FREE RIDES AND FREE MEALS DO NOT MEAN FREE ROADS

It sure beats all what a free ride in a county owned motor car, a free lunch at county expense, and a few honeyed words from public officials will bring in free publicity. Especially is this true if the reporter comes from the offices of a city daily accustomed to publishing pure slush without looking for facts. In fact it is so much easier to accept the "bologna" handed out by public officials than it is to dig for facts that most of the city newspapers use the prepared stuff instead of facts.

A case in point comes to attention in connection with a story in a Lansing daily newspaper last week which followed the annual junket of the roads and bridges committee of the board of supervisors augmented by county road officials and employees, accompanied by the afforesaid reporter. The story reads like fiction—it is fiction.

"Ingham county's highway system totals 1800 miles," the story runs, "with all except a few miles graded, drained and surfaced and much of it of dust proof black-top surface and with 100 miles kept open and free of snow during the winter." This much of the story is true but when the city reporter wrote his story, after his thrilling ride over smooth gravel roads where he expected rough trails and after that good dinner and the "bologna" which went with it all, he left the paths of truth and wandered far afield.

The story continues with:

"Within another two years, if the plans of the commission are carried out as outlined, Ingham will have the most complete county system of improved roads in the United States. And neither the building nor the maintenance will have cost the taxpayers of the county a single cent in property taxes. The taxpayer, despite all the fine improvements made this season, pays not a cent in property levy. All the cost of maintenance and improvements is paid by the gasoline and weight taxes. 'Pay as you go' is the slogan of the county road commission."

Oh, Yeah?

"And neither the building nor the maintenance will have cost the taxpayers of the county a single cent in property taxes," the city reporter records.

Let's look at the record.

Between 1914 when the county road system got under way in Ingham county and 1932 when the Horton and McNitt acts went into effect, the property owners of Ingham county, according to the records of the county road commission and the proceedings of the county board of supervisors, dug into their pockets and poured into the coffers of the county road commission a snug little sum amounting to more than $3,585,000 to say nothing of the money spent by township highway officials on township roads improved and later turned over to become a part of the county system. These two items represent a lot of money but even these huge sums do not include the vast sums paid in Covert road special assessments levied by the state highway department. We ask the city reporter if an average of more than $200,000 a year for 17 years for county road taxes alone is not worth mentioning? Some of the farm and home owners of Ingham county think it is.

And while these rather pretentious sums were being paid in as property tax, what were the same people contributing in the way of automobile license and gas taxes? That is hard to determine without resort to state records for at first the state took all, later sharing with the counties in increasing amounts until in 1932 with the passage of the Horton and the McNitt laws, the state began handing back to the counties all the weight tax and a portion of the gas tax collected, all of which of course flowed through the hands of the county road commission and went into the improvement of the highways now heralded as not having "cost the taxpayers of the county a single cent."

Let's look at the record again.

According to the same county records searched before, the amount of motorists' money spent by the Ingham county road commission since 1914 all of which and more came out of the pockets of the people of this county also presents a tidy sum. In fact it is a sum of surprising amount. The records show it has amounted to considerably more than $5,000,000—five million dollars if one prefers his figures in letters rather than digits.

Few people realize the rate at which it has poured into the hands of the Ingham county road commission during the past two years. Perhaps the reader will be interested to learn that while it is true the taxpayer no longer has to include in his property tax a tribute to good roads he does have to come across and does come across handsomely by other means.

The county road commission during the year ending September 30, 1934, received a total of $719,474 from the state which sum the state had first taken away from Ingham county motorists. During the present fiscal year to date, a total of $594,050 of motorist money has been turned over to the Ingham county road commission for spending.

"And neither the building nor the maintenance will have cost the taxpayers of the county a single cent," the city reporter records.

The NEWS is for good roads. It has consistently supported good roads. But when it is stated that the taxpayers are not paying for them, the NEWS believes in assisting the people to know the facts.

THE 15-MILL AMENDMENT

A Lansing newspaper is shedding tears because a petition has been filed asking for a vote on adopting a 15-mill limitation on taxes. Muskegon, Grand Rapids, Battle Creek, Flint and other cities have had the same proposal up and the limitation has been adopted. It would be adopted in Mason were it to come to a vote.

In 1932 when the limitation was placed in the state constitution the voters believed that city and country alike would be affected by the limitation. Mason and Lansing citizens voted for the limitation and believed their taxes would be lowered. Then along came a supreme court decision declaring the amendment without effect if city charters contained a higher limit.

By that decision the property owners of Lansing, Mason and East Lansing have continued to pay high taxes while owners of property in the townships have been aided by the limitation although many townships in Ingham had never reached 15 mills.

Mason taxes, and those in Lansing, too, are higher than ever before when the sales tax is included. Here in Mason we pay property taxes nearly double the 15-mill limit effective in the townships and then go on to pay a sales tax and other special taxes in addition. Mason people, and those in Lansing as well, voted for a 15-mill limitation in 1932. They expressed themselves for a reduction in taxes. Nothing has happened since then to make them change their minds. We predict that Lansing voters will adopt the charter limitation if it is placed before them. Mason voters will do likewise.

It is true that certain city services must be curtailed and some abandoned if Lansing adopts the limitation. But that is not at issue. The taxpayers are not questioning the service they are getting for the money; they want to spend less money and it will be up to elected officials to say which services shall be retained and which shall be curtailed and abandoned.

In Mason for instance, the residents are getting more service than before the depression. Back in those good old days we had no city clerk's office; the city clerk carried the office in his hat. Then the city owned no trucks. We had fewer street lights. The streets were not in as good repair as they are now. We are not arguing that the added services were not and are not needed; we are merely pointing out that we have had more service, and it has cost more, during the depression than we ever paid before. If the taxpayers want less service and pay less taxes it is up to them to make the decision. It is their money that is being spent.

SALES TAX ON ELECTRICITY

It is difficult to understand why any fair-minded person should maintain that the sales tax should be forgiven on electric energy purchased from a municipality-owned plant and still be charged on energy purchased from the Consumers Power and other utility companies. The sales tax is charged upon the commodity purchased regardless of whom the seller may be. If a sales tax is to be charged upon electricity, and it is, then it should be charged customers regardless of where the current is purchased. That is only fair.

Yet the Michigan Municipal League is seeking a ruling to have customers of municipal plants exempted from the sales tax. Lansing citizens, too, are putting up the specious plea that users of city power should not pay a sales tax.

If Lansing users of electricity and the users of electricity from other municipal plants are to be excused from paying a sales tax then all sales taxes on electric current should be abandoned. It would be manifestly unfair for Mason people to be forced to pay taxes on current purchased from the Consumers Power while Lansing people could use tax-free current. It is not the Consumers Power company nor the Lansing electric light and water board which is taxed under the sales tax law; the ultimate consumers are the persons taxed and they are taxed upon a commodity. It would be unfair to exempt users of power purchased from one plant while the users of power from another plant would be forced to pay. That situation did prevail for several months and because it was unfair the ruling was changed.

Should the Michigan Municipal League be successful in securing the exemption on electric energy then the people should demand that all groceries, clothing, fuel and gasoline be purchased through outlets operated by municipalities.

HELPFUL MERCHANTS

Mason is to be congratulated on the amount of improvement to its business property now under construction. Without benefit of public money provided through federal or state agencies, county seat merchants are facing the future with independent courage which approaches the optimistic. It is doubted if any city in central Michigan can show a higher percentage of its business frontage undergoing modernization than Mason. True, many of these store fronts have long suffered from lack of improvement but nevertheless it is a matter of town pride and community interest that the improvements are now being made.

Not so many years ago certain economists were running about the country predicting that the small cities and villages were doomed. Some of them were but it was because the merchants in those towns had doomed themselves and the community which depended upon them for trading facilities.

The merchants of a town can make it or they can break it. Mason owes a great deal to the courage and foresight of its merchants. Business comes to Mason because its buyers of farm products pay fair market prices for what the farmer sells while its merchants offer reasonable and trustworthy merchandise at fair prices.

There are a few exceptions to what is said in the foregoing paragraphs. There are storekeepers in every town and Mason has them. "Buy in Mason" slogans are good only when Mason business concerns make it an object to buy in Mason. One does not buy anywhere merely because he is told to. There must be an advantage. It is this advantage offered by the leading merchants of Mason that brings to the town the volume of trade which keeps it abreast of the other cities in this section. After all under the present era of rapid transit, available almost to every family, the merchant no longer finds his competition next door or across the street. Rather it may lie a town or two away.

Live merchants make live towns. Live towns attract profitable trade.

All of Mason, even the delinquents, owe a debt of gratitude to those wise merchants who are responsible for the modernization program now under way and which will stamp Mason as one of the progressive small cities of Michigan.

Some Lansing statesmen appear to be a trifle upset over the story of the Golden Pheasant. Too bad, boys, but you had it coming.

It is reported that when Senator William Gibbs McAdoo gets his next divorce that he intends to wed Shirley Temple.

A little television wouldn't be bad for the World Series.

What Other Editors Have to Say

We Run a Department Store
Last week a man came into this office with blood in his eye, a couple of dollar bills clutched in his hand, and a thorough determination to assert the righteousness of his anger.

He was angry. Not plain angry but just hopping mad. It seems there had been something in the paper he didn't like, some editorial comment which marched in icy tread right down the marrow of his backbone. And so he stopped his paper—wouldn't have the dirty sheet come into his home again.

It was not an unusual incident—such things happen once or twice in every newspaper office in the average year. Sometimes they happen more or less often, depending on how outspoken, how brave or how tactless an editor may be.

But the incident gave us cause to reflect. Your home town newspaper is, after all, a rather elaborate department store with items designed to appeal to every age and taste. Sports, editorial matter, society items, rural correspondence each has its own particular following.

Likewise, each store on main street carries a number of items, hoping that one or at most a few will appeal to every customer. Now it happens that we don't like limburger cheese. Possibly something faulty in our makeup, but we just don't like it. And yet Mr. Behnke sells limburger—rank, odiferous limburger. And we continue to buy from Mr. Behnke, buying what we prefer and not boycotting him because he sells limburger of voices, but does he hear?—Linden Leader.

F. H. Frazel announces the opening of the Ash street skating rink next Friday evening. Professor Spross, cornetist, has been engaged for the occasion.

The Ingham county fair proved a financial success. More than 3000 persons were on the grounds Thursday. Twenty-one Mason business concerns made displays which added to the unusual showing of fruits and vegetables and the fine showing contained in floral hall made the fair one of the best held in Michigan this year.

Fred Seal and Stephen and Joseph Hanna have entered Ypsilanti normal college.

An innovation in postal service is announced by the postmaster general. For a special ten cent stamp a letter will be promptly delivered to the addressee. It is only good in the larger cities which have been designated "special delivery" offices.

