

ROAD CONTRACTORS
SLASH UNIT PRICESCOUNTY ROAD BOARD SEES
DOUBLE MILEAGE POSSIBLE.Other Counties Not Constructing This Year Leave Ingham In Favorable
Position For Securing Low Bids.

Construction costs of new highways have dropped as low as wool and milk. When the county road board Saturday opened bids on nine projects scattered about the county, they were astounded at the unit prices quoted. Estimated costs of the projects upon which appropriations had been made had amounted to a total of $90,450. Low bids on the nine projects totaled $50,002.55. Members of county road board were at first non-plussed but after carefully checking unit prices with engineers and contractors decided to let two of the larger jobs but to reject the others until added mileage can be surveyed and plans drawn for construction.

According to Lee T. Laseby, chairman of the county road commission, the board will call into conference the members of the roads and bridges committee of the supervisors board for the purpose of agreeing upon extensions to the 1931 program as contemplated October last when appropriations were made. It is the judgment of the road board that Ingham county is extremely fortunate in having sufficient funds to proceed with construction at a time when other counties are suffering with debt and delinquent taxes. Contractors are hungry for jobs. Teams and labor are plentiful and may be had at low cost in years. Equipment which otherwise would be idle is available. Contract prices are correspondingly low. Nearly twice as much mileage can be built for the appropriations available as contemplated.

Marshall road on the town line between Ingham and White Oak townships, extending three miles to connect M-49 with Howell road, will be built for $9,238.83 on the low bid of Johnson & Green of Ann Arbor. Second low bid was by Briggs & Cheney of Danville at $10,729.75, third low being the bid of E. L. McKuistren of Leroy at $11,060.00. A Benton Harbor contractor was high at $13,911.65. Estimated costs based on last year's construction costs were fixed at $19,500.00.

The Fitchburg road consisting of two and a half miles of gravel in Bunkerhill township went to the same contractors on their low bid of $6,018.34 against an estimated cost and appropriation of $13,000. Briggs & Cheney were again second in line with a bid of $7,229.72 while Leon D. Coole of Hastings was third with a bid of $7,777.50. C. W. Brennan & Co. of Monroe was high with a bid of $11,702.32.

One and three-quarters miles to complete the Mason-M. S. C. road to U. S. 16 was awarded to C. F. Light Construction company of St. Johns on their bid of $3,880.45 against an appropriation of $9,000. Coole was second low bidder at $3,930.08 and Briggs & Cheney were third at $4,064.36.

Every road, 1 mile at $3,373.93; River Road No. 117, 2 1/2 miles at $12,071; River Road No. 118, 1 mile at $3,300.15; Vanhook road, 1 mile at $3,593.47; Reed Road, Stockbridge, 1 mile at $2,816.56; O'Brien road in Bunkerhill, 1 mile at $3,673.82, all were rejected, it being expected that permission will be given to extend the mileage so as to make the roads projected of sufficient length to form connecting links between the various ways making the whole of more value to the county at large. It is expected that twice the number of miles originally intended will be built during 1931. This result is partially due to the fact that specifications have been reduced to provide lower standards for by-roads hitherto. Roads are deemed possible for main arteries.

The bids rejected will be advertised for again as soon as surveys and plans are completed for additional mileage and will be included when the remainder of the 1931 program is advertised. More than 100 bidders, bond agents, equipment salesmen and other interested in road contracts were present for the opening of bids.

Motorcycle Riders
Injured In CrashHAVE NARROW ESCAPE IN CRASH AT DANGEROUS CORNER

Two motorcycle riders from Adrian, whose names were not learned, were painfully injured last Saturday morning at the corner of Lansing and Ash streets when their machine ran into a delivery car owned by the Reynolds Dairy. Witnesses claimed that the motorcycle driver evidently misjudged the distance to the corner. Both the rider and his passenger were bruised. The driver was rendered unconscious. Dr. R. E. Benner gave emergency treatment and the men left for their homes in the afternoon. The Reynolds car was also badly damaged.

The corner at Lansing and Ash where US 127 intersects M-36 is loved upon as one of the most dangerous in the state. Hardly a week passes but what an accident occurs. The state highway department has been implored to relocate the highway to eliminate the hazard.

EGG SUPPER.

Ladies of the Mason Baptist church will serve their annual egg supper at the church on Friday evening, March 27. The menu will include scalloped potatoes, brown and white bread, eggs in various ways, poached, scrambled, fried, pressed, and egg salad, cabbage salad, pickles, jelly and cake. This is one of the two annual suppers put on by the ladies of this church and always calls a large crowd. It has been given annually for a period of thirty years or more and has grown to be a custom with ladies of the church, and is looked forward to each year by many who might almost be called regular attendants thereat.

Residents Are Alarmed
When Motor Backfires

Merton E. Coleman, manager of the Sinclair gasoline station on Cedar street has blazed away at so many bandits this winter that residents of the neighborhood are becoming slightly nervous.

Last Saturday morning about four o'clock the motor of a large truck backfired. At once the neighbors thought that Merton had turned loose upon another bandit gang with his trusty (or rusty) Luger. Many of the bravest stuck their heads out the windows to count the casualties. Among those not so brave it is reported that one man spent the time from four o'clock until daylight beneath the bed.

