

Voters Fail To Show At Polls

Eight council candidates were selected Monday from a field of 11 in a race marked by exceptional apathy on the part of Mason voters.

Nominees selected for the 4 vacancies which will be filled at the April 6 election are incumbents Claude Cady, Richard Morris and Howard Schlichter, Richard Mills, Muri Eastman, John Hamlin, David Stone and Loren Shattuck.

Candidates eliminated were Robert Groenleer, Louis Lee and Melrose Hudson.

Votes will be canvassed by the city board of canvassers picked Monday night by the council to conform to the new state election law. Named to the board were Emery Jewett and Marie Barton for one-year terms and John Taylor and John Prining for 2-year terms.

Unofficial returns were as follows:

Claude Cady	207
Richard Morris	202
Howard Schlichter	187
Richard Mills	152
Muri Eastman	144
John Hamlin	132
David Stone	90
Loren Shattuck	72
Robert Groenleer	70
Louis Lee	50
Melrose Hudson	32

Fall Victim Presents Claim

Councilman Claude Cady reported Monday night on the status of a claim for medical expenses originally filed against the city by Mrs. Pearl Moore.

Mrs. Moore asked the council to pay medical bills for treatment of injuries she claims she sustained in a fall on a city sidewalk in front of the Consumers substation on Ash street.

The claim was referred to Consumers Power company. Cady told councilmen that Consumers Power officials had investigated the case and disclaimed any negligence. They claimed that on one slab corner there was a 1/4-inch variation.

Hurry, Vets

About 25 disabled veterans and widows of disabled veterans are going to be out of luck when it comes to home-stead tax exemptions on Mason property. That's the warning issued by Mrs. Doris Austin, city treasurer. Only one week remains before those who qualify can make application under the new procedures set up by the state. Letters were sent by the city explaining the new procedure. Mrs. Austin said, but so far there are still 25 or so who have not complied.

Harry's Back in School

Harry Botek, Mason youth afflicted with a rare eye disease, returned to Mason junior high school Tuesday morning after several days at Walter Reed hospital in Washington undergoing treatment for a rare eye disease. Harry is shown here in Mrs. Ruth Ashley's ninth grade math class. Doctors say that Harry will eventually be blinded by the disease.

Volunteers Map Plans To Push School Vote

At Monday night's session members of the school board and the citizens study group presided at a question and answer session. Literature for the campaigners was handed out by Rev. Joseph Nielson. Workers received folders, brochures and an explanation sheet on how school taxes are raised.

After the general meeting township and precinct workers met for leaders for organizational plans. Leaders pointed out that cost of the literature being passed out was being paid by citizens interested in seeing the proposals passed and did not come from school funds. Some donations were turned in to finance the campaign.

at Monday night's meeting.

The campaign will start Monday night and continue until every home in the school district has been contacted.

Rev. Nielson, in making the presentation, pointed out that response of interested citizens has been excellent and praised the willingness of the campaigners to get out and work for the planned program.

Rev. Nielson pointed out that besides the house to house canvassing brochures and fact sheets will be placed in various public places.

"All we ask is that voters avail themselves of the facts so they can vote with understanding March 3 when they go to the polls set up in the shop building across the street from the Jefferson street school," he concluded.

Schools for adults interested in schools are the order of business for this week. Monday night 65 school district people interested in the millage and bond proposals which will be presented to school electors March 3, met in the school cafeteria at the high school to map plans for getting the information on the proposals out to the voters.

Another meeting is scheduled for the high school library for Thursday night for those people unable to attend the Monday night session.

President Glenn Osterle of the Mason school board presided at the meeting and gave a history of past millage and bonding votes and the picture of the present needs of the Mason school system. He emphasized that there is a big job to be done if Mason is to have an adequate education program.

He pointed out that the pro-

Old Tickets To Be Costly

Armed with warrants, police started out this week to hunt down traffic law violators who have failed to answer summons for traffic violations over the past 2 years.

Chief Tim Stolz of the Mason police has a pile of about 100 of these tickets, some for parking violations but a majority for moving violations, and has spent the week with Justice Roy Adams in preparing warrants and complaints.

Violators found to be living within a 25 mile radius of Lansing will be served personally by Mason police. Those outside that area will find one of their local police officers knocking at their door, for Mason will send such warrants to police departments in towns and cities outside the 25 mile radius for service.

The violator who moves constantly will be handled through the secretary of state's office so that when the time comes for him to renew his driving license it will be held up until he pays for the tickets against him.

Justice Adams also has assessed the cost for the process of serving and the issuing of the warrants to the cost of the ticket, which could mean that a parking violator who dodged paying a $1 parking ticket would find himself paying as much as $9 or $10 when the extra costs are assessed.

"These old tickets have been gathering dust too long," Chief Stolz said. "We are now going out and collect on them."

Objectors Lose Battle On McRoberts Sewer Job

Mason councilmen took the next step Monday night in pushing for 3 westside projects. All 3 projects drew objections at public hearings Monday night from property owners who will have to share in the cost.

The projects include McRoberts street storm sewer, Cherry street sanitary sewer extension and the extension of Cherry street from McRoberts west to serve the Lutheran and Episcopal churches planned for the area.

Objecting to the projects were Tony Slusser, Mrs. Ray Phillips, Alford Powelson, Robert Boyce, Mrs. America Phillips, Roscoe Griswold, Mrs. Tony Slusser and Clarence Crispell.

Powelson also presented a petition bearing 40 names which had been collected a year ago when the matter was again up for discussion. Petitioners objected.

A letter was read from Robert Ware urging the project be started. Other proponents who spoke at the hearings were Harlan Gaddy and Arthur Maynard, representing the Lutheran church, and Loren Shattuck, who said he agreed with the need for the project but urged that the city pick up a greater share of the cost.

Most of the objections centered around the cost of the projects. The storm sewer work has been estimated by City Engineer Walter Zimmer to be $39,490 with benefitting property owners footing 78.1 percent of the cost and the city at large putting up the rest.

After the hearing the council determined the storm sewer project necessary and ordered City Assessor Clifford Walcott to prepare a special assessment roll and present it to the council within 30 days.

Decision on the street extension and the sanitary sewer was postponed for further meetings with the 2 church groups.

Council Committee Gives Fire Report

Mason's city council building committee officially presented its recommendations on the new fire hall Monday night but no action was taken.

Councilman Howard Schlichter's report came up with the recommendation for placing the new city police-fire barn on a site on West Columbia across the street from Fargo station. This is the recommendation which fire department spokesmen voiced objections to at the last council meeting.

Schlichter's report pointed out that the Columbia site, compared to the site on West Ash street across from the Ingham County News which was proposed by firemen as well as a citizen's study group, would be much cheaper. According to the report the Ash street site cost would amount to $28,500 while the West Columbia site would be $16,500.

Property considered on Ash is that owned by Mrs. Maude Bergin and Glenn Osterle while that on Columbia is owned by Mrs. Glen Coon.

The report also points out that more space is available at the Columbia site.

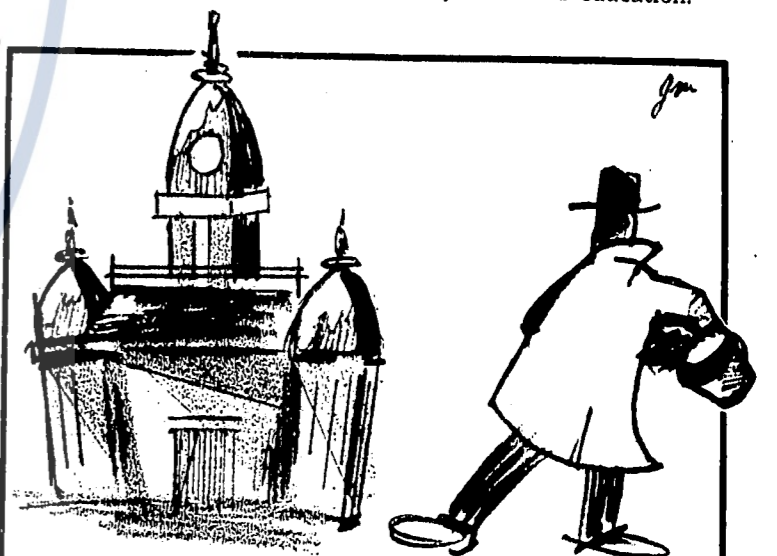

In answer to fire department challenges that an uptown site would be more accessible to quick manning by businessmen members of the fire department, the report calls attention to the fact that relocation of volunteers comes with the relocation of new fire facilities.

"Assessing data pertaining to the 2 sites, and keeping costs secondary to the protection of life and property, the building committee recommended the West Columbia street site to be in the best interests of all citizens of Mason for the present, and certainly by looking ahead, to their best future interests," the report concluded.

Boards Plan Mason Meeting

Notices have been sent to all boards of education in Ingham county by Alton J. Stroud, Ingham intermediate superintendent of schools, of a meeting at the intermediate offices, 147 W. Maple street, Mason, Wednesday, February 26, at 8 p.m. to review and act upon the budget of the county board of education.

EMERY JEWETT HAS started a clean-up campaign in county government. Dissatisfied with the housekeeping at the courthouse, he marched to the front steps Monday afternoon, threw a pail of water against the front doors and cleaned away the pigeon droppings.

Then he marched back to Davis Men's Wear and collected a bet.

Events leading up to the flooding of the county gate began when Emery and Mrs. Jewett went to the courthouse to vote in the city election. Emery said he was appalled at the "manuritic" condition of the front portal. He held his nose with one hand and voted with the other, then stopped in at the Davis store across the corner to discuss the situation with fellow cracker barrel philosophers.

"For $2 I'd go throw a pail of water on that mess," Jewett declared. Jack Davis, who had just finished washing his store windows and hadn't had the strength to pour the rinse water down the drain, produced a pail of water.

"There you go, Emery," Davis declared.

"And here's a dollar," said customer John Prining who could see a good performance developing.

"And here's the other one," declared Davis. But Emery said he needed just one more assist - a partner.

That was when Mrs. Jack Davis stepped forth. "For a dollar I'll go with you," she said.

And Emery handed over half of his earnings. So that's the way it happened. Emery and Mrs. Davis, carrying the pail of water and a sponge, headed for the seat of Ingham county government. The door was splashed and sponged clean.

Now it's up to the pigeons and the custodians.

TO WED

Mr. and Mrs. Frank K. Evans of Eaton Rapids, former Mason residents, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Roberta, of Palo Alto, California, to Richard Sanford Hayes of San Francisco, California, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hayes of Maplewood, New Jersey. The bride-elect was graduated from Mason high school in 1953 and received her Bachelor of Arts and Masters degrees from the University of Michigan. At present she is teaching at Woodside, California. Her fiancé is employed at IBM and received his bachelor of arts degree from Tufts at Massachusetts, and his Masters degree from the University of California. He served with the navy for 4 years. A March 24 wedding is being planned by the couple.

Holt Man Weds Lansing Girl Saturday

Miss Janice Skoczylas of Lansing became the bride of Richard L. Holmes of Holt in a candlelight ceremony at the Woman's Club House in Lansing February 15. Performing the double-ring ceremony was the uncle of the bride, Rev. Robert O. Ridenour.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Skoczylas of Lansing and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. William Holmes of Holt.

For her wedding, the bride chose a gown of white slipper satin embellished with sequins and seed pearls. The gown was fashioned with fitted sleeves and bodice with a full skirt which terminated in a chapel train. A pearl and sequin tiara held her veil and she carried white roses with an orchid.

Mrs. Wayne Hurni assisted her sister as matron of honor. Mrs. Sandra Franke, Miss Wanda Crull and Miss Barbara Reed attended as bridesmaids. All wore identical gowns of blue organza and taffeta with matching overskirts. They carried bouquets of yellow baby roses and white carnations.

Michael Halstead of Holt was best man and seating guests were William M. Holmes, brother of the bridegroom; Robert Ridenour Jr., cousin of the bride, and Wayne Hurni, brother-in-law of the bride.

Kathi Holmes, sister of the bridegroom, presided at the guest book.

In Baptist Church

Marvin Austin, Irma Force Wed Saturday

Mason Baptist church was the setting Saturday, February 15, for the ceremony which united Miss Irma Louise Force of Mason and Marvin Dean Austin of Holt in marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Force of rural Mason are parents of the bride and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Austin of 1921 Chestnut street, Holt.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride approached the altar gown in a floor-length dress of white chantilly lace over white satin featuring a scalloped neckline and long sleeves finished in deep points over the wrists. Her shoulder-length veil of illusion was held in place by a crown of open work adorned with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white carnations with pink rhapsody roses.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was Mrs. James Stewart of Mason. Assisting as bridesmaid was the bride's sister, Miss Linda Lee Force. Each was gown in dresses styled similar to the bride's fashioned with cap sleeves and ballerina-length in Alice blue. Their bouquets were colonial arrangements of pink carnations and roses. Bands of self material held their circular veils of moline.

Performing the double-ring ceremony before the altar which was highlighted by candelabra and a lighted cross was the pastor of the church, Rev. Muri Eastman. Banking the altar were baskets of white snapdragons and white chrysanthemums. White pew bows marked the front pews.

James Stewart of Mason was best man and groomsmen was Richard Doucette of Holt. Seating guests were Rodney Butler of Ovid and Donald Taylor of Holt. Miss Lorraine Demorest played traditional wedding selections and accompanied Mrs. Jerry Johnson as she sang I Love You Truly and The Lord's Prayer.

After the ceremony the newlyweds greeted their guests at a reception in the church hall. Bride's cake, groom's cake, coffee, punch, nuts and mints were served. Assisting with preparations were Mrs. Nell Hinkle and members of the bride's Sunday school class, Mrs. Robert Cooper, Mrs. Edgar Meyer, Mrs. Melvin Swab and Miss Marie Lyons.

Serving were Mrs. Robert Burby, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Rodney Butler, Mrs. Alberta Betcher, Mrs. Gary DeKett, Miss Mary Yerks and Miss Jackie Smith.

Registering guests was Mrs. Helen Roshier, sister of the bridegroom.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Austin entertained for a rehearsal dinner for their son, Marvin, and his bride-to-be, Miss Irma Force, at their home in Holt Friday evening, Valentine's day.

Fourteen guests were present including the bride's family, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Force, Linda, Aileen and Stanley of Mason; the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Galen Roshier, Greg and Gail of Fort Campbell, Kentucky; Mrs. Gerald Johnson of Mason, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Stewart of Mason, Dick Doucette of Holt and Miss Darlene Schmidt of Perry.

Assisting at the gift table were Miss Aileen Force and Miss Judy Stone.

Mrs. Thelma Snyder prepared dinner for the bride's family on the evening of the wedding.

For traveling on their honeymoon in the north, the bride changed into a green nylon jersey dress. Upon their return they will make their home at 1736 Simmons road, rural Mason. Mrs. Austin is employed at Dart National bank and was graduated from Mason high school in 1961. Her husband was graduated from Holt high school in 1961 and is employed at Oldsmobile.

BETROTHED

A May 16 wedding is being planned by Miss Carol Ann Clark and Philip H. Hall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chellis P. Hall of 3388 W. Columbia road, Mason. Announcement of the engagement is being made by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Terry L. Clark Sr. of 1171 Phillips road, Mason.

The bride-to-be was graduated from Mason high school in 1960 and her fiancé was graduated from Mason high school with the class of 1959.

TO WED

Announcing the engagement of their daughter, Dorothea K., to Carey E. Moore, son of Mrs. Mildred Moore of Lansing, are the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Robertson of Aurelius road, Mason. Both the prospective bridegroom and the bride-to-be were graduated from Mason high school in 1961. At present, the prospective bridegroom is employed with Spartan Electronics in Jackson. A March wedding is being planned by the couple.

Mrs. Freida Chadwick of Toledo, Ohio, spent the week end with her mother, Mrs. Grace Demaska.

Find Happy

Mr. and Mrs. W.C. Gunn of Holt have lost a cat. The animal leaped to freedom from a Mason kennel. Taken there because of a partial blindness, the animal was a close friend of the Gunns. The escape was last Wednesday. Since then, the Gunns have combed the area calling on houses and shining lights in the ditches. But no Happy. Anyone who sees Happy and wants to make the Gunns happy should call Holt OX 4-6891. There's a cash reward, too.

Rumors Are Worse than Facts

Are Kids Really That Bad?

The rumor mill is grinding in Mason these days.

If you keep your ear to the ground you can hear all sorts of stories about boy and girl gangs, strip tease shows at $1 a person admission, romancing in alleys, boys smoking cigarettes along the banks of Sycamore creek and children paying protection money to groups.

The rumors have school officials worried, police worried, parents worried and merchants worried.

School officials want to handle the matter themselves. Police officials think the police and the schools should cooperate in eliminating these rumors.

Parents are bombarding police with phone calls asking if what their children are telling is the truth.

Police plan to take whatever steps are necessary to curb lawlessness by students.

School officials are suspending pupils who disobey teachers or rules of the school.

One rumor is that there are 2 groups of youngsters in the city known as the Panthers and the Vultures. They are rumored to have threatened younger students, slapped girls and done other things too numerous to mention. Originally, according to other rumors, the Panthers were girl groups and the Vultures were boys.

"Most of these rumors regarding Panthers and Vultures are false," James H. Vander Ven, superintendent of schools, said. "We are watching students very carefully in an attempt to thwart any violence or misconduct on their part."

"If we find any of the students are implicated, I will suspend them from school and ask the board of education to expell them."

Two junior high school girls were suspended last week because they left the school without permission after they were warned that suspension would result if they did so.

A junior high school boy has been suspended indefinitely because of misconduct in a classroom.

"In the junior high school are more than 900 boys and girls. Ninety-seven percent of them are good boys and girls," John Waldo, principal, says.

"Out of all these pupils we have less than 15 who can be called as out of line. Adults that repeat these rumors are as bad as the youngster who spreads them."

Last week a group of some 25 boys gathered on Sycamore street determined to engage in fistic battle with 5 boys who were rumored to be Panthers or Vultures, it never was made clear just which. The group of 25 were described as the "better class" students who wanted to end all the stories being banded about. Police broke up the groups before anything happened.

Chief Tim Stolz of the Mason police says one student told him that students in Lansing know more about the activities in the Mason junior high school than do the Mason students.

He says youngsters are taking the stories they hear back to their parents. Parents in turn call the police. As the stories circulate they grow and grow.

Stolz this week laid down these edicts:

"I will not permit these large mobs, whether organized or not, to run loose on the streets of this city day or night. The law forbids this type of activity," he said.

"I will personally prosecute any persons caught fighting, threatening people, using abusive language or conducting themselves other than as ladies and gentlemen."

"Enough has been said and done. I feel it is high time we get hold of ourselves and realize that you are sent to school to learn and be taught. Your teachers have a great responsibility to you, your parents and our country to see that you are prepared to meet the responsibilities and standards of life your forefathers established in America.

Stolz said Mason parents, merchants, school officials, police and students must pull together to stop the ill feeling which has been engendered by rumors and stories. He has offered the services of his department to school officials in handling matters of misconduct.

"We can start by doing the following," he said:

1. Don't repeat what you hear unless you know it to be true and then only repeat it to the proper authorities. A person who sees something happen with his own eyes is the only one who knows that it happened for sure.

2. If you ever are threatened or asked to join a gang or are a victim of a fight, have courage enough to contact the school officials or the police immediately.

Stolz is convinced that most of the rumors are baseless. The strip tease story, he says, appears to be pure fabrication.

As for gangs, he says he feels that "where there is so much smoke there must be at least a little fire."

Juniors Serve 175 At Banquet

HOLT — One hundred and seventy-five parents, students and faculty members were present at a bohemian supper sponsored by the junior class of Holt high school cafeteria last Thursday night.

The invocation was pronounced by Albert Blankenship of Dimondale. The program for the evening was given by Takashige Aoki, a Japanese student at Michigan State university who showed slides of Japan.

