

Ora Campbell celebrated his 89th birthday anniversary Tuesday. Part of the day he spent kindling and saving logs. It wasn't a special showing of strength, for he wields the ax almost every day of the year. The Wheatfield farmer grew up with an ax in his hand. He helped his father clear the land back in 1874. It was almost 15 years later, the Wheatfield man recalls, that enough land was cleared to permit much farming. "That first year we built a log cabin right on this very farm," Mr. Campbell said. "We started hacking out at the wilderness in all four directions. The wood had little value. We usually cut the trees down, hauled away what timber we wanted or could sell and then burned the stumps and trimmings. Wood was worth about a $1.00 a cord at the time." The Campbell family bought 97 acres when they came from New York state in 1874. In New York

Parties Start Machinery for Fall Election

County Conventions Are Scheduled Here To Pick Delegates

Ingham Republicans and Democrats are greasing their machines for the presidential election.

Delegates elected at the fall primaries in 1950 are being notified to attend county conventions to be held in Mason in March. At Mason the convention will name delegates to state conventions. There the state delegates will choose delegates to the national conventions where candidates for president and vice-president will be nominated.

Ingham Republicans will meet in the Legion Memorial building at Mason Tuesday, March 18, to choose their delegates to the state convention which will be held in Detroit April 5. At the state convention 48 will be chosen to represent Michigan Republicans in the national convention which will open in Chicago July 7.

Democrats have scheduled their county convention for Tuesday, March 31. It will be held in the circuit court room at Mason. Ingham Democrats will pick 22 delegates to attend the state convention. The state convention is scheduled for Grand Rapids Saturday, May 10.

At Grand Rapids the Democrats will choose 40 delegates to represent Michigan in the national convention, to be held in Chicago July 21.

O. K. Greetenberger of Okemos is chairman of the Ingham Democratic committee. Raymond L. Rapaport of Lansing is secretary.

Lyle B. Austin is chairman of the Ingham Republican committee. Jack Warren was secretary. He is now in the army and no successor has been chosen.

Two Deadlines Arrive Friday

Two deadlines have been announced for midnight Friday. They concern dog owners and automobile owners.

On dogs the 1952 license fees will double if not bought before Saturday. Dog licenses can be secured at township and city treasurers' offices through Friday. After that they must be bought at the county treasurer's office in Mason.

While the price of license plates for automobiles won't go up Saturday, drivers who operate their cars on 1951 plates will be liable to arrest.

Five Are Injured As Car Shimmies Into Guard Rail

Mr. and Mrs. Clare Raymond and their son, Raymond, 15, and their granddaughters, Peggy Richardson, 10, and Beverly Richardson, 8, were hurt in an accident Saturday night. The car, driven by Mansil skidded around on the highway, struck guard rail posts and hit a tree.

Mrs. Raymond had an ankle broken and will be in bed or on crutches for six weeks. She came home from the hospital Tuesday. Mr. Raymond tore ligaments in his back and had his knee cut, besides suffering painful bruises. He came home from the hospital Sunday. Mansil lost six teeth when his mouth hit the steering wheel. He was also cut and bruised. Peggy's left shoulder was fractured. She was taken to her home in Lansing from the hospital Monday. Still in the hospital for plastic surgery is Beverly.

Mr. Raymond works at the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. plant in Jackson. On Saturday night as a birthday treat the two granddaughters went with Mrs. Raymond and Mansil to meet their father at Churchill and Hull roads after he came that far with a fellow worker from the plant.

On the way back Mansil complained that the car shimmied. At Teaspoon Corners the boy reported difficulty in steering. Going up a hill the car skidded around. Mr. Raymond suggested that they stop at the station at Tomlinson road to check up on the car. They didn't reach there. The car suddenly swerved off the pavement, hit a guardrail post and then the tree.

The father was riding with Mansil in the front seat with Beverly on his lap. Mrs. Raymond and Peggy were riding in back. All were taken to the Sparrow hospital in Lansing.

State Buying Right of Way For New Route

Letting of Contract Now Scheduled for April or Early May

Right of way buyers for the state highway department are now working on land for the US-127 by-pass at Mason.

A new right of way is being secured for a stretch of about two miles. The by-pass leaves the present 127 route north of town at a point between Pryor and Dart roads. It will strike the present route on the south about halfway between Kipp road and Tomlinson road. That's about a half-mile south of the Vevay town hall.

Changes in Drawings Originally the letting of the Mason by-pass along with the contract for the widening of 127 between Pryor road and Holt was scheduled for last year. Loss of the plans and even the field notes in the State Office building fire forced postponement, state highway department engineers said.

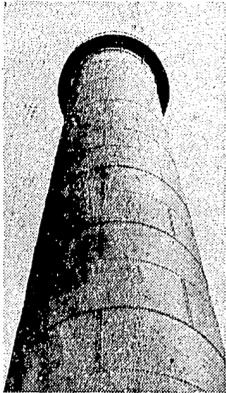

Within the last few weeks other changes in the drawings were made. It was learned at the state highway department Wednesday. Now the letting is scheduled for late in April or early in May with the work on the by-pass to be completed this summer.

Steel for the by-pass was delivered late last fall. It is stored in the Dart pit.

Between Pryor road and Holt the plans call for a four-lane highway. The abandoned interurban right of way is available for the widening. The by-pass, too, will be four lanes. Both the by-pass and the stretch between Mason and Holt will be a divided highway.

The by-pass will be built as a limited access highway. Drivers may leave or enter at the Columbia intersection out by the west city limits, the junction with the present route north of town and the junction south of town.

The state highway department has agreed to continue the designation of US-127A from Ash street in Mason to the junction south of town. Also in the agreement is the extension of M-36 west from the intersection of Lansing and Ash west to Cedar, north on Cedar to Columbia and west on Columbia to strike the by-pass.

"As stout as the day it was erected," was the way workmen on the standpipe described Mason's water tower Wednesday. The tower has stood on the plateau above the Sycamore and the railroad tracks for a half-century, and with proper care it may last for another 50 years, the three men said.

William Baumer, Robert Vargo and Harold McGillion, the three men employed by the Keesler Co. of Fremont, Ohio, are stepladder-jacks. They go up and down the standpipe ladder on the run, with never a shiver or shak.

Milk Producers Stage Annual Dinner Meeting

Loris Curtis, Leonard Crowl and Leo Rogers were re-elected as directors of the Mason Milk Producers association at the annual meeting Tuesday. They will serve a three-year term.

Nearly 200 producers and guests attended the dinner at noon served by the Mason Rehoboth lodge. Ward Eagle and Norman Peterson, state association officers, told the group that the life of the federal milk marketing order operating in Detroit is hanging in the balance. Eagle urged the producers to counter-act biased news stories and consumer opinions by writing letters to the city papers.

"The federal order is one of the most important stabilizers that Michigan farmers have," Eagle told the group. "The order which has been operating in the past has not produced a monopoly as some Detroit papers suggest."

Council Asks Ban The federal order sets the base price that producers must get when selling milk in Detroit. Even though a producer may not be a member of any association, he must sell at the federal price. Investigators who have been holding hearings in Detroit within the last few weeks maintain that such an order creates a monopoly and denies democratic competition.

The Detroit city council requested that the United States department of agriculture revoke the order.

"The order is no different than the closed shops which have been operating in Detroit for years," Eagle stated. "It is a necessary order for farmers. It is election year in Detroit and anything that will favor consumers makes good talk."

Faulty Investigations Eagle reminded the farmers that sharp lawyers who knew nothing about milk production or handling made the investigation for the city. It would be just as senseless to have a bunch of farmers make an estimate of the Ford Motor Co., he added.

Pieplant Pete and Bashful Joe of Station WJR entertained the group after the noon meal. The act was outstanding, many at the dinner stated.

Others who serve on the board of directors are Dell Wolf, president; M. L. Surato, secretary-treasurer; Fred Ruthig, William Wilson, Doré Cady and Ray Lott. Crowl serves as vice-president.

Water Tower OK, City Has New Well, Rate Boost Sought

Worry Over Condition of Standpipe Groundless, An Examination by Experts Wednesday Revealed

Mason's water supply was boosted 50 per cent this week when a new well came in. The water tower over which councilmen have worried is sound, experts declared Wednesday. People now have only one water worry. That's the boost in rates which will come before the council for decision Monday night.

There will be a public hearing on the proposed change in rates. The hearing is scheduled for Monday night in the council room.

Tests run on the new well on North Mason street indicate production of 500 gallons per minute. That was the guarantee L. A. yn e-Northern made in its contract with the city. The No. 1 (Park street) well gives 750 gallons per minute. No. 2 (Jefferson) yields 500 gallons per minute.

The new well, like the other two developed by Layne-Northern, is a gravel pack well sunk into the base of the aquifer. The bottom of the 42-inch casing rests 60 feet below the surface. There is an 18-inch screen 20 feet long inside the casing.

Samples of the water have been sent in to the state health department for purity and hardness tests. Reports have not been received, however.

Layne-Northern took the contract on the new well last spring at $8,900 for the well and the installation of pump and motor. It will be up to the city to build a well house. City Engineer Walter E. Zimmer said he intends to present the proposed plans to the council Monday night.

A new main leads from the No. 3 well to the intersection of North and Mason streets. Permission is being sought to go under the Michigan Central tracks to connect with the 8-inch main on Lansing street. The connector should boost water pressure on the west-side, Zimmer explained.

Standpipe Is OK Councilmen were relieved Wednesday to learn that their fears over the condition of the standpipe were not warranted. Keesler Co. of Fremont, Ohio, has the contract for inspecting, cleaning and painting the 50-year-old standpipe at $545. Foreman William Baumer and Robert Vargo and Harold McGillion, all of Fremont, arrived in Mason Wednesday to begin work.

After draining off the water in the standpipe they quickly reported there was no need for city officials to be alarmed. The standpipe is in much better condition, Baumer declared, than many put up 10 years ago. Cleaning off of scale and treating the interior surface was proceeding Thursday.

After the cleaning, the workmen will have a look at the rivets. Councilmen feared the standpipe was leaking around the seams. If leaks are found or loose rivets are discovered, welding will be done, Baumer said.

Rates Are Going Up Under the new ordinance coming up for consideration Monday night water rates will go up 25 to 40 per cent.

Sever service charges are tied in with water bills. When water charges go up, sewer charges automatically rise.

At the council session last week the six members split 3-3 on retention of the present 10 per cent discount for prompt payment. Councilmen Alton J. Stroud, Harold L. Barnhill and W. Davis Post voted for retention of the discount. Councilmen W. O. Hall, Frank Evans and Hugh Silsby wanted to kill it. Because of the tie, the discount stayed in. However, the tie can be broken by Mayor C. H. Hall. He was absent from last week's session.

The Auctioneer's Voice Is Heard

Many Farm Sales Are Listed

The voice of the auctioneer is heard in the land. The farm sale season is in full swing. Here is a listing of auctions on the Ingham County News advertising schedule:

- Saturday, March 1: Loris Reynolds, 1 mile north-east of Charlotte on M-78 to Packard highway, 1 1/2 miles east to Stewart road and 1/2 mile north. Lee VanHorn, 4 miles north of Mason on Okemos road to Holt road, east on Holt road to Doble Lake road, first farm north. Lyman Hitchcock, one mile east of Williamston to Meech road, south 2 1/2 miles.

Jurors Are Drawn For March Term Of Circuit Court

Fifty-five prospective jurors for the March term of circuit court were drawn by lot in Mason Wednesday afternoon. The drawing, held in the county clerk's office, was conducted by Clerk C. Ross Hilliard, Sheriff Willard P. Barnes and Justices of the Peace William S. Seelye and Roy W. Adams of Mason.

Jurors whose names were drawn are ordered to report at the court room in Lansing on Monday, March 17. That's when criminal trials will begin. The March term will be officially opened the previous Monday.

The 55 whose names were drawn for jury duty are Edith Mae Baldwin and Muriel D. Brown, Alaford; John Parker and Roy Buckingham, Aurelius; Lucille Hamilton and Florence Brower, Bunker Hill; Edith Vaughan and Elizabeth Chappell, Delhi; Ruth Townsend and Ivan Richner, Ingham; Pearl Gartener and Pearl Widman, Lansing township;

Archibald C. Hawley and Amos H. Smith, Leroy; May Taylor and Leonard Rouse, Leslie; Ray Allen and Joseph M. Speers, Locke; Charles H. Klinger and Glen W. Cline, Meridian; Francis Byrum and Glen Stimer, Onondaga; Helen Cool and Ward Hudson, Stockbridge;

Mrs. Eugene Caton and J. C. Greene, Vevay; Esther Runciman and Leah Pollok, Wheatfield; Fay Townsend and Howard Townsend, White Oak; Leona Baughan and John Fraser, Williamstown;

Frederick Fabian, Jr., and Hazel Nelson, East Lansing; Myrtle Baldwin and Frank Dakin, Mason; Ernie Lechner and Roy Merrifield, Williamston;

Ward B. Gillett, George W. Burhans, Bernard J. Lavey, Theodore Terwilliger, Bessie Caster, Jennie Jordan, Layton Strope, Ethel Traver, William Trachsel, Lulu J. Abbey, Glen S. Hall, Blanche Freshour, William Cleaves, Helen Helinowski, A. H. Henrie, Asa Daniels and Jessie M. Croll, Lansing.

VACANCY IS FILLED

Miss Olga Pekrul has joined the county clerk's staff to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Miss Audrey Brownfield. She resigned to enter the employ of the Ingham Abstract Co.

84 Pigs Shy

Roy West lacked 84 pigs after he ran a word ad in last week's Ingham County News. He offered to sell 16 pigs. He had nine buyers demanding a total of 100 pigs and could only supply 16. He's breeding his sows back.

Stroud Combines Two School Jobs

County School Superintendent Alton J. Stroud has combined the positions of attendance officer and child accountant. Beginning June 1 the dual job will go to Robert Walker of Mason. He now teaches the Pollok school in Wheatfield.

Emery Colby has long served as attendance officer. Mrs. Regina Maxwell handled child accounting along with clerical duties. In a changed office pattern, the accounting and the attendance will be joined under Walker.

Walker is a product of the Ingham county normal. He was a pilot in the army air force during World War II. Before he returned to teaching in 1949 he was in the auditing department at the Reo Motor Car Co. in Lansing. He has been taking degree work at Michigan State college.

Mr. and Mrs. Walker have two children. The family lives at 225 East Elm in Mason.

