

Hugh Silsby Becomes Chief Of Mason Fire Department

Hugh Silsby is the new Mason fire department chief.

Members of the volunteer group nominated Silsby to succeed Fire Chief Leland Austin who retired 2 weeks ago. Mayor Paul Richards, with the approval of the city council, appointed Silsby Monday night. City Attorney Howard McCowan swore in the new chief.

Silsby is a fire department veteran. He has 17 years of service on the department with time out for a tour of duty with the army in Europe during World War II. For 7 years he served under Chief Austin as assistant chief.

Fighting fires for Mason is a Silsby family trait. Silsby's brother, Ralph, has been and still is a member of the department. Another brother, H. M., was a member for many years until he moved to his farm in Aurelius.

Silsby is a former city councilman and represents Mason on the county board of supervisors.

Austin gave up his fire chief post in order to devote more time

... firemen back him ... to his work with Explorer Scouts.

The assistant chief post is still vacant. Mason firemen will elect a successor for Silsby at their fire practice and meeting Friday night.

Highway Boards Revise Eaton-Ingham Mileage

Instead of playing hopscotch on the Ingham-Eaton county line, the 2 counties have arranged a new split. Ingham will have complete charge of construction and maintenance on the north 12 miles and Eaton will have the south 12 miles.

Ingham's responsibility will begin at the intersection of US-16 and Waverly road, west of Lansing, and extend south to Wilbur road, a mile north of Columbia.

Eaton will take over from Wilbur and south to the Jackson county line, except for a mile of state trunk line (M-188) from Grand river past the VFW National Home.

Now Ingham has the north 2 miles of the Eaton-Ingham county line, with Eaton having the next 4 and Ingham again taking over from Jolly road to 1 1/2 miles south of Holt road.

Eaton has the next 4 1/2 miles to Columbia and Ingham the 3 miles from Columbia to Toles. Eaton has from Toles to Ferris, and Ingham from Ferris to Kinneville road. Eaton has from Kinneville road to Rossman road and Ingham from Rossman road to the county line.

Patchwork construction and maintenance have resulted from the hit-and-miss division of responsibility, road officials from both counties agreed.

Because of Lansing suburban development on the north end of the county line, Ingham agreed to take the north 12 miles. Those 12 miles will be reconstructed into a 3-lane and 4-lane highway for a Lansing by-pass.

Eaton county will have the less-traveled south 11 miles, with the state maintaining M-188.

In explaining the revision of mileage, Ingham officials pointed to the split of automobile and gasoline taxes between the counties. Ingham gets more than twice as much revenue from that source. Much of the Eaton traffic comes from Ingham county, too, highway officials said.

Revision of mileage will not alter financing of the new bridge over the Grand at the VFW National Home. Federal and state aid will help finance the bridge and the Eaton and Ingham shares will not be changed by the revision of mileage, reported Frank K. Evans, Ingham highway engineer.

Good Weather Speeds Hospital

Mason's new hospital is beginning to look like a building.

With the good weather of the last 2 weeks Nordstrom & Myers workers have all the footings poured and have started grading around them.

The first tandem truckload of Ohio brick arrived on the job Wednesday. Over 39,000 bricks will go into the outside walls. According to Chesley Fowler, construction superintendent, workmen will start laying the walls before the week is out if the good weather holds. It will take 4 trips to move all the brick on the site.

J. A. Dart Co. employees have all main water lines placed and ready for the floor to be poured. The Mason firm has the mechanical contract.

Firemen Make Run

Mason firemen made a dry run to the Dale Brown home at the corner of Onondaga and Plains roads about noon Thursday. An over-heated coal furnace caused excess smoke to fill the basement and to play it safe the department was summoned.

Morse Leases New Location

Mr. and Mrs. Lisle Morse will keep on serving the same good food, but from a new location beginning January 13. Morse announced plans this week to move the cafe from Maple street to a building west of Mason bakery.

While the food will be the same, the beverage menu will be changed, Morse said. Beer will not be served at the new location. Morse cited the regulation which forbids the sale of beer within 500 feet of a church. The Ash street location is closer than 500 feet to the Methodist church.

The restaurant will close Christmas Eve and reopen in the new location in January.

The new location will be upholstered lounge-type seating along one wall with chairs and movable tables. A central service area will provide faster service to customers, Morse pointed out. There won't be a counter in the new restaurant. Instead all food will be served at tables.

The Morses have been in the restaurant business in Mason since 1949. Originally in the poultry business in Dimondale, they purchased a restaurant of Fred Harvey. It was on the south side of Maple street. Following a 3-building fire in January of 1949, they opened at their present location the following August.

Morse will discard most of the present equipment and purchase new when he moves to Ash street, he said.

Group Selects Soil Practices

Ingham county farmers can avail themselves of 15 federal cost-sharing practices in 1958. Selection of the practices was made at a meeting in Mason Wednesday afternoon. Making the selections were G. H. Aldrich, Harold Lockwood and Harold Splink of the county ASC committee; Lawrence Tripp, soil conservation district; Harold Gates, farm home administration; and Delmar Carr, Grassmaster.

Practices include permanent vegetable cover, additional vegetable cover in crop rotation, liming materials on farmland, field stripcropping, tree and shrub planting for forestry purposes or erosion control and windbreaks, ponds for livestock water, establishing sod waterways, field water diversion, open farm drainage ditches, tile drainage, structures for erosion control, winter cover crops and summer cover crops.

In many cases where plants are used, the federal funds pay for half the wholesale cost of the seed, plus half the costs of lime and 50¢ a pound for fertilizer. Each practice varies, however, according to William Crampton, agricultural stabilization and conservation department office manager.

In the case of farm ponds, the federal funds pay the farmer 15¢ a cubic yard for earth moved for earthen dams, 9¢ a yard for earth moved for pits, $1 a rod of 3-strand 4-point barbed wire fence, $2 a rod of 48-inch woven wire fence, and 50% of the average cost of all other materials required. The cost-sharing for the pond project can't exceed $1,500. The practices committee will meet later to allocate as yet undetermined federal funds.

Postoffice Sets Holiday Hours

With the Christmas mail rush imminent, Postmaster Leslie Palmer announced the holiday schedule at the Mason office.

Beginning Monday, December 9, the windows will open at 8 a. m. and remain open until 6 p. m. with the exception of the money order window. Money orders will be taken at the regular time, 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

The postoffice will remain open all day Saturday, December 14, and Saturday, December 21.

The Mason postmaster had some suggestions to make on the mailing of Christmas cards. He urged people to send their Christmas cards first class. First class mail can be forwarded if the address is wrong, he pointed out, while cards going second class end up in the waste basket if addressed incorrectly.

Early mailing of Christmas cards will help postal workers, Palmer added. He went on to say that business mail should be in the postoffice by 4 p. m. in order to go out that afternoon.

In the past patrons have speeded up the handling of Christmas cards by sorting them into out-of-town and local piles with the stamped side the same and dividing the 2 groups. This practice is appreciated by postal workers, Palmer said.

Ads Help Santa

Ingham County News want ad selections are up to full strength this week. Buyers and sellers depend on 50¢ want ads to sell or buy Christmas gifts. Others use them to turn merchandise into cash for gifts. Make use of the want ad pages—it will pay you well. They're on Pages 6 and 7 of this section.

Okemos Views Another Vote

Okemos school electors may soon vote again on bonding for new school construction. The school board was in session Monday night and Wednesday night, contemplating action.

On November 20 a proposal to bond the district for $3,500,000 lost by 74 votes. On the next day a group filed petitions calling for a vote on a $2,750,000 program. On December 2 another group filed petitions for a vote on a $2,250,000 program.

Under Michigan law 6 months must elapse between the date of an election and another election where the same proposal is submitted. School directors have been advised that different proposals can be submitted without waiting for 6 months.

Directors are considering whether they have discretionary powers between the 2 petitions for a second vote.

The proposal covered by the November 21 petition calls for elimination of 2 elementary school buildings and the remodeling of the present high school from the original $3,500,000 program. Included are the controversial swimming pool and a big auditorium.

Radar Closes GOC Tower

Mason's Ground Observer Corps is following the Wisconsin, Missouri and other battalions into mothballs. Radar has taken over and the entire interior warning system is being revamped.

The air force filter center at Grand Rapids is being abandoned and with it the network of which Grand Rapids was the center. The Canadian DEW line is on guard for hostile planes, making local towers obsolete.

Mason's GOC unit was revived a year ago and again this fall, but interest had dragged. Mrs. Helen Casper as supervisor reorganized the unit in September and was making headway when the order came to close January 1. She took peremptory action, packing the tower Monday.

Stanley Parker has served as chief observer at Mason and much of the time as the only observer. He is credited with standing watch a total of 1,000 hours.

The tower on school property at the south end of Cedar street was erected in 1954. The county, city and Vevay township shared about $1,000 in costs of erection.

Mrs. Casper ordered the tower closed Monday when discovery was made that the government telephone there was being used for private long distance calls. Telephone calls have been made to Crystal, Newaygo and Caro, and charged to the government telephone.

Air force officials have asked Police Chief Harry Chandler to investigate the telephone misuse, and next week, air force officials said, an investigator will be sent to demand payment of those who made the calls. The calls are now being traced back from the other end.

Chief Chandler is seeking permission to keep the tower available for use in the tornado warning system.

Councilmen Call Finance Session

Mayor Paul D. Richards said that a meeting of the council finance committee has been called for Thursday night.

Up for discussion will be determination of the course the committee will recommend for the council in handling the $22,969 damage suit brought by Ralph G. Stroppe.

Stroppe's mother was alleged to have fallen over sewer cleaning gear on a sidewalk December 7, 1953. Suit was started when the city council denied the claim. But no appearance was filed on behalf of the city.

Mayor Richards said the council is seeking a remedy so a defense can be offered in the suit. As it now stands, a circuit court jury will determine the amount of damages without the city being permitted to offer a defense as to liability.

JUST THE BARN and its contents were lost in this fire in Delhi Saturday. It might have been a terrible tragedy—and could have been had it not been for the coolness of 3 little boys who found their way out amid fire and smoke. (Archy's Photo.)

3 Boys Escape from Blazing Barn

Three young boys and their dog owe their lives to coolness in the face of danger. They escaped from a blazing barn on the Dory Hudson farm, 1216 Eiert road, Saturday afternoon.

The 36x80 barn was destroyed, despite efforts of Delhi township and Mason fire departments. The fire had gained too much headway before firemen reached the scene.

As was their wont, Tom Hudson, 10, and his brothers, Fred, die, 8, and Ronald, 6, went to the barn after dinner to play in the hay. Tom switched on the barn lights. There was a flickering, indicative of a short circuit. The boys climbed high up into the loft onto bales of hay. Tom was all set for a leap to straw below when flames flared up. Tom threw himself back onto the hay. He led his younger brothers down the ladder and all 3 and their dog calmly walked out of the barn. Then Tom ran for the house.

Mrs. Hudson first ran to the barn to see that all 3 boys were out. She called the Delhi fire department.

The Hudsons raise beef cattle. Cows had been turned into a corn field but the herd sire was in a stall with an outside pen. When Delhi firemen arrived, the bull was being singed by the heat. He was wild and was made wilder when firemen started to break down the fence to rescue the bull. On his third charge the bull finished the fence-breaking and fled into the lane and back to the field.

Faulty wiring is blamed for the fire. Firemen said a spark might have jumped into the loose straw.

Big tools often stored in the building were outside at the time of the fire. Besides hay, grain and straw, a few small tools and a farm wagon were lost.

The Hudsons had insurance coverage of $6,000 on the barn and additional coverage on contents. They plan to rebuild.

Leslie Austin Wins Badge As State Police Trooper

Having successfully completed 7 weeks of intensive training at Michigan state police headquarters, Leslie L. Austin, is a probationary trooper. He was sworn in by Commissioner Joseph A. Childs Wednesday and assigned to the Ypsilanti post.