There is not a postal card on sale or available at any Ingham county post office. The new administration did not like the picture of the goddess of liberty heretofore used and substituted the face of Thomas Jefferson instead. A mistake in printing of the first batch has delayed delivery until the supply has been wiped clean.

Two Stockbridge citizens last week quarrelled over a game of croquet and began using the mallets over one another's head. The matter is now in the justice court of that village.

little something at Cristy's—to an extent, in fact, which has definite bearing on the family budget. Yet our good friend Mr. Cristy has in stock dresses so ill-adapted to our wife's face and figure that there'd be an ugly family scene if she toted one home. So she doesn't, but chooses items which agree with her taste and all goes well.

But that same "choosy" selection of items doesn't seem to apply to the printed department store which this office edits and issues each week, probably because we sell each customer not one item or two, but a sample of every item in the store.

So, if the editorials clash with your taste, turn to the front page or the sports. If the broken slugs have a strong limburger smell and you don't like that odor, turn to the want ads. Remember, we offer you for slightly over three cents a choice of every item on our menu. Please don't kick if you don't like them all!—Post, Waukegan, Wis.

Church Bells

The school bell, the work bell and the fire bell calls us together, but isn't it strange to realize it is the church bell that separates us and subdivides us in a thousand isms, which embrace not only every color of religious belief but every degree of color, a regular kaleidoscope. If you don't believe it just cast your eye over any Saturday city daily where the church Sunday announcements are displayed. What a patient being God must be to listen to such a babel of voices, but does He hear?—Linden Leader.

Urges Townsend Plan

Enclosed find money order to renew my subscription to your paper. The attendance to the exposition is holding up well; it runs from 15 to 30 thousand daily. It has averaged one million about every five weeks, and is now nearing the four million mark. At that rate, over five million will have visited it before it closes November 10th. The attendance, together with the fact that the fleet is again in the harbor, has made this city the one bright spot on the Pacific Coast this summer, as the visitors and the men in the fleet, have been liberal spenders. All classes of business have been benefited. Unemployment however, on the coast, is on the increase. The NRA has fallen flat and work has been curtailed on some government projects, and delays in the receipt of funds for those on relief, has caused suffering and discontent.

The Townsend Old Age Recovery Plan is the all-absorbing topic. Congress has adjourned and the representatives and senators are home and are repairing their political fences. All are being interviewed and have been invited to appear before the different clubs and asked to state plainly whether they are for or against the plan. It is hoped that enough of them can be converted to the plan so that it can be made the law of the land at the session of congress in January. Those who are opposed are being given to understand that they cannot be supported in the next election. If the plan is not adopted in January it will be one of main issues in the political campaign in 1936. The advocates of the plan will not form a new party, nor have a candidate for president. They do not care much who fills that office. Their plan is to get a majority in congress so that the plan can be made the law of the land, and in case it is vetoed by the president, to pass it over the veto. The people are beginning to realize that six years of depression, suffering, misery and the dele, are about enough, and believe that the Townsend plan is the only one that has been suggested that is workable and will lead the country out of the slough of despond it has been wallowing in for six years. It has never been tried. Most of the alphabetical bureaus and boards that have been formed have failed to do anything to relieve the situation. The people are all from Missouri now and have to be "shown."

Doctor Townsend spoke here in the Ford bowl, on August 25. The attendance that day was the largest yet, it being 74,100. Postmaster General Farley was in the audience and was invited by the doctor to come to the platform and discuss the plan with him, but he remained silent. The president is expected here in October. He is not popular on the coast. Not much of a demonstration is to be made. The Townsends will treat him with the respect due him as president, but will take no part in the demonstration. He ignored the doctor and refused to allow him an audience so as to explain the plan. So they will let him quietly come and go and will show their strength at the polls in 1936.

I note with regret the passing of another of my boyhood friends, George L. Nice. W. E. BUTLER, San Diego, Calif., Sept. 23, 1935.

Herrick District

By Mrs. Howard Herrick

Ferne Sweigles of Webberville, spent Saturday and Sunday with Lucille Herrick.

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Smith and baby Sandra June, visited his father and brother in Petoskey over the week end. Mr. Smith and son Jack, returned home with them and will attend the Fowlerville fair this week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Church entertained company from Lansing, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Herrick and sons called on her father, Sunday evening.

Mrs. Emma King has traded her farm to Mr. and Mrs. Dale Chappell for the Jacobs house and lot in Webberville. She will have a sale next week of stock and farm tools. Mrs. King will move as soon as the house in town is vacant and Mr. and Mrs. Chappell will move onto Mrs. King's farm.

DANSVILLE NEWS

Soft Ball Schedule Complete
Three soft ball teams have been organized in the T. O. A. S., these teams to compete with other teams in Holt, Leslie and Mason. The teams are composed of boys in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades, boys in the seventh and eighth grades and girls in the high school. The schedule is as follows: October 1, Dansville played the Leslie girls and the Leslie elementary grades at Dansville, and the Leslie seventh and eighth grade boys played the Aggie seventh and eighth grade boys at Leslie. On October 8, Dansville seventh and eighth grades play the Mason seventh and eighth grades at Mason, and the Dansville elementary and Dansville girls play the corresponding teams at Mason. On October 15, the Holt seventh and eighth grade boys come to Dansville to play the seventh and eighth grade boys and the Dansville girls and elementary players journey to Holt. October 17, the Mason girls and Mason elementary come to Dansville for games and the local seventh and eighth grade boys go to the county seat for a contest. October 22 finds the Holt girls and elementary players at Dansville, while the seventh and eighth grade boys play at Holt. The final game is October 29, Leslie seventh and eighth grades playing here and the Dansville girls and elementary teams begin playing at three-thirty, the high school girls and seventh and eighth grade boys playing at four-thirty. The rules are similar to ordinary baseball with a few exceptions, these being that it is not necessary to catch the third strike and a hit batter does not walk. It is permissible to use mask for catcher and gloves or mitts for all except the pitcher. Soft ball during the past year has been more popular than heretofore and a great deal of enthusiasm is derived from the game.

Football Boys Attend Game
Coach Searl Briggs accompanied his football team to East Lansing last Saturday to view the State-Grinnell game which was won by State 41 to 0. Next Saturday he will take his boys to Michigan to see the State-U. of M. game. Coach Briggs believes the boys receive many valuable pointers in viewing these games at the beginning of the season as well as some enjoyment.

Aggies Win From Stockbridge
The Aggie football boys won from Stockbridge at Stockbridge last Friday afternoon with the score of 25 to 7. The Aggie boys looked for better in the Stockbridge game than in the previous game, although they were somewhat handicapped by the loss of Junior Vogt, who is still unable to be in the game. On the line David Woods was undoubtedly the outstanding man while Kelly, Greenough and Haggerty, played good games. Worden did the most ground grunting with Burger doing some good blocking. Kelly looks best for the quarterback position, but will need considerable practice and experience. This week the boys play Dimondale here.

Exhibit at Fowlerville Fair
The Future Farmer boys will show their stock at the Fowlerville fair this week, in the hope of taking some of the premiums from that county. The boys who will have stock at the fair are Kenneth Martin, Donald Smith, Donald Haggerty, Wayne Dalton, Richard Hayhoe, Russell Hayhoe, Lawrence Swan, Martin Pollok, Paul Wolf, Theodore Hong, Gordon Freer, Lloyd Galey, Royall Miller, Albert Tanghe and Harold Monroe.

4-H Club Organizes
The seventh and eighth grade 4-H club girls met Tuesday morning and held their organization meeting. The election of officers was as follows: President, Ruth Crakes; vice president, Pauline Sharland; secretary, Irene Greenough; treasurer, Corrine Freer; recreational leader, Dorothy Owen. Mrs. Puffenberger, extension leader of Balon Rapids, was present at the organization of the club. Miss Kathryn Boonstra was chosen leader of the girls. Meetings will be held Tuesday during the extra curriculum hour, the time devoted to sewing.

Who Do Class Meets Friday
The Who Do class of the Methodist church will meet Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Greenough. Arnolds, Kellys, Cohans, Dowlings and Millers will assist the hostesses on the committee.

O. E. S. Holds Regular Meeting
Next Thursday evening the O. E. S. will hold the regular monthly meeting in the Masonic hall. The meeting will be called promptly at eight o'clock by the worthy matron, Mrs. Irma Hull-berger.

Baptist L. A. S. Meets
The members of the Baptist Ladies Aid society and several guests enjoyed a meeting Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Mina Mann. Concessions and stunts of which Mrs. Vera Dayton and Mrs. Merna Arnold were in charge, furnished the diversion, after which Mrs. Olive Fay, honor guest of the occasion, was presented with several gifts. Ice cream and wafers were then served by Mrs. Zaidie Allen and Mrs. Merna Arnold. About 30 were present.

O. E. S. Plans Euchre Party
At a special meeting of the O. E. S. last Wednesday evening, pro tem candidates were initiated. After the ceremony, sandwiches, cake and coffee were enjoyed. At this meeting it was decided to begin the euchre parties on Saturday night, October 26. These parties will be held in the C. M. Young building and will be conducted similar to those last year. The committee for the first party is Alma Dalton, Iva Corwin and Helen Young. Plans were also made for the O. E. S. annual supper at the town hall, Saturday evening, November 2. Chicken pie was voted as the main part of the menu. The committee appointed was Mina Otis, Arvilla Collar and Helen Young, they to appoint other committees.

Missionary Meeting Held Wednesday
The Woman's Missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal church will meet next Wednesday, October 9, at the home of Mrs. Will Potter. A midweek dinner will be served at noon, for which an offering is taken. The business meeting will be held in the afternoon, followed by a program by the foreign society.

First Quarterly Conference Friday
The first quarterly conference of the year will be held next Friday, October 11, at the Methodist Episcopal church. The Rev. R. M. Atkins, district superintendent of Flint, will preside at the conference. A program for the year of each organization of the church is given at this time.

Dear Friend:
After long weeks of preparation, Mason's newest drug store is to have its formal opening Friday, October 4. The opening has not been as easy as that statement sounds. For a number of years this new store has been planned. After the step was finally taken a location had to be secured, a building had to be made over, stock and fixtures had to be purchased and then the store arranged. It has all been done and now we want you to come in and look it over.
This store has been launched with the idea of service uppermost. We realize that in these days of shortened incomes and rising prices that the public must buy where the prices are right and the service is good. Here are new and complete stocks of drugs and other articles handled by modern drug stores. Here are trained employees to fill your needs. Customers at this store will have the benefit of low prices and helpful service. We have spent many years in serving the Mason public. We believe we know what they want in and what they expect of a drug store. In choosing the stock and in formulating our service policies we have endeavored to provide the goods and services demanded of the best drug stores among the larger cities of the state. If we have succeeded in planning our new store to suit you we want you to come in this week and tell us so. If there are suggestions you can make we assure you they will be welcome.
This opportunity is also taken to express our appreciation for the workmanlike manner in which the skilled mechanics made ready the new store. Without their co-operation the opening would have been delayed for weeks.
Come in this week and have a look at the new store. We think you will like it.
D. LEE WARE.

