

DELHI TOWN BOARD WINS VICTORY AGAINST FOES

ALL RELIEF MATTERS PLACED IN LOCAL HANDS.

Reports That Sup. Rina M. Lott Had Resigned Are Untrue, State Promises Hands Off Attitude.

Contrary to the statements emanating from the state capital and appearing in Lansing newspapers Wednesday, Rina M. Lott, Delhi supervisor, has not resigned nor has she relinquished any of the powers of her office.

His suggestion and request, made several months ago on the occasion of a previous investigation of his office in connection with township relief extended to unemployed and indigent, but delayed until recent agitation again brought the conditions of township into prominence, a citizens committee of seven has been appointed to aid the supervisor in determining the needs of unemployed and destitute Delhi residents. In addition to this, township authorities have authorized the employment of an investigator and a bookkeeper to assist Mr. Lott in township relief matters. Because of recent agitation, created largely by a Lansing newspaper conducting a crusade against the Delhi supervisor, Mr. Lott declared he would turn the whole matter of determining the character and amount of relief over to the citizen's committee and the investigator.

The committee consists of Supervisor Lott and six citizens, none of the others being members of the township board. The committee is headed by Herbert E. Horst, postmaster, chairman. L. H. Price, Mrs. Fred Alberts, E. J. Himmelberger and two others to be named soon constitute the remainder of the welfare committee. Others may be added to the committee as the need for a larger group may appear.

Mrs. Horst, as investigator and already at her task of visiting homes and gathering facts concerning families reported as in need of assistance. Women of the churches, teachers in the public schools, members of citizens clubs, lodges and other groups and clubs are being organized into a township wide organization for relief measures. A quantity of used clothing has already been assembled in a vacant store building and women of the township are gathering daily to mend and make up garments for use of children and others. This work is being managed by a group of women organized under the name of the Delhi Co-Operative group headed by Mrs. Harriet Ellerby of Holt.

Mr. Lott has stated repeatedly since his expiration of last duty that the job of being supervisor of Delhi and supervising the relief of the many unemployed is too much of a job for any individual. During the present week he has been constantly at Mason attending the sessions of the county board and during the next month must devote practically all his time to preparing the tax rolls for the collection of the 1931 tax list. He has stated repeatedly that to intelligently handle all relief work would require his full time in that capacity alone. Mrs. Horst will devote full time to the present job of investigating and will be assisted by a Miss Alice Walsh, trained social worker assigned to that duty by William S. Carpenter, state director of welfare. Miss Walsh will not only assist Mrs. Horst but will remain a sufficient time to instruct the local woman in social work and family investigations. Mrs. Horst will be at the town hall each Friday during the afternoon to receive applications and issue orders for relief. On other days she will visit the homes of the distressed except when emergency demands are made upon her.

County Appointees All Are Returned

ANNUAL ELECTION IS QUIET AFFAIR TUESDAY.

Frequently in times past, the annual election of officers appointed by the board of supervisors, always made a special order of business, creates considerable interest. Tuesday when the special order was reached there was no oratory, no opposing candidates and none who failed of reappointment.

W. A. Blackmore, Leslie, was returned to the board of control of the county tuberculosis sanatorium; Guy S. Thorburn, Mason, to the board of control of the county juvenile detention home; Mrs. Blanche Ingalls, Leslie, to the board of school examiners; Clifford C. Foster, Haslett, to the office of superintendent of the poor; Dr. George C. Moody, Mason, as the county veterinarian; and Oliver W. Maine, Mason, as court house janitor.

Blackmore and Thorburn are former members of the board of supervisors. Mr. Foster has made a creditable record as superintendent of the poor, having direct personal supervision of the county infirmary and the county poor farm.

Several men filed applications for Maine's job as janitor, all of them volunteering to work for less than the present janitor is receiving. None of them was placed in nomination. One offered to do the work for $600 per year; Maine has been receiving $1800 for his services.

Mr. Goodrich died of his injuries later in the day. Miss Stark now resides in Battle Creek. She is a cousin of Miss Ula Edgott of this city.

HUNTERS OPEN BARRAGE AGAINST BIRDS TODAY

MANY COME TO MASON FOR PHEASANT SHOOTING.

Birds More Numerous This Year Although Many Farms Are Closed To Hunting.

Farmers and residents of small cities and towns in Ingham county were awakened Thursday morning by a barrage laid down by hunters against pheasants. The shooting season opened on pheasant, partridge, woodcock, prairie chicken, and rabbits at daylight Thursday. Rails may be shot beginning Thursday noon.

Dealers in game licenses report that business has not been as brisk as usual this season. They claim that many farmers will do their hunting on their own lands exclusively and will not come to the city where hunters from the city have been deterred from obtaining licenses because of economic conditions and the boosting of fees from $1.25 to $1.75.

However, in the vicinity of Mason the hunters seem to be as numerous as ever. Many hunters from other sections of the state and from Ohio and Indiana come to Ingham county for the pheasant shooting because they believe the hunting near here, where the state game farm is located, offers better hunting.

A large number of farmers who in the past have suffered from the depredations of careless hunters have fenced their lands. Many others have formed hunting associations and will allow only a limited number of hunters in their woods and fields.

Regulations for this year are given as follows: Duck, geese and coots may be shot until October 31. Pheasant, partridge, prairie chicken and woodcock may be hunted from October 15 to October 25. The season on rabbits is from October 15 to January 31. Fox squirrels may be taken from October 15 to October 24.

The amount of game to be taken is five fox squirrels in one day, ten in possession at one time, and but fifteen during the season. On male pheasants (females can not be shot at any time) a hunter can shoot but two in one day can have but four in his possession at one time and may shoot but four during the season. The law on partridge and prairie chicken restricts hunters to five birds in one day, ten in possession and ten birds during the season.

A section of the law states that all residents of this county hunting any kind of animals or birds found in Michigan other than deer, bear, muskrat and beaver, must procure a small game license. Resident citizens and their children and employees, hunting on their own enclosed farm lands upon which they are regularly domiciled, do not have to have licenses. Children under seventeen years of age and over twelve years may secure a license to hunt on application and oath of their parents or legal guardian and must be accompanied by a parent or guardian or some one authorized by them with respect to trapping on lands on which their parents are not regularly domiciled.

Veterans Seek Fund To Relieve Jobless

ASK FOR $35,000 FOR USE IN COMING YEAR.

Muri Hopper and Charles Ravens of Lansing, appeared before the board of supervisors Wednesday with a request that a fund of $35,000 be granted to the soldiers' and sailors' relief commission so that aid can be given needy veterans in this winter. The statute provides that one-tenth of a mill be levied and gives the supervisors authority to levy up to two-tenths of a mill. One-tenth of a mill would raise about $20,000.

Last year W. C. Norris, chairman of the fund, was at odds with the supervisors over the relief fund and several wordy battles ensued on the board while he was in charge of relief. Hopper and Ravens insist that they have been informed Norris will not be reappointed and that this year a better system will be used in giving relief.

Besides the grief-stricken parents there survive a sister, two brothers, two half-brothers and four half-sisters.

Over Two Hundred Residents Attend Caucus Of Citizens Party, Very Few Contest.

A. B. Ball, former director and furniture dealer, was chosen to head the ticket of the Citizens party at the caucus held in the circuit court room Monday night. He was the unanimous choice of the convention. He has never before held public office. He will, if elected November 3, take the office made vacant by the death of John E. Kennedy.

