The Eaton Rapids player is carried off on a stretcher and the game continues.

Camera Sequence Catches Downfall of a Greyhound

This unusual sequence shows a basketball injury in progress and the moments of anguish thereafter. Mason was sporting a comfortable lead at Friday night's homecoming game against the Eaton Rapids Greyhounds.' A tussle for the ball resulted in a Greyhound falling in battle. He was hospitalized and is now recovering at home and expects to be back in play for Eaton Rapids next week.

Mason Gains Tourney Bye

Mason drew a bye in the Class B East Jackson bascetball tournament, one of he toughest collection of Class B teams in the state. The tournament will offer 2 games Tuesday night, March 3, 2 games Thursday night, March 5, and the finals on Saturday, March 7. Tuesday games will pit Jackson Northwest, 0.15, against Jackson Western,

1.3, at 7 o'clock and East Jackson, 12-2, against Jackson St. John, 10-3, at 8:45. Thursday night at 7 Jackson St. Mary, 10-5, will meet the winner of the East Jackson-Jackson St. John Jackson St. John, winner twice over Mason, is listed as tourney favorite with East Jackson also rated high so no matter how the Tuesday night games fare, Coach Bob Finch's boys will have their work cut out for themselves.

Lantis Gives Ideas for Centennial

Harold Lantis of Stockbridge explained the background work necessary to stage a community birthday celebration to Mason Kiwanians Tuesday night. Lantis was chairman of the Stockbridge 125th observance 3 years ago.

Mason will observe its 100th anniversary as an incorporated village in the summer of 1965. Plans are already underway for a community-wide observ-

Lantis told Kiwanians that there ought to be 3,000 people out of 5,000 in the community who are willing to devote their talents to the project. He estimated it would take a budget of about $15,000 to make the event effective.

The Stockbridge merchant emphasized that the event

The Stockbridge merchant emphasized that the event should be financed by activities and sale of souvenirs and not through direct contributions. He held out the lure for Mason that if the centennial was handled correctly, it could be used for some lastng community project. Kiwanians expect to have Lantis back in Mason within the next few weeks for a community-wide meeting.

School District Will Decide Extra Millage Tuesday

Tuesday is the day of decision for Mason school district electors.

Voters will go to the noils to settle 2 school finance issues. One calls for levying 6 mills for operational funds for the Mason school system. On this proposal all qualified school electors will be able to cast their ballot. The second proposal calls for the bonding of the school district for $600,000 so that a classroom construction program can be undertaken to relieve crowded school conditions. The school board has plans for adding classrooms at Steele Street and Alaiedon elementary schools and at the high school. In addition a new elementary school is being planned for the site already owned at Columbia and Aure-lius roads. On the bonding proposal only property owners of record and their spouses are eligible to vote. Both proposals were the result of recommendations made by a citizens school study committee. The 6 mills called for in the millage proposal would raise $6 per thousand dollars of state equalized property valuation. To break that down in

Tax Review Dates Set

Taxpayers in Ingham will have an opportunity to speak on the subject of their own property valuations. This is the board of review season.

Township boards of review will meet Tuesday, March 3, Monday, March 9, and Tuesday, March 10, to go hear objections and recommendations to property valuation figures. The city of Mason board of review has a different set of meeting dates. The Mason board will meet Tuesday, school board member provid-

Charles Brown, school trustee, pointed out that the following table would give the property owner his share of the operating cost if he would multiply his property valuation by the appropriate cost per thousand.

Alaiedon Aurelius Leslie Onondaga Vevay Mason

The variation among the various governmental units in the school district is because of the different formulas used for property assessing purposes in the units of government.

The Citizens committee and the majority of the school board contend that Mason must have the operational millage in order to operate in the black. They also cite the crowded school conditions which make the bonding proposal a must.

They also point out that the bonding proposal will replace the building and site fund for which Mason has been collecting millage for the last 5 years. These 3 mills expired December 31.

A heavy voter turnout is expected as a result of a campaign by the Citizens committee to place the facts before the people and an all-out effort to get voters to the poll.

The polls will open 7 a.m. Tuesday morning at the vocational building on Oak street across from the Jefferson Street school. Polls will remain open until 8 p.m.

Seniors Disapprove By a Whisker

News Polls Seniors About Voting At Age 18

class of Mason high school are pretty closely divided on the matter of reducing the voting age from 21 to 18 The Ingham County

News, in cooperation with M. Chandler Nauts, high school principal, polled 69 seniors this week and discovered that 35 of them are against lowering the voting age and 34 are in favor Thirty-six girls voted 21 to 15 against lowering the voting age and 33 boys voted 19 to 14 in favor of lowering the age limit. The seniors were told they need not sign their name to the ballot unless they wished, but 15 of the No voters and 22 of the Yes voters did. Most voters, however, gave a reason for voting as. they did. Here are some of their comments:

ing of the voting age."
"We are too immature to make any decisions," said Kathy McClellan. Gary Grandy - "I be-year.

Under the law the intermediate board before March 1, each year is required to submit its budget to a meeting of one school board member from each constituent school district to represent such a district.

At this meeting the representatives from the district Lansing; Rubert Duke, Leslie; boards shall by majority vote determine the maximum amount of the intermediate district general budget.

Following this meeting the intermediate district board will file its budget as approved with the county clerk who will turn it over to the tax allocation board which will allocate the tax rates to intermediate school districts.

