TOWNSHIPS VOTE MONDAY TO FILL LOCAL OFFICES

SUPERVISORS TO BE CHOSEN IN 16 TOWNSHIPS.

Only One Ticket In Lansing, Locke, Leslie And Onondaga, Slips May Be Used.

Township offices will be filled at the annual election to be held Monday, April 6. In 12 of the 16 townships both republicans and democrats have tickets. Lansing, Leslie, Locke and Onondaga townships have no democratic tickets. However, it is reported that a sticker campaign is to be made on three or four offices in Leslie.

Officers to be elected are supervisor, clerk, treasurer, justice of the peace, member of board of review, constables, highway commissioners and in some townships, highway overseers. Highway officers have lost their meaning now that the county has taken over all township roads. The only duty remaining for a township highway commissioner is his responsibility as fence viewer and he is seldom called on to serve in that capacity.

Supervisors Seek Return

Vevay is the only township where the incumbent supervisor is not running for re-election. Sup. Walter R. Carven of Vevay, withdrew at the republican caucus.

The four supervisors who are unopposed at the election are all republicans, Roy Moore of Lansing, Claude Young of Leslie, Guy O. Dostander of Onondaga, and Joseph Speers of Locke.

In Alameda township Sup. E. A. Tyler (R) is opposed by John Lay (D). Sup. Claude Edgar (D) of Aurelius is opposed by Roscoe Barry (R). Sup. Ward Veary heads the Bunkerhill democratic ticket. Against him is running Robert Hawley (R), former supervisor.

Meridian supervisors renominated John B. Fay as supervisor, Rina Lot (R) is again in the lists in opposition to Sup. Fay. Sup. Charles Woods (D) of Ingham has Herman Mann (R) for an opponent. Sup. Fred R. Husehke (D) of Leroy is running against Claude Keith (R), former supervisor. Meridian democrats have Sup. John Green at the head of their ticket. The republican candidate is Lloyd Cavanaugh. Sup. John Brogan (D) of Stockbridge has A. E. Fletcher (R) as an opponent. Wilfred Jewett is the republican candidate for supervisor in Vevay. He is opposed by Willis Colner (D).

Sup. David Beatty (D) of Wheatfield, has John Gaylord (R) as an opponent. White Oak democrats renominated Sup. Ralph Hayner. The republican candidate is Fred Marshall, a former supervisor. Sup. P. Van Buren (D) of Williamston, has Robert Jones, a former supervisor, as his opponent.

Lansing, East Lansing and Mason supervisors are elected on non-partisan tickets at fall elections. Although the city supervisors are elected on non-partisan tickets their political lineup is said to be eight republicans and two democrats from Lansing, three republicans and one democrat from East Lansing and two republicans from Mason.

The makeup of last year's board of supervisors was 20 republicans and 12 democrats. Monday's election is not expected to change the lineup more than one or two either way.

Farmers Take Interest In Soil Conservation

MEETINGS HELD IN COUNTY ARE WELL ATTENDED.

Wide interest in the new federal farm program is evidenced by large attendance at educational meetings being held in all townships this week. The meetings are conducted by members of the temporary county committee consisting of H. H. Barnum, W. L. Jewett, W. R. Carven, H. E. Splink and D. C. Beatty. Members of the committee attended a state meeting at East Lansing last week, at which time the program from representatives of the adjustment administration.

At the meetings township committees are being elected who will have charge of program matters in their respective townships. The plan involves no contract but applications for grants will be received later from those who have increased the percentage of their tillable acres devoted to soil conserving crops as compared to their 1935 performance.

Under the new soil conservation program, farmers may qualify for either or both of two types of payments: (1) a soil conserving payment for the shifting of acreage from soil-depleting crops to soil-conserving and soil-building crops or to approved soil-building uses; and (2) a soil-building payment for such farming practices as are recommended by the state committee and approved by the secretary of agriculture. Such farming practices have not been definitely determined as yet but are likely to include the establishment of new seedlings of soil building crops, pasture improvement, and liming.

Some confusion exists as to exactly what growers of sugar beets may expect in the way of requirements and payments. It is believed that some modification of present regulations will be made and that definite rulings on points at issue may be expected within a week or so.

Township meetings are being held Thursday night in Locke, Onondaga and Ingham. Friday evening's meetings in Williamston, Vevay and Wheatfield complete the series.

TO RAISE FUNDS

E. A. Denmore, Mason attorney, former postmaster and an alumnus of Cleary Business college at Ypsilanti, has been named head of an organization to seek funds for the development and expansion of the institution. He will have charge of volunteer fund workers in Ingham, Eaton, Kent, Allegan, Clinton, Gratiot, Livingston, Shiawassee, Ionia, Ottawa, Montcalm and Muskegon counties.

SELLS PROPERTY

N. N. Rouse has sold the property at the corner of Columbia and State streets, formerly occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Enoch Beebe, to Claude Perrin.

Former Detroit News Executive Finds Health And Contentment Back On Farm

From an executive position in the business office of one of the largest newspapers in the world to managing a Vevay farm is quite a change yet that change has yielded health and contentment and a basic philosophy to Ellis J. Rider, formerly an advertising expert with the Detroit News. He came back to the soil and found it good.

Mr. Rider is a native of Ingham county. He sprang from the Aurelius Rider clan. His grandfather was Joseph Rider. His father was Jay Rider. The grandson of the pioneer Aurelius settler was born near Aurelius Center and attended the district school and later attended Eaton Rapids high school. Young men were then needed in the cities. Opportunity beckoned and the Rider youth went to Ypsilanti to become better prepared. After graduating from Cleary Business college the young man went into the office of W. E. Scripps of the Detroit News.

Detroit then was no great city. Neither was the Detroit News the great newspaper it is today. Mr. Rider was secretary to a business genius who developed along with the city. The Detroit News expanded year after year and Mr. Rider began his climb toward the top. For 13 years he held important positions in the business office and then when Detroit and the Detroit News really hit their stride Mr. Rider was given charge of developing new business with national accounts. He traveled widely over the United States to contact manufacturers and jobbers offering goods for sale in the great Detroit market. It was high pressure business and it took its toll. In his seventh year as advertising contact man and his 20th year with the Detroit News, Mr. Rider "cracked up," as he expresses it. He strenuous traveling had undermined his health. But he kept on going until he suffered a general breakdown.

For two years Mr. Rider was a patient in a Canadian hospital fighting to regain his health. He made progress and left the hospital to rejoin the Detroit News. After a few months on the job, though, Mr. Rider realized it would be but a few months before he was headed for another breakdown. He had had two years in which to learn his lesson so he diagnosed his own case and doctors approved the treatment. That treatment was to return to the farm.

That is why Mr. and Mrs. Rider and Miss Dorothy took leading parts in "Return of the Native." Mrs. Rider had never lived on a farm and the daughter had been born and reared in Detroit. But the wife and daughter were anxious that Mr. Rider do what he thought best and were willing to leave the city to make a new start on the farm. That spirit has been manifested by Mrs. Rider and the daughter.

Former Resident Sues For Accident Injuries

CLAIMS DAMAGES IN AUTO-BILE CRASH LAST FALL.

Lucille McPrangle of Lansing, formerly a Mason resident, has started suit to collect $5000 from Orla Maine of Mason. Mrs. McPrangle claims she was permanently injured while riding in Mr. Maine's car on October 2, 1935. In her declaration she sets forth that she received a permanent injury to her knee, that her back was seriously injured and that she was cut and bruised as a result of a crash which she claims resulted from the reckless manner in which the driver handled his car on a wet and slippery pavement.

Pierce and Planck, Lansing attorneys, are representing Mrs. McPrangle in the damage case.

County Seat Banker Heads Toward Home

A. J. HALL WRITES OF CALIFORNIA SCENES, WEATHER.

A letter received from Albert J. Hall from Los Angeles states that he expects to begin his return trip to Michigan soon after April 1. He describes a recent trip to Boulder Dam, thence to Death Valley and over the Redwood highway back to Los Angeles. He describes trees which were five feet in diameter when Columbus landed on his journey of discovery and which now contain sufficient lumber so that a single tree when sawed into lumber will provide sufficient material for seven or eight, six room homes. Recent freezes, he reports, has done considerable damage to fruit orchards besides making the tourists uncomfortable.

Mr. Hall expects to visit San Diego and then will begin his homeward trip by way of San Francisco and Salt Lake City at both of which points he will stop for brief visits.

Lansing Lawyer Dies, Well Known In State

FUNERAL RITES WEDNESDAY FOR HARRY A. SILSBE.

Harry A. Silsbee, 64, Lansing attorney for upwards of 40 years, died in Lansing Monday noon. Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Silsbee was a member of the law firm of Shields, Silsbee, Ballard & Jennings and was well known throughout the state. For 10 years he had served as secretary of the State Bar association and was a former president and secretary of the Ingham County Bar association. In 1907 he was clerk of the judiciary committee of the house of representatives and later became secretary to the speaker of the house. For three years he was head of the division of cheated estates in the attorney general's office. The law firm of which Mr. Silsbee was a member is recognized as being one of the most important in the state. For a number of years it was known as Thomas, Shields & Silsbee.

RETURNS FROM HOSPITAL

Mrs. Fred Miller has sufficiently recovered from her recent operation to permit her removal from St. Lawrence hospital to the home of her son, Wayne, at Holt. It is expected that she will soon be able to return to her home in Vevay.