POLITICALLY, ALSO, HE RACES

Sir Malcolm Campbell, interviewed by the New York press when he arrived to try for the new speed record on the salt beds of Utah, said that a European war, with the Ethiopian affair as tinder, seems inevitable—and that inevitably, too, the United States will be drawn in. We should stand beside England, he vowed, as the sole means of preventing war.

"A union of the English-speaking people now would stop it. It should be done because the United States will be drawn into a war anyway."

Clearly another instance of the wish being father to the thought. Isn't there a lingering recollection, in this country, that once we undertook to save civilization, and after the victory were vilified for our sacrifices? Sir Malcolm is a great automobile driver; no doubt of it.—Portland Oregonian.

It won't be long now until nearly all American children will be born in hospitals. And this will just about eliminate the log cabin candidate.

SEEN IN HOLLYWOOD

Adjusting an Artificial Eyelash.

Prepared by the National Geographic Society, Washington, D. C.—WNU Service.

WHEN Hollywood had only 300 people and not even a "mickledoon," pioneering actors acted an old barn there and began to film "The Squaw Man." Armed cowboys, dashing through dusty streets to "fight" Indians, alarmed the village.

If the play called for a scene on a front porch, the actors simply got permission to use somebody's porch. No one, at first, built special "sets." Such colossal structures as Babylonian palaces 300 feet high, built later to film "Intolerance," were undreamed of.

Now studios that are walled cities within themselves house this stupendous industry, whose feats smack almost of witchcraft.

To make a "horror" picture, the illusion of prehistoric monsters invading a modern city was achieved with Texas armadillos. Shot at 20 times normal size, while waddling past the toy buildings of a miniature city, the final effect on the screen was realistically hideous.

One studio has a toy shop where bontas, airplanes, cities, railroad trains, and automobiles are all made in miniature. In "The Invisible Man," a tiny automobile, loaded with gasoline-soaked cotton and a fuse, was run off a toy cliff, bursting into flames. In the same picture a railroad train (with cars 2 feet long) tumbled down a mountain slide. Both "accidents" were strangely convincing.

Corn and marine plants for underwater views are cleverly counterfeited. "When we found ocean stuff wouldn't transplant," said a Universal director, "we dipped cactus and other desert growth in a plaster solution. Dried and painted, this 'bottom of the sea' fooled everybody."

Octopus tentacles and snakes may be merely a jointed tube, strung on piano wire, coated with sponge rubber, and painted.

Human Actors of All Kinds. But it is human beings and their behavior, as much as tricks with cameras, that make Hollywood, which is only a part of Los Angeles, better known abroad than the big city itself.

Since most of the world's movies are made hereabouts, the millions paid in salaries lure performers, real and would-be, from every other clime. Besides stars and plain five-dollar-a-day "extras," these actors range from real pygmies, as in "Tarzan," to acrobats and bona fide bareback riders in plays like "Folly of the Cierens."

Costing offices for years have studied horrids of people for different roles. More than 17,000 are listed on cards for "bit" and "atmosphere" work. Every conceivable type is needed. As one official said, "We could not use the same crowd for an embassy reception as for a clandestine meeting of the Black Hand."

At the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio, experts learn in mind the faces of some 7,000 semi-regulars, and use a filing system for thousands of extras.

Eighty per cent of the types needed fall into such groups as dress men, bellhops, police, collegians, butlers, riders, tall, short, and fat men, stunt men, army and navy men, tough men, judges, etc.; dress women (meaning intelligent, society types who can wear smart clothes), pretty girls, homey girls, stenographers, tall, short, fat, and stunt women, maids, character women, riders, dancers, dowagers, healthy children, peaked children, Hallelujahs, Orientals, Latinas, Nordic and Slavic types.

An emergency call for "one tough mechanic with a broken nose and two teeth missing" was quickly met. Trained acrobats who can take rough falls and not get hurt; sailors with one eye; a distinguished-looking man with a continental-like "spade beard" who can work as a count or a diplomat—all these are in the cards!

Some of the Tricks. "These bottles we break over each other's heads in barroom brawls couldn't hurt anybody," explains an actor made up like Jesse James. "They're not glass; they're made of candy."

Some such trick candy costs $80 a pound. In the form of pills, it is used in shooting watery scenes. The actor holds this pill in his mouth like a cold drop; as it melts, it gives off a vapor that is visible, like breath on a cold day.

Icebergs of plaster, oatmeal for snow, and gales made by wind machines, all

Join to simulate winter. To make it rain over a three-acre field in "Little Women," RKO engineers built scaffolding high above the lot which carried a mile of perforated pipe. By this vast sprinkling system it could "shower" whenever directors yelled, "Start the rain!"

In another scene, horses hauled a sleigh across a "snow field" made of half-baked cornflakes. Being yellow, they photographed white. At the same time a battery of 20 huge motor propellers at one side of the field blew the air thick with cornflakes, making a "blizzard." During a pause in the work one horse got at a big bag of extra cornflakes, overate, was foundered, and a movie veterinarian had to give first aid. Just then an actor, bundled up to face the "cold," got a sunstroke!

Among strange sights here is an Eskimo village with igloos, ice fields, and all. Five hundred men, used tons of white plaster to make this set. It saves the cost of sending actors up North.

Realism of "Berlin."

"Berlin" was only about 150 feet from "Mexico" on the Universal lot. "Rain" poured down in a Berlin street where actors in "Little Man, What Now?" walked along in raincoats, carrying umbrellas; car horses pawed the water, and boys pedaled along on gliding-wheel bicycles. From out in the dry a director called his orders.

For verisimilitude an exact model of a Berlin street car, all painted with bona fide names and numbers, clattered along under its own power. About a kiosk, or newsstand, draped with illustrated German weeklies, a group of old German types recruited from Los Angeles lodging houses talked in German about German politics.

Barely a stone's throw away, on another "set," a cowboy actor, the idol of small boys the world over, was struggling through Mexican border brush a few jumps ahead of a Texas sheriff.

Any kind of scenery desired, from Alpine to Sahara, can be found or easily manufactured somewhere in southern California.

To film an Australian drama, some rolling plains were wanted like the terrain near Melbourne, where the principal action of the story took place. They were found in Los Angeles county.

Sometimes, however, nature plays a joke. Once rain interrupted the shooting of some scenes where were used big leafless gum trees. Two weeks later, when the actors went back to camera, the scene, the trees had leafed out. In order to match the old setting, the trees had to be picked like chickens, which made a two days' job for 20 men.

From snow scenes in mountains back of Hollywood to seaside set-ups is only a three hours' drive. "Covered Wagon" was filmed on a ranch near Burbank, now seldom used because two air lines fly over it and the roar of planes spoils sound effects.

Near Santa Monica is an almost perfect bit of Cuba.

About Oxnard is a made-to-order Sahara. The "Alps" are in San Bernardino county, and the fishermen's village on the Los Angeles harbor has often been pictured as "Southern Italy."

Orders for the Property Man. One company has its own hand-made jungle in which wild-animal scenes are filmed. Under jungle trees life nets are used in case of accidental falls by "wild men" and others who leap from tree to tree.

An odd order for one picture called for "5,000 moths and 200 cockroaches." In "Stingaree," a tale of Australia in 1870, the background included bull carts, dingoes, and even a kookaburra bird, or "laughing jackass," all brought from Australia to give faithful local color.

The bird enacted his own comedy role by sitting in a tree and insulting the players with his raucous "raspberry" cry.

In making an American "tackle" of life in 1800, more than 6,000 separate items, with hoopskirts, ruffled pannetiers, bustles, wall paper, and top buggies of that period, had to be duplicated after painstaking research. More than 4,000 people, drawn from almost every profession, craft, and trade in America, were employed before this picture was finished.

We can expect booms and panics in the future so long as we regularly produce a crop of suckers to buy stock and real estate on a hair-line margin.

Affectation

A good bank has a lot of things for sale; convenience, and safety, and service, in hundreds of different ways. But it has some things that are not for sale. Friendliness is one of them. By friendliness we mean courtesy, consideration and real helpfulness in every transaction we make, big or little. This friendly spirit makes even the most routine banking detail more pleasant for you and for us. We have found it a good business policy.

New Landscape Attracts

Visitors Through Italy

The traveler who nowadays is going down to Rome, Sir Daniel Hall writes in the London Times, becomes conscious soon after leaving Pisa of new features in the landscape. Here and there along the railways he noticed stretches of plowland dotted regularly with new little houses, white or red, where he remembers there used to be salt marsh or heath. For miles the train runs through this sort of thing, near Grosseto and Alghero; there is another long stretch to seaward of the line as it turns from the coast towards Rome.

On inquiry he will learn that these settlements are all part of the great national work of "bonifica" and that there is an exhibition open in the Borgese gardens in Rome which illustrates what the Fascist government has achieved during the last ten years. We know little as yet of what the Russian five-year plan has accomplished, but here is something so far "done" that the agriculturally minded man must regard it as the biggest bit of constructive work since the war ended.

"Bonifica" represents the improvement of the countryside in all its aspects. The campaign against malaria, which for some 2,000 years has been debilitating the inhabitants and putting out of action some of the most fertile parts of Italy, has been removed on a scale and with a thoroughness not known before. Without that campaign the land needed for the growing population of Italy could not be won back to cultivation. It was chiefly through malaria that the Campagna became a region of winter grazing, but its devastating effects have been equally felt in the great delta of the Po and the flat lands along the Adriatic, in the valleys of Calabria, and the marshes along the Tyrrhenian sea.

Mystery Desert

Years ago the owner of one of the most fertile farms in the town of Freeport, Maine, U. S. A., chained a bull to a stake in a corner of his well-grassed pasture. The animal chafed at his bonds and, in his efforts to be free, pawed out a small chunk of the tough turf. Sand oozed from the hole as though some Gargantuan subterranean hand were forcing it up from the depths of the earth. That was the beginning of what has come to be called Maine's Sahara, which covers more than 200 acres and has long since swallowed up the once fertile farm with shifting, wind-blown dunes that are 60 feet high in places. Spreading over a wider area every year, it is a mystery to scientists.—Pearson's Weekly.

Dogs Can Distinguish Names

Dogs not only know the meaning of many words and phrases, but can distinguish between words of similar sound. Science service reports that experiments proving this fact have been made by Dr. Emmannuel Serris at the Institute for Environmental Research at Hamburg, Germany. Among the dogs used in the experiments were two named Aris and Haris. Neither would respond when called by the name of the other. The dogs were taught simple words and phrases and therefore recognized them under the most confusing circumstances.

