DIED.

CANNELL.—In this city, Sept. 20th, of inflammation of the brain, ALFRED WHITTLESEY, aged 17 months and 24 days, youngest child of Charles and Frances W. Cannell.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—Mrs. Sarah Carmichael, wife of B. Carmichael of this city, suffered an injury last Saturday morning, which resulted in death in less than three hours. She had ordered up her horse and buggy, and with a little daughter, 10 years of age, started for the residence of her married daughter, Mrs. Ballard, to take her to ride. While turning the corner of Cedar and Shiawassee streets, at a rather rapid rate, a small dog rushed at the horse, furiously barking, when the horse shied suddenly to the left, overturning the buggy and throwing Mrs. Carmichael out. Striking her head upon the frozen ground, she suffered fatal bruises and injuries. The little girl was thrown over her mother, and received but little injury. The funeral took place at Mr. Carmichael's residence, last Monday morning, and her remains were taken to Grand Ledge where her relatives are buried. She was about 45 years of age and leaves three children. Her sudden death, caused by a worthless cur, casts gloom over our city and excites hatred of the dog tribe.

DEATH BY FRIGHT.—The Leslie Herald relates the following incident of death from fright, which occurred in that village last week :

As Maggie Easlick was returning from school, two boys by the names of Pierce and Chamberlain chased her with threats of killing her. Maggie, who was but five years old, ran screaming toward her home, which was about a quarter of a mile distant. Arriving there, she went into spasms and continued her cries and weeping all night. Physicians were called, but the poor girl continued in the same state as at first, and died in four days. Maggie was the daughter of Gibson Easlick, who lives three miles south of Leslie.

Death of Hon. C. Goodrich.

Correspondence of the Republican.

By letter from Montana Territory we learn of the decease of the Hon. Chauncey Goodrich, for many years a prominent public man of Eaton County, an energetic business man, an earnest friend of the public school interest, and a friend of the Republican cause. In 1861 he represented his county in the State Legislature, and for many years filled the office of Supervisor, which office he occupied at the time of his decease. Our informant says he died on the 5th of December last on his way to Puget Sound, Washington Territory, and that he was buried as well as could be done amid the snows, on the banks of White Earth River. He had frozen his feet and hands very badly, and his face was much swollen, and as he sank away, seemed quite desirous to communicate something, but failed to do so further than his name and that he had friends at Brooklyn, Michigan. Two years since, he erected the finest block of stores in this village, involving him quite heavily, and from this embarrassment he was not able to recover. His business conduct the past season, in consequence, was contradictory, and not profitable to many with whom he had business relations. About the 1st of November he went to Detroit, and from thence to Cincinnati, to look after the shipment of fruits and produce to those points, and from this trip he never returned. His embarrassment, doubtless, directed his steps towards Washington Territory. He leaves a son at Brooklyn, Michigan, and a daughter at this place. His age was 65 years. Up to the time of his embarrassment he was regarded as a scrupulously honest, upright, and very conscientious man.

CRUSHED TO DEATH.—Mr. Egbert Grattan of Williamston was at work in his sash and blind factory, last Thursday, when a band caught his left arm and crushed it up to the shoulder amid the machinery. His injuries and the shock to his system were so severe that he lived but three hours. Mr. G. has always been a very estimable, high-minded citizen, of some prominence in the community. He has been a resident of Williamston for about 20 years, and for a time was Postmaster. He was about 50 years of age, and leaves a widow and three children.

Suicide.

For the Republican.

The village of Dansville was considerably disturbed this afternoon, by the announcement that Ira Hatch, a farmer living one-half mile east of this place, had committed suicide, by hanging himself with a rope in his barn.

He securely fastened a common hemp rope to an overlay supporting the scaffold, and with the other end of the rope fastened about his neck, precipitated himself from the scaffold, remaining suspended in mid air, with his feet about eighteen inches from the floor, and causing instant death by severing the spinal column. A jury was impaneled by E. J. Smith, Esq., which rendered a verdict "that the deceased came to his death by voluntarily precipitating himself from the scaffold (with the rope fastened as above stated), with the manifest intent of causing death."

