Fox Theatre to be Rebuilt, Plan Modernistic Exterior

Architect's Plans Call For Beautiful Building

ENTRANCE TO BE LOWERED TO STREET LEVEL, SEATING CAPACITY TO BE INCREASED.

Mason will have virtually a new theater when the Fox theatre on Maple street is rebuilt within the next few weeks. The architect's plans call for transforming the old "opera house," erected in 1880, into a building of porcelain tile and stucco, presenting a modernistic, streamlined appearance. The interior, too, will be rebuilt and the entrance and floor lowered to street level.

The exterior will be of porcelain enamel tile up to the second story and from there on up the exterior will be of porcelain enamel tile and cement stucco. The exterior color scheme is to be buff, trimmed with maroon. Above the first floor the construction will be stucco, trimmed with maroon porcelain tile.

New neon signs and a new marquee will add to the modernistic appearance of the building. Plans Now Lobby A new lobby is also included in the plans. The present entrance is several steps above the street. The floor is to be lowered to the street level and the entrance and lobby will be lowered also.

Engineers of the American Seating company are drawing the plans for the rearrangement of seats. Eighty seats are being added to the lower floor. Work on the exterior and interior of the Fox theatre will be started immediately, Herbert R. Fox, owner and manager, stated Tuesday.

Historic Building Sixty years ago, in 1880, the Rayner opera house was erected. In that year the census showed Lansing's population as 8319. The folks were beginning to get the wilderness whipped and to feel the need of "culture." The theatre was the thing for culture back long before movies or radios were dreamed of. Traveling shows, lectures, forums and meetings of every kind could be held if there was an adequate building. Mason had none until "four of the Rayner heirs, A. J. Rayner, Charles J. Rayner, Barney C. Rayner and Mrs. Harper Reed," felt and met the need.

Chry Room Provided The Fox Theatre is to have a chry room. No, the chry room is not for emotional women to retire to when the Hollywood heart throbs become more than can be borne; the room is designed for mothers (and fathers) of small babies. The room will be sound proof and of glass construction. The babies can holler their heads off and the audience outside the chry room will not be disturbed.

Overheated Cookstove Sets Partition Afire LOSS ON MASON RESIDENCE ESTIMATED AT $1000. Mason firemen had to cope with a stubborn blaze at the residence of Mrs. Alice Gould, 333 East Maple, Sunday afternoon. An overheated cookstove set the partitions afire and the blaze ran up to the roof. The house is constructed of cement brick veneer. The alarm was sounded at one o'clock. After the firemen thought the fire had been extinguished it broke out again and a second run was made at three o'clock.

Heavy Loss Results From McVeigh Blaze FIRE OF UNKNOWN ORIGIN DESTROYS VEVAY BARN. Fire destroyed the barn on the David McVeigh farm on the Leslie-Vevay town line Monday night. The cause of the blaze is unknown. The barn stood away from other buildings and there had been no lights in the barn. It was filled with new hay. A corn binder, wagon and drill were saved. A flock of sheep had made their escape before the blaze was discovered.

NOTICE Saturday, July 20, 1940, is the last day for paying water bills and to receive the 20% discount. The office will be open until six o'clock p. m. G. R. KELLOGG, City Clerk.

STOCKBRIDGE FARMER KILLED BY LIGHTNING

BODY CREMATED WHEN BARN BURNS TO GROUND.

James A. Fall, 60, Stockbridge farmer, was struck by lightning and burned to death Monday afternoon at two o'clock on his farm six miles north of Stockbridge. Fall, his son, Alphonso, Melvin Latimer and Howard Gauss were just finishing filling the barn with hay. The two Falls and Latimer were putting the globe down in place and Gauss was in the barnyard with the tractor when the lightning struck. The threatening storm did not appear to be an unusually severe one. There was little rain and some lightning. However, one bolt hurled down to the barn. The lightning struck at the south end of the 30x70-foot building and followed the hay track to the north end where the three men were working.

MASON MEN ESCAPE

Elmer Franklin, 18, and Michael Warner, 25, employed on the E. D. Franklin farm a mile west of Mason, miraculously dodged a bolt of lightning Monday afternoon at three o'clock. The men were on a wagon loading hay. Lightning struck the steel leader, knocked the two men from the load, knocked both horses to the ground and burned their shoulders and split the wagon reach. Beyond being stunned momentarily the men were unharmed. All the remembered was seeing a flash. Not more than a tablespoonful of water fell. E. D. Franklin was a few rods away driving a loaded wagon to the barn.

Alphonso Fall was unable to walk, his legs being paralyzed, but he was rolling over toward the edge of the barn. He yelled to the two men to save his father. Gauss and Latimer rushed to the north end of the barn but were met by a solid wall of flames and smoke. They saw that they were unable to do anything so they ran back to Alphonso Fall and carried him down a hay chute on an old ladder and onto the lawn.

By that time the barn was in flames. Latimer and Gauss fought their way back into the flaming barn and tried to rescue James Fall. They found him but were unable to bring him down as his clothing was a mass of flames. The two rescuers were finally forced back out by the smoke and intense heat.

