are pained to announce the death of Lieut. J. J. Whitman, of this city, who was killed in the memorable battle of Antletam. Lieut. Whitman enlisted in the company which was raised in this county about a year since, for Berdan's second regiment of Sharp Shooters, and was duly commissioned as First Lieutenant upon the organization of the company. He has been in command of the company in every engagement, we believe, in which they have been in, and always conducted himself as becomes a true soldier, leading his men forward with bravery and fearlessness. He was in command of the company at the time when he received his fatal wound, and was gallantly leading his men to battle. He was shot in the leg, and the injury being severe, amputation was deemed necessary, and he lived but a short time after the operation was performed. Lieut. W. had been a resident of this city for some years, was a printer by trade, and for several years was foreman of this office. He was a member of our Common Council at the time of his departure for the seat of war. He was of a kind and genial disposition, and of steady and industrious habits, and was much beloved and respected in this community. He was much endeared to the men of his company, who feel that in him they have lost a noble and fearless commander. Lieut. W. leaves a wife and family to mourn his untimely death, upon whom the blow falls with crushing weight. His remains have been sent for, and it is expected that they will soon be brought to this city for interment. Thus has fallen another noble spirit, a victim to this cruel and unholy rebellion. We little thought when we bade him adieu upon his departure from this city, that we were taking him by the hand for the last time, as he went forward cheerfully to do his duty to his country, in the buoyancy of youth. But of such are the results of this war. May his ashes rest in peace, and the God of Heaven reward him for his labors.

the wounded man thrown out. He was in great agony and begged one of the guards to shoot him. Col. Williams sent the driver on under arrest, and procured another driver for the ambulance.

We passed the house where Jack Whitman died, and learned that his death was owing to the negligence of his surgeon, one of the arteries not having been taken up and he having thereby bled to death.

Some of the boys saw Lieut. Ben. Baker, of the 17th Mich., who was badly wounded, and will probably lose the use of one of his hands. We also saw Augustus Billings of the 17th Michigan, he also received an injury in one of the battles. Among other wounded we met I. Vanhusen of Lansing, (Lower Town). He is a member of the 26th N. Y., and was badly wounded in the right arm.

Wednesday, Sept. 24th, we were brigaded with the 50th Penn. and 28th Mass. regiments under command of Col. Christ of the 50th Penn. The Brigade is the 2d Brigade of the 1st or Wilcox's Division, of the 9th or Burnside's corps. Col. Christ has not yet received the appointment of Brigadier General, if he is as fine an officer as he is a man the appointment will be a good one.

The next day after we were brigaded the whole division, with the exception of our brigade, broke camp and marched about two miles farther towards Harper's Ferry, and Sunday we moved up and encamped with them, where we yet remain. Our location is now on the Antietam Creek at the foot of the Blue Ridge, about seven miles from Harper's Ferry. We have been under marching orders for several days and will probably leave here soon.

When we left Leesboro we were obliged to leave several sick behind in care of Dr. Chubb and Hospital Steward Baker. The only one we left from our company was Albert Hudson. Baker and the Dr. came in dan before

A SOLDIER'S FUNERAL — The funeral of the late Lieut. J. J. Whitman, was held at the Capitol on Sunday last, and was the largest ever held in this city. The remains arrived by express on Friday evening, and laid in state in the Hall of the House of Representatives, during Saturday and Sunday, attended by a military guard under Lieut. Mason, of the 3d Michigan Infantry, until removed to their final resting place in the cemetery. The hall was draped with National flags. The coffin was covered by a National flag for a pall, and decorated with flowers, the military cap and sash of the deceased, and a piece of the flag under whose folds he was fighting when he fell.

An appropriate funeral sermon was preached by Rev. Edward Meyer, of this city, and a portion of the solemn and impressive Masonic funeral ritual performed at the house. The remains were then taken to the place of interment, followed by a large concourse of citizens, and by the fire companies in uniform and the Masonic fraternity in regalia. At the grave the remainder of the Masonic ceremonies were performed, the soldiers discharged their farewell shots over the grave, and the earth closed forever upon the mortal remains of the heroic and lamented Whitman.

