

UNITED DAIRY FARMERS CALL ANOTHER MEETING

MICHIGAN MILK PRODUCERS
PLAYED TUESDAY.

Undertaken by the failure to sign up members for a United Dairy Farmers local in Mason Tuesday night, organizers announced they will return Tuesday night, February 3, to attempt to penetrate the local area. Organization meetings are also to be held elsewhere in the county, at the Danville town hall on Monday night, January 26, and at the Bunker Hill town hall on Wednesday night, January 28.

Walter Gidner of Stockbridge, president as chairman at the meeting held in the court room at Mason Tuesday night. Speakers were Byron Driver of South Lyon and George Foster of New Baltimore, leaders in the recent milk strike. Both men made bitter attacks on the Michigan Milk Producers association and urged that dairymen unite with the UDF, an affiliate of the CIO-United Mine Workers No. 50. There were some warm arguments between the organizers for the UDF and Michigan Milk Producers association members who were among the 50 farmers in attendance at the meeting.

Initiation fees for the UDF are 10c per milking cow with dues to be paid by a 2c per cow, checkoff or by flat charges of $1.50 per month.

Attacks "Rackets"

Driver blamed former President David Friday of Michigan State college for establishing the base and surplus plan. He prophesied that the UDF will abolish the plan shortly, declaring that there is no such thing as surplus milk, that surplus milk is being manufactured at high prices by the government. He supported by the government. He also declared that the biggest racket in Detroit is the milk bottle exchange with the cost of bottles taken out of producers and consumers by the distributors. He maintained that the present system whereunder seven and eight delivery wagons serve the same streets must be abandoned in favor of a system whereby one driver handles the milk of four or five creameries. He also suggested that seven-day deliveries be changed to deliveries on only four or five days of the week.

The South Lyon dairymen, formerly in business at East Lansing, should organize and sell their own milk at all their produce and not depend on prices established in Chicago or Liverpool. The farmer produces the crops and has the right to establish selling prices, Driver said. He told of the progress made in organization methods among farmers in the west and southwest. He declared that the Detroit CIO union members are the best customers of the farmers and that the farmers in the UDF and in industrial unions can work hand in hand to mutual advantage.

Cites Goals

Foster declared that the goals of the UDF cover a flat price of $3.00 per cwt. for milk, abandonment of the base and surplus and Class 1 and 2 plans, recognition of the UDF as bargaining agent for UDF members and UDF checks on weights and tests.

Both Foster and Driver told of their activities in the milk strike and of their appearances before the milk mediation board.

Foster praised the CIO organization, explaining that the United Mine Workers under Lewis organized the CIO-UAW to spread prosperity to automobile workers so they could pay a fair price for coal, and that the CIO-UAW is interested in organizing the farmers so that the mine workers and automobile workers will be able to sell their products at fair prices. He said that the entire nation should be organized.

Driver declared that the CIO seated Governor VanWagoner and will unseat him if he fails to play fair with the UDF and other CIO unions.

Rural School Groups To Defer Activities

To conserve tires on the cars they drive to and from their homes and the rural schools, Ingham rural teachers have agreed to defer activities which call for the use of transportation.

Fred E. Searl, county school commissioner, said that the Rural Assembly, the Principals' Round Table and township organizations will abandon all meetings until the rubber shortage is relieved.

The Rural Assembly, headed by Miss Leah Diehl of Mason as president and Mrs. Ethel Hull of Leslie as secretary, voted to suspend during the emergency, as did the Principals' Round Table, which is composed of principals and eight grade or less in the Lansing-East Lansing area. Mrs. Ozelma Lockwood of Lansing is president and Mrs. Ethel Hut of Lansing is secretary of the Round Table. The Rural Assembly is made up of chairmen of the township organizations.

Frequent meetings of the organizations demanded the use of abandoned cars by deferring all activities the teachers will save on tires, the commissioner explained. He said that all teaching groups in the rural schools are anxious to fully co-operate with the defense agencies.

There is no defense stamp and bond sales program being conducted in rural schools, the commissioner said. He pointed out that city and village sales campaigns extend to rural schools. The commissioner and the rural teachers have offered first operation in community sales programs, however, the commissioner said.

RETURNS TO OFFICE

Mrs. Mary Fowler has returned to her duties as deputy school commissioner following an absence of three months due to illness. Because Mrs. Fowler has not yet made complete recovery and is unable to climb the three flights of stairs to the school commissioners' office, temporary quarters have been provided on the ground floor. She will occupy the first office to the left of the front entrance to the county building. School Commissioner Searl will remain in the main office on the third floor.

Committee Organized to Stage Birthday Ball Here January 30

Art Starkey has come to the rescue with the President's Birthday Ball, which will be held in the Legion Memorial building on Friday night, January 30. It appeared for several days that there would be no ball in Mason this year. Then Starkey agreed to take over the chairmanship and all arrangements have been completed for this community to join the thousands of others in observance of President Roosevelt's 60th birthday anniversary with the profits being devoted to the relief of infantile paralysis victims.

Bob Siegrist's orchestra, favorably known in Lansing and on the Michigan State campus and elsewhere throughout the state, has been engaged for the occasion. Dancing will begin at nine and continue until one o'clock. Arrangements are being made with the Mason high school junior class to serve refreshments.

Dress for the party will be optional, Starkey announced after consulting with members of his committee.

Tickets are now being sold by members of the committee. Bud Swinehart is chairman of the ticket committee. It is made up of Harold Copp, Mrs. Fred Harvey, Charles Densmore, Earl Densmore, Joy O. Davis, William J. Barber, Harlan Mills, William Tietz, Howard Slaght, Donald Beebe, Parr Lamont, Miss Kelly, F. F. Felt, Mrs. C. C. Beebe, Bruce Ball, Miss Agnes Beebe, Mrs. Edward Ware, Harold Bell, Herbert Howe, Paul Mudgett, Mrs. Robert Wallace, Richard Jewett and Mrs. G. S. Thorburn.

On the decorating committee headed by Richard Jewett are Mrs. George McArthur, Mrs. Thomas Rayston, Mrs. W. J. Boegly, Maynard M. Bowers, Mrs. Charles Clippner, Fred Burroughs, Clifford Hurry, M. F. Maurice Rieck, Harry Freeman and Mrs. C. A. Ray.

Jewett has called a meeting of the decorating committee for Thursday night, January 29, at the Legion Memorial building. Mr. and Mrs. Ernest B. Kelly, Mayor Arthur W. Jewett and Mrs. Jewett, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin M. Boyne, Mr. and Mrs. William F. Dart, Dr. and Mrs. D. R. Lethbridge, Mr. and Mrs. Nels Ferry, Sheriff Allan A. MacDonald and Mrs. MacDonald and Dr. and Mrs. George Clinton are members of the reception committee.

CONVICTIONS SECURED IN CRIMINAL ACTIONS

JURORS RETURN VERDICTS IN THREE CASES.

Verdicts of guilty were returned in the first three criminal cases tried at the January term of the circuit court. Trials were begun in Mason Monday.

Other trials are scheduled for Friday and into next week with the probability that more cases will be tried the following week. Judge Charles H. Hayden is on the bench.

It took a jury only about 10 minutes Monday afternoon to decide that Gayle Flynn of Lansing was guilty of driving away a car last October 11 without authority of the owner.

George Hebron of Lansing owned the car and Flynn was charged with taking it from its parking place on East Ottawa street in Lansing. Flynn declared he was so drunk at the time that if he did take the car he couldn't remember it.

On Tuesday Lewis Hunt, charged with assault against Norman Richards, who operates a store on M-99 and Jolly road, was convicted. Hunt leased a gas station from Richards and was alleged to have attacked Richards during the course of a dispute over settlement of accounts. The jurors deliberated an hour before returning their verdict.

