ANNUAL REPORT 2014

Capital Area District
LIBRARIES

A NOTE FROM THE EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Maureen Hirten

In a year filled with exciting changes to our services, staff and buildings, one important thing did not change—the support we receive from our communities. On August 5, voters in Ingham County overwhelmingly passed our millage renewal proposal, with 77% agreeing to fund Capital Area District Libraries for the next four years. Part of that awe-inspiring approval is due to our ongoing commitment to collaboration.

Our staff, Administration and Board of Trustees work hard day in and day out to provide top-quality services, collections and events through partnerships. So it's very gratifying to know that our efforts are appreciated. We consider it a privilege to work in a community where people recognize and value the benefits that a thriving library system provides.

Among the improvements we made in 2014:

- Renovations to our Dansville and Mason branches, plus a grand re-opening of the Okemos branch, which had closed for renovations at the end of 2013.
- New technologies that make it easier than ever to connect with the information you need.
- A new delivery van that connects patrons in our 13 branches to our large collection of books, movies and more.

I encourage you to review the accomplishments and collaborations featured in this report, and to join us as we look toward the future.

Maureen Hirten

It's very gratifying to know that our efforts are appreciated.

CADL

ACCOMPLISHMENTS

CADL's strength as a library system comes from a collaboration between 225 dedicated people, all working together to accomplish our goals. Here are some highlights of our accomplishments in 2014.

CADL MASCOTS

Our family added a new member this year—a little sister for our library-loving mascot, Linc. Along with Linc, Lexi serves as an ambassador for CADL, helping spread the message to families about how much fun they can have visiting their library. We also introduced a colorful train called Linc's Little Reading Railroad. It made appearances in Downtown Lansing, Leslie, Mason and Williamston, and included families from each community who won the chance to ride along.

MARCH IS READING MONTH

Wherever reading is being celebrated, it's a safe bet that CADL is there! To encourage children to become lifelong readers, we partnered with the Early Childhood Literacy Coalition in March to host storybook characters at our branches. The kids loved meeting favorites like Curious George, Splat the Cat, Labybug Girl and Cookie Mouse.

EARLY LITERACY SUPPORT

Through a generous donation from Target, we added a fun new item to our collection—Raising Readers Backpacks. Filled with themed books, movies, music and toys, the backpacks are ready to be checked out and taken home for our youngest readers to enjoy. Popular themes include Weather, Music, Colors and Pets.

Summer Reading

FIZZ, BOOM, READ!

With a science theme of Fizz, Boom, Read!, our annual Summer Reading program blasted off in June with cool experiments, exciting performers and lots of great prizes. By the time we cleaned out the test tubes in August, more than 7,400 kids and teens had participated, a nearly nine percent increase over 2013.

STEM RESOURCES

To actively promote our STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering and Math) resources, we offered hands-on science events at our branches. We also partnered with Impression 5 Science Center to present science storytimes, and with WKAR-TV on their locally-produced science show called Curious Crew. The show's cast appeared live at our Haslett branch, and DVDs of each episode were added to our collection.

KROGER COMMUNITY REWARDS

This year CADL helped local residents turn their trips to the grocery store into funding for our Summer Reading program. We enrolled in the Kroger Community Rewards program, a tool that allows people to make a donation just by swiping their Kroger Plus card. The amount raised in 2014 was over $3,000.

MOVIE PARTNERSHIPS

Our outreach efforts in 2014 yielded exciting partnerships with NCG Eastwood and Celebration Cinemas. We kicked off the year with a special screening of The LEGO® Movie at NCG. Over 800 people attended, enjoying free refreshments and prize drawings along with the show. Celebration helped underwrite the cost of a new activity book that features CADL mascot Linc and Celebration mascot Flick. CADL also partnered with both theaters for their Free Family Film Festivals.

CADL

LIBRARY CARDS

To help spread the word about the amazing value a CADL card offers, we kicked off a Refer a Friend campaign, encouraging people to get a friend or family member to sign up for a card. Then both people were eligible to win prizes like tickets to see the Blue Man Group at the Wharton Center, passes to the Mid-Michigan Women's Expo, and Dinner & A Movie packages from NCG Cinemas. Thanks go to MSUFCU for their generous donation.

LOCAL HISTORY

In the fall we reopened the Forest Parke Library & Archives, housed at the Downtown Lansing branch. These special collections include photographs, books, real estate and property records, maps, family and business histories, and much more. The book collection has been fully cataloged for the first time, and digitization of all print materials has begun.

HOLIDAY CELEBRATIONS

In December, Ingham County glowed with lights and holiday spirit. Families flocked to CADL branches for events like gingerbread house-making, open houses, Christmas crafts, and special visitors from Rooftop Landing Tree Farm.

Among the projects we tackled in 2014 were those that added to or improved the technologies we provide. Some were behind-the-scenes while others were front and center, but they all added up to better customer service.

ONLINE CARD REGISTRATION

This year we debuted a new kind of library card that gives users temporary access to our growing digital collection. Now people can try out items like eBooks and digital magazines for 21 days. After that the card expires, and they are encouraged to visit a CADL branch to sign up for a full-privilege card.

COLLECTION HQ

This behind-the-scenes service lets us look at all areas of our collection and do system-wide analyses. It allows us to identify trends and place items in the branches where the demand is highest, keeping our collection fresh and relevant.

PRONUNCIATOR

We continue to add resources to our online Research & Learn collection, and one of our newest is Pronunciator. Using downloadable audio lessons, conversation practice, quizzes and more, it allows users to learn up to 80 different languages, all at their own pace.

DIGITAL DISPLAYS

In an effort to better inform patrons of events and services, we installed a digital signage system in 10 of our locations. The screens display colorful information slides that are constantly refreshed.

PATRON ACCESS

This year we deployed 84 enhanced patron computers to support 21st century digital literacy. A new five-year network services contract was negotiated that increased bandwidth and lowered yearly costs by more than $27,000 a year.

Transitions

AWARDING EXCELLENCE

Named for a founding member of the Board of Trustees, our annual McConnell Award honors a staff member who provides exceptional customer service and/or innovations. The Board was pleased to select Technical Services Supervisor Aaron Smith to receive the 2014 award.

Aaron was recognized for implementing a number of changes in the way library items are acquired, processed and distributed to branches, resulting in both better patron service and cost savings.

Friends of THE LIBRARIES

Friendship is the only cement that will ever hold the world together.

— Woodrow T. Wilson

Each of our 13 branches is supported by a Friends of the Library group, made up of volunteers who work tirelessly to raise funds and advocate for their libraries. They maintain used book collections, run used book sales and other fundraising efforts, contribute refreshments for special events, and support library endeavors in dozens of other ways.

Friends group members also serve as advocates and ambassadors in their communities. They share the message with fellow citizens that libraries play a vital role, and that access to information and lifelong learning are at the heart of a successful community.

Anyone willing to donate time, energy and talent is welcome to join; information is available at any CADL branch or cadl.org/friends.
