LANSING MAN IS CHOSEN AS ROAD COMMISSIONER

ARCHIE EARL WINS VACANCY ON ROAD BOARD.

To Receive Same Pay And To Work Under Same Arrangement As Did Charles Murray.

Archie J. Earl, 204 North Hayford street, Lansing, on Wednesday afternoon was elected as county road commissioner to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Charles Murray of Bunkerhill. The supervisors also elected Mr. Earl to the full six-year term beginning January 1. The salary set is $1020 per year and for the salary Mr. Earl is expected to give most of his time to the job.

The election was won by Mr. Earl without his name being brought before the board of supervisors. Sup. Thomas Toy of Lansing moved that an informal ballot be taken. However, several nominations were made from the floor. Sup. C. A. Clinton of Mason presented the names of Leo H. Harrison, former supervisor; Frank Harding, former road superintendent; and A. L. Lathrop, road foreman and former contractor. Sup. Guy O. Dostader of Onondaga nominated Fred Marshall, former White Oak supervisor. Sup. Fred Husek of Leroy nominated Robert Dietz, former Leroy supervisor.

Mr. Earl had a majority on the first ballot. He received 10 votes. The remaining 15 were divided as follows: Fred Marshall, six; Robert Dietz, three; and Leo H. Harrison, Frank Harding, Cyrus Johns, Leslie Belknap, C. A. Davis and Al Smith, one each. It was said that the vote for Earl was cast by a Jeffersonian democrat.

The balloting was on the vacancy. Following the announcement of the vote, Sup. Fred Kircher of Lansing moved to have Mr. Earl named for the full term by acclamation. The motion was lost and on balloting Mr. Earl received 22 votes for eight for Fred Marshall and one for Leo Harrison. Three blank votes were cast.

Debate Pay Issue
Preceding the balloting on road commissioner the supervisors engaged in a debate over the legality of paying a commissioner to serve in an executive capacity. It was said that the position of highway commissioner is intended to be only of an advisory nature.

Sup. Clinton raised the salary question. He said that supervisors and candidates for the road commissioner position should know what the salary would be before the coming procedure. Sup. John E. Fay of Delhi made a motion that the present salary of $1020 a year be continued. The motion prevailed. Sup. Jacob Schepers of East Lansing stated that the arrangement with the late Mr. Murray had been illegal. Several supervisors suggested that the vacancy be filled and that on January 1, the salary for the next six years be fixed and a commissioner chosen. Sup. David Beatty of Wheatfield pointed out that a commissioner for the full term must be elected before November 1.

Sup. Dostader defended the salary arrangement with the late Mr. Murray and declared that the arrangement had been proved satisfactory and that all sections of the county received a benefit under the plan. Sup. Fay supported Sup. Dostader. Sup. Grover Barnhart of East Lansing declared that a road commissioner should not be both commissioner and superintendent. He said that the arrangement had been proved satisfactory and that all sections of the county received a benefit under the plan.

Has Road Experience
Mr. Earl was formerly a member of the gravel contracting firm of Scarville & Earl. His company operated gravel pits and sold screened and washed aggregate for paving and building construction. Several months ago the firm disposed of one of its pits and much of its equipment to the county commission.

The new commissioner is well known in Lansing. He has tended the Lansing school and has been active in civic affairs. He was a candidate for the Lansing city council at the September primaries. He served in an aviation unit during the world war.

No Other Contests
No contests developed on other positions filled Wednesday afternoon by the board of supervisors. William S. Rhodes of Mason was re-elected as one of the superintendents of the poor; Sup. Guy O. Dostader was returned to the board of control of the tuberculosis sanitarium; Walter R. Carven of Vevoy was re-elected to the board of control of the juvenile detention home; Oliver J. Wren was again named as court house janitor and Dr. L. A. Wileiden was returned as county veterinarian.

The term of Howard Thayer as school examiner had expired and it was reported that he no longer is a resident of the county. Sup. John Fay of Delhi nominated L. G. Goodrich, former Holt school superintendent, to the position. Mr. Goodrich was elected unanimously.

MURPHY TO SPEAK
Frank Murphy, governor general of the Philippines and democratic candidate for governor of Michigan, is to give an address at the Prudden auditorium in Lansing Sunday night at eight o'clock. Mr. Murphy is recognized as one of the most fluent orators in the country and the indications point to a capacity crowd to hear him Sunday night.

BLACKNEY TO SPEAK
Congressman William W. Blackney is to be the principal speaker at a republican rally to be held in the Eden school Friday night, October 16. The committee has announced that there will be plenty of entertainment and refreshments. The meeting is open to anyone.

Ingham Grandfather Busy With Triplets, Birthdays to be Celebrated October 23

St. Frank Skadan of Ingham is a proud grandfather. He has two triplets who have been born with him and next Friday, October 23, he will be second (or is it fourth?) guest of honor at a birthday party given for his three youngest grandchildren. In the picture is Frank posing with this little flock, triplets born to Mr. and Mrs. Vincent O'Leary, 414 Eureka street, Lansing. Granddad is evidently recognized because of the proud possession with which he holds the babes. Frank's lap of course, is inadequate for the seating of all, so a stool was brought into play. On the stool is seen James Samuel, who now weighs 20 1/2 pounds. On Grandpa's right knee is Leila Cecelia, whose present weight is 18 1/2 pounds and on the left knee is the bouncer of the lot, chubby little Ellen Ann, who tips the scales at 22 1/2 pounds.

The birthday party scheduled for next Friday is out of the ordinary. Besides the triplets born at St. Lawrence hospital a year ago, there is Grandpa Skadan whose birthday anniversary falls on October 26, but who is forced to share honors with his grandson, David John O'Leary, who will be six on the same day his grandfather is 79. Even the triplets are forced to share the honors of their big day too, for that is their father's birthday.

Imagine a father already the parent of three children having a birthday gift like that. Then come bounding babies in one basket trotted out by nannies on Vincent's birthday a year ago. James was then the big boy of the trio but since then his sister Ellen has passed him. At birth the weights stood: James, 4 pounds, 15 ounces; Ellen, four pounds, 14 1/2 ounces; Jean, four pounds, one ounce. Since birth, James has enjoyed perfect health, nothing more serious than a cold ever having threatened them.

On Friday the families will assemble at the O'Leary home for a quiet day, for the babies are carefully reared. At noon the three little ones will be given their customary ride in the open air and then their nannies will follow while the elder members of the families will surround the table for the birthday dinner. Mary Margaret, 11, Joseph, 9, and James Samuel, 6, of course, doing full justice to the occasion along with their cousins, the five children of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cook of Lansing. Mrs. Cook and Mrs. O'Leary are sisters. They were formerly Denny and Genevieve Skadan.

The Skadan name is not unknown

INGHAM COUNTY ENJOYS STRONG CASH POSITION

MORE THAN $100,000 SPENT FOR MOTHERS' PENSIONS.

Welfare Bureau Takes 41c Out Of Every Dollar Disbursed From General Fund.

Ingham county is far from broke. In fact, during the past year the county exchequer has maintained a treasury balance well into six figures and on September 30, there stood a cash balance of $650,543.34, only about $7000 below the high point of last year at the conclusion of an intensive drive for payment of delinquent taxes. Total cash receipts for the year for all purposes, much collected for local units of government and disbursed into their treasuries, amounted to $3,718,339.62 while disbursements of all funds amounted to $3,025,515.69.

Clarence Cook, county treasurer, in an effort to show exactly the demands on the general fund for cost of operating the varying functions of county government, breaks the expense dollar down into sections. According to his figures made a part of his official report, the courts and law enforcement takes the first 22 cents, while all other offices and agencies of government cut into the county dollar to the tune of only a thin dime. Welfare, mothers' pensions, public health, hospitalization and similar activities cut deep and take 61 cents of every dollar passing through the general fund. To carry the cost of the board of supervisors' meetings and all their records, the county must contribute $1.00 in an equal amount being received for upkeep of public buildings. The last penny is spent for miscellaneous purposes not easily classified.

C. Ross Hilliard, in his report of balances of all funds, agrees with the books of the treasurer and also itemizes in detail the general fund expenditures and receipts through the general fund.

The clerk reported a balance in the general fund at the end of the fiscal year amounting to $146,853.41 as contrasted with an overdraft in the fund last October 1 amounting to $21,931.92. Current tax receipts to the general fund during 1936 totaled $290,789.27 with $214,685.21 flowing in from taxes of previous years collected during the current year. Mortgage tax accounts for $28,510 of the general fund revenues with cash receipts from office fees and other receipts amounting to $46,760.42.

Pensions Are Costly
The largest single item of expense to the county was the pension list paid to mothers who are widowed, $104,462.73 having been paid this group of citizens. Support of inmates of insane hospitals and other institutions amounted to the county cost tax payers $15,997.99 last year, the report showed. Contagious disease claims amounted to $17,590.15 while expense of carrying general public health work in the county cost $20,213.31.

To administer the dog tax law cost a total of $7,793.22. The supervisors received $102,540 for listing the dogs and the town treasurers $651.50 for collecting the tax. Dog wardens got $243.93. Twelve other items took a total of $602,592 out of the $1,775,170 that was wound up its year with $173,703.40 cash on hand.

Under contract with the state highway department, the county road board maintained the 99.1 miles of state trunk line highways within the county. For this work the board was reimbursed in the sum of $48,979.86, the actual cost for payrolls, plus agreed rentals for machinery and equipment.