The case would have been tried at the September term of circuit court had not Richards been a member of the jury panel. The offense occurred January 15, 1941. Hunt weighs 185 pounds. Richards, partially crippled for the past 10 years as a result of an automobile accident, weighs 130 pounds.

Hunt claimed he struck Richards in self-defense. Melvin Gerhardtstein, an employee of Schmidt's department store at Mason, was a witness for the prosecution. At the time of the attack he was employed by Hunt.

Jimmy Warner of Lansing, charged with breaking and entering the National Hat Shop in Lansing on the night of January 7, 1942, was convicted by a jury Wednesday afternoon.

Rape Case Begun

Andy Puckett of Stockbridge, charged with statutory rape against a 13-year-old Stockbridge girl, was in court Thursday morning to stand trial. The offense was alleged to have occurred August 9, 1941.

Neither the prosecutor nor the defense availed themselves of challenges on jurors. The 12 men and women whose names were called were permitted to serve.

Another criminal trial was scheduled to begin Thursday afternoon if the case against Puckett is concluded in time.

Wishing Well Boxes Distributed in City

Dimes, quarters and dollars are being deposited in the Wishing Well containers placed in Mason stores by the chairman of the Ingham Committee for the Celebration of the President's Birthday.

All of the money collected will be devoted to the prevention, relief or cure of infantile paralysis. Part of the money is used locally in relief and treatment of those already crippled by the disease. The rest is distributed by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis in grants to scientific institutions for further study and research so that the disease may be prevented in others.

Leonard C. Sauer of Lansing is chairman of the Ingham committee. His address is PO Box 183, Lansing.

Brief Illness Fatal To Clarence Frederick

Clarence E. Frederick, 90, one of the oldest residents of Ingham county, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Ernie Miller, at Danville Tuesday afternoon after a brief illness. Funeral services were held at the Danville funeral home Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock. The Rev. G. P. Segman, pastor of the Free Methodist church officiating with burial in Fairview cemetery at Danville.

Mr. Frederick had lived his entire life in Ingham township, where he was born October 8, 1851, to Matthew and Harriett Frederick on a farm five miles northwest of Danville. On August 10, 1872, he was married to Miss Emma Bygraves, also of Ingham.

Two children were born to them, Mrs. Miller, at whose home he died, and Mrs. Edna Padock of Yucatan, California, who, with the widow, four granddaughters and two great-grandchildren survive.

Mr. Frederick lived on his farm in Ingham township until 1903 when they retired and moved to Danville. For several years he has resided at the home of the daughter, Mrs. Miller, where they celebrated their 69th wedding anniversary last August.

CLASSIFICATIONS MADE

Several changes in classifications have been made by Ingham District No. 1 draft board the past week. Many men heretofore given deferred status have been placed in A-1, subject to induction. It is expected that the February call will include men who have previously been in deferred classes.

Schmidt's annual clearance sale ends Saturday, January 24.

LEGISLATORS APPROVE STATE WAR MEASURES

CIVIL DEFENSE CENSORSHIP
BILL IS KILLED.

Adjournment was near Thursday for the second session of the legislature which convenes Monday to consider special legislation designed to aid the state in playing its part in the war. The legislature passed with some changes 16 of the 17 bills approved by Governor Murray D. Van Wagoner. The one bill killed would have made Col. Harold L. Furlong virtual censor of all civilian defense news.

Under the legislation which will probably be adopted by the legislature are provisions for giving the state police an extra $673,000 and authority to add 85 more men to the force and $1800 a year to Commissioner Oscar G. Olander's $6000 salary, an act to appropriate $5,000,000 for emergency state war needs, a traffic control measure for blackout and air raid traffic control, authorization to expand the number of Michigan state troops, and authorization for the superintendent of public instruction to handle federal school grants.

Another special session may be held later. Governor VanWagoner explained the state may have to change the employment compensation law to square with the new measure now before congress. The congressional measure would provide a fund of $300,000,000 in extra compensation benefits to tide men out during which auto-mobil factories are converted into munition factories.

With the awarding of a contract to the Bituminous Materials Co. of Terre Haute, Indiana, Wednesday for 50,000 gallons of road oil, the Ingham county road commission secured supplies for continuing the road program. Between 50 and 60 miles of gravel road will be surfaced during 1942.

The Bituminous Materials company was the lowest of six bidders with a price of 7.75c per gallon. The price last season was 7.25c per gallon. The bond cost is a light material sprayed on pavements before tar surfacing is applied.

A contract calling for the delivery of 650,000 gallons, about 65 carloads, of tar was recently placed with the Koppers Co. of Milwaukee. The price for 1942 is 10.4c per gallon, almost a gallon increase over the 9.03c paid for last year.

American-Mexican Petroleum Co. of Chicago was recently awarded a contract for furnishing 250,000 gallons of road oil to the Ingham county road commission. The two types were purchased at 5.83c per gallon, and plant mix at 7.66c per gallon. Prices on the two types last year were 5c for road mix and 5.2c for plant mix.

With the advance in material costs and with higher labor costs the mileage resurfaced in 1942 will probably fall below the construction program of the last few years, road commissioners point out, although they believe it possible that increased efficiency on the part of construction crews and the employment of new techniques may result in completing the program approved by the board of supervisors.

The mayor said, "Mason is going ahead with defense plans and orders of the county and state defense organizations. It may sound foolish to have an air raid warden in Mason, yet if an air raid should happen the defense council and the city council would be considered lax if every precaution had not been taken. We are also going ahead with the program for training auxiliary police and firemen and later we may have practice blackouts."

To Split Fines

The mayor gave orders to police officers to follow up traffic violation summons and to see that all persons given violation tickets report to justices of the peace. A resolution was adopted providing that the local justices, William S. Seelye and William B. Hartzog, may retain one-half the fines for themselves with the balance turned over to the city in all cases where trials are held without trial.

Where trials are held and convictions are had the justices will add their court costs to the costs of the case and assess them against convicted violators.

Aldermen discussed the parking and traffic regulations and decided upon strict enforcement of the laws.

Executives From East Visit Mason Factories

F. F. Law, president of John Wyeth & Bro., Inc., Philadelphia, William J. Kirm, chairman of the board of American Home Products, New York, and H. Stratman, Chicago, assistant to the president of John Wyeth & Bro., Inc., were in Mason Tuesday and Wednesday conferring with William J. Boegly, superintendent of the Mason plant of John Wyeth & Bro., Inc., and with local executives of S. M. A., Incorporated. Both factories are owned by American Home Products company.

William F. Richards, superintendent of the Mason plant of S. M. A., Inc., has been undergoing treatment for an arm infection. His condition was reported as improved Wednesday.

TO ENTER BUSINESS

A. B. Culham of Milford has leased the former postoffice quarters in the Knights of Pythias building and intends to open a sandwich shop about February 1. Equipment is now being installed.

LIVESTOCK BANQUET

Ingham county farmers and feeders met Thursday at the Legion Memorial building in Mason for their annual farmers and feeders banquet.

On the program were Prof. E. B. Hill of Michigan State college, President Lynn Jewell of the Ingham County League, R. J. Baldwin, director of extension at Michigan State college, Mrs. Edith Wagner of Canton, and John J. Lovett, secretary of the Michigan Manufacturers association. The Mason school orchestra and the Ford Rangers provided music.

HOLT BOY KILLED

Leroy Grindle, one of Holt's athletic greats, was one of the eight soldiers killed in the crash of an army bomber near Pendleton, Oregon, Saturday.

Grindle was one of the best football players ever developed in the Ingham County League. After graduating from Holt he entered Michigan State Normal at Ypsilanti, graduating two years ago. At Ypsi he starred in track and other sports. He was a second lieutenant in the air corps.