The program for tonight's meeting will include a discussion of intermediate board services by Alton J. Stroud, Ingham intermedite superintendent of schools

Designated representatives from each of the school boards are the following:

A large gathering of central ton, Shiawassee, Livingston, Michigan farmers and their, Eaton and Jackson counties.

"Over the nation in a strong voice, farmers joined in opposing this plan for a government-controlled agriculture. It is a breach of faith now for Secretary Freeman and the administration to be pushing the same sort of program through congress on the basis of arm-twisting and politi-cal pressures," he said.

Okemos Will Host Wrestling Regional

Okemos high school will host 17 area schools in the Northeastern Michigan wrestling regionals this week end. Because there is no district competition in wrestling, all schools are eligible to participate in regionals," Captain Fred Stehman said, speaking for Coach George Reynolds. Over 200 boys will wrestle in the Okemos gym Friday and Saturday. Grapplers are divided into 12 weight classes. One wrestler from each of the 18 schools is in each weight class.

Four boys with top wrestling records in each weight class are seeded for the bracket competition method. "Up to 10 Okemos wrestlers

Okemos Sets Festival Date

Saturday, June 6, is the date set for the Okemos Spring Festival, sponsored by the Okemos Kiwanis club. Leslie E. Decker, general chairman, has made his appointments for the various committees. Evart Emry and William C. Geiszer will co-chairman the committee on the general layout of the grounds for the tents and carnival activities. Joe Guertin will be the chairman of the ox roast committee and the serving of all the food. Mel Avery will head the committee for the auction sale and the rummage sale. Under this committee William E. Williams will have charge of solicitations. Johnnie Johnson will take charge of the pickup while Robert Slider will have charge of equipment. The carnival committee will be headed by Edward Soergal and Steven Baker as co-chairman. They will have charge of the rides and all concessions. Richard Wever, Harold Glass and Robert Jacobs will head the committee for the plans and participants in the parade. Thursday.

Holt Books Pro Cagers

The New York Harlem Astronauts will appear at the Holt gym, Thursday, March 5, at 8:00 p.m. The Astronauts will meet the faculty in a game being sponsored by the Varsity club.

These famous laughmakers will not only present an evening of fine entertainment. but also play outstanding basketball. With Herky the Hobo and Deacon Cleveland and Shaky Jim Stanley, the Astronauts present 3 fine showmen. Herky will entertain before the game with his fine ball handling routine and then will proceed to imitate some of America's most outstanding show people, including Jack Benny, Rochester, Walter Brennan, Jimmy Durante, Ed Sullivan, Amos and Andy, and Nat King Cole among others.

The Astronauts play anyone, they are currently unbeaten. This team won 182 games out of 182 last year.

Tickets are available from any Holt Varsity club member, or at the door on the night of the game.

HOLT - The Holt board of education in session Tuesday night formally adopted a budget guide and received a report of a study made by the professional problems and salary study committee.

Mason Woman Tells Of War on Cyprus

The rattle of machine guns, the sputter of rifle fire, the killings, the fires and all the terrors of beleaguered Cyprus are far away now, but they remain a vivid memory in the mind of Mrs. John (Nancy) C. Welch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Haynes, of 350 N. Rogers street in Mason.

Mrs. Welch and her daughter, Renee, 21 months old, arrived at Capital City airport in Lansing Thursday morning and are now enjoying the peace and quiet of Mrs. Welch's parents' home.

She left Beirut, Lebanon, at 1 p.m., Mason time, Wednesday, landed at Newark, New Jersey, Thursday morning and then flew on to Lansing, where she arrived about 11 a.m. Thursday. Since last August, until 2 weeks ago, Mrs. Welch had lived in Nicosia, capital of Cyprus and scene of bitter guerilla warfare between the Greeks and Turks,

Two weeks ago she went to Beirut to await passage to America. Her husband is still in Cyprus where he is serving with the U.S. marine corps.

Mr. and Mrs. Welch made their home in a house just outside the city of Nicosia. It was located about a mile from where some of the fighting took place and she said she could often hear the roar of guns as Turkish and Greek partisans clashed.

But she said her family was well treated by the Cypriots in the neighborhood. She said various parts of the city. The Cypriots with whom she came in contact were well-educated and polite and spoke fluent English, she said. "It was very quiet in our neighborhood, but we did hear the shooting. However, I never saw any demonstrations of any kind." Asked if at any time she was frightened by the gunfire, Mrs. Welch said she was not. "I don't know just how I felt," she added.

Most of the present fighting started around Christmas time inside the walls of the

She described Nicosia as very modern in some sections and not so modern in others. Living conditions, she said, were not bad. Prices of some articles were higher and others lower than in the United States. Staple foods were available and Nicosia shops were well stocked, she said.

Mrs. Welch and several other Americans left Cyprus on February 5, bound for Beirut. She remained in Beirut 2 weeks awaiting passage on a plane for New York, Beirut is 160 miles from Cyprus. Several Americans — mostly women and children - returned with her on the plane to New York.

Mrs. Welch graduated from class of 1957. From 1959 until Mason high school with the 1962 she was employed in the navy department in Washingthere are quite a few Ameri- ton. It was there that she met her husband, a native of Boston, Massachusetts, who graduated from high school in that city in 1952. They were married in Washington in 1961. Will she ever return to Cyprus? Mrs. Welch says she doesn't know. Her husband is still Cyprus, which is much in the news these days, is the 3rd largest island, after Sicily and Sardenia, in the Mediterranean sea. It lies 600 miles off the Greek mainland, and is 60 miles west of Syria and 40 miles south of Turkey. Its population is about 550,000. Nicosia, the capital, where Mrs. Welch lived, is a city of 82,000, according to the 1958 census and the largest on the island. Other cities of importance are Limsel, with a population of 37,000; Famigusta. 27,000; Larnaca, 18,000, and Paphos, 7,200.