Alphonso Fall was taken to the office of Dr. Guy Culver of Stockbridge to be treated for severe burns. The lightning traveled down his leg, splitting the side of his shoe and forcing it off his foot. Tuesday morning he was reported as doing well, being able to walk a short distance. He will be crippled for some time, it is believed.

The body of James Fall was cremated. All that remained were a few shavings, his jackknife and the metal buttons of his overalls. The barn was burned to the ground, taking with it a large straw stack. The only livestock lost in the fire was a calf. The barn was insured with the Farmers Mutual Fire Insurance company for $1500 and the contents were insured for $500. The building was an old one but it had been remodeled six years ago.

Mr. Fall was the victim of hard luck. Nine years ago the house on the same farm was destroyed by fire. A new house was built the same year that the barn was rebuilt.

Mr. Fall is survived by his wife, Lillian; 12 children, Mrs. Hulda Norton, Mrs. Anna Hazely and Dole Fall of Stockbridge, Mrs. Hattie Bradley, Alphonso Fall and Michael Fall of Detroit, Mrs. Grace Osborn, Aloma Fall and Mary Fall of Lansing, Mrs. Mae Lock of South Bend, Indiana, and Mrs. Rose Dodge of Pontiac. There are 37 grandchildren, one sister, Mrs. John Hartnagel, Chicago; and three brothers, Charles of Valparaiso, Indiana; John of Kiwanu, Indiana; and Oliver of South Bend, Indiana.

Services were held at the Milner funeral home in Stockbridge Wednesday afternoon with the Rev. A. C. Ames of East Lansing and the Rev. Edwin Stephens of the Stockbridge Methodist church officiating. Burial was in Oaklawn cemetery, Stockbridge.

Graduates Are Warned

Clifford Walcott, Mason high school principal, issued a warning to 1940 high school graduates Thursday to be on their guard against "correspondence school and college racketeers." He said, "Mason graduates are being approached by glib salesmen bent on selling courses. I have informed that some of the salesmen intimate that I have sent them to interview graduates. There are several worthwhile correspondence schools. I suggest, however, that contracts are signed that graduates inform themselves as to the standing of the schools. I have not given any list of names to correspondence course salesmen. No money should be paid to salesmen nor should agreements be signed without a thorough investigation. I am glad to consult with students who are considering correspondence courses and will attempt to find out what the courses actually offer."

PIONEER FARM WOMAN IS CLAIMED BY DEATH

MRS. J. E. TANSWELL TAKEN WHILE SLEEPING. Funeral services were held at the Jewett funeral home in Mason Thursday afternoon for Mrs. J. E. Tanswell, 82, who died suddenly early Tuesday morning at her home west of Mason. The Rev. Homer F. Roberts of the Mason Presbyterian church officiated at the services with burial in Maple Grove.

Antoinette E. Wood was born in Woodville, Jefferson county, New York, June 4, 1858. She moved with her parents, Amos F. and Eunice E. Wood, and two sisters, Flora and Al-Rose, to Maple Ridge farm, Columbia road, Mason, in October, 1896. She attended the Pink school and was graduated with the class of 1877. She remained at home 18 years, helping her parents. She was helpful to her father, who had purchased Shortworth farm, as his secretary. On November 29, 1896, she was united in marriage to John E. Tanswell, a farmer near Jackson, where they lived for one year. Then they came to Maple Ridge farm to care for her aged parents. Mr. Wood died in April, 1905, and Mrs. Wood in January, 1907. Mr. Tanswell died March 1, 1933, seven years ago, since which time she has remained at the Maple Ridge home maintained by her nephew, Paul B. Cheney, who thoughtfully looked after her welfare. Mr. Cheney with Mrs. Cheney and their daughters and Mrs. Walter Briggs and two children of Flint left Mason Monday night for a vacation trip to Lansing, Wisconsin. They did not learn of the death of Mrs. Tanswell until they arrived in LaCrosse. They returned to Mason Thursday morning.

Mrs. Tanswell often said she was struck by rural woman and she dearly loved the fields, woods and her flowers. She was the founder of the Pink Community club, which is an organization of women of the Pink school district, and attended every meeting last year. She was also an active worker in the Ingham County Farmers club, being secretary for more than 25 years. Her father was president of the Farmers club for a quarter of a century. Mrs. Tanswell had long been a member of the Mason Presbyterian church and its organizations. She had been a regular attendant of the Sunday church services and Sunday school and the missionary society. She had one son, one sister, Mrs. Myra Cheney, of Mason and a number of nieces and nephews.

Zimmerman is Elected Commander of Legion

HENRY ANDERSON IS CHOSEN VICE-COMMANDER. Kenneth A. Zimmerman was elected commander of Browne-Cavender post of the American Legion last Thursday night. He will succeed Dr. Lee Ware, whose term will expire September 1. Installation of the new commander and the other post officers will take place September 5. The new commander served with the third battalion of the 22nd Engineers.