Silas A. Bement of the first ward and W. E. Kinsey of the second ward were named aldermen at large. Bement was named without opposition. Kinsey was opposed by Guss Kean. There were ninety votes cast for Kinsey to sixty-two for Kean.

Bement is the owner of the Bement Feed and Supply company. Kinsey is employed by the Michigan Central railroad and is a member of the union at large from the first ward has never held public office in Mason but at one time was supervisor of Leroy township.

Nathan S. Davis was unopposed for city treasurer. He heads the N. S. Davis & Co. firm dealers in Fordson tractors and farm implements.

In the first ward caucus C. A. Clinton, probate register, was named to fill the aldermanic vacancy caused by the resignation of Frank Harding. Clinton received fifty-three votes to fourteen for William Swartout. William S. Rhodes was nominated without opposition as alderman for the full term. Warren O. Thompson was named constable of the first ward.

Second warders renominated B. T. Fry as alderman. He had no opposition following the withdrawal of Clifford Palmer, who refused to let his name be voted upon. Carl Hardburg was renominated as constable from the second ward.

Leo L. Kelly, alderman of the second ward, was the only member of the council not up before the caucus. Last week two aldermen, Frank Harding and L. E. Salisbury, tendered their resignations, and two others, L. H. Harrison, first ward alderman and J. N. Baker announced that they would absolutely refuse further service. Charter restrictions prevented Leo Ware from seeking another term.

For nearly twenty years but one city ticket has been in the field at Mason so nomination at the caucus has meant election to office. But on Wednesday night a new party, the Peoples, was organized and a complete ticket nominated. So this year for the first time there will be a contest on election day.

The many withdrawals in the council was caused by the beginning of a suit brought against V. J. Brown, school board member, by Dr. Sidney H. Culver, it is said. Brown is being sued for a hunter can shoot but two in one day can have but four in his possession at one time and may shoot but four during the season. The law on partridge and prairie chicken restricts hunters to five birds in one day, ten in possession and ten birds during the season.

State Police Officer Names Road Hazards

ALL BUT THREE PER CENT OF ACCIDENTS PREVENTABLE.

Sergeant Needham of the traffic division of the state department of public safety told the causes of highway fatalities in a lecture at the evening of the Mason Kiwanis club Monday evening. He stated that all but three per cent of automobile deaths were preventable. He blamed carelessness, thoughtlessness and ignorance of traffic laws for the huge death toll. In Ingham county alone there were thirty-seven traffic deaths in 1930, Sergeant Needham said.

The officer described the different kinds of warning signs and what each type of sign means. He explained the meanings of the red, green and amber signals and told of various interpretations of Michigan's traffic laws.

OKEMOS SCHOOL BOARD MAKES DRASTIC CUTS

SPECIAL MEETING FRIDAY IS BIG SURPRISE.

Expenses Cut—Teachers To Drive Buses—Salary of Clerk Cut To Sixty Dollars.

Pursuant to the economy program of the Okemos board of education, nearly three thousand dollars was stricken from the budget at a special meeting of the board Friday evening, October 9. The decision came as a bombshell to all people connected with the district school affairs.

The four men teachers and two janitors were delegated to drive the school buses, thus relieving the drivers of their jobs. One of the janitors, unable to drive a bus, was replaced by a man who could also handle the bus driving. The mechanic was given special duties for repair and upkeep of building and grounds, in addition to his regular duties.

The services of the cafeteria manager were done away with entirely. This work in the future will be carried on by the home economics department under the direction of the regular home economics teacher. It is planned by the school to count the work done in the cafeteria as a project.

Miss Williams, who acts in the capacity of clerk in the superintendent's office, received a cut in salary. Hereafter she will be paid the sum of sixty dollars per month. The telephone was removed from the elementary school building in the effort to cut the operating expenses to a minimum.

The action of the board was unexpected, according to persons connected with the school. The board, in explaining its move, claimed that it was its judgment that something should be done. Members claim that if some drastic move was not made it would have been impossible to obtain enough money from the tax roll to finish the school year.

Baby Escapes Death Beneath Auto Wheel

TRAGEDY AVERTED BY DRIV- ER'S QUICK THINKING.

Billy Thorburn, eighteen-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Thorburn, had a narrow escape from death last Friday night when he was scammed out of the house and behind the car as his father was backing the car into the driveway. Mr. Thorburn felt an impact and heard a murmur and stopped the car immediately. He was horrified to discover that the boy was beneath a rear wheel. The father quickly turned the car and drive ahead to release the boy.

The baby was rushed to Dr. E. W. Brubaker where an examination disclosed no serious injuries. But the doctor and the parents thought best to have an X-ray examination of the baby's chest and abdomen. Billy remained at the St. Lawrence hospital. X-ray examinations also failed to disclose any internal injuries or fractured bones. It is thought that the car was stopped so soon after the impact that the boy was pinched by the wheel instead of being run over. His face and body were badly bruised.

Mr. and Mrs. Thorburn and the baby were intending to call upon Mr. Thorburn's mother. Mr. Thorburn left the house to back the car into the driveway. The boy left his mother in the house and followed his father outside without the father discovering it.

COUNTY SOLONS DEVOTE SELVES TO THEIR DUTIES

BUSY WEEK CONFRONTS SUPER- VISORS DURING SESSION.

The Ingham county board of supervisors in session at the court house this week is giving evidence of the hard working legislative administrative body it is. There has been no idling and no dilatory tactics. The president of the county, Guy S. Thorburn, the business of the annual session, involved and perplexing as it is shall be dispatched with not an hour wasted and at as little expense to the taxpayers as is possible. No group of men ever approached their tasks more energetically or more diligently than the present members.

Reports of county officers, commissions and boards occupied much of the attention of the board during the first two days of the session. Reports of the county treasurer, county clerk, drainage commissioners and the superintendent of the poor had been handed the printer in advance of the session so that printed copies were available when the session opened Monday, this procedure saving much time in reading the exhaustive reports.

Dr. George H. Stuckey in presenting his report on the tuberculosis sanitarium showed total expenditures for the current year amounting to $95,361.93. The average number of patients treated in the hospital is 75.5 at an average daily cost of $3.36. Forty-nine persons are employed on the hospital and field staff. A total of 159 patients have received treatment during the year. Of these 134 were adults and 25 were children. 19 deaths occurred, mostly among those who had been admitted during the last stages of the disease. Six lived less than 15 days after admission and six others have remained less than three months.

Laird Troyer, friend of the court and probate officer for the circuit court, reported 743 cases of divorce where alimony is being collected, 143 of these being new cases since January 1, last. A total of $59,142.92 was collected from former husbands. The friend of the court reported 15 reconciliations following the filing of divorce actions and 59 remarriages following decree. As probate officer he reported 110 men and 10 women on probation. There were three during the year whose probation was revoked and sentence pronounced.

Grever C. Dillon, state highway commissioner, reported 627.6 miles of township highway in the county not included in either the county or state systems. One-fifth of this mileage is to be taken over for maintenance each year for five years under the McNitt act passed by the last legislature. Out of the gasoline tax collected by the state each county board of road commissioners will receive a sum believed adequate to maintain these roads in the condition formerly kept by the townships. Eventually these roads will be improved by building a second tier road and single road systems.

Elmer Stroppe was nominated as constable for the first ward by the Peoples party. He received 9 votes to 4. Relieving the township of the expense of maintaining this mileage and carrying for the the expense from state gas funds paid by a most direct form of relief for the rural sections, friends of the law point out.