Rate Cut Effective On Electric Energy

Consumers Power customers will pay for current at the reduced rates after March bills are paid.

All readings made during April will be billed at the new rates which are about 12 per cent lower than rates heretofore charged. Gas users will also have reductions when natural gas is made available in about 60 days. Natural gas is hotter than artificial gas. Before natural gas can be used it will be necessary to change present burners for burners with small orifices. The change is to be made by the Consumers without charge to customers.

LIKES FARM LIFE

Ellis J. Rider likes farm life. For 20 years he was an executive of the Detroit News. Now he is "down on the farm" and likes it. He took up farming to regain his health. Here Mr. Rider is shown with King, a nice Col. He raises Beagle hounds as a hobby. His chicken flocks have proved profitable. His Wood-Crest brand eggs are sold exclusively by a Lansing grocery firm.

Was a boy. The farm was named Wood-Crest by the Riders. Mr. Rider doesn't have much time to worry over his health. This year besides operating his own farm of 140 acres he is working 100 acres of an adjoining farm.

The major interest of Mr. Rider is in livestock and poultry. He has one of the finest flocks of chickens in the county and they pay him a profit. He was one of the first to accept the new Michigan egg-grading plan and has his own Wood-Crest labels to mark his (Continued on Page 12, Col. 3)

SHUT UP CHICKENS

A city ordinance provides that chickens shall not be allowed to run at large. They must be kept penned. Mayor Arthur W. Jewett said Monday that he has received several complaints from residents that their neighbors are allowing chickens to run at large.

Jury Returns Verdict Against Drunk Driver

BATTLE CREEK MAN PAYS FINE AND COSTS.

A six-man jury in Justice William S. Seelye's court Monday afternoon found Cleo F. Brown, Battle Creek contractor, guilty of drunk driving near Lansing March 16. Judge Seelye fined Brown $50 and cost of $24.15 and forced him to surrender his operator's license. The fine and costs were paid.

Brown was arrested by state police near Lansing March 16. He pleaded not guilty to the charge of drunk driving. At the trial Monday he was defended by Paul G. Egan, Lansing attorney. Assistant Prosecutor Benjamin F. Watson represented the people. H. H. Snyder, Roy Bartholomew, Harry E. Neely, Almon Lathrop, Ralph Heins and Irvin Sanford served on the jury.

Former Teacher Dies Year After Husband

FUNERAL RITES THURSDAY FOR MRS. IRA THORPE.

Mrs. Ira S. Thorpe, 60, died at the home of Mrs. Bertha Shafer Tuesday following a short illness. Her husband died January 27, 1935. Services for Mrs. Thorpe were held Thursday afternoon at the Ball funeral home, 1015 W. Daniel Huntwork officiating, with burial in Woodlawn cemetery in Jackson.

Nellie K. Price, the daughter of George and Julia Price, was born in Wheatfield township August 12, 1875. She attended Mason high school from 1893 to 1895 and was graduated in 1896. Five years later she completed her preparation for teaching at Michigan State Normal at Ypsilanti and for several years taught in Jackson and Lansing schools. On June 17, 1909, she married Ira S. Thorpe of Jackson. After residing in Jackson for several years they moved to their farm in Vevay township near Mason where they made their home for 15 years. About a year ago Mrs. Thorpe took up her residence at the Mrs. Shafer home.

Mrs. Thorpe had been a member of the Baptist church since girlhood and was a member of the Order of the Eastern Star.

Surviving Mrs. Thorpe are two sisters, Mrs. Carrie Miller of Owosso and Mrs. Cora Graybill of Galva, Illinois, and a brother, Charles Price of Mason. There also remain a nephew and several nieces.

TO ATTEND CONVENTION

Dr. F. J. Kellogg plans to attend the 40th semi-annual convention of the Michigan Society of Optometrists to be held at the Pandit hotel in Grand Rapids, April 5, 6 and 7. Dr. Kellogg is a member of the audit and finance committee of the state association.

ATTEND CONVENTION

Mr. and Mrs. K. A. Zimmerman were in Detroit Monday to attend the General Electric convention at the Statler hotel. The convention was broadcast over a world-wide hookup.

DELEGATES TO BE NAMED AT PARTY CONVENTIONS

STATE DELEGATES TO NAME NATIONAL TICKET.

Presidential Campaigns To Get Underway With Start Of County Convention Machinery.

Presidential politics will take the stage in April. The beginning of the 1936 campaign in Ingham will be in Mason where the republican and democratic county conventions are to be held. The republicans are to meet in Mason Tuesday, April 14, while the democrats will make the Mason pilgrimage on Saturday, April 25.

Delegates to district and state party conventions will be named at the county conventions. The state conventions will choose delegates to attend the national conventions where candidates for president and vice president will be named. The republican state and district conventions are to be held in Detroit April 24. The democratic state convention is scheduled to be held in Grand Rapids. Republicans will hold their national convention in Cleveland. Democrats have chosen Philadelphia as their national convention city.

Ingham republicans will choose 44 delegates to represent the county at the state and district conventions. The sixth congressional district will send two delegates to the Cleveland convention. There are also to be four delegates at large chosen by the state convention.

Dunn to Speak

Republicans have chosen Assistant Attorney General Dunn of Muskegon to be the keynote at the county convention. He is also legal advisor to Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald.

The democrats have not yet decided on a keynote speaker for the county convention. Lyle E. Austin of Lansing, is chairman and William S. Carpenter of Lansing is secretary of the county republican committee. Charles Cutsid of Lansing is secretary of the county democratic committee.

Delegates to the county conventions will be those who were elected delegates by wards at the primary elections held in September, 1934. Michigan no longer holds preferential primaries for presidential candidates. Until four years ago farcial primaries were held. They meant nothing however, because the delegates chosen to represent the state at the political conventions were not bound to vote for the candidates favored in the preferential primaries. The primary elections were costly and had come to have no meaning so they were cast out by the 1931 legislature.

It is expected that the delegates chosen at the state democratic convention will be instructed to vote for the renomination of President Roosevelt at the national convention. Republican delegates will probably be instructed to vote for the nomination of Senator Vandenberg if he is a candidate at the national republican convention.

Hens Lose Positions As Pheasant Matrons

INCUBATORS AND BROODERS DISPLACE MOTHER HENS.

Hens employed for years to hatch pheasant eggs are now being displaced by incubators and brooders. The game birds have been liquidated at the game farm. The hens have been sold and giant incubators now have the field to themselves. Electrically-heated brooder houses will mother the pheasant chicks after the incubators force them through the shells.

Drain bonds are backed by the faith and credit of the drainage district, the township and the county. If taxes specially assessed against the drainage district become delinquent the county from its general fund is forced to retire the bonds when they fall due.

Brownell Drain Bonds To Be Offered Monday

TO FINANCE BROWNELL EXTENSION DRAIN IN STOCKBRIDGE.

Francis N. Bateman, county drain commissioner, will receive bids on $100 of Brownell drainage bonds up to five o'clock p. m. April 6. The bonds are to be retired over a five-year period and the receipts are to be used for the construction of drains to reclaim muck land in Stockbridge township where an on-going reclamation has been developed the last three years.

The bonds are to be retired serially from 1937 to 1941, $1800 to be paid in each of the first four years and the balance of $1900 in 1941. The bonds are to carry a coupon rate of six per cent although a premium is expected to reduce the interest rate.

The new Ionia warden was in charge of furniture manufacturing at the Ionia reformatory from 1903 to 1919. Gov. Fitzgerald made his appointments Monday. They served to set at rest a flood of rumors regarding candidates for the job of warden at Jackson.

Jackson Transferred To Former Position

FRED A. CHAPMAN APPOINTED TO IONIA POST.

Harry H. Jackson has been transferred from the wardenship at the Ionia reformatory to Jackson prison. Fred A. Chapman of Ionia, a business partner of former Gov. Fred Green, has been appointed by Gov. Frank D. Fitzgerald to be warden at Ionia.

Warden Jackson headed the Jackson prison for eight years until his removal when former Gov. William A. Comstock took office. When republicans again came into control Warden Jackson was given the Ionia post and the late Warden Charles Shean, "former Ionia warden, was appointed chief executive at Jackson.

REAL ESTATE OFFICE

Carl Jewett opened a real estate office in Mason Wednesday for handling house rentals, sales of farm and city property and property management. The office is above Harrison's drug store. Mr. Jewett was formerly in the real estate business in Detroit and has farmed in Vevay and Ingham townships.

COUNTY MAPS PROGRAM ON BLACKTOP BUILDING

FROST DAMAGE LESS THAN ON GRAVEL ROADS.

Will First Complete Unfinished 1935 Blacktop Schedule, May Build More Than 100 Miles.

Damage sustained by Ingham county's 100 miles of blacktop highways because of the winter's cold will not halt the blacktop program for 1936. In fact, the condition of blacktop pavements this spring has served to convince the board of county road commissioners that blacktop paving has proved its worth.

"If all the damaged stretches of blacktop paving in the county were placed end to end," said John Rakowsky, county highway engineer, Monday, "it would not aggregate three miles. Three miles of damaged highways out of 160 miles is a good showing."

"There is nothing alarming about the frost damage on blacktop highways. Perhaps damage to blacktop is more apparent than damage to gravel. Our records show that blacktop damage is repaired at less expense than frost damage on gravel roads. We have spent less than three dollars a mile on blacktop repairs of frost heaving this spring. We are certain that the total cost will not exceed five or six dollars per mile. Repairs of frost damage to gravel roads and to concrete will probably exceed those on blacktop."

