

School Boards Exchange Letters on Annexation

Terse letters with commas and semi-colons carrying the weight of cannon balls are being exchanged by the Mason school board and the board members of 8 primary school districts this week.

The Mason board of education is urging 9 rural districts now sending tuition pupils to Mason to annex to the Mason district. In a letter to the districts Friday, the Mason board declared that the primary districts must indicate a willingness by August 7 to conduct annexation elections by September 1 or the districts will face possible undesirable consequences.

It also stated that "... no non-resident pupils will be accepted after September 1, 1957..." and the Mason board of education reserves the right to reject any annexation proposal after September 1, 1957."

The letter, approved by the board and written by James Vander Ven, superintendent, declared that the Mason board will feel no obligation to annex more districts unless elections in the primary districts are scheduled before September 1, 1957.

The Mason board letter was in response to a joint letter by 8 primary districts: Pollak, Hubbard, Eden, Rolfe, Barnes, Aurelius Center, Wilcox and Bullen. A ninth primary school district, Kipp, has indicated to the Mason board that it will conduct an election on the annexation question yet this summer to comply with the Mason district's proposal.

Vander Ven said that a reduction in tuition fees determined by the state department of public instruction makes it financially impossible to continue accepting tuition pupils in the Mason system.

Tuition rates are based on school operation costs and do not include construction and expansion costs made necessary, in part, by the extra load of tuition pupils, the superintendent explained.

During the past school year, there were 83 tuition pupils attending the Mason school.

Mason district taxpayers pay a 5-mill tax into a building and site fund at the present time. Spokesmen for the perimeter primary areas have indicated that in some cases, taxes will double if they be annexed to Mason.

The joint letter from the rural districts expressed the desire that the Mason district "... accept our non-resident tuition students through 1957-1958 school year with the understanding that the primary board members conduct special annexation elections in 1958."

The Mason board's reply granted the request, but cast a shadow on the possibility of annexation after September 1, 1957.

Primary districts have the alternatives of banding together to provide their own high school facilities or annexing with other districts having high schools.

Admittedly, however, Mason board members have agreed that the first alternative is probably impossible and the second would be unwise in most cases.

Should the 8 school districts annex to Mason, the Mason district would be one of the largest in the state. It would reach east beyond Meridian road, south to Plains road, west to Waverly road, northwest to within view of the Holt school and north as far as Cavanaugh.

Architects Are Working On Hospital Drawings

Within a few days architects may have their drawings ready for Mason's new hospital.

John Ripplinger of the Detroit architectural firm of Smith, Hinchman & Grylls informed members of the hospital building committee that the drawings and specifications will be completed by September 9. Proposal blanks will then be prepared for accepting bids early in October. If work is started this fall, the new hospital should be ready for occupancy by the fall of 1958, Ripplinger indicated.

The total amount of pledges, including a $1,000 bequest from the Edmund Calkins estate, stands at $907,600, reported Rex O. Stribley, associate chairman of the fund drive. There are some other contributions expected within a few weeks, he said.

All of the money pledged will be used toward construction of the hospital and purchase of equipment.

Proposal blanks will be prepared with 3 alternates. They will cover a 36-bed hospital which was the original campaign goal, with a 40-bed hospital and a 48-bed hospital as alternates.

Original plans for the Mason hospital campaign called for providing 36 beds, but with facilities to handle 48. Architects explained

Vevey Calls Hearing

There will be a public hearing on a proposed zoning ordinance for Vevey township Thursday night at 8 o'clock at the Vevey town hall.

He Welcomed Work

There were a few years at the beginning and a few months at the end when Walter A. Hall couldn't work. During the years between he was always one of the most useful men in his community.

He and his 4 sons and a daughter came to Mason in 1923. He headed the family farming operations and the retail dairy business. After disposing of his interests in the family partnership with his sons, Chellis, Clark and W. Oren, he operated a poultry farm. He mended harness. He established a lawnmower and knife-grinding business and he sold and serviced milking machines. He was a skilled mechanic besides being an outstanding farmer.

At 18 he was in business for himself as a harness maker. That was in Wisconsin. He also operated an elevator there and a general store at Anson. He owned and operated Wisconsin farms before coming with his family to Michigan in 1920. He and his oldest son, Cecil, were in the automobile business at Fenton before the family came to Mason in 1923

Flames Trap Man In Delhi House

Floyd Reed, 32, was cooked in a house fire at 3454 Bogart street, Delhi, Thursday morning.

Reed was home alone. His wife, Lucille, 29, and 4 children, Donald, 9, Brenda, 7, Bobby, 3, and Sandra, 8 months, were visiting relatives at Leverington.

Reed had been at the home of a brother in Lansing until 10 Wednesday night. Neighbors said he arrived home about 10:30. At 1:30 a woman who lives next door was awakened by a crackling noise. She and her husband discovered the front of the Reed house on fire. They called the fire department and kicked in the door of the burning house.

Maple Grove and Holt firemen fought the blaze to finally reach the interior. They found Reed sprawled on the floor. They said that Reed apparently awakened to find the house ablaze. In trying to escape he stumbled over a chair and was overcome by smoke and heat.

Sheriff's officers and the state fire marshal launched an investigation of the fire Thursday morning.

Site for BVS Shifts Again

Rep. George W. Sallade of Ann Arbor, who doesn't want the Boys Vocational school for his home county of Washtenaw, is now trying to wish it onto Ingham.

Sallade has proposed that the Boys Vocational school be shifted to the Dansville public hunting area, an area which was bought and has been developed by Pittman-Robertson federal funds and revenue from the sale of hunting licenses.

The state welfare department bought a site at Whitmore Lake for the Vocational school. Immediately there was an outcry from Whitmore Lake residents who didn't want boys from the school roaming the countryside.

Youths walk away from the school in Lansing in droves. There is little to restrain a boy who decides to leave the institution originally set up as a reform school. And after they leave the grounds many of the Vocational school boys seize automobiles to continue their flight.

Once before the state welfare department gave consideration to the Dansville site and rejected it, the conservation department announced. At one time the welfare department secured options on land in Wheatfield for a BVS site. Wheatfield farmers organized to defeat that move.

Higher Price Delays Strike

Members of the Michigan Milk Producers association negotiated a contract with Detroit dairies Wednesday worth 35c more a hundredweight than they have been receiving. Four dairies, considered the most influential in the Detroit area, buckled under the threat of an MMPA strike Wednesday afternoon.

Borden Co., Twin Pines, Detroit Creamery Co. and Ira Wilson & Sons were the first to agree to the price hike. By late afternoon, 51 of 63 dairies supplied by MMPA had agreed to the new price. Michigan Milk officials said that all dairies would eventually follow the pattern.

The MMPA whose 10,000 members supply the Detroit milk market had threatened to withhold milk from the market starting Thursday if the wholesale price was not raised from $4.65 a hundredweight to $5.00.

Two of the 4 dairies jumped the price of delivered retail milk a cent a quart—bringing the price to 24¢. Charles Lockwood, president of the Greater Detroit Consumer Council, pointed out that the penny hike more than makes up for the increase paid to dairy farmers. Farmers are getting an increase of 35c a hundredweight and because there are 46½ quarts of milk in a hundred pounds of milk, dairies that charge an extra cent will be receiving 46½c more per hundredweight from consumers.

While the boost of 35c a hundredweight seemed to please most MMPA members, it wasn't as much as other dairy factions had hoped for. Both Michigan Dairy Farmers Cooperative and Fair Share Bargaining association had demanded $5.50 per hundredweight before the Thursday deadline.

Leo Van Bonn, DFC general manager, declared that his organization is still considering strike action, but probably after August 15.

Bank Provides Parking Area

Dart National bank is putting the finishing touches on a big parking lot at Ash and Park. It is a full quarter-block in size.

The site was occupied by the Dart Manufacturing Co. and what was once the Spenny garage.

Part of the site was previously used as a parking lot. Under present plans, there will be no charge for parking. The parking will be by courtesy of the bank.

More Pickers Are Enroute

With the cucumber harvest in full swing, 2 groups of Mexican nationals are enroute to Mason.

One group of 125 is scheduled to arrive by bus Saturday and another group of 135 is expected by bus next Tuesday. The buses are coming from Eagle Pass, Texas.

The 145 Mexican nationals now in Mason barracks of H. W. Madison company are being given new assignments, 60 to Tompkins Center, 50 to DeWitt and 35 to the Myers farm near Munith.

Picking has been heavy this week. Each night 2 semis with 600 bushels each have been shipped from Mason to the Medina, Ohio, processing plant, and another 1,000 bushels have gone into salt brine at Mason.

Production is running heavy on the 47 acres of cucumbers at the Lawrence Every farm, on 28 acres at Diehlfelds and 10 acres at the Glen Every farm.

Myers has been bringing his pick direct to Mason, by-passing the Stockbridge receiving station.

Mason now has vat capacity of 50,000 bushels. Eight new vats have been built this year, each holding 600 bushels. There are 47 old vats.

Although cucumbers on high ground could use more rain, no fields are suffering from lack of moisture, reported Manager Orville Woodard Wednesday. There was a light rain in the Leslie district Tuesday afternoon. Only a few drops fell at Mason.

The cucumbers shipped to Medina are going into fresh dills. Cucumbers dumped into salt brine at Mason will be used for processing.

Nebraskan Gets Position On Ingham Extension Staff

Richard Lee Nelson of Nebraska has been assigned to Ingham county as assistant county agent.

Nelson will begin his duties here August 12, which is the beginning of fair week.

The new assistant to M. H. Avery earned both his bachelor and master degrees at the University of Nebraska. While working on his master degree, awarded in June, he served as graduate assistant in the dairy department at the university.

Nelson is married and he and his wife have a child about a year old.

The new assistant was named to the Ingham staff by the state board of agriculture to succeed Kenneth Brown.

Brown resigned to become a sales supervisor for Withmore Foods. His resignation became effective July 1. He had been on the Ingham staff for 3 years.

Confirmation has also been received of the appointment of Mrs. Shirley Ann Goering of Hillsboro, Kansas, to the post of home demonstration agent for 4-

FATHER JAMES LEE, in addition to serving as pastor of St. James, is a chaplain at Boys Vocational school and superintendent of the new St. James parochial school in Mason. This picture was taken at the school entrance. The school will be ready for use this fall. Sisters of St. Dominic at Adrian have been assigned as teachers. They will have first, second, third and fourth grades. The school was once the Nazarene church. It has been completely rebuilt for school use. (Ingham County News photo.)

Former 3rd Army Sergeant Becomes St. James Pastor

Sgt. James Lee of General George Patton's Third Army corps of military police traded his chevrons for the habit of a priest.

For 3 years the new pastor of St. James church in Mason served with the Third Army, 28 months overseas with one of the hardest-striking units of the Allies. He followed General Patton, and Patton's Third Army spearheaded the drive which chased the Germans far beyond the Rhine.

After winning medals as a man of war, Father Lee continued his studies to become a man of peace.

He had graduated from St. Mary's high school in Flint. He resumed his studies at Sacred Heart academy in Detroit. He studied another 4 years at Mt. St. Mary's of the West at Cincinnati.

Father Lee was ordained at Flint St. Michaels May 8, 1948. He was assistant pastor at Lansing Resturrection from ordination until July 20, 1953, when he became assistant pastor at Jackson St. John's.

In addition to his charge at St. James, Father Lee is serving as a chaplain at Boys Vocational school in Lansing.

In Mason Father Lee is now residing at the Harold Dillon home, 521 S. Jefferson, until a permanent residence is secured. Former quarters in what is now the parish school have been converted into a residence for sisters assigned as teachers.

Father Lee succeeds Father Paul J. DeRose at St. James. Father DeRose has been assigned to a new parish, St. Leo the Great, at Flint. There is no building, only 12 acres of land. Father DeRose was sent to Flint to lead in the building of a church and school for the new parish.

Code Takes Hold In Bunker Hill

Bunker Hill township's building code became effective August 1. The ordinance provides minimum construction requirements for dwellings and other structures.

The code does not cover present buildings but it will apply when present buildings are remodeled. All residences must contain at least 3 rooms exclusive of closets, halls and stairways. The zoning ordinance, previously adopted, sets the over-all dimensions of the house at not less than 24 by 28 feet for one story, or 22 by 24' for 2 stories.

Arrangements have been completed for a week of training for the Mason school band at Interlochen. Director George Murthum and his musicians will leave Mason Monday, August 26 and return on Labor Day. At Interlochen the band will practice marching and their playing.

No Water Leaves Farm

To make places for their 2 sons, Wilfred and Jay, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wardowski are expanding their Blossom Orchard at Leslie.

Their original 80 acres was expanded by 24 acres in 1950 and another 60 acres was bought last year. Out of the 60 about 40 acres will be devoted to apples, peaches and plums, with 4 acres developed as an irrigation reservoir.

Members of the Mason Kiwanis club, directors and technicians of the soil conservation district and Leslie and Mason newspapermen toured the orchard and inspected buildings and special machinery Tuesday evening.

They first had a dip in the swimming pool built last year, and had a buffet dinner on the lawn.

One of the secrets of the success of Blossom Orchard, Wardowski said, is the conservation of water. He is developing the orchard so that not a drop of water leaves the 164 acres. It all remains to nourish the trees. Mulch is used to conserve moisture in the orchard. There is no cultivation of the soil after planting.

Directors Expand County Fair Plans

Directors, department superintendents and other officials of the Ingham county fair are expanding plans for the 1957 event. The fair dates are August 12 through 17.

They have enlarged those plans at every session of the board for the past 3 months as indications have pointed to increased interest.

Now that 4-H clubs are sending in their entry blanks the directors realize they didn't make their plans big enough. Open class entries are following the same pattern.

Even in the entertainment division, interest in the fair has encouraged directors to expand facilities.

Because of the conflict of Ingham racing dates with the Jackson Raceway meeting, Ingham directors boosted the purses to $19,000 to attract entries. Ingham races are already filling up and there is now no more stall room left. The state provides 75% of the race money.

There will be harness racing Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights and Thursday afternoon.

Monday of fair week is given over for registration, with the Canadian Thrill Drivers staging the grandstand entertainment Monday night.