Letter from F. G. Russell.

The following letter from F. G. Russell to Mr. Kerr we are permitted to publish, as we think it will be of interest to the numerous friends of Lieut. Whitman, and our readers generally:

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9, 1862.

JOHN A. KERR, Esq.,—Dear Sir:—Having just returned from the battle field of Antietam whither I went to procure the remains of the gallant Whitman, I hasten to lay before you a brief report of my action in the premises.

Last Friday Judge Edmonds handed me the letter which you addressed to him. I took the afternoon train and arrived in Frederick at 9 P. M. After securing a metallic case, and having made my arrangements with Dr. G. R. Wells for disinfecting the body, I left Frederick for Antietam. Arrived on the battle ground at 5 p. m. on Saturday, passing over the bloody fields where Gen Hooker fought so fiercely. I observed hundreds of graves, many with head boards, but was unable to find the resting place of brave Jack. Night having come on, rendering it impossible to push investigations for the time, I sought supper and lodging near the field.

Sunday morning early, the man whom I had engaged to transport the body to Frederick, brought out his horse and wagon, and we hurried off to Sharpsburg. Inquiring at a hospital in this ball riddled and shell shattered town, I ascertained the whereabouts of the 16th Mich. regiment. I immediately proceeded to their camp, two miles from Sharpsburg, and near the headquarters of Gen. Porter. Found Lieut. Weber, who informed me that the 2d Sharp Shooters were encamped about a mile further north. Saddling a couple of horses, he escorted me to the encampment of the regiment. Saw the members of Jack's company at once, stated the object of my visit; when a Captain and three men, W. Deuby, Orlando Wheelock, J. C. Gallup, and U. D. Ward were detailed to assist me in disintering the body. We proceeded to a little cemetery near Keedysville, two miles north of Sharpsburg, where, well buried in good popular coffin, we found the remains of the Lieutenant. The body was already very much decomposed; not a feature was natural. Had the remains transferred to the metallic case, and then

... County, Ohio Wheeler, J. C. Gal-up, and U. D. Ward were detailed to assist me in disinterring the body. We proceeded to a little cemetery near Keedysville, two miles north of Sharpsburg, where, well buried in good poplar coffin, we found the remains of the Lieutenant. The body was already very much decomposed; not a feature was natural. Had the remains transferred to the metallic case, and then hurried back to Frederick, where I arrived at 9
p. m. On Monday, it being impossible to embalm the body, on account of the advanced state of decomposition, I had it disinfected, sealed up in the metallic case, and prepared for transportation to Lansing. Monday evening I saw the body aboard the cars, and en route for home.

I can assure you, it afforded me pleasure to do Mrs. Whitman and yourself so great a favor, but it saddened me to be under the painful necessity of forwarding to you the mutilated remains of so excellent a friend, so brave an officer, so noble-hearted a patriot as Lieut. J. J. Whitman.

It may be well for me to state that Jack's company almost idolized him. His genial, amiable disposition, his familiarity, and frank, cheerful deportment towards them, gained the affections of his men, and secured the respect of his fellow officers. In the early part of the battle on the 17th, Lieut. J. J. Whitman was struck by a piece of shell, which tore off the knee pan of the left leg, but did not materially injure the large bones. He was immediately removed from the field to a private house in Keedysville. Although no absolute necessity therefor, his leg was amputated about half way between the leg and hip. The reckless, butchering, villainous surgeon failed to take up all the arteries. About six hours after the operation of amputation had been performed, it was discovered that the main artery of the leg had not been taken up. He had now become very weak from loss of blood.
He lingered along till 20 minutes past 1 o'clock on the morning of the 18th, when his noble spirit took its flight to the better world.

