CHAIRPERSON’S COMMENTS
Board Chair Sally Trout asked board members to consider ways to be more actively involved in fostering the goals of our mission statement: Empowering our diverse communities to Learn,
Imagine and Connect. She suggested a diversity work session centered on a better understanding of systemic racism, brainstorming new ideas and fine-tuning efforts currently in place. Director Scott Duimstra offered to provide a list of speakers or organizations to facilitate such a work session at the July meeting.

Scott’s contract extension expires on July 14, 2020. Lindsay Dangl, CADL’s attorney, will write up another extension to expire on July 23.

DIRECTOR’S REPORT
- COVID-19 has shown that there are areas of need in our communities and staff are working on grants to address these needs. In particular, our communities need digital inclusion and access to technology. We focused on some grants to get some help through the Library Services of Technology Act – Improving Access to Information. Through the grant we would obtain mobile hotspots and Chromebooks to circulate to our community to help use for education and workforce development.

- The Mason Library received a $8,000 donation and it will be used during the Mason renovation.
- Contactless pickup will begin this coming Monday at our branches.
- Based on conversations with our patrons, staff will be putting together Grab and Go bags for our patrons to pick up when they pick up their holds. This is like Blind Date with a Book.
- The next Board meeting will take place on July 15.