Mr. Rakowsky explained that capillary action is responsible for frost damage. He pointed out that the frost the past winter went down only about a foot where the ground was covered with snow. When the snow was cleared away the frost went as deep as 55 inches, he said. The pressure caused by the melting of the frost and ice beneath the pavement caused what amounted in many cases to an explosion, he explained.

To Continue Program

Ingham county will continue its blacktop surfacing this year, the commissioners have decided. Last year the construction of about 100 miles was projected but a wet year handicapped the work. The 1935 program will be completed first this spring and then other highways will be surfaced. Road officials believe that at least 100 miles and possibly more of blacktop will be built in Ingham this year.

Among the blacktop highways to be surfaced with blacktop are included the completion of the Leslie-Onondaga road, the Grovenburg road and several stretches in Lansing and Meridian townships. If the weather is favorable there will likely be blacktop construction in nearly every township.

A major feature of the plan will be to relieve truck congestion on the more road than we could build. We hope to start on the 1936 blacktop and gravel program by the middle of April. It all depends on the weather."

Supervisors To Pass On Drain Necessity

INGHAM COUNTY'S WPA PROGRAM NOT TO BE CHANGED.

County boards of supervisors are to determine the necessity of drainage work under WPA. The determination of the supervisors has been asked for to close the breach between conservationists and drain commissioners over carrying out the $4,000,000 drainage program for Michigan. In many counties, it is alleged, drains are being constructed which will lower lake levels, drain swamp areas which are now good hunting grounds and lower water tables.

County Drain Commissioner Francis N. Bateman does not believe the supervisors will change Ingham's WPA program. All WPA drainage work in Ingham is on established drains where the necessity has already been determined.

Crime Cost Mounting, Prosecutor Declares

COST OF CRIME EXCEEDS THAT OF GOVERNMENT.

Prosecuting Attorney Dan D. McCullough in an address before the Mason Kiwanis club Monday night declared that the cost of government is exceeded by the cost of crime. He said that nearly four billion dollars was the loss sustained by the American people last year in the sale of fraudulent securities.

"Arson, theft, kidnapping, insurance frauds and racketeering are estimated to cost nearly 50c out of every dollar of earned income in the United States," said Mr. McCullough. "The cost of present government is said to be 25c out of every dollar. Crime and government therefore take three-quarters of American earnings."

The United States has a criminal population of five million, Mr. McCullough said. "We have 120 state and federal prisons with a population of 147,000," he said. "There are 4000 county jails with a total population of 450,000 a year and 10,000 city and village lockups handling about 10,000 law violators and transients every year. Our prison population has increased 60 per cent in 10 years."

Remedies suggested by Mr. McCullough include more drastic treatment of habitual criminals, a fingerprint system to catalog every person's prints, the co-operation of honest people in serving on juries, putting brakes on the actions of governors and pardoning boards, incarceration of sexual perverts and a better handling of juvenile delinquency.

WPA Approves Project For Recreation Center

COUNTY PARK MAY BE CONVERTED INTO RECREATIONAL CENTER UNDER WPA PROGRAM.

Grandstand, Athletic Field, Baseball Diamond And Track May Be Built, Plans Have Been Approved By State And Federal WPA Organizations.

Ingham county's park, just east of Mason, may be converted into a county recreational center under the WPA program. Federal, state and district WPA executives have approved the project. All that remains is to secure the co-operation of county, city and county fair executives and the transformation will begin before May 1, it is promised. Work would be completed this summer.

STORE DELIVERY BEGUN BY MICHIGAN CENTRAL

FREE PICK-UP AND DELIVERY SERVICE PROVIDED.

All Railroads Except Those On Pacific Coast To Join In New Delivery System.

New York Central railroad lines, along with those of other railroads in the United States except on the Pacific Coast, joined in the new free pick-up and delivery service on less-than-carload freight April 1. Even the Canadian roads joined the program to afford a complete transportation service from store door to store door.

In Mason the Michigan Central has contracted with Albert Betts for pick-up and delivery of shipments. Should either shipper or both both elect to perform the trucking service, an allowance of five cents per 100 pounds will be made at the point of origin or destination or both, for the performance of the service. C. O. D. shipments may be made under the new pick-up and delivery arrangement, the railroads undertaking to make collection for account of the shipper.

No Extra Cost. Under the new plan the railroads will pick up merchandise freight at the shipper's door and deliver it to the receiver's door at no extra cost above the present regular freight rate. The saving in freight bills under the new system will run about 10 per cent on general freight and as high as 20 per cent on some types, railroad officials declare. Railway executives expect the increase in business resulting from the pick-up and delivery service to more than offset the effects of the equivalent rate reduction.

W. E. Kinsey, Mason agent, is enthusiastic over the new plan. He said, "Rail officials have told us that the unions of all kinds. Even the work program calls for the employment of men from Holt, Leslie and other villages and townships on the project."

As approved by the WPA, the plans call for the use of heavy machinery for rough grading of the area and the employment of hand labor on the balance of the project. The Ingham county road commission has already consented to provide the heavy grading machinery.

Development of a recreational center was first considered under CWA. As the Civil Works Administration passed out of the picture the project was studied by FERA. The project was tentatively approved under FERA and hopes of development were bright when FERA was superseded by WPA. The plans were started several years ago and at that time a skeleton organization was set up to have charge of the park development.

Federal and state agencies demand that projects which call for local participation be handled by municipal units having charge of the project. That ruling made the board of supervisors responsible for the park development. The board of supervisors two years ago decided that it would be best to set up a special park board to deal with governmental agencies in developing the recreational center. The board of county road commissioners serves as a park board but the responsibility of the road commissioners was not quite clear so a special park board was named to be made up of one supervisor, one road commissioner and one person chosen at large. Members of the recreational center development board are Sup. Charles A. Clinton of the board of supervisors, Lee T. Lasenby of the board of county road commissioners and V. J. Brown.

To Meet Friday. Board members are to meet with directors of the county fair association, county highway officials and WPA executives Friday night to map out a program so that the county can secure the $22,000 improvement.

Fred Fulton, district WPA executive, has long been interested in the recreational development project. He was in Mason Wednesday making a final survey. He stated that under present plans work can be begun within 30 days provided revenue bonds are floated to finance the $4000 obligation demanded from local sources.

"It looks like a good bargain for the community," Mr. Fulton said, "for every dollar contributed from local sources federal funds will provide $4.50. The improvement appears worthwhile and will provide labor for something that will benefit a great number of people."

EXPENSIVE LUNCHES

An official report to Harry L. Pierson, Michigan WPA supervisor, points to 55 WPA emergency nursery schools which provide it is claimed, daily care and noonday lunches for 2500 children below school age. According to Miss Roberta Hemingway, supervisor, each of these groups is manned by a registered nurse, an experienced teacher, a nutritionist and a cook. Most of them also enjoy an additional staff of NYA college girls. NYA is national youth administration in boondoggling language.

Besides the expense of such an ambitious staffed staff, the little tots actually have $100 a month to cover the cost of the food.

Now let's get this straight.

These children range from two to four years of age. They come from families already on the welfare, therefore it is not likely that the parents are both working. Why not have added the $100 or even $500 to the family relief allotments and left out the 275 paid employees? Imagine if you can a competent registered nurse busy herself all day and every day looking after 45 healthy children, for the report refers to the surprising good health of the group, and then having under her feet a nutritionist, and then after the nurse and the dietitian have collaborated, a cook to prepare the meal, all for one meal a day. Half that money intelligently spent would have sustained all the families from which the children came.

It is not altogether the amount of money being spent that disturbs the average citizen—it is the manner in which it is spent. If anyone desires to see another example of boondoggling at its worst, he should visit the office of the county clerk where another group of NYA workers (?) are inventorying county records. For what purpose those in charge cannot or will not say. At any rate a former state librarian, once enjoying a fat salary but forced to face a cruel world when politics changed, has a job again. What matters it if money is wasted and young men and women taught the futility of purposeful employment, as long as a few overseers "get theirs?"

IMPORTANT TO INGHAM

Ingham county is interested in an announcement made by Murray D. VanWagoner, state highway commissioner, that another section of the Howell-Pontiac highway is under contract for early construction. When completed the present extension will bring the paving two miles this side of Highland. It is hoped and expected that among the early allotments of state and federal money will be additional funds to extend the paving to Pontiac, thus tying in with paving already laid between Pontiac and Mt. Clemens and with other paved highways leading to Port Huron and Canada.

While it is too early to promote it now, it is not too early to suggest that not so far in the future the road from Howell to Mason and westward to Charlotte and Hastings should become a part of the state highway system. Perhaps full justification for a standard concrete pavement on this route cannot be found. Nevertheless such a road would prove of great advantage to Central Michigan territory and would serve as an outlet and relief for other east and west arteries already overloaded with through traffic. Livingston, Ingham, Eaton and Barry counties should join hands in bringing this matter to the attention of state authorities. The expense of upkeep of these roads now as a part of the system of the counties is a heavy drain upon local funds. Absorption by the state system would prove a welcome relief to county road boards.