Tuesday will be children's day with rides reduced to 15c from 1 to 6 in the afternoon.

Wednesday will be veterans' day. Veterans who present their discharges will be admitted to the grounds without charge. A tractor-pulling contest is booked for Wednesday afternoon. Entries are limited to Ingham owners and operators.

Fair management is seeking to have Thursday proclaimed Mason day, with stores and offices closing for the occasion. There will be racing both afternoon and night.

On Friday there will be the pulling contest for heavy teams. That's in the afternoon with the steer auction scheduled at 4. The livestock parade and 4-H float contest will be at 7, with a calf scramble booked as a special feature. Friday night entertainment will be provided by 4-H talent acts.

Light teams will pull Saturday afternoon with the Canadian Thrill Drivers returning for the Saturday night show.

Invitations have been sent to Leslie, Williamston and Mason schools to provide band music. If the invitations are accepted, the Leslie band will play Tuesday night, the Williamston band Wednesday night and the Mason band Thursday night.

Northrup Drain Dispute Arrives in Court Again

Judge Robert L. Drake is pondering the arguments presented in a hearing on the Northrup drain Wednesday.

Three lawyers argued the validity of procedure in the case. This is the sixth time the Northrup drain has been up for hearing, twice before boards of determination, once before in probate court and twice in circuit court.

Judge Drake recessed the hearing Wednesday, which was solely on the matter of procedure. Merits of the proposed drain were not discussed.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Henry Northrup and Mrs. Lottie Northrup petitioned for a drain across the Fred Henry Northrup farm on M-36 at Every road, and across the adjacent farms of Mr. and Mrs. Clare Launstein, Mrs. Mae Waltersdorf and Gerald Waltersdorf.

In 1950 a board of determination turned down the petition for the drain. Another petition was filed in 1955 but at a probate court right-of-way condemnation hearing the petition was declared faulty because some signers did not hold title to the land.

Then came a new petition in 1957. A temporary injunction was granted against procedure but at the hearing on permanent injunction relief was denied those who sought to halt action. Circuit Judge Sam Street Hughes ordered the injunction lifted.

Wednesday's hearing was again on the right-of-way matter.

Thomas J. O'Brien, retained by opponents of the drain, moved for dismissal. He declared the statutory procedure has not been complied with. He contended that out of the 4 Waltersdorfs and Launsteins Drain Commissioner Gerald L. Graham made right-of-way offers to none, and that not even the deputy, Walter Lyon, made offers to Mrs. Launstein or Mrs. Waltersdorf. O'Brien insisted that the statutes require the commissioner, not his deputy, to make right-of-way offers.

Howard A. McCowan, retained by Graham, and Thomas G. McGurrian, Jr., retained by the Northrups, argued that there has been substantial compliance with the statute. They declared that the deputy presented right-of-way releases to Clare Launstein and Gerald Waltersdorf and would have bargained with Mrs. Launstein and Mrs. Waltersdorf had he been given opportunity.

McGurrian said that Graham by preparing the right-of-way releases and handing them to Lyon performed his duty.

Mrs. Waltersdorf and her son and Mr. and Mrs. Launstein were witnesses called by those opposed to the drain. McCowan called Graham and Lyon to the stand.

Judge Drake recessed the hearing to permit study of briefs submitted by the lawyers.

Fruit Grower Expands Production

In the fruit business since 1932, the Wardowskis bought 80 acres of the Mountain View orchard in 1942. Since then there has been a steady expansion of production by application of new methods and new facilities, Wardowski explained.

He told about new sprays which thin apples, which protect them during growth and which hold them on the trees longer. He also told how temperature and air control in storage prevents over-ripening and provides the grower with additional time for marketing.

Varieties must also be changed to meet the demands of the public and of wholesalers and processors, he said. Northern Spies are on their way out in retail stores, Wardowski explained, because retailers demand bright red apples for cellophane bag packing. Burbank plums, preferred by home canners, don't have color enough for processors. That's why many Burbank trees have been removed and prune varieties replanted, the grower explained.

Wilfred Wardowski demonstrated a new spray rig, which atomizes chemicals and blasts a fog through heavy trees. Visitors saw a new dormitory for migrant labor, a recently-completed poly-type storage shed, and new plantings of peaches.

Heavy fertilization and mulching bring peach and apple trees into bearing years earlier than under older methods, Wardowski explained.

Picking of early apples and early peaches is scheduled to begin next week.

The peach crop is normal at Blossom Orchard. The apple crop is down an overall 25% with the reduction as great as 50% in some varieties, Wardowski said.

County Agent M. H. Avery had charge of the program. Dorn Diehl, chairman of the soil conservation district, lauded Wardowski for his pioneering in soil and water conservation. He introduced Lynn Haynes, Gerald Elbert and Paul Simpson, soil district directors; Larry Tripp, district technician, and Melvin Stroud, soil conservationist on the district staff.

Mr. Hall died in the Holloway nursing home at Mason Friday. He had been there about 10 days. He was 81.

Mr. Hall was born in Lowellville, Wisconsin, August 29, 1876, son of Adam and Rebecca Wheeler Hall. He and Miss Fannie A. Porter, were married October 30, 1900, at Poynette, Wisconsin, and made their home in northern Wisconsin until coming to Michigan in 1920. He was a member of the Mason Methodist church.

Survivors include the widow, the sons, C. H. Hall, Chellis Hall and W. Oren Hall, of Mason, and Clark Hall of Webberville, the daughter Mrs. Paul Murray of Mason, 12 grandchildren and 3 great-grandchildren.

Vicious Animal Gains Reprieve

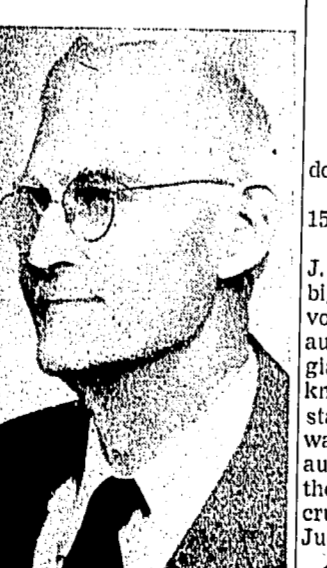

Every dog has its day and some dogs get 2 days.

That's the way it is with the 150-lb Benji.

Justice of the Peace Raymond J. Totte of Delhi condemned the big dog to death for an unprovoked attack upon Chris Breithaupt, 3423 Waverly road. The giant dog leaped upon Breithaupt, knocked the man down and started gnawing. After the dog was finally pulled away, Breithaupt had 30 stitches taken to close the biggest wounds. He was on crutches at the hearing before Judge Totte Wednesday.

At that hearing the owner or owners agreed that the dog is vicious and has been for some time.

After sentence of death had been imposed, Judge Sam Street Hughes of circuit court issued a stay of execution. A circuit court hearing has been granted. The dog is now at the Valley Kennel club in Lansing.

Mason Tennis Players Win Tourney Openers

Five Mason tennis players, coached by Mrs. Maurice Strait, won opening rounds in the Greater Lansing tennis tournament Wednesday. The tournament continues through Friday at Ramney park, East Lansing.

Raymond Strayer of Mason defeated Blakey Simonds 6-1 and 6-love and Pete Robinson of Mason turned the same trick against Dick Dirksen.

Randy Powers beat Allen Neller 6-love and 6-1, and Maurice Strait had the same advantage over Ann Arend.

Doug Dancer was forced to default because of sickness. Bruce Horton of Mason won by a default when his opponent was unable to appear.

Leslie

Methodists Break Ground For Addition to Church

By Mrs. Clara Strange

Sunday morning, August 4, will mark the beginning of a fulfillment of a 10-year-old dream for members of First Methodist church of Leslie, says Rev. John W. Bullock, in the breaking of ground ceremony for a needed addition to the church.

The complete revamping of the parsonage into a modern home and other projects have postponed the building of this addition until now, continued Rev. Bullock.

The ceremony will be during the worship hour from 10 until 11 a. m. Those participating will be Floyd Taylor, chairman of the official board; Ford Chapman, charge lay leader; Alfred Parker, building fund treasurer; Mrs. Harlo Smith, president of the Woman's Society; Donald Waldron, Sunday school superintendent; Elroy Hanks, young adult president; Robert Mitchell, vice-chairman of the building committee; John Kraft, president of the senior Methodist Youth Fellowship. The sermon title will be "Temple Building."

The addition will be 32 feet by 60, a two-story L-shaped unit to join the southeast corner of the church. Church members plan to build one story now, which will give them 6 new classrooms, furnace room and rest rooms. Munson-Carver Architectural firm of Lansing has designed the annex.

Family Members Meet for Reunion

Twenty-eight members of the Latter family gathered at Russell park for their 11th reunion Sunday. There was a basket dinner. At a brief business meeting Mr. and Mrs. Garth Brownlee were elected president and secretary-treasurer, respectively. Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Miner and family were appointed in charge of entertainment.

Mrs. Wesley Brownlee was the oldest member present and Cheryl Ann Causey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Causey, was the youngest. Mrs. Dwight Helms came from the longest distance. Susan McClint of California was present but she came from California to spend the summer and not just for the reunion so she was not judged as coming from the greatest distance.

Those present were from Leslie, Parma, Lansing, Jackson, Mason and Pleasant lake. The next meeting will be the fourth Sunday in July next year at Russell park.

Lions Directors Meet to Plan

Eight members of the Leslie Lions board of directors met at the Walter Strange home Monday evening.

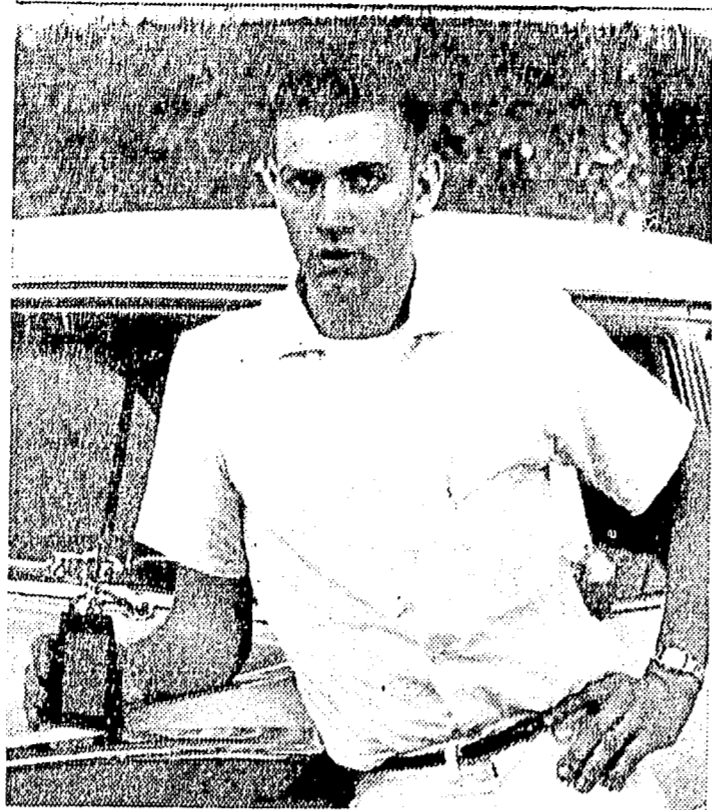

Morris Reinhardt, president of the club, presided. Among items of business passed upon were giving of $25 to the Marlene Beaumont telephone fund; the decision to give a chicken barbecue late in August; discussion of chartering a bus to go to the white cane leader dog school in Rochester; and payment of current bills.

Regular bi-monthly meetings of the Lions club are not conducted in the summer but will be resumed in September.

Mrs. Brown Attends Reunion

Mrs. Ethelyn Brown attended a reunion of Oscoda County Normal class of 1907 at the Carl Olsen cottage at Rose lake near Leroy in Oscoda county. Six were present of the original 27 in the class. Mrs. Brown's roommate, Mrs. Gladys Adams from Reed City was there, as were Mrs. Ray Voorhorst of Flint, the valedictorian, Mrs. Ivan Chase of Ewart, Mrs. Earl Pierson of Clare and Miss Lena Voorhorst of Leroy. Mrs. Brown was salutatorian of the class. Memories of those who have since died, of amusing occasions during their attendance were renewed.

Thursday, August 8, the Royal Daughters will sponsor a breakfast honoring Mrs. John Waldo at the DeMartin Clothier home. Mr. and Mrs. Matt Jacobs of Dehton were visitors of their sister-in-law, Mrs. Ethelyn Brown, last week. They all went to Greenfield Village for a day.

WILKIE MINIX of Stockbridge placed first in the Tecumseh Timing association speed event Sunday. From a standing start, his car rolled to a speed of 79.08 miles an hour in 17 seconds. He was entered in the Class D stock car event.

Justice Court

Traffic Violators Pay Up

Mason's justice court has been busy the past week, with the settling of tickets for running stop signs and with speeding.

There have also been other cases handled. Al Marsh of Bunker Hill pleaded guilty to illegal possession of a fur-bearing animal (raccoon) Saturday and paid $20.

Frederick Fillingham, Mason, pleaded guilty last Thursday to a charge of simple larceny. He was ordered to pay $10 in fine and costs and was sent to jail for 5 days. He was also placed on probation for 2 years. He pleaded guilty to taking money from the purse of a roomer at the house where he was staying.

Frank Duggar, Stockbridge, pleaded guilty to a drunk and disorderly charge Tuesday. He was sentenced to 90 days in jail. Ashbury Patrick, Stockbridge, pleaded guilty to trespassing Tuesday. He was ordered to pay $12 in costs and was placed on probation for a year.

Anthony Wichtoski, Holt, pleaded guilty Monday to a drunk and disorderly charge. He was sent to jail for 2 days, ordered to pay $50 in fine and costs and was placed on probation for 3 months.

Traffic violation tickets reported during the week were listed by him as follows:

Maurice J. Cavanaugh, Leslie, speeding, $10.
Carl B. Mull, Mason, driving on expired operator's license, $2.
Ronald L. King, Mason, speeding, $10.
Henry L. Fries, Mason, running stop sign, $1.
Edna Straub, Mason, speeding, $10.
Bernard J. Day, Lansing, drunk driving, 3 days in jail, $15 fine and costs and probation for 3 months.

