SUPERVISORS POSTPONE ACTION ON HEALTH UNIT

SPONSORS BELIEVE HEALTH PLAN WILL BE ADOPTED.

Favorable Action On County Health Unit Expected At December Board Meeting.

Action on a health unit for Ingham county outside of the city of Lansing was postponed until December 13, when the issue came before the supervisors Monday. The matter was tabled to allow several supervisors to familiarize themselves with the health program and to learn from other counties having health units how the program is accepted by the public.

After the meeting Monday sponsors of the health unit plan expressed certainty that adoption will be forthcoming at the December session of the board. Sup. E. A. Tyler was the only member of the board outspoken against adoption of the plan. Sup. Tyler said his opposition was based on his experience with launching other departments.

"When we installed a direct Lansing telephone line," said Sup. Tyler, "we were told that telephone costs would be reduced. Now we are paying five times as much for telephone service as we did before the direct line was installed. The service has grown and the costs have grown. The humane society is another case in point. Just a small appropriation is all that was asked. Now take a look at the expenditures. Every month the costs are just a little bit higher. Something new is always being sought. In my opinion there is not enough additional benefit in the proposed health plan to offset the increase in costs. We would be adding five salaries of officials to the county payroll and that would be just a start. The health department grows like other departments."

Clinton Backed Measure
Sup. Charles A. Clinton introduced the health unit proposal and urged its adoption. The resolution was supported by Sup. Thomas Toy of Lansing. Sup. Clinton said that the public health and contagious disease committees had been studying the health unit proposal for several weeks, that the proposal has been before the county board several times in past years and that the program as recommended by the committees should prove of benefit to the county.

According to the information given by Sup. Clinton, an increase of $5000 in the budget is all that is necessary to institute the health unit. The health program calls for a budget of $10,000 and covers the employment of a director of health at $4000, a supervising nurse at $2000, three field nurses at $1600 each, a sanitary inspector at $1800, a clerk at $1080, another clerk at $800, traveling expense at $3000 and miscellaneous at $1200.

Subsidies of $7500 out of the $10,000 would be returned from state and federal funds, Sup. Clinton said. Other savings would be in local salaries paid present health officers. The three nurses are now being employed so the added cost to the county would be about $5000.

Sup. Clinton explained that the proposed set-up does not include the city of Lansing. He stated that health officials believe it would be unwise to expand the Lansing health unit to include the county and that it would be unwise to attempt to cover both fields with one unit.

Funds Are Ample
Sup. Jacob Schepers, chairman of the ways and means committee, reported that the county budget of $447,000 is ample to care for setting up a health unit.

A communication received from the Ingham County Medical society backed the proposed county health unit.

Sup. Ralph W. Crego of Lansing, said that the additional cost of a complete health unit is small, that he believes the people outside of Lansing are entitled to a health protection as is available in Lansing and that county unit as proposed will be worth while to both Lansing and the county.

Benefits of preventative health work were cited by Sup. Roy Moore of Lansing township who gave examples of contagion control in the Everett district. Sup. Moore said that Lansing was considering a health unit and that he had merely come to Mason to hear the discussion. He gave a short talk on how health units are operated and told of expected benefits. He said that people should not expect free medical service, that a county health unit is interested solely in preventative medicine. He said that tuberculosis clinics, dental clinics and vision tests have been the outstanding features of the work in Dickinson county.

Sup. Roscoe J. Barry asked for more time to study the proposal. Sup. Floyd Shaw of Lansing said he is skeptical of so-called gifts and suggested that information regarding health units be secured from boards of supervisors instead of the state health department. Finally on motion of Sup. Rina Dell of Lansing the issue was put over until the meeting to be held December 13.

FORMER OFFICIAL HAS EDGE IN SALARY ROW

PROSECUTOR HOLDS THAT INGHAM HAS LEGAL RIGHTS.

Fund Transfer Is Made, Bounty Payments Are Arranged For Sparrows And Rats.

Robert J. Ingham, former secretary of the Ingham county soldiers and sailors relief commission, may be paid for his services even though they were not utilized by the county. On May 29, 1934, Mr. Ingham was appointed to the commission at a salary of $100 a month plus monthly expense of $25. On September 1 of that year his salary was taken away, his salary was cut to $25 a month and the duties of the commission turned over to the emergency relief commission.

Two months ago Mr. Ingham brought his claim before the board of supervisors. The supervisors referred it to Thomas J. Bailey, prosecuting attorney. At the session of the board held Monday the prosecutor's opinion in the case was read. According to Mr. Bailey, the law provides that an official's salary shall not be increased nor decreased during his term of office and that certainly Mr. Ingham's salary had decreased. The prosecutor said that Mr. Ingham might be able to receive $1200 for services offered between September 30, 1934, and September 30, 1935. He also said that there is some dispute over the manner of Mr. Ingham's appointment.

The opinion of the prosecutor was referred to the soldiers and sailors relief commission and to the salaries committee. No report was made Monday.

Transfer Is Made
A transfer of $25,000 from the general fund of the county to the county fund was authorized by the board. A transfer was arranged last month but the wording of the resolution was declared to be faulty.

County Treasurer Clarence W. Lock pointed out that the road fund is likely to be in the red for several months. Light weight taxes are received from the state next April.

The county treasurer was authorized not to require short term surety bonds from township and city treasurers for the collection of county taxes.

Bounty Is Offered
Regular bounty payments on sparrows will be paid during December, January and February. Rat bounties will be continued. The county pays two cents a head on sparrows and one cent a head on rats. Sup. Ward V. Crego of Bunkerhill introduced the bounty resolution. He was supported by Sup. Tyler of Aalaedon.

A communication protesting the move of state teacher colleges and the Michigan Education association to have county normals abolished was received from Lapeer county.

LIQUOR-CRAZED FATHER TRIES TO SLAY FAMILY

ENDS OWN LIFE WITH GUN AFTER SHOOTING KIN.

Wife And Daughter Of Williamston Man To Recover, Was World War Veteran.

Elton P. Gerred, 41, killed himself with a shotgun at the farm home two miles south of Williamston Sunday morning after shooting his wife twice and his daughter once. In the belief that he had killed his wife and daughter, the husband and father turned the gun on himself.

While the coroner's statement is to the effect that Gerred went to his death by the use of a shotgun, the underlying cause is liquor. It was money being spent for liquor instead of needed clothing which caused a quarrel between husband and wife Sunday night. He was drunk which inflamed Gerred's mind Sunday morning and incited him to turn amuck against his wife and children.

Last Thursday when Gerred returned from work at the Motor Wheel plant in Lansing, Mrs. Gerred asked him for money to buy clothing for three of the children who attend the Williamston school. The husband refused and an argument resulted. The quarrel continued until Gerred ended it by killing himself Sunday morning.

Returned Home Late
On Saturday night Gerred went to Williamston as was his wont. Members of the family claim that he returned home drunk and that his drunken condition was not unusual.

It was one o'clock Sunday morning when the head of the family returned. He was in a quarrelsome mood, according to Mrs. Gerred. He refused to go to bed. He took off his shirt, trousers and shoes and set in a chair. It was just after daylight, Mr. Gerred said, when she was rudely awakened. Her husband was choking her and had partly strangled her with a blow from a blackjack.

Mrs. Gerred escaped from the grip of her husband and went to the adjoining living room. The scuffle had awakened Lyle, 2, who had been sleeping in the mother's room. Hearing the cries of the baby, Beulah, 16, oldest child in the family, came down stairs to quiet him. She overheard her father say, "We'll fix all this right now. We'll fix everything."

Sought to Flee
Mrs. Gerred was alarmed. Her husband had a wild look, she said. Continuing to shout that he intended to "fix things," he ran into the bedroom. That was where his shotgun was kept. As Gerred ran into the bedroom, Beulah came out with her baby. The mother snatched Lyle from the daughter's arms and mother and daughter ran from the house.

The mother, carrying the baby, was about 25 feet from the porch when Gerred began firing his 12-gauge pumpgun. His first shot grazed Mrs. Gerred's side and she toppled to the ground. The madman then turned his gun on Beulah and shot her in the back. She, too, fell to the ground. After the shot grazed her side, Mrs. Gerred crawled along the ground to take shelter behind an apple tree. She dragged the baby with her. After shepherding his daughter, Gerred ran toward his wife and son. He turned about to blow the head off the family dog. After that shot, Gerred returned to the house and ended his own life by holding the shotgun to his breast and setting off the trigger with his bare toe.