Keep on Looking

Changes Are Made in Makeup

Readers are advised to keep on looking if they don't find what they are looking for this week. After starting out on a schedule for 24 pages (three 8-page sections) developments forced a switch to 26 pages (one 8-page and three 6-page sections). That made it necessary to move some of the departments from their accustomed positions. Here's where they are:

Meeting Called About Memorial

The committee representing Mason patriotic organizations is inviting the public to attend a meeting in the Legion Memorial building Monday night at eight o'clock. There will be a discussion of the proposed soldiers' monument on the memorial lot at Maple Grove.

Harley Ankeny, Sr., is chairman of the committee. He said that he expects to have sketches of the proposed monument to display at Monday night's meeting. Several persons have offered contributions to the project, the chairman said. The Legion Auxiliary has pledged a substantial amount, Ankeny stated.

Dansville Drops To Single Party

Politics in Dansville is bogging down this spring. There is only one party with a ticket at the March 10 election. That's the Progressive party, the one currently dominant in village affairs.

The Progressive nominees are Daniel D. Jennings, president; Robert Curry, clerk; Arthur Dowling, treasurer; Elmer J. Simons, Lawton Gauss and Alton Hetly, trustees; and Edith M. Simons, assessor. All were renominated at the caucus.

ONE AUDITOR ON JOB

A. J. Sayotovich, who was working with E. E. Nolan on the periodic audit of Ingham records, has been temporarily assigned to an Oakland township to assist Eber Robinson. Nolan is continuing the Ingham audit.

Highway Crews Await Breakup

Construction crews of the county road commission are waiting for the spring breakup before getting into heavy grading and hauling.

"We don't want to damage roads by hauling gravel over them," County Highway Engineer Frank K. Evans explained. "We are cutting brush and removing trees and doing a little spadework on jobs to which construction crews will move just as soon as the frost leaves."

Indications point to an early breakup. The frost is not deep. Weight restrictions were imposed on all county roads in Ingham Wednesday. Under the restrictions truck loads are limited to 12,000 lbs per axle. That is one-third less than the normal of 18,000 lbs. The restrictions do not apply to state trunklines. Normal loads are still permitted by the state.

All Clues Vanish In Bandit Scare

Sheriff's officers and state police have little to work on in the Stockbridge bandit scare.

On Tuesday of last week Mrs. Hazel Gullett of Stockbridge reported that two armed men in an automobile crowded her car off M-92 and questioned her about Stockbridge police protection and safeguards at the Stockbridge State bank.

Officers at once threw a cordon around Stockbridge and an intensive search was made for the men described by Mrs. Gullett.

Sheriff Willard P. Barnes said that a Stockbridge filling station operator identified the car described by Mrs. Gullett. The car of the bandits, she said, bore Ohio plates and a "See Mammoth Cave" sticker.

County Board Meets Monday

Ingham's board of supervisors will meet Monday in Mason.

In addition to routine business the matter of petitions for the incorporation of West Lansing is scheduled to be brought up. At the February meeting a special committee was named to check on the validity of the petitions and the sufficiency of signatures. Supervisors Walter Munyon of Lansing, Wilfred Jewett of Vevay and John B. Fay of Delhi are on the committee.

Ordinance Bans Fowl Freedom

Poultry is not permitted to run at large in Mason, winter or summer, except in the farming sections where there are no closed neighbors.

Police Chief Rath Hall called attention to the ordinance and announced that it will be enforced. Here's the ordinance. "Any person being the owner or keeper of any turkeys, ducks, geese, chickens or other fowls, who shall knowingly suffer or permit them to run at large within the corporate limits of said city, outside the enclosure of such owner or keeper, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $10 or imprisonment in the county jail for not more than 10 days."

Man Changes Plea

In circuit court Thursday morning Theodore J. Pappas of Lansing pleaded guilty to selling adulterated food. The second count, possessing adulterated food, was then dismissed and Pappas was released on bond to appear later for sentence. With the changed plea, there was no work for the jurors. They were excused for the term.

Judge Salmon sentenced three Thursday, Glen Warren of Lansing, 1 1/2 to 5 years in Jackson prison for unlawfully driving away an automobile; Kathleen Mesick of Lansing, six months in the county jail for larceny from a dwelling; and Wesley Fernberg, Lansing, 1 1/2 to 4 years in Jackson for larceny from a building.

WORK AT HIGGINS LAKE

Elton Twork is at Higgins lake training school with the conservation department this week.

Mason to Share In Gas Supply

If the Consumers Power Co. is permitted to serve 15,000 more house-heating customers in Michigan, Mason stands to get 40 new permits. Leslie is in line for 10. That's the same ratio as the last increase in allocation of house-heating permits.

Both Mason and Leslie are included in the Lansing division. Consumers is asking for authority to serve 1,898 more homes in the Lansing division. In its appearance before the public service commission in Lansing Wednesday Consumers Power officials declared it will have more gas available this year than last.

British Newspaper Circles the Globe

A much traveled newspaper arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Brown on Monday of this week. It is an eight-page pictorial supplement to the London Daily Telegraph of February 16, an air mail edition printed on paper as thin as onionskin and circulated throughout British possessions everywhere.

This particular copy had gone first to Russell M. Brown at Bahrein in the Persian Gulf, then remained to his mother here at Mason. It arrived after his second journey half-way around the globe exactly nine days after it left the London newspaper presses.

The special supplement contains many fine pictures of the funeral rites and pageantry marking the funeral of the late King George VI. It also gives the most minute details of the burial ceremonies.

School Notes

The high school faculty has planned to bring a series of career guidance programs to the senior students during the remaining part of the year. This is to take the place of career day. The first in the series of programs was held Wednesday afternoon. The speaker was Sergeant Witte who represented the WAC and WAF. She spoke to the senior girls about opportunities for a career in the armed forces. The girls had an opportunity to ask questions. Thursday, February 28, Wilfred Godfrey, assistant chief of examination division of Michigan civil service commission, spoke to the seniors on career opportunities in state jobs.

Report cards will be issued Wednesday, March 5.

The annual midwinter concert will be held Tuesday evening, March 4, in the auditorium at 8:00 under the direction of Mr. Murthum. Band members have tickets for sale, 25c for high school students and 50c for adults.

Ingham Bankers Fete 4-H Leaders

Ingham county bankers honored 4-H club leaders at a dinner held at the Presbyterian church in Mason Friday night. The annual recognition dinner especially honored Mrs. Paul Rowe of the 4-Winds club and Mrs. William Quick of the Hasset club. They each received gold awards for serving 10 years as 4-H leaders. Eleven other leaders received silver awards for leading 4-H clubs for five years.

Elmer Hammond of the Lansing Kiwanis club received a 4-H award for outstanding cooperation with Ingham 4-H activities.

The 11 who received silver awards included Mrs. Lawrence Dolbee, Aurelius; Mrs. Meredith Patterson, Bunker Hill; Mrs. G. C. Scott, Forest Road; Mrs. Fred Rutling, Cross Roads Farmers; Mrs. Roland Frost, Wheatfield; Mrs. Thelma Madden, West Locke Brick; Mrs. George Soule, Dansville; Arnold Ruckert, Stoner; William Larner, Miller Road; Fred Wilson, Dexter Trail; and George Kalmbres, Gunn.

Delmar Carr, chairman of the Ingham 4-H council, presided at the program. Katherine Stencil of Michigan State college gave a talk on a trip she made to Austria last summer. Members of the dinner committee were Mrs. George Kahres, Wilbur Singer, Albert Humphrey, Joe Foster and M. Arthur Allen.

Humphrey, cashier of the Dart National bank, spoke in behalf of the Ingham county bankers.

Book Talk

from Ingham County Library

Hours open to the public at the Hall Memorial Library Daily, 2-5 p. m. Monday, Wednesday and Saturday 7-9 p. m. Tuesday and Friday noon. Saturday 10-12 p. m.

Three good new books for Lenten reading have been added to the Ingham county library this week. One which should be popular with readers of all faiths is the LIFE OF CHRIST, as told in selections from the New Testament with wood engravings cut especially for this edition by Bruno Bramanti. This is a beautiful book with pictures in the spirit of the narrative and well worth anyone's time.

QUAKER BY CONVICEMENT, by John H. Hobart, is a moving spiritual autobiography of a man, who, although born into an English Quaker family, had to go through many years of intellectual and spiritual searching to arrive at a religious understanding satisfactory to himself. He writes of the upbringing and early religious training which led him to adopt a narrow view of religion and traces his religious development during active years in business and athletics, the gradual growth of his convictions. His reminiscences include impressions of such men as Dr. Reinhold Niebuhr, Dr. Rufus Jones, Sir Arthur Eddington and others. The book also emphasizes the fact that man's spiritual progress lags behind his material achievements, and is a challenge to the reader to become a pioneer in the things of the spirit.

RUFUS JONES SPEAKS TO OUR TIME, edited by Harry Emerson Fosdick, is an anthology of selections from this great man's books and sermons. Even though they are usually taken from much longer pieces, the extracts say a great deal in little space and the messages are amazingly timeless and equally amazingly pertinent to these times. The essence of Rufus Jones' philosophy and thinking is here provided not only for those who know them but for others to whom he will be new.

Other new books which will be of interest to adult readers include the following:

Art Has Many Faces, by Katharine Kuh.

American Folk Decoration, by Jean Lipman.

Tropical Fish as a Hobby, by Herbert Axelrod.

The Lost Sea, by Jan De Hartog.

Sweet Cork of Thee, by Robert Gibbings.

The Earth-Breakers, by Ernest Haycox.

The Dark Moment, by Ann Bridge.

The Duke's Daughter, by Angela Thirkell.

The Captive Witch, by Dale Van Every.

The Maresbath Women, by Vina Delmar.

Roughshod, by Norman A. Fox.

The D. A. Breaks a Seal, by Eric S. Gardner.

The Will to Live, by Dr. Arnold A. Hutschucker.

Treasure in the Dust, by Frank Hibben.

Three-Quarter Time, by Jerome Pastene.

Crisis in Freedom, by John C. Miller.

Twelve Cows—and We're in Clover, by George Rehms.

Immigrant's Return, by Angelo Pellegrini.

The Miracle Drugs, by Boris Sokoloff.

Kraas-Khan Baby Contest Extends Age Limit to Four

There are still a few openings left in the Kraas-Khan Studios baby contest. The contest runs from March 1 to March 19.

According to Miss Ruth Khan there will be twelve prizes given. Due to numerous requests the age limit has been increased to take in four-year-olds. The age groups now eligible are those from six months to four years. There will be prizes for each six-month age group.

All children in Ingham county outside the city of Lansing are eligible to enter the contest.

Judging will be based on personality and facial expression. The pictures of the winners will appear in the Ingham County News.

Those parents wishing to enter their children in the contest may do so by phoning the studio for an appointment, according to Miss Khan.

Dr. Clinton Adds To Leslie Farm

Dr. George R. Clinton has added the 160-acre Fred Hampton farm to his Leslie acreage. He recently bought the Harry King farm and orchard, 181 acres.

The Hampton farm is on Kinleville road and comes within a few rods of joining the King farm on Eden road.

Dr. Clinton plans to go into the dairy business. He will use the dairy barn on the King farm and expects to feed beef cattle and hogs on the Hampton farm to diversify his program.

Extra Bluegills Top OPA Price

By the time Emerson Kirby, 34, and Robert O. Allen, 24, both of Lansing, settled for their bluegills they were paying above the OPA ceiling price. Kirby and Allen went to Lowe lake Sunday to fish through the ice for bluegills. They had good luck, a little too good on the fish but it ran out. Conservation Officer Walter Mutchler was also at the lake checking up on limits. Kirby and Allen were above their allotted 15. The conservation officer took the two fishermen before Justice of the Peace Robert M. Montgomery in Lansing township Monday. Both men pleaded guilty. Each paid $12.80 in fines and costs.

Former Resident Dies in Ohio

Mason friends and relatives have received news of the death several months ago of Harry A. Lyon, of Boise, Idaho. Mr. Lyon was about 64 years of age, and was born in Mason, the son of Alva G. and Etta (Austin) Lyon. He was a graduate of the class of 1906 of Mason high school, and attended the University of Michigan for a time before making his home in Idaho. He is survived by eight children and a number of grandchildren. A brother, Lawrence A. Lyon of Lansing, died about three years ago. Marlon Grew spent the week end in Jackson with Mrs. Roy Warner and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Smith. Mr. and Mrs. Bob Wilson and family have moved into their new home on Base Line road. Mrs. Charles Clinton of Mason spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Cassidy.

Letters to the Editor

Mr. Hall's Leadership

When a person lives in a community for quite a long time, in fact all his life, many subjects written about in the home town newspaper are bound to strike a responsive chord and bring up memories. The article about A. J. Hall did just this.

It's been years since I've missed noting his birthday, for he has been a true, staunch friend not only of our immediate family but of my parents and grandparents. In an early day Mr. Hall lived where the Hall Memorial library, which he gave to the county, now stands. My mother as a girl lived with her parents, Col. George Shafer and Aunt Debby Shafer, as she was known by all, about where the Farmer's Mutual Insurance building now stands, so they were neighbors. My mother and grandmother often told me of those days when Albert at 12 years and younger diligently worked with his widowed mother in their vegetable garden across the street, after the death of his father at the close of the Civil War. My grandfather then kept the Shafer Inn on the corner where the old First State and Saving bank stood, cater-corner from what is now the Dart bank. I was pleased that our editor took the occasion of Mr. Hall's 90th birthday to write about a life-long townsman who has meant so much to Mason, its community and church life. Perhaps one of Mr. Hall's greatest contributions has been in the financing and upbuilding of individual lives.

I was interested also in the articles by Vernon Brown in the last two issues concerning the Ingham county infirmary. I agree heartily with all he said and feel that now is the time for action with caution as he suggested.

Our editor's good article on "Our Heritage of Freedom" brought to mind the recent incident of the respectable Chinese family, the Shengs, in San Francisco whom I saw and heard over TV. Too bad it happened especially on Brotherhood Week! Then the case of the D. A. R.'s allowing a distinguished negro soprano, Miss Dorothy Mannor, to sing in Constitution Hall in Washington, D. C.—first time since the Marlon Anderson incident in 1939.

Dr. Ralph H. Fireman Makes Reply

To Old Resident:
After reading your article condemning the Mason fire department for what you call a joyous outing I hope you now realize your hasty mistake. You by now know that the Civil Defense alert was no plan of the fire department and if it were I would still take exception to your article. Being an old resident I think it is time you made an effort to learn more about the workings of our fire department. It isn't what you would call a peaches and cream job.

You refer to us as Big Tough Firemen. These same guys are the ones injured or killed protecting your property and life when called. This, I thank God, has not happened here but it could happen with your property. Old Resident.

It has been the working rule of our department to answer all calls promptly and work as efficiently and effectively as possible. It is such articles as yours that show the thanks for our work. We will not take exception to your unsigned article for we will fight a fire at your residence and not blame you for starting it.

