Grand Ledge Here Friday For Last Game At Home

Eaton Rapids Meets Defeat By Three Touchdowns Before Mason Attack

Mason's 1947 football season, and a highly successful one it has been, is rapidly drawing to a close. The final conference game of the year will be played Friday night under the lights at Mason's Athletic field. Friday night will also mark the final home appearance of the 1947 grid machine, Grand Ledge's Comets will be out for blood with the bitter taste of last year's 33-0 defeat strong in their mouths.

Grand Ledge holds a 7-7 tie with Charlotte, the only team to knock off Mason this year. The Comet touchdown power comes mainly from Tom Vandersteen and Mike Armstrong. This pair has been a thorn in the side of the opposition all year. Both are big fellows who have a habit of going in the right direction on a football field.

Three Touchdowns Made

Mason had little trouble in snowing under the Eaton Rapids Greyhounds 20-0 last Friday night in spite of a slippery field and numerous penalties. Coach Louis Lora's boys picked up yardage at will and scored twice in the first quarter and once in the last quarter. Red Johnson booted two of the three extra points through the uprights. Eaton Rapids received the kick off but could not push the ball ahead. Joe Johnson fumbled Paul Hamman's punt on Mason's 40 yard line and was snowed under by tacklers. The ball ended up in Red Johnson's hands and he went all the way to the Eaton Rapids 30 yard line. Curtis skirted and for a first down on the 19. An incomplete pass and a man in motion penalty pushed Mason back but Curtis on a reverse went all the way to the 5. Fell broke through tackle on a cross buck to score. Johnson's kick was good and Mason took an early lead. Eaton Rapids' offense failed to click and after a couple of punt exchanges, Mason ended up with the ball on the midline. Curtis sped 25 yards to the 25 yard line. Bob Lyons on an end around play picked up three yards. Curtis then went all the way to the 2, but the gain was nullified by a penalty. Fell plunged to the 8 yard line and on the next play Curtis crossed the goal line. There was no touchdown though as there was a Mason clipping charge on the play. Again Mason started on the march. Lyons on end around went to the 10-yard line. Fell slipped through the center for a counter. Johnson booted a good one and Mason was in front 14-0.

In the second quarter Eaton Rapids started a drive when Paul Hamman, alternately running and passing, picked up two first downs in a row but the attack bogged down in Mason territory. Mason launched another touchdown campaign with Curtis and Merritt Snyder carrying the ball but the half cut the drive short.

Touchdown Made

Mason had the ball rolling shortly after the second half opened when Joe Johnson went around end for 15 yards then lateraled to brother Roy who lugged the ball 20 yards further to Eaton Rapids' 25-yard line. A couple of plays later Roy Johnson went all the way to the 5. Joe Johnson went to the 2 but a five yard man-in-motion penalty put Mason back. Eaton Rapids took over the ball on downs and worked the pignin back up the field until Barnes Curtis intercepted a pass intended for Nickerson and raced to the 12. On the next play Curtis went to the one-yard line from where Roy Johnson lugged it into pay dirt. Johnson's kick was wide. The Greyhounds' punt was Mason's score read 20-0. Mason had a couple of other scoring opportunities but failed to cash in on them. Eaton Rapids couldn't do anything either until late in the last quarter when they opened up with desperate passes, some of which connected. The Greyhounds' line rose to the occasion and snowed under the Greyhound attack and held until the end of the game.

Mason's line was the key to the victory over Eaton Rapids. The Greyhounds couldn't get anywhere on the ground and Eaton Rapids passers were rushed so hard that the aerial game was ineffective. Harold Aaral at center led Mason's line in yardage with Ben Garver, George Whyte and Ron Stolz turning in great games. Joe Johnson, at quarter, called a fine game as well as turning in long gains. Matt Pell was sharp on line backs and Roy Johnson and Curtis turned in their usual fine games. Mason's passing game was not up to snuff. This might have been due to the greasy field and ball.

Right Half Bruce Smith of Eaton Rapids was a thorn in the sides of Mason backs all night. He refused to be blocked out of plays and stopped many long gains. Gene Johnson also played a lot of ball at end for the Greyhounds.

Mason's substitutes: Lyons, LE, Gruber; Whyte, LT, Bloome; Garver, LG, Stolz; Ware, C, Corbin; Freeman, RG, Wigham; Spink, RT, Dostader; Johnson, J, RB, Nickerson; Stolz, QB, Krumm; Johnson, C, LH, Krumm; Curtis, RH, Hamman, P; Fell, FB, Hamman, H.

Mason substitutions: Rickly, Bauer, Hollenbeck, Lyons, C. Stitz, Snyder, R. Fish, Denning, Larkins, Flak, Morris, Reeve, Hill, Orr, and Boyne.

Eaton Rapids substitutions: Knowles, McCormick, Sherman, Nehring, Palmer, Montie, Heintz, and Rathburn.

Hornets Win Title In Scoring Spree

Williamston high school's football team punched out a 61-0 victory over Stockbridge Friday afternoon to clinch the Ingham County league football championship. Ray Warner scored five of the nine Hornet touchdowns. Leonard Schalla spent the afternoon on the bench nursing a pulled tendon.

Leslie beat back Okemos 13-6 to hold second place in the league standings.

Bob Taylor tossed a pass to Joe Shaw for 60 yards and a touchdown in the second quarter. In the third John Hovensiaup dashed 70 yards to give the Indians a touchdown. The extra point was missed. In the last quarter Taylor passed to Shaw again for a 25-yard gain, Shaw lugging the ball to the one-yard line. Taylor went over for the touchdown.

Holt lost out to Fowlerville by the narrowest of margins, 14-13. Fowlerville came from behind in the last quarter to win.

The Ramblers had a 7-0 lead at the half by virtue of a touchdown drive climaxed by Charles Cliff's punt across the goal in the second quarter. Dick Hovary grabbed a Fowlerville pass and went 45 yards to score a touchdown in the third period.

Fowlerville fought down the field in the third quarter, and Don Cheney scored. In the fourth quarter, Dick Johnson went across after a long march. Jack Manning kicked both extra points.

Orioles and Comets Win Circuit Tilts

Charlotte and Grand Ledge both came through conference tests last Friday, the Orioles defeating Everett 19-0 and Grand Ledge getting by Howell 6-0.

The Orioles punched across the Viking goal in each of the first three periods. Everett was unable to get past the Charlotte 30-yard stripe. Duane Rosenbrook grabbed a pass from Clint Flair for the first touchdown. Dan Brown crashed across with a splinter in the second period. Ray Dane galloped 35 yards through tackle for the third touchdown. Gerald Giza, and Paul and Joe Williams were the Everett stars.

The Comets didn't do much scoring against Howell. Grand Ledge marched 60 yards down the field in the second quarter and Harry Kinney plunged the final three yards to cross the goal.

Howell reached the 3 in the last quarter but the Comets turned back the threat.

"The Beast With Five Fingers," is scheduled to open Saturday at the Fox Theatre. Starring Robert Alda, Andrea King and Peter Alda, the film revolves around a young and beautiful girl's struggle to escape the mystery which surrounds an old mansion in North Italy. Lending support to the stars in other important roles are veteran character actors, Victor Francen and J. Carroll Nash.

Evelyn Layton, Evans who hires him to put over a "Love That Soap" radio program, spurs him on to some diverting Hollywood intrigues in an effort to lure a comic away from his rival sponsor and almost but not quite succeeds in breaking up his romance with Kay Dorrance.

Luckily for Shelton, his fiancée, portrayed by Jean Porter, is able to foil the racketeer but he spends the next very unpleasant moments trying to raise the $10,000 blackmail money, demanded by the singer. The picture will be shown at the Fox as half of the Thursday and Friday double feature.

Hoosier Hot Shots

The Hoosier Hot Shots are the stars of "Smoky River Serenade," coming to the Fox on Thursday and Friday.