Perch Fishers Have Big Season Reported

WEST MICHIGAN FISHERS SEE RECORD STRINGS.

Heavy runs of ravenous perch are occasioning much activity among canoeists along the east shore of Lake Michigan where some of the greatest catches in years are being reported.

Off Northport in Grand Traverse bay the perch have been running to exceptional sizes this fall, specimens weighing two pounds and more and excellent catches being reported.

South along the lake shore to and below Ludington large catches are being made from piers and breakwaters. Strings of as many as 180 good-size perch have been taken at Ludington where the excellent fishing has brought a smile by the scores.

Many have remained on the breakwaters until well after midnight to take advantage of the perch runs.

State law places no limit on the number of perch that may be taken from the waters of the Great Lakes and connecting waters, except from the Les Cheneaux channels of Lake Huron where the catch limit of 25 fish prevails.

These rodents live in the fields in the summer but cold weather and the harvesting of crops which have provided them with food cause the animals to seek better quarters around farm buildings. Farmers would not object so much to furnishing grain to feed these boarders, but their destructiveness is not confined to the amounts of grain eaten. Bags in which grain is stored, grain bins, and any fabric stored in barns are likely to be damaged in the rodent's search for food or nest building materials.

Red squill is the safest material to use as a rodent poison. It does not poison other animals. The poison baits are most effective when one part of squill is mixed with 16 of the food used. Several kinds of food substances, such as meat, cereals, and vegetables, should be used at one time to prevent the rodents learning to avoid any one food in which poison is mixed.

Rats which have made burrows underground in confined places can be killed by placing calcium cyanide powder in the burrows. This substance is blown into the burrows with a duster. Persons using it should be careful to avoid breathing any of the dust and should be sure there is good circulation of air while the duster is being used.

Barium carbonate is another poison often used in the preparation of poison baits for rodents. This material will kill other animals as quickly as it will rats so must be used with proper care. It is mixed in the proportion of one part of poison to four of the food material selected for the bait.

Communities in cities or in the country who are interested in eradicating a whole district of rats can get information from county agricultural agents on cooperative plans for rodent control.

Longfellow's poem made the village blacksmith a familiar figure to the school children of America but it did not prevent the smith from becoming so interested in language work that it has become necessary for Michigan State college to give a short course in horseshoeing to prevent the trade from becoming a lost craft.

The short courses at State are planned to give practical instruction to people who want to learn the latest methods in their own work or who find they must learn some trade related to their own. Farm managers and men in charge of the horses for transportation companies found that blacksmiths had become so scarce that it was necessary to learn something of this trade so they could be certain that their horses were being properly shod.

Horseshoeing is only one out of more than 20 of these practical courses which are given at the college. The courses vary in length from two days to 16 weeks and are given during the months when it is most convenient for producers of farm products to leave their work and spend a short time in study.

The 16 weeks course gives training in general agriculture and continues through two years. Greens keepers for golf courses specialize on the one problem of maintaining a turf which will satisfy divot diggers and this course lasts only two days. Two months are spent on instructing students how to raise poultry but four days appears to be all the time needed to learn about growing rabbits.

Horticultural problems are taken up in a series of courses on fruit production, commercial floriculture, and vegetable growing. The dairymen are given courses in production and in manufacturing. Instruction is not limited entirely to production as classes are held in cooperative marketing, which gives the student a slant on ways of selling the things he produces.

The 16 weeks agricultural course begins October 8 and the horseshoeing begins their training March 9, 1936. Instruction is given by regular members of the college staff and by persons who are successfully engaged in the work which they teach. Full details of all courses can be obtained from the director of short courses at East Lansing.

Isle Royal Moose To Be Moved To Mainland

PLANS LAID FOR TRANSFER OF 100 SOON.

A site near Sator point on Siskiwit bay, out 20 miles southwest of Chippewa harbor, will be the scene of operations for the fall and winter program of live-trapping moose on Isle Royale for transportation to the Michigan mainland, the department of conservation has announced.

Construction of a cabin that will accommodate a half-dozen or more men comfortably throughout the fall and winter and of corrals large enough to hold from 20 to 30 moose at a time is being rushed by CCC men so that they'll be ready for use as early as possible this fall.

The corrals will be a quarter-mile west of a camp operated by a lumber firm engaged in cutting pulpwood. It is expected this camp will be occupied by a crew of lumbermen during the winter and accommodations may be arranged with the camp authorities for boarding the department of conservation representatives in charge of the moose trapping operations.

Both corrals and winter cabin will be on the property of the lumber company.

"We hope to take the maximum number of moose permitted by the National Parks Service, which is 100," said H. D. Ruhl, chief of the game division, department of conservation. "As many of that number as possible will be taken this fall. Much, of course, depends upon the luck at trapping the moose as well as weather conditions and arrangements for suitable conveyance of the moose to the mainland before navigation is ended by ice conditions."

Again—The People Speak

By RAYMOND PITCAIRN

National Chairman
Sentinels of the Republic.

An event of unusual import to those who would link with the United States Constitution has occurred recently in Pennsylvania—the state wherein our National Charter of Liberties was conceived and written.

There, for the first time since recent recall efforts in Pennsylvania, the state wherein our National Constitution along the lines of the newer political philosophy gained national prominence, the people themselves were given opportunity to say what they thought of that sort of thing.

Emphatically they rejected the idea.

Dominated by the vote from rural districts and the smaller cities, they decided that this was no time to risk the possible writing into fundamental law of various unproven theories now being urged throughout America as a substitute for crystallized experience.

The people of Pennsylvania, of course, voted only on the question of revising their own state constitution. But fundamentally—and despite whatever political spokesmen on either side may claim—some of the principles involved were comparable to those brought into prominence by the nation-wide efforts of certain groups to remould our Federal Constitution into a form more readily influenced by passing fears and passions.

In the response may be read a heartening message of encouragement to all who oppose efforts to scrap certain essential elements of our American system of government in favor of new and untried theories. It is:

"That the great body of the people—men and women who constitute the backbone of America—are not at this time in sympathy with a policy of sudden changes. They realize that while it was the Declaration of Independence that proclaimed personal liberty, it is the Federal Constitution that assures it. They do not intend to surrender that guarantee."

Again—the People speak.

That's what makes a classified ad in the Ingham County News a bargain. The reader interest of this newspaper puts something on the ball. Whether it is Schoolboy Rowe, Elden Auker, Tommy Bridges, General Crowder, Chief Hogsett, Lefty Sullivan, Lawson or Melvin Artz of Bunkerhill doing the hurling, there will be results.

For instance here is what Mr. Artz is offering in the classified columns this week: (Turn to page six and prove it)

FOR SALE—50 White Leghorn pullets; Airmotor windmill; 1 1/2 h. p. gas engine and washing machine. Melvin Artz, 2 miles south of Bunkerhill Center.

That ad cost Mr. Artz 25c and if he doesn't get 10 prospective buyers by Monday we want him to come to the office and get his money back.

HOLT

By Mrs. James P. King

Presbyterian Church
Chas. P. Andrews, Pastor
"How to get help from the Church" will be the subject of the pastor's sermon in Holt Presbyterian church next Sunday morning at 10:30. Members of the Junior church will join the morning congregation in worship, listen to a Bible story and special music by the choir and then pass to their own service in the Scout cabin.

The Sunday school meets at 11:45 with special music by the orchestra, and classes for all ages. Steps are being taken to organize a men's Bible class and social club in the near future and all men who are not affiliated with any other Bible class are cordially invited to join this group. L. W. Mills, who has recently located in Holt will be the leader.

The Presbyterian young people will meet next Sunday evening at 8:30 for group discussion and devotional service, after which they will enjoy a social hour with a program and light refreshments. All young people not otherwise engaged are cordially invited.

The We-Cheer-Up class of the First M. E. church held a weenie and marshmallow roast at Grand Lodge, Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. William Bickett and their daughter, Mrs. George Kieppe, of Lansing, attended the funeral of Mrs. Bickett's sister, Mrs. Albert Ohlinger, of Ypsilanti, Wednesday, September 25.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Ellerby accompanied by their nieces, Harriet and Ruthalee Messacar, spent Sunday in Albion.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Jones, Bruce and Kathryn were at Otter Lake, Sunday, accompanied by Mrs. Jones' mother, Mrs. E. Rexstrew, who has been visiting in Holt for several weeks.

Mrs. Stanley Parker and son, Lawrence, have returned to their home after a sojourn of several weeks, north of Harrison.

The Rebekah dinner for September was held at the home of the Noble Grand, Mrs. Mary McDowell, Wednesday, September 25. Mrs. E. J. Hinneberger reported that more than $35 was cleared at the recent chicken pie supper and apron sale. Regular meeting is to be held Monday evening, October 7.

The opening meeting of the year for the Holt Women's club will be held with Mrs. William Douglas, Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock. Federation reports are to be given by the delegates. Roll call will follow and "Vacation Memories". Mrs. Honora Phillips is leader for the day and will call for "The Western Trip" by Mrs. Ernest Langham and "Cabin in the Laurel" by Mrs. Roy Shaft.

Henry Austin of Eckford, who has been a guest of his niece for the past week, has gone to visit his nephew,

A. R. Austin, and family near Jonesville.

The Past Noble Grand club will meet Wednesday, October 9, for their usual dinner.

Cane stalks which were raised on the farm of the late Arch Anderson, are now being crushed for the sap which will be boiled down and prepared for market by Sam Hodges and helpers. Horse power, on a sweep, is the force used to crush the stalks for the sap.

Mr. and Mrs. Frances Burgess have moved to Flint where both are employed. Mrs. Burgess was formerly Wilhelmina Holt.

Mrs. N. DeLashmut was hostess to a nurses' club from Lansing, Wednesday.

Mrs. Omer Wilkins was hostess to Division No. 1 of the Presbyterian Ladies Aid society at her home Wednesday, followed by a bazaar luncheon at noon, followed by a quilting. Mrs. Wilkins plan to move to Lansing soon and this is a farewell party for them.

Junior and senior high school were dismissed early Friday so that all might attend the Okemos-Holt football game.

The regular meeting of W. C. T. U. was held at the home of Mrs. Roy C. Shaft, Friday afternoon. Officers were elected: Mrs. Leon Clyde, president; Mrs. H. E. Gunn, vice president; Mrs. C. B. Cushman, secretary; Mrs. Frances Guenther, treasurer. Plans were made for several kinds of work for the year, among them was to offer a prize of some kind to the members of the fifth and sixth grades for essays and posters. Full plans will be announced later. Mrs. Roy Shaft, science temperance instructor for the organization, is the leader.

Next Thursday, October 10, is the day planned by the members of the Alpha Delta Tau class with Mrs. C. P. Andrews, the teacher for their relay day. Each member of the class is to come to the Presbyterian parsonage any time through the day, which is most convenient to her and work on the scrap books to be sent to children at Peiping, China, to the missionary there, Mrs. Wolford. She has sent many articles here and those with the work bags being made by the class and other interesting articles in connection with their project were on display in the Sunday school room of the church Sunday.