Sheriff Is Organizing Special Deputy Force

With members of Browne-Cavender and other Legion posts throughout the county as the nucleus, Sheriff Allan A. MacDonald is organizing a special auxiliary force of deputies to maintain order and render emergency service if the need arises. The organization meeting will be held at the Legion Memorial building in Mason Thursday night.

Members of the force will be regularly sworn in, although they will not be permitted to make routine arrests or investigations. They will serve on emergency duty only. The membership of the special police force will not be confined to Legionnaires or war veterans. Anyone with good character may join the sheriff said. The men will receive special training from the sheriff and state police officers and will be available for service anywhere in the county. Later they will be provided with arm bands which they will wear only while on duty.

KIWANIS OFFICER HERE

Wilbur Grommon of Hillsdale, lieutenant governor of District 5 Michigan Kiwanis, visited the Mason club Tuesday night to outline national and state objectives for 1942.

Are Naval Officers

DOUGLAS MACDONALD
Douglas MacDonald, son of Sheriff Allen A. MacDonald and Mrs. MacDonald, received his commission as ensign in naval aviation Thursday at the naval aviation base at Pensacola, Florida. He is expected to arrive in Mason Saturday for a few days leave before reporting to Norfolk, Virginia, to man a patrol bomber. Ensign MacDonald was graduated from Mason high school in 1937. He attended Michigan State and Western State colleges. At Western State he enrolled in a civil aeronautics course and was graduated as a pilot. Last June he was accepted as a cadet in USNR aviation. After a month of training at Detroit he was transferred to the Pensacola school. While a student at Mason MacDonald was a star football player.

ZIMMERMAN TO SERVE AS AIR RAID WARDEN

Kenneth A. Zimmerman, past commander of Browne-Cavender post of the American Legion, has been named by the Mason defense council as air raid warden, Mayor Arthur W. Jewett, chairman of the defense council, informed the city council members Monday night.

The mayor said, "Mason is going ahead with defense plans and orders of the county and state defense organizations. It may sound foolish to have an air raid warden in Mason, yet if an air raid should happen the defense council and the city council would be considered lax if every precaution had not been taken. Defense Savings Group To Meet Friday Night

INHALATOR SQUAD FAILS TO REVIVE MASON BABY

CHILD SMOTHERED TO DEATH IN PARKED CAR.

Despite quick action by the inhalator squad of the Lansing fire department Tuesday afternoon, Phillip Ray Newman, 6-week-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Newman of Mason, could not be revived. He was left for just a few minutes in an automobile on the parking lot of the A&P supermarket on Mt. Hope avenue in Lansing while his mother and his brother, Doyle, 3, and Mrs. Ray Opdyke of Mason went into the store to make a few purchases. When they returned to the car they discovered the baby had his nose buried in a pillow and that breathing had ceased.

The baby was taken to the central fire station where the inhalator squad attempted unsuccessfully to revive him. The inhalator method was applied for 15 minutes.

The baby is survived by the parents, three brothers, Lyle Jerry, 8, Arthur Fred, 7, and Doyle, the grandsons, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Newman and Fred Lounsbury of Mason, and two great grandmothers, Mrs. Sarah Newman and Mrs. Rose Bush of Mason.

Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at two o'clock at the Jewett chapel with burial in the Hawley cemetery. The Rev. Claude W. Satterlee of the Mason Methodist church officiated.

RATIONING BOARD MAY HANDLE OTHER GOODS

OPM EXPANDS AUTHORITY OF RATIONING BOARD.

Rationing of tires and tubes for automobiles is probably only the beginning of the rationing business for the Ingham County Rationing Board. The title was changed from the Tire Rationing Board this week and it is expected that soon the board will handle the rationing of automobiles, sugar and other commodities under authority of OPM.

The Ingham board, made up of Elmer Huntley and Ray Potter of Lansing and County Clerk C. Ross Hanning of Mason met at the clerk's office in Mason Wednesday afternoon to consider applications for new tires.

FARMERS TO GET TIRES

Farmers are eligible to purchase new tires and tubes for tractors and other farm machines and for trucks used in carrying food products to market. The tires and tubes to be replaced are beyond repair. However, farmers must first secure an application blank from the county clerk and present the application and tire or tube to the inspector. The inspector's statement must then be presented to the rationing board.

and tubes. One application was refused and five were held up pending receipt of additional information. Next week the board will meet on Tuesday afternoon, with future meetings scheduled on Tuesdays. However, if the number of applications continue to increase the board may have to meet twice a week, the county clerk said.

Applications were granted as follows Tuesday:

George N. Auge, R. 2, Mason, milk hauler: 4 truck tires, 1 tube.

Earl Crakes, R. 1, Leslie, hauling lime to farmers under contract with AAA: 2 truck tires, 2 tubes.

physician: 2 passenger car tires, 2 tubes.

Dr. Milton M. Rozan, Lansing, physician: 2 passenger car tires, 2 tubes.

Wesley Wegman, Mason: 2 passenger car tires, obsolete size.

R. G. Durman, Holt, deliverer of fuel oil, motor oil, etc., to farmers: 2 truck tires, 2 tubes.

Oria Artz, R. 1, Stockbridge: 2 passenger car tires, 2 tubes, obsolete size.

Mabel B. Minnis Collins, Mason: 2 passenger car tires, 2 tubes, obsolete size.

John E. Webb, Lansing, transporting new cars: 1 truck tire.

Floyd Adam Vicary, Leslie, common carrier, livestock trucking: 6 truck tires, 6 tubes.

The Lansing Ice & Fuel Co., Lansing, transportation of ice and fuel: 1 truck tire.

Mason public school, school bus, transporting students to and from school: 2 truck tires, 2 tubes.

Mauro Paradise-Paradise Fruit Co., Lansing, delivery of farm produce to retail stores: 1 truck tire.

Burnell Burton, Lansing, common carrier, moving van: 1 truck tire, 1 tube.

Tom McNamara, Lansing, delivery of fruit and vegetables from producers and distributors to wholesalers and retailers: 2 truck tires, 1 tube.

Chester Johnson, Lansing, common carrier, transporting automobiles: 1 truck tire, 1 tube.

C. F. Hanks, Lansing, delivery of fuel: 1 truck tire, 1 tube.

Frank DeRose, Lansing, hauling beer between brewery and wholesaler: 1 truck tire.

James Miller, Lansing, common carrier, transporting cars: 1 truck tire, one tube.

Fred Frye, Mason, mail carrier, 2 passenger car tires, 1 tube.

Gordon L. Granger, Lansing, inspector for state department of agriculture, enforcing laws relative to weights and measures and sanitation: 4 passenger car tires.

L. Wheeler, by Marguerite E. Wheeler, R. 1, Charlotte, common carrier: 2 truck tires, 2 tubes.

APPROVAL IS AWAITED ON REGISTRATION PLAN

Plans have been completed by Ingham district No. 1 draft board for registering men between the ages of 20 and 21 and 35 and 45 for selective service. The draft registration will be held Monday, February 16. The plans have been sent to Col. E. M. Rosecrans, state selective service director, for approval.

The plans provide for registration in Ingham district No. 1, made up of all the county outside the township of Lansing and the cities of Lansing and East Lansing, at regular polling places. Township supervisors will have charge of the registration and they will be aided by volunteer workers.

Volunteers are asked to report to their township supervisors within the next few days to offer their services.