The shooting of Mrs. Gerred, the daughter and the dog was witnessed by Earl, 12, and Dale, 7, who were awakened by the first shot. The boys were sleeping on the second floor. Horror-stricken, they looked out the window while their father blazed away at the mother, sister and little brother. The boys said they heard the gun go off immediately after their father returned to the house after shooting the dog.

Neighbor Aids Wounded
Clarence Osterle, farmer residing on a farm across and down the road, heard the shooting and the screams. He leaped into his car and drove to the Gerred farm. He saw Mrs. Gerred and Beulah trying to bind each other's wounds. The baby was lying on the ground. Mr. Osterle carried the injured woman and girl and the baby to his car and drove away. He saw the mother in great pain and so stopped at the Osterle house to have the baby with Mrs. Osterle. He then drove on to Williamston and to the office of Dr. E. E. Larabee who gave first aid and summoned an ambulance to take the mother and daughter to a Lansing hospital. The two victims are recovering.

When Mr. Osterle stopped at his home on the way to Williamston he told Mrs. Osterle to notify officers. She telephoned to Deputy Sheriff Ives Wood of Williamston. Neighbors living on the other side of the Gerred home had heard the shooting and had notified the state police at East Lansing. Deputy Wood was the first officer to arrive on the scene. He was about to enter the house when five state troopers arrived. Three of the troopers remained in the car while Deputy Wood and two troopers went to the house. The Williams deputy found that the doors were bolted. He stepped back and then hurried himself. (Continued on Page 12, Col. 4)

ATTEMPTED ATTACK MADE ON VEVAY FARM GIRL.

Detection Home Charges Transferred To Jail, Awaiting Probate Court Action.

Clarence Foster, 15, of East Lansing, and Louis Fremont, 12, of Lansing, are being held in the county jail since their escape from the juvenile detention home last Friday. The two boys were members of the "Chain Gang" which was rounded up two weeks ago and the leader, Leon Baker, sentenced to Jackson prison.

Shortly after noon Friday the youths entered the bedroom of Deputy Sheriff Ora Langham and Mrs. Langham, who is the matron at the detention home. They searched the room and found and took Deputy Langham's revolver. The two boys made their getaway from the detention home. It was a half-hour later before the pair was missed. Deputy Langham at once took up the search.

After searching the detention home the youths walked across fields and along side roads to the Clarence Foster farm, a mile south of the state game farm. At the Launstein home Miss Rovena Flagg, 17, was caring for two small children while the parlor was away. She went to the door when the boys showed light and inside and Foster flourished the revolver. The frightened girl started to run up stairs but she turned around and came back down when Foster threatened to shoot. The boys then forced the girl to accompany them to the house. They told her they wanted to get a horse on which to make their escape.

Inside the barn the boys ordered the girl to disrobe. She refused and part of her clothing was ripped from her. The attack on the girl was halted when an automobile was driven past the barn. The boys became frightened, ran out of the barn, crossed the road and headed east. Miss Flagg ran to the house and telephoned the sheriff's office.

Undersheriff Frank Cline and Deputy Fred Fry took up the chase. After a search of an hour they came upon the boys hiding in the brush alongside a highway. Undersheriff Cline leaped from the car and bore the Foster boy to the ground before the youthful bandit had time to draw a gun, had that been the boy's intention. The Tremont boy was hiding behind a tree and surrendered. One shot had been fired from the revolver. The boys said they shot at the tree in the woods.

Judge John McClellan of the juvenile court ordered the boys transferred from the detention home to the jail. He is awaiting the report of psychiatrists before disposing of the two delinquency cases.

Prospects Bright For Deer Hunting Forces

MANY FROM INGHAM TO JOIN HUNTING ARMY.

Hundreds of Ingham county hunters are making final preparations for the opening of the season on deer and bear next Monday. The season opens on November 15 and continues through November 30. A number of local hunters plan to leave Friday and Saturday to make camp in the north so as to be ready for the opening Monday.

According to the conservation department, the prospects for hunting are the best in years. Competition, however, will be keen as close to 150,000 hunters are expected to take the field. Deer are expected to be more numerous this fall than in any of the past four seasons. The deer herds suffered less last winter than in several years because of the mildness of the weather. Counts taken during the summer indicated increases in nearly every section of the state where hunting is permitted.

Conservation officers assigned to southern counties are being transferred to the north to help police the army of hunters. Fire wardens are also being impressed into game warden service. Several of the northern counties are deputizing a special officer to guard against the slaughter of does and other illegal game.

THANKS, YOUTH!

It seems the policy of this newspaper in refusing to accept liquor advertising still brings it praise.

During the middle of October there assembled at Birmingham, a state convention of Michigan Allied Youth. Among the other resolutions adopted by that convention of young people was one commending this newspaper for its refusal to accept such advertising.

It must be confessed that while this in no sense adds to our subscription list or to its advertising revenues, it does bring a lot of satisfaction to its editors.

Thanks, Allied Youth of Michigan! We like your stand on this and other moral and social questions on which you expressed yourself. We would have liked them though you had failed to mention us. We are happy that Michigan still can boast of youth—youth clean, honest, upright and courageous.

BUSINESS

From the best sources of information comes the rather disturbing news that business really is in the dumps, that it is suffering from a set-back which got underway as long ago as last May. Forecasters are divided as to how long the current recession will continue. Some fix the upturn at some time after next May, some put the upturn hour as late as next September. At any rate, conservative, not political observers, point to industrial production indices which register a decline from a register of 118 last May to 105 in October of the current year.

In this connection it is interesting to note in recent news dispatches from Washington, statements which seem to agree that the president is now turning from his once favored group of economic intellectuals to what he once saw fit to call a circle of "economic royalists". Where once he summoned his brain-trusters to his side, in recent days he has been summoning outstanding business and industrial leaders to his conference room. This seems impressive as indicating a turn from the theoretical to the practical. Business leaders, thus summoned, have reported that the president has been content recently to listen more and scold less.

Meanwhile, republican leaders are evidently lying in wait, watching to grab the ball when the president fumbles—if he does. Such play has been known to win football games. Will it win an election? And will it aid the nation? In our own state recently, the republicans turned tail and ran for cover when it came time to enunciate merely a declaration of principles. More recently the old guard of republicanism turned thumbs down on a proposal made by Herbert Hoover, former president, for a mid-season gathering to find out what the republicans stand for—if anything.

Meanwhile Michigan industry, having warded off a threat made by CIO to "seize the reins of government" of Detroit, moves forward. The same city which told Mr. Lewis that it would continue to run its own governmental affairs now comes forward with a disclosure that not only has that city set the record for the entire nation in the matter of industrial expansion during the past year, it has actually seen one of the best years in its eventful history.

All of which takes us back to Washington. There business was put on the spot until government began to see that business is necessary to government. Now government is attempting to wean back the confidence of business. Detroit and Michigan has stood against governmental domination from the first. Michigan business has been penalized. Michigan as a state has been denied a fair share of the exorbitant taxes imposed against its inhabitants. Nevertheless Michigan business continued to hold out against bureaucracy; it thumbed its nose at the NRA crowd; it refused to buckle to the Roosevelt-Lewis coalition; it carried on. In consequence thereof Michigan business was the first to recover from the depression. Michigan industry has set the pace for the nation—it is still setting the pace. Finally Washington has come to subscribe to the same philosophies which have guided Michigan all along.

Can it be that the New Deal government will be the one to capitalize on this situation? Or is there still life in that GOP elephant?

PAROLES AGAIN

Again we turn to that old saying, "Politicians bleed easily." Far less suffering to the average political appointee if his eyebrows were plucked, than that one word of criticism be pointed at him or any of his official acts.

