

News Survey Shows Mixed Reactions

Are Smokers Convinced?

EDITOR'S NOTE: Hayden Palmer has been a 2-pack-a-day cigarette smoker. He switched to a pipe after the report from the government on lung cancer was released Saturday. Keep this in mind as his report is read.

By Hayden Palmer

If your husband or your boy friend is a little jittery and irritable these days, think nothing of it.

He's probably trying to give up cigarettes.

This government report that last Saturday hit like a hydrogen bomb on the nation has had mixed reactions.

Some folks are going along as usual, puffing away at one of the countless cigarette brands without a worry. Others are trying out pipes and not liking them too well. Others are taking to cigars.

Mason merchants say that cigar sales already have advanced and it is only 3 days since the report was made public.

As one man said, "I'm still smoking cigarettes, but I ought to quit."

A sales clerk in a Mason store said it appeared to her there have been fewer sales of cigarettes in the 3 days since the report came out. But tobacco sales -- pipe and cigars -- are going up, she said.

A lot of folks, she said, have come in and asked the price of pipes. Meanwhile government laboratories are busy experimenting with synthetic cigarettes. The news is that cigarettes made from lettuce, cabbage, beets and other vegetables have been perfected and they have been made to taste like tobacco. Now scientists are trying to find a way to make them smell like tobacco.

And so perhaps in the near future you may read an ad like this: "Smoking more lately but enjoying it less? Get a real cigaret, get a cabbage."

All this hubbub over tobacco might have been averted if Sir Walter Raleigh back in the 17th century had stayed where he belonged in England and not come traipsing over to America where he one day discovered a weed which turned out to be tobacco.

He shipped some of it back to England and the damage was done.

If Sir Walter who, despite his tobacco habits was a most polite young fellow, had stayed in England and continued to aid good looking young dolls of his time across mud puddles by throwing down his coat for them to walk over without getting their feet wet, all this confusion we're now in might have been averted.

Mason Freshman To Face Life of Total Blindness

Harry Botek, 16, a student at Mason junior high school, is facing a life of blindness within 6 months or a year. The boy is suffering from a rare disease known as ocular pemphigus, a blistering of the eye interior which will blot out vision completely as scar tissue forms. There is no known cure for the disease.

Harry's case is the 3rd of its kind reported in the United States.

The boy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Henderson, 618 Eugenia drive, Mason. He intends to continue with his school work as long as possible.

He has been under treatment for about a year. Dr. Tom Miller of Mason began the treatment and Harry was in the hospital for 3 weeks last summer. Dr. Miller then took the boy to Dr. A. E. Schultz of East Lansing and they continued work on the case.

In December they took the boy to the University of Michigan hospital where his case was diagnosed as the rare disease of ocular pemphigus. It was the first case in hospital history.

Harry is working after school hours at his father's gas station at State, Park and Maple streets.

Mrs. Henderson said the family is in hopes that through publication of the case perhaps some specialist may be found who has had experience with the rare disease and could give some help in combating it.

Late Wednesday Mrs. Henderson talked with physicians at Walter Reed hospital in Washington, and an appointment was made for Harry for Monday. On Wednesday he is to be examined by a doctor from John Hopkins university, who is recognized as one of the leading eye specialists in the country.

Candidates Needed

Mason has one city council candidate for sure and 3 more with petitions in circulation.

David Stone has returned his petitions to the city hall for one of the 4 vacancies which will be up for grabs at the city election in April.

Incumbent Claude Cady, Robert Groenier, and Louis Lee have taken out petitions. That leaves at least 4 candidates missing. Under Mason's charter there must be at least twice the number of candidates as there are offices to be filled. If there are more than 8 candidates with petitions filed then a primary is set for February 17. If only 8 file the primary is called off.

If 8 candidates do not turn in petitions the council is charged with drafting candidates.

Those councilmen besides Cady whose terms expire are W. Vance Kennedy, Richard Morris and Howard Schlichter. These 3 have not announced their intentions as yet.

Tax Deadline Draws Closer

Monday, January 20, is the deadline for taxpayers in the city of Mason to come across with county and school taxes, according to City Treasurer Doris Austin.

After Monday night at 9 o'clock unpaid taxes will carry a 4 per cent penalty. On March 1, the taxes will be turned over to County Treasurer Harry Spenny for collection.

Mrs. Austin reported that 72.4 per cent of the taxes assessed against Mason property have already been paid. This is at the same percentage of payment as was recorded last year for the corresponding date. While the percentage is the same, the amount collected so far is considerably larger than last year due to tax increases.

German Girl Stays with Mackies

How would you like to live only about 10 city blocks from the infamous wall that divides East and West Berlin?

That is where Marlies Krause, pretty 18-year-old school girl, resides when she is at home. Right now she is a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Mackie, 3688 E. Holt road, Mason, and is attending Holt high school under the Youth for Understanding program sponsored by the United Council of Churches.

She was born in Schlesswig, a village in northern Germany, on September 30, 1945, 6 months after her father, a captain in the German air force was killed in action during World War II.

When she was 6 years old she, her mother and her older sister moved to West Berlin.

Her older sister is a student at the university in West Berlin.

She said her family has no close relatives in East Berlin. There are some cousins living there but under the recent Christmas visit program for West Berliners wishing to go to East Berlin only such relatives as parents, brothers and sisters in East Berlin made West Berliners eligible to obtain passes.

While her mother did not make the pilgrimage, Marlies said several of their neighbors did. Her mother writes that the trip was difficult and the travelers had to stand in line for hours before entering the walled city.

"We correspond with relatives in East Germany," Marlies said, "and we send packages of old clothing to them. A package can contain only one of each kind of garment, such as one coat, one dress, etc." Packages are inspected by x-ray machines she said, and all clothing must be disinfected before it is shipped. No one is allowed to send medicine into East Berlin from the west.

For a girl her age, Marlies has a good knowledge of

Mason Firm Receives Presidential Award

Great honors came the way of Wyeth Laboratories Inc. and its employees at Mason Tuesday.

The firm, manufacturers of SMA baby food, was presented with a presidential citation for boosting American export business. It is the first time the award has been presented to a pharmaceutical firm.

Ceremonies were held at 2:30 Tuesday afternoon to mark the unfurling of the "E" Export award pennant. The award was given to Wyeth International, Ltd. under a presidential citation for significant contributions to the expansion of this nation's exports.

To acknowledge the assistance of all Wyeth employees in this achievement which recognizes the company's stature as one of the world's leading pharmaceutical houses, all Wyeth locations throughout the country are authorized to display the pennant.

The Mason laboratories produce SMA-S26 infant formula which has been shipped to 25 countries in the free world and labeled in 12 different languages.

As stated by the Mason managing director, Howard F. Seibert, "Wyeth employees at Mason can take special pride in their contribution towards earning the presidential citation and 'E' Export award pennant presented to Wyeth International, Ltd.

"SMA-S26 represents a major portion of Wyeth International's sales and it is a great satisfaction to know that the production and distribution of these products from Mason have contributed so substantially to our nation's economy."

B. M. Conboy, executive director of department of economic expansion for the state of Michigan, was guest of honor and presented Wyeth Laboratories with a letter of congratulations from Governor George Romney.

New Fund Formed

On recommendation of Auditor General Billie Farum, supervisors Monday set up a special fund for Ingham Medical hospital to handle cash gifts and grants from individuals. The state official found fault in an audit with the inclusion of gifts and grants in regular hospital accounts.

School Board Asks Special Election

It's official. Electors in the Mason school district will go to the polls Tuesday, March 3, to vote on extra operational millage and a bond proposal. At a meeting Tuesday night the Mason board of education set the election date. The proposal on millage will ask for the establishment of 6 mills for school operation.

The bond proposal will ask for $600,000 which if passed, will be used to build a new elementary school at the site at Columbia and Aurelius already owned by the district. In addition the bond proposal would add several rooms to the Alaedon elementary school and several rooms at the high school.

If passed the extra millage called for in the bonding proposal would replace the voted 3 mills presently earmarked for the building and site fund. This building and site millage will expire after this year.

Actual figures on the bonding proposal as to the amount of millage necessary to repay the indebtedness hinges upon the length of the indebtedness. This decision has not yet been reached. Board members indicated that the preliminary plans call for repaying the building bonds over a 10-year period which would set the millage called for at 3 mills or less, depending on the amount of increase in school district property valuations.

Meeting Date Set

Three new directors will be elected at the annual meeting of the Mason General hospital corporation set for Monday night, January 27, at the Hall Memorial library. The meeting has been called for 8 p.m.

Directors whose terms expire are Raymond McLean, Harold Spink and Mrs. Abe Cohn. Directors are not eligible for re-election to the 3-year terms. Reports will be given at the meeting of the year's business and activities. Plans for the future will also be discussed. Additional reports will be made by the Hospital Auxiliary and the Gray Ladies.

Oil Heater Starts Fire

Mason firemen blamed an overheated oil heater for the blaze which destroyed the mobile home of Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Curtis at Curtice and Aurelius roads Sunday afternoon.

The Curtis were not home when the fire broke out. Firemen, called to the scene when the blaze was spotted by a passing motorist, listed the trailer as a total loss with damages estimated at $2,500. All contents were lost.

Group Cites Need For 43 Classrooms

The work of the building program committee centered around needs, costs and building sites. Much of its work and analysis was dependent upon the population growth and its analysis.

The building needs are directly related to the population growth of the school district. The population committee arrived at a 6 percent annual projected rate of growth for the next 7 years. This means that by 1970 the school district will need 43 additional classrooms with 30 pupils to each classroom.

These figures were used to approximate the cost. A school room costs $20,000. The projected cost to 1970 for building alone would be $860,000. However, the committee felt that only a 5-year program should be initiated and recommended a $600,000 bond issue which is equivalent to 3 mills.

The bond issue would be substituted for the present 3 mill building and site levy which expires this year. There would be no additional taxation for this particular phase of the work. This would allow for a 14-room elementary school with kindergarten and one special education room financed by the county. Also, 4 rooms could be added to the Alaedon school. In addition the high school facilities could be expanded to accommodate 800. Central facilities are already available in the high school for this enlargement. With these additions the 200 sixth graders could be moved from the junior high school, alleviating the crowded conditions there.

The committee recommended the building of the new elementary school at the presently owned site at Aurelius and Columbia roads. This is one of the more populated areas with elementary children.

The committee recommended that a bond issue be presented to the people to meet these needs.

Rollin Dart President Of Bank

Rollin Bashford Dart was elected president of Dart National bank at the annual bank meeting Tuesday night. Election of Dart and other bank officers followed the regular stockholders meeting at the bank earlier in the evening. The stockholders elected these directors:

Benjamin Barr, Battle Creek, Sears & Roebuck. James N. Brown, Mason, co-publisher of the News.

Jack W. Davis, Mason, Davis Men's Wear.

John H. Dart, Mason, Dart Insurance agency.

Rollin Dart, Mason, Dart National bank.

Mrs. Nellie Edgar, Mason, homemaker.

Albert A. Humphrey, Mason, Dart National bank.

The new directors elected the officers. Besides Dart, who is the new president, other officers elected were Barr, vice-president; Humphrey, executive vice-president; Mrs. Marion Block and Delmer Kramer, assistant vice-presidents; Leonard Carter, cashier; and Mrs. Alberta Betcher, assistant cashier.

For Rollin Dart, it is a return to the presidency of the bank. After being president, he became chairman of the board 2 years ago when William F. Dart was elected president. Prior to Tuesday night's meeting, William Dart resigned from the board and the presidency and declined to become a candidate for the new board of directors.

Mrs. Lawrence Smith also declined to become a candidate for re-election to the new board of directors. Mrs. Smith and William F. Dart are daughter and son of one of the founders of Dart National bank, R. C. Dart.

Their positions on the new board of directors were not filled.

In the annual report to stockholders Rollin Dart heralded the past year as one of growth. The report compared deposits at the bank on December 23, 1962, of $7,062,878.69 to the $9,516,948.14 on deposit December 20, 1963.

Mason Rallies to Clip Gabriels After Spotting Rocks 25 Points

Mason came up with a performance Friday night against Gabriels which was almost as shocking to Bulldog supporters as it was to Gabriels players, coach and fans. Mason eked out an 82-79 win. The victory brought on a third place tie with Gabriels in the Capital Circuit standings with Okemos safely out in front and surprising Holt in second place.

It appeared to be curtains for Mason Friday night. Midway through the third quarter the Bulldogs were 25 points down—not because they were playing bad ball but because their shooting was cold.