Miss Marlies Krause, German Exchange student who lives with Mr. and Mrs. John Mackie, played her accordion and sang.

Group singing was led by Charles Hill, a teacher.

Parent sponsors of the class are Mr. and Mrs. Harry Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dillon and Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Warren.

Father And Son Banquet Has A Musical Theme

HOLT — A father and son banquet drew 85 persons Saturday evening at the Holt Methodist church. Music highlighted the decorative theme accented by cut-out musical notes, record mobiles and toy instruments.

Cut flowers and paper notes on a paper accordion base centered the speakers' tables.

Special recognition was given Richard Parker as the oldest son attending and Roger Parker, the youngest father. Carl Clark was the master of ceremonies. Amos Parker gave the toast to sons and James Spencer the toast to fathers.

Special entertainment featured Lydia and her Kitchen Band.

The banquet was served by the girls from the junior Methodist youth fellowship, and the boys from the senior youth fellowship assisted Mrs. Charles Wilson and Mrs. Charles Spencer with the decorations. Mrs. Lawrence Dunn was in charge of the dinner and Mrs. Don Hudson the general chairman for the event.

Board Ups Pay Scale

Money matters occupied the attention of the Ingham Intermediate board of education at its meeting Monday night.

The board adopted a salary schedule for professional employees on the intermediate payroll. Beginning salary for a degree teacher is $5,122 which advances over a 12-year period to $7,873.

With a master's degree the starting salary is $5,373 which advances over 15 years to $8,873.

In event of cases where an employee has special education certification a $300 stipend is added to each of his yearly steps.

The schedule becomes effective in July.

The board also adopted a general education budget of $58,145 for submission to school representatives on February 26 and the county allocation board in May.

Researchers Give Thanks

Dansville friends recently presented a monetary gift to the Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer center in New York city in memory of the late George W. Mitchell. This week Mrs. Mitchell received a letter from Richard D. Vanderwerker, acting president of the center, expressing warm gratitude for the gift.

The letter follows: "On behalf of Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer center, I should like to express warm gratitude to you for the helpful gift you have sent us in memory of Mr. George Mitchell."

"This is indeed a constructive kind of tribute and you may be sure it will be put to very good use in advancing our research investigations against leukemia."

"Please express our appreciation directly to all who participated in this moving memorial to your husband."

Mrs. Mitchell's grandson in Grand Rapids has this disease.

posed program which hinges on passage of the 6 mills for operating cash and the $600,000 bonding proposal for added school rooms in a cooperative effort on the part of the school board and the citizens study committee.

Joe Dean instructed the group on various means those extending the information to other voters in the planned house - to - house canvass for support.

He pointed out that the education program should sell itself and would need no forcing or arguments.

The house to house canvass is being conducted to provide information for an intelligent vote based on facts as put forth in a brochure.

"This is a 'fact' campaign," he said.

HOLT A winter concert by the boys and girls glee clubs, the choir and the band of Holt high school is scheduled for Tuesday, February 25, in the school auditorium at 8 p.m. There will be featured soloists and several folk songs on the program.

Ronald Allen is director of the vocal groups and Gerald Winters is director of the band.

The public is invited. There will be no admission charge.

MASON WAS FREQUENTLY beat on the boards Friday night at Holt and here is one reason why. Dave Stock, No. 44, Mike Bostrum, No. 20 and Marv Burt, No. 42, get position on Mason's Roger Hill. Not only did they get position, they also got the ball.

Big Weekend Coming Up

Holt Upsets Mason Chances With 92-84 Overtime Victory

Mason, with opportunity for a title knocking at the door, couldn't stand prosperity Friday night and fell before a last-quarter Holt onslaught Friday night 92-84. It took an overtime period to do the job but do the job the Rams did.

It was barnyard basketball on the part of both teams and was conducted under barnyard officiating with 54 fouls called and twice that number not called.

Freshmen Take Holt

Mason's red hot freshman basketball team added another victim to its ever-growing list last week with a 67-57 win over Holt.

Mason grabbed an 18-14 lead in the first quarter and hung onto it through the second period. In the third quarter the Bulldogs cut loose to outscore the Rams 22-11. Holt was able to come back slightly in the last period but the damage had been done.

Butch Leonard was high man for Mason with 17 points. Ron Webster came in next with 16 and Paul Allaire hit for 13.

Webster and Brian Doolittle dominated the rebounding department with Doolittle retrieving the ball 24 times and Webster clearing the board 10 times.

Thursday night the Mason freshmen will play at Eaton Rapids.

Junior High Takes Pair

Mason took 2 victories in junior high ball Wednesday night. The seventh graders moved to a 3-4 record by topping Grand Lodge 35-23. The eighth graders kept their record clean at 7-0 by edging Grand Lodge 47-42.

In the seventh grade game Craig Webster was the sharpshooter with 13 points. Denny Dancer came through with 9. Jim Powers topped the 8th grade contingent in the scoring department with 15 points. Doug Engle came through with 10 while Pat Birney and Ron Underwood each added 9 while Gary VanderVeen came through with 4.

Thursday the junior high teams will play at Okemos with the 7th graders taking the floor at 4:15 and the 8th grade team playing at 5:30.

Mason entered the game tied with Gabriels and Okemos for first. Now Gabriels is out in front all by itself. The Bulldogs could force the Rocks to move over with 2 good nights of basketball this week end. Mason will entertain Eaton Rapids Friday night and then on Saturday night comes the big one--the Mason-Gabriels tilt in the new Gabriels gym.

Mason holds one decision over the Rocks. The Bulldogs did it with the same superhuman effort which Holt utilized against Mason Friday night.

Holt has a Friday night date with Haslett. The Rams can't take the Lakers too lightly. Haslett has been up and down but when the Lakers are up they are way up.

Friday night's Mason-Holt tussle was a war all the way. Mason trailed through the first quarter but forged ahead to take a 46-40 lead at the half.

The third quarter was all Mason during the first portion but with Mike Oakes doing the shooting the Rams lead was trimmed back to 60-52 at the end of the third.

Beginning the last period with a rush, Mason pulled to an 18-point lead and then the roofcaved in. Wild passes, fouls and a never-give-up attitude on the part of Holt took its toll.

With Mason's side of the scoreboard standing still, the Rams moved in with quick baskets and foul shots to pull the margin down to 76-74 with a minute left. Mason's Stu Thorburn dropped in 2 foul shots to give Mason what looked like a comfortable 4-point lead with 56 seconds to go but then a field goal for Holt cut the lead to 2 points and with 24 seconds left Terry Fought sank 2 free throws to knot the score.

Mason controlled the ball until the last second and then let fly with a long one which just missed.

In the overtime it was all Holt. Fought put in a field goal, Mike Bostrum added 2 foul shots and Walsh scored from the floor before Mason broke its scoring drought. By then it was too late.

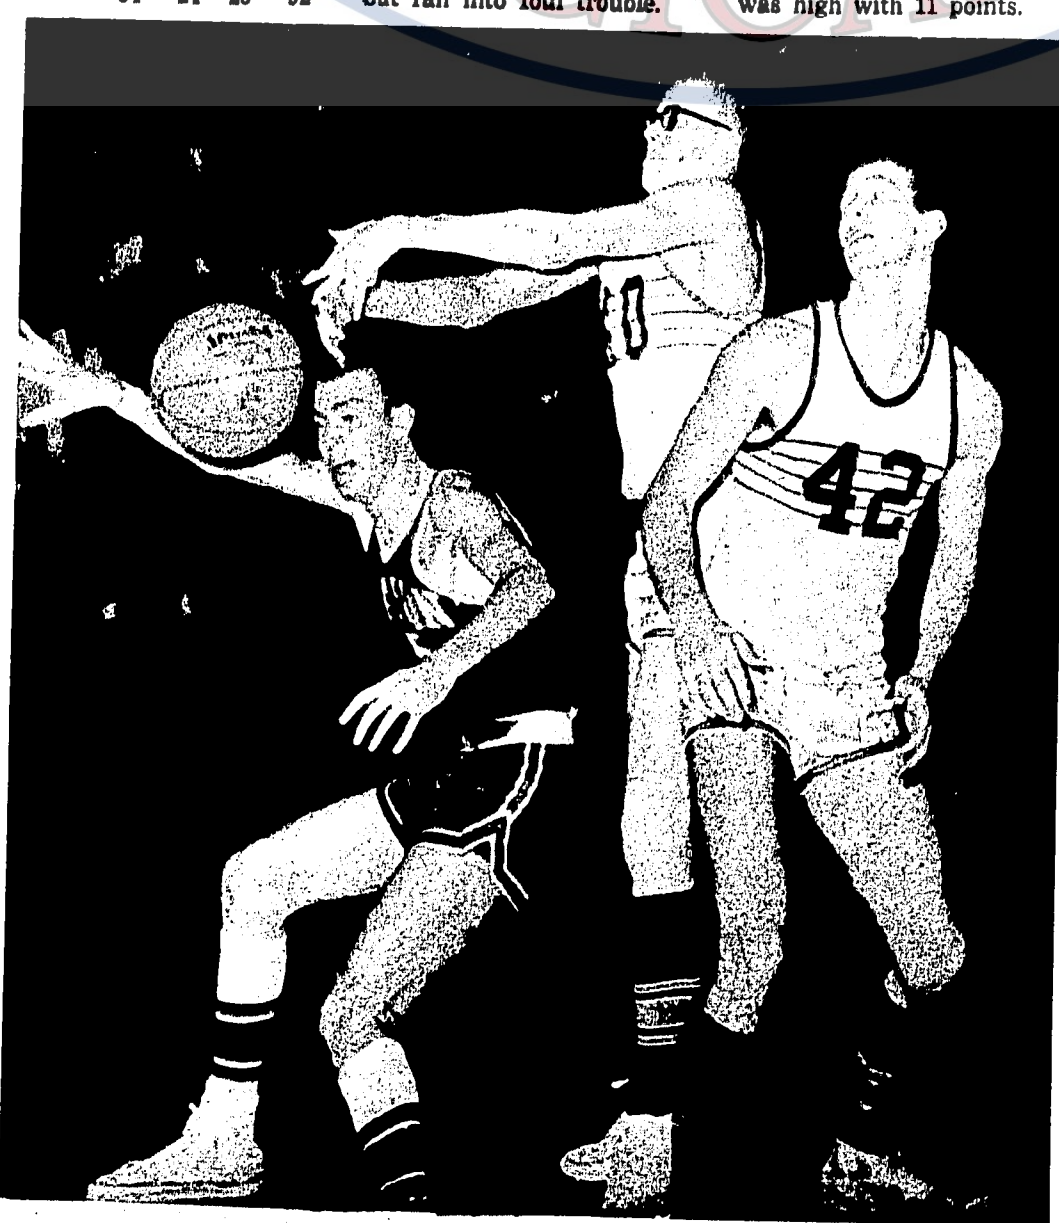

Both teams wound up the game minus many of its starters. For Mason Don Wright, Les Jones and Roger Hill were forced to quit early. Holt lost the services of Marv Burt and Oakes via the foul route and Barnhart with an injury.

For Holt Oakes and Rhines scored 16 each, Walsh had 18, Bostrum finished with 13, Fought had 12 and Burt had 11.

Mason's scoring leader was Mike Combs with 25. Wright had 23 and Stu Thorburn came through with 20.

The Rams outscored the Bulldogs from the floor 34-31 and also edged them in the parade to the foul line.

POSITION IS EVERYTHING as this tableau caught by the camera proves. Mason's Mike Combs, No. 5, and Holt's Mike Oakes and Marv Burt had eyes for the ball but they didn't have the hands in a position to do the job.

Kish's Basket Saves Game As Rocks Take Over First

Gabriels is all by itself at the top of the Capital Circuit thanks to a hair-raising 60-59 victory over Okemos Friday night and a similar unfortunate experience on the part of Mason in losing an overtime game to Holt.

The Rocks have just 3 more hurdles to leap and the title will be theirs. Friday night they must get by O'Rafferty, a job that should be easy if season records mean anything. The second challenge will come Saturday night when Mason goes to the big city. If Mason can tip the Rocks as it did in the first meeting, then the situation is really muddled with 4 teams bunched at the top. Okemos has a Friday date with Howell in the Chieftain camp. This should be an easy one for the Chiefs who have been skidding fast the last 3 weeks.

Larry Kish was the hero of the hour for Gabriels in the Okemos game. With 25 seconds remaining he came up with a jump shot which brought the Rocks from the threshold of defeat to the ecstasy of sweet victory.

It was an uphill fight for the Rocks all the way. In the first quarter Okemos shot itself to a 15-11 lead. In the second quarter Okemos added 2 more points to its margin and the Chieftain fans started breathing easier—but not for long.

Gabriels paraded 5 points from the Okemos lead with Jim Heffron doing most of the scoring in the third period. In the last quarter the Rocks came up with the miracle finish to wind up the job. Heffron led the Rock attack with 18 points. Kish came through with 16.

Paul Chancel came into his own as an Okemos scoring star. He led the Chiefs with 21 points with Bill Breckenfield tossing in 15 and Mike Baker adding 13.

Gladiators Victim List Keeps On Growing

Fowlerville made it 14 in a row Friday night by downing Dansville 73-61.

The win gives the Gladiators a sure share of the Ingham County league title.

Dansville couldn't keep up with the Fowlerville horses in the first quarter. The Gladiators pulled away to a 26-14 lead and were never in trouble after that. Dansville caught the Gladiators in a cold spell in the third quarter but they came back in the last period to pull safely in front by a large margin.

Ron Sober had a great night for Fowlerville with 34 points on 15 field goals and 4 free throws. Gordon Hetrick was next with 21 and Douglas hit for 10.

For Coach Searl Briggs' Aggies Arnold Wireman was high man with 26 points on 9 field goals and 8 foul shots. Curtis was next with 17 and Jack Allen came through with 13.

Howell Has The Big One

Howell, which has been on the verge of doing something great in basketball all year, finally did it Friday night. The Highlanders looked like world beaters in powering their way past O'Rafferty 84-64.

Friday night Howell will move over to Okemos and if the Highlanders play the same brand of ball the Chiefs may be in for trouble.

O'Rafferty has a Friday night date with the league leading Rocks from Gabriels and another night of basketball misery to look forward to.

Howell carried the offensive to the Raiders in every quarter. After pulling in front 21-16 in the first period the Highlanders were never in trouble. Tom Hicks was the big shooter for Howell with 17 points. Dan Dailey had 16 and Ron Arnold came through with 15.

For the Raiders Dave Fletcher was the only player to make it into double figures. He came through with 16.

Holt Keeps Winning 'em

Holt, after downing Mason Friday night, kept up a full head of steam and repulsed the O'Rafferty Raiders 87-53 Saturday night.

The Rams had everything working smoothly against the Raiders with 5 men in double figures. The Rams had the scoring edge in every period with the second quarter being the big one. In this period Holt piled up 24 points to 9 for O'Rafferty.

Mike Oakes was top shooter with 21 points. Marv Burt came up with 15, Stock had 11 and Dave Rhines had 10. Mike Bostrum was in the groove for 14 points.

For O'Rafferty Pat Hartford was high with 11 points.

Lakers Kill Greyhounds

Haslett pulled the rug from under Eaton Rapids Friday night with a 70-64 win. The victory, coupled with Haslett's win over Howell Saturday night gives the Lakers a 4-3 record. Eaton Rapids, saddled with 2 losses over the week end, is now entrenched in the basement with a 2-10 record.

Friday night Haslett invaded Holt with Eaton Rapids taking a trip to Mason to see if the Bulldogs sag is for real. It took a last quarter rally for Haslett to catch up and pass the Greyhounds Friday night. Eaton Rapids slipped into the lead early in the game and stayed there until midway through the last period when Bob Staff came off the bench for some quick baskets which pulled the game out of the fire for the Lakers.

Pat Main was the best shooter for the Lakers with 19 points. Steve Johnson came through with 16 and Ron Ruby had 13.

For Eaton Rapids Jerry McManus was high with 14. Howe added 12.

Chiefs Take Greyhounds

Okemos rebounded from its loss of Friday night by beating Eaton Rapids 60-59 Saturday night. The Chiefs, by virtue of the win, are tied with Mason and Holt for second place in the Capital Circuit.

Okemos started out the game flat, dropping behind 11-9 in the first period but coming on with a good second quarter and taking the lead for good.

Bill Breckenfield was the big shooter for Okemos with 17 points. Paul Chancel had 13 and Gary Hawkins came through with 10.

For Eaton Rapids Bill Howe and Dave Phinney each just made the double digit mark with 10.

Holt Reserves Take Mason

Mason's reserves just couldn't keep up with Holt Friday night. The Rams came out on top 80-68. Holt was in front most of the way.

For Mason Larry Zigler was high man with 21 points. Bill Strait had 16, Ken Cornelisse put down 11 and Gary Barker added 10.

Mike DeChelbor was high for Holt with 18. Brown had 17 and Ed Walsh came through with 15.

Yesterday

BACK IN THE EARLY 40's Rollie Dart was a pole vaulter in Mason's track team for Coach Gilson Pearsall. Now the only vault he is interested in is the one at Dart National bank where he serves as president. This is just another of a series of former Mason athletes turned over to the News for revelation of the ravages of time. Your turn may be next.

Williamston Takes Panthers

Williamston stayed on the heels of Fowlerville Friday night in the Ingham county league race by downing Stockbridge 63-55.

The Hornets, with a 11-3 season record, did the job by edging the Panthers in every quarter except one and in that one the Hornets came up with the same point production as the Panthers.

Jim Oesterle was too much for the Panthers to handle. He poured in 26 points on 8 field goals and 10 out of 12 from the foul line.

Hopkins and Myers were in double figures for Stockbridge.

Haslett Wins

Haslett stayed out in front of Howell all the way Saturday night to post a 67-62 cage victory. Most of the scoring load fell on Steve Johnson who had his best night with 27 points. Ron Ruby added 23 points to the Laker total. For Howell Ron Arnold was high with 12.

Circuit Notes

Ken Rundel

The past week end games produced quite a rearrangement in the league standings, possibly because of 4 upsets on Friday night. The games can be rated as upsets in that 3 of the 4 were reversals of earlier decisions.

On that evening Gabriels squeaked out a decision over Okemos, Holt toppled Mason, Howell dumped O'Rafferty, Haslett upset Eaton Rapids.

The following night all the teams except Mason and Gabriels went at it again. This time the results were a little more predictable, however, as Okemos won over Eaton Rapids, Holt bombed O'Rafferty, and Haslett defeated Howell.

As the dust of the week end games cleared, Gabriels emerged as the new league leader, followed closely by Okemos and Holt. The Chiefs and Rams are each just one-half game behind the Rocks, while fourth place Mason trails by just a game. Haslett's 2 victories boosted the Vikings past O'Rafferty and Eaton Rapids into fifth place.

This week's schedule offers the first 4 teams in the circuit an unusual opportunity if the front runners all come up with victories over the second division teams on Friday, and Mason can knock off Gabriels on Saturday, all 4 will have identical 10 and 3 records, and will create a 4-way deadlock for first place.

Okemos' Bill Breckenfield is still leading the league's scorers with 227 points in 12 games, for an 18.9 average. The nearest threat for the Okemos scoring ace comes from a couple of hot shooting Mason players. The Bulldogs' Don Wright has an average 18 points per game, while teammate Stu Thorburn is hitting for 17.

Other circuit players with double point averages are: Kutas, Gabriels, 16.6; Drouin, Gabriels, 16.6; Howe, Eaton Rapids, 16.0; Combs, Mason, 15.9; Arnold, Howell, 15.5; Oakes, Holt, 15.2; Hartford, O'Rafferty, 14.6; Kish, Gabriels, 14.5; Johnson, Haslett, 13.4; Ruby, Haslett, 11.8; McManus, Eaton Rapids, 11.2; Kowalske, Howell, 10.8; DeLuca, Gabriels, 10.8; Hicks, Howell, 10.7; Burt, Holt, 10.2; Glazier, O'Rafferty, 10.2.