Austin and 27 other members of the state police recruit school class took the oath of office at graduation exercises in East Lansing.

The school was 7 weeks in length, the men being trained in the basics of police work and traffic patrol. Later they will be recalled to take 4 weeks of training in criminal investigation and other advanced subjects.

New troopers must serve a probationary period of 6 months before being confirmed in their appointments.

Austin served with the U. S. air force in the Alaskan and Pacific theaters. Before and after military service he was employed by Roy Christensen Ford Sales at Mason.

Office Space Stirs Debate

Lansing councilmen argued loud and long Monday night over branch county offices and circuit court quarters in Lansing.

Councilmen, who are also supervisors, discussed proposed housing of branches in the old city hall. In building the new city hall, Lansing made no provisions for providing space for branch county offices which have been, and some still are, in the old Lansing city hall.

Lansing city officials now want to raze the old city hall, which shelters circuit courts, the branch office of the county clerk, and the main office of the county health department. The sheriff's branch office has already been forced out.

The big deal at present is over the circuit court room.

Under a legislative act adopted 60 years ago Lansing agreed to provide quarters for the circuit court with the stipulation that 2 terms of court a year would be conducted in Lansing.

There's a move afoot now to ask the legislature to repeal the old law. That would remove the necessity of Lansing providing court quarters and, in the view of some Lansing council members, would hasten action on the part of the county.

Several Lansing council members want the county to add a wing to Lansing's new city hall, a wing to house all county branches and the circuit court.

The matter of space for Lansing offices has been before the board of supervisors for 10 years. For 2 years it has been frequently discussed. The steering committee is now considering the situation.

Max E. Murnighan, Lansing council member and also a county supervisor, told his council colleagues Monday night that his committee is considering housing of branch offices. He said the committee is considering purchase or lease of space. Among buildings being considered is the Michigan Millers Mutual building, a block north of the city hall.

The judge of probate and the prosecuting attorney occupy rented quarters in Lansing. The welfare department occupies a county building.

School Board Members Discuss Their Duties

About 30 members of school boards and school superintendents met in Mason Tuesday night to discuss mutual school problems. The meeting, in the office of the county board of education, was primarily to acquaint new school board members with their duties.

Kenneth Springer, superintendent of Pleasant Grove school, was moderator of a panel. Others on it were Supt. Clarence VanderLinden of Leslie, David Diehl of Danville, Glen Watkins of Alakodon and George Scott, consultant on transportation and organization on the state school staff. Watkins is president of the county board, Diehl of the Danville Agricultural school board.

In discussing duties of board members, Stroud said, "The primary function of a member is to evaluate. He is cast in a role where he must necessarily evaluate the school, its program, its performance and its personnel. However, he has to evaluate more than these. To do his job effectively he must also evaluate ideas that are expressed and the information given about the school system with which he is identified."

"Because Russia launched Sputnik first, some people are saying that science is being neglected in our schools. Such a charge should be analyzed and evaluated before being accepted by board members. Who is to say exactly why Russia launched a satellite ahead of us? Is it because our government placed efforts on other things which at the time appeared more legitimate? Is it because of inter-service rivalries? Whatever may be their real reason I find it hard to charge the American school system with any serious deficiency in this respect. After all, the American public school must be given a good measure of the credit for providing this country with an abundance of scientific marvels which the other countries of the world have scarcely even heard about."

At the same meeting last year a consultant of the state board declared that tuition charged returned cost of school operation plus adequate contributions to school building and site funds. At Tuesday night's meeting Supt. Diehl told that school districts accepting tuition pupils lose money. Diehl told of the Danville school policy of not forcing any outside district into annexation. He also pointed out that Danville operates an outstanding school system on a budget below many other districts. He credited much of the successful operation to good management on the part of Supt. Searl Briggs.

Methodist WSCS Stages Holiday Fair

Pine boughs entwined with red and green burlap, crepe paper streamers of red and green, mistletoe and Christmas wreaths decorated the basement of Mason Methodist church Wednesday for the WSCS Holiday Fair.

During the morning and afternoon coffee and rolls were served. Guests browsed and some selected ideal items for Christmas gifts, decorations, baked goods, aprons and many other items from the attractively decorated booths.

The children's center, sponsored by Electa circle members, featured hobby horses, bean bags, dolls and doll clothes, aprons and many other gift ideas to delight the little tots.

A wide variety of Christmas cards and wrappings and novelty gift items were displayed by Ruth circle. They also showed a table of $1 gifts including jewelry, toys, novelties, ribbon, and many other clever items too numerous to mention.

Temporarily arrayed were the baked goods offered by Mary Martha circle. Luscious looking, homemade pies, cookies, cakes, bread, cupcakes and Christmas cookies opened the pocketbooks of many who were "just looking."

A cooperative booth featured used jewelry, and a selection of 25¢ books, some just like new.

From 11 till one o'clock a cafeteria luncheon was served with chop suey and chicken barbecues as the main dish. Beginning at 6 p. m. a smorgasbord featured turkey, ham, roast beef, vegetables, potatoes, relishes and assorted cakes and pies.

Dansville Seniors Wed In Methodist Chapel

Candelabra and bouquets of yellow and white mums decorated the Mason Methodist chapel Saturday, November 30, when Miss Ruth Ann Hills, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hills of Williams, became the bride of Richard E. Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Johnson of Route 2, Mason. The newlyweds are seniors at Dansville high school.

Rev. Raymond Norton, pastor of the church, performed the double-ring ceremony in the presence of the immediate families at 7 o'clock in the evening.

The bride donned a street-length sheath dress of white lace over satin. Her matching lace jacket was styled with three-quarter sleeves and a small stand-up collar. She wore a single-strand pearl necklace, a gift from the bridegroom. Her flowers were yellow roses and white mums with lace puffs, white streamers and lovers knots.

Miss Deanna Mullins of Dansville wore a black jersey sheath dress for her duties as maid of honor. Yellow roses and white mums made up her bouquet.

Bouquets of white and yellow mums decorated the hall for the occasion. Bride's cake, groom's cake, punch, coffee and mints were served by Miss Beverly Hensclett of Webberville, Miss Nancy Brown of Marshall and Mrs. Muri Grimm, who made and served the bride's cake, Mrs. Harold Hills and Mrs. Mansel Raymond, all of Mason. Mrs. Charles Hills presided at the guest register.

A reception at Vevay town hall honored the newlyweds immediately after the ceremony.

IF THIS MACHINE will work, a lot of Mexican braceros will be out of work. Dr. W. F. Buechle of the agricultural engineering department at Michigan State (standing) is demonstrating how the machine gently lifts the vines and picks all the cucumbers. Madison Co. factory site in Mason. (Photo by M. H. Avery.)

Michigan Produces a Lot of Pickles

By M. A. Avery

Michigan produces about a third of the national pickling cucumber crop. The crop in Michigan usually runs about 50,000 acres per year. Ingham county's share is between 700 and 800 acres, divided between 3 companies.

H. W. Madison Co. serves a big acreage out of its Mason plant. Some Ingham growers contract with Bryan Stock, Inc., with a station at Eaton Rapids. Ohio Food Products Co. has a plant in Leslie.

Acreage for the county is divided about equally between the 3 companies in a normal year. The average per farm runs from 10 to 30 acres. According to Ben Weaver of H. W. Madison Co., the yield in Ingham county runs higher than that of the rest of the state.

Yields can go as high as 200 bushels per acre. Yields on the better farms in Ingham county this year were believed to be around 145 bushels per acre.

Weaver stated that this year the yield was above average but the quality was down because of the dry weather at picking time. Also the yield given is the yield of actual contracted acres. There was some loss in acreage signed up due to excessive rain in July, followed by the dry weather.

Lawrence Every on Every road has grown pickles for several years and this year had about 45 acres contracted. A few acres dropped out. He did not keep a record of the yield but said that they did pick 20 tons in one day in 1957. He said that the pickle crop compared favorably with the sugar beet crop as to income. If everything goes right the pickles are a higher cash income crop than most other crops but there are a number of things that can happen to set the crop back. Every said. He listed the drought at time of picking which cut the yield, insects and, of course, the need for much labor at picking time.

The crop is contracted for before it is grown so there is a low cash outlay for producing, since the company furnishes the seed. The company also supplies labor for picking and takes one-half of the pickles for the picking plus a charge of 3/4 over overhead on supplying labor. The farmer, on the other hand, stands all cost of producing and hauling the pickles to the central location. There is some advantage in having a small

Faculty Member Addresses Lions

Members of Mason Lions club and guests heard Dr. A. L. Thurman at their meeting last Wednesday night. The meeting was at Mason Manor.

Dr. Thurman, member of the Michigan State faculty, discussed the building of sound relationships in families, among friends and in community life. He urged men to define problems before attempting to solve them.

Jim Ingham, president of the Lions club, called attention to leader dog week. The Mason club participates in the project of training and providing leader dogs for the blind. The week of December 1 through December 7, has been proclaimed as leader dog week.

Gerald L. Graham welcomed 2 new members, Orville Woodward and Les Smalley, into the club.

Death Claims Remi A. Cremer

Remi A. Cremer, 57, 1850 Howell road, died in a Jackson hospital Saturday. He lived in Wheatfield township and for many years was a stock buyer and sold commercial fertilizer. He was a member of the Dansville Masonic lodge.

Born in Belgium, he came with his parents, Charles and Virginia Millerbrook Cremer, as a child.

Mr. Cremer underwent surgery 5 years ago. He was able to resume work and to be up and around until a few weeks ago.

Services were conducted at Gorsline Bros. funeral home in Williamston Tuesday afternoon with Rev. Harold T. Reese of the Baptist church officiating. Burial was in Maple Grove cemetery, Mason. Wayne Runciman, Donald Parks, Marion Pollok, Robert Allen, Harold Fisher and Don Ward were pallbearers.

Workers Collect Dystrophy Funds

Through the assistance of Mason firemen and Explorer Scout troop 62, Mason people donated $435 to the muscular dystrophy drive Friday night. A year ago, the workers collected $251.

William Parsons, leader of the drive, said that the increase in receipts was due in part to the increased awareness of the disease and a better canvassing program.

Receipts from the drive will be used for research.

Legion Serves Sunday Dinner

To raise funds to apply upon their building debt, Brown-Cavender post of the American Legion will serve a public dinner Sunday. Serving will be from 1 to 5 in the afternoon. It is billed as a Swiss steak dinner.

The Legion has a note of $2,000 falling due December 10 and there's only $1,200 on hand, Legion officers reported. There will be a public dance Saturday night. Proceeds from that will also be applied on the note.