I personally invite you (Old Resident) to attend one of the Friday practice sessions. You could learn a lot.

HUGH W. SILSBY,
Ass't. Chief M. F. D.

Coins 300 Years Old

I have been interested in your published letters relative to old coins. They made me feel I should look through some of my antiques. It may be of some interest to others when I say I have English copper coins as follows:

George III, 1754, 1799 and 1807.
Victoria, 1939, 1862 to 1898.
Edward VII, 1905.
French-Napoleon III, 1854, 1862.

There are also some others but the dates are not discernible.

CD Chief Makes Reply

In reply to an article in last week's paper in regards to the firemen running around town for Civil Defense. Let me inform this Old Resident that these firemen and Civil Defense members shouldn't be criticized by him or anyone else.

Does he know the duties of the Civil Defense and what it stands for? If he does he should be thanking them for what they were doing.

In the first place I would like to ask this Old Timer, does he know that we are living in a progressive world in the atomic age? I would like to ask him what part is he taking in the Civil Defense program here in Mason? Did he have his blood typed or see the pictures of the A. Bomb at Mason high school. The answer is probably "no."

Also has he ever attended a Civil Defense meeting to know what is going on in Mason? The students of the high school seem to know more about the A bomb and how to survive it than most of our people in Mason do. Why? Ask them.

Old Resident, here are some of the programs that Mason Civil Defense has set up for you and all of us: Bloodtyping with 1,548 records on hand, home nursing class for women, first aid class in progress with 50 people. We will have a public training class next and many more other things included.

So, Old Resident, come to some of our civil defense meetings and maybe you won't be so eager to criticize us. We all are wondering why you didn't have your name printed in the paper on the article you wrote.

Writer Fears Communism

If England, our so-called mother country, was tricked into accepting socialism which turned out to be about the same thing as communism and put over by the same people, is there anyone who can come forward with any good reason to prove that they are not putting communism over on us in the place of democracy and free enterprise?

I find no fault whatever about the way our district school is handled. But I do think the communists should be kicked out of other schools, Columbia University, and all the United States history required as so often stated by Henry J. Taylor.

The way I understand it, Father Coughlin was asked and helped to go on the air against communism by a bishop, his superior. This same bishop talked part of one Sunday. They shared the time between them. The next bishop, his superior, thought he shouldn't be on the air. Which of these bishops was the best for our country?

I quote from a letter from England that said: "Give me a chance to coin and regulate the money for a country and I care not who makes the laws. The majority won't know and those that do know won't be heard."

FROST UPDIKE,

Can We Defend Ourselves?

There is no known way of preventing most enemy bombers from reaching their targets in the United States.

Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg, chief of the United States air force, has said that at most we could knock down only 30 out of each 100 planes attacking the United States.

At least 7 out of 10 would get through. This does not mean that our air force is ineffective. We have a fine air defense as everyone knows. We have good anti-aircraft guns too. So had the Germans in the last war, but the entire strength of the German air force and all Hitler's anti-aircraft batteries were not able to stop our attacking bombers. On the average we lost fewer than 10 out of each 100 planes.

You can be sure that everything possible will be done to stop the enemy at our borders, and to sabotage before it starts within our borders.

But you also can be sure that in case of war, a good percentage

Mason Woman Urges Support Of UMT Bill

Progress of the Universal Military Training bill now before congress is being watched with interest by women of the American Legion Auxiliary, according to Mrs. Janet Zimmerman, legislative chairman of Browne-Cavender at Mason. The bill represents 30 years of effort by the American Legion and Auxiliary to establish universal military training.

"UMT is a long-range plan," stated Mrs. Zimmerman, "designed to create a large force of trained reserves, constantly replenished, ready at any time for immediate action. It would provide a broad, democratic basis for a national security system which, by its very existence, would make dictators more eager to talk peace than war."

In its present form, the UMT bill calls for six months basic training at the age of 18, to be followed by seven and one-half years in the reserve forces, for all qualified young men.

Mrs. Zimmerman requests that all people interested in the security of the country write letters to Senators Blair Moody and Homer Ferguson, and to William W. Blackney, urging their backing of this measure.

of enemy attacks would be successful in spite of all we could do. That is why we must have civil defense and have it now.

Punctuation Disputed

In re those two periods you threw out in Down by the Sycamore last week—better hunt 'em before the spring thaw; you should use 'em. Three sources of information I was able to consult agree that oz. and lb. should have a period as both are abbreviations (not contractions which have apostrophes.)

Oz. may be from Spanish, Danish or German, "onze" or "onza," meaning 1/12 and referring to 1/12 of a Troy pound weight, or z from the sign of the apothecary. Where that came from I couldn't discover.

Lb. is from Latin libra, meaning pound.

All things, whatsoever ye shall ask in prayer, believing, ye shall receive. (Matthew 21:22.) Read Luke 23:39-43.

Will Lent be just a period of time, or will it be a season of clearer spiritual insight, such as we have never experienced before? The practice of real personal prayer will furnish the answer. One wonders if many of us do not plan too much regarding the use of Lent, and pray too little—allowing the increase of church activities to tower above the deepening consciousness of personal spiritual growth. Doing things for God in place of His working through us seems somewhat like putting the cart before the horse.

If such be the case, prayer will assure us of the needful correction. When we really talk to God, we shall experience a certain effect, that effect being a more decided dedication to His will—"Not my will, but thine, be done." Prayer, indeed, becomes a spiritual dynamic when it results in improving the quality of devotion to God rather than in the mere quantity of things done.

PRAYER
Forgive us, O God, for the meaningless or selfish prayers we have offered. Grant us the vision to see the power of prayer that results in a growing consecration to all that Thou seekest to do through us, for Christ's sake. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
I will pray that I may become more decidedly dedicated to God's will. — William Perkes (New York).

Church Workers Formed Continuing Organization

On February 18, 1933, a group of people who had been officers or members of the Ingham Council of Religious Education met for dinner and an afternoon of Christian fellowship at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard North, 871 Croverburg road. They enjoyed it so much that they decided to repeat it, and they chose the name, "The Friendly Group."

This first meeting was held the day before Mr. North's birthday, and until the last few years the meetings were held on alternate months, and birthdays of members were honored. In recent years a circulating letter has kept members in touch.

The original group was composed of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Meeker, Lansing; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Townsend, Stockbridge, now of Grand Ledge; Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Potter, Dansville; Dr. and Mrs. W. P. Hartzog, Mason; Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Fischer, Leslie, now of Rives Junction; Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Kirker, Holt; Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Lambertson, Lansing; Miss Ethel Adams, Mason; Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Mills, Holt; Mr. and Mrs. I. P. Huyser, Lansing; and Mr. and Mrs. Howard North, Holt.

At the first meeting Howard North was chosen president and Mrs. H. W. Meeker, secretary. In 1943 Mr. Huyser was chosen president and Mrs. Howard North, secretary.

On Sunday, February 17, 1952, Mr. and Mrs. I. P. Huyser celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary at their home in Lansing. The Last Word

Our funeral home is the very last word in beauty, convenience, and comfort. It certainly is the most modern funeral establishment in Mason, and it is extremely well-suited to the purpose to which it is dedicated—just as Ball prices are well-suited to the financial position of everyone.

Whittaker-Doty Vows Repeated Saturday

Mason Church of the Nazarene was the setting for a wedding Saturday evening when Dorothy Mae Doty and Douglas Franklin Whittaker spoke their nuptial vows.

Rev. Hugh Putnam, pastor of the church, performed the double-ring ceremony at 7:30 p. m. before an altar banked with seven-branch candelabra, ferns and a bouquet of gladioli and spring flowers.

Mrs. Charles Welch played traditional wedding music for the ceremony. She also accompanied Mrs. Lillian Beckwith and Mrs. Gene Fullock as they sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly." As the benediction they rendered "Saviour, Like a Shepherd Lead Me."

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Edith Schoen of 144 North Jefferson street, Mason. Mr. Whittaker's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Bert Whittaker of Leslie. Delores Donaldson and Kathy Jones, dressed in formals of pink and navy, respectively, lighted the candles preceding the ceremony. They each wore a corsage of pink carnations.

Wanda Whittaker and Roland Whittaker, sister and brother of the bridegroom, served as flower girl and ring bearer.

Bride Chooses Ivory Satin

The bride, given in marriage by her grandfather, Walter Board of Chicago, wore a gown of ivory bridal satin designed with a net yoke edged with lace and long sleeves ending in points over the wrists. The dress was styled with a fitted bodice and a V-shaped waist, edged with lace. The lace also adorned the back of the gown and edged the chapel-length train. A half crown of seed pearls held in place her fingertip-length veil. She carried a cascade arrangement of white carnations and talisman roses.

MR. AND MRS. DOUGLAS F. WHITTAKER

Mrs. Leonard Dunn of Rives Junction was matron of honor. Her pale blue net gown featured ruffles around the waist and down the back of the skirt. Her bouquet was made up of red roses and white carnations.

Leonard Dunn of Rives Junction, friend of the bridegroom, served as best man. Arthur E. Doty, brother of the bride, and Leland Perrine, Jr., ushered the wedding guest to their seats.

Mrs. Schoen selected a navy blue taffeta gown for her daughter's wedding. Her accessories were red and she wore a corsage of white carnations and talisman roses. Mrs. Whittaker's gown was navy crepe with which she wore black accessories. Her corsage was like Mrs. Schoen's.

Miss Shirley Benham registered the guests at the wedding. Reception at Parsonage. The newlyweds greeted their guests at a reception at the Nazarene parsonage after the ceremony.

A two-tiered square wedding cake topped with wedding bells and a miniature bride and bridegroom, centered the serving table, which was decorated with two floral arrangements and white tapers in crystal holders. Grooms cake, punch and ice cream were also served.

Luella Gibbs, Delores Donaldson, Kathy Jones and Joan Hall served the refreshments.

Detroit Wedding Trip
After the reception the couple took a trip to Detroit. For traveling, the bride chose a gray suit with gray and navy accessories. They are now residing at 428 1/2 South Jefferson street, Mason.

Mrs. Whittaker is attending Mason high school. Mr. Whittaker attended Leslie high school. He is employed at the Duo-Therm in Lansing.

Mrs. Leslie Gober Is Guest of Honor At Shower Tuesday

Mrs. Basil D. Fruin entertained Tuesday evening at a stork shower honoring Mrs. Leslie Gober of Holt, the former Phyllis Rose. Mrs. Raymond Holmes of Lansing acted as co-hostess.

Guests played games during the evening. Those present were Miss Frances Miller of Lansing, Miss Audrey Brownfield, Mrs. Jack O'Berry, Mrs. Luren Bartlett, Mrs. Harold Larkins, Jr., Mrs. Paul Mudgett, Jr., Mrs. Lynn Noxon and Mrs. Marilyn Howe.

The hostesses served jello with whipped cream, cake decorated with a stork and coffee. Mrs. Gober received many nice gifts.

PTA Fair Scheduled, Plans Are Underway

With the Mason P. T. A. fair only two weeks away there have been many queries on what to do with the contributions, according to the committee chairman.

Those solicited for money are to send this to the teacher. Comic books should go to Mrs. LaVeda Poyet's room, No. 207, at any time. All the items for the white elephant sale are to be wrapped and taken to Mrs. Betty Reynolds' room, No. 203.

Prizes for the games can be taken to Miss Marian Rathbone's room, No. 210. Potted plants should go to Mrs. Ann Fredericks' room, No. 201, the week of the fair.

Girl Scout, Brownie, Boy Scout and Cub uniforms, for the exchange, should be cleaned and pressed and put on a hanger with the owner's name, size and the price asked. The uniforms and other Scout equipment can be left at Horn's Shoe Store or the Girl Scout and Brownie uniforms could be taken to the home of Mrs. Otis Clipper, 504 Hall Blvd. Boy Scout and Cub uniforms can be left with Don Scofield, 321 Center street or can be taken to Scout meetings.

Baked goods or candy for the store are to be taken to Mrs. Ruth Hall's room, No. 208, on Friday, March 14, after school. Any food item for the cafeteria dinner should be left at the home economics room between 3:30 and 5:00 on Friday, March 14, the day of the fair, and the dishes and any leftover food can be picked the Scout meetings.

Further information can be obtained from Mrs. Gilson Pearsall or Mrs. Gerald Graham.

Golf Women Meet at Richard Brown Home

Mrs. Richard W. Brown opened her home to members of the Mason Women's Golf association Thursday evening. Mrs. Roy Christensen, Mrs. Fred Olds and Mrs. Thomas Jackson assisted her.

Mrs. Don Densmore won high and Mrs. Nelson Rouse won low. Following bridge, the hostesses served refreshments to the group.

Couple Wed February 16 at Wesleyan Methodist Church

Miss Wilma Crawford of Grand Ledge and J. E. Jones of Mason spoke their wedding vows last Saturday, February 16, at the Wesleyan Methodist church in Lansing.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Lake of Lansing. Mr. Jones is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Jones of Mason. William McKee of Lansing rendered "I Love You Truly," "Because" and "Always," preceding the double-ring candlelight ceremony.

The bride selected a plain white slipper satin gown for her wedding. Her colonial-style bouquet was made up of red rosebuds and white French carnations.

Barbara Simpson of Lansing was maid of honor. She wore a pastel green gown and carried a colonial bouquet of pink rosebuds and pink carnations. Patsy Boyd and Martha Akins of Lansing were bridesmaids.

They wore gowns of pastel lavender and pink, respectively. Miss Boyd's bouquet was yellow carnations and Miss Akins carried an arrangement of pink carnations. William McKee served as best man. Walter F. Hamilton, Jr., of Lansing, and Charles Sawaya of Mason ushered the wedding guests to their seats.

Mrs. Lake wore a dark blue two-piece dress with pink accessories. Mrs. Jones chose a blue print dress with white accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of red rosebuds and white carnations.

Reception Is Held

After the ceremony a wedding reception was held. Mrs. Joseph Hall and Mrs. Rudy Pauls of Williamston, sisters of the bridegroom, and Mrs. James Cleland of Lansing and Mrs. Arthur Stephen of Traverse City, sisters of the bride, served refreshments.

Cley Foremans Are Honored on 32nd Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Foreman, Mr. and Mrs. Arlo Foreman and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Foreman honored their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cley Foreman, Saturday night on their 32nd wedding anniversary. They gave a party at the Wheatfield Cleaner hall, which was decorated in blue and white, with white bells.

Guests played cards at the beginning of the evening. At 11:00 p. m. a bohemian dinner was served. The honored guests and Mr. Foreman's mother, Mrs. Minnie Foreman of Webberville, and Mr. and Mrs. Hazen Coburn of West Holt road, who were the couple's attendants 32 years ago, sat at a linen-covered table.