Directly under the control of the county board are the 8.3 miles of the original county road system. Of this mileage, 5.1 is of concrete; 218.8 is blacktop surfaced; and 254.4 is of gravel surface. Also taken over for full maintenance and improvement is 634.1 miles of township road, much of which has been graded, drained and graveled. In addition to the mileage reported listed is also found approximately 700 miles of platted streets lying outside of incorporated cities and villages, largely in the immediate vicinity of Lansing.

Blacktop construction has engaged much of the attention of construction crews this season, 73.3 miles of this surface having been laid. A total of 55.3 miles of township roads have been graded and graveled during the summer of 1936, the report discloses. A total of $312,718.32 was expended during the fiscal year on projects classified as construction.

In addition to the amount expended on new construction and maintenance of existing improved highways, the board purchased during the year new equipment and machinery to the amount of $33,892.77 plus $10,000 allowed for used equipment when a gravel pit was purchased from Scarlett & Earl.

Of the amount shown as having been expended by the county road board $197,396.41 was in reality only sums which came to it from state motor taxes to be in turn allocated to incorporated cities and villages. Amounts disbursed to these follow: Lansing, $173,027.46; East Lansing, $9,675.53; Mason, $568.95; Williamston, $3216.61; Leslie, $2444.60; Stockbridge, $1569.70; Webberville, $1,080.77; Danville, $684.79.

That the laying of blacktop surface on gravel roads where traffic is sufficiently heavy to justify is not an expense but a saving is graphically told in the report. The cost of blading 61 miles of gravel and keeping it safe for travel was $42,324. Had the same mileage been treated with blacktop the average cost of maintaining that type would have been only $8113. In other words, in four years of maintenance of gravel sufficient sums are expended over and above the cost of maintaining blacktop to have the smooth, dustless surface provided by blacktopping gravel roads.

Onondaga Gets Park, Link Of County Chain
ROAD BOARD ORDERED TO PURCHASE WOODED TRACT.

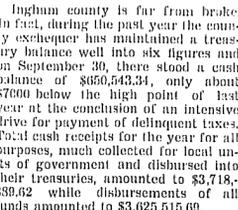

Another snug little park has been added to the chain of county breathing spots, this time Onondaga sharing in the delight of having one of its long used riverside picnic grounds acquired by the county. By unanimous vote Tuesday, the county solons authorized a three-acre wooded tract fronting on Grand River for a total of $600. The tract is virgin and under their shade for 75 years the people of that section have enjoyed picnics and bathing. It is planned to clean the grounds, put down a well, install seats and tables and otherwise improve the area. It lies just south of the village where the Grand takes a long sweeping curve. The owner, M. J. Clay, has agreed to sell for the price named.

The county road commission in a separate report covering cost of caring for the four county parks now maintained at Williamston, Okemos, in Lansing township, and at the county seat, showed a total expenditure of $4569.35 with $3566.79 expended on the 135-acre tract at Mason. Of the latter amount, $1059.15 was expended for fencing.

WRECK IN WHICH HARVEY OWEN LOST HIS LIFE

LOCOMOTIVE CARRIES CAR BLOCK DOWN TRACK.

Freight Train Strikes Car At Maple Street Crossing Used As Temporary Detour.

Above is a picture of Mr. Owen's car after it became dislodged from the cowcatcher of the locomotive hauling the Michigan Central train through Mason Monday afternoon. When the picture was taken Mr. Owen had just been removed from the wreckage. The men in the picture were among those who saw or heard the crash and rushed to the scene to help extricate Mr. Owen. Fred Parker, manager of the Mason Elevator company, can be easily distinguished. He is standing opposite the car door. Mr. Parker had talked with Mr. Owen a few seconds before the fatal accident.

Witnesses stated that they saw Mr. Owen look neither to the right or left, that he appeared to be unconscious of the approach of the train, that the train whistled a few seconds before, that the warning bell on the Ash street crossing, a block south, was ringing, and that apparently Mr. Owen made no attempt to apply the brakes on his car. While he was driving south on Lansing street and east on Maple street his view of the approaching train was unobscured. That Mr. Owen was watching the men working on the Maple street WPA project and paid no attention to the crossing or that his mind was on other affairs and he forgot about the crossing are speculations regarding the cause of the tragedy.

Mr. Owen's car was slightly beyond the center of the track when it was struck by the locomotive hauling the heavy freight. For nearly a city block the automobile and its driver were carried down the track. Then the car became dislodged and was dragged about three rods north along the tracks. At that point the car was shoved clear of the train. When the train was halted the locomotive was just north of Columbia street.

Lived Short Time
WPA workers who saw the accident and the section crew at the Columbia crossing who heard the crash and looked up to see the car being brought toward them, ran to where the car was lodged. It took them several minutes to extricate Mr. Owen from the tangled mass of wreckage. An ambulance was summoned and the ambulance was halted at the tracks on Maple street and a stretcher taken to where Mr. Owen had been placed on the grass alongside the wrecked car. At that time it was believed that Mr. Owen would live. He told his name, although the address he gave was Lansing in care of Mason.

However, when the injured man was shifted to the stretcher it was apparent that he was dangerously injured. He was carried to the hospital. He died a few minutes after admittance.

Did Not See Train
A. J. McFarland of Bay City was conductor of the train. Ward Fry of Jackson was the engineer and Martin Ball of Jackson was the fireman. The engineer declared that he saw Mr. Owen driving his car toward the crossing. They said he was proceeding slowly and that they believed he intended to stop before reaching the tracks. The engineer said that the whistle was sounded a few seconds before and that the Ash street warning bell was ringing when the engine crossed the crossing to the left and south. Both the Ash street and Columbia crossings have warning signals. Maple street is unguarded.

E. L. Rathburn of Lansing, signal maintainer for the Michigan Central, heard the crash and saw the tragedy. So did R. J. Wright of Mason, section worker. Neither saw Mr. Owen drive onto the track.

George W. Stowe and Sam Bowen, employed on the Maple street WPA project, declared they saw the accident. Mr. Stowe said, "I heard the train whistle. I looked toward the tracks and saw the train rounding the bend to the south. I happened to look the other way and saw the car which I learned later was driven by Mr. Owen. I saw the train approach Maple street. Mr. Owen drove his car down Lansing street, turned to the left and drove into the path of the train. Mr. Owen looked neither right nor left. Evidently he was unaware of the tracks and the train. He was driving slowly."

Mr. Bowen's account of the accident was substantially the same. L. G. Dietrick, WPA timekeeper, did not see Mr. Owen drive onto the tracks. He did hear the crash and looked up in time to see the car hurled onto the cowcatcher of the locomotive. The WPA employees, railroad employees, and men employed in the elevator and coal yards helped extricate Mr. Owen from the car when it dropped off the cowcatcher a block north of the point where the collision occurred.

Owens Heaves Farm
The Owen family came to the old Hewes farm southwest of Danville about four and one-half years ago. The family came from Lansing where Mr. Owen had been long employed in automobile factories. He had been a Reo employee for 16 years and had also been at the Durant. On Monday afternoon he had brought his wife and daughter to Mason. While they were shopping he went to the elevator to get a bag of feed. The wife and daughter learned of the accident and were at the hospital when Mr. Owen was brought there.

Besides the widow, Catherine, Mr. Owen is survived by six children: Anna Marie, Cecelia, Margaret, Harvey J., Dorothy Jean and Nolan; an aged mother living in the northern part of the state; four sisters and three brothers.

Funeral services were held at the St. Cornelius Cyprian church in Bunkerhill Thursday morning with the Rev. Fr. John Duffy officiating.

County At Crossroads In National Campaign

Trails of President Franklin D. Roosevelt and Gov. Alfred M. Landon crossed in Ingham county this week.

Governor Landon's train arrived in Lansing from Detroit Wednesday noon. He spoke to a huge throng at the Grand Trunk station in Lansing and then his train was switched to the Michigan Central tracks and continued south to Jackson. The train went through Grand Rapids. The president was scheduled and did not stop. No stop at Mason was scheduled. However, Gov. Landon stood on the rear platform and waved his hat.

President Roosevelt spoke at the Grand Trunk station in Lansing Thursday noon. His train was en route to Flint and Detroit from Grand Rapids. The president was greeted by big crowds at Lansing. Col. Theodore Roosevelt was a Lansing speaker Monday night. On Sunday night Frank Murphy will speak in Lansing. Col. Roosevelt was former governor general of the Philippines. Mr. Murphy is the present high commissioner of the Philippines. He is on leave of absence to campaign for the office of governor of Michigan.

THREE NEW OFFICIALS NOMINATED BY CAUCUS
GUY S. THORBURN NAMED AS SUPERVISOR.

Frank Lester Nominated As Assessor And Dr. W. B. Hartzog Named As Justice Of Peace.

In a caucus held by the Peoples party in the court house Monday which was one of the most quiet held in Mason in recent years, three new city officials were nominated. Inasmuch as there is only one ticket in the field for the November 3 election the nominees chosen Monday night are practically assured of election. The three new officials nominated are Guy S. Thorburn to serve as second ward alderman and supervisor, Frank A. Lester as city assessor and Dr. W. B. Hartzog as justice of the peace.

Mr. Thorburn previously served eight years as supervisor. When the charter was changed in 1928 to combine the offices of alderman and supervisor Mr. Thorburn did not seek election.

Ald. E. D. Sanford, recently appointed by Mayor Arthur W. Jewett to fill a vacancy, was nominated without opposition for the vacancy. Ald. John H. Davis was renominated without opposition for full term as alderman at large.

