Seven men are building a stairway to the sky a mile northwest of Dansville. When complete, the tower will stand 275 feet in the air. Built for the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. (AT&T), the microwave tower will shortstop telephone and TV beams passing from Detroit to Lansing.

The tower was only 100 feet high when this picture was taken Wednesday. Work on the tower will be completed by Sunday, according to D. W. Harrington, foreman for the Tower Builders Co. of Angola, Indiana. The Tower Builders outfit is constructing the tower with the Radio Construction Co. of New York and Detroit. Foreman

Contractors Seek Office Space and Housing for Men

Representatives of the Sargent Construction Co. and William J. Muehlenbeck, both of Saginaw, have been prospecting in Mason and Holt this week. They are looking for a building to be used as headquarters during construction of the Mason by-pass and the Mason-Holt widening. They are also trying to line up rooms, apartments and houses. They are looking for railroad sidings for unloading material.

The Saginaw contractors filed the low bid Wednesday of last week on the 7 miles of widening and new construction. Their bid came to $887,751.85 and it has been recommended for acceptance.

ROOMS FOR RENT?

Extra rooms can be converted into cash by renting them to highway workers. A list of available rooms in Mason and Holt and the area between is being compiled at the office of the Ingham County News. There's no charge for the listing. Telephone the Ingham County News, 9011.

The formalities of signing the contracts must await action of the state administrative board and federal highway officials. It may be another week before the go sign is given on the start of one of the state's biggest highway jobs.

The contract covers widening of 3.882 miles of present pavement from Holt to a point 230 feet southeasterly of Pryor road, and 3.140 miles of new grade, drainage structures and concrete pavement on the Mason by-pass. The by-pass which will skirt Mason to the west will start 230 feet southeasterly of the Pryor road intersection and extend south to within 1,000 feet of Tomlinson road.

The by-pass will be a limited access divided highway carrying 4 lanes of traffic. Widening of the Mason-Holt stretch will also provide a 4-lane divided highway. The abandoned interurban right of way will be used for the lanes carrying northbound traffic from Pryor road to Holt.

Officers Installed By Mason Lions

Ralph (Bud) Swinehart was installed Wednesday night as president of the Mason Lions club. Past President Gerald Graham was installing officer at the meeting held at the Mason golf course club house.

Other officers of the Lions are Robert Ingham, Jr., first vice-president; Ralph Strope, second vice-president; Tom Jackson, third vice-president; William Berryman, secretary; Chester Smith, treasurer; Frank Lock, tail-twister; and William Larsen, Lion-tamer.

State Asks Bids On Sealcoating

Blacktop contractors are eyeing a big stretch in Ingham, Jackson and Washtenaw counties. State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler is taking bids on 40.95 miles of single and double seal on M-11, M-106, M-92 and M-132 in the 3 counties on Wednesday, June 11. The letting will be held in the Veterans Memorial building in Lansing at 11 o'clock in the forenoon. Completion date for the work is September 13, 1952.

Legal Opinion Blocks Start Of Infirmary

No Way Is Yet Open for County to Use Surplus In Building Infirmary Addition

Construction of an addition at the county infirmary may have to wait upon an election. Unless Attorney General Frank G. Millard changes his mind, the board of social welfare can not spend the $236,000 it has on hand for a building without the people saying so.

Not to exceed one-tenth of a mill can be legally used for construction and repair of county buildings unless the people at an election vote approval, Assistant Prosecutor Frederick C. Newman, Jr., advised the supervisors. In Ingham county at the current valuation, that's about $26,000 a year.

The board of control of the Ingham tuberculosis sanatorium used $228,000 to help build the new addition to the hospital. That was contrary to law but after the money is spent there is no recourse, the lawyer explained.

In the case of the county infirmary addition, though, any taxpayer by filing suit might hold up the expenditure of money, Newman said.

Program Is Defended

Supervisors K. G. Brown of Williamston, Hubert R. Bullen of Aurelius and several others declared that inasmuch as the building fund money represents savings in budget items and special appropriations, the supervisors have the right to use it for buildings. But they don't, Newman declared, unless the attorney general changes his rulings.

Under a new law county boards of social welfare may use refunds and recoveries from patients and relief recipients as the building fund, Newman explained. That law is not yet effective, though, he added.

The supervisors authorized Chairman Hubert M. Eddy to appoint a committee to confer with the attorney general in the hope that a way can be found to use the money without a vote of the people. To the committee Chairman Eddy named Supervisor Bullen, Prosecutor Paul C. Younger and Relief Director Daryl Minnis.

In their annual report made last month on the condition of county funds, state auditors pointed out that the social welfare board and the tuberculosis sanatorium board of control had not followed the law. The auditors said that general fund balances can not be transferred to building funds and that not more than one-tenth of a mill a year can be placed in building funds without a vote of the people.

June Draft Call Is Easily Filled

One draftee was all the armed forces asked of Ingham. But Ingham wouldn't let the armed forces down that way. Another man volunteered and 4 transfers were sent. The 6 men left Lansing Wednesday afternoon for the Detroit induction center.

Richard H. Barry was the only Ingham man officially summoned by the draft board. Richard E. Taylor was the volunteer. The 4 transfers were Robert Lambert, Ionia; William Tucker, Dresden, Tenn.; G. F. Washington, Little Rock, Ark.; and Willie E. Jones, Vicksburg, Miss.

Gathered at the Lansing bus station to bid Godspeed to the 6 men and to present them with gifts were representatives of the Gideon Society, USO, Blue Star Mothers and the VFW.

Cummings Buys Old Shop Back

Bill Cummings is back in Mason again at the same old stand. He bought back the barber shop he sold to Don Tait of Lansing in April of 1951.

Cummings was called back into the marine corps last year and spent the last 7 months in Korea and Japan. He holds a commission as a first lieutenant. He is also a marine veteran of World War II.

Cummings operated the shop in Mason for 3 years before selling it to Tait. Tait has not decided on any definite move. He is looking for a shop in Lansing. Cummings will take possession Monday morning.

New Quarters For Old Press

When the Ingham County News moved back into its plant after the fire in December there wasn't room enough for the old cylinder press.

A small cinder block building to house the press is being erected on property adjoining the Michigan Central tracks and adjacent to the Park street well. The press, which was dismantled and stored after the fire, will be put back into working order again next week.

Up until 10 years ago the cylinder press was used to print the newspaper. After the Duplex was installed, the cylinder was used only for commercial work.

Plans Are Afoot For County Help On City Building

On July 14 supervisors expect to have a Lansing county-city building proposal up for discussion.

At Monday's meeting Chairman Hubert Eddy urged Hubert Bullen to call a meeting of the special committee named in April to work out plans for merging branch county offices in one Lansing building. The board chairman said he expected the committee's report will be ready by July 14.

Supervisor John B. Fay of Delhi was named Monday to take the place of Supervisor C. G. Card of East Lansing on the special committee. Others on it are Supervisors Ward Vicary, Bunker Hill; Charles Hayden and Walter Munyon, Lansing; and S. A. Bement, Mason.

At the time the committee was appointed in April, Board Chairman Eddy insisted that participation of the county in a county-city building in Lansing is not a move to shift the county seat to Lansing. He declared that the county, which now maintains Lansing branches of the county clerk's office, sheriff's department and probate court, and main offices of the social welfare board, friend of the court, soldiers and sailors relief commission and prosecutor's department, should move its offices under one roof, along with court rooms and offices for the 3 circuit judges.

The county clerk's branch office and the sheriff's branch office, along with the courts, are now in the Lansing city hall. Other departments are located about the city. The welfare department has its own building. A special committee was set up to study the proposed annexation of most of what remains of Lansing township to the city of Lansing. On the committee are Supervisors Munyon and Hayden of Lansing, Raymond L. Wilcox of Lansing township and John Patriarche of East Lansing, along with Prosecutor Paul C. Younger.

At the morning session the supervisors were informed by Prosecutor Younger that the proposed annexation vote will have to be put off until after the November 4 election when the West Lansing incorporation issue comes up for a vote.

After one setting the time for a vote, as the supervisors did on West Lansing, that date can not be changed, the prosecutor said, nor can a vote on a conflicting proposition precede the vote on the original proposal. Neither can the vote on the merger and the incorporation be held at the same time, the prosecutor ruled.

Tractor Mishap Breaks Boy's Leg

Ronald Migrants, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Migrants of Mason, suffered a broken leg Wednesday afternoon. He was at the William Couch farm in Aurelius when he was trapped beneath a tractor wheel.

The Migrants boy and another lad were in the field where corn was being cultivated with a front-end rig. The boys were marching alongside the cultivator watching to see if the setting of the shovels was right. As it was the first time over, the tractor was being run slow.

In watching the corn the Migrants boy forgot to watch the tractor wheel, or he stumbled and fell in front of it. He fell to the ground, and the tractor wheel rolled part way up the boy's left leg. But the right leg was so twisted that the bone broke between the knee and the thigh. The left leg was only bruised. The boy was taken to the Mason General hospital by William Couch.

Bloodmobile Call Planned June 19

On Thursday, June 19, the Red Cross bloodmobile is due to set up shop in Mason. The stop will be made at the Legion Memorial building.

Mrs. Sterling Moses is again in charge of arrangements for the stop. She said that donors will be asked to report from noon until 6. They are asked to phone Mason 2-2321 for appointment.

Farmer Seeks Damages Over Bangs Spread

Stockbridge Dairyman Claims Reactor Spread Disease Through Herd

Jurors in circuit court in Mason are considering a claim for damages which John Allen of Stockbridge says resulted from the purchase of a Bangs-reactor Guernsey. The cow was one of 6 he bought from Clark and Chellis Hall of Mason in 1946. Allen asked damages of $8,092.

The trial was started before Judge Louis E. Coash Wednesday and went to the jury Thursday noon.

The Hall brothers said that they bought 2 Guernseys and 4 Brown Swiss cows from Dr. L. C. Kraft of Leslie. After the cows were bought the brothers decided they didn't want the 6, Chellis Hall testified. He said they had all Holsteins and he didn't like the looks of the Guernseys and Brown Swiss mixed with the Black and White cows.

Allen testified he saw an ad in the Ingham County News offering cows for sale and that he went to the Hall farm to buy. He made the deal and got the cows the following day, paid $825 for the 6, an average of $139 each.

Pre-sale Bangs-test laboratory reports had not been received, plaintiff and defendants agreed. Allen declared that the 6 cows were sold under a warranty that they came from the Kraft herd and were disease-free. The Hall's denied making such a statement.

Disease-free certificates came through on the 4 Brown Swiss and 1 Guernsey, state records showed. A slaughter slip on the Guernsey reactor was sent to Dr. Kraft, Clark Hall signed the slip in Dr. Kraft's office, he said. He didn't know what it was he signed, he testified.

The Hall brothers said Allen never inquired about the certificates covering the 6 head. Allen claimed that the sellers at the time of the sale agreed to inform him when the certificates were

Alaiedon District Seeks Bids on Douglas School

One of the few one-room rural schools built in recent years is being planned for the Douglas in the Alaiedon Township unit district.

Bids will be received on a new school building of cinder block construction until 3 o'clock Monday afternoon, June 16, at the town hall.

The Douglas school was built 65 years ago. It is a fractional district. The school house used to occupy a site in Wheatfield township. When the present building was erected it was built on the Alaiedon site, on Meridian road at the end of Frost road.

Alaiedon township schools are in a township unit. Last year the district by vote decided to use sales tax money from the township fund along with school money to modernize all the schools. The state department of public instruction refused to approve modernization of the Douglas. State officials declared the building too small and too old to warrant the installation of inside plumbing. The school was built to accommodate 18 pupils. There are now 21 enrolled.

The township unit has funds available to build the new school. No bond issue or increase in millage is necessary, members of the board said.

Glen Watkins, secretary of the school board, said that if possible the new building will be made ready for the opening of school in September.

Joyce Malcho Wins Scholarship

Joyce Malcho of Dansville has won a 4-H club scholarship to Michigan State college for outstanding club work. The 4-H girl has completed 7 years of 4-H work in dairy, clothing and beef-feeding. She was wearing a white summer dress which she made for graduating from high school Wednesday night when this picture was taken.

Joyce is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Malcho. She has shown her exhibits at county and state fairs and state 4-H shows. The girl is an active member of the Ingham Service club. Joyce is a style delegate to 4-H club week this summer and has been a junior leader in her 4-H club the past 4 years.

The Dansville girl competed for another scholarship given by the Women's National Farm and Garden club Tuesday. Twelve 4-H girls met in Birmingham for interviews with club members. Awards amount to $250 each for the top 6 in the group.

Joyce plans to enroll at Michigan State next fall for courses in home management and child development.

Stockbridge Has 3 Polio Cases

Three infants from Stockbridge are in the polio ward of University hospital at Ann Arbor.

Two are James, 2 1/2, and Carol, 1 1/2, children of Mr. and Mrs. John Switzenberg of 110 Main, in the village. The other is David, 2, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dean McConoghy of Lecke road, just over the line in Jackson county.

The onset in the case of the Switzenberg children was last Wednesday. The McConoghy child came down 2 days earlier. Dr. S. A. Beckwith diagnosed the cases as the Switzenberg children. Dr. G. D. Culver found that the McConoghy boy had polio. Laboratory tests at Ann Arbor confirmed the diagnoses of the Stockbridge doctors.

The last previous reported case of polio was reported in the Holt area May 6. Richard Sheldon, 14, Elbert road, came down with what was at first thought to be a hard cold. Partial paralysis followed. According to a report from the county health department the boy has made rapid improvement.

Grim Reaper Likes to Visit Rural Area

In Ingham county the highest death rates are in the small towns and on the farms. The lowest death rates are in the Lansing suburbs. That's not because the suburbs are any healthier. It's because of the higher percentage of old folks who live on the farm and in small towns.

Heart disease was the greatest cause of death. Dr. Roelf Lanting, medical director of the county health department, reported a total of 1,406 deaths in Ingham last year. The total was 33 more than in 1950 yet the rate was about the same. Population growth of the county was a factor. The 1950 rate was 8.30. For 1951 the rate was 8.34. The overall state rate has not yet been computed.

Lansing township with 78 deaths had the lowest rate, 4.2 per 1,000. Delhi with 53 deaths was second with a rate of 5.0. Next came East Lansing with 69 deaths for 5.4, and Meridian with 53 deaths, a rate of 5.5.

Rural townships and small towns had 262 deaths. The rate

Blacktop Crew Starts Action

Held up by wet weather, the county road commission blacktop paving crew swung into action Tuesday. The first job is the paving of a mat on Dexter Trail between M-92 and the Livingston county line. From there the crew will go to Catholic Church road to pave a stretch between Parman and Murray roads.

Following completion of the Catholic Church road job, paving operations will be halted for 10 days while seal-coating is done on county roads in the central part of the county, County Engineer Frank K. Evans said.

Zoning Dispute Over Triangle Pops Up Again

VanderVeen Renews Plea For Commercial Zoning Of Part of Block 6

Blood-soaked ground in Mason's Iron Triangle is being plowed up again in a renewal of a zoning dispute.

The triangle is bounded by State, Sycamore and Park streets. Don H. VanderVeen, Sr., owns the apex at the corner of State and Sycamore. For years Jack Fowler's blacksmith shop occupied it with the north side of the building edging into Sycamore street. Later the building was converted into a body shop. Then it burned down.

VanderVeen sold off the Fowler house and then sought permission to erect a store building. Permission was denied because the triangle had been zoned B residential, calling for setbacks of all buildings to the existing line. VanderVeen hired Howard A. McCowan, now city attorney, to fight the decision. The council didn't fight. When McCowan discovered a flaw in the publication of the zoning ordinance, the council abandoned enforcement of it.

Before VanderVeen erected a building another zoning ordinance was adopted. That ordinance, although disputed heatedly at the time, put the triangle in B residential again. Then came the Kraas-Khan argument over erection of the showcase in front of their studio. The appeal board finally held that the showcase was not a building.

VanderVeen wrote a letter to the council asking for rezoning of the triangle.

No action was taken by the council. Any change in zoning would first have to go through the processes of public hearings. Mayor C. H. Hall explained. However, he said, the block can be considered highly commercial right now.

"After all," the mayor said, "you can't expect Mason business to go up in skyscrapers. This business district must spread out."

"If this area isn't commercial, then I'd like to know what is," Councilman Oren Hall added.

West Side Development. City councilmen took the first step Monday night to determine the street grade for the proposed city school which will be built near the corner of Cedar and Ash streets. Councilmen asked City Engineer Walter Zimmer to draw up plans for the extension and to also include a proposed extension of Oak street to the west.

The plans for Cedar street must be complete before architects can wind up plans for the new school. City action was spurred by a letter from the board of education.

The new school will face east on the Cedar street extension. At the same time, the Oak street extension will be joined to Cedar, a block south of Ash.

Most of the land surrounding the 2 proposed streets is already platted. Zimmer told the councilmen. Opening up Oak street will make room for development near the school. The city should take this possibility into consideration when installing water and sewer services.

Heart Disease Claims Most Victims

figured out 12.7. Mason with its complement of senior citizens, stood second highest in death rates, 11.2. Lansing city deaths totaled 851 for a rate of 9.4, about 1 per 1,000 above the overall county rate. Lansing also has a high percentage of elderly people. East Lansing and the townships of Lansing, Delhi and Meridian have an excess of young couples to account for the low death rates.

People 70 years of age or older accounted for 45% of the total deaths, while 20% died in their sixties, and 12% in their fifties. Next highest percentage of total deaths were infants under 1 year of age who accounted for 8%, and ages 1 to 9 inclusive accounted for 2%. The teenagers accounted for only 1%, 20-year-olds for 2%, 30-year-olds for 3% and 40-year-olds for 7%.

