MANY LOSSES PAID BY
INGHAM COUNTY MUTUAL*FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY
PAYS $74,297.92 IN YEAR.*Nearly Five Thousand Policies In Force, Insurance Over Eighteen Million.

Ingham county farmers insured in the Farmers Mutual Fire Insurance company were paid $74,297.92 during the year of August 1, 1930, to August 1, 1931, according to the list of losses prepared by L. E. Otis, secretary. The report reveals that the company paid losses in 169 fires. The amounts paid varied between the low of $2.00 to Burton Wolverton of Leroy township to the high of $69,000.00 to Basil and Harry Freeman of White Oak township.

The annual assessment this year will be five mills upon a dollar, a raise of one mill over last year, but still a rate considerably lower than did the insurance companies offer. The raise of one mill in the rate was made necessary by the increased losses in the past twelve months.

Mr. Otis is now engaged in the huge task of sending notices to all those insured by the company. The assessment was ordered by the executive committee of the company on July 1 to be collected before October 1. If assessments are not paid by December 1, the notice reads, the policies in arrears are automatically cancelled.

Those individuals and banks throughout the county named to receive the assessments are the Farmers bank, Mason; W. H. Baldwin, Onondaga; Peoples bank, Leslie; J. O. Grottenberger, Okemos; American State Savings bank, Lansing; Williamson State bank, Williamston; Farmers bank, Webberville; Stockbridge State bank, Stockbridge; Frank Grimes, Dansville; Exchange bank, Haslett; and H. E. Gunn, Holt. Policy holders can also pay directly to the treasurer, L. E. Otis at Mason, or may send checks or money orders to him by mail.

Losses ranging above a hundred dollars paid during the year ending August 1, and classified according to townships, are listed below: Alameda, E. F. MacKee, loss of house, $335.00; Aurelius, Vera Palmer, loss of house, $280.00; Robert Smith, barn burned, $325.00; Laurinda Clark, cows killed by lightning, $195.00.

Bunkerhill township: Hugh DeWaters, damage to house, $625.00; John O. Perry, loss of hen house and hens, $891.25; Delhi township: Arthur Wempe, cows killed by lightning, $157.75; Suseau township: Louis contents, $550.00; David Bennett, house and contents, $974.40; Holt Methodist church, loss of building, $1891.04.

Install Septic Tank
At New County Park*STATE COLLEGE STAFF TO AS-SIST COUNTY AGENT.

A Michigan type septic tank is to be built Monday, August 10, at the new Rayner county park near Mason according to County Agricultural Agent H. H. Barnum. The Michigan Ingham County Road Commission has arranged for counsel and supervision by members of the Michigan State college farm engineering staff.

Believing that possibly some nearby villages or school boards might be interested in an oversize tank of this kind the event will be staged as a demonstration with a general talk and discussion at 1:15 p. m. While the dimensions of this tank will not be suitable for homes the principle of construction is the same hence home owners interested in sewage disposal will also find it to their advantage to attend.

The tank is of the two compartment type with a siphon similar to those put in private home outfalls. The siphon insures intermittent dumping which is said to be an important consideration with either a tile disposal field or a gravel filter bed.

Workmen have been busy this week erecting a permanent permanent toilet which, with the approved method of disposal contemplated, will be in harmony with the other excellent features of the park.

Father Of Mrs. Ball
A Pioneer Of Lowell*MRS. A. G. BALL ATTENDING ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION.

Mrs. A. G. Ball and A. B. Ball will attend the celebration marking the hundredth anniversary of the founding of Lowell this week. Mrs. A. G. Ball's father and mother were pioneer settlers in the Lowell community and for several generations the family made their home there.

The Lowell homecoming celebration is bringing many former residents back to their old home in Jona county this week, it is said. Lowell was one of the first communities in Michigan to be settled. The town was founded in 1831 while Ingham county's first white settler did not arrive until 1836.

Ice Consumption Here Increased By Weather

Mason and the surrounding territory is using more ice than ever before, records of the Lansing Fuel and Ice company disclose. Since the establishment of the Mason branch this spring the company has seen the consumption of ice here go far above the estimate made in the spring. The highest mark of the year was during the hot spell in June when over twelve tons were sold. Nearly every Saturday and Monday the consumption reaches ten tons, it is said.

A. E. Hillard, local manager, states that twice as much ice is sold direct to customers from the cash and carry station as is delivered to homes.

MILK GOES TO DETROIT FOR NEXT TWO MONTHS*SMA CORPORATION RESTRICT-ING MANUFACTURING HERE.*More Hopeful Trend For Dairy Products, Manager W. F. Richards Believes.

Surplus milk not needed in the manufacture of SMA and other products by the SMA Corporation here will continue to be sold in Detroit during the months of August and September, Manager W. F. Richards states. Manufacturing of SMA and other products has been restricted until the market catches up with the surplus manufactured here when milk production was at its height in the spring, it is said.

During the flush period in the spring months a reserve of manufactured products was built up and because of the depression and the consequent slowing up of sales this surplus still remains. A restriction in manufacturing was ordered to make a farmer market.

Manager W. F. Richards believes the dairy outlook more hopeful than it has been for several months. He states that butterfat markets are in a healthier condition and that if surplus products can be held back that the price of milk may slowly emerge from the bottom.

A meeting between officials and the company and the executive committee of the Mason Milk Producers association was held here yesterday and while no definite price was fixed for the next two weeks, it has been announced that the price will at least be higher than at present.

Because of the restriction in manufacturing operations at the local plant, employees are still enjoying vacations. Shipping maintenance, handling and skidding crews are working. The management is following a policy of passing the work around and as one employee returns from a vacation he takes the place of another who has been working. This policy was adopted so that no general layoff would be necessary. As the surplus of manufactured products is cut down manufacturing operations here will increase gradually to keep pace with the demand.

Payment Of $31,464.91
By County Held Illegal*SUPERVISORS VOTE TO ALLOW CLAIMS AFTER PAYMENT.

In an attempt to validate the illegal payment of $31,464.91, paid on warrants drawn by the county clerk and cashed by the county treasurer since January 1, 1927, the board of supervisors Monday attached an affirmative roll call to a long list of items purchased for the county and paid by without authorization by the board of supervisors. In a written opinion, Prosecutor John W. Bird held that money can be legally paid by the treasurer only after the allowance of the claim on roll call of the board. The opinion is in line with court decisions and with opinions rendered by former prosecuting attorneys on numerous occasions when board members have been inclined to take short cuts in the payment of claims against the county.

When the new jail was constructed and the board decided to feed the prisoners on county account instead of the old method of contract with the sheriff, the committee on supplies was authorized to meet at least once a month to make purchases, audit bills and adjust claims. This has continued since January of 1927. Monday the clerk submitted a huge bundle of papers with the illegally paid claims abstracted. There was no discussion and the claims were allowed without question. For the most part the claims covered food supplies, bedding and other supplies for the county jail.

Acacia Golfers Beat
Mason By One Point*MASON NOW HOLDS CUP BY SINGLE POINT MARGIN.

Another defeat was chalked up against the Mason golf club last Sunday at the hands of the Acacia club at Lansing. The Lansing club beat Mason 46 to 45. But the tournament cup still remains in Mason, but just by a single point. Before the match Sunday Mason held the trophy by a margin of two points. Now it is held by just a single point.

W. J. Richards of the Mason club had low score with an 81 while Lyle Aseltine, the Mason youth, came in with an 82 even with four penalty strokes.

WHO KNOWS DORLAND?

John Aubrey Clarke Dorland, Canadian, may or may not be searching frantically for a certain immigration permit which was found on the streets of Mason Saturday by Dr. Fred Wagner. The card was issued June 21, 1929, at Toronto, Canada, and besides the signatures of inspectors and consuls, contains the photograph of the Mr. Dorland and his signature. If of present value to Mr. Dorland and he is known in this vicinity, the card may be recovered by applying at the office of this newspaper.