LANSING AREA CATHOLIC member of St. Vincent DePaul Society were guests Sunday of the St. James group. On hand were, from left to right, Rt. Rev. Msgr. John Slowey, spiritual director of the Particular council; Most Rev. Joseph Green, auxiliary bishop of the Lansing diocese; Jacob Miller, president of the Particular council; and Juras Philo, president of the St. James conference at Mason.

Mason Catholic Men Host St. Vincent DePaul Group

The St. James Conference society of St. Vincent DePaul at St. James Catholic church was host Sunday, February 16, for the quarterly meeting of the Particular council of Lansing Society of St. Vincent DePaul.

There were 110 members present for the celebration of Holy Mass at 8:30 a.m. by the Most Rev. Joseph Green, auxiliary bishop of the Catholic diocese of Lansing.

Bishop Green delivered a sermon based on the gospel of St. Matthew: "Whatsoever you do to these the least of my brethren, you do it unto me."

The bishop pointed out that a good Christian will practice the corporal works of mercy: to feed the hungry, give drink to the thirsty, clothe the naked, visit the imprisoned, shelter the homeless, visit the sick and bury the dead in his every day life. He stated that there is much need for Corporal Works of Mercy among the many poor people, who are poor through no fault of their own, both in this country and throughout the world.

The members received Holy Communion as a group at the communion time of the Mass. After Mass a breakfast, prepared by the women of the St. James Alter society, was served in the church hall preceding the regular quarterly business meeting.

The meeting was presided over by Jacob Miller, of Holy Cross Parish, Lansing, president of the Particular council. Speakers at the meeting were Bishop Green, Rt. Rev. Msgr. John Slowey, spiritual director of the Particular council and director of Catholic Social Service for Lansing, and Rev. Fr. William Rademacher, pastor of St. James church. Juras Philo, president of St. James conference welcomed the men on behalf of the conference.

The members of the society make regular visits to the poor families, institutions and nursing homes in their area, always travelling in pairs. They meet as a group once each week to discuss the problems they encounter in their visits. They attempt to assist the families visited spiritually, through kindness and understanding and materially with food, clothing or fuel as the need may require. In some instances they have been successful in helping find employment for people, which has made them self sustaining.

The Particular council of Lansing is composed of conferences from each of the Catholic churches in Lansing and East Lansing. In addition there are conferences in Howell, St. Johns, Charlotte, Williamston, Fowlerville, Coldwater, Michigan Center, Niles, Albion, Jackson, Hillsdale, Benton Harbor, Cassopolis and Morris. The Particular council of Lansing was organized in 1941, with the first conference in Lansing established at the Church of the Resurrection. The newest

Scouts Have Annual Banquet

Forty-two persons of Aurelius Center and surrounding area attended the blue and gold banquet of Cub Scout Pack 141 of Aurelius Friday, February 7, at Aurelius town hall. After the potluck dinner an award program was presented.

Charles Merindorf, institutional representative, presented the charter to Dale Brown, committee chairman. Then Merindorf presented 2nd year pins to these Cub Scouts: David Bateman, Kody Brown and Allen Cantine. Kody and Allen also received Cub Scout graduation certificates and arrows marked to show their progress through cubbing. Grit Turner, scoutmaster of Troop 42 of Grovenburg, invited the 2 boys to join his trip.

Cubmaster, den mothers and committeemen pins were presented to Strong Bateman and Dale Brown, first year. There were 2 2nd year pins awarded to Rose Cantine and Keith Cantine.

A new den mother and committeeman, Mary Garred and Buddy Garred, were welcomed to the pack. Pack 141 is celebrating its 2nd year.

Mason Police On Move

Mason officers policed 108 accidents in the city in 1963, of which 87 were property damage cases, 19 were personal injury accidents and 2 were fatalities, according to the annual report of the police department made public this week by Chief Tim Stolz.

During the year 2,132 summons and 2,876 warnings were issued for moving and parking violations, 51,843 residential and business property inspections were made and 555 civil, criminal and domestic complaints were received.

Police made 84 arrests as follows: Drunk driving, 12; violation of the financial responsibility act, 1; drunk and disorderly, 9; no operator's license, 8; traffic warrants, 17; violation of check laws, 2; bench warrants, 3; disturbing the peace, 3; illegal possession of beer, 3; assault and battery, 5; destruction of property, 1.

Violation of the dog ordinance, 2; non-support, 2; obscene phone calls, 1; driving in an unsafe manner, 1; paternity warrant, 1; reckless driving, 1; simple larceny, 1; indecent liberties, 2; gross indecency, 2; auto theft, 2; possession of burglary tools, 1; larceny from a building, 5.

Dick Aseltine Dies Sunday

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday, February 19, from Ball-Dunn funeral home for C. Richard Aseltine, 48, who died at St. Lawrence hospital Sunday after being sick about a year. Aseltine was born September 3, 1915, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Aseltine. He was born and lived all his life at the farm on E. Columbia road. His father died in 1923.

Officiating at the services was Rev. E. L. Sutcliffe of Mason Methodist church. Pallbearers were D. L. Bray, Willie Hills, Gerald L. Diamond, Russell Huber, Richard M. Grettton, Robert Rae, Clarence Sherwood and George Helbig. Burial was in Maple Grove cemetery.

Survivors include his wife, Rita M. Aseltine; 3 sons, Richard S., 15, C. Jan, 14, and Donald C., 11, all at home; and his mother, Mrs. Pearl Aseltine, of Mason.

Letters to the Editor

Teenager Rebuttal

I have read many letters and heard many parents condemn and criticize the teenagers of today and finally I have heard enough to write this letter.

Parents today talk about the way we talk, act, dance, walk, dress, and many other things. Well, where do they go when they see all this?

Why don't they take a look at the good, decent kids. Sure, some kids smoke, drink, dress wrong, form gangs, etc., but not all of the teenagers. It is not our fault if some parents don't care what their kids do.

We have fun. When you were young, you had fun. Maybe we don't do the same exact things that older people did when they were young but things do change.

Why don't you parents look at your kids and make sure they aren't the ones making trouble. Look for the good in kids, not for just the trouble-makers.

There are many good kids in Mason and other towns but we all get condemned because of a few unfortunate kids. Well, we can't stop their bad habits by ourselves. Instead of complaining and condemning why don't you try and help the kids that are bad?

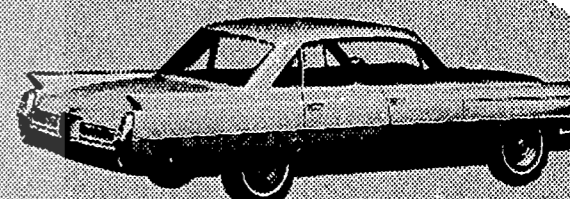

I'm sure there are others who feel this way too.

Chides Holt Board

The article in Wednesday State Journal, outlining the Holt board of education meeting, though sketchy, indicates that the board has again decided that the school district and Delhi township shall become still smaller in relation to its neighbors.

At a time when the township has been fortunate enough to have a 40 million dollar university hospital employing 2,000 people decide to locate here, when county, city and township government and civic leaders are attempting to promote and build the area; our school board has decided that we should maintain the status quo for our school system.

I find that although I don't use them at all that I am in terrible shape after a board meeting where at least half of the 10 or 12 members smoke continually.

Then, too, what of the sensitive people who can't tolerate tobacco at all?

Some have a bad cough or perhaps bad breath or are offensive in other ways. One man was annoyed by my humming in church.

So I try and be considerate in many ways. But what of the woman smokers. They can be a little more inconsiderate than the men. One of my best friends smokes a lot at meetings. She is a very fine person but how much more lovely she could be if she didn't have this habit. I would like to suggest she try some of the new anti-smoke pills for one week. They cost about what 10 packs of cigarettes cost and if they don't work she would get the $3 back. What a lot of money that would save.

Another friend of mine, when I ask her to come to a certain meeting, inquires if it would be smoke-free and if she comes I am going to ask each and all not to smoke this time.

BOB WARD
St. Johns

I realize that expansion of this type causes many problems for our board, but the people of Maple Grove have indicated by a vote that they do not prefer to be annexed to Lansing. I feel that it is only fair that the question of merging the 2 districts be put on the ballot so the citizens of Holt and Maple Grove can make the decision.

If the Holt school district is to expand and keep pace with the growth of the community, if it is to maintain its individual status as a school district, then the time to act is not after we have our backs to the wall, the time to act is now.

Sales to Cuba Hurt

In my ears there rings that old familiar political melody, the great cry about communism and how it is spreading around the globe.

President Johnson, our dear Senator Margie, the Goldfellers and of course our Governor Romney who is now talking a lot about our world affairs are singing the tune. They may just as well tell the American people they can stop Niagara Falls from falling. The American politicians have been sleeping soundly throughout the nights and have been slumbering throughout the days for years. And in many ways they have fertilized the roots of communism and the blame can only be placed on politics.

I don't think the president of these United States would object if the Goldfellers or anyone else turned the water on again in Cuba but I, as just one little American citizen, feel this great honor should be given to Great Britain and Great Britain alone. For today they are reaping the harvest. But if trouble should come will Great Britain's sales to Cuba have anything to do with maybe taking some of our boys. I wonder sometimes.

Anti-Smoke Talk

I read all your editorial page and usually agree with you. I have been making a scrap book of your and others' comments on the cigarette problem and find a lot of good ideas as well as hope for the smoker both to give up the habit as well as to make smoking less dangerous. This is progress but also any agitation of the problem based on research is progress.

Business Outlook

It is difficult for one to believe that for more than 35 years a couple has maintained their love and devotion and kept their marriage vows without seeing each other. However, persistence, patience and the assistance of friends has paid its reward for Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Lum of Lansing.

They were separated 35 years ago when their son was only 9 years old. Edward M. Lum came to the United States to start his restaurant venture. Due to the Japanese war, the Civil war and the Korean war Edward Lum had not seen his wife or son for a period of 35 years. However, they kept up a correspondence with each other and their dreams to eventually have the family reunited started in 1953. Ten years ago attorney Harry Hubbard started a petition to bring Mr. Lum's family to the United States. Due to the difficulties of the immigration quota as well as the Korean war it seemed during that period to be a hopeless venture. However, all these unfavorable elements did not discourage Mr. Lum's decision to reunite his family.

For the last 10 years through the help of friends he has worked with the Ingham county prosecutor, Leo Farhat, Congressman Charles Chamberlain, the former president of the Ingham County Bar association, Fred Newman, as well as with United States Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy.

Last week his dream was finally realized when he was reunited with his wife, his son, 4 granddaughters and one grandson.

It would seem to the average American person very difficult to understand how a marriage and a family could survive under these unfavorable conditions. Many of us wonder why the wife did not claim husband desertion or why the husband did not consider his wife a missing person. But in this case it makes us feel that the hardships and difficulties of reunification sometimes makes for deeper love and loyalty to each other than the ordinary marital relations.

The true meaning of family relations has been exemplified by this family reunion.

Laundry Care Guides Given

Despite TV commercials women still have a lot to learn about producing a good family wash. That's what Miss Georgianne Baker, extension specialist in home management from MSU told 22 Extension group leaders Wednesday at a home laundry clinic. If women paid more attention to that label which accompanied the garment originally and told them whether the fabric was a blend of man-made fibers or a cotton with an easy care finish, they'd not make so many mistakes in laundering. Fabrics made out of light colored man-made fibers attract colors from other clothes in the washload. All darker colors attract lint. If a fabric were labeled easy care or wrinkle resistant, it would indicate that it had a resin finish and that a chlorine bleach should not be used. These are but a few of the kinds of basic information women must keep in mind when combining her various wash loads. She should resist the urge to throw them all together, wash them alike and for the same length of time. They should be much more selective.

Miss Baker talked not only of washing supplies but also of techniques, work patterns and equipment layouts. A few of the many pointers she included were: measure, don't dump the detergent in the water. For a white wash be sure the water temperature is at least 147 degrees. It helps to know that the all-purpose synthetic detergents have water softeners and bleaching agents built into them. They are also classified as high or low sudsing. Since it is the dissolved detergent that has the cleaning power and not the suds it is not a good idea to use suds as a guide to the amount of detergent needed. Measure accurately and it's not true that if a certain amount is good then more would be better. Too many suds can cut down on the washing efficiency by locking your machine action. Low sudsing built-in all-purpose synthetic detergents are best for use with hard or partially softened water. If the water is below 3 grains hardness, then a good granulated soap is excellent.

Miss Baker emphasized the importance of pre-treating clothes, especially oily perspiration stains by applying liquid detergent directly on the clothes themselves. Fabric softeners used according to directions have fluffed and softened clothes and made them freer of lint.

Extension leaders assembled a home laundry primer which they plan to make available for reference to their local Extension members.

Gold arrows under the wolf award went to Bruce Mayer and gold arrow under the bear award went to Tom Campbell.

Court of honor awards were made to Charles Wireman, second class Scout; Russell Stephens, Mike Lubenich, Bill Bailey and Tom James, star Scouts.

Merit badges were given as follows: Andrew Duszynski for wood carving, art, first aid and forestry; Michael Lubenich for physical fitness and first aid; James Duszynski for wood carving, forestry; Glen Frey for agriculture, woodcarving; Paul Stephens for home repairs, first aid, wood carving and citizenship in the home; William Bailey for first aid, reading, music, bird study and citizenship in the home; and Carol Horning for wood carving, soil and water conservation.

Necktie slides were given to the boys who participated in the Christmas tree pickup and a pin of recognition was given to Genevieve Duszynski for work in Cub Scouting.

Letters

Old Letter

It was exactly 101 years ago to the day last Sunday that a Union soldier "took pen in hand" to write to his younger brother, Willie Curtis, who lived at what is now 585 W. Harper road, Mason.

The writer was Jerome H. Curtis, a soldier stationed in Alexandria, Virginia, at the time on guard duty.

The farm on Harper road has been in the Curtis family since about 1880. The present occupant is Loris B. Curtis, grandson of Willie Curtis who operated the farm from 1880 until his death in 1932. Jerome Curtis was a great-uncle of Loris Curtis.

Willie Curtis was well known in Mason for many years.

Loris Curtis has operated the farm since 1932. He is the son of Jesse B. Curtis who died in 1945.

The letter showed the dependency of a soldier many miles from home in a strange land. Jerome Curtis told of many killed in his company in battle but just as many killed by disease. Curtis however, survived the war and returned to Michigan. He died of natural causes about 1915.

His son, Leo B. Curtis, now in his 80's, resides in Mason where a grandson of Jerome, George Curtis, also lives.

Loris B. Curtis has lived on the farm on Harper road his entire life. He is a grain grading laboratory technician for the United States department of agriculture in East Lansing.

Speaker To Trace History Of Transportation In 1830's

By Charlotte Camp
STOCKBRIDGE — Ellis R. Martin, educator, world traveler, student of history and noted speaker, will address a meeting of the Waterloo Area Historical Society on February 26, in the Stockbridge township hall.

Subject of his talk will be transportation in the period of 1830 to 1850 entitled, "Indian Moccasins and the Iron Horse."

Martin, now living in retirement at Sugar Loaf Lake, is in the process of gathering all available information on the history of the Waterloo area which he intends to record for future generations.

One interesting bit of information in this regard to early days in the area is that the Reithmiller family was one of the first to settle there, and that Gordon Reithmiller, born and raised on the homestead is now president of Olivet college.

Martin said his interest in history may be due to the fact that he was born and raised in an area of the country with a deep historical background. That was near Princeton, New Jersey, visited by such famous persons as Henry Hudson.

Ellis Martin learned to read at the age of 3 and graduated from high school at 17, but didn't get around to going to college till he was 29, when he entered the University of Michigan. He also studied at Wayne State University and Harvard University.

For 26 years he taught English and composition at Dearborn high school, taking time out to travel extensively in Mexico, Great Britain, Continental Europe as well as the United States.

Regarding his travels, he said he didn't like the word tour. Everybody tours he said, to see the Eiffel Tower and Napoleon's grave, but how many people see things like Madame Currie's resting place?

Martin told how a resident of Dearborn, he had Henry Ford for a neighbor, of the time he shook hands with Herbert Hoover and of standing with Thomas A. Edison at the dedication of the first building in Greenfield Village. Then he said, "But everybody meets some outstanding people at one time or another, but what I treasure is the amount of correspondence I get from my former students."

Only last Christmas, he received over 300 messages of greeting from former students.

One of the favorites among former students is George Peppard, well known movie and TV actor who starred in such movies as Breakfast at Tiffany's and the soon to be released Carpetbaggers.

Martin's neat little cottage is very simple, no TV, radio or telephone, but contains a wealth of information and learning.

Surrounded by some 6,000 books, many of them rare and valuable editions, Martin says he doesn't believe in so called leisure time. He said a person can never learn all there is to see in this world, and there is always the opportunity to pass on to others some of the knowledge one has acquired.

That is what Martin will be doing when he speaks to the Waterloo Historical Society on February 26.

The public is invited to attend the meeting and hear an address which promises to be interesting as well as educational.

Debaters End Season With Good Record

STOCKBRIDGE — The Stockbridge high school debate team under the direction of Mrs. Jean Anderson, lost out in the district tournament at Grand Rapids, but wound up the season with a respectable record. The affirmative team won 3 and lost 1, while the negative team broke even at 2 and 2.

Although the team lost in the district, one of its members, Evelyn Knott, by virtue of scoring the most points, is eligible to enter the Detroit Free Press scholarship contest at the University of Michigan in May.

Members of the Stockbridge teams this year were: Evelyn Knott, Rick Glasgow, affirmative and Judi Meyers and Judy Hamlin, negative.

In other speech department activities, Mrs. Anderson said the American Legion Oratorical contest will be February 20, at 3:45 p.m.

Contestants for this event, sponsored by Mackinder-Glenn Post 510, write original orations based on the U. S.

Constitution and compete in an extemporaneous speaking contest on the same subject. Winner is eligible to enter the district contest in Lansing on February 27. Judy Hamelin, Evelyn Knott and Rick Glasgow will be this year's contestants.

On March 13, the local spring forensics contests in declamation, oratory, humorous reading, interpretive reading and extemporaneous speaking will take place.

The district contest will also be in Stockbridge on April 10, with Leslie, Dexter, and Saline participating.

Jaycees Push Industrial Project

STOCKBRIDGE — Ronald Fillmore, president of the Stockbridge Junior Chamber of Commerce, reported at a meeting of his group last week that plans by the Industry and Development committee for a public meeting are not complete. According to Fillmore, the selection of a date for such a meeting presents problems because of conflicting events. Great care is being taken in making plans for the meeting, so that it will have every possible chance to be a success, Fillmore said.

The group met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Boyd for their regular monthly meeting.

Lee Stacer, regional Jaycee vice-president from Bay City was present and gave the group a report on the regional winter board meeting.

In other action the group completed plans to send representatives to the state convention in June.

Omness Family Leaving Leslie

LESLIE — Mrs. Frances Omness, Leslie village clerk, has informed the village council that she and her husband will be leaving Leslie about the time school is out for the summer to make their home in Owosso.

While she has not officially resigned her position as village clerk, her intention to move was made to the council Monday night to give members an opportunity to find a successor for her post when she does leave.

Her husband, H. Bruce Omness, has been transferred to Owosso by the Hancock Life Insurance company.

Batchelor Attends Meeting

STOCKBRIDGE — Jesse Batchelor, superintendent of Stockbridge Community schools, is attending the convention of the American Association of School Administrators.

The meeting, which opened Saturday in Atlantic City, N. J., will hear such noted speakers as Senators Hubert Humphrey and Karl Mundt, Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman and former CIA head Allen Dulles.

Batchelor said that there would be approximately 40 different discussion groups in session, covering various aspects of the education field, with those attending the convention, joining the groups of their choice.