Henry Anderson, a veteran of the 119th Field Artillery, was chosen senior vice commander. Other officers elected were Albert Baldwin, junior vice commander; Dr. Kendall E. Merlau, adjutant; Roy O. Davis, finance officer; L. J. Patterson, sergeant at arms; Ivan Potter, chaplain; Nelson Brown, historian; and D. Lee Ware and Frank B. Thompson, members of executive committee.

At the meeting Thursday a citation was read commending Dr. Mason post on its successful membership drive this year. Richard Wolf, high school student who attended the Wolverine Boys' State under the sponsorship of the Mason post, gave a report of his experience there and thanked the post members for making it possible for him to attend.

DELEGATION DEMANDS SOUTH STREET PAVING

OFFICIALS CONSENT IF COUNTY WILL FINANCE.

Although officially there was no council meeting Monday night, a delegation of South street and Sitts road residents appeared to demand that the city proceed with black-topping South street inside the city. They declared that if the city proceeded with surfacing the three-quarters of a mile of South street that they had the promise that the county road commission will place blacktop on the mile of Sitts road extending from the city limits to College road.

There could be no meeting of the council because the charter provides that there must be four aldermen present in order to have a quorum. There were present Monday night three aldermen: Gus Keen of the first ward and Owen Hall and Earl Dunsmore of the second ward. Alderman Clinton of the first ward was sick and Alderman Darling of the first ward was out of the city on a business trip. Alderman Guy S. Thorburn had been excused so that he could take a vacation trip. The meeting was adjourned by Mayor Arthur W. Jewett until next Monday night, July 22.

Complaints Aired E. D. Franklin pointed out that South street is the only unpaved route entering the city. He declared that the dust raised is almost unbearable and that the road is rough and unsafe. His statements were corroborated by others of the delegation.

The county road commission will not surface Sitts road until South street, the portion of the road inside the city, is paved. He declared that the dust raised is almost unbearable and that the road is rough and unsafe. His statements were corroborated by others of the delegation.

CONSIDERATION GIVEN L. D. Dunkel, chairman of the Ingham county road commission, informed the Mason and Vevay delegation Wednesday afternoon that the commissioners will give the proposal of improving South street and Sitts road full consideration. Dunkel explained that the county will first complete the 1940 blacktop program as approved by the board of supervisors and then if county funds are ample and there is time enough to build the road that it will be done, provided the Vevay supervisors will agree. There are no objections. The estimated cost is estimated between $1500 and $1800 and the road commission will not bill the city until after January, 1941, if the job is undertaken.

which is heavily traveled. Certainly, if any favors are shown the city living on South street should have a few inches as we paid half the cost of the fixing the road in the first place.

Jones declared that maintenance of the street had been neglected. Roy Evans said there had been intervals of two weeks between grader maintenance of the street. Street Commissioner Maynard M. Bowers explained that the county agreed to maintain the street inside the city limits. He stated that city crews have already been working. It was reported that the county commission was not maintaining the street.

Cites Council Stand Mayor Jewett told members of the delegation that blacktop surfacing has been according to a schedule, and that petitions have been received in the order they have been received. He stated that under the schedule South street would be surfaced next year. He denied that any favoritism has been shown in improving east side streets.

The city has no funds for surfacing South street this year, Mayor Jewett said.

SEEKS RE-ELECTION

RICHARD B. FOSTER

Now nearing the close of his first term as prosecuting attorney, Richard B. Foster seeks re-nomination. As prosecutor Foster has been called upon to represent the people in the trials of several state and county officers.

PROSECUTOR ANNOUNCES RE-ELECTION CANDIDACY

FOSTER HAS BUILT UP ENVIABLE RECORD. Richard B. (Dick) Foster, present Ingham county prosecuting attorney, has announced his candidacy for re-election in the coming November election. He is now serving his first term, having been elected on the Republican ticket in 1938 when he defeated the Democratic incumbent in a hotly contested campaign which aroused county-wide attention.

During his term in office, the prosecutor and his two assistants have handled more than 3500 criminal cases and have a number of important convictions to the credit of the county. Some of these cases have been against public officials. A former deputy commissioner of agriculture for the state of Michigan was convicted of forgery after having padded the payrolls of his department; and an Ingham county road commissioner and a clerk of the Ingham county road commission were convicted on charges of bribery. There is pending in the circuit court at the present time, a charge against a former legal adviser to the auditor general of the state of Michigan.

Other cases have included two convictions for negligent homicide. In addition to this work, Foster has also served as counsel for the Ingham county board of supervisors and other county offices and agencies.

In January, 1940, Foster presented a petition to the Ingham county circuit court for an investigation of the affairs of the Ingham county road commission. The grand jury investigation which followed revealed irregularities and resulted in the removal of two commissioners in addition to the convictions for bribery above mentioned.