Wednesday the members took a two hour recess to make their annual pilgrimage to the county infirmary where they enjoyed a chicken dinner and inspected the home. Many inmates took advantage of the opportunity to visit with the supervisor from their former home.

TWO CITY TICKETS TO BE IN FIELD NOVEMBER 3.

Disgruntled Over Alleged "Steam Roller" Tactics, New Political Party Is Organized.

For the first time in many years two political parties will have complete tickets in the city election to be held Tuesday, November 3. Heretofore just the Citizens party has put forth nominees. The Citizens party held its caucus on Monday night and a complete ticket was named. But on Wednesday afternoon notices calling another caucus to be held Wednesday night were posted. Wednesday night was the last day possible for a caucus to be held.

About seventy voters attended the caucus. J. E. Taylor was nominated as mayor. He received 48 votes to 10 for E. A. Denmore and 7 for Walter Root. The nominee will run against A. B. Ball in the election.

Fletcher 15, and Earl Dunsmore 2. It was necessary to take two ballots as no majority was received by any candidate on the first voting. Jewett will oppose Silas A. Bement in the election and Barber will run in opposition to W. E. Kinsey, the nominee of the Citizens party.

Ernest Kelly was nominated treasurer. He received 48 votes to 15 for Carlton Hunter. Kelly will oppose Nathan S. Davis in the election.

Three ballots were necessary to choose an alderman for the full term in the first ward. On the first two no candidate received a majority. William Swartout finally won with 9 votes to 3 for D. C. Barr and 2 for Floyd Taylor. A. E. Hilliard was nominated as alderman to fill vacancy. He received 14 votes to 3 for E. A. Denmore. Swartout will run against C. A. ROAD PROGRAM PLANNED TO HELP UNEMPLOYMENT

Road Construction Program Amounting To $192,688.00 Is Recommended By Commission.

If the board of supervisors accepts the recommendation of the board of county road commissioners a huge construction program will help to relieve the unemployment situation. The board of road commissioners, made up of L. T. Lassby of Mason, H. Phillips of Lansing and C. H. Murray of Bunkerhill, has outlined a program containing 40 1/2 miles of new construction and about 25 miles of black top surfacing. The estimated cost of this work under present low prices is set at $192,688.00, which will call for a tax levy of one mill upon the dollar of assessed valuation.

Thursday morning when the committee on roads and bridges made its report and recommendations to the county road commission was endorsed in toto. Alderman Frank Thoman of Lansing led the fight against the mill tax. He was supported by Sup. Melvyn of Leslie, Sup. Sawyer of East Lansing, Ald. Larabee of Lansing, and others. After an hour of discussion and debate the report was referred back to the committee for further consideration. The matter was brought to final vote Thursday afternoon. A one-half mill tax was voted. This will yield about $100,000. A balance of over $400,000 is now in the road fund which can be used.

The roads to be constructed are located in every section of the county, so placed to help with the unemployment problem. The commissioners also suggest that townships and cities place bids for the construction of the projects and use unemployed men upon the work. By this method the commissioners believe that many families will be made self-supporting where otherwise relief from welfare funds would be necessary.

The construction program recommended to the supervisors calls for the construction of gravel roads as follows: Holt North, 3 1/2 miles in Delhi township; Harrison road, 3 1/2 miles in Lansing and Meridian; Hangerdon North, 1 1/2 miles in Meridian township; Doble Lake, 3 1/2 miles in Alkerton township; W 1111 a m s t o n North, 2 1/2 miles in Williamson township;

Leroy South, 2 1/2 miles in Leroy township; Vantown South, 3 1/2 miles in White Oak township; Wheatfield road, 2 miles in Wheatfield township; Dansville West, 3 1/2 miles in Ingham township; Stockbridge Road, 2 1/2 miles in Stockbridge township; Pitchburg road, 1 mile in Bunkerhill township; Leslie No. 146, 2 1/2 miles in Leslie township;

Vevay No. 147, 3 1/2 miles in Vevay township; Aurelius No. 148, 2 miles in Aurelius township; City of Mason No. 149, one-half mile; Wiest Road, 1 1/2 miles in Locke township; and Pine School North, 1 1/2 miles on township line between Aure

A Perplexing Situation

No other problem is so perplexing to supervisors in this and other counties as that having to do with welfare matters. For a number of years this problem of what to do with the ever growing indigent population has grown in intensity and seriousness.

At the opening session of the Ingham county board on Monday numerous reports from county officials were presented and read. In almost every one of them there appears some reference to certain added sums required in welfare relief.

At the tuberculosis sanatorium, for instance, it is disclosed that a total of 27850 days treatment were given patients. Another paragraph states that 90 per cent of the inmates do not pay anything toward the cost which is given as amounting to $3.36 per day.

Last year the total asked for by the superintendents of the poor to be spread against the several towns and cities amounted to $25,000. This year it is almost twice that sum. Last year the superintendents asked for an appropriation of $15,000 for general expense and this year they are asking for $25,000.

The Michigan Children's Aid society is under contract with the county to care for wards committed to them by the probate court on a cost basis. The total required each year to meet this expense is constantly growing and now come representatives of the society with another plea, reasonable and proper but nevertheless disturbing to county fiscal affairs.

Without exception the supervisors are worried over the prospects of the coming winter in their respective communities. Several of the more populous townships have raised the limit of their authority in contingent and highway funds to meet the demand for food and shelter for families in distress.

Hospital bills are climbing to the skies. There appears to be no limit to the amount required to protect the public health, care for the sick and aged and to provide means of existence for families of workmen, not in the indigent class but denied the opportunity to support dependents without public aid.

The co-operation of every citizen is earnestly sought for public officials faced with the responsibilities of the present day. The present is not a happy time for these officials. They see the distress of the unfortunate and they see the evil results of unhampered doles and relief measures.

Charity is needed by the supervisors as it is by a distressed constituency. Among the interesting exchange papers which come to our office each week is the Central City Republican of Central City, Nebraska.

Out In Nebraska

Among the interesting exchange papers which come to our office each week is the Central City Republican of Central City, Nebraska. We had the pleasure of meeting Robert Rice, the publisher, last summer. Rice gained national fame when he attacked the Federal Farm Board and is given credit for showing up some of their policies and making resignations from the farm board a popular policy for appointees.

Out in Merrick county, Nebraska, of which Central City is the county seat, they are faced with the same welfare problems as face Michigan communities. In Merrick county they are going to make it a tough winter for any family which seeks aid while members of the family ride around in an automobile.

In an Ingham county village next Sunday evening, three Protestant churches will unite in promoting a mass meeting at which a noted prison worker will speak. At the same time will be shown a rare collection of pictures of notorious prisoners, famous penitentiaries, jail episodes and other features of the criminal world.

Supt. Sexton declares that the personal equation is too often overlooked in today's educational system; that parents and teachers work at cross purposes; and that children are sent through the educational paces by mass production methods. The Lansing school executive declares that educational systems which do not add to the moral fiber of the child as well as to his store of book learning are wasteful and useless.

Such was the Greek theory. Perhaps it was Socrates who said that if a man wanted to train a race horse that he would spare no cost but would search throughout the whole empire to find the best trainer. But when a man wanted to train his son, the father would take the first trainer who came along without making any inquiry as to the teacher's former record and without regard to the moral character of the teacher.

After all, the first object of a teacher should be to teach the pupil how to think, not what to think. As expressed by a writer in a trade publication which came to our desk last week: "From childhood days we have been taught what to think, now how; result, our heads are crammed with obsolete notions for which there is no market."