With 5 minutes to go in the third period the 1ld came off the basket. With Larry Wright, Stu Thorburn and Gary Jackson leading the way Mason shot its way back into contention, trailing at the end of the period by a 59-54 count.

That's when the action became frantic. Both teams swapped baskets for the first couple of minutes of the final quarter and then 2 quickies by Mike Combs knotted the count at 65-65. George DeLuca put the Rocks in front with a swisher but Stu Thorburn came back to even the score with 2 foul shots.

From there on out it was pandemonium. First Mason went into the lead then Gabriels went out in front with what looked like a safe 76-71 margin with 1:37 left in the game and it appeared as if Mason's rally had fallen short.

Mason's scrappy cagers didn't look at it that way, though. Wright made it 76-73 with a shot from the corner. Thorburn popped in a foul shot to make it 76-74 and followed that at the 45-second mark with a floor shot as Terres had again given the Rocks 2 more points to make the scoreboard read 76-76 with Gabriels in front.

Gary Grandy, who took over for Jackson when he fouled out with 13 seconds left, bagged a free throw to pull Mason to within one point at 78-77. Then Wright broke up a pass and drove in for a layup but was fouled. He calmly dropped both shots to put Mason in front 79-78.

The Rocks took the ball out of bounds but lost it to Mason and then a tactical error was committed. The Rocks called time out while the ball was in Mason's possession and still in play. It brought a technical foul and while Mason missed the shot, the Bulldogs maintained control with 3 seconds left.

Thorburn was fouled and sewed up the win by dropping both foul shots and that's the way it ended.

Aside from a poor shooting record through the first half, it was Mason's best game. Giving away rebounding height and strength, the Bulldogs made up for it with aggressive defensive work,

Rams Shunt Raiders Aside

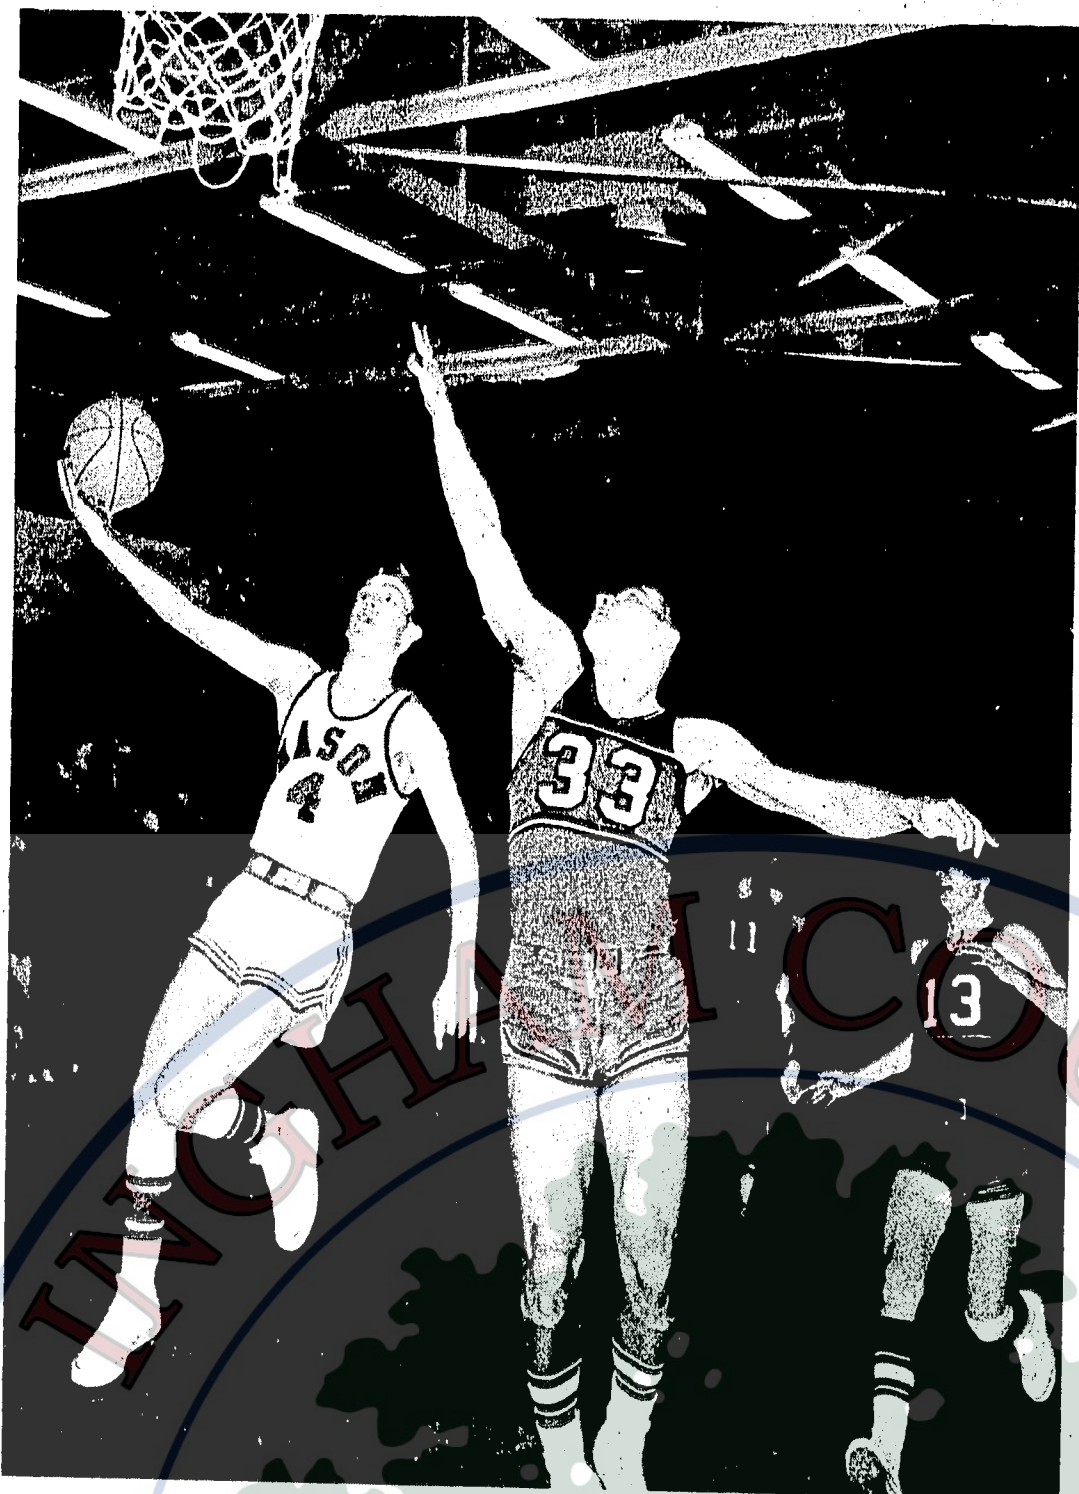

Holt kept close on the heels of the league-leading Okemos Chiefs Friday night by stopping O'Rafferty 84-53. It was no contest.

With O'Rafferty out of the way Coach Dan Hovanessian's boys are concentrating on a big night at Haslett for Friday. The Lakers have had tough sledding and should not offer too much competition to the surging Rams but past history indicates that meetings between Holt and Haslett don't always go by the book.

O'Rafferty, deep in the midst of one of its poorer seasons, is due for more rough treatment Friday night. The Raiders will tangle with Gabriels. The Rocks will be smarting from their third loss in as many starts and the Raiders are apt to catch the brunt of their disappointment.

Everyone on the Holt team got into the scoring act in the Holt-O'Rafferty game. Twelve men figured in the scoring with Mike Oakes collecting 21 to lead the pack. For O'Rafferty Pat Hartford was the only shooter who came to score. He bagged 20 points.

Holt led 20-16 in the first quarter, stretched the lead with a 2-point margin in the second and then broke the game open in the third period by outscoring the Raiders 29-10.

gressive defensive work, stealing the ball on many occasions.

Thorburn led the scoring parade for Mason with 21 points. Wright was next with 19 and Jackson contributed 17 while Combs came through with 16. Roger Hill, off in his shooting, more than made up for it with his defensive work.

For Gabriels Skip Drouin was high man with 21. Steve Kutas had 19 and DeLuca and Larry Kish each contributed 14.

In the field goal department Mason outscored the Rocks 30 to 25. Foul shots, while responsible for winning the game for Mason in the final seconds, were the strong cards of the Rocks. They put down 29 while Mason managed only 22.

Friday night Mason takes to the road, tangleing with Eaton Rapids at the new Greyhound gym. The Eaton county boys are much better than their record indicates. The Bulldogs will have to watch out for the scoring of Tom Palk, Bill Howe and center Jerry McManus.

The Rocks will entertain O'Rafferty this week end and try to get back in winning stride after dropping the last 3 encounters.

Spartans Win Game

Webberville continued its hot basketball with a win Friday night over Pontiac Emanuel Christian. The Spartans came out on top 77-56 in spite of 40 points tossed in by Ralph Wingate, the only scoring threat of the big city boys from Pontiac.

With the victory Webberville now boasts a 7-3 season record.

Friday night the Spartans will find out just how good they are when they take on Portland St. Patrick, one of the Class D powers in the state.

Against Pontiac Christian Ron Hoag topped the attack with 18 points. Mike Oakes had 15.

Circuit Notes

Ken Rundel

Being aggressive, but only to the point of not actually fouling, seems to be the recipe Coach Bob Baker's Okemos Chiefs are using in the 1963-64 basketball race. The Chiefs have committed only 86 fouls in Circuit play, while the cellar-dwelling Howell Highlanders lead the league with only 83. It seems the Highlanders could do with a little more aggressiveness, while the Chiefs have come up with the right combination.

While Okemos has been pulling away quietly from the rest of the league, only one team is having any success in keeping up with them. The Holt Rams have kept pace with the Chiefs for the last 3 games, downing Eaton Rapids, Mason and O'Rafferty. Their win last week enabled them to advance past Gabriels into second place.

In the Rams' 84-53 victory over the Raiders last Friday, 12 players put in points for them, led by Mike Oakes with 21. Guard Ron Karr scored only one point and dropped from fifth to tenth in CC scoring.

The Mason Bulldogs showed their stuff by coming from 25 points down to overtake Gabriels 82-79 last week. Stu Thorburn led the Bulldogs with 21 markers, while Don Wright's 19 points advanced him from 6th to 4th in Circuit scoring. The win moved Mason into a third-place tie with its victims.

Bill Breckenfeld climaxed a 4-week drive to the top of the scoring race last week by collecting 24 against Eaton Rapids. He had been 9th, 7th and tied for first; but now holds first undisputed. Okemos' Ron Davis, with 63 points, is just outside the top 10 in the league. The Chiefs also have another threat in guard Cary Hawkins. Hawkins started slowly, but has improved every game, and totaled 16 against Eaton Rapids last week. The Chiefs' balance — 3rd in league offense and 2nd in defense — is the main reason why they are the league-leaders thus far.

The statistics of the league's bottom 4 teams are a real paradox. Haslett, which is in seventh, has outscored their opponents by 1.8 points per game; and the last-place Howell 5 has been outscored by an average of 12 points. However, the paradox comes in when considering that O'Rafferty and Eaton Rapids, who occupy the fifth and sixth places in the league, have been outpointed by an average of 14 points per game.

The schedule this week puts the second division teams against the first, and it will be interesting to see whether or not the top 4 win them all. Mason travels to Eaton Rapids, Holt is at Haslett, Howell entertains Okemos and the Lansing parochial schools tangle at Lansing Eastern.

Dansville Falls Short In Stopping Gladiators

Fowlerville continued to maintain its grip on first place in the Ingham county league Friday night by downing Dansville 79-67.

The win kept the Gladiators one notch above the surprising Williamston Hornets who have knocked off all comers since losing the first game of the league race to Fowlerville.

With Dansville out of the way Fowlerville is eying Leslie as an opponent this Friday. The Blackhawks have failed to win a league game.

Dansville has a chance Friday night to pull even with Williamston in a second place tie. The Hornets will invade Dansville for a do-or-die contest.

Dansville started out Friday night as if it meant to come up with a repeat of last year's upset over the Gladiators. In the first period Coach Searl Briggs' cagers pulled to a 15-13 lead. The bubble of hope soon burst, though, when Fowlerville broke loose in the second quarter on a 26-point scoring binge while holding the Aggies to 17 points.

That did it for Dansville. In the third quarter the Aggies couldn't find the basket and instead found themselves entering the last quarter on the short end of a 61-41 count. That was too much for Dansville to overcome, even though the Aggies did come up with a 26-point rally in the last quarter.