In the 10 numerically leading causes of death, heart diseases headed the list with 529 deaths, which is 33 more than during 1950. Cancer was a poor second with 213 deaths, an increase of 9 from 1950, compared to a total of 53 in 1950, one generation earlier.

Diseases peculiar to early infancy were fourth with 94 deaths, a decrease of 2. Deaths from accidents was next with 84 deaths, an increase of 1, but only 37 were auto accidents in contrast with 43 the previous year. Diseases of the circulatory system, other than heart and stroke, were sixth with 60 deaths of which almost two-thirds were arteriosclerosis. Diabetes and suicides tied for seventh and eighth places with 21 deaths each. Nephritis dropped to ninth with 18 deaths and pneumonia placed last with a continued drop to 15 deaths.

Tuberculosis, which in most areas places among the leading 10 causes but has not in Ingham county for the past 10 years, caused 9 deaths for an unusually low rate of 5.3 per 100,000 population. Syphilis caused the same number of deaths. Total deaths from all communicable diseases numbered 22, a decrease of 9 from 1950, compared to a total of 53 in 1950, one generation earlier.

Supervisors Give Salary Increase To Lt. Babcock

To keep Lieutenant Versile Babcock on the sheriff's staff, the board of supervisors granted him a $210 salary increase Monday. Actually the increase will amount to $175.00 a month for the 7 months remaining in 1952. That's $122.50.

Lieutenant Babcock did draw $3,000 a year. The new rate is $3,300.

Sheriff Willard P. Barnes told the supervisors that without the raise, Lieutenant Babcock would leave. An automobile insurance company has offered the lieutenant more money to be an investigator on its staff, Supervisor Walter Munyon of Lansing added.

The vote on the raise was 25-6. An amendment to specify that $25 per month should be voted for the use of Babcock's photographic equipment lost 25-8. The 6 who voted against the salary raise were Supervisors Lloyd B. Aseltine, Alton; Rino Dell and Charles Hayden, Lansing; Berton Johnson, Whitefish; Phillip Mills, Leroy; and Rex Townsend, Ingham.

Hayden and Aseltine said they were not voting against Lieutenant Babcock but were trying to hold the budget line. With the raise granted to Babcock, they explained, will come a deluge of requests for increases for others on the sheriff's staff and for those employed in other departments.

Sheriff Barnes admitted that the increase granted Babcock will probably result in other requests for raises in his department.

Approved by Committee
Supervisor Ward Vicary of the salaries committee, reported that his committee favored the increase to Lieutenant Babcock. Sheriff Barnes declared that Babcock's experience as an investigator and his photographic ability are invaluable to the department. Supervisor John Russell of Lansing pointed out that the starting salary for patrolmen in Lansing is $3,770.

Granting the raise to the sheriff's lieutenant was in line with adjusting the salary schedule in the office of register of deeds, Supervisor Hubert Bullen of Aurelius said. Hayden refused it, saying that the adjustment did not raise the total salary budget of the office of register of deeds.

The board confirmed the appointment of Mrs. Jean Flanders as deputy register and fixed her salary at $3,300. On May 21, Mrs. Mia Bell Humphrey, long deputy register, was appointed register to fill the vacancy resulting from the death of Mrs. Ethel L. Phillips. With Mrs. Flanders made deputy, Mrs. Rose Lamphere was advanced to a clerk's salary of $2,690. Patricia Holtz has been hired as photostat operator at $1,380 with the addition of a $210 per year bonus after being on the payroll for 6 months.

On motion of Supervisor Bullen, county officers will be closed Saturday, July 5, to permit employees to have a 3-day holiday. The supervisors adjourned until Monday, July 14.

Woman Cries Out Against Stings

Mrs. Wray Welsh is allergic to honey bees. She told the city council Monday night that the bees belonging to Leo Hawkins, pesther her to the point where she can't even get out to hang up the wash. Hawkins keeps about 20 swarms on property next to Mrs. Welsh.

"We built our new home 2 years ago," Mrs. Welsh told the councilmen. "Since then, there have been more and more swarms. The bees hang on the clothes, on the water taps, on the windows and on me. Bee stings make me sick. I was in bed last year because of a sting."

Councilmen didn't give Mrs. Welsh much hope of alleviating the situation. There is no ordinance to forbid the keeping of bees. And even if the city would enact one, it could not cover those already in business.

"The only possible solution would be to consider this particular case a public nuisance and an annoyance which is dangerous, offensive, or unhealthful to inhabitants of the city," Mayor C. H. Hall explained. "Such a decision could be based upon the city charter."

However, previous court actions have been thwarted because a dangerous or offensive bee could not positively be identified as that belonging to a particular beekeeper.

"Without bees, there could be no fruit-bearing trees in the city," an onlooker at the meeting stated.

Councilmen asked Julius Schmeichel, superintendent of public works, to look into the situation and confer with City Attorney Howard McCowan on any available solution.

New Assessments Are Worked Out, Expert Reports

Forrest Barry of Dansville reported to the city council Monday night on the assessment roll reform. Barry was retained by the council last fall to set up an assessment system for real estate.

"We have spent about $2,100 so far and the project is about half complete," Barry reported. Councilmen agreed to spend up to $5,000 when the project was started.

Values of property will be based on the years 1939 to 1941, Barry said. Those years were the most stable, businesswise, for many years before or since, Barry explained.

Since beginning the survey, every building in the city has been measured. Every bathroom, stoker, outhouse and plastered wall has been counted, Barry explained. All construction was given definite values before the survey began, he added. Location, depreciation and other intangible factors were also taken into consideration, Barry said.

"A description of each piece of property will be kept on file in the clerk's office with the exact details of each," Barry stated. "When any dispute arises, it will be simple for the assessor to tell why he arrived at the assessed valuation figure."

"The survey has brought to light some pieces of property which have never been on the assessment roll," Barry said. "The purpose of the survey is to equalize property values. This does not mean any increase in total tax money. It will only mean a better distribution of the tax load. As a result, if the assessed property valuation is increased, the tax rate for the city should drop. I'll estimate that we will have about 100 people who will appeal to the board about their assessments. I think we can prove to at least 85 of them that they were treated fairly. The other 15 won't be satisfied because they don't want to be satisfied."

Barry said he hopes to complete the project by October 1.

Legion Coach Slates Tryouts

Coach Harold Haase is going to get his first look at the 1952 version of the Browne-Cavender Post 148 Junior Legion baseball team Saturday afternoon at 2:00.

The Mason post will hold tryouts at that time for all boys who have not turned 17 prior to January 1, 1952.

Haase does not have too much time to whip his squad into shape. The first league game for Mason is scheduled for June 17 in Lansing with Mount Moriah. Mason has booked a practice tilt with the VFW team for Monday night over at the Eaton Rapids home.

The Mason team has equipment enough for a squad of 16. Any and every position is wide open, according to Haase, and suits will go to the best men.

Mason is entered in an 8-team Lansing league. There are 4 Lansing teams and outfits from Haslett, Fowlerville and Lansing.

Justice Court

Kenneth Brown of Stockbridge, arrested by Deputies Alva Beaman and Glen Drown, last Thursday drew 60 days in jail plus fine and costs of $32.75 with 6 months probation thrown in. He pleaded guilty before Justice of the Peace Roy W. Adams on a charge of disturbing the peace.

On Saturday morning Williamston police lodged Joseph Charlow of Lansing in jail on a drunk driving charge. Charlow pleaded guilty before Justice of the Peace E. T. Crossman at Williamston Monday. The judge assessed Charlow $65.00 plus costs of $9.20 with the alternative of spending 65 days in jail. If a fine and costs are paid Charlow can get off with only 5 days in jail.

Sam Derossert of Lima, Ohio, arrested by Deputies Beaman and Drown at Stockbridge, Saturday, appeared before Judge Adams Monday, charged with drunk driving. The judge ordered Derossert to pay fine and costs of $62.

Charles Swartout of Mason, brought to Mason by Deputies Beaman and Drown at Stockbridge Saturday noon following an accident, had his charge reduced to reckless driving when he appeared before Judge Adams Monday. The judge said that Stockbridge officers reduced the charge. Judge Adams ordered Swartout to pay fine and costs of $37 and put him on probation for 6 months.

East Lansing police lodged Edson Scudder and John Williams, both of Detroit, in jail Saturday, both on drunk driving charges. They went before Justice of the Peace Henry Schram at East Lansing Monday. The judge ordered each to pay fine and costs of $79.30 and each to serve 10 days in jail. If fine and costs are not paid the men will have to serve an additional 45 days.

Charles Marshall of Stockbridge is doing 40 days in jail. He was arrested by Stockbridge officers on a drunk charge Friday. He pleaded guilty before Judge Adams Monday and received his sentence.

On Saturday Arthur Ferguson of Lansing was arrested by East Lansing officers on a drunk driving charge. He appeared before Judge Schram at East Lansing Monday and was given his choice of paying a fine of $75.00 plus costs of $1.30 or spend 45 days in jail. He paid.

On Sunday Deputies Beaman and Drown of Stockbridge arrested Claude Risner of Toledo for drunk driving and Carl Conley of Toledo for being drunk. Both men pleaded guilty before Judge Adams Tuesday. Risner was given his choice of paying fine and costs of $62.75 or spending 30 days in jail. He paid. Conley was ordered to pay $17 or serve 10 days in jail.

Jay Flannigan, Lansing, arrested by Mason Officer Kenneth Merindorf, pleaded guilty to disturbing the peace. He was taken before Judge Adams on Tuesday of last week. The judge ordered Flannigan confined to jail for 15 days.

Casper Brown of Stockbridge was released on bond last Wednesday. He demanded examination when taken before Judge Adams May 26 on a drunk driving charge. The examination, originally scheduled for June 2, was postponed. No date has yet been set.

Raymond Bachman, Williamston, who had previously pleaded not guilty to a drunk charge, changed his plea to guilty Monday. Judge Adams imposed fine and costs of $15 and put Bachman on probation for 3 months.

Deputy Donald Haynes of Leslie arrested James E. Mitchell, Mason, last Friday on a drunk driving charge. Mitchell pleaded guilty before Justice of the Peace John Grugel Saturday. He paid a fine of $50 plus costs of $9.30 and was placed on probation for 2 years.

James Scott and Lloyd Higginbottom, both of Lansing, were arrested by Meridian officers May 29, Scott for furnishing liquor to a minor, and Higginbottom for drinking liquor in a public place. They pleaded guilty before Judge Adams. The judge assessed Scott fine and costs of $34.60 and put the man on probation for 4 months. Higginbottom paid fine and costs of $14.60 and was also put on probation for 4 months.

John Zittel of Lansing, arrested by Conservation Officer Walter Mutchler for fishing in the Sycamore near Holt without a license, pleaded guilty before Judge Adams Monday, paying fine and costs of $12.80.

Richard Casler and Raymond Smith, both of Eaton Rapids, appeared before Judge Adams Tuesday to plead guilty to disorderly conduct in Mason Monday night. They were ticketed by Merindorf for breaking bottles in McRobert's street. Each paid fine and costs of $10 and each was placed on probation for 3 months.

Holt Garden Club Exhibits Blooms

The Holt Garden club held a spring flower exhibit Tuesday evening. It was also guest day. Mrs. Nora Delashmutt received first, with her arrangement of iris; Mrs. Ethel Nuoffer, second, with an arrangement of evergreens and Oriental poppies in a green vase; and Mrs. J. M. Elberly received a merit award for her color arrangement of yellow and white iris.

Judges were from the Dimondale club. The hostesses, Ethel Krauss, Nellie Hope and Louise Leonard, served punch and cookies buffet style. During roll call, members introduced the 10 guests present. During the meeting, a white elephant sale was held. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Kenneth Bibbins on July 1. A picnic will be held.

Fiesta Is Enjoyed By Presbyterians

Three hundred mothers and daughters attended the Presbyterian banquet held last Wednesday evening in the church gym. The program theme was a May fiesta. The younger set gave Maypole dances, dressed in crepe paper costumes. Jean and Ellen Shaff gave a tap dance, and Carol Hyde played her accordion. Mothers, Mrs. Gwen Hanes and Mrs. Helen Spraker and Mrs. Jean McAnlin were appropriately dressed to demonstrate the Charleston as they used to do it. MSC students, George Pacheco and Gabriela Almariz, demonstrated Spanish and South American dances. A toast to mothers was given by Sandra Smith, and Imogene Beckwith gave a toast to the daughters. Mothers with the most daughters were Mrs. Hazel Ansley and Mrs. Cassius Shaff, Mrs. Anna Hill received acclaim as being the mother for the most number of years. The most recent mother was Mrs. Kenneth Moore of Lansing. They each received a rose. The evening closed with a duet by Imogene Beckwith and Sandra Smith. The Emma Bickett circle, assisted by Ruth Ferris Smith, directed the program. Julia Spink circle served in the kitchen. The Josephine-Rose circle took reservations and the program and decorating was done by the working women and young mothers of Circle 4.

Vows Are Said in Church

MR. AND MRS. JUNIOR W. BROWNFIELD

At a candle-light service Saturday evening, May 31, at 8 o'clock, Miss Jo Ann Lott and Junior W. Brownfield were united in marriage by Rev. Paul Arnold of the First Presbyterian church of Mason. The double-ring ceremony was performed in the presence of 25 guests. The altar was decorated with branch candelabra, palms and baskets of pink and white gladioli for the nuptials. The pews were marked by flowers.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lott of Mason. Mr. Brownfield's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Brownfield, also of Mason.

Mrs. Nathan Davis, organist, played traditional wedding music. He also played for the soloist, John Carroll, who sang "Because," "My Prayer" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a colonial style gown of traditional bride satin, with a charming lace bodice and Jean Ann collar. The long lace sleeves ended in points at the wrist. The bouffant skirt featured lace panels in front and extended the full length of the cathedral train. Her fingertip illusion veil was held in place with an illusion located cap edged with lace and seed pearls. She carried a colonial arrangement of Johanna Hill roses, lily of the valley and ivy. She wore a single strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

Audrey Brownfield, sister of the bridegroom, was matron of honor. Her gown was frosted organically over yellow taffeta with yellow taffeta sash and organically nits. Her bouquet was styled similar to the bride's with yellow ribbon streamers.

Mrs. Marvin Lott, sister-in-law of the bride, and Miss Bonnie Edmonds were bridesmaids. They wore frosted organically over orchid and green sashes and organically nits, respectively. They also carried a colonial arrangement of roses, similar to the bride's, with matching ribbon streamers. All the attendants wore tiaras made of flowers.

Alumni Meeting Is Scheduled

There will be an alumni meeting at Mason high school Thursday evening, June 12, at 8 o'clock. The committee has expressed the wish that at least 1 member of every graduating class since 1890 be present.

Plans for a reunion will be discussed.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Whipple of Lake Lansing announced the birth of a son born Wednesday, June 4, at the St. Lawrence hospital in Lansing.

Two Are Chosen For Girls' State

Sponsored by Browne-Cavender American Legion Auxiliary No. 148 and by the Lions' club of Mason, Roberta Evans and Kejtha Mills, who have just completed their junior year in Mason high school, are planning to attend Girls' State at Ann Arbor June 17 to 26.

The girls who receive this honor are chosen by the school faculty for their character, scholastic records and citizenship. Girls' State, a project of the American Legion Auxiliary, combines a week of intensive training in Americanism and the privileges of citizenship, with vocational guidance, sports and social activities. The Mason Unit has sponsored a girl each year since Girls' State was organized, with the exception of 1950.

Pat Holtz, who represented Mason at Girls' State last year, was chosen this year by the school faculty to receive the American Legion Auxiliary's citizenship medal at commencement. She is now employed in the office of the Register of Deeds.

Joan Hatt, the winner of the local Auxiliary's Americanism essay contest on which awards were given recently, this week received an unexpected $10 additional. Miss Hatt was awarded not only first prize in the local school's senior high contest, but also stood first in the sixth district competition, receiving $10 from each group. Early this week, Mrs. Grace Ankney, president of Browne-Cavender Unit, was informed that the first prize in the district should have been $20, and an additional $10 was sent for the Mason winner.

Tuesday evening, June 9, music will be the theme for the meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary. There will be group singing and a short program of other music. Mrs. Ankney has announced that initiation will be held at the regular meeting on June 27. Junior members will be formally received into the unit.

Mr. and Mrs. Eric Spenny and family spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Spenny at Lake George.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. McLaughlin and family entertained Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Solem of Owosso and Airman 1/c Richard Solem at dinner Sunday. Airman Solem recently returned home from Japan.

Mr. and Mrs. Denn Taylor spent the week end with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Philip MacLake and family of Battle Creek.

Following the ceremony, the newlyweds greeted their guests at a reception in the church parlors, which was decorated with spring flowers. Mrs. Stanley Alston of Detroit, aunt of the bride, cut the three-tiered wedding cake, which was topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom. She was assisted by Mrs. Dale Bullen, Mrs. Don Williams and Shirley McMichael. Miriam Ervin presided at the coffee table. Ice cream with double heart center, nuts and mints were also served.

Mrs. Jim Armstrong of Stockbridge registered the wedding guests.

After the reception, the couple left on a trip to northern Michigan. For traveling, Mrs. Brownfield chose a nylon print gown, with navy accessories and a lily of the valley corsage.

When they return they will reside at their farm home on North Dobie road.

Mrs. Brownfield graduated from Mason high school in 1951. Since then she has been employed in the art department of Michigan State college. Mr. Brownfield is also a graduate of Mason high school after which he took a short course in agriculture and herd-testing at Michigan State college. He has just completed 4 years of testing work in the Ingham-Williamston Dairy Herd Improvement association. He will now be engaged in farming.

Out-of-town guests were present from Detroit, Flint, Saginaw, Pinconning, East Tawas, Nashville, Lansing, Webberville, Williamston and Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Mosher of South Bend, Indiana, spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Mosher at the Mosher cottage at Budd lake at Harrison.

