DIRECTOR’S REPORT
- Annual report presentations will begin in May and will end in July.
- Stockbridge Head Librarian Paul Crandall is retiring. His final date of employment at CADL is April 26. The Stockbridge Library will host a retirement party on April 25 at 3:30 pm. This opening position is posted on the CADL website.
- Two branch renovations will take place this year at the Mason and Williamston Branches. Community meetings leading up to the renovations for the Mason Branch have been very positive.
- An optimistic comment was received regarding the library’s coding initiative, specifically at the South Lansing Branch. Without this program, the student would not have been able to compete in a regional Science Olympiad in a coding session. The family was very thankful for the coding services that the library offers.
- The library has added 10 customized telescopes to its Library of Things through a donation from Abrams Planetarium.
- CADL began a Lucky Day Collection for DVDs. This collection is available for checkout for three days.
- Read Off Fines took place in June 2018. CADL would like to extend it through August this year. Scott Duimstra asked if the Board would like a recommendation for this program for 2019.
- Scott Duimstra will be attending the MLA Director’s Academy. The program includes an in-person workshop, three webinars, an individual consulting session with Maxine Bleiweis, and wraps up with a networking event.
- Scott will be attending the Ingham ISD Superintendent meeting to discuss the Student Success Initiative library card campaign.