The story brings the Hoosiers to the Smoky River Ranch, owned by their old friend, Pop Robinson. When the boys discover that Pop is broke and might lose his ranch, they decide to run a beauty contest which will bring large crowds of pleasure-seekers to the area.

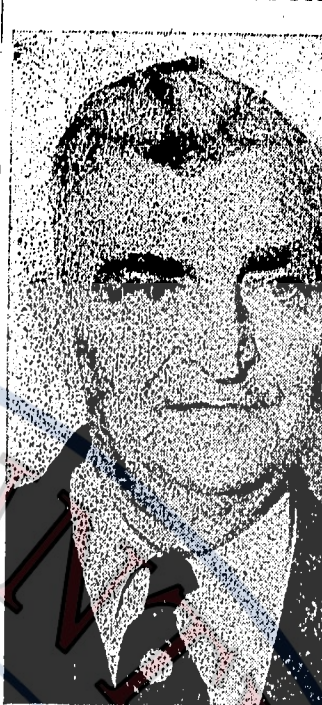

GREYHOUND PUPS WIN

It may be hard to teach an old dog new tricks but pups learn easily. The Eaton Rapids Greyhounds lost to Mason last Friday night 20-0. The Eaton Rapids reserves trounced the Mason reserves 26-0 under the lights at Mason Monday night. The Greyhound pups were just too big and fast for the Mason team. Had named Engle was the Greyhound star. Roger Hummel was outstanding on defense for Mason. The Mason backs were helpless on offense.

To save grain, inferior producers, diseased cows, shy breeders, and others in the herd which are not producing, should be eliminated. Michigan State college specialists say favorable beef prices make this practice especially desirable this winter.

Control Of Council Captured By Morrison and 3 Aldermen In Record Off-Year Balloting

MASON'S NEW MAYOR

Sidney A. Morrison

In a landslide vote Tuesday Sidney A. Morrison, plant engineer at Wyeth Incorporated, was elected mayor, defeating Arthur W. Jewett. For 14 years Jewett has served Mason as mayor and for two years before that was an alderman.

There was nothing personal between Morrison and Jewett. They were on friendly terms all during the campaign and an hour before the polls closed Tuesday night they stood and chatted at the corner of Jefferson and Ash. The two men assured each other that regardless of the outcome of the election they would remain on friendly terms.

Be Independent Vote Independent

And they did. There were no personal issues in the election. People voted in protest against various things. Some of the protest stemmed from the dissatisfaction with the zoning ordinance, more over the proposed water softener, and in the second ward over the failure of the council to do anything about a bridge on Elm street. Then there came the usual backlog of sentiment against continuing one group of men in power so long. Gordie Bashford again proved his political potency. Sixteen years ago he felt the time was ripe to organize a protest against Citizens—then the only party in the town. It was then the Peoples party won a lopsided victory. Two years later the Citizens mustered in and Bashford then organized a sticker campaign to elect Arthur W. Jewett as mayor. As the years rolled by and only a handful turned out for caucus and in off years only a few people went to the polls, Bashford's Jeffersonian principles began to give him trouble. He unshing his own lance for a few jousts with the council just to keep in practice. Then came the water softener proposal and Bashford came out strong for the kind of water that came up from wells. There were hard words traded at soft water hearings, and Bashford began to talk about another party. Less than a month ago he began to beat his war drum. It never grew loud but the master drummer never missed a beat. The tempo picked up all through Tuesday. Bashford put in a long day Tuesday. He was on hand for the counting Tuesday night. Lying back on the stairs at the court house as the vote counters droned on, the wily leader methodically notched his gun. He then wandered over to the second ward to watch the count awhile. He stood right by until the tumbrels arrived. Then he went on home to get out his pipe of peace and be ready to smoke it with the men he defeated Tuesday. That's one of the good things about Bashford and his brand of politics. He never lets personalities enter into his politics. Neither does he permit friendships to sway his political principles or hamper his political activities.

Just before caucus some less astute or less daring politicians attempted to coax Bashford into holding the Independent caucus on the night following the Peoples caucus, on the theory that the rebels might be able to force some changes at the Peoples caucus and then the Independent caucus could be called off.

"Not for me," replied Bashford. "I eat at the first table. We'll hold the caucus first and pick the candidates we want, regardless of what the other party does." There were twice as many people at the Independent caucus as Independents, hurriedly organized a month ago, swept into power in Mason Tuesday. They took every office, and by wide margins.

Sidney A. Morrison defeated Mayor Arthur W. Jewett two to one, 647 to 315. Mrs. Frances Peek Jacobs led the Independents. As treasurer she was elected over Robert J. Inghram, Jr., 664 to 296. Lee Darling, former alderman-at-large, made a brilliant comeback over Dr. Russell R. Robbins, 643 to 314.

The contest between veteran Leo H. Harrison, first ward alderman and supervisor, and Frank W. Dakin, the Independent candidate, was closer but the issue was almost settled on straight ballots. Dakin won his first political start in Mason by 101 votes, 306 to 205.

In the second ward W. Davis Post defeated Rex Stribley 343 to 101 for alderman, and C. Ray Beebe beat Warren O. Thompson 344 to 104 for constable.

Election of the Independents was conceded as soon as election inspectors had one look at straight tickets. In the second ward the Independents rolled up 257 straight votes to 73 straight for the Peoples party. There were only 127 splits in the second ward. First warders marked 238 straight Independent ballots to 119 straight for Peoples party candidates. There were only 154 straight to count in the first ward.

Here is the unofficial count:

	Ward 1	Ward 2	Total
Mayor
Morrison	320	327	647
Jewett	191	124	315
Treasurer
Mrs. Jacobs	330	334	664
Inghram	181	115	296
Alderman-at-Large
Darling	329	314	643
Robbins	184	130	314
First Ward Alderman and Supervisor
Dakin	306		306
Harrison	205		205
Second Ward Alderman
Post		343	343
Stribley		101	101
Second Ward Constable
Beebe		344	344
Thompson		104	104

were at the Peoples caucus, and more than twice as many voters of the Independent ticket as there were of the Peoples ticket.

Jim Davis was the leader of the People and he looked good even in defeat. He gave the campaign all he had and does not regret the time and energy he spent.

"There was a record vote for an off year," Davis remarked, "and that is an accomplishment. People were stirred out of their apathy."

Holdovers on the city council are Hugh Slisby, alderman-at-large; John Shepard, first ward alderman; and Guy S. Thorburn, second ward alderman and supervisor. Under Mason's charter the mayor has a vote only when a tie exists. George Kellogg, city clerk, and Frank Lester, city assessor, were elected last fall and have another year of their present terms.

Two years ago there were just 97 votes cast in the city election, 44 in the first ward and 53 in the second. Last fall at the general election after months of ballyhoo and on state and county tickets, and with Senator Vandenberg running, there were 1,132 votes cast in Mason, only 171 more than were cast Tuesday.

The Ingham County News did not print an extra—just a special. On Wednesday after the first six-page run of Thursday's paper, Page 1 and Page 2 of the third section were lifted from the press. Another Page 2 was substituted to keep the editorial page under wraps until Thursday, and Page 1 was made over with election news. The special had to be printed in self-defense because telephones kept ringing all the forenoon, the callers wanting to learn the election outcome.

New "Z" Disease Attacks Potatoes

A disease of potatoes relatively new to Michigan is showing up in an alarming manner in some potato growing sections of the state, reports Dr. John Vaughn, extension plant pathologist at Michigan State college. It is called "Z" disease of potatoes.

Two symptoms characterize the disease. The first is withering in the field, usually appearing late in the growing season. The other is a hard dark brown rot in a ring inside the tuber. As much as 30 per cent of the tubers in some fields have been affected. Many fields were refused certification because of the disease and some had so much of the tuber rot as to be declared unfit for sale of table stock.

According to Dr. Vaughn, the principle means of spreading the disease is by the planting of infected tubers. This puts the "Z" disease organism in the soil and it grows through the soil to infect other potato plants. It lives in the soil for many years and the only controls are the use of resistant varieties (Menominee is the most resistant of the commercial varieties grown in Michigan) or the practice of long rotation, which is usually not economical for Michigan growers.