Foster is a life-long resident of Lansing and before assuming his present duties as prosecuting attorney was a practicing attorney for many years and a member of the law firm of Foster & Cameron. Mr. Foster is married to two sons, and is a taxpayer residing at 551 Hilkey street, Lansing. In addition to holding the office of prosecutor he is treasurer of the Ingham County Bar Association and treasurer of the Lansing High School Alumni Association.

In announcing himself as a candidate for re-election, Mr. Foster stated: "This is a busy job and an interesting job. I am relying solely on my record in seeking a second term."

WPA Ready to Start City Sidewalk Project COST TO OWNERS REDUCED TO 66 SQ. FT. Mason's WPA sidewalk project, providing for 20,000 square feet of sidewalk to be built where there are not now any sidewalks is to be undertaken within a few days. The project covers almost 10 full blocks of sidewalk.

LESLIE CHILD KILLED IN TRAFFIC ACCIDENT

BABY RAN INTO PATH OF AUTO-MOBILE.

Erroll Lynn Behrens, 10-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Behrens of Leslie, was instantly killed at 1:35 Wednesday afternoon when she toddled into the path of a car driven by Charles E. Jones, 219 VanBuren street, Jackson. The child and an older brother, Arnold, were at the home of their grandmother, Mrs. Branch Fischer, on Race street in Leslie. The Fischer farm is just outside the village limits. The children were playing at the Fischer home when the fatal services were being conducted. The Behrens funeral home, Mrs. Fischer glanced up from her work and saw the baby standing in the road. She ran out of the house, calling to the child. Just as the grandmother was nearing the child the little tot was struck by the car. The baby's body was struck by a fender and was hurled through the air. Her neck was broken and death was instantaneous. Jones stated that he was driving at a speed between 25 and 30 miles per hour when he saw the child in time to stop his car. He said he had noticed the boy playing in the yard and kept his eye on him and did not see the girl run into the road.

Leslie Deputy Sheriff Emmons Wilson notified the sheriff's office in Mason of the fatal accident. Deputy O. G. Langham and Justice William S. Seelye, acting as coroner, investigated. It was said Thursday morning that an investigation will be made by Prosecutor Richard B. Foster and state police. Judge Seelye said that there was no apparent reason why the child should not have seen the car in the road.

Private funeral services will be held at the Behrens home Saturday afternoon at two o'clock with burial in Woodlawn. Besides the parents there survive the brother, Mrs. Branch Fischer, and Dr. H. G. Behrens of Leslie; and a great grandfather, Peter Behrens of Charlotte.

BUMPER CHERRY CROP AT SILSBY ORCHARDS

PICKERS NEEDED TO HANDLE RECORD HARVEST. There will be no excuse for unemployment for the next week. Harvesting of a record cherry crop at Hugh Silsby's orchard on West Columbia is scheduled to start Saturday. There are 300 trees in the five-acre cherry orchard and a conservative estimate is that the average pick will equal two bushels per tree.

The "pick and buy" system will prevail for the pickers. Those who pick can buy their own fruit at 4c per pound. Several hundred pickers are expected to take advantage of the opportunity. Quality is supreme in the Silsby orchard this year. The trees, now nine years old, are approaching full production. All the cherries are Late Montmorency. They have been sprayed four times this year. The next to the last spraying used 900 gallons while the last spraying this week used 1200 gallons.

Some trees are so loaded with fruit that branches are bent to the ground. The cherries are ripe and picked with juice. The sight of the red cherries to see. In fact, there are no cherry orchards in the famous Traverse City cherry area which have finer fruit than the Silsby orchard this year.

There are many other fine crops of cherries in Ingham county near Leslie, the King-Carter Nursery orchard, the Jewett orchard and the Ervin Neal orchard near Mason have excellent crops. Most of the crops are being picked under the "pick and buy" system.

State Future Farmers To Give Concert Here 75-PIECE BAND TO PLAY AND MARCH WEDNESDAY. One of the most enthusiastic and colorful bands in Michigan, the 75-piece Michigan Future Farmers band, will play a concert in Mason Wednesday night, July 25, beginning at 8:30. The concert will be presented in front of the court house. The band is being sponsored by the band chapter of Future Farmers of America and the Mason Kiwanis club.

LEGION SONS TO MEET There will be a meeting of the Mason squadron, Sons of the American Legion, at the Legion Memorial building Thursday night, July 18, at 7:30.

WINDS TREES WOODS Hundreds of trees in the Patrick McCann and John Murray neighborhoods of Bunker Hill township were snapped off Monday afternoon when a sudden storm struck. The wind reached hurricane proportions for a few seconds and then apparently lifted. Hall accompanied the wind.

Automobiles Collide At Aurelius Corner BATH MOTHER AND CHILD HURT IN ACCIDENT. Cars driven by Willard Baker, 27, Eaton Rapids, and Russell Burris, 35, of Bath collided at the intersection of Barnes and Onondaga roads, west of Mason and Onondaga roads, west of Mason on Saturday night and at 10:20. Mrs. Agnes Burris and Keth Burris, 18-month-old son, were painfully injured and were taken to a Leslie hospital. Both recovered.

