People Ponder Swimming Pool Donation Drive

Expert swimming and jackknife diving will be the style if Mason's proposed swimming pool becomes a reality. Folks representing 26 civic groups voted 34 to 2 at a public meeting Tuesday night in favor of such a project.

Estimated costs for an adequate outdoor swimming pool range from $50,000 to $70,000,

More than 50 people attended the Tuesday meeting. Howard Seibert was chairman, Al Rice, Raymond McLean, James Dart, responsibilities of such a project. Representatives at the meeting prosecutor, also backed the en- were torn between an indoor allpool. Costs are nearly doubled

An indoor pool is justified only when it is built in connection Dramis withdrew his objections with a larger building, Dart said. "This meeting was not called just to consider a swimming pool," Seibert stated. "Our selfappointed committee is interested only in uniting Mason's civicminded people in one lasting project. The important outcome of any project in which we all take part will be town spirit." The 34-2 vote determined the swimming pool as the project. An 8-member organizing committee was appointed to set up a working committee for securing the funds. On the committee are Seibert, Rev. Raymond Norton, M. H. Avery, Don VanderVeen, Sr., Mrs. William Clark, Mrs. Annette Schaeffer, Rex Stribley and

Mrs. Robert Leonard. The money will be collected prior to building the pool, it was agreed at the meeting. The cash will be collected on a donation and pledge basis with the surrounding farm area being asked

"The 4-H organization will be ideal place to conduct summer camps."

The pool can be turned over to the city when completed, Seibert suggested. The council would be a more permanent body to operate a pool, he added.

Most pools operated by cities the size of Mason put a charge on the use of the pool. Scibert told the group. The price of admission to the pool in St. Johns is 10c for

"And even then, the admission prices do not cover the upkeep of the pool," Rice stated. "Last year the St. Johns pool collected about $4,000 was needed to cover the costs. The pool averaged 200

"It took a drowning in a gravel Baker joined him. Baker died in pit pond to stir St. Johns people to build a swimming pool," Selbert stated. "Mason people shouldn't have to wait for that."

So much more of Everything-except price!

When you visit our showroom to take the measure of the wonderful new Pontiac-measure it first against the finest and costliest cars you know. That's the surest way to discover how much quality Pontiac offers you.

Take the matter of size, for instance. Pontiac is a big car, with its new 122-inch wheelbase, its roomy, comfortable Body by Fisher, its solid, big-car feel on the road.

Then look at Pontiac with an eye for beauty. No car in America, regardless of cost, is more instantly recognized than this Dual-Streak beauty. And Pontiac's handsome new color-matched interiors are unsurpassed for luxury, beauty and convenience.

If performance is important to you, then Pontiac is your car! Its famous Dual-Range power train* gives you more power than you are ever likely to need—and gives it to you with a distinct saving in gasoline.

Now look at one of Pontiac's truly remarkable features -its price tag! For this great car with its wonderful reputation for dependability, economy and high re-sale value is priced just above the lowest. Pontiac, which takes its features and its engineering goodness from the finest and costliest of cars, is priced well within the reach of anyone who can afford any new car.

Come in and see for yourself that Pontiac offers much more of everything—except price!

To Play MSC

The Fred Waring "Festival of Song," under the direction of Dr. Lara Hoggard, will be presented at the Michigan State college auditorium on Thursday, Februiry 26, at 8:15 p, m.

Exciting and dramatic with its 36 talented performers, the "Festival of Song" is a brand-new aproach to entertainment usually ound on the stages of today,

One of the most talked about catures of the "Festival of Song" is the diversified program itself. The music ranges from the works of Palestrina, Debussy, Brahms, Mozart, and Mendelssohn to the contemporary works of Norman Lockwood and Benjamin Britten. In addition to sacred music there are modern novelty songs, folk songs and all-time popular favorites.

The leadership of Dr. Hoggard, one of America's best-known choral directors, is obvious in the performances of the choral group. It is particularly noted in the moving dance pantomime, "The Juggler," featuring Felisa Conde, and in "God's Trombone," a collection of musically-adapted Ne-1 gro sermons sung by the chorus and read by Craig Timberlake.

Rosalie Randall, 1951 music graduate of Michigan State, will be featured harpist with the "Festival of Song." Miss Randall will present "A Ceremony of Carols" by Benjamin Britten, Composed in 1942, this unusual work is scored for treble voices with harp accompaniment. "Festival of Song" is presented by the lecture concert series "A' with tickets on sale at the Union ticket office.

