Heavy Calendar Scheduled for Circuit Court

January Term of Court Will Open Monday With Jury Coming January 16

Jurors summoned for duty at the January term of circuit court face a busy six weeks or more. There are 44 cases on the criminal calendar with 31 jury civil cases also listed. Probably half of those charged with crime will enter guilty pleas, and usually not more than half the jury civil cases listed are tried. Even at that, the Jelnuary term is likely to be long.

The judges have adopted a new program for scheduling civil trials. Two weeks ago the attorneys interested in the litigation were sent copies of the calendar entries and were asked to agree on trial dates. Jurors now get higher pay and more mileage than tian hills than it was on Williamsthey did before the 1949 legisla- ton road in Ingham county for Rolture changed the law, and they land H. Howlett. Lansing city ordinance case appeals on the criminal calendar for the January term are those of Ernest Muckle, Ferris C. Mutter, Douglas Sweet, Marguerite Felton and Robert Van Alstine.

On the chancery calendar are 16 non-contested and 192 contested cases. One hundred twentyfour of them are divorce matters. There are 157 cases listed on the

County Board Will Consider Hospital Lease

Hospital Lease Transfer To Sparrow Will Come Up At Board Meeting Monday

Ingham supervisors will have the final say Monday at Mason on the transfer of the convalescent hospital lease to the Edward W. Sparrow hospital.

The Ingham board of social welfare leased the hospital at 2901 East Michigan avenue, Lansing, from the city of Lansing in August of 1947. Lansing built and operated the institution as a conagious disease hospital. The state abandoned the quarantine program nd Lansing had no further use for the hospital. In 1947 the county was forced to give hospital care to convalescent indigent patients and so the building was leased by the county at $5,000 per year. Then the state changed its regulations on caring for convalescent indigent patients. Now they can be cared for in private nursing homes or their own homes at a saving of about $50,000 a year to Ingham county over hospital costs. Now Only for Polio

The board of social welfare renoved its patients from the convalescent hospital last August to make room for polio victims. The hospital became strictly a hospital for polio cases and for polio therapy. There are now 22 polio patients there.

Supervisors authorized board of social welfare to turn control of the convalescent hospital over to the health committee of the supervisors January 1. In view of the pending sub-leasing of the hospital to Sparrow, the social welfare board is continuing the operation until after the supervisors meet Monday. Ingham county has invested

$14,195 in new equipment and $3,946 in capital improvements since taking over the hospital 21/2 years ago. The social welfare board has agreed to take $8,000 for the county investment. The yearly rental is also paid up until August 1, 1950 If the Sparrow hospital board

Prominent Speakers at College

Two internationally prominent speakers will form a double-header opener for the winter term series of lectures and concerts at Michigan State college,

They are Senator Karl E. Mundt, congressman from South Dakota, and William Laurence, two-time Pulitzer prize-winner and top news reporter for the New York Times. Senator Mundt will be heard Tuesday, January 10, and Laurence on Thursday, January 12, Both lectures are scheduled for the MSC auditorium at 8:15 p. m.

An outstanding statesman and speaker, Senator Mundt has 12 years of experience as a congressman, serving mostly as a member of the foreign affairs and un-American activities committees. He became a member of the senate in January, 1949,

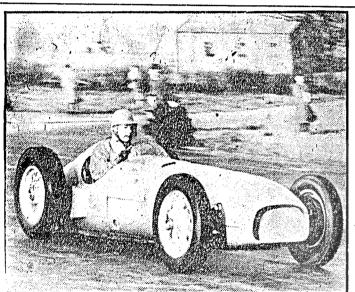

An authority on communism within the bounds of the U.S., Senator Mundt was acting chairman during the espionage hearings resulting in the discovery of the so-called "Pumpkin Papers."

importantly. "Three days after his arrival a committee made up of leading citizens waited on the prince and extended him a formal welcome." He regarded the sagely. "We're smart enough not to antagonize the man by pestering him to death."

On the day of which I write I was removing the storm windows from my house, for spring was near and the day was bright and warm. The prince, came strolling along my street and stopped, oddly enough, at the end of my drive to watch. I perceived him from the corner of my eye, though gave no indication that I had seen. After a moment or two, much to my satisfaction, he turned in at the drive and came slowly toward me. At this precise moment the stepladder on which I was standing tilted precariously and the window I was removing threatened to tumble to the ground.