State police, who investigated the crash, claim that Baker, who was driving east on Barnes road, did not heed the sign which warned him to stop before crossing the Onondaga road. The Burris car was being driven south on the Onondaga road.

Mason men were held at the Milner funeral home in Stockbridge Wednesday afternoon with the Rev. A. C. Ames of East Lansing and the Rev. Edwin Stephens of the Stockbridge Methodist church officiating. Burial was in Oaklawn cemetery, Stockbridge.

THE MONROE DOCTRINE

To those of us who have been out of school for several years the Monroe Doctrine is a trifle hazy. We extend our thanks to Lawrence Preuss, associate professor of political science at the University of Michigan, for his explanation of the doctrine.

Professor Preuss said, "We must not forget that the Monroe Doctrine is only a statement of policy by the United States. It is not a part of international law. No administration is bound to continue it, nor is any foreign government legally obligated to respect it."

As we understand the South American situation, the United States has two separate policies which it has pursued in the past. One is the Big Brother role under which marines have been landed in Cuba, the Dominican Republic, Haiti, Nicaragua, Mexico and other countries, notably Caribbean and Central American, or the Good Neighbor policy under which the marines have been withdrawn. Neither policy has been entirely satisfactory from the standpoint of the United States. The Big Brother role has not made many friends among Latin-American politicians who happened to be out of the government backed by the marines and the gunboats, although most of the ordinary citizens have looked on the landing of American troops favorably. The Good Neighbor policy followed in the past has been costly from the standpoint of American business. The American markets have been usurped by British and German firms while we have been discussing our neighborliness. Right now with Britain and Germany engaged in war, South America is turning to the United States for its needs.

The Monroe Doctrine, of course, is primarily a defense against European armed aggression. The Big Brother and Good Neighbor policies have more often served American business.

There are drawbacks to both policies. Big Brothers are not always liked because there are instances in which big brothers forget themselves and become bullies. In the Good Neighbor role the United States has been misunderstood just as some lesser good neighbors are often misunderstood. Most of us account as good neighbors those good people who help us in time of need, who are friendly and interested in us but are not interested to the point that they interfere with our freedom of action or to the point where they are overly-inquisitive about what we do. We don't expect our good neighbors to tell us how to run our home, of whom to buy, to whom to sell or for whom to vote, or to inform us whether the man of the house, the woman of the house, or the baby sister shall be the ruler.

Besides the Monroe Doctrine, which may or may not need overhauling in the light of European developments, the Good Neighbor and Big Brother policies also need to be reviewed and perhaps replaced with a program of letting South American nations live their own lives so long as their acts do not threaten the peace and safety of the rest of the hemisphere.

GREAT LAKES COMPETITION

We know now what the federal government had in mind in the TVA. The government was engaged in giving to the midwest what Michigan and other lake states have long enjoyed—the Great Lakes. On Labor Day the "Great Lakes of the South," man-made under TVA, are to be dedicated as a recreational center. There are 10 lakes in the main chain impounded above the TVA power dams. They extend 650 miles from Paducah, Kentucky, east to Knoxville, Tennessee, with some of the lakes in Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi.

We believe it a fine thing for the taxpayers of the United States to build a set of Great Lakes for the south. We here in Michigan should certainly not be selfish. Our Great Lakes were furnished us. The federal government has also provided Great Lakes in the southwest and in the northwest. That's fair enough and we have no objection so long as the government does not try to take our lakes away from us. Just supposing, though, that instead of being content with artificial lakes the folks in the Tennessee Valley and in the west demanded that the Great White Father give them our very own Great Lakes? Perhaps Michigan ought to bar visitors from the TVA sector from the Michigan shoreline. If they should come and see Michigan's wonderful beaches of clean sand, her miles of dunes along the west shore and her oceans of sparkling blue water the TVA folks might demand that the government provide them with real lakes instead of the artificial ones they are now preparing to dedicate.

THE LIQUOR BUSINESS

A member of the state Liquor Control Commission is authority for the statement that the liquor business in Michigan is growing by leaps and bounds, and that for the fiscal year ending June 30 the operating profits amounted to "the staggering sum of $17,728,859.63." That's the profit, not the gross revenues.

M. H. DeFoe of Charlotte, personal dry, is the commission member who made the statement and we do not know whether or not he intended a pun on "the staggering sum." Certainly, staggering has some connection with a liquor trade which can turn almost 18 million dollars back to the state in profit.

However, a person must be naive indeed to figure the 18 millions as profit. There are no profits from the liquor business. What is listed as profit does not begin to cover the cost of broken health, broken homes, ill-nourished families and loss of employment caused by men and women who consume the liquor, nor does it cover the cost of maintaining in hospitals, asylums and prisons the men and women who have helped to pile up the so-called profits of the liquor business in Michigan.

We tried prohibition, and while it worked in counties such as Ingham, it did not work well in Wayne and some of the other counties where enforcement lacked the cooperation given by police officers and the courts here. Yet even under prohibition breakdown the consumption of liquor in Michigan was a mere fraction of what it is under the "control" which prevails today.