The Return of Prosperity
An astute leader in the field of printing states that he has hit upon a plan to hasten the return of prosperity. He believes that a wide market exists for the sale of a slogan card to appeal to bigots, evidently believing that all of us are bigots in some manner or another.

Not to take sides on beer-bigots versus anti-beer-bigots, here is a fragment which you might print up in card form and sell to speakases, reformers, public welfare committees, almost any individual or group subject to high temperature.

BIGOTRY
(BY THE IRISH PATRIOT, DANIEL O'CONNELL)
Bigotry has no head and cannot think, no heart and cannot feel. When she moves it is in wrath; when she pauses it is amid ruin.

The sales appeal of such a message printed on cards is universal. The liberals would buy cards to mail to their not-so-liberal neighbors, the prohibitionists would buy cards to mail to their next-door Budweisers, and everybigot would be happy for having a fling at everybigot else.

A recent issue of a Lansing daily newspaper carries a statement purporting to have emanated from the state welfare commission to the effect that 1500 families in Delhi township are affected by unemployment.

A noted Philadelphia divine told a Detroit audience of churchmen Monday that the Protestant church must seek to rekindle the emotions of its people. "We have fed our people on the dry husks of statistics and on cold theological abstractions," he charged adding that men will never think their way back to God.

The Hunter's Responsibility
We hear many complaints from those who like to hunt regarding the growing practice of farmers posting their lands and joining with other farmers in organizing hunting clubs. Careless, mannerless and irresponsible hunters have brought about this condition and until they reform even more farmers will post their lands against trespass.

Why any grown man should believe that a farmer should be content to have his land overrun with hoodlums, to see his fences broken down, his stock frightened, his gates left open and be under the necessity of guarding his family against wild and wanton shooting is beyond imagination. Of course, only a very small percentage of hunters were ever guilty of such acts but enough of them have abused the privilege granted them by farmers so that they have earned a bad name for others.

Muriel H. DeFoe, editor of the Charlotte Republican-Tribune, named the winner in the eighth district congressional race. By picking the winner in a field of thirteen the Republican prophet has established an enviable reputation. President Hoover should call upon the prophet to set a date for business revival, Mr. DeFoe's friends now insist. That order should be easier to all than picking primary winners.

Advocates Sowing Of Rye For Early Pasture
GAINING MUCH POPULARITY WITH DAIRYMEN.
Rye for early pasture is gaining widespread popularity among dairymen and, because of many ruined seedings due to drought, will gain added impetus this season according to some observers.
The crop furnishes a nutritious pasture, is relished by the cattle, and starts much earlier than most other types of pasture. It is particularly good in taking care of the herd before sweet clover pasture is ready.
Rye can be seeded fairly late on bean ground or corn stubble with a minimum of labor and expense. If desired it can be plowed up after pasturing and the field planted to a late spring crop. Dairymen facing a pasture problem next spring would do well to give it a trial.

Students living in the home management houses of Michigan State college have, during the past six months, arrived at a new low level of food cost of 25 cents per person per day. This is five cents lower than the average cost per day last year, according to Miss Irma H. LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Mr. V. J. Brown, Mason, Mich. Dear Mr. Brown:

You can rest assured I want the NEWS. After I used to get it regularly for more than six years it would be foolish to stop now, for I think it is the best paper of its size in the state. They say the first hundred years are the hardest so we hope and know we will get a continued improvement. And I enclose my check for the subscription.

Sincerely, A. J. HALL

San Diego, California, 10-7, 1931. Dear Editor:

Sure, I want the News. I believe I could lay claim to being one of your "best subscribers". I was in Mason when the late V. J. Tefft was running the paper; was going to school at the time. And I worked with the late Albert Rose on the News, and I was with Dave Whitmore on the Democrat for a number of years, when it was first started. After I used to write articles from the west and railroad stories for Will Clark, when he owned the Democrat, and some of my articles have appeared in the News in days gone by. A number of people in your city will remember me. I have greatly enjoyed reading your articles about the country as well as those of the younger Mr. Brown, as you have both been through country I am familiar with. I have just returned from a 4 months' trip, in which I traveled 8120 miles. I was in six states in the U. S. and three provinces in Canada. Most of the time in the Pacific northwest in the provinces of British Columbia, Alberta and Saskatchewan. Saw much beautiful scenery, and traveled through some of the wildest and roughest country I was ever in, and found it on Vancouver Island and in the heart of British Columbia. Found they had a bumper crop of wheat in the northern part of the Provinces and a drought in the southern part. Wheat was 29 cents a bushel. Money scarce and they were going back to the old way of barter wherever they could. Will be here for the winter, but am looking up a trip for next summer that will either take me to the Arctic Ocean or Hudson's Bay. I found times hard and much unemployment, and I believe that Canada, at least some of the Provinces, are worse off than we are in the states. The mail man has just brought the issue of Oct. 1st. Note with regret the passing of Elias Culver. The first watch I ever owned, I bought of Jimmy Berry, who had a jewelry and watch store in a wooden building next to the Farmers Bank, and the second watch I bought of Mr. Culver; it is so many years ago, I do not like to refer to it. Sincerely yours, W. E. BUTLER, 2508 First Street.

Insects Doing Much Harm To Stored Grain

COUNTY AGENT OFFERS AID IN COMBATING BUGS.
Weevils, grain beetles, and other insects which work on stored grain are at present much more common than usual, according to County Agricultural Agent H. E. Barnum, who states that he is receiving many inquiries in regard to methods of control. Similar reports are made from other sections of the state.

Carbon di-sulphide has long been the panacea for treating cases of this kind and is still effective. It has the one disadvantage of being inflammable and must be handled with that fact in mind. Recently a commercial grain fumigant has come on the market said to be equally effective and not dangerous from a fire standpoint. Complete directions for using either of the materials can be obtained at Mr. Barnum's office. He would also like to arrange two or three tests with the new material if anyone is interested in trying it.

THE HUNTER'S RESPONSIBILITY

We hear many complaints from those who like to hunt regarding the growing practice of farmers posting their lands and joining with other farmers in organizing hunting clubs. Careless, mannerless and irresponsible hunters have brought about this condition and until they reform even more farmers will post their lands against trespass.

Why any grown man should believe that a farmer should be content to have his land overrun with hoodlums, to see his fences broken down, his stock frightened, his gates left open and be under the necessity of guarding his family against wild and wanton shooting is beyond imagination. Of course, only a very small percentage of hunters were ever guilty of such acts but enough of them have abused the privilege granted them by farmers so that they have earned a bad name for others.

If every hunter would conduct himself as the guest of the farmer (for guest he is) there would still remain much open hunting land.

"More genuine satisfaction than any car I ever owned"
THE FORD is good-looking. It is safe. Comfortable. Speedy. Reliable. Long-lived. Economical. Everything a good car should be.
There is, too, an added something about it that brings enthusiastic comments from every one who has ever driven a Ford... the joy it puts in motoring.
"I have been a car owner continuously for nearly 20 years," writes a motorist connected with a leading university. "During this period I have bought eleven new automobiles. Eight of the eleven were in the middle-price field, one cost three thousand dollars, and the last is a Ford I purchased thirteen months ago.
In the light of this experience I can say in all sincerity that I have derived more genuine satisfaction from the Ford than any car I ever owned. In saying this, I am thinking in terms of comfort, safety, driving pleasure, ease of control and economy. My next car will also be a Ford because it will give me what I want at a price I can afford to pay."
When you get behind the wheel of the Ford and drive it yourself you will know it is a truly remarkable car at a low price. You will like it when you first buy it. You will become more and more enthusiastic the longer you drive it.
After thousands of miles of driving you will say "It's a great car." Its economy will save you many dollars.