When Lowrance took up quail-raising two years ago, experts said he couldn't raise commercial-size flocks; brooder losses from disease would run at least 20 per cent. They did until Lowrance cut this to 3.5 per cent by adding the wonder drug aureomycin to the chicks' drinking water. Now he finds it impossible to fill all the orders he gets.

On Friday of next week the state conservation department will auction off 2 parcels of land in Ingham township. The auction will be held at the court house in Mason at 10 o'clock in the fore-

Up for sale are the former homes of John Avery on Potter road and Mrs. Katherine F. Owens on Dexter Trail. There is a 2-story house, a garage and woodshed and 1.35 acres of land with the Owens parcel.

There are 20 acres with the Avery house. The house has been partially remodeled. There are 2 barns, a milk house and a brooder

The minimum bids accepted on each parcel will be $2,500.

The state conservation department bought the farms and added most of the land to the Dansville public hunting grounds.

State Conservation Officer Walter Mutchler at Mason has complete details on the 2 properties and on the methods used in conducting the sale.

Shanty Recovery Is Up to Owner

Ice fishermen have the responsibility of getting their shanties ashore before the ice breaks up, warned Conservation Officer Walter Mutchler Tuesday.

"This has been an unusual winter," the officer said, "and the ice is thin. Already there have been instances of shantles falling through the ice. It is up to owners to get the shantles off the ice before the breakup comes."

The law which requires fishermen to get their shanties off the ice before the breakup has a 2. fold purpose, said Mutchler. No. 1, he explained, is the safety factor. Shantles settling on lake bottoms have damaged many boats and have cost some lives. The other is the esthetic factor, Shanties add nothing to the beauty of beaches or shorelines the officer pointed out.

The Rams are not winding up their last year in the Ingham County league in any blaze of glory but still they are a dangerous foe. The Bulldogs will have to stop the sharp shooting of Bucky Phillips if they are to win. Phillips is the only veteran back from the Holt out fit that fought its way into the state quarter!finals last year.

Against Eaton Rapids Mason could do no wrong. The Bulldog offense was especially sharp, The Bulldogs started off the game by dropping in the first 6 baskets at tempted and made good on both of their free throw attempts. By the end of the first quarter Mason was out in front 24-8.

The Bulldogs were not far off that hot pace in the second period even though Coach Don Carey benched the starters and filled the lineup with reserves. The half Totals ended with Mason way out in Mason Eaton Rapids .. 8 11 10 14-43

Carelessness at Elections

Those who served on canvassing and recount boards following the November election discovered no eases of fraud in vote counting. They did find evidences of almost criminal this space to plead the cause of had for the previous 5 years been carelessness. The men and women who are serving on the the aging and the aged, I hold it governor's election study commission have found the same situation.

The governor's commission is making many recommen- as a man who has had a lot of dations for streamlining the ballots and making the count quicker and probably more accurate. Some of the changes another try at arousing public recommended should be adopted. But the big thing—the opinion is of 3 dimensions. Let greatest reform needed—is to impress upon election officials the necessity of following the laws already upon the books.

Men and women lost their votes at the November election because election workers did not obey the few simple rules set up to regulate the conduct of elections. In many infirmary was under consideracases the election workers had no conception of their responsibilities. In far too many instances the members of election boards where the worst mistakes were found did not attend any of the instruction meetings which the law requires to be ry F. Hittle to permit welfare reheld in every county before an election.

At the recount big batches of ballots were thrown out because they were not properly wrapped and sealed. Many from wages and other sources which both husband and wife can be supplied at a minimum others were thrown out because they were not initialed at all or were initialed by someone who had not been given the required oath.

There has been no head or tail to the conduct of elections. The state legislature at every session has amended the election laws. Notices of the changes have not always been brought to attention of city and township election officials:

Twenty years ago the naming of election clerks and inspectors was taken away from city councils. Not until the last election did Mason abide by the 1929 law. Members of the council had never heard of a change. Finally when the new charter was drawn up and adopted the prohibition in the state law was discovered. Now the election is handled by a commission made up of the clerk, the city attorney and a Russell Lowell in my literary New York Times, and you don't third member appointed by the council. That has been the flight last week. As so many peolaw since 1929.

Our elections have too often been conducted on the basis of custom instead of the law.