Russet Rural is the most susceptible variety to "Z" disease and this variety is the main one grown in the upper peninsula. A survey made about two years ago in the U. P. showed none of the disease and it has not been discovered there since. For this reason it is particularly important that potatoes contaminated by "Z" disease be kept out of the upper peninsula.

Dr. Vaughn recommends that the potato grower search carefully to see if any "Z" disease is in his seed stock. If it has already appeared on his farm, he should either plant the resistant Menominee variety or begin the practice of a long rotation.

Public Forum

Chains to Block Progress

The plan to close the gravel drive at the west end of Athletic field to public travel by erecting chains where it intersects Elm, Cherry and South streets is dangerous. This drive has been used by the public, especially young people, to go from the east end of South street to the east end of Cherry street or Elm street for several years. Since the improvement of Athletic field and grading of city street, although it is on Athletic field property.

Now to protect the Athletic field fence and property owners on South and Cherry streets the school board plans to erect chains making East, South and East Cherry dead end streets, in fact, legally from the standpoint of the city they are now dead end streets. The school board and city officials have failed to get together in the interest of safety and progress. Hence the chains are in prospect.

If these thoroughfares are open to the public on the evenings of football games isn't it logical for some that they are open at all times? If some out of town visitor or Masonite runs into the chains and wrecks his car or is injured who will pay for the damage suit, car and doctor bills? Obviously the community will pay the cash costs. But that isn't all. Do you and I (the Mason community) want this constant traffic hazard in our community?

Also there is an economic and aesthetic factor involved. Dead end streets seldom attract desirable building construction. Does Mason want to keep East Cherry and South streets in the dead end class? Do we want this discouraging limitation on progress next to Athletic field.

One other point—in case of accident, no fair-minded jury would probably ignore the fact that at the east end of South street there is a street sign post marked Steel street and East South street. The writer does not know how long this sign has been there or what its legal effect is but in the public mind the inference is obvious. I have stated the highlights of the problem; other factors are involved. Is the proposed solution the best one? I do not think it is. What do you think?

State Cancels Driving Permits

Youngsters holding temporary driving permits under the old law are being notified that they can not legally drive. They will have to apply under the new state law for one-year licenses.

The law prohibiting boys and girls of 14 and 15 from driving except on business and to and from school and for other specific purposes became effective October 11.

It was announced that youngsters who had taken and passed their tests prior to October 11 would continue on the old permits. Now the state has revoked all those temporary permits and is refunding the money paid in by applicants.

Forms for the youngsters to fill out in applying for the new one-year licenses are now available at the examiner's office in Mason. The applications must go before a state licensing board.

Youth From Scotland Is Sampling American Farm Life in Ingham

Alexander H. Campbell, a Scottish lad of 20, is visiting the Hugh Osterle farm near Williamston as a guest of Robert Osterle for two weeks. He was selected by the British government from a group of farm boys as one of six young men from the British Isles to observe American farming methods and rural youth organizations.

Since Bob Osterle was one of 189 men to be awarded the American Farmer degree at the National Future Farmer's convention held last week in Kansas City, Mo. and being a guest at the convention, Bob's home was selected as the ideal place to acquaint the visitor with the American way of farming. Alex will leave Williamston to visit Canada for a few days. Later, he will attend the International Livestock show and be a guest of the National 4-H Club Congress held in Chicago early in December. He sails from New York on the Queen Mary for his home in Aberdeenshire, Scotland, December 11.

Big Sum Is Split Among Townships, Cities and Schools

Local Units Receive Cash From Sales Tax Diversion, Schools Receive $175,292

More reasons why the sales tax diversion amendment will probably not be repealed right away developed this week in the form of checks to local units. County Treasurer Lyle B. Austin is sending out an aggregate of $355,542.33 to its cities, townships, villages and school districts. All the money comes as a result of the sales tax diversion amendment adopted last fall, and it represents only the payments for the third quarter of 1947.

School districts are being paid at the rate of $5.19 per child included in the annual school census. Ingham schools received $175,292.25 on that basis.

The breakdown on schools was: Lansing, $95,231; Everett, $8,485; Lansing, $8,485; Wobbeville, $861; Leslie, $1,863; Mason, $4,183; Alalaud Township Unit, $1,826; Holt, $4,203; North, $2,787; Maple Grove, $3,295; East Lansing, $7,997; Ingham Township Agricultural school, $1,930; Haslett, $3,072; Okemos, $2,953; Stockbridge, $1,743; and Williamston, $2,392.

Rural one-room schools outside of the Alalaud Township Unit received $30,416.

City portions were: Lansing, $108,679; East Lansing, $8,057; Lansing, $3,956; and Williamston, $2,351. Villages got: Dansville, $484; Leslie, $1,767; Stockbridge, $1,175; and Wobbeville, $701.

The township checks were: Alalaud, $1,562; Aurelius, $1,316; Bunker Hill, $1,184; Delhi, $9,277; Ingham, $1,026; Lansing, $19,678; Leroy, $1,353; Leslie, $1,315; Locke, $1,352; Meridian, $6,578; Onondaga, $1,784; Stockbridge, $1,052; Vevay, $1,428; Wheatfield, $1,362; White Oak, $1,163; and Williamston, $1,349.

Crossings Guarded By School Patrol

Four dangerous intersections are now being guarded by a school patrol. The patrol system was set up last week and the boys took their posts Monday. Sanctioned by the Mason school board, the patrol is sponsored by the AAA.

Twenty boys headed by Stuart Taylor as chief make up the patrol. All of them are seventh and eighth graders. They patrol the intersections at Oak and Jefferson, Elm and Park, Barnes and Oak and Elm and Jefferson. They have control of grade pupils but follow a hands-off attitude on high school pupils. The patrols are on duty only while the grade pupils are going to and from school. The patrol hours are from 8:40 to 9:00, 11:20 until 12:00; 12:40 to 1:00 and 3:20 to 4:00.

Protest Is Lodged On Gaming Scheme

Harness racing under lights and parimutuel betting at the Ingham fairgrounds, the plan discussed at a county fair board meeting last week, is meeting with opposition. The W. C. T. U. has gone on record against it and on Monday the Lansing Ministerial association adopted a resolution in opposition to the plan.

The Lansing Ministerial association resolution set forth that "parimutuel betting is an overt form of gambling and is commonly associated with other practices of like pernicious nature." The official resolution resolved "that the Lansing Ministerial association, representing a large group of Christian citizens interested in maintaining the high moral standards of our community, do hereby go on record as earnestly opposed to the use of the Ingham county fairgrounds in this manner." The communication was signed by John E. Breck, president, and E. B. Briethaupt, secretary.

Joy O. Davis, secretary of the county fair board, asserted that a mountain is being made of a molehill. He insisted that the community would benefit from the races and that parimutuel betting has been legalized by the state. He also explained that Jack Ridgely has no connection with the group of men interested in securing the track for night racing. Davis said that he was misquoted regarding the use of Ridgely's name.

Water Softener Technical Errors Delay Action

Ordinance Adopted Oct. 20 Now Rescinded, Will Be Up For Consideration Later

Technical errors in the adoption of the water softener ordinance on October 20 forced the city council on Monday night to rescind its action and to start over again on the proceedings.

Aldermen discovered that in the adoption of the ordinance they had rescinded all former water ordinances and might be in the position of wishing city water free. No rates were included in the water softener ordinance. Another error was the matter of time. The ordinance set forth that it must be published within a week of its adoption by the council. The proceedings were so lengthy that involved that the week had flown before the copy for the legal notice could be prepared.

City Attorney O. J. Hood explained to the council how involved the proceedings were and how he had been unable to have a Detroit attorney for financial institutions dealing in municipal revenue bonds go over the papers.

Following a long discussion the aldermen decided to rescind the action taken in adoption of the ordinance October 20 and to restate the water rates which were unintentionally reduced to zero by the October 20 action.

