DIRECTOR’S REPORT
• We have been working with the City of Mason on the renovation plans for the Mason Branch. There are two possible phases for the project. The first would add handicap accessible bathrooms and make it so that staff could have events on the main floor of the branch. The second would require the installation of an elevator to allow access to the basement events room and restrooms.
• We are working with staff from Okemos, facilities and IT for curb side pickup.
• The renovation of the Administration Office is beginning in early March. The March Committee of the Whole meeting will be in the Board room, but the following meetings will be in the basement galleries.
• CADL was close for 3 days in January due to inclement weather policy. Scott asked the Board if they heard any complaints. Marge heard complaints that we closed but should have been open as a warming center for the homeless community. Deb also heard from a co-worker that we should have been open for students who were home due to school closures.
• Paul Crandall is retiring. Friday April 26 is his last day. Thursday, April 25 there will be a party for him at the Stockbridge Branch.
• Annie Gordon, Robert Chartrand were hired as Public Service Librarians at the Holt-Delhi Branch.
• James Jenks from Marshall Music was hired as the graphic designer in the Marketing Department.
• Card was sent around for Board to sign for Jennifer DeGroat’s family.
• The Harrison District Library is joining the MMLC.
• The committee to hire replacement for MMLC Director Denise Hooks has been meeting. The position has been posted.
• At the end of last month’s board meeting, Scott went downstairs for the GED graduation for CALC. Before the ceremony, there was a speaker who spoke about the impact of getting the GED made on his life. He was a very moving speaker.
• Author Rod Stedler is doing an event in the Downtown Lansing event rooms in the basement. He spoke at Williamston and the response was fantastic.