Jack Allen had a good night in spite of the defeat. The Aggie ace dropped in 30 points on 12 field goals and 6 free throws. Arnold Wireman was the only other Aggie in double figures with 15.

For Fowlerville Gordon Hetrick topped the scorers with 19 points.

Hornets Sting Panthers

Stockbridge, fresh off a 8-game win streak in the Chelsea Holiday tournament was soundly beaten last Friday night at Williamston.

While the Panthers of Coach Don Julien overcame one of their early season troubles, that of scoring in the second half, they were too far behind at the half to catch up.

The Williamston Hornets counted 15 points in the first quarter to 9 for Stockbridge, taking a lead they never relinquished. Mike Langham of Williamston, high point man in the game with 19, netted 15 of them in the first half. Although Stockbridge only trailed by 2 points early in the third quarter, Williamston pulled away and went on to win.

Larry White netted 11 points for the Panthers while Roger Myers had 10.

Girls' Cage Team Beats Perry, 74-5

HOLT — The Holt high school girls basketball team got off to a good start in defense of last year's championship by defeating a girls team from Perry, 74-5.

Pam Preston scored 28 points, high for the game. She had good support from Rita Jones, 17 points, Sue Phelps, 14, Renee Davis, 6, DeLores Sylvester, 4, Vickie Hake and Sue Murphy, 2 each and Eva Roath, 1.

The coach is Mrs. Vanderveen. She is assisted by 3 managers, Jean McNamara, Susan Robertson and Joan Sabatino. The team's mascot is 5-year-old Becky Albrecht, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Albrecht.

The team's cheerleaders this year are Deborah Dannelley, Nancy Herendeen, Barbara Markos, Sue Dillon, Shirley Theis and Linda Johnson.

Junior High Splits Games

Mason's junior high basketball teams split in their first chance at competition Thursday night against Okemos.

The eighth graders outclassed the Chiefs 67-46. They led Okemos all the way. Top scorer was Jim Powers with 24 points. Pat Birney came through with 15 and Ron Underwood had 12. Underwood and Powers worked the boards well for Mason. Meadows was high for Okemos with 15 and Johnson had 12.

Okemos jumped into a quick lead in the seventh grade game and Mason never came close. The Chiefs won 42-24. Marvin Osterle was high scorer for Mason. Breslin and Downs were high for Okemos. Wednesday night, January 15, Mason will take on Waverly in a pair of games.

Budding Cagers

Mason's junior high gym is open Saturday mornings to take care of budding basketball players in the fifth and sixth grades. Supervision and instruction is provided.

Mason Shifts Tourney Play

For the first time in years Mason will see some different district basketball opponents.

The Bulldogs have been shifted to the district tournament at East Jackson. Other schools in the tourney are the host team, East Jackson, Jackson St. John, Jackson St. Mary, Jackson Northwest and Parma Western.

It's a tough slate of opponents. Mason will meet Jackson St. John on the last night of the regular season and then stand a chance of meeting the Gaels in the tourney.

Haslett Slips Past Howell

Haslett climbed up past Howell Friday night in a battle of the cellar dwellers. The Lakers topped Howell 58-39.

The Lakers grabbed a 17-10 lead in the first quarter and never gave it up. By halftime the Highlanders were on the short end of a 39-22 count. From there on out both teams had trouble hitting the scoring column but the Lakers were never in danger.

Howell didn't have a man in double figures. Pat Main topped the Lakers with 12 and Steve Johnson and Bob Staff each hit for 10.

Friday night the Lakers entertain Holt. Howell will entertain the league-leading Chiefs from Okemos.

IT'S NO SISSY GAME, this game of basketball and Stu Thorburn of Mason has the lumps to prove it. The photographer caught Gabriels' Larry Kish running down Thorburn and so did the referee.

Mrs. Rosemary Dunkelberg of Okemos was re-elected chairman of the Ingham county library board at a meeting of the board Wednesday afternoon at the Hall Memorial library.

The board also approved a budget for the calendar year of 1964, of $102,343. This compares with expenditures in 1963, of $103,910. The expenditures for 1963 exceed the 1964 budget because the board last year disbursed approximately $2,500 for the new addition of a children's room for the Mason library, board members explained.

Two members of the library committee of the Ingham county board of supervisors, Robert Robinson of Meridian township and Robert Runyan of Williamston, attended the meeting.

A Fighter Answers

I don't think I have seen anything quite as apropos to the situation, stemming from the death of President Kennedy, and just what its result could be, as the little fairy tale cartoon presented by Hugh Downs on the "Today" program, Monday, January 6, 1964. I was only half listening when he began, so I did not get the name of the person or agency responsible, but I beg their indulgence while I tell their story. Undoubtedly, it is in print and most of you have seen it, but even so I'm sure it bears repeating, as follows:

"Throughout the land, a great deal of debate had broken out, and those involved began taking sides, and the debate became so loud that it began to wake those who were still sleeping; and angry because they had been wakened, the people began to argue and take sides, and so it spread throughout the whole land, everyone debating and taking sides, and the country moved forward."

But then, one day the Prince was killed, and because they could not discover who had killed the Prince, one faction blamed one group, a second another, etc., and the people said, "Look what a terrible thing this dissension has wrought. We must stop this debating at once," and so the country slowed down and once more prepared to sleep, because the people did not want to kill any more Princes, and they fervently hoped that no one would ever awaken them again."

In like vain, I am very sure that Mr. Tea Party did not wish to kill the Prince, and since Mr. Chapin is evidently waiting anxiously to discover whether I am actually Mr. Tea Party in disguise, let me make haste to assure him that indeed I am not; in fact, I have never met the man, but have acquaintances who have, and they assure me that it was not his intent, either. Mr. Chapin has labeled me as reactionary. I suppose getting back to the true meaning of the word, that he is right, for I most certainly do react, and very indignantly at times as in the case of those, who failed to respect the mourning of President Kennedy, and I still believe that they deserved a piece of my wrath. However, I notice that I am not the only one who reacts, for 2 people reacted so violently to my letter of chastisement that they could not contain themselves without mentioning the fact. Of course, since I am new in the area, I did not have access to any but Mr. Doesburg's letter, although I read some of the others at a friend's, but I'd definitely say that several persons reacted rather violently prior to my letter, or that letter wouldn't have been written. Since the term reactionary depends upon a person's point of view, and really indicates the opinions of no one, I would think that we could select another term more aptly describing people of opposing view points, from where I sit, Mr. Chapin is very, very reactionary, and without proper facts.

Actually, Mr. Chapin stuck his chin out, for he doesn't even know my point of view (I wrote no letters in opposition to President Kennedy), and yet he reacted against me automatically, and further, neither Mr. Lott (I do hope Clare Lott is a man, but with that name, you could certainly fool me) nor Mr. Chapin deal in facts, which they so ardently defend. Mr. Lott started out with suspicion, continued with suspicion, and ended up with a sermon on facts. I will comment upon only one aspect, the rest being too ridiculous to reply to; is it because you have never heard of the name Fighter that you suspect it of being a pseudonym? Actually, I've known a number of people named Fighter during my lifetime, and although I never expect to have a listed number myself, I notice the name does appear in the local phone book, and they are no relation of mine, either. I don't know about Homewood, Ill., but it might be in order for both of the gentlemen to practice ascertaining their facts before taking pen in hand.

Positive Thinking
I appreciated the letter from a satisfied taxpayer published in your January 8th edition. It is about time we did some positive thinking about taxes rather than negative. How would you educate your children on the same number of dollars you pay in one year's school tax? This is only one example of the efficient use of tax dollars.

Oppose Trailer Park
A group of taxpayers and land owners from the city of Mason and surrounding area are opposed to the rezoning of land at Columbia and US-127 for purposes of a trailer park. Under a Michigan law passed in 1959, Act No. 243, a trailer lot in a trailer park may be taxed only $3 per month; $2 school tax, 50 cents county tax and 50 cents city government, the cost to the school district is $127 per year to keep a child in school. The property tax adjustment on this rezoning cannot possibly cover the subsequent school deficit. Net result - taxes increased.

The rezoning of this land for the purpose of a trailer park will decrease the value of the land in this area. Also it will not be a very good program for the future progress of the city of Mason.

Now at this time, we have a trailer park at the fair grounds which last year cost the taxpayers of this county $6,500 for sewers into this park. It now has not very many trailers in it.

So we are asking the rest of the taxpayers of this area to support our cause by letting your council members know how you feel about this. Remember to express yourself at the election polls next time and forever after this. We feel under the circumstances with the new county jail going into this area which will bring an increase in taxes and our school situation about to climax, that the people of Mason are not ready for a proposal that has not proven satisfactory in the past in surrounding territories with trailer parks. We hope that we can watch our city grow with improvements and not by supplementing enterprises which have to be supported by the taxpayers without jurisdiction.

Why doesn't the city of Mason try to entice industry into the city instead of trying to relocate trailers within the city.

34 Foreign Students Feted at Okemos Church

OKEMOS — Thirty-four Michigan State university students from other countries were guests of the Okemos Community church Sunday evening at a family night supper and informal program. This is an annual affair arranged by the missionary committee in cooperation with the foreign student, host families and the Christian youth fellowship.

Mr. and Mrs. David Overholt were chairmen for the programming, which featured typical American songs in group singing. Each student received a book of songs of USA, compliments of an automobile manufacturer.

Two youth groups, a clarinet sextette and the Singing Strings presented instrumental and vocal numbers.

There were 16 countries represented by the guest students. Each student told some interesting fact about his home country, ranging from family life to religion.

One student from Liberia had just arrived a week ago and was really astounded at the snow covered landscape when he got off the plane. He had left Liberia during its hottest weather and found the cold here very unpleasant.

The countries represented were Formosa, India, Japan, Liberia, Nigeria, Okinawa, Iraq, Finland, Mesopotamia, Ethiopia, China, Sweden, Thailand, Afghanistan, Ecuador, Brazil, Pakistan and Iran. Exhibits of crafts from several countries were displayed and the dining tables were centered with suitable center pieces. Flags of the U. S. and the Christian flag were centered on a heart, indicating the desire for understanding and friendship. In addition to the round-the-world mission projects the close to home project of host families is part of the church's program. About 40 families are a part of about 40 families are a part of it is a 1st year student at MSU who comes from another country. The host family entertains its student in many ways to enable him to see first-hand family life and other segments of American living which he would not see from living only on the campus.

Senior High News

By Connie Foell
The Spanish club had a party last Tuesday night and so did the Square Dance club. After the Friday night basketball game, a so-called was held in the high school cafeteria.

We are enjoying another foreign student at the senior high school. She is Annalies Herman from Holland.

An experiment will be conducted at the senior high school on January 22 and 23. Three semester exams will be given daily. Most exams will take 1 hour and 45 minutes. There will be a 15-minute break between tests and 1 hour for lunch period. The added length of time is due to the fact that colleges, universities and corporations have found that many students are not prepared to take exams which take from 2-6 hours for completion. Students will be dismissed at 3:00 on both Wednesday and Thursday. There will be no school Friday, January 24.

3 Teachers Resign Posts

The board set January 28 for a special meeting when it will begin a study on next year's budget.

State Maps Due Soon

The Michigan state highway department has started taking orders for the 1964 official Michigan highway map.

State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie said the new map will be off the press by mid-March.

Mackie said persons writing for maps now—and he urged them to use post cards, will receive them as soon as they arrive from the printer.

Hundreds of changes have been made on the map since last year, mainly the result of new freeways that have been opened to traffic. Michigan now has more than 1,150 miles of freeway.

Freeway strip maps on the backside of this year's maps have been expanded to include I-96 between Holland and Benton Harbor, I-75 from Madison Heights to Flint and I-94 between Mt. Clemens and Port Huron. The strip maps show the location of on-and-off ramps of each interchange.

Mackie said 800,000 maps will be printed by Michigan Lithographic company of Grand Rapids.

Copies of the map are available free of cost by writing on a post card too: John C. Mackie, State Highway Commissioner, Lansing, Michigan, 48926.

The election commission has been composed of the township clerk and 2 township trustees, but under the new constitution, these officers are no longer eligible to serve on the new canvassing board. Neither is a member of the immediate family of any candidate for office.

Members of the canvassing board will receive necessary expenses and any fees the township board may permit.

Justices Meet At Williamston

The capital area Justice of the Peace association, which includes Ingham, Clinton, Shiawassee, Livingston, Jackson and Eaton counties, conducted its January meeting last Wednesday evening in the Williamston city hall as guests of Justice W. Robert Wood. Three members of the Ingham county board of supervisors, John Patriarche of East Lansing, Robert Platt of the city of Williamston, and Louis Neller Jr. of Williamston township, met with the justices to discuss the difficult problems which will arise within the next few years when the justice courts are to be abolished, to be replaced by some new form of district court.