I uttered a cry of alarm, turned, perceived the prince as if for the first time, and shouted to him for aid. Involuntarily, he leaped forward and steadied the ladder until I had descended.

"Phew!" I grinned. "That was a close call." "It was indeed," he replied. "Would you mind holding the ladder for me on this window over here?" He seemed a little sur-

"Really?" He seemed to appreciate my compliment, "Frankly, I've enjoyed it, not only the work, but our little visit." He hesitated. "You are new in town, aren't you?" "Comparatively," I said. "It's a mightly nice town. Folks are all like yourself. Ready and willing to lend a hand when help is needed." I smiled happily. "The fact that I know your name, Prince Alexander, proves a little theory of my

He stared in astonishment. "You know who I am? You knew when you asked me to help remove the windows?" I nodded. "Your philosophy and mine have a good deal in common. Prince. And that is, that you're no different from the rest of us. I'd even venture to say that you are quite unhappy living up there in your castle so far removed from everybody. To prove that I am right, I'm going to ask you a question. Tomorrow I'm going fishing. How would you like to come along?" "I'd like to very much," he said. "But we must keep it a secret from the rest of the people. It would be a pity to destroy their illusion." I agreed, winking at him knowingly, and the prince and I then and there shared a hearty laugh. Released by WNU Features

Harry Eldridge Dies Suddenly

Harry Eldridge, 57, of Onondaga died of a heart attack at the Mason General hospital last Friday. He was taken to the hospital the previous Monday after he had suffered an attack at his home.

Mr. Eldridge had been in poor health since last summer. He left Wyeth Incorporated July 1 cause of sickness. For 30 years Mr. Eldridge was a cheesemaker. His products were widely known. He went to Onondaga 28 years ago to operate a cheese factory for the Onondaga Co-Ops. When the building burned he equipped a garage with cheese making equipment. He also operated a milk receiving station for the Van Camp company. In 1942 he sold his milk business and his equipment to Wyeth Incorporated and soon joined the Wyeth staff.

Mr. Eldridge was born June 10, 1892, on a farm near Hillsdale. He attended Cleary Business college at Ypsilanti and then entered the cheese business. At one time he operated a grocery store and restaurant at Devils Lake. He was a member of the Onondaga Masonic

Mr. Eldridge married Lottie Bennett of Onsted October 12, 1916. Besides the widow there is a sistor, Mrs. Inez Watkins of Englewood, California. Funeral services for Mr. Eldridge were held at the Onondaga Community church Tuesday with Rev. Mal Hoyt officiating. Burial was made in the Onsted cemetery.

Weather

No records were set in 1949 as to the amount of rain and snowfall during the year. It was, however, one of the highest years for precipitation in the past 10 years. S. L. Demorest, superintendent at the Mason disposal plant, reported Demorest at the disposal plant amounted to 35.6 inches. During lows: the year of the floods, 1947, there were 43.02 inches of rain, and in 1945 36.99 inches were recorded.

The snowfall for the year was about average with 37.5 inches. In 1947 it was almost double with

CAN DO Baby It's Cold . . Outside!

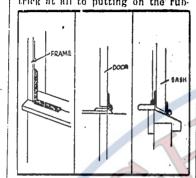

L OOSELY fitting doors and windows are an expensive nuisance to anyone during the winter, The chill drafts that seep in through such chinks in your house's armor will help run up an unduly expensive fuel bill and also make things generally uncomfortable.

The answer here, of course, is weatherstripping. It's an easy and inexpensive way to reduce cold air leakage and cut down fuel consumptions, Depending upon what kind of job you want to do, you can get either metal, rubher, felt or plastic weatherstripping. You'll find that all kinds are available at your favorite hardware store.

If you want metal weatherstripping, you can choose either alumnum, zinc or bronze, while the threshold strips for the bottoms of doors generally are made of brass. For a really high class job on your doors you may want to buy the kind of strips that are interlocking when the door is closed-one part being attached to the frame and the other to the

Although you have to be rather particular in installing the metal weatherstripping in order to get the right kind of fit, there is no trick at all to putting on the rubber or felt strips. The only thing to watch is that the contact edge of the strip you fasten to the bottom of the door extends the correct distance beyond the edge of the door. If it doesn't go out far enough there might still be an aperture through which cold air can enter, and if it protrudes too far beyond the bottom edge of the door it can scrape against the frame and possibly pull off when the door is opened and closed. When you put on the stripping, use rust-resistant % - inch nails spaced about two inches apart.