School Agrees On Drain Cost

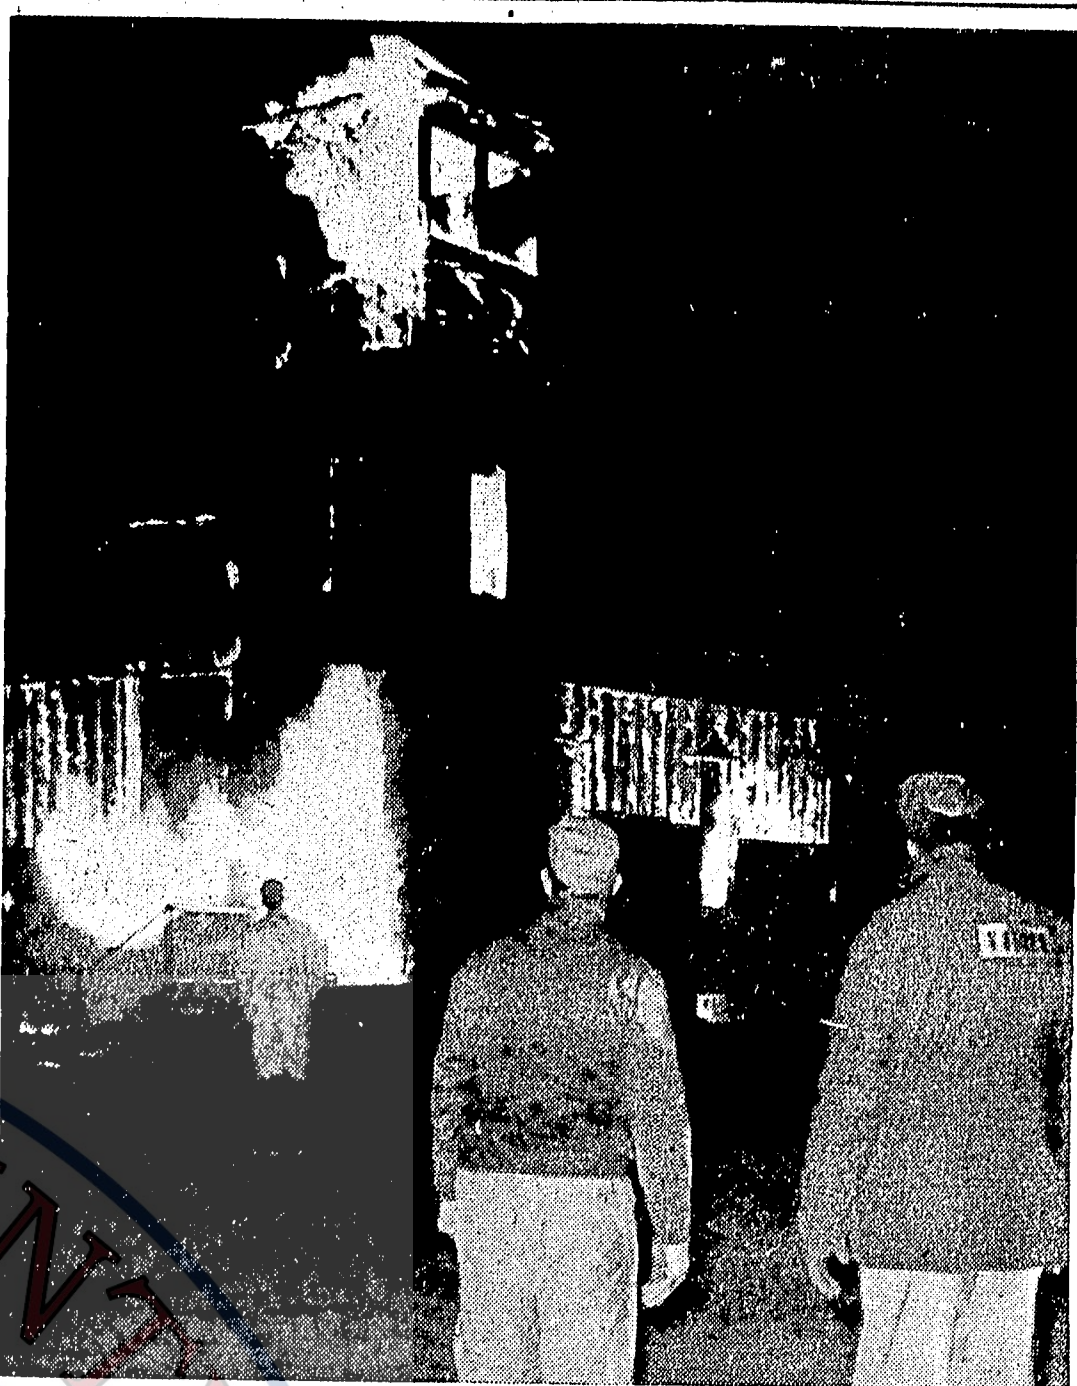

Hasslett's board of education has agreed to pay $7,500 toward cost of construction of Lakeview drain. The drain will cross the site of the new high school.

Lakeview drain is now under construction. Two contracts, aggregating $67,000, have been let, said Gerald L. Graham, county drain commissioner.

Although school districts are not permitted by law to enter into agreements with the drain commissioner to be assessed for drains, it is held legal for a district to assume a share of the drain cost as site development. The drain, said school officials, will improve the site and solve the surface drainage problem for the new school.

"Action by the board of education," school officials said, "will lift some of the burden of cost from other property within the drainage district, and in the long run should prove to be no more expensive to the school district than installation of a temporary surface drain."

Building central schools has resulted in serious drainage problems in several areas, both for surface water and for sewage disposal, Graham pointed out.

FIREMEN were helpless to save the Vantown Methodist church Sunday morning. The fire, which was discovered about 1:15, swept through the brick veneer building quickly. Steps have already been taken to rebuild. (Photo by Mrs. Ellis Nemer.)

Cadillac

A Masterpiece...Even by Cadillac Standards!

The magnificent Cadillac car for 1958 is, without question, a rare masterpiece in all the things that make a Cadillac... a Cadillac!

Certainly, it has had no precedent insofar as beauty is concerned. In its graceful symmetry of line and in its remarkable look of stature and substance, it is in a class all of its own.

Unquestionably, it is without counterpart by the way of interior elegance. Never before have Fleetwood coachcrafters combined such graciousness and luxury and spaciousness in a single interior design.

And, most assuredly, it has set its own extraordinary pace in modern motor car performance. Its dynamic new engine, its more responsive transmission, and its new air suspension, now available as an extra-cost option, are simply a revelation.

We earnestly hope that you will take the time to see and drive this extraordinary new Cadillac at your earliest possible convenience.

Your Cadillac dealer will be delighted to give you full details on Cadillac's twelve new models, including the incomparable Eldorado Brougham.

Afraid to Pick Up Paper

I am afraid to pick up the paper when my husband brings it home any more, for I know I will have to read another article on why our taxes must be raised again. We are supposed to live in a free country but we are slaves to taxes.

We just bought a home here and already we are starting to be afraid. We want to pay our share as well as everyone else, but I don't feel we must be responsible for the laxness of others. We pay taxes to take care of such matters when they occur. We vote for city officers who are to protect us and what happens?

Sometimes unforeseen things happen and we would be more than glad to do our part, but why does it have to be run into the ground?

I expect there are others who feel the same about these matters as I do, but what can one person do? It is hard enough for an honest person to raise a family and give them what they need to grow up to be honest citizens. Do we think we are setting a good example for our future generations? I don't.

I wonder why there are gypsies. I guess it is because they are free from all the worry we see every day. Most people dislike gypsies but I imagine there are honest people among them as well as there are among us. Right now the way things are going I think I envy them.

A LITTLE WORRIED

Placing Blame

Talking about what is in the crystal ball, about this world today, everyone seems to down the ex-con after he is discharged from the pen. You can't blame all these guys for their crimes as of today. There are just as evil people walking around who ought to be in the pen today, only they have not been caught up with yet.

As for ex-cons, there are good ones and there are bad ones, the same as with the people who are walking the streets today. There are men who are serving time who have helped to make this country a free country for our wives and children to live in. What about Mr. and Mrs. Public when these guys were going away and leaving their homes? You honored and prayed for them then. Mr. and Mrs. Public, there are some of these same men in the pen today on minor offenses like for getting drunk the third time in one year, which the law of Michigan carries a year and up. A lot of these men will be out tomorrow or maybe next month to return to their wives and children, if they have them, and if their homes are not wrecked, but these guys will still be ex-cons.

When these very same guys were across on the other side if they got drunk every day then they were not sent to the pen for getting drunk, so let the public take the second thought before just saying, "Oh! He is just an ex-con."

We should look to our Lord, Jesus Christ for we are all His children and He is the one to judge, not us. All these guys who have wives and children (as I have the loveliest wife and children and I love them and would give anything to be in their company this Thanksgiving and Christmas if it were possible).

I would give anything to have this happy holiday to gather to see their eyes pop open on that morning of giving and receiving. As every Christian knows upon receiving God as his or her Savior what a great gift that is, as I once was myself until I backslid and now I am trying to build back up, and I know right from wrong, as I think everyone who has a sense of mind does.

A word from one who knows, a World War II veteran.

Right to Work

A man's right to work at his chosen occupation is one of the most fundamental of American rights.

But that right is being violated constantly by compulsory unionism. Men are being forced, against their will, to become members of labor organizations and pay tribute for the right to earn a living.

The National Right to Work committee is devoting its full time and effort to a program of action. It is working continuously to educate the citizens of the nation to an understanding of the right to work issue and the dangers of compulsory union membership.

Section 14(b) of the Taft-Hartley act guarantees the authority of the states to enact laws to protect the individual's right to join a union or not join a union, as he sees fit. That is basic Americanism!

We must always be on the alert to head off efforts to repeal this section of the law and deprive the states of their right to enact protective legislation of this type. That must not happen!

Every man must have the right, but not be compelled, to join a labor union. Membership must be voluntary! Many union members agree with this basic principle and are working with the National Right to Work committee in its efforts.

Our fight is a fight for freedom of choice and against compulsion. We need help in this struggle. As individuals we can do a great deal, but united in this just cause we can win the fight.

Loss by Fire

This community was saddened Sunday by the burning of the Vantown Methodist church.

This church was built in 1898, and celebrated its 50th anniversary February 8, 1948, according to the program I have of the anniversary.

Since the age of 7 I lived with in three-quarters of a mile of the Vantown corners, until 1945 when we moved to 200 North Stockbridge road.

Warning Offered

How many read the warning to teenagers in last week's paper? Did you think the article had food for thought within it? Would you say that the old saying still holds good, an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure? Would you say it is high time we tried some method to try and safeguard our children?

Our director of the FBI, J. Edgar Hoover, has spent his lifetime making a study of the sex criminals. He knows the sorrow such crime has brought to parents. Should his advice when it is free for the taking go unheeded? Is it not everyone's duty to work together, pull together, and cooperate in this great crusade against the sex criminal, who could any hour of the day or night strike most anywhere.

Everyday there comes a knock at your door for some sort of a contribution. But right here at your fingertips is a chance to prove you are willing, you are ready to help circulate this message in the interest of your very own children.

These teenage circulars are free for the asking. There will be many run off the presses at the Ingham County News. The first run off the presses was accepted by the Ingham county board of education for distribution to our schools. I want to at this time extend my real thanks for their interest, and I am sure J. Edgar Hoover would more than say, thanks.

I would like to say these few words to our teenagers: When you read the circular, read it over, read it again, tell little sister, tell little brother the meaning and the purpose of it. Talk it over with mother and dad when you get home. It will help. The cost is nothing. But ignore it, all it could be heart-breaking.

So teenagers, mothers, fathers, these circulars are ready if you are ready to help. They are costly. They are neat in appearance, and the slogan is where can you hang one? In public places, stores, churches, school buses, public rest rooms, gas stations. Everywhere let us see them. Maybe we will see the man we want to see before he sees someone we love.

Let us all be alert for the sex criminal who might strike tomorrow. Will you help? I have already started. I will be waiting to hear from you.

Whitman-Showers Vows Are Said in Candlelight

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Showers, Sr., of Dansville. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Whitman of Grass Lake.

Mrs. Leland Perrine, Jr., sang "I Love You Truly," accompanied by Mrs. Dora Diehl, who also played traditional nuptial selections.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a floor-length gown of white lace over satin. The gown featured short sleeves, a portrait neckline and a bouffant skirt. She carried a matching purse and a cascade arrangement of white and yellow chrysanthemums. Her fingertip veil was held by a crown of white and yellow flowers.

Miss Carol Monroe, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. Russell Wright and Ronald, Mrs. Rose Flowers, Mrs. Vivian Miller, Andrew Haley and Miss Barbara Powelson.

Refreshments of cake and ice cream were served and Mrs. Haley was presented a gift from the group.

Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Crosby of Niles were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hall.

Her ballerina-length gown of yellow lace over satin was styled with a full skirt, portrait neckline and short sleeves. A crown of flowers completed her ensemble. She carried a cascade bouquet of white and yellow chrysanthemums.