The immense expense of setting up, equipping and maintaining these new courts will of course be added to the county's tax burden, and it is probable that the county board will have the responsibility of establishing the new lower court system, as well as the duty of raising the money to support it.

On February 12, the association will meet with Justice T. B. Simpson of Bath township.

It is scheduled to get underway at 7:30 p.m.

While General Eisenhower is in Detroit, other national GOP leaders will be speaking at similar rallies and banquets in more than 30 cities throughout the country. Gov. Romney will join the hour-long telecast, speaking from Washington, D. C. The coast-to-coast events will be linked by closed-circuit television.

government. She says she hopes that Ludwig Erhard, West Germany's new chancellor, will be a good leader. As economic minister of West Germany he did a fine job, she says. Willy Brandt has been a good mayor of West Berlin, according to Marlies, and few people are opposed to him.

When the late President John F. Kennedy visited Berlin last year, Marlies said she stood in a street near the wall for 2½ hours to see him.

Miss Krause made application in October, 1962, to participate in the Youth For Understanding program. Then she was interviewed and finally 50 West German students were selected.

Then at last the great day arrived as they boarded an airliner in Amsterdam and flew to Detroit where they arrived on August 10. Marlies spent a month in Albion and made a short visit at a home in Michigan Center. She also went to Canada, and visited an uncle who lives in Indiana.

She arrived in Holt on December 19, and is starting her work at Holt high school following the Christmas vacation.

She finds American schools and those in West Germany somewhat different. She says she is having a hard time getting used to the long school day. In Germany her classes were dismissed about 1:30 p.m. but she attended school 6 days a week instead of 5 as pupils do here.

She is studying choir, gym, American government, American history, American literature and French.

In the West Berlin schools, she said, there are 6 elementary grades, then the pupil has his choice of 3 types of high schools. These schools are graduated. In the lowest graded school a pupil after leaving elementary school, goes through 3 more grades and then enters a trade school. The second school includes 4 more grades after elementary and subjects taught include languages and technical subjects and would correspond somewhat to America's technical high schools.

The top graded high school, where Marlies is a student, has a broader program. There she has studied several years of English, French, Latin, mathematics, physics, chemistry and music.

She speaks German, French and English fluently. The class periods in the West German schools are 45 minutes long as compared to one hour classes here, she said.

Marlies enjoys the Saturdays off from school here and she says she is amazed at the enthusiasm of students here over school sports and the loyalty they show to their school. She likes to watch the cheerleaders and attend pep rallies.

"We don't have all these things in Germany," she said. "In fact there are no big crowds at our school games."

The favorite sport in Germany, she says, is soccer which is played both by professional and amateur teams. They also play basketball and handball is popular, although it is played somewhat differently than it is here. Marlies is a member of the handball team at her school in West Berlin. She also is an accomplished musician and plays among other instruments, the guitar, which she brought with her to America. She also enjoys swimming and right now is learning to ice skate and to ride horses.

Motion picture theaters in West Berlin show American and European made films, but, as in America, the theaters are losing patronage because of television, which is popular in her home city.

Marlies, her mother and her sister reside in an apartment house in West Berlin. Their apartment is on the 5th floor and there is no elevator, she says.

"Because of that," she said, "we buy groceries almost every day so we do not have to carry such heavy loads up the flights of stairs to our apartment. We buy our groceries in a small store in the apartment building rather than patronizing the larger supermarkets which are a longer distance from our home."

Miss Krause will be in Holt until next July. She is looking forward to many months of pleasure learning American ways and customs.

Unit Formed to Study County Mental Health

Ingham county's ever-increasing mental health problem will be studied by a 12-member citizens committee.

County supervisors took action Monday recommending that such a committee be formed. Women's groups have been pushing for a stepped up war against mental illnesses for the last year. Requests have also been made for action from Probate Judge James Kallman, law officers and Prosecutor Leo Farhat.

Belen, chairman of the board of supervisors. The advisory committee will be charged with studying Ingham's mental health problems and making recommendations on how those problems can be solved.

Under a new state act funds would be available for any county which elects to set up a local mental health program administered by a county mental health board. This is one area of study proposed for the study group to consider.

4-H Project Will Teach Dog Care

The shift in population from farm to rural non-farm has caused many boys and girls to lose the opportunity for an important phase of 4-H club work. This apparent loss is the opportunity to raise and learn about animals. The new 4-H dog project may change this situation, as it is appropriate for both farm and non-farm youth.

More than 40 per cent of American homes have dogs. It is a practical project since families need adequate knowledge about care and training dogs. This will benefit the dog as well as the enjoyment families gain through their dogs. Learning laws and regulations pertaining to dogs is also a valuable phase of what 4-H members learn in the project.

Last year there were 10 members enrolled with dogs in Ingham county. Youth who are interested in more information about taking part in the project may contact the county extension office, court-house, Mason.

4-H Horse Committee Plans for '64

The county 4-H Horse committee meeting January 7, at the Ingham county courthouse in Mason. Made plans for the 1964 season. Topics covered were the awarding of another Dr. Pauley horse this spring, and revisions in the fair book were discussed.

The committee planned a training meeting for March 10, which it is hoped all horse project leaders and junior leaders will attend. The new horse project plan will be presented along with ideas for local club activities.

Members of the horse committee are: Mel Avery, Okemos, chairman; Mrs. Eugene Kallio, Mason; Mrs. Alden Sears, Williamston; Clair Andrews, Leslie; and Howard Bouts, Mason.

In Merger Debate

Answers Charges

HOLT — Joseph A. Parisi Jr., executive director of the Michigan Townships association, Monday night released a statement addressed both to the Delhi Charter Township board and the Maple Grove school board regarding charges made in the recent annexation campaign in the Maple Grove area.

Parisi, who was scheduled to appear at both the meeting of the township board in Holt and the school board in Maple Grove, was unable to be present because of other business which called him to Detroit Monday afternoon. His secretary, Mrs. Elmira Willsey, read the statement at both meetings.

The statement follows: "In a recent annexation campaign in your area, culminating in a defeat at the polls, on October 22, 1963, a number of charges, counter-charges, half-truths, misleading information and other distortions were made; primarily because of emotions and hysteria running high, which must be answered. I therefore make the following statement, which, I hope, will 'clear the air' regarding this situation."

"I would like to clarify the following charges: "1. The Delhi Charter Township board employed my services as a 'lobbyist' to help defeat political annexation to the city of Lansing."

"This statement is entirely untrue, is vicious and without basis of fact. Delhi Charter township is a member of Michigan Townships association and therefore, without any additional charges, is entitled to all the benefits which accrue to member townships, which among other things, includes assistance in matters such as annexation."

"2. The statement has been made that there must be political annexation before school annexation because of state law."

"This statement is entirely untrue. There is no provision in state law which requires political annexation before school annexation. This practice exists in only a few areas of the state, with the city of Lansing school board being one of them. This requirement has been adopted by the Lansing city school board as a matter of policy only, not because of any provision in state law."

"3. The statement has been made that 'if we annex politically school annexation will come automatically.'"

"Nothing could be further from the truth. Under an old school law this could be done. However, at the present time state law requires that following political annexation there must be another election to bring about school annexation."

"4. The statement has been made that anti-annexation persons have said that 'there is no guarantee that if we are politically annexed, that our area will be accepted by the Lansing school system.'"

"This statement is absolutely true. I authorized the use of this statement because of the very simple explanation to it. There is no guarantee that the citizens of the city of Lansing will vote yes to accept the Maple Grove area. Only the people of the city of Lansing can decide this... not the Lansing board of education."

"5. The charge has been made that the Ingham county board of education has nothing to say about the transfer of school districts from one to another."

"This charge is also untrue. Although somewhat remote, because of the high feelings presently existing in your area, the Ingham county board of education could transfer the Maple Grove school district to the city of Lansing school system, under the following procedure:

"The Maple Grove school district could deliberately become 'disorganized' by: 1. the members of the school board resign in a body; and 2. that in a subsequent election called to fill the vacancies on the board, no one seek the office(s). The county board of education would then move in and effect the school annexation by equitably and justly dividing all or part of the district to one or more school districts of the county, including the Lansing city school district."

"6. The charge has been made that the situation discussed in item No. 5, above, has never been done and that there would be a court fight over it. This is only a half-truth. It is true that the city of Lansing school board may take the matter into court, but, a matter like this one has already been resolved in Kalamazoo county, in the Gull road school district, which used this method to achieve school annexation for high school purposes, and the office of the state superintendent of public instruction upheld the transfer made by the Kalamazoo county board of education, through the county superintendent of schools."

"7. I will make no attempt to dignify the charge of 'dirty politics.' Let those who practice dirty politics examine their own conscience."

"8. An illustration of what might be considered to be 'dirty politics,' however, was brought to light when anti-annexation persons were so charged, when they said that if annexation to the city of Lansing took place, 'taxes would be higher.' In my opinion there was nothing misleading, distorted or otherwise 'dirty' about this statement."

Bruce Horton Claims Bride

Bruce Douglas Horton and Miss Mary Eva Pate, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy L. Pate of Mobile, Alabama, were united in marriage December 29, in the Spring Hill Baptist church. Performing the ceremony was the pastor, Rev. Norman V. Clapp. Mrs. Lee Hunter of Rives Junction, formerly of Mason, is the bridegroom's mother.

A program of nuptial music preceded the ceremony and was presented by Mrs. James P. Ferrell.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of white peau de soie, featuring a bodice of chantilly lace and a Sabrina neckline. The bell-shaped skirt flowed into a slight train at the back and her veil was attached to a rose of self-material. Her bridal bouquet was an arrangement of lilies of the valley centered with an orchid.

Mrs. V. P. DeFatta and Mrs. R. W. Wells, sisters of the bride, were matron of honor and bridesmaid, respectively, for the bride. They wore gowns of lavender peau de soie and carried arrangements of white chrysanthemums.

Curtis E. Carlson served the bridegroom as best man. Roy L. Pate, brother of the bride, and Ronald Cochran, assisted as groomsmen.

After the reception given for the couple at the home of the bride's parents, the newlyweds left for a wedding trip to Rock Island, Illinois, where they are making their home.

Charles J. Heller, Mason, speeding, $12.

Perry A. Dolbee, Mason, ran stop sign, $4.

Robert L. Gage, Lansing, ran stop sign, $4.
Gibbins W. Howlett, Mason, ran stop sign, $4.

Gibbins W. Howlett, Mason, expired operator's license, $2.

I merely refer persons who read or hear this statement to the Lansing State Journal, which has, I believe, done an outstanding job of proving the case for the persons opposed to annexation, by their coverage of such things as increased city assessments and comparison of tax rates in the cities, villages and townships of Ingham county.

"In conclusion I want to state that the office of Michigan Townships association is open 5 days weekly, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. for any persons interested in discussions of vital issues of this kind. I also want to state that I will be happy to publicly debate or discuss any of the comments which I have made in this statement, with any person or persons, at any time, at any public place; insisting only that the meeting be conducted in an orderly manner, with common courtesies extended to all who attend."

School Report Shows Millage Comparisons

Mason schools, with a faculty of 112 teachers, has the lowest operational millage of any school in Ingham county and its total millage is the second lowest, James H. Vander Ven, superintendent of Mason schools, showed this week in 2 tables he has prepared.

In one table he showed the Mason schools receive in local taxes $76.48 per pupil, the lowest in the county.

In the other he showed that Mason operates on a total millage of 15.65, the second lowest in the county. Dansville has a total millage of 14.4. Total millage figures for all other schools are higher than Mason's.

Vander Ven's figures are based on a study made by the Michigan Education association in December. Here are the figures on millage, number of teachers, and average teacher salaries for various school districts in Ingham county.

School	State Equal. Value Per Pupil	Optl. Millage	No. of Teachers	Avg. Teachers Sal.	Total Millage
Dansville	7,570	11.4	35	$5,300	14.4
East Lansing	16,750	14.4	184	$6,435	20.7
Haslett	7,390	20.4	80	$5,596	28.10
Holt	6,251	17.4	115	$5,486	26.4
Lansing	14,551	20.7	1127	$7,129	24.03
Leslie	6,823	14.4	52	$5,470	22.42
Mason	8,136	9.4	112	$5,464	15.65
Okemos	12,540	19.4	93	$6,129	25.74
Stockbridge	8,414	12.4	72	$5,496	18.9
Waverly	20,813	12.4	155	$5,738	18.82
Webberville	8,440	18.4	27	$5,028	26.4
Williamston	10,315	15.4	53	$6,133	22.4

Vander Ven points out in his survey that the 2 main sources of revenue for operating schools are local taxes and state aid. This table shows what each school district in Ingham county receives per student in the 1963-64 school year.