A Dangerous Policy

The Michigan crop report for December, just issued, says that the total acreage of wheat planted last fall is only 635,000. This is the smallest amount of wheat, planted in Michigan, says the state department of agriculture, in over 77 years. That takes us back to the year that the Civil War ended and when the population of Michigan was only a trifle more than a million people, about a fifth of what it is today. The department further says that this startling reduction in the wheat crop of Michigan this year is in "response to the Government's program of lessening wheat acreage in order that burdensome surpluses might be eliminated."

When the bureaucrats last summer were forcing farmers to reduce their crop acreages there was even at that time a world threat of food rationing due to the war. Now comes positive assertions from Washington that there soon will be rationing in our own country of some food supplies.

Wheat is the basis of all substantial human food. It is a food that can be used for livestock and poultry as well as for man.

Now our country is involved—as everyone fearfully knew it would be—in the "total" war inflicted upon the peaceful nations of the world by brutal, ruthless and stealing German, Italian and Japanese dictators.

In propaganda coming from one set of bureaucrats, farmers are being urged to grow as much food materials as their lands will produce because of the emergency the nation faces in the years to come.

Another set of bureaucrats has forced farmers into planting the smallest wheat crop ever grown in Michigan!

It is such conflicting policies as these which can to a very large extent be held responsible for much of the plight we are in.

It is time for both Republican and Democrat office holders to snap out of it and get down to earth. We are in a tight spot—and to win, it is going to take every ounce of our energy, every ounce of the food we can produce, and practically all of the wealth the nation possesses.

Dump the bureaucrats into the Potomac. Tell the farmers to grow all they can. Let them plant some spring wheat to make up for the deficiency in the fall planting. It has been grown around here and farmers say it does well. We'll need it, there is no question about that.—The Plymouth Mail.

Salvage

America has long been known as the land of wastefulness. Entire European and Asiatic families could live well on what many American families waste. Because since early days in this country there has been enough to eat and to wear we have not practiced the thrift for centuries has been necessary in other countries. We wasted our timber because we thought we had more than enough. We have wasted metals which now have become precious. Up to now most of us have wasted rubber, have discarded tires as unsafe and untrustworthy which still had many thousands of miles left in them.

We have wasted paper and heavy metals. Until a few months ago the price offered for waste paper was less than the cost of baling it and much waste paper was burned in incinerators. Buried in the Mason dump and in other dumps throughout the nation are millions of tons of iron and other metals.

It has been cheaper to burn the paper and bury the metal than it has been to send the waste back into the channels of trade. Now conditions have changed and the paper and metals we have heretofore thrown away have not only a cash value but a war value.

There is hardly a residence in the county where old paper and metal can not be found. This will be gathered up in the coming weeks and converted into channels of trade. This salvaging of materials, done now as a war task, should be continued after the war. No nation can go on wasting goods as has been done in the United States. Waste is loss and it should be prevented in peacetime just as it is in wartime.

Swimming Pool Casualties

As a health and recreation measure, many new high schools and junior high schools have swimming pools. On the face of it, the program would appear to be sound, because most doctors agree that swimming is one of the best forms of exercise and one of the best means of developing bodies.

A. F. Niemoeller, an authority on deafness, declares that about one in ten persons is deficient in hearing and that one of the chief causes of the impairment is swimming at crowded beaches and in "clean" pools. He explains that scum from the pools and beaches gets into the middle ear. A swimming and diving champion says that if there is a former medal-holder who has reached the age of fifty with unimpaired hearing he is a rarity. There are nose-ear-throat specialists who have confessed, so it is said, that their profession could afford to pay the running expenses of all the swimming pools in the United States for the revenue the pools return to the doctors.

Some things designed to build up health don't always work out that way.

Contributions Still Needed

The community's Red Cross campaign is still underway with stations set up in the Mason banks for contributors. There are hundreds of people who have not yet contributed to the war fund. Many people who bought roll call memberships mistakenly believe they have contributed toward Red Cross war relief. Others have waited for solicitors to visit them. There is no solicitation in the present Red Cross campaign. The contributions are voluntary.

Need for Red Cross support is continually mounting. Contributions are still being received at banks here and in other communities. Those of us who have so far neglected to make our contributions may still do so and should do so at once.

A Proper Precaution

Mayor Arthur W. Jewett explained to aldermen Monday night that it is sometimes difficult for Mason people to keep their faces straight when they learn about air raid wardens, demolition squads, first aid contingents, and auxiliary fire and police units. An attack on this peaceful community appears as such a fantastic thing. Yet, the mayor explained, the city officials and members of the local defense council dare not treat the situation lightly. More fantastic happenings than an attack on Mason have occurred in thousands of peaceful communities within the past few weeks, and Mason must be prepared for any eventuality.

Probably the war could last for 10 years and not a bomb would be dropped in Mason. Probably the air raid warden could peer into the skies for a decade and not see a hostile plane. Yet supposing a bomb were dropped here. Supposing a hostile plane did appear out of nowhere and machine gun Mason streets. As the mayor explained, then the people would condemn the officials for not taking precautions, for treating lightly a threat that does exist.

Of course, there is no reason for any Mason resident to have any great fear of an enemy attack. There should be no jitters, or wasted efforts in forming organizations not needed or in building bomb-proof shelters. Yet there are certain precautions which must be taken. There are certain organizations which must be formed whether or not they are ever called upon to serve. The city council and the defense council should be commended for going ahead with plans for meeting any eventuality, no matter how remote the threat appears to most of us.

DOWN BY THE SYCAMORE

W. C. Briggs, former newspaperman but now keeper of a store at Bunker Hill Center, asks some pertinent questions he has thought up in his spare moments at the Center. He wonders why when girls don't marry they miss it; why nearly all tall men marry short wives; why, if honesty is the best policy, more people don't take out that kind of insurance; why, if a man is known by the company he keeps, more of them don't keep good company; why a man in office requires those who elected him to do all the dirty work;

Why any man has the nerve to ask or expect any other man to do what he does not or will not do for himself; why any man who gets credit and makes no effort to pay, should not be arrested the same as any other thief; why the men who are elected to be our leaders in times of peace should not be forced, if need be, to take front ranks in case of war; why it wouldn't be a good scheme to take up a collection and buy some blankets for the poor naked calves running up and down the streets.

Although her husband makes a good living jerking teeth away from people who climb into his chair, the heart of Mrs. D. R. Lethbridge has not been hardened. She has proved her generosity. Several weeks ago I mentioned the fact that the Hamilton elder jell works almost all year long and I faced the winter with a shortage of elder jell. Dick Lethbridge entered the ivory tower last Thursday afternoon with a glass jar wrapped in a sack. He handed the package to me and said something about its being a gift from his father. I tore off the paper and, low and behold, it was a quart of Hamilton jell, the pure quill. Dick said his mother took pity on me, when she heard I was out of jell and so sent the contribution.

If any person wants to die unthanked and unstung he should do his dying in company with a movie star. Let's see, who were the 21 other men and women besides Carole Lombard who died in the plane crash? Probably I would handle the news the same way if a plane fell in the Sycamore valley. Names make news and names as well advertised as Carole Lombard's make big news.

I am not in any position to judge Carole's worth or her value to society. She may have been worth the hundreds of thousands of dollars she received. She may have been the ideal happily married couple. Yet if the actual facts were known it is more than probable that Carole will be no more missed than were the others lost in the crash. There are children who will never know the love of fathers. There are children who will never see their mothers again. Yet one would almost believe that Carole Lombard was the only victim; that the rescue party climbed the peak to recover only the body of Carole Lombard; that Clark Gable is the only person in the country who is grieving over the tragedy. As I say, I might handle the news the same way, but it isn't right. Just because men and women happen to die in the company of a celebrity they shouldn't die in anonymity.