A contest developed for city assessor. Carlton P. Hunter was not a candidate for re-election. The names of Frank Lester, Charles Clipper and Guy S. Thorburn were presented. Mr. Clipper declared he would not serve. A deadlock developed on the first ballot. Ninety-nine votes were cast and no candidate received a majority. The results were 45 votes for Mr. Lester, 35 for Mr. Clipper, 16 for Mr. Thorburn and three for Carlton Hunter. Mr. Lester was given a majority on the second ballot. He received 58 to 37 for Mr. Clipper and seven for Mr. Thorburn. A total of 102 votes were cast on the second ballot.

George Kellogg was unopposed for the nomination as city clerk. Dr. W. B. Hartzog, retired dentist, was given an unanimous vote as candidate for justice of the peace to fill a vacancy caused by the refusal of J. A. Brower, elected last November, to accept the office. William S. Seelye's term as justice of the peace has not expired. The city charter provides for two justices.

Ald. Lee Darling was renominated as first ward alderman. He received 25 votes to 20 cast for Lloyd R. Deane. Mr. Thorburn was nominated as second ward alderman and supervisor. He was given 30 votes to 24 cast for Cordie Bashford. Sup. Kelly is about to move from the second ward to take up residence in the first ward so he was not a candidate.

The city committee of the Peoples party was re-elected. The members are E. A. Densmore, E. J. Fletcher, Lee Darling, Ployd Taylor, E. D. Sanford, Carlton Hunter and Arthur W. Jewett.

Mr. Densmore presided as chairman of the city caucus. George Post was installed as secretary. Leo H. Harrison was chairman and Fred E. Searl secretary of the first ward caucus and George McArthur was chairman and secretary of the second ward caucus.

Former Mason Woman Loses Case In Court
ASKED $15,000 DAMAGES FROM KROGER STORE.

Mrs. Marie Faulkner of Lansing, until a few months ago a resident of Mason, was denied damages Monday in her suit to collect $15,000 from the Kroger Grocery and Baking company, Richard Mills, manager of the Mason Kroger store, and Charles W. Couch, owner of the building occupied by the Mason store. A circuit court jury in Lansing was out only 15 minutes to decide that Mrs. Faulkner had no cause for action. She claimed that in January she slipped and fell while in the store and received painful injuries from which she was never recovered. She claimed the floor was slippery due to the presence of water and vegetable leaves on the floor.

The trial was begun Friday and ended Monday morning. Among witnesses for Mrs. Faulkner were Mrs. Ray Beebe, Mrs. Milton Beebe and Dr. Robert S. Bohn of Mason. Richard Mills, Don Densmore and Mrs. Mary Harris of Mason were witnesses for the defense.

In his charge to the jury Judge Charles H. Hayden explained that negligence on the part of the Kroger company must be proved. He pointed out that to prove negligence the plaintiff must show that a dangerous condition existed, that the company had knowledge of the condition and that, knowing of the condition, the company took no cognizance of it.

AMENDMENT NUMBER TWO

(This is the second of a series of four editorials on four amendments)

For more than a decade there has been agitation in Michigan for a better system of county government than the state constitution provides for counties like Wayne and Kent and one or two other counties containing large cities and great industrial areas with resultant density of population. In this type of county, the old type of township and county units of government appear not to serve well either the requirements of society or to meet the demands of efficiency and economy.

In Wayne county for instance, less than three persons out of 1000 of its population resides outside of incorporated cities and large villages. At the time of taking the last United States census, one township of Wayne county was found to hold but 73 residents while another held more than 21,000. Under the Michigan constitution the board of supervisors, with almost unlimited powers for taxing the people, maintains a county government while Detroit and seven other cities all within Wayne county each maintain separate and distinct municipal governments. These municipalities do not include innumerable villages also maintaining municipal governments.

For all these duplicate agencies, the people who live in Wayne county pay and pay plenty. The people of Wayne know this but they cannot defend themselves against the greed and avarice of small time politicians who prey upon them at every turn.

Thoughtful people of Wayne for years have struggled for relief but so long as Michigan's constitution remains adamant on just how each county shall set up its governing bodies, the people of Wayne have no redress. That is why, each regular election, proposals to set up classifications for counties or some optional plan by which counties and their subsidiary units may govern themselves more to their own liking, appear upon the ballot.

What prevents the adoption of these reforms? Agricultural Michigan has had experience with city domination. Representatives of rural Michigan know that whenever mass control of affairs, either in the state or county, is brought about, that moment will spell the doom of local independence, the right to local self-government, reasonable control over local expenditures for government and consequently reasonable taxes to pay. Every proposal thus far made to emancipate Wayne and Kent counties has carried with it a threat to disturb affairs in counties well satisfied and well served by the Michigan system.

Illinois had similar difficulties. There it was finally agreed there should be classes of counties. Counties like Cook county in which Chicago is situated, certainly have social and economic problems far different from some county down in the corn belt where the largest town may not be over a couple of thousand.

Michigan has three types of counties, the densely populated industrial counties; the well populated agricultural counties; and the sparsely settled northern counties. Perhaps the Illinois plan might work in Michigan.

The amendment now before the people of Michigan and which will appear as number two on the November ballot, is broad in its terms, leaving much to the legislature in setting up types of county home rule to be followed. Legislators from the agricultural districts wrote into the original resolution several restricting clauses so that in the final form in which it passed during the very closing moments of the 1935 legislature, it fully satisfies neither its opponents nor its proponents. It probably will meet defeat as has its predecessors. Some of the restrictions injected are vague as to meaning, indefinite as to terms, and involved as to language.

The amendment is aimed to accomplish a good purpose but in the clash of interests fighting for it and against it, the resolution was loaded with language concerning which even its authors are in doubt.

To put the matter plainly, the existing system of county government will continue to prevail in Michigan until such time as Wayne and Kent and the few other counties desiring change can agree on form and language which will assure Ingham and other counties now enjoying good government that their fortunes will not be cast in with the rubble of the city slums. Agricultural Michigan will continue to hold on to every advantage it may possess, yielding nothing except the right to others to have what they may desire so long as it does not interfere with their own rights.

This may not sound altogether like the language of the good neighbor but the rule of self preservation is still a good rule to follow.

The fact that before it can be effective in any county the people must approve helps some. The further fact that the votes of the county are cast in two distinct groups, the largest city in the county voting as one unit and all the territory outside the largest city in another, each to produce a clear majority in favor before adoption, looks like fair play. On the other hand Lansing, Delhi and Meridian townships along with the city of East Lansing might cast 20,000 of the 37,000 voting strength outside the city of Lansing and thus offset a possible unanimous vote of all the rural townships, plus the city of Mason.

ROAD BUSINESS, BIG BUSINESS

In this column on previous occasions reference has been made to the advantages which Ingham county enjoys in the way of road development. Even those who live within the county and know of improvements made to the roads of the county during recent years, have slight conception of all the county road system involves and includes. This fact was brought forth last week when the members of the roads and bridges committee of the board of supervisors took two days from their ordinary affairs and rode about the county with the county engineer, employees and members of the county road commission. These supervisors expressed astonishment that so many miles of good highways and streets are included in the system now under maintenance by the county.

Ingham county was by no means a pioneer in the field of road building. In fact it was among the lagging counties for many years. Neither was Ingham county among the first to enter upon a program of hard surfaces. Other counties with less in the way of resources had many miles of paving long before Ingham paved any. This very conservatism accounts in part at least for the present advantageous position this county now holds. Ingham county likewise avoided the pitfalls of the over-use of the Covert special improvement and special taxing plan from which several important counties of the state still suffer. It never used money from the sale of general obligation bonds. What it built it paid for as the roads were improved.

In consequence of this conservatism, Ingham conserved its resources, avoided the errors of faulty construction encountered in the early days so that when state aid was rushed to other counties bankrupted by excesses, Ingham stood in a position to receive full benefit of every advantage.

Today Ingham has a network of well-improved highways. If the present revenue system remains undisturbed for another few years, the original county system laid out as a goal in the early twenties, nearly 500 miles of it, will be paved or surfaced with smooth, dustless and mudless bituminous top. In addition will be about 600 miles of township roads once the bone of every driver and a hole into which millions of public revenue was sunk in Michigan every year. Ingham county's entire public highway system will have been graded, drained and to some degree surfaced. In fact when one drives systematically about the county, over various types of roads as called for by existing traffic conditions, one is impressed with the engineering ability and good judgment applied to Ingham's road improvement program.

In addition to these miles of county and township roads which until 1932 were cared for entirely at the expense of abutting property—lands and homes—there are also some 700 miles of platted streets, chiefly in Delhi, Lansing and Meridian township subdivisions, now being cared for by the county road commission. All cost of maintenance and improvement of this vast mileage, including removal of snow is provided out of revenues collected from motor vehicle and gasoline taxes, without taxes levied against property. Inspection of those outlying districts served by platted streets, impresses the observer with the scope of the task imposed upon the county road commission.

This comment and discussion is not intended to convince the people of Ingham county that they have a perfect agency in the county road commission. Neither is it in any sense intended that any criticism shall fall. The fact that so much has been accomplished without public debt and during the past four years with absolutely no tax against the homes and farms of Ingham county, is assurance that a lot of painstaking and conscientious work on the part of the road officials has been accomplished. What is intended here is to impress the reader, if possible with the immensity of the highway field and the necessity for being alert to constant improvement in policy and in practice.