	Local Taxes	State Aid	Total
Dansville	$ 86.30	$194.67	$280.97
East Lansing	241.20	159.09	400.29
Haslett	150.76	195.36	346.12
Holt	108.77	199.78	308.55
Lansing	301.21	167.62	468.83
Leslie	98.25	197.56	295.81
Mason	76.48	192.47	268.95
Okemos	243.23	175.41	418.69
Stockbridge	104.33	191.40	295.73

Webberville	135.30	191.30	346.60
Williamston	158.85	184.03	342.88

Mason schools have an enrollment of 2,996 pupils. On this basis, the schools receive in state aid annually the sum of $576,640.12 and from local taxes $229,132.74 for a total of $805,772.86.

Missionary Women Plan Gift Work

Mrs. Emery Guylas opened her home Tuesday evening, January 7, to the Bertha chapter of the Nazarene Foreign Missionary society.

Mrs. Loren Shattuck read scripture after which Mrs. Clifford Eshelby led in devotions.

Mrs. Rachael Howe told of the joy in which Rev. and Mrs. Stanley Wilson, missionaries home on furlough from the Philippine Islands, received their Christmas gifts from the missionary society. They gave them a 14 place setting of stainless steel, an item of clothing to each member of the family and a large supply of groceries. Rev. Wilson is living in the missionary home at the Eastern Michigan camp grounds at Howell, while they are on furlough.

Mrs. Fred Richev told of the next box work assignment. Plans are to have ready hospital supplies to send to the Ethel Lucas Memorial hospital in South Africa, by the 1st of April. These supplies will be taken to one location and all of the hospital supplies from all Michigan churches will be baled and shipped together. This method of shipping has meant an extensive savings in postage.

With all of the activities in the church it was voted to change meetings to the 1st and 3rd Thursdays instead of on Tuesday.

Mrs. Loren Shattuck was elected new devotional chairman.

The group was reminded of the Alabaster opening in February. Twice each year they receive a love offering for missions. This money goes directly to the foreign fields for the construction of new buildings.

The subject of prayer and Bible reading in the schools has been a concern to the group, so each woman wrote a letter to Charles Chamberlain, U. S. representative in Washington, D. C., telling him of their support and thanking him for his stand on this issue. They are going to encourage all members of the society to write and express their gratitude to him.

The meeting was adjourned and Mrs. Guylas served refreshments.

Holstein Sets New Record

The Holstein-Friesian Association of America has announced a new lactation average for the registered Holstein herd of Jerry Jorgensen, Webberville, which has 94 completed production records averaging 15,866 lbs of milk and 604 lbs of butterfat.

Lactation averages are calculated on the commonly-employed 2-milkings a day, 305 day, mature equivalent basis. This provides a uniform basis for comparison and selection in registered Holstein breeding programs.

Michigan State university supervised the weighing and testing of production as part of the official herd testing programs of the national Holstein organization.

2 Resign Posts in Delhi Twp.

HOLT — Two resignations were accepted by the Delhi charter township board Monday night.

William R. Block resigned as a member of the township park commission because he is no longer a resident of Delhi township.

Richard E. Lawrence resigned as a relief police officer because of a change in his regular employment that will prevent his devoting time to police work.

The board received a letter from the Otte insurance agency concerning insurance coverage under a comprehensive general liability policy. Raymond Tote of the agency pointed out that the Delhi charter township sanitary sewer district is included in the coverage.

The policy automatically provides liability coverage for all purposes and operations of the township. The automobile liability coverage extends to every vehicle the township owns, including private passenger cars and any hired or non-owned automobiles used by the township. Raymond H. Tote of the agency advised the board that losses paid during the year totalled $1,915.12.

The policy costs the township $1,054.21 per year.

The board Monday night received a copy of a letter sent by its attorneys to the New York Central Railroad company concerning a series of grass fires along the railroad right of way in Delhi township.

During one day in December Delhi fire departments answered 8 fire runs to extinguish grass fires along the railroad, the letter pointed out. "The fires emanated from your right of way and were scattered along practically its entire length," the letter stated.

The charges for service in extinguishing the fires amounted to $1,200, the letter said, and informed the railroad company that "we expect that upon confirming the above that your company will send the township a check for said amount."

Delhi township attorneys also notified the board in a letter that the trial of the court case of Gunn vs. Delhi township which originally was set for trial the week of January 20 has been adjourned to the week of February 24.

The letter stated that the adjournment of the trial came about by the withdrawal of Circuit Judge Marvin Salmon disqualifying himself from the case. Edgar Church, Delhi township attorney, said the case will be tried by Judge Richard Smith of Bay City.

Albert Ribby, 4224 Keller road, appeared before the board to question the validity of his sewer assessment. He was advised to return in March to a meeting of the health and sanitation committee when all complaints will be given consideration. This he agreed to do.

The board referred to its zoning committee and its attorney a proposal for an ordinance under which all business places in the township would file the name and ownership of each business with the township.

Petitions asking for blacktopping on Westwilder drive were received from 12 joint owners of 6 properties on the street. The matter was referred to the roads committee.

Justice court report for December from Justice Raymond Tote showed fees and fines collected during December totalled $38, of which the township's share is $17.10.

A letter from Joanne Carlson of the Maple Grove women's volleyball team asking for funds to meet expenses of the team amounting to about $4 a week was referred to the township park commission.

A report from the Maple Grove fire department showed 75 alarms in 1963, 5 of which were false. The total fire loss in the Maple Grove area during the year was placed at $15,195. Loss of dwellings and other buildings totalled $11,635 and on contents $3,560.

The board allowed claims totalling $11,838.94.

Extension Worker Points to the Growing Danger of Assimilating Too Many Vitamins

We Love Rich Foods

HOLT — A homemaker today has to be an expert in nutrition as well as a good cook. Without being obvious about it, she has to translate her knowledge of just what is a balanced diet into tasty, attractive meals that her family will eat.

That is the advice of Mrs. Anita Dean, extension specialist in foods for the Ingham county extension service spoken at a meeting of extension workers of Ingham county in the Delhi Charter township hall in Holt last week when they discussed ways in which family diets could be improved.

The extension workers will take the knowledge they attained at the Holt meeting back to their separate groups at meetings later on this month.

"It is ironic," Mrs. Dean said "that there are still nutritional problems facing the American people, even though they have a plentiful food supply. We are a nation of people who love rich, high calorie foods, can afford to buy them and don't need them."

"We don't exercise enough. Teenage girls and their mothers show signs that our foods are becoming over-fortified. It is hard to resist the idea that if a little helps, then a lot is much better. With the current trend to fortify so many foods with extra vitamins, there is even danger of assimilating too many vitamins."

The greater part of the meeting was devoted to explaining how nutrients contribute to general health. Basic meal patterns have been developed that help the homemaker make sure her meals contain all the essential nutrients, Mrs. Dean pointed out.

She showed the group how to analyze quickly the foods they themselves consumed in the past 24 hours.

Seven extension work leaders attended the gathering. The dates for the later meetings and the leaders who attended follow:

Mrs. Robert Wilks of the Delhi extension group will outline the results of last week's meeting to her group at the Delhi township hall January 21.

Mrs. Harry Van Kuren of the Hawley group, will speak to her group at a meeting in the home of Mrs. Ida Heinselman January 16.

Mrs. Russell Parker of the Mason Lively Bunch, will discuss the program before her group at the home of Mrs. Charles DeLand January 16.

Mrs. K. G. MaManus of the East Alaledon group will speak to her group at a meeting in the home of Mrs. George McKinney January 23.

Mrs. Fred Wells, leader of the Sandhill group, will speak to her group at the home of Mrs. Theron Downey January 28.

Mrs. William Torbet of the Northwest Aurelius group will meet with her workers at the home of Mrs. Helen Ziegler January 23.

Leslie's 'Haunted House' May Be Torn Down Soon

LESLE — Many local residents describe the old house at 128 North Main in Leslie as a ghost house. John Mitchell, a local merchant says, "It is an eyesore, fire hazard, disgrace to the community or anything else you want to call it."

The house which is more than 100 years old and unoccupied for the last 6 years is said to be owned by a Henry Yerby of Jackson. Records show that the taxes have been paid by Yerby on the property, which at one time had a bicycle shop in part of the building.

The Leslie village council has tried to have the place either torn down or fixed up but without success.

In October, 1963, the house was inspected by a representative of the Ingham county health department. The department's report stated that its inspectors found the house in a ruinous condition and liable to collapse, causing injury to persons or property. The health department also recommended the place be torn down.

Leonard Robinson, who owns a home next to the Yerby property, has offered to buy the house in order to tear it down, but has not been successful.

From available information, exact ownership has been difficult to pinpoint. According to Yerby, there is no deed to the property which was owned at one time by his grandfather. The grandfather in his will left the home to his 3 children.

Kenneth Brooks, village president, was informed some time ago by a law firm that the firm had been contacted by Yerby who informed them he is a tenant in common regarding this property, holding an undivided one-fourth interest and that other tenants in common are deceased.

Following this correspondence, Brooks said he notified Yerby that he must take measures to make the building rat proof, fire proof and completely sealed against all entry.

The latest happenings of the long controversy occurred last

Monday night when Yerby appeared before the village council and stated he thought his attorney had started proceedings to quiet title. A council spokesman also said Yerby agreed to advertise for bids to tear down a portion of the building. Yerby said he will report back to the council at its next meeting January 20, as to what progress has been made at that time.

Club Hears About Wills

LESLE — Rev. Russell Hoover and Robert Brownlee are program chairmen for January for the Welcome club.

At the Friday meeting, Rogers Crosser from the Michigan National bank in Lansing, was the program speaker. He spoke under the auspices of the Ingham County Bar association on the problems relating to wills, legacies and property settlements. A lengthy question and answer period followed his talk.

On January 17, the program guest will be Wallace Watt, a representative from the Michigan Department of Mental Health.

January 24, will be Hobby day, when each person is urged to bring something showing what his hobby is.

Potluck dinners are served at each meeting and recreational activities are enjoyed.

Dog Races Scheduled Sunday

LESLE — The Great Lakes Sled Dog association races will take place Sunday, January 19, at the Onondaga dragway. It is expected that participants will be present from Indiana, Ohio, Canada, Petoskey, Roscommon and Grand Rapids.

Most of the dogs used will be Alaskan Malamutes and huskies, some German Shepherds, Airdales, German Shorthaired Pointers, St. Bernards and Great Pyrenees.

It is expected that between 75 and 100 persons will be participating. There will be children, junior and adult groups.

Piano Pupils Offer Recital

LESLE — The annual winter tea and recital for her piano students was presented at the home of Mrs. Donald Crakes Saturday afternoon. The affair was informal in that students made their own choices of selections played and names were drawn for the order of players.

Students participating were Donald Parker, Bill Webber, Debby Burnette, Maureen Phelps, Mike, Cheri and Patti Bode, Don and Bob Foco, Mike Bement, Bill Gings, Margaret and Denise Parker, Geraldine Heuer and guests were the mothers, Mrs. Marvin Parker, Mrs. William Webber, Mrs. Gary Burnette, Mrs. Duane Phelps, Mrs. Charles Bode, Mrs. Robert Webber, Mrs. Eugene Foco, Mrs. John Gings, Mrs. Denzil Parker, Mrs. Fred Heuer and Mrs. Max Bement and twin daughters.

At the refreshment table Geraldine Heuer was at the punch bowl and Margaret Parker poured tea and coffee.

Rouse Attends Justices' Meet

LESLE — Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Rouse were in Saginaw Friday to attend a meeting of the executive board of the Michigan Justice of the Peace association.

LESLE — Jeannette Wright, Leslie high school junior class president, announced that the turnout to the pancake supper on Thursday night was excellent and approximately $100 was cleared.

School Board Talks About Many Things

LESLE — The Leslie school board talked of many things at its meeting Monday evening.

It signed a rider to the contract of Leonard Sink for $400 of additional pay for the balance of the year, due him as assistant principal of the high school to which post he was appointed recently.

The board gave permission to the Girl Scouts to use a school bus for transportation to the Veterans of Foreign Wars home at Eaton Rapids February 19 for the Juliette Gordon Low dinner.

In the future any requests for use of buses for outside activities will be referred to the board.