MOUNTAIN PEAKS OF FINANCE

This writer was taken up on the high mountains of finance during the past week and given a glimpse of how the boys who are really clever can turn tricks. The word "dynamic" was frequently employed in reference to what was once possible in the so-called metropolitan area of Michigan in the good old days between 1920 and 1929. That word has thrilled others as it has the writer—it must have else what was done would have been impossible. It must have thrilled even those engaged in the build-up for certainly many involved both in promotion and on the "sucker list" are well-intentioned and honest folk.

One thing stands out clearly when the picture of despair is finally complete. To bring about the conditions that exist in southeastern Michigan at this moment many forces must have worked together. There must be industries and big business to form the lure. There must be realtors, architects, structural contractors and supply concerns and there must be land speculators—those who buy for quick profit and those who buy for actual investment and home ownership. Then, too, there must be those who buy bonds—real estate mortgage bonds and municipal bonds. There must also be some manipulation to force legislative action to open up savings bank deposits for this type of securities. In fact, this artful structure is so complex, so tortured with interlocking interests, so overwhelmed with debts and charges of every conceivable character that it not only baffles, it actually astounds one that such conditions can be found, created in a great state and among an intelligent and progressive people.

Suppose we take a single example, worse than the average but not alone by any means. The name of the town will not be given here for that would serve no purpose except to give needless worry to those who still cling to hope that something will be recovered from the wreckage.

The city taken for example has a population of about 6000 people. It is laid out and developed for three times that number at least. It was just in its growing pains when the depression hit with full force. A few years before this some real estate promoters bought up a large tract of land, others joined in with smaller tracts and the boom was on. Real estate mortgage bonds were sold to buy the land and grade streets and to build a few business blocks. Other mortgage money came in to supply cash for dwellings. Then the necessity for paving, sewers, schoolhouses, municipal buildings, parks and other essentials of urban life became apparent, the result being a series of elections at which municipal bonds were authorized and later sold.

Today the bonded debts of this city exceed by 20 per cent the present assessed value of all the lands within the city. In addition to this, of the taxes levied to pay off these bonds and their accruing interest, so little has been paid in by property owners that the accrued tax delinquency approaches 80 per cent of the present assessed value of all the property within the city. But if the debts are to be counted, then there must be added in the unpaid mortgage bond issues outstanding and the known straight mortgages held by individuals, banks, and loaning associations. When these are added they are found to just about equal the present assessed value again. The aggregate of private loans, real estate mortgage bonds, municipal bonds, and accumulated delinquent taxes, exceeds the present total assessed value of the city by three times, not to mention the equities held by or claimed by the fee owners of the properties.

Today the city officials are demanding the taxes be paid; the holders of the bonds against the city and the school district and the several special assessment districts are strenuously demanding their money; the holders of real estate bonds and mortgages are just as insistent that they must be paid. Meanwhile those who promoted the whole mess and who still claim some equities in unsold lots are demanding that the state cancel all taxes in order that they may resume the selling of the unsold and repossessed properties, failing to mention what would happen to the buyer who puts his money into land at the moment of sale indebted for more than twice the amount it can be sold for on today's market.

Solomon in his best days never had so perplexing a problem as the state of Michigan has in unraveling the tangle into which realtors and speculators have plunged a section of the state once its pride. Going outside the immediate city described, a single 40-acre farm, never platted but for years tilled by a market gardener, is found with delinquent, special and general taxes piled up until the total amounts to more than $17,000. These two examples are extreme but by no means are they isolated or the exception. The entire southern tier of townships across two counties are involved in this general picture. Some means must be found to extricate the thousands of homeowners of this locality from the mess they are in. In doing this guards must be set against others less deserving lest they profit again by reason of concessions or adjustments granted to innocent victims. Then, too, some means must be discovered to prevent a recurrence of the same problems in the future.

It is a big job and one that the people of Michigan as a whole must take into account. Five hundred millions of the savings of the thrifty of Michigan are invested in real estate bonds alone involved in this district. Other millions held by banks and trust companies, indeed some of them held by the state itself, are involved in municipal bonds issued against these cities and districts and bought for investment. The issue certainly is one greater than can be encompassed by the geographic boundaries of Wayne, Macomb and Oakland counties.

A STATE OF FLUX

Civilization is a state of flux. Changes are constant. As we were scanning the files to pick out "50 Years Ago" items we discovered that the Greenbackers were riding high. In many of the townships Greenbackers and fusion candidates backed by Greenbackers were elected to office. City officers were being grabbed by the new party. The success of the Greenbackers was shortlived and now most people must consult an encyclopedia to find out what the word means. The pendulum swung back.

Twenty years ago the liquor question was settled. Ingham remained in the dry column and the dries in Michigan were confident that state-wide prohibition would carry within a few months. It did and the dries were jubilant. The saloons was cast out, never to return.

Yet less than 20 years later the saloons are back. There are more sellers than ever before. There are more buyers and the business has been cloaked in respectability it never in the old days possessed and this by government itself.

Government in the United States is constantly changing. Nothing represents that spirit of change better than the liquor issue and money question. We have had Greenbackers and Silverites coming in on a flood tide. We have had dries riding high and practically controlling congress. However, the tides have a habit of ebbing. Who knows what the next tide will bring and how long the riders of the tide will stand? We only know that the tide will flow and that it will ebb. That is one of the certain things about American government.

ROADSIDE COMFORT

A notable change of policy on the part of the state highway department in the matter of roadside beautification is already in process of realization. Abandoning the old plan of setting shade trees along straight stretches of concrete, the landscape division has turned to providing roadside retreats for travelers. In the old days a shade tree along the road provided rest for the horse and comfort for passengers. Nowadays speeding motor cars require no such rest and enclosed vehicles make roadside shade of little consequence.

The new plan takes cognizance of a fresh water spring of approved purity, some trees where picnic tables may be provided, comfort stations and some convenience where debris from the picnic may be deposited. Where a flowing spring is not available, a good well is provided. Experiments with this sort of roadside facility have proved that the tourist, as well as the casual picnicker, will use it. It is preferred to the crowded picnic grounds, formerly thought significant.

These roadside shrines can be maintained at a minimum of expense. They allure the home folks and provide a genuine thrill for the tourist from less fortunate states where shade, pure water and sylvan beauty is not to be had.

The highway department is to be congratulated on its foresight in this respect. Taken together with the information stations established by the state conservation department and the uniform courtesies extended by the department of public safety, these efforts may be expected to go a long way in promoting the tourist business of Michigan.

"Jersey justice" is having a tough time living up to its reputation. It has almost reached the point where the public doesn't know whether Hauptmann or Hoffman was convicted of the crime. Or was it Wilentz? We seem to recall that the jury found Hauptmann guilty. And the jurors did not say that Hauptmann was the only man in the case. That was beside the issue.

What Other Editors Have to Say

The Character of People in Public Office

For more than a week Detroit and state newspapers have been giving the developments in the most recent "steal". One man killed himself when discovered. Another, a bank vice president, tried to bluff it out and is detained behind the bars. A young lady attempts to explain her part as agent for these two men. Upwards of $350,000 is missing.

The amount is not the important thing. Once again people of Detroit and Michigan have their confidence shaken in men of position of trust. J. O'Shea, bank vice president, jammed in locks with city money entrusted to the bank. Harry M. Tyler, city official, built a luxurious home and lived beyond his honest income. Miss Mercedes Dimmer, $110-a-month stenographer, had just moved into a $10,000 home with her family. Taxpayers of Detroit know their money was being used by these people.

It's another nasty mess. It places a cloud on all the employees of the banks, public bodies, and in a measure, on all public officials and all banks. That is, it sows the seed of distrust in the public mind. Detroit banking was just recovering from the panic of 1933 which shook the confidence, justly or not, of Detroit depositors.

We firmly believe that there is no greater percentage of dishonesty in either public office or banking circles than in any other line of endeavor or business. In fact, records will show it to be less. Yet, when a banker goes wrong, it is a sensation. When a public official steals, it becomes a public scandal.

That is why we should scrutinize carefully the habits and morals of our public officials. To steal public funds, in one sense, may not be a greater crime than stealing private funds. In another, it is greater. It destroys confidence in government. It convinces a certain number of unscrupulous individuals that all government and all public officials are crooked. That is a real loss—much greater than any amount of money involved.—Clinton County Republican-News.

"This Is a Good Country"

Sometimes the malcontents make so much noise we forget about the people who are the thinking, frugal, working backbone of the country. Then something happens to wake us up, like this letter from a Utah farmer:

"We are living in a very interesting time. I have never seen so much unrest. Anything goes at this time just so a certain element can get something for nothing. We are ruled by a class that don't know a hoe from a shovel. All they know is the school room. As long back as I can remember, I have heard the old story that the rich are getting richer and the poor are getting poorer.

"I have visited eleven nations and was born in a foreign country. I do know this is the best country in the world. Anyone who will work and save can climb the ladder to success.

"It will be 73 years next April that with my mother we sailed from Denmark for the U. S. We came from Omaha to Utah with an ox team. I walked all the way. With no education and as poor as anyone could be, I have made my way up the ladder to the $150,000 mark, but it has taken hard work and some foresight. I have never had a dollar given to me, but have given thousands away. It makes me tired to hear a lot of pinheads get together and plot against the man who has the nerve to get out and do things.

"In my early manhood, 15 of us young men located on a stream in Utah. All any of us had was our teams. I bought some of my neighbors out through foresight. I worked hard. Today I own more land, more water, more horses, cattle and sheep than the 12 who are left, all combined. Under the plan of some I should divide up. No, this is a good country for all who are on the square.