Vows Are Spoken At Church Rites

An improvised altar of palms, decorated with baskets of blue lilies, snapdragons and pink gladioli, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Marion H. Marshall of Okemos, was the setting for the wedding last Wednesday of Mrs. Marjory May Wymer of Riverdale and Marvin Schuyler Marshall of East Lansing.

Rev. Eaden Davis, pastor of the Michigan Avenue Methodist church of Lansing, performed the double-ring ceremony at 8 p. m. in the presence of 55 guests. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Dalrymple of Riverdale and Mr. Marshall is the son of Mrs. Clara Marshall, East Lansing.

Mrs. Blanche Williams of Okemos was accompanist for Marion Marshall who sang "I Love You Truly" and "O Promise Me." Traditional wedding music and the wedding march were played by Jerry Marshall, nephew of the bridegroom.

Miss Velma Hunter of Bath was the maid of honor. She was attired in a beige linen dress and carried a bouquet of yellow roses.

For the rites the bride chose a dress of navy blue, sheer nylon and carried a bouquet of red roses and lilies of the valley.

Marion H. Marshall, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers for the occasion were David Jones and Robert Jones of Charlotte, nephews of the bridegroom.

Following the ceremony the couple greeted their guests at a reception in the dining room of the home. Wedding cake, ice cream and coffee were served by Mrs. Marion Marshall. She was assisted by Mrs. Paul Wood of Riverdale, sister of the bridegroom; Miss Olgie Welch of Riverdale, sister of the bride; and Mrs. Walter Bradford of Eaton Rapids, niece of the bridegroom.

The newlyweds left their reception for a trip to the East. Upon their return they will reside at 1002 E. Grand River Ave., East Lansing.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Marshall are employees of the Michigan Millers Mutual Fire Insurance company of Lansing.

Mrs. Joye Hoekzema Speaks at Banquet

received. He said he was not informed about the reactor.

Disease Spreads
Dr. James Spencer, Stockbridge veterinarian, was called by Allen when contagious abortion broke out in the herd. State veterinarians also came onto the scene. Allen said 14 of his cows aborted and he had to sell 13 cows and 2 heifers for slaughter. The damage claim also covers the loss of 14 calves by abortion. His claim included 13 cows at $325, $1,225; 2 heifers at $250, $500; 14 calves at $20, $280; veterinary fees, $100; and loss of milk production, $4,500. He took off $1,513 in receipts from the sale of the 15 head for slaughter.

State veterinarians in 1948 filed a complaint against the Halls for selling the diseased Guernsey. The brothers said they pleaded guilty to the charge although they did not consider themselves in violation of the law because they had no knowledge that the cow was a reactor when Allen bought her, and that Allen was informed that the test report had not been received. Nothing about the test was concealed, the Halls declared.

The Halls went to the Allen farm in 1948 to discuss the situation and to learn the extent of the damage, they said. They testified that Allen refused to set a price. Allen declared not then set a price because some of the cows were bred and he was unable to determine his damage.

The Halls did not return to the Allen place. Allen said that at an auction sale in Mason later he spoke to Chellis Hall and asked about a settlement. Hall's reply, Allen said, was that he would get nothing from the Halls. On that occasion Chellis Hall indicated that Allen should have received part of the $150 fine assessed by Justice of the Peace Montgomery for the illegal sale, or that he should look to Dr. Kraft for damages, Allen testified.

In arguing the case Barnard Pierce, attorney for the Halls, declared Allen negligent in not discovering the disease and taking prompt measures to prevent its spread. Pierce also labeled as fantastic the amount of damages asked.

Clayton Jennings and Joe C. Foster, Jr., of the law firm of Ballard, Jennings, Bishop & Ellsworth are attorneys for Allen.

Another Jury Disagrees
Jurors were unable to agree on a verdict in the suit of Fred Wade vs. Charlot Trailer Co. and Pony Schmitt, Inc. Wade claimed that the trailer he bought in 1947 was defective. The case was tried before Judge Marvin J. Salmon Monday and Tuesday. Jurors were out 2 hours when they reported that they were hopelessly deadlocked.

A jury brought in a verdict of no cause for action Wednesday in the suit of Paul Simpson of Mason and Farm Bureau Mutual Insurance Co. vs. James Waggoner of Mason. The case was heard before Charles H. Hayden. It resulted from an automobile collision on US-127 between Holt and Lansing last year.

In justice court in Lansing Simpson was awarded a judgment of $111.06 plus costs of $18.70 against Waggoner. The Mason man appealed the case to circuit court. He filed a counterclaim against Simpson, each claiming the other was negligent. As a result of the verdict neither party can collect from the other because of the collision.

Jurors not sitting in the trial before Judge Coash were excused Wednesday until Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Harley Ankney, Sr., and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Ankney, Sr., and family visited Mr. and Mrs. Robin Pardee and family of Dansville Sunday.

Lodge Confers Honors Upon C. Ray Beebe

C. Ray Beebe was honored Wednesday evening at the meeting of the Odd Fellows for over 50 years and is also a member of the Canton Capital City No. 2.

Major General George A. Marsh of Ann Arbor and his uniformed staff, and Major General Harrison Loree, past department commander, conferred the decoration of civility on Mr. Beebe, Howard A. Wilson, captain of Canton Capital City No. 2, and Chevalliers, and Lady Lavisa Flower, president of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Capital City Lodge No. 2, helped in confirming the degree.

Mr. and Mrs. William Ruthrauff, superintendent and matron of the I. O. O. F. home in Jackson, attended the meeting. Other guests were present from Holt, Dimondale, Lansing, Stockbridge, Ann Arbor and Jackson.

After the meeting, refreshments were served from a table decorated with purple and yellow flowers. Patriarches Millant colors. The Mason Lodge presented Mr. Beebe with a cake, topped with a replica of the pin which he received during the meeting.

PARTY HONORS MRS. EVERY
Thirty-four friends and relatives honored Mrs. Wourt Every Wednesday at a party celebrating her 70th birthday anniversary. Refreshments of cake and jello were served. Mrs. Every received many gifts.

YMCA Executive Tells of Program

C. M. Brethaupt of the Lansing YMCA told Mason Kiwanians Tuesday night about the activities of the organization. Its services were launched before the Civil War and have continued on through the years, he said. Any organization which continues its existence for so long a period must be worthwhile, the speaker declared.

One secret of the progress made by the YMCA, Brethaupt said, is the leadership developed by lay directors. No organization can exist for long, Brethaupt asserted, if it must rely only on professional leadership.

As much as the United States needs engineers, scientists, doctors and other trained people, the need is even greater for men and women to work in social service, Brethaupt said.

Farm Liability Insurance

FARMERS... Did you know that your tractor on the road comes under the same financial liability laws that your car does.

FARM LIABILITY... Protects you for all tractor accidents, on or off the road, protects you for other farm accidents such as a cow causing a car accident, other accidents involving your farm operations.

ALSO... your farm liability policy gives you a $500 medical payment protection for guests at your farm.

ALSO... you may insure yourself, your family or hired man for medical payments in case you or they are injured while working the farm.

ALSO... you can secure Employees Liability to protect you in case a farm employee is injured and sues you for damages etc. Call for appointment. We will explain the whole protection and rates are reasonable.

Flint Man Eyes Congress Seat

James H. Gardner, Flint realtor and former state representative, has announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination as congressional representative from the sixth district to succeed W. W. Blackney.

Gardner has operated a real estate and building company since 1922. Prior to then he was employed by Hamady Brothers, and the Fisher Body and Buick divisions of General Motors.

The Flint man started his political career in 1944 when he won the GOP nomination for state senator.

Gardner was elected state representative from the first district in 1946, and won the nomination for state senator in 1948 and again in 1950. He polled the greatest number of votes of any Genesee county Republican running for state or national office in the 1950 election.

He currently is serving as vice-president of the Genesee County Republican Council and has been a delegate to the county convention for the past 22 years. He is a past president of the Flint Board of Realtors and has served as chairman of the legislative committee of the Flint Chamber of Commerce.

Gardner gave his statement of principles the following:

1. A realistic, friendly but firm foreign policy.
2. A constitutional limit on federal taxes.
3. A return of morality, fidelity, and honesty in government.
4. The conservation of all natural resources.
5. A safe balance between military and domestic spending.
6. The preservation of state

James Gardner

rights and limitation of the federal government to specific taxes.

7. A sound agricultural program free of present socialistic policies, and prevention of top soil erosion through headwater flood control.

8. A return to government based on fact for the common good rather than political expediency.

9. A realization that there is no substitute for mutual cooperation and honest production of consumers goods to attain real prosperity and the return to a sound national economy.

10. Finally, I believe that faith and unity are the hallmarks of America's future and the salvation of the civilized world. We must face the fact that a bankrupt nation offers no man security of any kind.

Three-R Course For 12th Grade

In my occasionally published ideas on education I have found a supporter: Lou Severson, patient training supervisor at the State Home.

Lou and I feel that the schools have the primary job of teaching kids to read, write and figure. That's basic. Beyond the three R's, the school should do as much as possible but they shouldn't lose sight of the fact that in this world of ours it's still mighty handy to have the foundation stones of all knowledge.

My supporter and I would give a three-R course in the 12th grade. It would review plain eighth-grade arithmetic, spelling, grammar and vocabulary.

It wouldn't be a course designed to "keep our children happy in school, broaden their social outlook, improve group relationships" or any of the other of the modern aims of education.

It would be presented to the students with the simple statement: "This you've got to learn. All your life you will need it. If you're going to get a diploma in June you've got to get a passing grade. This course may not be fun. We don't intend it to be. But it's your job to learn it."

One class period a day for one semester would do the trick, I'm sure. Kids can learn a lot if it's given to them straight and if they know they have to get a passing grade to graduate.

Surely, our schools can spare one class period for one semester for this purpose. Surely, it's not too much to ask that more than 55% of our school graduates be able to spell "elevator" or more than 45% be able to figure the price of a $2.49 shirt if it's marked down 20%, or more than 33% get a passing grade on a simple grammar test. That's the best they could do on a test The County Press give seniors a few years ago. —Bob Myers in Lapeer County Press.

RECORD COAL MOVEMENT

Movement of bituminous coal through Hampton Roads, Va., in 1951 established an all-time high of close to 42 million tons, three times the 1950 volume, and more than three million tons above 1947, the best previous year.

City and County Share Costs on Sewer Extension

Mason will pay $2,000.00 and the county $3,584.80 to give temporary relief on sewage disposal at the county park.

Another appropriation will be necessary, though, to give permanent relief, health department officials said. Untouched by the agreement made between the city and county Monday, is the condition at the south end of the fairgrounds. Raw sewage from there goes into a storm sewer and thence into Rayner creek.

It will be necessary to provide a pumping station for the sewage from the south end of the fairgrounds. The land is too low for gravity sewage flow into the sanitary sewer.

Under the agreement between the city and county, the city will extend its 10-inch sanitary sewer from the corner of Lawton and Ash streets east to the county park drive on the east side of the ponds. From there the city will extend the sewer north to connect with the 4-H building.

Sewage from the county park toilets now goes into a filter bed. That situation will be permitted to continue so long as the filter bed functions, declared Dr. R. Laning, county health director, and Chief Sanitarian Philip Shirley.

There is not now any septic tank functioning at the fairgrounds or county park, health officials declared. There was a functioning septic tank at the 4-H building, they said, until it became plugged before the fair last year.

The collection chamber used to gather sewage and storm water from the south toilets at the fairgrounds and from the stables at the south end is not a septic tank, health officials explained.

The sewage flows into the storm sewer on the west side of the ponds and direct from there into Rayner creek, by-passing the city's sewage disposal plant.

Pump Is Needed
Only a pumping station can remedy the situation at the south end of the fairgrounds, Shirley explained.

Sewage from the north end can enter the sanitary sewer by gravity flow, but not from the south end. Building of a pumping station would be demanded this year, said Shirley, if there were time enough to build it and have it operating before the fair.

Had the fair board acted promptly last year when the conditions were pointed out to them, Shirley asserted, there would have been ample opportunity to have installed a pumping station.

During winter months at least 10 trailers in addition to the bunkhouse toilets were connected to the storm sewer, Shirley said. He estimated that 50 people have been using the storm sewer as a sanitary sewer.

City Buys Road Machine

City workmen welcomed this $4,419 Huber Maintainer last week. The machine is capable of putting the finishing touches on road grading and can scrape and bulldoze snow during winter months. Shown above are Wayne Curtis, Burtis Dillbeck and Julius Schmeichel, superintendent of public works, just before the machine leaped into action on Columbia street.

Richard Donaldson is manning the main-tainer for the city. It will be his job to scrape gravel streets and alleys and later, to remove snow, Schmeichel said.

The operator of the machine sits high above the street in an enclosed cab. A heater will reduce winter's blast to a refreshing breeze.

Charlotte Juniors Give Trip Fund To Hospital To Commemorate Dead

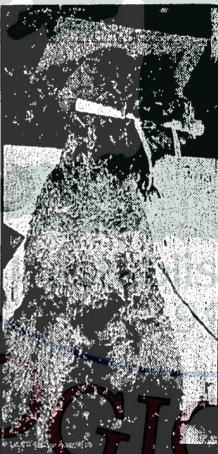

Not in the memory of the Republican-Tribune editor, with a long stretch of active participation in the local newspaper field, has any charity matched the generosity and spontaneity of the action of the Charlotte high's junior class in voting $2,400 to the Hayes-Green-Beach hospital drive.

The amount is over-whelming, representing as it does a cancelled trip to the national capital for the entire class. Add to this double sacrifice the thought of loving remembrance for the 3 members of their class who lost their lives in a tragic auto accident 3 weeks ago on the Lansing road.

This community, must never forget these community-loyal and personally-sacrificial young men and women who, as individuals, have excited themselves and brought everlasting glory to their school and the community they so lavishly represent in lofty sentiment and abundant character.

Here is a '51 honor roll that deserves a permanent place among your keepsakes.—M. H. DeFoe in Charlotte Republican-Tribune.

Display of Flags Asked for June 14

"Show your colors on Flag Day" is the appeal being made to Mason residents by Mrs. Pearl Jewett, Americanism chairman of Browne-Cavender American Legion Auxiliary, as the 175th birthday of the United States flag approaches.

Making Mason a city of flags on Flag Day, June 14, in commemoration of the 175th anniversary of the adoption of the Stars and Stripes, is the Auxiliary's goal.

"If you are a good American, show it by displaying the flag of our country on June 14," said Mrs. Jewett. "Through 175 years this flag has guided America through war and peace, good times and bad, and today we live under it as the most fortunate people in the world. Everything that has made America great is symbolized by that flag. The least we can do is to show our appreciation by flinging it to the breezes on the anniversary of its birth."

Closely connected with the proper observance of Flag Day, is the announcement by Mrs. Grace Ankney, president of Browne-Cavender American Legion Auxiliary, that the local post of the American Legion and the Auxiliary are joining in the Legion's nation-wide "get-out-the-vote" campaign.

"November 4, 1952," says Mrs. Ankney, "will probably be the most important day in the history of this Republic. It could be as important a date in the future, as July 4 has been since 1776."

Pointing out that Michigan has a bad record where voting is concerned, Mrs. Ankney stated that in 1950, only 1,805,000 of the 4,107,000 voters of this state cast ballots, 44% of the voting public. In the last presidential election, only 53% of Michigan's voters bothered to vote for president.

"The American Legion and Auxiliary are not attempting to influence votes," said Mrs. Ankney. "We are not concerned with how people vote; but we are vitally concerned that they do vote."

No special committees have been appointed, as officers of the 2 organizations feel that every member should consider himself a committee of 1 to make sure first, that every eligible voter is registered, and second, that he exercises the great privilege of voting so that the nation will be governed by a vote of the majority.

Mason Seniors Get Good Advice With Diplomas

Sixty-three Mason seniors plus one who wasn't there received their diplomas at commencement exercises last Wednesday night. The one who wasn't there was Clair Otis, who enlisted in the navy prior to graduation. The diploma was given to the father.

The commencement was held at Athletic field under floodlights. There was a cold breeze which served to check the mosquitoes. Rev. C. M. Mullenburg, pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian church in Lansing, gave the seniors sound advice. He reminded them of the world conditions they face and of their responsibility to solve their problems. The title was "You Can Do What You Please."

Rev. Paul L. Arnold of the Mason Presbyterian church gave the invocation. Joyce Swaim Foss and Susan Forche both gave salutations and Marilyn Morris gave the valedictory.

School Superintendent James H. Vander Ven greeted the seniors and introduced the commencement speaker. Principal Richard M. Denlow presented the awards and scholarships. Joanne Tabachik received an alumni-regents scholarship at the University of Michigan, Marilyn Morris was the winner of the alumni scholarship at Michigan State, Susan Force received a music scholarship at Michigan State, William Wasper was announced as the recipient of a scholarship at Alma college and Donald Rumbles and James Roggow as winners of scholarships at the Michigan College of Mining and Technology.

The principal presented the American Legion Auxiliary medal to Patricia Holtz. The medal is awarded annually to the girl deemed outstanding in good citizenship and leadership. Ralph W. Adams of Browne-Cavender post of the American Legion presented the Legion citizenship medal to James Roggow, for his citizenship and leadership. Seniors received their diplomas from the hands of Maurice Rieky, school board president. Directed by George Murthum, the school band played the professional and the recessional and, as an interlude during the speaking, played 2 selections.

A new 25-minute sound film in color produced by the Bituminous Coal Institute gives audiences a graphic and vivid panorama of America's basic industry.

Mental Health Films Secured

The Ingham county chapter of the Michigan Society for Mental Health has arranged for a special preview of films on mental health Monday, June 16, in the Industrial room of the Y. M. C. A. in Lansing from 1:30-9:00 p. m. These special showings will be without charge, but will be open only to program chairmen and club leaders.