Petitions for a referendum vote on the water softener issue were being circulated prior to the action of the council Monday night. Now there is no ordinance and so the referendum petitions are invalid. Circulators will have to start their petitions again following adoption of the revised water softener ordinance.

Learn of Errors
The tangled water softener proceedings were brought up following remarks by Glen Coon, local Consumers Power manager. He told the council members of the council that the council was in a hurry through resolutions and

Academic Issue
The water softener proposal is an academic issue for a spell. Although the old council had authorized the motion of authorizing the mayor and clerk to sign a contract with the General Filter Co., the contract hinges on a referendum upon sale of revenue bonds.

It is illegal for the council to name the bank as a depository for handling city funds, Coon insisted, because Alderman Harrison is president of the Farmers bank, and council is prohibited by law from doing business with a financial institution in which a member has a financial interest.

Coon declared that he was on friendly terms with all members of the administration and that his criticisms stemmed from friendship and a concern for civic responsibilities.

The council may change its ordinance banning all-night parking on park streets. The change will be to permit parking on streets from April 1 to November 1. The ordinance was adopted to keep streets clear for snow removal, aldermen said, and there is no attempt at enforcement during summer months. The aldermen also discussed changing the traffic ordinance to include the entire business section.

A move to force dog owners to keep their pets penned or on leash didn't get far. Alderman R. R. Robbins brought it up. Alderman Hugh W. Silby and L. H. Harrison, both owners of dogs, protested. They declared that owners should keep their dogs at home but that there is no need of an ordinance to keep dogs chained or penned.

Street Lighting Discussed
The council agreed to have a light at the corner of Henderson and Elm streets moved from the southwest corner to the northeast corner to give better light in front of the Church of the Nazarene.

City Engineer Walter E. Zimmer reported that complaints are being received on poor street lighting in Mason.

Coon replied that there are two factors causing a delay in installing new type lights. The main factor, he declared, is the refusal of the city council to enter into a contract for a period longer than a year. On five-year contracts, Power Co. can afford to install new equipment. The second factor, according to Coon, is the shortage of new standards. Manufacturers are behind in their deliveries, the local manager said.

BUBBLE GUM CHAMPS were crowned at the community Halloween party staged in the Legion Memorial building last Friday night. Bob Carris, shown at the right just getting set for the takeoff, was the winner. His bubble was something marvelous. The handsome miss in the middle was winner of second prize. She is Barbara Fell. Her bubble exploded over her own face and that of the judges. At the right and right in the act is Harry Cobby, winner of third place.

The Halloween party was a pronounced success. Refreshments were served to the little folks at school and kindergarten Friday afternoon. The party at the Legion building was fun for the fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth graders. Later the high school group took over the hall for a party following their return from the Eaton Rapids-Mason football game. Vast quantities of cider and fried cakes were consumed. The grade youngsters were awarded prizes for stunts and for costumes. They also witnessed acts of magic.

The Mason Kiwanis club sponsored the parties. Money from the proceeds of the Norma Lou Gregg concert was used to defray the expenses.

Christie Everitt, 55, is in the Mason hospital with internal injuries sustained Wednesday afternoon when he was tossed from his road commission truck as it overturned. Glen Scott, Onondaga, was discharged from the hospital Thursday morning with bruises and cuts. Everitt's condition is regarded as grave, hospital attendants said.

The truck driven by Everitt and the car driven by Scott collided at the corner of Elbert and Curtice roads. The car was smashed. The truck went out of control and down the road where it overturned. Officers who investigated the accident believe Everitt was thrown from the truck before it overturned.

Everitt was driving on Curtice road. Scott was driving on Elbert road.

New Party Gets Council Control In First Start

Voters Pick New Officers In Record Off-Year Voting, Independents Win 2 to 1

Given their choice of two slates of candidates, Mason voters showed an overwhelming preference for the Independents Tuesday. It was the first contested election in 16 years. Voters named a new mayor, three aldermen, a city treasurer and a constable. With one exception the winners were given 2 to 1 majorities. The exception was in the first ward where Alderman Leo H. Harrison came within 101 votes of his Independent opponent.

Sidney A. Morrison was elected mayor over Arthur W. Jewett, 647 to 315; Mrs. Frances Jacobs defeated Robert J. Ingham, Jr., 664 to 295 for treasurer; and Lee Darling trimmed Dr. Russell R. Robbins 643 to 314 for alderman-at-large.

In ward contests Frank W. Dakin defeated Alderman Harrison 308 to 205 for one of the first ward seats on the council. The office of county supervisor also goes with the office. Harrison is a veteran both on the council and the county board.

W. Davy Post was the winner over Rex Stribley 343 to 101 for the office of second ward alderman to succeed U. B. Shoemaker. Shoemaker refused to accept reelection. C. Ray Beebe was re-elected second ward constable over Warren Thompson, 344 to 104. Beebe was elected constable on the Peoples party ticket two years ago. He accepted nomination on the Independent ticket this year.

Straight voting gave the Independents a big margin. In the first ward there were 238 straight Independent to 119 straight Peoples ballots. The second ward count was 257 straight Independents to 73 straight Peoples.

The unofficial count is:

	Mayor	First Ward Alderman	Second Ward Alderman	Post	Stribley	Robbins	Beebe	Thompson
Morrison	647			343	343
Jewett	315			101	101
Jacobs		664
Ingham		295
Darkin			308
Harrison			205
Shoemaker				343	343
Stribley				101	101
Robbins						314
Beebe							344
Thompson							104	104

Stern Facts Face New City Officers

Mayor Sid Morrison and the city council will have to swing into action quickly following their receipt of congratulations. There are important issues facing the council.

Even with the water softener and the municipal power issues shoved into the background there remains plenty for the council to do, and not too much with which to do it.

The state health department and the stream control commission have demanded that the city replace and expand facilities at the disposal plant and build new sanitary and storm sewers to serve out-lying areas. At least $100,000 will be needed to cover the cost. Then there is the Elm street bridge for which no provision has been made in the budget, although Monday night's session the council tentatively agreed to start work on the arch and roadway.

A debt of $8,000 is owed to the Peris Construction Co. for paving on Lansing and North streets. Receipts from the sales tax and from the city's share of weight and gas taxes have helped the old council out of a hole and should do the same for the new.

In Power At Once
Under the Mason charter there is no honeymoon for elected officials. They must take up their burdens at once. The old council meets Thursday night to canvass the votes and then adjourns forever. From then on the responsibility belongs to the new council.

The six aldermen include three from each party—Dakin, Darling and Post, as a result of Tuesday's election, and John Shepard, Hugh W. Silby and Guy S. Thorburn of the Peoples party.

The budget for next year has been adopted but there is the appointment list which must be worked out within a few weeks. Under the charter the mayor appoints the superintendent of utilities, the city attorney, the three policemen, city engineer and fire chief along with members of the planning commission and the cemetery board as their terms expire.

THE GOOD OLD DAYS looked something like this. Here is the court house square in Mason back in the 80s when the salesmen who called on the mayor and aldermen sold hitching posts instead of parking meters. No one had ever hit upon the plan then to charge customers for parking in town. The city provided the rails. Later the hitching posts became more ornate. It was in the early 20s before the last of the hitching posts were removed. Many of those saplings in the picture are now the big trees on the court house lawn.

went to the polls. Bashford's Jeffersonian principles began to give him trouble. He unsling his own lance for a few jousts with the council just to keep in practice. Then came the water softener proposal and Bashford came out strong for the kind of water that comes up from wells. There were hard words traded at soft water hearings, and Bashford began to talk about another party. Less than a month ago he began to beat his water drum. It never grew loud but the master drummer never missed a beat. The tempo picked up all through Tuesday. Bashford put in a long day Tuesday. He was on hand for the counting Tuesday night. Lying back on the stairs at the court house as the vote counters droned on, the wily leader methodically notched his gun. He then wandered over to the second ward to watch the count awhile. He stood right by until the tumbrels arrived. Then he went on home to get out his pipe of peace and the ready to smoke it with the men he defeated Tuesday. That's one of the good things about Bashford and his brand of politics. He never lets personalities enter into his politics. Neither does he permit friendships to sway his political principles or hamper his political activities.