Under the recommendation of the study commission the encyclopedias I searched there will be a direct chain of authority. The state elections made no mention of any brother commissioner will be held responsible for correctly informing or sister. The Greenleaf was for county clerks of election laws and procedures and any changes his maternal ancestors. in them. The county clerks will in turn be responsible for seeing to it that township and city clerks know the law and the changes. All the way down the line, if the recommendations are followed, the election officials will not only know the law but they will realize it must be obeyed.

Members of the study commission, after many hours of study, reached the same conclusion as canvassers and recounters came up with: That there is little basically wrong with Michigan's election law. The trouble has been that too many precinct election workers have not known or they have ignored the law.

Carelessness, not stupidity, has disenfranchised voters. A better selection of election workers, giving them proper instructions and seeing to it that those instructions are religiously followed will correct most of the faults of Michigan's election system.

The Power of the Atom

Men boast of their scientific powers. Now it is our newfound power over the atom. After all these millions of years feet, got on their wraps and be compared to what the New we have discovered what Nature already knew; that the atom can be broken. And we're proud of it. We puff ourselves up over conquering space through air travel and through the use of air waves in radio and television. Yet we are only harnessing what has gone unharnessed through human history. Probably we have only scratched the surface of what stale audience, the speakers had such a bargain. No one here at powers lie hidden in the air, in the rocks, in the rivers and a roomful of clear-minded, rethe Ingham County News ever elsewhere all about us.

What happened in Europe a few days ago should cause us shame over our boasting. There God demonstrated that He has more power in the hollow of His hand than do we in our cataclysts, our retorts, our power plants and all our vaunted science. Just one puff of wind on a high tide and thousands of acres of land were covered with the ocean! One little blow, and water dashed over headlands and dikes!

Tropical climates have existed at both the poles. Fossilized remains found in the icecaps show that overnight a tropic climate became frigid. Bodies of elephants and mammoths which roamed in tropic jungles aeons ago were covered with snow in one day or night of a cosmic change. For hundreds of thousands of years those bodies have been in the arctic deep freeze beneath the icecap. Every year a few of those bodies are found.

Here in Michigan the land was once covered by the sea. Many times the land where we now live has been depressed beneath the weight of glaciers.

Just a change of a few degrees one way or the other in the heat of the sun and what has been ice will be added to the waters of the ocean, or what has been fertile and productive land will be another icecap. Our power over Nature is slight indeed, so puny we dare not boast about it.

Those dikes in Holland, those seawalls in England, how fragile they became when Nature exerted its power!

Our little powers should make us humble, not proud and arrogant. Because really man has so little power and so little wisdom to use well the power he has:

War Declarations, Too

President Eisenhower recommended to congress that all secret treaties made without the knowledge or consent of the senate be scrapped. That would include the secret commitments made at Yalta, Teheran and Potsdam.

The senate should exercise its constitutional power over date with the statement that he

There is another field where congress, both the senate and the house, should exercise its responsibility. That's in the declaration of war.

President Roosevelt took the United States into the war through lend-lease. Congress surrendered its power. President Truman took the United States into the Korean war without congress making any declaration as the constitution | day morning stood the new boy

Now President Eisenhower through his directives on Formosa is liable to spread the war to China.

If treaties must be ratified by the senate, and the constitution so states, then war should be declared by congress, as the constitution so provides.

The cheers over the return to the senate of its treatymaking powers ring with sincerity. They might even grow in volume if the new president would return the war-making powers. Those, too, belong to congress. If we are to make war the congress should declare it.

a block away. walk helped the speakers, too.

An Arabian custom adopted by my brother Russell has much to recommend it. Immediately after the meal the guests roll back onto he floor or leave the banquet. For an hour there can be no speech or talk of any kind, just a few polite belches to prove to the host that his hospitality was appreciated. At the end of the hour when the guests have had their naps the speaker is permitted to present his views.

Too many banquet speakers waste their pearls of wisdom upon an audience that neither sees nor hears. And of course, too many diners have their sleep interrupted by somebody droning on and on at the speaker's table. Marching around the block between the dessert and the speaking works an improvement in both the speaker and his audience. If the Gideons will promote the custom generally they'll find a lot more people willing to chip in on the purchases of Bibles.

Maybe I forgot to say, that's what the Gideons do. They raise money to provide Bibles so that all who run may read or all who read may run.