In the evening there will be a program and a speaker will be provided.

Williamston Team Defeats Dansville

EDWARDS OF WILLIAMSTON RUNS WILD AGAINST AGGIES.

(By Bob Curry)
Williamston high school football team, led by the versatile Dick Edwards, crushed a badly crippled Ingham Aggie eleven 26 to 0 at Dansville Friday afternoon. Going into the fray minus the services of Gerald Baker in the backfield, the Aggies were further demoralized when injuries forced five more players out of the game.

Williamston received their first touchdown in the first quarter and in the second quarter a snappy end run by Edwards netted another score. The third quarter the game was even but in the last quarter Williamston again scored, one time on an intercepted pass.

Edwards of Williamston, was by far the outstanding player in the contest. Strong, fast and with a good knowledge of football, he had the Dansville team on their toes at all times. Baker, Sherman, Ewers and Frook played a good game for Dansville.

Friday the Aggies meet Okemos at the Okemos gridiron. They will be without the service of several of their stars but Coach Briggs expects to have a strong team on the field.

FILM NEWS
PASTIME THEATRE

Packed with dynamic drama, thrills and romance, "The Painted Desert," coming to the Pastime Theatre Friday and Saturday, offers as its featured players Bill Boyd, William Farnum, Helen Twelvetrees, J. Farrell McDonald, Clark Gable and a score of lesser luminaries of the screen. Boyd has his finest part in many months. Ringing with old-time action, the role gives Bill an opportunity to trade in and do things—and he does. A smashing cattle stampede and a race with death along a yawning canyon, driving a twenty-mile team like mad are but part of this thrilling story. "The Painted Desert" brings to the screen scenic backgrounds that have never been seen by a white man until about a year ago. Dinosaur Canyon in Arizona is the setting for most of the action in this sensational drama of the old West, and for sheer beauty and grandeur of scenery this picture has never been surpassed.

Stockbridge Farm
Scene Of Meeting

COUNTY AGENT AND COLLEGE COOPERATE TO AID FARMERS.

With marl fast gaining favor among the farmers because of the expense of lime, efforts are being made by the county agent and the Michigan State college to help the farmers in getting marl from beds at a minimum of expense. Next Tuesday and Wednesday, October 20 and 21, a marl digging demonstration will be held at the Wilcox Weaver farm in section two, Stockbridge township.

For the last two years the college engineering department has been working to perfect machinery that will dig marl efficiently and cheaply. They are now recommending a bucket that can be operated either by horse or tractor, which will dig about fifty yards a day and place it in a stock pile.

Marl deposits in the state vary greatly in quality and in the per cent of calcium in the marl. Quite often the better deposits are more or less inaccessible, making it essential to get the material out on hard ground. That is the case with the Reeves deposit, which is in the edge of Lowe Lake.

AT LAST!
the BETTER GASOLINE
STANDARD RED CROWN

HERE is the news you've been waiting for—hoping for—wondering whether you'd hear it this year or next. The news of a NEW GASOLINE—a BETTER GASOLINE. Mark that last phrase! That which is new is not always better. But Standard Red Crown is NEW and BETTER. We introduce it to you as the best all-purpose gasoline ever put on the market. And we've anticipated some of the questions you'll want to ask about this brilliant, sparkling, modern fuel. From now on you'll hear plenty about Standard Red Crown—plenty of praise for a fuel that gives you more for your money—easy starting—more power—more performance—more miles.

Read these questions and answers—and then drive to the nearest STANDARD RED CROWN sign—for your first filling of "The Better Gasoline"

What is Standard Red Crown, the Better Gasoline? A gasoline in which the fractions are so adjusted to weather conditions as to give a smooth flow of power at any season of the year.

What are fractions in Gasoline? They're the compounds taken from petroleum each of which vaporizes within definite temperature limits. The skillful merging of these fractions and adjusting the proportions to meet different weather conditions make good gasoline.

What happens if these fractions are not properly adjusted? The engine may perform satisfactorily under one set of conditions but not all. For example, in winter good gasoline requires large amounts of light ends to give quick starting and satisfactory performance, but in summer too much of these light ends causes vapor lock troubles.

Is Standard Red Crown a natural product? No. Nature is not concerned with producing an ideal gasoline for automobiles. It must be made by skillful men. Standard Red Crown owes much of its anti-knock value to the use of the improved cracking processes developed by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana).

How is Standard Red Crown made? Under processes developed in the research laboratories of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) utilizing the tremendous refining facilities of this organization.

Is Standard Red Crown a NEW Gasoline? Yes. It has just been put on the market.

Why do you recommend it for winter driving? Because it starts easily and accelerates smoothly and because it can be depended upon to operate smoothly in the engine and deliver a rhythmic flow of tremendous power.

Why is Standard Red Crown recommended for 1931-32 cars? Because it is designed to respond to the delicate adjustment of the latest type engines—because it performs better in the older types—because it burns clean at any speed—because it's priced to meet current economic conditions. It gives maximum performance at a moderate price.

Where can I buy Standard Red Crown Gasoline? Standard Red Crown is sold where the Red Crown emblem is displayed. It is priced for the average pocketbook—but gives maximum performance.

My Experiences in the World War By General John J. Pershing

The Seventy-eighth division on the 4th captured Les Petites Arriples, and on the following morning advanced more than a mile to the north. The Forty-second division relieved the Seventy-eighth on this line, and by the 6th established itself north of Bulson. It was the ambition of the First army, and mine, that our troops should capture Sedan, which the French had lost in a decisive battle in 1870. I suggested to General Maistre that the prescribed boundary line between our First and the French Fourth army might be ignored in case we should outrun the French, to which he offered no objection, but on the contrary warmly approved.

To reach the objective the left boundary of the First army would have to be ignored, as Sedan lay to the northwest beyond that limit. The afternoon of November 4 the First army was directed to bend its energies to capture Sedan "assisted on its right by the Fifth corps."

A misconception in the Fifth corps of the exact intent of my orders resulted in the First division erroneously going beyond the left boundary of the Fifth corps and marching directly across the sector of the First corps during the late afternoon of the 6th and throughout the night. The troops of the First division carried out this unnecessary forced march in the spirit, despite their tired condition.

Considerable confusion resulted in the Forty-second and Seventy-seventh divisions, and their advance was delayed as roads became blocked by the columns of the First division. The Forty-second and the First then began a race for the honor of capturing Sedan. Part of these divisions had entered the zone of the French Fourth army and were waging a fight with the enemy for the possession of the heights south and west of Sedan.

The morning of November 7 found men of the Forty-second and the First divisions on the heights overlooking the city. Under normal conditions the action of the officer or officers responsible for this movement of the First division directly across the sectors of two other divisions would not have been overlooked, but the splendid record of that unit and the approach of the end of hostilities suggested leniency.

The enemy's main line of communications was now within range of the machine guns of the First army, which had driven him 24 miles since November 1. His position on the western front was no longer tenable and he urged immediate consideration of an armistice.

Late on November 9 Marshal Foch, then in conference with German representatives regarding the terms of the armistice, sent telegraphic instructions to all allied commanders in chief from which it might be inferred that he was uncertain regarding the outcome of negotiations and wished to let the enemy know that there would be no further delay. The following was the message received:

"The enemy, disorganized by our repeated attacks, retreats along the entire front. "It is important to co-ordinate and expedite our movements. "I appeal to the energy and the initiative of the commanders in chief of their armies to make decisive the results obtained."