It is said that neighbors may take up a subscription to purchase silencers for the pistols, rifles and sawed off shotguns in the Coleman arsenal.

SHERIFF SILSBY TAKES
CRIMINALS TO PRISONCOURT SENTENCES LOWER INGHAM
JAIL POPULATION.Chas. Streeter Given Life Term In Marquette Upon Fourth Felony Conviction.

Sentences handed out by Judge Charles B. Collingwood and Judge Leeland W. Carr the past week resulted in an exodus of criminals from the Ingham county jail in Mason. Charles Streeter of Lansing was given a life term at Marquette for his conviction upon a fourth felony charge. Deputies Milton Utter and Milburn Miller took Streeter to begin his long term Monday.

During Monday and Tuesday the deputies at the Mason office were kept busy transferring men to Jackson prison. Vernon Spinner was taken there Monday to begin a life sentence for the rape of his young daughter. William Spinnery was also transferred to Jackson where he must serve from five to fifteen years for breaking and entering.

Percy Herron, the youth charged with the negligent homicide at the curve this side of Leslie last fall, was taken to Jackson to serve from fifteen months to five years. At his first trial the jury disagreed but at the March term of court brought in a verdict of guilty.

Myron Crooks and Jack Lavern, the two men charged with the recent Onondaga robbery, were each given from seven and one-half to fifteen years at Jackson.

Charles Bywater was transferred to Jackson to begin a sentence of from eighteen months to ten years for taking indecent liberties with a minor. On Thursday Sheriff Silsby and Mrs. Silsby took Mrs. Hortense Staehli to the Detroit House of Correction. Mrs. Staehli was sentenced to from six months to two years for violation of the liquor law. She is the mother of three children. She has been on probation. Her husband has also served time twice.

There are still sixty-four inmates left in the county jail. A few of them are awaiting trial but the vast majority are serving time. The charges include vagrancy, drunkenness and simple assault.

Many vagrants have been given overnight lodging at the jail this winter. Two "vags" appeared just before dark one night two weeks ago and asked to be given shelter until the next morning. They were admitted but the deputies found that the men were literally alive with body lice. The men were made to remove their clothes and both clothes and men were given a thorough "de-lousing".

While body lice are not unknown to the majority of tramps the two men had the largest collection of any ever seen at the Mason jail, the deputies assert.

Miss Norma Barr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Barr of this city, graduate of Mason high school with the class of 1928, and at present a student at the Michigan State college, has been honored three times during the past week. She has been invited to become a member of the Omicron Nu society, a national honorary home economics fraternity, to which only five members were asked to join from M. S. C.

Another honor was her winning the presidency of the Women's Athletic Association in a hotly contested election held last week at the college. She will take up the duties of this new office at the spring meeting. The third honor was the naming of the members of the college honorary basketball team upon which Miss Barr was placed. To be in this team it is necessary to make 1000 points. Only four girls were named to the team this year.

LLOYD DOANE BEGINS
NEW DUTIES APRIL 1RECEIVES APPOINTMENT AS POSTMASTER ON MARCH 23.E. A. Densmore To Be Relieved After Over Eight Years Of Service Here.

Lloyd R. Doane received his commission as Mason postmaster Monday morning. The commission bore the signature of President Hoover. The document entitled Mr. Doane to enter upon his new duties at once but the new appointee and E. A. Densmore, present postmaster, decided that it would be easier to transfer the property if the present postmaster served out the balance of the quarter, which comes to a close March 31. Mr. Doane will begin his duties on April 1.

In discussing plans for serving the points in his new position, Mr. Doane pointed out that it will take him some time to become conversant with all the intricacies of the postal service. He will be able to rely on a veteran force of clerks though, he states. Clifford Parish, assistant postmaster, Nellie Brown and L. C. Oils, clerks, have all been connected with the postal service for many years.

The new postmaster says that he hopes to improve the service here. In a statement made this week, he said, "I realize that government regulations are often hard to unwind and I also realize that I will have much to learn in my new position; but I have one intention, and that is to handle all complaints in a courteous manner. If improvements can be made in the postal service here I want to know of it. If anyone has any complaint to make at any time, he can feel perfectly free to come direct to the postmaster with it. He may not be able to correct the trouble but we will take the matter up with postal officials."

E. A. Densmore has served as postmaster here for over eight years. He was first appointed in December of 1922. He was reappointed four years later. In December of this year the civil service commission opened the Mason office for a re-examination. The three who received the highest ratings in the examination were E. A. Densmore, Clifford Parish and Lloyd Doane.

Mr. Doane was formerly county drain commissioner. He has always taken a leading part in veterans' affairs and fraternal activities.

E. A. Densmore has made no announcement of his intentions after leaving office. He is an attorney by profession and it is thought that he may resume active practice.

Pupils Of Mrs. Marie
Smith Contest WinnersARTHUR CHAPPEL, SADA RUSCH
TO REPRESENT DISTRICT.