In another column will be found a letter written by Hilmer Gellien, director of corrections, more commonly referred to as commissioner of pardons and paroles. The editorial the parole officer complains of was published in this newspaper under date of October 7. It was entitled "Pardoning Habitual Criminals" and was intended to call attention to the long criminal records, punctuated by frequent and regular paroles, of the two Midland bank bandits. No intent is confessed to any discussion of paroles in general or to paroles where the facts justify parole. Condemnation was made of the practice of repeatedly paroling criminals when all the proof points to the fact they are not fit for society, and on that ground the NEWS still stands.

We quote from our editorial of October 7, a single paragraph wherein we said:

"There is not a good reason in all the world why either of the young desperadoes who shot up the main street of Midland should be at large. The court and jail records of the state contain endless proof that both should have ended their lives behind prison bars."

It will be recalled that we were discussing the records of Chabatoris, now under sentence to be hanged and of Gracey, who "bit the dust" when the deadly aim of a Midland dentist laid him low. Director Gellien had been quoted in the newspapers to the effect that hereafter parolees would be forced to report to parole officers twice a month instead of once a month as formerly. The NEWS took the position that such supervision of known desperadoes is not sufficient guarantee that these men are safe to be at large.

In his letter to this editor, published currently with this editorial, Director Gellien still gives evidence he is laboring under an illusion as to his responsibilities to society at large. In that letter he gives expression to his resentment that a niggardly legislature has not given his department all the money he and his associates would like to spend. Then in sheer pettishness he aims a dart toward an unnamed state senator who, he says, had hired Gracey for "the munificent salary of $15 a week." If Mr. Gellien is genuinely sincere, why did he not name the senator and tell us what the man Gracey was hired to do? Perhaps the wage was merely a screen to get the convict out of prison again and that it was expected that Gracey would continue his life of crime—as he did. Then, too, it might be possible that $15 is all Gracey earned.

Please Mr. Gellien, get this straight. The NEWS had no intention of unduly criticizing you. The criticism was aimed at the parole system of Michigan, long a stench in the nostrils of Michigan citizens. If you are doing better than your predecessors none will rejoice more than the editors of the NEWS. But the NEWS still insists you have not yet attained perfection and you should not hold yourself above honest criticism.

HALL OF FAME

The NEWS has gained a place in the hall of fame. In a recent issue of the Daily Press Digest, a publication issued by the national security board and disseminated among its agencies throughout the United States, along with editorials clipped from such journals as the New York Times, the Washington Post, the Roanoke Times, the Los Angeles Daily News, the Washington Herald, the Chicago Daily News, the Des Moines Register and Tribune and other publications, there appears an excerpt from an editorial appearing in the Ingham County News under date of October 21. Moreover the NEWS editorial is quoted second among a long list of editorials dealing with the so-called old age retirement and unemployment act passed by congress under which every state in the union has now qualified by passage of state acts approved by federal authorities.

The Digest starts the following language as "erroneous", quote, "It (the government) has promised to keep this money until Bill Jones and all his working brethren get out of a job or become too old to work."

The NEWS inquires of Washington authorities who are in charge of this mighty sum of money exacted from the workers and from their employers, just what they do promise, if not that. If this money, arbitrarily extracted from the weekly pay of every worker in America and levied as a direct tax against every employer of labor in America is not to be used for this purpose, then what? Under what other guise can the heavy tribute levied be defended? If it is not the promise, then what? The NEWS does not believe the promise will be kept, but in substance the NEWS insists its language is the substance of the promise, implied or actual.

THE ROAD TO HEALTH

Twenty-five years ago this November, that dread disease known as smallpox was ravaging the countryside of Ingham. It is recorded that the state department of health was called upon to come to the aid of scattered local health officials to stamp out the disease. Lansing then had a meager health service. The remainder of the county very little.

Much progress has been made since 1912. Smallpox has been practically stamped out. Not a single death from smallpox in Michigan since 1932. Diphtheria, then a dreaded disease, no longer holds terror, in fact it has become a virtual outlaw, a disease not tolerated in informed circles. Typhoid fever, a half century ago ravaged this county, many deaths and much suffering being recorded. Today for a city to report a case of typhoid is considered almost a disgrace.

What has brought about this great progress? Intelligent practices plus well organized health services to carry them forward and put them into common use. Ingham county has made great strides toward stamping out tuberculosis. Ingham has an enviable record among the counties and throughout the nation in its death rate from the White Plague. Why? Because Ingham early in the fight massed its forces against infection and contagion—by isolation, by education, and by good practices.

The members of the board of supervisors are to be commended for their serious consideration of the next logical move in this war against disease, namely the establishment of a county health unit. While some would have preferred not to have seen another month's delay in this respect, yet it must be remembered that Ingham supervisors do not rush into matters of this kind without full consideration. What the Ingham board does, it does well. Promoters of the county health unit plan want to see a good job done—as complete a job as good reason and a due regard for the common interests will dictate. A month's delay probably will do no great harm and it is desirable that each supervisor know what is ahead, and knowing it be ready to carry out the plans eventually decided upon.

RED CROSS ROLL CALL

Next Sunday, November 14, marks the opening of the national roll call for the American Red Cross. Each year at this season, millions of loyal Americans renew their membership in this great agency of mercy. Every year at some spot in the United States or in the world at large there comes some great disaster to demand the services of the Red Cross, an agency peculiarly equipped to respond to such demands.

It was not until 1917 that membership in the Red Cross became of popular appeal. The Great War brought about almost universal response to membership as well as participation in its work. With the close of that conflict, the Red Cross throughout the nation has continued to maintain its staff of workers, its membership rolls holding the names of most who take their responsibilities to the less fortunate seriously. Not only has service to those who served in the army and the navy been continued, a more general service in the cause of health and life saving has been continued as well. Because a skeleton organization of Red Cross has thus been fully maintained, it has been possible wherever disaster has struck to quickly mass its forces where they were needed—without delay either in recruiting personnel or in assembling supplies for the needy. Floods, fires and pestilence alike have struck and the Red Cross has responded.

So it is the duty of every American to, if his means will permit, to sign up for another year with the Mother of Mercy. A dollar will do it and where can a dollar be found doing more?

Down by the SYCAMORE

Howard Cook of the England-Cook Chevrolet company in Lansing is erecting a $30,000 mansion on the banks of the Red Cedar, southeast of the Okemos school. He bought the Wilson farm. * * * More Lansing automobile tycoons are expected to build homes along the Cedar. * * * There is room for a few mansions along the Sycamore.

The Okemos football team has a flock of loyal supporters. The Okemos school is on the up and up. It is now a training school for Michigan State college. Luke Kelly, superintendent last year, is now on the college staff at a fine advance in salary. LeRoy Bell, former superintendent at Middleville, and a former school commissioner of Macomb county, is superintendent at Okemos. He is well liked. A new farm shop building is being erected at the rear of the Okemos school.

From and after this date and all previous dates, for that matter, I will not be responsible for debts contracted by Pal. Those who feed the Brown dog will receive my gratitude but no cash. Every morning Pal goes to the corner of Lansing and Maple street to wait for Mrs. Minnie Thorburn. He accompanies her to the store and she gives him a bone. There is something like $50 worth of soupbones now charged to Pal at the Thorburn store. Other feeding stations include Adams' restaurant and the Kroger store. Yes, Pal is an easy keeper.

Spelling may be on the downgrade but the rising generation should show improvement in numbers and arithmetic what with fathers and mothers spending three or four nights a week at bingo parties. The Legion, Auxiliary, Child Study club, W. R. C., Macabees, the Townsend club, the K. of P. and other organizations are in the bingo business—some of them for profit and some for pleasure, perhaps for both. For two years my luck has been poor. It is bound to change this year, so move over and let me have a card. Most people look on gambling as an unmitigated evil if they are on the losing end. On the winning end it has its good points. That's the philosophy by which I am guided. A turkey won at a bingo party tastes a lot better to me than the salt pork I have when I am guided solely by my puritanical inner consciousness. No fooling, though, people who can't afford to lose should shun bingo and all other games of chance. Unless they feel exceptionally lucky.

I can't say that my one-man crusade against the use of Hon. before the name of an office holder is gaining headway. In one paragraph of a newspaper update the handle was used four times last week. What a flock of Hons. All on one platform!

In another two months county politics will begin to simmer. Wouldn't it be fine if the statemen would hold their fire until June 1?