The 2 major nationalities on the island are Greek and Turkish, About 80 percent of the people are Greeks, who adhere to the Greek Orthodox church, and 18 percent are of Turkish origin and Sunni Moslems. Greek and Turkish are the chief languages, but English is widely spoken in urban Cyprus was annexed to the British Crown in November of 1914 when war with Turkey broke out. The British offered the island to Greece 12 months later conditionally upon Greece aiding Serbia, then invaded by Bulgaria. The offer lapsed when Greece declined the British annexation under the treaty of Lausanne, ratified in 1924 and in the following year Cyprus was made a Crown colony. In 1960 it became a republic headed by President Makarios. In the 1950's, with increasingly disturbed conditions in the Middle East, the strategic value of Cyprus became apparent, particularly after the withdrawal of British troops from the Suez Canal zone. Discontent was growing on Cyprus with persistent attempts to smuggle arms into the island. Nationalists in Greece raised their voices in encouragement of the malcontents which provoked extreme resentment in Turkey. At the London conference in agree on a solution of the problem and an atmosphere of terrorism, repression and mistrust prevailed. All this led up to the pres-

Turkey formally recognized Tax Deadline

City Treasurer Doris Austin will be at the Mason city hall Saturday until 5 p.m. in order to accommodate those delinquent taxpayers who want to settle their county and school taxes at the city hall. Monday the tax records of those properties remaining unpaid will be turned over to County Treasurer Harry Spenny for collection.

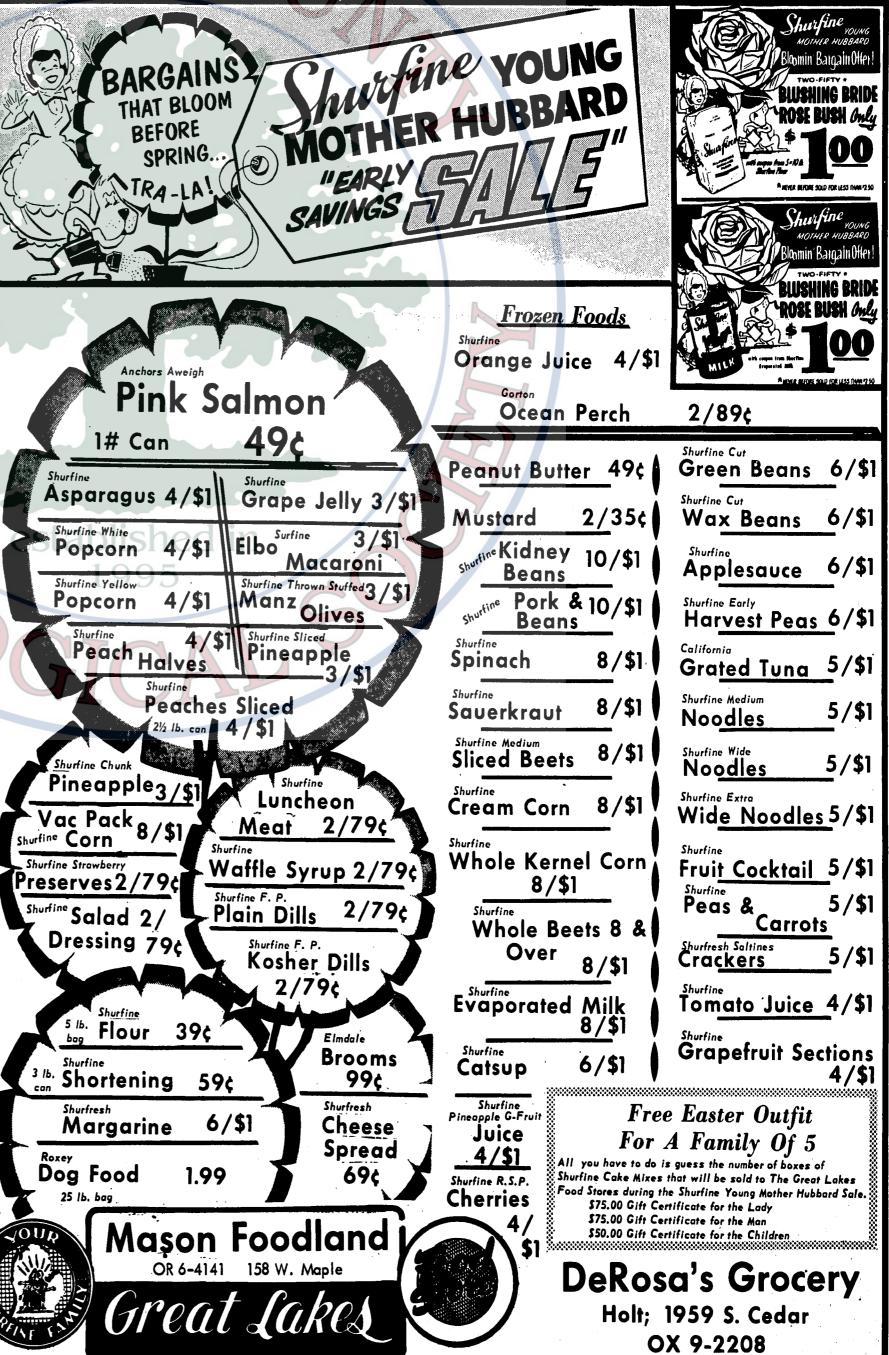

Death Takes Jim Jackson

James C. Jackson Jr., 46, died unexpectedly at Ford hospital Tuesday afternoon while undergoing examination.