The district elimination contest for junior musicians sponsored by the federation of music clubs was held at the Central Temple house in Lansing on Monday, March 23. Arthur Chappel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Chappel of Holt, won first prize in building a basketball team. He told of his experience as a coach at Michigan State and pointed out that he did not want a team to be good losers. He stated that he wanted his men to lose like gentlemen if it was necessary that they lose but he did not want them to get into the habit of losing without exerting every ounce of power remaining to them.

The present basketball season was characterized by Supt. Murray as being the most successful year of the girls' team ever enjoyed. Its success was not in the number of games won, but in the fact that sixty-two out of sixty-three girls were out for basketball. He stated that Mason was one of the few schools in the state that sponsored basketball as an activity for girls. Mr. Murray praised Miss Hattie Lucas as well as Coach Minty for the successful year.

Major basketball awards were given to ten girls. The girls who received them were Capt. Jeanette Freshour, Mary Bullen, Maxine Chamberlain, Arville Kirby, Lucille Eggers, Ruby Brown, Pearl Brown, Martha Pearl White, Arlene Jewett and Anna Welsh. Following the presentation of the letters Arville Kirby was introduced as captain for next year.

Coach Carl Stewart gave awards to Captain Edgar, Forrest Hill, Woodrow Post, Curtis Bartlett, Robert Chamberlain, Randal Lang, Morris Strickland, Celand Lamphere, Theo Barker and Charles Clippier. A manager letter was given to Kenneth Robinson.

Coach Stewart praised the members of the varsity for their fight although from the standpoint of games won, the Maroons had a disastrous year, just one game upon the regular schedule resulting in victory.

Captain Edgar was the only veteran upon the team this past year but Coach Stewart believes that next year Mason will establish a better record. The coach stated that he was proud of his team, which fought hard all the year despite the loss of every game but one.

MASON CHURCHES PLAN
GOOD FRIDAY PROGRAMSTORES TO CLOSE DURING OB-
SERVANCE OF GOOD FRIDAY.Rev. Norman Kunkel, State College
Student Pastor, To Deliver
Sermon Here.

Plans have been completed for the community observance of Good Friday on April 3 at the Methodist church. The three Mason churches, the Presbyterian, the Methodist and the Baptist, will unite to observe the holy day of Christianity.

The services will begin at one-forty-five with music by Mrs. Howard Smith. The Methodist choir will also render several selections. Rev. Norman Kunkel, student pastor of the Peoples church of East Lansing, has been secured to deliver the sermon. Practically all of the stores of the city will be closed from one-thirty until three o'clock on Good Friday afternoon. The Kiwanis club took the lead at its meeting Monday evening, when all the members agreed unanimously to close their places of business.

Rev. Percival of the Presbyterian church states that Good Friday services are the only community-wide services of the entire year. He points out that on Thanksgiving and at the annual Baccalaureate services, the churches unite, but that on this Friday the entire community unites. Rev. Percival, Rev. W. Ray Prescott and Rev. H. H. Hoyt anticipate an even larger attendance this year than ever before. This is the fourth annual community observance to be held in Mason.

The Presbyterian and Methodist churches will be observing the day during the Last Supper, as well. Members of those two churches and all others in the community are invited to participate in the observance. The services will be held in the Presbyterian church on Thursday evening preceding Good Friday. The service will begin at seven-thirty.

Window cards giving notice of the closing of the stores are being prepared. They will be distributed Saturday of this week.

Coach VanAlstyne stressed the importance of training and the will to win as prime factors in building a basketball team. He told of his experience as a coach at Michigan State and pointed out that he did not want a team to be good losers. He stated that he wanted his men to lose like gentlemen if it was necessary that they lose but he did not want them to get into the habit of losing without exerting every ounce of power remaining to them.

CHARTED BY ECONOMISTSTATE COLLEGE PROFESSOR
GIVES BUSINESS HISTORY.Prof. Wyngarden Prophesies Present
Depression Will End This Coming Fall.

That there never has been a time in the financial history of the United States when business has been stable, was the assertion made Monday evening by Herman Wyngarden, assistant professor of economics at Michigan State college.

The speaker pointed out the boom periods and periods of depressions from specially prepared charts. He explained that the entire history of business in the United States and in the world is a series of ups and downs. He gave the causes and some of the effects of the panics of 1873, 1885, 1893, 1907, 1914, 1920 and the present period of depression which began in the fall of 1929. From the charts prepared by the speaker it was shown that the present depression has been of greater scope and depth than any other in the history of the country.

That the present crash was brought about largely because of over-emphasis upon installment selling was one of the statements made by the professor. He claimed that business could only be stable when the consumer income matches the supply of goods offered. He stated that installment selling increased five-fold between 1924 and 1929.

Professor Wyngarden also stated that the cash payment of the bonus would serve to spur business recovery. The relation of construction to national prosperity was pointed out by the speaker who declared that if construction could be stabilized that business as a whole would be put upon an even keel. He explained that construction picks up before general business begins to recover and falls off before general business is affected.