Ralph Daniel, consultant to the education division of the state department of mental health, will discuss how these movies may best be used by community groups and to answer questions as to how and where the films may be secured.

There will be 3 sessions, 1:30 to 3:15 on films from kindergarten to high school age; 3:30 to 5:00, films on infants and pre-school children; 7:30 to 9:00, films concerning adults and general mental health problems.

Club leaders or program planners who have not been notified of this service may contact Mrs. Luecke or the Ingham County Council of Social Welfare office at 615 N. Capitol in Lansing by June 11, for reservations.

FAITHFUL EMPLOYEES

There are more than 200 mine employees of a large coal company with operations in West Virginia, Pennsylvania and Kentucky, who last year completed from 20 to 50 years employment with the company. One man had 50 years of service, 10 had 40 years and 22 had 30 years, with the rest having 20 years or more.

Advance Granted For Polio Work

An advance from the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis in the amount of $10,700.00 has been received this week, Maurice J. Mayer, Ingham county chapter chairman, announced.

This is the second advance received by Ingham county. In April the chapter received $4,500.

At the present time Ingham county has had 7 new cases of polio, making the total case load of the chapter stand at 206.

The money received from the 1952 March of Dimes was expended during the first 3 months of the year.

Since the March of Dimes, sizeable contributions have been received from the Reo Girls club, Lindell Drop Forge and the Lansing Council—American Legion Auxiliaries. The Beta Sigma Phi council purchased a "rocking bed" and 3 hot pack machines to be used at the East Unit of Sparrow hospital. A portable lung respirator has been given to the hospital by a local merchant.

Carey-Parsons Vows Solemnized Friday

Miss Joan Mary Parsons and Donald G. Carey of Mason chose Friday, May 30, as their wedding day. They spoke their marriage vows at 4:00 p. m. in the Mason Presbyterian church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Parsons of Mason. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Leo Carey of Charlevoix.

Rev. Paul L. Arnold, pastor of the church, performed the double-ring ceremony before an altar banked with gladioli, palms and candelabra. Flowers also decorated the choir loft.

Mrs. N. S. Davis played traditional wedding music. She was also accompanist for Mrs. E. G. Millard who sang "Because," "Calm Is the Night," and "The Lord's Prayer."

Gerald Parsons gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a ballerina-length strapless gown of French nylon lace and nylon net. Her lace jacket buttoned down the front and featured long sleeves ending in points over the wrists. The full skirt was styled with alternating tiers of net and lace.

Her fingertip-length veil was held in place by a tiara of stephanotis and pearl beading. She carried a bouquet of red and white roses centered with a pull-out corsage of white roses.

Mrs. Raymond Snider, matron of honor, wore a strapless ballerina-length gown of lavender net with a matching stole. Miss Gloria Rathburn, bridesmaid, was attired in a gown of green net, styled like the matron of honor's. Both attendants carried bouquets of mixed flowers and wore tiaras to match their dresses.

William Carey of Charlevoix, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

Robert Carey of Charlevoix, brother of the bridegroom, William Parsons, brother of the bride, and Edward Ware ushered the guests to their seats.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Parsons chose a dress of lilac brocade with purple accessories. Her shoulder corsage was made up of white roses. Mrs. Carey wore a navy and white gown with navy and white accessories. Her corsage was like Mrs. Parsons'.

Wedding Reception Held

After the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors. Miss Betty Hinkle presided at the guest register. Mrs. John Swanson of Sturgis, sister of the bride; Mrs. Stewart Coleman of Charlevoix, sister of the bridegroom; and Miss Sue Bergeon served the refreshments.

MR. AND MRS. DONALD G. CAREY

A three-tiered wedding cake topped with wedding bells centered the serving table. Punch, minis and nuts were also served. Baskets of peonies decorated the parlors for the occasion.

Guests came from Grosse Pointe, Spring Lake, Charlevoix, Detroit, Sturgis, Port Huron, Canada, New Baltimore, Lansing, Mason, Mulliken, Flint, Midland, Dearborn, Ithaca, Wyandotte, Royal Oak, Mt. Clemens, Cedar Springs, Williamston and Plymouth.

Trip to Northern Michigan

After the reception the newlyweds left on a wedding trip to northern Michigan. For traveling Mrs. Carey wore a pale rose-colored suit with navy accessories. She pinned the corsage from her wedding bouquet to the shoulder of her jacket.

"They plan to spend the summer in Charlevoix. They will return to Mason in the fall where Mr. Carey is a coach at Mason high school."

Mrs. Carey graduated from the Mason school in 1919 and has since been employed at Ware's drug store. Mr. Carey is a graduate of Charlevoix high school and Alma college. He served in the navy during World War II.

Mr. and Mrs. Grover Akers entertained Mr. and Mrs. Henry LeCato and family of Lansing, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Akers and Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Basil Fruin and Mr. and Mrs. Leo Stone Friday evening. The occasion celebrated the 10th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Stone.

Patty Adams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Adams, is spending this week with her sister, Elizabeth Adams of Lake Orion.

Mr. and Mrs. Harley Ankey, Sr., and Mary Ellen Pardee of Dansville visited Mr. and Mrs. Harley Ankey, Jr., and family of Holt Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Enoch Beebe spent the week end at their cottage at Middle lake. Mrs. Emma Coon of Middle lake is spending a few days this week with the Beebes.

Cpl. Louise Owen and Airman 1/2 Mary Coleman of Escanaba visited Mr. and Mrs. Oral Lewis and family and Mrs. Edna Beach Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Smith of Grand Ledge called on Mr. and Mrs. Nellis Bateman and family Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Felton and family of Solon, Ohio, visited Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Bashore Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Jenks and their 3 children moved from Onondaga to the Bennett farm on Phillips at Sandhill road this week. The children are Raymond, 17, Marie, 15, and Harold, 12. They have been attending the Leslie school and will enroll at Okemos next fall. Mr. Jenks is employed in Lansing.

Mr. and Mrs. Vic Otis of Rives Junction, Mrs. Betty Underhill and Linda of Lansing and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Foreman and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Harold Darrow and Nancy.

Corruption Cure Lies In Religion, Leaders Declare

Spiritual understanding alone can pierce today's corruption in government and world confusion and lead mankind to lasting safety and security, the Christian Science board of directors believes.

About 7,500 Christian Scientists from throughout the world heard the directors' special message at the annual meeting of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts.

The directors said that human ingenuity alone will never solve mankind's deepest problems. But they added that the means for right adjustment are spiritual and are immediately available.

"Not numbers nor human might but truth—spiritual understanding—is the power that will mold the world's destiny," they declared.

Named president of The Mother Church for the coming year was Lt. Col. Robert Ellis Key of London, England, associate editor of the Christian Science religious periodicals. He has been active in the religion for more than 40 years, including service as practitioner, lecturer and authorized teacher.

"The keynote of this century is not chaos but Christ," Colonel Key told the huge crowd. "War and destruction have been associated with the first half of the twentieth century, but progress and spiritualization will mark the succeeding years."

"The old materialism must be replaced by a spiritual concept of creation," he added.

Mrs. Lora C. Rathvon, retiring president, said there is "growing recognition that spiritual enlightenment and spiritual enlightenment alone will blot out the materialism which is the source of all confusion and of mankind's multiplied problems."

Key officials reported on the far-flung activities of the denomination, which has branches throughout the United States and in 41 other countries.

George Channing, master of Christian Science committees on publication, reported increasing official state and local recognition of the right of the individual of exemption from compulsory physical examinations in good faith on religious grounds. He said fluoridation of the public water supply is being opposed on the grounds that it represents state medicine, and there are prospects of success.

Relief totaling some $200,000 was voluntarily contributed by Christian Scientists to aid sufferers in the Kansas-Missouri Valley flood, Roy Garrett Watson, treasurer of The Mother Church, announced.

In another field, the Christian Science camp welfare department disclosed that more than 360 camp welfare workers were ministering to hospitalized veterans and members of the armed forces. In addition, 43 Christian Science chaplains—3 of them in Korea—were on active duty with troops.

Fowlerville, confessions and devotions Friday 7 p. m.; Sunday mass, 9 a. m.

Onondaga Community, Rev. E. A. Kelford, pastor. Sunday school at 10:00 and worship service at 11:00 a. m.

St. James Mission, Rev. Msgr. Charles Keating, pastor. Mass will be said at the chapel at the corner of South Jefferson and Cherry at 8:30 Sunday morning. Catechism classes will be at 1:30 at the Legion building Saturday.

Mason Church of the Nazarene, Rev. Hugh Putnam, pastor. Sunday school at 10:00 o'clock, church at 11:00 o'clock. N. Y. P. S. at 6:45 p. m. Evangelistic service at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday evening prayer service at 7:30 p. m. with choir practice following.

Williamston Methodist church, Horace James, pastor. Church school, 10 a. m.; worship service, 11 a. m.; Junior Youth Fellowship, 4 p. m.; Senior group, 5 p. m.; Lenten service, Thursday, 7:30 p. m.; choir practice, Wednesday 7 p. m.

First Church of Christ, Scientist, Mason, holds services at the church, corner of Oak and Barnes streets, every Sunday at 11:00. Sunday school is held during the services for pupils up to the age of 20. Wednesday evening meeting at 8:00 includes testimonies of Christian Science healing. A public reading room is open at the church every Wednesday and Saturday from 2 to 4. That "God Is the Only Cause and Creator" is clearly shown in the lesson-sermon under that title which will be read in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, June 8.

Stockbridge Presbyterian. The sermon Sunday by Dr. F. G. Behner will be "Gardens."

THE WORLD'S MOST WIDELY USED DEVOTIONAL GUIDE

Ye shall receive power, after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you. (Acts 1:8.) Read Luke 11:1-13.

We are plainly told what that new power meant to the disciples and to the world about them.

Like them, we know what we should do and what we should be. What we mostly lack is the power to live this out. Luke tells us where this power can be secured, for we learn that "If ye then, being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children; how much more shall your heavenly Father give the Holy Spirit to them that ask him." If we let His Holy Spirit instead of our wills govern all our thoughts and actions, we become new creatures filled with a new power.

This is the same power which caused the apostles, mostly very ordinary men, to turn the world upside down. The early Church prayed for and was dependent upon this power. It is the same power for which our Church needs to pray today and of which it needs always to be possessed.

PRAYER
Loving heavenly Father, in the name above every other name known to mankind, we pray that Thou wilt give each of us the gift of Thy indwelling Holy Spirit. Only so shall we be enabled to do our part to make the Christian Church of today a mighty power. In our precious Saviour's name. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
By the power of the Holy Spirit we become new creatures after God's own pattern.—J. Elliott Monfrices, Deputy Director (Tasmania)

Haslett Baptist, Rev. David E. Evans, pastor. Morning service, 10:30. Anthony Gomez, guest speaker; evening service, 8:00. Miss Betty Libby, speaking.

Haslett Plans Bible Classes

Miss Libby will be assisted by a crew of teachers. The subject for study at the school this year will be materials prepared by the Fuller Evangelistic Foundation entitled "Ten Glimpses into God's Mirror." This material is adapted especially for Vacation Bible schools. It is simple, graded, and adapted for respective age groups.

Mason Methodist, Raymond L. Norton, minister. Sunday worship, 10:00. Sermon, "Challenge to Youth," anthem by junior choir, "O God, Our Help in Ages Past;" church school, 11:15; Youth Fellowship, 6:00; primary choir, Tuesday, 4:00; official board, Tuesday, 7:45; prayer group, Wednesday, 7:00; choir rehearsal, Thursday, 7:15; junior choir, Saturday, 10:30. The Michigan Conference of the Methodist church meets at Albion June 12 to 15. The guest preacher for Sunday morning, June 15, will be the Rev. Wirth Tennant, pastor of the Scituate Methodist church. Rev. Tennant is a brother of Mrs. Raymond Norton. All church picnics Thursday afternoon, June 26.

Stockbridge Methodist, E. H. Soderberg, minister. June 5, Choir rehearsal at 8 p. m.; June 6, fourth quarterly conference at 8 p. m.; June 7, work camp at Judson Collins memorial camp; Sunday, June 8, student day, morning worship at 10:30 a. m.; sermon, "A Vital Movement." Sunday church school classes at 11:30 a. m.; MYP at 5 p. m.

Stockbridge Methodist church, Rev. Tennant is a brother of Mrs. Raymond Norton. All church picnics Thursday afternoon, June 26.

MEETING IS PLANNED
Charles Lyons, student at Grand Rapids school of the Bible and Music will hold a "Drive-in Evangelistic" service on the court house lawn Sunday, June 15, at 3:00 p. m. and 9:00 p. m. The program will consist of a sing-along and special music. Rev. John Miles, president of the Grand Rapids school will speak.

FELLOWSHIP BREAKFASTS
The Mason Methodist Youth Fellowship held a morning outdoor worship and breakfast Sunday morning at Rayner park. Twenty-seven were present. The breakfast was in charge of Mrs. Harry Shullis, who was assisted by several mothers. The worship service was planned and conducted by Janet Fiedler. Twelve of the youth participated in the program. Don Norton was cornet soloist.

Baptist Women Install Officers

The Baptist Women's Society held the first meeting of its new year in the parlors of the church Wednesday afternoon of last week.

Mrs. Susie Wood of Rives Junction, who is president of The Woman's Society of the Jackson Baptist Association, installed the officers for the coming year in a candlelight service. She was assisted at the piano by Mrs. Nellie Phelps, the president of the Woman's Society of the Rives Junction Baptist church.

The officers for the new year are: President, Mrs. Charles Seely; first vice-president, Mrs. Ellsworth Brown; second vice-president, Mrs. Olive Brown; third vice-president, Mrs. Howard Coy; secretary, Mrs. Hugh Barclay; and treasurer, Mrs. L. After the business meeting the social committee served dainty refreshments from a lace-covered tea table. Mrs. Charles Seely poured.

Vacation School Interests Pupils

Enrollment at the daily vacation church school held in Mason reached 233 Tuesday. All departments are showing an increase over last year's attendance, department heads reported. There are 34 teachers helping in the various departments.

The Mason Methodist, Nazarene, Baptist and Presbyterian churches are co-operating in the church school program which opened Monday. Classes will be continued through next week.

Two bus routes are operated to transport rural youngsters to and from the classes which are held in the Mason school. Classes start at 9 each morning and continue until 11.

PASTOR AT CONFERENCE
Rev. Paul L. Arnold, pastor of the Mason Presbyterian church, was in Chicago Wednesday attending conference for stated clerks. The Mason minister was recently chosen stated clerk of the Lansing presbytery. He has also served as chairman of the New Life movement for the Michigan synod.

BIBLE CLASS HAS DINNER
The Priscilla Bible class of the Mason Nazarene church met at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Poston Tuesday, May 17. There was a potluck luncheon, held in recognition of the birthday anniversaries of several class members. After the lunch there was a program of hymn singing and readings.

Farmer Peck's Wife

Farmer Peck's Wife gets hurt in scurrmage
Radio news piped into barn.
The potato shortage strikes.

This all began with Susy hitting her dad's cap. She wanted him to stay and play with her. Before spring work started, after breakfast, he always tossed the girls up or whiskered them or something. . . always something, but lately they hadn't seen much of him. So Susy was looking for a way to keep him in the house. She ran into the bedroom and threw his hat under the bed. He was right after her so Sally tried to stop him and did succeed in hanging onto one of his legs until she thought she tripped him but he fell headlong on purpose onto the living room rug. Then with a seditious hold on her she lay there yelling bloody murder for help. Susy came and she got caught, too. Now both of them were calling for help and I who will never learn how these things come out went to their assistance. . . it was really a spider's den.

I took hold of one of Pete's legs to lift it off Susy's head and down it came on me in a grip which I could not see. At this stage it was not hurting me so much as it was squeezing all the breath out of me. Of course we were making quite a racket and I was pleading for him to let me up when Susy, who can't bear to see her mamma getting hurt, aimed a hay maker at her dad's knee. She missed her aim and caught me squarely on the nose. I saw stars. Why is it? I don't start these things but somehow I'm always the one who comes out on the small end of such scurrmages. Pete says really I never get hurt but what he calls hurt and what I call it are two different things.

And talk about hard work! I felt like I had been hoeing for 3 hours. Pete grined when he came in for dinner and asked if I wanted to play any more. The girls said, "Just wait, mama. I think with your help that in a couple more years the 3 of us can hold daddy down like he did you."

"Oh, dear, by that time Susy will have developed a much better wallop and probably not much better aim. Anybody got a catcher's mask for sale?"
Do you turn off the radio during meals? Before the girls and I got Pete a barn radio for Christmas we had a lot of meals ruined by the necessity of getting the weather report and markets. Also I was supposed to listen to Marshall Wells and get the hog market and try as hard as I could I most always remembered just in time to hear how sheep were selling. Now blessed relief. . . no more radio at mealtime. Lately he has been coming in and telling me news and all sorts of things he has heard while milking and doing chores. Last night I went to the milkhouse for water for my hens and there he was grinning away to the accompaniment of a lively tune while cleaning stables. That's a good investment and makes a splendid gift for that farmer husband if he doesn't have one already. Father's Day is just around the corner, and although I think these days are commercialized too much. . . there's my contribution.

Editor Nelson Brown of Ingham County News says this is a good time for picnics on account of the potato shortage. He doesn't like potato salad, Pete agrees with him but the girls and I don't. Anyway we are not having many potatoes these days. It surely punns me up to pay such exorbitant prices. . . besides like the fox and the grapes, we can't find them anyway.

Pete says he probably will never hear the last of this story. Last fall when potatoes were a dollar a bushel he couldn't take time off to go get some. He doesn't think he can raise potatoes as cheap as that and would rather buy them. So all winter we've paid higher and higher prices. I wish those five rows in the garden would hurry up. I always put a few rows in the garden and this year will hoe them tenderly and treat them with respect and courtesy.

