

Ask a partner to tell you a word—a noun, adjective or whatever type of word the space calls for, but don't let them look at the page! Then read the silly story you've created together.

Tall Tale Mad Lib

Once upon a time there was a boy named _____ (name) who was so _____ (adjective) that he could _____ (verb) the _____ (noun). His favorite thing to do was _____ (verb) with the _____ (noun). He had a _____ (animal) named _____ (name) who was so _____ (adjective) that it could _____ (a favorite activity) in _____ (amount of time). They liked to play together, especially _____ (game). Whenever they played _____ (same game as before), the neighborhood _____ (profession) would hide under their _____ (piece of furniture).

One day while they were playing, they found a _____ (mythical creature) who was crying. Its _____ (body part) was stuck in a _____ (noun) and the _____ (same mythical creatures as before) couldn't get loose. So, they thought about what they could do to help. Finally, _____ (same animal as before) had an idea! "Let's _____ (verb) some _____ (noun) onto its paw."