For the People's University many other courses have been added and suggested, including architecture, sculpture, sewing, Latin, Greek and shorthand. Mrs. Waldofsky has volunteered to teach sewing. Rev. C. P. Andrews, Latin and Greek in addition to other subjects and instructors mentioned before. A citizens committee is proposed to form an active directorate, consisting of the presidents of local organizations, ministers of both churches and the editor and secretary of the school board. Work will soon be started.

Superintendent L. G. Goodrich and Mrs. Goodrich were hosts to the members of the county superintendents' round table with their wives at their Duck Lake home, Saturday night. All

WEATHER OBSERVATIONS

September rainfall was 2.16 inches, not quite up to the normal of 2.91 inches. September was one of the few months of 1935 when the normal was not exceeded. The first nine months of the year has built up an excess of about an inch over normal but the excess is a good six inches over the first nine months for the past few years. There were nine rainy days during the past month. The first killing frost of the season came September 28 when the mercury dropped to 20 degrees. There was a high wind Monday which shook a lot of apples to the ground.

Despite the many warm days during the month, the weather was cold days at the beginning and end of September to drop the mean temperature below normal. The mean for the month was 60.6 against a normal of 61.4. The hottest day was September 19 when 81 degrees was recorded. The greatest daily range was on the 23rd when the mercury slid from 82 to 35.

Last Thursday's rain lasted for more than 24 hours. The rain began at eight o'clock Wednesday night and continued until 10 o'clock Thursday night. It was a real soaker although it came down easy.

"The finest corn my farm has ever raised," is the statement made by most Ingham county farmers this year. There is certainly a lot of good corn although many farmers have no livestock to feed. The Smiths west of Mason have 800 acres of excellent corn. They have White Dent and many of the ears are a foot long and weigh one and a quarter pounds. They are planning to ship in about 6000 western lambs to consume the corn. The lamb experts have also a real crop of soy beans growing in the corn. The Smiths lambs can really feast this year.

The western lamb crop is reported short and Ingham feeders are just a little anxious over the supply.

A. Reithmiller, who lives on the Mason-Dansville road, has a hen with a fancy turn of mind. Last week she produced a double egg, rather a strange egg. There were two separate eggs yoked together with a tubular shell. It is a real freak. Mr. Reithmiller believes the hen has been reading fifty's column in the Detroit Free Press.

The official September crop report of the United States department of agriculture lists Michigan corn as the best since 1925. Beans as 12 per cent above the five-year average, potatoes 28 per cent above the five-year average but below the 1934 yield, hay 21 per cent above average, pasture the best since 1924, sugar beets four per cent above average and all fruits above average.

The apple crop is listed as 42 per cent above average, peaches 36 per cent better than average and pears nine per cent. The total United States crops of the fruit are average or below so Michigan growers are in an enviable position. Wet weather in August harmed fruit to some extent.

Here is a report on the gourd industry. Mrs. Daniel Phelps of Stockbridge has a gourd vine from one stalk which covered the entire end of the building and produced four gourds. After the hard frost of Friday night Mrs. Phelps harvested the gourds. The biggest weighed 11 pounds. The other three weighed 7, 6½ and 3½ pounds each. Mrs. Phelps intended to cut the largest gourd into the shape of a basket and to give it a coat of shellac but it spoiled before she began operations.

Aurelius By Mrs. Mary Droscha

Rev. Thomas Toy of Lansing will be the speaker at the Young People's enjoyed a potluck supper and later a business meeting was held. Members were present from 10 nearby schools. The next meeting will be held in Haslett.

Mr. and Mrs. Oleo Valentine have moved to an apartment over the post-office.

Mr. and Mrs. Alan Albert, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wright and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Potter enjoyed an outing at Holland Lake, recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Robinson have moved into the house on Chestnut street vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lamoreaux, when they moved into their new home on East Deloit. The Missionary society of the Presbyterian church will hold their annual chicken pie supper Friday, October 4. It was a mistake in last week's paper that it was the Aid society. Also the date has been changed from October 12 to October 4. Mrs. Pearl Parker is chairman for the evening.

The Epworth League of the First M. E. church elected the following officers at their meeting Sunday: President, Karl Allen; first vice president, James Thorburn; third vice president, Robert Baisel; fourth vice president, Jerry Bennett; treasurer, Arthur A. Cook; secretary, Grace O'Connor; pianist, Mary Wells; assistant pianist, Geraldine Chappell.

The last meeting of the Missionary society of the First M. E. church was held with Mrs. C. L. Thompson, with election of officers Wednesday, October 2.

Mrs. Arzella Doty and family of Lansing, have moved to Holt in the house of her grandfather, Brice Spencer, and Mr. and Mrs. Spencer have moved to their former home in the same block.

Mr. and Mrs. Sylvan Spencer of Colorado, are visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Spencer.

Mrs. Anna Anderson held an auction at her former home south of Holt Tuesday afternoon. The family have moved to Townsend street, Lansing.

The Garden club met with Mrs. Mae Clever, Tuesday afternoon, October 1. Cuttings from shrubs and seeds were exchanged.

At 10 a. m. Sunday, Rev. E. A. Runkel will speak on the subject, "What Counts?" at the First M. E. church worship service. 11:10 Sunday school and 7:30 p. m. Epworth League services.

The Ladies Aid society of the First M. E. church will hold a regular meeting and serve a public school Thursday, October 11, in the church parlors.

LESLIE

By Mrs. Ernest Sherman

POOR POSTAL SERVICE
Last week the mail sacks carrying letters to the Ingham County News for Leslie subscribers were carried to Bay City and remained there overnight, being returned to Leslie Friday afternoon. The same thing happened several weeks ago. The poor postal service is not the fault of the Mason or Leslie postoffice. However, to insure that Leslie readers will receive their papers on Fridays the publishers have arranged to have the newspapers delivered by automobile to the Leslie postoffice Thursday afternoons.

Teacher Receives Scholarship
Lester Phillips, who has taught in the Leslie high school the past four years, has been presented a scholarship from the University of Michigan which came as a recommendation from Olivet college. Mr. Phillips is leaving at once to enter college where he will finish work on his Master's degree and continue studying for PhD degree. He will be greatly missed here not only as an instructor in the school and as director of the high school band and orchestra, but also in church and society circles, where he has willingly given his time in music or any way that was beneficial. Monday school assembly was held in his honor and he was presented with gifts from the faculty and from the upper classes.

To Speak at Citizens' Club
The regular monthly meeting of the Leslie Citizens' club will be held Monday evening in the G. A. R. hall with E. E. Young of Jackson, principal speaker. Mr. Young is state manager of the Northwestern Mutual Life insurance company and comes highly recommended as a valuable informant on present day conditions. E. Blackmore and M. P. Compton are in charge of the program, with Glenn Reaick, chairman of the banquet.

Rosier Troupe Presents Play
"Ten Nights in a Barroom" with a modern plot and a modern setting as an educational project of the antislavery league and written and directed by Harold Rosier of this place, will be presented at the following places during the next week: Monday evening at the opera house in Dansville; Tuesday evening at the Baptist church in Haslett; Wednesday evening at the Methodist church at Okemos; Thursday evening at the opera house in Webberville; Friday evening at the opera house in Gregory; and Sunday evening at the high school auditorium in Stockbridge. The first scene will be a modern beer garden called the "Wonder Bar", the second a scene at the Morgan home and the third depicts the same beer garden 10 years hence. The cast will consist of 20 characters. The seven principal ones who will travel with Mr. Rosier, who will play the lead, are Miss Genevieve Wright, Bruce Winslow, Howard Foster, Charles Glassbrook, Grace Glassbrook and Junior Lang.

Outlook Club Begins Meetings
Members of the Outlook club opened their year's activity with an 11 o'clock breakfast held at the home of Mrs. Mina Allen and sister, Mrs. Ursula Snyder, Tuesday. Greetings were extended by the president, Mrs. Nellie Vicary. Following grace by Mrs. Kitty Bailey, Mrs. Anna Taylor acted as toastmistress with the following response, "The Conversation, A Smile, A Smile, 'Start the Day With a Smile'." Mrs. Leila Straight. The next meeting will be held at the home of Miss Flora Briggs, at which time Mrs. Lucile Conger will be present as speaker.

Change Church Hour
A decision was made Wednesday evening at a special meeting of the Rev. E. L. Sutherland, pastor of the Congregational church, the board of directors, and the teachers of the church school, beginning October 13 to have Sunday school convene at 10 o'clock a. m., followed by preaching service at 11 o'clock. Heretofore church services preceded the Sunday school. The change, the pastor states, is to bring more children to the church service a part of which he will arrange for their special interest.

Church Announcements
The Rev. R. M. Lawrence, pastor of the Leslie, Felt Plains and Eden Methodist churches makes the following announcements. Leslie—church school 10:30 morning worship, 11:30 a. m. Sunday school. Felt Plains—Sunday school 10:30 a. m. Morning worship, 9:30 a. m. The pastor will speak on "The Tradition of the Elders." B. O. T. O. Club Holds First Meeting
The opening of the 43rd year of the End of the Twentieth Century club was observed Tuesday evening in the dining room of the Masonic hall with about 150 members and men guests seated at the banquet tables which were prettily centered with fall flowers. The Leslie high school orchestra furnished music and the invocation was by the Rev. R. M. Lawrence, pastor of the Methodist church. Greetings by Mrs. Bernice Whitney, club president, were followed by Miss Zora Grolier, toastmistress, introducing Dr. J. H. Mayskens of Ann Arbor, who talked on "Languages and Personality." Dr. Mayskens stressed the importance of the first impressions or signs of languages showing itself in the mother tongue and she croons to the baby clasped in her arms, rather than the more modern way of leaving the child the majority of the time to itself. Great personality, he contended, was the ability to express to your listeners your thoughts so convincingly that the grammar used would not be outstanding, or noticeable. A violin solo was played by Kenneth Howe, a new member of the high school faculty. Mrs. Whitney in her talk paid a fitting tribute to Lester Phillips, a member also of the school faculty, who is leaving soon to attend college at the University of Michigan.

Mrs. R. R. Haugh of Chicago, W. B. Wilcox of Jacksonville, Florida, and Mrs. H. A. Ludwig and daughters, Janice and Barbara, were guests during the past week and Sunday of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilcox.

Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Vergiever and daughter, Betty Berlino, of Grand Rapids, were callers Saturday at the Boyle home.

The Leslie high school girls team won in a game of soft ball played with the Dansville school girls at Dansville Tuesday afternoon with a score of 16-26. The local girls were accompanied by their coach, Miss Vesta Belle.

Under the direction of Miss Zora Grolier, the eighth grade pupils are working on a school paper.