The speaker declared that the stock market had been fundamentally unsound for several years before the crash of 1929. He asserted that in 1924 brokers' loans amounted to two billion dollars. He said that this total had reached eight billion just before the crash in 1929. He explained that when the debts incurred by the consumers as a result of the crash have been paid, that business will recover, because when current income can be spent for current goods, that business is always on the upgrade. At the present time brokers' loans are only about a billion dollars, he stated, but that banks were still heavily involved with loans upon securities.

Professor Wyngarden asserted that the five-year plan of Soviet Russia, if it is successful, will build up powerful competition for other agricultural and industrial nations.

COUNTY CLERK.Expect Heavy Vote Upon Capital
Punishment Referendum, Only
One City Issue.

C. Ross Hilliard, county clerk, has completed the delivery of ballots and supplies for use at the general election to be held April 6. State officers to be chosen at the election include two justices of the supreme court, two regents of the university, superintendent of public instruction, member of the state board of education and two members of the state board of agriculture.

Both of the justices upon the republican ticket, Henry M. Butzel and Howard Wiest, are members of the supreme court at present. The democrats nominated Fremont Evans and David E. McLaughlin to oppose the incumbents.

Ralph Stone and Junius E. Beal, republican candidates for regents of the university, are also members of the governing board of the university at the present time. They are opposed by Charles F. Henson and Leo Cahalan upon the democratic ticket. Charles F. Henson is a former Mason boy who takes his fair for politics naturally. He is the son of Lawton T. Henson, former democratic candidate for governor.

Webster H. Pearce, republican superintendent of public instruction, and Frank Cody, republican member of the state board of education, are being opposed by Marvin S. Pittman and J. Camillus Lehr upon the democratic ticket.

Matilda R. Wilson and Gilbert L. Daane are the republican candidates for members of the state board of agriculture. Neither has served previously. The democrats nominated Theodore Rzeppa and William Tyson for the two posts.

The socialist party has no nominees for the supreme court but the balance of the state ticket is complete. The prohibitionists have no candidates for the supreme court nor for superintendent of public instruction and member of the state board of education. Francis Jesse of Stockbridge, is a candidate for member of the state board of agriculture upon the prohibition ticket.

Not In Good Taste

Editor Marshall of the St. Johns Republican-News is rather caustic in his remarks concerning the services rendered Michigan State college by Mrs. Dora A. Stockman, for the past twelve years a member of the state board of agriculture. He says, "So far as we can learn she had little of value to offer in the way of services on the board to which she was many times elected."

Now Schuyler, was that nice, we ask you?

Perhaps you have access to facts not known to this writer. But we believe Mrs. Stockman has rendered much in the way of service to the state college. Mrs. Stockman is probably known to more farm women of Michigan than any other woman, and after all you know Michigan State is still considered peculiarly a farm college to which young men and young women of the farm turn for educational opportunity. Mrs. Stockman knows what farm women are thinking, what their desires, what their needs. She has been able to take to them in turn many of the ideals of the college and secure for the college an understanding among farm folks.

Perhaps the St. Johns editor is not aware that Michigan State has the distinction of being the first college in the United States to teach agriculture. If he does know this he should add to his knowledge the fact that Michigan State is also the first college to adopt a course in child training and parent education. And when he has done this he can give Mrs. Stockman full credit. She was one of the outstanding women recently summoned to Washington to advise with the Hoover commission on child study. Mrs. Stockman is progressive without being radical. She is educated without being highbrow. Perhaps Mr. Marshall does not know that in almost every state in the union school children are singing songs of the home and of the farm and the fields and the flowers, all from the pen of Mrs. Stockman.

We admit that Mrs. Stockman is not rated as a rich woman. She will never endow the college as followers of Mrs. Wilson hope she will shower her fortune. But we will venture the guess that long after Mrs. Wilson's bricks and mortar have fallen to decay, the influence of Mrs. Stockman will be working. When Michigan gets ready to auction her educational offices to those most likely to pay for the honor, evil days will have come. We sincerely hope that Mrs. Wilson will do more for the college than her backers at Kalamazoo promised. The most that was heard there was concerning her great fortune and the probability that she would remember the college in her will.

It may be that agriculture is unsaddled at East Lansing as Mr. Marshall suggests. It is possible that wealth and prestige is more in demand there than knowledge of farming and farm needs. Let us grant that college officials and educators have sickened of agricultural domination and are happy to be rid of farm influence. Shall we consider the college as having deserted the cause of the farm? Do we understand that hereafter the extension work and agricultural research is to be devoted strictly to business and not to the needs of agriculture? If not, and farm members hereafter are to be discouraged from participation in the affairs of the college board, who then will be in position to interpret to the college the needs of the farm or the farm the aims of the college?

Mrs. Stockman has given too much of herself to Michigan and its farm folks to be thus summarily dismissed without protest.

Ingham county is proud of Mrs. Dora Stockman and her achievements. Its people take pride in the fact that she is a real farm woman; that she is a true woman of the home; that she can and does cook a meal; that she has devoted the true love of a mother in rearing fine sons; that wherever she appears she emanates the spirit of the home and typifies the wife and mother.