It is fearful to see our brothers, fathers, husbands and friends fall a sacrifice to the inhumanity of rebels and traitors, but it is exasperating to see them made the victims of heartless, un-skillful, careless surgeons. It is time some measure was adopted to prevent young, brainless students of medicine from hacking to pieces the brave soldiers of the Republic.

Yours truly,

F. G. RUSSELL.

Letters from the Michigan 3d Regiment.

HEADQUARTERS BERRY'S BRIGADE,
 (Near the Battle Field of May 31st.)
 June 3, 1862.

GEO. I. PARSONS, Esq., Dear Sir:—I wrote on the evening of the battle to my wife, giving a hasty description of the part which our Brigade took in the action of that day; also, a partial list of the killed and wounded of our company.

The reports were not completed until late last night, and I now enclose an abstract from them of the loss of the three Michigan Regiments of our Brigade:

MICHIGAN 2D.	KILLED.	WOUNDED.	MISSING.
Officers,	none.	2.	none.
Enlisted men,	0	41	2
MICHIGAN 3D.
Officers,	1	8	none.
Men,	25	104	27
MICHIGAN 5TH.
Officers,	1	4	none.
Men,	57	115	14

Making an aggregate of 378—some of the missing will undoubtedly be found.

The loss of our caissons company is severe, and comprises some of the best men of the company.

Sergt. Chas. T. Foster, the Color Sergt. of the Regiment was the first to fall. He was bravely holding the colors, and by his coolness and courage, doing much to encourage the boys to press on. Orderly E. F. Siverd was soon after wounded, but still did his duty and urged his comrades on. Soon after this, Corporals Case B. Wickham, John Blanchard and Nathaniel T. Atkinson, and privates Samuel Dowell and Charles T. Gaskell received fatal shots. Atkinson and Dowell were brought from the field before they died. All have been buried, and their resting places marked with a board giving the name, company and regiment.

Jackson, Clays, Benson, Trimmer and Crane, are in camp, and the balance of the wounded have been sent on the cars to White House Landing to be forwarded to their homes and

Capital Area District Libraries

All have been buried, and their resting places marked with a board giving the name, company and regiment.

Jackson, Clays, Benson, Trimmer and Crane, are in camp, and the balance of the wounded have been sent on the cars to White House Landing to be forwarded to their homes, and where they are not able to stand the journey will be taken to hospitals at Fortress Monroe, Washington, and Baltimore, but I think it is the intention to send them home when they are able to go, and can be better cared for. There is an order from the War Department commuting the rations of the sick and wounded soldiers at 25 cents per day while away from the charge of the Department.

Gen. Berry's Assistant Adjutant General Capt. E. M. Smith was killed during the engagement. He was a most gallant and brave officer, and beloved by all who knew him. He distinguished himself at the battle of Williamsburg for his bravery, as will be seen by the official report of both Generals Kearny and Berry. Four of my comrades, with myself, carried him back to the station and buried him in a pleasant orchard where many more have been buried since.

Capt. Judd, of Co. "A," 3d Regiment, was killed while in charge of the Sharpshooters in the advance of our Brigade.

Captain Quackenbush, of the 5th, was also killed.

Col. Champlin was wounded severely though it is not considered dangerous. He walked some distance after he was wounded, and by his presence and energy did much to encourage his men.

I would gladly speak of the merits of each of our company who are dead, had I the ability of doing so as they deserve; they were beloved by all, and their many mourning friends may be assured they have the heartfelt sympathy of every one of us.

Our knapsacks are all back with the wagon train across the river and may not soon be up, facts of those who are gone, and forward them to their friends as soon as possible.

Our Division moved last evening farther to the front and across the railroad, to the right, and in the rear of Generals Sedgwick and Richard

fects of those who are gone, and forward them to their friends as soon as possible.

Our Division moved last evening farther to the front and across the railroad, to the right, and in the rear of Generals Sedgwick and Richardson's Divisions.