Mr. Hatch was a Deacon in the Baptist Church, and was esteemed as an upright, worthy citizen. He leaves a noble wife, who is an earnest, zealous Christian, and two lovely daughters, of whom any parent might well be proud, to mourn his untimely end.

We learn that some eighteen years ago Mr. Hatch met with quite a heavy financial loss, which was followed by temporary mental aberration, during which time he manifested an inclination to dispose of himself, as he has now succeeded in doing, but was prevented from accomplishing his object by his fond and devoted wife. From that time to the present, when in poor health, he has been subject to fits of despondency and mental disquiet, and at such times he has been carefully watched and prevented from doing violence to himself. For a number of days past, as he had been feeling badly, his movements have been closely observed, and he had not been gone from the house more than ten or fifteen minutes before he was followed by his wife, who found him as above stated, he having done the fatal work rapidly. As he went out at the usual hour (about 12 o'clock m.) for feeding his team, without any more manifest mental disturbance than usual, no one would have thought of following him sooner than he was followed by Mrs. Hatch.

A Man Instantly Killed.

Correspondence of the Republican.

On Saturday last the news reached Bath that George Herrington, a resident of that village, had been instantly killed in a saw-mill, at Saginaw, where he was employed to take charge of a saw. His wife, who with two children remained at Bath, had received a letter that morning from him, stating that he was well, and hoped soon to be home. In the same mail came a letter from another person, directed to one of the villagers, announcing his instant death by accident at half-past 5 in the morning. The news was broken to his wife as carefully as possible; but when fully conscious of the fact, she was nearly frantic.

It seems that while at work his arm was caught by a belt, which hurled him with great violence against an iron frame, splitting his head open, breaking his neck, arms, legs, and ribs, and crushing in his breast. His head was separated laterally between the eyes, and the part that was torn off hurled to another part of the mill. His brains were scattered beyond the possibility of being collected. The saw did not touch him. His body was placed in a coffin, with the several parts in due position, by kind hands, and the evening train from Saginaw brought his mutilated remains to his mourning wife and fatherless children.

The news spread rapidly, and long before the arrival of the train, a large concourse was collected at the depot, from the village and surrounding country. At last the train was heard to approach very quietly, without whistling or ringing the bell. All on board apparently knew the circumstances, and a general gloom seemed to pervade those within as well as those without the cars. The remains were placed on a stretcher and followed by a large assembly in procession to his late residence.

On arriving there, the coffin was opened in the front yard, and all present were permitted to take a last look, as the coffin was not again opened. His remains were then borne into the house and the crowd dispersed.

Mr. Herrington was a member of the Masonic fraternity; and, in compliance with former requests made to his wife in case of accident, his funeral was attended with the usual obsequies, conducted by the De Witt Lodge, and those residing in Bath, with several also from this city, joined by the Odd Fellow's Lodge of the village. The sermon was preached by Rev. S. G. Blanchard, resident M. E. clergyman of the village, from the text "What is man?" to an overflowing houseful of distressed and sympathizing friends.

A FATAL ACCIDENT.—The Leslie Herald says, on Saturday, August 24th, as Mr. H. Higdon and wife of Leslie were driving home from Jackson, a little dog frightened the team, which became unmanageable and ran away. Mr. and Mrs. H. were both thrown out. Mr. H. had his jaw broken in two places, and was so injured internally that he died on the following Tuesday. Mrs. Higdon is so injured as to be confined to her bed.

DIED.

KELLEY.—In this city, January 24th, ROBERT KELLEY, aged 55 years.

He enlisted in the 4th Michigan Cavalry in 1862, and continued in the service of his country until the close of the war. Participating in many hard-fought battles, at Stone River he received a severe wound in the shoulder, from a rebel saber, which caused the lingering illness which terminated in death. During his illness he was aided by his true and faithful comrades of the Grand Army of the Republic, and other friends, and his earthly remains now sleep in an honored soldier's grave. We trust that he has joined the innumerable host of the redeemed, and may his bereaved companion meet him there when life's journey is ended.

MALLORY.—In Alaledon township, Jan. 9th,
Mrs. M. I. MALLORY, wife of George W. Mallory, aged 46 years.