In addition, he said there would be many displays of the latest in school equipment, along with films and demonstrations.

Batchelor said he feels the meetings, which are held each year, are of value also because it gives school heads the opportunity to get together and discuss mutual problems and hear ideas from one another.

Ask Leslie Street Names Be Changed

LESLIE — Fred Ruthig, Leslie township supervisor, brought to the attention of the village council Monday night the matter of duplication of street names in the village and the township. He said the township would be willing to change the name of Kirby road to Adams road to eliminate one conflict. The village council already has changed the name of State road inside the village to Russell street.

Ruthig asked that Covert street be changed and this was referred to the council street committee. He also would like State street in the village changed. The council conceded changing that to Maple which would make it an extension of the present Maple street.

Gary Davenport, Leslie sewer plant operator, appeared before the council to ask why he received an increase in salary of only $100 a year. The council explained that the reason was that the budget is limited, but it was agreed to allow Davenport 5 gallons of gasoline a week as he uses his own car for village business.

Davenport suggested a changeover in the digester boiler at the sewer plant. It is a combination sewer gas and fuel oil burner and he asked that it be changed to natural gas. He was authorized to check with Consumers Power company about running a gas line to the sewer plant for the changeover.

The council received a letter from the Leslie school board asking a joint meeting between the council and the school board to discuss a drain assessment. The meeting was set for February 24 at 8 p.m.

Consumers Power company presented 3 plans for improving the lighting at the village parking lot on Main street, but none of the plans was what the village wanted and they were sent back for readjustment.

Resolution No. 5 on the Maple street sewer was passed. This confirms the sewer assessment roll and sets up interest rates and payment dates.

The council received from the village engineers, Ayres, Lewis, North and May of Ann Arbor, plans of the Warren Chemical company for the proposed treatment of polyphosphates for alleviating iron in the village water supply. These plans must go back to the Warren company for its approval and then to the Michigan department of health for approval.

The council approved a tentative budget of $77,550.53 which is divided into 3 sections, one for general expenditures of $41,839.20 and water and sewer, $36,711.33.

A public hearing on the budget, required by the new state constitution, has been scheduled for March 2 at 8 p.m. in the GAR hall.

New Church Unit Is Put Into Use

STOCKBRIDGE — The new educational building at the Presbyterian church in use for the first time last Sunday morning as church school classes convened.

Prior to this week, classes had been conducted in every corner of the church and once even met in a physician's office.

According to a church spokesman, all classes except 2 will meet in the new building with those 2 using the space in the church basement.

Rev. Donald Jackson, pastor of the church, plans to move into his new office, also in the new building, sometime this week.

All rooms in the addition are completely soundproof, making it a much improved situation for teaching the younger children, said a spokesman.

Canvasser Board Named

STOCKBRIDGE — The Stockbridge township board Monday night appointed a board of canvassers under the new state constitution which requires that such a board must have 2 members from each political party. The Stockbridge board will include the following: For a term expiring December 31, 1965, Maxine Collings (Republican) and Edward Brady (Democrat). For a term expiring December 31, 1967, Donald Batchelor (Republican) and Marie Morgan (Democrat).

George Washington Said:
Citizens by birth, or choice, of a common country, that country has the right to concentrate your affections. The name of American, which belongs to you in your national capacity, must always exalt the just pride of patriotism, more than any appellation derived from local discrimination... You have, in a common cause, fought and triumphed together; the independence and liberty you possess, are the work of joint counsels, and joint efforts, of common dangers, sufferings and successes.

Frohriep Popular In Leslie

By Charlotte Camp

LESLIE — Because he is a right kind of guy, and they always know just where they stand with him, students of Leslie high school would probably elect Richard Frohriep teacher of the year.

And Frohriep in turn says, "Kids are great, when you really get to know them."

It was his appreciation of youngsters, he said, that led him into the teaching profession in the first place. In addition to teaching driver training, Frohriep is a full time counselor at the school and is head baseball and basketball coach.

Several students, when asked to name their favorite teacher, were unanimous in their choice of Frohriep. They said he is willing to listen to their problems, and they feel free to discuss almost anything with him. Because of his even temperament, they said, students always know just where they stand with him.

Frohriep, came to Leslie in 1951 as a coach and while he doesn't feel that athletics are the most important activity he does feel that there is much to be gained by sports participation. "Sports," he said "teaches a lot of things, including clean competition, cooperation and respect for and responsibility to a team, school and community."

Frohriep emphasized however that if a youngster does not fit into sports, he should find a spot in some activity, such as band, vocal music, debate and others that are available.

When asked what he thought could be done to improve the educational program, he said, "Educators are ever striving for a way to reach every child. We are looking forward to the day when we will have a program to fill every need."

"The schools are doing a tremendous task, but there is also a great need for parents of today to stop and take inventory of their own responsibilities toward their youngsters."

Frohriep is a graduate of Western Michigan university and earned his Master of Arts degree at Michigan State university in 1958. He and his wife, Terry, are the parents of 3 girls.

EOTC Club Has Program

The annual pie feed and election of officers of the End of the Century club of Leslie was conducted at the Woodworth Elementary school Tuesday evening, February 11. The tables were decorated in the Valentine motif.

Mrs. Madge Vicary was toastmaster. The invocation was given by Mrs. Phyllis Gilman.

After the dinner Mrs. Barbara Rogness, president, conducted the business meeting. The slate of officers as presented by Estella Ranney, chairman of the nominating committee, was elected.

Mrs. Vicary introduced John Schubert, music director, who in turn introduced the musical numbers before the play and between acts. A clarinet duet was played by Diane and Carla Townsend accompanied by Diana Wellman. A cornet trio, Diana Wellman, David Abbey and Robert Vince brought numbers and Carla Townsend accompanied them.

A laughter producing play entitled Wives, Inc. was presented. It was under the direction of Zora Greiner assisted by Ardith Miller and Nancy Smith. The cast was Beverly Pixley, Mary Moll, Jane King, Jeanne Cowden and Madeline Young.

Banquet committee was Kathryn Farley, Christine Herzog, Mary Stuart, Diana Smith, Eva Lantz and Erma Bigg.

Louise Leake, Audrey Layton and Lenore Burnette were in charge of the decorating.

New officers will take over their duties at the June meeting.

Report Is Made On Yule Work

LESLIE — The Leslie Service Council met at the GAR hall on February 10. Reports of work done and gifts received were read. Twenty-three Christmas boxes and gifts for children had been distributed. Most of the funds received were from the United Fund. Cash donations were from the OES, Flower Memorial church, VFW and Willing Workers.

The All Around Extension group gave children's anklets and cans of cranberries. The Sunny Sanders donated stuffed toys which they had made and the Martha Circle gave gifts and canned goods.

Leslie Circle Meets

Ten women met at the home of Mrs. Charles Ranney in Leslie Thursday evening, February 13, for the meeting of the Leslie circle of the Methodist church. Mrs. Claud Smith conducted the business meeting.

Mrs. Clyde Reminga and Mrs. Blaine Lovette had charge of the program which consisted of a question and answer discussion of the subject "What, When, and Where Should a Christian Woman Read?"

Refreshments were served by the hostess with Mrs. Merrill Andrews as co-hostess.

Fire Razes, Tractor Damaged

LESLIE — Fire at the Warren Byrum farm on west Covert road destroyed a small shed west of the barn and badly damaged a tractor housed in it, last Wednesday, about 6:30 p.m. The building was to be torn down this spring and was not insured. The tractor was insured and if damage is so extensive that it cannot be repaired it will be replaced.

Group Travels Via Pictures

Mason Baptist Men's Fellowship hosted a ladies night and potluck dinner, Tuesday, February 11, in the fellowship hall of the church.

Jerry Armstrong led the devotions after which the group traveled to many places by slides. They journeyed to the South Pacific with Melvin Swab and the marine corps, saw progress of the new church building by Walter Zimmer, traveled across Mackinac Bridge on foot with Stanley Holmes and toured Mackinaw Island. Pat Garvey enlisted the Brigadermen to carry out the program of the Christian Service Brigade with the boys of the Mason church. Doris Cady took the group through Carlsbad Caverns and the upper Peninsula was shown by Mrs. Cloedell Brown. To close the journey, Rev. Eastman took the group into Florida, to the Cypress Gardens.

Birthday Marked By Hobby Club

LESLIE — The Hobby club met with Mrs. Joseph Craft Wednesday, February 12, for potluck dinner. Ten members were present. Mrs. Evelyn Sutliff was co-hostess.

The birthdays of Mrs. Leonard Rouse and Mrs. Jim Cosgrove were observed and each received gifts from the members and special gifts from secret pals.

The March meeting will be with Mrs. Della Seifert.

For village treasurer - Helen Baldwin, 80; Delores Bonzien, 4; For Councilmen (top 3 nominated) Houghtaling 76; Kiefer 73; Shipman 70; Fred Wyman 28; For Assessor - Helmker, 84;

Board Considers Teacher Salaries

LESLIE — The Leslie school board and members of the teachers' salary committee sat down Thursday evening to consider readjustment of teacher salaries starting in the 1964-65 school year. The group is thinking in terms of starting salaries of $4,600, according to Douglas King, high school principal.

After a discussion the matter was referred back for staff consideration and will be taken up again at a later meeting.

Life Long Farmer Dies At Age 89

LESLIE — Raymond C. Blackmore, 89, formerly of Jackson, died Sunday afternoon at Foote hospital in Jackson.

Surviving are 2 daughters, Mrs. Kathryn Farley of Leslie and Mrs. Paul (Isabella) Gibbs of Williamston; 5 grandchildren, and 11 great-grandchildren.

The body is at the Luecht Funeral home, Leslie where funeral services were scheduled at 2 p.m. Wednesday.

Burial was in Woodlawn Cemetery, Leslie.

Blackmore was a life-long farmer having started to farm when he was a young boy.

He owned farms in Jackson and Ingham county.

Leslie Infant Taken By Death

LESLIE — Joseph Edward McDonald infant son of Mr. and Mrs. C.J. McDonald of Leslie died Saturday evening at a Jackson hospital.

Surviving, besides the parents are 3 brothers, James Carrol, Thomas Eugene, and Michael George and 2 sisters, Patricia Ann and Pamela Jean; his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Glanz of Ohio and Mack McDonald of West Virginia.

The body was taken to the Luecht Funeral Home, Leslie, where services were conducted Monday at S. S. Cornelius and Cyprian Catholic church cemetery in Bunker Hill.

Leslie FFA Wins At Dansville

LESLIE — Leslie FFA took first place and received a gold rating in the district parliamentary procedure contest at Dansville Wednesday, February 12.

The parliamentary team consists of Mahlon Covert, chairman; Joe Zimmerman, secretary and team members Kieth Bannister, John Hamilton, Loren Taylor, William Vicary and Tib Wiltse.

They were in competition with 6 other teams and will represent the district in the regional contest at Byron on February 26.

Steve Wilcenski received a gold rating and first place in public speaking and will also represent the district at the regional contest. His subject was Water Pollution, and he will speak on that subject at the regional meet.

4 From Leslie at School Meet

LESLIE — Charles Bode, superintendent of schools and 3 members of the Leslie board of education were in Atlantic City, New Jersey, this week for sessions of the National Association of School Administrators.

Board members in attendance were Hubert Duke, John Smith and Clair Andrews. The board members will inspect school furniture on exhibit at the convention with an eye to selecting the type of furniture to be used in Leslie's new high school building which is expected to be opened next fall.

Lions Hear Talk On Holy Land

LESLIE — Leslie Lions club Monday night heard Lee Bisby of Jackson discuss a trip he took recently to the Holy Land. He also showed slides of points of interest he visited on his trip. The meeting was in the high school cafeteria.

The club is planning to stage a Showboat, or variety show by local talent March 11, 12 and 13 at the high school auditorium. The receipts from the show will be used for charitable purposes in the community.

Auxiliary Shown Flag Procedures

LESLIE — The proper way to display the American flag was demonstrated to members of the Lyle Edwards unit, No. 491, American Legion auxiliary when they met last week at the home of Mrs. John Gingas.

Presenting the demonstration were Sandra Simpson, Jackie Bridge, Chris Smith, and Barbara Crakes, members of the junior unit. The girls used a flag presented to the junior group by Rep. Charles Chamberlain of East Lansing. The flag had been flown over the capitol building in Washington.

They also showed the correct way to display the flag under various circumstances, and then showed how to fold paper to make a 5-point star.

Mrs. Gingas read 2 poems to introduce a series of slides taken at Lexington and Concord, well known names in Revolutionary war history. She read Longfellow's poem, "Paul Revere's Ride" and Emerson's "The Embattled Farmer."

Mrs. Donald Morgan, Pan-American chairman, was requested to look into the possibility of obtaining a foreign exchange student from South America to speak to the unit.

Scholarships in the amount of $300 will be awarded to deserving wives, daughters or widows of war veterans who can meet necessary requirements. The number of scholarships awarded each year depends on donations received.

Mrs. Max Bement, president of the unit, presided at the meeting. Mrs. Arthur Keltz was a co-hostess and Mrs. Robert Webber and Mrs. Norman Simpson were special guests.

WOODMEN ACCIDENT AND LIFE COMPANY

New Well Started At Leslie

LESLIE — Layne Northern company, Inc., of Lansing, has moved its drilling equipment into Leslie's well field on E. Bellevue street and is setting up preparatory to drilling a much needed well.

Ever since the completion of well No. 3, contracted for in 1959, the Michigan department of health has been advising the drilling of well No. 4. Both wells No. 1 and No. 2 are by their standards "improperly constructed and poorly isolated and therefore are a hazard to the public health."

The department of health advises abandoning and plugging these wells, which now are on a standby basis only.

In October, 1963, the village council instructed the clerk, Mrs. Frances Omness, to contact the village engineers, Ayres, Lewis, Norris and May of Ann Arbor, to ask for bids on well construction. The engineers consulted Layne Northern who offered to extend the 1959 contract, at an estimated cost of $3,219.50. This will result in considerable saving to the village as there has been a general cost increase in well drilling of about 10 per cent.

Leslie Woman Injured In Crash

LESLIE — Mrs. Myrtle Knauff suffered a cracked rib in an accident in an Eaton Rapids parking lot last week.

Mrs. Knauff had accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Steffen to a senior citizens' meeting in Eaton Rapids and as they were leaving to return home, Steffen's car was rammed by a motorist in the parking lot, and Mrs. Knauff was injured. She was taken to Eaton Rapids Community hospital by ambulance and after examination, was released to return home.

23 From Leslie At Rapids Meet

LESLIE — Twenty-three members of the Welcome club attended the senior citizens meeting in Eaton Rapids Wednesday, February 12. Potluck dinner was served at noon. Music for the program was provided by Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Byerly of the Welcome club.

Those attending from Leslie were Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Steffen, Mrs. Myrtle Knauff, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Byerly, Mrs. Mildred Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Vern Glover, Mrs. Edna Glover, Mr. and Mrs. Don Smith, Mrs. Lela Cronkrite, Mrs. Robert Brownlee, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Earl, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Whitney, Mr. and Mrs. L. Aaledon Sees Transition From Rural To Urban Area

OKEMOS — The Aaledon zoning board met with members of the town board last week to discuss some of the potential effects of the proposed Osteopathic university and the relocation of US-127 on land uses in the township, particularly on the west side of Aaledon.

These 2 construction projects will hasten the shift in Aaledon from a strictly rural area to commercial and more concentrated living areas.

Frank Suggitt, a land use specialist and a member of the zoning board, was asked to prepare a general land use survey. This would touch upon the suitability of the land for certain uses, the opinion of property owners as to what use they might want to put their property, the question of commercial buildings, motel or multiple housing, and other personal services; the involvement of such uses with sewage and water and schools, and other changes which a new road and interchange might anticipate along with the college.

Aaledon borders Delhi township on the east side of College road. The main residential areas in Aaledon are now on this border from Sandhill road southward.

School Calendar

WEBBERVILLE — The Webberville school calendar for the remainder of this week follows:

Wednesday, February 19 — The Webberville FHA will entertain girls of other chapters from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. in the high school community room.

Thursday, February 20 — Elementary teachers faculty meeting in the elementary building immediately after school.

The independent basketball teams will play in the elementary gym from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Friday, February 21 — Portland St. Patrick plays the varsity and the junior varsity basketball teams at Webberville beginning at 7 p.m. This is the last scheduled league game of the season and one of the most important to both teams.

After the games, there will be a homecoming dance in the gym. Since the basketball will be concluded on the Webberville floor, this need not be a sock hop, regular shoes may be worn. A king and a queen of the homecoming will be crowned. The dance will continue till midnight since it is a special event. The dance is sponsored by the senior class.

Lansing Water Supply Explained

HOLT — Ralph Mosher of the Lansing Board of Water and Light, spoke at Holt Kiwanis club meeting, Monday night at the Delhi township hall.

He showed the film Lansing Stairway to the Sky, telling of the water supply for Lansing and showing the water conditioning plant and how the water is distributed throughout the Lansing area. Clinton Horning was the program chairman.

The club plans a work day for Saturday to move articles for the Kiwanis rummage sale to Lansing, and will be working at the Lansing armory following the weekly dinner Monday night, February 24, at the Delhi township hall. The Greater Lansing area Kiwanis sale will start next Wednesday.

8th Grader Wins A 1st At Band Meet

WEBBERVILLE — Three students from Webberville high school attended the District 8 solo and ensemble festival at Holt last Saturday. Barbara Monroe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Monroe and a junior at Webberville, received a first division rating for a flute solo. She will represent Webberville at the state festival next month.

Irene Dowdy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Dowdy an 8th grade student, received a second division rating on her piano solo, and Irene and Ruth Ann Barth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Barth, also in the 8th grade, received a third division rating on their flute duet.

This was the first year any student from Webberville has taken part in this festival but many students are anxiously waiting for next year so they, too, may participate. The band is under the direction of John H. Green, Jr.

Baptist Women Meet

LESLIE — The Leslie Baptist Women's Union met at Tucker hall Wednesday, February 12. After a potluck dinner, Mrs. Bernard Hemstreet led the devotions.

Delhi Offices Close Friday

HOLT — Delhi Charter township offices will be closed Friday, February 21, in observance of Washington's birthday which falls on Saturday. The Friday closing was decided upon because the offices are normally closed every Saturday. The township treasurer's office will be closed next Friday but will be open on Saturday from 8 a.m. to noon.

Husbands Feted At Dinner

HOLT — Holt Garden club members entertained their husbands at a dinner and program last week. Thirty-eight persons attended the dinner, one of the important social events of the year. Marlies Krause, an exchange student from Germany, told about life in her country and Tom Thorburn, an exchange student in Sweden last year, showed pictures and talked of his visit to that country. Mrs. John Mackie was program chairman and Mrs. Stewart Eskes, club president, was hostess.

Prayer Day Is Observed

The 1964 World Day of Prayer was observed Friday, February 14, at Mason Baptist church.

Fifty-four from the 9 Mason area churches participated in the observance. Acting as chairman and making the arrangements for the event was Mrs. Nell Hinkley of the Baptist church.

Theme of the day was Let Us Pray. The invocation was given by Mrs. Paul Cheney of the Presbyterian church and president of the United Church Women.

Others participating were Mrs. H. S. Pulver of the Methodist church, Mrs. D. F. Howe of the Nazarene church, Mrs. Ted Shafer of the Lutheran church, Mrs. Harry Freeman Jr. of the Episcopal church and Mrs. Harold Gillette of the St. James Catholic church. Mrs. Richard Bartlett of the Nazarene church led the group in singing. Rev. Muri Eastman of the Baptist church pronounced the benediction.

On Valentine's day the Mason Senior Citizens group met at Vevay town hall for a potluck dinner served by Mrs. Lulu Powell and Mrs. Wilfred Jewett.