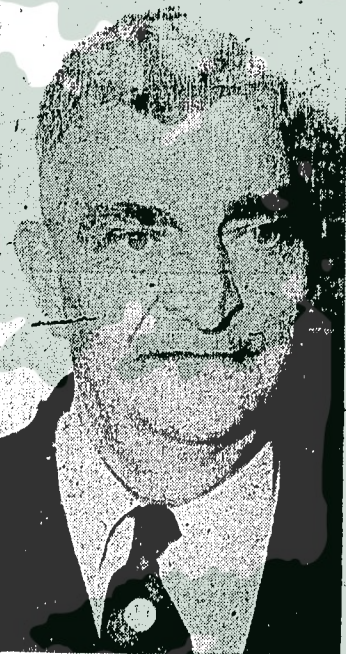

Just before caucus some less astute or less daring politicians attempted to coax Bashford into holding the independent caucus on the night following the Peoples caucus, on the theory that the rebels might be able to force some changes at the Peoples caucus and then the independent caucus could be called off.

"I eat for me," replied Bashford. "I eat at the first table. We'll hold our caucus first and pick the candidates we want regardless of what the other party does."

There were twice as many people at the independent caucus as were at the Peoples caucus, and more than twice as many voters of the independent ticket as there were of the Peoples ticket.

Jim Davis was the leader of the People and he looked good even in defeat. He gave the campaign all he had and does not regret the time and energy he spent. "There was a record vote for an off year," Davis remarked, "and that is an accomplishment. People were stirred out of their apathy." The Ingham County News did

Sidney A. Morrison

In a landslide vote Tuesday Sidney A. Morrison, plant engineer at Wyeth Incorporated, was elected mayor, defeating Arthur W. Jewett. For 14 years Jewett has served Mason as mayor and for two years before that was an alderman.

There was nothing personal between Morrison and Jewett. They were on friendly terms all during the campaign and an hour before the polls closed Tuesday night they stood and chatted at the corner of Jefferson and Ash. The two men assured each other that regardless of the outcome of the voting they would remain on friendly terms.

not print an extra—just a special. On Wednesday after the first six-page run of Thursday's paper, Page 1 and Page 2 of the third section were lifted from the press. Another Page 2 was substituted to keep the editorial page under wraps until Thursday, and Page 1 was made over with election news. The special had to be printed in self-defense because telephones kept ringing all the forenoon, the callers wanting to learn the election outcome.

"Be Independent" proved a better slogan than the "Can-Do" which was coined by the strategists of the Peoples party.

FINDS ERROR—Florence Field, instructor of mathematics at Jackson Junior college, found an error in the Encyclopedia Americana in the "conic sections." Miss Field went hunting in reference books for material to substantiate her point in class and to convince two students that she was right. She found testimony confirming her stand in several books but detected some misinformation in the Encyclopedia Americana. She notified the editors and received a request from them to write the revision. Miss Field was born in Mason the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Field.

Huge Sums Required for Defense, Blackney Tells Mason Audience

William W. Blackney, congressman from the sixth district, spoke before the Lions club in Mason Wednesday evening. He spoke before the Lions club in Mason Wednesday evening. The congressman pointed out that the above figures indicated not one cent being paid on the principal of the national debt, only the interest due on bonds and other national obligations. Almost one-half of the current receipts of the national government, in addition to the foregoing, is being given away or loaned on securities of doubtful value to European nations, Congressman Blackney asserted. Only $10.0 of each $1000 collected by the federal treasury is required to meet the ordinary expense of administration at Washington and throughout the nation, he explained. More is paid out in various forms of welfare and almost as much in farm subsidies as is required to meet administrative operating costs, it was stated.

Congressman Blackney was guest speaker before the Mason Lions club at its regular dinner meeting Wednesday evening. A number of local guests of club members were present. The K. of P. hall to capacity.

Describing congress as a cross section of the entire country and truly representative of its citizenry, the congressman pointed to the fact that comparatively few business men take the trouble to seek membership. There are four lawyers to every man from the business world now in congress, according to the speaker.

Speaking on foreign affairs, Congressman Blackney paid high tribute to Michigan's senior senator, Arthur H. Vandenberg. He described the senator as the best informed person in Washington on international matters. The congressman predicts some loans to certain foreign countries but decries the possibility of giving the department of state or the president blank checks for all they may want to hand out. He believes congress will insist on holding the purse strings.

In speaking of the matter of national defense, the pending bill providing for universal military training for all youths between the age of 18 and 20 was discussed. After explaining briefly the provisions of the bill now pending and

Search Continues For Tire Thieves

Sheriff's officers and Mason police officers are searching for the thieves who made off with two new tires from J. B. Dean's Ford garage Saturday afternoon. The officers have the license number of the car and the name of one of the men involved but he has fled the county.

Two men drove into the garage Saturday afternoon to have repairs made to their car. While repairs were being made and the office attendant was outside the men walked off with two tires. After the men left with their car the tires were missed.

Inquiry on the street disclosed that two men were seen walking north of State street with the tires. Hugh W. Silby, at the Silby Implement Co., was consulted and he suggested that the rank growth of weeds at the State street bridge would be a good place for the thieves to hide the tires until they could return at night and get them. Sure enough, that's where the tires were found. They were left there for the thieves. Policeman Louis Lee was given the Silby Implement pickup truck and agreed to stand by with it at the gas station on the corner to watch for the thieves. The two men did return. They left their car, leaped down the creek bank, picked up the tires, ran back to their car and left in a hurry. Officer Lee, unfamiliar with the pickup, was unable to get the motor started until the thieves had made their getaway.

Hydraulic Lift Implements OPERATE AT A FINGER'S TOUCH

Oil pressure in the hydraulic system does the heavy lifting for you on the new A-C field cultivator, moldboard and disc plows and other tractor-mounted implements. The small hydraulic-lift lever is located on the tractor where you can reach it easily. A flick of your hand raises or lowers the heaviest implements, saves many tons of arm work every season.

In addition to easier operation, Allis-Chalmers hydraulic-lift implements do a smoother job, ride evenly at the depth you set. They can help you take advantage of new developments in soil and moisture conservation.

Book Talk

From Ingham County Library

Agents selling almost everything are back on the road again and much more annoying sometimes, are knocking at your door. Among them will be book salesmen, particularly the ones who are selling sets of books. For your own peace of mind, after you have listened to the sales talk and realize that you are not being a good parent by depriving your child of the set involved, we suggest that you tell the agent you would like to think about it, and at your earliest convenience telephone, or better still, stop at the library and see what our reference materials say about the set. We subscribe to SUBSCRIPTION BOOKS BULLETIN, which is a small pamphlet-type magazine which reviews sets of books such as encyclopedias, various indexes, dictionaries, maps, picture materials. It is done by a committee of the American Library Association. They make a practice to tell you whether the books are what the agents say they are, whether they have been recently revised, whether the material is accurate, and for whom it would be most suited.

HOPE OF EARTH by Margaret Runbeck was a very satisfactory novel. It is the story of a young couple who have been wealthy, but are almost penniless when they arrive in Illinois in the early 1800's to begin their estate. Anoret has found a certain goodness in all that God plans and His working out of that plan, but Stephen lives for the moment when he can return to the East and live as a gentleman. The story is of their growth, their deep love for each other, and their final acceptance that a unity of purpose is also essential to perfect happiness. Walter Edmonds returns to the current literary field with a novel entitled, WEDDING JOURNEY. It was a four-day trip by packet boat from Schenectady to Buffalo in 1835 and the captain broke the record, but that did not keep young Roger from getting in trouble. The story's excellence lies in the author's picture of canal life and the life along the docks. LITFEY LANE by Maura Lavery has a little of the elements of TREE GROWS IN BROOKLYN. It is the story of a 13 year old who lives in the slum area of Dublin, of the love she has for humanity and her reactions to those she meets, from her small adopted cousin Kevin, to her gambling brother Lars, and her beloved Sister Martha who was her best friend and who gave her a matchless gift.