The regular monthly meeting of the Student Council was held Monday evening.

The Number Nine Ladies Aid met with Mrs. Margaret Gordon, Thursday of the past week. A potluck supper was served. A program of readings was given by Mrs. Gertrude Harmon and Mrs. Florence Miner. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Anna Loughhead, October 24, with a potluck supper.

Mrs. Bessie Blackmore announces the next regular meeting of the Baptist L. A. S. will be held Wednesday in the parlors of the church. Division Number Two with Mrs. Constance True, chairman, will serve dinner. Miss Tillie Ingalls is enrolled in the Laura Ballies school of Beauty at Jackson.

Illinois People Say Their Health Troubles Vanished Months Ago

Illinois Residents Describe How They Got Complete Relief From Old, Stubborn Ailments That Had Hung On For Years. They Say Their Ailments Never Returned.

New Mixture of Extracts From Nature's Plants, Called Indo-Vin, Assureds Druggists All Over This Section.

The real test of any medicine is what it will do in cases of long-time suffering. That is why the new, scientific mixture of Natural plant extracts, known as Indo-Vin, continues to increase in SALES and DEMAND here in the city of Mason and general vicinity. In fact, this remarkable compound, which is being introduced to crowds daily here in Mason, has now become the SENSATION of the DRUG WORLD of this entire section and leading druggists are amazed at the demand and say that nothing like it has ever been seen here before.

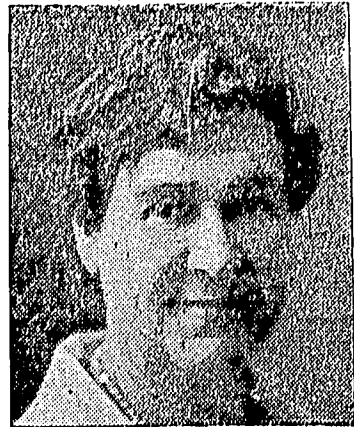

Why Its Benefits Are So Lasting! Following is a truthful account telling what Indo-Vin will do for you. This account is substantiated by the signed statements of hundreds of widely-known men and women, many living right here in Mason, who have publicly endorsed this new, natural medicine and urged ALL WHO suffer to get it and take it. This truthful account reads as follows:

Indo-Vin will cleanse your bowels (gradually—not drastic or severe) as they were NEVER CLEANSSED BEFORE, bringing out impurities that may have been the cause of head-aches, dizzy spells and lazy, tired feeling.

IT WILL act as a diuretic to sluggish kidneys and flush out quantities of impurity that may have become dammed up inside, causing SHARP PAINS and RISING AT NIGHT. IT WILL make your liver more active; will work the old bile from the liver as black as ink, thus relieving spells of biliousness.

In many cases Indo-Vin changes one's entire appearance; it will build you up in general and make you LOOK, ACT and FEEL like a DIFFERENT MAN OR WOMAN, years younger than your real age. For instance, following are JUST A FEW testimonials, from among the HUNDREDS that are being received from this vicinity, praising Indo-Vin, describing its action and urging sufferers to get it and take it. Read these statements:

Free of Kidney Misery 6 Months! MRS. HELENA DUFFRAYN, of 422 Sixth Ave., Peoria, Ill., says: (Photo appears above) "You don't know what a wonderful relief it is to be free of that awful kidney misery. I haven't been bothered with that awful agony for over six months, since I took Indo-Vin that long ago. My kidneys used to keep me in CONSTANT misery. In fact, I was so stiff and sore in my back, when I got up in the mornings, that I could hardly walk. I had to keep rising, with my kidneys all night long, which broke up my sleep and rest. Nothing helped me, until I got Indo-Vin, and it has done me more good than anything else PUT TOGETHER. It worked all the misery and soreness from my back, and completely freed me of the pain and torture. I never have to get up at night on account of my kidneys any more. I urge everyone who suffers to get this medicine and take it."

Awful Stomach Agony Relieved Months Ago!

MR. WILLIAM LANE, of 1802 N. Champaign St., Champaign, Ill., says: "For over SIX MONTHS now I have been free of stomach distress and it has not come back on me since I took Indo-Vin that long ago. My meals used to sour in my stomach and bloat me up with so much gas that I thought my insides were going to burst. The stomach gas would press on my heart and put me in so much pain with my chest that I would get dizzy all over and I kept having terrible sick headaches due to the awful condition of my stomach. I tried medicine after medicine and none of them ever reached my trouble at all, but finally I found Indo-Vin and it proved to be what I HAD ALWAYS NEEDED. The awful gas misery is gone now and I don't have the pains in my chest or around my heart, and the dizzy spells don't come over me. The headaches have vanished. This medicine has almost changed me into a NEW PERSON and I want to endorse it to everyone who suffers."

Indo-Vin is now being introduced to the public daily here in Mason at the Harrison drug store, and sold by all leading druggists in every town throughout this whole section.

That was the enthusiastic statement of A. G. Spenny, Oldsmobile dealer in Mason, after returning here in one of the 1936 model Oldsmobiles from a

SMITH'S FLASHY PLAY BRINGS MASON DEFEAT

MARoons PLAY ON EVEN TERMS IN LAST HALF.

Eaton Rapids Next For Mason, Team Is Showing Improvement As Experience Is Gained.

Smith, the elusive and speedy Charlotte backfield ace, romped around and through the Mason team for two quarters last Friday at Charlotte to aid his mates in piling up a 34 to 6 victory over Mason. Smith ran wild the first half but was stopped cold the second half when the Maroons ended shifted wide of the flank and turned him in. In the first half Smith was good for a first down every time he lugged the ball. On the return of punts he would run until he was tired out. But in the second half Mason outplayed Charlotte. In the second half the Maroons had the fight that was sadly lacking the first two quarters. A fine pass from Haskell to Bullen accounted for the Mason score in the third quarter. Haskell tossed a pass 20 yards and Bullen scampered 25 yards to cross the goal.

A blocked punt gave Charlotte its only touchdown in the last half. Haskell played a good game for Mason. Playing with an injured knee he could hardly stand on his feet yet he hurled some beautiful passes. Fuller cracked the Charlotte line for nice gains in the second half.

The starting lineup for Mason had Barto at left end, McEwen at left tackle, Thurby at left guard, Smith at center, Lamphere at right guard, Gruhn at right tackle and Young at right end. Bullen played quarterback with Haase and Haskell at the halves and Fuller at fullback. Huntington relieved Haase for the only backfield substitution. Irish, Walline, Silsky and Snow saw service in the line.

Eaton Rapids Friday Mason is to take on the heavy Eaton Rapids team at Eaton Rapids Friday afternoon. Eaton Rapids is a puzzle this season. Grand Ledge was crushed 12 to 0 and Eaton hopes beat high. Then along came the champion Trojans of East Lansing last week and downed Eaton Rapids 45 to 0. However, those who saw the game claim that Eaton Rapids was sadly off form and that everything clicked precisely for the East Lansing boy wonders.

If fair weather prevails, Mason school officials plan to dismiss classes for the tilt at Eaton Rapids. One game a year is chosen for an outing. The Mason band will also accompany the team. With the added support of the student body the victory-starved Maroons are expected to make a brave stand against the hefty Eaton Rapids aggregation.

School Softball Teams Victorious Over Holt

THREE MASON TEAMS WIN OPENING ENCOUNTERS.

While Mason seventh and eighth graders were beating Holt seventh and eighth graders 18 to 17 in a softball game at Mason Tuesday afternoon the Mason high school girls defeated the Holt girls and the Mason elementary team trounced the Holt elementary team.

Thelma Elliott did the hurrying for the Mason girls at Holt and turned in an excellent game. Her speed and control baffled Holt.

The game at Mason was a close affair. Mason had a lead of 14 to 8 at the end of the sixth and a flock of substitutions went in. Holt rallied and evened the count at 14 to 14 at the close of the seven-inning scheduled game. Holt went out in the eighth and counted three runs. Mason then staged a rally and made four runs to win.

Mason, Holt, Dansville and Leslie have arranged a series of home and home softball games this fall. Supt. Donald A. Murray has charge of the elementary team, Cyrus Barco is coach of the seventh and eighth graders and Miss Hattie Lucas is the leader of the girls' team. Games are to be played once and twice a week.

RIVALS DEFEATED BY HOLT AND DANSVILLE

HASLETT UPSETS THE ONCE HAUGHTY MAROONS.

Leslie Loses First Start In League Title Clash To Williamson Eleven.

Holt, Dansville, Haslett and Williamson maintained clean slates in Ingham county interscholastic football last Friday. Holt defeated Okemos 13 to 0, Dansville downed Stockbridge 25 to 0, Williamson beat Leslie 14 to 0 and Haslett upset the once powerful Dimondale team by the huge margin of 44 to 7.

Holt and Okemos had a close battle. Lott and Grindell made the Holt touch-downs as a result of a neat passing attack. Patterson lugged the ball across the goal for Okemos.

Dansville had an easy time with Stockbridge and gave Aggie supporters hopes that the fine team of last year may be duplicated. Dansville won by a 25 to 0 margin. Williamson took the measure of Leslie 14 to 0. The Hornets gained an eight-point lead in the first quarter on a touchdown and a safety and then added another touchdown in the second quarter. The teams played on even terms in the last half. County league football followers are just a little bit excited over the Haslett team. The Resorators trampled Dimondale 44 to 7. Heretofore the Dimondale Maroons have been at or near the top in league athletic rivalry and Haslett hasn't done so well. For Haslett to turn around and massacre the Maroons has upset the dope bucket. Don Devlin was the Haslett star with a run of 70 yards and another of 60. He made four of the Haslett touchdowns. The Resorators had a diversified attack and completely outplayed the demoralized Dimondale team in every department.

Grade Crossing Project Northwest Of Lansing

US-16 TO HAVE CROSSING OVER PERE MARQUETTE.

Bids on a grade separation project crossing the Pere Marquette tracks two miles northwest of Lansing on US 16 were opened October 3. Construction is scheduled to get under way by November 1.

When completed, this project will eliminate the railroad-highway intersection and the two sharp corners on each side of the present crossing. Traffic will follow a new route just north of the present one beginning at the intersection with Airport Road and ending approximately 3,000 feet west of the existing crossing. A bridge structure will carry traffic over the railroad tracks just east of the present crossing. The airport road will also be relocated to join US 16 just west of the new grade separation, thus eliminating another railroad crossing. Total length of the road project is nine-tenths of a mile.

Contracts to be awarded Thursday provide for lowering the railroad tracks 10 feet below their present level, and construction of the grade separation. A temporary route just south of the present roadway will be provided to permit tearing up of the railroad tracks where US 16 now crosses them. Total estimated cost for this work is $167,500. It is being financed by federal funds under the works relief program. It is planned to have the bridge structure completed by July 1, 1938.