SUDDENLY KILLED. — Samuel McLelland, who has been a resident of this city for the past two years, and recently employed as a laborer on the Northern Central Railroad, was killed yesterday forenoon by the caving of a bank of frozen earth. It occurred in the vicinity of J. L. Mead's chair factory, where several workmen were digging under a large piece of frozen earth, estimated to weigh ten tons. It suddenly broke off from the main bank and fell upon Mr. McLelland, smashing his hips and legs in a frightful manner. He lived but a short time. He was an upright and honest citizen, over 50 years of age, and leaves a wife and daughter in needy circumstances, the wife being a cripple for life.

LAMENTED DEATH.—A telegram was received in this city last Wednesday, announcing the death of Joseph Edwards Mills, son of Joseph Mills, Esq., at St. Louis, Mo., on the 27th inst., in his 18th year. He had been ill for some time previously with fever, but was not considered in danger on the Friday previous. He was a very fine, intelligent, promising boy. Mr. Mills and wife have the sincerest sympathy of their many friends in this city, where he was well known as Cashier of the Second National Bank.

A SAD DEATH.—The last REPUBLICAN mentioned the finding of the body of Geo. L. Montgomery, formerly of this city, in the Hellgate river, Montana Territory. We gain further particulars from the Pioneer, a Montana paper published at Missoula, near the scene of his death. A Coroner's inquest was held, which returned a verdict that he came to his death by drowning. Mr. Montgomery went to that country about one year ago, and worked occasionally through last fall and winter. He was last seen in the early part of June, walking out of Missoula, on the Deer Lodge road, laboring under great mental distress, when it is supposed he put an end to his existence by a voluntary leap into the Hellgate, as his coat was found on the bank of the river about a mile from town.

Myers, Charles, 1847-1872,
Lansing Republican,
December 19 1872, p. 3

Suicide and Inquest.

Charles Myers, who has been in the employ of C. T. Marks of this city as an omnibus-driver more or less for the past five years, committed suicide last Thursday evening, by shooting himself through the head, and literally blowing out his brains.

He has been somewhat addicted to strong drink, and was partially intoxicated at the time of committing the rash act. He had been negligent that day about some part of his work; and meeting Mr. Marks in the evening, he said to him that he "knew he did not perform his work as he ought to; he thought there was no prospect of improving, as long as he could get liquor: and that the best thing for him to do was to leave his employ." Mr. Marks replied that if he thought he could not attend to his duties, that he had better quit. Mr. Marks did not reprimand him, as has been reported. Myers several times before had quit his employ in the same way, and returned to work, and Mr. Marks expected the same result again.

After leaving Mr. Marks he proceeded to the gun-shop of Fred Trostel, on Washington avenue, opposite the Library block. When he entered the shop Mr. Trostel was busily at work, with his back toward the door, and Myers, after looking around the room a few moments, started to leave. Mr. Trostel turned around and asked, "Charley, is there anything I can do for you?" He replied, "Yes, I am going out in the morning and I want a gun. Can you lend me one?" Mr. Trostel told him he could, and took one down and handed it to him. After examining it carefully, Myers asked if it was a good shooter? He was told, "Yes," and he then said, "What will you charge me for the use of this to-morrow?" Mr. Trostel replied, "Fifty cents."

He took the gun, drew it up to his shoulder, sighted it, and then said, "I will want some ammunition." He asked for a half pound of shot, a quarter pound of powder, and a box of caps. While Mr. Trostel was weighing out the ammunition the deceased remarked that "he and Let had a little game on, to-morrow,—a sort of dove shoot."

During all this time he seemed to be perfectly sane, although a close observer could detect that he had been drinking liquor. After he had put the ammunition in his pocket and started to go out, he made the remark: "I may not want this gun over half an hour."

About 9 o'clock, when the omnibus-driver went to put out the head-light, he found Myers' corpse lying in the omnibus. It seems that he had removed the boot and stocking from his right foot, placed the muzzle of the gun loaded with shot, against his forehead, and discharged it with his toe. The whole top of his head was blown off.

His mother and two sisters reside at North Lansing, and his father is an Episcopal minister, at present in Philadelphia. He formerly officiated in this city.

A Coroner's inquest was held upon the body, on Friday, and the verdict was that he came to his death by his own hand. He was about 25 years of age.