"If I had the power, I could cure this evil that is so prevalent through the land. I would send all the discontented to Europe, give them 50 dollars to start out on, and tell them, 'Now root hog or die.' Give them three years abroad. They would then be willing to come back and be good Indians."—Birmingham Eclectic.

Some Fancy Winking

A standard routine of each attorney general who assumes office is to stage a big "page one" headline drive against the slot machine racket. Bold statements are made, warnings are issued—and then nothing is ever done.

The action of Attorney General Crowley in dismissing the "test case" against Bert Kane, slot machine king of the northern resort country and, according to his own statement, owner of the gambling device which constituted exhibit A brings all this mock warfare rather nicely to mind.

This particular case dates back to Attorney General Toy who has since been elevated (some say sidetracked) to the state supreme court. Mr. Toy issued an ultimatum against gambling and Sheriff Geo. Bates of Clare county took it seriously. Slot machines, punch boards and other like devices were seized and made a great show as they were piled in the justice court room. With one of the state's "ace" prosecutors assigned to the case and an affidavit from Kane that some of the machines seized were his, decisive action seemed to hover like a dark cloud over the head of the slot machine racket in this state.

And it continued to hover—or possibly it was one of those dark clouds with a silver lining. As usual delay followed delay. In fact, Kane, himself, was never even examined. Attorney General Crowley finally dismissed the case because Fred Doherty, owner of the hotel in question and an important witness, was apparently on vacation in Cuba.

Although the abstruse technicalities of the law are beyond the comprehension of the average layman, this excuse, nevertheless, seems a wee bit thin—to put it as charitably as possible. The point is also advanced by the attorney general and the governor that the enforcement of this law is a matter for local police agencies. Reasonable enough. But, after all, Sheriff Bates was a local officer and he was the one who started action and certainly turned over some air tight evidence. But the state let the case slip through inaction thereby giving credence to the idea going around that the slot machine racket is a protected business. None the less, the excuse offered in the case is sufficient to counteract this idea.

Who is getting the income from the slot machine racket? It would be interesting to know and might have been known if the Clare case had been vigorously prosecuted.

Can it be that the answer would have caused embarrassment? This official winking at the law certainly does the cause of good government plenty of harm. Will the public tolerate it forever? Officials apparently think so because it takes place regardless of parties or promises.—The Hastings Banner.

Gleaned from News Files of Years Past

Fifty Years Ago

Lafayette Near received a broken leg and hip Sunday when he was falling a tree for his father, a Seventh Day Adventist.

Tuesday's blizzard was the worst ever experienced in Mason this late in the year. Sleet and snow were driven by a violent wind. There was much suffering from cold and roads were blocked.

County Treasurer Whitney Jones had a narrow escape from death Saturday night. He had accompanied his wife to the train to see that everything was shipshape for her start for California. He bade her farewell and stepped to the platform. The train was in motion and the county official either fell or jumped. He was picked up unconscious and is still in a grave condition.

J. C. Cannon, republican, and Perry Henderson, democrat and fusionist Greenbacker, tied for the office of mayor. Each candidate received 148 votes. Mr. Henderson was declared mayor when lots were drawn.

The county jail had not a prisoner from Saturday morning until Monday night.

DANSVILLE NEWS

Mrs. Ellen Simons Dies

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at two-thirty o'clock at the home here for Mrs. Ellen Simons, who passed away Sunday afternoon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Carolyn LaFountain of Lansing. Ellen M. Dennis was one of a family of 11 born to Mr. and Mrs. James Simons, passed away April 10, 1931. Besides the children there are also 12 grandchildren, five great grandchildren, two sisters, Mrs. Addie Smith, Mrs. Etta Squires and one brother, Harvey Dennis, all of Danville. Rev. Emerald B. Dixon officiated at the services and burial was in Fairview cemetery.

Plan for Centennial
A meeting was held Monday evening at the town hall for the purpose of furthering plans for a centennial celebration in Danville this summer. Representatives from the following organizations were present: M. E. church, Future Farmers, Homecoming association, school board, O. E. S., township board, Methodist L. A. S., village council, Brotherhood and business men. It is expected the township board, village and school board will appropriate a sum of money to help carry out a fine program for these two days. The dates anticipated for this event are August 14 and 15, the first day to be devoted to sports and the second for the homecoming and school reunion. Special committees for the various features will be appointed by the chairman, Geo. Vogt.

Sponsor Egg Sunday

Next Sunday is egg Sunday at the M. E. church. The eggs received are sent to the Old People's Home at Chelsea. Everybody is urged to bring eggs in any amount.

Special Services Held

A series of special services are to be sponsored next week by the M. E. church and Sunday school. On Monday night, Mrs. Grimes' class will sponsor the service; on Tuesday evening Mrs. Vogt's class; Wednesday, Mrs. Petty's class; Thursday night at midnight there will be communion service; on Friday services will be from noon until three o'clock and Sunday there will be the usual Easter services beginning with services at six o'clock in the morning by Mr. Dakin's class. Flowers will be placed on Easter Sunday in memorial by all those wishing to do so.

Serve Meals Election Day

The Methodist Ladies Aid society will serve dinner and supper at the town hall Monday, April 6, election day. Last Wednesday they served a penny supper. Mrs. Zaldie Allen's committee was in charge.

Sponsor Amateur Night

The regular monthly meeting of the Brotherhood organization will be on April 13, instead of April 6. Plans are underway for amateur night which is to be April 20. Several people have spoken to Mr. Dixon for a place on the program and prospects look good for this feature of entertainment. However there is room for more numbers and the committee is in hopes of being able to keep the program continued exclusively to Ingham township.

Serve Dinner

The Woman's Missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal church will meet next Wednesday, April 8, at the home of Mrs. Rosa Anderson. A potluck dinner will be served at noon. Mrs. Ruby Lathrop has charge of the study hour.

O. E. S. Entertains County Officers

The O. E. S. will hold their next regular meeting Thursday evening, April 9. The county officers and the members of Leslie chapter will be guests at this meeting. A potluck supper will be served in the C. M. Young building at seven o'clock, followed by a short program. The regular meeting with initiatory work will then follow. Mrs. Alma Dalton, Zon Hobart and Zaldie Allen are on the supper committee and Miss Marcia DeLoft is in charge of the program.

To Hear Last Broadcast

The Child Study club will meet next Monday, April 6, at the home of Mrs. Clara Braman to hear the last radio broadcast by Mrs. Lydia Lynde on "Growing up in the Gray Family."

Township Election

Next Tuesday, April 6, the republicans and democrats will wage their annual contest for supremacy. The following candidates are on the democratic ticket: Charles Woods, supervisor; Richard Sommers, clerk; Arthur Dowling, treasurer; Ben Curtis, highway commissioner; Roy West, justice of the peace; Elmer Frost, member of the board of review; Elmer Bravender, Charles Curtis, Clyde Howlett and Earl Osborne, constables. The republican candidates are as follows: Herman Mann, supervisor; Paul Card, clerk; Paris Witt, treasurer; Henry Elford, highway commissioner; John McCabe, justice of the peace; Edmund Braman, member of the board of review; S. A. Watters, Wesley Shoppell, R. M. Laughlin and Floyd Smith, constables.

Good Crowd Attends Party

A good crowd attended the euchre party given by the O. E. S. Saturday evening. There were 10 tables in play. Mrs. Mary Corwin receiving the ladies prize, Myron Kirby, men's prize and S. A. Watters, door prize. Sandwiches, cake and coffee were then served by the committee. Dancing was enjoyed, a special feature of the music was the playing of the drums by Rex DuBois. There will be another party Tuesday evening, April 11. The committee will be Vera Dayton, Arvilla Collier and Helen Young.

Doctor Leaving

Dr. N. K. McElmurry left the first of the week for Perry, where he will take over the practice of Dr. E. A. McGregor. Dr. McElmurry has been in Danville since last August and during their short stay here he and Mrs. McElmurry have made many friends who are reluctant to see them depart.

"Perk up" with PURSANG

Overwork, illness, wrong food, lack of exercise—all collect their toll. Now's the time to get back to normal. Are you feeling discouraged and "run down" these days? It may be because indoor living, worry and overwork have conspired to wear down your resistance—and reduce the iron content of your blood. An iron deficiency can weaken energy and make a man or woman imagine almost everything is wrong when really the condition is not serious. If you are "below par" just start taking Pursang. See how much better you feel in two or three days. Pursang contains iron and copper compounds—effective in increasing hemoglobin, the substance that makes red blood red. At the same time it stimulates appetite and aids digestion. Pursang contains no sugar. Begin your Pursang treatment today!

MILCOR "Twodrain" CHANNEL ROOFING

EASY TO PUT ON THE ROOF.

Milcor channel roofing is easy to put on the roof, even by one who is not used to using tools or doing roofing.

CAN'T LEAK AT NAIL HOLES

Lead-Headed Roofing nails are filled with soft, pliant lead which forms a 5-8 inch lead cap in and around the nail hole. This protection against nail hole leaks is complete and effective.

POPULAR IN USE

Milcor is in popular demand wherever metal roofs are in use and the popularity of this roofing alone, is an excellent recommendation.