Miss Shirley Blanchard of Dansville and Miss Joan Bowen of Webberville, bridesmaids, wore matching gowns of pink, styled similar to the one worn by the maid of honor.

Dean Clark of Grass Lake was best man. Earl Showers, Jr., brother of the bride, and Harold Blanchard, both of Dansville, were groomsmen. Ushers were the bridegroom's brother, Dale Whitman, and Dee Lott of Grass Lake.

Mrs. Showers chose a brown dress with brown accessories for her daughter's wedding. The bridegroom's mother wore a navy dress with black accessories. Both mothers had corsages of yellow roses.

A special guest at the wedding was the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Sarah Proctor of Stockbridge.

After the ceremony the couple received their guests in the church parlors. A pink and white color scheme was carried out. The linen-covered serving table was centered with a 4-tiered pink and white decorated wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom.

Mrs. Clayton Finkle of Grass Lake cut and served the cake. Mrs. Edward Merchant of Dimondale presided at the coffee service and Mrs. Loris Hill of Eaton Rapids served punch. Miss Diane Townsend of Dansville, cousin of the bride, and Miss Evelyn Townsend of Mason registered the guests and helped with the gifts.

One hundred and sixty-five guests were present from Elsie Gregory, Grass Lake, Flint, Stockbridge, Detroit, Ypsilanti, Webberville, Eaton Rapids, Dansville and Mason.

Mrs. Showers was hostess to the wedding party after rehearsal Thursday evening. Refreshments of sandwiches, cake, jello and coffee were served.

Mrs. Burt Green and her grandson, Allen Green of Michigan State university, spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Ferris K. Green at Cadillac.

Host Homes Are Sought For Foreign Students

Ingham farm families have the opportunity of sharing their homes with student young people from foreign countries. As part of Michigan State university's Christmas adventure in world understanding, foreign students will have an overnight visit with a rural farm family on the week end before Christmas. Arrangements are being made by the Ingham county extension office.

Young guests will arrive on Saturday morning and be met by their farm host families. They'll stay with that family until late Sunday afternoon. At that time, they are due for still another experience when a host family from town will pick them up for an overnight visit in their home.

The entire adventure is planned by the Michigan State university continuing faculty for selected foreign students who are now attending universities in various parts of the United States. It is designed to give students broader experiences in this country and to help them grow in understanding of the American way of life.

The home visits to country and town folks are part of a week-long program. It will also include tours of industry, discussion and explanations of American customs. On December 29 the students will present a program at Kellogg Center for their host families.

Some Ingham families have done this other years. Without exception they have been enthusiastic and have felt that getting to know these young people has been one of their family's most gratifying experiences, said Mrs. Annette Schaeffer, home demonstration agent. They've reported that their own children have proven to be most gracious and understanding of these students so far from their own homes.

Twenty families are needed for the experience in order for Ingham to take part. Those interested are asked to call or write the extension office at once for further particulars.

Families should have children living at home and must be farming at least part of the time. Town and country people who do not farm but want to participate should notify their nearest Rotary club.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Colby entertained Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tietz of Detroit over the week end. Mrs. Colby's father, Dr. H. D. Henderson, was also a Sunday dinner guest at the Colby home. The Colbys had Thanksgiving dinner with Mr. Colby's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emory Colby.

COLBYS ENTERTAIN

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Colby entertained members of their Supper club last Saturday evening. After supper, the group spent the evening playing bridge. Donald Edgington won high and low went to the hostess. Last Tuesday evening Mrs. Colby entertained members of the women's bridge club. Mrs. Ray Collar won high, and Mrs. Basil Adams received low.

Mr. and Mrs. John Prineing entertained Sunday. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Dee Bray, Nancy and Bill, Mr. and Mrs. Marie Altstiel of Saginaw and Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Wagner of Hazel Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Stewart of Adrian were week end house guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Imlen.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Gaskell were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Reese.

Mr.-Mrs. Risch Wed 58 Years

Mr. and Mrs. John Risch of Webberville will observe their 58th wedding anniversary quietly Friday, December 13. They reside on their farm, 830 Risch road, where they have spent the past 46 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Risch have a son, Dorrance W., a daughter, Mrs. Hugh Osterie; a grandson, Robert E. Osterie; and 3 great-granddaughters, Robin, Ranelle and Roberta Osterie.

The couple exchanged their vows at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. William Durrance, on December 13, 1899.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ambler and sons, Mike, Ricky and Robert called on Mr. and Mrs. Milton Franklin and family Sunday evening to see their new son.

Operation Mad Ball
Sunday-Monday-Tuesday

Columbia Pictures' zany "Operation Mad Ball," hilarious G. I. story filmed entirely off limits, opens Sunday at the Fox theatre. Its stars are Jack Lemmon, television's highly original and imaginative comedian, Ernie Kovacs, in his motion picture debut, Kathryn Grant, Arthur O'Connell, and the irrepressible Mickey Rooney.

"Operation Mad Ball" is set in France, shortly after the war's end. It's the story of an attempt by Lemmon, and his G. I. cohorts to promote a big wingding with the army nurses before they are separated.

Since the nurses are officers and regulations forbid enlisted men and officers to fraternize, Lemmon is put to considerable ingenuity in carrying out his off-limits project. Before he is finished, he has involved fellow G. I.'s, the army nurses, and German prisoners of war and French civilians in his increasingly complicated stratagems.

Educators Lead Campaign For Aid to Handicapped

Five educators are leading a move to have the county support an educational program for handicapped children. They were named Monday night after a meeting of a committee in Lansing.

Leading the campaign are Rex Smith, Holt; George Richards, Okemos; Harley Franks, Maple Grove; Kenneth Springer, Pleasant Grove; and Alton J. Stroud, county superintendent of schools. The other 4 are school superintendents.

Decision to name the committee of educators came after unanimous endorsement of the handicapped at the Monday night meeting. Representatives of 30 organizations made up the coordinating committee. Thomas C. Walsh, president of the Greater Lansing Association for Retarded Children, was moderator of a panel discussing the needs for county action.

Mrs. Ruth Karslake, chairman of the coordinating committee, said that a sub-committee to aid the educators will be appointed shortly.

To raise county funds for special education calls for a vote of the people at annual school meetings. Under present law the Lansing annual school meeting is not scheduled until June of 1959. The vote will be on the proposition of raising extra mills beyond the 15-mill limit.

Enrolled in special classes conducted by the Lansing public school system are 446 mentally handicapped, 717 in speech correction classes, 48 deaf, 128 crippled, 28 homebound, 15 hospitalized, 27 emotionally disturbed and 32 taught by visiting teachers.

In the county outside of Lansing are an equal number in the various categories, Supk. Stroud estimated.

Area Cage Teams Open Up With Full Slate of Games

Basketball takes the spotlight this week for Ingham County league and Capital Circuit teams. Ingham County league basketball teams don't wait for any preliminaries.

Friday 6 of the 7 teams made into league opponents in the first full night of the schedule. Stockbridge, rated as one of the top teams this year in basketball as well as football, will take on Leslie in a game at the Blackhawk gym.

Fowlerville will enter its game at Dansville as the favorite. The Gladiators have more experience and more size than the Aggies. Coach Earl Briggs at Dansville has his work cut out for him. He has only 3 letterwinners back from last year's red hot Aggie team and these were not front line performers.

Haslett will take on Williams-ton in the other league game. The Lakers are always tough. This season there will be several faces missing from the squad but Bob Lerch and Ronnie Ferguson are still on hand and both were listed as top performers last year. Lerch is a sharpshooter who is capable of hitting the double figures most every time.

At the starting stage of the 1957-58 season - Stockbridge, Okemos and Haslett show the most promise with Stockbridge displaying the most strength.

Williams-ton might pull some surprises but indications are that Dansville, Leslie and Fowlerville are in for a lean year.

Over in the Capital Circuit St. Mary and Resurrection are making their first appearance in the conference.

It will probably be a happy season for St. Mary. The Big Blues are loaded. They already have one game under their belts—an easy win over Jackson St. Mary. Thursday night the Big Blues will entertain Flint St. Johns.

Resurrection will also have a strong team, though the Shamrocks must find a replacement for several key performers, including Ray Bauer at center.

Bauer was one of the best centers in the state and his loss will be a hard one to make up.

Resurrection will get a late start. The Shamrocks open the hard way with a blood battle at the Civic Center with St. Mary next Thursday.

Howell is due for another rough year. The Highlanders had a one-man team last year in Dick McMacken. He is not around this season. Even with the giant Howell wound up in the cellar so indications are that sledging will be even tougher this year. The Highlanders will try Fenton Friday night.

Everett, always a strong team, is no exception this year. Friday night the Vikings entertain Flint Atterton. Tuesday they will take on Charlotte.

Coach Ted Bauer is loaded with veterans who proved last year that they knew how to play basketball.

Holt, with one game already in the bag will rest Friday but will take on Stockbridge Tuesday. The Rams have some key performers back but need to find a take-charge player to fill Bob Tuttle's shoes.

Mason will round out the Capital Circuit schedule with a non-conference game at Okemos. Tuesday the Bulldogs will play at Leslie.

Coach Names Starters

Mason Set to Open Cage Season

Friday night is the night Coach Don Little has pointed his charges for.

Mason will open its cage season in a game at Okemos. The Bulldogs have a new coach and lots of new faces in the lineup.

Everyone on the squad will probably see some action in the opener as Little tries to put together the best combination.

Larry Wheeler will be at center for Mason. He is a senior in his third year of varsity ball. He takes over the center spot after playing at forward for 2 years.

Bruce Horton, a junior, and Rod Caltrider, a senior, will complete the front line. Horton is a newcomer who looked good as a reserve player last season. Caltrider is a leftlander who goes up on the backboards well.

Tom Clipper is back for another season at one of the guard spots and Mike Holbrook will get the nod at the other. Both are seniors.

Denny Whipple and Mike Trudeau will see action at the forward positions.

Jerry Willis, Jim Hallenbeck, Earl Stone, Fred Heins, and Bill Dietz round out the squad.

Mason will have just average height in the front ranks and has some shortages at the guard positions.

That lack of height was evident Saturday morning when Mason scrimmaged East Lansing in the new Trojan gym.

Coach Little couldn't have picked a tougher scrimmage foe. East Lansing has Art Brandstatter, called by some the best high school athlete in the state. Art's little brother who is also built up in the air also plays a lot of basketball.

The Bulldogs held their own, though their man-for-man defense couldn't cope with the Trojans.

Okemos is always tough, especially on its own hardwood floor. Though the Chiefs lost some top-flight talent in Jim Kreider and Max Creaser who both hit the double figures most of the time.

Hornets Post Overtime Win

Williams-ton started the cage season on the right foot by dumping Holt 34-32 in an overtime game at Williams-ton. The win was a surprise for Williams-ton and labels the Hornets as one of the teams to watch out for in the Ingham County league.

Holt just couldn't get started. The Rams had plenty of shots; but couldn't make them stay down. Lack of a long shot artist such as the Rams have had in Lucky Phillips and Bob Tuttle in the past few years hurt the Rams.

Holt took an 8-6 lead in the first quarter but managed to score only 2 points in the second period and left the floor at the half on the short end of a 11-10 count.

The Rams evened the score in the third quarter and both teams came up with 8 points in the final period to send the game into overtime.

Williams-ton outscored the Rams 5-2 in the extra period.

Chuck Cubry was the big gun for Williams-ton with 14 points. He scored 7 out of 8 free throws. Dave Carpenter was the only Ram to hit the double figures. He made 10 points.

LET'S NOT CLOWN. BOYS—Two English soccer players seem to be putting on an act for the fans at Craven Cottage, London. But Stevens of the Fulham team, right, only appears to be balancing the ball on his head while McGarry of Huddersfield tucks his shirt in. The boys were completely in earnest as Fulham went on to win, 2-1.