Ingham county road commission spent during the past year more than $750,000, three quarters of a million dollars. The commission now holds a cash balance amounting to $173,793.40 with more than $600,000 as the estimated and probable revenues for next year.

Road business is no longer small business. The position of county road commissioner should command the best business brains to be found anywhere in the whole county.

THE FARMER HAS HIS SAY

Jack Van Coevering, wife-life editor of the Detroit Free Press, has finally reverted to the logic of his youth spent among the farmers around Holland, Michigan. He, at last, recalls that it is the farmer who owns the land and raises the birds which the hunters want to kill; it is the farmer who plows the fields and tends the crops which the city hunter and his fancy dogs trample at will and who owns the sheep and cattle frightened out of pounds of good flesh as their pastures are raided by shooting, shouting trespassers who drive out from the city and by not as much as "by your leave" enter upon, raid and destroy, cut wire fences, and otherwise flaunt their sportmanship (?) before the world.

In discussing the growing tendency of the farmers to post their lands, Mr. Van Coevering says:

"This does not mean that the hunter is up against a stone wall. Far from it. It merely throws him back on the farmer. After all, the farmer has the say-so in this hunting business. It is his land on which the pheasants build their nests, lay their eggs, rear their young and spend the winter. It is his land on which the cottontails burrow and run about. It is his fruit trees which they girdle when the winter becomes severe. It is his oak and beech trees that the fox squirrels inhabit, and it is his woodlot with its dead and dying trees in which the raccoon dens. These pheasants, rabbits, squirrels and raccoons are with the farmer the year around. The hunter comes after them only a day or two out of the year. Is it any wonder, then, that the farmer would like a little recognition at that time? * * * After all, the farmer owns the land. He has the say."

When other city writers take the same attitude and teach their city brethren the doctrine presented by Van Coevering, there will result better feeling between city and country, better hunting for the real sportsman and better relations all around.

COLOR TOURS

Northern Michigan is advertising "color tours." For those who cannot go that far for their fall colors, there are many wonderful drives to be taken within easy reach of any Ingham county home. In fact it is doubtful that for sheer beauty, anything can be found in the whole state which surpasses the colors massed along the old "hogs-back" between Mason and Holt. And for a genuine thrill, try climbing the fresh air camp hill east of town.

Michigan at this season of the year offers a variety of color not found elsewhere in the middle west. This year, because of the rains since August and the sharp frosts without absolute freezing, our country-side is especially attractive.

Go north by all means, if time and opportunity offers, but failing in that do not miss the opportunity to drive on almost any country highway, along the back roads is preferable.

Color tours in Michigan may be arranged at will. They may extend for a mile or a thousand miles.

Michigan State Has Grown Up—Or Has It?

People who attended Michigan State college when it was Michigan Agricultural college, do not attempt to conceal their wonderment at the growth of the school. Not that they regret it—merely that it seems incredible. The demand of young people for something more than a high school education is understandable. The good jobs go to the best trained.

The thing that challenges our attention is the big boost in enrollment, the admission of hundreds and hundreds of additional students, when housing and other facilities were already inadequate. A few months ago Secretary John Hannah displayed what we believe this institution sadly needs, viz., courage to call things by their right names.

He said that the old Woman's Building was a firetrap. He is right. He said it was more dangerous than the Kerns hotel which took forty lives. He probably knows. This year the enrollment jumped up to about 4,500.

The boys and girls were admitted. Their money for tuition was accepted. By this act, the Board of Agriculture and college officials obligate themselves and this state to give them their money's worth.

Can they do it? Have they increased the teaching staff and class rooms in proportion to the increase of enrollment? If not, why not? With the officials of the college and the Board of Agriculture lay this problem directly before the next legislature and fight for what they need? We are wondering—Will the same enterprise and initiative be exhibited to get increased educational facilities that has been exhibited to get a more adequate football field?

Indications are that Michigan State has grown up. It is no longer a "cow college"—and that does not mean that we wish to disparage the agricultural departments. It does mean that, in our opinion, this institution deserves an aggressive and progressive program to secure adequate facilities and personnel.—Clinton County Republican-News.

Your Taxes—Direct and Indirect

By RAYMOND PITCAIRN
National Chairman
Sentinels of the Republic

Students of government and its increasing demands on the family pocket-book have been pointing out in recent months the disproportionate spread between direct and indirect taxes.

As recently as 1929, they report, the Federal government collected approximately one-third of its income from hidden or indirect taxes, and two-thirds from open or direct taxes.

By 1935, the picture had reversed itself. Then, almost two-thirds of Federal income came from hidden taxes, and approximately one-third from direct taxes.

To the average householder this contrast is significant. Why? Because, while direct taxes are levied principally on income, gifts, inheritances and the like, indirect taxes worm their way into bills for clothing, food, shelter and other purchases necessary to the American family.

Although ostensibly directed at other incomes, they hit the average worker's earnings after a sort of multiple pass from politician to producer, to retailer, to consumer. Unwittingly they are paid over the counter by the American housewife whenever she buys for the home. Thus lurking in the price of so many necessities, they add insidiously to the cost of living.

Hidden taxes are by no means new. They have been gnawing at American workers' earnings for many years. But the serious thing today is their expansion—with its consequent burden on the family income.

Yet the burden can be lessened. Developed to their present proportions to help finance huge and often wasteful expenditures by politicians, hidden taxes can be reduced by cutting such waste.

That, of course, is the politician's job. But it isn't their responsibility alone. It's the responsibility of us, the people, to tell the politicians—who under the Constitution, are subject to our control—that such waste, with its consequent raid on the family purse, must end. Or else!

The Hands That Shape America

By RAYMOND PITCAIRN, National Chairman, Sentinels of the Republic.

For many decades America has led the world in the development of new methods and new products that lighten the labors, enrich the lives and speed the progress of humanity.

The motor-car, the motion-picture, the modern radio-set, the many uses of electricity in our daily lives—these are a few of the newer developments which American enterprise and ingenuity have made available to millions of men and women.

Altrivert, the newer plastic and metal products, modern farm methods and machinery, oil in its multiple uses—these are a few of its gifts to transportation and industry and production.

Who is responsible for these achievements? The politician, operating through the slow hand of government? Or the American citizen, working free and unhampered to translate ideas into practical reality as did Edison, for example.

The answer is obvious. The story of American achievement is the story of many Edisons who, through their enterprise, their practicality and their success, have given higher standards of living and greater opportunities for employment to millions of fellow-workers.

The story of politics and bureaucracy has been the reverse. Too often it has been a story of barriers planted in the path of the men who are laboring to carry American enterprise to its highest developments—to make ideas grow into generous production and long payrolls.

For the politicians and the bureaucrats to assert that they, rather than the workers and earners, created our success is to jump the claims of the very men who made America and advanced the American people.

America in the past was built not by its politicians, but by its people. America in the present—and in the future—will be shaped by the same work-hardened and capable hands.

On September 1, 1832, the rum ration for the enlisted men of the U. S. navy was discontinued, and they were given an increase in pay of five cents per day. In 1814 the officers wine mess was discontinued and since that time intoxicating liquors have been prohibited aboard navy ships.

By checking the time of deposits you can tell at what period of the year you are able to save the most money, also when, if at all, that your spending is greater than your earning power. County Solons Order Hanna Property Bought

DIRECT ADDITION OF 15 ACRES TO COUNTY PARK. An addition to the Ingham county park property is provided in a resolution adopted Wednesday by the board of supervisors instructing the board of county road commissioners to purchase a 15-acre tract of land adjoining the present park farm and owned by William Hanna. The price for which Mr. Hanna had informed the board he would sell is $1200. The land is a level tract and is the property used for several years as a landing field for airplane rides during the annual fair. Its acquisition will make it possible to provide a standard emergency landing field. Funds for grading and maintaining such fields come from a specific tax levied on aviation gasoline.

It is not expected that any improvements will be made in the near future to the field acquired. Members of the county fair board insist it is necessary for the county to control the field to avoid irresponsible persons operating airplanes for carrying passengers. The officers and members of Mason Lodge No. 70, F. & A. M., have been invited to attend the ceremonies in connection with the laying of the cornerstone of the new postoffice building at Howell by the Grand Lodge of Michigan Thursday afternoon, October 22, at two-thirty. Boy Scout Program Is Under New Leadership

TO LAUNCH PROGRAM FOR MASON BOYS. Gilson Pearsall, high school instructor, has launched a new Boy Scout program for Mason. An organization meeting was held at the school Monday night and 15 boys enrolled as members. Mr. Pearsall, who has had several years of Boy Scout experience, plans to hold slowly until four patrols, containing 32 boys, are held together. He said, "We intend to handpick the boys and will accept only those with definite interest in scouting. There should be no reason why Mason should not have a Boy Scout program."

Mr. Pearsall said that it has not yet been decided whether or not the Mason troop will join the area council. The area council issue has been the stumbling block for former Mason troops. The cost of joining has been held to be disproportionate to the benefits received from council membership. Mr. Pearsall explained that Masons will probably be able to handle for several months before deciding on the council issue. A few years ago the Mason Boy Scouts were told they had no standing until a sum approximating $300 was paid to the council. It was not paid. The Mason troop is to meet at the school at seven o'clock on Monday nights.

How Inflation Hits Your Savings
 By RAYMOND PITCAIRN
 National Chairman
 Saviours of the Republic

"The very man who has the deepest interest in sound currency is the man who earns his daily bread by his daily toil."