Ernest G. Bowlin, Mason, running stop sign, $1.
Charles Rigby, Mason, speeding, $10.
Emerson Bratcher, Albion, running stop sign, $1.

John N. Iverson, Jackson, Jackson, running stop sign, $1.
Lawrence M. Gariglio, Pittsburg, Pa., speeding, $10.
Gary Phillips, Mason, excessive speed, $5.
Hector Chabut, Jackson, speeding, $5.
Donald Lamont, Leslie, running stop sign, $5.
John Millonis, Lansing, speeding, $10.
Bernard A. Sawicki, Jackson, running stop sign, $1.
Larry Voss, Okemos, speeding, $15.
Cleo Willard, Crystal, speeding, $15.
Marjorie L. Coffey, Mason, running red light, $4.
Louis Berratti, Mason, speeding, $10.
Jim Davis, Mason, driving on suspended license, 2 days in jail and $15.

In reconstructing the accident the young mothers concluded that Carter had jumped toward the front seat and out of the front window since the rear ones were down not quite 3 inches.

Grange Has Meeting
Worshipful Master Lloyd Blackmore presided at the Leslie Community Grange meeting Monday evening with 30 members present. It was announced that the Grange wheat had been combined by Paul Simpson and taken to Leslie elevator. Mrs. Simpson was thanked by Mrs. Wesley Brownlee for taking the secretarial work during Mr. Brownlee's illness and death. Mrs. William Knut gave a reading. Refreshments were served.

27 Men Receive Teacher Awards

Twenty-seven men with a combined total of more than 360 years of consecutive service to vocational agriculture were honored at Michigan State university July 30.

The awards program was a highlight of the 38th annual conference for teachers of vocational agriculture at Kellogg Center July 29-August 2.

Service "keys" were presented to 4 men for 30 or more years of service.

Honored for 20 or more years of service were 7 men.

Those receiving awards for 10 or more years of service were Robert E. Brayden, Byron; Donovan G. Cronkrite, Stockbridge; Lloyd A. Morningstar, Hillsdale; and Jacob G. Venema, Blissfield.

More than 300 vocational agriculture teachers, superintendents, principals, directors of vocational education and teachers of institutional on-farm training are participating in the event.

Donovan G. Cronkrite of Stockbridge was among the 4 receiving 10-year awards, and Garrett E. Wheaton was listed among the 12 receiving 5-year awards.

House Is Ransacked

Captain Versile Bulcock of the sheriff's department and Deputy Donald Haynes of Leslie have been trying to solve the mystery of who entered a Leslie house and what he or they wanted. The house is owned by Mrs. Mark Johnston, 219 Tussell street, Leslie. Tuesday it was discovered that it had been entered over the week end and every room ransacked. Entry was made by knocking glass out of a rear door. Even the attic was ransacked and a hole was knocked in the ceiling.

Mrs. Florence Dutton, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hadley and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Geer attended the honorary services for Rev. Richard Backus at the Millville church Sunday. Mr. Backus has given 55 years to church work. He is now chaplain of the Chelsea home.

Miss Joan Kalosay of Howell spent the week end with Patricia and Carolanne Geer.

Clover Blossom 4-H club met Friday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Anderson. Last minute fair details were discussed. The next meeting is August 20 with Betty Hill.

Deserved Award

I was pleased to read about the Ingham County News receiving the recognition it so properly deserves.

Mason folks and the Ingham County News are pretty special and it was a pleasure and a privilege to have been a part of the community, even for so short a time.

When I say this, I am also echoing Mr. Maxwell's sentiments.

I was also happy to see one of your officials, Alton Stroud, receive national recognition.

Government Lists County In Flood Disaster Area

Ingham has been mistakenly included in the disaster area.

While a few acres in the Chandler marsh area where Ingham, Clinton and Shiawassee join, have suffered flood damage, other sections of the county reported normal yields of grain. Some fields of beans and corn show losses but not enough to get a disaster designation, most farmers agree.

Wheat yields were normal, and there were many high yields reported throughout the county. Sprouting caused damage in some fields.

Bay, Clinton, Genesee, Gratiot, Huron, Isabella, Livingston, Midland, Oakland, Saginaw, Sanilac, Shiawassee and Tuscola counties were included with Ingham in the disaster designation.

Because of the designation farmers will be able to secure emergency loans at 3% interest.

Harold Gates, manager of the FIA office in Ingham, has been in consultation with Kermit Hansen of Washington in regard to emergency loans. Gates attended a meeting in Ann Arbor Tuesday at which the federal FIA administrator was present.

Emergency loans are available to Ingham farmers who suffered flood losses. Applications can be made through Gates' office in Mason.

To be eligible for the loans a farmer must be primarily engaged in farming and have reasonable prospects for success in the farming operations he plans to undertake. In addition, he must have suffered a substantial loss from flood water and must be unable to obtain the credit he needs from other sources.

Repayment schedules depend upon purposes for which funds are advanced and upon the estimated income of the applicant.

Loans for land restoration and similar purposes may be repaid over a period of more than a year.

Loans for permanent seedlings can be repaid over periods up to the expected life of the seedlings.

Loans for feed are to be repaid as livestock or livestock products are sold.

Loans for crop production are repayable when income from the crop is normally received.

There is a $15,000 limit on emergency loans.

Weather Report

Hot and dry is the weather program for Ingham residents this week. The mercury soared to the 90s every day but the evenings were cool and comfortable for sleeping.

The average temperature for the week, 75, was 8 degrees above the average for the same week a year ago. There was no precipitation.

Temperatures as recorded at the Mason sewage disposal plant were:

Deadline Nears

Women Should Make Entries

Many open class and 4-H entry blanks for the county fair have been received at the county extension office. As the deadline of Tuesday, August 6, nears, many more will come pouring in, Mrs. Ethel Nichols states. The Ingham county fair is August 12-17.

In open class home crafts, classes have been provided for almost every kind of sewing, crocheting, knitting and other fancy work. Women who specialize in leather work can exhibit billfolds, handbags and coin purses, plain or tooled. Classes are open for textile painting on aprons, handkerchiefs and lunch-cloth, for plain or Swedish weaving of several items, metal work, needlepoint tapestry and hooked or braided rugs.

Hand-Painted China
A new section, added since premium books were published, has been provided for hand-painted china. Exhibits will be displayed in a glass case in the brick building at the fairgrounds.

As in previous years, exhibits will be accepted for many classes of flowers from the home or professional garden. In addition to single exhibits of varieties, classes are open for low bowl and large bowl arrangements, fabric and metal centerpieces, monochromatic arrangements and corsages. Of special interest is an arrangement to interpret the Ingham county fair.

Members of the various garden clubs in the county are busy making plans for their club exhibits, which are often elaborate and detailed.

Baked foods of all kinds and canned fruits, vegetables and meats may be exhibited by any homemaker or youngster. Bread of all varieties, rolls, biscuits, muffins, cookies and cakes of all varieties, pies, baked puddings and candies may be exhibited.

Special Cake and Pie Contests
Three special contests have been provided by Ingham merchants. Densmore's IGA Foodliner sponsors a chiffon cake contest, offering $5 as first prize, $3 for second and $2 for third.

A special apple pie contest has premiums provided by Ingham apple growers, Alfred Wardowski of Blossom Orchard, R. E. Palmer of Palmer's orchard, John Robinson of Tuttle orchard and Jens Hansen of Hansen's orchard. Prizes are $5 for first, $3 for second and $2 for third. A special cake mix contest provides similar prizes. The cakes may be in layer or tube pans and are to be iced.

For the first time at the Ingham fair, sweepstakes will be awarded in the foods department. The best loaf of bread, best cake and best pie each will get a sweepstakes ribbon and premium.

Mrs. Lloyd Wheeler is the home economics general superintendent. She will be assisted by Mrs. Harold Haffner, Mrs. Harold Splink, Mrs. Gerald Diamond and Mrs. Joe Bullen. Mrs. Jacob Sterle is superintendent of clothing and fancy work, with Mrs. Abe Cohn assisting. Floriculture is again under the supervision of Roy Hunt, with Mrs. Hunt as assistant superintendent.

Women Emphasize Safety
The home demonstration booth this year will emphasize safety, a theme which has been promoted throughout the year's work. Mrs. Roland Graham of Webberville and Mrs. Kenneth Brooks of Leslie, members of the county home demonstration council, are in charge of the booth. Mrs. William Quick, council safety chairman, will assist. Volunteer workers from county groups will help during the fair.

Uses of reflectorizing tape on clothing, farm machinery, bicycles, and cars will be demonstrated. Spectators may take a quiz on recognizing the various traffic signs without their lettering.

County extension compiled a cook book, with 119 pages of favorite Ingham recipes, will be on sale.

Harry Coryell Turns 90, Friends Help Celebrate

Friends and relatives of Harry Coryell gathered at Holt Sunday to help him celebrate his 90th birthday anniversary at the home of his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Coryell, where he makes his home.

Mr. Coryell has lived in Ingham county for the past 80 years, and has been an Ingham County News subscriber for 70 years. He has exceptionally good health for his age, has a flower garden and small vegetable garden, and often walks in to Holt from the home at 2987 Prentice road.

Mr. Coryell is the last living child of 7 born to Mr. and Mrs. George Coryell of Holt. His father taught school there. He was married to Mary Wright on September 17, 1896. She died in June, 1932.

Guests for the Sunday birthday party were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jacobs of Lansing, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Page of Flint, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Prebble and Mrs. Clarence Prebble of Lyons, Mrs. Zeta Fry of Williamston, and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Prebble, Mr. and Mrs. Ike Reed, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Chandler, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Chapman and family and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Pearson and family of Holt.

Arthur Parsons Claims Bride in Pennsylvania

In the First Evangelical United Brethren church of Wilkes-Barre, Pennsylvania, Arthur Eugene Parsons claimed Miss Claire Annette Mills of Wilkes-Barre for his bride Saturday, July 27. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Parsons of Astoria, New York, and the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Mills of Wilkes-Barre.

Rev. L. R. Helt, pastor of the church, performed the double-ring ceremony at 11 o'clock in the morning. Mrs. Irwin Brand of Wilkes-Barre played traditional wedding music, and accompanied William Burnaford, vocalist.

The bride wore a floor-length white gown of net over bridal satin. The full over-skirt of embroidered net was attached to a fitted bodice which featured a plain neckline and short, draped sleeves. A tiara of pearls and rhinestones held in place her veil.

and she carried a cascade bouquet of white roses. John Mills of Wilkes-Barre gave his sister in marriage.

Mrs. Thomas Dombroski of Towanda, Pennsylvania, as matron of honor, Mrs. Frances Cooney of Ashley, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Dolores Krushin of Wilkes-Barre were matron of honor and bridesmaids, respectively. They wore identical gowns of lace over taffeta featuring boat necklines and chiffon trim. Mrs. Dombroski wore blue, Mrs. Cooney, pink, and Miss Krushin, yellow. They completed their ensembles with matching fitted hats and veils and carried corresponding bouquets of roses and white pompons.

Brin Meleski of Syracuse, New York, served as best man, and Robert Mills of Wilkes-Barre, brother of the bride, and John Rukstalis of Kingston, Pa., ushered guests to their pews.

During Sandwich Month Experiment with Bananas

Sandwiched in between July and September is national sandwich month. It's August, of course, and the perfect time to stage a sandwich celebration. Bananas offer a new way to vary sandwiches. The mellow fruit flavor of bananas adds even more refreshment to sandwiches, and extra nutrition, too, with banana's well-rounded supply of vitamins and minerals, and high food energy.

A clever banana sandwich tip is to slice the bananas lengthwise in flat slices, rather than in rounds. Then the bananas will be flat when combined with other ingredients, and make an easy-to-eat, compact sandwich.

If you like crinkly-edged banana slices, you can achieve this same frilly effect by simply running the tines of a fork down all sides of a peeled ripe banana. Cut cross-wise, and you'll have the lacy edging on each slice. Top sandwiches with the banana slices just before serving, so that they stay creamy-colored. For peak of flavor, sweetness and digestibility, select bananas that are fully ripe.

Here are recipes for banana sandwiches to serve this summer.

Banana-Bacon-Tomato
Spread two slices of bread with mayonnaise. Place a slice of banana on one slice of bread. Peel a ripe banana. Cut banana in half. Slice each half lengthwise into about three slices. Place atop tomatoes. Top with two strips of crisp bacon and the second slice of bread. Use all-yellow or yellow peel flecked with brown.

Grilled Cheese and Banana
Place a slice of American or Cheddar cheese on a slice of bread. Peel a banana. Cut banana in half. Slice each half lengthwise into about three slices. Place atop cheese. Top with a second slice of cheese and bread. Spread exterior of bread slices with butter. Be generous. Grill until bread is golden brown and cheese has melted. Use all-yellow or slightly green-tipped bananas.

Loibster Banana Salad Roll
1 1/2 cups (9 ozs.) lobster meat, cut into pieces
1 cup celery, sliced crosswise
2 tablespoons pickle, chopped
3 tablespoons French dressing
2 tablespoons mayonnaise or salad dressing
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper, ground
1 to 2 ripe bananas
4 frankfurter rolls, split

Use fully ripe bananas. . . yellow peel flecked with brown. Combine lobster meat, celery and pickle. Mix together French dressing, mayonnaise or salad dressing, salt and pepper. Add to salad ingredients. Mix lightly. Peel bananas. Slice about 1/4 inch thick. Fold carefully into mixture. Toast and butter rolls, if desired. Place 1/4 cup salad mixture on bottom half of each roll. Serve with sliced tomato, cucumber or crisp salad greens, if desired. Garnish with parsley or watercress.

Former Resident Dies in Jackson

Mrs. Eddie Perrin Wilson, former Mason resident, died at Poole hospital, Jackson, Sunday. She had been sick for 2 years and for the past 3 months had been in convalescent homes and hospitals.

Eddie Wilson was born in Mason April 14, 1874, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Perrin. For many years she and her twin sister, Addie, operated a dressmaking shop in Mason. She was married to Walter Wilson of Jackson. Since his death, Mrs. Wilson had resided with her sister at Kalamazoo.