A request from the senior class for use of 2 buses for their class trip to New York City was tabled.

Howard Oesterle, principal of Woodworth elementary school, asked that John Petro or Thomas Craig, elementary teachers, be named to take responsibility in an emergency or need in the absence of the principal.

Charles Bode, superintendent of schools, recommended to the board that the high school and elementary principals be paid an annual salary of $8,000 each next year and the junior high school principal, $7,500. The board took no action on the recommendation.

Due to conditions at the Clark school in the Leslie district, the Ingham intermediate board of education has given permission for use of a special education room at the Woodworth elementary school for the rest of the year at a rental fee to run between $500 and $600.

The board also looked over pictures and heard explanations of furniture to be used in the new high school.

Fire Hits Apartment

LESLE — Fire, smoke and water caused extensive damage to the Morea apartments at 308 W. Bellevue street at 3:47 a.m. Sunday. Damage was estimated at about $1,500.

The fire was discovered by William Praeter, who occupies an apartment on the 2nd floor of the 2-story 4-apartment building. The smoke was coming from the apartment of Alton Heusted immediately below Praeter's apartment.

Heusted was not at home. The fire is believed to have started from a cigarette in a davenport and floor around it was burned and the entire building was damaged by water and smoke. Firemen fought the blaze for about an hour.

One of the apartments was vacant. Heusted has now moved into that. The other occupants are Praeter and Mrs. Ethel Wright who resides in a 1st floor apartment.

The building is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Don Morea.

3 Church Circles Meet

LESLE — Three circles of the Leslie Methodist church conducted meetings during the past week.

The Susannah Wesley circle met at the home of Mrs. Ward Vicary Jr. on Meridian road, Tuesday evening, January 7.

Mrs. David Boyer conducted the business meeting and Mrs. Russell Ward Jr. was in charge of the devotions.

Mrs. Vicary, in charge of the program discussed the proposal for the union of the Methodist church on the national level with the Presbyterian, Episcopal and United Church of Christ churches. The likenesses and the differences in these churches and what it would mean if they should unite, were brought out in the discussion.

The Church Beginning Where We Live was the subject under discussion at the Esther circle meeting at the home of Mrs. Ori Snider on Thursday evening. Mrs. Kenneth Graham was general leader and Mrs. Charles Ranney led the discussion. Three aspects were presented, what

School Job Pushed; Walls Up

LESLIE — Leslie's new high school on Kimball street is expected to be completely under roof within a short time, weather permitting, Charles Bode, superintendent of schools, said this week. All walls of the building have been completed and it is expected when the building is under cover progress will be speedy.

The plumbing work is about half done, Bode said, and the electrical installations are about 2/3 completed.

The school board is about ready to advertise for bids on new furniture for the building and bids may now be picked up at the superintendent's office in the present junior-senior high school building.

The building project which will cost approximately $795,000, will cover an area of 300 and 289 feet.

"We expect to take over the building by at least July 1, 1964," Bode said.

When the new high school is ready the present junior-senior high school will become wholly a junior high school building.

The building is north of the Woodworth elementary school and is located in the north-west section of the village.

Wildlife Story in The Snow

Tracks in the snow tell us many interesting things about the comings, goings, and doings of wildlife. For example, take this likely woodland scene sketched by cartoonist Ozz Warbach: (1) Judging from the tracks and fallen twigs, a recently-arrived porcupine is gnawing on this tree. (2) A restless red squirrel has been busy making the rounds from tree to tree, fretting to see if everything is all right in his little domain. (3) Mr. or Mrs. Ruffed Grouse had landed in a clearing but was quickly frightened away, probably by a weasel (4) who was poking around stumps and logs for a wintertime meal. It's hard to say whether the weasel found the white-footed mouse (5) at home. With the snow still not too deep, a white-tailed deer (6) freely moves about in search of food. He will be yarded in a swampland when the going gets tougher.

Hayden R. Palmer

For 23 years Laurence D. Parker has worked for Ingham county.

Today as Ingham county controller he holds one of the top executive posts of county government.

Parker began working for the county back in 1940 when he took a job as a bookkeeper in the treasurer's office. He stayed in that post until 1943 when he joined the air force and went to war for 33 months. He served as a clerk-typist with the air force, stationed in the South Pacific most of the time. He served in New Guinea and Biak and near the close of his enlistment for about 3 months in Japan.

"I was too far back to carry a gun and far enough up to the lines to go without a necktie," he said.

He returned to the United States in 1946 and was discharged in February of that year at Fort Sheridan, Illinois.

After the war he came back to Mason to become deputy county treasurer until 1953 when he was appointed county treasurer. He was later re-elected to the post. In 1962 a new county office was created — that of county controller — and Parker was appointed to it.

Parker was born in Lansing October 28, 1916, but his family moved to Holt when he was 4 years old. He was a student in Holt schools from the kindergarten through the 12th grade, graduating from Holt high school in 1935. Then he attended Michigan State university and later Acme Business college in Lansing.

His first position after obtaining his schooling was with the Holt Lumber company as an office clerk. He remained there about a year. Jobs were scarce in those days and it was not until 1939 that he obtained steady employment. That was with the Gibson Refrigerator company of Greenville.

In 1939 his parents moved to Mason and so when he left the Gibson company he returned and took his first job with the county. He has been there ever since.

In 1939 he and Marjorie Richmond of Holt were married. They have 2 daughters, Elaine, 16, a student at Mason senior high school, and Josephine, 13, a student at Mason junior high school. The family resides at 523 W. Oak street.

Parker, his wife and their children are members of the Mason Presbyterian church where he is a member of the choir and a former trustee and elder. He also is a member of the general council of the Grand River Presbytery.

Parker holds memberships also in the Mason Kiwanis club and the Mason lodge No. 70, F. & A. M. One of his chief hobbies is working on the lawn of his home. Another is photography.

He is especially interested in high school sports, and attends many games during the seasons. Football and basketball are his particular favorites.

His daughter, he says, enjoys professional sports and they have been to Detroit twice last summer to watch the Tigers in action.

But Parker hasn't a great deal of interest in professional sports, himself.

"I follow the Tigers only slightly," he said.

Foundation Boosts State Problems

By Elmer E. White
Michigan Press Association
Individual problems in children should be met face on as soon as they are discovered, according to Michigan's No. 1 school chief.

Superintendent of Public Instruction Lynn M. Bartlett says the schools should slant their approach to begin dealing with individual problems as early as the kindergarten level.

"We need to adapt our programs to meet the needs from the early grades on through," he said. "We can't wait until the youngsters reach the secondary level to become concerned about individual problems."

Identification of individual problems is often made at a very early date.

"We can with fair accuracy identify those youngsters who are going to have trouble, including the ones who will have trouble reading," said Bartlett. "We can predict right now the ones who will fail unless something is done to aid their individual problems."

"Roughly one-third of all youngsters who enter the 9th grade drop out before they graduate. In my judgment more students would stay if we had adequately met their needs as they were going through school," he said.

Delegates Get State Report

A report on the construction of a 2 million bushel grain terminal and high capacity feed mill near Saginaw was given by Farm Bureau Services, Inc., delegates attending the 35th annual meeting of the National Council of Farmer Cooperatives at Houston, Texas, January 13-15.

Elton R. Smith, president and voting delegate for the Michigan organization, cited the new grain and feed facility as one of the most modern and efficient such structures ever built. It can receive grain and beans from truck and rail, and ship via rail, boat or truck to any point in the world.

Maynard D. Brownlee, general manager of Farm Bureau Services, discussed the merger of the Michigan Elevator Exchange with his company which has resulted in the new facility as well as making it the largest farmer-owned cooperative in the state.

The national council is composed of some 5,000 farmer cooperatives interested in marketing agricultural products and purchasing farm production supplies. The organization represents some 2,750,000 members nationwide. Also attending from Michigan Farm Bureau Services were Eugene Roberts, vice-president, and John Converse, director.

TV to Play Politics Role

The big day for Republicans will come late this month. A major undertaking in electronics planning will be culminated January 29, in a television program such as never was seen on commercial channels.

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, still titular head of the party, will headline the closed circuit speech-making program piped into some 40 cities.

Michigan's Gov. George Romney, all announced presidential hopefuls and the GOP's Congressional leaders also will be billed for pep talks during the telecast to fund-raising dinners across the country.

Both parties have previously used the closed circuit television approach to stimulate party spirit.

Cigarets - Mortality, not Morality

There is a danger in all of the new developments about cigaret smoking that those who now take positive stands against smoking will be stereotyped along with the prudish and moralists.

Prudishness and morality have nothing to do with the latest findings of the U. S. Public Health Service concerning the effects of smoking cigarettes. The study and subsequent report ordered by President Kennedy 14 months ago, leaves no doubts but what those who smoke cigarettes as a general rule shorten their lives. The smoking of cigarettes is self-destruction.

Therefore, it is only coincidental that the report issued by the federal panel of scientists comes up with the same answer as those who oppose smoking purely on a morality basis.

If the smoking ban is to be effective, it must be promoted on the basis of its dangers to health. Those who will muddy the water with morality and prudishness will only deter the accomplishment of a lessening of smoking in this country.

Action to rid the nation of this health menace cannot be too swift. Dr. Albert E. Heustis, state health commissioner, said this week:

"I know of no deaths as a result of eating cranberries and there were only 7 deaths attributed to eating smoked fish. There was swift action in both these cases, yet we watch thousands of our citizens slowly kill themselves by smoking cigarettes, and do nothing about it.

"We're simply going to have to reach the point where smoking cigarettes is widely thought of as a social disgrace — which it is — and the sooner we reach that point the better."

It won't be easy for governments — national and state — to war against cigaret smoking. The tobacco industry has become an important part of the economy in many places in the country. These special interest areas can be expected to pressurize any effort to curtail production and distribution of tobacco products.

Yet, it must be done. If health groups throughout governments are to justify themselves to the public, they must act swiftly to save the smokers from themselves. Cigarettes ought to be given the same attention as botulism and cranberries, as dirty restaurant glasses and cherry pie filling.

And above all, the cigaret-cancer problem must be treated as a medical one and not as a moral one.

'Dirty' Profits

The word "profits" has gotten to be almost a dirty word and, whether you realize it or not, this is bad news for all of us.

A recent poll, taken nationally among high school seniors, produced startling results. The students were asked if they thought business could survive without profits. Believe it or not, 62 percent of those answering said it could!

It would be difficult to determine from what this belief stems. More than likely, the attitude results from a misunderstanding of what profits really are — an essential grease for our economic machinery.

If more than half our teenagers believe that business can operate without the stimulus of profits, their education has gone awry somewhere. The kids are being misled; maybe by the schools but more likely by their parents. Whatever the source, if the citizenry of the future loses confidence in the importance of profits, our society has a dim tomorrow.

There are other things just as important, but if our highly productive economy is to survive, so must profits.

Ho-Hum

It's going to be a fascinating year in politics.

Gov. Romney in his bid for reelection is going to blame the Democrats for the failure of his tax reform program. Candidate Staebler is going to say the program was just what the Democrats had pushed for 12 years and couldn't pass because Republicans wouldn't support it.

Gov. Romney is going to take credit for Michigan's prosperity. Candidate Staebler is going to say this prosperity came from the Democratic administration at Washington, not from Lansing.

President Johnson is going to be all things to all men — a moderate liberal, a progressive conservative and the first man in history to win the love of the liberals for his bigger budget and the support of his conservatives because of his economy.

Nearly all the congressmen are going to be re-elected. In Washington they are going to work hard to cut the defense budget. They'll work equally hard to raise defense expenditures in their own district. They'll vote to reduce the armed forces and fight to keep the military bases in their district.

After a glance or 2 at this picture, the folks back home will flick their dial to Bonanza. There's nothing duller than politics when everyone has a job and when the Russian bear is making noises that sound like a purr.

barbs, praise and consequence

Individuals, organizations and governmental units have a hard time keeping up with new problems let alone staying ahead of the old ones.

That's the situation in the field of mental health as it relates to Ingham county.

Supervisors at their meeting Monday initiated steps to try to keep up with an exploding number of mental health cases — cases in which former methods of handling are inept when it comes to doing the job.

One graphic example came to light this week which indicates the seriousness of the situation.

A Mason youth, detained last month in the juvenile home at Lansing, went on a rampage, doing $2,000 worth of damage to the home and endangering other juveniles, the staff and law officers who were called in to quell the one-boy riot.

This youth was sent by juvenile authorities to the fifth floor mental health care unit at St. Lawrence, the only facility in Ingham which will accept such cases from the county.

