

MARCH

2022

Kids ages 3–10 can celebrate reading by doing 10 or more of these activities. Once you have completed them, request a prize at your library. The last day to claim prizes is April 30, 2022.

Learn more about March is Reading Month—plus how to pick up a free Early Literacy activity book—at cadl.org/reading-month.

Capital Area District Libraries

cadl.org

SUNDAY	MONDAY	TUESDAY	WEDNESDAY	THURSDAY	FRIDAY	SATURDAY
		1 CADL Haslett is celebrating the Narwhal & Jelly books by Ben Clanton. Read one!	2 Read a recipe to someone in your family who is cooking today.	3 Sing your way through a book with songs in it. 	4 Make up a story about a family of unicorns living in the forest. Write it down!	5 READ for 20 minutes.
6 Sing a song about rain and clouds. 	7 CADL Okemos is celebrating books by Dan Santat. Read one!	8 Draw a picture, then describe it out loud.	9 Read a book from CADL's Easy Reader Collection. Ask your librarian to recommend one.	10 READ for 20 minutes. 	11 Use a flashlight to read a story under the covers at bedtime.	12 Read some jokes or a tongue twister book.
13 Daylight Savings Time begins! Help set your clocks ahead one hour.	14 Use a ruler to measure your foot, then trace it on a piece of paper.	15 READ for 20 minutes. 	16 CADL Dansville is celebrating books by Kevin Henkes. Read one!	17 Visit our BookSleuth Live event (1–6 p.m.) for recommendations. (facebook.com/cadlibrary)	18 Read a Caldecott Award winner or Honor book. 	19 Print your name. If you know how, try writing it in cursive.
20 Spring begins! Read a book about baby animals.	21 READ for 20 minutes. 	22 Read a chapter book from your local library. (cadl.org/catalog)	23 Play "Going on a Picnic" using the ABCs to name the picnic foods.	24 Read the license plate letters and numbers on some cars you see today.	25 CADL Stockbridge is celebrating the Pigeon books by Mo Willems. Read one!	26 Think of words that start with "bl," like blow, blue, blind. Write one here:
27 Draw a map of your school or home and label the rooms.	28 CADL Williamston is celebrating books by Jory John. Read one!	29 Request a Grab & Go bag of books from the library at cadl.org/MyTime .	30 READ for 20 minutes. 	31 Read a Haiku poem with someone in your family.	