With the state having its own superintendent of public instruction and with a university, two liberal arts colleges and four state normals it would seem that correct spelling should be done on state automobile license plates. Therefore, imagine my shock when I had a look at the license plates on the state car assigned to Nate Davis. The plate carries a number and the wording "State Fire Marshall." Like most poor spellers, the state official who designed the plate put in too many letters. There is only one I in marshal. Too bad the NEWS spelling crusade was not launched sooner.

Arlo Whipple, probably Mason's hardest worker, was the victim of bad luck last week. He lost somewhere around $40 in cash on the streets of Mason, at the road commission garage or on a short jaunt into Aurelius. He cashed his road commission check and intended to use the money to meet obligations. The roll of bills slipped out of his pocket. If the person who found the money wants to make sure of life everlasting and an eternal reward he will almost make sure of it by returning the cash to Mr. Whipple. Because that is exactly what Mr. Whipple would do if he found another's cash. Not only does Arlo work for the road commission, he works at his religion—lives it seven days a week.

V. J. Brown should be invited to Leslie Halloween parties. In his editorial of last week which eulogized the Mason plan of celebrating Halloween the Mason pundit commented on the fact that Leslie youths were caught soaping Mason windows and were compelled to spend a half-day washing said windows. The editorial writer jumped to the conclusion that Leslie boys soaped Mason windows because they were not given sufficient entertainment in Leslie. Hereafter, I will have to read the editorials before they are published because I keep better track of Halloween parties. I knew that Leslie merchants staged a Halloween party last year and gave another this year. So all Leslie should not have been condemned because of the acts of the three Leslie youths caught in Mason. Leslie held a party and it was a good one. Several Leslie people told me so.

Perhaps there is something in a name. The Rev. Daniel Huntwork is always first with his church notes. For the last two weeks he has brought them to the office on Monday morning. The Christian Science organization is usually second.

With all the gunplay going on the past week, deer slayers will be going north for safety. * * * Speaking of hunting, there was a squib in a northern paper which seems too good to be true. Aaron Smith had a fine pointer. Aaron had a sprained ankle during the bird season and so was unable to use the dog. Generous and accommodating, Aaron loaned the trained hunting dog to a pair of Detroit hunters for the entire season. On the third day the Detroit hunters came into Aaron's yard, dragging behind them a downcast, whipped dog. "Why, what's the matter with Patsy?" quired Aaron. One of the hunters replied, "She's no good. She's more trouble than she's worth. We took her out the first day and she didn't do anything. She just ran around for a while and then she would stand perfectly still looking at something. Dopey, I call it. The second day when she continued acting that way we whipped her and dragged her around. We partly broke her to keep moving. This morning she is quite a

PUBLIC FORUM

Lansing, Michigan, November 4.
Dear Mr. Brown:

I have just been handed a reprint of your editorial entitled "Paroling Inmates," which appeared in the Ingham County Observer on October 21, 1937.

You blame all the misdeeds committed of late on paroled convicts. You forget the fact that sooner or later 97 per cent of the inmates in prison must eventually go free. Do you think it is better to let them go free than to let them remain in prison until they have served their maximum term? The prisons of our state would have to be trebled in size to take care of this number of men. Is it not far better to have a man on parole under supervision, for even a short period of time, than to turn him suddenly loose after serving many years in prison, casting him adrift without friends, without a job, without money? Over 75 per cent of the men released make good, only five per cent being sentenced for the commission of new crimes. To turn one adrift without supervision, without work, like turning out a patient from a hospital who has had a major operation, and then expect him to immediately resume work.

I regret exceedingly that you do not give the newly created Department of Corrections and the Parole Board an opportunity to function as they should without castigating them for the sins of former parole commissioners. For your information I wish to state that Choboroff served his maximum term on a sentence of 7 1/2 to 20 years (although his recommended term was 10 years), being released on December 14, 1935. The courts have ruled that "good time" must be allowed on the maximum sentence.

The members of the past legislature are to blame for the lack of parole officers to supervise these paroled men. The parole commissioners of the past have had only an appropriation of about $57,000, one-tenth the appropriation of a state like Illinois for a similar purpose, or a small amount compared to the appropriation in Indiana. What can you expect of parole officers, paid on a fee basis, and picked because of political pull?

For your information, I wish to say that our full-time parole officers have discovered parolees that were never contacted by the part-time political parole officers.

The corrections bill as introduced in the legislature was hamstringed before it went very far. Two or three provisions were inserted by the legislature despite the opposition of the members of the study commission which drafted the bill. These will have to be changed. The bill as a whole is workable and is considered a good bill.

Gracey was placed on parole July 2, 1936, and continued at work up until his death, earning the magnificent salary of $15 a week working for a state senator. Too often many who should know better take advantage of the difficulties of those to whom the finger of scorn is pointed. A living wage should be paid so that these parolees again will not resort to a life of crime.

The records show that 1046 cases were heard by the three-man parole board between July 22, 1937, when it began to function, to September 30, 1937, 540 inmates being recommended for parole. The remainder, or 506 cases, were denied parole and passed for many reasons; eighty of them for medical attention or psychiatric report, many for investigation, to establish good work records, etc.

The records show that in 1935 there were heard by the pardon and parole commission during the preceding administration, over a period of nine months, 3831 cases and that 1918 inmates, or 50%, were released, and that in the nine months of 1937 there were heard 3934 cases, and 1494, or 38%, were released.

Of course, it is not the endeavor of the bureau of pardon and paroles to grant paroles in order to obtain certain figures or percentages. It is our aim to give correctional treatment, vocational and academic training, to

Phone Rates Reduced On Thanksgiving Day

NIGHT RATES ARE TO BE MADE EFFECTIVE.

Reduced rates for long distance telephone calls will be made effective for Thanksgiving day this year, according to an announcement by C. P. Schriener, manager in this area for the Michigan Bell Telephone company.

The reduction will be made effective by the application throughout the day as well as Thanksgiving eve and night of the long distance rates regularly in effect after seven o'clock every night and all day every Sunday. This will be the first time especially reduced rates have been offered for Thanksgiving day. They will apply between points within the United States, and in general, will reduce the cost of calls where the regular day station-to-station rate is 40 cents or more.

The announcement was made following the filing of the reduced rates by the Michigan Bell company and their approval by the Michigan public utilities commission at Lansing.

A schedule of similar reduced long distance rates also was filed and approved for the coming Christmas and New Years days.

Inmates in prison, and have positions available upon release so that after careful supervision on parole, they will be able to mingle with society upon their discharge from parole. To attain our aims, we must have the cooperation of all citizens.

For your information I am handing you under separate cover, copies of our quarterly statistical reports which may be of interest. If you desire to be placed on our mailing list I should be pleased to hear from you.

Yours respectfully,
HOMER GELLEN, Director.

During the service the following questions will be answered, along with any others suggested by interested persons: Should a Christian play golf on Sunday? Should a Christian attend the movies on Sunday? Should Christians use Sunday as a feast day, picnic day, and for week-end parties? The sermon subject will be: "The Sabbath Day in Character Building." At the morning service the message will be on "The Sin of Biting Alone." Bible school meets at 11:30 a. m. and the YPU at 6:30 p. m. Senior program leader, Ivan Holmstrom. The public is cordially invited to attend these services. "Mortals and Immortals" will be the subject of the lesson sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, November 14. The golden text, from Genesis 4: 6, 7, is: "Because ye are sons, God hath sent forth the Spirit of his son into your hearts, crying, Abba, Father. Wherefore thou art no more a servant, but a son; and if a son, then an heir of God through Christ." Among the Bible citations is this passage (Psalm 91:1): "He that dwelleth in the secret place of the most High shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty." Correlative passages to be read from Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 245): "The measurement of life, from years robs youth of vigor and uprightness to age. The radiant sun of virtue and truth co-exists with being. Manhood is its eternal noon, undimmed by a declining sun."

Mason Methodist—Miss Rebecca McKenzie of Lansing, will be the guest speaker at the morning service. Miss McKenzie has just returned from the National Home Missionary Convention at Seattle, and visited a good deal of the Home Missionary work enroute. The Home society will hold annual Thank Offering at this service. Mr. Bowker will speak to the junior congregation on the subject, "A Run-a-way Boy." Miss Eileen Welch will sing a soprano solo with a violin obligato played by Raymond McLean, accompanied by Miss Lucas at the organ. The Newer Things

It seems we are always among the very first to purchase the newer types of equipment, and to adopt the latest methods of serving.