New "Z" Disease Attacks Potatoes

A disease of potatoes relatively new to Michigan is showing up in an alarming manner in some potato growing sections of the state, reports Dr. John Vaughn, extension plant pathologist at Michigan State college. It is called "Z" disease of potatoes.

Two symptoms characterize the disease. The first is a ring in the field, usually appearing late in the growing season. The other is a hard dark brown rot in a ring inside the tuber. As much as 30 per cent of the tubers in some fields have been affected. Many fields were refused certification because of the disease and some had so much of the tuber rot as to be declared unfit for sale of table stock.

According to Dr. Vaughn, the principle means of spreading the disease is by the planting of infected tubers. This puts the "Z" disease organism in the soil and it grows through the soil to infect other potato plants. It lives in the soil for many years and the only controls are the use of resistant varieties (Menominee is the most resistant of the commercial varieties grown in Michigan) and the practice of long rotation, which is usually not economical for Michigan growers.

Russet Rural is the most susceptible variety to "Z" disease and this variety is the main one grown in the upper peninsula. A survey made about two years ago in the U. P. showed none of the disease and it has not been discovered there since. For this reason it is particularly important that potatoes contaminated by "Z" disease be kept out of the upper peninsula.

Dr. Vaughn recommends that the potato grower search carefully to see if any "Z" disease is in his seed stock. If it has already appeared on his farm, he should either plant the resistant Menominee variety or begin the practice of a long rotation.

Public Forum

Chains to Block Progress

The plan to close the gravel drive at the west end of Athletic field to public travel by erecting chains where it intersects Elm, Cherry and South streets is dangerous. This drive has been used by the public, especially young people, to go from the east end of South street to the east end of Athletic field for several years. Since the improvement of Athletic field and grading of the drive it has been used as a city street, although it is an Athletic field property.

Now to protect the Athletic field fence and because of a protest by some property owners on South and Cherry streets the school board plans to erect chains making East, South and East Cherry dead end streets, in fact. Legally from the standpoint of the city they are now dead end streets. The school board and city officials have failed to get together in the interest of safety and progress. Hence the chains are in prospect.

If these thoroughfares are open to the public on the evenings of football games isn't it logical for uniformed young people to assume that they are open at all times? If some out of town visitor or Masonite runs his car or is injured who will pay for the damage suit, car and doctor bills? Obviously the community will pay the cash costs. But that isn't all. Do you and I (the Mason community) want this constant traffic hazard in our community?

Also there is an economic and aesthetic factor involved. Dead end streets seldom attract desirable building construction. Does Mason want to keep East Cherry and South street in the dead end class? Do we want this discouraging limitation on progress next to Athletic field?

One other point—in case of accident, no fair-minded person would probably ignore the fact that at the east end of South street there is a street sign post marked Steel street and East South street. The writer does not know how long this sign has been there or what its legal effect is but in the public mind the inference is obvious. I have stated the highlights of the problem; other factors are involved. In the proposed solution the best one I do not think it is. What do you think?

Grand Ledge Here Friday For Last Game At Home

Eaton Rapids Meets Defeat By Three Touchdowns Before Mason Attack

Mason's 1947 football season, and a highly successful one it has been, is rapidly drawing to a close. The final conference game of the year will be played Friday night under the lights at Mason's Athletic field. Friday night will also mark the final home appearance of the 1947 grid machine, Grand Ledge's Comets will be out for blood with the bitter taste of last year's 33-0 defeat strong in their mouths.

Grand Ledge holds a 7-7 tie with Charlotte, the only team to knock off Mason this year. The Comet touchdown power comes mainly from Tom Vandersteen and Mike Armstrong. This pair has been a thorn in the side of the opposition all year. Both are big fellows who have a habit of going in the right direction on a football field.

Three Touchdowns Made Mason had little trouble in snowing under the Eaton Rapids Greyhounds 20-0 last Friday night in spite of a slippery field and numerous penalties. Coach Louis Lorr's boys picked up yardage at will and scored twice in the first quarter and once in the last quarter. Red Johnson booted two of the three extra points through the uprights.

Eaton Rapids received the kick off but could not push the ball ahead. Joe Johnson fumbled Paul Hanuman's punt on Mason's 40 as he was snowed under by tacklers. The ball ended up in Red Johnson's hands and he went all the way to the Eaton Rapids 30. Barney Curtis skirted end for a first down on the 19. An incomplete pass and a man in motion penalty pushed Mason back but Curtis on a reverse went all the way to the 5. Fell broke through tackle on a cross buck to score. Johnson's kick was good and Mason took an early lead. Eaton Rapids' offense failed to click and after a couple of punt exchanges, Mason ended up with the ball on the midstripe. Curtis sped 25 yards to the 25 yard line. Bob Lyons on an end around play picked up three yards. Curtis then went all the way to the 2, but the gain was nullified by a penalty. Fell plunged to the 8-yard line and on the next play Curtis crossed the goal line. There was no touchdown though as there was a Mason clipping charge on the play. Again Mason started on the march. Lyons on end around went to the 10-yard line. Fell slipped through the center for a counter. Johnson booted a good one and Mason was in front 14-0.

Hornets Win Title In Scoring Spree

In the second quarter Eaton Rapids started a drive when Paul Hanuman, alternately running and passing, picked up two first downs in a row but the attack bogged down in Mason territory. Mason launched another touchdown campaign with Curtis and Merrill Snyder carrying the ball but the half cut the drive short.

Touchdown Made Mason had the ball rolling shortly after the second half opened when Joe Johnson went around end for 15 yards then laterated to brother Roy who lugged the ball 20 yards further to Eaton Rapids' 25-yard line. A couple of plays later Roy Johnson went all the way to the 5. Joe Johnson went to the 2 but a five yard motion penalty put Mason back. Eaton Rapids took over the ball on downs and worked the pignish back up the field until Barney Curtis intercepted a pass intended for Nickerson and raced to the 12. On the next play Curtis went to the one-yard line from where Roy Johnson lugged it into pay dirt. Johnson's kick was wide. The score read 20-0. Mason had a couple of other scoring opportunities but failed to cash in on them. Eaton Rapids couldn't do anything until late in the last quarter when they opened up with desperation passes, some of which connected to put the ball in Mason territory. Mason's line rose to the occasion and snowed under the Greyhound attack and held until the end of the game.

Mason's line was the key to the victory over Eaton Rapids. The Greyhounds couldn't get anywhere on the ground and Eaton Rapids passers were rushed so hard that the aerial game was ineffective. Harold Ware at center led Mason's sterling line play with Dan Garver, George Whyte and Ron Stoltz turning in great games. Joe Johnson, at quarter, called a fine game as well as turning in long runs himself. Fell was sharp on line bucks and Roy Johnson and Barney Curtis turned in their usual fine games. Mason's passing game was not up to snuff. This might have been due to the greasy field and ball.

Right Half Bruce Smith of Eaton Rapids was a thorn in the sides of Mason backs all night. He refused to be blocked out of plays and

GREYHOUND PUPS WIN
It may be hard to teach an old dog new tricks but pups learn easily. The Eaton Rapids Greyhounds lost to Mason last Friday night 20-0. The Eaton Rapids reserves trounced the Mason reserves 26-0 under the lights at Mason Monday night. The Greyhound pups were just too big and fast for the Mason team. A lad named Engle, a Greyhound pup, Roger Hummel was outstanding on defense for Mason. The Mason backs were helpless on offense.

Orioles and Comets Win Circuit Tilts

Charlotte and Grand Ledge both came through conference tests last Friday. The Comets defeating Everett 19-0 and Grand Ledge getting by Howell 6-0.