Mrs. Harold Glynn and Mrs. Frank Llinger sang "Silver Threads Among the Gold" and "When You and I Were Young, Maggie."

Mrs. Maxine Kratzer of Lansing baked the seven-tiered wedding cake for the occasion.

The Foremans opened their gifts which were placed on a lace-covered table decorated with bouquets of flowers and candelabra. Dancing completed the evening's entertainment.

The 75 guests attended from Lansing, Webberville, Williamston, Holt, Mason, Leslie, Dansville, Vantown, Eaton Rapids and

Mrs. Joel Richert Speaks At Mission Benefit Tuesday

Members of the Mason Methodist W. S. C. S. were hosts to people of the community Tuesday evening, when Mrs. Joel Richert told of her experiences while living in Japan. Mrs. Richert now lives in Santa Monica, California. She is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Jewett.

Mrs. Louis Stid, general chairman, introduced Mrs. Richert who was wearing a Japanese costume. Mrs. Richert then introduced Wayne Bullen, Van Bullen and Mrs. Donald Scofield, who were also dressed in Japanese garb.

Mrs. Richert explained the purpose of the various kinds of costumes and she showed colored slides and moving pictures, assisted by Rev. Raymond L. Norton.

The program was planned as a mission benefit for Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Dunton, who are serving as agricultural missionaries in Japan under the Methodist Board of Missions. Mrs. Dunton is the former Joan Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. S. Davis of Mason.

Following the program refreshments were served in the dining room, which was decorated with cherry blossoms and souvenirs of Japan. Burning incense helped to carry out the oriental theme.

Tea was served from a Japanese tea table with Mrs. Richert pouring.

Birthday Party Is Planned

Charles F. Hart will observe his 80th birthday anniversary by holding open house at his farm on Haslett road, Route 2, Williamston.

He was born and has lived at this farm all his life. Relatives, neighbors and friends are invited to attend the celebration on Sunday, March 2, from one to five o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. William Bushard attended a family reunion Sunday in Fremont, Indiana, in honor of Mr. Bushard's brother who returned home from Korea. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Bushard of Fremont, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bushard and children of Angola, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bushard of Fort Wayne.

Dr. and Mrs. A. V. Smith spent Sunday in Muskegon Heights visiting Mrs. Ethel Kuhn. Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Kuhn are sisters. Mr. and Mrs. William Wallace and sons of South Bend, Indiana, plan to spend the week end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Hughes and Mrs. Ruth Wallace.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rector and Earl Rector visited Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Campbell and Cecil recently.

Mr. and Mrs. John Barnes, Jr., of Lansing and Mrs. Lydia Adolof were guests at dinner Sunday of Mrs. Zola Osborne.

Auxiliary Holds Annual Program On Americanism

Browne-Cavender American Legion Auxiliary No. 148 of Mason held its annual Americanism program Tuesday evening at the Legion Memorial building. Mrs. Pearl Jewett, chairman of this phase of the unit's activities, conducted a quiz through a series of pictures depicting right and wrong usages of the United States flag and another on the life of George Washington.

She also displayed leaflets used in Americanism work and gave a short talk on her subject. Quoting from a recent issue of a veterans' publication, Mrs. Jewett said, "When, years ago, it family found they could no longer make a living on a worn-out New England farm, did they ask for government subsidies, checks for crops they had not raised, or high prices for crops to be burned? They would have feared such things, for they knew from experience in European lands that government control accompanies its money."

"This family," continued Mrs. Jewett, "put their belongings in a wagon, and walked westward beside it 2,000 miles, not knowing what was ahead, but determined to keep their self respect. That is America."

Members of the Auxiliary were urged to write their congressmen, protesting against the formation of "world government," which, it was pointed out, would mean scrapping our constitution and our great heritage as Americans and lowering our standard of living to that of the worn-out nations of other parts of the world.

Mrs. Patricia Lewis became a member of the Auxiliary at Tuesday night's meeting, and Mrs. Beverly Hill were chosen delegates to attend the sixth district meeting to be held in Fenton March 9. A social hour followed the business session.

Club Women Hear Review of Book

Members of the Mason Women's club at their meeting Tuesday heard Mrs. Charles T. Lawton review the "Road to Bithynia," by Dr. Frank Slaughter. The meeting was held in the Hall Memorial library.

Mrs. Hugh J. Bartley was program chairman. Mrs. Fred Carrier introduced Jane Dart, who played two piano selections.

Mrs. Floyd Taylor presided at the business meeting. Mrs. Arthur P. Ziegler presented her report on the afternoon session of the Federation meeting.

Hostesses Tuesday were Mrs. L. B. Barr, Miss Alta Ward, Mrs. Donald Snyder and Mrs. W. H. Collar.

WEST AFRICAN SPEAKS

Ben Owusu from the Gold Coast of West Africa was the speaker at the meeting of the Mason Kiwanis club Tuesday night. He is a graduate student in agriculture at Michigan State college. He studied in England before coming to the United States. He told of the industrial development made during the past year and of the educational program the native government has now undertaken.

The Nazarene church presented a song service for the patients at the Holloway Home Sunday. Rev. Hugh Putnam delivered the sermon, and Mrs. Ethel Moore closed the services with a prayer.

The Rainbow Girls furnished the Holloway home with place cards. One was representing Washington's birthday and the other was for the leap year.

Extension Clubs

Ingham

The Ingham extension group met at the Danville town hall, Monday evening with 24 members present. The business meeting was held with Edna Glover, chairman, presiding. This was followed by a lesson on how to make lamp shades, presented by Lesmore Gauss and Ann Ridgeway.

Refreshments were served by Margaret Wing, Georgia Wygant and Julia Walker. The committee for the March meeting will be Abbie Fortman, Clara Vogt and Lillian Kreeger.

Peppy Homemakers

Mrs. Phillip Cavender entertained 11 members of the Peppy Homemakers extension group February 13. After a short business meeting the lesson on lamp shades was given by Mrs. Gordon Bravender. The hostess served refreshments. On February 19 the group also met with Mrs. Bravender to work on the lamp shades. Mrs. Marjorie Raymond will entertain at the next meeting March 12.

Millville

Marie Felton entertained the Millville extension group last Wednesday for its monthly meeting and potluck dinner. Mrs. Felton had baked a birthday cake honoring those whose birthdays occurred this month.

The members answered roll call by reporting on an interesting article. A special feature of the day was a short shower for one of the members, Doris Crowfoot. Thelma Carr presented the lesson on pillow smoking.

The next meeting will be March 19 at the home of Marie Phelps at which time the first lesson on lamp shades will be presented.

Family night will be observed the evening of March 20 at the Millville hall.

Southwest Wheatfield

"Where do you get your best bargains" was the roll call response at the February meeting of the Southwest Wheatfield extension group. Ten members and one visitor met at the home of Mrs. Marian Pollok on Holt road on Wednesday, February 20.

The business meeting was led by Mrs. Robert Foreman, chairman. Mrs. Harold Huffine acted as secretary and treasurer in the absence of Mrs. Roger Church.

Mrs. Marian Pollok, secretary and treasurer of the flower fund, made a report of money on hand and also took up the penny collection. Miss Erma Pollok thanked the group for the plant flowers and the many acts of

Malady Is Spreading Rapidly

Measles is being reported at the rate of 700 cases a week in Michigan. The state is in for a "Measles Year."

The disease, one of the most highly communicable of all the so-called children's diseases, is already reaching "epidemic" proportions in some of the south-eastern sections of the state and is spreading rapidly to other areas.

Measles is especially dangerous to young children under six years of age. Parents should be on the alert for cases in their neighborhood and watch for symptoms in their older children so they will know if their young child is exposed.

If the young child is exposed, a doctor should be called at once.

Because of the threat of complications and even death from measles in younger children, the state health department recommends modification of the disease in all children under six years of age, and the prevention of measles in infants and children who are not well and strong.

Physicians have a serum-immune serum globulin—to modify or prevent measles, but success depends upon the parent knowing the approximate time of exposure. To prevent measles, the serum must be given immediately after exposure. To modify

Currys Enjoy Flight to India

Travelers Have Little Time to See the Sights

New Delhi, India—We arrived at New Delhi, India, February 6, about 1:00 p. m. No one got sick on the trip over. The flying was perfect, enabling us to see much more than we had anticipated. The shoreline along the Atlantic was very interesting. The lights of the towns in Nova Scotia outlined the size and shape of the area below. In two places we saw ice in the ocean. The moonlight on the clouds made the night trip very interesting for us inasmuch as we had not had the experience of flying before.

A strong headwind delayed the arrival in Shannon, Ireland, one hour. We had breakfast at the airport and the crew replaced a generator in one of the motors of the plane. This gave us some time to look the place over and take some pictures.

The flight from Shannon to Paris took us over England. Here we could see the countryside perfectly. It was interesting to note that nearly all of the land was in grass. The only look we had at London was from the air and at quite a great distance.

All we saw of Paris was the airport and some of the very large estates along the Seine river. From Paris the next hop was to Rome over the Alps. We flew at an altitude of 19,500 feet. The temperature outside the plane was 20 degrees below zero. In many places the clouds broke so we were able to see the snow-capped peaks of the Alps.

Due to the fact that the airport at Cairo was closed to night landing we were forced to stay in Rome over night. We were driven by bus from the airport to the hotel and had a chance to sleep until 1:00 a. m. when we were awakened to go to the airport for a 3:00 a. m. departure to Cairo. The flight from Rome to Cairo was mostly over water so we did not see much. We were however introduced to a new culture with many strange customs.

From Cairo to Basra our trip took us over the great deserts with their sands, camels, the Nile River Valley and Mount Sinai of Bible fame. Here we saw date palms for the first time.

From Basra the next hop was to Dhahran in the heart of the Great Middle East Oil development. Here we all rushed into the American air base station for our last chance at an American hamburger and cup of coffee.

We met many people on the flight who were returning to the oil fields and knew Russell Brown. The trip from Dhahran to Bombay was made after dark and with his devotion to principles as a member of the U. S. Cavalry. The ruthless exploitation of the Indian, as one sees it in "New Mexico," serves to make the picture a timely, compelling plea for a fair deal for the American Indian as a minority group.

Ayres and Miss Maxwell, who plays a frontier actress, are supported by a distinguished cast headed by Jeff Corey, Andy Devine, Robert Hutton, Donald Buka, Raymond Burr, Lloyd Corrigan, Walter Greaza, Verna Felton and Ted de Corsia.

The picture was photographed entirely in New Mexico against fabulous natural backdrops. Bashfulness is an ornament to youth, but a reproach to old age. —Aristotle.

Indian Problem Shown
Due at the Fox Theatre next Thursday and Friday is the thrilling United Artists release, "New Mexico," which was produced by Irving Allen, with Irving Reis at the directorial helm. Co-starring in the film, which was photographed throughout in the sensational new Anasco Color, are Lew Ayres and Marilyn Maxwell.

The film relates the tense, dramatic story of an ill-fated cavalry patrol which sets out hopefully on a desperate errand of mercy. It is the story of this patrol's dauntless leader, Captain Hunt, who never faltered in his duty and who willingly made the supreme sacrifice to achieve a strange victory.

Ayres plays the role of Captain Hunt, whose sympathetic understanding of the Indian problem, in the late 1860's, and his friendship for a formidable Indian Chief called Acema, do battle definite opinions regarding our new work. However, the most casual observer might see that tremendous need for food and other basic necessities exists. I hope we will be able to contribute in some way to the welfare of the people of India.

THE CURRYS

We were met by a representative of the American embassy here and taken to the Ambassador Hotel where we will stay until our departure to our post.

Gord Schlubatis, Hans Kardel and Roland Coven, Michigan county agents along with other Americans, were here for a conference. It seemed good to see people we knew from home.

Saturday night we met at the home of Ambassador Bowles for a social hour and got-acquainted session.

We have not been in India long enough to have formulated any

Classroom Need Is Outlined by Holt Officials

Need for four more classrooms at Holt by fall is outlined in a recent report made by the board of education. Ideally, the board agreed, the need is for seven rooms, but four is the absolute minimum for an increased enrollment.

The analysis centers around next year's fifth and sixth grades. Those two grades have 144 children in five rooms this year; they should have seven rooms next year for the 172 or more children if individual classes are to be held at or below the 30 per teacher mark. To this minimum need for two classrooms there should be added the desirability of abandoning the Lot school which was condemned 14 years ago. If it is not abandoned, it will be used for 30 first and second graders in that area.

If two or three rooms can be made available for this purpose the elementary rooms would actually average 27 students per classroom.

High school needs are inherited from the 1951-52 school year when there should have been at least two more rooms available for proper scheduling of classes, school officials said. Since they weren't available this year, the library had to be used as a study hall instead of a research room for individual classes and groups, and the faculty room has been taken over for scheduled classroom use instead of being available for parent conferences, committee meetings, or other needs.

Another pressing need in high school is adequate room for the manual arts department, the school board declared. This situation could be relieved by removal of two elementary groups from the main building site and conversion of their rooms to shop facilities. High school needs thus amount to two to four rooms, depending on what is done about shop facilities.

The total needs of the whole school system will amount to a minimum of four to seven rooms by the beginning of next school year.

Census figures show that, as 69 leave the sixth grade this spring, 117 will probably enroll in kindergarten next fall. As 57 graduate from high school, about 85 will enter seventh grade. The board of education has already notified the North school district that Holt high school will be unable to accept any of their ninth graders next fall or any other North students not already enrolled in Holt last year.

It is not planned to refuse the few tuition students from the surrounding one-room districts since their refusal would not result in saving of space or expense, but only a loss of revenue from tuition money, according to school board members.

Present enrollment figures, not allowing for any natural growth, show that an additional two rooms will be needed for elementary children by September of 1953. A loss of 75 from the sixth grade at that time will be followed by the admission of 130 or more kindergartners. A third kindergarten room will then be needed to help take care of five or more sections of kindergarten. Also by that time an additional room will be needed for the second grade enrollment.

All of the above figures are subject to upward revision if the community continues to grow. Since it is impossible to get any new building done by September, the only other possible temporary solutions would seem to be renting of adequate additional space somewhere; abandonment of attempts to keep class loads below 30 children per teacher; or obtaining more "temporary portables."

Marine Corps Aviation Is Glorified on Fox Screen

Thursday and Friday Walter Pidgeon in "CALLING BULLDOG DRUMMOND" will play at the Fox theatre along with Tim Holt in "Pistol Harvest."

The Fox bill for Saturday afternoon and evening will feature one of the top romance-action pictures of the year, "His Kind of Woman."

Romance menaced by danger keynotes Howard Hughes' presentation, "His Kind of Woman," with Robert Mitchum and Jane Russell in melodramatic starring roles.