No Respite for Enemy. Orders in response to this appeal were immediately issued and their execution by the First army was under way November 10 and 11. Yet here again no sort of urging was necessary. Our troops were determined not to give the enemy any respite. Already the crossing of the Meuse had been planned for the whole army, and the Fifth corps got over during the night of the 10th-11th. Part of the Eighty-ninth division crossed on rafts just west of Heully, and others in the rear of the Ninetieth division (Allen).

The Second division was unable to force a crossing at Mouzon, as planned, but about a mile south of Villemonny the engineers of the division, with exceptional rapidity and skill, threw two bridges across, over which one regiment passed. The Seventy-seventh division, now on the left of the Fifth corps, only sent over patrols on the 10th and 11th, the low ground north of the river opposite its front being flooded by heavy rains and damming operations by the Germans.

The First corps from November 6 to 10 was withdrawing its divisions to points on the Meuse between Dun-sur-Meuse and Sedan, preparatory to a general attack which would have as its object the turning of the enemy's strong position in front of the Fifth corps.

East of the Meuse the First army advanced in conjunction with the Second army, which had been earnestly preparing for this moment ever since its organization. Under the instructions issued by me November 5 for the advance of the First and Second armies, which received approval of Marshal Foch in a personal note of November 8, the Second army made advances along its entire front in the direction of the Briey iron basin during the last three days of hostilities.

Attacking on the 10th, the Thirty-third division reached the Bois d'Heully and captured Marcheville, but was forced to retire. The Twenty-eighth division occupied a part of the Bois des Handrouvilles, as well as Marlinhois farm. The Seventh division took and held against counter-attack IIIH 323. The Ninety-second division captured the Bois Frelmit.

On the front of the First army, the Ninetieth division, on the left of the Third corps (Hines), had crossed the Meuse on the 9th and attacked on the 10th, meeting decided opposition throughout the day. Elements of the division entered Stenay but were unable to clean up the town, while others, after hard fighting in the nearby wood, reached but could not take Bulson. The Fifth division (Ely) captured Janelz and cleared the Forêt de Woivre. The Thirty-second division (Haan) re-entered the line on the 9th, as the right division of the Third corps, and made substantial progress. On the 10th the division moved forward until stopped by heavy fire from east of the Thiétre river.

On Other Fronts. Meanwhile other of our divisions were engaged on distant fronts. In Flanders our Thirty-seventh and Ninety-first divisions, which had been sent to the French Sixth army at Marshal Foch's request, entered the battle October 31. The Craysthem ridge was taken by the Thirty-seventh division (Garnsworthy) on the first day, while the Ninety-first (Johnston), advancing against intense fire, seized the strongly defended wooded area in its front. Both divisions moved forward rapidly to the Escaut river on the following day in pursuit of the enemy. Despite resistance, crossings of the river were effected by the Thirty-seventh, November 2 and 3, the division being relieved the following day. Audenarde was occupied by the Ninety-first division on the 2nd, and the division was relieved on the 3rd by the French. Both divisions re-entered the line for the general attack of the French Sixth army November 10. The Thirty-seventh division was directed to relieve two French divisions east of the Escaut the morning of the 10th, but these divisions had been unable to cross, and were relieved on the west bank. Despite severe losses the Thirty-seventh succeeded in again crossing the river and moved forward the following day, advancing two and a half miles eastward. The Ninety-first division met slight opposition on the 10th and none on the morning of the 11th, reaching a line east of Boule-Saint-Blaise.

In the First army the Fifth corps advanced rapidly the morning of the 11th. Elements of the Eighty-ninth division occupied Stenay and established a line on the hill to the north. Pouilly-sur-Meuse was mopped up early in the morning and Autreville occupied. The Second division advanced to the ridge west of Moulin, while the Seventy-seventh division held its line of the 10th.

In the Third corps, the morning of the 11th, the Ninetieth division entered Bulson, and the Fifth and Thirty-second divisions were preparing to attack. The Seventy-ninth division of the French Second Colonial corps attacked against the Cote de Romagne and advanced a short distance, the Twenty-sixth division made slight gains, and the Eighty-first division again took Grimoucourt.

On the front of the Second army the attack of the Thirty-third division on the 11th was held up. The Twenty-eighth division carried its line forward north of Marlinhois farm, the Seventh division made no attack, and the Ninety-second division attacked but did not hold all its gains.

States Laid Waste by Grasshoppers in 1874

In 1870, it was noticed in the Middle West that grasshoppers were becoming more numerous. Year by year they kept on increasing, until in 1874 their onslaught amounted to a national catastrophe. In that year they were found in the states of Colorado, Nebraska, Kansas, Wyoming, the Dakotas, Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, New Mexico, Indian territory and Texas were overrun by the northern visitors. The loss in crops was estimated at $50,000,000. It is reported that they came in swarms that darkened the sun, that their forms carpeted the fields, that they swarmed over houses and ate shingles and clapboards, and that in many cases, despairing families left their homes and fled as from the guns of an invading army.

Some of the ranchers tried to herd them as they would cattle, strangely enough, with some success where the safety of a pet orchard or field was the object. Men, women and children, armed with leafy branches, would form a line to divert the oncoming swarms. "To drive grasshoppers successfully," stated an agricultural bulletin, "one must make use of every advantage possible. Drive down bill, or on a level, with a gentle wind and only during the heat of the day. With conditions favorable they are easily driven if not hurried too much."

Mariner's Compass. The mariner's compass, which the Chinese call "the south pointing chariot" is of great antiquity. The idea, it is said, was born during the reign of Chong Wang, that is to say, a little before 1075 B. C. But in a few centuries the discovery of the principle was forgotten. A philosopher named Chang Hong revived it. He lived in 1100 B. C. and during the succeeding troublous times his model was neglected. It was in the Third century A. D. that the Chinese interest in the south pointing chariot was revived. Old writings were eagerly studied, trial after trial was perseveringly made, and in writings of the Eleventh century we read of the compass being used by mariners, "before that time it seems to have been used for guidance in traveling by land."

French Company Failed. The Company of the Hundred Associates was a trading corporation given a charter by France under which it was to settle 4,000 colonists in America in 15 years. But in the 35 years of its existence it sent out less than 10,000. When the company's charter was annulled in 1637 the European population in New France was scarcely two thousand. All the company did was to send out a few vessels each year to trade with the Indians for furs, and thus ended one of the many unsuccessful colonization efforts to populate French or British Canada.

Species of Salamander. "Water-dog" is a common name for hellbenders, large, ugly but harmless salamanders, which are found in Ohio, Pennsylvania, Tennessee and the Southeast. They feed on crayfish, fish and other water animals, and readily take the bait from fishermen's hooks. They exude much slime, are difficult to handle, and can live for hours out of water. The spittle resembles that of frogs, but is lighter in color. They reach a length of about twenty inches.

Historic Old Fort. Fort McHenry, Md., a former United States military post, was located on Wheatstone point, Patuxent river, about three miles from Baltimore, Md. It was first occupied by the military in 1775, and was made a permanent fortification in 1794. During the War of 1812 when the British attacked Baltimore the approach to the city by water was defended by Fort McHenry. Fifteen thousand shells were thrown into the fort with comparatively little injury, the loss consisting of only four men and 24 wounded. At dawn when Francis Scott Key saw the American flag still floating, he wrote "The Star-Spangled Banner."