Perhaps in this day of jazz and quick riches, these are homely attributes not desired. But remember this, dear editor, there are yet remaining on the farm and along village streets, thousands of plain folks who are old-fashioned enough to circle about the fireside; who still eat popcorn and apples and know not the sound of cracked ice in the cocktail shaker; who love songs of the home better than they do the moans of the crooner of love songs; who work hard by day and study by night—decent God-fearing fathers and mothers who yearn for decent sons and daughters. It is to this class that Mrs. Stockman has directed her thought. It has been from these people she has drawn her political support.

Defeated at the convention she will continue victor among those who know her best.

England Has The Right Idea

Occasionally we find ourselves in agreement with men and women of undisputed recognition. Arthur Brisbane said in a recent article:

"While Governor Brucker signs a bill to re-establish capital punishment in Michigan, California discusses, and will adopt, it is hoped, a bill abolishing capital punishment."

"The state cannot discourage murder by imitating murderers and killing as they kill."

"Instead of death, the extreme penalty should be life imprisonment, and it should mean life imprisonment, with eight hours for work, eight hours for sleep, eight hours for regret and reflection."

"Two criminals recently received sentences aggregating more than 200 years; and it was announced officially that they would actually stay in jail about fourteen years. That makes a joke of justice."

In substance this is what the NEWS has been urging. Make prison sentences less pleasing to our criminal forces.

Alex Patterson, crown commissioner of prisons for England and Wales, while on a recent inspection visit to American prisons, said: "When a judge says 'Five Years' in England, it means five years, with the usual time off for good behavior. You see, we make our prisoners work quite hard and feel that they are really being punished, though we have abolished solitary confinement."

I believe our standard of discipline is on the whole, a little different than yours. No long term prisoner is permitted to smoke the first four years in an English prison."

Somewhat in contrast with the palatial cells of our own Michigan prisoners, with their radios; their electric grills where the inmate may cook his own food purchased with money earned while a prisoner; with their playgrounds, their recreation halls, their movies, and their theatricals—yes and their debates and orations.

Too bad they did not get that summer outing in the north woods. A lot of sentimental legislators wanted to get them out in God's open country to save them. They had their chance at that and turned it down for a life of crime and prison living. If the latter were made less attractive there would be fewer knocking at the prison doors.

Society Is Saved

Now that the federal council of churches has spoken and given its approval to birth control, we presume society can lounge back among its soft cushions and heave a sigh of relief. It has nothing to fear hereafter. The church has spoken. It is done.

Hereafter ministers will not struggle alone under the burdens of large families. Hereafter, according to the latest church doctrines, children will only come as the salary of the preacher is increased. If sons and daughters in Christian homes are lacking then the fault lies with the church for it has said that children should only come in proportion to income, that they should be spaced in exact accordance with scientific determination, and that the use of contraceptives by church members is not only permitted—it is desirable.

Far be it from the mind of this humble editor to differ with the ecclesiastical authorities. Their pronouncements shall be final as far as this newspaper is concerned.

However we desire to point out the lesson contained in an editorial reference made in these columns some time ago in which the factors three times three and seven times seven were employed. The religionists included in the federal council of churches for the most part have only that class of people included in the three times group. Neither they nor their teachings will ever penetrate to that social group where the multiple is seven times seven.

Children and grandchildren of the three times three class must support the children and grandchildren of the seven times seven class. Now that the three times three is to be still further reduced, we are wondering when society will hit its final snag and crash against the adamant rocks of economic destruction.

And another thing. Roger Babson says that only another pentecost of religious fervor will save modern business, government and social economics. Preachers in the Federal Council refuse to pick up the gauntlet thus thrown. They prefer to mess with sensational sex stuff rather than devote themselves, their churches and their communicants to spreading the gospel of the Christ.

Somebody is wrong. Only time holds the answer.

No More Court Scenes

Almost every perplexity holds within itself the answer to problems created. Every abuse if followed to sufficient extent will defeat the hopes of those thus abusing and correct the evil thus created.

Recently the metropolitan press has devoted pages to pictures of crime and court scenes. Invention of new processes of photography make it possible for photographers to snap dramatic scenes in court, to photograph accused persons when arraigned and other and similar settings. The practice continued until the morning newspaper held pages of pictures of crimes and criminals only to be outdone by the evening paper which carried two to one of the morning journal.

Monday a leading Michigan daily carried a front page appeal for all reputable newspapers to refrain from the practice of snapping court scenes. We quote from the editorial:

"It has been clearly shown that the presence of the newspaper camera in court is an interference with the orderly carrying on of justice."

"Those on trial, innocent before the law until proved guilty, are not given the safeguards to their persons provided for in our Constitution."

"Witnesses are intimidated and are ill at ease because of the constant flashing and clicking of cameras."

"Jurors are distracted and have complained that they cannot follow the testimony with the proper degree of concentration."

"Judges, lawyers and officers of the court have had taken from them the inherent dignity and solemnity of their high responsibilities."

"The taking of photographs in our courts should be stopped."

Incidentally it might be mentioned that for the first time in weeks the newspaper quoted refrained from printing court scene pictures on its back page. Is the appeal occasioned by an earnest desire to aid the courts in dispensing justice or has the practice of reproducing pages of daily pictures become too expensive for continuance?