The adventures of a gambler on a mysterious mission and a singer with marriage on her mind, at a swank resort located at a remote spot on the Mexican coast, are presented in the unusual drama. The singer finds that the man she intended to wed is already married, while the gambler learns that he is to be slain in cold blood as soon as his usefulness to a sinister coterie is over. The subsequent happenings make for plenty of drama and tension before the thrilling climax is reached.

Vincent Price is in support as a big-game-hunting film star whose prowess with the rifle helps the gambler win out. Tim Holt and Charles McGraw are also featured in the RKO Radio picture. Marjorie Reynolds and Jim Backus have prominent roles. Robert Sparks produced the film, which is a John Farrow production.

Taylor Leads 200 Women

200 Women—and Robert Taylor! That's the unique situation in M-G-M's striking new drama, "Westward the Women," action-filled story of the courageous trek of a band of women to find homes and husbands in the California of the 1850 pioneer era.

The film will be shown Sunday and Monday at the Fox. To film "Westward the Women," M-G-M sent the largest location company in studio history 1,000 miles from Hollywood along the historic California Trail of the Forty-Niners, following the rut marks of those early pioneers right to California's own deserts.

The romantic leads in "Westward the Women" are filled by Robert Taylor, as the Indian scout who leads the caravan to the west, and Denise Darcel, as the girl who wins his love. Taylor comes to the new picture following his starring role in the triumphant "Quo Vadis."

Miss Darcel will be remembered as the provocative French lass of "Battleground." Also featured are Hope Emerson, 1950 Academy Award nominee for her work in "Caged," and John McIntire, who has scored in such hits as "Ambush" and "The Asphalt Jungle."

Leathernecks Star
The inspiring story of the U. S. Marine Corps fighter pilots in the last war is brilliantly presented in "Flying Leathernecks," Howard Hughes' new RKO Radio melodrama which plays Tuesday and Wednesday at the Fox theatre with John Wayne and Robert Ryan co-starring.

Centering on the exploits of a fighter squadron commanded by Wayne during the desperate struggle for Guadalcanal in World War II, the picture derives its powerful human interest from the views of Wayne which conflict with those of Ryan, his executive officer, on matters of discipline. This conflict continues to motivate the exciting action on through the subsequent campaigns in the Eastern Theatre of action. Its many stirring scenes of aerial combat gives the film an unusual realism, which is enhanced by color in Technicolor. Both stars turn in splendid portrayals, and they get highly effective support from Don Taylor as an eager young pilot, Janis Carter as Wayne's lovely wife, William Harrigan as a flight surgeon and Jay C. Flippen as a master sergeant. Nicholas Ray's direction keeps the story moving at a stirring pace, and Edmund Grainger's excellent production mounting adds to the vividness of the offering. "Flying Leathernecks" is definitely a "must" for this season's theatregoers.

Confusion of Sound

Perhaps the city should rig up a second siren with a distinctive voice for air raid warnings.

Now the sounding of the siren, except for the daily 12 o'clock summons to dinner, means fire. When the siren is sounded people naturally believe there is a fire. Instead of taking shelter from bombs they rush to their cars to follow the firemen.

Even firemen themselves were fooled by the secret air raid alarm of two weeks ago. One fireman employed on a night shift in Lansing received a telephone call from his wife. She informed him that there must be a bad fire because the siren was blowing almost continuously. That man left his job to hurry to Mason to give aid in fighting a blaze. In 10 minutes flat, he said, he sped from Mt. Hope in Lansing to the fire station in Mason. After endangering his own life and others on the road, he discovered on arrival in Mason that the fire department was engaged in a mock air raid problem.

Civil defense is necessary. So is ordinary common sense on the part of federal and state civil defense officials in staging the practices. No. 1 in any common sense program is keeping the people informed of when one of the practice runs is coming off.

A person is just as dead if killed by a careening car or a fire department truck as he would be if struck by an atomic bomb.

There's another angle to civil defense and fire-fighting that should also be considered. That is the right of anyone to criticize. This is the United States of America, one of the few countries left in the world where criticism of public services is permitted. Instead of taking offense at criticism, those in public service ought to welcome it. They ought to encourage it. Exercises of our freedoms of speech and freedoms of the press strengthen us beyond any program civil defense authorities can undertake. And if we lose those freedoms the bombs might just as well start dropping. Because this won't be America any longer.

Civil defense authorities ought to be even more anxious to guard the rights of American citizens than they are the property the citizens own. One of those rights is the right to know what is going on when the fire siren sounds. Another is the right to speak up if he doesn't like the way any public business—whether it be city, county, state or national business—or even civil defense or fire protection—is handled.

Yes, there probably should be another siren rigged up to eliminate confusion over civil defense drills and fire alarms. Confusion over rights of the people to criticize should also be eliminated.

The UMT Bill Again

Once again the nation is threatened with universal military training, UMT.

UMT means a standing army of some four million men. It means regimentation in peacetime, regimentation from 18 through 25. The "six months of training" which the bill purports to provide is a dishonest statement. From six to nine months of additional training is what is now being provided for National Guard units before they are sent out.

UMT is a threat to freedom and individual rights, a threat to freedom of education, freedom of thought and freedom of action. That's the moral angle. From a practical angle UMT is a waste of money and energy.

France, Germany, Italy and Russia all have had universal military service. It never saved any of them. France's rank upon rank of soldiers capitulated before the Germans. The Germans in turn fell before free Americans. Freedom produces the best soldiers.

The UMT bill gives czaristic, Stalinistic power to the president of the United States. It will be up to him to free from military service the young men selected for study in medicine, the sciences, engineering and other fields "which the president determines to be in the national interest." Under UMT the right of young men and young women to choose their own fields of service is restricted or denied.

Universal Military Training actually means Universal Military Service, and is so admitted by members of the armed services committee of congress. Universal military training could be well handled through the National Guard with young men remaining at home except for two weeks a year. But that isn't what the UMT sponsors demand. They want the young men under regimentation and strict control. They seek to impose the Prussian style of peacetime conscription. They want to place every youngster of 18 under political control. They either do not recognize the threat to liberty which UMT poses, or they ignore it.

UMT should be beaten down. It is un-American. It is costly. It does not, at least it never has, been a bulwark to the defense of any nation. It has brought the downfall of many.

A Cleaner City

Mason has grown slovenly in its housekeeping. Streets have been littered with package wrappings, empty cartons and paper of all kinds. We have all had the excuse that there wasn't any handy place to put it.

That excuse won't hold much longer. The city council has bought rubbish containers and will have them placed at strategic points about the business section.

It's a good idea. It should make us all want to cooperate in keeping the city clean.

They Fool Themselves, too

Big City Reporters Make Mistakes

By Vernon J. Brown

Every now and then I stand in awe at the dense ignorance displayed by some city news reporters, likewise with the gullibility of big time news editors who let the stuff get by their desks and into print. This is Sunday afternoon and once again I am confronted with the stern warning that copy for this column is due tomorrow morning. I have been reading the Sunday papers and I am amazed once again at some of the writing that gets prominent space in the metropolitan press, especially in the Sunday editions.

As an instance of the silly reporting I have in mind there is the highly illustrated Sunday article on winter living in the north country. This city dweller talks about "north winds" and the rigors of teaching school in the frigid sections of out-state Michigan. This guy from off the sidewalks of Detroit got as far north as Peary in Shawasssee county. He took some pictures of a farmer doing chores in a huge modern barn and tells his readers how this farmer dresses in "long underwear, a sweat shirt over a plain one, overalls and a padded jacket." On the farmer's part this timid soul from the pavements is startled to find "felt shoes and overshoes over socks" and on his hands "double lined gloves."

What a picture of living in the Arctic regions up around Peary. It may be this city feller thought he was at "Peary" instead of Peary and that this was the spot where Admiral Peary spotted the north pole.

I had no more than recovered some of my usual composure when I ran onto another weird tale told the city dwellers. This time it had to do with the amount of money some city hall reporter had discovered his Detroit neighbors are contributing toward welfare aids and public health activities in Michigan's largest city. This time the reporter told his readers that a Detroitier living in a home assessed at $5,000 is now paying each year a total of $8.38 for general health services, including milk and meat inspection, public hospitals, clinics, etc., with $3.77 going for relief of the poor, a total of $12.15.

Conclusions Are False
If Detroiters are content to be thus soothed and comforted I suppose I should let them rest in their delusions. But for fear some of the more enlightened people who live in the country and read this newspaper might also be misled I want to point out the fallacy of the above conclusions. Of course, this city reporter only had before him what the city fathers take in the way of local property taxes on a piece of property listed on the assessment rolls for $5,000. The sad truth is, that is but the beginning.

The average occupant of a $5,000 city home has a wife and two or more children. In that case that household also contributes about $125 in retail sales tax collected by state agencies, some of it spent through grants in aid to local units of government. Of the total collected by the state, just about one-third is expended for welfare and public health services, and if care and treatment of the mentally ill is included then almost exactly half of all receipts from the retail sales and use taxes can be said to be spent in this field.

$48 Off in Figures
Thus the family occupying that $5,000 home in Detroit can say they are chipping in about $60.00 in sales tax along with that $12.15 the city hall reporter wrote about.

Then if the head of the family is interested to learn all about his contributions in this field he should inquire at Washington.

The Detroitier may get excited about his local property tax burden when he pays over to the city treasurer a total of $165.15 for all city, county and school district levies, but until he adds in the taxes paid to the state and the federal governments he cannot know the whole truth. Astounding as it may sound when we are told the state last year collected from its citizens a total of $342,000,000, we quickly cool off when we also learn that Washington asked for and got more than four billion dollars from Michigan residents and businesses. Perhaps it may be easier to comprehend if we were to say that for every dollar paid the state the average Michigan resident paid Uncle Samuel a neat $12. Even the Detroiters enjoying a $5,000 home pay six times as much to some agency collecting for the national government as they pay to both city and state tax collectors.

State Gets Little Back
And how much did Michigan as a state win back from Washington in the way of federal aids? Did somebody ask that question? According to the latest report from the auditor general and covering the fiscal year ended last June 30, the state of Michigan received just a few dollars more than $57,000,000. In other words, we send Washington $72 and get one dollar back in the way of federal aid for state operations.

That does not appear to be a very good bargain. I used to know a horse swapper who did a lot better than that. He always insisted on getting a little "boot money." Instead we pay a lot of "boot money."

Down by the SYCAMORE

With radios, cigar lighters, turning lights and all kinds of other gadgets on automobiles, it's a wonder that mousetraps have been overlooked. Maybe they won't be much longer. Mrs. Clarence Fry's car stalled. She tried without success to get it started. There was juice in the battery. The starter worked. But the motor wouldn't start. Came nightfall and Clarence himself went to work on the car. He finally discovered that a mouse had crawled up under the hood and had suffered electrocution. The body of the mouse short-circuited the ignition system.

John Edgar in a recent bout in eight-handed pitch at the K. of P. hall held a perfect hand—the ace, king, queen, jack, ten and deuce of hearts. Naturally he bid four and went all the way.

James H. Vander Ven, superintendent of schools, preached the sermon at the Presbyterian church in Mason Sunday morning and did a creditable job.

The Oesterles are going to do their riding on tractors instead of blooded horses. Lyle Oesterle has bought the Red Cedar Stables on Okemos road but the stables are coming down right away. (See Want Ad columns.)

Nothing has created so much response in the letter column as the reports on finding of old coins. Mrs. Earle Critenden of Mason has come up with the oldest coins so far. Her keepsakes go back to 1754.

Here at the Ingham County News we are paying $15 for 1951 Lincoln pennies. Better read it over again, $15 for 1951 Lincoln pennies. We'll net $4.51 on every transaction, the way we figure it!

Sauce has developed into a local idiom. To newcomers it means something to be poured out of a bottle onto meat or to ladle over pudding. Sauce as spoken of by our parents and grandparents meant canned peaches, pears, plums, strawberries, cherries or other fruits or pieplant. It still means that at our house.

The Ingham County News staff salutes John Robinson of Tuttle Orchards for a gift of apples Monday. He held back a generous helping for us after selling the balance of his crop.

Mrs. Ethel Otis surrendered telephone No. 9031 to team up with 9011 and 9021 at the Ingham County News in a triple-hitch. Michigan Bell promised that her new number 2-7891 would be listed in the new telephone directory. Somebody slipped up. Her telephone is listed neither as 9031 or 2-7891. It isn't listed at all. So please take pen in hand and inscribe her name and number in your new book—2-7891.

How close do reports come in guessing fire losses? Usually there is no checking up. The guess is made before the embers cool. It is months later before the loss is adjusted, and by that time everyone is tired of hearing about the fire.

After wading through the rubbish in the wake of the Ingham County News fire December 10 I estimated the loss at $30,000; the building at $20,000. The estimate was low on the building and high on the machinery. The actual cost of restoring the building, and that's exclusive of betterment, came to $13,002.62. Repairs to machinery and equipment and the loss of paper amounted to $15,114.13. That's a total loss of $29,117.01. And that doesn't include the bright new lights, the new partitions and added equipment.

True also is the trite phrase used in accounts of fires—"the loss was partially covered by insurance." There was $10,500 on the building, and under co-insurance it slumped down to around $10,000. The loss on the equipment will be covered in full—we hope.

Put this down as true—nobody gains at a fire.

"What did you learn besides that in the fire?" some may ask.

We learned that 90% co-insurance may not be the best investment—that 70% or 80% which costs more is worth more. We learned that "business interruption" and "added expense" under extended coverage would have cost little and paid much. We didn't have it, and so the insurance companies paid nothing toward our added costs of publishing the paper during the restoration. The $30,000 guess was about $5,000 too low with "business interruption" and "added expense" considered.

The Bible says, "He that kindleth the fire shall surely make restitution." And that's fair enough.

Friday is an extra day. Don't waste it!

Founders Day Dinner Is Held

A potluck supper preceded the P. T. A. meeting at the high school gym on Thursday evening in celebration of Founders Day one year ago. Mrs. Grant Rex was in charge of serving the dinner.

Mrs. Moore Brownlee, first president of the Leslie P. T. A., reviewed the accomplishments of the organization in its first year; the sponsoring of vision tests in the school, fluoride treatments for children's teeth and coming in March 3, 4 and 5, hearing tests. Volunteers to help in this last project are needed.

A nominating committee to select officers for the coming year was elected by the group as follows: Mrs. Wilfred Wardowski, Rev. Paul E. Tucker and Mrs. William Grugel. Mrs. Carl Losey, program chairman, introduced a dramatic program under the direction of Miss Greiner, teacher of the class in dramatics. Jeanne Adams introduced the numbers.

