MASS MEETING FRIDAY ON MUNICIPAL POWER

CLINTON MAYOR TO TELL OF CITY'S EXPERIENCE

William L. Schlack, one of the sponsors of a municipal power plant program for Mason, has announced that a mass meeting is to be held in the circuit court room in the court house Friday night at 7:30.

Mayor James P. Foreman of Clinton will be one of the speakers. Clinton has operated a diesel power plant for a period of 20 years.

Schlack said, "The meeting is open to the public. All civic-minded citizens interested in the future of Mason should be present."

The municipal power issue has been frequently discussed in Mason for the past two years. Mayor Arthur W. Jewett has endorsed the

LEARNING DEFENSE SKILLS IN NIGHT SCHOOL

Here is a picture taken at the national defense training school at Mason. It shows four men completing the overhaul of a motor. At the left is Merle Swan. Beside him is Glen Starr. Clop Lamphere is squatting. The man who is looking westward is Charles Hensel. Irving J. Holtforth of the Mason school faculty and Sidney Morrison, S. M. A. engineer, are the instructors. Classes are held in the Kelly monument factory. On Tuesday night a demonstration of electric welding was given.

GEM ROBBERY SUSPECTS LODGED IN INGHAM JAIL

TWO MEN HELD IN CLEVELAND HOLDUP JOB

Howard Graves, 30, New York-born Detroit gambler, and Bernard Sidrau, 33, Russian-born Detroit merchant, were brought to the Ingham county jail about two o'clock Sunday morning. They were captured by state police without gunfire on a tour of Cleveland through the Cleveland area on Saturday afternoon. The men are held on charges of grand larceny. On Monday night and Tuesday Detroit, Cleveland and Chicago criminal lawyers swung into action. They are attempting to have the bond reduced.

A writ of habeas corpus was secured Tuesday for release of the men. Hearing on the writ is being held Thursday before Judge Leland W. Carr in Lansing.

Michigan state police, Cleveland officers and F. B. I. agents have been inactive in the case. On Sunday afternoon Detroit and Cleveland jewelry salesmen came to Mason to have a look at the suspects. One Cleveland man picked Graves out of a lineup. The robbery victim said he is positive that Graves was one of the men who robbed him of the gems. Cleveland officers said that one or both of the two suspects have been accused of thefts with the famous Karpis gang. Sidrau was one of two men who were taken from the Marquette prison several years ago. He was recaptured and later was paroled. He has been regarded as a reformed man. Married, and the father of two young sons, Sidrau owns two profitable clothing stores in Detroit. His wife said, and had no need to be involved in the case.

The two men were taken easily in Three Rivers. A state police radio broadcast had carried the message that a Buick car bearing a certain license number might be driven by two suspects in the robbery case. A pair of state troopers pulled up behind another car at a traffic light in Three Rivers. One of the troopers saw that the license plate of the Buick carried the broadcast numbers. The troopers drove around the Buick, forcing it to the curb. The two suspects offered no resistance. They were taken to a police headquarters at East Lansing for questioning and several hours later were brought to Mason for safe-keeping.

When searched at the Ingham jail, Sidrau yielded $800 in bills. The money was placed in the jail vault.

John Wyeth and S. M. A. Workers To Appear In Technicolor Feature

Employees of the John Wyeth & Bro., Inc., and S. M. A. Corporation plants in Mason have been having screen tests this week. A Philadelphia camera man began shooting this afternoon and kept grinding away Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Exterior pictures were taken. On the inside all the manufacturing operations, from raw material to finished product, were filmed. Technicolor was used both inside and outside. More than 3000 feet of film were taken by the Wyeth division and an equal footage was planned for S. M. A.

The film is being made primarily for use in a training course for detail men and salesmen in the East. W. M. Boggy, manager of the John Wyeth & Bro., The factory in Mason, pointed out that it is more convenient and cheaper to take films

TWO CHANGES ARE MADE IN MARCH DRAFT QUOTA

ONE MAN ADDED TO INGHAM VOLUNTEER LIST

Because Lytle Emil Olson of Leslie enlisted in the United States Army and Ralph L. Sinclair of Williamston appeared on grounds of dependency, two men have been added to the draft list first announced last week. Robert Gerhardt of Webberville volunteered to take the place of a man who failed to pass his physical tests, and Clinton W. Eason of Williamston and Chester Roy, volunteer of Lansing were selected to take the places of Olson and Sinclair.

The 43 who will leave Mason for the Kalamazoo induction center at 7:00 a. m. next Wednesday night now include Norman L. Lytle, Holmes and Richard C. Rappert of Williamston, Roland Carl Diehl of Mason, and Gerhardt of Webberville, volunteers; and Kenneth C. White, George N. Dunwoody, Leon Colores Garcia, Alva Wayne Opydyk, Norman Jackson, Paul Swanson, Martin Robert Jewell, Frederick W. DeWald, Ovide Denison, John Middleton, Pulver, Robert James Parish, Norman Eugene Wollam and Duane Thurlby, Mason.

MORE PETITIONS

Petitions calling on the city council to defer a vote on the power issue were being circulated Thursday. The petitions set forth that the present defense boom era is not a proper time to economically build a plant.

power program and has led several delegations of Mason people on inspection trips to other cities which have their own plants.

Public hearings on the municipal power plan were held two years ago. At those hearings sentiment was divided on the issue.

The Consumers Power company was voted a 20-year non-exclusive franchise in Mason in 1917 when the old municipal power plant became obsolete. The franchise was renewed in 1937 for 10 years. The present franchise will expire in 1947. Backers of the municipal power move claim that Mason can be furnished current at the same or a lower rate than is now charged by the Consumers and in addition the city will receive a considerable profit. Those opposed to a municipal power plant declare that Mason's previous experience with a municipal plant was unsatisfactory and costly, and that the present is no time for the issuance of thousands of dollars in bonds.

PERMANENCY FORESEEN FOR WELFARE SYSTEM

SUPERVISORS DISCUSS CONSTRUCTION OF BUILDING

Direct relief, which was launched during the early days of the depression as an emergency measure, will not be cured by WPA, the rearmament boom or a war spurt, Thomas Toy, Ingham relief administrator, told the board of supervisors Monday. He made his remarks to support the suggestion of Sup. Jacob Schepers that the county should erect a welfare building in Lansing to house the various branches of the relief set-up.