THE OLD PANEL GAME

Reporters have often been puzzled at the speedy disappearance of administration notables they spied at a distance in the long corridor outside Postmaster General Farley's office. One of them posted himself opposite a suspected point. Soon a Farley aid approached a spot in the high paneling, knocked three times and disappeared as a panel slowly opened. Then the reporter knocked thrice and the panel opened for him, revealing a hallway directly to the postmaster general's office and a tiny private elevator to the street floor. But the mysterious layout appears to have been the idea of Mr. Farley's predecessor, Republican P. M. G. Walter F. Brown.

FARMERS! DON'T GET STUCK IN THE MUD

Dirt road drivers welcome new Goodrich Super-Traction Tire for passenger cars!

Plowing through heavy mud or snow is a tough job for ordinary passenger car or light-truck tires. That's why the Goodrich Super Traction Silvertown has made such a big hit with dirt road drivers. Massive, heavy, extra tough, this entirely new kind of tire is specially designed to give your car a tractor grip on the softest, slushiest roads. Nothing can compare with the "caterpillar action" of the wider, flatter Silvertown tread with its double-deep, unbroken cleats. No slipping. No swerving. No stalling. This scientific Goodrich trend construction gives you continuous traction on any kind of road—in any kind of weather—and a comfortable, easy-steering ride on paved highways. Super Traction Silvertowns will serve you long and faithfully yet you pay no price premium.

No wonder it pulls cars through the toughest spots—without chains

1. "Caterpillar Action" tread design.
2. Huskier, over-sized shoulders.
3. Double-Deep Self-Cleaning Cleats.

Wednesday evening testimony meeting at 8 o'clock.

"Unreality" will be the subject of the lesson sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, April 5.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Gen. 1:31): "And God saw everything that he had made, and behold, it was very good."

Correlative passages to be read from Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 525): "Everything good or worthy, God made. Whatever is valueless or baneful, He did not make—hence it unreality."

First Presbyterian Church

John Adams, Minister

Morning worship at ten o'clock with the minister in charge. The subject of his sermon, sixth in the series upon the theme, "We Shall Build On!" will be "Brain Racked and Reason Reeling." Two Grand Rapids employees of the Michigan Bell Telephone company and a South Haven night employee of the Tri-County Telephone company are cited for the performance of outstanding acts of public service that resulted in the saving of human life. Left to right: Harry Meade, splicee's helper, Grand Rapids; Mrs. Nina P. Tait, operator, South Haven, and Joseph Kooyers, cable splicee, Grand Rapids. Mrs. Tait, night operator at South Haven, while employed at her switchboard during the early morning hours of March 5, 1935, answered a switchboard signal which she recognized as coming from a local department store.

She received no reply to her query but detected sounds of moaning and heavy breathing, and notified the store owner and the police department immediately. At the store the officers found the watchman, beaten and wounded and in a critical condition from loss of blood. Mrs. Tait then summoned a physician and an ambulance at the request of the police. When the watchman regained consciousness four days later he was able to identify his assailant, who later was convicted and sentenced.

Joseph Kooyers, Michigan Bell cable splicee at Grand Rapids, and Harry Meade, his helper, rescued and revived

What Is The Constitution?

By RAYMOND PITCAIRN
National Chairman
Sentinels of the Republic

It has become the fashion in recent weeks for certain public officials to say that the Constitution issue is fading from the current political picture.

They are wrong. No attempt to minimize its importance can alter the fact that the Constitution will remain a dominant issue so long as the American people are determined to resist all efforts to curtail their individual rights and privileges.

But the Constitution is far more than a political issue. It is more than a written code of fundamental law. It is the permanent expression of the American spirit—the American Way of Life.

There are today—and there will continue to be—men, in public office and out, who don't approve of the American Way of Life. Charmed by modern European experiments, they would like to change our basic system of government by the people to a form which places all political power in the hands of one or more officials.

The tragic evidences of lost liberties, threatened war and religious intolerance which spring from such dictatorships do not deter them. But the Constitution does. Therefore they would like us to forget about it—and its safeguards—for a while.

But we shouldn't forget. So long as the Constitution lives, our liberties are secure. If it falls, those liberties—and the American Way of Life—fall with it.

Eternal vigilance is still the price of liberty.

85-Year-Old Township Road System Absorbed

LAST OF FIVE YEAR PROGRAM NOW COMPLETE.

Michigan's township road system passed out of existence this week after reaching the ripe old age of 85.

The 83 counties of the state completed the job Wednesday, (April 1) of taking over the remaining township road mileage in the state. Out of 62,200 miles of township roads originally certified in 1831 10,428 miles were left to be absorbed by the counties this week.

Abolition of the township road system finished an evolution in highway administration that started in 1931 when the legislature enacted the McNitt township road law. The law provided that the counties take over the township road mileage at the rate of 20 per cent a year. A first-year appropriation of $2,000,000 was allocated to the counties to help them shoulder this burden. This amount was increased by $500,000 annually until the present annual appropriation is $4,000,000.

Although the adoption of township road mileage is now complete, the McNitt act provides that the counties in 1937 take over streets and alleys in recorded plats outside of incorporated cities and villages. No provision is made to reimburse the counties for these additions to their road systems. This clause will work a hardship on industrial counties of lower Michigan where there are many subdivisions outside of city limits.

The law leaves the township highway commissioner, formerly among the most important of local officers, with an empty honor. The office is a constitutional one and a former attorney-general has ruled that the election must be held but that no salary can be paid the township road commissioner.

As the township roads faded into oblivion, Murray W. VanWagoner, state highway commissioner, pointed out that problems arising from the enactment of the McNitt law will be one of the studies in the highway planning survey now in progress. He expressed the opinion that a number of recommendations for amendments to the law was held Wednesday evening at Meadow Lark Inn. They will leave April 15 for a trip to California via the southern route returning about June 15 by the northern route, through Yellowstone park. They will reside at 315 N. Blackstone street, Jackson.

Mr. Clara Labertus has moved from the William Aldrich home where she has lived the past several months and is now visiting in Jackson.

The Leslie and Onondaga rural teachers' club will meet Friday at four o'clock at the Weeks school house.

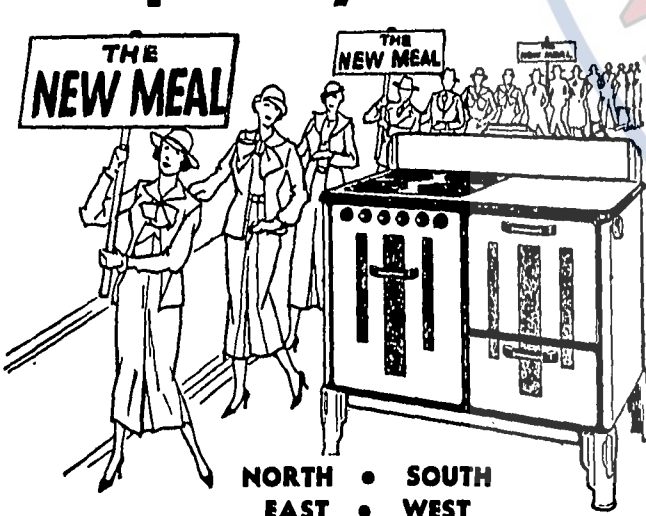

Mrs. Amy James and daughter Dorothy visited the former's sister, Mrs. Jessie Cross, at Utica, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Weipert will entertain at a family dinner Thursday evening honoring the birthday anniversaries at Mrs. Neva Vicary and Miss Dorothy James, sisters of Mrs. Weipert.

Township election will be held here Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Holly of Mason, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Owen.

About 20 members of the Holt Rebekah lodge planned to attend the district meeting at Howell on Friday, April 10. A bus has been chartered for the trip.

Causes Bad Conditions

Prof. Bates Verifies Chiropractic Contention.

Mason, April 1—"Professor of Anatomy, Women's Medical School, Northwestern University, Mary E. Bates, M. D., writing in American Medicine, Vol. IV, No. 6, states:

"In every day life we see few well trained or competent necks; few that are not weak and relaxed or stiff and painful long before the limit of normal mobility is reached; few whose sympathetic centers are not subject to complaints from disturbed structures elsewhere; few that can resist the reflexes from such sympathetic impulses, which, as well as a local irritation or an indirect force, can excite muscular contractions capable of producing and maintaining a scoliosis (spinal curvature) and of pulling or crowding and holding one or more vertebrae out of normal alignments.

"If the contractions are strong enough and continue long enough to produce a primary cervical curve or scoliosis, the interference will be greater, and going beyond Nature's kindly tolerance—her power of resistance, will be resisted.

"Nature's resentments are expressed in 'nervousness,' 'irritability,' 'depression,' 'aches,' 'pains,' 'neuroses,' 'hysteria,' 'vasomotor unbalances,' and 'diseases' . . .

"No part or organ is exempt from these resentments. According to Huxley's law, 'That organ will be involved reflexly which is in the most irritable condition,' i. e. which for any reason has the least resistance.

"That organ will have the least resistance whose nerve and blood supply is most handicapped by interference of any kind, any where from origin to peripheral distribution."

Thus, again, a very prominent member of the medical profession promotes and endorses the basic fundamentals which Chiropractic, the greatest drugless method in the world today, is found to be based upon.

When Hudson, Ohio, collected $34,505 taxes from the estate of Explorer Lincoln Ellsworth's father, it promptly spruced up the fire department, built a sewage disposal plant and went in for other improvements. Now that the Ohio supreme court orders the return of the taxes as illegally collected, the city fathers find only $154.47 in the treasury, state that the town will be broke for the next eight years refunding the tax.