NEW WATER SUPPLY GETS
STATE HEALTH APPROVAL*WORK WILL GO FORWARD IM-MEDIATELY, ENGINEER SAYS.*Laboratory Tests Shows Water From New Well Is Safe For Drinking.

Water from the new shallow well brought in ten days ago by the Harmon-Ness company has been approved by the state board of health. Col. Edward D. Rich of the engineering department, informed W. E. Ziemer, city engineer, Thursday morning that laboratory tests conducted by the state board of health show the water free from human contamination and that it meets all tests for drinking purposes.

Samples of the water were taken at intervals during the testing of the well last week. The samples taken after the pump had been in operation for several hours show an unusually pure supply of water, it is said. In the first samples the bacteria count was high, state chemists report, probably due to the fact that the pump had been started in the open and the water had been upon the ground for days. But as soon as the pumping operations were begun in earnest the samples showed a steady drop in the bacteria count and those samples taken after several hours showed the water to be exceptionally pure.

Now that the well has met the pumping test and the water has been approved, the Harmon-Ness company will be paid the portion of the contract price due them for completion to the present stage.

Work is being pushed to connect the new well with the city water system. Walter Root has granted the city a right of way across his property on West Ash street, so that mains from the well can be joined with present mains on West Ash street. It will be necessary for the city to lay 210 feet of six-inch main.

The pump for the well has been ordered. The pump recommended is capable of producing 550 to 600 gallons of water a minute. It is made 74 1/2 percent efficient, an unusually high efficiency, it is said.

Work on constructing the base for the pump will begin next week, officials of the Harmon-Ness company promise. The construction crew which sank the well has left the city to make tests for another well in East Grand Rapids and another crew will install the pump. The pump will probably arrive within two weeks, it is said.

Extension Expense
Clouded In Doubt*FULL FACTS ARE DISCLOSED FROM REPORTS.

A great deal of confusion appears to exist regarding the amount of the salaries paid the county agricultural agent and the home demonstration agent. Even among the supervisors there appears to be misunderstanding, one so, on being heard to refer Monday to a $5000 salary paid H. B. Barnum. Just what is received from federal and state aid is also thoroughly understood by few.

The only funds received from the state and federal governments are applied direct to the salaries of the county agent and the home demonstration agent. These funds amount to $1800 for each or $3600 in all. This sum together with $5000 appropriated as a part of the county tax makes up a total budget of $8600. From this budget a salary of $3600, $1800 from the county and $1800 from the state, is being paid to the agricultural agent; $2300 to the home demonstration agent; $800 from the state and $500 from the county; $1200 to the stenographer and office assistant from the county. Last year's traveling expense of the county agent amounted to $961.02 while that of the home demonstration totaled $785.01, these amounts being paid by the county for privately owned motor cars. Stationery, postage, express, telephone and telegraph and other office expense amounted to $449.13. Last year's total budget was $9600. This year's expense items are being reduced to comply with the budget which was reduced $1000 last October.

In other words, $8500 of county funds is expended in the combined salaries of the three employees, $1500 going for transportation and for office expense. 12,931 pieces of mail were sent out from the extension office last year.

Adrian Contractor
Is Lowest Bidder*AWARDED CONTRACT FOR LAN-SING CONCRETE PAVEMENT.

Floyd Carpenter of Adrian, with a bid of $13,323.25, was the low bidder for the 719 line of twenty-foot concrete pavement on South Washington avenue, just south of the city limits in Lansing. Proposals were opened at the road commission offices here Saturday. The contract was awarded to Carpenter. He will begin work within ten days, it is said.

Three other bids were received. Hudson & Coon of East Lansing were second with a bid of $14,964.00. Sagar Bros. of Saginaw was third with $15,297.00 and the Wolverine Engineering company of Mason was high with $16,725.40.

Just one county project yet remains to be let. That is the extension of the Pollock road in Wheatfield township. It is slightly over two and one-half miles in length. The road will be of gravel surface. It will be let in about two weeks, the road commission announces.

HAWLEY-ROLFE PICNIC.

The annual Hawley and Rolfe community clubs picnic will occur at the new county park on Saturday, August 15. Glen Gray and Irvin Holmes headed the committees for arrangement and entertainment. Games and sports and the usual baseball game between the two clubs will occur.

Rusty Needle In Jaw*MISS FLORENCE LATHROP WAS VICTIM OF CARELESSNESS.

Miss Florence Lathrop went to Dr. D. R. Lethbridge last week complaining of pain in her jaw. Dr. Lethbridge took an X-ray photograph of the jaw and teeth. The plate disclosed a rusty hypodermic needle and a portion of a tooth root embedded in the jaw bone beneath some bridge-work. The root and needle were removed and Miss Lathrop is now without pain.

The needle was four-tenths of an inch long. It was left there through the carelessness of an out-of-town dentist four years ago. At the time the bridge-work was done, four years ago, the jaw was sore, Miss Lathrop states, but the infection did not become serious until a few days ago.

SUICIDE RESULTS FROM
INGHAM MORTGAGE CASE*JUDGE ALFRED MURPHY ENDS
LIFE WITH GUN.*Charges Aired Before Judge Leland
W. Carr Believed To Be Responsible.

Tragedy has resulted from the one-man grand jury investigation of the defunct Federal Bond and Mortgage company being conducted in the Ingham court by John Wendell Bird, prosecuting attorney, and L. A. Capizzi, assistant attorney general, before Judge Leland W. Carr at Lansing. Judge Alfred J. Murphy of the Wayne circuit court, titular head of the company under investigation, ended his life with a gun in Detroit Wednesday morning.

Judge Murphy drew a salary of $6,500 for his services as president of the company but no duties to perform in connection with the business, he said upon the stand. The probe so far has disclosed a long record of double-dealing in which officers of the company manipulated the records so that double mortgages were issued, it is claimed.

The Wayne judge declared he knew nothing of the actual condition of the company of which he was president. He claimed that he placed his confidence in subordinates and believed the business of the company was being done upon the level.

Friends of the judge insist that he was merely the dupe for the company executives; that he was paid $6500 a year for the use of his name to entice investors. All of them are held by the company; that the judge actually believed the company was sound; and that the Wayne jurist was merely the victim of misplaced confidence.

When the unsound condition of the company was first made apparent in January, it is said that Judge Murphy suffered a nervous breakdown. However, when he appeared in the Ingham investigation he seemed to be self-possessed and gave no indication of a broken mental state. Prosecutor Bird stated that the Wayne judge had been called to the stand three times during the probe and was scheduled to make other appearances in the sifting of evidence.

Many Ingham county investors were mulcted of their savings by the Detroit company, it is said. Among those from Mason who testified in the investigation several weeks ago were Judge L. B. McArthur, Mrs. Edna DeCamp, Dr. Sidney Culver, Mrs. Albert Herzig, Mrs. Bertha Shaffer and Clarence Ransford. All of them are holders of defaulted bonds issued by the Federal Bond and Mortgage company.

Alfred Walter, a retired Delhi farmer, was one who signed an affidavit upon which the investigation is based.

Six Injured In Crash
On US 127 Saturday*ST. JOHNS MAN AND WIFE SER-IOUSLY HURT.

Two cars came together on US 127, just south of Luttons corners, Saturday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lohrer of St. Johns, the occupants of one car, were seriously injured. In the other car were John D. Thompson and two other men and a boy, all of Lansing. All of them escaped with minor lacerations and bruises.

Mrs. Lohrer was believed at first to be fatally injured. Her head was badly cut by windshield glass. She also lost several teeth. Her husband suffered a broken knee, it is said. Mrs. Lohrer was brought to the Mason hospital while her husband was taken to the St. Lawrence in Lansing.