Only those judges within the influence of sordid journalism have at any time permitted such pictures to be taken. We remember an occasion in Ingham circuit court when a city newspaper photographer was threatened with contempt proceedings before he could be convinced that a court room is not a show house.

Monday evening a bill was introduced and will probably be passed which imposes heavy fines and possible jail sentence for photographing court scenes. Michigan may be among the first of the states to demand that judges conduct courts like tribunals and not like vaudeville shows.

The Legislature

An account of the important matters discussed in the state legislature. This is one of a series of articles dealing with state affairs written by V. J. Brown, one of Ingham county's representatives.

One of the most important measures before the legislature this year and one that promises more immediate and more substantial relief to the farmer taxpayer is that which provides for the absorption of township roads into the county highway system. Several bills have been introduced but the one most favorable to the farmer is that of Rep. McNitt of Wexford. The McNitt bill contemplates taking over one-fifth of the township mileage in each county each year for five years. To compensate the counties and assist them in carrying the added cost, $2,000,000 will be set aside the first year, this amount being increased gradually as more mileage is absorbed. The benefit to the farmer comes however in the fact that when the county is the unit, the tax spread is in part absorbed by the city taxpayer who have all the money now raised for township roads must be spread against farm property. It is probable that within a few years an extra cent or so in gasoline tax will be collected for the benefit of the county road fund.

Tax on oleomargarine is a much discussed measure just now. Public hearings have been held in both the senate and the house. The senate has already passed the Lennen bill which would license manufacturers and dealers. The Lennen bill makes it unlawful for restaurants or hotels to serve oleo and provides an annual license fee of ten dollars for each dealer and $100 for each wholesaler of the product. A petition bearing the names of 6000 dealers has been presented while many boards of supervisors, including that of Ingham county, have passed resolutions asking for heavy taxes on the butter substitute. Mason and Ingham county people might be interested to learn that Charles H. Hennes, Detroit attorney, son of the late Lawton T. Hennes, prominent in Michigan democratic circles for many years, represents the oleo manufacturers of the United States. Young Hennes made a most impressive appearance at the two hearings and is looked upon as one of Michigan's most promising attorneys. The fact that he represented the big meat packing interests and oleo manufacturers in this and other states is proof that he is taken seriously elsewhere.

The McBride bill imposing a retail sales tax upon all retail merchants of the state is to have a public hearing soon. The McBride bill imposes a half mill tax on all retail businesses doing more than $25,000 business annually, a sliding scale being provided under which the tax rises to one per cent on gross businesses of $1,000,000 and above annually. The lower limit will probably be reduced to perhaps $5,000 annually before it is passed if that contingency arrives.

The Rubiner investigation is about concluded. Testimony of all those accused by Rubiner of being employed in private interests has been taken. Rubiner will now appear and be given an opportunity to defend his contentions that the practice is iniquitous and harmful to the state at large.

Financial distress of certain cities is reflected in a measure designed to permit them to escape absolute bankruptcy and default of bonds. One such would permit cities to borrow not to exceed 60 per cent of the amount of their delinquent taxes and another would provide for the floating of temporary loans during the last half of the year in anticipation of taxes in process of collection.

Teacher's retirement fund legislation continues a perplexing and bothersome problem. Several bills have been introduced, others are in process of drafting and still others are lurking in the minds of members who are not satisfied with any measures thus far proposed.

Reapportionment appears to be in a fair way to passage. The Harding measure in the senate is reported out and will probably pass that body. In general it leaves all districts outside the sixth strictly alone. Ingham, Livingston and Genesee are linked together under the banner of the old sixth district. Oakland is divided into two districts while four additional members provided under the new federal apportionment go to Wayne and the Detroit area. There is no concerted opposition to the new apportionment as now planned. It satisfies all present congressmen and while it serves to snuff out some up-state congressional ambitions, it is quite likely to pass as now is.

Increased authority over busses and trucks, especially over those operated as contract carriers, is contemplated in the bill introduced by Rep. William Green. The Green bill imposes added license fees and imposes other restrictions as to rates and routes.

Your representative has introduced a bill to provide a central board to handle public welfare aid and public health matters. It is an optional bill under which a county might, if it so desired, set up a central agency with a staff to supervise and direct all relief of health activities. At present there are more than a dozen boards and agencies and some thirty supervisors and an equal number of health officers expending public money and otherwise obligating the county. The proposed law would centralize all such activities under a single board consisting of the chairman of the board of supervisors, the presiding judge of the circuit court, the judge of probate and two commissioners especially appointed for the purpose, one to supervise all health matters and the other all welfare relief.

The session has now swung into its real work. Measures have been discussed before committees and either pigeon-holed or amended and reported out. They are coming to the floor for final action now with daily increase in number and importance. Taxation and finance is still in the air and until these two questions are settled, final date of adjournment is strictly conjectural.

MORTGAGE BOND OWNERS

Have you read the article in the March 22nd Detroit Free Press—part five, third and fourth columns—advocating legislation which would compel the state to act as receiver for bankrupt real estate financing companies?

This looks like an advanced step in the regulation of real estate mortgage bond companies and from our observation of such companies which are directly under the supervision of the State Banking Department, we believe it to be worthy of support.