Supervisor Schepers said the county now leases five different buildings at a combined annual rental of $7200 a year. He urged the board to give serious consideration to erecting a building on the five branches could be located under one roof with a possible increase in efficiency and a possible saving in rentals.

Toy told the board members that headquarters is on Sheridan street in the old New-Way plant, the former transient bureau home on North Cedar is used as a food stamp

ORCHARD INSPECTORS TO CONTROL DISEASE

SUPERVISORS URGED TO CO-OPERATE WITH STATE

Under a law which has been on the statute books for some 14 years, but which has not heretofore been enforced in Ingham county, each township is to have an inspector who will report instances where serious tree disease and insects imperil other orchards. Not only will the inspector report the orchards where insects and fungi are not controlled, they will have the authority, after appeals are heard, to cut down the trees.

C. A. Boyer of the state department of agriculture appeared before the board of supervisors Monday to explain the provisions of the orchard control law and to urge the supervisors to furnish the department with the names of six men from each township. One of the six will be appointed as township orchard inspector. The wages of the inspectors will be paid by the township. The statutory wage is $5.00 per day. Boyer said.

NEED BRIDGE REPAIRS AFTER DRAINAGE WORK

ROAD FUNDS TO BE USED TO MAKE REPAIRS

Between $15,000 and $20,000 will have to be expended by the county road commission to make repairs to highway bridges and culverts damaged and undermined by WPA drain work, Chairman L. D. Duncel of the road commission, reported to the board of supervisors Monday. Duncel was asked to supply the money unless the supervisors want the road commission to use highway revenues. Duncel explained that repairing of the bridges out of road funds will mean dropping about 10 miles of blacktop paving from the tentative 1941 program. Inasmuch as no action to provide other funds was taken by the supervisors, the bridge repairs will likely be handled through the highway funds.

Duncel said that under a present agreement between the WPA and the road commission all repairing of bridges damaged by the carrying out of WPA drainage projects is borne by WPA and the drain commission. He said the damage which must be repaired by the road commission happened prior to the present agreement.

ANNIVERSARY OF AAA OBSERVED IN INGHAM

BROADCAST RECEIVED FROM PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT

Ingham county farmers and their wives, with a number of business men as guests, on Saturday night at the Legion Memorial building in Mason observed the eighth anniversary of the establishment of the AAA. A program. There was a banquet served at 7:30, followed by an interesting program and a dance. During the program a broadcast from Washington was heard. President Roosevelt, Vice President Henry A. Wallace and Secretary of Agriculture Claude Wickard praised the farmers for cooperating in the national farm program and told of the many benefits which the program has brought to farmers.

The banquet was opened by invocation of the Rev. Lester Snell. The Mason school chorus sang a song by Joseph D. Wyman, played during the dinner. Henry R. Anderson, general chairman of the AAA birthday party, presided. He introduced William H. Wise of Lansing as toastmaster. Miss Geraldine VanPatten of the Mason school faculty sang in group singing. Miss Helen Wilkie, of the Mason school physical education department, presented six of her pupils in dance skits. Marilyn Chadwick, Edna Hamlin, Jean Freeman and Donna Jean Davis appeared in an Irish dance, and Betty Ann Kennedy and Colleen Shaif did a tar dance. Miss VanPatten sang a solo, and string trio made up of Mary Jeanette Davis, Elaine Bullen and Roberta Bullen, played. Mary Wilt played on the accordion solo. The final number on the program was a comedy skit in which Miss VanPatten and Dr. L. F. Summers took part.

Brief talks were made by Ralph Glynn, chairman of the Ingham committee; Arthur W. Jewett, Mason's mayor; George Meader, statistician from the state office; and Franklin L. Page, secretary of the state chairman. Other leaders in the AAA program were introduced.

Gregg's Serenaders played for the dancing.

SUBURBAN AREAS GET INCORPORATION VOTE

SPECIAL ELECTION SET FOR LANSING COMMUNITIES

Way was cleared Monday by the Ingham county board of supervisors for the qualified voting residents of two communities near Lansing to decide whether or not they shall become cities. For several months the two suburban sectors, Everett, south of Lansing, and a small area north of Lansing near the Clinton county line, have been studying incorporation as home rule cities. The special elections, approved and ordered by the board of supervisors, will be held Monday, May 12.

If a majority of the voters living within the areas approve the incorporation plan, Everett will become a fourth class city, while the area north of Lansing will become a fifth class city.

The 1940 census gives the Everett community, largely the same as the Everett school district, a population of 477. The community north of Lansing, covering half a section, has a population of 325. Both areas are now part of Lansing township. The township with a population of more than 14,000 is represented on the board of supervisors by one man. If incorporation is approved, the township would still have its supervisor. The new township area north of Lansing will have a supervisor and Everett district will have one or more members on the county board.

Several weeks ago a delegation of residents from the two communities visited the Mason city council to secure information about operating as cities.

When the petitions were read at the meeting of the board of supervisors Monday, Supervisor Henry Jones of Lansing township urged the board to permit the residents of the two areas to express themselves on the issue.

The petitions, circulated last December, were presented to the board of supervisors at the February session but were not acted on then. A special ordinance, studied by the board and reported back to the board Monday, The report set forth that the petitions were found to be legal and in conformity with the law.

Testimonial Banquet For Delhi Horseman

FOR YEARS WAS OUTSTANDING HORSEMAN

Ora Bell, veteran breeder of Percheron horses living northwest of Mason in Delhi township, was honored by local friends and horsemen of the state at a testimonial banquet next Tuesday evening, March 18, at Odd Fellows Hall in Mason. The event is sponsored by the Michigan Horsemen's association and follows an auction sale at the college on the same day.

While not actively breeding horses during recent years, Mr. Bell at one time was perhaps the leading horseman in Ingham county and had a statewide reputation. Some of the animals he raised made enviable reputations in other breeders' hands as well as his own.

Attendance at the banquet is not to be limited to horsemen, however. All who want to honor Mr. Bell as a citizen as well as a horseman are invited. The banquet is to be served at 7:00.