Perhaps government can't control liquor, either under prohibition or under the present system. There is one thing that can be done, though, and that is a fight by individuals and groups for temperance and abstinence. We believe what we have stated on occasion heretofore; that if 50 people in communities such as Mason, Leslie, Dansville, Holt and other small towns in the United States protested liquor advertising in magazines that the advertising would be eliminated forthwith; and that if 10 per cent of the readers of newspapers protested against liquor and beer advertising that publishers would cancel existing contracts. We have become too tolerant of the liquor business. We talk glibly about profits when there are no profits. We talk about control when control is license. Sin can not be fought by licensing.

There are many people who declare, and they do it in all sincerity, that liquor is not necessarily a force for evil and that drinking has nothing whatever to do with morality. We won't argue that point. We only maintain that if it is not a moral it is at least an economic evil. Money spent for liquor means just that much less money for bread, for milk, for shoes, for clothing, for education, for automobiles and the other necessities and luxuries of life. We shouldn't sit smugly by and under the name of control allow either moral or economic sin to flourish under state license. That is appeasement, and the appetite for liquor can not be appeased easily. Nor can the appetite for so-called liquor profits be easily appeased whether the state or the bootlegger does the collecting.

Down by the SYCAMORE

That authoritative, pleasing voice that brings you the following news of the new starting barriers are used in none other than that of Dr. Russell R. Robbins of Mason. Under the new starting system a record is played on an amplifier. Bryce Hill of Mason, who has had several years of experience making transcriptions, was given the task of making a record for the Ingham track. He picked Doc to make a test record. Because the starter has to count 1-2-3-4 and so on up to 14 and then say "Go," it was necessary that a college man with a degree be chosen. The D. C. degree of Doc's record him in good stead and proved just as useful as Ph. D., D. D., P. H. D., or B. A., and was almost as good as a B. S.

Not only was Bryce tickled over the way Doc's voice recorded but the horsemen and race-goers were tickled and race-goers bubbled over with enthusiasm. Owners and drivers discovered that Doc's well modulated, resonant and dulcet tones and his confidence in the steeds, soothed the drivers, and made the turnstiles click.

A number of visiting race officials were at Mason in June when the new starting system was first used. They liked the system and made orders on the condition that Doc's voice would be available for the transcription. So Doc's voice is being heard in Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin, Ohio and Indiana wherever race crowds gather. Bryce is speeding up his recording machine trying hard to keep pace with the orders for Doc's voice. Thus a new industry is born in Mason.

Mrs. George Graham is gaining belated fame for her lemon pie recipe. She has been making delicious lemon pies for years by a special recipe. Recently she divulged the secret and her fame is spreading far and wide. I sampled one of the Graham pies last week and hereby declare it to be something new and different. The Lemon-Berry Candy company has been launched. The partners, candy-makers, and saleswomen, in fact, the entire force, is made up of Lenore Smith and Roberta Bullen. Their sole product so far has been divinity fudge although they may branch out into other lines once they get caught up with divinity orders.

Mrs. Fannie Henderson is becoming an authority on the Sycamore. Every pleasant morning she and her dog enjoy a walk along the creek. She has found several birds of wild life, has seen the nests of robins and birds and has generally observed the flora and fauna of the valley. What Mason should have is a bridge path along the bank of the creek. Mrs. Henderson said. If there were some bridge paths provided some folks would keep riding horses, thereby making a better market for hay and oats, saddles and bridles, boots and spurs, and forks and shovels.

Ivan E. Potter, newly-elected chaplain of Browne-Cavender post of the Legion, was nicknamed within half an hour following his election. J. Wilson Davis did the naming. He dubbed the new chaplain "Parson" Potter. At the regular pitch session after the meeting most of us rather expected the parson to be easy picking. He and his partner, J. Wilson, won two out of three in an eight-handed game. There was talk of foreing a recall.

D. L. Myers of the Aurelius Gardens has an excellent crop of leaf lettuce this year. It is big and exceptionally tender. * * * Folks up north are still hoping for a bumper tourist crop. Unusual weather, which we laugh about when it occurs in Florida and California, is not so funny to resort interests when it occurs in Michigan. Swimming in the north country so far this year has been rather frigid. The bathers get goose pimples instead of sunburn.

Carlton Cady, associate editor of the Grand Rapids Herald, is a former Mason boy. He was graduated from Mason high school in 1918. His wife, Marie, is also engaged in newspaper work. * * * I like simplicity in weddings and therefore was pleased with the simple ceremonies in which Henry Ford's grandson took his bride. The Ford's grandson took his bride to the 54-room cottage by the sea and only four truck-loads of flowers were used in the decorations. * * * I wonder how many truck-loads of flowers Grandpa Henry had at his wedding.

Tim Doolittle and his Michigan Mountaineers from Pine Center had a fine time at the Legion Memorial building Saturday night. So did the folks who went. It was a great party. I was unable to go. Funny, isn't it, that people have the best times at the party who didn't attend, or is it so funny after the fact? Tim wants to play some return engagements next winter.

