Dear Students and Faculty:

Getting acquainted and really getting to know someone isn't always easy. This school year has been my getting acquainted year, and you have helped make it an exciting and rewarding experience for me. There were sad times but the happy times far outweighed the sad times. We struggled together to accomplish common goals and by doing so we became a team.

One of the most important components of any team is trust. Your trust in me has been revealed in many ways. I, too, have found comfort in knowing that all people in our school who are sincerely committed to the advancement and happiness of others are indeed people to be trusted.

Each of us has individual worth and dignity. Each of us deserves respect. One of my major goals has been to bring us to a full recognition of individual worth by showing respect for every student and every adult in our school community. I believe that many of you have shared this goal.

Thank you for a most rewarding experience. I am

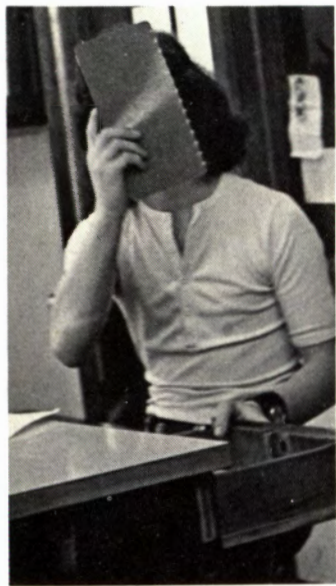

Most Sincerely,

Shirli M. Vioni
Your Principal