Ancestral Worry Over the Rising Generation

Owner of some valuable old books, books whose intrinsic value is enhanced to him because they belonged to his great-grandfather, is Ashton G. Stevenson, Michigan, says a Chicago dispatch.

That the generations change little is proved, he believes, by quotations from some of the old volumes he owns. Back in 1824 the younger generation, it seems, was worrying the older generation and the golden age was in the past.

In 1824 the Western Almanack was sorrowful because "40 years ago literature meant learning and was supported by common sense; the ladies of the first respectability learned music, but it was the humming of the wheel and the learned the necessary dance steps in following it; their piano forte was a loom and their novels the Bible; some respect was paid to old age, to plums ministers of the gospel and to Sunday."

Mythological. In Greek mythology, Daedalus was an artist, sculptor and architect of Crete who lived three generations before the Trojan war. He built the famous labyrinth on that island and to him are attributed the inventions of the ax, the saw, the auger, etc. Being imprisoned with his son Icarus, he invented wings for flying to Sicily. They were fastened on with wax, and according to the legend Icarus flew so high that the sun's heat melted the wax and he fell into the sea. Daedalus himself reached Sicily. Philologists suppose that Daedalus is not really a proper name but is the common appellation of all the great architects, metallurgists and sculptors in Greek antiquity, being derived from the Greek word meaning "to work with skill."

Altitudinous Birds. When it comes to high fliers some birds really go up in the air. T. H. Harrison of Pembroke college, Cambridge, reports in Nature, the British Journal of Science, a flock of wild geese flying at an altitude of approximately 25,000 feet—nearly five miles up. These high fliers were accidentally "shot" in a photograph of the sun. Mt. Everest climbers, Professor Harrison says, have reported lammergeiers, curlews and choughs (Old world genus of the crow family) flying higher than 20,000 feet. The highest airplanes have encountered birds, however, is 15,000 feet up, while the average migratory birds do their traveling flights below the 3,000-foot level.

Specimens of Salamander. "Water-dog" is a common name for hellbenders, large, ugly but harmless salamanders, which are found in Ohio, Pennsylvania, Tennessee and the Southeast. They feed on crayfish, fish and other water animals, and readily take the bait from fishermen's hooks. They exude much slime, are difficult to handle, and can live for hours out of water. Historic Old Fort. Fort McHenry, Md., a former United States military post, was located on Wheatstone point, Patuxent river, about three miles from Baltimore, Md. It was first occupied by the military in 1775, and was made a permanent fortification in 1794. During the War of 1812 when the British attacked Baltimore the approach to the city by water was defended by Fort McHenry. Fifteen thousand shells were thrown into the fort with comparatively little injury, the loss consisting of only four men and 24 wounded. At dawn when Francis Scott Key saw the American flag still floating, he wrote "The Star-Spangled Banner."

Supervisor Metcalf Startles Colleagues

Every member of the board of supervisors is now convinced that the tales of hardship told by Supervisor Metcalf of Leslie township and Rev. O. B. Thurston, Leslie minister, are founded on fact. Both the supervisor and the minister claim that the economic depression is unusually severe in Leslie. Rev. Thurston appeared before the board Wednesday and told of the conditions and of how he had agreed to a salary cut in order to give some means of relief. Proof of the state of affairs in Leslie was brought before the board by Supervisor Metcalf returned from the annual chicken dinner at the county farm Wednesday afternoon. Noticing that the Leslie solons' pockets were bulging considerably, brother supervisors had Mr. Metcalf searched. The search disclosed two "chum sticks" of chicken and two slabs of pie. Supervisor Metcalf claims the entire matter was a frame up and accuses two other supervisors of stuffing his pockets.

Presbyterian Church Announces Schedule

Reports made following the contest that Eaton Rapids had forfeited the game to Mason because an ineligible player had been used were unfounded. Coach Gibbons of Eaton Rapids at first believed that an ineligible man had been used for about two minutes as a substitute. He at once sought out Clifford Walcott, Mason principal, and declared that he would forfeit the game. Principal Walcott, however, refused to accept the forfeit. A subsequent investigation revealed that the player in question was eligible but through a clerical error his name did not appear upon the eligibility list. Members of the Mason team, Coach Stewart and Principal Walcott stated that a forfeit would not be considered inasmuch as the substitute, even had he been ineligible, had nothing to do with the sound defeat handed to Mason. However, they commend Coach Gibbons for his strict observance of the rules.

He lays much of the blame for the bad defeat to his backfield lineup in his quest to get eleven men who can block and tackle and who like rough going. UPPER FOUR GRADES ANNOUNCE RESULTS OF ELECTION

The first quarter was scoreless. Both teams had scoring opportunities but fumbles lost them the ball. At the opening of the second period Higgins was in the end zone and on the next play Frazier drove through the entire Maroon defense for forty yards to the Mason five-yard line. On the next play he dove across. The attempted kick failed. Late in the period Frazier again went the length of the field to place the ball in the end zone. The Mason line held for three downs but yielded an inch on the fourth down so that Frazier went across. Again the kick for the extra point failed and the half ended with Mason trailing 12 to 0.

The owner said he would be happy to accommodate him, but he had adopted a rule that any volume taken from his library must be used on the premises. "Take it and welcome," chirped Mark, "only under a recently adopted rule it is only to be used on the premises."—Golden Book Magazine.

New Gasoline Will Change With Season

STANDARD ANNOUNCES UNUSUAL FEATURES OF GRADE.

The new gasoline which Standard Oil company of Indiana will herald in large newspaper ads beginning today in thirteen north central states will introduce motorists to the idea of a gasoline changing with the seasons.

Characteristics of the gasoline, officials of the company revealed, will not be fixed permanently but will be varied on a prearranged schedule to fit the season and the locality.

In winter the gasoline will be so manufactured as to contain a high percentage of volatile elements to aid quick starting and acceleration and in summer these elements will be kept to the practical minimum in order to prevent "vapor lock" which often interrupts the smooth flow of gasoline to engines on hot days. The summer gasoline will also have a still higher anti-knock specification, as that feature is more important in hot weather.

Engineers have long recognized the desirability of varying gasoline in this fashion, but difficulties of changing stocks at centers of distribution have discouraged adoption of the idea. Now Standard of Indiana has worked out a system of seasonal distribution and has perfected it even to the extent that points to the north will have their fall and winter gasoline earlier than points to the south because of the earlier arrival of cool and winter weather.

In addition to containing a greater proportion of the volatile elements that make for easier starting and a quicker warming up, the gasoline will have an end-point about 20 degrees lower. This lower end-point aids the complete vaporization in the manifold of the automobile engine and minimizes crank case dilution in cold weather. The anti-knock rating of the gasoline has also been improved substantially. More attention will be paid to this factor in summer than at present. It is not planned, however, to have the new gasoline approach the very high anti-knock rating of the company's ethylized gasoline (Red Crown Ethyl).

It is interesting to note that in calling the new product "Standard Red Crown" the company is adopting a policy of emphasizing the word "Standard" as a brand name for gasoline.

Many thousands of dollars will be spent by the company in changing service station signs as the result of this change in product name. Officials of the company expect this expense to be well recompensed by the emphasis the brand name will give to the company name and to its claim that the new gasoline will set the standard for the regular grade of gasolines offered to the consumer at the medium price.

The company's present policy is to offer the improved gasoline at the same prices as were charged for the former regular-grade even though higher cost of manufacture is involved.

