CADL Celebrates National Friends of Libraries Week

Lansing, MI – Oct. 17, 2011 – “You gotta have friends”...and the Capital Area District Library is lucky to have such great ones! During the week of Oct. 16-22, we’re celebrating our Library Friends groups in recognition of their many contributions to our libraries and the communities we serve.

Each of CADL’s 13 locations is privileged to have a Friends Group working on our behalf. Members work tirelessly to provide fundraising efforts, offer financial support of programs and events, plan projects that enhance our buildings and grounds, and help raise awareness of our libraries. They help us offer the residents in our communities a chance to experience the wonders of life-long learning.

All year round but especially during National Friends of Libraries Week, the Board of Trustees, Administration and the entire staff at CADL wish to express their appreciation to these dedicated volunteers. They play an essential role in our success story, helping our libraries grow and flourish.

New Friends members are always welcome. For information, visit your local CADL branch or cadl.org/friends.

The Capital Area District Library’s mission is to provide access to ideas and information that support continuous learning and enhance the quality of life through excellence in patron service, community-based services and accessible collections, and technology linking its patrons to the world of information. CADL serves 23 municipalities in Ingham County with 13 libraries and a bookmobile. More information is available by calling (517) 367-6300 or visiting cadl.org.