Livestock Exchange Visited By Farmers

MARKETING STUDIES CONTINUED BY CLASS

Members of the farmers evening school class visited the Michigan Livestock Exchange in Detroit last Wednesday. Demonstrations were presented by the commission men on grading beef cattle, lambs, hogs and veal calves. The Exchange furnished dinner at noon. A discussion period followed. It was brought out that there are about 65 buyers who buy regularly from the Exchange. The competition results in a higher price to the farmer. Exchange officials said. Factors would not send buyers to the county to buy stock if they could not buy more advantageously than at the terminal markets, it was pointed out. For the farmer who has only a few head of stock to sell the local Co-Operative Marketing organizations or the job trucker were recommended as a means of getting the stock to market.

At the regular meeting of the class on Monday night the topic was "The Farmer's Market Begins at Home." Walter Brush, owner of a local cold storage locker plant, was present and described advantages to farm families of the locker service. One locker will store 350 pounds of wrapped produce. The locker renter can get into the plant at any time, day or night. The group visited the plant after the meeting.

Next Monday night's topic is co-operative marketing. Refreshments will be served following the class period.

A book of selected poems by Jeffers was published recently. The Jeffers home at Carmel-by-the-Sea was built by Mr. and Mrs. Jeffers and is outstanding because of its construction of stones collected by them. ### BIG BROTHERHOOD

Dave Beatty, probate register, could have and should have written this editorial. On Saturday he said, "The Dansville Brotherhood has shown the highest sense of responsibility of any organization with which this office has come in contact. Two weeks ago a pair of Dansville high school youths, who should have known better, broke into a house and were caught by officers. The first reaction in Dansville was natural. People demanded that the boys be booted off the basketball team, parents of other boys were fearful of the influence of the two culprits on others, the whole countryside buzzed about the affair.

"Then the Brotherhood went to bat. Several members came to Mason to consult with Judge McClellan. They visited the parents of the two boys. They discussed the situation with school officials. They appeared at the juvenile court hearing and interceded with Judge McClellan to give the boys a chance to make a new start without the stigma of terms at the Vocational school. The Brotherhood is going to try to help the boys redeem themselves."

As Dave explained the situation, the Brotherhood is not going to spoon-feed the two boys. No halos are being prepared by the Brotherhood for themselves or for the boys. The Brotherhood members recognize that the two boys have shown evidences of criminality, and that cheering words won't cure the affliction. Stronger measures are necessary. The Brotherhood intends to take those stronger measures, to advise and lead the two boys, and perhaps other Dansville boys, into paths which will not end in reformatory or prison. That, we believe, is the real spirit of brotherhood, the spirit that answers the question, "Am I my brother's keeper?"

A GOOD PLAN

Week by week the Michigan Hospital Service is proving its worth to county employees. Under the plan adopted by about 80 county employees they receive hospital service at costs ranging as low as 75c per month per person. Two of those covered have received great benefits. The daughter of one county employee had to be hospitalized for weeks. Under the plan the association paid the entire costs of the first 20 days of hospitalization and carried a goodly portion of the cost for the remaining weeks. This week a county employee is in a hospital undergoing needed surgical treatment, and most of the hospitalization is being carried by the association.

Michigan Hospital Service is a valuable service; valuable to those who are covered by it both from the financial standpoint as well as from the health angle. Persons who work in group occupations will do well by themselves and their families if they make a study of the plan offered by Michigan Hospital Service.

PACKED IN TAIWAN

Many Mason people have been eating a new brand of packed sliced pineapple. The brand is Three Diamond. The labels on the cans carry the information that the pineapple is packed in Taiwan and is distributed by Mitsubishi Shoji Kaisha, Ltd. Where is Taiwan? We didn't know, either, until we studied an atlas. Taiwan is the ancient name of Formosa, once a Chinese island province, later a headhunters' paradise and more recently a Japanese colony. It lies off the coast of China and has undergone rapid development since passing to the control of Japan.

Although we are not attempting to boost or knock the sale of Three Diamond pineapple, in fairness it must be said that the quality is high. The slices are exceptionally sweet and tender. The price is low, about four cents a can lower than Hawaiian brands.

What struck us as peculiar is that in spite of the long war waged by Japan in China, in spite of the flirting with Axis Powers, in spite of threatened rupture with the United States government, the Japanese people continue plugging away. Here we find them beating Americans at their own game—canning pineapple and sending it halfway around the world; and then underselling by some four cents a can. Certainly all of the Japanese can not be engaged in fighting. Enough remain at home to continue making Japan outstanding as a nation of traders.

TAXES GOING UP

People who are sobbing about their income taxes this year should stifle their sobs until 1942; because we haven't seen anything yet in the line of taxes. Senator Prentiss M. Brown of Michigan, one of the senators who voted for the lend-lease bill, is now engaged in working out a tax schedule for next year. In addition to an advance in income taxes and the lowering of brackets, there are to be new taxes on cameras, films, cosmetics, tobacco and a hundred and one other things which are listed as luxuries. Americans will pay for arming themselves and will also pay billions under the lend-lease measure to arm England, Greece, China and any other nation favored by the Washington administration.

Don't waste time sobbing about taxes this year. Wait until we begin to pay the cost of rearming and begin to pay for the Pasamaquoddy tide-harnessing experiment, the Florida ship canal and all the other bonodoggling schemes of the past eight years. So far we haven't even begun to pay for them. We have borrowed ourselves deeper in the hole every year. Had we saved instead of squandered our leaf-raking billions there would be no need for heavier defense taxes now.

TWO DAYS' MILK AT ONCE?

In every business there is usually one element of cost which is much greater than any other element. If this one high-cost operation could be reduced in cost, the cost of the entire product might be greatly cut also.

Rep. Floyd E. Town of Jackson has called attention to this fact as it relates to the milk business, and his suggestion is one of the fresh viewpoints to come out of the welter of talk and attempted price-fixing laws which has cursed this business for a long time.

Mr. Town is a dairy farmer himself, but he does not believe in all the price-fixing methods and milk marketing board theories which have been praised by so many, and damned by so many others.