According to witnesses, the two cars came together in the center of the road. The St. Johns couple's car was headed north while the Lansing car was being driven south. They crashed head-on and both cars were thrown into the ditch, each headed in the opposite direction from that in which it was going before the crash. Both cars were badly damaged.

Heavy Storm Strikes
In Northeast Section*HIGH WINDS CAUSE SLIGHT DAMAGE TO CROPS.

One of the season's freak storms visited the area north and east of Mason on Tuesday afternoon. While just one-hundredth of an inch of rain fell here, the rainfall amounted to from one to two inches in the section around Vantown, north of Dansville. The rain was accompanied by heavy winds and hail. The wind blew down many fields of corn. Farmers say the rain did enough good to beans and corn to more than offset the damage to fruit.

Mrs. Wesley Shoppell was painfully hurt during the storm when her arm was badly cut by glass blown out of a door. She was brought to the office of Dr. Freeland here for treatment.

SOLONS DELAY ACTION
ON EXTENSION SUPPORT*PUT MATTER OF COUNTY AGENT
OVER TO OCTOBER.*Monday Afternoon Saw Greatest Demonstration Ever Staged In Support Of Any County Movement.

Seventeen of the thirty supervisors voted Monday to defer until the October session, action on the proposal to cut out further appropriations for county agricultural extension work in the county. The action came after the supervisors had adjourned to the circuit court room where they listened to arguments from several of the more than 250 persons present to urge its value and continuance. A lot of parliamentary sparring preceded the roll call.

The supervisors present and voting and the votes cast upon the question of deferring action until the October session were as follows: Voting to table, Supers: Bogran, Stockbridge, Edgar, Aurelius, Hanna, Ingham, Marshall, White Oak, Metcalf, Leslie, Gunson, East Lansing, substituting for Jacob Schepers who is recovering from an operation; Speers, Locke; Tyler, Alameda; VanBuren, Williamston; Vicary, Bunkerhill; Wempe, Wheelfield; Dunham, Kircher, Larabee, Thonon, and Trager of Lansing. Those opposing delay in disposing of the matter were Carven, Vevey; Dox-lader, Onondaga; Harrison and Kelly, Mason; Hushack, Leroy; Kaiser, Meridian; Lott, Delhi; Moore, Lansing; Sawyer, East Lansing; Harper, McKale, Templeton, and McComb, Lansing.

Supervisor Tyler of Alameda, father of the resolution to discontinue further appropriations and to close up the work on November 1, charged the newspapers of the county with misrepresenting the facts, declared that signatures to a sheet of petitions filed had been obtained by fraud and deception, scolded the signers of those who came from all parts of the county to protest against his resolution. The importance of resolutions adopted by the Capital Grange of Lansing and the Ingham County Pomona Grange was also minimized. Sup. Tyler declared the newspapers owed the members of the board an apology. He quoted an 80 year old Mason resident with a 60 acre Leroy farm who had commended him and read figures from the treasurer's records.

Lura Blodgett Dies
Suddenly Thursday*POPULAR YOUNG MASON GIRL VICTIM OF DEATH.

Death stole into the ranks of the younger generation of this city Thursday afternoon when Miss Lura Blodgett, 20, passed away, at the sanitarium in Lansing.

Lura was born in Homer on April 7, 1911, and came to Mason with her parents in 1924. She attended high school here and graduated in 1930. She was very popular in school and took part in many school activities, plays and operettas, and acted as cheer leader for two years. At the time of her graduation she was taken ill and on July 17, 1930, she entered the Ingham county sanitarium in Lansing. In January of this year she was released and was apparently improving. She had been with relatives at Pine Lake for several weeks and on July 17 was returned to the sanitarium in a most serious condition. She passed away Thursday afternoon at one o'clock after two weeks of intense suffering.

Funeral services were conducted Saturday afternoon at three o'clock at the Ball funeral home. Joe Wilson, Harold Bell, Wayne Campbell, Clifford Allen, George Clinton and Loren Leonard, immediate friends and classmates of the deceased acted as pallbearers. Burial was made in Maple Grove cemetery.

Lura is survived by her father, L. N. Blodgett, and two brothers, Jackie and Billie of Homer, her mother, Mrs. Cora Blodgett, and a sister Una of Lansing, and a sister Una of this city. Several aunts, uncles and cousins also survive and a host of friends who will greatly miss her.

Ingham Farmers Club
To Meet At New Park*CLOSING OF ROAD MAKES CHANGE NECESSARY.

Because of the closing of the Columbia road for surface treatment with Blacktop, the August meeting of the Ingham County Farmers club will not be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Smith on the Columbia road. Instead it will be held at the county park, just east of Mason, on Saturday, August 8. Should the weather be bad the meeting will be held in the Presbyterian church.

Hon. Herbert W. Powell, state agricultural commissioner, will deliver the address. Mr. Powell has won a national reputation in farm organization circles, it is said, and his message will be informative.

Everyone attending will furnish his own table service, bread and butter and one other dish. The committee, Mesdames W. L. Cheney, Hubert Bullen, Alfred Allen and Lott, will furnish meat, potatoes and drink.

PARCEL POST LATER.

Notice of change of time on the Michigan Central railroad will delay the morning receipt of parcel post by a half hour, Lloyd R. Doane, postmaster announces. The train will now arrive at 8:08 eastern time, a half hour later than before. Postmaster Doane believes however that for the most part the departure of rural carriers need not be greatly delayed as other classes of mail will be distributed before the arrival of the parcel post packages, permitting the carriers to leave for their deliveries at 8:45 as formerly.

Former Ingham Deputy Is Fighting Extradition

Ray Melendy, erstwhile Ingham deputy and one of the many dodgers, has been hoisted by his own petard, according to our interpretation of Caesar Ray, now in Chicago, is being visited by Sheriff Hugh W. Sillsby and Deputy Rhodes. They are armed with papers seeking his return to Ingham county to face contempt of court charges growing out of his failure to keep up his alimony payments. It is said that the former deputy is in arrears for about $4000. What a price for freedom!

Melendy is fighting extradition. He says he had rather face Chicago machine guns than the Ingham court.

SUPERVISORS GIVE
INGHAM FAIR BOOST*APPROPRIATE $1000 TOWARD
1931 EXPOSITION MONDAY.*F. L. Flack Rides To Feature Midway
Attractions, Concessions To Be Under Control Of Committee.

The 1931 Ingham county fair was given a substantial boost Monday when the board of supervisors voted an appropriation of $1000 to aid in installing electric light and power to the grounds and to assist in defraying the expense of caring for 4-H livestock club exhibits. Unlike the professional breeder and exhibitor who hopes from the sale of purebred stock to defray the expense of entry and stall fees, the club exhibitor enjoys no such prospect. In accordance with a policy established when the fair was reorganized in 1927, no entry or stall fees are charged club or Smith-Hughes exhibitors, free hay and grain also being supplied for the stock. This policy has proved an item of considerable expense to the society but the supervisors believe the policy should be continued.

Contracts have been made with F. L. Flack of the Northwestern shows for three rides, a merry-go-round, the Ferris wheel, and the Whip. Shows, refreshment stands and other concessions will be handled by a committee representing the agricultural society. Mr. Flack is known here for the quality of his entertainment, he having exhibited here on numerous occasions during recent seasons, both in connection with the fair and as an attraction for street carnivals sponsored by the American Legion and other organizations.

Plans are going forward for other departments of the fair. Blue prints of the entire layout are being prepared and soon the secretary will be in a position to negotiate with exhibitors and concessionaires for space. The premium list is well advanced and will soon be in the mails, the publishers announce.

Complete lists of all committees and superintendents will also be available soon. It is announced that competition for the honor of being Miss Ingham will soon be under way in every part of the county, plans contemplate.

Rainfall Below Normal
While Mercury Rises*CITY ENGINEER GIVES SUM-MARY FOR JULY.