Services for Mr. Jackson will be Friday afternoon at 2 p.m. at Ball-Dunn funeral home. Mr. Jackson is survived by the wife, Esther; a son, Clarence, of Mason; one grandson; the parents, Mr. and Mrs. son: 2 brothers. Howard of Leslie and Robert of Mason, and 3 sisters, Mrs. Hallie Harkness, Mrs. Robert Aldrich and Mrs. Harold Relyea, all of Mason.

Blueberry Consultants

Growing Blueberries in Michigan is big business, since they are about the only crop that is not over produced. There is a wonderful market for all you can raise, and we furnish your pickers and market.

We now have a spray that will double their growth each year and produce larger berries.

We visit your plantation three times each year, and furnish all the "know how" on how to grow them right. These plants will bear for fifty years. You can make a profit of two thousand dollars on an investment of eight hundred dollars. This is the best business we know of.

Four months out of each year takes care of them. We have been in this business for years, and with our help your money worries will be over.

Yours very truly,

200 Attend Scout Event

Wednesday, February 26, 1964 - Page A-5

HOLT — Indians and Outer Space provided contrasting themes for the awards banquet of Cub Scout Pack 142 last Thursday night at the Delhi Charter township hall.

Cub Scouts, their families and friends, numbering more than 200 turned out for the annual social event. Byron Babcock and Webelo Scouts of Den 88, Lansing, staged a program of Indian dances, Blue and gold streamers, space ships and rockets accented decorative theme for the tables.

James Anderson, training chairman for Chief Okemos council, made the presentation of service pins to den mothers and scout leaders.

Awards were presented to some 40 Cub Scouts. Holt Boy Scouts from Troop 142 enjoyed a week end of winter sports at Grayling. Making the trip were Gary and Dorne Croley, Dave Borton, Jim Spencer, Phill Bennett, Tom and Steven Brower. Robert Botko and John Brower, adult leaders, accompanied the group. Elmer Croley, scoutmaster of Troop 142, is in the Ingham

George Vogts to Observe 50th Wedding Anniversary

Sr. will observe their 50th wedding anniversary at an open house Sunday, March 8. Relatives, friends and neighbors are invited to attend the event at the Ingham township hall in Dansville from 2 to 5

Hosting the occasion are the couple's son and daughter-inlaw, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Vogt Jr. and grandson, Douglas, of Nashville.

Mr. and Mrs. Vogt were married March 3, 1914, by the late Rev. R. T. Kilpatrick of the Methodist church at Fowlerville. The couple moved from Webberville in 1919 to Dansville where they have resided for 45 years. Vogt is the owner and operator of the Vogt funeral home in Dansville. He also is a life member of the AF&M No. 60 lodge at Dansville and a life member of the Vevay lodge of Mason. He was the village president for 15 years and a member of the Michigan Funeral Directors association. Mrs. Vogt is a life member of the Dansville chapter of the Eastern Star. No. 90 and a member of the Methodist church. The couple requests that no gifts be sent. Library Open Houses

Open houses at the Okemos the Haslett facility the finest and Haslett libraries Sunday afternoon drew more than 300 persons to the 2 facilities. The Okemos open house was from noon until 3 p.m. and that at were Robert Robinson, Meri Haslett from 3 to 5 p.m.

A feature of the Okemos library event was an exhibit of some 300 pieces of art done by Okemos high school students which included water colors, charcoal drawings, ceramics, pieces done with yarn on burlap, silk screen work, crayon drawings, some abstract paintings and 2 attractive book covers.

In the library foyer a novel exhibit was hung. It was built by winding vari-colored string which had been starched around an inflated balloon. When the string had been wound, the balloon was deflated, leaving the ball-like string with its many colors suspended in such a way as to give a spider web effect. The art exhibits were displayed all through the library quarters and drew laudatory comments from all the visit-

"It was the most successful open house we have ever Mrs. Hope Borbas, librarian of the Okemos branch of the Ingham county library system, said. About 50 persons signed for membership in the Okemos Friends of the Library.

In Haslett about 100 visitors flocked to the new quarters of the Haslett branch library. They came not only from Haslett, but from Williamston. East Lansing, the Waverly school library, the state library in Lansing and from

The open house marked the opening of Haslett's new and expanded library facilities on the lower level of the Haslett Medical building, 5681 Shaw street.

The Women's Literary society of Haslett and the Meridian Charter township board working together helped to make the library expansion possible.

Renwick Garypie, director of the Ingham county library system, in a brief talk during the program in connection with the open house, called branch in the county. Other speakers at the program of which Noel Miller was master of ceremonies, dian township supervisor who told the audience that the library expansion had been accomplished without any cest to the taxpavers. Also introduced was Mrs. Lawrence M. Sommers of Haslett, the prime mover of the Citizens committee to obtain the new facility. Organizations and individuals who donated gifts to the library were recognized during the program.

The Citizens committee was headed by Miller as chairman, Morse Jury and Douglas Federeau. They made a study of the situation and presented their recommendations to the township board which approved the new quarters and included the cost of operation in the 1964 budget.