Where is or was Collegeville, Delhi, Hamilton, Nemoika, Nova Scotia and Winfield? These towns were all included in a handsome Ingham atlas published about 1890. The atlas shows farm boundaries, too, and is printed in colors. The book is owned by Ernest Titus of White Oak. Winfield was originally platted as Nova Scotia. Now the settlement on the Grand below Onondaga is known as Collegeville. The east and west streets were named Broadway, Wall and Pine. Paralleling the river is Water street. The other three north and south streets are Brattle, Cherry and Silver.

Collegeville was then a settlement of a few hundred people clustered around about six square blocks of what is now East Lansing. According to the atlas, what is now Holt was then two communities, Delhi, along the railroad track, and Delhi Center or Holt P. O., where the business section is now. North Leslie was platted property. So was Bunker Hill, Stoughton and Argus Center. Nemoika was the official name given to the village platted on the southwest corner of what was then Pine Lake, now Lake Lansing by grace of the board of supervisors. Okemos was originally named Hamilton.

In the illustrated section of the atlas are artist's drawings of the Hawley farm in Bunker Hill, the Hugh Blakely mansion in Bunker Hill, the Elfish Bates farm in Aladon, the J. B. Thorburn farm in Delhi, the John McCree farm in Locke, the Rayner park in Mason and the D. E. Watts farm in Ingham. There are also cuts of many people prominent in that day, or at least enough to have their pictures included in the album.

Among those whose pictures are included in the old book were C. N. Flansburgh, Leslie horticulturist, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Northrup of Vevay, L. W. Baker of Holt, H. V. Tallman of Vevay, William N. Weaver of Meridian, John Gilly of Williamston, Joel Smith of Aladon, A. A. Baker of North Aurelius, Col. L. H. Ives of Mason, Mr. and Mrs. John Keeler of Aladon, Clifford C. Foster of Okemos, William H. Clark and D. P. Whitmore and C. J. Rayner of Mason. Clifford C. Foster is still hale and hearty. The rest have passed away.

I took the family and Mrs. Russell Brown and her children up to the winter sports at Grayling Saturday, or rather my sister-in-law took my family. She furnished the car. Being a Texas girl and having spent recent winters in the Persian Gulf, she had never had a toboggan ride or a ski ride. She liked the toboggan rides and did right well with the skis. Then she took to skating. Although it was her first attempt at skating she staged a real demonstration, attracting quite an audience.

I did wrong by Frisky Frisco last week. Although the horse which brought $3300 was shown after winning a 2:17 pace, the gelding has a mark of 2:04, right close to the top among pacers.

Enos Knight drove Frisky Frisco last season and seldom had to eat any dust. • • • Knight is the kind of a man who lets records take care of themselves. He made nary a squawk when I added 18 seconds to the time of Frisky Frisco. It was Monday before Joy O. Dunsford won me of my mistake. I don't know who it is Joy. • • • Knight is an interesting man to listen to—so is Joy for that matter. Knight has handled a lot of fast horses in his time.

"Fame is what you have taken, Character's what you give; When to this truth you awaken, Then you begin to live." —Edward Taylor.

A glance along the shelves: "Young Man of Caracas," by T. R. Ybarra, is a rambling, engaging autobiographical reminiscence of a well-known New York newspaperman who reveals the life of a family formed by the marriage of a girl of New England Puritan ancestry and a young man of cultured Venezuelan stock, a soldier. Although they lived in Venezuela, the children were raised in New England. The period pictured is the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries during the turbulent political times of that Latin American country. The book is good reading; the Ybarra family, well worth meeting.

"Newspaper Days," by H. L. Menckel, includes more reminiscences, but lively! Menckel writes of his newspaper days in Baltimore from 1899 to 1906, with considerable emphasis on the more colorful aspects of a colorful city. To quote the author from the preface, the book is an effort to "recreate for myself, and for any one who may care to follow me, the gaudy life that young newspaper reporters led in the major American cities at the turn of the century. . . . This book is mainly true, but with occasional stretchers."

"Strictly Personal," carries the name of the famous novelist, W. Somerset Maugham, and is an account of his personal experience in his escape from the Riviera during the French break-up interpolated with his observations and speculations upon the state of the world and its future. The evacuation of the Riviera was imperative he spent twenty days on a crowded boat enroute for England, where he appraised British leadership, Fifth column activities, and the war spirit of the people.

"Essentials of Shop Mathematics," written by Samuel Slade and Louis Margolis, is a basic text in mathematics as applied to the trades most commonly taught in trade and industrial schools and in the trade classes of junior high schools. Mensuration, automobile mechanics, electricity, machine shop, printing, sheet metal work, and woodwork are included in the book.

First editions of Edna St. Vincent Millay are becoming prized possessions.

Alexander Woolcott tried to bamboozle London reporters by believing that the "man who stayed to dinner" is not he at all. "It's John Barrymore," he said. "I've quite a different set of obnoxious qualities." It appears that Woolcott arrived in London laden with gifts for his friends and his friends. Among other things were 25,000 cigarettes. "He visualized himself, said the British, as a sort of relief ship." When he got there he found everybody with a cigarette in his mouth. "What they wanted from me was a match."

Citizens throughout Ingham county are especially urged to share their books with the sailors and soldiers of the United States! Ten million books are needed to fill the demands of our rapidly growing army and navy. Books should be taken to libraries, where they will be sent on as quickly as possible, to the USO houses, army "dayrooms," ships, naval bases, etc.

All kinds of books are wanted, particularly good fiction, books on current affairs, and up-to-date technical books. Contributors are asked to write their names in the books they send so that the boys in service will know who sent what. Unbound magazines and newspapers are not wanted.

The Victory Book campaign is sponsored by the American Red Cross, the American Library Association, and the United Service organizations, and will continue in this county until February 12. The Hall Memorial Library will act as headquarters in this vicinity but donations will be received at any of the Ingham County Library branches and army.

Many contributions have already been received in the county, but with the goal of 10 million, Ingham should donate still more from private libraries.

It's Your Move

by W. R. TIETZ

I get around the country quite a bit talking to people about life insurance and their need for it and I often hear the expression "Life Insurance Poor." Did you ever hear a man say that he is "Savings Account Poor" or "Liberty Bond Poor?" Savings don't make a man poor.

W. R. TIETZ

The only people I know who are

"Life Insurance Poor" are widows and children of men who have too little life insurance! Life insurance is savings—and the most advantageous savings a man can have for himself or his family.

Why not discuss the Dominion Life's new "Budget Series" of policies with me? By using this system the purchase of life insurance no longer presents financial problems. Now for $10 a month you can give your family financial security.

Farm Bureau Planning Membership Campaign

Lynn Jewell, president of the Ingham County Farm Bureau, announced at a meeting of the board of directors that the annual membership campaign will be conducted during the period ending March 31. He said that the county farm bureau hopes to increase its membership from 185 families to 300 families. All county farm bureaus in Michigan hope to increase their membership by a total of 10,000 families.

"Five hundred thousand Farm Bureau families in 41 states are dedicated as an organization to helping win this war," Jewell told the meeting. "Farmers have challenged industry and labor to match production with agriculture in such a program."

"While farmers are increasing production to help win the war," Jewell continued, "they are depending upon the government for help. The Farm Bureau to insist at Washington and elsewhere that agriculture shall receive equal treatment with other groups under federal and state laws that affect prices, priorities, and other matters."

"In the price control bill before congress," Jewell said, "agriculture have agreed to accept price ceilings as a curb to inflation. Through the Farm Bureau, agriculture is fighting both organized labor and the administration to require that if we are to have price ceilings, we should have price ceilings for everyone, including wages of labor. The Farm Bureau is insisting that the present parity price relationship between agriculture, industry and labor be continued, and not wrecked by price control legislation that might establish price ceilings for agriculture and industry and a floor for wages of labor. The United States senate has agreed with Farm Bureau representations that the secretary of agriculture should have the right to veto farm price ceilings that do not reflect the parity relationship."