He feels that if the big element of cost in the milk business—the delivery—could be cut down, then the cost of milk would drop, the demand for milk would increase because of this lower cost, and that the farmer would be getting a fairer proportion of the selling price of the milk. It sounds like good sense when he suggests that dairy companies try to sell their customers a two-day supply of milk at one time. This, he says, would cut the delivery cost virtually in two.

Of course, someone would have to suffer in the process, and so far as we could see, the delivery men in cities, who belong to unions, would be people to take the rap.

But that would still leave us somewhat cold. The union delivery men have held up the companies to the point where they now get almost as much for setting a bottle of milk on a customer's doorstep as does the farmer for producing the milk in the first place. Frankly, we have never been able to see the justice of paying labor so much and the producer so little.

Mr. Town calls attention to the fact that we have much better refrigeration today than we had many years ago, and that in a lot of cases the milk customer could just as well buy two days' supply of milk at once, as to buy milk for only one day.

It sounds like a good suggestion to us.—Tuscola County Advertiser, Caro.

Down by the SYCAMORE

Wilson Davis has been carrying the mail out of Mason for 20 years. It was just 20 years ago that the debonaire Aurelius youth, after a hitch in the navy, decided he would rather look into the future than look out for his back. His official career as a regular carrier began April 1. Wouldn't it be fitting if the patrons on his route (No. 3) gave him a postcard shower on April 1? Or why not combine the anniversary and April Fool's Day by placing gifts addressed to Wilson in the mail boxes?

Leone Densmore has been pinching himself with advertising the past month because the staff has been shifted around to close up the ranks after the passing of Joe Brower. She liked the work and did well at it. She had one embarrassing moment, however. On Wednesday she stepped into a man's place of business. Two while she was helping him fix up an ad a high wind blew the door open and scattered the papers, and twice the man crossed the store to close it. Again the wind blew the door open and then the proprietor kicked it shut, kicked it so hard that the spring lock snapped into place. A few minutes later there was an insistent rap at the door. The proprietor hastened to admit the waiting customer. It was his wife.

Ken Partridge of the Ingham County News staff is in a bad way for shirts. He had 12 white shirts and they are all wearing out at the same time. Four years ago, in a state of opulence, he bought them at a baker's dozen shirt sale in Pennsylvania. He has worn them in rotation ever since, changing them after his bath on Saturday nights. The wear has been spread out evenly and now all 12 are giving out at the same time.

LeRoy Smith, Republican candidate for state highway commissioner, and Walt Zimmer studied engineering at Michigan State (then M. A. C.) at the same time. Zimmer reports that Smith was the right sort of a student and that his high reputation as an engineer of Wayne county is entirely deserved.

Henry R. Anderson knows how to throw a party. He was general chairman of the enjoyable AAA birthday party held in the Legion Memorial building Saturday night. After a program in which a wealth of talent was introduced, there was a dance. Rev. Lester Snell, who gave the invocation, was being relied on by Hank to call the square dances. But the reverend had made a previous engagement to call the dances at the Wheatfield Gleason hall. So that left a principal part of the program up in the air. There were scores of obedient youngsters to go and no one reaching to call. Finally Ray Wilcox dragged Julius Baumgras to the stage. Julius, a distinguished caller of some 20 years ago, was prevailed upon to call, and he did a fine job.

Someone told Hank that Jim Flint, who works for Bert Bunker, is quite a caller. Jim was coaxed and he really started a square dance hitz that raked a dust. His best number, I thought, was Arkansas in which the ladies swing Maw, Paw and Arkansas in turn. Jim has a future ahead of him. Bert's cows will wake up some morning to find that Jim has abandoned their care to a dance caller. * * * Mrs. Frank Rathburn had charge of serving the banquet for the Legion Auxiliary. She did herself and the Legion Auxiliary proud.

The lend-lease bill adopted by congress at the urging of President Roosevelt will entail some sacrifices. It will even strike hard here in Ingham county. Within another week or two George Bowden, Jack Barnes or some other ex-Briton will probably grab off one or both of the old cannons on the court house square for shipment to England. Defense needs may also mean that the Sycamore will have to surrender the USS Adams, now berthed at the Ash street pier.

There comes a time when Hornets lose their sting. That's what happened at the district basketball tournament. The Williamston Hornets, fresh from a stunning victory over the East Lansing Trojans, appeared to be on their way to another state championship. Then on successive nights the Hornets barely nosed past Leslie and Okemos, and on Saturday night Holt took the state Class C championship. That's basketball. The Holt boys on the lower reaches of the Sycamore now have solid Ingham support in the regional tourney. It would be quite a trick if an Ingham League team would win the state title two years in a row.

Doggone it, I cut down a plum tree, a peach tree and a pair of apple trees in my backyard and now I realize that the AAA is paying $15 per acre for plowland. I could have used the money to help carry the poultry project which is still showing a loss.

George Gundry has been named city manager of Flint. The Flint City commissioners evidently didn't listen in at the Lavan-Levinson trial which was completed at Mason last week. From testimony introduced at the trial, Lavan and not Gundry was the auditor general. Oh, well, a politician may be down but he is seldom out. See Jimmy Walker. He had to leave the country in disgrace. Now he is back with a $25,000 a year New York job and has the blessings of FDR and LaGuardia.

The Ingham County News is sorry to lose the services of Mrs. Ernest Sherman, the Leslie correspondent for the past 13 years. She is leaving for the past to accept a position as Mrs. Sherman has been an excellent correspondent. She has always been right on the job and has a well developed news sense. Miss Florence Freeman is taking Mrs. Sherman's place. I know Florence from way back when. She and my wife's little sister used to slide down cellar doors together.

When Chairman Joe Speers left his gavel fall to adjourn the meeting of the board of supervisors Monday afternoon it marked the close of the year. The board of supervisors is organized around the township system, although now the majority, the 12 Lansing, the four East Lansing and the two Mason members, are elected in the fall instead of spring. The 16 rural supervisors face election next April 1. At the April meeting of the board a new chairman will be chosen and the board will be organized for the year. Joe, long the supervisor from Locke township, has been an able chairman. * * * The court house was well built. It will outlast the new postoffice. Which building on Jefferson, Ash or Michigan is the oldest building in point of service?

A glance along the shelves:

"The Canadians," by G. M. Wrong, traces the development of Canada from a small, weak colony of France to an adult nation within the British Commonwealth.