St. Mary Cagers Sparkle In Posting 44-18 Victory

St. Mary of Lansing trounced Jackson St. Mary 44-18 Friday night to open the 1957-58 basketball season. The Big Blues had things their own way all during the game.

St. Mary basketball fortunes are a record high for the 1957-58 season.

Coach Len Lapka has 6 letterwinners back for action plus 3 promising newcomers who are counted on to give the veterans a race for their jobs.

Best prospect for stardom is 6-ft., 5-in. Rick Barrett. Barrett has a couple of years experience behind him. As the season progressed last year he smoothed his game to the point where he controlled both backboards with ease.

Jerry Spagnuolo and Doug Tallaferro both have experience at guard and forward positions. Ray Perron and Hurley Smith are guard veterans and Mike Stump will back Barrett at center. Newcomers who have the size to move into the starting lineup in case any of the oldtimers tatter are Keith Gundersen and John Newman, forwards, and Don Fletcher, guard.

Winning basketball is a habit with Lapka and his Big Blues. The last 4 years the Big Blues won 3 out of 4 Catholic league championships. This year St. Mary will have some stiff competition in the Capital Circuit, though.

Barrett gave Coach Lapka a taste of what to expect by dumping in 21 points against the Jackson team. He bagged 10 field goals, most of them tip-ins, and added one free throw.

As good as Barrett was, though, the biggest surprise was the defensive play of the Big Blues.

St. Mary piled up a 12-1 lead in the first quarter and ran it to 16-1 in the first part of the second before Jackson could make its first field goal.

With Barrett doing most of the scoring the Big Blues took a 24-10 halftime lead, stretched it to 32-14 at the three-quarter mark and breezed through the last period.

Most tall tales are also too long.

MSU Coach Headlines Grid Bust

College football is one way to open the door to higher education, according to Burt Smith, Michigan State university football coach.

He made that statement at the Mason Lions-Kiwanis football banquet at the Legion building Tuesday night. The banquet is an annual affair honoring Mason high school football players and coaches.

Smith went on to say that it didn't make any difference what school or what size school a boy picked. Education is the thing, regardless of what some critics claim, the Spartan coach said.

Along with giving the crowd an insight on the demands of college football and the high caliber of boy required to play it Smith also showed movies of the Michigan State-Wisconsin football game.

Bob Jewett, former Mason star and a 3-year letterwinner at Michigan State was also on the program.

Coach Fred Driver presented football awards to the Bulldogs variety.

Juniors earning varsity awards were Bruce Horton, Gary Clark, Leon Everett, Gary Gardner, Dave Dunsmore, Frank Fellows, Mike Leu, Allan Davis, Bob Betcher and Harvey Fanson.

Sophomore letterwinners were Keith Stone, Don Torrance, Charles Twork, Larry Burgess, Doug Conney and Keith Haynes.

Pete Robinson and Bill Gavin broke into the varsity award class as freshmen.

mond Strayer, Tom Thorburn, Vic VanDeMoortel, Chuck Walcott and Gerry Willis. Everett Cagers Are Again Great

Everett shows indications of again being one of the Capital Circuit and central Michigan basketball powers.

Coach Ted Bauer has only 4 lettermen back from last year's team which won 15 and lost 5 but there is plenty of reserve strength and a good amount of height available.

The Vikings have Lloyd Beardsley back at his center post. The 6-ft., 2-in. pivot man improved with every game last year. He is rugged on the backboards.

At forward Bauer can call on his 2 letterwinners, Dick Yarger and Dale Springer. Hugh Mallory is the veteran returning at guard.

Up from last year's crack reserve cage team are Jerry Shepherd, Larry Counselor and John Seney at guard and Doug Burgess at forward. The surprise of the year may come from a sophomore, though. Bill Powers played his ball for Walter French last year. He stands 6-ft., 3-in. and has been looking good in practice so far.

Everett has a 15-game schedule lined up with the opener booked with Flint Atterton in the Viking gym December 6. Tuesday the Vikings will play a non-conference game with Charlotte and then will jump into the Capital Circuit race with successive games with Howell and Mason.

When receiving praise, be modest and turn your back. It's so much easier to pat.

State Forces Closing of Hospital at Stockbridge

By Helen Beeman

Rules and regulations of the state hospital board and the fire marshal have forced closing of Howe Memorial hospital at Stockbridge.

Orders came for installation of a sprinkling system. Heretofore fire extinguishers have been considered adequate. Orders also came for adding 2 registered nurses to the staff. Heretofore a registered nurse on call, along with experienced practical nurses, was considered adequate.

Mrs. Eleanor Mayer, unable to meet the requirements of state regulations, was forced to close the hospital.

State officials apparently disregarded the fact that 1,591 babies have been born at the hospital in the 16 years of its operation; that mothers have been well cared for, that all other patients have had good care. Nobody has been burned or even scorched, but the building is now labeled as unsafe. Mrs. Mayer can not afford installation of the sprinkler system or the employment of 2 registered nurses.

A committee is being set up to study means of operating a hospital. The need for a hospital has been demonstrated. Mrs. Mayer has agreed to lease her building to a non-profit corporation for operation. The committee is also studying possibilities of providing a new building.

Police Program Given for Lions

Stockbridge Lions were entertained with a program given by the state police Tuesday evening. After dinner served at the Eaton House a new motion picture showing the Michigan state police was shown.

Parents Learn Of Guam Storm

In a letter from their son, Ernest W. J. Smith, serving with the navy on Guam, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Smith learned of the recent typhoon.

Storm warnings came a day ahead of the typhoon and all hands secured loose gear, took vehicles to safe spots and evacuated people who would be endangered.

When the typhoon struck, the son wrote, the air was filled with flying coconuts, stones and limbs propelled by winds clocked at from 50 to 70 miles per hour. Hail fell in torrents. The son said he was driving a car which the wind whirled off the road and into a ditch.

Winds increased through the day and night, finally reaching 150 miles per hour. Many native dwellings went down, Smith wrote, but many buildings withstood the storm, although heavy damage resulted from flying debris. Poles and power lines were twisted and tangled and many Quonset were wrecked.

Peoples Church Marks Birthday

Peoples church of East Lansing is observing its 50th anniversary this week.

A golden anniversary birthday dinner was served Wednesday night in the social hall of the present church home of the 2,300-member congregation. A birthday cake was the dessert of a full-scale turkey dinner. Special honor was paid all living charter members able to be present.

On Sunday the actual anniversary date of the organization meeting in the old Michigan Agricultural college armory—a 50th anniversary worship service will be conducted, identical at 9:30 and 11:00 a. m. The 5 present ministers of Peoples church will take part. They are Rev. C. Brandt Tefft, pastor since 1949; Dr. Nevell A. McCune, pastor 1917-48 during much of the church's growth, now minister emeritus; Rev. Roy J. Schramm, parish minister; Dr. P. Marion Shumms, minister of education; and Rev. Joseph A. Porter, minister to students.

A large exhibit of photographs and other historical mementoes of the church will be viewed by those attending the anniversary activities. Out-of-town visitors are expected.

For the first 40 years after Michigan Agricultural college was founded in 1855, the faculty and their families all lived on the campus. In 1897 the first off-campus home was built, and a community started to develop that in June, 1907, became the chartered city of East Lansing. Six months later Peoples church, interdenominational, became East Lansing's first church. The 86 charter members represented 11 Protestant denominations. Today's 2,300 members, many of them Michigan State university faculty, represent more than 30 different religious faiths.

"IT WAS A NICE TRY, BUT..." seems to sum up public opinion about competitive cars attempting to equal the styling and features of the Swept-Wing '58. They tried to get as low, but had to lower the roof to do it. (Less headroom, same high, boxy, cooped-up look.) Their windshields got smaller, while ours got bigger. Most of them still don't have Total-Contact Brakes to assure smooth, even, safe stops when needed. Nor do they offer push-button TorqueFlite, the proven automatic transmission, and Constant-Control power steering that works full time—not part time as some other systems do. And Dodge no-sway, no-dip Torsion-Aire is standard equipment. (Bus-type air springs offered by some cars cost well over $100.00 extra.) So compare all the 1958 models with Dodge. We think you'll agree: Other cars are catching on, but they can't catch up.

Club Leader Explains 4-H Program

Wilmot McDowell, Ingham club agent, explained that 4-H clubs can be defined as groups of young people from rural, suburban, and urban areas, who carry on a wide variety of homemaking, farming, community service, and other projects. They sew, cook, make things for the home, preserve food, raise livestock and poultry, grow gardens and field crops, conserve the soil, and work for community betterment.

Any boy or girl in Ingham county between 10 and 21 years of age may join by agreeing to follow 4-H ideals and standards, he said. The main requirement is a willingness to "learn by doing," which is the club slogan, and "to make the best better," which is the 4-H club motto, McDowell pointed out. Character development and good citizenship are long-range goals, he added.

In the past half century, 4-H has helped develop approximately 20,000,000 young citizens who have participated in its program in all 48 states, Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico. Ingham county had 1,600 boys and girls enrolled during 1957, McDowell said.

The 4-H program is a part of the cooperative extension work in which the U. S. department of agriculture, land-grant colleges, and counties share.

The term, 4-H, refers to head, heart, hands and health which are emphasized in the program. Ingham's program includes project meetings, softball, camps, tours, talent show, county fair, achievement days, recreation, community projects and many other activities, pointed out McDowell. The 4-H emblem is a 4-leaf clover, with a letter H on each leaf. Club colors are green and white.

Members largely run their clubs, elect their officers, help plan and hold meetings, and select their projects, McDowell explained.

To guide club members, several hundred men and women (mostly parents) serve as unpaid volunteer local leaders. Some of them are older 4-H club members who assist as junior leaders. Leaders are helped and assisted by the county agents, 4-H, home demonstration and agriculture.

Hundreds of boys and girls in Ingham county have already enrolled or are enrolling in clothing, handicraft, knitting, electrical, personal improvement, gun-handling, child care and several other projects. More information on 4-H club work may be obtained from the extension office in the court house at Mason.

Another Fine New Concrete Highway for Michigan Drivers

Detroit-Toledo Expressway, an example of a fine new concrete highway

New concrete highways are built to last 50 years ... and more. They will still be "new" long after this youngster can drive his own car.

Concrete Highways for Smoother, Safer Driving

NEW CONCRETE HIGHWAYS give Michigan motorists the smoothest ride ever. These easy-to-drive super roads are designed for 1975, but you can enjoy their comfort today.

They're safe, too. Concrete's gritty texture means more skid resistance, even in wet weather. And at night your visibility is up to four times better on concrete than on light-absorbing asphalt.

These new concrete thruways represent the last word in engineering achievement. Thanks to improved techniques they'll last 50 years and more. Drive one of Michigan's new concrete expressways and you'll agree you never had a smoother, safer ride.

Built to Cost Less!

Economy is a built-in advantage of concrete highways. They are low in first cost and cost far less to maintain over the years. Longer life and less upkeep are premium advantages of concrete.

Your telephone doesn't mind the cold

A cold, snowy winter day can just about stop everything. It's bad enough to have to go outside; even worse to attempt driving over icy, hazardous, snow-covered roads.

But your telephone is hard to stop. It isn't bothered by frostbite, and snowdrifts can't slow its speed. With it you can do your shopping, make or change your plans, keep in touch with family and friends near or far—all from the cozy comfort of your easy chair.

Sure is nice to know that no matter how bad the weather gets, you and your family have a useful and dependable friend in your telephone . . . always ready and able to help.

THE QUEST FOR NEW TRAILS

The history of man is a story of progress. Each of its thousands of volumes could bear one common title: The Quest for New Trails.

Even in childhood we display this strange genius which has brought us from primeval forests to this atomic age. We love to penetrate the untouched spaces . . . to open trails where none have ever been.

But this quest could destroy us more rapidly than it has profited us. History recounts the fall of many a civilization too busy with its search for new trails to understand its deeper needs.

For man can truly progress only when his spiritual growth keeps pace with his cultural and scientific advancement.