MILK PRODUCTION HIGH IN TWO ASSOCIATIONS

TESTERS MAKE REPORTS OF LEADING HERDS.

Howard Holden, tested for the Ingham No. 3 Dairy Herd Improvement association reported that 28 herds totalling 363 cows were tested for his members during December. The association average was 653 pounds of milk and 25 pounds of butterfat.

Five herds made butterfat averages of 30 pounds or more per cow. The owners are: Theo Turan, grade and registered Holsteins, 1150 pounds milk, 38.1 pounds fat; Fred Kaiser, grade Holsteins, 1029 pounds milk, 35.3 pounds fat; Delancey Cooper, mixed grades, 814 pounds milk, 34.7 pounds fat; Homer Launstein, grade Jerseys and Guernseys, 688 pounds milk, 31.9 pounds fat; Harris & Harwood, grade Jerseys and Guernseys, 665 pounds milk, 31.5 pounds fat.

Highest individual cow for both fat and milk was a three-year-old Holstein in the herd of H. R. Bullen & Son. She gave 1920 pounds of 4.3 milk figuring 78.3 pounds butterfat.

The two high cows in the four age divisions follow:

Under 3 years: (1) Alvin Launstein, grade Holstein, 1029 pounds milk, 49.4 pounds fat; (2) Harold Wilson, grade Holstein, 1170 pounds milk, 47.9 pounds fat.

Under 4 years: (1) H. R. Bullen & Son, grade Holsteins, 1820 pounds milk, 73.3 pounds fat; (2) Theo Turan, grade Holsteins, 1662 pounds milk, 56.5 pounds fat.

Two 40-Pound Herds

Twelve of the 28 herds tested in the Lansing-Ingham Dairy Herd Improvement association during December made butterfat averages of more than 30 pounds per cow, stated Richard Green, in his monthly report. As shown by the following list, two herds went above 40 pounds: George Maynard & Son, 11 registered Holsteins, 44.4 pounds fat; Bennett & MacAllan, 13 grade Jerseys, 40.5 pounds fat; Dell Wolf & Son, 17 grade Holsteins, 37.0 pounds fat; Frank B. Thompson, 17 registered Holsteins, 37.7 pounds fat; A. E. Rowland, 9 registered Holsteins, 37.7 pounds fat; Herman Anderson, 8 registered Holsteins, 36.5 pounds fat; C. Powell & Sons, 17 grade Holsteins, 35.1 pounds fat.

A registered Holstein, owned by George Maynard & Son, produced the most fat of any of the 432 cows tested, 81.5 pounds found in 1897 pounds on 4.3 milk. One of Ralph Throop's mature Holsteins was high in milk with 2269 pounds.

Green lists the two highest animals in each age class as follows:

Under 3 years: (1) Ralph Throop registered Holstein, 1447 pounds milk, 59.3 pounds fat; (2) Andy Anderson, registered Guernsey, 1050 pounds milk, 57.7 pounds fat.

Under 4 years: (1) Dell Wolf &

Burlap Bag Scarcity May Trouble Farmers

Farmers are urged to conserve the dwindling supply of burlap bags and cloth by refraining from ripping their burlap sacks when opening them, by using no hocks and by hanging bags in a dry protected place for later use.

Ralph Glynn, the AAA chairman and chairman of the Ingham county war board, points out that the imports of burlap from far-away India have been greatly reduced since Japan's attack in the Far West last month and there is no way of telling when we will be able to get any more of the small amount being imported. Two-thirds is being taken by the government for military purposes.

Inasmuch as other containers are also scarce, Glynn urges farmers to take extra care of used burlap bags now on hand. These used bags if in good condition can usually be sold to dealers from whom they were received.

Son, grade Holstein, 1705 pounds milk, 70.7 pounds fat; (2) E. W. Hammond, registered Holstein, 1506 pounds milk, 57.4 pounds fat.

Under 5 years: (1) George Maynard & Son, registered Holstein, 1897 pound milk, 81.5 pounds fat; (2) E. W. Hammond, registered Holstein, 1488 pounds milk, 63.0 pounds fat.

Mature class: (1) Ralph Throop, registered Holstein, 2269 pounds milk, 77.1 pounds fat; (2) C. Powell & Sons, grade Holstein, 2194 pounds milk, 72.0 pounds fat.

Holstein bull calves were sold by Elmer W. Hammond and Dell Wolf. Seven cows went to market on account of low production.

is the YEAR for HOME DEFENSE, HOME OWNERS

This year more than ever, home owners should consider reconditioning their homes. For your own satisfaction and for the part that good homes play in sheltering a nation engaged in a great defense effort, make necessary repairs NOW!

FARMERS--

Your part in national defense is the production of food. Are your buildings in shape to protect your farm animals so that production of milk, eggs and meat will not be curtailed? It is time to think about brooder houses and new hog houses. Call on us for plans and suggestions.

Health for Victory

Miss Beatrice Fisher, home economics instructor, attended a conference at Michigan State college Friday where meetings were conducted on "Nutrition." Among the problems discussed at the morning conference were "To Improve Food Habits of the American People," "To Educate Them to Realize that Milk, Fruits and Vegetables Are Vital to Good Health," and "To Point Out the Necessity of Immediate Action on Improving These Two Factors So Important for the Safety of Our Nation." Draft figures show that from the first 1,000,000 men examined for national defense 400,000 were physically unfit and 130,000 of this number physically unfit due to nutritional deficiency. This amazing figure shows how tremendous the problem of improving the health of the nation is toward victory. Not only the army and navy need good health but every person working in the home and on the defense program must do his share toward this end. It is not always a fact that these necessary foods such as milk and eggs are not in the home, but the fact that children do not have the habit of eating them.

As a guide for better health in the community, even the American citizen should do his part by eating his share of these foods daily. This "Yardstick to Good Health" was published by the American Medical association; milk, two or more glasses for adults, three or four glasses for children, daily; drink and combined with other foods; vegetables, two or more servings daily besides potatoes, one raw; green and yellow as often as possible; fruits, two or more servings daily; one citrus fruit or tomato; eggs, three to five a week; meat, cheese, fish or legumes, peas or beans, one or more servings daily; cereal or bread, most of it whole grain; butter, two or more tablespoons daily.

O. E. S. Initiation

A special meeting was held by the O. E. S. Saturday evening in the Masonic hall for the purpose of initiation. Degrees of the order were conferred upon Maxine and Arlene Miller. Following the ceremony refreshments were served by the committee in charge. Guests were present from Mason, Stockbridge and Lansing.

Annual Scout Meeting

Mr. and Mrs. Rex Gillen, Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Greenough and five scouts, Ronald Lewis, Ronald Baker, Rollin Hicks, Richard Kirby and Ronald Hicks, attended the annual scout meeting in Lansing Thursday. Eddie Lee was the speaker for the occasion. Over 1200 were present at this banquet. The local boys participated in the tabloid depicting the activities and purposes of the scout movement.