In another column in this issue is an appeal by County Agent H. H. Bartram for Hampton cornhuskers to enter a husking contest to be held near Hillsdale this fall. I hope Ross Thornburn, Cecil Hall, Bill Tietz, Doc Clark, Joy Davis and some of the other regular pupils of Nick and His Cornhuskers enter the contest. I would like to find a huckleberry picking contest. Twice this week I have gone berrying and both times I picked more than anyone else in the party. You should see me at work.

Deputy Lewis Boyce keeps the peace at Stockbridge. At least he arrests those who break it. He has a tough job. Stockbridge has changed from its once peaceful village ways. * * * Another man doing his job well is Erceel Doane, operator of Mason's sewage disposal plant. Experts who visit the plant claim that the Mason man is master of his job.

Twice within the past six months the Sycamore column has been used in other papers and on both occasions the repercussions were severe. My observations were misunderstood and the local editors and I were bitterly assailed. The Sycamore has never caused me any trouble at home where folks excuse my blunders, so I have concluded that this column should remain at home. After reading about Xenophanes (510 B. C.) last night I discovered that what has happened to me on observations taken away from me is the usual thing. Xenophanes summed up his years of traveling up and down through Greece as time spent "making observations and opinions."

BOOK SHELF

Ingham County Library

Hours open to the public at Hall Memorial library, Mason: Every afternoon except Sundays and holidays, 2 to 5 p. m.; Mondays, Wednesdays and Saturdays, 7 to 9 p. m.

"Curiosity is one of the most permanent and certain characteristics of a vigorous intellect."—Samuel Johnson.

A glance along the shelves: "Forty Years a Country Preacher," by George B. Gilbert, is a unique autobiography of a Connecticut rural pastor. His activities ranged far afield from the usual orthodox religious work; he cut his parishioners' hair, helped with their crops, fed them after church services, and represented them in the state legislature, and he fills his book with lively anecdotes of his people.

"101 American Vacations," by Horace Coon, gives concise information for a wide variety of independent and conducted vacation trips, ranging in price from $25 to $250. Covers all parts of the United States and gives specific data about costs, routes, hotels and time. Various means of transportation are used.

"Ethian Frome," by Edith Wharton, is a grim tale of retribution told in so masterly a manner that the story seems a transcription from real life. A discouraged New England farmer, his hypochondriac wife, and a girl who still finds some joy in living are the characters in the story.

Last week came a letter from Richard Llewellyn, the young Welsh author of today's best-seller, "How Green Was My Valley." Now in war service, Llewellyn looks forward to the day when he will be visiting America. "The last three or four months have been filled with experiences that might have suggested an unending day-dream had it not been for the advent of the war. However, I shall consider the day-dream to have started on a higher note when I am allowed to see the sky-line of New York. For years I have promised myself the privilege of leaning against a lamp post on Fifth Avenue to watch the traffic go by, with a hamburger in one hand and one of your bulky Sunday newspapers in the other."

July will see the first issue of the merger of the two monthly magazines, Current History and Forum and Century. The combination will be known as Current History and Forum. Henry Goddard Leach, present editor of Forum and Century will be the advisory editor.

Lion Feuchtwanger, author of "Power," "Josephus," and "Success," is in a concentration camp in Les Milles, Aix-en-Provence, according to word received by the League of American Writers.

Best-sellers: "How Green Was My Valley," by Richard Llewellyn. "Stars on the Sea," by Van Wyck Mason. "Night in Bombay," by Louis Bromfield. "Quietly My Captain Waits," by Evelyn Eaton. "World's End," by Upton Sinclair. "Bird in the Tree," by Elizabeth Goudge.

Non-fiction: "I Married Adventure," by Oso Johnson. "How To Read a Book," by Mortimer Adler. "Failure of a Mission," by Sir Neville Henderson. "A Smattering of Ignorance," by Oscar Levant.

Neighbor Boy: "Father says will you please lend us the radio tonight?" Neighbor Man: "With pleasure, sonny. Are you folks giving a party?" Boy: "No, sir; we want to get some sleep."—Exchange

Bert Palmer, only child of Volney Palmer, suffered a stroke at Alpena last Thursday, only living one and one-half hours. The body was brought to the home of the father here Friday night, where it remained. Surviving beside the father is a son, Duane Palmer, and his wife and their little daughter of Flint. Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon with burial at Summit cemetery, beside the late wife, Mr. Palmer, who is in his 92nd year, is nearly stricken by the news as Bert lived with him and tenderly cared for him until about four months ago when he went north.

Yes electricity is CHEAPER in Michigan than ever before—and Michigan's people are going forward to a better, higher standard of living because of it.

Always one of the smallest items in the family budget, the cost of electric service as gone steadily downward for many years.

Today the family dollar will not buy as much food or clothing as it did before the first World War, but it will pay for more than twice as much Electric Service.