Gen. Richardson's Division was engaged last Sunday and he lost about 900 men. He came to our camp to day, and was immediately surrounded by the Brigade who greeted him with the wildest enthusiasm.

The weather is very warm, with frequent showers, which keeps the roads in a horrible condition.

Our boys are feeling quite tired out, but stand it as a general thing well. Corporal Shattuck, and private W. F. Hogan, arrived in camp yesterday from the Hospital at Yorktown; they report Sergt. J. B. Ten Eyck as getting better, but not yet able to return for duty.

The rebels are holding their position here better than at any other place in Virginia, still we have no doubt of our final success.

The official reports of the engagement of the 31st of May, I suppose will soon be published, so that you can have a better idea of the part our regiment performed. They were in the advance of the balance of the Brigade, and fought with a determination seldom equalled. General's Kearney and Berry both gave us great praise.

The loss of 37th N. Y. Regiment was 81 killed, wounded and missing.

I earnestly hope it may not be my duty to again report losses such as these to our brigade. Our numbers are small, but each feel that we still have a duty to perform, and while there is a man left to do duty, I trust you will hear of it being done well.

I will try to keep your readers informed of our whereabouts and doings, but I am well aware they will miss "Stray Leaves from Camp," and with us, mourn the loss of their author.

Capt. Jefferds has been obliged to forward his resignation on account of continuing ill health, and will probably soon be at home so that our many friends can hear more particularly from each.

Yours,

HOMER L. THAYER.

Willis, Wm, 1862, Lansing Republican,
April 30 1862, p. 2

COMPANY I—CAPT. BROWN.

Killed—Sergeant H. L. Johnson ; Privates H.
Treat, Wm. Calhoun, John Treadwell, Wm.
Willis—5.

Wilson, Wm, 1862, Lansing Republican,
April 30 1862, p. 2

COMPANY H—CAPT. JOHNSON.

Killed—Privates Wm. Wilson, Geo. Barnes

—2.

Winter, Willis H, 1859-1862, Lansing Republican,
June 4 1862, p. 3

D I M D .

April 24th, 1862, of measles, WILLIS H. WINTER, only son of Mr. A. C. Winter, aged 20 months and six days.

Wood, Henry Vinton, 1861-1862, Lansing Republican,
October 23 1862, p. 3

DIED.

In this city, October 18th, 1862, HENRY VINTON, infant son of Dr. J. S. and Maria L. Wood, aged 1 year, 3 months, and 18 days.

Woodworth, Frank, 1857-1862, Lansing Republican,
February 26 1862, p. 3

L. B. POTTER.

In the town of Bath, Clinton county, on the 22d inst.,
of Diptheria, FRANK, eldest son of Jon and Mary Woodworth, late of Seneca Falls, Seneca county, N. Y.

He was a child of uncommon promise; but ere five short years had fled, his earth-mission was ended; yet he tarried long enough to fasten the tenderest cords of affection inseperably to hearts that will ever feel him drawing them heavenward.

L. B. P.

Will Seneca County Courier please copy ?

Worden, Jas, 1862, Lansing Republican,
April 30, 1862, p. 2

COMPANY D—CAPT. GRAVES.

Killed—Privates Jas. Worden, Patrick Mc
Cormick—2.

DIED.

In this city on the 27th ult., at the residence of his father, James W. Yawger, Esq., EDGAR R. YAWGER, aged 18 years and 15 days.

Mr. Yawger enlisted with Capt. J. M. Cravath, of Co. G, 12th Regiment Michigan Volunteers, and was in the memorable battle of Shilo, at Pittsburgh Landing, during the entire engagement, where he served his country with the heroism of a true American soldier. Notwithstanding his vigorous constitution, through the influence of climate, and hard service, he was compelled to leave the field for the hospital, where he remained for some time as a patient—then employed as an assistant until the 29th of July last, when he was honorably discharged and came home to die.

Com.

Capital Area District Libraries