Surviving are a daughter, Jane; 2 granddaughters, a brother, Claude Perrin of Mason; the sister, Addie Perrin of Kalamazoo; a niece; and a nephew.

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday afternoon in Jackson.

Local Units Get Road Cash Shares

Net receipts of the motor vehicle highway fund for the second quarter of 1957 amounted to $32,027,719.35, and this money is now being distributed to the state highway department, counties, cities and incorporated villages. Net receipts of the motor vehicle highway fund for the second quarter of 1956 were $30,554,707.86, representing an increase of $1,473,011.49 for the second quarter of 1957, compared to the same period in 1956.

Gross collections for the Act 51 second quarter of 1957 amounted to $33,210,044.85, from which was deducted the secretary of state's collection costs amounting to $1,188,325.50.

All state gasoline, weight and Diesel fuel taxes and a small amount of miscellaneous fees collected under the 1951 act, are deposited in the motor vehicle highway fund, which was created by the act. After deductions for non-highway uses and collections costs, the rest of the money is divided as follows: 44% to the state highway department for expenditure on state trunkline highways in both rural and urban areas; 37% to the counties for expenditure on county roads, and 19% to the cities and incorporated villages for expenditure on their roads and streets.

Under Act 51 Ingham county gets $260,172.

City and village shares are: Lansing, $141,731; East Lansing, $21,210; Mason, $5,371; Williamston, $2,760; Leslie, $2,324; Stockbridge, $1,407; Webberville, $949; and Dansville, $822.

Act 87, provided for an increase in certain weight taxes and raised the state gasoline tax from 4 1/2 cents to 6 cents a gallon, effective June 1, 1955.

The 1 1/2 cents a gallon gas tax and additional weight tax collected under this statute, known as the highway finance act of 1955, are placed in a new "highway construction fund" so as to be kept separate from the motor vehicle highway fund set up by the 1951 act, which also increased weight taxes, increased the gas tax from 3 to 4 1/2 cents a gallon and set up a new formula for distribution of these monies.

Under Act 87, the amount raised by the extra 1 1/2 cent gas tax and the additional weight taxes levied under its provisions is divided on the basis of 75% to the state highway department and 25% to the counties, cities and incorporated villages. The act further specifies that the county-city-village 25% share be split as follows: Thirty-seven-fiftysixths to the counties and nineteen-fiftysixths to the cities and incorporated villages. The act also requires the highway department's share be spent on the interstate highway system and certain designated sections of US-27, US-127, US-24, US-223, US-31, US-131, M-21, M-53, and M-78.

The state highway department has received $6,650,275.70 from the 1957 second quarter Act 87 monies. The cities and incorporated villages will receive $752,114.51 and the counties, $1,464,644.66.

Ingham shares under Act 87 are: County, $32,281; Lansing, $17,517; East Lansing, $2,621; Mason, $661; Williamston, $311; Leslie, $287; Stockbridge, $174; Webberville, $117; and Dansville, $102.

Central Michigan Student Cuts Dorm Cost with Tent

A Central Michigan college senior, with a yen for a nature boy existence, has come up with a sure way to beat the high cost of housing.

Dave Whitlock, summer editor of the CMC student newspaper, is living in a tent pitched 6 miles from campus along the banks of Chippewa river.

A senior from Rochester, Whitlock claims he never slept better in his life although life in the secluded wooded area is trying at times.

Saving money was one of the objects of the adventure, but he says he probably spends more by having his wardrobe 7 miles from his bedroom. Whitlock spends his nights in the tent, sometimes eats at another place and cleans up and changes clothes at still another.

"The only trouble he has had was in trying to put up the tent in a 30-mile-an-hour gale."

He said, "It's a great life, I have a cot to sleep on, a 3-burner stove to cook on, and a gas lantern I try to see by. I usually get up early because the sun shines in my eyes at 5:30, but the crows wake me up at 5 anyway, so I don't mind."

Dave confessed that the crows and wildlife aren't really too bad. "The chipmunks come and eat the scraps from meals. There are wild berries all around the tent and they make an excellent complement to my breakfast cereal."

"No one has bothered me. I suppose it's because they think I'm a little odd or something and want to be alone."

Whitlock reported that every once in a while a car will unknowingly drive up close to the tent, stay a few hours and emit the sounds of laughter, corks popping, and giggles, then drive away.

"They probably don't know they're being chaperoned," he confides.

However, one day somebody stole a pound of oleo from the creek which he uses as an ice box. "I'm still mad about that," he said.

In addition to his duties as editor of LIFE, the college student newspaper, he is carrying 6 hours this summer and plans to graduate next year on a liberal arts curriculum.

Whitlock entered school in 1950, but had a 4-year interruption in the air force. The only time he lived under canvas while in the service was during a week-long "camp-out" on Formosa.

Youngsters Ready For Ingham Fair

There doesn't seem to be any calling on the number of 4-H and FFA boys and girls who exhibit at the Ingham county fair. Fair officials are predicting an increase of both exhibitors and exhibits this year. Last year there were 2,574 4-H and FFA exhibits at the fair.

This year there are 2,377 boys and girls enrolled in summer 4-H activities and several hundred Ingham FFA boys also are getting ready for fair exhibits.

Stockbridge Church Plans Dedication

By Mrs. Helen Beeman

At Waterloo United Brethren church Sunday, August 4, at 2:45 p. m. dedication of a new organ will be conducted. Other improvements to be recognized include new entrance doors, 4 new banquet tables, new church sign, 150-foot rock well, pump and drain, new roof on the steeple, repair of the church bell and painting of the church exterior trim. The cost came to about $2,500.

Speaker for the dedication service will be Rev. Stanley H. Forkner, director of conference programs and Christian education for the Michigan Conference of the Evangelical United Brethren church, Lansing.

The church, corner of Parks and Territorial roads, founded in 1850, was organized as a part of the Jackson circuit of the United Brethren.

The annual get-together of friends and schoolmates from the vicinity of Waterloo United Brethren church will be Saturday, August 3, at the church with a potluck dinner at one o'clock.

Church services were first conducted in the Dewey school house. In 1870 the first church was built. It was destroyed by fire in 1895. The present church was built in 1896. Rev. Harold Mann is pastor of the church.

FFA Awards Are Completed

The chapter farming program awards, sponsored by the Michigan Association of Future Farmers of America, have been completed. The farm practice program of the chapters, based on information submitted on final reports of the program, were used as the source of information to determine the winners.

The farm practice program of the Stockbridge chapter, has been rated "gold," which is the highest given each year. As a result the Stockbridge chapter has been sent a check for $25. There are 64 boys in the local chapter and records show a gross income of nearly $70,000 during the past year in their farm projects.

Donovan Cronkite is advisor and agricultural teacher at Stockbridge.

Campers' Guide Available

We should like to recommend the "Campers' Guide" to anyone in the Mason area who likes to camp in their travels around the USA and Canada.

We had a nice 2 weeks trip in the east and traveled 2,750 miles. New York state one week and Virginia and West Virginia one week, was the itinerary this year. We lived the French-Indian War, the Revolutionary War and the War of 1812 and Civil War all over again.

Need for Co-Operation

Now that another hunting season is upon us it behooves us all to consider where we will hunt our favorite game this year.

Without our license fees and the farmer we would have no game. Consider for a moment the farmer where you hunt. We all know that it is illegal and very un-sportsman-like to pay for our hunting grounds, but don't you think that the farmer where you hunt could use a little help during haying and harvest as a favor? After all, he does you, the hunter, a favor when he allows you to hunt on his farm.

Remember what fences are for and know how to get your dog over them. To you who cut holes in fences you should never be allowed to hunt again. Would you like to have the farmer milk his cows on your front lawn and cut a hole in the fence to get them there? We are hunting wild game, not farm animals or humans. Know what you shoot at or don't shoot. Preserve our game and hunting privileges for our children.

Farmers, control the hunting on your farm. Tell the hunter where your livestock is. Know the hunter's name and have him park his car in your drive while he hunts. Let us, hunter and farmer, work for better relations with each other. We should cooperate to punish the hunter who damages the crops and livestock. Let us make this 1957 hunting season the best yet.

Classroom Needs

In the July 30, 1957, issue of a daily paper I read an article saying that the classroom need in Michigan is 10,000.

If the need for such classrooms is so great why are we closing the rural schools, some of them all modern, and shipping our children to crowded city schools? Many city schools are refusing to enroll rural high school students because, as they claim, they are already crowded.

If our legislature in Michigan would settle down and work for the benefit of the people we could save many thousands of dollars annually. Why could they not come up with a bill or combination of laws to allow city, high schools to tax rural districts or areas for the purpose of building and maintaining high schools? We will have to annex to provide our children a high school education and we will pay the taxes regardless.

With such a program we would be able to maintain our rural

Principals Plan Meeting at Lake

High school principals, including Lee F. Kinney, East Lansing; Don S. Wheeler, Lansing Eastern; Fred Jappinga, Haslett; and Robert Shiefer, Holt, will attend the principals' chewing match at the Michigan conservation training school, Higgins lake, on August 35. The annual conference, sponsored by the Michigan Secondary School association, is popular with secondary school administrators as a time to meet informally to discuss mutual problems and their solutions.

Keynoting the 1957 conference will be Dr. Charles R. Keller, director of advanced placement program, whose topic will be "Practical Program to Meet the Needs of the Gifted Child."

During the conference participants will discuss various topics including utilization of college sources and resources, curriculum problems, education of exceptional children, athletic activities, utilization and improvement of professional staff and staff relations, scheduling and co-curricular activities, and other administrative procedures, practices and problems. Also of particular interest will be a special program on various phases of conservation to be conducted by Ed Ray, superintendent of the conservation training school.

Safety Films Listed

The highway traffic safety center at Michigan State university has prepared a catalog of films which are available for public showing. They can be shown before any groups if no admission is charged. They are also available for school safety programs.

schools and do it more economically than erecting new buildings. We sell these rural buildings for as little as $300 and have to replace them in the nearby cities for $100,000.

We the parents want our younger children closer home where we can better supervise them, not running the streets during recess and lunch periods.

I understand that one city school nearby is now planning to send students to school in shifts because of the crowded conditions. What must we do to wake our lawmakers up and get them to working for the people who pay their claims?

Legion Officers To Be Installed

The next regular Legion meeting will be Monday evening, August 12, at 8. Officers for the coming year will be installed. There will be a business meeting after installation. Lorain Collins and Wayne Riggs are on the refreshment committee.

The annual picnic for Legion members and their wives, and Legionette members and their husbands, will be at the Legion building Tuesday, August 13, at 6:30 p. m. Dinner and entertainment are being arranged by the Legion.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Lambert entertained their nephew and family, Mr. and Mrs. George Nickell, of Union City, Indiana, last week.

Luella Beeman is spending this week with her sister and family, the Cartys, at Waterloo.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Yocum of Ypsilanti and mother, Mrs. Vere Yocum, of Stockbridge, attended a convention for the State Farm Insurance Co. at Toronto, Ontario, Canada, last week.

Millville Church Honors Former Circuit Pastor

More than 150 assembled at Millville Methodist church Sunday morning to honor Rev. Richard E. Bachus, former pastor of the Ingham Circuit Methodist churches. Rev. Bachus celebrated his 55th anniversary as a minister. For 8 years he served the communities surrounding Northwest Stockbridge, Millville and Vantown churches.

During the worship service the congregation unanimously adopted a resolution proposed by John Graf that Rev. Bachus be elected minister emeritus of the circuit. Rev. Frank B. Cowick, present pastor, preached on the subject "Journey Without Ending."

A potluck dinner was served in the church fellowship hall in the afternoon where friends of Rev. Bachus gathered to extend congratulations and best wishes. There were 150 attending. The honored guest received a Helms picture and a purse of money.

Mrs. Burl Belferly of Dansville was chairman of the committee planning the event.

Accompanying Rev. Bachus from Chelsea were his wife and Rev. and Mrs. Herbert Hiehus. Two of the Bachus' 4 children attended from Flint as did Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Speck, who began their ministry in the Salvation Army in 1902 with Rev. Bachus.

Guests were also present from Stockbridge, Munith, Dansville, Plainfield, Webberville, Williams-ton, Lansing and Detroit.

Shower Honors Recent Bride

Stockbridge Couple Wed On Thrice Celebrated Day

Bouquets of blue and white mums and delphiniums decorated the altar of St. Mary's Catholic church at Pinckney when Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dwight Basore of Stockbridge. The couple made August 1 even more eventful in the Basore family when they married on his parents' 25th wedding anniversary, which was also the birthday anniversary of the bridegroom and his mother.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde McCleer of Gregory. Mr. and Mrs. David Basore of Stockbridge are parents of the bridegroom.

The double-ring ceremony was witnessed by 250 relatives and friends of the couple. Miss Nellie Gardner played traditional wedding selections. Vocal renditions were given by St. Mary's choir.

Nylon organ by Skinner satin fashioned the bride's wedding gown. Bands of imported Venetian lace in a daisy pattern over tucks detailed her dress. The fitted bodice was finished with a Sabrina neckline and short shirred sleeves. Her cap of organza and Venetian lace daisies outlined in pearls held in place her finger-veil of imported silk illusion. She carried a cascade bouquet of shattered carnations and stephanotis with ivy.

White wedding bells, white candles and pink and white streamers decorated the home for the occasion. Gifts were placed under a decorated parasol. Miss Wheeler assisted in serving cake and punch.

THEATRE HITS

ARCADE

Tarzan and the Lost Safari Sunday and Monday

Tarzan, the handsome, athletic and indomitable jungle man, veteran of a score of adventure films produced since 1918, is seen in color for the first time and the result is an above-average adventure picture which should delight the youngsters and action devotees. Gordon Scott, in his second Tarzan portrayal, proves a handsome, brawny specimen who should attract women patrons, as he does the two attractive girls in the cast. Filmed in Africa, with its lush foliage and scenery and its shots of lions, elephants, giraffes and other jungle beasts—the best of its kind—"King Solomon's Mines." The screenplay is brought up-to-the-minute by cranking a luxury plane with its 5 passengers in the heart of the jungle, where they are rescued by Tarzan, who saves them from the machinations of a British ivory trader as well as Oparian savages.