Dick Price gave a monologue, "I Remember"; Clayton Trotter did a monologue, "It's the Third Time"; Maturine Wood and Miriam Bossert sang a duet accompanied by Patty Clancy. A melodramatic skit, "No, No, A Thousand Times No" was given by Phyllis Foster, Althea Fogg, Marjorie Reynolds and John J. Koker. Mrs. Losey introduced the guest speaker of the evening, William G. Robinson of the University of Michigan extension service, who spoke on "Recreation program for the community." After his talk a movie, "Leaders for Leisure" was shown.

Following the picture a discussion period led to the appointing of a committee to investigate the possibilities of a summer recreation program for Leslie. Mrs. Brownlee named John McCarger, Mrs. Heuer and Mrs. Claude Smith on the committee with instructions to call a meeting of representatives from all civic organizations to take further steps in the organizing of a recreation program. Mrs. Brownlee thanked Miss Greiner for the dramatic part of the program, the dinner committee and Mr. Robinson for their contributions to the evening. The next meeting will be held in the school library.

Election of officers will be held and a teen-age forum will be the feature of the evening.

Catholic Mothers Meet

Mrs. Norman Mitchell entertained the Catholic Mothers club at her home Tuesday evening. The club discussed its projects. Mrs. Mitchell served cake and coffee.

"Lumber and Its Uses" was the subject for the meeting on February 27, for the evening school classes for adult farmers under the direction of Russell Miller the local agriculture teacher. All above high school age farmers are invited to enroll and attend.

Mrs. Charles Miner is accompanying Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wood and will remain with them for several months at Pasadena, California.

Williamston CAP Has Transmitter

Williamston flight of the Civil Air Patrol has a transmitter and receiver set up and is able to send and receive messages.

In case of disasters shutting off regular telephone service for several hours, the CAP transmitter can be used for handling emergency messages, according to officers of the unit.

The messages can be handled by Dr. R. R. Robbins at Mason, the wing captain; Rev. Weldon Johnson of the Methodist church, Webberville; or the commanding officer, Lt. Wayne Gorsline at Gorsline Bros. store in Williamston.

The U. S. Civil Air Patrol has its own wave length and an efficient network of stations, flight officers said. They asked, though, to have it made clear that the facilities will be made available only during emergencies when regular means of communications are unavailable.

Ingham 4-H Youths Keep Pace With National Club Program

By M. H. AVERY, Club Agent National 4-H club week March 1 to 8 is the time for all people interested in 4-H club work to set goals and make plans for the coming year.

Club work is that part of the agricultural extension service which deals with youth. It is directed by the 4-H club agent in each county with the help of the other extension agents and an adult leaders' council. The young people between the ages of 10 to 21 organize themselves into a group with their own officers and a local program with the guidance of a man or woman advisor. Members have individual projects centering around the problem in which they are interested. They raise livestock, crops, make clothing, prepare foods and many other things. They serve as officers and on committees of their own clubs. They have camps, play games, exhibits, tours, hikes and social meetings. They work and play together. They learn to cooperate.

The 4-H clubs are built around the 4-H club pledge. "I pledge my head to clearer thinking, my heart to greater loyalty, my hands to larger service and my health to better living, for my club, my community and my country." The objectives of 4-H club work are to teach young people the latest and best agricultural and home economics practices and the finer and more significant things of rural life. Equally as valuable as the skills and practical knowledge acquired through 4-H club work is the comradeship of working and playing together and the experiences gained through these contacts. Young people who are club members usually find their lives enriched by endearing friendships with other young people.

Club work is directed by the 4-H club agent and by the 4-H club council, composed of one representative adult leader from each township in the county. This council meets regularly at quarterly intervals throughout the year with special meetings called when needed. The 4-H adult advisory council has done much to guide the thinking and promote the 4-H program in Ingham county. The council for 1952 is composed of Mrs. Roland Frost, Williamston; Mrs. Louise Tasket, Locke; Glen Watkins, Alaledon; Mrs. George Kahres, Delhi; Durwood Dickinson, Meridian; Mrs. Harry Buxton, Williamston; Hugh Oesterle, LeRoy; Mrs. Vesta Eckhart, Aurelius; Mrs. Fred Lovette, Vevay; Wilbur Singer, Ingham; Orla Sheathelm, White Oak; Kenneth Baker, Leslie; Mrs. Ted Fay, Mothers club representative; Dallas Hyde, Service club representative; and Delmar Carr, chairman at large.

The 4-H club program in Ingham county is divided into two seasons—winter and summer. During the winter season 4-H clubs are organized around the smaller communities and carry projects which will fit into the home or can be worked out in a shop. The winter series of projects begin in the fall and complete with the spring achievement day which in Ingham county will be held on March 22 this year. At this time all projects will be displayed by the 4-H club members and given a rating by leaders who will do the judging. County honors will then be announced for the outstanding young people.

Beginning early in the spring, starting with national 4-H club week, many clubs will be starting their summer organization to set up projects for individual 4-H members and members will be selecting projects to carry out during the summer and fall months. These projects will be built around the farm and the home. Projects in home-making, such as preparing foods, canning and freezing of fruits and vegetables; projects in crops and garden, home farm and commercial and in crops—field crops such as corn and potatoes. Other members will be selecting projects in livestock with dairy being one of the leading projects as far as young people are concerned in Ingham county. However, quite a number of members do carry projects in livestock such as beef breeding and feeding, care of the "right horse and raising of sheep, hogs, poultry and rabbits.

Young people interested in 4-H clubs should contact young people in their own communities who may be members of a club and who will help them to find out the date of the organization meeting in their community.

In 1951 Ingham county had 1,096 club members complete projects. This was an increase over any previous year. These members completed 1974 projects throughout the complete year's program. Many outstanding honors were won in county and state shows with nine Ingham county members receiving state trips for the fine programs carried out.

The theme for 4-H clubs throughout the country for 1952 is "Serving as loyal citizens through 4-H club work."

Good citizenship in 1951 was demonstrated by the clubs in safety with the safety play and slogans given to their community. Wheatfield club developed a safety play. The North Williamston club secured petitions to have a safety line put on US-10 for the benefit of the community. Other clubs held safety meetings where safety events were discussed and activities participated in by 4-H club members.

In projects members are encouraged to increase the size of their program. A few outstanding livestock projects in Ingham county might be mentioned. Stanley Fay of Stockbridge six years ago started out with one heifer and at the present time has seven females in his registered Guernsey herd. He is keeping milk and butterfat records on his herd so he knows what they are bringing in cash returns. Dallas and Aaron Hyde, who have Hampshire sheep, started out with one bred ewe each and now have 39 ewes to lamb this spring. These two boys have been keeping records on their sheep in the Wolverine Lamb Production contest through Michigan State college and have received honors in this contest.

Forty-four members in Ingham county chose hog projects for their 4-H program during 1951. Among those was Alan Nemer who has been in club work for five years but with rather discouraging results in dairy so switched to the hog program. He did such a good job in caring for and feeding his animals that they placed well at the state 4-H show at East Lansing. After having one top placing at the county fair, he received a first, second and third on his three animals at the state show.

In canning and freezing many of the girls plan to can or freeze vegetables and fruits for their home families. A few girls have done some work for neighbors. Lois Bloom and her two sisters Nancy and Helen raised a three-acre vegetable garden from which Lois was the main canner and canned for their large family with a total canning program of over 800 quarts of fruits and vegetables.

We are suggesting that 4-H club leaders and members plan to start organizing their summer project groups during national 4-H club week. Some clubs that have already selected their officers for 1952 are the Westlock club under the guidance of Mrs. Louise Tasket, the Cross Roads Farmers club with Mrs. Kenneth Baker, the White Oak club will meet to organize on the evening of March 14 at the Showerman home, and the Happy Hustlers will meet on March 18 at a home to be selected later for their organization meeting.

The 4-H club office is anxious to hear of dates of any groups organizing and to help with this program.

Don't waste alfalfa seed trying to "patch" poor stands. "Patch" them, if at all, with 5 pounds of timothy seed an acre harrowed in after the second cutting.

KITCHEN IS IMPORTANT

Because the kitchen plays so prominent a part in family life, the planning of it should be given every consideration possible. In the majority of cases home-making is still a full-time job. Statistics prove that as much as 45 per cent of the homemaker's working day is spent in the kitchen. This fact alone justifies every reasonable expenditure of money used in the improvement of this room. A well-planned kitchen means less time required for work done in that part of the house and more time possible for the other homemaking duties as well as for leisure time activities and family companionship. It may also promote a more wholesome optimistic mental attitude in the homemaker.

Chances are 1 out of 4 you will face hospital bills in the next 12 months!

Here's a wonderful way to protect your hard-earned savings against hospital and medical bills, and to afford the best medical care.

THERE IS NO ESCAPE from hospital-confined accident or sickness for one out of four families in Michigan during 1952. It is estimated that about 425,000 Michigan families will suffer this experience in the next 12 months.

But there is a way to escape the hospital and medical bills that follow accident and sickness. At little cost, you can get health-care protection sponsored by Michigan hospitals and doctors.

Blue Cross - Blue Shield provides big benefits . . . and a lot of them!

In the 12 years since Michigan hospitals and doctors started BLUE CROSS - BLUE SHIELD, these plans have paid out over 220 million dollars in benefits for subscribers. They have provided hospital and surgical benefits totalling as much as $8,054 for one person in a single case.

BLUE CROSS Comprehensive Group Hospital Plan provides up to 120 days care in ward or semi-private room, according to the service for which you enroll, in any of the 192 participating hospitals in Michigan. There's no cap limit on the certificate benefits covered, no matter how high the total bill!

BLUE SHIELD Medical-Surgical Plan pays generous amounts for specific procedures and provides substantial payments towards your doctor's visits to the hospital in non-surgical cases.

"Blue Cross is more than worth the little it costs just to know that if anything does happen to you, all the hospital care needed is yours without worrying about how to pay the bill. This year alone, Blue Cross has paid over $1,000,000 in hospital benefits for Mrs. Ludwig and me. Without Blue Cross, I would have had to go into debt to meet this expense."

Mr. Joseph A. Ludwig

Blue Cross - Blue Shield benefits you can't measure in dollars and cents!

Your health-care benefits are taken care of automatically, without red tape . . . with no embarrassing questions asked . . . with no complicated claim forms to fill out. BLUE CROSS - BLUE SHIELD pays hospitals and doctors directly.

The best possible protection at the lowest possible cost!

Several BLUE CROSS - BLUE SHIELD plans are available. The average cost is about 9 cents per person per day.

Wholly non-profit operation makes these low costs possible. Every penny received above nominal expense, is earmarked for benefits that go back to the members. BLUE CROSS - BLUE SHIELD plans are a public service and a public trust conducted truly and purely "for the people" of Michigan by the hospitals and doctors themselves.

"Blue Cross has been wonderful. It was a great relief to know I was receiving the care needed to get well without worrying about the cost. When I saw the bill for $2,400 which Blue Cross paid, I realized just how fine Blue Cross service 'benefits' really are. Why, without Blue Cross, we would have had to sell our home to pay this kind of a bill!"

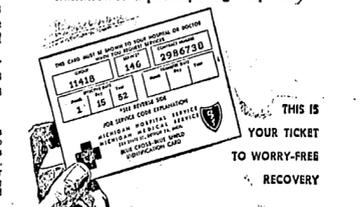

Mrs. Irene Matoszek

Who is eligible for Blue Cross - Blue Shield protection? If your firm employs 5 or more people, it may be eligible for BLUE CROSS - BLUE SHIELD Comprehensive Group health-care protection.

Agricultural workers can join through Farm Bureau Discussion Groups or Grange Groups.

Individuals are eligible for special BLUE CROSS - BLUE SHIELD plans, in enrollment campaigns held for a limited time, at regular intervals. Get details from your nearest BLUE CROSS - BLUE SHIELD office.

Your Blue Cross - Blue Shield Card gets you admitted to a participating hospital!

No red tape when you enter the hospital! . . . no claims to file when you leave!

This membership card is all you need to be admitted to a participating hospital. Simply show it to your doctor and to the admitting clerk. And when you leave, there are no claims to file because BLUE CROSS - BLUE SHIELD pays the hospital and doctor directly.

Proper Control Program Will Eliminate Mastitis

A planned mastitis control program will enable dairymen to rid their herds of this costly disease, declared Charles Little, Michigan State college extension dairyman. Here are his suggestions:

1. First, test and examine carefully all dairy cows to find their exact status. Separate infected cows from clean, healthy ones. Dispose of all badly infected cows or those with severely damaged udders.

2. To insure sanitation, the dairyman advises cleaning and disinfecting stalls where cows with any form of mastitis have lived before healthy animals enter. Use superphosphate or lime generously on all stable floors.

All replacement cows should be examined before purchase. Raise heifer calves to prevent udder injury and prevent udder suckling so teat seals are not broken.

Cows should be stabled in well-bedded stalls, properly constructed to prevent udder injuries. See that all udder and teat injuries are promptly and properly treated.

A good milking procedure is important. Before milking, every cow's udder should be wiped with a cloth moistened with a chlorox solution. County agricultural agents can tell how to make this solution. Discard the foremilk into a strip can.

Dip teat cups into two separate pails of chlorine solution before milking each cow when milking by machine. If hand milking, wash hands before milking each cow.

Good herd management, prompt and definite diagnosis with early treatment, will save most cases of mastitis.

Bean Growers Plan Meeting

Farmers are holding a state-wide bean day at Saginaw Saturday, March 7 along with the annual meeting of the Michigan Bean Producers association.

Delegates from 24 major bean-growing counties will attend the morning business session to elect state officers and directors to the Michigan Bean Producers association. The delegates will come from 24 counties representing their respective county organizations of the Bean Producers association. These counties represent 24,000 members of the association.

The forenoon session will also include a comprehensive report and the latest data on bean research and disease resistant varieties by Dr. Axel Anderson and Dr. E. E. Downs of the farms crops department of Michigan State college.

The afternoon program will have Richard Bell of farm crops department who will point out the factors to larger yields per acre, better quality, rotations and fertilization of beans in Michigan.

The second portion of the afternoon program will have Claybourne B. Ross, Jr., agricultural relations council for the A & P Food Stores to give bean producers first hand information on modern day packaging methods and the value of advertising products.

The principal speaker for the day will be John Jarchow, vice-president of the International Harvester Co., who will address the bean day group on today's conditions.

A display of a new bean cutter and samples of Michigan beans will be on display at the meeting. The all-day meeting will be held at the Masonic temple, corner of North Washington and Johnson Streets.

Besides the movies there will be refreshments and gifts. The Lansing Ford tractor dealer, Claude Maynard, invites all farmers to attend.