July rainfall was 1.71 inches below normal for this vicinity while the temperature for the month was 2.7 degrees above normal, according to the records of W. E. Zimmer, city engineer. At the city disposal plant the engineer has installed devices to measure and accurately chart the rainfall and temperatures.

The July record shows that the highest temperature for the month was recorded on July 1 when 100 degrees was reached. The lowest was the night of July 12 when the mercury went down to 47 degrees. The mean temperature for the month was 73.6 degrees, 2.7 degrees above the normal mean temperature of 70.9 degrees for July. The warmest night was on July 29 when the mercury did not go below 76 degrees. The greatest range in temperature was July 12 when the temperature ranged 38 degrees.

Records at the disposal plant reveal that the rainfall during July amounted to but 1.39 inches which is 1.71 inches below the normal July rainfall for this vicinity. The total deficiency so far this year is now 3.63 inches and the total deficiency since January 1, 1930, amounts to 16.56 inches.

July's heaviest rainfall occurred on July 5 when .95 of an inch fell. It rained five days during the month with thunderstorms on July 5 and 15. However, August brought some relief. It rained .02 of an inch Saturday and on Sunday rather .35 of an inch fell. During July twenty days were classed as clear, six as partly cloudy and five as cloudy. The prevailing wind direction for the month was west to southwest.

Announces Contest For Local Ford Owners*TO GIVE THREE PRIZES FOR BEST MILEAGE.

Owners of Model A Ford cars are being invited by the local Ford agent, J. B. Dean, to take part in a contest to determine the most miles per gallon of gasoline that drivers may expect to obtain with a Model A Ford. The date set for the contest is August 11. Owners who drive in this contest will be accompanied by a representative from the garage. Each car will be equipped with an instrument which tells very accurately just how much gas has been consumed with the number of miles driven.

Mr. Dean also announces that there will be three cash prizes awarded to the owners getting the best mileage. The time taken for the contest will be about fifteen minutes each. Entrants may make their test at any time during the day.

PROPERTY OWNERS ASK
HIGHWAY MORATORIUM*URGE ROAD BUILDING BE STOP-PED NEXT YEAR.*Judge L. B. McArthur Also Suggests That Road Building Funds
Be Curtailed.

Members of the Ingham county board of supervisors were requested Monday by representatives of the property owners division of the Lansing Real Estate Board to defer next year's highway building program. The request was made by A. B. C. Hardy, former head of the Oldsmobile company, and F. B. McKibbin, an officer of the property owners division.

Mr. Hardy stated that his organization is out to back every public official in tax cutting. He said that in the past those who were against higher taxes only made protests after the contracts were let but that now his organization intends to work with tax-paying bodies before the money is spent instead of after. He asked the elimination of the mill tax usually voted for highway building. Mr. Hardy said that every individual and government agency has been on a "spending excursion" and that now is the time to get back upon a conservative basis.

The case of the Lansing Y. M. C. A. was cited. Mr. Hardy stated that five years ago the Y. M. C. A. board sought a very expensive piece of property in Lansing upon which it intended to erect a new building. But to finance the purchase of the lot the present building, then free and clear, was mortgaged. The depression came and the taxes upon the newly acquired property and the expenses of carrying it, ate deep into the resources of the Y. M. C. A. The lot was sold two weeks ago to the federal government for a postoffice site and still the Y. M. C. A. lost $60,000 upon its expansion "excursion".

F. B. McKibbin asked that the road program be halted until overburdened taxpayers are given relief. He said his body did not mean to include the doing away of the county agricultural agent's services.

Judge L. B. McArthur also urged the supervisors to consider a retrenchment in road building. He said that many needy can be given relief this coming winter. The judge pointed out that this coming winter's relief problem will prove serious and critical. He said that the money already paid out in mothers' pensions this year is between $35,00

What is the Answer?

A harassed farmer came into this office one day last week to discuss his tax woes. He is unfortunate enough to have purchased some time ago a tract of land in the vicinity of Lansing. He purchased the farm because of the fertility of the soil and because it was close to market. When he bought he was in a farming section. Within a few years a number of farms closer to the city but located in the same school district were platted and sold to shop laborers. Small homes of low cost were built on the platted lands and soon a new school house was required. No sooner was the school house built than an addition was required. Now he finds himself burdened with a tax on his lands which amounts to approximately $50 per $1000 of assessed value. Meanwhile his lands have been assessed at higher values but because his land and buildings are more valuable but because nearby lands have been sold at exorbitant prices for plating purposes.

At the recent annual school meeting a few of the farmers of the district made an attempt to lower school costs. They failed because they were outvoted by those whose values are so low that their tax is nominal. One item to which the larger landholders objected was $1500 to be expended in beautifying the grounds. Most of those voting, it is stated, have little actual equity in their homes and most are months delinquent in time payments and practically all are delinquent in paying their taxes.

These farmers ask, "What shall we do?" We leave the answer to wiser persons than this writer.

Life's Pot of Gold

On a recent evening this writer along with others stood on top of the big hill which surmounts the location of the children's camp. There had been a threatened rain. Great billows of clouds were banked in the west from behind which the setting sun was sending out great shafts of molten gold. Above were clouds of silver lined fleecy in fantastic forms. From that vantage point one could see the faint outline of Lansing's boasted skyline. Far to the north and west and south farm homes of white and great barns in red stood out against a background of green fields and ripening harvests.

The members of our party had stood entranced for half an hour. We were drinking of the rare beauty of the eventide. We were amazed that so near our customary haunts there exists a spot where such a vista is possible. We were surprised at our own stupidity in living where the beauties of such sunsets are hidden from sight.

And then some curious persons seeing people on top of the hill turned from the highway and drove up to see what we were doing. Mere curiosity must have brought them. One was from all appearances a shop hand. His companions were two women of middle life, each adorned with all the accessories known to modern beauty culture. They left their car a little ways back and climbed to the crest of the hill. They stood for a moment and then one woman said to the other, "What did we come up here for? I don't see nothing." "Me neither," the other replied, and the three left with never a glimpse of the landscape, the sky or the clouds. Had there been a toboggan slide or a hurdy-gurdy or the bright lights of a dancing pavilion or the clatter of a jazz band, undoubtedly they would have remained until long after the rest of us had retired for the night.

We were chagrined. We were astonished at such blindness. We turned again to glories of the sky and the vista of pastoral beauty. But we could not forget the utter indifference of the women who had spent so much time in a futile attempt to beautify their faces, and reddened their lips and chalk their eyebrows but who had no eye for the handiwork of the Creator.

And then there came to our desk an editorial from the Columbia State. It so fits the occasion that we give it space herewith:

"A certain man, not rich as the world counts riches, had two children whom he loved dearly, and for whom he craved the best that life has to offer. "Since I cannot buy beautiful things for you," he told them a little sadly, "I shall try to teach you to see and love Beauty wherever it exists in the world around you."

"So he walked with them in the woods and fields and by the riverside, and showed them many marvels which they had looked at, but had never really seen before—the silver sheen of young oaks; the intricately-woven cradle of the oriole; the bark of the crape myrtle, tinted like ivory; the slender sickle of the day-old moon.

"The children's playthings, too, were lovely things; mussel shells, lined with mother-of-pearl chaplets strung of polished ruby and amber seeds; the flowers and grasses that hide away from careless tramping feet.

"We have few coins in our purse," the father would say, "but see the silver that rims the clouds before the sun; on the surface of the lake where the light touches it; on the under side of the green bay leaf. Was ever satin soft as the petals of the wild rose, velvet of so deep a pile as that of the mullen leaves?"

"On winter evenings, the three found pictures in the embers, or talked intimately of the friends in the old books upon the shelves—shabby, but priceless. Best of all they played the dictionary game that made words come alive.

"In the fullness of time, the father was called away. One who named herself a friend came to console and advise. "I wish he had left you a large, fine home like mine," she said.