For the program, Roy Adams brought 2 large composite pictures containing photographs of people of the Mason area taken in 1890 and 1897, by Charles Vanslyke and assembled by his wife. Since there were no names on the pictures, many were unknown and everyone enjoyed trying to discover someone they knew. Adams also had a collection of old Anchoras from Mason high school which brought back many tales.

February 21, is the date for the next gathering. Meat, coffee and rolls will be furnished. There will be a musical program under the direction of Mrs. R. R. Robbins. All senior citizens are invited.

Extensions

Ingham Extension group met for its annual recipe exchange meeting and supper at the Dnsville town hall Monday, February 17. Each member brought several copies of her favorite recipe which was also served at the dinner. Then each one brought copies of the recipes she wanted, enabling the club to get a few funds.

Nineteen members were present for the dinner and lesson on Meal Planning which was given by Mrs. Elbridge Wolfgang. Safety reports were given by Mrs. Gilbert Glover and Mrs. Lucien Ruest.

Area Wrecks Bring Death And Injury

Death rode the highways and streets of Ingham county during the past week end.

One of the deadliest periods in several years took a toll of 3 killed and 4 injured.

The dead:
Richard D. Ruby, 14, of 641 Denver street, Lansing.
Mrs. Inez Roach, 73, of 1625 S. Cedar street, Lansing.
Donald E. Bushard, 31, of 307 S. Main street, Perry.

The injured:
Stephen G. Booth, 16, of 4411 Keller road, Holt.
Dennis Beland, 14, of 4476 DeCamp street, Holt.
Roger Marsh, 13, of 1549 Spahr avenue, Holt.
Leon L. Church, 67, of 119 Gale street, Morrice.

The 3 Holt boys and young Ruby were on their way home from a band festival at Holt high school about 2 p.m. last Saturday afternoon when their west bound car, driven by Stephen Booth, went out of control on Dell road and hit a tree stump. The accident occurred about 3/10 of a mile east of Aurelius road.

All 4 boys were taken to Mason General hospital where the Ruby boy died at 7:30 p.m. Saturday. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Ruby of the Denver street address.

The Booth boy, most seriously hurt, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald G. Booth of the Keller road address. He underwent surgery Saturday night for removal of the spleen and his condition Tuesday was reported as fair by hospital attendants.

Dennis Beland, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Beland of Holt, suffered a skull fracture and compound fracture of the right leg. His condition Tuesday was reported as fairly good.

Roger Marsh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Marsh, 4519 Spahr avenue, Holt, suffered the loss of a toe on the left foot and some cuts and bruises. His condition was said by hospital authorities to be fairly good.

Mrs. Roach met death when the car in which she was riding with Church, the driver, lost control and hit a No Parking sign and a high tension utility pole in the 2900 block of E. Grand River avenue, near Newton street, in Lansing at 5:15 p.m. Sunday.

Coroner Jack Holmes said Mrs. Roach was dead on arrival at Edward W. Sparrow hospital. Church was removed to Lansing General hospital where Tuesday his condition was reported as good. He suffered internal and chest injuries and a fractured nose.

Church told sheriff's officers he didn't know what happened.

Bushard was killed about 5:30 p.m. Sunday on E. Holt road near Phillips road in Alaledon township.

State police said he lost control of the car when attempting to pass another vehicle. The car skidded sideways about 75 feet, hit a tree, bounced off and skidded 72 more feet when it hit another tree head on and rolled down an embankment.

Coroner Holmes pronounced Bushard dead at Mason General hospital.

Mrs. Roach is survived by a stepson, Frank Weber of Kalamazoo. The body was taken to the Estes-Leadley funeral home in Lansing where funeral services are scheduled for Thursday at 1 p.m. Burial will be in Mt. Hope cemetery, Lansing.

Bushard is survived by his wife, Anna Marie; 2 sons, Mark, 3, and Larry, 2; 3 daughters, Debra Ann, 7; Cora Sue, 5, and Peggy, 4; his mother, Mrs. Lydia Bushard, of Perry; 6 brothers, Jack of Owosso, William of California, Paul and John of Oregon, and Carl and Garth, both of Dansville, and 2 sisters, Mrs. Mary Lou Whitaker of Wisconsin and Mrs. Barbara Beech of Lansing.

Funeral services were Wednesday afternoon at the LaRue funeral home in Perry with burial in Roselawn cemetery, Perry.

Funeral services for the Ruby boy were Tuesday afternoon at the Gorsline-Runciman funeral home in Lansing. Rev. Forest Mohr, pastor of Christ Methodist church, officiated, and burial was in Deepdale cemetery, Lansing.

Survivors include the parents, a brother, Terry Robert, and 2 sisters, Marsha Kay and Bonnie Sue.

Two other accidents in the Mason area during the past week caused injuries to 4 persons.

Maxine Backus, 38, of Route 1, Williamston, and Lorene Backus, 40, of Lansing, were injured when their car, driven by Edith H. Backus, 62, of the Williamston address, hit another vehicle as it was backing out of a driveway in front of 2918 Joy road in Alaledon township Saturday afternoon.

The injured were taken to Edward W. Sparrow hospital in Lansing.

Donald Nicholson, 36, of Okemos, driver of the backing car, was ticketed by sheriff's officers for failure to yield the right of way.

Theodore L. Foster, 20, of Route 2, Mason, suffered cuts and bruises and his passenger, Martin Hughes, 15, of Dansville, was injured when their car hit a tree head on as they were traveling north on West road last Wednesday noon.

Sheriff's officers reported that a cigaret was dropped on the floor of the car and as the 2 were trying to find it they looked up and saw the tree. It was too late, however, and the car crashed into it.

Officers said Foster complained of chest pains and had a cut on his face but did not want to go to a hospital. Deputy Leslie Ried took him to his home.

Some criticism of Parent-Teacher associations (PTA) as a group that in some instances is overstepping its role by trying to run schools, was voiced in Mason last week by Dr. David Gottlieb, an associate professor of the schools of Education and Sociology at Michigan State university.

Dr. Gottlieb was addressing a teachers' institute for selected schools of Ingham county last Wednesday afternoon in the auditorium of Mason senior high school.

The speaker said the PTA is definitely pushing in and making recommendations and actually influencing curriculum, personnel changes and invading other school areas which are not their concern as lay people.

He pointed out that other professions do not permit outsiders to step in and tell them how to run their business and asked which educators to permit such practices.

The institute drew teachers from Mason, Leslie, Dansville, Webberville, Williamston, Island and White Dog districts.

Dr. Gottlieb spoke at the afternoon session. In the morning the teachers attended a symposium on teacher tenure conducted by Dr. James Heald and Donald Giese of the MSU school of education and Howard Nunn, superintendent of schools at Harper Creek.

Donald Nicholson, 36, of Okemos, driver of the backing car, was ticketed by sheriff's officers for failure to yield the

As I See It

By Hayden Palmer

Donald Hughes, a friend of mine in the Michigan Public Service commission, tells this story:

He was attending a conference of transportation officials in Toronto a few weeks ago and at a banquet met His Lordship, the Right Honorable S. (for Sam) H. S. Hughes, chief justice of the supreme court of the province of Ontario.

Because their surnames were the same, the 2 became friends and Don Hughes told Justice Hughes of another Sam Hughes in Michigan, Judge Sam Street Hughes of the Ingham county circuit court, who lives in Mason. The Toronto jurist wrote a brief note to Judge Sam Street Hughes and asked Don Hughes to deliver it. In it Justice Sam Hughes asked Judge Sam Street Hughes to come to Toronto and be his guest at a session of the Ontario supreme court.

Congratulations to Frederick C. Belen, former Lansing man, who last week was promoted to deputy postmaster general of the United States, the 2nd highest job in the postal system. I have known Fred Belen and members of his family who resided in Lansing for several years. His promotion is richly deserved. He is a brother of Miss Lucile Belen, a member of the Lansing city council and chairman of the Ingham county board of supervisors.

Cigaret dealers in Mason last week said they have noted an increase in cigarette sales, despite the warning of the U. S. surgeon general that cigarettes are dangerous and may cause lung cancer. Some stores said cigarette sales were back to about where they were before the government issued its report early in January.

Grange Learns Of Farm Loans

Methods of Farm Credit was the theme of the Tuesday evening Wheatfield Grange meeting. Sound pictures explaining farmers use of long and short term credit loans through the 2 agencies of Farm Loan and Production Credit were shown by Jim Mulvany, assistant county agent of Mason. Agricultural investment is a 226 billion dollar business and since 1940, it has increased 4 times. Sixty per cent of farmers use credit. Farming or agriculture is the biggest business in the country today. Farmers buy more and sell more. Today each farmer feeds 26 people besides his own family. Farmers own 86 per cent of their investment.

Mrs. Ruth Beatty displayed her favorite Valentine and by means of actual pictures, she portrayed her life and those dearest to her using verse and a large heart.

Mr. and Mrs. Mulvany were special guests at the dinner which preceded the meeting. Tables were decorated in the Valentine motif.

The February 25 meeting will start with a dinner at 7 p.m. with the program afterwards. Mrs. Reva Grant will furnish a surprise feature followed by a program by the legislative commission. David Beatty, chairman, with Delmar Carr, Berton Johnson, Clarence Bird and John Grant assisting. This will be a discussion of current national issues and the legislative problems of our state. Anyone interested is invited to attend. Take own table service and dish to pass.

Michigan Rural Roads Show Car Crash Jump

Rural local and county roads are accounting for a growing percentage of Michigan's total rural traffic problem—a trend that was developing even before the sharp increase in interstate freeway mileage, according to a study made by the state police safety and traffic bureau.

The figures show that on local and county rural roads deaths increased from 41 per cent of the state rural total in 1955 to 48 per cent in 1962 and to 48.4 per cent in 1963.

Similarly, injuries climbed from 45 per cent in 1955 to 50 per cent in 1962 and to 51.6 per cent in 1963 while accidents rose from 47 per cent to 53 per cent and 54.2 per cent respectively.

By comparison, deaths on rural state trunklines decreased from 59 per cent of the state rural total in 1955 to 52 in 1962 and to 51.6 per cent in 1963. Injuries declined from 55 per cent to 50 and then to 48.4 while accidents dropped from 53 per cent to 47 and then to 45.8 respectively in the same years.

Recognizing the rural accident trend, the state police adjusted traffic patrols as available manpower permitted. The results showed that 26.7 per cent of the department's traffic arrests in 1962 were made on rural county roads compared with 16.6 per cent in 1955. The 1963 total is now being compiled.

One reason that rural county and local roads are accounting for an increasing part of the problem is that the interstate system is helping to reduce the total number of accidents on rural U. S. and state routes.

The interstate system has a much better accident record compared with other rural roads because of the improved roadway design and the improved handling of traffic. Thus, the percentage of accidents on the rural local and county roads, in relation to the whole rural traffic problem, automatically increases even if there should be no appreciable change in the number of accidents on them.

Comparing 1963 with 1962, the percentage of increase in injuries and accidents on rural local and county roads was more than twice what is on rural trunklines. On the same comparative basis the percentage of increase in deaths on other rural roads was about a fifth greater than that on the rural trunklines.

For the state as a whole, the 1963 record shows that deaths, injuries, and accidents all were increased in both rural and urban areas. Rural areas again were accounting for 69 per cent, or about seven out of 10, of the total traffic deaths in the state, which approximates the yearly average.

New all-time highs for the state in injuries and accidents for 1963 are charged in part to increased exposure—more vehicles, drivers, and miles traveled. More completeness in reporting of accidents may be another factor since reporting generally has improved in recent years.

School District Voters Should Face The Facts

A casual trip through the Mason junior high school ought to convince the most skeptic that there isn't enough room available for youngsters to learn what they're supposed to learn. Instead, the sheer bulk of humanity crammed into the junior high school and the resulting spillage into the streets and alleys of the business district may well create problems worse than no formal education at all.

The school district is being asked at a special election to consider a millage package which will provide enough money to build enough school rooms and to operate them effectively through 1970.

Three times in the past few years, the people have turned down requests for additional millage to operate the school system. Because of good management coupled with some fortunate state aid breaks, the district has been able to remain solvent — until this year. Neither good management nor any foreseeable breaks can bail out the district in the future unless the people approve an additional millage plan.

Certainly, the new plan will cost more money. But it's needed. American taxpayers have a way of coming to the rescue of public responsibility when the services are justified. Because the millage issue will make it possible for Mason youngsters — especially the junior high youngsters — to get an education in a controlled atmosphere conducive to learning, it ought to be approved.

The millage proposal involves 2 parts. One calls for replacing the existing 3-mill building and site fund millage levy with a 3-mill bond issue. This won't increase the present tax levy one bit and it will make it possible for the district to construct needed classrooms now.

There's no question but what the passage of the second part of the millage proposal will raise taxes. It calls for an additional 6 mills to provide money to operate the school system.

Voters should bear in mind that the district is working on the same operating millage that it did back before the new high school was built and before the Alameda elementary school was constructed. The district has more teachers on the payroll, more administrators and more janitors. And they're all making more money than they did a few years ago. It's logical, then, that the school district can no longer squeeze greater responsibilities out of millage revenues which became inadequate a long time ago.

By approving the millage proposals, taxpayers have every right to expect that the money will be used wisely and that present situations which are making it difficult for youngsters to get a good education will be eliminated. Voters who approve the millage proposal should also be entitled to the most stringent economies in keeping with good education. Voters have the right to expect that a bonanza of new money will not be used for purposes other than good basic education.

Certainly, the need for the additional operating millage and the advisability of trading the present building and site millage for a bonding millage has been demonstrated. While the News makes no attempt to tell people how to vote, certainly the facts in the case of the forthcoming millage election demand a serious study on the part of the voters. There comes a time when the sheer bulk of a school district responsibility demands that the patrons face up to the situation. That time appears to be now.

Where Were You?

Monday was election day in Mason — for less than 400 of Mason's 2,400 registered voters.

Such a poor turnout means one of 2 things. Either the great majority of registered electors have no interest in who runs city business or the registered voters were satisfied that any of the 11 nominees were qualified to run city business.

Apathy is the greatest enemy of American government — big or small. Apathy was the disease which kept Mason voters away from the polls Monday.

The governed can't expect to exercise their rights in other matters if they neglect what should be a cherished responsibility and privilege.

So, this might be a good time for Mason voters to get out their calendar and mark a couple of dates. On March 3, school electors have 2 important issues to decide. On April 6, 4 councilmen are to be elected as well as a decision made on recreation millage.

Let's not let apathy of the electorate destroy the basic strength of American government — the right and responsibility of voter participation.

GUEST EDITORIAL

New Licensing Idea

(Reprinted from the Oshkosh County Herald)

The Daily Oklahoman last week carried an editorial regarding the suggestion of a school board member in a southern city for solving the dropout problem in high school.

We think the idea has merit, although at first it might sound like an absurd way to meet the problem and admittedly it might tread upon "individual liberties" that we hear so much about.

This school board member charges that the automobile is the most important single cause of dropouts and he proposes that the laws be changed to require the presentation of a high school diploma as the first requirement for a driver's license.

The idea is not without merit. Educators know that possession of a car often lowers a student's grades. Police officials believe the cost of buying and operating a car to be a significant factor in juvenile crime.

Yet everyone agrees that a youth and his car are not easily separated.

Any parent with a boy approaching the magic age of 16 when drivers' licenses can be obtained, or even the magic age of 14 when drivers education can be commenced knows that junior will seem to become obsessed with the idea of owning and driving his own car just as quickly as he can possibly do so.

There are few drives as powerful as the urge to own and drive a car in this day and time. Youngsters will do almost anything to qualify.

Could this natural desire of a student to own a car be combined with the need of parents and educators to keep the student in classes through high school? Would it be feasible to issue provisional licenses that would be revoked automatically if the student dropped out of school?

Would this encourage the student to stay in school, keep up his grades and advance toward a diploma?

Or would it tend merely to encourage driving without a license?

This proposal for a diploma before a license may be absurd. But the teenager's love for a car makes the issuance of a drivers' license an important lever of authority for an adult.

Using it, whether as a carrot or a stick, to attack the school dropout problem, might be worth a trial.

Thoughts For The Week

Read John 5:5-15

The Father hath delivered us from the power of darkness, and hath translated us into the kingdom of his dear Son: in whom we have redemption through his blood, even the forgiveness of sins. (Colossians 1:13-14.)

I once watched a blacksmith weld a broken axle on a toy wagon. He took the torch, and with it fused the alloy and the axle together. Having finished, he stepped back and said, "There it is, kid, made whole again. Maybe it isn't as smooth and pretty as before, but it's twice as strong."

Lives become broken when they wander from the will of God and fall in sin. These broken lives can be made whole again when welded with true repentance and the redeeming power of Christ. These lives may bear the scars, yet they are made strong in faith and for service in God's kingdom.

Through God's strength, the most sordid and broken life can be remodeled to His holy will. Lives made whole receive their strength from God. He uses redeemed persons in the great task of spreading and strengthening His kingdom.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

Through Christ all things are possible, even the forgiveness of sins.

If anyone doubts the booming growth of Ingham county he should read the annual report of Mia Bell Humphrey, register of deeds.

Her report indicates that if growth is represented by credit then Ingham is really booming.

Comparing 1963 with 1962 there were 1,339 more real estate mortgages and 24,074 more chattel mortgages than in 1962.

With figures like that it's no wonder that mailmen in Ingham are bogged down with an avalanche of monthly bills to deliver come the first of every month.

Quick, Henry, the Flit. That used to be the sales slogan of an insect spray and to an increasing number of people inundated with one of the greatest publicity and promotion bargains in the history of the entertainment world, some insect spray should be developed to combat the plague of the Beatles.

Of course, any such comment is a sure fire cinch to bring on the wrath of the teenage set, but after flipping TV and radio dials from channel to channel and station to station and hearing nothing but Beatle music and Beatle talk, it is evident that music lovers must have their music taste in some other part of their anatomy besides their ears.

If the 4 Beatles were given hair-cuts and forced to rely on their music instead of gimmicks they wouldn't be able to provide enough actual talent for a fill in act at the Kiwanis Gay Nineties Revue set for next week at Mason high school.

Besides, I am personally skeptical of so-called men who have to wear Adler elevator shoes, especially when they ~~practise~~ ^{practise} their eyebrows.

Going ape over some manufactured entertainment personality isn't new. There's one comforting thought. There were many kids who used to spend day after day idolizing Frankie Sinatra back in the late 30's and early 40's. Most of those girls turned out pretty well as wives and mothers — at least the one I married. did.

And, who knows? Maybe America will kick the Beatle habit soon. All it would take would be to have some new group hit the publicity trail sporting handlebar mustaches, dired chartreuse and singing with marbles in their mouths to the accompaniment of musical saws — and away we go on another national flip.

For those interested in the finer types of music it might be well to point out that Mason had a group of real musicians who did exceptionally well last Saturday in the solo and ensemble competition for high school bands and orchestras.

Wednesday night Mason area youngsters will stomp to what currently passes for music, but for a cause. Harry Botek, the Mason boy faced with blindness in the near future, is expected to be the honored guest as area youth add to funds to assure him of seeing something of America. Similar projects are underway on the west coast. The Botek drive was originally sparked by a letter from Mike Trudeau, Mason policeman.

Such acts are just another indication that while there are times the older generation might doubt the younger generation, the basic quality of consideration for others isn't dead.

Bob Jones, former neighbor of the News on Jefferson, complained about the inconsistency of our editorial policy last week. After comparing an editorial which urged the government to get out of competition with private industry, he noted that this column encouraged people to achieve LJB status by papering walls with newspapers (thereby cutting Bob out of his rose bud wallpaper business).

I'm sorry I went ahead and papered our LJB wall with old newspapers so early. Last week in observance of Valentine's Day, the News used pink, green and white newsprint in honor of the occasion. Such coloration would have added new dimension to the wall. Colored newsprint costs about 10 percent more than white newsprint. So it's with a great deal of love for humanity that we blossomed forth in the rainbow newsprint. And just to relieve Bob's apprehensions, our colored newsprint fades fast. So if it's lasting color you want on your walls, better use Bob's rose bud rolls for the job.