Sunday the same boy went on another rampage. This time damage was estimated at $5,000 and in addition the boy threatened others and also threatened to jump from a fifth floor window himself. He was finally subdued. St. Lawrence officials justifiably want the boy moved.

Where does he go? That's the question Juvenile Judge James Kallman is seeking an answer to.

State hospitals are jammed. Being a minor further complicates the case. Judge Kallman reports that a state institution will accept him in 3 months. In the meantime the only place left for this boy, diagnosed as mentally sick by experts, is behind bars in jail.

Even here there is a problem. Ingham's county jail is at capacity. There is no place at the jail, according to Sheriff Kenneth Preadmore, except in the tank, a spot which would be harmful to the youth and possibly harmful to others.

Authorities are trying to find room for him at the Lansing city jail.

This example is but one of the many Judge Kallman can cite.

Acting on the recommendation of the judge and the county health committee, the board of supervisors authorized the forming of a citizens advisory committee to come up with recommendations on how Ingham can solve its dilemma.

The move is a good one. The solution may be too late for the boy who ripped up St. Lawrence hospital. The move will be too late for the many others faced with the long delay in getting into state institutions. But a solution may help such cases in the future.

This problem isn't a minor one. Judge Kallman maintains that there are at least 60 cases in Ingham today involving mentally sick people who are in need of hospitalization, yet have to wait their turn — a turn which may come too late to avoid violence and heartbreak.

Any move toward solving this problem of the mentally sick should be applauded.

Jim Brown

Last week we added up the figures for 1963 and found we had published 146,765 column inches of advertising and 97,843 column inches of news. A column inch is one column wide by one inch deep.

Going a little further, if the news had been printed in a single column, it would have been a little over 1½ miles long — or from one city limits of Mason to the other and back to the court house. And it would have taken 72 hours to read aloud — not counting an occasional drink of water.

The amount of news and advertising broke all records.

About 5 percent of our advertising is what we call foreign (mostly auto ads that come from advertising agencies). Another 5 percent is "legal" (probate and other government notices). About 12 percent is classified advertising and the remaining 78 percent is the display advertising of area merchants.

As in most weekly newspapers, our foreign advertising has fallen to half of what it was in 1955. Legal and classified advertising varies little from year to year.

Our major variable is in the advertising done by area merchants. Most of them tend to gear their advertising budgets to their sales. When their sales suffer, so does our advertising, although our peaks and dips usually follow theirs by a few months.

Consider this column as sort of a State of the Newspaper piece. This week we received the latest tabulation book showing the circulation and ad rates of every weekly and daily newspaper in Michigan.

The News continues to lead all other weeklies in Ingham county with circulation — in fact, the News circulation (7,558) is greater than all other Ingham weeklies combined. Counting the new child of the News — The Ingham County Shopper — the News offers nearly twice the circulation of all other county weeklies. The News also offers the lowest per reader cost to advertisers of any newspaper — daily or weekly — in the county. And out of 54 daily newspapers in Michigan, the News has a greater circulation than 25 of them.

Another interesting figure — the News' circulation ranks 30th among the 290 weeklies in the state (And all but one of those larger than the News is in the Detroit metro area). Figuring the combined News-Shopper circulation, there are only 8 weeklies in the state that are larger regardless of where they are published.

Conceding that there is more to a newspaper than just its size, there is comfort to the publishers in the fact that the News is keeping pace with papers throughout the state. The addition of new offset equipment this past year, coupled with the stellar reporting feats of reporters like Hayden Palmer, Tillie Martin, Nancy Thorpe, my brother and all those who contribute news and columns from without the News building add up to what we all hope is a good readable newspaper destined to serve well the people in the News' circulation belt.

Recreation Seen as New Crop on Michigan Farms

Some Michigan farmers are turning to a different type of "crop," one which is short in supply and very much in demand.

This new crop is recreation. Woodlots are being converted into overnight camping areas; entire farms are being changed into ski areas and commercial hunting and fishing or recreation sites.

With this in mind, Michigan State university's Department of Resource Development, in cooperation with the Department of Fisheries and Wildlife, has planned a one-day program devoted to farm recreation.

This program will be given on Thursday, February 6, during Farmers' Week on the MSU campus February 3-7. Farmers who are currently involved in recreation projects, will be on hand to tell of their experiences and problems in starting and operating recreation sites, and to discuss the "pros and cons" of farm recreation.

Specialists from MSU will contribute with some of their findings about the demand for and the type of recreation desired.

Friday's resource development Farmers' Week program will be about community development, rural land use and zoning. Arrangements have been made for reports by 7 persons who have had experience in identifying problems, studying the available resources, attempting to develop goals and implementation of the planning to achieve desired community improvements.

Reports on the control of highway interchanges by Harry E. Doehne of the State Highway department, and on the artificial lake situation by Hans Haugard, Livingston county extension agent will also be part of Friday's program.

The resource development department has prepared an exhibit for Farmers' Week designed to show how the development of a community is based upon its natural resources.

Another exhibit, designed by the Cooperative Extension Service and the State Soil Conservation committee, shows the relationships between land use practices and watershed management.

Farm Week Programs Out

Copies of the 49th annual Farmers' Week program at Michigan State university to be February 3-7 are now available. Programs may be obtained at the Ingham county extension service office in the court house at Mason.

The yearly program, which attracts farmers and farm leaders from all sections of the state, will open on Monday, February 3. Byron Good of MSU's department of animal husbandry and general chairman of the event notes that sessions have been planned for all areas of agricultural interest.

"At the 1964 Farmers' Week, there will be meetings for the livestock farmer, the cash-crops producer and for the hundreds of fruit and vegetable growers of the state," Good adds. "There will also be sessions ranging from beekeeping to Christmas tree production."

Nearly 200 staff members of Michigan State departments will appear on departmental programs to report latest developments in agricultural research and present recommendations for the year ahead.

Justin Hartzog Death Revealed

Word has been received in Mason of the December 22, death of Justin Richardson Hartzog. He died in Cincinnati, Ohio, where he had gone for treatment. Hartzog had been suffering circulatory trouble for several weeks, his home was in Fayetteville, Ohio.

Hartzog was born July 13, 1892, the son of Dr. and Mrs. William B. Hartzog. Dr. Hartzog was pastor of Mason Baptist church from 1918 to 1926 after which he remained to live in Mason and served as a justice of the peace and legislator. Dr. Hartzog died in 1945 and Mrs. Hartzog died in Ohio, in 1933.

Justin Hartzog was still working at the time of his death. He was employed by a firm in Boston that did city planning. Surviving him is his wife, Margaret. The Hartzogs had no children.

Hounds, Hunters, and Cottontails

Take a crisp winter day with a trace of fresh snow, round up a partner or two, add a couple of eager beagles and you have the ingredients for a great cottontail chase. No doubt about it, rabbit hunting is a hard sport to beat, and through Mar. 1 thousands of nimrod will be going where the action is—in and along areas where the cover is thickest. Since rabbits usually run in regular circles, hunters with dogs find it best to stay at the spot where the chase begins, letting their animals move cottontails back to this starting point. The successful hunter without dogs picks out a single track and follows it slowly and carefully to close in on his quarry.—Mich. Dept. of Conservation

Crop Production To Hold Steady

Total Michigan cash crop production is expected to remain about the same as last year, according to Michigan State university agricultural economists.

No serious surplus situation is in sight for dry beans although exports should reach record levels this year. Prices on the 1963 and 1964 crops will average near support levels even though some increase in acreage and production is expected.

Increased production and farmer receipts for soybeans is expected. But prices may run a little lower during the 1964-65 harvest season.

Sugar prices reached a high level during 1963, but expanding acreage and more normal growing seasons in other parts of the world will likely return prices to the 1962 levels.

Farmers can look for increased corn production and a continuing downward trend in oat and barley production with average weather conditions.

Improved prices for late 1963 summer potatoes may mean increased production and somewhat lower prices on the 1964 crop.

More production and lower prices should be the rule for fruit crops during the coming year. Lower prices can be expected on cherries, apples, strawberries, peaches and grapes. Yet larger marketings should outweigh lower prices and total returns to fruit growers may be up as much as 20 per cent.

3 State Bulls Win Honors

Three Michigan bulls have qualified as silver medal type sires under the Holstein-Friesian Association of America's new plan of daughter-dam comparisons based on type classification scores.

They were: Graf Acres Reburke Bold E Joe 1294647 (VG), owned by Fred Graf, Stockbridge; Lakefield Ormsby Winterthur 1233800 (VG), owned by Carlos Long, Milford and Lakefield Farm, Clarkston; Danboro Great Pontiac 1280701 (VG), owned by Erwin F. Wieland, Kawkawlin.

The new method involves daughter-dam comparisons similar to those commonly employed in gauging a sire's ability to transmit production.

Under the plan, each cow's type score is converted to a percentage of the breed average for her age group. Comparisons are drawn between the resulting figures averaged for both dams and daughters.

To qualify for the Silver Medal Type award, a sire must have daughters with classification scores higher than the breed average for animals in their age bracket.

They must also exceed "expectancy"—a point midway between the breed average of their dams and that of the entire breed.

4-H Council Planning Constitution

Members of the Ingham county 4-H council discussed their responsibilities in relation to the total 4-H program at a dinner meeting on January 8. Mrs. Charles Brown, Mason, led the discussion. It was based on information gained at a statewide workshop she attended at Camp Kett, Michigan's 4-H Leadership Training Center.

As a result of the discussion, a committee was formed to develop a new constitution for the council. Included will be such items as: purposes, representation on the council, length of term, and type of committees.

The present officers will serve on the temporary committee to develop the new constitution. They are: Derwood Dickinson, Okemos; Mrs. Kenneth Waite, Williamston; Mrs. R. B. Frost, Williamston, and Mrs. Charles Brown, Mason. In addition Jon Jenkins, Onondaga, will work with the committee as a youth representative.

Others who participated in this meeting were: Mrs. Clarence Longstaff, Leslie; Richard Byrum, Onondaga; Frank Davis, Dansville; Mrs. Harry Daman, Dansville; Mrs. James Zeitz, Stockbridge; Mrs. George Covert, Leslie; and County 4-H Extension agents, Rhoda Peck and Gary Seever.

No Change In Social Security Tax

R. I. Nixon, Detroit district director of the Internal Revenue Service explained today that there had been no change during calendar year 1963, in the amount of tax on both employee and employer under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act (Social Security).

Nixon said the tax of 3 5/8 per cent which was imposed for the calendar year of 1963, remains in effect through 1965. It applies to wages up to $4,800.00 paid by an employer and received by the employee. The maximum amount of Social Security tax to be withheld from wages due an employee is $174.00. An individual who has more than one employer may have had more than $174.00 withheld from his wages. If so, the excess amount is allowed as additional income tax withheld when preparing the tax return.

Social Security taxes withheld from wages is covered in the instruction books prepared by the Internal Revenue Service and gives the average taxpayer the necessary help to properly prepare his income tax return. Nixon advised to first read the instructions, then prepare your return. If a question arises, then telephone your local Internal Revenue Service office for the answer.

Weed Control Meet Jan. 23

The fourth and last meeting in the series of farm crops at the Dansville town hall will be on "Weed Control in Field Crops" on Thursday, January 23, at 1 p.m.

Stuart Hildebrand and William Meggitt of Michigan State university crops science department will discuss the materials and rates per acre recommended for the control of annual weeds, quack grass and some of the more difficult species in corn, small grains, hay and pasture fields and soybeans. Residue problems in the soil of some of the weed control materials will also be discussed.

Killing weeds when they are very small is important to obtain high crop yields. The competition of weeds for the available supply of plant nutrients and moisture is serious. This was proven on the corn trials on the C. A. Diehl and Sons farm in the dry year of 1963. About $1.25 worth of atrazine banded 10 inches over the corn rows increased corn yield 8 bushels per acre where the corn was cultivated twice. Without cultivation the yield was reduced from 103.7 to 50.5 bushels of corn per acre. Atrazine applied immediately after planting did an excellent job of controlling broadleaf and annual grass weeds in the row. The corn had no competition from early weeds for available nutrients and moisture, according to R. C. Lott, county extension director. Questions will be welcomed at the meeting.

Cherry Men Ask Tariff be Kept

Spokesmen for the Michigan Cherry industry have appealed to the president's trade information committee to maintain present tariffs on imports of foreign cherries during the coming rounds of trade negotiations to start in Geneva, Switzerland, in May. Spokesmen say that Italy's tremendous output could flood the U. S. market once a break is made in out tariff set-up. Both Italy and France are strong competitors of U. S. growers and could ship large quantities of cherry products to U. S. markets if tariff walls are broken down.