"Our house seems large to us," the daughters replied, "for it holds so many things of value."

"But," the visitor objected, "you have no handsome furniture nor silver, no fine paintings on the walls."

"Your pictures are but copies," the younger girl said. "Our western windows frame the originals of Turner's most gorgeous sunsets; oaks such as Rousseau loved to paint; a landscape lovelier than Corot's masterpiece. On the sycamore by our gate you may see mosaics more marvelous than the rarest product of Byzantine art."

"You talk nonsense," retorted the consoling one petulently, as she rose to go. "At least you will admit that a legacy of money would have made you happy—comforted you in old age."

"The older daughter looked at the caller in amazement, as she opened the door. "My sister and I are very happy," she said softly, "and richer than anyone we know. When we were small children our father found for us the pot of gold at the foot of the rainbow."

Mr. McKeighan of Flint

The fallacy of the doctrine of low taxes without regard for the public money spent is well exemplified in the present situation in the city of Detroit. Detroit has long boasted of the lowest tax rate of any of the larger cities of the country and among the very lowest in Michigan. The reason has been that succeeding city administrations have kept the rate at low points but have continued to spend in uncounted millions borrowing money on short term notes until the amounts accumulated to justify the issuance of long term bonds. The legal bonding limits have now been reached and only short term loans against the next tax roll are legally possible and under a new law enacted last winter and soon to take effect these amounts are limited. Detroit is faced with the possibility of a tax for city purposes alone which will require a levy of $30 per $1000 of assessed valuation.

Mayor McKeighan of Flint has a turbulent political history. Five times since 1915 he has been elected mayor. But twice has been elected to succeed himself. Each time he has been in office he has lowered the tax rate but has spent more money than his predecessor has spent. Now he is out with a pamphlet in which he gives his constituents what he calls "The Real Facts" and points to the lowered tax rate which has prevailed in each of his five administrations.

Mr. McKeighan is looking longingly toward the governor's office at Lansing. He states frankly that he believes 40,000 votes in Genesee county are his for the asking and just as frankly explains that half of them would come from his friends and the other half from Flint voters who would like to see him removed from city politics.

McKeighan is a spectacular figure. He knows his politics. While he plays the underworld for all it is worth in votes, yet he personally holds to habits which would do justice to a deacon. He may head the next organization of politicians which threatens the state capitol. He will bear considerable watching.

The Cheapest Form of Education

It is to be regretted that the supervisors did not finally settle the county agricultural extension question at Monday's meeting. The question is necessarily a controversial one and to continue it beyond reasonable lengths is to hinder the work now under way and to discourage the development and expansion which otherwise would come as a natural result of the present organization.

It is to be hoped that the suggestion made by at least one of the supervisors that the whole matter be left until next spring and then submitted to a vote of the people will not prevail. County extension work, both among the 4-H groups and the adult groups, is as much a part of our general educational work as the public schools. One might as well suggest that when a new course is added in high school work that it should be submitted to popular vote. Had this been done we would still be confined to the three R's—or possibly only two of the three would have survived.

It was well said Monday by one of the women who spoke at the public hearing, that the extension work reaching into the homes of more than 5000 people of Ingham county, is the cheapest form of education now being promoted. When the work is considered from the angle of education and the costs of school room instruction is considered in comparison, the contrast is remarkable.

And why should not the extension work be so considered? Only a small fraction of our young people enter college and far fewer complete their courses. There are still hundreds each year who leave school on completion of the lower eight grades and yet another very large group who from force of circumstances or plain indifference leave school even before the eighth grade is completed.

In addition to these there are many who train for business or teaching and then find themselves responsible for the well being of a home and family without proper preparation.

To the boy or girl on the farm the 4-H club frequently supplies the encouragement which leads to a high school course. To the farm boy or girl of the home which is unable to finance a high school education, the 4-H club is a Godsend of opportunity. To the farmer who lacks farm training or who finds himself faced with problems of soil treatment, animal husbandry or pest control, the extension service becomes a laboratory for technical research while to the harassed housewife, untrained to modern methods, the extension study group frequently serves as the short course college.

If the high costs of college for the few may be justified, then extension education for the masses is easily found worthy of support.

Judge McArthur's suggestion that money raised under the guise of a county road tax be held and portions used for mothers pensions and indigent relief does not ring quite true to the judge's usual form. There is but one proper way to raise and expend public monies and that is to face the issue and raise sufficient sums to meet the demands of all proper functions of government. If, as the judge of probate suggests, there is to be a substantial increase in mothers pensions and in other relief channels, then the money should be raised for those purposes and expended for no other.

Spray Warning Sent To Apple Producers

TIME IS IMPORTANT IN CONTROL OF CODLING MOTH.

Warnings to apple orchard owners to spray fall and winter apples for the second brood of the codling moth are being sent to many Michigan counties by the entomology department of Michigan State college.

The spray must be applied before a certain date, which is given in the warning, to be of any use in controlling the insect which must be poisoned before it gains entrance to the apple. The dates are determined by watching the emergence of moths in observing stations at 30 places in the state.

The spray can be used only on late fall and winter apples. One thorough drenching spray of two pounds of arsenate of lead in 100 gallons of water should be used on apples which will not be washed before they are used. Three pounds of arsenate of lead to 100 gallons of water may be used on apples which will go through a washer and the spray may be repeated at intervals of two weeks. Dilute lime sulphur may be added to either spray.

College Men Speak On Farm Situation

FARMER DAY AUDIENCE HEARS PRES SHAW AND OTHERS.

While President R. S. Shaw, Michigan State college, did not hold out promises of immediate prosperity to the thousands of farmers in the Farmers Day audience at the college, he did point out agriculture has come through similar depressions in 1893 and 1898, in 1907 and 1910, and in 1921 and 1924.

President Shaw said, "There is some consolation in the fact that some good comes out of depressions. I managed a 320 acre stock farm in the period 1893 to 1898 and had to do more hard thinking than at any other time in my life. During the first years I had only enough to eat, a place to sleep, and enough money to pay the taxes and expenses; but, at the end of the period I had accumulated a surplus."

He also stated, "The stability of the nation in the future, as in the past will be dependent upon the farm family home. The making and maintaining of ideal home conditions is a far more commendable objective than the accumulation of cash reserves."

Director V. R. Gardner told the visitors that the college experiment station is of more importance now, when every means must be utilized to make farming pay a profit, than in good times when any system of farm management will enable the operator to make money.

Professor H. C. Rather advocated a further increase in the alfalfa acreage of the state and said that livestock in this state can profitably utilize the crop from one and one-half million acres. The production of alfalfa seed is another possibility of raising the income of Michigan farmers.

Grovenburg Farm Has Delicious Apricots

MR. AND MRS. HOWARD NORTH HAVE FINE FRUIT.

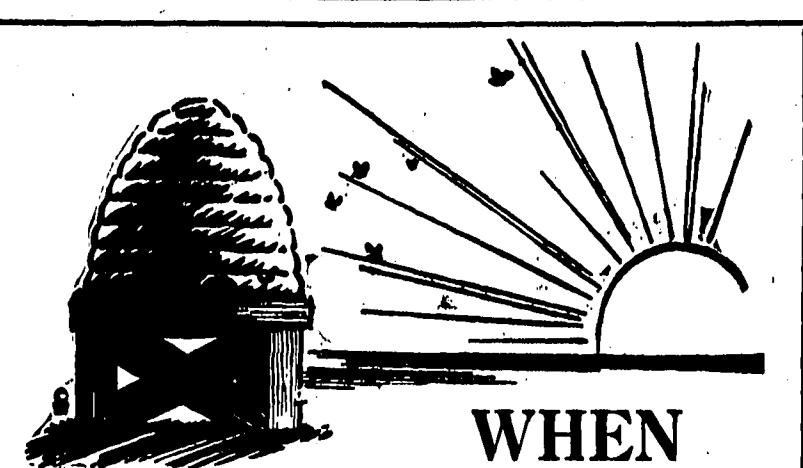

Two delicious varieties of apricots are raised in the orchards of Mr. and Mrs. Howard North of the Grovenburg district in Delhi. They were kind enough to present the NEWS with a basket of the Russian variety last week. Mr. and Mrs. North report that this is only the second crop their trees have produced.