Surely, we are proud of our reputation as a progressive organization; we have worked hard to deserve that reputation.

Deer Hunters

We have the high top shoes for hunting—no matter how wet they get they will dry soft, because they are Wolverine shell horsehides.

Don't throw away those old shoes. Bring them in to us and let us restore their shape and comfort, plus added wear.

Let us dye those summer shoes now for winter wear.

.... "I Have To Cut The Corners

cheap electricity helps me save in many ways

"PENNIES COUNT with me. And even with prices of most things high as they are, there's ONE living cost where PENNIES COUNT bigger than ever—that's my farm electricity.

"The price is down—so I can buy more to help me save in other ways. Water pumping, refrigeration, water heating, radio and cooking are giving 'value received' every day. My wife figures the electric washer and sweeper paid her back—and saved her back—many times over.

"I don't know how to put a price on eyesight—but we put in plenty of good light, and I wouldn't think of changing. A few cents certainly buys a lot of better living."

For the 12 months ending with September, this Company's residential electric customers paid an average of less than 3 1/2¢ per kilowatt-hour for their electricity.... which is about half the price of ten years ago, and far below the present average price in the United States.

FANCY PACKAGES BOOM OUT OF STATE PRODUCE

MICHIGAN PRODUCERS URGED TO CHANGE WAYS.

Western Apples and Maine Potatoes in Fancy Packages Outsell Michigan Quality.

With Michigan's indicated awakening to the need of retaining home markets and regaining her foreign outlets for her farm produce, other surplus-producing states throughout the nation are making every effort to thoroughly entrench themselves here, according to Commissioner John B. Strange, of department of agriculture. "Michigan producers must wake up because Michigan markets are being taken away from them and in some instances it is going to be difficult to regain these markets. Michigan producers must fight back at those invaders with every available weapon to retain Michigan's natural markets," declared Commissioner Strange.

Adoption of strict grading laws, acceptance of federal-state inspection service, have caused outstate producers to realize that Michigan is seriously attempting to retain and regain markets that have been lost because of inferior quality, according to Commissioner Strange.

"The state departments, however," declared Commissioner Strange, "are able to go only so far. The farmers and producers of this state must help themselves. The state cannot tell the producers the type of packages to use, but loss of markets should indicate to the farmers that the days of slipshod methods of packaging produce are past, that if Michigan produce is to compete, Michigan producers must be presented in attractive packages."

"At the Detroit Union Produce Terminal, Michigan apples in old crates with newspaper linings are being offered in competition with Washington and Oregon apples in new packages. The apples in the old crates, undoubtedly the Michigan apples have a better flavor than the outstate apples but it is not difficult to understand, under the circumstances, how outstate apples are being sold in preference to the better quality Michigan apples."

"It is true that the price of apples is low, that linings and crates cost money but these outstate producers find it profitable to package their products and ship thousands of miles. Packages are creating a demand that is bringing premium prices."

"What applies to apples, applies to potatoes in these states. The state of Maine, always boasting better graded potatoes in seeking Michigan markets, is waging a real battle to retain Michigan markets through advertisements and by packaging their product in var-colored 15-lb. bags, especially attractive to housewives. With Michigan potatoes now equally as well graded, Maine potatoes retain but one advantage—better appearance. This is offset by the better cooking and eating qualities of Michigan spuds, giving Michigan producers the advantage of lower freight rates over Maine producers."

Packages are turning the truck in this instance, with the 15-lb. packages bringing 24 cents, Michigan potatoes in 100-lb. burlap bags being quoted at $1.05 at the market.

"It is necessary," Commissioner Strange concluded, "that Michigan farmers help themselves. They must battle for these markets or see them lost with outstate produce bringing high prices with their own merchandise being sold at reduced prices. It is necessary that producers take advantage of every opportunity to not only hold present markets, but to regain those lost during the past decade."

FILM NEWS MASON THEATRE

On Thursday evening only the Lowry-Slout Players will present "Puddin' Head Jones," a very realistic story which might happen right in your own home town. As an added attraction Evelyn, the girl who sees tomorrow, will give more verbal escapades.

You can take it from us, "Rootin' Tootin' Rhythm" the Gene Autry musical western which comes to the Mason Theatre Friday and Saturday, is the real McCoy! Autry, always good, was never better than now in this modern, melodious role which gives him an opportunity to sing, ride and fight, all accomplishments at which he excels. It's all about cattle rustlers, two-timing ranch barons, revenge on the mesa, and cowboy justice, with a liberal sprinkling of Autry's songs. Armida, a lovely little Mexican star, plays opposite Gene. The comical, blundering Smiley Burnette furnishes many a laugh, and Monte Blue, a favorite of long standing, is excellent in the role of the villainous ranchman. Also in the cast are Hal Taliaferro, Anna Pendleton, Max Hoffman, Jr., Charles King, Frankie Marvin, Nina Campana and other well known players.

"All American Champ" which comes to the Mason Theatre Friday and Saturday as the second feature on a double bill, demonstrates in a mirthful manner what can happen to a bridge player in this country today. The story concerns a small town lightning calculator who is induced by the manager of a carnival to join the troupe. He agrees and on the train going east employs his mathematical talent to defeat the bridge champion of the America, not knowing who he is. When the news is flashed on the wires he becomes a celebrity and his adventures begin. Stuart Erwin plays the title role with uproarious results. He is well supported by Betty Furness, Robert Armstrong, Edmund Gwenn, Harvey Stephens, E. E. Clive and other well known players.

Okemos Surprises Holt To Win Share Of Title

CHIEFS OUTPLAY HOLT IN ONE OF THE SURPRISE GAMES OF TRI-COUNTY LEAGUE FOOTBALL SEASON.

Dansville And Leslie Play To A Tie, Fowlerville Trampled By Improved Williamston Team, Only One Game
Remains On Schedule.

By Nicholas Kerbaway

Okemos refused to take seriously the pre-game claims that the Chiefs had no chance against a championship-bound Holt aggregation. After the game at Okemos Friday which ended in a 7 to 0 tie Holt felt extremely fortunate in not suffering defeat. After the first two minutes of play Okemos took charge of the game. Behind a fighting line, a slashing quartet of Indian backs riddled the vaulted Holt line. Time after time Holt made goal-line stands which warded off defeat. In fact, it was a stout goal-line defense and not an attack that marked Holt's play and saved last year's champions from defeat.

The 1937 Tri-County football curtain will be rung down Friday afternoon when Fowlerville invades Holt for the final game of the season. With the other five schools having completed their league games, tomorrow's contest will officially wind up gridiron play in the county circuit.

Unless Fowlerville, lodged in the cellar position of the league with four losses as against no games won, can turn tables and squeeze out a victory for themselves, two teams are going to wind up the season with perfect standings, thus throwing the championship into a deadlock. Both Holt and Okemos, as a result of last Friday's 7-0 game, will claim the highest honors offered by the league.

Prior to Friday's contest Holt's record was four games won and none tied while the Chiefs had two tie games with their three games won. Neither team being unbeaten, a victory for Okemos would have won for the season Holt's title while Holt would await claim pending the outcome of the Fowlerville game. But it was an inspired Okemos team that outplayed the defending champions, dominating in both offensive and defensive play, to earn a tie score and a claim to the laurels of the undefeated.

After watching the Ramblers roll up a 7-0 score in the first few minutes of the game Okemos came back in the same period, knotted the count and threw the outcome into deadlock. Not only did the Chiefs likewise keep their slate clean but for the first time this season Holt found themselves playing a purely defensive game. Carrying out Coach Ken Barnhill's cry, "We've got a line; all we need is the backfield," Okemos gave a rare demonstration of offensive strength that took them to Holt's one-yard line on three different occasions.