Country & Town

By JIM BROWN

When I'm 89 years old, I hope I can swing an ax and handle a cross-cut saw with the ability that Ora Campbell displayed Monday afternoon. Ora was 89 Tuesday. He didn't wield the ax just to celebrate his birthday. The Wheatfield farmer cuts wood nearly every day of the year—not because he has to—just because he thinks it's fun. Men who cut wood for the fun of it at any age are rare ones, for sure, so I drove out to the Campbell farm on Meridian road to see Ora in action.

Ora holds down a big chunk of Wheatfield township at the Meridian and Howell roads intersection and has title to more than 250 acres in the area. He has built a life around his farm. He came to Ingham county from New York state with his father in 1874. Ora was eight years old. He remembers the heavy timber that covered the rich Wheatfield soil. He remembers that it took about 15 years to clear enough land to do much farming.

Ora Campbell liked Wheatfield and decided to stay. He enjoys bucking up his boots, putting on an extra shirt and working up a sweat over a woodpile. He likes the fresh outdoors with the hot sun, the rain, mud and dust standing as hurdles to be leaped. You can tell all this by his keen eyes and weathered face.

This farmer is a man who can remember having stayed away from home only twice in his life. Once was to spend the night with a son. The other time was when he went to the hospital for an operation a few years ago.

Ora likes animals. He likes to see things grow. He pets his dogs as they pass by. He cooks kettles of potatoes and feeds them to the calves and makes a special trip to the dog house to leave potatoes there.

From the first days when Ora's father built a log cabin in the woods at the present farm location until today when Ora cuts wood in the shadow of a television aerial, many changes have taken place. Yet many of the original rail fences are standing. Some of the barns built years ago are still standing. Children and grandchildren help with the farm work. But setting the pace is 89-year-old Ora Campbell. He has cleared land for 81 years and still has wood to split.

Story of 4-H Club Movement Is Contained in New Volume

Democracy has a growing bulwark—a bulwark that stretches across the country and into Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico.

That bulwark is 4-H club work where boys and girls learn the privileges and responsibilities of citizenship; individual initiative; active citizenship; respect for others' accomplishments; group cooperation; healthy competition; love of farm, home and community; interchange of ideas from club to club across state lines.

The story of the development of such a bulwark is presented in the first history of 4-H club work, "The 4-H Story," published by the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work.

A panorama is set in motion by the words in "The 4-H Story," words that came after Author Franklin M. Reek's months of research, interviews with pioneers in the movement, and checking with the U. S. department of agriculture and state 4-H club leaders, and the reading of records.

"The 4-H Story," which the author says "is too great a movement to be claimed by any one man," unfolds through the early 1900's when the country was ready, youth was ready, the time was right for a great upsurge of rural power. Simultaneously, in various parts of the country, corn clubs and canning clubs appeared, as superintendents of schools sought to make education a more vital factor in the everyday living of the boys and girls. Then the colleges found a way to let their new discoveries be known through youth—eager, inspired, energetic youth, who planted the experimental corn, who used the new ideas, who came together in groups for discussions of better methods and for comparing results. In 1911 the four-leaf clover with H's signifi-ing head, heart, hands and health appeared, and by 1918 the term 4-H clubs was being generally used.

With the passage of the Smith-Lever Act in 1914, the cooperative extension service was established, and a national program was on the way. In 1919 a group of citizens foresaw a role for industry in building a stronger 4-H, in strengthening youth, in participating in the development of rural areas to which industry owed so much. From these beginnings came the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work, national awards programs, National 4-H Club Congress, and other services to 4-H club work. In 1927, National 4-H Camp came into being to honor 4-H boys and girls with outstanding abilities in leadership and citizenship. At this first national 4-H camp, the 4-H pledge and motto were officially adopted.

All this and much more are in "The 4-H Story" with countless episodes of early vision, youth's responsiveness, the strength and devotion of local volunteer 4-H leaders, the direction of federal, state, and county extension workers. Today 2,000,000 boys and girls, active members of 4-H clubs, are living by the 4-H's of head, heart, hands and health to build richness into their lives, into their farms and homes, and into this wonderful country of ours.

Detroit Action on Milk Bill Was a Foregone Conclusion

By Bob Myers

Lapeer County Press
Detroit's council has asked Agriculture Secretary Charles Brannan to suspend the federal milk marketing order in the Detroit area. The request followed a month-long hearing.

The action was a foregone conclusion. It was obvious that the council would vote for anything that might reduce milk prices in Detroit. Under the order, minimum prices that dealers must pay are set by formula.

The council said that:

1. The federal milk marketing order has caused the retail price of milk to rise.

2. The Michigan Milk Producers association, which controls 85 per cent of the Detroit milk supply, virtually wrote the order after voting it into existence without polling its 10,000 farmer-members.

3. The consuming public and dairy operators had little to say about the order, which impairs free enterprise and the American way of doing business.

4. The federal milk marketing order is directly responsible for the chaotic conditions which exist in the present milk market in the Detroit area.

These are the facts:

1. The federal order caused milk prices to rise because the price of butter and manufactured milk went up. Detroit milk price those in other states. All large metropolitan areas east of the Mississippi are under similar federal order plans.

2. Michigan Milk Producers association members did not vote grain according to a chart posted on the grain chute from an overhead bin. After milking is completed the door is opened and the cow moves straight ahead out of the milking parlor into the loafing area.

"Floor of the parlor is concrete with a center drain."

What the best and wisest parent wants for his own child that must the community want for all its children.

individually, on the order. The vote to adopt the order was made by the MMFA members in each community. The members' delegates have always set major association policies after individual members have expressed themselves in local meetings.

3. Detroit consumers did not get a chance to vote on the order. This was only natural for they would undoubtedly have been opposed to it. Car buyers would undoubtedly vote against higher car prices or higher wages in the auto factories if they had the chance.

4. The federal order reduced rather than increased "chaos" in the Detroit market. Before the order, some dealers were going outside Michigan Milk Producers territory and buying cut-rate milk. In effect, the federal order gave dairy farmers a "closed shop" much as the labor unions have had in Detroit for years.

Actually, Detroit consumers are not being gouged on milk prices. The price of bottled milk in Detroit has gone up 105 per cent since 1910. The average price of all consumer purchases has gone up 135 per cent in the same period. Detroit's principal products, automobiles, have gone up over 140 per cent in the same period.

Detroit councilmen should be well aware of the increased cost of doing business. Their own streetcar system has raised fares 200 per cent since 1945 (from 5 to 15c). Milk prices in the same period have increased 50 per cent (from 15 to 22½¢ per quart).

DEHORNING CALVES
Dehorn your calves when they're 7 to 10 days old. All you'll need then is a commercial paste or liquid or a caustic stick.

What the best and wisest parent wants for his own child that must the community want for all its children.

Soil Test Lab Will Be Ready By Saturday

Starting Saturday, March 1, soil samples will be received at the extension office in the court house for testing in the new laboratory.

Samples brought in during the week will be analyzed on Saturday. The test will show the acidity or P. H. of the soil, and the amount of available phosphate and potash in pounds per acre.

The results of these tests will be used by the county agent in making recommendations for the right fertilizer and the amount of lime the land needs.

Eaton Twork will do the testing and keep the schedule. Until the new county agent arrives on March 15, Jim Porter, soils specialist from Michigan State college, will make recommendations for lime and fertilizer.

Upon reviewing the cost of this service in other counties, the farmers' committee consisting of Carlyle Waltz, Delmar Carr and Gerald Eifert, decided that the nominal fee of 25¢ per sample be charged for the acidity or P. H. test. The cost of a complete analysis will be 50¢ per sample.

Instructions for taking soil samples will be available at the extension office, soil conservation office and grain elevators in the county.

Saving of Lambs Makes Profit

"Saving a high percentage of the lamb crop is a must for getting top profits from the sheep enterprise," H. A. Henneman, Michigan State college animal husbandman, told farmers recently.

He also gave latest information on how to save more lambs and the new treatment for stiff-lamb disease. A loss of a few hours sleep during lambing will be well repaid and the flock needs frequent observation so you can give help when it's necessary.

Henneman advises farmers to provide plenty of clean bedding and shear around the udder and flanks before lambing time as two important steps in preparation. After the lambs come, disinfect the navel of the new-born animals with iodine to prevent infections. It is important that the lamb receive its first meal within 30 minutes to an hour after birth. A stomach full of warm milk is the best insurance against chilling.

Lamb the ewes in the warmest part of the barn and avoid drafts, Henneman advised. Place ewe and lamb in a four-foot square lambing pen for three days. In cold weather, a brooder consisting of a 100-watt electric light bulb two feet from the floor will prevent chilling of the lamb.

Keep grain from the ewe for the first two days but give her plenty of hay and water. On the third day, grain can be fed and gradually increased to about a pound and a half a day.

If you're trouble with stiff-lamb disease, it may be wise to include some wheat germ oil in the ewe's ration as a source of vitamin E. A fourth to a half of the oil meal can be replaced by wheat germ meal in a ration such as 40 pounds of oats, 40 pounds of corn, 10 pounds of bran and 10 pounds of oil meal.

If you have stiff lambs, treat them with 100 milligram capsules of alpha tocopherol daily for three days and all of the lambs should receive these capsules two or three times a week. The capsules are available at drug stores.

To get the lambs off to a good start and prevent set-backs later, dock and castrate between three and seven days of age and provide a creep for the lambs at two weeks of age. Feed both hay and grain in the creep.

Three Men Design Proposed Mackinac Bridge

The Michigan legislature now has under consideration a bill to prepare final plans for the construction of a bridge across the Straits of Mackinac, as pictured above by the designers. They are (l. to r.) David B. Steinhilber, Othmar H. Ammann and Glenn B. Woodruff. They are the board of consulting engineers retained by the Mackinac Bridge Authority as ordered by the legislature to determine the physical and economic feasibility of the Straits bridge. The authority has reported to the legislature that such a bridge could be built for $87,000,000. Public hearings on a bill to loan the Authority $2,000,000 will be held on February 19, in Lansing.

Editors To Study Rural Community

All Michigan newspaper editors will be invited to join in studying the rural community and how its newspaper can further the growth and development of country life in the state at an Editors' Country Life conference at Michigan State college, next October 10 and 11.

The Michigan Press association and the college will co-sponsor the event, according to Gene Alleman, MPA secretary-manager, and Ernest L. Anthony, Michigan State college dean of agriculture.

The college departments of journalism and information services will cooperate in arranging the program. Typical study sessions will involve discussions of such subjects as building and rural community, providing improved farm and home news, country correspondence, farm youth and their place in the community and town and country relationships.

Eifert Holsteins Set High Records

Several registered Holstein cows in the herd of Mrs. Bernice Eifert & Sons, Mason, have completed official production tests under herd improvement registry rules.

Highest producer among these was Ormsby Segis Edith Fobes with 507 pounds of butterfat and 14,495 pounds of milk made in 336 days on two milkings daily at the age of 5 years 1 month.

Another high producer was Ormsby Korndyke Pride Girl with 503 pounds of butterfat and 13,748 pounds of milk made in 305 days on 2 milkings daily at the age of 3 years 6 months.

Profits Assured Poultry Raisers

Although it might not look logical to farmers now who are looking at their egg checks, Henry Larzelere, poultry economist at Michigan State college, says that it should pay Michigan farmers to buy more baby chicks than they had planned on this year.

Larzelere explains that economists have been predicting for the past several months that unfavorable egg prices would discourage farmers about raising chicks this year. The crop report just out indicates that farmers now intend to buy 10 per cent fewer chicks than a year ago. This lower number of chicks will mean fewer pullets next fall, fewer eggs and higher prices. By having a good pullet flock coming into production next fall, farmers will be able to take advantage of the good fall prices. And prices in the winter and spring of 1953 will be higher than this year.

In any case, start the chicks as early as possible for greatest profits, Larzelere advises.

THIS FARMING BUSINESS BY CARL COLLIN

Maybe it's just wishful thinking, but some of the long-range weather forecasts are indicating an early spring in this part of the country. It would be nice if we just had a real spring for a change. The kind of weather we have had in April and May for the last couple of years would hardly qualify as good spring weather.

Anyway, considering that there is some possibility of a break in weather conditions this year, it might be a good idea to get machinery, fertilizer, spraying materials and seeds, on hand and ready to go. A good long growing season in 1952 would be wonderful. We need to break all farm production records this year in order to supply the food needs in this country and export markets during the next 18 months.

If you have some wet corn, here's a suggestion some of you might be able to use. There's been a lot of interest shown in drying equipment that could be used to cut down moisture content in corn, other grains and hay in storage. About 3 miles north of DeWitt near Lansing the USDA has set up a demonstration drying plant. Any farmer can haul his grain to the plant and have it dried. There's no charge. Two portable driers are used in the demonstration. The bins used in the project will hold around 300 bushels of shelled corn and 1,000 bushels of ear corn.

If you have some grain that needs drying, you can get more information about the drying operations from your county PMA committee. Incidentally, the all-crop drier being used in the demonstration costs in the neighborhood of $1,000. This set-up near DeWitt might provide some helpful information on the proper kind of drier to get for drying farm stored grain and hay.

Developing new varieties of any grain is a painstaking job. Plant breeders are at work continually trying to develop better seeds for farmers to use. USDA scientists have assembled some 13,000 varieties or strains of wheat from many parts of the world. They use this collection in developing better varieties in this country.

Right now they are screening their collection in search of any wheats which may have inherited resistance to stem rust race 15B. They also think they may find plants which carry resistance to mosaic, drought, high temperatures, wheat stem sawfly, greenbug and other hazards.

Usually, however, soon after a new variety is developed and planted over a wide area, some new disease creeps in to which the new strain is not resistant. Then the scientists have to start in all over again and try to breed plants resistant to the new menace. It's a never-ending job, but powerfully important.

Apparently the 1952 crop season has made a favorable start. Crop reports say that growing conditions and other factors have been favorable in southwestern sections of the country. Winter wheat is greening from the Gulf to Kansas. Only limited damage has been reported so far from soil blowing. There are some spots, however, which need rain badly.

Weather conditions from now on will have definite effects on grain market prices. Grain traders watch weather reports and forecasts carefully in the spring as an indication of probable crop output later on.

It looks like the commercial broiler industry is figuring on another big year. Demand for commercial broiler chicks in January was very strong and placements during the month in broiler areas was 25 per cent above the same period a year ago. Eggs in incubators on February 1 were 17 per cent greater than on February 1, 1951.

there were a year ago. That's a rather big reduction for one year. Peak number of horses on farms was back in 1915. At that time there were about 21.5 million head. Now the number has dropped to 4.7 million head. Biggest reduction in horse numbers this past year has been in the North Central and North Atlantic areas.