Mary Fickett, Malcolm Brodick and Bing Crosby in a scene from Sol C. Siegel's M-G-M film "Man on Fire." It will be at the Fox beginning Thursday.

LUCON

The Curse of Frankenstein Starts Thursday

Warner Brothers' The Curse of Frankenstein opens at the Lucon theatre today. The haunting tale of horror was filmed in Warner Color for added blood-chilling realism and stars Peter Cushing, Hazel Court, Robert Urquhart and Christopher Lee as the creature.

The Curse of Frankenstein concerns the terror-reign of a creature created by mad genius Baron Frankenstein, which in appearance is unlike anything ever previously seen on the screen. The makeup artistry reportedly surpasses the early horror masks created by Lon Chaney.

Jimmy Sangster wrote the screenplay and Terence Fisher directed. Michael Carreras was executive producer for the Warner Bros. presentation.

The White Squaw Thurs., Fri. and Sat.

An unusual and thrilling story of frontier heroism is reportedly told in Columbia Pictures' The White Squaw, starring David Brian, May Wynn and William Bishop. Brian is seen as a violent Indian-hating land baron; Miss Wynn plays the title role, that of a beautiful half-white Indian girl who braves the fury of both redskin and white to save the lands of her people and the life of her white sweetheart, Bishop.

FOX

Tammy and the Bachelor Sun., Mon. and Tues.

Somewhat the world seems a little brighter and a little lighter after getting acquainted with this uninhibited doll from a houseboat on the Mississippi, brought to life on the screen by Debbie Reynolds in a delightfully piquant performance in Tammy and the Bachelor. Teamed with Leslie Nielsen, an exciting new male star who adds brilliance to the Technicolor and CinemaScope romantic comedy, Debbie romps (mostly barefoot) triumphantly through the swiftpaced story of a child of the woods facing for the first time the perils, puzzles and romantic hazards of the so-called "life of the city."

Helping her along the riotous route are magnificent performances by co-stars Walter Brennan, as a foxy Grandpa; Mala Powers, a too-sophisticated so-

Day Camp at Portage Lake Will Close Play Program

Mason's summer recreation program will be brought to a close next Thursday with a day camp at Big Portage lake in the Waterloo recreation area.
Youngsters will be transported to the lake by school buses, leaving Steele Street and Jefferson Street school playgrounds at 9 in the morning. There will be swimming in the afternoon at the lake.
After the picnic lunch there will be races and games for all ages, topped off by an afternoon swimming period. Buses are scheduled to leave the lake for arrival in Mason by 5.
Children who plan to attend the day camp must register not later than Wednesday, at Mason playgrounds. Those who go will have to provide their own lunches. Cost of the trip is 20c, which includes picnic beverage, dessert, and dressing facilities at the beach. The entire recreation staff will be on duty at the outing.
In competition last week 4 championships were decided, Dick Simpson in checkers, Mary Clipp

Collection of Dog Taxes Leads to Raccoon Case

There's another battle of Bunker Hill which the textbooks don't cover. The present ruckus is over the collection of dog taxes and the assessment of a $20 fine for harboring a raccoon.
Alfred L. Marsh, Haynes road, is protesting his fine of $20 for having a wild animal in captivity without securing a permit.
The raccoon angle comes in later.
In his rounds to collect dog licenses Robert Everett of Lansing called at a Bunker Hill farm home. There were 2 unlicensed dogs there and the license fees were collected, according to Clay Hulet, county dog warden. At that place it was learned that 4 dogs were being kept by Marsh.
Marsh had paid licenses on 2 dogs, according to Hulet, but the license tags had not been affixed to the dog collars, he said. Hulet's report also set forth that there were 2 stray dogs at the Marsh place.
At the Marsh place the next day, Hulet said, Marsh and Everett had a lengthy discussion over collection of dog licenses, the discussion growing heated.
A daughter, Myrna Marsh, had been given a young raccoon by

Okemos Man Dies in Chicago

Aron Powell, 79, died of a heart attack last Wednesday at Central Baptist home in Chicago, Illinois. Mr. Powell spent his entire life in the Okemos area until 2 years ago when he entered the Baptist home.
Survivors include brothers, Jacob of Lansing and David of Williamston. Their parents were Leonard and Elizabeth Powell, who lived on the Powell farm on Powell road.
Burial was in Chicago.

Onondaga 4-H Tour Is Family Affair

Twelve families, mama, papa and all the kids, were on hand Saturday for the tour of Onondaga Community Farmers 4-H club. Sixty-five attended the event which began at 5:30 at the Burton Baldwin farm, where Burton, Jr., showed his garden. Other gardens visited belonged to Myron Bodell, John Mumby and Gerald Noe. Beef animals were shown by Bill Byrum and Richard Byrum, Jr., Rexanna and George Beaumont and Gerald Noe. Larry Todd showed his dairy calf at the Mont Hayward farm and Eugene Isham and Robert Emens also showed their dairy animals. Martha Isham showed her chickens. Neil Barr showed rabbits and Larry Mentink showed his pig.

KENNETH PERRINE'S Corriedale sheep was all slicked up to show to fellow members of Onondaga Community Farmers when they visited projects Saturday. Kenneth is the 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Deane Emens. Clarence Puffenberger, who was on the tour, gave a demonstration on fitting and showing sheep, using Kenneth's Corriedale.

After the tour the group gathered at Onondaga town hall for a potluck supper. Mrs. Gale McMichael was chairman for the tour and supper and Donald Todd was assistant. M. H. Avery, county agricultural agent, was a special guest.

Bill Byrum, club president, was master of ceremonies. The program included demonstrations by 3 food preparation project members. Diane Gray, first year member, gave a demonstration on table setting and Max Martin, first year member in the boys food preparation group, mixed a cool beverage.

Yvonne Childs and Janet Bodell prepared a fruit dish for second year demonstration and Marlene Beaumont, third year, demonstrated salad-making.

Mrs. Dee K. Smith is community leader. Assisting her in food preparation project leaders are Mrs. Ward Lentz, Mrs. Robert Mohr, Mrs. Gale McMichael and Rexanna Beaumont. Leaders for livestock are Richard Byrum, Rex Beaumont, Don Todd, Deane Emens and Don Barr. Robert Mohr is vegetable garden leader and Don Barr leads the photography project.

Former Resident Dies in Lansing

Thomas F. Batterberry, 84, died Monday morning at his home on Teel avenue, Lansing. He moved to Michigan 20 years ago from North Dakota, lived at Mason from 1940 to 1948, then moved to Lansing.
Survivors include the widow, Mary Ellen; a son, Lloyd, at home; and daughters, Mrs. Edward McDonald of Mason, Mrs. Peter Milo of Lansing and Mrs. Eldon Longstreth of Denver, Colorado.
Rosary services were conducted Tuesday evening at Palmer-Bush funeral home in Lansing and the funeral was at St. Mary cathedral Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock. Fr. Gerald F. Boyer officiated at the requiem mass. Burial was in St. Joseph cemetery, Lansing.
Palbearers were grandsons, Thomas McDonald, Dennis McDonald, Michael O'Byrne, Norman Dolbee, Vernon Hodge and Bernard Hope.

Spanish-Speaking Children Complete Summer Program

Children of migrant workers have completed the second annual summer program at St. James church in Mason.

Thirty-nine of the children made their first holy communion Sunday. Thirty-five were Spanish-speaking children.

There were 125 children in regular attendance for the 2½-hour afternoon session daily for 5½ weeks, June 20 through July 28. They were transported to St. James by bus and cars and came from Mason, Leslie, Eaton Rapids, Charlotte, Holt, Plainfield and Stockbridge. Sixty-eight per cent of the children in attendance were from migrant worker families.

The Monday through Friday program consisted of both catechism and recreation, and was prepared and supervised by Fr. Paul DeRose, Fr. James Lee, Fr. William McKeon and Sister M. Jane de Chantel, O. P., Sister M. Catherine Patricia, O. P., and Sister Marie Arlene, O. P.

Dean at State Dies of Cancer

Cancer claimed the life of Dean Chester F. Clark, 58, director of Michigan State university's college of veterinary science Sunday.
Dean Clark was scheduled to retire September 1 because of his physical condition. He had been dean of the college since 1951, and a professor at Michigan State since 1929. From 1946 to 1948 he was state veterinarian.
Dr. Clark was graduated from Michigan State and became widely recognized as an authority on cattle diseases. He did extensive research in brucellosis.

He was a resident of East Lansing for 30 years. He was a member of Edgewood Peoples church and the East Lansing Kiwanis club. He served in the military during World War I.
A widow, 2 sons and a daughter survive.

Rental Ad Almost Broke Her Phone

Twenty calls from a rental ad in last week's Ingham County News saved the deal up for Mrs. Mae Walters of Mason.
Mrs. Walters advertised to rent a 4-room house 3 miles from Mason at $30 a month. The telephone almost rang itself off the hook. The success story of Mrs. Walters points up the fact that this is the time to use News want ads. People are anxious to buy or rent what you have to offer. And if you're in need of something, a News want ad usually finds it for you — quickly!

Many of the parishioners volunteered to drive or offered their cars to provide transportation for the children to and from school. Several members of the Altar Society made veils for the first communicants.
Those generous with their time in helping make the program a success were Mrs. Leo Allaire, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Beratta, Mrs. Victor Borejka, Mrs. Victor Brenner, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Guerrero, Mrs. Richard Hayhoe, Mrs. Edwin Kehe, Mrs. Harold Laws, Mrs. Donald Lehman, Mrs. Max McCann, William Manning, Mrs. William Meier, Mrs. Thomas Moore, Mrs. William Parsons, Mrs. Frank Schmidt, Mrs. Tony Simone, Jerome Tomlian, John

Peck Girls Make Notes On Year's Happenings

I guess 1957 will be a year easy to remember. Certain things stand out. It is full, so far, of many interesting things.

We've encouraged the girls to write down happenings in a notebook that seem noteworthy. Susy is a gal after my own heart (though she looks so much like her dad). She injects a bit of what she "thinks" in addition to bare facts.
What a 10-year-old thinks about some of the goings-on of her family, relatives and friends is revealing, fascinating. It would pay mothers well to take a look-see into their children's thoughts now and then to see what's in there. Blank looks don't always mean blank thoughts. I must remember this the next time that Susy and I are "discussing" something.

With a twinkle in her eye she said, "Guess 100 years isn't so long. I thought it was quite short. You said that we would never live to see another centennial celebration but we've seen 4 already."

Kids pick up a lot of things that we don't think about. It makes me wonder how much they pick up that they keep in the back of their minds without talking over.

Our first centennial was in East Lansing at the college 2 years ago, followed the same summer by the one at Ithaca. Then last summer at St. Johns. The one at Elsie is now over leaving many pleasant memories. Centennial celebrations are lots of fun and work for a community. They make everyone friendlier towards each other, too.

The pageant was the best part. I hope no one in the vicinity missed it for it told the story of Elsie very well in addition to displaying the acting ability of over 100 people. I would like to mention some names but would not know where to start in or leave off.

Lack of Notice Upsets Zoning

Failure of the Williamstown officials to have amendments to the township zoning law published in a newspaper made rezoning of property on Sherwood road invalid. The decision was announced by Circuit Judge Louis E. Coash in Lansing Monday.
The zoning was changed from agricultural to residential and the limits of the lots were decreased.
Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Don Shirey and Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Reed brought suit, attacking the legality of the changes because of the failure of the zoning board and the town board to have notice of the changes published.
Members of the township board, the township itself and the Duncan Lumber Co. were defendants.

THE AMERICAN WAY

According to economists, Americans standard of living are the highest in the world—more wealth per capita, more modern conveniences, better food and better living generally. We who are dedicated to easing the burdens that come with death also know that our standards of memorialization are also the highest in the world—the most considerate, the most beautiful and the most enduring. We are proud to be a part of this profession and to live up to its highest ideals in "our service."

State Spends $63 Million On Mental Health this Year

By ELMER WHITE, Michigan Press Association. Michigan will spend $63,362,007 for mental health programs during the 1957-58 fiscal year.

The field always has been a battleground of controversy between Gov. Williams, who claims needs are not being met, and Republicans, who claim they are.

Republicans this year said the spending program for mental health will be $3,575,114 more than last year and places Michigan in a leading position in the country in mental health care.

Democrats reported that the mental health department would have to stop taking new patients at Northville state mental hospital and make other cutbacks if more money were not provided.

In their report, Republicans said the hospital received more than it did last year; that Hawthorn Center, at the hospital, will get $900,000, an increase of $260,000.

After conferences, the plan to stop taking new patients at Northville was dropped, without any more money forthcoming.

The legislature provided $1,578,000 for the Lafayette Center in Detroit, training location for psychiatrists. This is an increase of $278,000.

To further their program of "brains instead of bricks," legislators turned over $225,000 to the neuro-psychiatric institute at Ann Arbor for research into the causes and treatment of mental disorders.

In addition, the mental health department received $30,000 for research and was authorized to set up an $85,000 training program with the help of federal funds.

Republicans said they had added 579 new employees to the mental health system in 2 years.

A start was made on construction of a new hospital for mentally retarded children at Plymouth with an appropriation of $1,250,000. Total expansion will net more than 1,000 new beds.

The Republican legislative program was designed to treat and cure the mentally ill so they can return as quickly as possible to society—rather than being confined to our state institutions for lengthy periods of time," said House Speaker George M. Van Porseum (R-Zeeland).

"We have a mental health program we can be proud of."

Van Porseum, a legislative veteran who has risen to a top position of leadership, has been designated as the party's spokesman for the house.

Some party spokesmen indicate strongly that the young leader from Zeeland is a fast-rising star in partisan politics and could be tapped for higher state office—maybe, for governor.

It was Van Porseum's interim committee on labor which last summer exploded the battle over whether Gov. Williams' tax ideas were forcing business and industry out of Michigan.

The theory then, as now, was that business and industry are paying their limit in state taxes. Williams' proposed 6% corporation profits tax would tip the scales, they said.