Or, bluntly, the future of this young Arctic explorer and of his world depends on the Church. The truths of God are unchanging—and ever more essential—as we seek new trails into the Unknown.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

MORE ALUMINUM IN 1958 CARS

The increasing use of aluminum in 1958 automobiles is demonstrated by this pretty model holding a 26-pound housing for Buick's new flight pitch Dynaflo transmission. The transmission case and the air-cooled brake drums make up 44 of the 95 pounds of aluminum Buick will use in some of its 1958 models. About 180 pounds of weight is saved by the use of aluminum instead of the traditional cast iron.

Farmer Peck's Wife

Mrs. Peck Wonders About Her Picture in Newspaper

By Mrs. Ray Peck

Something funny happened today. Almost makes me believe in ghosts and things like that! When I opened the Greenville Daily News there was a picture of myself staring back at me. Only I do not have a picture like that nor do I remember ever having one taken like it. Where did it come from?

I thought they might have taken parts of 3 pictures of me and made one. If they did it's a good way to puzzle anyone.

It gives me an idea. If I were any good at developing pictures and doctoring them up I would have some fun. Maybe put other people's faces on someone else's body and so forth. Even giving a different hair style does a lot... especially a lot of hair to a sparsely-crowned one or vice versa.

I had another laugh from a newspaper's version of me several years ago. When the Lapeer County Press began putting this column in their paper they used a drawing of a housewife at the top. Only she must have been at least 65 years old... a real white-haired grandmother-type of person. As I was 31 at the time and did not feel very grandmotherly yet we got a big laugh. (Though I guess there are some at that age!)

How long has it been since you've called on your neighbors? Or has your neighbor gone out of style?

Along with television and automobiles, packaged meals and electrical gadgets there have come a self-sufficiency and independence from the need to have a neighbor. So we each go our own way.

When a tragedy or need arises the old spirit of sharing comes forth but mostly we call on our neighbors for funeral flower collections or fund drives. When folks see a neighbor at the door they know it's on some errand.

If it weren't for these things we'd never see some of our closest friends, so along with the benefits derived from drives should be added calling on them.

It takes me longer than it should, too, because I haven't the heart to collect and run. If I haven't been there in a year then it doesn't seem decent to see how much I can get and how fast I can get out of there.

I stayed at Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Henry's the longest on the recent United Fund drive. There is always lots to talk about with them. I laughed when I left and said that the next time I knocked on their door that it wouldn't be for any other reason than making a friendly call.

The children always insist on going with me to certain homes. They always have and they never seemed like an excuse for me not to go out on a fund drive or funeral collection.

Legislators Face Money Problems

By ELMER E. WHITE
Michigan Press Association

Money troubles will be the toughest problem faced by the 1958 legislature.

State agencies have asked for $405,000,000 for the next fiscal year. This is about the same requested from the previous legislature, which cut $60,000,000 from the combined proposed expenditures.

The problem is more compelling this year because last year lawmakers slapped a moratorium on all but "normal" expansion—the extension of services to cover population increases.

Gov. Williams, informed by his economic advisors that the state and the nation face difficult times ahead, is preparing a budget of geared to holding expenses down.

Republicans are charging it is a political technique, demanding vastly expanded services in an off-year and trimming the budget to the bone in advance of an election campaign.

Key legislators, leaders in the belt-tightening crusade of last year, see no way out of another squeeze this winter in the absence of new revenue.

Two tax committees are studying the state's tax structure but both say their reports and recommendations will not be ready until 1959.

Financial experts see a decline in the sales tax revenue this year, creating the necessity of augmenting school aid from "other" sources—but there aren't any "other" sources.

That is the dismal side of the picture.

Even more dismal is the need for more facilities for higher education, mental health and other functions of government.

Williams is considering an extensive bond financing program for the colleges and universities. At least 2 Republican legislators are ready to go along.

Rep. George Sallade (R-An Arbor) has proposed a bond issue to build the needed buildings for higher education. Rep. Willard Bowerman (R-Lansing) suggests liquidating the $50,000,000 veterans' trust fund as a stop-gap measure.

Needs are imperative this year. The University of Michigan and Michigan State university have asked for a total of $117,000,000 in new buildings for next year. Russian development of their earth satellites and the consequent pressure on higher education in America has superimposed a sort of desperation over the picture.

State employees already are asking for another civil service salary increase.

More money will be sought to start construction of a new Boys Vocational School, continue construction of a new medium security prison at Ionia.

Pressure groups are forming in ranks to demand more services.

The picture of another tug of war over how much citizens are willing to pay for government and its services is developing in Lansing, while officials shudder at the thoughts.

Dozens of bond issues to build new schools and improve local services have been voted down in the past year and business and industry are up in arms over the state "tax climate."

The Daisy Manufacturing Co. of Plymouth said it would move to Rogers, Ark., next spring, blaming state taxes and the high cost of labor.

As they tackle the tax and revenue problem, legislators and Gov. Williams both will be measuring their views against next fall—the 1958 election.

Opposition developed quickly to a plan by Secretary of State James M. Hare to start Michigan motorists using permanent license plates in 1959, with metal tabs for the ensuing 2 years.

Hare said the program would require an extra $60,000 next year to add another coat of paint to the plates, but would save about $200,000 over the 3-year period.

First, law enforcement officials said the plates would become illegible and battered in the three years and the tabs would be easy to counterfeit.

Then, legislators said they doubted that Hare's plan would result in the savings he anticipated.

Best bet at present is that Michigan will go on using one-year plates.

ALFALFA SEED SHORTAGE

Alfalfa seed forecast is 7% under the 1956 season. Alfalfa seed will be harvested from the smallest acreage since 1918. Farmers should plan their program and buy seed early. The vernal seed particularly will be in short supply.

Lions Clubs Back Leader Dog Week

This is leader dog week, for calling attention to the program being carried on by the school located at Rochester, Michigan. Leader Dogs for the Blind, a non-profit organization established in 1939, has trained more than 1,000 leader dogs.

The fundamental fact is that blindness is a handicap which can be—and in innumerable instances is—overcome, say Lions club members who back the leader dog program. Education, rehabilitation and training all contribute to the conquest of blindness, they pointed out. The sense of being useful to society is essential to happiness, and a leader dog enables the owner to enter fully, despite a handicap, into the life of the community—to live an active, cultured and contributive life of his own. Lions club members point out.

"Lions are striving to give every blind person a chance to enjoy the satisfaction and dignity of independence—to live a full life," said Jim Ingham, president of the Mason club. "Unfortunately many of the blind themselves are not aware of the fact that a leader dog may be available. The sighted public is invited to contact the Mason club, or write Leader Dogs for the Blind, Rochester, Michigan, for complete information. Perhaps your contact will be the means whereby a blind man will be happy again."

Flames Burn Up Motor Scooter

Gerald DeKett, 14, lost a new motor scooter in a fire at the DeKett home, Mason street, Friday. The boy had been polishing up his scooter in a small building at the rear of the home. He had built a fire in a hotblast heater to work in warmth. The boy left the building to eat dinner. As he was eating he glanced out and saw the flames. Mason firemen made a quick run to the scene but the flames were shooting high. The scooter was burned beyond any possibility of restoration.

Winter Wheat Gets Fast Start

With local exceptions fall seedings of winter wheat, rye, winter oats and barley have been completed and are off to the best start in many years. Early planted fields show good stands and excellent growth in most areas as a result of abundant to adequate moisture supplies.

Small grain and pasture prospects have seldom been more promising than they are at the present time in the heavy winter wheat producing areas of the Great Plains states.

At this time the nationwide outlook for winter wheat is most promising in many years.

"We can't get out of bed," reports Steven Garland of Escanaba. But why is something a 3-year-old cannot understand. Tuberculosis is too big a word. Christmas Seals pay for testing drugs which appear to prevent complications of children's tuberculosis, in the past always fatal.

Traffic Causes Loss of Deer

More deer are being killed on southern Michigan highways each year.

Through October, about 600 whitetails had been killed in collisions with cars, trucks and other vehicles on state roadways south of the Muskegon-Bay City line.

The total, at year's end, will be a record high. In 1954, highway accidents killed 378. The next year it jumped to 685 and last year it was up to 748. The statewide total last year was a record 3,127.

In addition, southern Michigan conservation officers estimate the

Doing Good in Doves

Earl Miller of Eaton Rapids, who reads philosophy along with postcards, dropped a few pearls of wisdom in Mason last week. The Eaton Rapids postal worker was pointing out the benefits of group action. He declared that many men as individuals are self-conscious when they set about doing good all by themselves yet are eager to do good in a group. That's the virtue of churches and service clubs and veterans organizations, he said.

Miller's observations have the ring of truth. That is probably why churches are undergoing such rapid growth and why community chests attain their ever-higher quotas. People want to do good. As individuals few know where to start doing good. They are held back by self-consciousness, by the fear of being called presumptuous or the danger of being considered meddlers. Many want to help unfortunate friends and neighbors but don't know how to go about it.

Doing good in doves and bunches has now become as American as apple pie. We do good at home by contributing time and money to hundreds of thousands of organizations, religious and secular. Although we sometimes complain about it, we continue to share our goods with people all over the world—in the most remote corners.

We might get even greater enjoyment out of doing good individually, and the person being helped might get greater help because it would be personal. But few of us do good that way. Doing good in doves has become part of the American tradition.

Doing Good by Counties

Ingham and Eaton road officials have redivided the county line. Up to now the counties have maintained the county line piecemeal, Ingham for 2 or 3 miles and then Eaton for a like distance.

Because Ingham has far more road money than Eaton, it sometimes happened that the Eaton stretch has been gravel while on either side the Ingham sections have been blacktop.

Under the new agreement, Ingham county is going to maintain the north 12 miles and Eaton the south 12 miles. But Eaton is getting the best of the bargain, some people may say. The north 12 miles are heavily traveled.

Let's look at it this way. Automobile weight and gasoline taxes are distributed on a population basis. Eaton county receives about $1.00 in state highway revenue to every $2.50 received by Ingham. Eaton has just as many miles of road as Ingham. Were it not for Lansing traffic those Eaton roads would be adequate. As it now is, Eaton must not only spend state road revenue but even use the property tax to build roads to handle traffic from Ingham.

The division of highway responsibility between Ingham and Eaton is fair. Ingham highway officials used good judgment in giving Eaton the best of the bargain. Eaton is entitled to it.

Principles of Taxation

Economists claim that taxation in Michigan is based on 3 principles. They are cost of service, such as the toll charge on the new Mackinac bridge; personal benefits, such as special assessments for sewers; and the ability to pay. Ability to pay is gauged by ownership of real estate and personal property, and by special taxes on liquor and cigars.

Yet on food, the spending gauge is not based on the principle of ability to pay. A poor man with a big family must pay more sales tax on food than does a rich man with a small family.

The federal income tax was originally based on ability to pay. Maybe it still is.

Now Michigan is faced with demands of the governor and legislators for more money, based on one of the principles or all of them, or none of them.

As the campaign for more taxes develops all of us might do well to reflect upon the principles now used and consider what principle or combination of them we prefer for new taxes. Or we might even consider what services we are willing to go without to escape new taxes. That might be the best principle.

Parking Lots—Now

It's apparent that the creation of the Dart bank parking lot has provided excellent parking in the Mason business district. Non-existent a year ago, the gravelled lot is now one of the most popular places to park, averaging about 100 cars a day.

Popularity of the facility has brought relief to curb parking throughout the business district. However, Mason's fortunate parking situation is more the result of luck than planning. Had it not been for the community-spirited action of bank officials, parking space would now be at a premium.

But as comforting as the parking picture is at the present time, there is nothing to indicate that the Dart bank will or should continue forever to maintain the lot for public use. Eventually, the land will be used for commercial purposes and overnight such an action would send city officials and the Chamber of Commerce scurrying for additional parking space.