The mother and sisters of Myers do not believe that his death was intentional, but may have been accidental, as he was very careless with fire-arms, having more than once discharged them in the house. While his habits had not always been correct, yet he was endeavoring to reform at the time of his death. One of his boots hurt his toe, and this may account for the removal of it from his foot. He was invariably kind to his relatives and acquaintances.

Died of Consumption.

David S. Pierce, who had been a resident of this city for several years past, and a clerk in the Auditor General's and Secretary of State's Office, died at Olivet November 23d, aged 33 years. He was a soldier in the late war, having enlisted as a private in Company "B," 1st Michigan Infantry. He was wounded at the second battle of Bull Run, taken prisoner by the rebels and paroled. He carried a musket ball in his leg from that time until about a year ago, when Drs. Bartholomew and Hull of this city extracted it.

Mr. Pierce had been employed in the State offices during the past two years until a few months ago, when his health failed him so that he was obliged to give up his clerkship. It was evident that the dreaded disease consumption had a firm hold upon him, and his decline was rapid from the time he left the office up to his death. He leaves a wife and two children to mourn his loss.

As a soldier he never flinched from danger, as a clerk in the State Departments, he performed his duty faithfully, and as a citizen he was esteemed by all who knew him. He was a member of Greene Post, No. 28, Grand Army of the Republic, and at a recent meeting the sympathies of the comrades were extended to the bereaved companion of the deceased.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING.—Last Monday, during the heavy thunder shower which passed over this section, John J. Striblin, while loading hay, in Delta, about six miles from this city, was struck by lightning and instantly killed. Mr. Striblin and Mr. Cory were at work together, Mr. S. upon the load, when the lightning struck him about the head, passed down his back, tearing his shirt and pants into strips, and carrying away the rear portion of his boots, leaving the fronts upon his feet. Mr. Cory was severely shocked, but soon recovered. Mr. Striblin was about 28 years of age, and leaves a wife and two children.

SUTLIFF.—Sept. 10th. 1872, at Mecca, Ohio, after a short illness, DAVID SUTLIFF, in the eightieth year of his age.

Mr. Sutliff was for a number of years a resident of this township, and had been a member of the Masonic Order about fifty years.

At a regular communication of Lansing Lodge No. 83 F. & A. M., held at Masonic Hall Thursday evening, Nov. 14, 1872, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, Our venerable brother, David Sutliff, has been called from the labors of earth to the labors of that "spiritual building, that house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens;" therefore

Resolved, As a mark of respect for an honorable and true Mason, this lodge be draped in mourning for the next thirty days.

Resolved. That we tender the relatives and family our heartfelt sympathies, and with them deeply regret that one who has stemmed the storms of life so long, should at last be called from our midst.

Resolved, That in Bro. Sutliff we recognize an aged warrior whose long residence in our midst, and blameless life, marked him as a light to the young, and an honor to the Lodge.

Resolved, That his memory will ever be fresh in the minds of our membership, and the contemplation of his fidelity lead them to be truer workmen upon the floor of our earthly temple.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be presented to the relatives of our deceased brother, and that the same be published in the city papers.

Mortality Report.

Death of Mrs. John S. Tooker.

Mrs. Ann R. Tooker, wife of Mayor Tooker, died in this city on Wednesday, August 14, of consumption, at the age of 33. She had been sick about eight months and suffered intensely. She was the daughter of William Leech, and was the first white child born in Ingham County. Mr. Leech settled in the township of Alaieton about the 1st of August, 1839, and on the 17th of the same month the subject of this sketch came into life. Just 33 years, to a day, after her birth, she was buried upon the farm where she was born. She was for 12 years the wife of Henry Thompson, an extensive lumber dealer in the Saginaw Valley. About two years and a half after the death of her first husband, and a little more than two years ago, she married John S. Tooker of this city. Although in poor health since she became a resident here, her kind heart and amiable disposition had won her a large circle of warm friends. Her entire income of $3,000 a year, excepting what little was required for personal expenses, had for years been given wholly to religious and charitable purposes. Throughout Mrs. Tooker's long and painful sickness, which she endured without a murmur, and up to the hour of her death, she exhibited the most unwavering confidence and trust in God and resignation to his will. Mayor Tooker has the sympathy of the whole community in his painful bereavement.