Holt, on the other hand, couldn't get plays in motion. After a touchdown at the game's outset, the Ramblers played with their backs to the wall as Okemos, time and time again, reached deep into Holt's territory. Barnard scored for Holt with Priest and Miller completing a pass good for 10 yards. A pass, Parish to Cooke, put Okemos' touchdown into position as Parish plunged for the score. Rogers kicked the extra point. The timer's whistle saved Holt from yielding a touchdown at the end of the half. Three more times the Okemos team was inches from the Holt goal. Parish and Cooke ripped the Holt line to shreds. Rogers and Cooper also did good work in the Okemos backfield. The entire Okemos line played headsup football and outcharged the Ramblers. Had Okemos been able to take care of down-

Can you imagine Edward Everett Horton as Tarzan? Can you picture him as a human fly or driving a hundred-mile-an-hour racing car? Impossible? Believe it or not, Edward Everett Horton plays a combination of Tarzan, human fly and racing driver in the comedy "Oh Doctor!" which comes to the Mason Theatre Sunday and Monday. His Tarzanlike talents appear when he wrestles with a gorilla. He human-flies up and down the sides of a building. He becomes a speed demon when he drives his car at the better-than-a-hundred clip. He does these unusual stunts in the role of Ned Billop. He is seen as a hypochondriac who falls in love. He does the daredevil stunts to impress the lady of his choice with the fact that he is a better man than his rival. Also in the cast are lovely Donnie Leighton, William Hall, Eve Arden, Thurston Hall, Catharine Donnet, William Demarest and other well known players.

The Universal News and an Oswald comedy "Duck Hunt" complete this program.

Professional football players of the famed New York "Giants," college players of the University of Southern California, and movie stars face each other in the gridiron battle of "Rose Bowl" which comes to the Mason Theatre Tuesday and Wednesday. The film, combining pigskin thrills with college romance and fun, has Eleanor Whitney, Larry Brown, Larry Crabbe, William Frawley, Priscilla Lawson, Benny Baker and Terry Ray in its brilliant cast. Brown and Crabbe are rival football players, both from the same small Ohio town and both interested in the same girl—Miss Whitney. Their rivalry continues as they attend different colleges—and wind up face to face on opposing teams in the famous Rose Bowl game. Miss Whitney and Priscilla Lawson make the romantic phase of the story of a five-sided, inter-collegiate "triangle." Big-game sequences of "Rose Bowl" were actually filmed in the world-famous stadium at Pasadena. Added attractions include a Color Classic "Chicken A La King" and chapter 4 of "Jungle Jim."

field blocking assignments the score would have mounted because every time Parish and Cooke hit the line they denied it for several yards. But they were unable to break through the Holt secondary.

Statistics of the game show the margin of play. Okemos amassed the total of 17 first downs to five for Holt and three of the Holt first downs came in the first two minutes of play.

Williamston passed both Stockbridge and Leslie to gain fourth place in the league's standings by trouncing Fowlerville by a 31-6 score. With the score at half-time, 12-6, Williamston ran amuck, scored three touchdowns and an extra point in the second period to put the game on ice. Clark scored the only Fowlerville marker running 50 yards from an off-tackle slant while Stover scored three times for the winners with Gorsline and Clausen adding one apiece. One of Stover's markers resulted from an 85-yard run while a 40-yard return of a punt featured the work of the Williamston back. Gorsline at fullback again stood out with fine blocking while Miller's work at guard featured the winner's line play. For the losers, Clark, Haas, Jr. and Al Tomlin played good games.

Two evenly matched teams battled to a 0-0 tie game at Dansville as Leslie and Dansville wound up their season. Dansville threatened only once, this coming in the fourth period, when the Aggies recovered a fumble on Leslie's 15-yard line. The visitors held the game down, however, in the only threat of the game on either side. The game was Leslie's second tie game of the year. Dansville, looming as a real contender in the early stages of the campaign, finishes the season runner-up to Holt and Okemos.

Stockbridge, completing the sixth game a week previous, was idle.

Friday's Game
Fowlerville at Holt.

TRI-COUNTY Facts and Fancies

By Nicholas Kerbaway
Championship games always offer a delectable dish full of flavor and color. The Holt-Okemos game last Friday produced just that. But, to put it in the words of one contemporary—"Okemos knocked a lot of glamour off the Holt champs"—which seems to size it up pretty well. Holt just couldn't get ahold of the ball. And when they did they had their backs to the wall. The game started off in typical Holt fashion. Priest returned kick-off to Chief's 30-yard line. Two first downs followed. Barnard rolled over to score with Priest passing to Miller for extra point.

Then the Chiefs held a pow-wow. Punting on fourth down, the Chiefs followed the ball, recovered the safety man's fumble and waltzed on to score with Parish getting the snail and Rogers kicking. The third quarter belonged completely to Okemos. The Chiefs adhered to "possession is two-thirds of the game" and forced the defending champs to make three goal-line stands. Holt had the ball twice in the third period. And in the fourth managed to get into motion but Okemos beat the defensive sign. The game tested Holt's defensive power as Okemos carried the ball to the one-yard line time and time again. The Okemos backs picked up their yardage in the middle of the Holt line. Which means Adcock was missed sorely. Each team intercepted one pass.

Holt, in all probability, will get by Fowlerville Friday as their opponent has yet to chalk up a league win. Which means Okemos and Holt will be battling 1,000 per cent. The league has no point system to take care of the games so both teams will lay claim to the title. Holt has one deadlock and the Chiefs three. More than 500 fans witnessed the game played at Okemos. And only a sprinkling of the visitors' student body. Two o'clock starting time at Okemos makes it difficult for visiting schools but lets all home boys and girls see games and catch the bus home.

Now for the rest of the county. Williamston jumped a couple of notches to wind up the season in fourth position. Not so bad figuring Soper had a skeleton outfit to work with. Stover really carries the mail. Has been the spark-plug in the Williamston backfield all year. Is a baseball pitcher in the spring. And a pretty nifty one at that. Gorsline again checked in a good blocking game while Miller will give Moyers a good run for guard honors although his play has been late in coming in. Clark at Fowlerville is getting a little gunning for the league's All-Star team to be released in a week or so. Some observers claim he'll improve in calling his plays as his experience mounts. Leslie dangled for joy holding Dansville to a 0-0 tie.

Leslie's new type of pep-meeting, although quite different than the usual pep-meetings must have taken a

FINAL FOOTBALL GAME WITH HOWELL FRIDAY

TEN SENIORS TO MAKE FINAL APPEARANCE FOR MASON.

Mason And Howell Appear To Be
Evenly Matched, Game To Start
At Three O'Clock.

A middle of the road football season will be brought to a close for Mason when the Maroons meet the Highlanders at Howell in the final game of the year Friday afternoon at three o'clock. Mason has won two conference games and lost two. Starting the year with victories over St. Johns and Charlotte, Mason faltered against Eaton Rapids and lost a one-point affair to Grand Ledge. The Maroons have improved over former years, but have not held up to the high expectations of early September.

The Howell game Friday will be the determining factor in summing up the season. If Mason is the winner the season can not be regarded otherwise than as successful with three league victories to offset two defeats. A defeat on the other hand, will send Mason down below the 500 mark.

Coach Gordon Dawson said Wednesday that Mason seniors will have an opportunity to close their football careers in a blaze of glory. There are 10 seniors listed as regulars on the team and it is likely that seven of them will start the game. With the exception of Fred Sibley at center, the entire starting forward wall will be made up of seniors. Senior line men are Lawrence Irish and Ralph Handyside, ends; Leroy Seale, fullback, and Owen at the tackles. Swannigan and Gillespie at the guards and Greene at center. Darrel Donsmore opened at quarterback with Brown and Hamlin at the halves and Boutis at full. Walters, Parker, Dunn, Handyside, Fancher, Michels, Bob Palmer, Hardy, Leroy Lee, Don Lee and Henderson were others who saw service.

The Ladies Aid will hold their chicken supper and fair at the hall Tuesday night, November 22. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nemer were Ann Arbor visitors, Monday. The men of the community will hold a wood bee at the home of Mrs. Mary Kendrick, Thursday, November 18. The wood is to go to the church. A dinner will be served at the hall at noon, free to those who work. Mrs. A. P. Richards and Mrs. Bruce Kranger spent part of last week at Kenosha, Wisconsin. Mrs. Asenath Wilson of near Charlotte, attended the Aid here Thursday. Mrs. Francis Nemer and Mrs. Orville Hensley attended the nutrition club meeting at the Kellogg company in Battle Creek, Tuesday, of last week.