For your windows it is best to apply stripping to both the inside and outside of the sash, particularly where the cracks are large Use strips at least a half inch wide on the inside of the lower sash and five-eighths inch wide on the outside of the upper sash. One-inch strips should be used on the inside of the door frames; but remember-you don't need a strip on the hinge side. Place the strip on the bottom of the door so it will lap over the threshold

If you do your weatherstripping right you will have a snug, much less drafty house this winter. JUST in case you haven't heard of this trick before, here's how you can repair the loose joints in those dining room or kitchen chairs that have been wobbling pretty much lately. Take the chairs apart carefully and scrape off all the dried glue from the ends of the rungs and other parts, as well as from the holes into which the rungs fit. For degrees in December, 1946. The member, cut out a piece of an old rayon or nylon stocking that will fit over it. Use plenty of glue There were 3.79 inches of rain on the ends and drive the parts together tightly. The glue will soak through the fabric which will gest rainfall recorded during December for the past 10 years. The snowfall during the month form a tight packing. When the glue is dry, trim off excess fabrics with a razor blade. Your hardware store also sells steel slips, specifically intended for tightening up a chair, which can be used without glue. You may prefer this method as being less messy and tedious.

Poor Highway Systems Costly to Car-Owners

WASHINGTON. - Poor highway systems over the country are the greatest obstacle to economical and low-cost automobile transportation, an analyst of the Brookings institution reported.

He contended that unless more and better traffic arteries were provided, the motorist stood to lose all the benefits he might obtain from technological improvements of the automobile. The study, conducted by Wilfred

Owen of the institution's staff, noted that only five to ten cents of the "highway transportation dollar" was being currently spent on highways. This proportion the author regarded as too low. The rest of the dollar is absorbed by the purchase price of the car, gasoline, repairs and other operating

This he found to be the case just as an unprecedented 40 million motor vehicles, 20 per cent more than the prewar peak, were in competition for highway space. Furthermore, most of today's roads were declared not adapted to the requirements of heavy volumes of highspeed traffic resulting from population shifts, and a notable trend from urban to suburban areas.

Accident Victim Is Still Critical

Victims of the crash which oc-curred Friday, December 22, who are still in the Mason General hospital are Mrs. Bernadine Smith of Lansing, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schmitt of Muskegon Heights and John Dare of Grand Rapids, Mrs. Smith is still in critical condition it was reported by hospital attendants Thursday morning. Schmitt is coming along fine. Dare and Mrs. Schmitt were reported in good condition.

Mrs. Smith suffered injuries last Friday in a three-car accident two miles north of Mason on US-127. Mrs. Smith, driving north was attempting to pass another northbound car, when the Smith car skidded and sideswiped a southbound car driven by Louis Dare of Grand Rapids. The Smith car spun around on the pavement and collided with another car driven south by Frank Schmitt of Muskegon Heights.

Riding with Mrs. Smith were her Beatrice Bently, Mrs. Ida Wallace, Mrs. Mabel Wilson and Mrs. Mary Duffey, all of Lansing. Occupants Fred Darc, father and brother of Louis Dare, Mrs. Myra Schmitt was riding with her husband in the second southbound car.

Ten of the 11 passengers spent the holidays in Mason General hospital. Fred Dare was the only rider not hospitalized.

PCHUICE FOR FIFTY No wonder they're calling them

They're greater in power—higher in compression—a standout in styling-dreams to drive-and now there's a Buick beauty for 1950 to fit practically any budget

No, we just couldn't hold back the whole big Buick line for 1950.

They're too good-looking-too much fun to drive-too jam-packed with stepped-up, higher-compression, ready-to-ramble power-to be kept under cover.

So maybe you've already seen some 1950 Buicks on the highway.

Maybe you've noticed the extra "git up and travel" they have-glimpsed the wide, curving windshields (one piece in most models)-noted, approvingly, that the typical Buick taper is now found in all Buick fenders.

Maybe you've even heard some things...