Livestock marketing specialists say that hog prices should rise strongly in March, with a peak coming late in the month. The USDA January 1 livestock report showed $00,000 less brood sows and bred gilts on farms compared with a year ago. That's a reduction of 3 per cent and probably bears out earlier estimates that the 1952 spring pig crop would be down about 9 per cent.

The bigger-than-expected market receipts since the first of the year are explained by the large number of hogs over 6 months old on farms on January 1 - 6 per cent higher than the same date in 1951.

Marketing people who study trends say that the outlook for hog prices in the second half of this year should run from $3 to $5 higher than a year ago in the same period.

MISCELLANY... Total values of all livestock and poultry on Michigan farms on January 1 was estimated at close to half a billion dollars. Farm officials aren't worrying about surpluses any more. Now their concern is with deficits over a period of years. Fast growing population, they say, will tax farmers' ability to produce food. This is especially true with meats, dairy and poultry products. Need for greater farm production probably will keep price supports high as incentive for all-out efforts to meet high farm goals.

"I hear that Harry is getting along fine after his operation. What did they operate on him for?"

"They removed a brass nail that had been pressing against his foot for years."

McKibbin Chosen For Federal Post

New director of agricultural engineering research for the U. S. department of agriculture is Dr. E. G. McKibbin, former head of the Michigan State college department of agricultural engineering.

A leader in his profession for many years, Dr. McKibbin's findings are used in the farm equipment industry as a basis of safety testing for tractors. He was at Michigan State college from 1942 to 1945.

U. S. D. A. agricultural engineering research deals with machines, materials, methods, power and labor, farm buildings and housing, and the application of electricity to processing and other farming operations.

DISC HARROWS WILL NOT GOUGE IN ON THE TURNS!

MM model 11A disc harrow turns in as small a radius as any row-crop tractor. Tension springs hold the gangs in a level position so that the harrow penetrates at a uniform depth over its full width. With this construction the harrow is flexible for good work on uneven ground, and one side or the other does not dig in on turns. Ease of angling is another outstanding feature. A touch on MM's new hydraulic control, called Uni-Matic Power, makes adjustment of disc angle on the go a simple matter. If your old harrow needs replacing, drop in to see us. We think MM harrows offer you the most in good performance, economy, and dependability.

Better Late Than Never

With a short week and an avalanche of late copy last week, it became necessary to hold back some of the items. It was not the fault of the neighborhood correspondents. It was caused by having to shove publication a day ahead on account of February 22 being a full holiday for post-office workers.

So that's the explanation of this page of news. It was page 23 in a 22-page Ingham County News.

WHEN YOU WANT TO BE HERE, THERE, EVERYWHERE AT ONCE...

*A SUGGESTION: The youngsters might have fun cutting these out for paper dolls.

It's practically impossible to measure the real value of your telephone. In shoe leather and energy saved... in minutes and hours saved... in savings of gasoline and wear-and-tear on the family car... in things accomplished in an ordinary day—your telephone does an enormous job for a small cost. Today you can be here, there, everywhere at once through calls you make and calls you receive.

Telephone service has not gone up in price nearly as much as most other things you buy.

Jean Larson Wed In Trinidad

Miss Jean Larson of Holt and Pfc. Anderson were united in marriage on the island of Trinidad in British West Indies February 9, at the Hillside chapel at Chagaramus naval base. Jean and her mother, Mrs. Pearl Larson, went by plane to Trinidad where Pfc. Anderson is stationed. He is the son of Mrs. Leo Stevens of Lansing.

After the ceremony, performed by Chaplain G. Weldon Gatlin, eight marines stood as guards of honor and gave the salute.

Pvt. Marvin Kohn of Baltimore, Md., a friend of the family, gave the bride in marriage. Attendants for the couple were Mrs. Charles Cobb of New Paris, Indiana, and Pfc. Ronald Corcoran of New York City.

For her wedding the bride chose a soft tailored white shantung suit with navy blue accessories, and a corsage of white orchids. Ushers were Cpl. Robert Parker of Niles and Pfc. William Ballantyne of Watertown, N. Y.

Navy lieutenants played and sang during the ceremony, attended by the marine detachment commander and members of B barracks.

A dinner was served to members of the wedding party at the Queens Park hotel, Port of Spain, before the reception at the Rainbow Terrace. Dancing followed the toast to the bride. The couple honeymooned at the Port of Spain until the bride and her mother returned to Holt. She will live with her mother until her husband returns to the state.

Farmer Peck's Wife

Colds come to Farmer Peck's house.
Two sugar bowls—one for brown, one for white.
There's a better way to serve rice.

All I needed this week was a woodbox. For my feet! Guess that's what I get for bragging about the Pecks having no colds this winter. First the girls came down with some dillies. . . Sort of half-cough and it affected their stomachs. They couldn't eat and I had lost my appetite. Cooking was almost at a standstill. Then I did get it.

Probably when I was at lowest ebb with my hair hanging down in stringlets, from steaming my head, . . . the door bell rang. I was lying on the davenport with one of Betty's red hankies propped under my red nose and I felt just about as wrinkled as anyone can get. As I made it to the door I saw two women standing there looking like a million dollars. I guess a woman has to be terribly sick not to care how she looks. . . I knew I must be a sight to behold in any language.

One of the things I'll never be able to figure out is how you've been wanting to see someone for 10 years and they pick that precise moment when you are at your worst to call. We talked through the glass door as I didn't want to wish what we had onto anyone. Julia Fell and her sister, Mildred Cumberworth, said they'd be back but I went back onto the davenport feeling sad and more gone than ever inside.

I know you folks don't want to hear all about my aches and pains this week. There are a lot of them around the country right now. But to try to write anything else is hard when your head is hammering like a . . . like a board being pounded by a hammer.

Susy and Sally, in between coughing spells, are having a wonderful time. All year Susy has begrudged Sally the joy of going off to school each morning so to have her home with her to color, cut out, paste, play house, and invent games all day long has been a lot of fun. One day they made a city out of sheets of paper with stores of every kind. Then they strung them out on the floor. The next day it was a farm with strips of paper colored green and pasted together for fences. They made pretty good animals all but the horses but Sally knew the solution for that. She said she would ask Phillip Summer when she went back to school because he makes better horses than even daddy or mama can.

Here is something that Pete brought into our marriage that makes meals taste a lot better. At first I thought it was just a whim of his and used a glass to hold it. Now I am a firm believer of the idea myself and we have two sugar bowls on the table. . . one for brown sugar and one for white. . . but we never use the white one and we try to convince company to use the brown one. It's so much better. It has more flavor. We buy brown sugar in five, 10 or 25 lb bags and then put it into a big crock to keep it soft. I cook and bake with it whenever it doesn't call for a white cake or cookie. We all like big slices of homemade bread and butter with brown "sugar" thick on top.

And I'd like you wives to try this for supper some cold night. Cook a kettle of rice in slightly salted water. Serve on plates mounded according to each person's rice capacity. Spread on butter and then brown sugar and, if you like it, rich milk or cream. We have it often and it's our main dish. In fact, it's our supper and a very filling and nourishing one, too. I always fixed rice at the stove and put it on the table ready to eat because that's the way mother fixed it. With a dash of nutmeg, too. Finally Pete asked me to fix some once a certain way. . . with no nutmeg. . . and I've been fixing it that way ever since because it's best. Any leftover goes into rice pudding for another meal.

Another thing that has been making my life miserable this week was brought about by my inability to think. Honestly I think I need my head examined. I went over to the folks which is a mile away to call on the phone. It was long distance and while I was waiting for the call to come back I had a big thought which should have come earlier. . . I had gone leaving "chill" on the stove turned on high. It came to me so real and sure I could almost smell it. . . but I wasn't positive. I rushed home and the steamed windows throughout the house warned me before I got a whiff inside. My poor kettle. It was the bottom of my heavy pressure saucepan. Well, I've been trying all week to get down to the aluminum. It is better than it was. I've used cream of tartar and everything I can think of or hear of. I think it would be cheaper to get a new head!

GIRL SCOUTS WILL SPEAK
Girl Scouts of Troop I will give a talk on Girl Scouting at the next Mason P. T. A. meeting March 10. Janet Holtz will tell about good grooming and Sandra Horn will discuss swimming and Donna Opydke's topic will be cats and dogs.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stillman of Alameda and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Bartlett and Nancy visited Mr. and Mrs. Claude Maynard and family of Okemos, Sunday. Roger Drake of Traverse City was a Sunday evening visitor at the Maynard home.

Arthur Betts of Paulding, Ohio, and Mrs. Eva Butler of Brooklyn spent the week end ice fishing at Mildred McDonald.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bennett attended the wedding of their granddaughter, Jeri Richey, to Richard Bunnell of Jackson in Big Rapids Saturday.

Mrs. Beverly Schlak and son and Mrs. Hiram Toy of Lansing, Mrs. Harriet Brown of Williamston and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Every spent last Tuesday with Mrs. Esther Ries and Georgia of Dansville.

My Day
by Schatzi . . .
The Camera-Clicking Dachshund

My day has been full of telephone calls—Mothers and Grandmothers making appointments for babies for our annual FREE baby contest.

I guess by now everybody knows that the contest starts March 1st and ends March 15th—and that all Ingham County babies are eligible. By popular request the age limit has been extended to four years of age. Now all babies in Ingham County (except Lansing and East Lansing) from six months to four years may enter the contest. The prizes are awarded for the best personality and expression—so if your baby looks at us the way he looks at you sometimes at home—they're just about sure to win a prize!

The grand winner will receive a $25.00 Defense Bond and an 11 x 14 Portrait in Oil Color. Ten other personality children will each receive a $5.00 Gift Certificate.

If you have a friend or neighbor who has a cute youngster (and all youngsters are cute, we think)—tell them to call now and make an appointment.

Remember—the contest ends March 15th—so call now or come in and make your appointment. There is no charge!

Spring Housecleaning And Posies Go Together

Snowdrops and pussywillows may be the poetic harbingers of spring, but for most homemakers this is primarily the season for that annual upheaval—spring housecleaning.

If home management specialists at Michigan State college had their way, there would be no such thing as a general housecleaning at certain times of the year. Dorothy M. Greey of the home management department suggests that housekeeping should be spread over the entire year since modern equipment enables women to keep up with their work from day to day.

Spring is a logical time, Miss Greey agrees, to make changes. Put away the winter clothes and clean the closets take down heavy draperies, clean the fireplace and make way for the ease of summer living. But don't bother with tugging the rugs out of doors for the usual shakedown, it is too hard on the fabric. Fifteen minutes a week per rug will keep them amply clean. For the rug pads use straight suction cleaning several times a year. If your electric sweeper is an agitator type, you can get straight suction by disconnecting the band, Miss Greey said.

Another woman-killer is the mattress beating process that grandmother thought essential. Use vacuum attachments on the beating that is, again, too hard on the fabric. A mattress cover that fits and is easily put on will be a boon in keeping the mattress clean.

As for bed springs, Miss Greey suggests blowing the dirt off with an attachment if your suction vacuum does not make contact with the springs. Or use a dish mop to get into coil springs. In any case, put dampened newspapers underneath to catch and hold dirt.

W.A.C. Holds Guest Night

The W. A. C. held guest night at the Community hall last Monday. County officers were special guests. The program consisted of a play.

Those taking part in the play were Miss Rose Baxter, Mrs. Fred Atkinson, Mrs. Myron Miller, Mrs. Kenneth Cool, Mrs. Leo Mead, Mrs. Phillip Dormire and Mrs. Alvina Lange. Mrs. Elmer L. Alchin had charge of the music which consisted of a piano duet by Elsa Jeffrey and JoAnne West; Mrs. Peter Kasper, piano solo; and a musical saw, Harvey Schutt, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Peter Kasper.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Frank Schmidt and Mrs. Gerald Douglas.

Basketball News

The girls basketball team lost to Gaines with a score of 29-27. They won over Byron with a score of 28 to 18. The Webberville Rinky-Dinks beat Morrice Muthens by a score of 28 to 19 Friday. The coach, Don Bennett, has a tournament scheduled.

Events Are Scheduled

Events scheduled for the coming weeks are: February 29, De Witt basketball game, here; March 3, trip to Lansing; March 12, P. T. A. meeting; March 27, band concert; and March 29, band festival.

The first graders have the first unit of "Our New Friends" finished. In art class they made a picture entitled "Winter Fun." They have made a bird book of pictures and stories of winter birds.

The second graders have started their second arithmetic book. They are now able to add and subtract two and three place numbers. In English they are reading, reporting and writing stories about animals in the zoo. In art class they have made log cabins, valentines, hatches, cherry trees and cherries. They are keeping records of the books read in their free time.

Fifth and sixth graders decorated their room with candy hearts and paper. They had a Valentine party and refreshments of jello, cake, popcorn and candy.

Phone Directory Lists Fire Call For Each Town

A new feature has been added to the Mason telephone directory distributed last week. Michigan Bell Telephone company has come to grips with a problem which heretofore has baffled the experts at reducing the margin of human error in making emergency calls under pressure.

Russell H. Engelhardt, manager for the Michigan Bell Telephone company, said the first page of the new directory has been revamped with spaces provided on the top of the page for each subscriber to write in the telephone numbers of the police and fire departments of his own community.

"In the past, mistakes have been made, with people hurrying to complete calls for help by looking at the heading on the page for the service wanted, and then calling the wrong number," Engelhardt said.

"If everybody lists his own fire number on the top of that page, there'll be fewer lives endangered, and less property lost," Engelhardt said.

"We hope this is a partial solution to the problem, and of real assistance when it's needed most," he said.

The new directory also contains the alphabetical listings of extended-area neighbors in Holt and Dansville. It is making it how in a gray cover, changing over from the buff-color of last year. More than 4000 copies will be distributed.

MASON ELECTORS

Notice of Registration

CITY OF MASON

The last day for registration for voting at the city election on April 7, 1952, is Saturday, March 8.

Persons otherwise qualified who have not voted since 1947 or who have moved to Mason since voting elsewhere must register. Under the new charter now effective, it will not be necessary for persons to re-register who have moved from one of the old ward districts to the other since last voting. Ward lines have now vanished.

I will be at my office in the city hall during business hours from now through Saturday, March 8, for registering electors.

How to get what you want and need in a truck

"Dodge 'Job-Rated' Trucks are the best we've ever used!"

...says PAUL CRUCE, Cruce Butane Co., Tulsa, Okla.

"We do a lot of driving on narrow roads, in and out of driveways, in small yards and other tight spots. We need trucks that are real easy to handle, so we switched to Dodge. They'll turn on a dime!"

"We service oil wells, too, and that's the toughest off-the-road hauling there is. We need plenty of pulling power. For mud and heavy pulling, Dodge 'Job-Rated' trucks are dependable and economical to operate."