Mrs. George Whitehead is president of the Women's Literary society. Her committees in charge of the open house included Mrs. Sommers as general chair; Mrs. Harry G. Hedges, tea chairman, assisted by Mrs. Roland Johnson and Mrs. Milton Lamb. The hospitality committee included Mrs. Donald Fineout, Mrs. Roland Davis and Mrs. Max

Mrs. James McClure is the librarian and Mrs. Harold J. Raphael, assistant librarian at the Haslett branch library.

SPACE-AGE PLANETARIUM FOR MSU--The new Abrams Planetarium at Michigan State University offers students and the public an astronaut's view of the stars and planets. The projector being checked by technician Zenon D. Billeadeaux, left, has the unique ability to show the heavens as they appear from the earth, the moon, or any point in outer space. It can even simulate the pitch and yaw of a manned satellite. Visitors to the planetarium may see displays including a giant globe of the earth and a black-light gallery featuring luminescent "spacescapes" of the moon and planets. The $530,000 facility was made possible by contributions to the MSU Development Fund, including $250,000 from Mr. and Mrs. Talbert Abrams of Lansing. Curator Victor H. Hogg reports that the Planetarium, which is to be used primarily for students, will open to the public in March.

Higher taxes. Don't dare to tell me you can't afford them. Have you had children that weren't able to learn in some subjects, who wanted good marks, but just couldn't understand what was being taught? Or a young child who wanted that cherished "A", so he just once in awhile looked at another paper to get the right answer?

No? Then you are a lucky parent to have children who learn easily.

Have you stopped to wonder why we have drop-outs in high school? Do you suppose they are A students? They want to pass a law to keep children in school until they are 18. At one time they wanted to issue drivers license only to good students. What an injustice! Do you really think a child likes to get poor marks?

a big share of the time of the Delhi Charter township board at its meeting Monday night in the township hall. Frank K. Evans, engineersuperintendent of the Ingham county road commission, appeared before the board and discussed plans for improvement of several roads in the township and explained how the money for such improvements is allotted to townships throughout the county. Evans was invited by Supervisor Joe Kiersey to attend Monday's meeting of the board following receipt of a letter from Evans in which he discussed the road betterment for Delhi township in 1963 and the plans for 1964. In his letter Evans said that the total expenditures on the 1963 betterment program in the township were $26,202.88, which was $6,107.12 under the estimate.

He said the township at this time has a credit balance of $3,353.66 available for use in 1964. In addition to this, he said the township advanced an additional $5,950 in October of last year which would be a eredit of slightly more than $9,000 which can be used on a matching basis. The county road commission allocated $6,000 of its 1964 road budget for improvements in Delhi township and Evans said he thought it would be possible to increase this to approximately $9,000 due to othor townships not using their full allocation. The county road commission, he explained, has established as its 1964 policy that it will match the township on an equal basis on the limits of funds available for construction of township roads or arterial streets. The road commission will place a limitation of 20 percent participation with county road funds on residential plat streets where the remainder of the money will come from township funds and/or township special assessment funds. In other words, Evans said, the 50 percent participation with county funds is not available in pureresidential subdivision streets. The board received a copy of a letter addressed to The State Journal in Lansing, calling attention to the condition of Dell road where one boy was killed and 3 others injured in an accident a short time Holt In Brief Mrs. Alton Kinney

Bloodmobile Visits Mason

The American Red Cross bloodmobile will make its first visit of 1964 to Mason Friday, March 6, and will set up to receive blood from donors at the Presbyterian church. The bloodmobile will be in operation from noon until 6 p.m.

Mrs. Lorraine Bebee of Mason is coordinator for the bloodmobile visits to Mason. It will make 4 trips to Mason during the year.

Mrs. Bebee said Mason is not giving its full quota of blood. She says Mason residents are not giving enough even to supply their own hospital-Mason General.

Mason General uses about 500 pints of blood a year, Mrs. Bebee said. If Mason is to keep up with the requirements of its own hospital, let alone its responsibilities to other hospitals its residents would have to produce 125 pints of blood at each visit of the bleedmobile during 1964. The average bloodmobile stop in Mason collects about 80 pints.

New Leslie School Will End Crowding

LESLIE — Leslie pupils. parents and school faculties are happily awaiting the opening of the new $795,000 new high school which is expected to be ready for classes at the opening of the 1964-65 school year next fall.

The new building now being pushed to completion in the northwest section of the city, will provide more space for classroom and recreation areas and give Leslie separate buildings for junior and senior high school students.

Old Yerby Home Being Torn Down

LESLIE - The old house at Race and Main streets has been torn down with the exception of a small portion on the south side.

The 2-story frame dwelling was more than 100 years old. It revealed its age through its architecture. It had gingerbread trimmings, which long have been out of style.

John Mitchell, 80, a retired Leslie merchant placed the age of the house which was built by Henry Yerby and has been handed down from generation to generation through the years. It is now the property of the builder's grandson, Henry Yerby, of Jackson.

The present high school building was erected in 1928, and for years has housed both junior and senior high school grades. As the years went by the enrollment increased and the present building has become over-crowded.

The new school will relieve all this.

The present junior-senior high school has an enrollment of 566 students enrolled from the 7th through the 12th grades. The new high school building will house only those from the 9th through the 12th grades. The other building then can house pupils from the 5th grade through the 8th grade.

The new building will have a gymnasium capable of seating 1,500 persons as compared to the one in the present high school which seats only 500. It also will have other educational facilities, including a large cafeteria and 16 classrooms.