"North of Singapore," by Carveth Wells, is a popularly written book of the author's travels in Japan, Manchuria, Korea, and Malaya, places he had known 20 years ago but revisited in 1939. The stories of the jungle and its wild life are most entertaining.

"Behind God's Back," by Negley Farson, is a timely and informative book. Travelling through Central and South Africa and along the eastern coast, by ocean, road, river, lake and mountain trail, Farson talked with both native and foreign inhabitants. He observed evidences of well-organized German penetration, of English indifference, and of many native and racial problems.

"Decorating is Fun," by Dorothy Draper. A decorator offers suggestions to women for decorating their own homes, encouraging them to discover and express their own tastes rather than to follow conventional and stereotyped directions. She shows how much can be done with little expense, and gives up-to-date ideas for modern homes and apartments.

The American Bible society, in a report on its war work, announced recently that in 1940 it distributed 1,212 Bibles, 4,238 New Testaments and 44 volumes of Psalms and Gospels to English prisoners in 15 German concentration camps. To German prisoners in Canada 2,000 Gospels in German were distributed. The society also sent many volumes to unoccupied France.

FILM NEWS

FOX THEATRE

In a merry melody of mirth and melody, the funniest return to the Fox Theatre Friday and Saturday to prove themselves inimitable swinging-singing-dancing stars as well as the nation's favorite family of funsters! Penny Singleton, Arthur Lake and Larry Simms are featured, with Tito Guizar and Ruth Terry heading the stellar supporting cast. Action of "Blonde Goes Latin" takes place aboard a South American-bound passenger liner, with Blondie and Baby Dumpling helping Mr. Dithers, Dagwood's boss, to "escape from it all." Dagwood is supposed to be back at the office, minding his own business, but he blunderingly manages to get aboard the vessel as a stowaway. Posing as a member of the ship's band, he attempts to evade Blondie and Mr. Dithers. The complications ensue when he becomes involved with the girl singer with the band. "Blonde Goes Latin" is a hilarious situation, notably those of Jean Hershoff and Walter Catlett baking a cake and the antics of popular Edgar Kennedy, account for much laughter. Like all small towns, River's End has its annual bazaar, in which competitions of all kinds take place. Dorothy Lovell once more plays the role of "Dr. Christian's" nurse, Judy Price, while Robert Baldwin portrays her suitor, Roy Davis. Again Maude Eburne enacts the doctor's popular housekeeper.

wife objects, in wives will. Her insistence produces disastrous results and many some dramatic moments. The picture reveals how the spectacular stunts of the screen are made. Howard Dillva and Ralph Morgan head the supporting cast of this lively and entertaining offering.

America's ace maestro of swing rhythm, Bob Crosby, and his famous Dixieland Band, debut in "Let's Make Music," scintillating new musicously from RKO Radio. Like Kysor, Bob Crosby also plays the role of himself, leading his orchestra, The Bobcats and The Boballies through a brightly romantic comedy in which a small town, spinster teacher becomes the toast of New York night clubs and her pretty niece becomes the band leader's No. 1 heart interest. Jean Rogers as the girl, Elisabeth Risdon as the elderly adventurer in Manhattan, and Joseph Buloff and Joyce Compton are featured in leading roles. The film comes Sunday and Monday to the Fox screen. * * * The efforts of a small town doctor to upset a big city promoters' plans in bilking the citizens of the now famous mythical town of River's End provides the theme for the new Jean Hershoff starring film, "Remedy for Riches" in the double bill. Several hilarious situations, notably those of Jean Hershoff and Walter Catlett baking a cake and the antics of popular Edgar Kennedy, account for much laughter. Like all small towns, River's End has its annual bazaar, in which competitions of all kinds take place. Dorothy Lovell once more plays the role of "Dr. Christian's" nurse, Judy Price, while Robert Baldwin portrays her suitor, Roy Davis. Again Maude Eburne enacts the doctor's popular housekeeper.

In these days of hero-comedians, Warner Bros. hit a laugh jackpot in a great comedy that teaches, through Eddie Albert's entertaining experiences, what it taken to be a hero. It's the new comedy coming to the Fox Theatre Tuesday, "The Great Mr. Nobody." Albert plays the role of a diffident newspaper advertising salesman, "Dreemey" Smith, who wants to be a hero, wants to sell the seven seas with his routine portrayed by Alan Tate, and wants to marry pretty Mary Clover, played by Joan Leslie, who works on his paper. Hopes for travelling vanish when "Dreemey's" crippled newspaper friend, played by Dickie Moore, is run over by an automobile and "Dreemey" takes the responsibility of caring for him. John Littel is also in the cast.

"High Sierra," the film which comes Wednesday and Thursday brings with it all the thrills, suspense and dramatic action which movie audiences hope for in their screen fare. With Humphrey Bogart as "the last of the Dillinger mob," Ida Lupino as his sweetheart, and Joyce Compton as the girl, "High Sierra," supported by a cast which includes Alan Curtis, Arthur Kennedy, Henry Hull, Henry Travers, Joan Leslie, Bogart and Miss Lupino are said to triumph in the two top roles. Bogart plays Roy Earl, a strange sort of criminal to whom crime is an implement but an end in itself is unnecessary, business. Miss Lupino is seen as the girl who loves him so much that she eventually provokes his downfall. Another member of the cast whose love helps to lead to his eventual undoing is a small, loyal and lovable woman, played by Joyce Compton. "High Sierra" is a love story, "Paradise," making her first film appearance in "High Sierra," is Joan Leslie, a lovely 16 year old who figures prominently in a brief but important episode that helps to set up the human side of the character Bogart plays.

Hot rhythm as Bob Crosby puts his famous Dixieland orchestra through swift paces so Marilyn Wilkins can show the latest in rumba routines in this scene from RKO Radio's sparkling new comedy with musical background, "Let's Make Music," with Joan Rogers, Elisabeth Risdon, Joseph Buloff and others. The film comes Sunday and Monday to the Fox Theatre.