Now is the time for action on the acquisition of additional parking facilities. It would be proper for the city to make some long-range plans for additional parking areas. The sites could be developed as the need for additional parking space arises.

Mason can be proud of its parking conditions. So far officials have been able to throw off any pressures for parking meters, the absence of which makes the town competitive with Frandor's free parking and the Southtown shopping center now under construction.

Absence of parking meters plus the availability of free parking puts Mason in an enviable position.

Mason should guard its lead in parking facilities and be ready to expand them at any time when the need arises.

The bank has done a great public service in making its parking lot available. Mason should match the bank's faith in the community by securing other parking lots now.

Leslie Will Suffer Loss

Many Leslie people have been worrying over possible loss of business when the US-127 by-pass opens this month. The loss may come but it will likely be no greater than the loss of the Arcade theater if and when it closes down December 9.

In every area trade survey, entertainment is one of the principal factors. A good theater attracts trade to a town. It holds trade to a town. For 10 years the Arcade has drawn and held trade to Leslie.

One of Mason's business assets is the Fox theatre. Every person interested in Mason's business picture ought to be concerned over the Fox theatre. It was closed one summer and all business suffered.

TV comes far short of providing screen entertainment comparable to what Hollywood offers. Good pictures can best be seen in theaters. People will go to a town with a good theater. They'll trade there.

Leslie business people would do well if they could convince themselves and the Arcade proprietors that the show must go on.

Down by the SYCAMORE

John Knight is buying a stable of weeklies to serve as proving grounds for his big dailies in Detroit, Chicago, Akron, Miami and Charlotte, N. C. The Florida Keyholder and the Coral Gables Times are the weeklies added so far.

Knight wants his city staff members to learn all angles of newspaper work—circulation, printing, reporting, columning and editorial writing—even job printing. He's trying to overcome the specialization trend where one man can write only football, another only society news and another only murder.

The move of dailies to establish newspaper farms for training and developing city staffs is a hopeful sign—hopeful both for weekly and for daily newspapers. Readers of both weekly and daily papers should profit.

Dr. A. L. Thurman of the department of communication skills at Michigan State made an eloquent talk before Mason Lions and guests Wednesday night of last week. He used La Rochefoucauld's definition: "True eloquence consists in saying all that is necessary and nothing but what is necessary."

One of Dr. Thurman's best suggestions is for people and committees to define problems before they attempt to solve them. That's what the school study committee now intends to do.

Had there been better communications 2,000 years ago nearly all Europeans and some North Africans would all be speaking the same tongue—a modern Latin.

When the barbarians moved from northern Europe down into Roman colonies located in what are now Italy, Spain, France and Portugal they brought their tribal dialects with them. There were no newspapers, or radio or TV stations, so each area spoke its own version of Latin until within a few years nobody could understand the mother tongue. They could understand only the Latinized dialects which became Spanish, Italian, French and Portuguese. They are the Romance languages—all based on the Latin which Romans spoke.

There's a new kind of communication being tested in Washington this week. Senator Charles E. Potter from Michigan is a member of the subcommittee which will have an invisible look at subliminal projection.

Even Michigan State's department of communication skills has no professor of the new skill, or perhaps it's an art and comes under the head of MSU's department of communication arts.

In subliminal projection an advertising specialist implants invisible and fraudulent messages upon standard film, perhaps one starring Jayne Mansfield. The advertising messages are flashed on and off so fast (1-3000th second duration) that the eye can not read them, but they are supposed to register below the level of conscious awareness.

A man named James Vicary, perhaps kin of the Bunker Hill Vicarys, is the promoter of subliminal projection. He is seeking authority to market his device.

Governments banned printing for years. Kings and ministers of state feared the impact of printing upon citizens. They're still fearful of the press in many places, and there is reason to fear this new development of projection—a development that could turn all viewers of a Democratic convention telecast into Republicans, or viewer of a Republican convention telecast into Democrats. It could change viewers at a distillers' convention into teetotalers without anyone being aware of what was happening. And it could change the WCTU into Table-toppers overnight.

Subliminal projection may have more implications than spunk. It may open the door to telepathy, and that would mean loss of newspaper jobs.

First Christmas card received by the Ingham County News staff arrived Monday, from Monty Crowell, serving with the U. S. army in Germany. It's a beautiful card with a note added: "I enjoy your paper very much and look forward to its arrival each week."

Frohe Weihnachten und ein glückliches Neues Jahr zu you, Monty.

While many people flee Michigan to escape snow, Fenton business men have bought one of the new snow-making machines. They've also bought 120 acres in the Tyrone hills and this winter they are going to have skiing regardless of weather. The new layout, called Summit Ski Area, will be in operation yet this month.

More dimes are deposited into the electrical horse on Mason's main street than reach Sunday school collections. That's because the horse won't go until a dime is deposited and Sunday schools seem to keep on going anyway.

Do your Christmas buying early.

6 reasons why

Farm Economists Miss the Boat

By CARL COLLIN

Six factors make it difficult to keep agricultural production in line with effective demand, says farm economist N. S. Hadley of Purdue University. These same factors are also the reason why we tend to move from feast to famine in farm income, he says.

In Hadley's opinion these are the fundamental differences between farming and other businesses:

Farming is a way of life, as well as a business.

It's a business which is declining in numbers.

Farming has been a business of arts and crafts.

It is a business of slow turnover.

There's an inelastic demand for farm products.

Farming is an industry made up of nearly 5 million small businesses, none of which is big enough to influence prices.

The last 25 years of the 20th century probably will go down in history as a period in which agriculture changed from a business of arts and crafts to a business of science, Hadley claims. He believes more people will live in the country than ever before, but they will be mostly non-farmers. New methods affecting farming will continue to be introduced, and farmers will have to adopt these new methods if they want to continue farming. The Purdue economist said there will be great changes in the way farmers buy their supplies and market their products. He concurs with other experts that many farm products will be produced to specifications and sold under contract. Specialization in farming will become almost complete in the next 20 to 30 years.

Pork output in western Europe is expected to reach 14 billion pounds next year. Annual output from 1916-50 was 7.5 billion pounds. This great increase will naturally cut demand for U. S. pork. Last year nearly 27% of our pork production was exported, so the boost in hog numbers in Europe can have a material effect on pork prices which, in turn puts pressure on live hog prices here in this country. That's why marketing people urge farmers to change over to meat type hogs.

The hog industry will have to change its ways of raising pork if it intends to keep its share of the meat market.

It's been losing its share of the consumer food dollar right along. Housewives don't want that extra fat on chops and pork cuts. Farmers will have to raise porkers with more lean meat if they want to compete with other meats, beef especially, and poultry products.

A record Jonathan apple crop of 2.95 million bushels accounted for 29% of Michigan's commerce.

ANTIBIOTICS IN DAIRY FEED

Dairy farmers soon will be able to feed their lactating cows a ration containing one of the disease-fighting antibiotics. U. S. Food and Drug Administration indicates that it is about to lift a ban on adding a wonder drug to feed for milk cows. The one which will be cleared is aureomycin.

Duck Hunter's Technique

No, this duck hunter isn't sleeping on the job; he is doing some layout shooting. His position gives a good view of the sky and is less likely to frighten off birds than an upright posture which would make the hunter more visible. When ducks move in to the decoys, the hunter pops up and fires. This type of shooting is legal, but sinkboxes—in which the hunter is below water level—are outlawed.

ers would be encouraged to put land as an aid to cutting production of surplus crops. The study included the views of 67 farm economists, chiefly college economists and lobbyists.

GOOD FISHING AT SEA

The Grand Banks consist of a shallow section of ocean off Newfoundland, where the cold Labrador current meets with warm Gulf Stream, the National Geographic magazine says. The swirling waters provide conditions favorable to the growth of plankton, and make a rich oceanic pasture for fish. Fishermen have been filling their shops with cod from the banks for 450 years.

Mason Barnyard Economics Meeting Will Deal with Farm Management

Farmers and their wives who attend the barnyard economics meeting in Mason Friday afternoon, December 13, will learn how to keep farm and home finances in balance during a period of rapid change. The meeting will open at 1:30.

One of the most crucial problems currently facing farm people is making the day to day management decisions necessary to adopt and take advantage of modern agricultural technology for both the farm and home, said M. H. Avery, county agricultural agent.

Aids in making these decisions will be discussed at this year's meeting which is an outgrowth of the popular barnyard economics meetings of previous years. This meeting will be in the court house.

The county extension staff is working with L. H. Brown of Michigan State university, department of agricultural economics, on the program.

As an example of the management problems involved, Brown will discuss the case of the 25-30 cow dairy farmer changing to bulk handling of milk. The purchase of the $2,500 to $4,000 bulk tank is often only a small part of the capital outlay involved in making the change. For example, it is frequently necessary to enlarge the milking parlor, get a larger water heater and revamp the plumbing.

At this point it may become obvious that more cows are needed to pay the increased cost. This points toward more housing, changes in type of housing, surfacing the barnyard, perhaps a milking parlor, pipeline milker and so on to more land and more cows, and more feed storage space.

At the same time the family may be at that stage where extra cash is needed for other things.

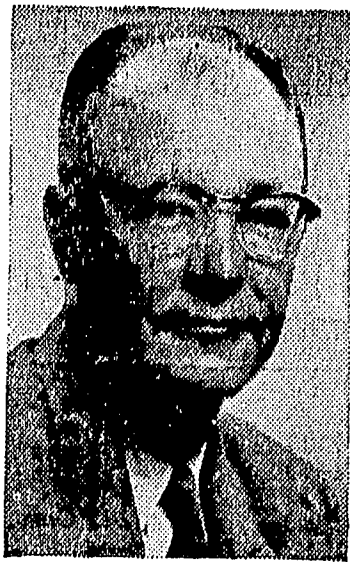

Farm Production Will Increase

During the past 10 years farm technology has taken giant steps forward enabling farmers to provide a super-abundance. Farm policy which generally should guide the country in economic use of this productive capacity has been lagging. Given average weather, the 1958 production will be larger than the 1957 crop and livestock program.

One of the things which has been robbing farmers of production has been partially controlled in the last few years—that is insect damage to crops. It's reported that about 2 billion dollars damage is done to farmers' crops each year by insects. Farmers now spend millions of dollars for insect control and industry. Chemical companies are spending a lot of money in research to develop and produce insecticides. Scientists say that even with the materials and methods now available farmers are only holding their own in this constant war with the insect world.

One of the things holding back in insect control has been residue on crops from the spray materials that leave little or no residue on crops, plants and fruits are an aim of researchers.

Another trend is systemic in-

Lauren H. Brown

Michigan State university extension dairyman at Michigan State university.

To keep the business in balance and the family expenses met while making such changes is a problem. The farm family may actually have to decide between

Price per Pound Shows Protein Value of Feed

High protein feeds, such as soybean oil meal and 48 to 55% protein dairy concentrates, are good buys for dairymen, according to Don Hillman, extension dairyman at Michigan State university.

When buying protein for dairy cattle, the price per pound of protein is the most important thing to consider because the bacteria in the cow's rumen can break down the protein in cheap feed just as well as in expensive feeds.

To find the cost per pound, divide the cost per 100 lb of feed by the percentage of protein content stated on the label.

In high concentrate feeds the cost of protein runs about 8c per lb. Linseed or cottonseed oil meal and 16 to 32% protein commercial dairy mixtures cost about 12c to 15c per lb of protein.

If feeding a good grade of alfalfa hay, protein supplement is not so important. Protein is needed only as a roughage balancer. High energy foods such as corn are cheaper than protein for supplementing legume rations.

Feeding large amounts of protein which may not be needed is a waste of money. Extra protein can be used for energy but corn seeds. Using this method, seeds of crops will be treated with the chemical. As the plant grows, the insecticide is taken into the sap stream, spreading throughout the plant. When the insect attacks the plant it absorbs the chemical and is destroyed. The material dissolves before plant harvest—cutting out the danger of plant residue.

the bulk tank or an automatic washer.