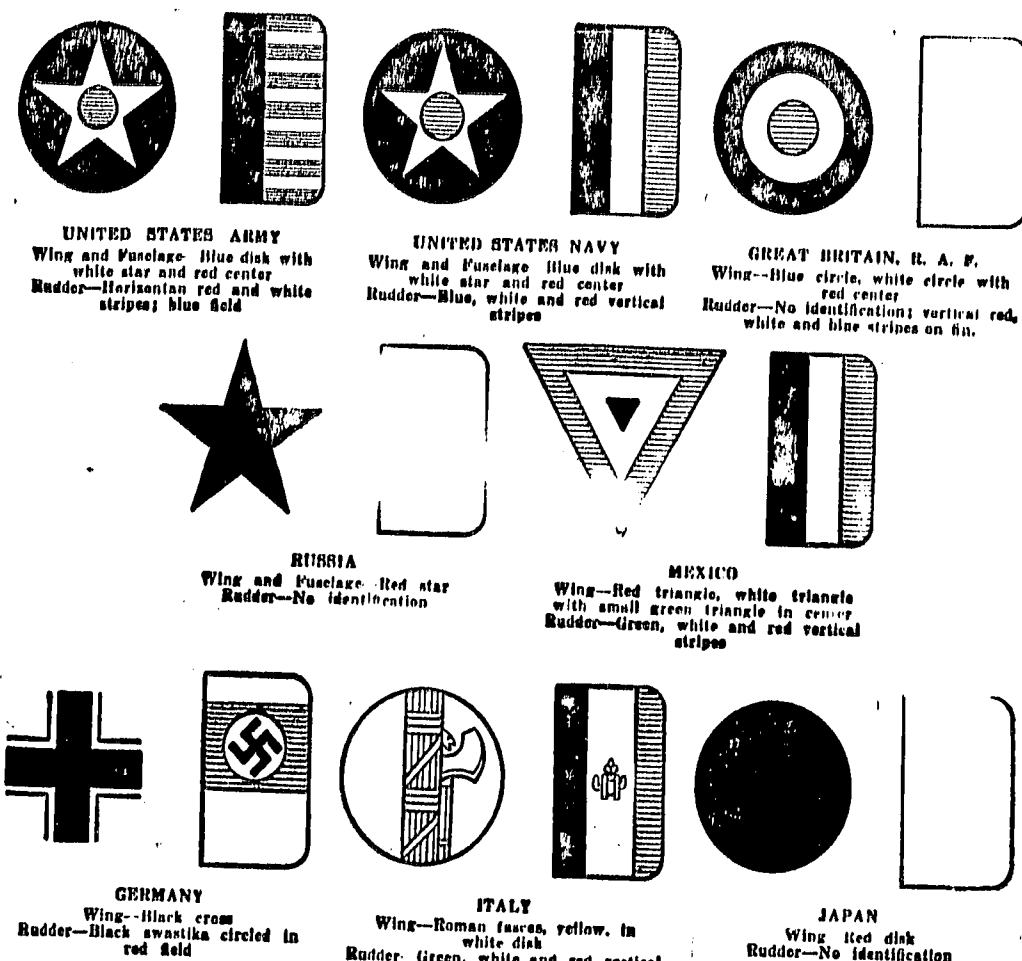

Honor Roll

Adult Class Progressing

Eighteen adult farmers are now enrolled in the evening adult farm management class. Several other farmers, who were unable to be present for the first meeting, are expected to enroll at a later date. At the first session the topic was "Some Factors That Effect Farm Earnings," and

How to Distinguish Nationality of Aircraft

Civilian air raid spotters will have no difficulty distinguishing Axis planes from those of the United States if they memorize the markings illustrated above. American and British planes have designs of red, white and blue, and Russia has a red star. Watchers on the southern border occasionally may see the red triangle of Mexico. Axis raiders are easily spotted through the familiar black cross and swastika of Germany, the round red rising sun emblem of Japan and the Roman fasces insignia borne by Italian planes.

this resulted in an interesting discussion by the farmers. The film "Farmers and Defense" was shown following the discussion. These meetings are held each Wednesday evening at eight o'clock in the school and any interested farmers are welcome to attend.

Debate

The affirmative debating team, consisting of George Bise, Nolan Owen and Jim Young, won from Haslett at the tournament held at Michigan State college Thursday afternoon. Dansville negative lost to Everett Maxine Simons, Eleanor Terrill and Winnifred Ives upheld the negative side of the question, "Resolved that every male citizen should receive one year of military training before reaching the present draft age." Other students who have debated this year include Gard Kent, Eugene Groh and Lois Ives. Miss Curtis accompanied the group.

Special Band Feature

The band will give a special performance at the Dansville-Williamston game Friday night. Following the playing of two march selections, they will form the letter "D" while playing the school song. A duck formation will introduce the new team mascot to the audience. This is the first time that the band has tried formations. Mr. VanLare, the director, states that the band members are working hard to make this performance a success.

The Importance of Correct Cooking to Health

Today as never before we should realize the importance of food to health. A healthy America is a strong America.

Equally important is the method by which these foods are cooked. So often in cooking, foods are robbed of their health-giving properties. In the case of vegetables, many valuable vitamins and minerals are poured down the sink when the vegetables are drained after cooking. Other health-giving properties are sometimes destroyed by over-heating and excessive contact with air.

Have you been using your gas range to the fullest advantage? You can be sure that the meals you cook will build strong young bodies and promote good health by observing the simple rules at the right.

WHAT EVERY WOMAN SHOULD KNOW ABOUT VITAMIN SAVING

1. Use little water in cooking.
2. Cook vegetables for the shortest possible time.
3. Cover utensils to keep air out.
4. Avoid unnecessary stirring of vegetables.
5. Don't put in baking soda to brighten food colors.
6. Start vegetables in boiling water.
7. Don't throw away vegetable liquids—use them in soups or cream sauces.
8. Keep foods as fresh as possible—use dependable automatic refrigeration.
9. Serve plenty of green vegetables.
10. Serve foods soon after cooking.
11. Broiling is preferable to frying to retain vitamins.
12. Low-temperature roasting saves vitamins, minerals.

Chief Joseph Retreat

Epic Military Move

Chief Joseph, upright, intrepid sachem of the Nez Perces (that's French for pierced noses), is renowned for a masterful military retreat that ended in his betrayal by the white man. Early in 1877 the government ordered the Nez Perces to move from their home in the Wallawalla valley of Oregon to the Lapwai reservation in Idaho. Joseph, refusing, said that his claim to the valley had been upheld by President Grant in 1873. Attempts to elect the Indians were resisted, some white settlers were killed, and war was declared. After several battles which the whites lost, Joseph displayed remarkable generalship in a retreat that is famous to this day. Though soldiers were in front and behind him and on his flank, he brought his warriors, with their wives and children, to within 50 miles of the Canadian border before reinforcements compelled his surrender. When he yielded, it was with the promise that he would be permitted to return to his own country. The promise, given, was not kept, and the vast western wilderness and his homelands people were sent to Indian territory in Oklahoma. But we can conclude on a pleasant note: Chief Joseph in time became the warm friend of his captor, Colonel Miles, and passed on in 1904, conscious that he was held in high esteem by his white brothers.

Cheap Process for Tin Substitute Discovered

Oscar Bruno Bach began his career in Germany. At the age of 18 he made a wrought-metal Bible cover for Pope Leo XIII. He came to America 26 years ago, set up shop in Manhattan as a metal craftsman and industrial designer.

Last year Oscar Bach announced he had hit upon a process for coloring tough, corrosion-resistant 18-8 (nickel) stainless steel, 8 per cent (nickel) stainless steel. In the Bach process, the steel is first "pickled" (cleaned with acid), then coated in a chemical bath and heated. Depending on the degree of heating, the coated steel turns black, gold, bronze, purple, blue, red or green. The color becoming an integral part of the surface. Oscar Bach will not reveal the chemicals in the coating bath. "The formula," says he, "is so simple I'm almost ashamed of it." The Bach process is used in the building industry for exteriors and decorations. A recent example is the flashy Bach-designed decoration of Manhattan's Airlines Terminal building.