Mason School Notes
By Roberta Bullen

Honor Roll

The honor roll for the first six weeks period of the second semester is as follows: Twelfth grade, Roberta Bullen, Arthur Essinger, Charles Henderson, Vivian Judson, Donna Rusch and Dean Taylor; eleventh grade, Nemaline Bowen, Joan Davis, Helen Miller and Arlene Pfeister; tenth grade, Theron Collins, Edward Dunn, Freda Freeman, Audrey Greene and Margaret Hemans; ninth grade, Elaine Bullen, Howard Gration, Kenneth Palmer, Bernard Snow, Bernice Walline, Mary Wit and Madelyn Rusch; eighth grade, Elizabeth Adams, Carolyn Boegly, John Boyne, Joe Dean, Harold Frye, Ted Hall and Jane Stitt; seventh grade, Rosemary Austin, Edwin Benedict, Barbara Enger, Bill Hamilton, Bill Richards, Virginia Rose, Nancy Stevenson and Ann Zimmerman.

A group of students from Eaton Rapids presented a program for the Mason student body Friday at 12:45. The program consisted of a one-act play, trumpet duet, trombone solo, tumbling, and a reading. Those who took part were Bob Wheeler, Edward Wynners, Frances Lewis, Lorraine Plimcke, Betty Christian, Betty Wiseman, Charles Bostedor, Martha Winfield, John Uphoff, Mary Eggleston, Howard Thompson and Don Hutton. Martha Maupin was the mistress of ceremonies. Mr. Poor, the superintendent, came with the students to Mason. Lenore Smith, chairman of exchange assemblies, made the introductions.

General assembly was held Monday at 8:45 in which group singing was conducted by Miss Geraldine VanPatten. Chapel was scheduled but Rev. Bancroft was unable to be present so the students sang hymns and patriotic songs. Lucile Dean played the piano.

A meeting of presidents of all classes and organizations was held Monday morning. The purpose of the meeting was to explain the all-high party which is being held Friday, March 21. The party will be in the form of a carnival and each class and organization will have a concession. There will be refreshments and a dance afterward, with one of the two Mason dance bands playing.

Margie Knight, head cheerleader and chief librarian to take the place of Richard Myers who is employed in Lansing. She is a senior.

A first aid station has been established by the seventh and eighth grade health classes. It is located on the third floor at the south end of the main corridor. There are signs throughout the building directing toward the station, making it very easy to find in case of emergency. Mr. Pensall is the teacher.

The mixed chorus, under the direction of Miss Geraldine VanPatten, sang for the P. T. A. meeting night. The chorus will also sing at the county teachers institute Friday afternoon. The orchestra will furnish music in the afternoon and the band will play in the morning. Saturday morning the orchestra plans to go to East Lansing to participate in the district music festival which will be judged and given a rating which will determine whether or not it can go to the state festival.

A conflict has come up between the senior class and the orchestra. If the orchestra receives sufficient ratings to entitle it to be held on Sunday, it will be held on May 17 in Flint. The senior trip has been scheduled for May 15 to 17 and the seniors who are in the orchestra will be in Holland on May 17. Unless arrangements can be made to take them from Holland and back in time for them to play, plans will have to be changed. It is evident that the senior orchestra members will not be in the best of condition to play after a three-day trip.

The orchestra played for the soles conservation banquet at the community building Saturday night. Ensembles also furnished music.

The seniors are sponsoring a baked goods sale at Zimmerman's store Saturday, March 15. All of the goods are being donated by seniors and the proceeds will be added to the fund for a trip. The trip which is being considered at present is a boat expedition which starts from Holland and goes to Chicago. A day is spent in Chicago and two nights on the boat.

The physics students are just completing a unit on magnets and static electricity.

A junior class meeting was held Tuesday at 3:45 to discuss dance bands for the reception and to make plans for the dinner to be served to the teachers Friday.

The typing students are struggling laboriously with the March speed test. A test is sent to the commercial department each month and the students try to increase their speed and accuracy in typing. Certificates and pins are awarded for certain speeds with less than five errors.

The all-high play has been chosen and the characters were selected by Mr. Watson this week. The play is entitled, "You're Only Young Once." In previous years students from the upper four grades have been allowed to take part in the play, but this year two characters were chosen from the junior high. The cast consists of Bill Wallace, Jayne Hughes, Audrey Slagh, Imogene Bright, Irene Shultz, Joyce Austin, Rosemary Austin, Colley Short, Mary Franklin, Kate Randall, Patricia Parsons, Gerald Evans, Richard Diehl, Kenneth Palmer, Ted Hall, Tommy Wallace, Jim Cotton, Allan Smith, Edward Dunn and Jim Brown. The play will be presented on April 3 and 4, under the direction of Mr. Watson.

A piano club has been organized, open to all those interested in piano and music. The members of the club met Wednesday night in the music room at school. Sam Robinson of Olivet was a guest at the meeting. Officers were elected. They are Lucile Dean, president; Imogene Ferriby, vice president; and Pauline Carroll, secretary and treasurer.

Church Needs Support

Here is another Church Letter. I feel that this phase upon which I am writing is one of utmost importance.

We all realize that there is a need for a governing power in our lives. We know that we cannot live by our own foolish impulses. It is the youth of today who will be the leaders of tomorrow. We have seen that there is strength in union. In using this policy we have joined two of the Sunday evening Young People's groups together—namely the Presbyterians and Methodists. In this way we hope to gain strength. But along with the union we must have numbers to add to the strength.

A youth organization may be one of the most active organizations in the city. At the present time our earnest plea is one for numbers.

We sincerely believe that we have something for each and every young person who is willing to sacrifice an hour or an hour and a half each Sunday evening.

It is hard for those of us who are working to build this organization up to plan meetings which are very superior and then have the speaker or other leader contented by a mere handful of people. We work for the satisfaction of having been of service, but to whom have we been of service if there is no one there to take in what we offer them?

One of the main purposes of the Sunday Evening League is to League youth for leadership. We have a plan worked out whereby there is a list of standing committees in action all the time. The members of the society lead their own meetings, plan their own devotional services, and organize their own parties.

What, then, are we lacking? Is it a lack of prospective members? No, we have at least 125 names on our list. It is lack of leadership? No, we have at our disposal many of the most outstanding men and women in Mason.