That there are more than a dozen-and-ahalf models to choose from. That there are three power plants in the Buick line -all of higher compression, all stepped up in power.

That all models are big and roomy inside -some rear seats are better than a foot wider than before!—yet in every instance, shorter over-all, so easier to handle, park and garage.

Above all, maybe you've heard of exciting news on price...

That Dynaflow Drive, for instancestandard on ROADMASTER models, optional on all others-now costs-20% less than on 1949 models.

That in the full line—Special, Super and ROADMASTER series—there is a Buick to fit practically every budget above the very lowest!

A REAL PUNCH!

Mockery of the Law

Last week Assistant Prosecutor Larry Lindemer told a jury that the Ingham County News was trying to make a mockery of the law. The assistant prosecutor was pleading with a justice court jury to convict an Indian woman on the charge of assaulting four armed men.

Lindemer is not blamed. He is a zealous young man. He was assigned to the task of convicting Mrs. Martinez of assault. He had nothing to do with the issuance of the warrant. In making the statement about mockery he was merely attempting to do what other lawyers do when they have weak cases-confuse the issue. The dodge didn't work. The jury acquitted Mrs. Martinez. No official verdict was given on the mock-

The law was mocked, Lindemer was right on that point. But the charge against the Ingham County News should have been the reporting of the mockery. Officers sworn to uphold the law and the constitution did the mocking. They wrote their own lines and chose their own parts in the farce and then insisted on playing it out to the final act--the verdict of the jury.

The Ingham County News makes no apology for its part in the Martinez case. The law never intended that any person should be deprived of liberty and freedom for defending himself or defending and protecting his property rights.

Over in Webberville last week a man and woman were arrested and jailed for maintaining a fire hazard. Happily, the officers and the people of Webberville worked out a solution together. Webberville firemen, encouraged by Assistant State Fire Marshal Nate Davis of Mason, loaded up junk and hauled it away. Justice Robert M. Montgomery of Lansing township lifted the 15-day sentences he had imposed on the elderly couple arrested on the unusual charge.

Be it known that the Ingham County News does not favor the general use of daggers or butcher knives in the settling of arguments or disputes. There was no evidence introduced which showed Mrs.

Martinez had ever cut or threatened to cut anyone with a knife, Neither does the Ingham County News uphold the maintaining of junk yards within an area where other property is menaced because of a fire hazard, or because of general untidiness or unsightliness of conditions.

The Ingham County News will always uphold the law covering the carrying and the use of dangerous weapons. The Ingham County News will also uphold the law requiring junk yard operators to observe certain precautions against fire. The law never intended, though, that Mrs. Martinez should be arrested for defending herself, her son or her property with a knife, a club or whatever was handy to lend force to her arguments that trespassers quit her land. The law never intended that a man and wife should be locked up because their backyard and their living room were untidy and littered.

The real threat to American liberty does not lie in Moscow or Berlin or Shanghai, no, not even in Washington or Lansing. The real threat is always close at

If Mrs. Martinez could have been convicted and sentenced for using a knife to persuade trespassers to leave her farm then you or I might eventually have had to go along to jail if we had ever ordered anyone off our land. In stores clerks take off the Christmas tags and put the gift articles back in stock. Santa Claus unhitches Rudolph the red-nosed ple in Mason who ever attend church services of any reindeer and turns him out to pasture. People go back to work or back to school, and that's one of the best things about a holiday season. There is joy and feasting and friendliness for two or three weeks. Our enjoyment of it is heightened by the reflection that people to worship transcends the need, if one there be, it can't last forever, that it comes only once a year.

Two of the most enjoyable events of the Christmas season were the Albert Humphrey open house and Zoanne Migrants' announcement tea. Friends trooped through the Humphrey country home all afternoon and evening to sample fancy viands and to exchange New Year greetings, People who attended the Migrants affair learned of the troth which Zoanne and Franklin Burn have plighted. Guests at the tea were handed bleeding hearts carrying the pair's name but the written announcement was not needed. The The story glittered from the handsome countenances of both Zoanne and Frank. Their love bubbled all over the place and I had difficulty controlling my emotions. It's a great match, I think—the Grosse Pointer and the farmer's daughter. Frank is a senior at Wayne. The romance started last summer when he was assigned to Mason for engineering field training with the Ingham soil conservation district. Zoanne gave him just the sort of training he needed.