Electricity is the most dependable, efficient and cheapest servant you have in your home. Its cheapness puts better living within easy reach of your family... every family! It serves and saves for you.

MASON TAKES HASLETT IN NYA BASEBALL TILT

LANG KEPT EIGHT HITS WELL DISTRIBUTED.

T. J. Lang's air-tight pitching together with Mason's first errorless baseball game allowed the Mason NYA team to beat Haslett 11 to 4 at the Haslett field Tuesday. While Mason's attack was slow in getting started, the Mason lads finally caught on to the southpaw hurling of Benchnau.

Mason scored one run in the second inning but Haslett came through to tie the score up in its half. The game was close until the last two frames with the score at the end of the fifth being 6 to 4 against Haslett. Mason coupled two Haslett errors with a free pass and Lang's and Strickland's timely hits to drive across the remaining five runs.

Baker was the big gun in the Haslett attack, getting two hits in four times at bat. The hitting honors were well divided throughout the Mason lineup. Mason's highest turned in the best performance of the year with L. A. Murray playing a remarkable game at second.

GOOD RACING HELD AT COUNTY FAIRGROUNDS

FINE WEATHER DRAWS LARGE CROWD TO SEE FAST RACING.

With ideal weather prevailing, a crowd of 1700 people watched an afternoon of fast racing at the fairgrounds track Sunday. The racing was fast and exciting.

In the first race, a 2:27 trot or pace, Pat C. Bruden, owned by Fred Collar of Mason, was the winner, placing first in the first heat, fourth in the second and second in the third. Lincoln Dewey was second, placing second, first and fifth. Vera Hal grabbed off third money, taking third in all three heats. The time was 2:18, 2:14, 2:14 1/2. There were seven horses in the race.

Frisko Pluto won the 2:20 trot or pace by placing first in each of the last two heats after getting off to a bad start in the first heat, in which he placed fourth. Bob Gratton placed second and Smoke House placed third. Bob Gratton taking first and second in each of the first two heats and drawing in the third with Smoke House placing second, third and fifth the time was 2:12, 2:10 1/2 and 2:15 1/2. There were six horses in the race.

With a field of only five horses in the 2:17 trot or pace, Peter Bell turned in a fine performance by placing second, first and first in the three heats. Patty Seymour was second with a fifth, fourth and second. The time was 2:08, 2:09 1/2 and 2:17.

All together there were 18 horses in action during the afternoon. Three more were slated to start but were scratched at the last minute.

There will be no more racing until the county fair, August 23-27. Starting the 24th there will be four days of racing. Most all of the horses now stabled at the county park will leave for the swing around the county fair circuit.

Presbyterians Win Two To Retain League Lead

COUNTY HIGHWAY AND BAPTISTS ARE WEEK'S VICTIMS.

The Presbyterian boys, leaders of the church league, added two more victories to their list during the past week by defeating the County Highway and the Baptist teams.

In the County Highway fray the Presbys scored one run in the first inning and the score remained 1 to 0 until the fourth inning when the road men scored three runs to take the lead. Not to be outclassed the Presbys opened up with a volley of hits and scored five runs, added two more in the sixth and eight in the seventh for a total of 16 runs. The road boys scored one more run in the sixth for a total of 17.

Edwin Mills was the heavy hitter for the church boys, getting a home run in the fifth and another circuit blow in the seventh. Strickland circled the bases in the fourth for the County Highway team with two on base.

On Monday night of this week the Baptists and the Presbyterians encountered their first league encounter. The Presbys came out with the long end of a 4 to 5 score. The game was practically handed to the winners based on the number of errors made by the losers. Reason nearly caused the game to go overtime when he failed to tag up at third on a long fly to left field by Hill which one out. He managed to score on a wild pitch by H. Smith, giving the Presbys the one-run lead necessary to win.

Halt Baseball Game When Fielders Crash

AURELIUS DEFEATS MASON IN FINAL GAME.

Mason ended up in a tie in the first game of the double attraction at the county park Sunday when the North Lansing Senators were forced to call the game at the end of the fourth inning because there were no more men available to replace two players injured in an outfield collision. The score when the game was called stood at 5 to 5. Knight, the Lansing shortstop, and Cole, Lansing center fielder, crashed when they were both running under a fly ball. From the sidelines the crash did not seem to be serious and little attention was paid to the men until they failed to regain their feet. The two men were bleeding from cuts over their eyes. They were taken to the office of Dr. A. V. Smith where 17 stitches were required to close the gash in Cole's head and eight stitches were taken in Knight's head.

In the second game Aurelius topped a ragged Mason team 12 to 7. Mason's defeat was attributed to eight errors. Mason was outclassed all of the way. Fuller started on the mound for Mason and was followed by Cline and Lang. Scott pitched a good game for Aurelius, allowing only two hits. Mason led until the fourth inning when Aurelius picked up two runs to tie the score. Mason did not even come close after that. Kester collected the two Mason hits. Hankley, Dury and Whipple divided the Aurelius batting honors.