We believe that there is one main factor which has led to the steady decrease of attendance at Sunday evening meetings. What is this? "Commercialization of Sundays." Yes, the best movie of the week is on Sunday; there are all sorts of athletic interests on Sunday; drug stores remain open on Sunday; auto mechanics are filled with gas and have to be driven somewhere on Sunday. All these, and many more are what we mean by "commercialization of Sunday."

Well, young people, what are we going to do about it?

Williamston Defeated In Tournament Final

HOLT TAKES CHAMPIONS AND DISTRICT TITLE

Holt high school's smooth-functioning basketball forces decisively defeated Williamston, defending state champions, 27-22 in the final game of the district Class C basketball tournament at Holt before an estimated crowd of 800 rabid cage enthusiasts Saturday night.

Coch Myron Smith's rampaging Ramblers slipped past a hard-fighting Powerville five by the lopsided score of 27-22 in the opening round Thursday night, bowled over Okemos 34-24 in the semi-finals Friday evening, then Saturday night with an effective combination of sharp passing, clever ball handling, accurate shooting and unmistakable display of determination clinaxed their efforts by outclassing the Hornets all the way to put an end to Williamston's domination of the court game in the state and especially in Ingham county.

Despite the fact that the desperate Hornets were heavily down on him, Bennett outmaneuvered his guards to pierce the hoop six times from close in and once from the foul line to pace the Rambler attack with 23 points. His running mate, Gordon Clever, followed closely, whipping strings four times from the floor and once from the foul stripe for nine points.

Dunckel Led Hornets

Oland Dunckel, the Williamston "rubber man" was high for the Hornets with nine points. He dropped in four baskets and a free throw. Over-shadowing all else was the effective defensive tactics of the Ramblers as they sought to counteract the unorthodox offensive drive of the Williamston quintet. Particularly was the play of Holt's guards, Bud Dart and Junior Candey, outstanding. They continuously broke up and intercepted the long passes of the Hornets and otherwise effectively checked the scoring attempts of the Williamston sharpshooters.

Williamston's usual style of confusing their foes by rushing their guards far down the floor, thereby disrupting their offense almost entirely, then by virtue of their speed pouncing upon wobbly passes and converting them into field goals to gain an early lead, failed to disarm the Ramblers this time. On offense Williamston as usual broke down the floor and caged a sufficient underhand shot; Clever and Bennett dropped in free throws and Holt led 27-16, with less than two minutes to go.

The Hornets were fighting desperately to gain possession of the ball as the Ramblers chose to stall as the minutes slipped away. Irwin Offill grabbed a fumble and rushed under to score. A second later Offill pitched a one-hander. Dunckel then took advantage of a momentary lapse on the part of the over-cautious Ramblers to intercept a wobbly pass in the back court and spurt under the basket to cage the last bucket of the game.

Fowlerville Beaten

Holt's victory over Fowlerville was accomplished on the strength of a third-period drive that netted eight points while restricting the Gladiators to a lone field goal. The teams were tied 13-13 at the half and although Fowlerville had the edge, 8-6, in the last frame the damage was already done. The opposing centers were high scorers for their respective teams. Patton of Holt scored 10 and Ray Biese of Fowlerville made eight. Bud Dart of Holt and Spencer Tomlin of Fowlerville played exceptionally good floor games.

Ed Bennett scored 11 points to pace the Rambler attack against Okemos but it was the expert generalship of Gordon Clever that more than anything else was responsible for Holt's decisive defeat of the Chiefs. Clever's clever ball handling and tricky maneuvering caught the fancy of the crowd as the Ramblers proceeded to shackle Tommy Paton and Danny Hovanessian, holding the Chiefs lanky pivot man to a pair of baskets and four free tosses for eight points and the usually high-scoring Hovanessian to five points, the result of two field goals and a charity toss. Coach C. J. McDermott's Indians succeeded in outscoring Coach Myron Smith's charges in only one period, the fourth. It was a quarter devoid of action, only four points being scored, three for Okemos, one for Holt. Holt led from 22-13 at half-time and widened the gap in the third to 32-21. From the early minutes of the second quarter the outcome was never in doubt.

Dansville Rally

Williamston had its hands full disposing of a hard-fighting Dansville team 24-22 in the first game of the semi-final round. A first-half edge of two points provided the margin of victory as the Hornets finished the game on the ropes with the inspired Aggies proceeding to rock the Eby-men back on their heels in a fourth period rally that threatened to dislodge the Hornets.

Oland Dunckel's nine points and Bob Walker's eight were high for each team. With a beautiful display of real old fashioned team-work the Dansville basketballers gained the upper hand in the first quarter, 6-4. Midway of the second period the Aggies saw their hopes dashed as center Bud Schmidt was removed with an injury and it was during his absence that the Hornets forged ahead. Pete Williams rolled up a 10-1 lead, and the Dansville boys, who had been outplayed but not outfought. And while the defeat came as a stunning blow to the Hornets and their backers, still they should be able to find solace in the fact that they have set a record, the highest of which can never be dimmed. Then, too, the Hornets proved that they can "take it" as well as dish it out.

And now, Myron Smith, we salute you and your Ramblers—Ed Bennett, Gordon Clever, Mahlon Patton, Bud Dart, Junior Candey, and all the rest. You reached the top the hard way, through three nights of grueling competition, and proved conclusively that you are "real champions." By the time this is published last week's wounds will have been healed and all Ingham County League schools will be united solidly behind you as you carry your fight into the regionals at Albion. Good luck to you.

The next little story might well be entitled, "The Man Who Came Back." That lad is Gordon Clever. "Gordy" didn't have such a "hot" season but with all due regard to the one play of Beau Eby, Clever and Dart, it was Gordon Clever who ignited the "victory spark" in the Rambler machine. For three nights the little guy outmaneuvered, outdistanced, outscrapped and even outsmarted the opposition. He came through when the chips were down. Gordon Clever is truly a "money player."