Sunday after church and Sunday school we met the Orville Bossardette family at Henderson park for a picnic. We shared our good dinner with the biggest mosquitoes I ever saw. Finally Dorothy got the car robe and we sat with our legs encased in its woolly folds to keep the mosquitoes off. We had such a nice time otherwise. We planned a picnic there last year but somehow I got my dates mixed and while they went and waited and waited we never did show up. I suppose Pete will never forget THAT story either.

Fred Cole Dies At Illinois Home

Fred T. Cole, 83, died at Waukegan, Illinois, May 30. He had lived in Waukegan since he moved there from Stockbridge in 1906. He was born in Stockbridge, December 6, 1868. For many years he operated a grocery store in Waukegan. His wife, Nettie, died in 1936.

College Professor Is Candidate For Congressional Nomination

Donald Hayworth, Michigan State college teacher, announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for congressman in the sixth district at a "kick-off" meeting of his supporters held in the YWCA in Flint Tuesday.

Hayworth's candidacy has been expected by Democratic leaders since the Ingham County Democratic convention March 31 when he was unanimously endorsed for congress by the convention.

"The greatest menace this country has faced in the memory of living man is the menace of Russia," said Hayworth. "This can be held in check only by force or the threat of force," he declared in his announcement speech. "A congressman's basic responsibility should be to evaluate every proposed bill in the light of its impact on our very critical world situation."

"While we cannot let down our guard, I am convinced that we can continue to build up our defenses and at the same time come close to balancing our national budget if we close the legal loopholes which now permit

DEMOCRATIC PICNIC
Hayworth will be the principal speaker at a Democratic rally at Russell park in Leslie at 3 p. m. on Sunday, June 8.

George Eckman of Leslie, a candidate for state representative in 1950, is chairman of the arrangements committee for the meeting.

Democrats from throughout the county are invited to attend the meeting, Eckman said.

the very wealthy to avoid taxes on certain income, and if we use systematic procedures like the McClellan bill which would give congress a sound basis for enforcing greater economy in our defense activities."

Hayworth is the owner of the Plastics Manufacturing company which grew out of a hobby, and which now fabricates store fixtures and gift items.

As a volunteer civil defense worker, Hayworth organized the Michigan Victory Speakers Bureau immediately after Pearl Harbor. He was invited to Washington, D. C., to develop similar speakers bureaus on a nationwide basis through the Office of Civil Defense. He spent the last 2 years of the war with the department of interior in setting up coal conservation programs in cooperation with state governments.

He is listed in Who's Who in America, and is the author of several books and many magazine articles.

Hayworth was raised on a farm. Returning from army service after World War I, he spent a couple of years helping his father on the farm where he was elected secretary of a Farm Bureau with over 2,000 members.

His education began in a country school. After high school and college he was given the mas-

Comedy Pair Stars in Fairy Tale Film

Fox movie patrons will be able to start the week off with a bang Thursday and Friday when a big double feature program will be shown.

The first attraction is an outdoor action picture, "Fort Osage," filmed in color. Rod Cameron is the star.

"Young Man with Ideas" rounds out the double feature bill. This comedy attraction stars Glenn Ford.

Bud Abbott and Lou Costello prove that they can be just as menacing as their foe in "Jack and the Beanstalk," their latest comedy film. Filmed in Supercolor for Warner Bros. It plays at the Fox Theatre on Sunday and Monday.

Paramount's "Appointment With Danger" will be the attraction at the Fox Theatre Saturday afternoon and night. With Alan Ladd and Phyllis Calvert co-starring, the film has been hailed by preview critics as a realistic, action-erammed drama dealing with a million-dollar postal theft.

The picture throws an exciting spotlight on the postal inspection service, the oldest and most relentless of all government investigating agencies. Based on actual episodes from secret post-office files, "Appointment With Danger" was made with the full cooperation of postal and local police officials.

Alan Ladd appears in the role of a tough and tenacious Postal Agent and the story follows his efforts to solve the murder of a fellow officer. The crime's sole witness is a nun, played by Miss Calvert and her identification of one of the killers leads Ladd to ter's degree in international affairs by the University of Chicago and later a Ph. D. by the University of Wisconsin. He was a candidate for the Democratic nomination for congressman 2 years ago.

Hayworth has travelled abroad several times, including trips to Japan, South America and Europe.

Hayworth, his wife and three daughters, live at 816 Kensington road, East Lansing.

a gang of thugs who are planning a spectacular mail robbery.

Ladd wins the confidence of the hoodlums and takes part in the daring hold up with them to get the evidence for their conviction. But a change in plans almost costs him his life, as well as that of the nun, who had been kidnapped during the getaway.

According to advance audiences, this has all been excitingly staged in a rapid and closely knit series of sequences that includes chase scenes, savage fist fights, sultry romantic interludes and the spectacular robbery of the climax. Additional authenticity was gained by on-the-spot filming in Indiana's Gary and La Porte, and in Chicago.

An exceptionally fine featured cast is headed by Paul Stewart, who scored such outstanding successes in "The Window" and "Champion," and it includes vivacious Jan Sterling and Jack Webb.

Fairy Tale Filmed
Abbott and Costello, whose screen antics have had them tackling everything from the Invisible Man to the Foreign Legion, take a page out of an age-old fairy-tale to star in their own version of "Jack and the Beanstalk." An Exclusive Production for Warner Bros., the film, first one in color for the comedy pair, plays Sunday and Monday at Fox theatre.

It all started when Costello, that's the short, fat one, was reading a bedtime story of the familiar tale to his four-year-old daughter. Fascinated by the illustrations, he thought it would make a good subject for a comedy film for him and his partner, Bud Abbott, with whom he has learned the printer's trade. The father, John C. Cannon, operated a hardware store in Mason. He later was one of the owners of the Rogers Manufacturing Co., which made buggies. He also served the city as mayor.

Surviving Mr. Cannon are the widow, Sophia, and a sister. The sister is Miss Bertha Cannon, 526 S. Chestnut, Lansing.

Funeral services were held in Los Angeles with burial in Forest Lawn cemetery there.

Thursday and Friday another double feature program has been booked at the Fox. In the first attraction Stanley Clements is starred in "Jet Job." The second attraction features Gene Autry in "Silver Canyon."

Jackson Driver Ends Up in Ditch

Charles Young, 18, Jackson, lost control of his car when a rear tire blew out Friday night. The car ended up in the 15-foot ditch on the west side of US-127 near the Plains road intersection 5 miles south of Mason.

Young and 2 companions, Marion Goodall, 15, and Flora M. Mahoney, 17, both of Jackson, were all taken to a Jackson hospital. The Mahoney girl suffered the most serious injuries. Doctors believed her shoulder was broken.

Young was ticketed for reckless driving. He was ordered to appear before Justice of the Peace John Grugel at Leslie.

The car was being driven south. When one of the rear tires skidded to the left side of the road, it just missed an oncoming car and then swung back to the right, rolled over twice and dropped into the 15-foot ditch which contained 2 feet of water. Other cars were stopped and drivers and passengers helped fish the injured out. The car was demolished.

Ingham deputies who investigated the crash said Young was road intersection. He was not driving with both back tires seriously injured. He told officers smooth and a knobby tire in that a mailbox blocked his view front.

At 2:30 last Friday morning of the road, Peter Longnack of Cleveland wrecked his car at the jog in It's better to die boasting than Meridian road at the Kinnerville to live rusting.

Orla Cannon Dies In Los Angeles

Orla M. Cannon, once a Mason youth, died in Los Angeles May 20. He had been in newspaper work for many years, starting with the Detroit Free Press and later going over to the Detroit Times, where he was in the business office. He moved to California in 1911 and was secretary, treasurer and business manager of the San Bernardino News for 3 years. In 1920 he bought the Santa Maria Daily Times and was publisher of it for 10 years.

During his period as publisher of the Santa Maria Daily Times he was vice-president of the Southern California Press association.

In 1932 Mr. Cannon moved to Los Angeles to engage in the newspaper brokerage business in the western states.

Mr. Cannon was an active member of the Wilshire Boulevard Presbyterian church in Los Angeles.

Mr. Cannon was born in Wheatfield township, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Cannon. The family later came to Mason to live on East Oak where the Baptist parsonage now is.

It was at the Ingham County News that Mr. Cannon, as a boy,

LAG IN WEATHER IS EXPLAINED

Summer Will Arrive June 21

Summer arrives at 6:13 a. m. on Saturday, June 21.

This is the big news in June for those who keep close watch of astronomical affairs. Hazel M. Losh, assistant professor of astronomy at the University of Michigan, reported.

The longest days of the year will be on the calendar around June 21, since the sun will have reached its most northerly point. From that date on, the sun will begin backtracking over the route it has been following since last December when it reached its most southerly point.

Just as in winter when colder weather comes several weeks after the winter solstice in December, the usual weather pattern brings the warmest temperatures in August, Professor Losh explains. This "lag of the seasons" occurs in the summer because the earth continues to receive more heat during the day than it loses by radiation at night. It takes until late August or early September before the earth begins to cool off.

The reverse applies during the winter. Then it takes until early March before more heat is received during the day than is lost at night.

Among the planets, Saturn and Mars continue to be the main attractions during June, she reports. June also brings the constellation of The Scorpion into view each night around sunset in the southeast sky. As this collection of bright stars appears at the time Orion, which dominates the heavens during the winter months, disappears in the west, Professor Losh recalls the old stories handed down in mythology.

"The Scorpion is supposed to have sprung out of the earth at the command of the goddess, Juno. She had become incensed at the conceit of Orion, the Mighty Hunter, who had boasted that he could conquer any creature on earth," the astronomer says. "The insignificant Scorpion stung the boastful hunter, causing his death, and now, by appearing in the sky, forever teaches the folly of vain boasting."

The Scorpion may be easily picked out, as it consists of a line of bright stars curved like a great fish-hook.

In the heart of the constellation is the bright red star, Antares. While its name means "a rival of Mars," Antares actually has a diameter 75,000 times that of the planet. Only its distance from the earth keeps it from outshining Mars.

Take a look in the southeast after sunset and you'll detect Mars with ease. Then find the big red star nearby. Give thought, too, to the fact that the light from Mars comes to you in 4 minutes, while the light from Antares has been on its way for 250 years, Professor Losh suggests.

Legislative Reapportionment

By Vernon J. Brown
 Petitions are now in circulation in an attempt to force a vote upon the question of reapportioning the legislative districts of Michigan. Here again we have the example of a matter kicked about by a dilatory legislature until finally certain of the electorate take it upon themselves to force the issue. Here again also we have an example of forcing a vote upon a question upon which few ordinary folks will be qualified to pass judgment. The issue therefore is quite likely to be settled on a point of prejudice and self-interest alone. The matter of creating districts for representation in legislative bodies has always been the subject of long and acrimonious debate. It is a question on which people with the best of judgment and the best of intentions may easily differ.

Let us take for example the matter of representation in the United States congress. There we find each state, regardless of population, having the same number of senators while the house of representatives is made up of members elected as near as may be from districts with uniform population totals.

When the constitution of Michigan was last amended for the purpose of changing our method of districting the state into legislative districts, somewhat the same policy was adopted. That is to say the senate districts were left undisturbed but mandatory provisions were written into our constitution requiring apportionment for representatives along strict population lines and at stated times. The present trouble stems from the failure of the legislature to obey the law.

Again let us turn to examples of other places where legislative districts are not created by strict application of population totals.

Take our own county of Ingham as an example. On its board of supervisors Wheatfield with a population of 761 has 1 vote on the county board. So does Lansing township have 1 vote but it has a population of 17,627. Wheatfield people have a vote on all county matters amounting to more than 23 times as great as the representative vote of those who live in Lansing township. Mason has a population of 3,514 and has 3 votes on the county board. Delhi has a population of 10,077 and has only 1 vote on county matters.

These variances are all in accord with the constitution and the statutes and the injustices, if any, are due not at all to neglect of duty by any official body.

Many states have followed the example set by the founders of the nation. They have consistently adopted methods of districting and redistricting their legislative districts with full intent to limit the amount of voting strength by districts having massed populations. New England states especially have frowned on too much power in government by cities. New York is another state where early in its history the influence of its great cities was curbed and the voting strength of rural inhabitants increased accordingly.

That is exactly what we have in Michigan now except that the legislature has consistently over the years refused to face up to its plain duty to redistrict in accord with new population figures. In the last legislature the matter became a partisan issue when organized labor took a hand and ordered the Democrats to vote against submission of the joint proposal to the people on the ground that the cities were being cheated out of their fair share of representation. Petitions now are being circulated under the initiative provisions of the constitution to force the issue to a vote. Pressure is being built up by C. I. O. and A. F. L. leaders to gain their objectives. Pressure will also come from the Grange and the Farm Bureau and other rural groups to offset the labor influence.

A few facts at this time will suffice. First, even admitting there is wide difference between some of our outlying areas and the metropolitan districts, it is generally believed that cities have not been made to suffer by reason of the discrepancies. In truth it can be said that in some instances, the city dwellers have been saved from bad laws because their own representatives were outvoted by the ruralists in the state legislature. Second, there never has been and never will be an exact formula found to give every area exact representation in any legislative body, be it city, township, county, state or national.

But more important than all else is the fact that the whole matter is so complex and involved that no mass vote can be had without prejudice and bias being the guide.

A reading of the proceedings of the constitutional convention of 1908, when the present system was adopted, indicates the involved interests in conflict. Page after page of debate, amendments, changes of wording and other proposals are found throughout the long deliberations of that body. It was not settled with exact equity then and it will not be now. If the proposals promoted by selfish interests prevail, the people will not like what follows.

Vanity Is Expensive

In newspapers and magazines Americans are now being told of the superliner United States. We should take pride, we are told, that such a ship sails the seas to carry the flag and the prestige of the United States.

Not only is the ship the greatest superliner on the seas, it carries the biggest subsidy. The taxpayers put up $70,000,000 to pay for the ship and then the ship was transferred to United States Lines (a private firm) for $28,000,000. That figures out to be a subsidy of $42,000,000 on one ship.

That $42,000,000 is a big price to pay to satisfy vanity; if it does so satisfy.

Food Prices A Little Higher

Food prices are high because Washington wants them high. Every time there is any prospect for a decline government officials move in quick.

All this debate about extending the authority of OPS is hogwash. OPS sets price ceilings. They become price floors.

Extending price controls means extending the inflationary process. It means remodeling price ceilings into price floors.

"Food prices are a little higher," OPS announced last week. They are a "little higher" because that has been the policy of the administration for 2 years. OPS regards a price fall as more of a threat than an increase.

Store and Blacksmith Shop Brought Trade to Etchells Corners in 70's

By Vernon J. Brown

Another long forgotten early community center is Etchells' Corners. I cannot recall ever having been in the Peter Etchells store which stood just east of the corner of what is now Meridian road and Dexter Trail but I do know that before I was born to the Browns most of the family trading was done there. A lot of other people also bought their supplies from the stocks of general merchandise carried by Mr. Etchells. My impression is that for its day the Etchells store was considered a good one.

Diagonally across from the store was the school house which stood there until the Ingham township unit district was formed and the present consolidated school was launched. Like I said about the Wilson school, the people who made up the Etchells district were forward looking folks who believed in good schools. They provided the money for a good building, good equipment and always the best obtainable teachers were employed. Our farm was in the Hawley district but the distance from our home to either school was about the same. One of my older brothers, half-brother, of course, was sent to Etchells because it was considered a better school. At that time Cassius M. Young, father of Mrs. Clarence Diehl and Edmund Young of Dansville, was the teacher.

Etchells Store Abandoned
 Etchells was quite a community even after I grew up enough to get around on my own. The Etchells store quit business either in the late 70's or early 80's. In the Hawley cemetery the Peter Etchells shaft of marble is one of the finest monuments there. Inscribed on that stone the date of Peter's death is recorded as 1882 but I am certain the store was closed down before that. Subsequently the family went west, I believe, to Arizona, but one by one they came back to rest in the family burial lot.

East from the school house at Etchells was a dwelling and a large 2-story building used below as a blacksmith shop and above as a dance hall. Dances were held there even as late as the early 90's. Quite a few dwellings were snuggled about the corners. In one, the parents of George Graham, former county drain commissioner, resided and in another, the family of Frank Sherwood, one of Ingham county's best threshers and the father of Ervin Sherwood, now of the Wilson neighborhood.

Blakeleys Owned Farms
 Coming from the east along the old sand road, now the slick blacktop of Dexter Trail, there were the Darwin Hewes, the Andrew Hunts, the Whittings and the Curtis's. Beginning on the Dansville road a mile or more north, was the Edmund Young family, father of Cassius, the Levi Swans and in later years the parents of Floyd Taylor, now of Mason.

To the south was the Blakeley neighborhood where three brothers lived on a string of good farms. There were James on the old homestead, Thomas and then Hugh. There were also the Thomas Barr and the Charles Woodland farms. I attended my first Sunday school at Etchells and the lovely wife of Hugh Blakeley was my teacher.

South on what is now Kelly road was the farm of William Hanna, another thresher, and the Beers home where a widow, her son George, and his two children lived. A daughter later became Mrs. David Briggs. Her sons are Searl and Gary Briggs. Searl is one of the most successful teachers in the business. He is superintendent of the Ingham Township Agricultural school at Dansville.

Then there was the Delos Wolcott farm. Delos was another old-time thresher and one of the first to procure a steam engine for power. A lot of farmers were afraid at first to have the fire belcher around their buildings but these prejudices soon faded away when no one was burned out.

Coming back to the old sand trail again, we begin with the Abram Bush family and next east we find the Lorenzo Bartlett and next the Charles Williams family and then next to the corner, the Samuel Hanna family. Here and there, in between, were renters and farm labor families whose names I cannot recall.