Bids on the grading of the new location will be called for as soon as plans are completed. Concrete surfacing will be applied as soon as the grading has been finished and given an opportunity to settle. Total cost for the project including grading and paving is estimated at approximately $280,000.

OLD RESIDENT PASSES

Funeral services were conducted Monday from the Okemos Community church for the late Lewis Biebesheimer, 71, whose death occurred at the farm home on Hagadorn road, Friday. Mr. Biebesheimer is survived by three brothers, Adam of Alameda; Charles of Holt; and Phillip of Lansing. The body was laid to rest in the New Okemos cemetery. He had been a resident of the county nearly all his life and was a member of the I. O. O. F. and Masonic bodies of Okemos and highly respected in his community.

A lively entertainment drama is "Marie Galante", the screen attraction for Sunday and Monday. With Spencer Tracy and Ketti Gallian in the leading roles, it tells an exciting tale of the passage of the U. S. fleet through the Panama Canal, with a ring of international spies threatening both the fleet and the Canal with destruction. Ketti Gallian, charming European blonde, is seen as a young girl kidnapped in France and innocently entangled in the espionage plot, while Spencer Tracy is the U. S. Secret Service man who tries to get her out of her difficulties. Ned Sparks and Stepin Fetchit in good comedy roles, and Helen Morgan, Leslie Fenton and Arthur Byron are a few of the familiar names in the cast. A cartoon comedy and the Universal News complete this program.

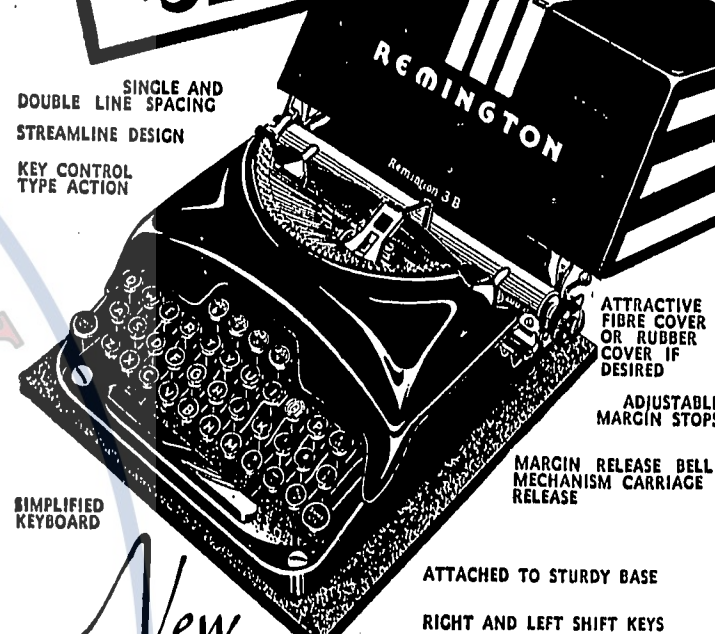

"Transient Lady", the famous Octavious Roy Cohen story which ran in Liberty magazine a short time ago, comes to the Mason screen as the feature attraction Tuesday and Wednesday. A distinguished cast headed by Henry Hull, Gene Raymond, Frances Drake and June Clayworth give a vigorous presentation of this tale of romance, comedy, intrigue and tragedy in a sleepy little Southern town. It's a picture for the whole family—packed with entertainment, excitement and romance.

Oswald the Lucky Rabbit in "Do A Good Deal" and chapter four of "The Phantom Empire" are added attractions for the midweek bill.

Secretary, Mrs. Leo Burton

Because of the success of the Spanish War night staged by the Legion a year ago there will be another joint affair this year. Ralph Adams is in charge of the party at which veterans of the Spanish War are to be guests of the Legion. At first it was proposed to have the party on Thursday night, October 17. However, the date may be shifted to Wednesday night or Friday night. Congressman William W. Blackney has been invited to speak and he is unable to appear on Thursday night. This date is to be decided at the meeting Thursday night of this week. All veterans of the Spanish War and especially all those who went from Mason, Leslie and Holt with Co. F of the 31st Michigan are expected to be present at Spanish War night.

The delegation to the St. Louis convention arrived in Mason Friday night in good condition. It was a good thing that Jack Healey and Joy Davis took Bill Barber along. When the traveling fund touched "excellent" "swell", "wonderful", "exquisite" and so on.

Joy Davis filled three notebooks with notes of the parade outfits and of the drum and bugle corps contest. Most of the entries read "marvelous", "wonderful", "excellent", "swell", "classy", "exquisite" and so on.

ROGERS CONVICTED
Spencer Rogers, Michigan State basketball player and a member of a Mason city league team last year, was found guilty of attempted criminal assault on a Lansing girl. The jury returned the verdict Tuesday afternoon in circuit court in Lansing. Alexander Varsoko, another college student, and Rogers were charged with rape but the jury returned a verdict on a lesser charge. The men are in jail awaiting sentence.

Plan Tuesday Meeting On Extension Project

WOMEN READY TO BEGIN ON EXTENSION COURSE.

"Bringing Clothes Up-to-date" is the subject of the first discussion in the co-operative project of home economics extension work in Ingham county, which will be tendered the local group leaders at the training center to be held in the court house in Mason, Tuesday, October 8, starting at 10 a. m.

Miss Helen Strow, who conducts the work, states that this lesson embodies suggestions for remodeling garments which have been discarded on account of style or fit, or because of being partly worn. Stain removal, cleaning and laundering methods, dyeing and renovation of silk, rayon and woolen materials will be demonstrated. What to do when sleeves have been worn at the armholes; how to change the neckline and sleeves; how to adapt the old garment to newer style trends are some of the clothing problems to be considered.

Guests are welcome at the local group meeting, and women who do not feel that they can sign up as members for the entire course are invited to avail themselves of the opportunity to attend meetings near them that are of special interest or of most practical value to themselves and families. On the same date at 10 a. m., all local group secretaries and recreation leaders in the Mason area are asked to meet with the county leaders, Mrs. Madge Veary (recreation) and Mrs. Bernice Gretton (publicity) to acquaint themselves with duties relative to their respective offices as laid out by Miss Edna V. Smith, director of home economics extension work in Michigan. In case any officer is unable to attend, it would be appreciated if a representative from the same group could supply the vacancy. Secretaries' books will be distributed Tuesday.

FORMER RESIDENT DEAD

Earl A. Gardner died in Detroit Monday night. He was the son of the late Judge Henry Gardner who preceded Judge L. B. McArthur of the Ingham probate court. Earl A. Gardner attended the Mason school. Funeral services were held in Detroit Thursday morning. The body was taken to Mason for burial Thursday afternoon. Mr. Gardner was manager of the Detroit office of a New York brokerage house.

ACCEPTS HOSPITAL POSITION

Miss Marian Valieu, a graduate of the Mason high school in 1931, has completed her training course at St. Joseph Mercy hospital in Ann Arbor. She has accepted a position in surgery in that hospital.

JANIS swung the racket with a vengeance that threatened to break the strings.

And a moment later she returned it.

On the opposite side of the net, Amy Eldredge was racing across the court in a desperate attempt to return the drive. She failed. The crowd roared, applauded, looking toward Janis.

It was the play-off of the women's single tennis championship. Janis was the favorite.

And despite the fact that the sets were even and it had begun to look as though Amy Eldredge might have a chance of capturing the match, Janis was still the favorite.

Champions such as Janis don't lose their following in a breath.

Janis heard the roar of the crowd as she had heard it on hundreds of previous occasions.

She turned automatically to look at them.

Her gaze swept the sea of admiring faces, and didn't see them.

Her mind moved swiftly. Kirk should be sitting in his usual seat just behind the umpire's stand. He had coupled that seat every day during the matches. And—yes, there he was.

Her heart turned over. He wasn't looking at her.

Of the hundreds of faces that were there his was the only one that wasn't turned in her direction.

He was looking toward Amy.

Just as he had constantly looked toward Amy every moment since the match got under way.

Janis bit her lip and walked back to receive Amy's serve.

Her mind wasn't on the game. She was thinking of Kirk.

Lots of girls thought of Kirk Francis, but not quite in the same way as Janis thought of him.

Janis had been introduced to Kirk six months ago. It was at a week-end party up in the mountains—a winter sports affair.

She had been tennis champion then and was quite an important figure in the world of sports.

It was Kirk's attitude that first attracted the girl.

The fact that she was a tennis heroine didn't seem to affect him a bit.

For the first time since she had become famous, Janis met a man who treated her as he would any other human being.

In fact, a month later, after they had become better acquainted and were back in the city, Kirk admitted quite frankly that champions at anything gave him a pain in the neck. They had an exalted opinion of themselves and were quite put out if a lot of silly people didn't slobber over them.

Janis had laughed, and loved him for it.

She learned to love him a lot more during the next five months.

There were few women who didn't. But Janis was different. Her love was sound, based on fact and clear thinking; the sort of love that doesn't wear off.

That was what hurt most. When Amy appeared on the scene and Kirk fell in love with her, Janis realized her own predicament was serious.

She had come to love Kirk, and now she couldn't get over it.

The thing had embedded itself too deeply in her soul.

It was easy to see that Kirk had lost his head over Amy.

You could tell that by the expression that came to his face when he talked with her. And Janis wasn't idiot enough to believe she could ever win him for herself.

Amy was small and extremely pretty. She may have had the muscular build of a tennis champion, but the lines of her didn't show it. You'd think, to look at the girl, she was some delicate butterfly, who never did a stroke of physical exercise in her life.

And so Janis, realizing the hopelessness of her predicament, sat down by herself in order to give the matter some thought.

She was a sane girl and, being sane, she didn't make any bones about telling herself her craving for Kirk wouldn't wear off with time or lengthy separation or any of the generally accepted remedies for such maladies.

What, she asked herself therefore, was the next best thing to do?

The answer came almost at once. Make Kirk happy!

The mere fact that she knew Kirk was happy would relieve somewhat the hurt of her own tortured soul.

And as far as Janis could reason the only way of making Kirk happy was to hand him Amy on a platter. Janis realized with a sudden sense of shock that it was within her power to turn Amy over to the man she loved.

For Janis knew that unless Amy won the tennis championship she'd never marry anyone.

Tennis was a passion with Amy; it came before anything.

And that is why at the beginning of the last set of the three-day series of matches for the women's championship, played between Amy Eldredge and Janis Moore, the rally was even and the outcome seemed to lean toward the challenger.

Janis' swift drive that had won for her the applause of the crowd was the result of impulse, of a sudden impetuous desire to put the full strength of her skill into the swing of the racket, to play her best, to win.

But the feeling passed.