Daniel Webster said that nearly a century ago. His statement was true in his time, it is true years earlier, and it is true today.

France proved its verity as early as 1795, when currency inflation forced workers and wage-earners to pay the equivalent of $9 for a pound of bread and of $40 for a bushel of potatoes.

Germany proved it shortly after the World War when inflation wiped out utterly the average worker's savings, and sky-rocketed the prices of everything save the barest necessities of life far beyond his reach.

Russia proved it when her revolutionary leaders used inflation to help drag every worker down to a state of regimented and dependent penury.

In every instance currency inflation hurt the worker and helped the speculator. Always it crushes the thrifty and exalts the gambler. How?

It achieves this effect not by reducing the number of dollars in the earner's pay-envelope or savings account or insurance estate, but by reducing the actual purchasing power of those dollars.

It means that out of the same income—or savings—he must pay far more for food and clothes and shelter and everything else he buys.

That's the fine for the well-heeled speculator who profits by buying in a low market and selling at inflated prices. But it's hard on the worker—or on his widow and children if he has entrusted their future to insurance or savings funds accounts, as most American wage-earners do.

How can the average worker and citizen escape this menace?

Well, as history has proved, the blight of inflation descends on a nation in one of two ways. It may be adopted deliberately as a method of raising prices. But more often it comes as a result of straining government resources through extravagance and debt.

Force the politicians to eliminate waste and the piling up of public debt—and you remove this threat at the earnings, the savings and the security of every worker and his family.

County Poor Board Makes Good Showing

CLOSING YEAR WITH SUBSTANTIAL BALANCE

Reports of the year's transactions made by the Ingham county superintendents of the poor to the board of supervisors Monday disclosed an active year, low cost of operation and the encouraging balances at the end of the year.

A total of 178 persons found refuge at the infirmary during the fiscal year. Their care and board cost $23,367.76 for the 44,938 days total, an average daily cost, including about 35 confined to their beds in the infirmary hospital, of 52 cents.

Operation of the farm cost the taxpayers $1125.27 but for this expenditure the institution received its milk supply, great quantities of garden vegetables, fruits and berries as well as considerable beef and pork for the table, and in addition cash sales of surplus products of the farm amounted to $1677.50. It is the last mentioned item of which C. C. Foster, member of the board having active supervision of the farm, is particularly proud. Mr. Foster has served as manager of the farm for many years and has built up there not only a fertile and productive soil but also a fine herd of cattle and other farm stock.

Of the 178 inmates sheltered at the infirmary during the year, the city of

TEACHER IN HURT

Miss Bernice Lou Allen was injured in an accident about one-half mile east of Webberville on US 14 Sunday afternoon when her car was struck by another car. The driver of the other car failed to stop for the signal. Miss Allen was taken to the Sparrow hospital, where she was treated for face and head injuries. She was removed to the home of her mother, Mrs. Grace Allen, Monday, where she is reported improving. Miss Allen is a teacher in the Royal Oak schools. She was returning to Royal Oak when the accident happened.

Two are charged against the county at large. Temporary relief extended to indigent persons outside the infirmary totaled $28,219, of which $19,068.66 is chargeable against towns and cities.

CORN CURIOSITIES

CORN

IS AMERICA'S GREATEST CROP. THE UNITED STATES GROWS APPROXIMATELY THREE QUARTERS OF THE WORLD'S CORN, AND THE FARM VALUE OF A YEAR'S CORN CROP IS USUALLY MORE THAN TWICE THAT OF A YEAR'S WHEAT. IT IS GROWN IN EVERY ONE OF THE 48 STATES...

4TH OF JULY FIREWORKS COMMEMORATE THE FOUNDING OF A NEW NATION. IT IS APPROPRIATE THAT IN THOSE FIREWORKS ARE PRODUCTS INDUSTRY DERIVED FROM CORN. THE CROP WHICH DID SO MUCH TOWARD AIDING THE UNITED STATES IN REACHING ITS PRESENT POWER AND WEALTH...

THE ECONOMY OF THE EARLY INDIAN CIVILIZATIONS IN AMERICA CENTERED AROUND CORN. MOST INDIAN TRIBES WORSHIPPED CORN AS A GOD. THE AZTECS MADE HUMAN SACRIFICES TO THIS DEITY. TODAY OUR NATIONAL WELFARE IS HARDLY LESS CONCERNED WITH CORN. IT IS THE PRINCIPAL CROP OF THE AMERICAN FARMER, AND THE FARMER MUST PROSPER IF THE UNITED STATES IS TO PROSPER.

AROUND CORN HAS SPRUNG UP A GREAT INDUSTRY MANUFACTURING HUNDREDS OF PRODUCTS INCLUDING CORN STARCH, CORN SUGAR AND CORN SYRUP. THE CORN REFINING INDUSTRY TODAY PURCHASES ABOUT ONE-THIRD OF THE CORN SOLD FOR CASH IN THIS COUNTRY, THIS PROVIDING DIRECT REVENUE FOR THE FARMER.

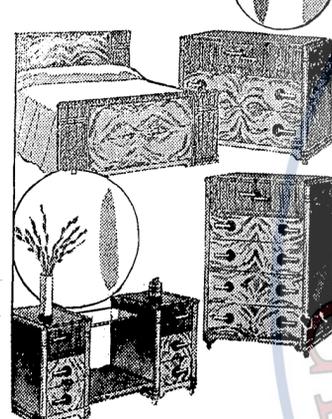

PRODUCTS MANUFACTURED BY THE CORN REFINING INDUSTRY ARE ABSORBED BY HUNDREDS OF OTHERS FOR MANY PURPOSES. ATHLETES EAT CORN SUGAR TO RESTORE WANNING ENERGIES. TIREB MUSCLES. MEDICINALLY IT IS EMPLOYED WIDELY. CORN STARCH IS USED BY THE TEXTILE INDUSTRY, BAKERS AND CONFECTIONERS LEAN HEAVILY ON CORN DERIVATIVES IN MANUFACTURING THEIR PRODUCTS.

OHIOAN PROFITED FROM CORN

First man to achieve a great profit from corn grown in the fertile farmlands west of the Alleghenies was George Renick who in 1804 fattened a herd of cattle on the grain and drove them eastward from his Ohio home across the mountains. He brought them into Baltimore with a loss of less than one hundred pounds a head, and his experiment proved extremely profitable. When, during the War of 1812, the East became hard-pressed for food many others followed his example. Surplus corn could not be carried to the Eastern markets except at disastrous cost, but it could be fed to livestock which could be driven to the Atlantic ports and sold at fantastic prices.

Mason's drum and bugle corps is to have a part in the dedication of a bridge on US 16, northwest of Lansing, Sunday. The Mason corps will assemble in front of the veterans building in Lansing Sunday noon.

Lloyd Doane and Nelson Brown are captains of the membership drive teams. The winning team is to have a banquet to be served by the losing team.

Because of the district convention the regular meeting of Browne-Cavender post will not be held Thursday night of this week. However, there will be practice for the drum and bugle corps.

At the regular meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary held Tuesday night, installation of officers took place. Those installed were: Mrs. Robert Wallace, president; Mrs. Leo Burton, senior vice; Mrs. Leo Kelly, secretary; Mrs. Leo Kelly, treasurer; Mrs. V. J. Brown, historian and Mrs. Frank Rathburn, sergeant at arms. Mrs. Charles W. Browne acted as installing officer. Reports of the work done by the officers and standing committees were given. #### Ingham Sanitarium Serves Many People

DEATH RATE FOR COUNTY SHOWN BELOW AVERAGE

Reports filed by the board in control of the Ingham county tuberculosis sanitarium by Dr. George Stucky Tuesday disclosed an active year, both within the hospital proper and in the outpatient work carried on as a part of the general service in the fight against the white plague. The sanitarium contained a total of 85 patients on October 1, 1935, and 84 on September 30, 1936. During the period, 172 patients were admitted for treatment. Ten were found not to be afflicted; three did not remain a sufficient time to change condition; and 15 died.

A total of 1663 persons received diagnosis examinations at out-hospital clinics while the out-patient nurse made 1513 calls in 363 families of the county.

Total cost of operating the sanitarium and its out-patient department and other services amounted to $94,891.98.

A total of 26,969 hospital days treatment were given at a gross cost of $3.20 with receipts from the state of Michigan, other counties, private patients and other sources reducing the net daily cost per patient paid out of tax receipts to $2.05.

Frank Church, veteran member of the board of control and a former member of the board of supervisors, spoke briefly of the work of the board in keeping costs at low level. Dr. C. R. Vandenberg, Lansing's director of public health, showed figures proving that by reason of the pioneering done by Ingham county and the fine support always given the sanitarium, the death rate in Ingham is much below that of the state. He paid the county solons a fine compliment for their consistent support of the institution and the management for its fine work.

Mason Woman Passes After Long Sickness

LAST MEMBER OF FAMILY DIES AT ADVANCED AGE

Mrs. Helen Campbell Rathburn, 86, died at her home in Mason Wednesday morning. She had been ill for several months. The cause of her death was listed as gradual heart failure. Funeral services will be held at the Rathburn home Friday afternoon at 2:30 with burial in Maple Grove cemetery, Mason. The Rev. John Adams of the Mason Presbyterian church is to officiate at the last rites.