The Orioles punched across the Viking goal in each of the first three periods. Everett was unable to get past the Charlotte 30-yard stripe. Duane Rosenbrook grabbed a pass from Clint Frier for the first touchdown. Dan Brown crashed across with a spinner in the second period. Ray Dane galloped 38 yards through tackle for the third touchdown. Gerald Giza, and Paul and Joe Williams were the Everett stars.

The Comets didn't do much scoring against Howell. Grand Ledge marched 60 yards down the field in the second quarter and Harry Kinney plunged the final three yards to cross the goal.

Howell reached the 3 in the last quarter but the Comets turned back the threat.

Glamor Gal

Anne Jeffreys poses in all her finery as a cabaret girl of the 1880's, co-starring with Randolph Scott, Robert Ryan and George "Gabby" Hayes in "Trail Street," coming to the Fox on Tuesday and Wednesday.

FILM NEWS

"The Beast With Five Fingers," is scheduled to open Saturday at the Fox Theatre. Starring Robert Alda, Andrea King and Peter Lorre, the film revolves around a young and beautiful girl's struggle to escape the mystery which surrounds an old mansion in North Italy. Lending support to the stars are other important roles as veteran character actors Victor Trancena and J. Carroll Nash.

"The Beast With Five Fingers" presents Andrea King in the role of Julie Holden, nurse-companion to Francis Ingram (Victor Trancena), a retired, semi-invalid concert pianist living in these surroundings, who still manages to play the piano brilliantly with his left hand in spite of a paralytic stroke.

Gable's New Picture

"The Hucksters," the Sunday and Monday feature at the Fox, cast Clark Gable as the ingratulating Vice President who comes back from the war with fifty dollars in his pocket, spends most of it on a necktie that will impress the head of the Kimberly Advertising Agency, and ends up by impressing everyone else, including the insouciant and impetuous soap manufacturer, Bryan Llewellyn Evans who hires him to put over a "Love That Soap" radio program, spurs him on to some diverting Hollywood intrigues in an effort to lure a come away from a rival sponsor, and almost but not quite succeeds in breaking up his romance with Kay Dorrance.

Marshal "Bat" Masterson

"Trail Street," a story of the Kansas of nearly seventy years ago stars Randolph Scott, Robert Ryan, Anne Jeffreys and George "Gabby" Hayes. It will be shown as the Tuesday and Wednesday feature at the Fox.

The surrounding farmers of the small town of Liberal are facing ruin owing to the destruction of their crops by herds of cattle being moved to the railroad by lawless trail drivers. The sheriff has been killed and the town is at the mercy of the lawless element, when the farmers call for help. "Bat" Masterson, famed U. S. Marshall, comes to their rescue. Masterson mobilizes and arms the farmers, and in the ensuing battle for possession of the town, the cowmen are vanquished and law and order is established.

Double Feature

Luckily for Shelton, his fiancée, portrayed by Jean Porter, is able to foil the racketeers but he spends some very unpleasant moments trying to raise the $10,000 blackmail money demanded by the singer. The picture will be shown at the Fox as half of the Thursday and Friday double feature.

The Hoosier Hot Shots are the stars of "Smoky River Serenade," coming to the Fox on Thursday and Friday.

The story brings the Hoosiers to the Smoky River Ranch, owned by their old friend, Pop Robinson. When the boys discover that Pop is broke and might lose his ranch, they decide to run a beauty contest which will bring large crowds of pleasure-seekers to the area.

Glad Bulbs Need Correct Storage

Gladiolus bulbs that are in storage now should be given special care for nice blooms next spring, according to Paul Krone, horticulturist at Michigan State college. After harvest, the bulbs should be stored for three to four weeks in a fairly warm, well-ventilated basement. By then they will be dry enough to separate the old bulb and roots. Outer husks should not be removed from the bulbs or they will shrink in storage. Destroy the old dried up bulbs, roots and any new bulbs that show disease.

Place the bulbs in mesh bags, such as onion bags, or in flats or trays. For the rest of the winter they can be stored in a cool part of the basement at a temperature of 55 to 60 degrees Fahrenheit. Don't store the bulbs in airtight containers. Thrrips can be controlled by dusting the bulbs, after cleaning but before storing, with five per cent DDT. Cover the bulbs thoroughly but lightly and don't inhale the dust.

RESOLUTIONS MEAN LITTLE

The American Legion, V. F. W., Kiwanis International, Lions International, Rotary, U. A. W., Federal Council of Churches and other national organizations meet frequently and when they do they pass resolutions. And that's all right if the proper perspective is held. It's all wrong when the 10 or 12 directors or the handful of delegates insist that they represent millions or even thousands of members.

Kiwanis International has gone on record in favor of peacetime conscription and the Kiwanis magazine has now closed its columns to opponents of the measure. Delegates to the national convention or members of the board of directors committed Kiwanis as an organization to peacetime conscription. No poll was ever taken of individual clubs or of individuals. Ordinary Kiwanis club members have never had an opportunity to express themselves on peacetime conscription.

Kiwanis International is no different in this respect than other organizations. The American Legion is a great adopter of resolutions, and some people jump to the conclusion that what the Legion or the V. F. W. resolves is what every member of those organizations and every service man thinks or should think. There are some 15 million service men in the United States. Perhaps one-quarter of them are members of the Legion or V. F. W. Just a mere fraction of that membership is represented in a national convention. Here in the Mason post of the Legion in 28 years there has not been one delegate who has had any part of any national committee report.

The same situation prevails in the Federal Council of Churches. The council speaks out and there are people who believe that its pronouncements represent the combined thinking of all the Protestant churches. No such thing! The resolutions represent only the majority opinion of the 10 or 12 men serving on some board or committee. Members of churches are never polled. They are never asked to express themselves on the issues.

Resolutions adopted by national organizations mean only that the few people on the board of directors or the resolutions committee present at some meeting went on record for this or that, regardless of what they actually believed.

Resolutions adopted by state and national organizations do little harm if they are accepted for what they are—the expressions of a few people upon some issue about which most of them know no more than the rest of us. They are harmful and misleading when they are set forth as being the resolves of the entire membership.

AMERICANS WANT TO RELIEVE SUFFERING

There are few Americans who want to turn their backs upon suffering in Europe or elsewhere in the world. We want to feed the hungry. We don't want the matter of relief, though, mixed up with politics. We don't want our goods and our money used by one faction to pay off scores against another. We don't want to have our goods traded away to coax people to give their allegiance to us. We don't want U. S. relief funds used for building up giant industrial complexes.

Americans are not only willing, they are anxious to give aid to Europe, but they want that aid handled so it will reach all the suffering. They don't want the money used to extend the nationalization of industry in Great Britain. They don't want the money used to further enslave the common people of Europe. They want it handled like the Hoover commission handled European relief after World War I. They want politics left out.

There are a few people, only a few, who ask what's the use of helping Europe? Those we help won't thank us. We helped them before and then they called us names.

The common people we helped didn't call us any hard names. The names were shouted by politicians, and few of them in Europe or anywhere else ever go hungry or have to stand long in the breadlines.

It's only natural that people soon forget what has been done for them. A philosopher observed many years ago that everyone takes pleasure in returning small obligations, many go so far as to acknowledge moderate ones; but there is hardly anyone who does not repay great ones with ingratitude.

For their sake and for our sake we must help the suffering people in the devastated areas.

HONEST MEN DON'T FEAR THE LIGHT

A great wave of protest went up when the Dies committee conducted investigations. Hollywood stars, most of them leftwingers, and Hollywood leftist writers, have organized a drive to force abandonment of the present congressional probe into communism in the movies. Here in Michigan there was a great to-do when Representative Clare Hoffman came to investigate the handling by state police of strike rioting.

The Dies committee was forced out because of the attacks made against it by persons who had good reasons not to have the probe continued. The senate probe into army war contracts was adjourned because of the clamor made in behalf of politicians and industrialists who didn't want to have certain facts disclosed. The Hollywood probe is being attacked by people who are anxious that the public be kept ignorant of fifth column activities here in the film capital of the world. The Hoffman probe has been assailed in behalf of people who don't want the public to learn why the state police fail to give protection to men and women who want to work.