MORE IMPROVEMENTS
There have been many improvements listed in Mason the past few weeks. New buildings and new fronts have been constructed. Two improvements have been overlooked. A. G. Spenny & Sons purchased the steam plant which had been installed in the Spenny garage. The Spenny's lay no claims to being steamfitters but they put in the plant and it functions properly. The other improvement is the coat of paint given the jail building by Ry Foucher, jail engineer.

Standing there, waiting for Amy's serve, she was, once more in control of herself, thinking of Kirk, willing to sacrifice her rating in the world of sport to bring him happiness with another girl.

Somewhat it all seemed incredible. It didn't seem possible she was actually doing the thing. And yet she was.

The ball crashed over the net. Janis scooped it up, sent it whirling back to Amy's court.

Again it came, and again Janis returned it.

They rallied for a matter of minutes. Then Janis seemed to stumble. The edge of her racket struck the ball, sent it spinning out of bounds.

A murmur ran through the crowd. Grim-faced, Janis took her stand, awaiting a new serve.

It came.

She swung swiftly.

The ball crashed into her racket, rebounded, rushed back toward the other court, and then—snap—the net had stopped the play.

Janis had to grip herself to go on. She wished it was over.

She decided to dub them both, even though they knew she was doing it on purpose. But nobody did know.

Janis had sacrificed the game in a manner that gave all the credit to Amy. And for this she was thankful.

Kirk was waiting for her when she came from the dressing room an hour later.

"I was watching you, Janis. I saw you know the game. Why?"

"Why, Kirk?"

He interrupted, shaking his head. "Don't try to lie out of it, Janis. May be those other idiots didn't realize what you were up to, but I did."

Janis caught her breath.

"You'll never tell me, Kirk?"

"Why did you do it?"

"I'm sick of tennis and all the glamour of being champion. I want to go away and rest. Forget it for a while."

"Lying again. That isn't so."

"It is. I mean every word of it."

He studied her intently.

"Janis, let me go with you. Marry me."

Janis felt herself awaking, and tried to smile.

"Kirk! You don't know what you're saying. Amy—"

"Amy, be d—d. I never told her I loved her, and I don't. I've always loved you, Janis. Always. I—I thought you were too engrossed, too taken up with being tennis champion to even think about love."

"But you've changed your mind?"

"Yes."

"Why? Because I said I was sick of it?"

He shook his head.

"No. Because you just handed the championship to Amy. There was a reason for it. I don't dare think what it is. But I do know that you were thinking about something else besides tennis. And that's enough for me."

Janis let herself go then. She didn't try to keep from swaying. Kirk was there to hold her; hold her tight and kiss the lips that were returned to meet his.

Imported Reindeer Held Boon for Poor Eskimos

Eskimos of Canada's Far North will develop in the next few years from a semi-starved to a thrifty, well-fed pastoral people, officials of the Lomen Reindeer company believe.

Delivery of 2,300 head of reindeer by the firm at Kittigazuit, Northwest territory, furnished nucleus of a new industry and basis of support for the Eskimos. The herd reached waiting corals on the east shore of the McKenzie river, after a five-year drive, across the miles by direct line, across the Arctic circle from Nabaktoolik, Alaska.

The Canadian government will keep it intact for a year, officials say. The number should nearly double, as most of the animals were mature females.

"Next year the herd probably will be divided into four parts and driven to different sections of the North," Lomen said. "Those herds will be subdivided when they have multiplied. Not for several years will individuals and villages get actual ownership of the deer."

Meanwhile the Eskimos will receive instruction in caring for reindeer and most effective methods of handling reindeer products.

The same procedure was followed successfully in Alaska by the American government. Coming of white men, with new weapons, curtailed native food supplies. The Eskimo population was near starvation each winter.

Between 1892 and 1902 the government imported 1,250 reindeer from Siberia. Today there are more than 1,000,000 in Alaska, of which about 700,000 are owned by the 15,000 Eskimos. The Lomen corporation owns about 270,000, the government the remainder.

Rare Transparent Jewel
Foremost among the rarely beautiful transparent jewels is the tourmaline. Its range of colors in natural light is far wider than that of the alexandrite, and indeed includes practically every color of the spectrum. Those used primarily for gem purposes are usually deep or opaque greens, delicate pinks or ruby reds. Many expensive tourmalines have two exquisite colors blended superbly by mother nature. For instance, there is the famous "watermelon" shade which consists of a thick center of a deep pink hue with a thin outer edge of green.—Washington Star.

BURNED BY WATER
Fern Rhy Eames, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Eames, was severely burned by scalding water Saturday.

BIG POTATOES FOR JAIL
There will be plenty of potatoes at the county jail this winter. Eugene Edger, jail farm manager, started his potato harvest this week. On Wednesday afternoon he dug 53 potatoes that made a bushel. All were solid spuds without a hollow one in the lot.

MEETING OF BAPTISTS INTERESTING SESSION

CHARLOTTE PASTOR POINTED TO LIQUOR EVILS.

Claims Church Fell Down On Prohibition Task, Report Shows Increase In Church Strength.

The annual meeting of the Jackson Baptist association was held in the Baptist church of Mason, Wednesday and Thursday of last week. Dr. W. B. Hartzog of Mason read a history of the local Baptist church which recalled names connected with the early history of Mason.

Solos were rendered by Mrs. Maxine Ridge of this city. The Rev. R. J. Fields of Charlotte gave the annual sermon. He said there are many organizations taking up the time and money of our citizens, but the church is the most important organization, next to the home. "The church is and always has been the target of many criticisms, but it will never go out of existence," he said.

"The preacher is compelled to learn and to grow because his job is so complex and varied," he pointed out. "Fifty thousand barkeepers kept their organization all through the years of prohibition and worked for the return of drink. The churches fell down on the job. As a consequence the condition of things in the sale of booze is worse today than it has ever been."

"The church is a great teaching organization. The most essential meetings of the church are the prayer meeting, worship service and the Sunday school. The first Christians were not rich folk, nor were they politically powerful or socialites, they were known for their goodness."

The letters from the various churches of the area show that there is an increase in finances and membership. The morale of the churches is on the upgrade. The Rev. Ralph Taylor, Andem of Lansing, who is secretary of the Baptists of Michigan, spoke in behalf of the pastors. He described the conditions of ministers since the depression struck the country. "The salaries of preachers are so low as to be shocking to fair-minded people," he said. "Sweet shop wages are being paid by churches. Three dollars, four dollars per week are not unknown in Michigan and on that salary a man must keep wife and children and buy books."

Rev. Carnall of Albion spoke on the Sunday school. "Sunday schools are indispensable to the full life of a child," he said. "An efficient Sunday school will keep young people from behind prison bars. Of all the additions to all denominations last year 83 out of every 100 came from the Sunday schools."

Mrs. A. LeGrande of China gave vivid descriptions of that country and the way it is changing.

Resolutions were passed by the association for the help of aged Baptist ministers who are destitute or nearly so.

ANNOUNCE LOW BIDDERS
Bids were opened by the highway department Thursday morning for the construction of a grade separation on U. S. 16, two miles northwest of Lansing. The lowest bids were approximately $144,096.00. The contract was divided two ways. Jutton-Kelly Company of Detroit, had the lowest bid for building of temporary road and track work at $69,955.65. L. A. Davidson of Williamston, submitted the lowest bid for the construction work at $74,740.57. The bids have been approved but not officially accepted, but it is expected that they will be, and work will be started at once.

MUNITH NEWSPAPER
John Van Havel has launched a newspaper in Munith. It is called the Munith News.

GOOD ONION CROP
H. W. Silsby and sons are harvesting their onion crop at the farm one-half mile west of Mason. The onions are reported excellent this year.

dorsal vertebra was crushed, resulting in paralysis of the body from that point downward. The result of this condition is that he has no control of his bowels or urinary system. He was hospitalized for about a year, receiving apparently the best medical and surgical treatment. The result is that for five years he has been unable to perform any kind of labor. The evidence shows that this condition is permanent.

"Under the law plaintiff is entitled to receive such sums as he has necessarily spent for hospitalization, for doctors and nurses, and medicine; also to receive compensation for loss of earnings during the period since the accident, about five years; also such sums as he might in the future earn, except for this accident, his life expectancy being sixteen and seven-tenths years. In addition to these sums he is entitled to the monetary value of his pain and suffering."

"This court, sitting as a fact finding jury, after a review of all the testimony, finds that following amounts as damages to plaintiff:

|   |             |
|---|-------------|
| Hospitalization, medical care, nurses and medicine.....                     | $4583.20   |
| For loss of wages from the time of the accident up to the present time..... | 5000.00     |
| For loss of future wages, computed at the present worth of money.....       | 6000.00     |
| For pain and suffering up to the present time.....                          | 5000.00     |
| Total.....  | $20,583.20 |

"Therefore, in the opinion of this court, a judgment of twenty thousand five hundred and eighty-three and twenty-one hundredths dollars should be entered against defendant, the county of Ingham, and in favor of plaintiff, Andrew G. Lang."

Gets 10 Days In Jail For Cheering Verdict

Ben Tilson of Lansing is letting his ardor cool off in the county jail. When a friend of his was acquitted in circuit court in Lansing Monday afternoon on a charge of indecent exposure Tilson wanted to show his appreciation. He clapped his hands when the verdict was announced. Judge Leland W. Carr was on the bench and he ordered the sheriff to clap Tilson in jail for 10 days. The charge was contempt of court. Tilson is a native of Russia and claims that applauding a jury is an old Russian custom.

Italian City Designed for Aviation "Center"

Italy is building a new city—Guidonia. Recently, Littoria, Sabaudia, Pontinia and Mussolinia, new towns which were built as rural centers, appeared in the news headlines. Now Guidonia, named in honor of Alessandro Guidoni, one of Italy's most famous pilots, who was killed in an airplane disaster in 1923, harks in the spotlight of Italy's city-building program.

Guidonia is only 10 miles from Rome, says a bulletin from the Washington headquarters of the National Geographic society. Aviation caused its construction, and according to plan, aviation will dominate its industries. It will, in fact, be a giant aviation laboratory manned by scientists and laymen whose first interest is research and experimentation in aviation.

No airplanes or airplane motors will be built there, but in its laboratories will be found the most modern equipment for making all sorts of experiments on model airplanes. One part of the "laboratory" will be devoted entirely to research on flying in the stratosphere.

When the city is completed, officials and employees will live in comfortable homes and work in a carefully planned buildings. There will be churches, a city hall, schools, and construction and other shops. Most interesting, perhaps, of the completed buildings are the mysterious looking towers in which model airplanes already are being tested.

In the Radio pavilion, scientists now experiment with the use of radio in aviation. In the three-story building of the Superior Board for Studies and Experiments, intensive study is being made of air photography and of the many instruments used in airplanes. In other buildings tests are made on motors, and the speed of hydroplanes. The Aerodynamic galleries are equipped with ventilators worked by 450 horsepower motors that cause winds of strong velocity to test the strength of model airplanes.