Mrs. Rathburn was the last member of her family generation to pass. She was born April 27, 1850, in Norwalk, Ohio. As a small child she left Norwalk with her father, George J. Mead, and her mother, Minerva Mead, to locate in Dansville in Michigan. For a number of years Mr. Mead was engaged in the milling business at Dansville. Mrs. Rathburn attended school in Norwalk and was graduated there. After a few years the Mead family moved to Mason where Mr. Mead continued in the milling business.

Four children were born to the Mead family. Mrs. Helen Campbell Rathburn was the oldest. Her sister was Mrs. Della L. Webb of Mason who recently passed away. There were two brothers, Ivan Mead of Denver, Colorado, and Wilton S. Mead of Republic, Kansas. All are now dead.

Twenty-seven years ago Mrs. Rathburn became the wife of C. M. Rathburn, prominent railroad official of Atchison, Kansas. He died a few months ago. When Mr. Rathburn retired from his railroad career in 1930, Mr. and Mrs. Rathburn moved to Mason in the new home built adjoining the L. C. Webb home.

George J. Culver of Mason, son of Mrs. Rathburn by a former marriage, is the only survivor.

WEATHER OBSERVATIONS

Never in recent years have so many flocks of geese passed over Mason. The long trek south reached Mason Saturday. There were small flocks Saturday and Sunday. A big flock went over in the night Monday. Only a few flocks passed Tuesday. Then on Wednesday came thousands. From 10 o'clock until two o'clock Wednesday the air was filled with geese. Many of the squadrons flew low so that individual birds could be clearly distinguished. A flock which soared over at 1:15 had more than 1500 birds. Snow in Canada and upper Michigan has started the pilgrimage to a warmer clime. The ducks are still standing by.

Record-breaking September rains changed the crop outlook for Michigan. The wonderful recovery of pasture during September was the greatest of any year on record. The condition on August 1 was 35 per cent. Late August rains raised the condition to 41 and September rainfall boosted it to 82 per cent on October 1. Milk production went up 10 per cent per cow due to the better pasture.

Michigan's corn crop was nearly mature when frost struck. The yield varies from none to average or better. Highest yields are on low land with high fertility. The October 1 estimate is 36,750,000 bushels, only six per cent below the five-year average but 40 per cent below last year's record crop.

Beans were harmed by the drought and the heavy rains. The crop is below normal in yield and in quality. The potato crop was helped by late rains. However, the 1936 crop is 17 per cent less than in 1935 and 13 per cent below the five-year average.

Sugar beets made considerable growth in September and the prospects of 850,000 tons are bright. The 1936 crop will be considerably above 1935 and above the average for 1928-1932. Harvesting is being delayed because of wet weather.

Apples, peaches and pears are better crops than were expected six weeks ago. Grapes proved disappointing.

This is another freak potato year. John Rusch is displaying a potato which is in the shape of a turtle, believe it or not. Some of John's neighbors claim the potato is a victim of prenatal influence because the Rusch lawn is crowded with artificial animals made by Mr. Rusch.

G. B. Holly of Bunkerhill also brought in some samples of freaks. His seemed to run in bunches. He would have one big potato with a fringe of little potatoes clinging to the big one.

And still it rains. There was a steady rain Friday and Saturday with a dense fog Friday night. Sunday was cold and bright. There was a trace of snow in the air Monday but it turned to rain. Fog hovered close to the ground Wednesday morning but the sun finally broke through and made a warm day of it.

Automobile Races Packed With Thrills And Spills

TWO DRIVERS MOW DOWN BOARD FENCE IN FIGHTING IT OUT DOWN STRETCH IN ASHCAN RACE

Foster Wins Fast Race By Holding Lead For 25 Miles, Haaland Drives Great Race To Crowd Foster Across Finish Line, Fruin Escapes Injuries.

Indianapolis on Memorial Day had nothing on Mason Sunday afternoon when daring race drivers fought it out on the half-mile dirt track at the recreation center. Three automobile races and a motorcycle relay race kept the crowds keyed up the entire afternoon. The first race was featured by the mowing down of three sections of high board fence as Clarence Patrick and Robert Corbin were jockeying for position on the home stretch. The final race had an added thrill when Harry Fruin's car lost a wheel on the south curve and the Mason speed driver left the track on three wheels and the back of his neck. No one was injured in any of the crashes.

G. H. Foster, driving Whiplip's Durant, finished first in the 25-mile race for fast cars. Bob Haaland in a Model A Ford drove a great race for second place. He and Foster drove neck and neck for the last four laps and Haaland was only a car-length behind at the finish. Joe Burrell in Jake Corbin's car, was third.

Sam Tomlinson, piloting a 1928 Chevrolet, came from behind to win the 15-mile middle class race. Tomlinson forged into the lead at 14 1/2 miles and came across the line with daylight barely showing between his car and the Chevrolet driven by John VanDuser. Robert Foggy of Leslie finished third.

Winners in the ashcan race were John VanDuser, in an ancient Chrysler, first; Montie Voss, in his Whiplip, second; and Royal Melendy, in his Pontiac coach with top and all, third.

Clarence Patrick held the lead for nine laps of the five-mile ashcan race before he was challenged by Robert Corbin. With a half-mile to go Corbin drove up alongside Patrick. The cars' neck and neck into the stretch and were about to lap Jim Brooks. Just what happened at that point is a matter of conjecture. At any rate there came a tangle and Patrick and Corbin disappeared through a high board fence 10 rods from the finish line. Three sections of the fence were mowed into kindling by the force of the crash. When he left the track Corbin was flying through the air. However, he caught up with his car on the other side of the fence. The cars were smashed but neither Corbin nor Patrick was hurt beyond a few scratches and bruises.

Sheriff's officers, first aid men, officials and a number of spectators rushed to the gaping hole in the fence with the fear that one or both of the drivers would be found mangled. However, not a drop of blood was shed in the crash.

With the two leaders on the wrong side of the fence, VanDuser, in third place before the crash, finished first, with Voss second and Melendy third. Jim Brooks lost a tire in the race and could not finish.

Pace Setter Out

That the race is not always to the swift was again proved in the second event, a chase of 30 laps (15 miles). Bud Coyle of Lansing set the pace for 12 of the 15 miles and appeared to be able to stay out in front when he blew a tire on the south curve. By clever handling of his car Coyle remained right side up but had to withdraw from the race.

Coyle, VanDuser and Tomlinson had been one, two, three up to the time of Coyle's mishap. Then Tomlinson and VanDuser raced neck and neck to the finish. VanDuser had the lead when Coyle was forced out. Tomlinson challenged for the lead at every curve but VanDuser was able to stand him off until the 14 1/2-mile mark was reached. Then Tomlinson forged ahead by half an inch and fought off VanDuser by a car length in the stretch. Foggy finished third. Elaine Kruse and Harold Rundell had to leave the race because of motor trouble.

Only three cars finished in the 25-mile event. Wingard Eames and Lyle Osterberg were forced out of the race by motor difficulties at the end of 30 laps. Harry Fruin lost a wheel on the south curve and put on a disappearing act over the high embankment. However, the heavy rains made a soft landing place and the driver was unhurt. He made a three-point landing in a mud hole.

Foster had the race to himself at the 45-lap mark. Then Haaland, never more than a quarter-mile back, began to challenge. He pushed his car steadily ahead and for the last mile the two drivers were almost abreast. Foster had the advantage of being inside at the curves and Haaland could not take it away from him. Joe Burrell finished third.

Good Cycle Races

Lansing motorcycleists staged another thrill-packed relay race over 10 laps with a pony express change of riders on every lap. There were several close calls. On one occasion Rutan flitted with his machine guard rail for 16 rods before he finally righted his machine without mishap. Jim Lenz and Howard Kussmaul were the riders winning the race.

MAROONS LOOK FEEBLE IN LOSS TO CARDINALS

DISAPPOINTING SHOWING MADE BY MASON FRIDAY

Maroons Counted In First Half After Outplaying Cardinals, Second Half Slump Fatal.

Mason high school's football team made a disappointing showing by losing 12 to 6 to Eaton Rapids at Mason Friday. It was the Cardinal's first victory of the year. It was not the fault that Maroon lost that was disappointing; it was the way the loss was chalked up. Outplaying Eaton Rapids in the first half and holding a 6 to 0 advantage, the Maroon defense collapsed and the offense bogged down in the last half. If Mason tackling had been poor the first half it was nothing less than lousy the second half. Mason blocking had been indifferent the first half it became pitiful the second half.

The Maroons played poor football the first half but it was good enough to stay ahead of Eaton Rapids. However, in the last half Mason took a turn for the worse while Eaton Rapids improved measurably. Young, at right end for Mason, played an outstanding game. He was in there fighting every minute and his efforts kept the Maroons from an abject rout. Donald Lee, substituted at the left end, also played good football. The Maroon line lacked change, and with the two exceptions, made a poor showing. The Maroon backs were weak on offense and looked bad on defense.

Of course, Friday was a poor day for playing football. A steady drizzle set in by game time and the field was a sea of mud. However, the rain was no worse for Mason than it was for Eaton Rapids. The best explanation of Mason's loss is that the Maroons had the lead and what they thought was the ball game at half-time and had a fatal mental and physical letdown the second half.

Strong Start

Mason had the best of it the first half. Huntington, Bullen, Irish and Youngs showed a good running game the first period although even their blocking was faulty. The Maroons kept the Cardinals well bottled up. At the start of the second quarter Mason had possession of the ball on the Cardinal 42-yard line. Heinzelman and Palmer picked up five yards through center and Irish made a 10 yard and first down on an end around.