Heart Attack Proves Fatal

LESLIE - A heart attack suffered at his home Wednesday brought death to Robert Engers, 36, of 3130 W. Territorial road, Rives Junction. He was employed as a guard at Jackson prison.

Last week Kenneth Brooks, Harold Walker, and a representative of Consumers Power company inspected the trees and Consumers officials ageed to remove 47 of them which are endangering the power lines.

The village employes, Walker and Kelly, are busy now removing about 14 of the trees, and will also clean up the brush as Consumers takes trees down.

Three or four that are not near Consumers' lines are too large for the village equipment, and these will have to be removed by professionals as will 2 large limbs that overhang a house.

The standard duty of Marines at the embassy is that of a watchstander. They are responsible for the security of classified material and the protection of government property and American lives within the embassy grounds.

The duty consists of pulling 8-hour security watches every other day, conducting security inspections and raising the United States flag on Sundays and holidays,

There are 13 marines at the Ankara embassy. The detail is under command of 2 sergeants.

Schram and his mates live in a 15-room house owned by the American government. They have 4 servants to care for their needs. In the household also are 2 puppies as mascots.

Mrs. Schram says her son is enjoying his mission and his life in the Turkish capital.

Churches Marking Lent

WILLIAMSTON --- Williamston churches are engaged in a program of denial, fellowship and spiritual growth for the Lenten season.

The First Baptist church is having guest speakers fill the pulpit in the absence of the pastor, Rev. Harold Reese. Tom Seller, a Detroit physicist, spoke at the regular services on Sunday, February 23. St. Mary's Catholic church is having 2 Lenten services and 7:30 p.m.

The Free Methodists plan a revival for the last days of Lent. Rev. D. A. Woods of Perry will be present at these services.

The Memorial Lutheran church is conducting weekly services each Wednesday during Lent at 7:30 p.m. with the pastor, Rev. Arthur Clement, in charge. A fellowship hour follows the devotional service. The Nazarene church is having a special revival servicebeginning March 15. The Sunday school is having a campaign during Lent with the theme, "I Will Stand by Christ," Rev. Francis C. Haff is the minister.

The Williamston Community M. E. church has a schedule of weekly meetings on Thursdays at 7:30 p.m. from February 20 to March 27 when the churches unite on Good Friday. There will be potluck dinners in fellowship hall on February 20 - March 5 and March

Langdon Is Named Top Senior

Langdon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Langdon, 1369 James Ave., Williamston, has been selected for this year's Senior Citizenship award.

He has been active in all sports since his freshman year and is a valuable player for the Hornets basketball team in his senior year. He is also a member of the Varsity club and an outstanding member of the Honor society. Although scholastic ability is not a requirement for this award he has been on the honor roll throughout his high school career.

Langdon is an active member of the student council, an officer of his class and belongs to the band, chorus and Williamston boy's quartet. He also took part in the senior play and was chosen to the Snow Ball court this year.

Langdon was chosen for the award by his classmates and teachers for his ability in leadership, service, patriotism and dependabilty.

Stockbridge Youth Finds Far-away Places Do Exist

STOCKBRIDGE -Yes, those far away places are really there, and when you see them, they become as real to you as Detroit, Lansing or some other familiar landmark, So says Larry Porzsolt, son of Dr. and Mrs. Ernest Porzsolt of Stockbridge. Larry has just returned from a semester of studies aboard the University of the Seven Seas which included a world tour along with regular classes. The ship with the students and their professors sailed from California last fall and after visiting 22 ports in 18 countries, docked in New York earlier this month.

Larry said he enjoyed all of the countries he visited but was impressed the most by what he saw in India.

"What a terrific contrast in ways of living," he said. He said it seemed that the poor were terribly poor, living in worse conditions than the animals in our country, while on the other hand, the rich are very rich. It was in India that he saw the most beautiful building of any seen throughout the entire trip, the Taj

Among other interesting sights, Larry said they saw the children of Prince Ranier and Princess Grace, looking out of their windows in Monaco, the Valley of the Kings in Egypt, and noticed that the Red Sea is really red (in the evening when the sun sets).

He said that in every port they called, they were given a warm welcome and a stately reception. In Malysia, he said, the group spent Christmas with the prime minister, and the American consul there entertained them at a New Year's eve party.

While in Rome, they were privileged to have a private audience with the Pope.

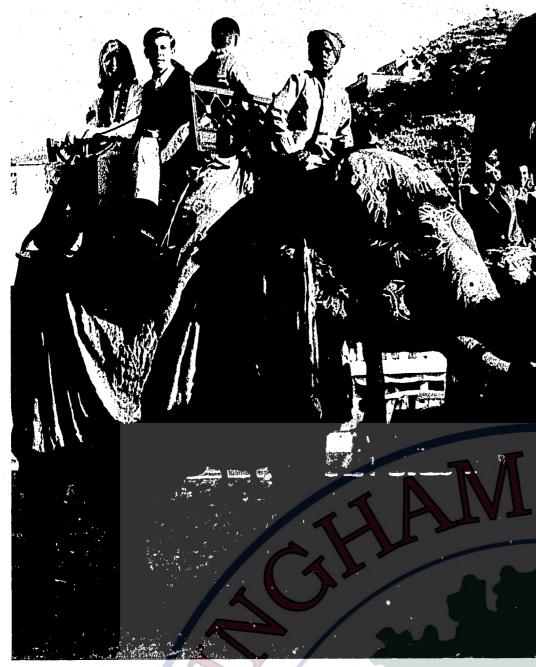

And in Saigon, they saw some of the rather unpleasant sites where Buddhist monks had burned themselves to death in protest to the treatment they were receiving from the government.