New Settlement Grows
 At the corners someone several years ago built a gasoline station with a little annex for a small stock of groceries and tobaccos but this did not long survive and was soon abandoned. However, a newer store has been erected just west of the corners by the Robbins family and is doing a thriving business.

Accordingly it appears that affairs move in cycles. The old Etchells store at the corners went out of business when towns like Mason grew up to create a better shopping center. A trial a few years too soon, perhaps not well managed, soon quit for lack of patronage. Now with most food-stuffs brought to the door of any country store daily, there is a return to community stores all over the country.

Where this trend may lead cannot now be accurately predicted but the fact that so large a concern as Hudson's of Detroit is ready to spend millions in building up a complete shopping district right out in the country near Detroit ought to point out something to retailers and service people everywhere. Distance is no longer so great a factor as having a place to park the family car.

Norman Weldon has the city dump all siked up. It would be no trouble at all to keep it that way, he said, if people would throw their rubbish over the bank. Another 2 years and the present dump will be filled. Now would be a good time to plant a row of trees along the east side. It should have been done long ago.

Bicycle riders on country roads need blackjacks to protect themselves against vicious dogs. At the high price of dog food I can't understand why people harbor ugly dogs. Or maybe it's the high price of food that makes the dogs ugly. They may be on such short rations that the leg of a bike rider looks appetizing.

Two good speeches were made in Mason last week. There may have been more than that. Two were all I heard. Rev. Raymond L. Norton, in a casual, entertaining manner, made the most forceful Memorial Day address I have ever heard. He put together some of the pieces of his experiences as a war-time chaplain in Europe and his travels in Egypt and Asia Minor.

The other top performance was that of Rev. C. M. Mullenburg of Lansing. He gave the commencement address at Mason. He talked neither down to the seniors nor over their heads.

The dignity of an outdoor graduation would be enhanced and better manners would be exhibited if all of us could sit there an hour or so without smoking. Or we could go behind the stands to smoke. Somehow the cigarettes, cigars and pipes don't look just right. They profane, at least cheapen, the seniors' biggest hour.

Last week the Ingham County News in an editorial about newspaper use mentioned the State Journal. The Journal used 207 carloads last year, approximately 3,200 tons. With the cost advanced $10 a ton, that means an extra $62,000 a year in newsprint cost.

Michigan has 83 counties. Until I went to the map and counted I refused to believe that 41 of the 33 counties have frontage on the Great Lakes. It's true, though. Sad it is that Ingham is among the 42 with shores unslapped by the lakes. Michigan has the longest shoreline of any state in the union, 3,100 miles. In a straight line, that's from coast to coast across the U. S.

The demand for maple syrup keeps up even through the pancake season is officially closed. Two inquiries were received this week on where to buy syrup. Syrup-makers with a supply left over may get rid of it by notifying the Ingham County News.

There is going to be a big crop of wild strawberries this year. There's a big patch on Edgar road. Margaret and I came across them Sunday when we went for a bicycle expedition. People who drive through the country at high speeds see comparatively little.

A survey of the Don Dillingham marsh Sunday brought fresh hope for another vintage huckleberry year. Apparently the berries were undamaged by the freeze May 16. Plan your vacation now for good picking in local swamps July 15 to 25.

In addition to huckleberries, this is another big year for weddings, and this is the top month.

As I watch the brides march down the aisle the quatrain written by Rose Pastor Stokes always comes back to me:

Some pray to marry the man they love,
 My prayer will somewhat vary;
 I humbly pray to Heaven above
 That I love the man I marry.

Anyone who wants sound, action and rhythm should hear and see Terry Shultis in action on his drums. When I heard him, Ethel Nichols was accompanying the drummer on the piano. She put on a show herself.

Picking Patricia Holtz for the school citizenship and leadership medal was a popular choice. So was Jim Roggvo for the Browne-Cavender post medal.

Under the law only doctors can prescribe a remedy for any bodily affliction. But I can tell what I would do if I had poison ivy. I would go to a drugstore and buy a dime's worth of potassium permanganate crystals. Then I would make a saturated solution, dabbing the liquid on the rash. After that I would put the bottle holding the solution on a top shelf or under lock and key, because it is deadly poison if taken internally. With 2 or 3 applications I would have my poison ivy whipped.

Book Talk

from Ingham County Library

Hours open to the public at the Hall Memorial Library: Daily 2-5; Mon. Wed. Sat. 7-9 a. m. Tues. and Fri. noon, Sat. 10-12 a. m.

This is a busy time in the Ingham county library. Boys and girls, who have been eagerly awaiting the opening of the summer reading club, are now happily at work getting acquainted with the many interesting books which are there for them to enjoy.

The purpose of the summer reading club at the library is to keep the children-interested in reading during the summer vacation and to bring to their attention the books which may be of worth to them. The reading club is in effect from June 2 through August 15. Any child who is interested may enroll. During this time, the club members aim to read 10 library books. Those who arrive at this goal receive the reading club certificate which is awarded in September.

A large poster, bearing names of club members and recording their progress, will be on display in the library, so that each child can visualize his progress. This record will be brought up to date every Monday. This is not a contest, but a reading project for the child, who works toward his own individual goal. As soon as a child has read and reported on 4 books he wears the reading club pin which indicates that he is progressing toward his goal.

Books in the children's room have been arranged to help the child in making his own selection of reading material. Books for first, second and easy third-grade level are arranged on one shelf, those for third and easy fourth on another, and books for fourth and easy fifth are grouped together. Other books for fifth and sixth graders are arranged in their usual position on the shelves.

There is no charge for membership in the reading club if the child returns the book to the library on time and does not mistreat it. Books are loaned for 2 weeks, with a fine of 2c per day for overdue books.

The summer reading club is in progress, not only in Mason, but also in the following branches of the Ingham county library: Aurelius, Dansville, Haslett, Holt, Leslie, Maple Grove, Miller Road, Okemos, Onondaga, Stockbridge, Webberville and Williamston.

Essay Wins District Award

Joan Hall, Mason high school student, won the top prize in the Americanism essay contest sponsored by Brown-Cavender Legion Auxiliary and then went on to win the sixth district award. Her essay has now been placed before judges in the state contest.

The essay, entitled "Know Your Michigan" follows:

In the latter part of the 1700's government surveyors announced that Michigan was not habitable. They said it was too swampy and good only for trapping. Yet today it has a population of 6,371,768. It ranks seventh among the states in population. It became a state January 26, 1837.

Michigan is rich in natural resources. One of its greatest natural resources is its glacial drift soil. It was brought by great glaciers from the north thousands of years ago. Some of her other most important resources are her forests, mineral deposits, fertile soil, numerous lakes and rivers, healthful climate, and abundant wildlife. There are many game refuges and also state fish hatcheries.

The most important industry of the state is the manufacture of transportation equipment. Automobiles, boats, buses and trucks are manufactured in Michigan. It leads all states in the development of the automobile industry. Detroit is the automobile capital of the world.

The second most important industry is that of tourists. It is estimated that tourists spend $5,000,000 in Michigan annually. They come to camp, go hunting or fishing, swimming, boating, tobogganing, skiing, skating, and to relax. Thousands come each year to visit its lakes, rivers, healthful pine forests and other scenic spots of interest. Many visit Torch lake which is said to be the second most beautiful lake in the world. Some come to see the capital which is at Lansing. Others visit the Devil's Ice Box which is a mine. It has its strange name because in the bottom of the mine there is ice the year around.

Tahquamenon Falls in the Upper Peninsula are one of the largest and most beautiful falls in the United States. They can only be reached by boat. Holland is the tulip center of America. Each year in May a tulip festival is held there. The thousands of tulips in a variety of colors, the quaint Dutch dances, and colorful costumes are a sight to behold.

Grand Rapids has the only furniture museum of its kind in the world. This city is the furniture capital of the world. Twice a year furniture festivals are held there.

At Sault Ste. Marie is the Soo Canal. In one year more tonnage passes through it than through the Panama, Suez, and Kiel canals combined. The only cave in Michigan open to tourists is Bear Cave. It is located on the banks of the St. Joseph river north of Buchanan. It was first discovered by a tribe of Potawatomi Indians. Geologists say it is 25,000 years old.

Michigan is named for the lake by that name which forms the western boundary of its lower peninsula. It is an Indian name and means great lake.

Above are listed just a few of the most interesting facts about Michigan. The numerous assets of Michigan make it a wonderful place to live. More people should heed its motto which is most fitting: "If You Seek A Beautiful Peninsula Look About You."

Kalkaska Man Heads Masons

For the fifth time in the 126-year history of Michigan's grand lodge a representative Mason from the northern part of the lower peninsula has been elected grand master of Michigan Masons.

French Callaway Shell, of Kalkaska, became the state's 102nd grand master by acclamation at the 108th annual communication at Detroit.

Representatives of Michigan's 526 chartered lodges and 165,000 Master Masons watched his installation as the closing feature in the 3-day program. He succeeds Grand Master Guy Clarke Powell of Detroit.

Kalkaska, the roaring lumber town of the 19th century and now quiet home of the National Trout festival, will thus serve for the first time as Michigan Masonry's headquarters.

The new grand master entered the grand lodge line in 1947 with his election as grand marshal in recognition of an active Masonic career which began with his raising at Kalkaska lodge, No. 332, May 29, 1933.

After serving in the key positions in his mother lodge, he was installed as worshipful master for the year 1937. Only recently did Grand Master Shell affiliate with the Scottish Rite bodies at Grand Rapids, taking his work in the fall 1949 class.

A native of Monroe county, Tennessee, where he was born September 21, 1890, Shell is a veteran of World War I with more than 16 months overseas.

For many years he was associated with the F. W. Woolworth Co. and prior to his retirement in 1926 to Kalkaska due to poor health he was employed as an accountant at Chicago.

Grand Master Shell attended Northwestern University at Evanston, Illinois, Chicago's Lewis Institute and the Walton School of Commerce, also at Chicago.

Leslie News

Dennis Underwood Is President of Alumni Assoc.

Dennis Underwood was elected president of the Alumni association of the Leslie high school at their second annual meeting at the school on Saturday night.

The other officers are: Vice-president, Robert Burnette; secretary, Mrs. Millard Taylor and treasurer, Paul Jupp. It was decided to meet biannually on the even years and to reduce the dues to 50¢ a year. The 500 alumni and friends were led in singing by Kenneth Vince accompanied by Ronnie Allen, Janet Gearing and the "Lord's Prayer," and reminiscences were given by graduates including Dr. Rex Wilcox of Alma, Roscoe Miner of Lake Odessa, Joe Shaw of Leslie and now a senior at Western State, Grace Fischer Wulf of Detroit, Mrs. Mary Rossman Byrum of the class of 1897 and the oldest graduate present.

Warren Byrum told of the scholarship fund which has been used by Leslie graduates since 1915. There is now $5,200 in the fund, which was started in 1915, he said. Loans have been made to help 65 Leslie graduates through college, Byrum stated. He announced that the fund may get between $20,000 and $25,000 under the will of a Leslie resident. The name of the resident was not disclosed.

Byrum praised Ed Blackmore for his long service on the board of trustees of the scholarship fund. Byrum has also been a member since 1915. Blackmore subsequently disclosed.

John Mitchell and Paul McMath, members of the 1902 class, spoke briefly upon the occasion of the 50th anniversary of the class.

Mrs. Madeline Young Boyd of New York City was awarded a gift for having come the farthest to attend the reunion. Mrs. Cora Isham Peck came from Washington, D. C. The farthest back graduate present at the reunion was Mrs. Clara Doty Pickett of the class of 1885. She was given an ovation.

Jack Underwood was toastmaster and Rev. Maurice Harlow gave the benediction.

The Leslie Band Mothers served the dinner under the direction of Mrs. Grant Rex, Mrs. Josephine Cady, Mrs. Ralph Kelley and Mrs. Paul Lantz.

Scout Troop Increases

Thirty-seven boys are now registered with Leslie troop 69. Twenty-six scouts and 5 candidates attended a recent meeting showing the growth and popularity of the troop and its present leadership. Scoutmaster Glenn Hurford and assistants Earl Miller and Howard Rosler.

A new patrol was started at the last meeting. The main project now is summer camping for which the boys have been raising money by scrap drives. Camporee is set for June 68 with a court of review on June 8, to which parents are invited to witness the patrol competitions. Leslie boys will go to Camp Kirolex during July 20-27 with their adult leaders. Camping and hiking equipment is now being sought for these events.

The Amis Community club met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Robert Pifer with Mrs. Milford Ridley as co-hostess. A business session, group games, and group singing followed by refreshments completed the program.

Revival Services Planned

Rev. Burton Artz of Flint, conference youth director of the Free Methodist church will conduct revival services and Vacation Bible school June 8-15. The services will be held each night at 7:30 and the school each morning at 9. Rev. Artz will be assisted by his wife and by Mrs. S. C. Hendley, each taking charge of a department of the school. Mrs. Hendley and other teachers will assist in the summer Bible school sponsored by the 4 Leslie churches and meeting at the Baptist church from June 2-6. The closing program will be the evening of June 6.

Rites Held for William Cowles

William H. Cowles, 70, died at his home, 311 W. Bellevue, Monday morning, Mr. Cowles was born in Fulton township, Gratiot county, and lived there during his youth. He operated a meat market for 10 years in Pompiet, then 10 years in Ovid and 20 years in Leslie. He was a member of the Leslie Congregational church and had been a trustee for 15 years. He also served on the village council for 15 years.

Mr. Cowles is survived by the widow, Iva Cowles; 3 sisters, Mrs. Erva Laycock of Clio, Mrs. Richard Houlden of Ithaca and Mrs. Harold Grubaugh of Ashley; daughter-in-law, Mrs. B. D. Walker of Leslie; and three grandchildren, Jack Baylis with the U. S. army in Tokyo, Japan, Robert Baylis and Susan Walker of Leslie. A foster son, D. L. Baylis died in 1940.

Funeral services were held Wednesday from the Jupp funeral home in Leslie with Rev. S. B. Wenger officiating. Burial was in Woodlawn cemetery, Leslie.

A/3c Richard Lohman is now stationed at Rantoul, Illinois for special instruction in the Chanute air force base. He recently graduated from the mechanical school at Shepherd air force base in Texas and spent a week at home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Lohman.

Sgt. Billy Lee of Camp Atterbury, Indiana, and his mother, Mrs. George Lee of North Leslie, spent a week in Chattanooga, Tenn., visiting relatives.

A/2c Wesley Abbey of Shepherd air force base, Wichita Falls, Texas, is home on 20-day leave, visiting parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Abbey.

Karl Seifert, AN, of the navy has moved from Jacksonville, Fla., to Coconino, Panama.

A/3c Orvis Howe of Coconado air force base spent a few days last week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Howe.

The Sunny Sanders will meet Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Robert Palmer to study basket weaving. Mrs. William Sanford was co-hostess and Mrs. Charles Deeg and Mrs. Velmore Dayton acted as leaders. The woman's county camp to be held in Mason in June was discussed.

A hurricane, the worst in Ingham history, cut a wide swath through the county May 29. Upward of 90 barns were blown down or moved off foundations. Contents were blown away like chaff. The storm struck north of Mason and bounded along east. The Vantown area was the hardest hit. Many woods were ruined, with the giant trees twisted into piles.

Extra sugar is being rationed for home canning. The city council has decided that Mason will have to get along without a scout car until after the war.

The Ingham County News used its new web press for the first time this week. The first edition was filled with news and pictures of the big storm.

20 Years Ago—1932

The first Mason man ever to be graduated from West Point Military Academy, William Alden Call, is among the 262 who will receive their diplomas and their commissions in the United States Army on June 10. Alden graduated from Mason high school with the class of 1924. After three years at Michigan State college he won appointment to U. S. Military Academy by virtue of outstanding service with Michigan National Guard and with R.O.T.C. at the college.

Ingham county has been allowed $10,000 as reimbursement for moneys expended on the grand jury and the subsequent trials of the state officials indicted.

Nine plans have been submitted to the building committee of the county board of supervisors, each from a different architect, each different in size and arrangement of proposed building all proposing to provide complete specifications and details if given the contract for designing the new court house. Preference appears to be for the plan submitted by E. A. Bowd of Lansing.

At a meeting of interested parties held at the court house last evening, the matter of forming a company for the manufacture of Neuro Vita, a breakfast food declared to be food for the nerves, was discussed. A committee composed of H. M. Williams, L. C. Webb and A. L. Rose was appointed to further investigate the matter.

Country & Town

By JIM BROWN

Geese are sure queer ducks. Turn them loose in a strawberry patch and they'll eat everything except the strawberry plants and berries. It's a neat trick used by only a few growers so far, but a trick that ought to catch on fast. The goose-system saves a lot of hoeing and weeding.

Mrs. L. C. Otis who lives east of Mason on Dansville road turned a flock into her patch this spring. The geese made quick work of the weeds. When I saw the geese last week they just strutted around the patch during a weed to rise above the soil. I couldn't find one weed in the whole patch. Honest, Mrs. Otis was pulling weeds outside the pen and tossing them in to keep the geese happy.

"Many people ask if the goose-system of weed control really works," Mrs. Otis told me. "I'd like to let everyone who grows strawberries in on the secret. It certainly does work. We've proved it in our patch."

Actually, I haven't told all the truth. There is one weed that the geese just gag on. Eaten by mistake, the geese take on the look of a person biting into a piece of egg plant. Up until press time, I wasn't able to learn the official name of the weed. It has a flat leaf and never gets very big. Geese also shy away from thistles, but who wouldn't?

Duplicate, the wonder-hen whose cackle is being heard around the world, just laid her 371st egg. Duplicate nests in North Mundham, England. There's nothing so unusual about laying 371 eggs—for a hen anyway—but Duplicate has done all this in only 155 days. That's a world's record in any cage!

County extension workers are hoping to bring the hen to the Ingham county fair in August. Local bidders take note.

Howard Fay is another man who refuses federal soil conservation handouts.