Three trees were originally planted but two of them were winter killed. It is said that late frosts usually cause the fruit to drop in this latitude.

This year the tree of Russian apricots, a very tasty and juicy golden variety, produced five bushels of fruit.

Another apricot tree of an entirely different variety is also in the orchard. The Russian tree is spreading but the other variety is upright and produces a white-fleshed fruit, good only to eat when fresh. The Russian variety is delicious when canned and used in pies or for sauce, Mrs. North says.

Apricot trees demand thorough spraying, Mr. and Mrs. North advise. Without spraying the crop is a loss for worms are very fond of apricots.

According to the statements made by the employees of the NEWS, the worms use good judgment, for the Russian apricots so kindly sent to the office by Mr. and Mrs. North were certainly fine eating, even better than peaches.

COMPLETE SERVICE

HALL-SLAGH, Inc.

Only TRUTHFUL TIRE ADVERTISING WINS!

When we advertised the fact that Firestone was furnishing us complete lines of Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires that not only met the price but beat the quality and construction of every grade of special brand tires sold by mail order houses and others, the mail order houses made vigorous protests to Better Business Bureaus and made demands upon newspapers not to accept Firestone or our advertising.

We cannot blame them for they did not want car owners to know that they could get, at no more cost, a better tire made by a leading manufacturer, bearing his name and guarantee plus our guarantee and our service.

When car owners awakened to this fact, they came to us, compared the sections we had cut from Firestone Tires and special brand mail order tires, and were astounded at the Extra Values we were giving.

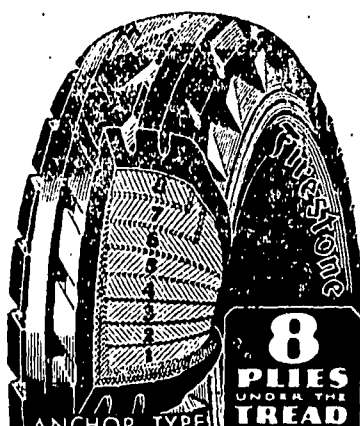

As a result, our business and that of other Firestone Dealers throughout the country, increased so fast that it has been necessary for Firestone to run their factories twenty-four hours a day and Firestone sold more tires in April, May and June than in any like period in the history of the company.

In our advertising we do not make comparisons involving laboratory tests which you cannot verify except in a laboratory—neither do we make comparisons of construction or price based on misleading classifications such as first line tire, second line tire or third line tire—we do not make comparisons to confuse and mislead you as to actual values and service—we only make statements and comparisons that you can verify for yourself in our store before you purchase the tire.

Come in today and get the greater safety, extra quality and extra values found only in Firestone Tires.

*When the National Better Business Bureau realized that their Bulletin No. 634 was being taken advantage of by some advertisers they issued a Bulletin dated July 10th as follows:

"In our Bulletin No. 634 entitled 'Definitions of Terms Used in the Tire Industry' we published definitions of First Line—Second Line—Third Line—Heavy Duty and Super Heavy Duty Tires.

"Our definitions pointed out, 'Although each manufacturer's or distributor's first line tire may represent his best standard size 4 or 6 ply tire, there is not necessarily any equality of competitive first line tires as to materials, workmanship or price.' This interpretation also applies to all lines of tires.

"We therefore recommend that advertising to the consumer shall avoid the use of these terms for the purpose of comparing competitive products."

*A "Special Brand" Tire is made by a manufacturer for distributors such as Mail Order houses, oil companies and others, under a name that does not identify the tire manufacturer to the public, usually because he builds his "best quality" tires under his own name. Firestone puts his name on every tire he makes.

Double Guarantee—Every tire manufactured by Firestone bears the name Firestone and carries Firestone's unlimited guarantee and ours. You are doubly protected.

Deadly Tarantula Easy Prey of "Killer" Wasp
Some insects are very ferocious. The tarantula, as Rene Buche points out, spin no webs, but rely upon their strength and agility for the capture of their victims, the latter including an occasional mouse or ground-nesting bird; and their homes are burrows, usually in the side of a clay bank, lined with silk. The door of the tarantula's house is set on a strong silken spring, and shuts with a snap when the owner has entered or comes out.

At home the tarantula is perfectly safe; the entrance of the burrow being so camouflaged as to escape even scrutinizing observation, but on its walks abroad, the giant spider is always in danger of attack by the Killer, which is a species of wasp. Against this wasp it has no adequate means of defense. Constantly turning this way and that, to face the enemy, it is inevitably taken, sooner or later, and stashed with the Killer's venomous lance, and paralyzed. The duel invariably ends with the death or total disablement of the tarantula, in whose body the Killer lays its eggs, in order that the baby wasps, when they are hatched, shall have food to eat.

Smile, Symbol That Has Never Changed Meaning

A mile seems a steady, dependable measure, 5,280 feet long as we learned in school, a fine old Latin word meaning the equivalent of a thousand paces. But a learned English colonel, writing in the Geographical Journal, points out that a mile means whatever it is held to mean, and very little more. In 1344 Dover was 12 miles from Canterbury; in 1638 the same Dover was 15 1/2 miles from the same Canterbury; the mile had changed. And a widely traveled Englishman, writing in 1617, noted that "five Italian miles, or three French, or two and a half English, make one Dutch mile, and that one Dutch mile and a half makes a mile of Switzerland. . . . Even in England the miles seem, and indeed are more short, near London, where the ways are false and phony . . . but towards the North and in some particular places of England, the miles are longer."

So when we read old English travel books a mile may be a mile, or two miles, or hardly a quarter of a mile. But then, as a matter of fact, almost all words are like that. They do not mean precisely the same thing in the Twentieth century as in the Sixteenth, or in England as in America. The only symbol which seems to survive the centuries and transoceanic transplanting without change is a smile. That is understood across all the boundaries of space and time.

Many and Varied Uses for Humble "Hen Fruit"

An egg, an albuminous egg, though to most of us just a filler or a speller, is a whole day's work for the hen. Egged on by insistent demand for a market, the editor of the National Poultry Journal lists a surprising number of its uses, aside from its use as an interior decoration. Eggs, he points out, are used extensively in the manufacture of imitation ivory, drugs, ice cream, adhesives, pigment fixers, printer's ink and glue; for tanning, bookbinding, cleaning, fine leathers and gloves, sizing paper, art varnishes for photographs, cards and paintings, dyeing textiles; and in addition to their use by bakers, makers of candy, pastries, mayonnaise and salad dressing, they are indispensable in the preparation of films for your camera. Even the antiques, though not extensively collected, are instead of being wasted, used for fertilizer. And they are used (we really ought not to tell you this) for—Listen!—clarifying wine. May the hen's son never set! He won't!—Pathfinder Magazine.

Saar Valley Mines

Under the terms of the peace treaty between Germany and the allies the mines of the Saar valley were given to France as compensation for the destruction of her northern mines during the World war and as part payment of her reparations. French occupation was to hold until reparations were completed. The districts containing the mines were detached from Germany and formed into the Saar territory. An international governing commission, responsible to the League of Nations, was formed for 15 years, consisting of five members—one French, one native (non-French), one British, one Czechoslovak one Finnish. In a few years a plebiscite vote is to be taken and final disposition made by decision of the League of Nations.