Carrying the Mail The Ingham County News last week editorialized as follows: 'With the improvement in roads and automobiles there should be a further consolidation of rural mail routes. . . Deliveries more elastic. . . normal routes extended for the normal load, with extra carriers for the Christmas rush.' A layman seeing the rural carrier cruising around the route on a nice summer day doesn't realize that this only a small part of a full day of labor, of responsibility, and often tedious drudgery. In fact, a layman doesn't know any more about the work of delivering mail than a mail carrier would about managing the Ingham County News. It may be news to the general public, including the editor of the Ingham

"Once more upon the water! Yet once more! And the waves bound beneath me As a steed that knows: his rider."

-Byron

The steed was the USS Bonne Homme Richard of the Pacific aircraft carrier fleet; the rider, however slumped in the saddle at times, was I.

I joined the navy for a week. My 7-day hitch was at the request of the navy department. Under a navy plan, I was a member of a party of 8 civilians who lived, ate and slept navy off the coast of Mexico.

I talked with admirals, captains, commanders, firemen, deck hands, marine privates and naval aviators. I got the cation will receive their state story on what the navy is thinking and why.

I saw the navy at its best. And I saw it at its worst. Officers and men of the navy appeared to hold nothing back, I saw'a navy pilot killed when he crashed his jet plane on the carrier deck and rolled into the sea. He and his plane sunk in a thousand fathoms of water. I saw an empty jet plane roll from the deck into the sea, also never to be recovered. I literally saw millions of dollars worth of equipment destroyed during my week in the navy. Despite all precautions for safety and economy, costly accidents happen. It is a part of war, and training for war.

But I also saw the other side. I saw 2,500 men jump into action as one man. They sweat and bled in their attempt to perfect their collective job of manning an aircraft carrier.

It takes practice to perfect a skill. And practice implies mistakes. Those mistakes cost money and lives. But as far as I can see, it is the only way. If we are to have a naval force capable of operating freely upon the oceans, then the soil scientist at Michigan State hall for their annual meeting. At cost of training and maintaining will have to be borne. It's part of the business.

More than 70% of the earth's surface is covered by water. That's why ships and men who can operate them are important. Even the philosopher Themistacles realized their root growth and root galls in they are worth. At the evening 214 W. State St. importance back in pre-Bible times. He said, "He who commands the sea has command of everything."

The navy operates on that principle. I think it is doing a great job. Next week I'll tell why.

Harold A. Fitzgerald, president and publisher of the Pontiac Daily Press; Glenn MacDonald, editor of the Bay City Times; and myself made up the Michigan delegation. Illinois was represented by State Senator Roland V. Libonati; Chicago Councilman Patrick Petrone; Charles H. Brown, investment banker; Wilbur C. Smith, Chicago Ford dealer; and Victor Thornton, weekly newspaperman from Naperville.

I left Glenview, Illinois, aboard a navy plane Sunday, February 1, bound for San Diego, California. We went by way of Kansas City and Amarillo, Texas. We went aboard the ship that night and sailed before dawn the next morning.

For 5 days the ship cruised along the Mexican coast and as far north as Los Angeles. The job of the crew was to train naval aviators to land aboard a carrier flight deck. During the week, more than a thousand landings and takeoffs were completed. It's the last lesson for the pilots before being sent to Korean waters.

We returned to San Diego Friday morning and returned to Glenview Saturday.

Next Week: The "Bonney Dick" looks for wind.

Phone 3261 Some Common Sense

It's just plain common sense that a mineral feed, balanced with the, ingredients hogs need, isn't going to have the balance that'll do my dairy cows the most good!

Yes, sir. That does make sense. It's the reason why MoorMan's make a separate mineral feed for each type of livestock and method of feeding.

And, because MoorMan's Minerals are "tailor-made", they go farther, stock does better, and the minerals cost less. That's why more folks feed MoorMan's than any other mineral feed.

Farmers Can Now Quit Coddling Cobs

Farmers no longer need to coddle the cobs on which corn grows, thanks to a new advance in grain to the American Society of Agricultural Engineers.

The development is a grain drying and storage unit that makes the corn picker-sheller a practical harvesting machine for corn growers, and cuts farm labor and storage costs. D. B. The new unit was described as a 16-ft. wide Quonset equipped with a unique down-flow aeration sys-, tem. Drying and cooling the grain are accomplished by means of a semi-pressure propeller fan which draws unheated air into the building, down through the grain, into a central tunnel over which the grain is piled, and then out of the building.

"This unit will handle grains other than corn equally well," Poor said. "It permits the small-grain grower to start combining earlier in the season, earlier in the day, and enables him to combine when moisture conditions are too high for placing grain in ordinary