Switch Goes Wrong To Darken Timepiece

To relieve Oliver Maine, keeper of the court house, from the necessity of explaining to Mason residents just why the court house clock remains darkened at night, the NEWS has been asked to state the reason. A faulty switch is responsible for the darkened timepiece. Within a few days a new automatic switch will be installed and once more those residents who stay out after dark will be able to tell the time from the clock in the court house dome.

ALAIEDON FARMERS FAIR IS SUCCESSFUL VENTURE

EXHIBITS SAID TO BE BEST IN YEARS.

Programs Friday And Saturday Well Received—Otto Gives Entertaining Talk To Patrons.

With fifteen hundred exhibits, or nearly double the number of exhibits of last year, the Alaiedon Farmers club fair, held at the Okemos school last week Thursday, Friday and Saturday, was hailed by its patrons as a big success.

The vegetable and grain displays were declared by some as the best seen at any fair this year. The vegetable display was quite large, while the grains were almost perfect, according to the judges.

The home economics exhibits were of much interest to many people as were the manual arts displays. In the livestock division the judging took place Saturday morning. There were about seventy-five entries in this class, which included cows, pigs and sheep.

The programs were very well attended and after the Thursday schedule was completed it was discovered that enough money had been taken in to defray all expenses so Friday evening no admission was charged. The program Friday consisted of a musical comedy by the "Kitchen Cabinet" orchestra and some readings by Doris Euler of Lansingburg. C. W. Otto of the Lansing chamber of commerce, gave a very interesting and entertaining speech.

In the afternoon the Lansing Eastern reserves and the Okemos football teams played on the grounds. The game proved interesting to many people. The Indians came out winners over the Lansing eleven by a score of 13 to 6.

Saturday ended the fair. A community dinner was served and the feeling of fellowship created was declared to have made the fair well worth while.

HOLT

Mary H. Austin, Correspondent

Mrs. William Somerville, who had been ill for a long time, passed away at her home on the Aurelius road, Sunday, at 10:45 p. m. Fanny Fiedler, youngest child of Rev. G. H. Fiedler and Mrs. Fiedler, was the first one of nine children to follow her father and mother in death. She was born in Marietta, Ohio, December 15, 1886, and came to Holt when only 4 years old. On December 3, 1907, she was married to William Somerville, who with her son, Murray, and two daughters, Gertrude and Kathleen, survive her. She also leaves brothers and sisters as follows: Gust Fiedler, Elyria, Ohio; Mrs. Martha Hubbard, Jackson; William Fiedler, Holt; Emma Fiedler, Lansing; Mrs. Amanda McGilvray, Afton; Edwin Fiedler, Albuquerque, N. M.; Adelaide Fiedler, Ft. Wayne, Indiana; and Paul Fiedler, Holt. Funeral services were held at the home, Wednesday at two o'clock, conducted by Rev. E. A. Runkel, and burial in Maple Ridge cemetery.

The Past Noble Grand club enjoyed a potluck dinner, Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Charles Tinknell, East Delhi avenue. The afternoon was spent in sewing on their quilt.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Adcock, a daughter, Burdett, October 10.

The members and families of the First M. E. church have planned their church night for Thursday, beginning with a potluck supper and social time. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Shaaf of Depot street, were hosts to the Friendship class of the Presbyterian church on Friday evening. A musical program was given and refreshments served.

The Co-workers class of the First M. E. church, enjoyed a party in the church parlors, on Friday evening with refreshments and a program. Mrs. W. H. Bickett entertained Division No. 3 of the Ladies Aid society of the Presbyterian church at a Bohemian dinner, Tuesday, followed by a busy afternoon with their needles. Mrs. George Thompson will be hostess on November 3.

The Holt home economics extension group in home management held their meeting at the high school building, Tuesday, October 13. At the next gathering on November 3, with Mrs. Joe Ellerby, each member is requested to bring one or more jars of fruit to help in the local relief work.

Regular meeting of P. T. A. was called to order at 7:45 at the high school auditorium, Monday evening. Miss Grey, supervisor of music, led in singing several P. T. A. songs and a short business meeting was held. Mrs. E. A. Robinson was announced as general chairman of the school fair, to be held Wednesday evening, Oct. 21. There will be a supper, several booths besides the fish pond and an entertainment. Supt. Goodrich announced that on the same day an exhibit of rural school work is to be shown and also the sewing and canning groups of the 4-H clubs and prizes to be given. It was also announced that the sewing groups and other committees are to assist mothers or are to remodel clothing for some who will need them this winter and such contributions are to be left at the Abe Black building on East Delhi. The association heard a speech by Prof. Manschoffer of the Liberty Hyde Bailey P. T. A. at East Lansing, on some P. T. A. activities and suggestions. He said there should be regular conferences between parent and teacher, especially as to teaching methods and characteristics of the child. P. T. A. should be the sounding body for parents and teachers, superintendent and school board. There should be adult education and also a definite project toward which the year's work is directed. The next meeting is to be a so-called open house, when classes will be conducted by each teacher, showing the work being done each day. The program concluded with an excellent reading by Allen Gann, and two Harry Lauder selections by Supt. L. G. Goodrich, accompanied by Arthur Chappell.

The November meeting of the community council will be on Tuesday evening, October 20, in the high school auditorium, with the program under direction of Mrs. Lee Wright.

A. B. Ellis has gone to Jackson to spend the week with his son, Alie and wife. The Holt Woman's club held its initial meeting Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. W. Martin. Because of the death of Mrs. Somerville, Mrs. Paul Fiedler, the president, was absent and Mrs. Glenn Bateman, the vice president, presided in her place. Answer to roll call brought out several interesting facts about Columbus. Mrs. Bateman read an interesting paper on Mrs. Grace Goodhue Coolidge, representing the American home not only as she appeared as the first lady of the land, but in her one private home, and being typical of a quiet, capable life which others could follow. The year's work as outlined in the comprehensive program is to exemplify woman in her many activities and power for good in the world. The rest of the day's program was given over to the report of the state federation meeting at Muskegon, given by the attending delegate, Mary Austin. The next meeting of the club will be a Guest Day at the Boy Scout cabin, October 27. The hostesses are Mrs. James Jennings, Mrs. L. Bentley, Mrs. C. E. Bennett, Mrs. D. P. Barnard and Mrs. Brice Spencer.

Douglas, commissioner. Also it is pointed out that highway funds are about exhausted. Accordingly, it has been decided, the much criticized bill for a day schedule of work will become a dead issue. Efforts will be made to work with the commission on unemployment in the hope that several families now on the dole list may become self-supporting.

Meanwhile an agreement has been made with the Lansing social service bureau that no further meddling with Delhi matters will be permitted. It is also promised by Mr. Carpenter, that no member of his staff will give comfort or aid to any Delhi resident, at least until a complete investigation of the matter as handled by Mrs. Horst and her committee has been made.

The general committee will become a clearing house for all complaints and any Delhi resident who has any real or fancied grievance will be welcomed to appear at the weekly meetings of the committee when relief measures ordered by Mrs. Horst will be discussed and passed upon.

The decision of the governor in referring the Delhi matter to the state department of occlusure is a distinct victory for Supervisor Lott and the other members of the township board. This department once before investigated Delhi relief measures and gave Mr. Lott a clean bill of health. Mr. Carpenter, director, promises full cooperation with the Delhi authorities and members of the voluntary welfare group and Mrs. Horst and also assures Delhi authorities that others will keep their hands off at least until sufficient time has passed to prove the inability of local officials to handle relief matters.