Big Map of Argentina

There has been recently placed on exhibition in the library of a Buenos Aires newspaper a giant relief map of Argentina, just completed after 20 years of work by Pablo Fontichelli, an Italian who emigrated to Argentina as a lad. Eight years were consumed in the preliminary work of laying out the map and 12 years were spent in exploration and study to revise it and make it accurate in every detail. The map is on a scale of 1 to 500,000 and is 24 feet by 12 and is complete in the most minute particulars. The maker of the map explored the foothills and ranges of the Andes in order to get accurate information of land which had never before been trodden by humans. In this rough work he was greatly aided by his wife, who accompanied him.

Scotch Cure for Witches

Fisherfolk of the little village of Burghead, on Moray Firth, Scotland, have again held the ceremony of "burning the clairs," a holdover from medieval times. While some continue the old Scottish custom in a spirit of merry-making, the majority of the people are superstitious and believe that witches will refrain from sneaking down their chimneys for a whole year if the clairs is burned. This ceremony is the pouring of casks of tar on the ruins of a Roman altar setting fire to it, then a dance by the villagers around the roaring flames.

Pianos on Their Heads

Pianos and similar articles are moved in the city of Pernambuco by a sextette of trained men "who are all of the same height and powerfully built. They will lift a grand piano on their heads and then march along with a soldier-like precision. A misstep on the part of one would mean disaster. As they pass along the street they are preceded by their chief who clears the way for them and gives the orders to the porters. All pianos are moved in this manner and these same men take care of all such jobs."

"Take a squint at this Ball and Bottle Test"

you can SEE that New Iso-Vis stands up"

The more body an oil has, the slower the ball drops. Note that used New Iso-Vis (Tube 2) has practically the same body as the fresh oil (Tube 1), while used "x" oil (Tube 3) has thinned out decidedly.

If you want the low down on a motor oil, these little steel balls certainly give it to you. Maybe they'll hand you a jolt like they did me."

Put in a fill of New Iso-Vis. When it's time to drain, go into any Standard Oil Service Station or dealer and use this oil from your own car in the Ball and Bottle Test.

This proof will convince you!

RESULTS of Indianapolis Speedway Tests, Certified by A. A. A.

1 Iso-Vis Motor Oil did not thin out from dilution.

2 During the entire test of 9,000 miles, the engines and chassis of all cars were lubricated effectively.

3 Oil Added: only 43/100 of a quart—average for all cars—of Iso-Vis 50 (Heavy) in 1,000 mile test at 30 miles per hour.

New ISO-VIS MOTOR OIL

New Polaring also is refined by our new process—giving it an efficiency which is exceeded only by New Iso-Vis. The price is 26¢ a quart.

Drivers of sixes never want less because it takes six cylinders to give the smooth, silent power that makes driving really enjoyable

Drivers of sixes are spoiled for anything less. Drivers of sixes are "sold" on multiple cylinders. They would no more think of giving up "six" performance than any other real advancement of motoring.

Drive a Chevrolet Six, and you'll know why these drivers feel as they do. Step on the starter, let the motor idle—and notice its silence. Throw in the clutch, shift into "low"—and feel that smoothness. Change into "second," hit a faster clip, slip into "high," sweep along at top speed—then throttle down to a crawl. The smoothness and flexibility you always get are six-cylinder smoothness, six-cylinder flexibility. Annoying vibration is gone!

Over two million owners have proved this six-cylinder Chevrolet engine. They have found that it costs less for gas and oil than any other. They have found that it actually reduces upkeep costs, by holding vibration to a minimum. They know a six is better in every way—and they would never be satisfied with less!

Twenty beautiful models, at prices ranging from . . . $475 to $675
All prices f. o. b. Flint, Michigan, special equipment extra. Low delivered prices and easy G. M. A. C. terms.

THE HARVEST SEASON

On the farms the harvest season is right in the height of its glory. The grains are practically all harvested and every day the threshing outfits are separating the grain from the stalk, preparing to help feed the world.

In the life of every man and woman there is a harvest time. When the individual is physically able to work and build for the future. That is the harvest time of your life. Harvest the crop that you sow by your own initiative. Be able to live comfortably even after the time has arrived when you can no longer earn by serving your fellow men.

To every person who is interested in the harvesting of a lifetime we would like to suggest that they come to this bank and open a savings account. That is the best way to market your harvest.

PASTIME THEATRE

An all star cast in a famous dramatic success is promised at the Pastime Friday and Saturday of this week when "The Locked Door," featuring Rod La Rocque, Barbara Stanwyck, William Boyd and Betty Bronson is offered as the main attraction. Taken from the famous stage play by Channing Pollock, originally known as "The Sign on the Door," this United Artists production presents one of the most gripping and melodramatic stories ever seen on stage or screen, with thrilling and forceful action rising to a climax of dynamic intensity. Zasu Pitts, Mack Swain, Harry Stubbs and Clarence Burton, in minor roles, add much to the effectiveness of the picture.

A Silly Symphony comedy, "Birds of a Feather," and the Universal News complete the Friday and Saturday program.

Next Tuesday is Merchants' Fifteen Cent Night at the Pastime Theatre, when with a merchants' ticket, given away with trade at any local business house, one adult or two children will be admitted for fifteen cents. The feature attraction for next Tuesday is "Danger Lights," Radio Pictures' big railroad melodrama, presenting Louis Wolheim, Robert Armstrong, Jean Arthur and a big supporting cast in an interesting and swiftly moving drama of life on the steel trail.

WANTED—Homes for eight fine police puppies. I will give these puppies to anyone who cares for them. If interested call 255, Mason. Mrs. F. A. Carrier, 104 S. Jefferson Ave.

NOTE: These dogs have all been disposed of.

Mrs. Carrier was faced with a problem last week. Her household had been taken over by eight little police dog puppies. What should be done to find good homes for them?

She didn't want them to be killed? She had no desire to sell them as a business proposition. She was most concerned with finding someone who would care for them.

So Mrs. Carrier decided to insert a classified ad in the NEWS. And what results?

Hardly an hour after the paper was printed her home became a mecca for boys and girls, men and women who wanted one of the puppies. By Thursday evening all of the puppies had been taken to their new homes and Mrs. Carrier was out of stock.

All Thursday night people flocked to her door in answer to the advertisement. On Friday the same held true. She said her telephone seemed to ring constantly as people called her from all sections of the county in answer to the advertisement. She received replies through the mail from points many miles away.

Mrs. Carrier says her only regret is that so many boys and girls were disappointed. She states that many appeared downhearted when informed that the dogs were gone.

Was it Nathan Hale who said, when he was mounting the scaffold to be hanged as a spy, "I only regret I have but one life to give for my country"? Well, anyway, Mrs. Carrier's regret was that she had but eight puppies to give to boys and girls. She could have given away fifty just as easily.

"NEWS advertising certainly pays," Mrs. Carrier asserts.

CHAPTER XLIV

Further conversation at the session of the supreme war council showed the uncertainty in the minds of the allies. Prime Minister Lloyd George, reverting to losses, said that before the great German attack in May he had been informed positively the Germans had only 400,000 replacements left, and that now, after the most violent fighting, in which it was reported the Germans had suffered very heavy losses, they still had more than 300,000 replacements.

The allies also had 300,000, but it was now contended, he said, that the British army was on the decline while that of the enemy was not.

Mr. Lloyd George asked if that could be cleared up, to which General Foch replied that it was because the enemy managed better, and he went on to say that Germany, with a population of 68,000,000 could maintain 204 divisions, while Great Britain, with 46,000,000 inhabitants, could keep up only 43. It had been stated that the British counted on keeping up 63 divisions, but that not of them would be practically American.

Then, in response to a further question by Mr. Lloyd George, General Foch said he could not pretend to say where Germany procured her replacements; possibly it might be from prisoners returned from Russia.