The issue boiled along through the summer and fall, until industrial leaders, including Harlow Curtice, president of General Motors, publicly stated his position.

He said that his corporation is considering expansion in other states rather than in Michigan partly because of the tax structure.

Political experts saw the resulting uproar as the most damaging attack on Williams since he took office in 1949.

Whether or not it was, leaders of both parties are keeping in mind that Van Porseum was one of the early leaders in the fight.

What has happened to Van Porseum since has done nothing to dim his rising political star.

Michigan's new Democratic highway commissioner, John C. Mackie, has found himself bound by some of the commitments made by his predecessor, Charles M. Ziegler.

Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh ruled the day after Mackie took office July 1 that bond issue money raised for limited-access expressways cannot be diverted to any other purpose.

This was a legal blow to Mackie, whose platform was to start afresh with the new funds available in Michigan.

The net effect will force the new commissioner to finish many of the jobs already started by Ziegler—some of the projects under heavy criticism from Democrats.

Driver Is Hurt In Car Mishap

William F. Durfee, Jr., was taken to Foote hospital in Jackson Sunday morning after his car struck a tree at 12:45.

Durfee was driving on Fitchburg road, a quarter-mile east of US-127, when a right wheel of his car dropped off the blacktop. Durfee lost control and his car hit a tree. He was able to crawl out of the wreckage and reach the pavement.

The driver of another car took Durfee to a Leslie doctor's office. The doctor called an ambulance and the injured man was taken to the Jackson hospital. He had fractured his left arm. His knees were cut and there were chest injuries.

SUMMER, 1957—Lightning rips the skies over Denver, Colo., in this time exposure of a brilliant display of celestial fireworks. The picture typifies the conditions that will sear the stormy summer of 1957 into the memories of millions of Americans.

Your acquaintance with cemeteries is limited.

But I found out that cemeteries are the subject of many laws. There are laws that deal with the establishment and regulation of cemeteries. Other laws deal with the rights of lot owners. Still other laws make it a crime to desecrate or trespass on a grave or a cemetery.

The whole subject seems a little bit grisly but, you know, all of us have a certain personal interest in the subject, don't we?

Looking into this subject I found that a cemetery is not created merely by the use of land for the burial of the dead, but is created by the act of setting the ground apart for the burial of the dead, marking it and distinguishing it from the adjoining ground as a place of burial. As far as I can find out you can have a cemetery without anybody being buried there.

Of course, burial is a right, subject to the control of the legislature; and before a cemetery can be established, the approval of the local board of health must be obtained.

Often cities or townships establish cemeteries, but the legislature has also provided for the organization of cemetery corporations. These corporations carry on their business by a board of trustees and the members of the corporation are persons owning a right of burial in ground controlled by the corporation.

You know, that unless the doctors keep folks living forever, there is going to be a constant demand for space.

Republican Club Arranges Picnic

Ingham County Young Republicans have set Wednesday, August 7, as the date for their annual picnic. It will be at Ferguson park in Okemos. Serving of food will begin at 6:45.

The program includes games for all, both before and after the supper. There will be no speeches. Making up the committee are Bud and Dottie Doane, Jack and Marie Frayer and Joe and Joyce Marks.

Director Will Travel

Donald Greenaway, director of Michigan State university's school of hotel, restaurant and institutional management, will visit Austria this fall as a trade adviser for the U. S. department of commerce. Purpose of the trip will be to acquaint Austrian officials with American business methods.

Nurses Will Get Diplomas At Gathering in Detroit

One hundred seventy-one student nurses, representing the 6 educational branch units of the Mercy School of Nursing of Detroit, will receive their diplomas at graduation exercises in the Henry and Edsel Ford auditorium on Saturday afternoon, August 3, at 3.

The Reverend Clement J. Esper, chaplain at Mt. Carmel Mercy hospital, will preside over the ceremonies. The commencement address will be given by the Reverend John F. Finnegan, pastor of St. Patrick's church, Detroit. The presentation of candidates will be made by Sister Mary Valentina, RSN, the executive director of the Mercy School of Nursing. Honors will be conferred by the Most Reverend Henry E. Donnelly, auxiliary bishop of Detroit.

Ingham Vo-Ag Instructors Attend Conference at MSU

Ingham vocational agriculture instructors are at Michigan State university this week attending an annual Michigan conference. New developments in agricultural research are the major topics of the meeting which began Monday and continue through Friday.

Attending from Ingham are Leon Alger, Mason; Gerritt Wheaton, Dansville; Russell Miller, Leslie; Roland Coon, Okemos; Donovan Cronkrite, Stockbridge; Conrad Seare, Webberville; and William Drake, Williamston.

Other topics include Michigan FFA activities, fat stock schools, methods of teaching farm mechanics, public relations and communications within the school and community.

An annual highlight will be the presentation of awards for 5, 10, 20 and 30 years of service to vocational agriculture.

More than 250 teachers of vocational agriculture, superintendents, principals, directors of vocational education and teachers of institutional on-farm training are expected at Kellogg Center.

3 from Mason Win Diplomas

Among the 434 graduates from Western Michigan university at Kalamazoo Thursday night are Ava L. DeCamp, Mrs. Pomala Shoemaker and Connie Washburn.

All 3 are receiving bachelor of science degrees in education.

Miss DeCamp is graduating cum laude. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd DeCamp. Mrs. Shoemaker is librarian at Mason high school. Miss Washburn is the daughter of Mrs. Floyd Mitchell of Dansville.

August Is Time To Seed Lawn

If you are planning to seed a lawn, August is the time to do it according to C. M. Harrison of the farm crops department of Michigan State university.

The usual dry weather of August helps in weed control and makes the soil easier to prepare. A high nitrogen fertilizer such as 12-6-6, 10-6-4 or 10-10-10 should be applied at 15-25 lbs per 1,000 sq. ft. and then the seed bed should be finished out smooth.

One to 2 lb of seed will cover 1,000 sq. ft. August 15 to September 1 is the best time, just before the fall rains.

Harrison suggests the seed be allowed to germinate and start growing before water is applied but after it is started the seedlings should not be allowed to wilt.

Later seeding does not allow enough growth and winter killing will result. The good grasses take more time to establish but a little patience will produce a better lawn.

The Garden City Shooting

There were 2 adjacent headlines in Detroit newspapers Saturday.

One was about the calling of Harlow Curtice, president of General Motors, before a congressional panel to answer questions about defense contracts. The other was about the shooting of Mayor James Tierney of Garden City.

There's a parallel in the 2 stories, although no one believes Harlow Curtice will pack a gun when he goes before the committee, if he goes.

The parallel is that in both cases a man who has been successful in business finds himself pilloried by politicians, many of whom never made a dime for themselves except from public office.

Lester Ellerhorst has apparently worked hard in his construction business. He bore a good reputation. Then came the election of a personal enemy to the office of mayor. The mayor and other city officials held up payment of money Ellerhorst claimed to be due his firm. The mayor and other city officials intimated that Ellerhorst had been dishonest. They did not make their charges in court. They made them in council meeting; in the press.

Washington politicians have made no formal charges against Curtice or General Motors. The justice department has brought no suit. The congressional committee, made up of politicians who want to paw through General Motors records without going through court to gain permission, are intimating that something is wrong.

Big Business and Little Business are too often the whipping boys for politicians. The politicians realize they can make headlines by casting reflections and suspicion against men and firms of good repute. There are a few days of the hue and cry on front pages for the charges, and there's usually a few lines over in the back of the paper when the charges are proved groundless.

Ellerhorst should be prosecuted for his shooting of the Garden City mayor. Yet part of the blame must rest with the politicians who goaded him into desperation.

The Way to Stop Bleeding

There are many new drugs on the market to stop bleeding.

People whose hearts have been bleeding over the plight of Michigan state ferry workers at the Straits whose jobs will disappear with the opening of the bridge need take no drugs. A trip across the Straits should stop the bleeding.

The skilled navigators and other rated men aboard the ferries will find no difficulty getting other jobs. They have traveled alongside the bridge during its construction and have realized that the ferries won't be operating much longer. They'll find other profitable berths on the lakes.

Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie has engaged 2 employment consultants to map re-employment plans for the deck hands and dock workers. Those 2 experts are studying the situation. They should have been studying Friday. The St. Ignace dock was ankle-deep in litter. Dock workers were uncivil to travelers. On the trip to Mackinaw City the deck hands gathered behind the bridge deck. Those not seated leaned on swabs and brooms. They talked loud and long, not about their future but about last night. They dispersed only minutes before the ship was berthed. Two men on the dock managed to get to their feet long enough to grab and fasten mooring lines and then they slumped to the dock again to await the next ship.

Any re-employment plans for the unskilled labor on Mackinaw City and St. Ignace docks and on the ferries should include rocking chairs.

Coal Industry Blocks Gas Import

Western Canada is producing far more natural gas than Canadian markets can now take.

Canadians want to sell that gas to the north central United States. There are many residents of that area, and industries, too, needing the gas. They now rely on coal, and it is expensive coal because of distance from the mines. The coal industry in the United States has launched an extensive propaganda and lobbying campaign to kill expansion of Canada's natural gas into the United States.

Trans-Canada Pipe Lines wants to sell gas to the Tennessee Gas Transmission Co., delivered by a line from Winnipeg to the international boundary. The U. S. coal industry is bending every effort to block the importation. Leading the fight is Congresswoman Elizabeth Kee, West Virginia Democrat. Twice she has intervened with the federal power commission to ban the importation.

Canadians didn't put the gas into the ground anymore than the coal and oil industries of the United States did on this side of the border. That coal and the gas and oil were provided by God in His scheme of things. He didn't put them there for the benefit of business barons or labor leaders. They were put there for the benefit of all people.

Selfishness of the U. S. coal industry and politicians from mining states should not be permitted to block the use of Canadian gas this side of the border.

Calm During the Storm

School representatives from Mason, Aurelius Center, Bullen, Barnes, Kipp, Wilcox, Hubbard, Eden, Pollok and Rolfe are using good judgment as they seek to solve the school annexation question.

The delicate situation could well scar the Mason community should cool deliberation be replaced by wild accusations and personal affronts. Such a situation did develop in Grand Ledge.

Rural school districts and Grand Ledge feuded over the admittance of tuition students to the high school and a supreme court decision was necessary to decide the issue. Quarreling during the hassle will make the Grand Ledge school district simmer for years to come.

There are 2 sides to the annexation question in Mason — as there were in Grand Ledge. Yet, those involved in the annexation of the 9 districts to Mason seem to recognize their responsibilities to preserve community relationships. Nothing to date has been said or done which would endanger inter-district friendships.

School district representatives seem to be making an honest effort to smooth their difficulties. Regardless of the outcome of the Mason district request that area districts annex, it seems certain there will be no community strife.

School pride is near to religious belief in the hearts of free people. Altering school district formations is apt to cause heated discussions. School representatives in the Mason districts have already proved themselves up to the occasion.

Down by the SYCAMORE

Maps in circulation here in the Sycamore valley show there are 2 sides to Lake Huron. What does the lake look like on the other side, I'd often wondered. An expedition was fitted out and on Sunday night it returned, burdened with souvenirs, beliefs, opinions and even some convictions.

Lake Huron is even pronounced differently in Ontario. There the accent is on the final syllable. The lake itself looks about the same in Ontario as it does in Michigan, except that Ontario has twice as much shoreline as Michigan, because of Georgian Bay. There are still many miles of Lake Huron shore unoccupied and therefore unspoiled in Ontario. There are many good beaches. Ontario roads are good. Ontario taste is excellent. There are few billboards hiding beauty spots. There are no liquor joints or beer parlors.

A trip off the beaten Windsor-Toronto path is rewarding. It brings out interesting bits of history which U. S. historians generally fail to cover.

Owen Sound is now celebrating its 100th anniversary. That's 20 years behind the schedule for most of Michigan. Many of the early settlers in that section of Ontario crossed over from New York to buy land cheaper than was offered in Michigan.

Here in the United States we are taught that the Declaration of Independence was almost unanimous. A lot of people didn't want any and moved north across the border to Canada. Even into and through the War of 1812 there was a steady movement of U. S. citizens into Ontario. One entire community of Pennsylvania Dutch took their goods and settled a big and mighty productive area northeast of Toronto.

Discount by 99 1/2% tales that Canadians don't like U. S. citizens. In every transaction conducted Canadians explained that they regretted the necessity of discounting U. S. dollars due to U. S. inflation. On small purchases the discounts were waived. Canadians didn't even point out that on the American side their own higher-valued currency often is not accepted at the premium to which it is entitled.

Don't stay out of Canada because of the exchange rate. Food prices there are enough cheaper to more than offset the exchange.

Heading north from Sarnia over Queen's Highway 21, the eastern shore of Lake Huron is skirted all the way to Port Elgin and beyond. There the route swings east across the base of Bruce Peninsula to Owen Sound. That's no frontier settlement. The older part of the bustling city of 20,000 nestles in a valley. Clean streets are lined with solid and comfortable brick homes, all heartily white flowers, and shrubs. The fringe of modernistic houses around the rim of the valley is in marked contrast to the beauty of the older city.

Giant maples line Owen Sound streets. The maple leaf is the national symbol.

Bruce Peninsula is a rock-strewn pasture with few cultivated fields. There are many herds of beef cattle, some with Durham breeding. On either side of Queen's Highway 6, which goes up the middle of the peninsula, are bays and beaches. On the west is Lake Huron, on the east is Georgian Bay.

On the end of the peninsula is Tobermory. There's ferry service between Tobermory and Manitoulin island. It's a pleasant 3-hour journey by big ships of the Owen Sound Transportation Co. There's good food aboard and it's served in style and at a reasonable price.

On Manitoulin many of the big houses and barns stand abandoned as younger people have taken off for the mines or for the manufacturing cities in London, Hamilton, Toronto, Windsor and Oshawa, or in the burgeoning Canadian Soo. Those who have left have abandoned a way of life that must have been idyllic. There's great fishing off the shores and in the many inland lakes. There are sections of the island where big herds of beef cattle and sheep graze. There's also a pulp wood industry, and from Little Current north to Espanola (Junction of 68 and 17) the scenery will match in grandeur any section anywhere else in the world.