The meeting this year is being planned to demonstrate to farm families how to analyze their businesses and figure out how to keep their finances in balance during and after such a change, Avery said.

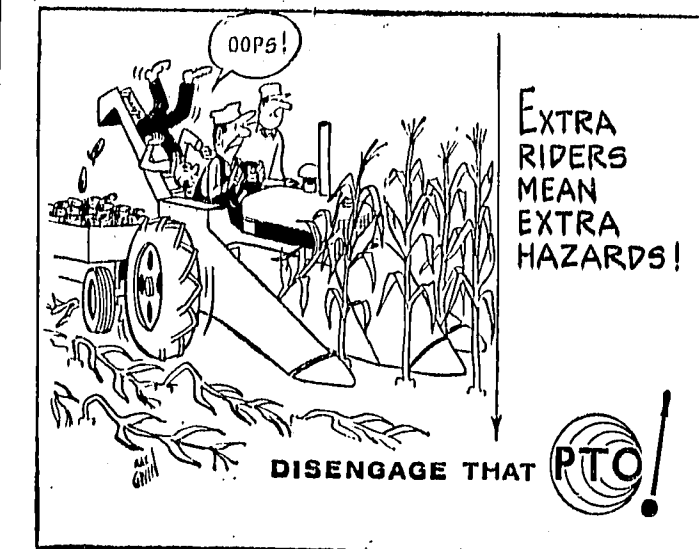

Brown will present figures from actual farms in this area to illustrate how farm families are meeting these important management decisions. Here are some of the questions which may be answered:

What will your farm business look like in the years ahead? Things keep changing — what can you and your family on your farm do about it?

Is this the time of year to sit down and take a look at what lies ahead for you and your family on your farm?

A movie, "Things Keep Changing," will be shown. Family spending of farm income will be discussed by Mrs. Annette Schaeffer, home demonstration agent.

Dick Nelson, assistant county agricultural agent, will summarize the points discussed at the meeting.

Meat Prices Show Costs

Why does choice round steak cost about 89c lb at the butcher shop when farmers get only about 25c lb for choice cattle?

The answer is that the difference is due to marketing costs, and only a small part of the animal is steak.

Michigan State university agricultural economists asked consumers in Muskegon that question recently. But only 10% of about 150 women gave the above answer. Almost a fifth of them said they did not know, although 2 blamed the difference on politicians.

Researchers also asked the women what the term "U. S. Choice Beef" meant. Only 3% gave the correct answer—government graded meat which was next to the highest grade.

MSU farm economist James Shaffer said that unless con-

Boys and Girls in 4-H Raise Colts

Ingham 4-H boys and girls are singing "Back in the Saddle Again." Four of them have quarterhorse mares from which they will raise colts.

Dr. O. Keith Pauley of Mason is sponsoring the project. He has 4 quarterhorse mares which are placed on Ingham farms with boys and girls having the colts, and after weaning they'll turn the mares over to another boy or girl. The Mason doctor also pays the breeding fees.

Dr. Pauley arranged through the county extension office to give 4-H club members quarterhorse mares as a 4-H project and from which to raise colts.

The club member takes care of this mare and exhibits her or her offspring at the county fair each year.

The 4-H member agrees to pass either the colt or the mare on to another 4-H member when he or she has raised a colt. The member receiving the mare or foal will continue with a partnership agreement with the extension department and Dr. Pauley so that more members may receive the benefit of having a good quarterhorse.

Members who received horses this year will be the owners of horses when they have passed one colt or the mare on to another member. Besides Ann Grettenberger, those who have the mares this year are Billy Leonard of the Okemos club and Jim McAndrews and Beverly Walker of the Southwest Leslie club.

Cold Weather Slims Battery

A battery that's "big" in the summer isn't necessarily "big" in winter, said M. H. Avery, county agricultural agent.

Avery explained that low temperatures cut the cranking power of a battery. A fully charged battery has only 40% of the cranking power at zero that it has at 80 degrees.

Many winter starting troubles are due to battery failures. Sometimes the battery just isn't big enough to handle the load.

Keep the battery fully charged and filled to the proper level. Clean terminals regularly and make sure connections are tight.

Storing the tractor in as warm a place as possible will help save the battery and will mean faster starts.

American Shot Rockets 40 Years Ago

Four decades ago, a brilliant American physicist envisioned sending a rocket to the moon.

No one took Dr. Robert H. Goddard seriously. Yet the New England professor was not indulging in Jules Verne fantasy. His was a coldly scientific view of the future, seen through his own trail-blazing research in rocket propulsion.

Today Dr. Goddard is recognized as a grandfather of space travel. In Europe as well as the United States his pioneer experiments in the 1920s and 1930s are credited with having opened the way to development of rockets capable of launching artificial satellites.

A historic Goddard rocket wobbled skyward in 1926 from a farm near Auburn, Massachusetts, the National Geographic Society reported. The flimsy-looking, skeletal device rose only 41 feet, but its flight was the beginning of a new era in rocketry.

In its design Dr. Goddard had broken away from the limitations of solid fuels then available and invented a successful liquid-fuel rocket with the potential of powerful jet thrusts.

His theory of fuels proved sound. The Germans used many of his conclusions in developing World War II's long-range V-2.

Dr. Goddard produced the first gyro-stabilized rocket. In 1935 one of his rockets rose 7,500 feet above New Mexico. Still another reached the then incredible speed of 700 miles an hour.

One Goddard invention, a recoilless rocket launcher which the American military ignored in 1918, turned out to be the famed bazooka of World War II. In all, he held some 200 patents.

Curiously, Dr. Goddard's work got little attention in his own country until shortly before the war. He served in wartime at the navy research laboratories in Annapolis, helping develop jet-assisted take-offs for aircraft. He died at Baltimore in 1945.

Like many pioneers, Dr. Goddard walked a lonely road, often ignored, often looking for finandial aid to continue his work. He was born in Worcester, Massachusetts. He spent much of his professional life there, first as an instructor at the Worcester Polytechnic Institute, then as physics professor at Clark university. Local alarm at his experiments finally drove him to the wastes of New Mexico—not far from today's White Sands Proving Grounds.

Dr. Goddard was chiefly interested in finding a way to explore the upper atmosphere. In a letter to the National Geographic Society in 1916, he wrote of the "vast amount of information that is to be gained by the sending of the apparatus into the region that lies above 100 or 200 miles from the surface of the earth."

In a classic, slim monograph, published by the Smithsonian Institution in 1919, Dr. Goddard explained, "A search for methods of raising recording apparatus beyond the range for sounding balloons (about 20 miles) led the writer to develop a theory of rocket action."

Dr. Goddard in 1919 set forth the principle of multi-stage rockets, which the Russians have successfully demonstrated in October and November, 1957. He theorized that with the employment of more than one stage, a rocket could be sent up specifically to 580 miles—roughly the point at which the first Russian satellite went into orbit and ultimately could reach the moon.

BULLETINS ARE AVAILABLE

Two new bulletins are available at the extension office. One on dairy calf management practices in Michigan reports on practices by leading dairymen with suggested notions for best results. This is the time of year when farmers are raising their heifer replacements for their dairy herd and calf management is of utmost importance. The second bulletin is one on wagon rack for self-feeding dairy herds. The extension office has had a number of requests for such a wagon. Self-feeding green feed is becoming popular. Farmers planning such a rack will profit by this bulletin. A third bulletin covers points for managing the part-time farm.

WINNER, THIRTEENTH AAA TRAFFIC SAFETY POSTER CONTEST

Hog Plan Based On Feed Supply

Michigan farmers are trying to decide whether to raise more pork chops and hams, said M. H. Avery, county agricultural agent.

Feed supplies have become more plentiful because Michigan has changed from a feed deficient to a feed surplus state.

Corn has become relatively cheap because plant breeders have been able to stretch the corn belt to include much of southern Michigan. Supplies and prices of corn are important factors in the hog business. Cost of production studies show that 75 to 80% of the total is feed and most of that is corn.

In farm management terms, hog enterprises give a high return for labor and land used in corn production. Also, capital is turned over fast and a hog enterprise can be geared around peak labor needs of crop or other livestock production.

Compared with other ventures, hogs don't need as much labor for the amount of feed as dairy or poultry and require less investment than feeder cattle or sheep. A farmer can also expect about 50% variation in income from hogs from year to year than would be the case with dairying. In the end, though, the final decision whether to produce more hogs depends upon the individual situation. Land, capital, know-how and farmers' likes have to be taken into consideration in making the decision.

She had a speck in her eye

By JIM BROWN

"There's a flying saucer!" yelled the wife Sunday night from her vantage point near the garbage can. She had made the thrice-daily trip to dispose of the leftovers about 6:30 p. m. As she was replacing the lid, she saw the fiery "thing" in the sky and immediately spread the alarm. I humored her for a minute and just to calm her agreed to peek out the window. And there, hovering a little to the west of Mason, flew the saucer.

While the wife made plans for departure, I agreed to give advance warning to the Mason Civil Defense tower. Although there's a phone up there, its number is unlisted and the operator doesn't know the number. I called our Protector Ralph Strope, county CD official. His line was busy. I called Capital City Airport. A sweet thing said to call the sheriff. By this time, the wife had the car motor warmed up and together with our kids, we left town, leaving others to scatter for themselves.

We returned home only after we learned that the saucer was probably Venus or Mars or maybe muttnik.

Who calls who when a frantic citizen sees the end of the world approaching?

It's been a long time since I've been happy about receiving a report card. During my schooling there was little to brag about. In fact, it was better not even to discuss my grades, let alone have the whole sad story spelled out on a report card. Now, however, I can put on the stern face and ignore all the good grades and declare to my son, "Well, well. Looks like your slipping in milk-drinking. And this seems to indicate that you're a little sloppy folding up your rug."

Tim is a kindergartener. He brings his card home without batting an eye. Right now, his grades are good. But by constantly pointing out the low grades to him and ignoring the good ones, I can have him hating report cards in less than a year.

Santa took orders for 1,534 guns and holsters, 1,533 dolls and 72 sleds when he was in Mason Saturday. Boys and a few girls go for space guns followed by western models. Girls seem to prefer Tiny Tears dolls, whatever those are. One boy took advantage of the situation to ask Santa for a sports car.

Another boy coughed hard in Santa's face and left the old man reaching for his hanky.

"My, sonny, you've got a real cold there," Old Santa said with his eyes not quite so sparkling.

"Yeah," the kid replied, "I've got flu."

The Chesapeake Bay bridge spans 4 miles of water to link Maryland's eastern and western shores. It cost $14,000,000, and required 3½ years to build. A suspension span in the center lifts the roadway 198 feet above the ship channel, allowing ocean-going vessels access to the Port of Baltimore.

Read 1 Corinthians 3:1-9.

We are fellow workmen for God; you are God's field, God's building. (1 Corinthians 3:9, RSV.)

Though the kingdom of God is His ordaining, this fact does not eliminate our responsibility in its establishment. The Apostle Paul says that we are fellow workmen for God. God works through us when we dedicate ourselves completely to Him.

The early church started in homes. One of the ways we may work with God is to be ready to transform our homes into "preaching tents." Some years ago I met a certain lady in a church. She was complaining that it took her 4 years to go to and from church. She had moved to another village where no church was established.

I suggested to her that the home could be the nucleus of a new church in the village where she lived. A few weeks later I led the first service in the living room of her home. A few months later the garage was made into a sanctuary. Within one year property was secured. Today in that village there is a lively congregation, a sanctuary, and a parsonage. All started in that home.

PRAYER

Our heavenly Father, we want to be Thy fellow workmen. Teach us to be faithful servants of Thine. Help us to use our homes as instruments of Thy grace in the building of Thy kingdom. In the Savior's name we pray. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

Are we ready to work with God through our homes, for the spreading of the kingdom of God?