Three Map Program

After further argument on discrepancies of various figures, and insistence by General Foch that the number of divisions be maintained, the consideration of the transportation of American troops in June and July was resumed. The discussion having reached an impasse, it was suggested that Lord Milner, British war minister, General Foch and I should undertake to draw up a program.

In the consideration of the question by us the point of my contention was won when General Weygand, who was Foch's principal adviser, remarked that it would be as well to leave the new drafts to be trained at home a month or so longer.

Although my arguments had failed to make any impression on General Foch, he at once approved Weygand's suggestion.

Agreement on U. S. Troops

With this out of the way we soon drew up the agreement embodied in the following cablegram sent to Washington June 2:

"(a) For June: First, absolute priority shall be given the transportation of 170,000 combatant troops (viz., six divisions without artillery, ammunition trains or supply trains, amounting to 120,000 men and 44,000 replacements for combat troops); second, 25,400 men for the service of railway, of which 13,400 have been asked by the French minister of transportation; third, the balance to be troops of categories to be determined by the commander in chief, American expeditionary forces.

"(b) For July: First, absolute priority for the shipment of 140,000 combatant troops of the nature defined above, four divisions minus artillery, etc., amounting to 84,000 men plus 56,000 replacements; second, the balance of the 250,000 to consist of troops to be designated by the commander in chief, American expeditionary forces.

"(c) It is agreed that if available tonnage in either month allows the transportation of a larger number of men than 250,000 the excess tonnage will be employed in the transportation of combat troops as defined above.

"(d) We recognize that the combatant troops to be dispatched in July may have to include troops with insufficient training, but we consider the present emergency to justify a temporary and exceptional departure by the United States from sound principles of training, especially as a similar course is being followed by France and Great Britain. (Signed)

"FOCH, MILNER, PERSHING."

The prime ministers called President Wilson expressing their thanks for the promptness of American aid in the present emergency.

Yanks at Chateau Thierry

The Second and Third divisions, facing the Germans near Chateau Thierry, had made their places in the line, giving heart to the French, who were trying to stabilize their own positions around the newly formed salient. We shall hear more of these two divisions later. Although fully taken for granted by all of us, it was none the less gratifying to see these divisions, for the first time in the line, acquit themselves so well.

En route to Chaumont we motored eastward through Montmirail, passing long columns of French refugees fleeing from their homes, many on foot, men and women with bundles on their backs, leading the smaller children, driving their stock before them and hauling in various types of conveyance the few remaining worldly goods they were able to take with them. Almost indistinguishable were many similar scenes as reported by our troops as they came up to reinforce the retiring French.

It seemed to me then that if this picture of civilization engaged in the persecution of innocent and unarmed noncombatants, mostly women and children, could be brought home to all peoples, reason would be forced upon rulers and governments where too often their passions and ambitions assume control.

As a result of the German successes against the French something akin to a panic prevailed in Paris. Probably a million people left during the spring and there was grave apprehension among the officials lest the city be taken. Plans were made to remove the government to Bordeaux and we ourselves were prepared to remove our offices.

CHAPTER XLV

The Second division assumed the offensive June 6, 1918, and began a series of attacks which culminated some three weeks later in the capture of the last German positions in the Bois de Belleu by its marine brigade and of Vaux by its regular brigade.

The fighting during most of this period was of peculiar intensity. The German lines were favorably located on commanding ground and were made more formidable by the extensive use of machine guns, especially in Belleu wood.

In the initial advance Hubbard's marine brigade captured Boursches, and Lewis' regular brigade took Triangle farm and Bois de la Barotte. During the next few days our troops progressed piecemeal. June 15 the Seventh infantry, Third division, arrived to reinforce the marine brigade engaged in the wood. This regiment relieved the brigade on that date and the marines were rested for a week, when they again entered the line. Against stubborn resistance, they drove the enemy from the wood June 25.

Regulars Capture Vaux

Meanwhile the regular brigade continued its attacks intermittently, and July 1, with great dash, captured Vaux and the Bois de la Roche. The operations of the division in this vicinity were practically at an end when the new lines were stabilized on the high ground captured from the enemy.

The casualties in the division were about 9,500. More than 1,600 prisoners were captured from the enemy.

The gains by the Second division were won with little aid on either flank by the French units, which were still in poor shape, and were made against an enemy determined to crush this early American effort. The success of this division and of the First at Chateau Thierry and the Third on the Marne, following as they did the crisis of May 27, were loudly acclaimed by the French, and for the time being had a very stimulating effect upon French morale.

With the transfer of activities to the French front northeast of Paris, our plan to build up an American corps near Amiens had become impracticable, and as I had offered General Petain the services of our divisions wherever they might be needed it now appeared possible to form at least a corps and possibly an army somewhere along the Marne salient.

U. S. Divisions Relieve French

I had suggested that we should bring other divisions to join the Second and Third for that purpose, and accordingly the Twenty-Sixth and Forty-second were relieved from the inactive Vosges front, and five American divisions from the British area were designated to be sent to that quiet sector to relieve French divisions. The assembly of four American divisions in aid of the French on that front would more than offset their recent losses.

General Petain, in his letter accepting my offer, said in part:

"I must express my deep gratitude for the prompt and very important aid you are bringing in the present crisis. The American troops already engaged in the battle are the unanimous admiration of the whole French army. The power of the effort which your country is at present showing, as well as the resolute and generous spirit with which you enter the struggle, is for the allies—and above all for France—a comfort in the grave times through which we are passing, and a pledge of hope for the future."

What if Paris Should Fall? Leaving the suggestion with General Petain, without further discussion, I returned to Paris, arriving June 8. The next morning I called on Premier Clemenceau, and on that morning the fourth phase of the great German offensive started between Montdidier and the Oise. Reports indicated that it was meeting considerable success.

Mentioning this to M. Clemenceau, I asked him what he thought would be the result if Paris should fall. M. Clemenceau replied that he and Mr. Lloyd George had considered that possibility, and had reached the conclusion they would do everything in their power to save Paris, but if it should be lost they would go on fighting.

"Above Paris is France," he added, "and above France is civilization."

As I was leaving he came to the door with me, and I said: "It may not look encouraging just now, but we are certain to win in the end." He clung to my hand and in a tone that showed the utmost solicitude he replied: "Do you really think that? I am glad to hear you say it."

Lathrop Reunion Held In Lansing Thursday

OFFICERS ARE ELECTED FOR ENSUING YEAR AT MEETING.

The annual Lathrop family reunion was held at Potter Park, Thursday, July 30. A potluck dinner was served at noon after which a business session was held. And the election of officers followed with Mrs. Della Fouts of Lansing as president, Mrs. Mary Marshall of Danville, vice president, A. R. Marshall of Danville, treasurer, and Florence Lathrop of Mason, secretary.

Two deaths have occurred during the past year, Mrs. Asher Lathrop of Durand, on April 6, 1931, and Miles Lathrop, April 12, at his store in Shepherd. It was voted to hold the reunion at the same place in 1932, but to change the date to the first Wednesday in August. Members were present from Shepherd, Durand, Danville, Lansing and Mason.

Not Going Fishing, Going After Fish

THERE IS A DIFFERENCE, EXPLAINS COMMISSIONER.

According to Fred E. Searl, county school commissioner, there are those who go fishing and others who go after fish. He counts himself among the latter and said Tuesday as he was leaving for Eight Point lake that he felt confident he would have fish from his own hook for the table. When last seen he was burdened with fishing tackle, mosquito lotions, cold cream and a big ball of wool twine. "One never knows," Fred explained, "when we may catch a fish so large he would have to be hobbled. No fish gets away from me once I have it hooked."

With Mrs. Searl, the commissioner will enjoy a fortnight at the lake in company with their two sons, Fred, Jr., and Lawrence, and their families. The third son, Russell, a Lansing attorney, will also be with them for brief intervals. Commissioner Searl will fish this week and attend the state meeting of commissioners at Mt. Pleasant next week.