After congratulating Frank and partaking of the refreshments I headed north on Diamond road to look at the most impressive front porch this side of the Grand Hotel on Mackinac Island. Yes, it's the two-story front porch at the Bergeon home near the corner of Diamond and Columbia roads. Those stately pillars add dignity and beauty to the place. Maybe the dignity is needed. Certainly there's beauty enough right there in the family, beauty and charm enough to make that front porch one of the most popular places in all Ve-

For years I had heard rumors about the culinary genius of Mrs. Charles Davis of Onondaga. Unhappily I had never been in a position to put my stamp of approval on those rumors until this Christmas season. I was in just the right position this year—both feet under the Davis table and spread before me a great array of good food. Never will I forget that Whenever the calendar year changes, it calls for both a view of the past and forecasts for the future, Particularly so is this true when the change comes at mid-century, Columnists, commentators, editors, and crossroads philosophers alike have set their hands to reviews and forecasts during the past week. All this has led me to try my hand at purely local reviews and comparisons, I shall leave the forecasting business to those more farsighted.

When 1900 turned up on the calendar my wife and I were four years down the trail of married life with three children to show for it. In other respects we had not done so well. We had accumulated a good team of work horses and, believe a couple of good cows, some hogs, and a few farming tools not very many and most of them picked up at auction sales. They were usuble Big Farm Rented

With a small down payment we had bought a small home and a little acreage and I was planning to sharecrop some fields of neighboring farmers. Then the late Oliver W. Halstead sent word for me to come to see him. He offered me what I considered an unusual opportunity to move to his farm on what is now Rolfe road in Vevay, now owned and occupied by Floyd Launstein, So we changed our plans and moved.

In those days 120 acres of farm land was considered about all one farmer could handle. A good three-horse work team could plow and harrow and plant from 40 to 50 acres of spring crops oats, corn, beans and potatoes. With the help of the wife and an extra man a farmer, not afraid of work, could handle around 40 acres of having. With his wheat harvest and the other work on the farm there was not much time for fun.

All this I did and more. My extra help was an exchange where f That did not save cash for I had none. It saved me borrowing. In addition that first summer a sizeable born was built. With my team I did all the hauling of gravel and stone, the timbers and the him-breast of turkey. It was my first experience with huckleberry cake and fresh raspherry salad. Both are delicious. The raspberry salad matches the color and sparkle of Mrs. Roger Kierstead's famous cranberry salad.

Utility should come before beauty in choosing rugs and carpets or else Americans should adopt the Japanese custom of removing shoes before entering a house. Over the holidays I was in half a dozen homes where people had tracked up expensive rugs. The weather has been nasty and the mud tracked in is bad enough. Yet in three homes the rugs were marked with road tar and oil. The unusual weather has caused the oil and tar

That's one of my 1950 resolutions -- refusing to buy any rug, carpet or piece of furniture that won't stand tracking and scuffing and wrestling by

Two things that would help housekeepers would be foot-scrapers and brooms placed on front and back porches. Another help would be squares of canvas to cover the rugs except in dry weather.

The answer to the floor-covering problem may be some of the new plastic fabrics which can be swabbed down once or twice a week. A good wool carpet now costs as much as a five-room house used to cost. I just hate to trample on that much money no matter whose floor it covers.

There's no law which limits how much land may be included in the phrase "be the same more or less." A farmer who holds a deed to "200 acres more or less" may have only 170 or he may have 220, Good advice to any farmer who plans to buy or sell is to have the farm surveyed if the present deed has the clause "be the same more or less" in it.

If Tuesday seemed dark and gloomy to you, perhaps it was because Earth was in Perihelion that day. Perihelion was entered at exactly 1:00 a. m. according to my watch which I keep under the pillow. The alarm clock registered 1:031/2 but I keep that a trifle fast because I like to have 31/2 minutes to make up my mind whether or not to get up before breakfast.

If my reckoning is right, Mason was just 21,299,000 miles more or less from the sun at T:00 a. m. Tuesday, even though it seemed a mile or two farther from where I was lying so snug and warm there with my wife under the quilt. I can hardly wait now until just before supper on July 5 when the earth will be in what we astronomers call Aphelion. At 5:00 p. m. Wednesday, July 5 Mason people will be 94,450,000 miles more or less from the sun. That's as far away as we'll get from the sun in 1950, even if we sit in the shade of the old apple tree.