As Oscar Bach began working with less expensive iron and steel alloys, he found to his surprise that his coloring process immensely improved corrosion resistance. Recently the "American Cellini's" researchers led him to the threshold of national defense. He announced a process for Batching cheap black plate iron (3 cents per pound), which, he claims, makes the metal a substitute for tin plate. Tin is important in tin cans because it resists corrosion by food acids. Batching iron, said Bach, had a corrosion resistance against "most corrosive agents" higher than that of tin plate (5 cents per pound) or 18-8 stainless steel (34 cents per pound). He estimated his process would be a third cheaper than tinning.

Police Orders Beyond Law
Magistrate Solomon ruled not long ago in New York City that the public need not obey police orders that go beyond the law.
Believe it or not, you don't really have to move when a policeman orders you.
A Brooklyn man watching a sidewalk dice game dared to tell a policeman that it was a free country and that he was not going to move on the until he was told the reason why. The magistrate upheld him, saying that he was well within his rights and not subject to such a dictatorial order.

Famous April Fool Joke
There are many famous April fool's jokes perpetuated in history. Perhaps the most famous is that perpetrated by Thomas Hood, the humorist-son of the great poet of the same name, who, at a meeting in the Savage club, the home of so many literary geniuses, proposed, on the night of March 31, that a telegram should be sent to a politician then much in the public eye by reason of his moral crusading: "Fly. All is discovered." The next day there was a missing politician and a vacancy in the house of commons. That is one case where an April fool prank was no joke on the victim.

Many Attend Wedding Rites At Holt Church

Baskets of evergreens and glad-till, with tall candles, against a background of palms, formed the setting for the double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. C. P. Andrews of Glen Ellyn, Illinois, at the Holt Presbyterian church Sunday afternoon. The bride was Miss Thelma Elizabeth Kleinmann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kleinmann of Kalamazoo, and the groom was George Thorburn, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Thorburn, East Willoughby road, spoke their marriage vows.

Lawrence Parker of Mason sang "I Love You Truly" and "O Promise Me," preceding the ceremony. The wedding march from "Lohengrin" was played by Mrs. Lawrence Parker as the bride couple took their place before the altar.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white slipper satin, with long fitted sleeves and princess lines, and her finger tip veil fell from a tiara of red roses and matching her arm bouquet of red roses and Garza mums. Her only attendant, Miss Jean Ellis of Holt, was gown in rose chiffon with long sleeves and princess lines and carried a bouquet of red roses and cream. Mrs. Kleinmann, mother of the bride, wore blue crepe with black accessories and a corsage of Johanna Hill roses and acacia. Mrs. Thorburn, the groom's mother, was gown in aqua crepe, with black accessories, and wore a corsage of sweet peas and Johanna Hill roses.

Ensign William Darnton of Flint was the groomsmen and ushers were Maurice Richmond and Alvin Farnsworth. Miss Sarah Guenther presided in the reception room, and Ross Richmond and William Griffin assisted in the hall.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors for the immediate families and close friends. Evergreens and baskets of flowers formed a background for the wedding party. Ice cream and cakes were served by Mrs. Gail Thorburn and Miss Paula Thorburn with the bride's cake served by Mrs. John Ray, Jr. About 125 guests witnessed the ceremony. Out of town guests were present from Detroit, Flint, Battle Creek, Dundee, Lansing and East Lansing.

The newlyweds are graduates of the school classes of 1937, of Michigan State college, class of 1941. Both have been active in the Holt civic and church activities. Following a short wedding trip, Ensign Thorburn will go to Boston to report for active duty with the fleet on January 28 and his bride will resume her school duties in Galesburg where she teaches home economics.

Ensign Thorburn entered the midshipman's training school on the U. S. S. Prairie State last September, graduating January 16.

Collar-Hewitt Marriage Vows Spoken At Impressive Ceremony At Aurelius Farm Home

Lovely in all appointments was the marriage last Saturday evening of Miss Jane Elizabeth Hewitt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hewitt of Aurelius, to Buryan Collar, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. Everett Collar of Philip read. The double ring service was read by the Rev. Alfred Cornell, pastor of the North Aurelius church, in the presence of only the immediate relatives of the couple. The vows were spoken before an impressive altar of ferns, palms and baskets of Pearly gladioli.

For her wedding the bride wore a gown of white organza over satin, a halo of flowers, and carried a bouquet of orchids, roses and sweet peas, tied with rose ribbon. Her cousin, Miss Georgene Richard of Holt, was her attendant, who chose for the occasion peach taffeta. Her flower girls were Johanna Hill roses tied with blue ribbons, and white. Mrs. Collar chose black and white. Her mother wore a corsage of sweet peas and pink roses. The groom was attended by his brother, Elwyn Collar of Detroit. Following the ceremony, refreshments of ice cream and cake were served.

While the couple's engagement was only recently announced, the date of the marriage was moved ahead as Mr. Collar expects to leave for army service in February. Mr. and Mrs. Collar are graduates of the Mason school and are attending school at Michigan State college. Mrs. Collar will graduate this year and is now engaged in student teaching at Eastern high in Lansing. The young couple are at home to their friends at 228 Ferguson, Lansing.

OBITUARY

George Olen Edgar

George Olen Edgar, (or Lo as we knew him), was the sixth of 10 children born to Joseph and Mary Eckhart Edgar June 24th, 1860, at the pioneer homestead in Aurolius township.

He passed away Sunday, January 11, 1942, at his home in Mason. The parents, coming from the state of Ohio, settled in Michigan in 1892. Hence the Edgar family had the rich experience of early pioneer life as they worked together in unison to clear their land and build their home that is a credit to the community.

Mr. Edgar never married, but he was a home maker in the true sense, establishing a home with his two brothers, Edward and John, on a farm near the old homestead and these three brothers were always referred to by all who knew them, as "the boys." They worked together in common and in harmony on a large farm for many years, having practically only one "pocket-book," and they had just two motives in view, "to labor together unselfishly" and "to succeed" and they achieved both until death separated them.

Edward died in 1925 and two years later John and Lo retired from active farming, purchasing a home and moving to Mason on West Ash street.

The one amusement that all of the brothers and the father enjoyed was to take part in or witness a baseball game, as the seven brothers were all good players. Of this large family there survive to mourn their loss, five brothers, John and Eugene of Mason, Alvin and Claude of Aurolius Lee of Bellevue and one sister, Mrs. George Eckhart of Fowlerville.

Another sister, Mrs. Lucinda Gregg preceded him in death. One child died in infancy. Many other relatives and a host of friends and neighbors also survive.

Lo possessed a ready wit and a buoyant spirit which made him a good companion. He regarded life optimistically and found humor in even the most perplexing problems. He was a steadfast friend and neighbor, honored for honesty and generosity. He built his own memorial as he lived from day to day with the imperishable mortar of good humor, kind neighborly deeds and cheerful tolerance toward all.

Record of Violations Follow Record Hunting

Paralleling a steady increase in the number of persons enjoying hunting and fishing in Michigan, a consistent increase in the prosecution of conservation law enforcement cases has followed, capped in 1941 by 5,221 convictions out of 5,380 cases taken to court.

Beginning with 1936 and continuing through 1942, the number of cases prosecuted each year has been: 3,771, 4,204, 4,040, 4,081, 5,212 and 5,385, in a curve that reflects the trend of hunting and fishing license sales.

Prosecutions in 1941 resulted in payment of $48,052 in fines and $31,636 in costs, a total of $79,687. Of this only $16,014 was returned to the game protection fund. The remaining $63,673 represents court costs and fines paid into the state treasury fund.

Game law violators led all others in 1941, causing 2,795 arrests, of which 1,887 were for breaking small-game laws, 591 for deer law violations and 517 for illegal taking or possession of furs. Fishing law violations totaled 2,554, and there were 216 arrests for various other conservation law infractions.