Mason Reserves Bow To Charlotte Eleven

VISITORS PUSH TWO TOUCH-DOWNS ACROSS GOAL.

Mason and Charlotte high school football teams with junior and senior regulars out of ranks played on the Mason field Saturday morning. Charlotte won 14 to 0, mainly because the drive kicking on the Maroon variety all season was also lacking on the Maroon reserve team. Mason pass receivers were unable to hang onto the ball and the blocking was faulty.

The game was booked to give the coaches a chance to see what their youngsters could do under fire. Starting the game for Mason were Davis and Owen at the ends, Perkins and Gelsenhaver at the tackles, Swannigan and Gillespie at the guards and Greene at center. Darrel Donsmore opened at quarterback with Brown and Hamlin at the halves and Boutis at full. Walters, Parker, Dunn, Handyside, Fancher, Michels, Bob Palmer, Hardy, Leroy Lee, Don Lee and Henderson were others who saw service.

HIGH PRODUCTION MARKS IN COW TESTING GROUP

DAIRYMEN HAVING TO BUY
PROTEIN-CONTENT FEEDS.

Low Quality Of Alfalfa Makes Purchase Of Protein Necessary For Production.

Three herds in the Mason-Ingham Dairy Herd Improvement association whose testing year does not coincide with the association year finished their 12 months during October, according to the tester, Glenn Jacobs.

They are owned by Milford Ridley of Leslie, William Frederick of Fitchburg, and Floyd Fogle of Mason.

A butterfat average of 350 pounds was made by the Ridley herd of eight Guernseys. Their milk average was 7200 pounds. The Frederick herd of 13 Holsteins averaged 13,115 pounds of milk and 438 of fat. Mr. Fogle's Holsteins, also 13 in number, made the average production of 11,510 pounds of milk and 375 of fat.

During October the Hugh Osterle herd, Leroy township, and the Frederick herd practically tied in butterfat production although Mr. Frederick's animals were ahead in pounds of milk. Figure of the six herds averaging 30 pounds or more of butterfat are as follows:

(1) Hugh Osterle, registered Holstein, 11 cows, 942 pounds milk, 36.9 pounds fat; (2) W. D. Frederick, registered Holstein and grade Holstein, 11 cows, 1046 pounds milk, 36.8 pounds fat; (3) Raymond Elbert, registered grade Holstein, 15 cows, 943 pounds milk, 35.7 pounds fat; (4) Freshour & Son, registered Holstein, 16 cows, 897 pounds milk, 34.2 pounds fat; (5) Clyde Snow, Jr. & Sons, registered and grade Jersey, 18 cows, 623 pounds milk, 32.3 pounds fat; (6) Warren Byrum, registered and grade Holstein, 28 cows, 875 pounds milk, 30.5 pounds fat.

A tie also marked the tables of individual fat production, one of J. W. Wilford's 4-year-old Holsteins making 70 pounds from 1944 pounds of milk and a mature Holstein owned by Beeman & Rodman making 70 pounds from 2058 pounds of milk.

Below are the five high animals in the four year divisions:

Five years and over: (1) Harold Rodman and John Beeman, grade Holstein, 2058 pounds milk, 70.0 pounds fat; (2) Hugh Osterle, registered Holstein, 1550 pounds milk, 68.6 pounds fat; (3) Elsworth & Woodman, registered Guernsey, 1380 pounds milk, 67.6 pounds fat; (4) Beeman & Rodman, registered Holstein, 1708 pounds milk, 66.6 pounds fat; (5) Lawrence Stowe, grade Holstein, 1286 pounds milk, 56.7 pounds fat (29 days).

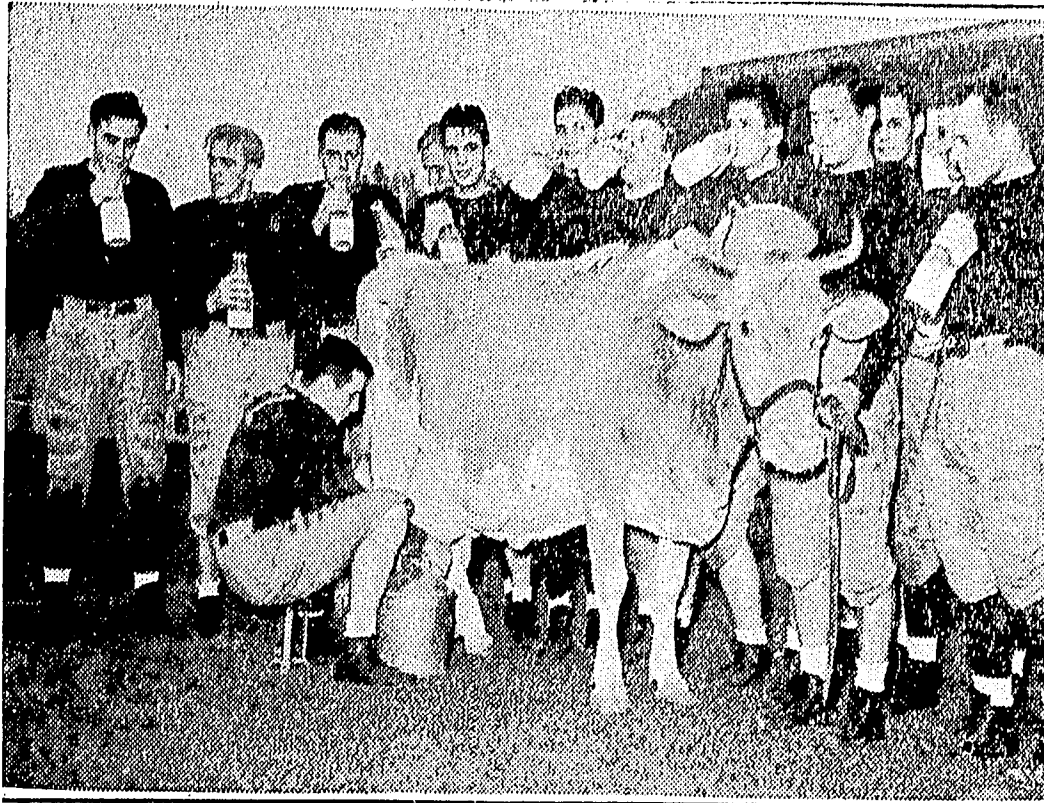

Four years: (1) J. W. Wilford, registered Holstein, 1944 pounds milk, 70.0 pounds fat; (2) F. E. Fogle, grade Holstein, 1801 pounds milk, 69.4 pounds fat; (3) Norman Darr, grade Holstein, 1200 pounds milk, 53.1 pounds fat; (4) A. C. McCulloch, grade Jersey, 899 pounds milk, 48.1 pounds fat; (5) W. D. Byrum, grade Holstein, 1500 pounds milk, 48.0 pounds fat; (6) Hugh Osterle, registered Holstein, 1411 pounds milk, 48.0 pounds fat.

Three years: (1) Jess Johnston, grade Holstein, 1347 pounds milk, 56.6 pounds fat (28 days); (2) Hugh Osterle, registered Holstein, 1417 pounds milk, 48.6 pounds fat; (3) Wm. D. According to many conversant with the situation dairymen are finding that more protein than usual is needed to supplement their home-grown grains even with alfalfa hay. This is attributed to low quality of hay, most of it being discolored and lacking in leafiness. Analyses made at M. S. C.

Milk Scores Touchdowns For Michigan State Football Team

One of Michigan State college's best milk producers plays the center, temporarily, on this football squad in the college stadium. With Johnny Pingel, left halfback from Mt. Clemens, trying his hand at milking, the rest of the boys take advantage of the milk already bottled.

Nearly all the players on the football team at Michigan State college drink milk by the pint and quart three meals a day.

In a survey undertaken to prove the value of milk during National Milk Week, November 14 to 20, the players indicated that milk is a good food 52 weeks of the year. Coach Charley Bachman gives them credit for intelligence at the table as well as in the classroom and on the football field. These husky boys differ widely from the average person. For the nation the average milk consumption is less than a pint a day just as milk. Estimates are that the average family is spending about 22 cents of each food dollar for milk and milk products. Some medical authorities suggest that this wisely could be increased to 35 cents of each food dollar to purchase milk, butter, cheese, ice cream and other milk products.