Prospectors have struck copper and uranium on the mainland and some of the beauty of the countryside is being sacrificed. Used car and house trailer dealers from far away (some even from Toronto) have followed the prospectors and their locations are far from pretty. Maybe it's functional.

St. Joseph Island is another idyllic situation left for the old folks as the young men leave for the mines and the Soo. People take time to live on St. Joseph, an island of 97,000 acres, about 3 1/2 U. S. townships. There's a dairy industry there, sleek Guernseys and Holsteins giving milk for Canadians at the Soo.

It's a 2-hour drive from St. Joseph Island to the Canadian Soo, and the traffic is fast, almost furious.

Motels are numerous and reasonable in Canada. Tenting is on the primitive side. There's no place anywhere that offers tourists such camping facilities as Michigan, people said who had come from California, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Iowa. Our party camped at Brimley and Harrisville.

On any northern trip take along more blankets than you think you'll need.

At an information booth at Goderich, Ontario, the attendant said some Mason people had been along the day before. She turned to the register. There were the names of Dr. and Mrs. Ross Lethbridge.

We traded wampum for pemmican with the Saugeen tribe. They asked to be remembered to one of their kinsmen, George Muskegon, they called him. He goes here by the name of George MacKichan.

At Tobermory the motel price is governed by the distance between the cabin and the central toilet. We took a gamble which paid off handsomely. We occupied the 2 most distant cabins.

Canadians have a quaint way of putting cream into ice cream. . . . On Great Cloche island is a bronze marker heralding the fact that "Franklin DeLano Roosevelt fished these waters prior to the Quebec Conference, August 1-8, 1943." Somebody provides fresh flowers for it. . . . Don't call a spade in the rock country of Ontario. Any spade which can be used there is of iron, not steel, and it weighs about 3 times as much as an American spade.

There are many miles of rail fences on Manitoulin island and many of the fences are in good enough shape to turn sheep as well as cattle. In 5 hours of driving about the island just one hog was found. . . . There's an Indian reservation on Manitoulin, away from the farming section, in the pulpwood district.

Residents of the Soo, both sides, get their TV programs from Toronto unless they have 75-foot aerials. With the high aerials they can get lower Michigan stations.

Milk from Green Bay, Wisconsin, is retailed in the American Sault stores. . . . Kinross air force base has developed new business at Kinross and Rudyard. . . . The 45th parallel is well marked south of Alpena. The marker informs tourists they are exactly halfway between the equator and the north pole.

At Brimley, where we arrived late, Russell Shobrook of the Soo insisted on us taking his picnic table for our own. . . . A few days later a New York tourist gave me a 2-way ride when I had forgotten to look at the gasoline gauge and was marooned in Fresque Ile county. . . . George Conklin is doing big business at his sports shop on the northern edge of Rogers City.

Senators Potter and McNamara are demanding federal aid for Alcona county blueberry pickers, and Governor Williams is expected to appoint a committee. A May freeze killed the entire crop.

Take a look at the Michigan shore of Lake Huron quick. It is disappearing. It is in the clutches of real estate operators—a shame which should shock all Michigan, but it probably won't.

Dr. George A. Bauer has hung out his shingle at Standish. It's a pretty shingle and he's doing good business. A dentist would probably say that he's enjoying a good practice.

Western Weather Bucks the Farmers

Now the northeastern part of the country is suffering from a withering drought. The southwestern plains area, for several years drying up for lack of moisture, now has an overabundance of rain. Wheat yields have been cut down, particularly in Kansas. But grass is growing on the plains and livestock producers are building up their herds again.

The parched eastern area stretched from the Carolinas to Maine. The New England states have so far taken the worst beating, with southern New York, New Jersey, Virginia and Maryland suffering severe damage. In some areas rainfall this year has been 60% below normal; drought conditions are described as the worst since 1930.

Iowa may regain its long-held title of main corn producing state this year. Illinois has been beating Iowa out of first place in recent years. Drought and hail cut Illinois output last summer and heavy rains at the wrong time hurt this year's crop. Currently it appears that Iowa may have a crop of about 837 million bushels to the Prairie state's 430 million.

The new crop of spring pigs is starting to move to market in sizable volume; early shipment of light hogs means current shortages of hogs under 220 lb will be over earlier than usual this summer.

Hog raising, like practically every other aspect of farming, has changed greatly since World War II. Before the war it was rare to find many spring pigs in July and August markets. Now fairly good volume of these lighter weights can be expected in early summer months. Many of these lighter hogs would bring higher prices, naturally, if they were heavier, but the problem for farmers to figure out is whether holding lightweight pigs to put on 25-50 lb more would pay. Corn is cheap and the feed ratio is excellent, now running about 15.8:1. Apparently many farmers figure it's best to take advantage of present market prices rather than chance prices holding long enough for them to add the additional weight to put the pigs up into desired choice condition.

The poultry and egg situation is developing about the way many observers figured it would a few months ago. The egg price trend will be upward through next fall. Prices for turkeys and broilers are expected to show weakness during the next few months.

Production of egg-type chicks the first 6 months of 1957 was down 20% from the same period a year ago. Chicks hatched for broiler production in the first 6 months increased 3% over a year ago.

Poultry people say the decline will be more than usual if egg supplies during the last half of this year and into 1958 help to strengthen prices farmers get. Broiler prices face a more uncertain future. Broiler production continues above a year ago and consumer demand is expected to weaken seasonally. As we've reported recently, turkey prices face rough going because of the heavy output again this year and also because of heavy storage stocks on hand.

What to do about feed grains has farm officials and leaders in congress stumped. USDA economists say a feed grain acreage cut of 25% is needed to balance total supply with demand.

More than 60% of all farm income comes from the sale of feed grains, directly or through livestock and poultry products. Two-thirds of all crop acres are devoted to feed grains, hay and sorghums.

There is some belief now that corn and other feed grains should be put into one program. A bold plan including drastic production controls is needed. Some think farmers will accept tight controls if price supports are high. If production can be controlled within reason, feed grain prices will be high and a price support program will cost the government relatively little. Such thinking doesn't fit in with Secretary Benson's ideas and it could be assumed that the administration would stand pat against such proposals for higher supports and tighter controls.

Revived interest in the old soil depleting acreage base concept, both in congress and among USDA officials, is reported. It's been discussed in connection with the soil bank under the label of a "soil bank acreage," but the idea is the same. No payments unless the farmer keeps his total acreage of cultivated soil-depleting crops within a base limit.

MISCELLANY . . . A full-scale congressional inquiry into the rising cost of living may be made this fall . . . A broad "check-off" system on farm marketings to raise funds for self-help farm programs may be proposed at a coming meeting of farm organiza-

Sheep Need Lots of Salt

It is easy to forget to keep phenothiazine salt before sheep at all times during the summer months, according to Graydon Blank of MSU. He says for the best control of parasites salt should be kept before them all the time and that no other form of salt or ready mixed mineral which contains a large percentage of salt should be made available to the flock.

If other salt is available, sheep will not eat sufficient amounts of the phenothiazine. He also adds that if minerals such as calcium are needed they should be fed separate from the phenothiazine salt mixture.

Trace mineral salt is the best because it contains certain minerals such as iodine and cobalt which are needed only in small amounts and are conveniently supplied by this salt. The salt should be in a covered container in the field where the sheep are readily accessible, he said.

Meat Prices May Improve

Brighter price outlook is developing for Ingham livestock producers, reports County Agricultural Agent M. H. Avery.

According to farm economists at Michigan State University, cold storage stocks of all red meats is down sharply from a year ago.

At the same time demand for red meat should be stronger this fall because people have more money to spend and there are more mouths to feed. Disposable personal income is up by 5% and population by three million from this period last year, says Avery.

Many cattlemen in the Plains states have been encouraged by tions in Washington in a couple of weeks. National Milk Producers Federation is carrying the ball on the idea . . . Farm production this year may fall 4-5% below 1956, according to USDA, but weather conditions from now on could alter the forecast . . . Christmas trees may soon face federal grading. At the request of the National Christmas Tree Growers association, USDA has set up standards for judging trees: U. S. premium, U. S. No. 1, and U. S. No. 2. Presumably these standards would only serve as a price guide for both buyers and sellers.

Which Came First — Turtle or the Egg?

By Melvin Stroud, ASC Technician

Turtles are reptiles along with snakes, and like many other reptiles, reproduce their young from eggs. Some may argue, which came first the turtle or the egg? The turtle, male and female, probably came first. And the female turtle laid her eggs in a hole in the ground in the same manner as the one pictured.

The hole, or nest, is usually cone-shaped. It is about 4 inches in diameter at the top and larger at the bottom and 6 to 8 inches deep. In this hole the female turtle lays from 20 to 40 eggs at a time to be hatched by the heat of the sun. The eggs are about the same size as the yolk of a chicken egg, with a tough, white and soft shell. The eggs are searched out and eaten by hungry wild animals, such as, racoons and skunks.

This picture was taken in June at the Robert Meadley farm in Onondaga township. Turtles usually nest during June or early July allowing several weeks for incubation and hatching.

Adult snapping turtles usually weigh from 15 to 30 lb. The one pictured above weighed about 20 lb. These turtles are said to live 45 years or longer. Meadley estimates this one to be well over the half century mark.

The snapping turtle lives most of its life in water, however. It is forever bound to the land by the necessity of burying its eggs in the soil.

Improved pasture and are rebuilding their herds. This takes cattle away from the slaughter market and receipts of grass cattle will likely be lower than they were last year.

Marketings of all fed cattle this summer and early fall is expected to be larger than last year, he said. However, Michigan State econo-

Farmers Should Make Plans To Reseal Stored Corn Now

Farmers who have corn under Commodity Credit Corporation loans should not delay making their decisions about resealing it. G. H. Alehin, chairman of Ingham Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee, suggests.

Corn of the 1956 crop which is under CCC loan and stored on farms may be resealed and the loan extended for another year and loans on 1955-crop corn already under resale may be extended another year, he said. Purchase agreements on 1956-crop corn may also be converted into resale loans, Alehin declared.

Farmers who resale or extend their loans will hold the corn for another year instead of delivering it to the Commodity Credit Corporation this fall. The resale program is offered only in areas where safe storage of corn is feasible for another year, and where CCC needs additional storage to handle the expected price-support takeover of 1956 crops, he explained.

Alehin points out that under the corn price-support program farmers have 3 possible choices.

A farmer who has 1955- or 1956-crop corn stored on farms and under loan may redeem the loan and use the corn or sell it on the open market. Or, second, he may deliver the corn to the CCC in payment of the loan. Or, third, the farmer may resale the corn under an extended loan for another year.

Gas Tax Refund Claims Due Now

Now is the time for farmers to file for their gasoline tax refund. To receive a refund for the year ending June 30, 1957, claims must be filed on or before September 30, 1957.

Farmers can make claims for a refund on all gasoline bought and used on the farm.

MR. AND MRS. PERCY BARRETT and their 16-year-old daughter Nancy live on the mystery farm pictured in last week's issue of the Ingham County News. The Barrett farm is located at 5828 West Holt road, 3 1/2 miles west of Holt.

This dairy farm consists of 80 acres. The planted area is devoted to wheat, oats and corn but most of the crops are used in the raising of the dairy herd.

Barrett bought the farm in 1926 and has farmed it ever since. There are 2 older sons who do not live on the farm any longer: Garth, 41, who lives in East Lansing.

According to the rules of the contest the fifth person to correctly identify the mystery farm wins 2 subscriptions to the News. This week's winner was Mrs. Ralph Hart, Mason. The first 4 to correctly identify the Barrett farm were Charles Brown, Percy Barrett, Mrs. Henry Eggers and Mrs. Robert Reid.

Each week a new mystery farm is pictured to give the reader an opportunity to test his knowledge of the surrounding countryside.

Corn Silage Is Worth $200 If It Is Fed to Good Cattle

Corn silage can be worth up to $200 an acre when it produces yields of 18 to 19 tons per acre and is fed to quality beef cattle.

That's how Warren Huff, one of the hosts at this year's state farm management tour in Washtenaw county, figures he can make the best return from his 240 acres of crop land.

On the tour, to be held August 20, farmers will have a chance to see and hear more about the many new and different ideas Huff is using to make farming pay off.

According to John Doneth, extension farm management specialist at Michigan State University and chairman of the program at the Huff farm, Huff is aiming for this kind of return with silage by using a high-powered fertility and soil improvement program on a straight corn rotation.

Besides that, Huff is an experienced hand at feeding quality cattle and has some top-notch ideas about labor efficiency, says Doneth.

Huff has the capacity to turn out 1,000 head of fat cattle a year. He buys some shell corn to put on a choice to prime finish, but says the profits come from turning farm produced feed into marketable beef.

Feed handling on an operation of this size is a big job, but Huff is equipped to do it with the least possible effort. He uses a self-loading wagon to haul both silage and grain in one trip from the silo unloader to the feed bunk in his completely covered feed lot.

Huff prefers this system to a conveyor feed bunk directly from the silo because it gives him a chance to make more changes in his plans as he moves through the feeding period.

Huff has space to store 2,400 tons of silage in 6 upright silos and one bunker. This summer he will build another glass-lined silo which will be under construction on the day of the tour.

The keys to high yields of silage, according to Huff are plant population, fertility and soil structure. And he is taking advantage of all 3. Even with his straight corn rotation, Huff hopes to improve his soil and keep plowing, plenty of fertilizer and green manure. At planting time he tries to drop a kernel every 7 1/2 inches to hit about 20,000 plants per acre.

There's Still Time to Plant Cover Crop in Corn Fields

If you were unable to get a cover crop sown in your corn field before the last cultivation it is still not too late, according to M. H. Avery, county agricultural agent. It still may be

Build Soil Now For Next Crop

Now is the time to test soil to find out the lime and fertilizer needs for the next crop, according to M. H. Avery, county agricultural agent.

Most soils in Ingham county that have been tested in the cooperative extension laboratory show a need for lime for best results with legume crops of clover and alfalfa.

For best results the lime should be put on 6 months to a year before the crops for which it is needed. However, if it can be put on ahead of the fall wheat crop which may not be seeded until spring much of the acidity will be corrected in time for the spring seeding.