Neighbor Rex Stribley will be in Amsterdam this week on business for Wyeth Laboratories Inc. of Mason. He plans to visit with Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Herman, parents of Annalies Herman, who lives with the Browns this school year. It's a small world.

I hope the Dutch have a sense of humor. Annalies is learning to type at high school and part of the training is the writing of business letters. For practice, the students use an inexpensive typing stationery with a mimeographed fake firm heading.

For a little international fun, Annalies wrote a letter on the stationery addressed to her father in Amsterdam. He's an insurance agent affiliated with Alliance and Lloyds of London. Annalies' letter indicated that there was an account in Mason wanting to be insured by the Dutch firm of her father. She planned to follow up the fake letter with one of explanation the next day. But she didn't. Monday morning she received an exciting letter from her father commending her for helping to land the Mason firm. He has written to the fake firm and now Annalies has rushed a letter off to Amsterdam to confess the whole thing. We hope Annalies doesn't get in Dutch over this.

Local insurance agents beware. It appears that there is international interest in Ingham county insurance policyholders.

Last week we ran a picture of Mr. and Mrs. Clare Carpenter at the Dania, Florida, Jai Alai games. Their smiles indicated they had better luck at the games than the time I went. Bill Myers, the famous news analyst with headquarters in Lapeer and Davison, and his wife, Barbara, took the wife and me into the Dania palace last year and introduced us to the "sport."

I sat between Bill and Barbara with my wife a seat away and where she couldn't get her hands on my wallet or my neck. So I placed a bet being guided by the wisdom of Bill. When Bill bet, I bet and on his man. We built up an impressive loss record and finally when his reputation to pick Jai Alai players teetered, I ignored his choice and placed a bet on another player. Naturally, Bill had picked a winner this time and they had to shovel his winnings into the trunk of our car. And naturally, I lost.

But that's the fun of Jai Alai. So I was glad to see the great big winning smiles of the Carpenters in the paper.

Alumni Is Invited To School Concert

WILLIAMSTON - Local musicians are invited to participate in an alumni concert planned by the Williamston school bands scheduled for Thursday Feb. 27 at the high school.

Letters are being sent to many alumni of Williamston and community but persons not contacted by letter and would like to play in the concert are most welcome. All persons should contact Ted Thompson, band director, or attend the rehearsal Thursday, February 20 at 7:30 p.m.

The concert is one of the major presentations of the year for the bands. The Junior High Band and Senior High Band will perform first with the alumni joining the Senior Band for the last portion of the concert.

Thomas Edison's Birthday Marked

WILLIAMSTON - The Williamston office of the Edison company had a birthday party last week. It was in observance of the 117th anniversary of Thomas Alva Edison, the man who gave the world the electric light and many other inventions.

Coffee and cake were served to guests at the Edison company offices here. The Williamston office has been serving this community since 1923. The office manager is George Rutman, who has been here since 1936. He is assisted by George Hedland, who came to the Williamston office from Ann Arbor 5 years ago.

Bank Installs Night Depository

WILLIAMSTON - A night depository vault has been installed near the front entrance of the bank and customers now may make their deposits at any time, day or night.

Dads Host Daughters At Dinner

WILLIAMSTON - The Methodist Men of the Williamston Community Methodist Church sponsored a dinner Tuesday February 11 at the Fellowship Hall for their daughters. The fathers planned a 6 o'clock dinner and a program following the dinner. Rev. Zack Clayton gave the invocation. George Robinson introduced Elmer Lightfoot who presented the program. L. A. Cheney gave the welcome to the daughters. Roxie Cheney responded for the daughters. Karen Merriman sang 2 solos; Patricia Gaedke played a piano solo, and Nancy Lightfoot presented pictures of Europe taken the past summer when she spent 10 weeks visiting the British Isles, Denmark, West Germany, Berlin, Warsaw, Budapest, Vienna, Venice, Paris and Switzerland. Miss Lightfoot is a teacher in the Midland Schools.

OES Will Serve A Smorgasbord

WILLIAMSTON - Williamston Chapter No. 2, Order of the Eastern Star will serve a smorgasbord for the public at the Masonic Temple February 22 from 5 to 7:30 p.m.

Chairman on arrangements is Jean Zelstra. Other committee members are; Verona Conklin, Wilma Vaughn, Betty Keefer, Nina Ketcham, Lois Baker, Velma Hil-dabridge and Lolabelle Risk.

On the publicity committee are Grace Duncel and Caroline Lightfoot. Lula Young has charge of the dining room.

Church To Build Parsonage

WILLIAMSTON - Williamstons Memorial Lutheran Church congregation has voted to build a new parsonage for its pastor, Rev. Arthur Clement.

The building committee, headed by Fred Gable, has tentatively recommended the structure be built on Williams street on property owned by the church which is now being used as a parking lot. Plans call for the construction of a 2-story house with 2 car garage, full basement and a church office.

The construction of a new parsonage is a major step taken in the year to improve facilities and status of the church. Just a year ago the church became a self-supporting institution. Until that time the church had been supported by the Wisconsin Synod as a home mission.

Improvements have been made in the church basement which include the building of a large kitchen, relocation of bathrooms, mothers' lounge, and library. The entire basement was tiled with light tan asphalt tile.

Foreigners Are Guests Of PTA Unit

WILLIAMSTON - Parent Teachers Association presented to its members an international night program last Wednesday evening at the Williamston high school cafeteria.

Five foreign students from M.S.U. were present to discuss the educational systems of their countries as compared to those of the United States.

Speakers included; Ayo Azikiwe, son of the President of Nigeria; Inad Khadduri, of Iraq, Narindar Gill, of India, and Te-kien Eran of Turkey.

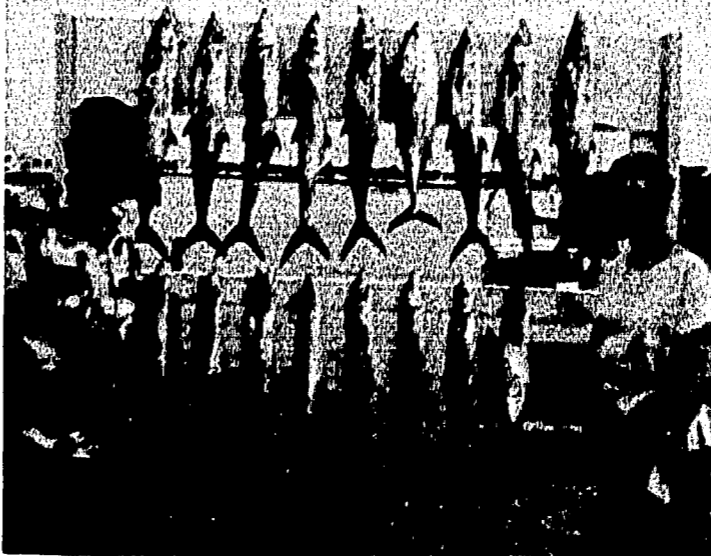

The students were entertained preceding the P.T.A. meeting at dinner by various Williamston families.

Arrangements for the speakers were made by Michael Dmochowski. Moderator for international night was Bill Alexander. Prior to the program, Robert Fitch, school superintendent spoke briefly on proposed changes in the school book purchasing system.

During the business meeting the executive board presented a proposed two-year P.T.A. budget for the approval of the membership.

OES Plans Initiation

WILLIAMSTON - Williamston Chapter of the Order of Eastern Stars will conduct an initiation ceremony on February 25 when Lucille and Clarence Gilroy will become members of the lodge. On March 3 "Friends Night" when chapter officers of neighboring chapters will be guests and exemplify the degrees of the order, will be observed.

Gas and Weight Tax Cash Distributed In Ingham

The state highway department has started distributing 4th quarter motor vehicle highway fund collections to Michigan counties and incorporated cities and villages.

State Highway Commissioner John C. Maekle said net receipts of the highway fund during October, November and December of 1963, amounted to $49,723,386, an increase of $3,545,716 compared to the same period of 1962.

Ingham county's share totaled $384,666. East Lansing's share amounted to $52,796; Lansing, $227,486; Leslie, $3,906; Mason, $8,455; Stockbridge, $1,908; Webberville, $1,493; and Williamston, $3,876.

All state gasoline and diesel fuel taxes and license plate fees go to the motor vehicle highway fund.

After deduction of collection costs and waterways commission's share, the money is distributed under provisions of state law which provides that 47 per cent goes to the state highway department for use on state highways, 35 per cent to the state's 83 counties for use on county roads, and 18 per cent to 518 incorporated cities and villages for their roads and streets.

Under this formula, the state highway department will receive $23,369,991 as its share of the fourth quarter collections, while the counties will receive $17,403,185 and the incorporated cities and villages will get $8,950,209. An additional $611,884 was withheld from the counties' share for snow removal.

These funds will be shared by the counties based on snow fall in each county this winter season.

Pro Basketball Game Scheduled

WILLIAMSTON - The U. S. Globetrotters, a professional basketball team similar to the Harlem Globetrotters, will play a team composed of Williamston area coaches here March 25. The contest is a combined project of the Varsity club and the Williamston Kiwanis club in conjunction with the boy and girl committees.

Coach Gerald Neidlinger of the Williamston schools, has informed the Kiwanis club that final plans for the event are now being made and that ticket sales will start immediately.

Food Fads Waste Cash

Americans wasted $1 billion on false and fraudulent products in 1963, a Farmers Week audience learned at Michigan State university this month.

Discussing Food Facts and Fallacies, Dr. Depe Cederquist, chairman of the MSU department of foods and nutrition, said that Americans are expected to spend twice that much on frauds in 1964.

She warned Michigan families to be on the lookout for the modern medicine man and offered these tips to avoid buying fraudulent food products:

Suspect anyone who says the American food supply is unsafe or lacking in nutritive value. "We have the most active policemen in the world guarding our food supply," she pointed out.

Be suspicious of anyone who attaches magic curing powers to a food.

Be suspicious of any food product not available in a regular store. If it's an acceptable, reputable food, it will be available on the open market," the nutritionist said.

Suspect any person who makes any unusual claim for any food. All food can do, she pointed out, is nourish the body.

Free-Stall Housing Saves Cash

It costs more to install free-stall housing, but savings in bedding costs can make the installation a profitable one, according to a Michigan State university agricultural economist.

C. Ray Hoglund contends that dairymen can reduce bedding costs by as much as 75 per cent with free stalls as compared to loose housing. "When bedding is charged at $20 a cow—which is considered to be a realistic estimate—the net advantage of changing to free stalls is $10 a cow per year."

Hoglund notes that free-stall housing systems are being adopted at a rapid rate in Michigan because they keep cows cleaner.

"Free-stall housing" may prevent some dairymen from being shut out of a market because of unsanitary loose housing conditions. It should contribute to less udder injuries and disease problems," he concludes.

Bridge Course Offered

One of the outstanding new programs to be offered at the YWCA in Lansing for the spring term, will be a 10 week series for persons who play contract bridge but would like to learn more about duplicate bridge.

Duplicate bridge is the form of contract that is played in all the big national and international championships. Each hand is played at least twice (but not by the same players) under conditions that exactly duplicate those of the other tables. Your score does not depend on the luck of the deal, it is compared only with the scores made by players who hold the same cards and under the same conditions.

The group will start Monday, April 6, at 10:30 in the morning and after a lunch break will resume in the afternoon until 2:30 p.m. With the exception of a half hour of discussion the time will be spent in play. Seven tables are required for this group. The fee will be $1.50 each time, with prizes. Mrs. John C. Brickner, certified master bridge instructor, will conduct the group. Men as well as women are welcome.

Special License Is Urged For State's Young Drivers

COLOR IT GREEN
Simple solutions sometimes help with complicated problems. An example of such an idea is now before the Legislature. It might help in dealing with juvenile problems.

The House has sent to the Senate for consideration a measure to issue a distinctive driver's license for minors. Introduced by Rep. John Toeppe, Cadillac Republican, the bill called for a green tint on driver's licenses provided for drivers under 21 years of age.

Differentiating between a minor and an adult on a driver's license would be an effective deterrent to "doctoring" licenses for use as proof of age. Michigan licenses have claimed as doctor-proof for several years, but many minors have been able to beat the system of the special paper used.

A different color license probably would make "doctoring" more difficult. Another effect likely in the color change would be to readily identify minors in traffic violations.

There is a move afoot in the Legislature to bring juvenile motorists under Michigan's point system of traffic violations. With a different color license there would be no question, with or without the point system in effect, as to which motorists were in the juvenile range.

Introduction of the color license measure by Toeppe appears in itself to have some significance. Toeppe, a longtime radio broadcaster, has been working with youth for several years. He has teenagers in his own family. Toeppe's approach to the juvenile delinquency problem seems to be a realistic one. He is not a proponent of the "this younger generation is not what it used to be" school of thought.

Juvenile delinquency, like the school dropout problem and a number of other questions facing state officials, is one in which some small effort could lead to a wise solution. Colored license plates might be the first major step in this area.

Drivers' license changes have been proposed in the past, however, and money to accomplish the aims has been a major obstacle.

Lawmakers and state administrators must weigh the question in this area of whether the investment in having different kinds of licenses is worth the corrections such a change might prompt.

The most recent example of proposed change not implemented is the license photo requirement enacted into law several years ago. Cost of the equipment needed has not been resolved yet.

Maple Grove Woman, 48 Dies

MAPLE GROVE — Funeral services were conducted Friday at the Gorsline-Runciman funeral home in Lansing for Mrs. Margaret E. Holmes, 48, of 6072 Miller road, who died February 11 at her home. She was a resident of the Maple Grove area almost her entire life.

Survivors include her husband, Jesse, a daughter, Mrs. Thomas Robinson of Madison Heights, Michigan; her mother, Mrs. Beatrice Beardslee of Laingsburg; 5 grandchildren, and 2 brothers, George Beebe of Lansing and Charles Beebe of White Lake.

Rev. Forrest E. Mohr of Christ Methodist church officiated at the services and burial was in Deepdale cemetery, Lansing. Pallbearers were Joe Wise, William Bailey, Norman Fulger, Russell Nelson, Melvin Monroe and Lyle Bliesener.

Grovenburg

Mumps are prevalent in the neighborhood, Tim Doerr and Teresa Whitehead are 2 victims. Dick Conarton has been transferred from Fort Benning, Georgia, to Fort Campbell 1, Kentucky, where he is attending radio school.

Bert Drake visited James Hart Wednesday and his sister, Mrs. Anna Wrook, visited him Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Haske and family were Monday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Andersen.

Mrs. Mildred North and Mrs. Janette North attended the February Poetry Club Workshop Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ula Curdy in Lansing.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Cook of Lansing spent Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Andersen. Mrs. Cook and Mrs. Andersen are sisters.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sinf and family of Pottsville and Mr. and Mrs. John Schultz and family visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clair Sinf one day last week.

Mrs. Margaret Leonard visited her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Alice Leonard Thursday.

Henry Binkley attended the funeral service for his aunt Mrs. O. E. (Lottie) Binkley in Lansing Monday. She had been in a convalescent home several years. She was 89 years of age.

Duane (Bud) Winright was admitted to the Foote hospital in Jackson Wednesday for observation and treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Todd attended the Michigan Milk Producers banquet at Mason Tuesday.

Legislative thinking this year indicates both the color change for minors and use of photos might be a fact of life in the near future.

TEST OF X-RAY MACHINES
The danger point in human absorption of radiation has never been officially set by scientists, but every attempt is made to keep this exposure at a minimum. X-rays, one source of radiation, are constantly under study to find ways to reduce the already slight amount of radiation emitted.

In dentistry, for example, a survey has been made throughout Michigan to protect the public where x-rays are concerned.

Test pictures were taken on about 3,500 dental x-ray machines in Michigan to measure the amount of radiation to which the dentist and his patients were subjected.

Beam size was measured in tests conducted by the State Health Department and dentists whose machines indicated excessive beam size were given a lead disc or filter to reduce the intensity.

Less than half the machines tested required adjustment, said Health Commissioner Dr. Albert E. Heustis. The machine test is still under way and officials expect that the total reduction in radiation as a result of the program will amount to well over 1.5 million roentgens per year, at an average of .5 roentgens per film.

WARNING ON DEBTS
Post-Christmas "debt pooling" can be a too-hardy gimmick, warns State Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley.

"Ads which offer to help you retain peace of mind, get your creditors off your back, avoid garnishments, get out of debt without a loan, protect your job and your credit, all by turning over $15 or $25 a week to debt pooler, sound good but the results can be most sad," said Kelley.

Recent complaints to the attorney general's office indicate some persons have had as many creditors at the door as ever, even after conscientiously paying debt poolers the agreed upon sum for months.

Kelley emphasizes each person has a right to hire a budget manager or debt adjuster. "But you should know that if the person you hire does not satisfactorily adjust your debts and carry out the glowing promises so often made, there is little the law can do to help you out of your troubles."

Baptists Use

Lincoln Theme

Hope circle of Mason Baptist church met Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Olive Brown for a dessert luncheon. The table was decorated using a Valentine motif. Assisting the hostess was Mrs. Arthur Brown.

Mrs. Harry Smith opened the meeting with devotions, after which a brief Lincoln Day program was presented by Mrs. Neil Hinkley. Roll call was answered by reading excerpts of important events in Lincoln's life. Pictures of him were displayed and the program closed with the pledge of allegiance to the flag.

SHADES OF CAPONE Three old canvas covered cars stand idly in a field near Dobie Lake, a sort of "shades of Capone" setting. The News photographer wonders, "How did they happen to be standing 3 in a row in the middle of a field; was there a road in that spot at one time; is it possible that these cars have a history of Capone, Purple Gang, or the Cosa-Nostra?" Perhaps one of the News readers can give us the history of the cars.

Tri-County Planners Start Work On Water Study

The Tri-County Regional Planning commission has taken immediate action to begin implementing the Battelle report on water use plans for the tri-county region.

At a special meeting on February 13, the commission authorized an expenditure of $1,750 as part of the monies needed to begin a preliminary study of regional ground water supplies.

Such action conforms to one of the major recommendations contained in the water use plans report of the Battelle Memorial Institute. The Battelle study, which was presented to the public for the first time at the Lansing Civic Center Wednesday night, urged the undertaking of a comprehensive survey to determine the future limits of the underground water resource.

The ground water survey authorized by the commission is preliminary in nature. It will enable the U. S. geological survey to gather pertinent ground water data and to outline the necessary costs for a more definitive study of a comprehensive ground water survey for the region.

The preliminary survey will cost $7,000. One half of this amount is being borne by federal tax funds. The remaining local share ($3,500) is being shared equally by the Lansing board of water and light and the Tri-County Regional planning commission. The survey is expected to be completed by late summer of this year.

In other action, the Regional Planning commission passed a resolution creating a governmental coordinating committee as part of the regional advisory council. This committee will be made up of various state, county and local governmental representatives. It will function as a policy body which will review and recommend courses of action to local governmental units in the region. Such items as highway improvements, land use controls and public works expenditures will be studied and appropriate actions will be recommended to local units of government.

The business meeting was conducted by the vice-president, Mrs. J. R. Carson.

Guests present were Mrs. Clarence Wheeler, Mrs. Gary Seever and Mrs. Duane Hay. Mrs. Dale Milhbach was welcomed into the club as a new member.

Williamston School Has Talent Assembly

WILLIAMSTON — The Williamston high school held the annual talent assembly February 11.

The students prepared their acts and presented them at try-outs on February 4.

They were judged by teachers and sponsors. The acts chosen to appear at the assembly attended a dress rehearsal February 10.

The acts included humorous skits, vocal numbers, instrumental and other bits of entertainment including a few closing numbers from the concert chorus.

The MC portion of the program was handled by the senior class in an able and interesting way.