One of the best crops so far this year is mosquitoes. I set a record, for me at least, over the holiday by taking in 3 picnics in 2 days. The combination of lots of rain and hot weather have produced mosquitoes which measure sometimes an inch between the horns.

One slap at the right pest will bring a jigger of someone's blood. I have cancelled all picnics until later in the summer.

I like ants, potato salad, sand, smoke and the rest that goes with eating in the great outdoors. But mosquitoes rank with lions and tigers and Jersey bulls as far as I'm concerned.

Oesterle Holstein Sets High Mark

With 730 pounds of butterfat and 19,490 pounds of milk to her credit, Ormsby Clothilde Susanne, registered Holstein owned by Hugh Oesterle & Son, Webberville, has completed a 365-day production test in official herd improvement registry. She was 7 years, 5 months, when she began her testing period. Her record averages approximately 25 quarts of milk daily for the period covered by her test.

Coe Emens of Mason has a Holstein which finished a 344-day test with a mark of 651 lbs of butterfat and 15,952 lbs of milk testing 4.1%. She is Lyman Modest tobacco hope, and was 4 years, 9 months, of age when the testing period started.

Dana Colantha Ormsby Butter, owned by Dana Farms, Howell, set a mark of 573 lbs of butterfat and 14,895 lbs of 3.9% milk in a 365-day production test. She was 2 years and 10 months of age when she began her testing period.

A Laingsburg cow, Agnes Ormsby Forbes Girl, owned by Ormsby E. Schlicher, was credited with 522 lbs of butterfat and 13,099 lbs of 4.0% milk in a 365-day period. She was 2 years, 5 months when the testing period was started.

Several registered Holstein cows in the herd of Mrs. Bernice Eifert & Sons, Mason, have completed official production tests.

Highest producer among these was Pleasant Valley Pauline, with 197 lbs of butterfat and 13,401 lbs of milk, produced in 313 days at the age of 3 years, 11 months.

Another high producer was Pleasant Valley Korndyke Echo with 489 lbs of butterfat and 12,772 lbs of milk testing 3.8%, produced in 308 days at the age of 1 years, 7 months.

Herds Complete Production Tests

Three Ingham Holstein herds have recently completed test years with high averages.

The 18-cow herd owned by Hugh Oesterle & Son, Webberville, averaged 572 lbs of butterfat and 14,756 lbs of 3.9% milk. The production averaged 22 quarts daily for each cow in the herd for the year.

Extra Care Pays In Care of Milk In Hot Weather

Producing high quality milk and cream is a year-round program for every dairyman, advised D. L. Murray, extension dairyman at Michigan State college.

Warm summer months coming up can mean trouble if there is any weakness in production practices, Murray cautioned. A check of several potential "danger spots" will help to insure high quality milk and cream.

Clean equipment is the first thing to check. Make sure that surfaces are bright and shiny, rather than clouded by milk stone. If milk stone is present, purchase some acid milk stone remover and use according to directions. Soaking utensils in a solution of one part vinegar to four parts water will soften the deposit so that utensils can be washed clean.

As another trouble spot, Murray cited the rubber linings of the milking machine. He suggested that dairymen make sure they are in good condition and clean. Keep fat removed from the rubber by boiling in a lye solution.

When all equipment is clean for handling milk or cream, make sure that lids fit tightly on the cans containing the milk or cream to protect from sediment.

Milk and cream should be cooled promptly to below 60 degrees Fahrenheit and maintained at this temperature until delivered to the dairy plant.

It is easy, Murray said, to do a good job of producing high quality milk and cream, once facilities are available and a routine adopted that will give good results.

STRAWBERRY PROSPECTS

The 1952 strawberry crop in Michigan is expected to be a bumper one. Take advantage of the excellent freezing quantities of strawberries by preserving an ample supply in your home freezer. Be sure to select firm, vine-ripened, flavorful berries for freezing.

Woodlots Not Meant For Cattle Pasture

Resist that temptation to pasture the farm woodlot, say Michigan State college foresters. Woodlots not only make poor pasture, but become worthless for any serious wood production if grazed much.

Keith Hudson, Michigan State college forester, says that farmers with good land in forest, who are desperately in need of additional pasture, would be better off to cut the area clear except for a few shade trees and convert to improved pasture.

But the farmer who has his woodlot on a poor or sloping area, would be far better off to improve existing pastures and to keep livestock out. The woodlot will then have a chance to grow and produce satisfactorily.

You can't buy good will—you have to cultivate it.

HERE IS THE HAY BALER THAT ADJUSTS ITSELF TO ALL FIELD AND CROP CONDITIONS

It's the progressive farmer who preserves the food value of his hay, saves valuable storage space, makes hay easier to handle, saves time and manpower by harvesting his hay the modern way with the MM Bale-O-Matic.

The Bale-O-Matic effortlessly lifts hay from the windrow or swath, slices it into uniform layers, and ties it with two strands of steel wire while the bale is still under compression.

The Bale-O-Matic has a pick-up mechanism which operates equally well in green or cured hay or straw, handles light, uneven, or extra heavy windrows and swaths. The new Uni-Matic Power raises and lowers pick-up mechanism "on-the-go" over ridges and ditches.

The Bale-O-Matic can be used as stationary baler just as it is. The sturdy, quality MM construction assures you of trouble-free service and minimum maintenance.

For complete information, come in today. Let us give you the profit facts on the MM BALE-O-MATIC.

ROLLED BALE bedding

This year, put your straw into the bales that can't buckle or fall apart, yet will roll out like a carpet when you use them next winter. Allis-Chalmers Rolled Bales give you straw bedding at its best. They hold the fine chaff, resist showers in the field, and give your livestock a smooth straw mat when you roll them out. Your straw goes further, stays dry longer.

Now is the time to plan to bale your straw with a ROTOBALER, the only machine that makes hay-saving, straw-saving ROLLED Bales.

ROTO-BALER is an Allis-Chalmers trademark.

Poultry Profits Are Disappearing

Profit margins in the poultry industry appear to be at a low ebb and the outlook from now until fall offers little hope for much improvement. Poultry specialists at Michigan State college say that the poultrymen who keep production up and expenses down will be in the best position to come out in the black even with narrowing margins of profit.

Poor ventilation, crowding and insufficient water are common causes of hot weather loss of production.

Suggestions given by J. P. Lockzema, county agricultural agent, are:

Keep birds in a cool well-ventilated house. If possible, the ventilation should be on a level with the birds. If the roof on the poultry house is tin, cover it with grass or hay. Either is very good insulation and will help lower the temperatures in the building several degrees.

Ample floor space is needed for rapid growth your poultry. Allow plenty of clean range for the birds and provide extra shade to protect from the sun. Also cheapest part of the daily ration. Birds that will lay best late this summer and fall are those raised under favorable conditions now.

Flynn Wants Blackney's Post

Carl Flynn, Mt. Morris farmer, is seeking the Republican nomination to congress from the sixth congressional district, comprising Genesee, Ingham and Livingston counties.

Carl Flynn

Flynn in his announcement said, "Most of our modern-day trouble is due to the fact that while good people have been taking care of themselves, the evil people have made it their business to take care of everyone else. Therefore, corrupt government is due more to the weakness of good people than to the strength of evil ones. Each individual must exercise a sense of personal responsibility to strengthen his government."

Making of Hay The Silage Way Is Recommended

Making grass silage is becoming increasingly popular in Michigan because it is not so dependent on good haymaking weather, according to J. P. Hoekzema, county agricultural agent.

Hoekzema passed along some pointers on grass silage suggested by D. L. Clananhan, of the Michigan State college farm crops department. An important point is that grass silage saves quality of the forage and makes earlier cutting a safe procedure. It also increases use of the silo. One crop may be put in early to provide extra feed when pastures are poor in late summer and the silo refilled with grass or corn silage for winter use.

Any of the regular legumes or legume-grass mixtures may be used—also such special crops as green oats, reed canary grass or sweet clover. Yields will vary with the crop, season and soil conditions. Figure 3 tons of grass silage from a crop, that would make a ton of dry hay or 9 tons where a 3-ton crop of hay can be made. Moisture is the keynote to making successful grass silage. The crop should be 65 to 70% moisture for the bulk of the silo, with some wetter material on top. A good, tight silo, either vertical or horizontal, may be used.

For early, cut first-year alfalfa or ladino clover, some wilting in the windrow may be necessary. For other crops or later cutting, little or no wilting is necessary.

Adding molasses or other preservative will benefit the keeping quality only when the material is too wet. Filling with some wetter material on the surface and careful tramping for a week or so after filling will reduce surface losses.

The job may be made easier by cutting only a few rounds ahead of the chopper at first until the filling operation is running smooth. A windrow attachment on the mower saves time and reduces chopper damage from stones. Self-loading wagons save time and labor.

Predict Third Biggest Wheat Crop

RACINE, WIS.—The third largest wheat crop in history is indicated in a report released by the department of agriculture in Washington. It also says prospects are good for a record harvest of food and fiber crops as a whole.

A major factor in this year's almost record harvest will be clipper combines, like the one shown above, in six or seven-foot machines power-take-off or bagger. These machines will harvest over 110 different crops and are manufactured by the Massey-Harris company at their Batavia, N. Y., plant.

MICHIGAN OUTDOORS

FASTEST GROWING SPORT

Bow hunting—the sport of taking game, and fish, with bow and arrow, is growing by leaps and bounds in Michigan. Local archery clubs are springing up everywhere. Sportsmen's clubs are building field archery courses to sharpen the eye of would-be hunters.

Liberalized hunting regulations for Michigan Robin Hoods have spurred the sport to unprecedented heights. This fall may see as many as 25,000 archers licensed to shoot deer! Thousands more engage in target tournaments all summer.

Bow Fishing Now Popular
This year for the first time carp and garfish may be taken with a bow and arrow, and manufacturers are having a hard time keeping up with the demand for special equipment needed for the pursuit of this sport.

Bowfishing requires a reel mounted on the bow, with the line attached to the head of the arrow. The most widely used type of arrow has a special expanding barb and detachable head. When the arrow strikes the fish the shaft floats free, and the archer proceeds to land his prize either hand over hand, or by playing the fish from the special reel.
Carp Now Plentiful
All along the marshy shores of the Great Lakes and tributary waters carp are now rolling and thrashing in shallow areas. In as fast as eggs stored at temperatures of 60 degrees or less. USDA strongly recommends that poultrymen use plenty of litter to help keep eggs clean, get the eggs to market the day they are laid if possible, and keep the eggs as cool as possible.

Back in 1909-14 hogs brought 34% more per 100 lbs than cattle. From 1935-39 hog prices were 28 per cent greater per cwt. than cattle. In 1942-47 the average was narrowed down to 2%. But for the last 5 years hogs have averaged 25% lower than cattle prices.

The corn-hog ratio has shown a substantial improvement in the past couple of weeks. For the week ending May 24, the Chicago ratio was 11.2 compared with 10.6 the previous week and 11.3 a year ago.

Corn prospects look good. Grain experts say there is a possibility for an unusually big crop this year. Publicity on feed grain shortage and continued high level of livestock production have encouraged farmers in corn belt to figure on a few extra acres. Planting has gone along pretty well this spring. Here in Michigan about half of this year's acreage was planted by May 27. Several counties reported over 75% of the intended acreage was in the ground.

Strawberry harvest has started in southern Indiana. Sizeable shipments will be made this week, weather permitting. Crop outlook for Michigan was good the latter part of May. Michigan acreage is up about 5% this year over 1951.

Three of the principal sources of ill will on the part of urban dwellers against farmers are high food prices, government price supports of agricultural commodities, and the fact that farmers in general are opposed to price controls on farm products. This is the opinion of Dean Myers of Cornell College of Agriculture. He feels that farmers' side of the story hasn't been adequately told.

Miscellany. From last July through April, the U. S. exported a total of about 571 million bushels of grain. A little over 400 million bushels was wheat or flour or other wheat products. These wheat exports were about 275 million bushels greater than the same period a year ago.

The Fruit and Vegetable Market News office at Benton Harbor opens this week. In the remaining months of 1952, production of beef will exceed a year earlier, lamb and mutton will show a small gain, pork output is expected to show a drop below a year ago.

Total meat production for the rest of the year is expected to remain above last year. The 1952 peach crop in the ten southern states will be somewhat larger than the average-sized crop last year. That was the outlook on April 1. Mid-spring strawberry crop and late spring crop are expected to be a little greater than in 1951.

Two cavalry rookies were each given a horse, and they wondered how to tell them apart. Joe cut the mane off of his horse, but in time it grew out again. Then Tom cut the tail off his horse, but it also grew back.

Finally Joe said, "Why don't we measure them?"
So they did, and sure enough, the black horse was three inches taller than the white horse!

Haying Time Calls For Safety Check

Haying operations mark the beginning of a season when farm accidents run high, cautioned Michigan State college farm safety specialists. To assure safety and avoid lost time, check haying equipment carefully.

Pay special attention to loft floors and make sure hay chutes are guarded to avoid falls. Special care should be taken in making starts and stops while loading, especially on rough ground. Never dismount from tractors or mowers while they are in operation.

Remember that damp hay is one of the main causes of barn fires, say farm safety authorities. Make sure hay is well cured before it is stored in hay mows. Freshly stored hay should be checked regularly for several weeks to see that there is no sign of heating.

Overhead Costs Must Be Figured On Farm Tools

"Overhead costs of owning a lot of high-priced farm machinery can cut up the profits of a harvest season," R. L. Maddex, Michigan State college agricultural engineer, reminds farmers of the state.

"On the other hand, failure to plant or harvest a crop at the right time because of a lack of the right machinery can greatly reduce the cash farm income," he pointed out. That makes ownership of farm machinery largely a problem of individual management—there needs to be some balance between expenditures for machinery and cash income.

Maddex said there are several factors to take into consideration in deciding how much machinery to buy. They are volume of business, labor available, availability of custom equipment, physical handicaps and pride in ownership.

The Michigan State college agricultural engineer explained that volume of business and pride in ownership often go together. Purchase of a new 3-plow tractor may be necessary to increase the tillable acres on the farm, even though the purchase might not be justified from the standpoint of present income.

Costs per hour for using farm equipment decreases as the number of hours of use increase. Farm tractors should be used in the neighborhood of 500 hours per year to reduce the hourly overhead cost to an economic level, Maddex believes. Other farm equipment should be used in the neighborhood of 100 hours per year.
Here's a handy rule of thumb to figure cost of owning machinery. In terms of dollars a new machine will cost the owner approximately 15% of the purchase price each year for 10 years running. For example, a $1,000 machine would cost the owner about $150 a year to own.

THIS FARMING BUSINESS

BY CARL COLLIN

Hormone pellets are now being given to hen turkeys to make them gain better and grade better when sold. These hormone pellets have been used successfully in fattening chickens and lambs. However, they don't work well enough on turkey toms to make their use practical. Scientists recommend a couple of 15-milligram pellets implanted in the back of the turkey hen's head 3 or 4 weeks before slaughter.

New standards for peaches go into effect June 15. Main change requires U. S. No. 1 to have half the peaches carrying at least 25% blush.

County PMA committee members (or at least one of their number) will be taught the techniques of sampling honey. One county PMA member will have to know various types of honey in order to classify honey for CCC loans. If beekeepers want to put honey under price support this year they go to their county PMA office for help. The committee has to know about the 3 different kinds in order to establish the rate the beekeeper can get for his honey.

White table honeys regardless of the flowers from which the honey is made, are eligible for loans at 12 1/2% a lb. Amber honeys are supported at 13 1/2%. Some of the less popular types, like Spanish needle, buckwheat and smartweed honey, are supported at 10 1/2% lb. Price support program is available only for extracted honey packed in 5-gallon cans or in drums.

Warm weather complicates the egg business. It's rough on the quality. Recently a study was made by the USDA on what happened to egg quality in warm weather. Scientists found that almost all eggs graded A in quality as they came from the hen. But by the time the eggs got to the country buying station (the first step on the road to market) more than a third of them had dropped below Grade A.

Ten per cent of the eggs were either cracked or dirty. And over 20% were graded down in quality because of things that had happened inside the shell.

Investigators found that the length of time the eggs were held on the farm had a lot to do with that drop in quality. Eggs held on the farm for 3 days dropped in quality about twice as much as eggs that went to market the day they were laid. Eggs stored at temperatures of 80 degrees and above lost quality twice

Band Parents Dinner Is Held

The annual Band Parents dinner was held Thursday. Following the dinner, Harvey Brien presented the senior band members, who received awards. The following students received their first band award: Russell Aseltine, Barbara Estes, George Gibbs, Marlan Hintz, Neil Johnson, James Lightfoot, Dora McKane, Anne Moore, Richard Schneider, Nila Smith and Grace Vogt.

Only 1 student, Ann Greenwood, qualified for a second award in hand this year.

Senior awards were presented to Paul Straugh, Jeannette White and James Reese. Paul Straugh, band president, then presented Mr. Brien with a gift on behalf of the senior band.

The Band Parents club voted to pay $200.00 on the bass clarinet which was recently purchased for the band. The high school music program at Michigan State college was discussed and the Band Parents voted to pay 1/2 the cost of sending 6 students this summer.

The annual election was held with the following results: Margaret Gubry president; Mildred Greenwood, secretary; and Madeline Milliken, treasurer. Superintendent Booksa later read the group a letter received from Dwight Rich, superintendent of schools in Lansing.

Memorial Day Parade Held

The city of Williamston observed Memorial Day with fitting ceremonies Friday. A parade started its line of march at the high school, with William Maher as marshal, and George Bachman as officer of the day.

The order of march was the colors, firing squad, band, carrying Gold Star Mothers, V. F. W., American Legion, Woman's Relief Corps, W. R. C. Auxiliary, Blue Star Mothers, fire department, Civil Air Patrol, Girl Scouts, Brownie Scouts, Cub Scouts, Explorer Scouts and Boy Scouts.