At the ripe age of almost 7 Shirley Temple, $4,000-a-week screen star, has broken into print in the shape of a diminutive 168-page book called "My Life and Times." Addressing the narrative to her Scotch terrier, "Corky," the young lady names her favorite actors and directors, gives advice on screen tests, explains the secrets of her art.

Michigan State college has entered the controversy. H. C. Rather, head of the college farm crops department, said: "Sugar beets add no plant food to the soil. They deplete the quality of the soil about as rapidly as does corn. However, sugar beets do improve the physical condition of the soil because its roots break up the ground and the frequent cultivation required by beets rid the land of weeds."

Science Ends Refrigeration "Blind Flying"

JUST AS gyroscopic stabilizers, radio direction finders and fool-proof controls have eliminated "blind flying" in commercial aviation, so has science eliminated "blind flying" for the housewife as to refrigeration temperatures and food preservation. Announcement of perfected controls and mechanism in electric refrigerators to a point where a thermometer now is built into the food compartment has just been made by Kelvinator Corporation, pioneer electric refrigerator manufacturer.

With this development, housewives can tell at a glance that food is being safely preserved. Home economists agree that this is a tremendous advancement in food preservation science, and a step which marks the highest development of the electric refrigerator as an aid to greater health and economy in the home.

Sugar Beet Producers Flay AAA Regulation

CLAIM BEET PRODUCTION DOES NOT DEplete SOIL.

Sugar beet growers and manufacturers of beet sugar are fighting a ruling made by the Soil Conservation Administration that sugar beets are a soil-depleting crop. J. A. Brock, agricultural editor of the Sugar Beet Journal, declared Monday that the finding is unwarranted, unjustified and contrary to scientific knowledge. He also said, "To classify sugar beets as a soil-depleting crop is unfair to every sugar beet grower in the United States."

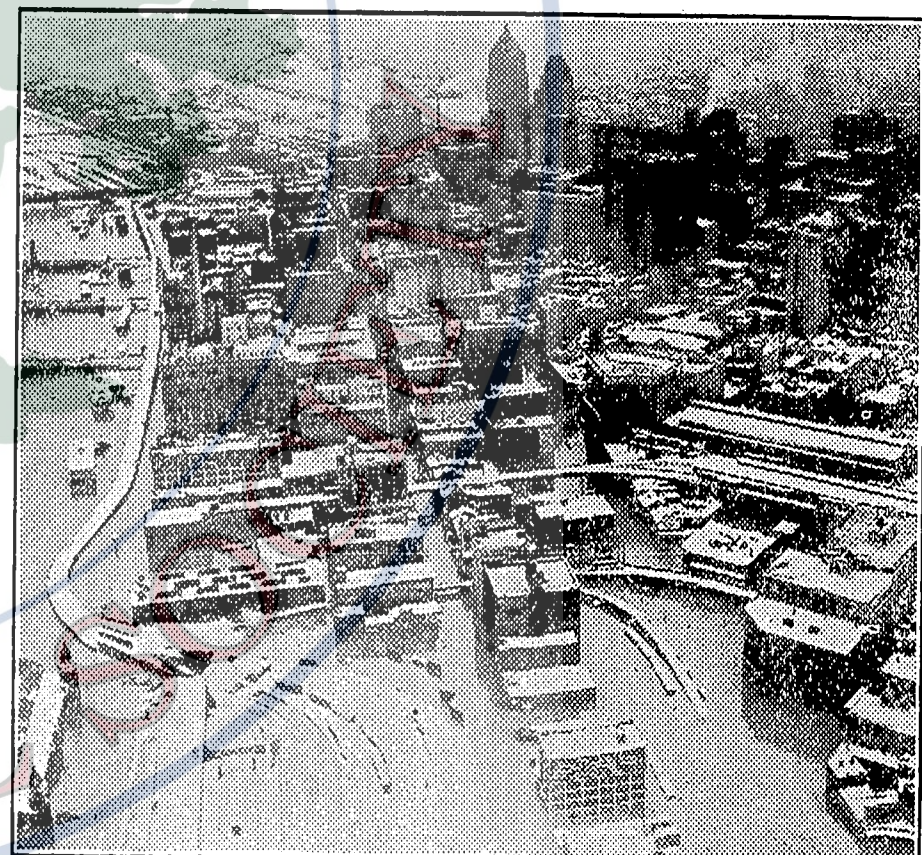

When asked why sugar beets had been so designated, Brock, who is internationally known as an authority on sugar beet culture and the best sugar industry said: "We are at loss to understand why this erroneous designation was made. If it is to be enforced we must totally disregard, ignore and deny more than a century of practical experience, all experimental records, the findings of distinguished agronomists, economists and scientists at home and abroad and the statements contained in the literature on the subject published by the United States department of agriculture."

In a word, since the time of Napoleon agricultural scientists have emphatically declared that sugar beets are one of the greatest crop yield stimulators known to agriculture and the literature contains innumerable references to the fact that the growing of sugar beets so improve the mechanical and physical condition of the soil that for four or five years, after having been planted to sugar beets, fields yield material increases of all other crops."

Michigan State college has entered the controversy. H. C. Rather, head of the college farm crops department, said: "Sugar beets add no plant food to the soil. They deplete the quality of the soil about as rapidly as does corn. However, sugar beets do improve the physical condition of the soil because its roots break up the ground and the frequent cultivation required by beets rid the land of weeds."

Reinforcements from Michigan

Flood waters rage . . . dams break . . . water stands ten feet deep in the business section of a great city.

Local telephone circuits are flooded and temporarily damaged. The Bell System mobilizes. From neighboring companies—including Michigan—come squads of trained and tested telephone men. The Bell expeditionary forces land—and in a short time they are able to echo that famed message of the Marines: "The situation is well in hand."

Only one thing made this possible. That is the fact that Bell System practices and equipment are standard the country over. Consequently, when the Bell System mobilizes in an emergency, it is not necessary for reinforcements from other companies to ask: "What kind of equipment is it?" They merely say: "Where is it?" and go quietly and efficiently to work on familiar ground. This is true in Pittsburgh today where the Michigan Bell Telephone Company is contributing part of the emergency force. It was true in Michigan—in 1922 and 1929—when reinforcements from other Bell System companies came here to aid in the work of restoring communications temporarily destroyed by the sleet storms of those years. Without a nation-wide force of systematically trained men, without standard equipment in every associated company, some of the things which Bell men have accomplished swiftly as part of their routine duties would have caused confusion and endless delay.

Whenever you lift a Bell Telephone receiver, tremendous resources in men, organization and equipment are at your command. And there are times when it is impossible to measure the value of telephone service except in terms of life and death.

Davis Clothiers Fall Before Police Cagers

MASON TEAM REACHES QUARTERS IN TOURNAMENT.

Mason's entry in the basketball tournament being held in Lansing last Tuesday night when the Davis Clothiers were defeated 30 to 24 by the Allen Park police team of the Detroit area. The Detroiters made a last-half spurt to win after the Mason team held the lead for almost three quarters. The Clothiers had a lead of 8 to 5 at the quarter and 18 to 13 at the half. The count was tied 24 to 24 as the third period ended. The lead changed ends five times in the final quarter.

Gordon Dawson, Otis Clippner, Randall Lang, Orrin Kinnison and Kenneth Cline played a fine brand of basketball Tuesday night. Substitutions made in an attempt to bolster the defense seemed to throw the regulars off stride and the cagers were out in front when the final whistle was blown.

The Mason team had an easy time with the Lansing Colored Cagers in the opener and with the Lansing Independents in the second round of play.

Loren Leonard's Hillsdale team was ousted out of the race Tuesday night by a Lansing outfit. The Hillsdale team looked like the class of the tournament in opening games but were off form Tuesday night.

There was lots of talent and good basketball was played during the tournament but the supporting games by the Lansing public was noticeable by its absence. Paid attendance Tuesday night was below 100.

Storm Caused Editor To Cut News Short

PRINTED NEWS ON ONLY ONE SIDE OF PAPER.

On January 12, 1885, a bad storm stopped Michigan Central trains, halted horse traffic and even caused the Leslie Local to be printed on but one side of a sheet. Job T. Campbell, who later became publisher of the Ingham County News and a member of the legislature, was editor of the Leslie paper. In the issue of January 13 he stated that the "patent insides" of the paper failed to arrive because there were no trains, that blank paper ordered also could not be secured and that the hour had grown so late that both sides of the small size of stock finally used could not be printed. The old copy of the newspaper was recently found by Mrs. D. G. Barr in sorting out papers in a trunk which belonged to her father, the late Benjamin Wright.

Fowler & O'Brien, Haynes, the Clothier, H. B. Andrews, Covert & Pickett, Baker & VanWert, Wallace S. Peacock and D. D. Mitchell were merchants who carried advertisements in the issue. Professional cards were carried for Dr. W. H. Morse, dentist; Woodworth & Dowling, physicians and surgeons; and G. C. Reynolds and F. C. Woodworth, attorneys.

Funeral Services Held For Aurelius Farmer

EDWARD HILTON HAD SPENT LIFE IN TOWNSHIP.