In case you haven't seen the article referred to, we have a copy at this bank and we urge that interested parties read it and then give their views to their representative.

Mrs. Rebecca Dennis, newly elected president, was also a guest. A six o'clock dinner was served and plans for next year's program discussed.

after which games and contests were enjoyed.

Mrs. Allie Alexander and father, Daniel Crowley, visited at the Boyle home Sunday.

That he is in favor of capital punishment was quite evident in the opening service of Evangelist W. S. Colegrove at the Leslie Baptist church Sunday evening when he spoke on the subject, "Crime, Its Cause and Cure." In speaking of the crime wave he said that was due to the lack of respect for lawful authority which is the result of a lack of fear of judgment and punishment and a widespread atheism which had no reverence for God or respect for His judgments. "Capital Punishment," said he, "if properly administered will prove to be a detriment to the armed forces of society who will with such freedom." Mr. and Mrs. Colegrove were introduced at the morning service by the pastor of the church, E. J. Cross, after which Mr. Colegrove spoke on the topic, "The Work of the Disciples of Jesus." Music plays an important part in these services as both Mr. and Mrs. Colegrove are musicians. Services are to be held each evening, excepting Mondays, besides services for the boys and girls in the afternoons after school closes. Delegations are to come from Stockbridge on Wednesday evening and from Jackson on Thursday evening. Next week delegations are to come from Rives Junction on Tuesday evening, Onondaga on Wednesday

FILM NEWS
PASTIME THEATRE

A mad elephant is no pleasant customer to seek even when you are armed with an elephant gun. Captain Daniel Swayne and Sir Hubert Windstand can vouch for this from their experience in the heart of Africa, on the hunting and exploring expedition which is brought to the screen of the Pastime Theatre Friday and Saturday in the adventure picture "Ingagi." A herd of elephants had been grazing near their camp and the cameraman, hidden in the jungle, was photographing the passage of the mammoth beasts through the dense forest, when a tremendous bull who was leading the herd turned and charged directly at the camera. The plucky cameraman stood his ground until the big brute was almost on him, when the guns of Captain Swayne and Sir Hubert spoke in quick succession and the great beast toppled to the ground while the cameraman dragged his apparatus and himself to safety in the nick of time. Other thrilling scenes of African adventure shown in "Ingagi" include the capture of a live gorilla, the discovery in the jungle of strange creatures, apparently half-ape, half-human, the trapping of leopards, the cornering of three lions, one of whom nearly killed the hunter, the charge of a rhinoceros directly into the camera, and the capture of the largest python ever seen in Africa. A cartoon comedy and the final chapter of "The Indians Are Coming", completes the program for Friday and Saturday, which is promised at the usual popular prices.

Hoot Gibson in "Trigger Tricks" is scheduled at the Pastime for next week Friday and Saturday, followed on Sunday and Monday by the new Vitaphone production of James Oliver Curwood's famous story, "River's End." Motor Fuel Triumphs Again

ARTHUR R. ROBERTS, M. S., ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR

DEPARTMENT OF MECHANICAL ENGINEERING

McGILL UNIVERSITY

MONTREAL

September 11th, 1930

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

The results given in the table below are based on a series of tests made on a six cylinder Marmon engine in the Mechanical Engineering Laboratory of McGill University, Montreal.

Gasoline D, later identified as Blue Sunoco Motor Fuel, gave the lowest consumption for "brake horse power hour" over a wide range of speed.

As Blue Sunoco Motor Fuel sells at 5¢ a gallon cheaper than 3 of the other gasolines submitted, it is undoubtedly the most economical of the fuels tested both with regards to cost and miles per gallon of gasoline.

Gals. Gasoline used to obtain same H.P. Hours as "D"	Brand of Gasoline	Cost per Gal.	Cost of fuel consumed to obtain same H.P. Hours (Compared with "D")
100	"D" Blue Sunoco	29¢	$29.00
101.8	"A"	32¢	$32.60
102	"B"	32¢	$32.60
103.6	"C"	32¢	$33.10
103.8	"D"	29¢	$30.10

Wins Gratitude Of Rev. Wright

Indianapolis Minister Says He Was Almost At The Breaking Point.

It's here! Ferro-Iodized Sargon, the crowning achievement in the remarkable career of G. F. Willis, whose efforts have contributed to the sale and distribution of more than 85,000,000 bottles of medicines—probably more than by any other living man! One of the products introduced by him is now world-famous, prescribed by physicians, approved by clinics and has been accepted by over fifty hospitals in New York City alone. Repeating this unprecedented success, the new Ferro-Iodized Sargon has been enthusiastically acclaimed by doctors, nurses, chemists and health authorities throughout the United States and is being eagerly sought by countless thousands in the throes of ill health. How this amazing formula checks exhaustion builds new strength and restores the body to a feeling of physical fitness is strikingly illustrated by the case of Rev. Grover B. Wright, who has been pastor of the Ray Street Nazarene church in Indianapolis for the past seven years. Read his grateful statement:

"I am fully convinced if it hadn't been for Sargon I would have had to give up my work and take a complete rest. I was almost at the breaking point from nervousness and overwork. I had such severe pains in the back of my neck at times that when I at- tempted to study I'd just have to lay my head over on the table and relax. I knew something had to be done and when I read about this new Sargon in the Indianapolis papers and saw the recommendations of physicians praising the medicine, I decided to try it. "From the first few doses I noticed an improvement in strength and as I continued the treatment, that nervous, tense feeling disappeared, also the pains in the back of my neck—and I've been able to do more work and have felt stronger and better in the past two weeks than I have in months. I believe in Sargon so firmly I have recommended it to the members of my congregation and earnestly hope that my experience will be instrumental in helping others." Sold by L. H. Harrison, Druggist, in Mason; by Holt Pharmacy in Holt; by Hendley & Monroe in Williamson; and Carl L. Robinson in Leslie.

This Crop No Good On Michigan Farms

GROHOMA GRAIN SORGHUM WILL NOT MATURE HERE.

Michigan farmers who have read the glowing descriptions of Grohoma, a grain sorghum, and who have contemplated planting it should also consider the possibilities of raising bananas as they are just as practical for this state as Grohoma and are better eating, according to test record of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Tests made of Grohoma by the department show that it can not be expected to mature a grain crop north of Illinois, Missouri, or Kansas in an ordinary season and that, where the crop does mature, it does not yield better than other sorghums nor is it any more valuable for feeding livestock.

Michigan farmers are warned against this crop by the crops department of Michigan State college. Members of this college staff say that the extremely high prices asked for this seed are totally unwarranted by any value of the crop itself and that the planting of the crop in this state would be inadvisable even if the seed could be obtained at a low price.

The experiment stations of the agricultural colleges test, each year, promising new varieties of plants which can be used by farmers of the United States. The men who test these varieties are always anxious to find new plants which will outyield or which have better qualities than the known kinds.

Tests of Grohoma, however, have found it is immediately recommended for use in the localities to which they are adapted.

Treatment Of Bang's Disease Is Discussed

REMEDIES AND VACCINES DECLARED USELESS BY EXPERTS.

"Individuals interested in selling alleged 'remedies' or vaccines for Bang's disease, or as it is mistakenly called contagious abortion, will find rough sledding with the rather large groups of farmers who attended a series of extension meetings held last week and addressed by Dr. B. J. Killham of the Michigan State college.

Dr. Killham pointed out that some of the so-called remedies were found by government analysis to consist of brown sugar and bran, brown sugar and creosote, or salt and copper sulphate. Because of the fact that around two-thirds of the cows that abort never do so again anyway many users of the nostrums are led to believe that they were benefitted. One usually clever maker states that his guarantee is void unless all animals in the herd are treated, thus neatly eliminating any embarrassing comparisons.

As far as vaccines are concerned, suffice it to say that the American Association of Veterinarians has officially gone on record as condemning their use.

Four main manifestations of the disease were mentioned by Dr. Killham who ranked breeding difficulties and sterility as of first importance. Under diseases, retained afterbirth, and premature birth of calves were the others. Because nowhere near all affected animals abort their calves is the reason for the change of name to Bang's disease. Dr. Bang is a Scandinavian scientist who isolated the causal organism.

Elimination of the disease was said to lie in control of the animals that can spread the disease. The blood test applied to the entire herd was recommended as a means of ascertaining the degree of infection and as a guide to future procedure. Wholesale slaughter of reacting animals is not advised.

Fortunately calves do not inherit the disease and have a high resistance to the infection until they approach breeding age, hence none need despair and give up just because the trouble gets into their herd. A number of dairymen at the meetings indicated their desire to blood test and take part in the demonstration measures that are contemplated.

Home Gardens Provide Work, Food To Laborer

GARDENING IS URGED BY AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT.

A nation-wide appeal for home gardens to provide food while money for work is scarce is being made by Dr. Lillian M. Gilbreth, chairman of the Woman's Division of the President's Emergency Committee for Employment, who asks that the agencies which directed the war gardens cooperate again at this time. Doctor Gilbreth states that we are now engaged in a war on human suffering within our own borders in which all persons can help, in a communication sent to Miss Myrtle VanHorne, county home demonstration agent.

Experts of the United States Department of Agriculture, who are cooperating with the committee in this movement, estimate that seed and fertilizer for a garden to supply vegetables to a family of from five to eight persons will cost no more than $5.00. Such a garden would yield some surplus for storage. The department emphasizes that all farm families should have a good vegetable garden this year and when reasonably convenient those living in towns and cities should make them when it is necessary to supplement the income of the family.

The purpose of the home garden is twofold, Doctor Gilbreth points out: It will offer work to the unemployed in many instances; and will also be a source of inexpensive food supply, especially for those persons whose winter diets have been limited because of lowered incomes. To use more vegetables in the diet is to follow the recommendation by the Bureau of Home Economics that the diet include more vegetables, wherever possible, than the quantity outlined in its low cost food guide developed for the committee.

According to the bureau, vegetables, particularly the green leafy ones, are especially important for iron, and, with the exception of milk, furnish more calcium than any other class of foods. They are also valuable for their vitamin content and bulk.