The parade marched through the town to the city hall where the Woman's Relief Corps held services for the heroic dead.

Rev. Horace James of the Methodist church gave the invocation and the speaker of the day was Theodore Thompson, past grand master of Michigan I. O. O. F. and editor of the Williamston Enterprise. The band played a selection and Blue Star Mothers held a service opposite the monument at the honor roll of World War II.

After these services the parade reformed and marched to the North Putman street bridge where the band played and all organizations combined for a service.

Services were also held at the Summit cemetery. This was the largest parade in many years. The firemen marched for the first time in full uniform.

Eastern Stars Plan Activities for June

The Williamston Chapter of the Eastern Star will have a busy month which began with the annual "Villa Day," at the children's villa at Adrian Sunday. This was in the nature of a family picnic, and all had an opportunity to inspect the villa.

On Sunday, June 8, the Ingham County O. E. S. picnic will be held at Rayner park, Mason, starting at 5 p. m. This affair is for all members of the order and their families. On Tuesday, June 10, the last regular meeting of the chapter for the summer will be held. There will be initiation at this meeting.

Mrs. Maxwell Injured in Fall
Mrs. James Maxwell, Sr., who is nearing the 90-year-old mark, fell in her home last Wednesday and broke her leg just below the hip. She was removed to Sparrow hospital, Lansing, by ambulance for treatment.

Mrs. Kate Gorsline entertained as guests for dinner Sunday Mrs. Bess Abbott, Mrs. Bess Barrack, Mrs. Tillie Pratt, Mrs. Mary Rowley and Mrs. Julia Chamberlain.

Pvt. Fred Hugenot has completed his basic training at Indian town Gap, Penn., and is spending his furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hugenot. Leslie Simpson of Jackson called on Mrs. Nina Ketchum Thursday afternoon.

Death Claims Gordon O'Dell

Gordon O'Dell, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Fish, died in Korea of pneumonia. Gordon was the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Austin O'Dell, former residents of Williamston, who are now making their home in California. Besides the parents he is survived by the widow, a brother and grandparents. Gordon attended the Williamston school.

Summer Playground Opens on Wednesday

The summer playground at the high school opened Wednesday, June 4, with J. T. Kohloff and Mrs. B. L. O'Hara as playground directors. Tuesday evening at 7 those interested in tennis are to meet with the playground directors to work out a program of practice.

Softball will be one of the evening events for adults. The school children will begin their activities at noon each day and a program has been set up for their entertainment.

For part of the evening program, 8 teams are being established. The team managers are Colin Hayward, Lester May, George Johnson, Charles Ross, Frank Engardio, and Lyle Kitehen. The first games will be played June 10.

Jeff Monroe and Curran Wilton are each managing a girls team. Any interested in playing may contact the managers or directors. The 8 managers are meeting this week for player exchange and to prepare a schedule.

Seniors Earn Scholarships

Two more Williamston high school seniors have received scholarships. Arla Hart and Ruth Combs have been granted state board of education scholarships at Michigan State Normal college, Ypsilanti.

Study Club Has Mothers Spree

The Junior Child Study club closed the year with its annual mothers' spree. Members went to the Pagoda in Lansing for dinner. Following the dinner members returned to Williamston to the home of Mrs. Fred Cole for an evening of cards and visiting.

Dolores Cnetz, Lucille Siegel and Jerry Wood are new members. The president-elect, Maxine Blosssey, presented the retiring president, June Rutan, with a gift from the club in appreciation of her work during the year. Mrs. Rutan responded with words of thanks.

The first fall meeting of the club will be held with Mrs. Betty Traver.

Mr. and Mrs. Montie King of Lansing spent the Memorial holiday with his sister, Mrs. Bess Abbott.

A. V. Forsyth and daughter, Mrs. Ellen VanNus of Grand Rapids were guests at dinner Sunday of Mrs. Nina Ketchum. The Forsyths were enroute home after spending the winter at their Florida home in Dania, and spring months touring the West.

Coming Warren accompanied by friends spent the week end fishing across the straits.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Miller and daughter, Alice Marie, and mother, Mrs. Lela Miller left Wednesday on a motor trip to the East. They will also visit Roanoke, Virginia, and attend several Holstein Friesian association meetings.

Curran Wilton spent the week end fishing in the north. Marvin Brown and his mother, Mrs. Eva Bullard, and sister, Mrs. Conning Warren and daughter, Marcia, spent the week end at the former's lodge at Horsehead lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Minor Barnum and family of Lansing were guests at dinner of Mr. and Mrs. William Ketchum Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Carrie Hunt, who has been visiting her son, Lewis Hunt, and family in California will remain there longer than her expected stay due to the sickness of Mr. Hunt's wife.

Mr. and Mrs. William Cook of Flint spent the week end at their farm home in White Oak township, and were dinner guests of the William Ketchums Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. William Ketchum visited the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Barnum in Lansing, Sunday evening.

Investiture Is Held Thursday

Nineteen Brownies received their wings at a tenderfoot investiture ceremony at the Methodist church Thursday evening. The impressive candlelight ceremony marked the completion of the Brownie program for these girls who now graduate into Girl Scouts.

This group of girls, who have been through 3 years as Brownies together, will become a troop of Girl Scouts this coming fall, and will meet Thursday afternoons after school, at the grade school building.

Mrs. Dorothy Smith, who has been assistant leader of the Brownies will be the leader of the Scout troop, with Ruth Jones as assistant. Mrs. Madeline Crips has been leader of this group of Brownies for the past 3 years. Mrs. Vivian Crips has been leader of the other group of Brownies.

The girls who received their wings were Janette Bartlett, Barbara Cole, Katherine Murray, Sandra Casey, Jerilyn Thompson, Kristin McDermott, Mary Ann Turan, Charlotte Hugenot, Linda Logel, Marie Ann Smith, Charlotte Castol, Susie Adams, Diane Jones, Carolyn Momma, Phyllis Bowker, Theresa Demhenskin, Marcella Clarke, Edna Ogden and Brenda Clarke.

Girls who received their pins and pendants were: Barbara Collins, Connie Crips, Shirley Crips, Diane Trayer, Betty Chapman and Anette Kramer.

Ten was served to the mothers who attended the ceremony, with Vivian Crips and Dorothy Smith pouring. The girls attended a movie at the Sun theatre Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sloeum spent Monday in Flushing.

Jackson Completes R. O. T. C.

Larry A. Jackson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Graham B. Jackson, has completed 4 years of military training in the R. O. T. C. at Michigan State college. On Tuesday, May 27, he was awarded a commission as second lieutenant in the Ordnance Corps at ceremonies held on Old College Field. Larry is a graduate of the Williamston high school with the class of 1948, and while at Michigan State majored in geology.

Group Meets to Organize Work

A meeting was held Friday at the Williamston Methodist church to summarize work done this year with the Girl Scouts and Brownie troops, and to organize for the fall work.

This year an advisory board was formed for the troops. This board handles the finances and acts as its name implies in an advisory position to the leaders and committees. Its members consist of members from both Child Study groups, who sponsor the Girl Scouts. Each leader has a committee of 4 mothers to help her carry through her plans.

The activities of the Scouts this year included camping trips, cookie sales, and swimming lessons plus working on various badges. The Brownies are mainly a special group, but have learned to make cook books and other things along that line.

In the coming year there will be 3 Girl Scout troops in Williamston, and as many Brownie troops as can be supplied with mothers to accept the responsibility of a group.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Putman and mother, Mrs. Ida Putman spent the week end at their cottage at Bills lake.

Flower Show Is Friday-Saturday

The Red Cedar Garden club is holding its annual flower show and art exhibit this Friday and Saturday, June 6-7. The show opens at 1 o'clock on Friday afternoon and runs through Saturday until 9 o'clock when articles are to be removed. A tea will be served both afternoons by the hospitality committees from 2 until 4 o'clock.

A group of special table settings will be on display, featuring special arrangements for the different seasons.

The theme this year is "Arts and Flowers." Several artists of the community will have paintings on display. There is no charge for the show.

Mr. and Mrs. Ford VanDervort of Detroit spent the Memorial week end at the Steadman home. Glen Speers and sister, Mrs. Alta Speers of Lansing, called on Mrs. Nina Ketchum Friday morning.

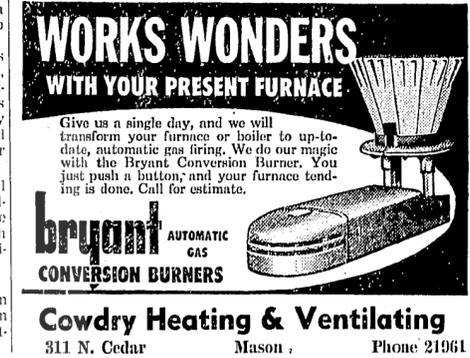

Africa Extension Group Meets

The Africa extension group met with Mrs. Nella Lockwood for the May meeting with 11 members and 1 guest present. After a bohemian dinner the summer plans of the group were discussed. They also voted upon the projects they would like to take up during the coming year. This week the group met to make baskets. Thursday, June 19, they will meet with Mrs. Bess Barrack for a lesson on textile painting. Members are to take dishes and sandwiches. Drink and strawberry shortcake will be furnished.

Garden Club Meets

The Red Cedar Garden club met Monday afternoon for their meeting prior to the flower show at the home of Mrs. F. B. Alinger on the Howell-Mason road. Mrs. C. R. Leonard of Lansing assisted with the program which was a workshop on flower arranging. The members took their own cuttings and flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. William Wylie spent last week end visiting relatives in Muskegon. (Continued on Page 7)

Somebody's Going to be Surprised!

Well, it's Junetime—and the top is down—and his heart is filled with memories . . . and where do you think he's going?

He's going halfway up the hill, to a spot where a lane strays into the wildwood and he can glimpse the top of a fieldstone chimney above the trees. That's his lane—and he's going home!

It has been a well-guarded secret. Only two people have known about it all these months—himself and his Cadillac dealer.

And just to make doubly sure, he has hinted at almost everything under the sun as a fitting tribute to this wedding anniversary—except a Cadillac car!

Well, it won't be long now. He's getting closer and closer. And now the stones in the driveway crunch under the wheels . . . he gives the familiar three "toots" on the horn . . . and then she sees him, with his cap in his hand, bowing and pointing to the driver's seat.

Surprised? Never so much in all her life. And never more thrilled—for it's the "car of cars" for the "day of days"!

And is he happy!

Maybe it has taken him ten years—maybe fifteen—maybe even twenty . . . to make his dream come true.

But during all this time he never wavered in what he wanted. He wanted to make one anniversary mean something special above all the rest . . . by the gift of a Cadillac.

Perhaps, as you read this, you are looking forward to some very special anniversary of your own.

If you are—and you're planning on giving the gift of gifts—then you'd better come in and see us soon.

We've kept many and many a secret, for many and many a man—so you may trust us not to tell!

We'd be delighted to see you . . . at any time you find convenient.

Women Attend Anniversary Meet

Mrs. Lucy Ainger and Mrs. Geneva Youngs attended the annual meeting of the Michigan Horticultural society on the occasion of its 20th anniversary, at the Union building at Michigan State college Tuesday. After the luncheon at 12:30 they were entertained by Miss E. Genevieve Gillette of Ann Arbor who spoke on 20 years of Michigan Horticulture, and Mrs. William Barton of East Lansing who talked on flower arrangement in relation to table settings. Dr. H. B. Tulkey of the Michigan State college department of horticulture was chairman for the afternoon, and awards for horticultural achievements were presented by Prof. H. C. Whittemore of the department of landscape design at the University of Michigan.

Mrs. Charles G. Reynolds and Miss Marion Bushnell of Lowell were callers Sunday at the Lee Miller home.

Miss Eunice Sparkman attended the 34th annual convention of the Michigan Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc., held at the Fort Shelby hotel in Detroit May 23-25. Miss Sparkman was a delegate from the Lansing club. She is program co-ordinator for the current year of Lansing Business and Professional Women's clubs.

Two Circulate Petitions for Trustee Opening

Petitions are currently being circulated for Charles W. Woodruff and Lee R. Miller, for school board trustee members.

Woodruff, a comparative newcomer to the community, moved to his home on Route 2, Williams-ton, with his wife and 2 daughters 3 years ago.

Miller moved to Williamston in 1943 and resides on East Rowley road with his wife, 1 daughter and 2 sons.

The final date for filing nominating petitions to fill the school board vacancy will be June 14, 1952. Petitions for each candidate must bear the names, addresses and date of signing of not less than 50 nor more than 75 registered school electors.

Any eligible resident of the school district may register for this year's election through their respective township or city clerk between now and July 7 which is the final date for accepting registrations for the 1952 annual school election. Anyone who now is registered to vote in civil elections is automatically registered for the school election.

The expiration on June 30 of the 3-year term as trustee, will mark the end of the services on the school board for Ora G. Langham. Langham has served as trustee for Williamston community schools since the reorganization of the school district was effected in February, 1949. Prior to that time he served as president of the school board of the Whitcomb school district in Wheatfield township for nearly 7 years.

Langham stated that the press of personal business would not permit him to continue to devote the necessary time to serve the school district in the manner which he desired.

Open House Planned

The children of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Watkins will honor their parents' 25th wedding anniversary at an open house at the Watkins home June 8 from 2:00 to 5:00 and 7:00 to 9:00 p. m. Friends and relatives of the couple are invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Larson of Midland visited their brother-in-law, Thomas Tudor, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Goetz Tuesday evening.

Harry Johnson, who has been in the Veterans hospital in Dearborn the past week, is improving.

Mrs. Lena Gorsline of Detroit and her sister, Mrs. Leta Hartwick of West Branch, spent the week with their mother, Mrs. May Goyt.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gorsline have returned from Black Mountain, North Carolina, where Mrs. Gorsline has spent the past 4 months.

Mr. and Mrs. George Rouse, Sr., and daughter, Mrs. Elmer Satterlee of Jackson, visited William Rouse at the Edward Sparrow hospital Friday. He is improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Selby Shaw and son, Loran, left Tuesday afternoon for Tucson, Arizona.

Pupils and parents of the Dennis school held a farewell party Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Webster for their teacher, Mrs. Margaret Larson, who is retiring. A set of porch chairs was given her in appreciation of her work among the pupils of this district.

Al Welse Earns Promotion

Al Welse has been promoted to service manager of England Cooks Truck Service on Cedar street, Lansing. Welse has received many certificates for his mechanical competency in General Motors automotive products. To keep his standing as a master mechanic Welse must pass an examination every year to prove his knowledge of ability to repair and service any General Motors car. In addition to his motor repair work he is a fireman for the city of Williamston and has been on that force for the past 12 years. He also operates "Al's Repair Service" at his home on Church street.

Lou Ellen Miller Receives Honors

Lou Ellen Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Miller, who has been attending Michigan State college, has received several honors in the past two weeks.

She was elected to the student congress, created under the new student government constitution, as a representative of East Lansing.

Lou Ellen attended a meeting of the student congress representatives of all the Big 10 Universities, held at Purdue University in LaFayette, Indiana, the middle of May. Last Thursday the newly-elected members of the student council were honored at a banquet in the Union building by President Hannah.

On the same day Lou Ellen received notice of her election as vice-president of Toward Guard, Michigan state's honorary for sophomore women. She was "tapped" for this honor at the May morning sing, which is held each spring before Beaumont Tower. A Unique Opportunity For Just One Man . . .

Because I have been promoted to Divisional Manager of my company in another territory, I am forced to give up my Zone Managership here in Ingham County.

Therefore, I am looking for a successor—a man whose character, record, and ability entitle him to take advantage of an opportunity in this prosperous, productive area.

Remuneration will begin immediately upon acceptance; and, if you are the man I can recommend to my customers, it will grow to an impressive figure.

My company has a steady record of expansion and growth—opportunities are unlimited, hours are what you make them and no capital investment is required.

If you can meet and talk with anyone in this district . . . are favorably known . . . and if your record can stand rigid inspection, you will not want to miss this opportunity. Write or phone—

KIT CLARDY Speaks Out

What some nations want is not a loan—but an endorsement.

Those who think you can get something for nothing will vote for more Trumanism—the rest know better.

Fifty per cent of the people do not value citizenship enough to vote—but they sure beef about the mistakes we voters make.

Korea should teach us that the office doesn't make the man—there has to be something there to work on.

The foregoing are extracts from Mr. Clardy's regular radio broadcasts, heard each Tuesday at 6:30 p.m. on WJLS (Lansing) and WBBC (Flint).

Mr. Clardy is seeking the REPUBLICAN nomination for CONGRESS from this district.

Picture of a Pair who just waked up

HERE in the driveway is a Buick. It has just arrived. It belongs to this proud young couple. They've just "arrived" too.

They've arrived at a discovery—the discovery that owning a Buick instead of a "low-priced car" isn't so much a matter of money.

It's a matter of knowing the facts of life. Buick prices are closer to the prices of smaller, less powerful, less distinguished cars than most people think.

Why don't you check into this?

You'll find you could pay $300 to $400 more—and still not match the horsepower of this nimble beauty.

You could pay hundreds of dollars more—and still not get any more interior room, or richer fabrics.

But that's only part of the story.

The big thing about any car is the way it goes. So you ought to find out how this car rides the road—the freedom from bobble and sway that cost a million real dollars to develop.

You ought to sample the way Dynaflow Drive* feeds the power—with a steady swoop and unbroken smoothness in city traffic, on hills, or out on the open road.

And you ought to know how it feels to touch off that Fireball 8 Engine. With all its might, this high-compression valve-in-head gets a lot of miles from a gallon of gas.

We'll tell you this—because a lot of folks have told us this: No matter what car you're driving now—no matter what cars you've looked at—they'll never seem the same after you try this one.

Just give us a chance to prove it—and you'll have a lot of fun.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. *Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Sure is true for '52.