Faculty members judged the acts by point system according to classes. They were judged on originality, audience appeal and presentation.

The senior class was awarded the Brown Jug, annually given to the class with the highest points.

The freshmen class won second place.

Choir Group Is Feted

STOCKBRIDGE — The junior choir of the Stockbridge Methodist church had a delightful time at a Valentine party Sunday afternoon in the church parlors.

Mrs. Clyde Stevens, choir mother and Mrs. Robert Camp, director, entertained the youngsters with cake, candies and punch.

Patrice Weddon, a member of the choir, was chairman of the entertainment committee and had so many interesting games planned, that it was time to go home before all could be used.

And of course, they sang, for fun this time.

Mrs. Camp said, "We do not have a real large group (15) but they enjoy music and sing like 30."

GROW YOUR OWN ITALIAN BEANS

Those Italian beans that you buy in the frozen food department of your favorite store are of a variety named Romano that you can grow in your garden this summer if you so desire. Romano is a pole bean, though not a very tall growing vine. It will, however, need the support of poles or a fence.

Romano matures edible pods in from 64 to 70 days from the day seeds are sown. These pods are broad and flat and will grow to 5 1/2 inches long. They have the best flavor for eating, a really distinctive flavor, when they are only 4 inches long. So be sure to pick them when they reach that length and before they are full grown.

Should any pods grow past the stage at which they "snap" cleanly when bent double, the beans inside of them may be shelled and eaten. They are delicious too.

There also is an Italian bean in bush form. This is named Bachiha. It is an early bean with the typical long, flat, wide pods that are free from strings or fiber. Bachiha is an exceptionally high yielding bean with the outstanding quality and flavor that characterizes Italian beans.

Group Fetes Holt Woman

HOLT - Mrs. Estella Vermillion was honored on her 70th birthday anniversary at meeting of the Marjorie Peol Missionary Chapter of the Holt Nazarene Church February 12 at the home of Mrs. Floyd Dean.

Members of the group revealed the names of their secret pals with Valentine gifts and drew new names for the year.

Mrs. Dean and Mrs. Ruby Rowe co-hosted the dessert luncheon.

Eaton Man Is Held In Holt Shooting

HOLT - Arch W. Rogers III, 21, of Eaton Rapids is in the Ingham county jail awaiting an examination before Justice Raymond Totte of Delhi township on February 26 on a charge of assault with intent to commit murder.

Rogers is accused of firing a shot which shattered a window in a car being driven by Mrs. Arlene Platte, 43, of Holt as she drove along a lonely road near Holt about 1:20 a.m. last Tuesday on her way home from Eaton Rapids. Mrs. Platte was not injured.

The assailant escaped after the shooting but on Wednesday Rogers gave himself up to police in Ann Arbor.

Arraigned before Justice Totte, he demanded an examination. Bond was set at $7,500.

A warrant for Rogers arrest was issued by Leo A. Farhat, Ingham county prosecutor last Wednesday noon. At 4:30 p.m. that day Rogers walked into an Ann Arbor police station and surrendered. Police quoted him as saying, "I'm wanted for a shooting in Ingham county and want to give myself up."

Mrs. Platte said she was driving alone when the assailant's car approached hers. As it came alongside there was a shot and a window in the Platte car was shattered. The assailant's car rushed on and Mrs. Platte, unnerved by the shot, drove her car into a shallow ditch and then back up on the road again.

At that time the assailant's car returned and a man asked her to get in his car. Mrs. Platte rushed up the road and flagged down an approaching car. That motorist chased the assailant's car and got close enough to read the license. Sheriff's officers later found the car abandoned at Toles and Onondaga roads in Ingham county. The car bore Eaton county plates.

Later Mrs. Platte identified the driver of the mystery car from mug shots at the Ingham county jail.

Home Show Scheduled

The theme, Homemakers Spectacular, keynotes the 1964 Home-Arama, to open in the Lansing Civic Center February 26 through March 1, according to Bob Reynolds, general chairman.

This will be the 17th annual presentation of the home show which gives residents of Lansing and central Michigan an opportunity to see the latest products and ideas for better, more modern living.

Sponsored by the Lansing Home Builders association, the show again will take over a major part of the huge Civic Center for the 5-day presentation. Nearly 75 displays will be set up in the main auditorium, lower exhibition hall and several committee rooms.

Home-Arama is one of Lansing's oldest exhibition type shows, and attendance figures are evidence of its popularity with central Michigan residents, Reynolds said.

A feature of the 1964 show will be a huge home furnishings display on the stage, including early American and modern contemporary pieces.

BETSY STROBEL and Raymond Townsend have been named valedictorian and salutatorian, respectively of the 1964 senior class of Dansville high school.

Top Seniors Named At Dansville School

DANSVILLE — Scholastic honors for the graduating class of 1964 of the Dansville Agricultural school have been awarded to Betsy Strobel and Ray Townsend, valedictorian and salutatorian, respectively. Miss Strobel is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Strobel of Meridian road, Route 2, Mason, and Townsend is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Townsend of Columbia road, also Route 2, Mason.

Miss Strobel has a 3.78 average out of a possible 4 and Townsend has a 3.74. Miss Strobel entered the Dansville school in the 8th grade, coming here from Webberville. Townsend has attended the Dansville school his entire school years. Both have been active in extracurricular activities: Miss Strobel in FHA and band for 4 years, chorus 3 years, junior and senior plays, treasurer of the senior class, business manager of the year book her senior year and Bible club 3 years. Townsend has participated in track 3 years and basketball 4 years, was president of his sophomore class, played a role in the junior play, was a student council representative in his junior year, and a member of the high school chorus one year. Both plan to attend Michigan State university next year.

Other high ranking members of the class in order of rank are John Diehl, Cleo Townsend, Nancy Horski, Kathleen Newman, Larry Nelson, Doris Putman, Dennis Parshall, Tom Nottingham, Ida Webster, Vivian Thornton, Jack Allen and Mary Wilberding.

There are 50 in the class.

4-H Girls' Day Program Is Set

WILLIAMSTON — The Handy Workers' 4-H club of Williamston will participate in a Girls' Day program at the Delhi Charter township hall in Holt February 22, from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m.

The program is open to all 4-H girls in Ingham county who are enrolled in clothing projects. It will be presented by Jean Shubel, clothing extension specialist from Michigan State university. The program will be concerned with accessories, grooming and modeling clothing.

PTA to Meet

DANSVILLE — The Dansville Parent-Teacher association at its meeting Thursday will view 2 films, one dealing with emotional health for adults and the other with the tobacco problem and what effect cigarette smoking has on various organs of the body.

Postoffice Closed

There will be no delivery of mail or window service on Saturday, February 22, Washington's birthday. There will be deliveries of mail at 6:30 a.m., 2:30 p.m. and 5:45 p.m. The same as usual. The lobby will be open and stamps are available in the stamp machine in the lobby.

New Tax Schedule Due Soon

R. I. Nixon, Detroit district director of internal revenue service announced today that 4½ million copies of the new income tax withholding tables based on the 14 per cent rate agreed upon by congress will be mailed by the end of the week to employers throughout the country.

The 32-page booklet entitled Employers Tax Guide is expected to be in employers hands by Saturday or Monday, well in advance of the effective date of the lowered 14 per cent withholding rate on wages and salaries. Printing of the tax guide began shortly after the new withholding rate was approved by senate and house conferees on Monday, February 10, and distribution of the guides in bulk was begun to internal revenue service centers where they are being addressed and mailed to employers. Michigan employers will receive their booklets from the Internal revenue service center in Kansas City, Mo.

Nixon emphasized that the effective date of the reduction in withholding is expected to be 7 days after President Johnson signs the tax cut bill which is estimated to be about March 1. He said employers should watch for announcements of the effective date of the new withholding rates in the papers. The new rates cannot be used until an effective date is announced and will have no effect on income tax returns now being prepared.

Dairy Group Pushes Sales

Milk represents more than one-third of all beverages consumed in American homes, said M. J. Framberger at the 22nd annual meeting of the American Dairy Association of Michigan at Michigan State university February 7.

Framberger, manager of the American Dairy association, said the organization has a budget of $7,500,000 to promote the sale of milk and dairy products in 1964. Producers finance the self-help program through a setaside of 2 cents per hundred pounds of milk marketed.

Milton Hult, president of the National Dairy Council, told the convention that dairy farmers must not underestimate public interest in health. "Our job," said Hult, "is to establish the need for milk for health and well being."

Boyd Rice, manager of the ADA of Michigan, reported that 70 percent of the state's dairy farmers support the American Dairy association's sales promotion programs.

Officers elected: president, Herman Koehn of Chelsea; vice-president, Charles Davis, Onondaga; treasurer, George K. Austin, Ovid; secretary, Boyd Rice, Lansing. Elected to the board of directors: Jack Budd, Belleville; William Van Frank, Montague; Reginald Turner, Sault Ste. Marie; Arthur Wolgamood, Constantine. Andrew Jackson of Howell was elected to the board of directors of the American Dairy Association, National.

Dansville Setting Up Recreation Program

DANSVILLE — Organization of the Dansville Area Recreation Enthusiasts, (DARE), will make this dream of a recreation program a reality this summer. Mrs. O. B. Cornett is chairman of the group which started almost a year ago, after the Commission on Christian Concerns of the Dansville Methodist church concluded there was a need for an organized recreational summer program.

A survey is being conducted this week to help the group determine what activities the program will offer. The program will be tailored to meet the interests and needs of the boys and girls from the 1st grade through the 12th grade.

John Van Winkle of Mason, a science teacher at the Dansville school, has been selected as recreation director for DARE.

Activities to be offered fall into 2 broad divisions; athletic and playground activities and arts and crafts. In addition, based on the results of the survey, the program may include a series of 2 week seminars in science and a little theater group. The program will run 8 weeks, beginning June 15, with a week off during the county fair.

The Dansville Methodist church board has voted partial financial support for the program.

A registration fee for each participant in the program will be assessed and cost of the materials used in the Arts and Crafts activities will be borne by the parents.

Loren Willey, coach and teacher at Dansville high school; Warren Mueller and John Van Winkle are conducting the survey. Others on the DARE steering committee include, O. B. Cornett, Mrs. Warren Mueller, Glen Sharland, Lucien J. Ruest and Rev. Robert Brubaker. The Methodist Youth Fellowship group of the Dansville Methodist church voted Sunday to give financial support to DARE.

Speaking before the teen-age church group Sunday evening, Willey told what would be offered to young people and adults in the program and answered questions from the young people concerning the activities.

Tom Murdock, president of the Fellowship group, presided at the business meeting when the M.Y.F. voted to contribute $75 toward support of DARE.

Canvassers To Be Named

DANSVILLE — In keeping with the new Michigan Constitution of 1963 regarding election laws it will be necessary to appoint a board of canvassers for the Dansville Agricultural school district. This board will consist of 4 members, not more than 2 of whom will be of one political party.

For a person to be appointed to the new board of canvassers, he must be a qualified and registered elector of the community in which he will serve and file an affidavit on a form approved by the bureau of elections and an application as prescribed by the local governing body. Among other things, this affidavit must give the party affiliation of the applicant. Any one desiring to be a member of this board may obtain the necessary form from the office of Searl Briggs, superintendent of the Dansville school.

Dinner Honors Ninth Birthday

Terry Lee Fiedler celebrated his 9th birthday anniversary at a dinner party given by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Fiedler, at Howard Johnson's restaurant Wednesday evening.

Guests included his brother, Alan, Jimmy Howes and Gregory Christian.

After dinner, the children visited Mrs. Margaret Palen at Holt Home, Inc. Mrs. Palen is a former neighbor of the Fiedlers.

"4-H LEADERS planning county Archery Shoots are (l to r) Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Robertson, Holt, Well Dunn 4-H Club; Wayne Cook, Williamston, County 4-H Archery Chairman; and Joe Travis, Williamston, community leader of the West Locke 4-H Club.

LYLE ROBERTSON (left) of the Well Dunn 4-H club in Holt discusses plans for the county 4-H archery shoot with Wayne Cook, Williamston. Cook is archery leader in the West Locke club and also is county chairman for the project.

4-H Archery Shoots Set

Youth enrolled in 4-H archery projects in Ingham county will have an opportunity to take part in several instructional shoots this summer. Five dates were selected recently when several 4-H archery leaders met in Williamston. The shoots will be held evenings on May 15, June 26, July 17 and July 31.

Wayne Cook, Williamston, is taking leadership for organizing the shoots. He is countywide 4-H chairman, along with Lynn Bullen, Mason. All 4-H clubs that are offering the archery project will be invited to attend the shoots. Each shoot will be hosted by a different 4-H club. The county Extension office in Mason will send details to 4-H leaders.

Extensions

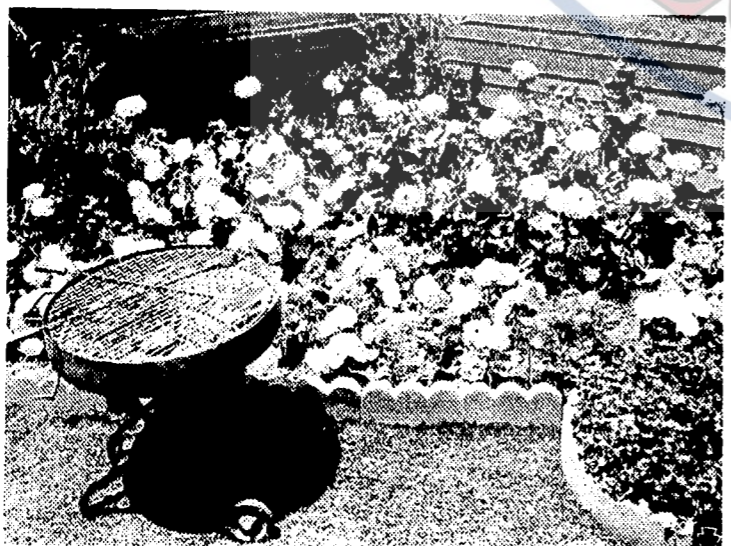

Mrs. Alice Grettenberger hosted the February 11, meeting of Okemos Extension group. Leaders presented 2 lessons, one on nutrition and the second on meal planning. The subject of the March lesson will be Money's Worth in Meats.

Group Views Gauss Movies

Millville Farm Bureau group met with Mr. and Mrs. John Graf for their February meeting. Highlights of the meeting were pictures of Germany, France and Switzerland shown by Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gauss of Mason.

The group will meet with the Square Deal Farm Bureau group for their March meeting.

GOOD APPETITE

In the same way that a well arranged, attractive plate of food results in better appetite, so an attractive garden setting should result in more appreciative diners in summer.

Home economists claim that the appearance of food on a dinner plate has a great deal to do with how much a person eats of it and how good it tastes. A more attractive plate, with vegetables of contrasting color neatly arranged, results in a better appetite and a more satisfied diner.

The same principle should apply to the appearance of the immediate surroundings when a meal is served outdoors. In prettier and more colorful surroundings, a better appetite and more satisfaction should result.

Rehabilitation Center Schedules Open House

Rehabilitation in Action is the theme for the annual meeting of Rehabilitation Medical Center and Rehabilitation Industries on Thursday, February 27.

Instead of the usual dinner meeting and speeches the committee is planning something different, and something that should prove of greater interest to the general public. It will be in the form of an open public meeting—an opportunity for interested people to see the day by day operation in the many fields of rehabilitation.

The meeting will be on Thursday evening at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium of the Potter wing at Sparrow hospital. The staff of the medical center will be present to conduct a tour of the facilities. There will be shuttle buses to take people to rehabilitation industries which will be in operation during the hours of the meeting.

Reservations should be made by calling Mrs. Kay Ralston at IV 4-7701.

Romney Reports

This week is being observed throughout the country as Brotherhood Week, an annual event in which Americans are urged to rededicate themselves to the brotherhood of all men of all races and all religions.

I am wholeheartedly in support of this event, although it strikes me as unfortunate that such a reminder should be necessary nearly 2 centuries after the Declaration of Independence firmly committed our young nation to the idea that all men are created equal.

But a strong argument can be made that while such a reminder is not necessary, it is highly advisable at a time when the tides of hatred are running strong in many parts of the country.

We in Michigan can be proud of our record in recognizing the brotherhood of man. Congress is now debating a civil rights bill which, among other things, would guarantee equal access to public accommodations for all men. We have had an equal accommodations law in Michigan since 1885.

As a result of the new Constitution which took effect January 1, Michigan has a new Civil Rights commission with far-reaching powers to combat discrimination in housing, in employment, in education, and in all areas of life in which it still survives.

Aurelius

Mrs. August Balzer

Mr. and Mrs. John Alexander and Mrs. George Dare were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Scutt and family. Later in the evening they were joined by Mrs. Carl Scutt and Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Swift. The occasion was to celebrate Donnie Scutt's 6th birthday.

Sixteen persons were present for the Women's euchre party Wednesday evening. Host was Mrs. James Brookland. High score was won by Mrs. Harold Strank; 2nd high, Mrs. Lee Swartz; lone hands, Mrs. Ernest Dalby, and low score, Mrs. Dorson Droscha.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Welch and son, Jeff, and Mrs. Ruby Welch and Clarence Locke of Eaton Rapids were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Welch and son, Johnnie, of Williamston Saturday evening to celebrate Fred Welch's birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Mathews were dinner guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Mathews, Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Orr visited William Lampson in Sparrow hospital Sunday. Lampson is slowly improving. His room number is 405. Mr. and Mrs. Orr also called on Sarah Jennings at the Holloway nursing home.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Scutt and daughters, Linda and Louise, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Scutt Sunday evening.

A home talent show sponsored by the Ladies Aid society will be presented February 28 and 29 at the Aurelius town hall at 8 p.m. In addition to the home talent there will also be some visiting talent.

Fitchburg

The second in a series of Lenten services was conducted at the Munith Methodist church last Wednesday, Rev. Wilbur Silvernail of the Waterloo E. U. B. church was the speaker. Lenten service will be held at the Fitchburg Methodist church Wednesday, February 26 at 8 p.m. with Rev. John Lover of the Livingston Methodist circuit as the speaker.

Mr. and Mrs. Basil Fruin left Friday for a vacation in Florida. Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Frier-muth and daughters spent the week end at Charlevoix and attended the silver wedding anniversary of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. George Stephens attended the bowling tournament at Cadillac Saturday.

The Young Adult Sunday School class met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilford Risner for a party last Saturday.

Mrs. Edward Hyatt of Jackson visited her mother, Mrs. Lucy Grow recently.

Mrs. William Freiermuth and Mrs. Wayne Freiermuth attended a cooking demonstration at Consumers in Jackson Tuesday, February 11.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wilson and family have moved to Stock-bridge.

within the boundaries of our state.

Our proud accomplishments in the field of civil rights are not those of government alone, however.

Much of the credit for our enviable record in civil rights should be accorded the thousands of individual citizens in our state who have accepted their responsibility to live and work peacefully together with those of different races and religions.

Michigan has very large minority groups, but it has not had a serious racial disturbance since World War II. Still, we cannot afford to be smug. Much work remains to be done.

If we are to transform into reality the ideals of equal education, open occupancy, free access to places of public accommodation and equality of employment, then we must have the general support and participation of all citizens.

The state's chief executive and the Civil Rights Commission can not do the job without active, continuing citizen involvement at every level.

Our participation in the continuing American Revolution must go beyond the support of laws and regulations designed to eliminate discrimination.

It must involve the attitude we have toward all of our neighbors and co-workers—an attitude which springs more from the heart than from the mind.

I believe that we are all children of God and I believe that we are all brothers and sisters, regardless of race, color or creed.

This concept is firmly embedded in the Judeo-Christian heritage upon which our country was founded. The more quickly all Americans find it in their hearts to accept it, the sooner Brotherhood Week will become a relic of the past.

4-H Club Notes

Laberteaux 4-H club had a box social and viewed 2 movies on conservation at their February 11, meeting at the Laberteaux school. Twenty-five members and 11 parents were present.