Barbarians

The word "barbarian" often used today to express another person's bad manners, brutality, or lack of taste, originated in ancient Greece. The Greeks considered anyone who was not a Greek a barbarian, and, to the Romans, a barbarian was anyone who spoke neither Greek or Latin.

Origin of "Vanilla"

The word vanilla is from the Spanish, and means "little pod." In each of the now widely scattered species of the vanilla plant, the little pod is preceded by a dainty yellow bloom which leaves no doubt that the plant belongs to the orchid

What Can The People Believe?

When the anti-trust lawyers in Washington filed their suit to put the A&P out of business, they immediately handed out for all the newspapers of the United States a story giving in detail their "allegations" against

When we published advertisements giving our side of the case, they protested, even though they had made, and have continued to make, in newspapers, in speeches and over the radio these charges that would seriously damage our business, if they were believed by the public.

Every week millions of American housewives patronize A&P stores. Many of them would not want to deal with the kind of people that the anti-trust lawyers represent us to be. We think we have a right to protect this 90-year old business which has made it possible for millions of

American families to get more and better food for their money, which is providing high-wage employment for 110,000 Americans and which is helping millions of farmers to improve the methods of distributing

No answer by us would be necessary if the anti-trust lawyers were always right. But they, like all other human beings, can be wrong.

In this case we know they are wrong.

They have been wrong before. In case after case they made charges against A&P which were proved in court to be utterly without foun-

We will prove that statement right up to the hilt.

The anti-trust lawyers tell the public that they won a previous anti-trust suit against us at Danville, Illinois.

What they do not tell you is that they brought case after case against the A&P in federal courts all over the United States. Before they won this case they suffered three defeats.

The anti-trust lawyers have told everybody about the time that the courts said they were right. We think you are entitled to know about the three times the courts said they were wrong. Now we are going to tell you about the first one. In future advertisements we will tell you about all of them.

The Washington Bread Case

In April, 1941, the anti-trust lawyers brought'a criminal suit in Washington, D. C.

They charged that the A&P, two grocery chain competitors, two labor unions and other good American citizens had conspired to fix the price

Can anyone imagine any charge calculated to be more damaging to a retail grocery business? They asked millions of people to believe that we were the kind of grocers who would take bread out of the mouths of poor people and make it harder for a wife and mother to feed her family.

These charges were false.

In that case it developed that the A&P and the two competitors who were charged with conspiring with us to maintain high bread prices actually sold bread cheaper than most of the other stores in Washington.

The anti-trust lawyers presented and argued their case. When they were through, Federal District Judge Allen T. Goldsborough ruled that A&P and the other defendants did not even have to put in a defense. He ordered the jury to bring in a verdict of "not guilty.

Judge Goldsborough said to the anti-trust lawyers:

"If you were to show this record to any experienced trial lawyer in the world, he would tell you that there was not any evidence at all.

"Honestly, I have never in my over forty years' experience seen tried a case that was as absolutely devoid of evidence as this. That is the honest truth. I have never seen one like it."

So here was a case in which the anti-trust lawyers made seriously damaging charges against the A&P, in support of which, in the words of the court, they did not have "any evidence at all."

This was not the only time the anti-trust lawyers made charges against the A&P which the courts said were not true. In future ads we are going to tell you about these other suits. We are not going to duck, either. We are going to tell you about the criminal suit that the anti-trust lawyers won at Danville, Illinois.

The anti-trust lawyers say that they are not attacking "bigness" or efficiency. They have to say that because the courts have decided that "bigness" and efficiency and selling at low prices is not a crime.

But the fact is crystal clear that they only brought their bread suit against the big companies and against companies that sold good bread at the lowest prices; just as in this current suit they are attacking a big company that sells good food cheap.

We are going to show the American people that the suit to destroy A&P is really a suit against efficiency and against real competition.

The real question involved in this suit is whether businessmen are going to be encouraged to do a better and more efficient job; or whether we are going to let the anti-trust lawyers in Washington blow the whistle on anybody who gets big by giving the people more for their money.

No one can make us believe that it is a crime to try to sell the best quality food at the lowest possible price.