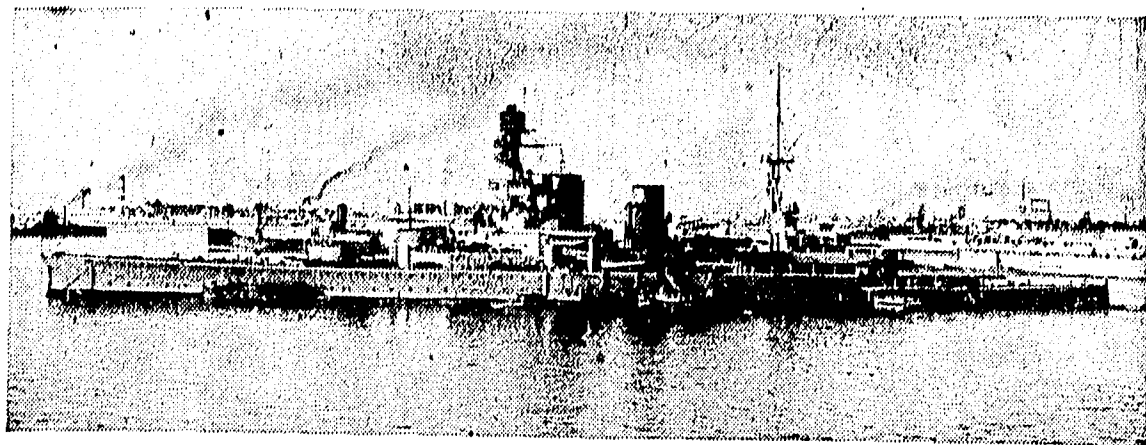

Services were held at the Ball funeral home Wednesday afternoon for Edward Hilton, 78, who died March 30 in a Lansing hospital. The Rev. James Bowker of the Mason Methodist church officiated. Burial was made in the North Aurelius cemetery.

Mr. Hilton was born near Clarksville in Ionia county December 24, 1856. At an early age he moved with his parents to Aurelius township where he spent the rest of his life. He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Rosa Garette, and a grandson, both of Ventura, California, and five brothers, Menville, Melville, Lowell, Floyd and Wilber, all of whom reside in Ingham county.

CRUSHED UNDER WAGON

Wayne Riggs, Stockbridge, was seriously injured Wednesday when he slipped and fell under the wheels of a wagon loaded with fertilizer. He was engaged in the operation of a tractor drawn outfit, preparing muckland for growing onions. Behind the tractor was a wagon loaded with fertilizer, then a drill and last a cultipacker. Mr. Riggs left his seat on the tractor to make some adjustments to the drill and in remounting slipped and fell under the wheels of the wagon. Only the soft muck ground saved him from being crushed and only prompt measures by fellow workmen saved him from being ground under the heavy drill and cultipacker equipment. Mr. Riggs is a brother to Mrs. Erle Spenny of Mason. Mrs. Spenny recently underwent an operation for appendicitis. Her mother who has been caring for her was summoned home Wednesday to care for her injured son.

POPULOUS DORMITORY

What house in Ingham county has the greatest population? Probably this tenant house at Wood-Crest which houses about a thousand chickens. Every room is used by the chickens. The wallpaper is still in pretty good shape but the floors would need considerable work done on them before humans again take over the house.

Former Newspaperman Finds Health On Farm

packaged eggs which are sold by Lansing dealers. In fact, one dealer takes the major share of the Wood-Crest output.

A tenant house has been converted into poultry house. In the downstairs bedroom and dining room are housed 145 White Leghorn pullets. In the tenant house kitchen are about 600 chickens warmed by a brooder. Mr. Rider operates incubators in the basement of his home. Upstairs in the tenant house are 40 yearling White Leghorn hens and 100 Barred Plymouth Rocks. All the laying hens are fed and handled scientifically. Laying charts are kept and when a hen goes on a strike her days are numbered. No shirkers are allowed.

Mr. Rider's hens have paid a profit the past year. He and Mrs. Rider weigh and inspect every egg. They are carefully graded, packed in cartons, marked with the poetic Wood-Crest label and transported to a Lansing chain of stores where they bring top prices.

While chickens may be No. 1 in Mr. Rider's farm interests, he is fond of other stock. He is raising two litters of blue-blood Beagle hounds, he raises rabbits, he has some nice Duroc sows and is interested in growing pigs. Mrs. Rider has even taken on the chore of raising a motherless Duroc pig on a bottle. The pig, now three weeks old, has been kept warm in a snug box in the woodshed but is getting a bit frisky and will soon have to leave the house. Mr. Rider is also building up a dairy herd and intends to feed steers this spring. He has lots of pasture. "Do you wish you were back with the Detroit News?" Mr. Rider was asked.

He replied, "No. I have never had more fun in my life. I am not making much money and may lose what little I have but I certainly enjoy this experience of going back to the soil. I always liked the farm and even while with the Detroit News and in good health I dreamed of those happy days back in Aurelius. No. I wouldn't trade my present job for the one I had with the Detroit News. Here I don't have time to think much about my health and it seems to improve month by month."

"Are Mrs. Rider and your daughter enthusiastic about the farm?" Mr. Rider was asked.

The former newspaperman answered, "I think so. Of course Mrs. Rider misses the conveniences of the city. However, hopes are now bright for an electric power extension and when we get electrical conveniences I am sure they will like the farm even better."

Miss Rider was graduated from Mason high school last June. She is now employed as bookkeeper at the C. W. Couch & Son store.

Organizing 4-H Clubs For Summer Projects

EXPECT ACTIVE YEAR FOR 4-H GIRLS AND BOYS.

Two new 4-H clubs were organized by C. E. Prentice, district club agent, at a largely attended meeting held Monday night at the Bell Oak school house in Locke township. Nine girls joined the existing club and 17 boys and girls joined the livestock and crops organization. Theron Danshy is to be leader of the latter group. Officers elected were Gaylord Benjamin, president; R. J. Teeples, vice president; and Robert Case, secretary. Other members are Hugh VanGilder, Bernard Andrews, Billy Sawyer, Robert Branch, Kenneth Kayser, Arnold Teeples, Wayne Williams, Clara VanRiper, Lester Benjamin, James Chase, Wesley Mosher, James LaRowe, Norma Danshy, Betty Mosher and Gladys Andrews.

The canning group will be led by Miss Martha Anderson, teacher of the Westlock school. Of this club Alta May Benjamin is president, Marjorie Williams, vice president, and Edna VanRiper, secretary. Other members are Marilyn Rotheny, Mildred Depue, Florence Williams, Mary Mickels, Lorne Wilbur and Marie Merignac.

Fifteen members joined the Van-town 4-H club at the reorganization meeting held last week, an increase of two over the 1935 membership. This club, of which Maynard Webster is leader, is one of the few in which all members completed their projects last year. Coridon Webster was elected president, Maurice Monroe, vice president, and Kenneth Martin, secretary-treasurer. The other members are Harold Monroe, Donald Vickers, Frederick Fox, Maurice Oesterle, Maurice Oesterle, Grant Putnam, Darwin Williams, Marvin Glynn, Eileen Monroe, Melville Titus, Eileen Glynn and Harry Dewey. Marvin Glynn and Grant Putnam bought purebred ewes at the consignment sale held at East Lansing during Farmers' Week.

The Haslett 4-H livestock club of which Cleo Buxton has been leader for the past two years recently reorganized with Duane Pulver as president, Earl Mead as vice president, Robert Staff, secretary, and Russell Miller, treasurer. Other members are Merle Mead, Dyle Pulver, Darrel Brown, Dee Remus, Frank Brown, Richard Smith, Junior Schaubly and Jay Schaubly. In the membership four dairy projects are represented, five poultry and four sheep.

She: "You deceived me before our marriage. You told me you were well off."

He: "I was, but I didn't know it."

WEATHER OBSERVATIONS

The Rev. Ernest Martin has been sent a number of news pictures of the flood havoc in New England. The pictures show entire sections of Lowell, Hartford and other eastern cities covered with flood waters. The Nazarene pastor is a native of New England and recognizes most of the scenes.

Ducks are on their way north. A flock of teal and a flock of Butter-bowls stopped off at the game farm last week to feed and rest before resuming their flights north. Many sea-gulls are also visiting the game farm pond waiting for the Great Lake harbors to be cleared of ice.

Crocuses lifted their heads Saturday and Sunday but on Monday morning most of them curled up. There were freezes Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights. The buds started Saturday and Sunday and then were halted by the cold.

Rainfall for March hit a new low of .03 of an inch but with big banks of January and February snow to melt the lack was barely noticed. Normal rainfall for March is 2.35 inches.

The last week has seen two spring days mixed in with an assortment of winter weather. A real March wind prevailed last Friday. There was a sprinkle of snow Saturday morning and then the day turned fair. Sunday was warm and bright in the afternoon although a trifle windy in the morning. Snow and rain came early Monday and later the weather turned cold. There were snow flurries Tuesday, Wednesday, April 1, was cold and dark and at night there was a heavy fall of snow. Five inches of snow had fallen by ten o'clock Thursday morning and there looked like lots more in the offing. Snowplows were packed away two weeks ago but on Wednesday night they were taken out of moth balls and returned to duty.

For years the mail-order house of Sears, Roebuck & Co. has been the largest customer for Goodyear tires. When the federal trade commission discovered that the mail-order concern enjoyed discounts from 29 to 40 per cent under other dealers, Goodyear was ordered to "cease and desist" the practice, "either by increasing its prices to Sears, Roebuck or by lowering its prices to other customers." Announcing an appeal Goodyear President Litchfield states that if decision stands "it would mean increased living costs to millions of consumers."