Tournament post-mortems — The oft-repeated question from those who still can't believe it, "How did Holt ever beat Williamston?" Well, Holt had a neat passing team; they had height in the right spots, they had one rugged forward who was in his elements when the going was really tough (yes, I mean Ed Bennett) and the other forward I have already told you about. But in an attempt to pin me down you say, "Why yes, but the Hornets trimmed them badly a week ago. Must be the Williamston boys were off form." With due respect to Leslie, Dansville and Holt (the first two teams pressed the Hornets plenty) it must be admitted that the Eby-men were "off" on their shooting. However, Fred Ambler, Earl Briggs and Myron Smith must be credited with a point here. I would call it strategy. These three coaches knowing full well from experience the type of ball they would encounter mapped their courses accordingly and that is why their respective teams are being credited with employing smart defensive tactics that tended to reduce Williamston's effectiveness on offense considerably. Note that they scored less than 30 points each night. Many teams, admittedly stronger than Dansville or Lansing, ignore the Williamston's particular style, would Forrest Anderson on fourth early in the third quarter. Two baskets by Dunckel and one by Wells plus a pair of free throws by Offill and Hagerman added eight points to Williamston's total in the third. Dansville and Bob Walker's bucket to show in that stanza. The Aggies really stamped in the first session but the rally fell short. With four minutes to go, Williamston led 22-16. Bob Walker and Dick Wells matched baskets just before Pete Williams broke loose to bring a dog shot, making the count 24-19. Williams added a free throw and Bob Walker followed with a free throw and the game ended with Williamston in possession of the ball and the Aggies trying desperately to get hold of it.

Okemos Wins

Okemos buried Stockbridge with a fusillade of shots, netted 28 field goals and seven free tosses for a score of 59-33 in the curtain raiser Thursday night. Danny Hovanessian of the Chiefs put on a dazzling exhibition of court wizardry in addition to hitting 10 field goals and a free throw for 21 points.

Guy Culver, Stockbridge forward, led the Chiefs' sparkling play for scoring honors, coming out second best with 18 points on seven baskets and four free tosses. Carl Mandenberg was next in line for the Meadman clan, racking up seven field goals and three free shots for 17 points. Tom Paton sank six from the floor and two from the foul line for 14. The Indians outscored the Panthers in every quarter and led at the half 30-17.

Leslie Comes Close

Coach Fred Ambler had his Leslie cagers keyed to fighting pitch Thursday night and the owls' Blackhawk exceeded the expectations of their most ardent admirers as they actually outplayed Williamston during the last three periods, yielding only five points, 26-21. Except for a bad first quarter in which the Hornets rolled up a 10-1 lead, the Leslie quintet might have pulled the greatest upset of the year. With a comfortable lead of nine points, Coach Floyd Eby entrusted the chores during the second quarter to a group of reserves. The Hornets were ahead at the half 18-10. The Williamston mentor really left the whole thing. The start of the last half but the vicious Blackhawk, sparked by the brilliant all-round play of Red Lovett, continued to hold the upper hand and outscored the Hornets 11-8 during the last two stanzas.

COUNTY LEAGUE FACTS

The district basketball tournament is history—and what a grand spectacle it really was. I am sure that a person only mildly interested in the sport couldn't help being impressed; impressed by the display of keen rivalry, by the willingness of the participants to go "all out" in the hope that victory would crown their efforts. A healthy atmosphere prevails at one of these tournaments. There is something decidedly clean and fine about the thing, and the whole thing, no sham, no fake, no pretense, as these seven well-coached and superbly trained and inspired teams, backed to the hilt by hundreds of faithful followers, swing into action over a three-night period that provides untold joy for the winners, deep disappointment for the losers, and spine-tingling thrills for all. Looking at it now in retrospect we can't help feeling impressed with the wholesome display of sportsmanship on the part of all concerned. A new king ascends the basketball throne, an old champion finally finally counts. The team that carried the green and white banner of Williamston on the high road to a state championship, then on through another season of remarkable conquests met the inevitable. To the everlasting credit of Floyd Eby and his lads it must be recorded here that they bowed out gracefully, but not without a last-ditch fight. They were outplayed but not outfought. And while the defeat came as a stunning blow to the Hornets and their backers, still they should be able to find solace in the fact that they have set a record, the highest of which can never be dimmed. Then, too, the Hornets proved that they can "take it" as well as dish it out.

MASON LOSES OUT IN TOURNAMENT SEMI-FINALS

VICTORY LOST IN FINAL TWO MINUTES OF PLAY

Despite the absence of two regulars, Don Hilliard and Harry Mitchell, Mason high school's basketball team put up a game fight in the district basketball tournament held in Lansing last week end. Mason won from Everett Thursday night by the mathematical route after one overtime period. Against Resurrection in the semi-finals, Mason had victory within reaching distance. Then with less than two minutes to play, a long-range shot went down for the opposition to bring a dog shot, making the count 24-19. Williams added a free throw and Bob Walker followed with a free throw and the game ended with Williamston in possession of the ball and the Aggies trying desperately to get hold of it.

encounter difficulty in holding the Hornets to such respectable scores as the Aggies and Blackhaws did. Each night in the dressing room of the winner, hilarity prevailed; while in the locker room of the losers, the muffled sounds of stifled sobs were audible as the players' heads down, trudged to the showers, fighting vainly to hold back those tears. It's tough when you put everything you have into something, then lose it. I intended to tell them they played a swell game, but gosh, I sort of choked up myself.

Local Theatre Group To Present Comedy

LOCAL PRESENTATION FOLLOWS RADIO BROADCAST.

"You and I," the three-act modern comedy to be presented by the Mason Little Theatre group at the school auditorium Friday night at 8:15 o'clock, was previewed by many Mason people Friday night when they listened to a condensed version presented over the radio. Walter Huston, star of stage and screen, who took the principle role in the radio version, said in introducing the play, "You and I" is the story of Maitland White, but is also the story of every man who has been forced by circumstances to give up the work he loved. But, Maitland White tried in middle life to go back to the work he loved. It is his story."

In the Little Theatre group presentation of the play the role of Maitland is taken by Dr. Russell R. Robbins. The part of Nancy, Maitland's wife, is taken by Mrs. Effie Engstrand. Maitland's son, played by James Young, and his fiancée, played by Miss Esther King, provide the love interest. Both are appearing in their first Little Theatre group play. The part of Maitland's boss is taken by Harold Scofield, another newcomer to Little Theatre group ranks. Etta, the White's maid, who reluctantly consents to pose for Mr. White's painting because "well—you know what artists are—they and sailors," is played by Mrs. Lillian McCowan.