After Huntington had been stopped at the line of scrimmage, Bullen took the ball and skipped around the Cardinal right end for 35 yards and a touchdown. Youngs attempted to convert the extra point was wide.

The balance of the period Maroon fought off a Cardinal threat carried by Pollett on a sweeping end run.

Maroons Wilt

The Maroons wilted during the rest between halves. Eaton Rapids took the field and the ball game at the start of the third period. After a steady march down the field Pollett went over for a touchdown to tie the score. His attempt to add an extra point failed.

A few minutes later Leseny won a ball game for the Cardinals when he snatched a pass hurled by Pollett and trotted 20 yards unmolested for a touchdown. Again Pollett's attempt to convert the extra point ended in failure.

Eaton Rapids kept continually hammering at Mason's goal in the last quarter. However, with the game already lost the Maroons rallied enough to stave off further Cardinal scoring.

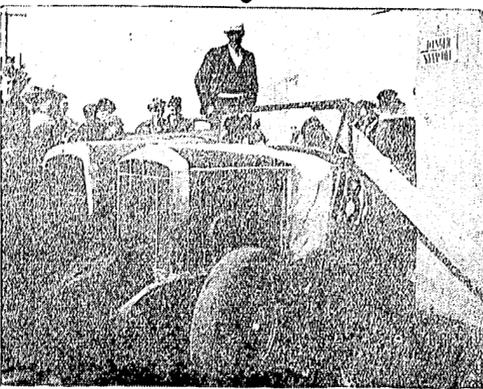

The lineups for the game were as follows:

|            |      |              |
|------------|------|--------------|
| Mason      | Pos. | Eaton Rapids |

He showed Wyandottes/Orringtons, Rocks, Leghorns and Ancons. Mr. Jeffries won 11 blue ribbons at the Ingham fair.

ONE OF THE THRILLS AT THE RACES SUNDAY

Robert Corbin and Clarence Patrick put on a show in the ashcan race at the county park track Sunday. The drivers came down the stretch with first and second prizes in their grasp. The cars tangled and shot through the high board fence. Neither driver was seriously hurt. The picture shows the crowd that quickly gathered to help pick up the pieces. Corbin was the driver of No. 18. The man who put up the danger sign last fall knew his stuff. Had anyone been on the fence at the time of the accident he would likely have received quite a spill.

Holt Holding To Lead In County Grid Loop

STRONG HOLT TEAM TOOK WILLIAMSTON 32 TO 0.

Holt is far out in front in the Ingham county football league. The Holt team moved out Williamson 32 to 0 at Holt Friday. The touchdown parade started in the first quarter and continued steadily throughout the game played on the muddy field. Holt made a pair of touchdowns while Barnard, Reikoff and Basil contributed one each. Reider and Clear kicked a pair of extra points. Holt clearly outlasted Williamson in every department of the game.

Dansville upset Leslie 7 to 0. Leslie was doped to win but the Aggies rallied in the last quarter to shove a touchdown across. The extra point was converted.

Everett came close to giving a bitter dose to Haslett. The Everett team scored in the second quarter on an end around play which placed the ball on Haslett's six-yard line. Prudden lunged across on the next play. The try for the extra point failed. Haslett opened in the third quarter with a series of off-tackle smashes which resulted in a touchdown. An end around play gave Haslett an extra point and the victory.

Mason Doped For Loss In East Lansing Game

MAROONS UNDERDOGS IN TILT WITH TROJANS.

What appears to be a hopeless task lies ahead for the Mason high school football team. Friday afternoon at East Lansing the Maroons will be thrown into the arena to make a Trojan holiday. According to all reports, Mason has not a Chinaman's chance of escaping at least a 40 to 0 defeat.

Dopers have it that East Lansing has one of the best teams in years. They point to the terrible facing handed Eaton Rapids and Eaton Rapids took Mason. They also point to the 3 to 0 score to which Lansing Central, a strong Class A team, was held by the Trojans. Further, they declare that Coach Cuddy Shaver of East Lansing has a heart of flint and that he will instruct his charges to show no mercy to Mason.

Added to that is the probable absence of Tom McEwen from the Mason line and the injuries which have handicapped Buster Bullen. Still, the Mason camp is not gloomy. Coach Gordon Dawson has told his Maroons that East Lansing will not be able to play more than 11 men at a time, that no member of the opposing team has more than two legs and two arms and that, after all the game Friday is just another ball game.

There are even members of the Mason team who are looking forward to mixing it with East Lansing. They are unafraid of the big, bad wolves from the environs of the Ingham hub of culture. They are anxious to see what they can do against a team so publicized as East Lansing.

One Maroon said, "We have tasted defeat before and can take another without feeling bad. We are anxious to play East Lansing even if we do lose. We'll have fun anyway."

Mason Reserves Show Promise At Charlotte

B TEAMS PLAYED TO 6-6 TIE MONDAY AFTERNOON.

B teams of Mason and Charlotte high schools played to a 6 to 6 tie at Charlotte Monday afternoon in an interesting football game. The teams were evenly matched. The game was a draw.

The Mason team was full of promise. The boys acted as though they liked to play the game. There was some sharp tackling, a daring passing attack and a grim determination when the Mason goal was endangered.

In the starting lineup Bergin and Walters were at the ends with Sissy and Longyear at the tackles and Hunter and Bush at the guards. DeRose was at center. Jim Young opened at pilot with Underwood, Heinzelman and Brown with him in the backfield.

There were many substitutions made. Lee, Richards, Densmore, Palmer, Doane, Dunn, Heinzelman, Reed, Walline and MacAlear were among those to see service.

Mason started off with a rush when Brown lugged the ball through the line for eight yards and Walters added 20 on an end around. Mason was then halted and a punt was blocked. Charlotte passed to Mason's 25-yard line and another heave was goalward bound when Heinzelman intercepted and kicked to Charlotte's 48-yard line.

Mason kicked a first down and launched on another drive when a penalty set their back 15 yards. Richards sent off a nice punt as the quarter ended.

Charlotte caught Mason sleeping with a quick kick to open the second quarter. The ball rolled to the Mason eight-yard stripe but from behind his own goal Richards kicked out. The ball was lugged back to Mason's 20-yard line. Charlotte made a first down to carry them to the seven-yard mark and then the Little Maroons dug in their cleats for a determined stand. On fourth down the Charlotte team was held two inches from the goal.

Again Richards coolly punted out of danger. After four passes, all incomplete, Mason took the ball on downs at the 28-yard line. Underwood reeled off 20 yards as the half ended.

The third quarter saw action all over the field. Charlotte opened with a poor kick which Sissy recovered at midfield. Underwood's pass was intercepted by Cheney, who carried the ball to Mason's 35-yard line. There Mason held and again a quick kick put Mason in the slot on the three-yard line. Palmer punted to the 30-yard line. A series of line smashes carried the ball to the 20-yard yard.

On a pass for a touchdown, Sissy broke through and blocked the toss. Bergin leaped high in the air and snagged the ball. He went 65 yards down the field but was finally overhauled on the Charlotte 15-yard line. Heinzelman caught a pass from Underwood to take the ball to the three-yard line. Palmer lunged two yards and then Heinzelman went over for a touchdown. An attempted pass for the extra point failed.

It didn't take Charlotte long to tie the score. Charlotte returned the kickoff to the 35-yard line. Cheney then ran around end to the Mason 30-yard line. Fisher caught a pass on the seven-yard stripe. Cheney ran around Mason's left end for a touchdown. After he should have been thrown for a loss. The kick was wide.

That was all the scoring although each team had another opportunity. Reevevan intercepted a Mason pass and went to the 25-yard line. Charlotte then passed and Young rescued Mason by intercepting the ball and running it back to midfield. Walters scampered around end for 17 yards and Mason was goalward bound when Cheney intercepted a pass. Charlotte took two punches at the line and was stopped cold as the game ended.

Early Vevay Settler Was Wife And Daughter Of Soldiers Who Fought In Revolutionary War

Somewhere in Vevay township probably in the Rolfe cemetery—lies buried Mrs. Ephraim Rolfe, nee Lucy Russ, who has the unique distinction of having been the wife of a soldier in the Revolutionary war and the daughter of another soldier in that war.

A clue to Mrs. Rolfe's identity was recently discovered in the probate court records at Mason by George L. Hammill, who is working on a history of the pioneer families of Ingham county. A check of pension records at Washington, family records and genealogical material in the east, made by him, disclosed these facts concerning this interesting Vevay pioneer:

Lucy Russ was born May 9, 1780, at Hollis, New Hampshire, daughter of Jonathan Russ and his wife, Lucy Kendall, and died in Vevay about August 13, 1844. Jonathan Russ marched at the Lexington alarm in the company of Capt. Reuben Dow, and was in various other engagements. Jonathan was born in 1731 at Andover, Massachusetts, and died at Fairlee, Orange county, Vermont, in 1790.

Three sons of Ephraim Rolfe (Nathan, Benjamin and Ira—came to Vevay in 1836. Three others—Ephraim, Hazen and Manasseh came later at intervals of a year or two. Manasseh, a physician, removed to Eaton Rapids, where it is said he died. Numerous descendants live in Ingham county and throughout Michigan.

Mr. Hammill, whose address is the Porter apartments, Lansing, wishes to obtain copies of records, written in Bibles, diaries, etc., concerning all families which located in Ingham county before 1841, and is particularly anxious to have the records of the Hazen Rolfe and Manasseh Rolfe families.