Low Radiation Counts In State Drinking Water

Dr. Albert E. Heustis, state health commissioner, this week announced that a radiation study of 51 Michigan drinking water supplies being conducted by the Michigan department of health showed that all supplies tested were well within safe limits.

For purposes of the surveillance program, which was started last year, each participating water supply collected a composite of daily samples for 12 weeks and sent it to the state health department for analyses. Three such samples were submitted by each water supply during 1963.

At the health department's radiation laboratory, the samples were tested for beta and alpha particle emissions and strontium 90. Results were recorded in micromicrocuries per liter. (A curie is a unit of measurement equal to the amount of radioactivity of one gram of radium. A micromicrocurie is a millionth of a millionth of a curie.)

Safe limits for radioactivity in drinking water are listed as 1,000 micromicrocuries per liter for beta particles (the highest for any of the samples tested was 38.2); the safe limit for alpha particles is 3 (the highest sample reading was 1.24); and the safe limit for strontium 90 is listed as 10 (the highest sample recording was 4).

Dr. Heustis said that the program will be continued to provide basic information on levels of radioactivity in the state's drinking water, and the efficiency of water treatment processes in removing radioactive particles from drinking water.

Similar programs related to air and milk are also conducted

Calves 17 lbs. heavier on Purina Calf Startena Checkers

Recent Purina Farm test on 21 calves gives Calf Startena in pellet form edge over Calf Startena Meal.

New Purina Calf Startena Checkers was developed over four years of research at the Purina Farm Dairy Unit, Gray Summit, Mo. This new product has several big advantages:

1. It's easy to handle and feed... makes feeding a calf ration easier than ever before.
2. Each calf gets exactly the right amount of essential ingredients... can't select some ingredients and leave others.
3. There's less waste in pails or trough, no fines... so it's economical to feed.

4. Test calves fed new Startena Checkers were 17 lbs. heavier at four months than calves grown on Calf Startena Meal... and Calf Startena Meal calves are far heavier than average!

2 Holsteins Named Gold Medal Sires

Two registered Holstein bulls in Michigan have been designated as gold medal sires by the Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

They are: Trillwood Two Roses Captain 12042007 (GP), owned by Charles J. Davis of Onondaga; Mooseheart Supreme Trade Mark 1219137, owned by Jerry Jorgensen of Webberville.

The gold medal award, based on both the type and production of registered daughters, represents the highest possible recognition for a Holstein herd sire.

Both Michigan bulls qualified after being named silver medal type sires under the national Holstein organization's new plan of daughter-dam comparisons for type.

Both had previously qualified as silver medal production sires on the basis of similar comparisons of milking ability.

Under the new Holstein type plan, each cow's type score is converted to a percentage of the breed average for her age group. Comparisons are drawn between the resulting figures averaged for both dams and daughters.

To qualify for the silver medal type award, a sire must have daughters with classification scores higher than the breed average for animals in their age bracket.

They must also exceed "expectancy" — a point midway between the breed age average of their dams and that of the entire breed.

Potato Exports Up

During the first half of 1963, about 1.3 million cwt. of U. S. potatoes were shipped to western Europe. The unusually heavy exports were due to poor crops in Europe. But improved output has cut the continent's need for our spuds, which is a tough break for the U. S. potato industry plagued by surplus production.

Canadian farmers are being advised to ease up on the seeding of durum wheat next spring. Canada has an estimated 100 million bushels of this wheat. Annual needs amount to around 25 million bushels.

World wheat production in 1963 totaled 8.24 billion bushels, down almost one-half billion bushels from the year before reflecting smaller crops in Europe and Russia.

Quick drying of fruit in a hot air tunnel is being used in California. Pears so processed will be test-marketed this year probably followed by apricots and prunes later.

Farm land accounts for about 30 per cent of the earth's surface. (This includes arable land and permanent pasture). It's very unevenly divided. Chief concentrations of fertile farm land are in continental Europe, continental U. S. east of the Rockies and India.

Steer Volume Hurts Prices

One of the factors depressing prices on the fed cattle market has been the large volume of heavy steers. Many farmers have held back their fed cattle hoping that prices would get better. In the meantime their cattle were putting on more weight.

It costs about twice as much to feed steers from 1,200 pounds to 1,300 pounds as from 900 to 1,000 pounds. Over 1,300 pounds the cost of additional gains goes progressively higher, making it even more difficult for cattlemen to come out with a profit when prices for heavy steers are under pressure, as they have been in recent months.

It's a vicious circle. When cattle are held back and continue to put on weight they simply add to the problem as the total tonnage of beef is boosted. That's what has been happening to the fed cattle market in recent months. Some marketing specialists figure that this pressure from heavy cattle will be eased within another 30 days or so and that there will be a better price situation in the months to follow. But not much gain in fed cattle prices is expected until these heavy cattle now in feed lots are marketed.

HERE ARE THE WINNERS of the Ingham county 100-bushel corn contest who were awarded plaques at a luncheon in the Dansville Methodist church last week. Irving Jorgensen, left, won the high yield with 153 bushels per acre, and Fred Van Gilder, right, had the highest net return per acre -- $82.65. In the center is Grant Putman, Williamston, chairman of the corn committee for this year's contest.

How Two Won Corn Contest

Irving Jorgensen and Fred VanGilder of Webberville are the winners of the 1963 Ingham county corn contest. Out of 47 farmers enrolled, Jorgensen obtained the top yield of 153 bushels of corn per acre. VanGilder obtained the most corn for the least cost with the highest net return of $82.65 per acre. His yield was 147 bushels per acre.

Jorgensen planted DeKalb 441 and XL45 at a 19,000 plant population per acre on May 9, 1963. He plowed down corn stalks that were manured in 1963. His fertilizer program was 170 pounds per acre of 0-0-60 plowed down, 225 pounds of 8-32-8 as a starter and 125 pounds of nitrogen applied as a sidedress application. He used Esteron 992, 4-D for post emerge weed control on July 2, and cultivated twice.

VanGilder planted Pioneer 368 on May 15, at 18,000 plant population. The previous crop was corn with no manure being applied in 1963. He plowed down 150 pounds per acre of 0-0-60, applied 300 pounds per acre of 8-32-8 as a starter and applied 100 pounds of nitrogen June 2. He cultivated twice and applied 2, 4-D post emerge on July 5. His total cost of production was $64.35 per acre and he obtained 147 bushels of corn leaving him a net return of $82.65 per acre.

80 Foreign Students Guests of Farm Families

Foreign students from Austria, Chitnis, India, Korea, Nyasaland, Tanganyika, and Turkey visited 4-H farm families in Ingham county as part of an Adventure in World Understanding, planned by Michigan State University, December 21, to January 1.

More than 80 students attending various colleges and universities in Michigan participated in this annual program and visited farm families in 8 counties. The farm visit is highlight of the program and a challenging experience to each member of the family. The host families in Ingham county were:

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Kurtz of Williamston.

Mr. and Mrs. Almon Lathrop, Stockbridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas McKim of Stockbridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Smith, Mason.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Ledergerber of Eaton Rapids.

The farm family selected as host for a foreign student has a full time farming operation, has children living at home and new families in the program are given first opportunity.

The host families met their foreign student at the court house in Mason and took them to their homes for an overnight visit. The next afternoon they returned them to Michigan State University and were guests at an international dinner at Kellogg Center.

Farmers Need Form 1040

Farmers, when filing their income tax return, must use the Form 1040 and the Schedule F. Farmers may not use the 1040-A.

Schedule F is the form on which farmers list all farm income, and expenses in determining net farm profit or loss.

The Farmer's Tax Guide provides complete instructions for preparation of the Form 1040 and the Schedule F.

Also included in the Farmer's Tax Guide are examples of the appropriate forms completely filled out. Farmers will benefit by using these examples as a guide.

Maine Still Leads

Production of certified seed potatoes in 1963, for planting this year, totaled 38.1 million hundredweight. Maine is still the principle producer of seed potatoes, accounting for 49 per cent of the total output. Next in line are Idaho with 13 per cent, Minnesota with 12 per cent, North Dakota with 7 per cent and California and Colorado with 3 per cent each.

KeepRecords, Farmers Told

Farmers are requested, and encouraged, to keep accurate records on their business in 1964, in order to provide answers for the do-it-yourself questionnaire they will receive near the end of the year as part of the 1964 census of agriculture. A census form will be mailed each farmer by October to be filled out. Later a census worker will visit each farm to review the filled-out form to make sure all questions are answered. The do-it-yourself plan is expected to save millions of dollars in the collection of valuable farm information. Data from the farm census are used for all kinds of studies and it's to the farmers' advantage to cooperate to the fullest as the information is used for programs and plans to help them in their business.

Fewer Cattle Sent Into Feeder States

The number of stocker and feeder cattle and calves shipped into the 8 north central feeding states in November was down 3 per cent from the comparable months a year earlier. For the 5 months July-November the number was off 12 per cent. Shipments into Michigan were up slightly in November compared with a year before but for the 5 month period they were down slightly. Uncertainty over fed cattle prices was the principle factor causing the lower shipments even though prices for the stockers and feeders eased off some from earlier in the year.

Engineering Day Event Of Farm Week

Tuesday, February 4, will be "Agricultural Engineering Day" during the 49th annual Farmers' Week at the Michigan State University campus, East Lansing, February 3-7.

The day is so designated because of the many contributions engineering and mechanization have made to agriculture in the past few years.

Some of these new developments will be shown in displays. Exhibits of newly developed turbine engines, and the latest thing in farm tractors, tillage and harvesting equipment will be on display. Sprinkling equipment for irrigation and frost prevention, and clay and concrete products for agricultural drainage also will be exhibited.

The MSU agricultural engineers have devoted all day Wednesday to talks on problems of agricultural waste disposal. Lagoons, holding tanks, liquid and dry handling will be discussed in terms of health and aesthetics, including a discussion of water problems in wells, streams and rivers caused by agricultural wastes.

Thursday will be devoted to new machinery developments. New sources of farm power, transisterized ignition systems and diesel fuel power will be subjects for talks.

New developments for slow moving vehicles on the highway will be a subject for an MSU safety engineer. Hay watering, with its implications for hay transportation and cattle feeding, will be the subject for another.

New findings for row spacing on corn yields and narrow row harvesting equipment will complete the program.

Area Buys Soybean Oil

This past year shipments of vegetable oils, particularly soybean oil, from the U. S. to several nations in the Mediterranean area were relatively heavy. Demand for U. S. oils were spurred by a big drop in olive oil output in the Mediterranean basin due to the severe winter damage 2 years ago. But olive oil production in that area has now jumped back to a record high of 1.6 million short tons. This would be up 60 per cent from a year earlier and tops the 1951-52 high of 1.5 million tons.

Farm Notes

Farmers can find out what their labor and management was worth on the farm last year by deducting from the gross income all cash operating expenses, depreciation, labor other than operator and 5 per cent interest on total investment in farm business, according to Michigan State university agricultural economists. The resulting figure is the wages.

Wayne State Events Drew Johnson to Campus Three Times

President Johnson chats with WSU students during one of his three 1963 campus visits as vice president. During an earlier visit he had received an honorary doctor-of-laws degree from Wayne.

DETROIT—Lyndon B. Johnson visited the State of Michigan four times while he was vice president of the United States.

Three of these visits brought him to the campus of Wayne State University where he took part in events of significance to State and Nation.

The first was the opening of Wayne's year-long Emancipation Centennial which drew speakers both from the U.S. and abroad. He delivered the initial address for this observance on January 6, 1963.

The second was two months later, on March 2, when he met with representatives of Michigan industry and higher education to discuss research and development in Michigan.

His final visit was made on August 15 in connection with a Wayne-centered Regional Conference on Equal Employment Opportunity, at which he spoke.

Wayne was sponsor and host at the request of the U. S. government.

Mr. Johnson also signed on this visit the University's Plan for Progress, the first plan drawn up by any college or university in the Nation, in cooperation with the President's Committee on Equal Employment Opportunity.

Without ME YOU can do NOTHING

— so the vine said to the branches. Separated from the vine the branch became dead wood. We boast of our strength and the part we play but oh, how dependent on God we really are. The physical body must have goods we cannot get except they come from God... air, food, water, companionship and even wealth. It is all part of a living universe. By itself all of this would be dead wood. The Christian without Christ becomes fruitless... dead. The human is nothing apart from the divine. God not only created life, He also sustains it. Our health, strength, success are all God's gift. Better stop Mister, long enough to give Him credit. Without Him we can do nothing.

go into the house of the Lord. Let us support her program of service to humanity, be a faithful worker and attend service regularly.