When asked how he found other countries' attitudes towards the United States, Porzsolt said, "That depends on what port you are in and whether or not the country receives American aid. Americans appear to be generally liked on the average." He said in those countries where American aid was being given, the economies seemed to be booming. In Bangkok, for instance, progress is so great that they are removing many canals to make room for buildings and roads. In Hong Kong, he said they were able to walk right up to the border of Red China. "On our side of the border," he said, "every man who was able had his own piece of land, no matter how small, while on the other side, it was all one huge rice field, signifying collective farming used by the

In addition to all their regular classes, the students, before going ashore in any port, were instructed in the customs of the country so as not to offend anyone.

You see so many people living differently, thinking differently, worshipping differently and although you cannot understand it all, or be willing to live as many people in other parts of the world do, one cannot help but learn a little more respect for other people's way of life."

2 Stockbridge Boys Score High In Math Tests

STOCKBRIDGE - Larry White and Eldred Yerks, seniors at Stockbridge high school, finished in the final 10 percent in the Michigan mathematics prize competition, marking the first time any Stockbridge student has ever scored that high.

The test was divided into 2 parts. Part I was taken by more than 20,000 students representing 536 high schools in Michigan. Only those students with a score of 12.4 or higher are qualified to take Part II. Of the original 20,000 participants, only 888 qualified to take Part II, White and Yerks among them. White ranked 198 and Yerks 214.

Ronald Fillmore, president of the Stockbridge Junior Chamber of Commerce, whose organization carried out a longand arduous campaign to have the signal installed, said he had been notified just this week of the action.

He said he had been told that costs of installing the signal will be borne by both the Grand Trunk railroad and the state highway department. Fillmore/said that a good share of the credit for the success of their campaign should go to Rial Ashmore, chairman of the committee. He said that as a result of the many signatures obtained on petitions by Ashmore's committee, the danger which exists at the crossing was made quite clear to both railroad and highway officials. After rechecking their records as to the number of accidents that have occurred there, it was decided that a warning signal is need-

Letters

This letter is written in regards to all the recent controversy over the behavior of our teens.

I was honored to attend a dance at the Teen Center in Mason this last Wednesday evening and I have not enjoyed an evening so much in a long time. I want to thank all the teens that attended this dance for the very polite manner in which I was accepted.

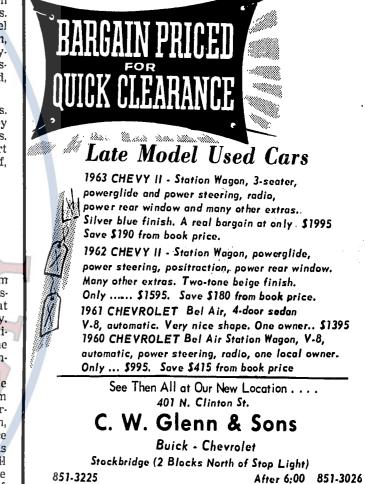

I can say that I am very proud that my 6 children will grow up with you and become good citizens of Mason. I know of no other town in which I would raise my children and be so proud to do so.

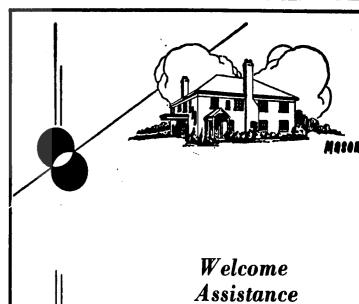

There are many parents who would have an altogether different outlook on teens if they would take the time to attend a teen social gathering just once. If some of the parents were as polite and sociable as their teens then this would be a much greater community to

There may be a very few delinquents in our town but I can assure you it must be very few and these teens can be helped by their own parents and by all others who are interested in our community,

Again I say to the teens of Mason: I am proud of every one of you whom I have had the pleasure of meeting and I pray that each of you will help your parents rather than are the ones who need help and understanding.

School Addition Planned

DANSVILLE - The board of trustees of the Dansville school system has announced, as part of its long range program, plans for the addition of 11/2 rooms and possible enlargement of the shop building to accommodate a new biology and general science room.

Architects have been authorized to prepare plans for a Type A student facility school building. The new facility will include a classroom, wash room, and a conference room. Construction will begin in early summer and should be completed in time for occupancy at the beginning of the fall school

Cost of the new facility will be borne 100 per cent by the county board of education under the 3/4 mill county levy for special education, A special education teacher has been obtained for next year, Searl Briggs, superintendent of schools, has announced.

Still in the planning stage is the enlargement of the shop building. The board is studying plans for an addition on the west side of the shop building. This addition would be constructed under stage one of the 2-stage program of the hoard, Rex Townsend, president said. The new addition would permit enlarging the shop area, provide a store room and a biology and general science room.

Stage 2 of the expansion program would see a new addition to the shop building to the east providing added space for the shop and a music room. Unforeseen extensive expansion of the heating and plumbing facilities might make the cost prohibitive and compel the board to alter its present planning. But, if the expansion plans prove to be financially feasible, it is expected that the expansion program will forestall enlarging the high school for about 5 years. Vacating the band room in the high school building would allow converting it to needed classroom space.