Two conservation movies were shown by Glenn Hurlford to benefit the boys in the club who have conservation as their project.

This year the boys brought the decorated lunch boxes which were sold by shadow bidding, with the girls buying.

Valentines were also exchanged.

WISHBONE FLOWERS

The little-known wishbone flower or torenia is a lovely little plant, extremely useful in semi-shade. The bronze-green leaves on the foot-high, bushy plants are pretty in themselves. But the blue flowers are the real attraction.

Actually the upper petals are sky blue while the lower ones, often called the "lips", are violet blue. These two shades contrast with the flower throats which are yellow.

Unless torenias are grown in pots from seeds and the plants later slipped out of the pots without disturbing the roots, it is best to sow seeds where plants are to grow. Seeds will sprout as soon as the soil is really warm.

Summer care includes ample watering, spraying the surrounding air when it is dry, fertilizing occasionally and picking off dead or dying flowers. Do not try to cut sprays of torenia as it does not last well in water and the plants look badly after parts have been cut off.

Students Tell Experiences

Holt Garden club had men's night February 8 at Delhi township hall. The room was decorated in a Valentine theme.

Hostess for the evening was the club's president, Mrs. Stewart Eskes.

A poem that was written by a member, Mrs. Jon Buck, was read after which the potluck dinner was served.

For the program, Mrs. John Mackie introduced Miss Marlies

Krause of Germany, who is living with the Mackies under the Youth for Understanding program. Marlies told of some of the customs of her country. Then Tom Thorburn of Mason, an International Farm Youth Exchange student to Sweden, showed slides he had taken of various farms and families where he had lived.

Some Soils Need Zinc

"High yields and subsequent heavy fertilization have increased the need for zinc on mineral soils," according to a Michigan State University soil scientist.

"The most severe area of zinc deficiency occurs in the lake plain region of east central Michigan," says Boyd G. Ellis. "These soils range in texture from loam to silty-clay loam and are usually calcareous (high in lime)."

"Research has also shown us that zinc deficiency is more severe over tile drainage lines than in adjacent areas of a field."

Ellis notes that the utilization of zinc by the plant depends on the water solubility and form of the carrier, the particle size (in the case of water soluble fertilizers) and, possibly, the method of placement. Zinc sulfate, for example, is more effective than zinc oxide powder and zinc oxide granule.

"Under conditions of severe zinc deficiency, zinc sulfate and zinc chelate are the most effective carriers for increasing the yield of pea beans," he says.

"But applications of zinc are apparently of little benefit to the crop grown the following year. Our experiments showed that an application of 4 pounds of zinc as zinc sulfate increased pea bean yields by 17 bushels per acre the first year and only 3 to 5 bushels the second year."

In the same tests, Ellis found that the yield of pea beans decreased as applications of phosphorus increased. He explains that high residual phosphorus in the soil intensifies zinc deficiency.

Farmer Gets Less From Food Dollar

Farmers' share of the consumer food dollar dropped to an average of 37 cents in 1963. That's the lowest since back in 1934 (depression days) when it was 34 cents. The average in 1962 was 38 cents. Much of the increase in the spread between farm and retail prices reflects increased marketing costs — labor, taxes and other processing and transportation costs.

Agriculture In Action

For the fourth year in a row, we have written this story. Another year, another report of Soviet farm failure. Again, the Mad Man of the Kremlin is mad. Again, heads will roll. Three hours of talk, talk, talk, by Khrushchev himself.

This time he slipped closer to truth, for continuous crop failures are driving him there. But there still is no sign that he or the Central Committee of the Communist party intends to give farm people the kind of freedoms they must have to get the job done. The key is personal initiative, the tender loving care of a farmer for his crops, for his livestock and machinery.

But let Comrade Khrushchev illustrate his problem in his own words, delivered before a conference of frightened "agricultural workers." He is talking about the use of fertilizers:

"Unfortunately, the following shameful practice occurs: A farm is allocated mineral fertilizers; they are delivered from the plant to a railroad station and are thrown from the car straight down the embankment, and this wealth lies there for months and loses its value."

"The bourgeois press criticizes us, with full justification, for this lack of thrift. I read an article in one American publication describing how, at some railroad stations in the Soviet Union, mountains of mineral fertilizer accumulate; snow falls and covers them and children slide down them on sleds."

"This is inconceivable to an American farmer. He pays money for fertilizers and knows that if they aren't used he will, as they say, 'go broke.' Therefore the farmers store mineral fertilizers in sheds, while the industry packs them in polyethylene bags. The farmer takes care of his fertilizer as an extremely valuable material.

"From time to time, state and collective farm officials receive telegrams from production administrations threatening them with reprimands if they do not remove their mineral fertilizers from the stations . . ."

Finally, when he had shouted himself out, No. 1 Communist Khrushchev hit on the nerve of his problem when he said, "We must abandon the principal of a little bit for everybody." He is so right. Unfortunately, he was still talking only about fertilizer.

2 Libraries Plan For Open Houses

Two branch libraries of the Ingham county library system — Okemos and Haslett — will have open houses Sunday, February 23.

The Okemos open house will be from 12 noon until 3 p.m. and that at Haslett from 3 to 5 p.m.

The Okemos library has been entirely redecorated by Friends of the Library. For the Okemos open house a feature will be an art exhibit by students of Okemos high school.

The Haslett library recently moved into new quarters in the Haslett Medical building on Shaw street, just across the street from the library's former location. The Haslett open house will feature a brief formal program at 4 p.m. Program chairman will be Noel Miller, treasurer of Meridian township.

Treatment of seeds before sowing takes two forms: dusting with a seed protectant powder to control disease and inoculation with a bacterial growth stimulant to aid formation of nodules by bacteria on the roots of peas, beans, other legumes.

Two different kinds of seed treatment will result in the production of better crops. The first is dusting seeds with a protectant to control diseases which may be present on the surface. The second is inoculation of seeds with a bacterial growth stimulant.

Several types of seed protectants, each made specifically for certain kinds of seeds, are available. Read the label to make certain you are buying the right kind for the seeds you wish to sow.

Because many seedsmen pre-treat seeds of vegetables that particularly need such treatment, inspect the label on the seed packet first to find whether seeds have already been treated.

Otherwise, treatment is simple — as much of the protectant powder as will fit on the tip of a knife is added to the seeds in a packet. The packet is closed tightly and shaken to mix powder with seeds and then the seeds are sown. An added amount of protectant, in excess of that suggested by the manufacturer, can do more harm than good.

Inoculation is practised only with seeds of legumes—the plant group to which peas, beans and soybeans, lupine and sweet peas all belong. Only legumes can profit by inoculation for these plants alone attract certain bacteria which live on the roots of the plants.

These bacteria have the power to take free nitrogen from the air and "fix" it in nodules which they produce on legume roots. Since nitrogen is the chemical most closely associated with plant growth, it is a desirable addition to soil.

When leguminous crops are harvested and the roots allowed to stay in the ground to decay, valuable nitrogen is added to the soil and better future crops result.

Inoculation of seeds also is easy. The inoculant, which is of a different type for different crops, is mixed with water. This liquid is mixed with the seeds which are then sown.

Moisture is Not Always An Aid to all Farmers

Moisture isn't always a godsend for the farmer. In fact, winter moisture can actually reduce livestock production, cause animal respiratory problems and result in deterioration of farm structures.

Animals transpiring and watering devices add to the amount of free moisture present in buildings, especially during the winter months, says Robert Maddex, agricultural engineer at Michigan State University. This moisture must be removed if the right environment for efficient animal production and satisfactory working conditions for the farmer are to be maintained.

Moisture control depends upon the air temperature and the air movement through a building. Fresh air coming into a building warms and picks up moisture causing many problems.

"If this moisture-laden air can be removed from the building before it hits a cold surface, then proper ventilation is accomplished and desirable environmental conditions maintained," says Maddex.

"But if the warm air hits a cold surface, then we get frost or free moisture deposited on the interior of the building. A resulting high humidity makes animals uncomfortable and contributes to respiratory disease problems and unpleasant odors."

Maddex points out that it is necessary to keep the temperature between 45 and 50 degrees F. in a closed building for a satisfactory ventilation job.

"A good ventilation system, including an exhaust fan, fresh air inlets and insulated walls and ceilings, provides for 2 or 3 changes of air per hour without drafts," points out the agricultural engineer. Cold weather causes problems in keeping fresh air moving through a building due to a greater heat loss through the walls leaving less heat available for warming the building. Greater air movement can be provided by manually operating a thermostat or using a time clock so a fan operates a given number of minutes per hour, says Maddex.

Ventilation systems should be planned to fit the building and the type of livestock housed in the barn. A good guide would be to provide 100 cubic feet of air per minute for each 1,000 pound animal housed in 600 to 800 feet of building space.

Farm Tractor Sales Down

Because of the decline in number of farms in the U. S. and a drop in the unit sales of farm tractors, farm equipment makers have turned increasingly to the manufacture of smaller units for use by building contractors and in suburban lawn mowing.

Last year sales of farm tractors dropped to less than 200,000 from a high of more than 550,000 in 1961. Non-farm tractor sales in 1963 were about $300 million.

International Harvester is reported by the Wall Street Journal to be the leader in the farm equipment business with annual volume of about $80 million last year. Ford Motor is believed by the Journal to have sales of $70 million, J. I. Case of about $45 million and Massey-Ferguson, Ltd., about $25 million.

Dairy Group Picks Davis

Charles Davis of Onondaga was elected vice-president of the American Dairy Association of Michigan at its 22nd annual meeting, February 7, at Michigan State University.

M. J. Framberger, president of the American Dairy association, said milk now represents more than one-third of all beverages consumed in American homes. He said the organization has a budget of $7,500,000 to promote sales of milk and dairy products in 1964.

Milton Hult, president of the National Dairy council, told the convention that dairy farmers must not underestimate public interest in health. "Our job," said Hult, "is to establish the need for milk for health and well being."

Boyd Rice, manager of ADA in Michigan, reported that 70 per cent of the state's dairy farmers support the American Dairy association's sales programs through a set-aside of 2 cents per hundred pounds of milk marketed.

Increase in Food Consumption

Food consumption in the U. S. is expected to increase about 9 percent by 1968, USDA economists figure. The increase will be the result of a larger population. The average American is expected to consume little, if any, more than at present.

Increased consumption is forecast for beef, veal, poultry and low-fat dairy foods as well as cheese and ice cream. But declines are indicated for pork, butter, fresh fruits and vegetables and cereal products. There may be some boost in the consumption of processed fruits and vegetables.

Per capita consumption of beef increased about 37 percent from 1950 to 1962. Consumption of pork declined 8 percent. This shift from pork to beef is expected to continue with a slight decline in per capita pork consumption expected.

April, May, June Tornado Months

More than 3 out of 4 tornadoes come from the south-west and west, although they may come from any direction. These twisters spin with winds estimated at several hundred miles an hour around a center of low pressure, and their forward movement averages about 40 miles an hour, according to Michigan State University climatologists.

Tornadoes occur most often in April, May and June between the hours of 2 and 7 p.m., report Michigan State University climatologists. About half of them travel for distances of less than 5 miles, but a few travel over 200 miles.

French Purchase Pork From U.S.

France has purchased 2.5 million pounds of fresh pork from the U. S. in the past few weeks. It's our first commercial sale of pork of any consequence to France in many decades. Normally, France can depend on Denmark, Ireland and Holland (which are the main pork exporters on the Continent). But apparently the pork industry has not been able to keep up with the increased demand for pork in Europe.

A & P Promotes

Promotion of Robert J. Murray to director of sales of A & P food stores, Central-Western division, effective March 2, was announced today by Division President Byron Jay. He will replace Edward A. LePage, who has been elevated to the post of national sales director of the parent company in New York. In his new assignment, Murray will direct sales activities for the division's 6-state area extending from Memphis, Tenn. to Sault Ste. Marie, Michigan.

To Plant Billion Trees In U.S. During 1964

A billion trees will be planted in the U. S. this year by private landowners, including big timber concerns, according to the forestry industry. Production of beef by federally inspected packers during the last full week of January was 16 percent greater than the comparable week in 1963. Pork tonnage was up 20 percent. Lamb and mutton output was down one percent.

Sugar prices are expected to remain well above a year earlier during 1964. Per capita consumption of corn sugar increased 13 percent last year and 19 percent above the 1958 level. The average American ate about 4 percent less butter in 1963 than the year before. Per capita consumption last year averaged 6.9 pounds compared with 7.2 pounds in 1962.

Indications point to another bad crop year for the Russians. Winter wheat is getting off to a poor start, quite comparable to a year earlier. Another year of short crops down 16 percent if growers raise the number of birds this year they planned in January. Total expected, around 934,000 birds. Generally dry weather last year caused an increase of 10 percent in the number of forest fires in the U. S. The acreage burned in our national forests was 50 percent higher than in the year before. CCC may have one-fourth of last year's peanut crop in its surplus stocks. Last year's output of 1.975 billion pounds is estimated to be at least 425 million pounds more than needed for food, farm use, seed and feed.

could have a severe impact on the Russian economy and also could influence Russian actions in the international political field. A bill to broaden the food stamp plan has been defeated, at least temporarily, by the house agriculture committee. Michigan's turkey crop will be

Michigan Lists 105,000 Farms

The number of farms in Michigan on January 1 is estimated at 105,000. Farm numbers have declined every year since 1933 when 200,000 were recorded, according to the Crop Reporting service. The average size of farms in Michigan is 136 acres. Back in 1933 the average size was 92 acres. Total land in Michigan farms is estimated at 14.3 million acres compared with 18.3 million in 1933.

LYNN STILES observes equipment used at the state soil testing laboratory at MSU.

LYNN STILES, GRAE GALBRAITH and Don Bristow submit soil samples at the county extension office in Mason.

4-H'ers Try Their Hand At Testing Soil Samples

What happens to a soil sample? The 4-H soil conservation group of the Laberteaux club (Leslie) explored this question last week. The members are studying soil conservation with their leader, Mrs. Elmer Bristow, Leslie.

Each 4-H member in the group had taken a soil sample earlier from their parents' land. Last week they brought the samples to the county extension office in Mason, where the samples were accepted in the regular manner, with a brief history of the field recorded as well as plans for its use in 1964. The members learned about how a county extension agent makes recommendations after the soil is tested at the state laboratory at MSU.

Next, the group and Gary Seever, 4-H extension agent, took the samples to the state laboratory. There the boys learned the procedures followed in testing a soil sample. They found that modern equipment makes it possible to test for more elements than was possible at the county soils laboratory which is now closed. The equipment available at the state laboratory also assures a higher degree of accuracy.

The 4-H members studying soil conservation in the Laberteaux club are David Longstaff, Don Bristow, Lynn Stiles and Grae Galbraith.

GOOD ENOUGH TO EAT

The petunia on the left is a pale, baby pink named Peppermint. That on the right is a scarlet and white called Strawberry Tart. Both of them have many blooms on mound-like plants.

Described as a "delicious visual dessert" is the petunia shown above on the right, a scarlet and white double multiflora named Strawberry Tart. And, on the left, is a light, baby pink double multiflora petunia named Peppermint. Don't you think they look good enough to eat?

Both of these petunias are first generation hybrids, sturdy and floriferous. Both have flowers about 2 1/2 inches across. However, Strawberry Tart is an exceptionally dwarf petunia of its type and grows only 10 inches high and about the same in width. For this reason it is especially useful grown in pots or used as an edging for a driveway, path or flower bed.

Peppermint, on the other hand, grows to 18 inches in diameter, with the profusion of fluffy flowers almost hiding the foliage of the mound-like plants. These grow a foot high. A solid bed of Peppermint is a lovely sight. It isn't only new petunias that bear names of luscious foods. There's a new flowering tobacco or nicotiana named Lime Sherbet; a single-flowered multiflora petunia called Peaches 'n' Cream. A new strain of galliardias is called Lollipop, a verbenas Candystripe, and a mixture of white with pink and red shades of bachelor buttons is named Pink Julep.

Do you think that the gardener who plants these new flowers in his garden this year might be said to have exceptionally good taste?

Farm Bureau Gives Views On Subsidies

Michigan Senator Hart and other congressmen who support truth in packaging could do much to protect consumer interests by extending their crusade to current Washington farm proposals, according to the legislative counsel of the Michigan Farm Bureau.

Dan Reed, who deals in legislative affairs for the big, 70,000-member farm organization, said last night that there are "false bottoms, false labels and false values" attached to compensatory payment handouts currently pushed upon agriculture by the secretary of agriculture and the Johnson administration.

Speaking before newsmen and farm leaders of Monroe, Washtenaw and Lenawee counties, Reed said that the McGovern wheat certificate bill, the McCarthy dairy bill and the Talmadge-Humphrey cotton bill, now before the senate agricultural committee, contain "false advertising" because they are promoted as a voluntary sure-cure for high food prices, falling farm incomes and increasing farm program costs. "It is falsely advertised and promoted by Congressmen Harold Cooley (chairman of the house agriculture committee), by vice-presidential aspirant Hubert Humphrey, and Senator Talmadge of Georgia and others."

Each of the men listed by Reed has placed farm proposals in the congressional hopper calling for some form of "compensatory" or direct government payment to farmers. "Farmers and consumers are told that these bills will cut program costs and ease food budgets when, in fact, the opposite is true. They just appear politically appealing because they offer something to everyone," Reed said.

"The only thing voluntary about the McGovern wheat certificate plan is that Senator McGovern has 'voluntarily' removed it from the dangers of another turn-down by farmers in referendum. He has 'volunteered' congress for this task by side-stepping farmers' opinions this time

Read said. "It is the same kind of 'volunteering' done in the army."

"While getting sticky fingers from protecting consumers by counting the number of cherries in a custom-baked pie, we wish Senator Hart and the others would also examine the number of sticky controls farmers would find mixed in with the political handout programs now being cooked up," Reed said.

Holiday

The county office of the United States department of agriculture will be closed Friday, February 21, 1964. Agencies represented in this office are agriculture stabilization and conservation service, farm conservation administration. The Friday vacation is in recognition of Washington's birthday which falls on Saturday.

Servicemen

Pfc Alfred W. Clark, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alva E. Clark, Mason, is participating in a Continental Army Command (CONARC) field exercise at Fort Polk, Louisiana, which ended February 15. The mock war exercise is designed to improve the combat performance of ground troops. Clark, a tank gunner in Company A, 1st Battalion of the 1st Division's 13th Armor at Fort Hood, Texas, entered the army in August, 1961. The 19-year-old soldier attended Springfield high school in Mongo, Indiana.

Pfc Donald L. Wythe, whose wife, Nancy, lives in Lansing, is a member of the 537th Ordnance Company team that won the Conn barracks basketball tournament in Schweinfurt, Germany, late in January. Wythe's team won 5 games in the elimination tournament. The 21-year-old soldier, a repairman in the company, 66th Ordnance Battalion in Schweinfurt, entered the army in June 1963. He completed basic training at Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri, was last stationed at Fort Sill, Oklahoma, and arrived overseas in December, 1963. Wythe, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oakley D. Thornton, live in Holt, is a 1961 graduate of Holt high school.

CHECKERBOARD service bulletin

How are your hens doing?

More and more, profit-conscious poultrymen these days have before them the facts it takes to decide how to feed and manage birds for most profit.

Look over your records. Ask yourself if your birds, over a 12-month period, will lay more than 240 eggs per hen and consume less than 4.2 lbs. feed per dozen.

These are the standards leading poultrymen all across the nation who feed the Purina Way have come to expect.

You, too, can aim for these goals—and at low cost—by feeding a Purina Check-R-Mix ration. We use 3/4 your own or local grain and 1/4 Purina Concentrate—mixed according to Purina Research-developed formulas.

Come in. Let us set you up to grind and mix when you want it done. Or we'll deliver on a regular schedule.