Michigan's milk industry is largely one of home consumption. The state has approximately 800,000 producing cows, according to estimates of A. C. Baltzer, extension dairyman at the college. Forty-eight per cent of the milk is consumed locally as fluid milk. The college is helping sponsor National Milk Week in the state. For aid to the milk industry and the health of residents in the state, staff members recommend wider use of milk throughout the year.

Milk in a glass contains more lime than a glass of lime water in offering teeth building material. Because milk has no waste such as husk or hull the fluid appears to be an ideal food, offering a more complete supply of food elements than any other solid or liquid.

The How and Why of the National Unemployment Census

A nation-wide census of all unemployed and partially unemployed persons in the United States will be taken between the dates of November 16 to 20, by act of Congress, and at the direction of President Roosevelt.

Here, in question-and-answer form, is the information you need to know about this plan.

1. WHAT IS PURPOSE OF THE UNEMPLOYMENT CENSUS?
To get an accurate count of the unemployed and partly unemployed.
2. TO WHOM WILL CARDS BE SENT?
To every family in the United States.
3. UNDER WHOSE AUSPICES IS THE CENSUS BEING TAKEN?
Congress has decreed, and the President has directed, that it be taken.
4. IS THE CENSUS COMPULSORY?
No. But every unemployed or partly unemployed person is urged to cooperate.
5. HOW WILL THE CENSUS BE CONDUCTED?
Through the facilities of the Post Office Department. Report Cards will be delivered to every family. Cards are to be returned by mail to Washington for tabulation and analysis.
6. WHEN WILL THE CENSUS BE TAKEN?
Cards will be delivered on November 16 and must be returned by MIDNIGHT NOVEMBER 20. They are already addressed and no postage is required.
7. WHO SHOULD FILL AND RETURN CARDS?
Every person who is unemployed or partly unemployed who is able to work and wants work.
8. WHAT AGE LIMITS APPLY?
There are no age limits except existing State regulations concerning workers' ages.
9. SHOULD MORE THAN ONE UNEMPLOYED PERSON IN A FAMILY RETURN A CARD?
Yes. Every unemployed member of a family should fill out and return a card, if able to work and seeking work.
10. WHERE MAY ADDITIONAL CARDS BE OBTAINED?
At any post office or from your postman.
11. WHERE CAN INFORMATION BE SECURED IN FILLING OUT CARDS?
At your post office or from your postman.
12. IS THIS CENSUS CONFINED TO AMERICAN CITIZENS?
No. All permanent residents of the United States are included.
13. IS THE INFORMATION GIVEN ON THE CARDS TO BE CONSIDERED CONFIDENTIAL?
Yes. This information will be used for unemployment statistics only.
14. SHOULD EVERY QUESTION OF THE CENSUS CARD BE ANSWERED?
Yes. To obtain the most accurate information possible, the President asks that each question be answered. Numbers 9 and 10 are particularly important. However, failure to answer some of the questions will not invalidate the card.
15. WHO IS AN "UNEMPLOYED" PERSON?
A person of either sex or any color who is not working and is able to work and seeking work.
16. WHO IS A "PARTLY UNEMPLOYED" PERSON?
A person of either sex or any color with part-time employment who is able to do more work and is looking for more work.
17. ARE PERSONS ON EMERGENCY WORK PROJECTS INCLUDED?
Yes. They should register as unemployed. A specific question, Number 2c, is provided on the Report Card for all persons working on a W.P.A., N.Y.A., C.C.C., or other emergency work project which is supported by public funds.

A MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES

The White House
Washington

TO EVERY WORKER:

If you are unemployed or partly unemployed and are able to work and are seeking work, please fill out this report card right away and mail it before midnight, Saturday, November 20, 1937. No postage stamp is needed.

The Congress directed me to take this census. It is important to the unemployed and to everyone in this land that the census be complete, honest, and accurate. If you give me the facts, I shall try to use them for the benefit of all who need and want work and do not now have it.

Potato Legislation Effective In Ingham

INTER-STATE TRADE IN CULL
POTATOES PROHIBITED.

Michigan potato growers who produced the second largest crop of any state in the nation in 1937 are expected to see the results this winter of the new federal marketing program which is prohibiting interstate shipment of cull potatoes, said Fred F. Hibst, Cadillac, who is one of three vice chairmen selected by a committee representing growers and handlers in Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota and North Dakota.

In Ingham county and in other potato producing counties in this and the other three states, the marketing orders were made effective October 19. Announcement to this effect was received by H. H. Barnum, county agricultural agent. While not classed as a potato county, aggregate production reported in the 1935 census was 250,000 bushels. This figure is higher than many northern counties where potato growing stands out due to the smallness of other agricultural enterprises.

Federal and state inspectors are checking interstate shipments to enforce the orders. Potatoes less than one and one-half inches in diameter and not meeting requirements of U. S. grade No. 2 are prohibited from interstate shipment. To finance the program there will be fees on carlot and truck shipments. They will not exceed 50 cents a carlot, 25 cents for a truck carrying 200 sacks or less, or 50 cents for a truck carrying more than 200 sacks in interstate trucking.

The federal agricultural adjustment administration is considering purchase of this year's 25 million bushel surplus. Diversion would be to livestock feed, starch, flour and other purposes. There also is a buying program to use potatoes for relief supplies.

Porcupines are protected by law in several states because a person lost in the woods could easily kill them with a club and thus obtain meat.

The Three R's AND TELEPHONE TAXES

Approximately $29,000,000 of the money which the people of Michigan have paid for telephone service over the past ten years has come back to them in the form of primary school education for the boys and girls of the state.

That is because taxes assessed by the state against certain utilities, including the Michigan Bell Telephone Company, are paid into the primary school fund. From there the money is distributed among the 83 counties of the state, and helps support the elementary, grammar and high schools.

Money alone could not account for Michigan's high standards of public education. Our state has been fortunate in the men and women entrusted with this work—the superintendents of public instruction, state, county, city; the local school boards, Parent-Teacher associations, and the individual teachers.

This Company makes the largest individual payment into the primary school fund. During the past ten years the Company has paid into the fund $28,978,000, this year's payment alone amounting to $2,624,092.47. This is an important contribution to a school system to which is entrusted the education and character-molding of 960,000 boys and girls—Michigan's school children today, her citizens of tomorrow. These taxes are in addition to the Company's Federal and miscellaneous taxes.

Deputy Wood called to Gerred to come out but, of course, received no reply. Leaping through the door to avoid an expected shot from Gerred's shotgun, Deputy Wood looked through the living room to the kitchen where he saw Gerred's half-clad body lying in a pool of blood. The frightened boys were freed from their upstairs bedroom.

Was War Veteran

For a number of years Gerred had been employed by the Motor Wheel plant in Lansing. Two years ago the family moved from Lansing to Williamston. About a year ago the Gerreds moved to the farm where the shooting took place. During the war Gerred served overseas with the 119th Central Postal Directory, American Expeditionary Force. He was a member of the Lansing police department in 1920.

That Gerred was addicted to strong drink was the story told by members of the family. The two boys told officers that the house was full of empty beer and wine bottles. They said they saw their father. The officers went to the barn and found that many recently emptied bottles had been left in the barn.

Funeral services for Gerred were held at the Garsline Brothers chapel in Williamston Tuesday afternoon with burial in the Williamston cemetery. The Rev. R. C. Bottrill of the Williamston Methodist church officiated.

Besides the widow and four children there survive the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gerred of Holt; two brothers, Vernon of Holt and Donald of Arizona; two sisters, Mrs. Mervin Gerred of Montague and Mrs. Mervin Gerred of Lansing.

Funeral services for E. J. Bott of Stockbridge, who died Tuesday afternoon, will be held at two o'clock Friday afternoon at the Stockbridge funeral home. A daughter, Mrs. Trent Sawyer of Mason, a son, Dr. T. L. Bott of Coldwater, two brothers, Norris Bott of Stockbridge and Frank Bott of Lansing and a sister, Mrs. Libbie Ives, who lives in Texas, survive.