Since it may take several weeks to get the lime applied to the soil after making a request it is important to get the test made as soon as possible, Avery said.

Fertilizer is one of the cheapest ways to increase crop returns since it has not increased in cost as much as labor and machinery. Therefore it is important to know what analysis of fertilizer and the approximate number of pounds which will give best results on the land before planting.

When soil tests are taken in for lime and fertilizer recommendations the extension agents will write recommended fertilizer analysis following Michigan State University recommendations. These recommendations may save dollars in knowing what analysis will fit the soil or can increase the net returns from the crop.

The U. S. department of agriculture at the present time subsidizes lime practices by paying half or more of the cost of the lime.

put on by airplane method, he said.

A number of fields were sown with airplane in Ingham county last year and some in previous years.

In spite of the dry weather last year some of these fields came through with very good cover crops on which they were applied, Avery pointed out.

Eye is the best crop since it makes a good growth in the fall in the average year for fall pasture late in the season and again in the early spring as well as providing a cover crop and also a good manure crop to plow down for the crop which is to follow, Avery said. The cover crop, of course, will check erosion on sloping fields during the winter months.

Legumes such as sweet clover have been used as well as rye grass, but the Balbo rye has proved to be the most successful from all standpoints. Four to five pecks per acre is suggested and should be put on as soon as possible now since moisture conditions are good, he added.

The rye will add organic matter to the soil and increase yield of the succeeding crop. An important thing in the spring is to plow the rye under before it becomes too large, according to Avery. As rye grows, its protein content decreases and the amount of fiber increases thus making the plant increasingly resistant to decay. It therefore should be plowed under early in the spring when the plant is still in the grass stage and high in protein which will make nitrogen after plowing under, he said. Rye should be plowed under 2 weeks or more previous to corn or potato planting.

U. S. Mail Is Family Affair

By JIM BROWN

Spring mail just comes natural for the Palmer-Vogt clan. The appointment of George Vogt, Jr., as acting postmaster of Dansville postoffice came just 50 years after the appointment of Mrs. Vogt's (Patricia Palmer) grandmother as postmistress of Whitefish Point, Michigan. Mrs. Jennie House, still living in Whitefish Point, is the mother of Mrs. Victor Palmer. Mrs. Palmer's son is the Mason postmaster.

Versile Babcock and family reported a wonderful trip on their 7-day jaunt in their converted bus last week. Babs rebuilt a Suburban Lines omnibus, turning it into a living room on wheels. Fellow tourists were eager to inspect the conversion job and there were several offers to buy and rent, Babs reported.

What was feared by Babs to be the worst problem turned out to be a breeze. The Mason family had visions of being marooned in state parks and without means of driving to nearby towns for provisions. Babs said that at every state park they visited, neighboring tourists were anxious to transport the Babcock family (all 7) to town any time they wanted to go.

Ezra T. Benson, secretary of agriculture, has designated Ingham county as a disaster area because of the "heavy crop damage in the area due to excessive rains." The announcement makes it possible for farmers to receive federal assistance. There probably are hardship cases in the county as a result of excess water this summer, but certainly, few on the local scene would agree that the situation has reached disaster proportions. It's sort of like applying a plaster cast to a pin-prick when only a Band-Aid is necessary.

Max Benne Visits a Danish Fair

Editor's Note: Max Benne of Okemos is writing a series of articles for the Ingham County News about his experiences as an International Farm Youth Exchange representative in Denmark. He's spending the summer working on a Danish farm.

It's fair time in Denmark. The farm families here have been busy getting their cattle and produce ready for the long-awaited event.

I have been fortunate enough to attend 2 fairs so far. The first one was at Aarhus and the second at Aalborg.

I learned one thing about Danish fairs in rather an uncomfortable way. I dressed to go to the fair at Aarhus like I would in America, and I stood out quite conspicuously all day. The rest of the people wore dressed in their best clothes—the men and boys all wore suits and ties—stared curiously at my khaki pants and sport shirt. I should have known better because I haven't found any event yet that they have not dressed up for.

The Aarhus fair was a very large one with about 2,500 animals and a machinery display almost as large as the centennial display at MSU. It was fascinating to see the equipment from all over Europe and the USA. I for one had greatly underestimated the quantity and quality of European farm machinery.

The midway at the Aarhus fair would have been right at home at the Ingham county fair. There were the usual booths and rides and other opportunities to get rid of some money. One difference was that the refreshment stands all had footlong Danish pastries for sale. They are a strain on the will power to resist from eating too many.

I am enjoying the Ostergaard family very much and would like to tell you a little about them. Mr. and Mrs. Ostergaard are both very friendly and hospitable and are active in community affairs. It is rather hard on Mrs. Ostergaard not to be able to talk much with me. She likes to be friendly and talk a lot, so she talks to me even though she knows I can't understand much of it. Laurits is 22 and the oldest son. He was in the U. S. last year as an IFYE and stayed in Minneapolis and

New York. Egon is 20 and is a carpenter. He plans to emigrate to the United States next year. Vahn is 18 and is the herdsman on the home farm. Else is the only girl and is 12. She is helping at home during her summer vacation from school. Besides the members of the family there are 2 hired men, a maid, a Danish German girl and mex.

The Ostergaards have 60 hectares which is about 150 acres. They have 21 Red Danish milk cows and several Landrace sows. The house, although fairly old, is modern and well furnished, and has a lot of nice things in it all times. I plan to go into further detail on the farming and homes here after I have learned more.

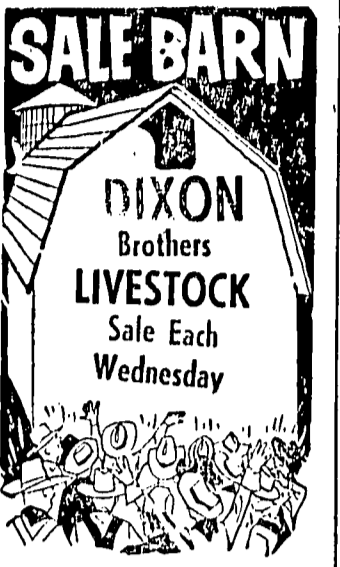

Life seems very normal here. There are the good times and also the usual small family disagreements. Else begged her big brother Egon all week to take her to the Aalborg Tivoli (a very nice amusement park). After saying "We will see" for a good many times, he agreed to take her and also me.

The whole family works hard and at a fast pace. Vahn gets up at 3:30 to have the cows milked in time for the milkman who comes at 6. He sleeps again for awhile in the morning and goes back to work at one p. m. The rest of the family gets up about 6 and eats breakfast in time to start work at 7. The work day usually ends about 6:30 in the evening. That is, it ends for the men. The hired men, who are up in time to have breakfast ready at 6:30 and work most of the day until evening coffee at 9 p. m. This work is considered part of her training so she will work here only until November.

Tomorrow I am going to visit a folk high school which should be very interesting. I will tell you about it in a future letter.

Well, I must go to evening coffee, so I'll say good-bye.

Hobbies Provide Interest Until Opening of School

By NORMAN BUNKER
Ingham County Librarian

What's your hobby? Is it a Scout or 4-H project or something that you have sort of stumbled into and liked? Whatever it is, do you realize that you have just 5 more weeks to ride it before school comes along to take up a big chunk of your time? If you have bogged down a bit, or even if you haven't, why not try the Ingham county library for something to give your project a bit more verve?

Bertha Parker's Golden Book of Science is a beautifully illustrated introduction to many fields of science. Most of you will want to explore farther in the Story of Rocks, by Dorothy Shuttlesworth, or Adventure Book of Trees, by Charlotte Howard. Bessie M. Hecht tells All About Snakes, and Michael H. Bevans pictures and describes many gorgeous specimens in the Book of Reptiles and Amphibians.

Amateur astronomers will find 3 new books. Comets by Herbert S. Zim, is especially interesting since so many had a chance to see one last spring. The author tells a lot of the things astronomers think may be true about comets as well as the known facts. Ruth Adler's The Stars: Stepping Stones into Space is for older readers. It is not an identification guide to the constellations but rather an explanation of how astronomers work. Another book for older amateurs is The Stars by Clock and Fist, by Henry M. Neely, which explains a novel method of finding the various heavenly bodies.

Other people watch the sky for hints about the weather. If you are one of these, Rose Wylers' First Book of Weather will give you a good explanation of what causes various weather conditions and of how modern weather forecasters work. Boys and girls and grown-ups, too, who have discovered the fascination of the insect world will want to read Robert S. Lemmon's All About Moths and Butterflies. By the way, if you haven't yet dipped into the All About books, they are not identification guides but chatty, informal discussions with plenty of drawings to help explain the reading. Alice Gray's Adventure Book of Insects is also discussion with much more emphasis on collection and identification.

There is one very interesting, specialized insect book, The Makers of Honey, by Mary Geisler Phillips. She starts with the cave man's drawing of a man taking honeycomb from a crack in a cliff and ends with a hive of bees in your backyard. It's a honey of a story in more ways than one.

All About the Flowering World by Ferdinand C. Lane, and The Wonders of Seeds by Alfred Stefferd tell us many strange and wonderful facts about the plant kingdom.

If your hobby is concerned with man-made wonders, try The Helicopter Book by Henry B. Lent; Tommy Learns to Fly by John Lawson, for very young readers; Trucks and Trucking by Walter Bauer; or First Boat (How to Pick It and Use It for Fun Afloat) by C. B. Colby.

First Book on Codes and Ciphers by Sam and Beryl Epstein has some grand ideas for activities for the next hot spell. It will help you pass your signaling requirements for Scouts, too.

First Book of Sewing by Catherine Roberts has lots of practical and interesting ideas. And, of course, the same goes for Step by Step Cook Book for Girls and Boys by Julia Kiene. There are plenty of amusing pictures to show you what to do.

If your hobby is music, there are 3 new song books for you. The Sunflower Song Book by June Norton is for very small singers; Favorite Nursery Songs, compiled by Phyllis Brown Oshlan, contains many favorites, and the piano accompaniments are easy enough for a first grade player.

Favorite American Songs, selected by Margaret Bradford Boni, are for older children and adults. Song Bell Songs and Games by Shirley Betty Barsh are for use on a simple instrument, such as a small glockenspiel or xylophone.

Ask for all of these as well as older titles on the same subjects at the Ingham county library. P.S. Do you have some unusual or attractive shells you would like to display? Staff members are arranging an exhibit in the display case at headquarters right now and would like to include yours.

Wolverine State? Expert Explains the Name

Ever wonder how Michigan got nicknamed the Wolverine state?

"The fur trade was big business in the early days of Michigan," explains Professor William H. Burt of the University of Michigan. Detroit became a center from which not only Michigan furs but also those from adjoining areas to the west and north were shipped east.

"Michigan probably became known as the Wolverine state because of the great number of Wolverine skins in these shipments. Most of the wolverines probably came from the northern Great Lakes area, but they were assembled in Detroit, and the men who received them in the East had no way of knowing where the animals were caught," says Professor Burt.

The University professor describes the wolverines as having massive and powerful limbs and feet. The general color, he says, is dark brown, paler on the cheeks and head, and two broad yellowish stripes extend from the shoulder region back along the sides and meet above the base of the bushy tail. The weight of females is about 22 pounds; that of males, about 30.

According to Professor Burt, the animal probably lived in most of the state, but is now extinct. There is no Michigan-born specimen in any museum, he added.

Professor Burt points out that there is some written evidence indicating that the animal once lived in Michigan. In the margin of a map of the state of Michigan, published by Ensign, Bridgman, and Fanning in New York, and entered according to Act of Congress in the year 1855, is a list of animals in the state, which includes the wolverines, the professor claims.

"I don't know who prepared the statement," he says, "but the other animals mentioned, 23 in all, are either here at the present time, or were authentically recorded previously. Supplemented by trappers' reports, this suffices to put the wolverines in the early fauna of Michigan."

"But the only hope of establishing an actual record for the state is to find a wolverine skull," says the wildlife expert.

Here's a tip on how to identify it. Says Burt, "In an unbroken skull the lower jaw is so firmly hinged to the cranium that it cannot be removed."

State Troopers Open New Post

A new post of the Michigan state police will be established at Newaygo in Newaygo county, Commissioner Joseph A. Childs announced. The post will occupy rented quarters and it is planned to begin operation within 90 days. It will open with a complement of 19 men, including a sergeant, corporal and 7 troopers.

GOLD IN THE WATER—Pinned over Carin Cone's bureau in her Ridgewood, N.J., home is a collection of medals that would do credit to any athlete. She's packing to get set for another trip. The young swimming star won the silver medal in last year's Olympics and holds the National AAU 100 and 200-meter backstroke crowns.

Location of the post was decided upon because of the increased flow of traffic on M-37 which passes through Newaygo and the proposed improvement of M-46 running eastward and M-82, which extends westward.

This will be the 53rd state police post. Birds will be taken early in August for construction of another new post at Ithaca in Gratiot county.

THE WORLD'S MOST WIDELY USED DEVOTIONAL GUIDE

Read 1 Timothy 6:1-8.

I have learned, in whatever state I am, to be content. (Philippians 4:11, RSV.)

One of the rewards of a proper adjustment to life is the attainment of patience. One man who claimed this spiritual heritage for himself was the Apostle Paul, who is really the Job of the New Testament. During his ministry he suffered inner turmoil, frustration, fatigue, starvation, shipwreck, beatings and imprisonment. Instead of being broken in spirit, Paul rose above adversity. From a prison cell in Rome, he found himself able to write, "I have learned . . . to be content."

Actually, what is patience? Is it not a word for complete trust in the goodness of God's will for our lives, whatever the circumstances in which we find ourselves? Paul said that the secret of his ability to face life was finding strength in Christ. Therein lies our success or failure. Contentment and patience in life come through getting ourselves in harmony with God's purpose. We accomplish this only through the strength Christ gives us because of our faith in Him.

PRAYER
Our Father, teach us to seek for the possession of the things that really matter—Thy love and peace, the abundant life in Christ, and the reward of Christian service. In the Saviour's name we ask it. Amen.