Register's Office Is Productive Of Profit

FEES COLLECTED MORE THAN COVERS EXPENSE.

The office of register of deeds has again proved itself a source of revenue to the county. According to the annual report filed by Ethel L. Phillips, county register, Monday, the total expense of operating the office, including substantial items of new equipment required, amounted to $11,822.02, as compared with $14,003.87 received in recording and filing fees. Of this amount, $4,404.10 was received in chattel mortgage fees.

Another interesting item in the register's report is the showing made by the chattel mortgage list, indicating the growth of personal property as security for loans. A recent survey made of the files and records of the office show chattel mortgage instruments total $6,332,752 and amount to 462,762 in real estate mortgages. More than 17,000 chattel mortgages have been filed in the Ingham county office during the past year, the report disclosed.

Analysis of the report shows that of the total of $11,822.02 expense of operating the office, $8,374.46 was paid for salaries of clerks and recorders.

EDMUND C. SHIELDS

Supervisors Debate Dog Law Provisions

FARMERS GET REBATE ON DAMAGES DONE BY DOGS.

Charles Force of Alameda and Clarence Smith of Wheatland will receive money they have paid to owners of sheep destroyed by dogs. Each of these men were victims of a sudden determination by the board of supervisors last spring to live up to the law and compel dog owners to pay for damages done by their animals. They said while others refused and local justices did not appear willing to operate and make determination as to identity of the dog and its owner. Consequently Supervisor E. A. Tyler of Alameda contended an injustice had been done. The Alameda supervisor led the fight for restitution.

Three months ago a similar effort failed, the county clerk being instructed instead to notify all justices to live up to the law. Supervisor Tyler elicited the statement from members of the livestock committee that no results had followed the mandate to township justices. Also in the single instance where the owner of the dog had been taken into custody to have his dog tried and where a judgment had been entered, there had been no attempt made on the part of county officials to sue for payment of the damages.

Under the statute it is the duty of the county treasurer following determination as to identity of the dog and its owner and assessment of damages, to notify the prosecuting attorney to begin suit. Discussion disclosed the fact that most public officials are either violating or ignoring the provisions of the dog law.

Dogs again came up for discussion when Mrs. Warren Hosmer, president of the Lansing Humane Society, appeared before the board demanding the discharge of Clay Braden, county dog warden, and City Scavenger Clark, declaring both officials brutal in their treatment of stray dogs. Mrs. Hosmer was accompanied by Mrs. Clarence Triphagen. The speaker cited many instances of brutality to dogs and exhibited letters indicating the authority of the county board to take over the whole matter of dog control, including a county dog pound. Sites suitable for the latter were proposed by the humane society chairman.

No action was taken on the request of the Lansing women.

"Any individual in the state of Michigan be he rich, well to do or poor, has only to sit down and take inventory of his own condition now and compare it with conditions in March, 1933, and having done so can there be any answer other than that the principle issue before the people today is to continue the prosperity that has been developed in the last three years.

KEEP ALL PEOPLE IN COMFORT, HAPPINESS

CHIEF RESPONSIBILITY OF GOVERNMENT, SHIELDS DECLARES.

Lansing Attorney Points Out Benefits Of Roosevelt Regime, Defends Expanded Bureau, Cites Mich. Benefits.

Without passion or undue partisanship, Edmund C. Shields, eminent Lansing attorney, a former regent of the University of Michigan and present a member of the national democratic committee, has recently pointed out the benefits which Michigan has derived from the Roosevelt administration and what he considers to be the real issues of the 1936 campaign.

Mr. Shields contends that it is the direct responsibility of government to "keep all people comfortable, contented and happy."

In a statement to the press Mr. Shields states:

"I have been intensely interested in the political situation growing out of the present campaign. My contacts with business and my clients and my knowledge of public affairs since 1929 has been rather intimate. I saw the peak of prosperity in 1929 and I saw my clients, myself personally and all my friends in the deepest depression of 1932 and 1933. I have watched as carefully as I could the program of the president, United States senate and house of representatives regardless of party ties during 1933 and 1934 to remedy and change the conditions. I was impressed by the spirit of all the people of this country in their desire to work out from under the terrible conditions. The efforts made during 1933 and 1934 seem to be the result of combined efforts of everybody in the United States and resulted in a series of upwards of 20 concrete legislative acts all planned for the express purpose and benefit of some class or group of people in distress.

"Where local townships or city communities or state communities were unable to carry the burden it was the conscience of opinion of all the leaders regardless of parties that the federal government should participate in bringing back prosperity, happiness and more comfortable conditions. As a result of that genuine effort the federal administration under President Roosevelt has undertaken to be helpful in the state of Michigan. The R. F. C. has loaned to various business agencies, banks, trust companies, corporations, etc. from March 4, 1933, to June 30, 1936, in the state of Michigan $325,479,667.

"Through Farm Credit Administration, Resettlement Administration, H. O. L. C., Public Works Administration, Federal Housing Administration, additional loans have been made until the federal government has placed in the state of Michigan in the form of loans $90,066,262.00.

"In addition to that there have been made in the form of grants and allotments, the payment of which was not to be repaid, through Agricultural Agency Administration, Resettlement Administration, Bureau of Public Roads, Public Works Administration, Emergency Relief Act of 1935 an additional $354,531,625.00, or a total of $1,044,597,897.00 has come from the federal government into the state of Michigan in the hands of people who must spend it to live to get some comfort and enjoyment out of life has without question added to the great benefit of the people of this state. To me it appears to be reflected in the tremendous sale of automobiles and all kinds of business, mercantile, transportation and every other form of activity, shows a greater degree of prosperity at the present time in this state than has been here since 1931, and is practically equal to the peak of good times of 1929.

"Any individual in the state of Michigan be he rich, well to do or poor, has only to sit down and take inventory of his own condition now and compare it with conditions in March, 1933, and having done so can there be any answer other than that the principle issue before the people today is to continue the prosperity that has been developed in the last three years.

"Is it good judgment or good sense to take any chance on an election result which must either in its effect approve what has been done or condemn it?"

"The history of all nations of the world at the present time should convince anyone that the greatest problem and most essential function of government is to keep the people of the nation busy and satisfied. Germany, Italy, Austria, Spain and even the riots in London seem to have resulted from lack of work, lack of opportunity and empty stomachs.

"The great issue therefore is to have that kind of government which is as directly as possible responsible to the people of the nation and to keep all people comfortable, contented and happy."

ELECTRICITY Is CHEAPER Than EYESIGHT!

Sight is your most precious possession. Yet do you read, sew, work where the light is never adequate for even simple visual work? Can you say for sure? Don't guess. Be sure. Have your home lighting measured free.

Why shield children from every danger—except eyestrain? School days, dark days are here—homework, reading and games on the floor, all need light, LIGHT! Give young eyes a chance—don't force them into the one out of five school youths who are eye-cripples, partly due to poor light. Electricity is now too cheap for that!

Older eyes need almost twice as much light as young eyes. But, unless your lighting is correct, you don't relax. You only tire yourself the more because you subject your eyes to greater strain. It's now so easy for you to have adequate and proper lighting in your home with...

FREE!—HAVE YOUR HOME LIGHTING MEASURED! We offer a new free service to our customers to help make seeing easier, lessen the dangers of eyestrain and make homes better and more cheerful places in which to live. With the new scientific "Light Meter", you can measure your lighting just as a thermometer measures heat. It's really most interesting—and free to our customers.

A Study of Towels

Everyone is familiar with the fact that the common towel is a transmitter of disease germs, but recently investigators decided to learn the reason for this, how the towel became contaminated, how long germs could live upon it, and the kind of towels most liable to carry germs.

The first question to be answered was: When the hands are washed in the usual manner, are germs transferred to the towel? This question was answered as follows: The fingertips were immersed in a culture of germs, dried, washed for 10 seconds, rinsed for five, and wiped on a sterile Turkish hand towel. The experiment was repeated using a buck towel, both were cultured for germs, and the number of bacteria counted. In this experiment it was found that the germs were transferred to the towels after a common washing practice, and three times as many germs were found upon the Turkish as upon the buck towel. Ordinary toilet soap was used for washing.

The second question to be answered was: When several individuals use a common towel, may infectious bacteria be transmitted from one individual to another? The investigation showed that when one person used a towel, 10 types of germs were found, and when four people used the same towel, over 20 different types of bacteria were found.

In this experiment, the germs were used which cause typhoid fever, pneumonia, scarlet fever, streptococcus sore throat and diphtheria. It is significant that these germs were found upon the towel after it had dried 48 hours in the absence of direct sunlight.

Then, experiments were made with large bath towels to show what would happen when one individual used the same towel six successive days. Between times the towels were hung on the bathroom rack under normal home conditions.

In one case, the bacteria increased from 800 after the first day to 800,000 on the sixth day. This shows that when a towel is used more than once, germs accumulate upon it.

Another test was made to determine which of three types of towels - Turkish, huck, or paper, were more efficient in removal of both germs and dirt from the skin. The results showed efficiency in the order named.

These experiments show that the towel in common use is a menace to health and that we are right in excluding it from public places. While we should not be finicky about germs among healthy people, one source of transmission of disease can be obviated by the individual use of towels.

In Southern Idaho there are rock fumaroles, or volcanic holes, that are too hot to touch, but ice water comes out of them.

There are fish that can drown. The Lungfish actually has lungs and breathes air directly through its nostrils. It has to come to the surface for air occasionally, to keep alive.