Honest men fear neither the light nor the dark. Screen stars and screen writers who are not leftists or members of communist-front organizations have nothing to fear from the Hollywood probe. Sheriffs and other law-enforcing officials who did their duty have nothing to fear from the Hoffman investigation. Industrialists who gave value received on their war contracts and didn't spend fortunes in getting them are unworried over developments in the war contract probe.

Honest men fear neither the dark nor the light.

LOSING $10,000 IS BAD ENOUGH

Yes, it's bad to lose $10,000 or $13,000 in the operation of a county fair. It would be even worse though to make $10,000 or $13,000 or even $25,000 by selling out to race track gamblers. We can better afford to lose $10,000 than we can to make $25,000 by entering into partnership with a gambling syndicate.

"The fair board needs the money," the tempters say. "By having night racing under the lights and pari-mutuel betting like Northville that $10,000 deficit can be quickly wiped out. Think of it, Northville gets $25,000 for permitting Northville Downs to operate and the village doesn't own the track or any of the buildings. That money is being used for a community

State Payrolls Climb Up and Up Under Civil Service Schedules

Wage Cost to Taxpayers Has Been Doubled Since the Beginning of Michigan Civil Service, Featherbedding Has Packed State Payrolls

By Vernon J. Brown

Pursuing the same subject touched upon in this column last week, let us go a little further in exploring Michigan's so-called payroll emergency. This is written two days before the day set for the special session called by the governor to raise the pay of state job-holders. What the legislature will do is still in question. In issuing the call, Governor Sigler pointed to assertions made by Thomas Wilson, director for the Civil Service Commission, who is quoted as the authority for the statement that 1,500 employees had left the service of the state during recent weeks. Let us see if this is so awful as to create an emergency.

Such a desertion of state employment would reduce the average number employed during the last fiscal year to 19,567 which is almost exactly 1,000 more than sufficed during 1946, and 1,000 more than showed on the payrolls for 1942—five years ago. It also shows more than 2,000 increase over those drawing state pay 10 years ago.

Take a look at the record since the present Civil Service Commission came into power. Here it is:

For the fiscal year ended	Average No. Emp.	Annual Payroll
June 30, 1939	17,366	$25,531,000
1940	17,691	25,849,000
1941	18,850	28,100,000
1942	18,717	21,367,000
1943	17,171	31,350,000
1944	16,038	33,181,000
1945	16,159	33,349,000
1946	18,793	42,200,000
1947	21,067	51,535,000

This table shows that in 1947 there are 3,700 more employees drawing more than twice as much money as was covered by the payrolls of 1939.

Rolls Slimmed by War

During the war years from 1942 to 1945, a large number of state employees, both men and women, left state service for war service. The general practice in all departments was to leave the places vacant so that when the war was over these service men and wom-ways has been. Since first remarked about it, two thousand years ago. "He who blushes at riding in a rattletrap will boast when he rides in style."

Being so interested in UN affairs, Senator Vandenberg, in his address at the University of Michigan Monday called for an unpartisan American foreign policy. That was a happy choice of words. Bi-partisan means something satisfactory to two parties. Non-partisan means something not controlled by partisanship. Unpartisan probably means something that was partisan before it was unpartisan; like hitch and unhitch, or loosen and unloosen, as some folks say. "Herman, Herman, the cow loose or throw her over the fence some day."

But on the other hand, as statesmen are wont to point out, Un-American carries approbrium, meaning that person's actions border on treason. Viewed from that angle, an unpartisan approach is something traitorous to partisanship. If a man is partisan to UN he won't like to be told he should adopt an unpartisan policy.

Two rugged, good-looking youngsters are Jerry and Jack Allen, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Allen of Danville, Jerry is 13, Jack was a year old a month ago. A farmer has the advantage of a city man in being a father. A farmer father can grow up with his young, he can be with them and live with them, work with them. So many city fathers go days without seeing their children awake. The father leaves for work before the children are awake and returns after they are in bed.

Why farm boys and girls often have better manners and appear more mature than their city cousins is the result of sharing family responsibilities and of having the feeling they belong to a family unit. They have work to do. They put away their childish ways and their childish ways ahead of city boys and girls.

A farm boy who works with his father takes on his father's mannerisms early. Farm boys are more apt than city boys to be like their fathers because farm fathers and sons are together during the time when the child is the most impressionable. That's why it is so important for farm fathers to set good examples.

Of course, there are farm boys and girls who mature slowly and probably there are some who get ripe too quick. In Paul's epistle to the Corinthians he spoke in beautiful language of growing up. "When I was a child, I spoke as a child, I understood as a child, I thought as a child; but when I became a man, I put away childish things."

What the world needs today is more people to put away childish things at 16 and at 60.

Ethelyn Hanna, senior over at Danville, is a sweet singer. Her development into a fine young woman shows what a father can do with the help of the church and good people in the community. Ethelyn's mother died 10 years ago.

building; a gift from the Northville Driving association and the gambling operator. Nobody gets hurt. Nobody has to bet unless he wants to. The state sanctions the racing and the betting. You could certainly use some of that kind of dough here."

Those are not arguments. They are not even good excuses. Northville does get about $25,000 for countenancing big time harness racing and big time gambling (they go together). Northville people may figure that they might as well have the money as anyone else, that there is gambling anyway and so Northville might as well have it there at a profit.

Northville people have their own problems. People in Northville may be just as virtuous as they are in Mason, Leslie, Stockbridge or Lansing. Yet it just seems somehow that big-time gambling is wrong, no matter what use is made of a small share of the take. To give a village or a county fair board some $25,000 a year the operators of the track take many times that amount from many people who can't afford to lose it. A lot of suckers have to be drawn through the turnstiles to be able to reward a municipality to the tune of $25,000.

Losing $10,000 on a county fair is bad enough. Getting that money back, and more with it through big-time gambling is worse.

en could be assured of their places. No phase of state service, outside of the mental hospital group, suffered from their temporary absence. Others carried the load. No essential state service was abandoned and no serious complaint was ever heard from any source, either from department heads or from the public.

If now 1500 have decided to accept more favorable pay or for other reasons they have decided to quit, so much the better.

The legislature will do well to ponder the matter before yielding to a demand for $3,000,000 to $5,000,000 more to hand out to feather-bedding jobholders basking in the warmth and security of the protection offered by Civil Service.

The Prison Plaque

The governor has set his teeth into another person in the form of his state prison plaque. Five eminent citizens of Michigan, most of whom have given years of service to the state without a penny of remuneration, have resigned from the prison commission. It will not be easy to find men or women of equal repute and ability to accept appointment as their successors.

Let us take a look at the men who resigned in a body rather than submit to further indignities at the hands of the governor. Leading off is Leslie Kefauver of Bay City, prominent in his own section of the state, a leading business man and civic minded citizen. Les Kefauver has put his best into the job of policy making for Michigan's penal institutions and their industrial operations and the years. Next in prominence, I would judge, is Fred R. Johnson of Detroit. Johnson for many years has identified himself with social and economic groups. He is recognized as an authority in this field and has a wide following who believe in his integrity and his ability.

Berry L. Beaman of Jackson is another outstanding gentleman. He has many business and industrial connections and in and about his home city where Michigan's largest prison is located, the name of Berry Beaman is counted upon as tops. Dr. Edgar Jones, eminent Methodist preacher and minister of Detroit, is also widely known—inside and outside the church. Dr. Jones certainly would never condone wrongdoing in any institution with which he is connected, either public or semi-public. He resigned with the others. The fifth, and perhaps the least known except in his own locality, is William L. Fitzgerald of Kalamazoo, secretary of the board.

Most of this type accept appointments to positions of trust in state government solely because they believe they can be of benefit to the people of the state. They do not like being made scapegoats, they do not relish being ignored, they do not propose to lend their good names only to have them besmirched. When such men resign in a body, there must be good reasons for their concerted action.