Spring Holiday

MUNITH — Mrs. Wesley Moeckel, county women's committee chairman, announced at the Munith Farm Bureau meeting last Friday that the district spring holiday is to be on April 1 and 2 at Wesley Woods near Battle Creek. The Millinery Sale Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Dixon.

She also told of the youth Hartman led the discussion on the uses of insecticides.

Included in the report was the recommendation to offer general science in the 7th-9th grades and biology in the 10th grade. The study group also recommended that the classes be run on a 60-minute period instead of the present 45minute period. This would eliminate some study hour periods, Manning said.

The school board is now considering the reports and adoption of the recommenda. tions the PTA was told.

Following the business meeting, presided over by the president, David Haarer, a film entitled, Time Pulls the Trigger, exposing the ill effects of cigaret smoking, was shown.

Circuit Notes

After 3 months of careful deliberation and several anxious moments the jury has finally reached a verdict. Unless the Haslett Vikings can stop the Gabriels express, the Shamrocks will be crowned 1963-1964 Capital Circuit basketball champions. And, judging on the basis of the previous 97-51 pasting received by the Vikings, an upset doesn't seem too likely.

As the finish nears, third place also looks pretty well established. It appears to be a deadlock, if Mason can defeat Howell, between the Bulldogs and the loser of the Okemos-Holt contest, with the winner taking undisputed possession of second.

The other end of the standings looks something like this: Haslett, which now has a 4.9 Circuit record, can finish no higher than fifth, and if they lose they will be tied for that spot with the winner of the Eaton-Rapids-O'Rafferty tilt. The loser will drop to seventh place, and if Howell should upset Mason, will be tied for that place with the Highlanders.

With the league standings pretty well salted away, in the last week end of games attention will be focussed primarily on the scoring race. Bill Breckenfeld of Okemos, who has led the league since mid-December, now has his first real challenger, with just this one game remaining. Mason's Don Wright, with 247 points in 13 games, is just 3 points behind him. Wright collected 49 points in 2 games over the week end, and has scored in double figures in every Circuit game but one. In third place, but definitely out of the running for first place, is Mike Combs, also of Mason. He has totaled 222 points this season, although collecting only 9 in his first 3 games. Since that time he has been hitting at 21-plus points per game. The only other players with over 200 points thus far are Holt's Mike Oakes, Gabriels' Skip Drouin and Steve Kutas, Ron Arnold of Howell and Bill Howe of Eaton Rapids.

The number of players who have scored in every Circuit game has now dwindled to 22, with just one game remaining. They range from Breckenfeld's 250 points down to Howell's Mike Simmons who has 56.

Looking at the league statistics, we see that Gabriels' amazing offense has now scored 1,050 points in Circuit action, for an average of 80.8 per game. Low team on the offensive totem pole is Haslett, with a 57-point average. The defenses have a little less range, starting with Okemos' 58.7 and going up to Howell's 72.2.

Chiefs Take Highlanders

Okemos topped Howell Friday night 78.57 to stay in a 2. way deadlock for second place with Holt.

The Chiefs will resolve that second place tie one way or another Friday night when they take on Holt. In order to do it the Chiefs will have to overcome the Holt home court advantage.

Howell has a Friday night visitor coming to town in the form of Mason. The Bulldogs have slipped from the top of the heap where they were a couple of weeks ago. They will be out to regain some of the luster knocked off by Holt and Gabriels.

A big second quarter against Howell let Okemos win with ease. Going into the second period in front 16-10 the Chiefs poured in 25 points with most of them coming from Bill Breckenfeld. From there on out it was no sweat.

Breckenfeld topped the scorers with 23 points and by so doing held onto his lead in the Capital Circuit individual scoring race. Gary Hawkins was next with 20 and Mike Baker tossed in 19.

For Howell Tom Hicks posted 17 with Ron Arnold adding 15 and Dan Dailey coming through with 10.

stayed there although in the Laker Squad

Haslett just didn't have what it takes to stop Holt Friday night. The Rams ran over the Lakers 76-53.

Holt has its big test coming up Friday when Okemos comes to town. The Chiefs and Rams are locked in a tie for second place. That tie will be resolved and there is still an outside chance that a Haslett upset of front-running Gabriels would shove the winner of the Holt-Okemos clash back into a tie with the Rocks for the title.

Haslett's chances are as slim as chances could be in their date with . briels. The Rocks should have 'o much power for the Lakers.

Both Holt and Haslett had a hard time getting started Friday night. The Rams moved to a 15-9 lead in the first quarter and edged the Lakers slightly in the second period and third period. But then they broke loose in the final quarter to win going away.

Mike Oakes had another one of his good nights for Holt. The sharpshooter bagged 36 points on 15 field goals and 6 free throws. He was the only Ram to hit in double

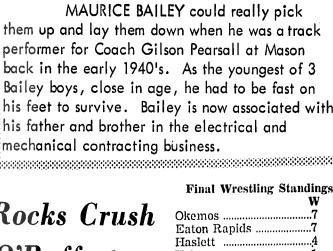

Willow Run Beats Panthers

Stockbridge went to Willow Run Friday night to meet defeat at the hands of a strong Willow Run squad. The Panthers lost 80-62 in a non-league contest.

The winners were in command all the way, leading at half-time 41-26.

Al Dishmon racked up 36 points for the winners with 15 field goals and 6 free throws. Rodger Myers led the Stockbridge scoring with 13 while Jon Mills and Larry White each had 11.

Willow Run also won the reserve game 54-52.

of a Haslett upset appear re-

The Rocks started out with a bang against O'Rafferty, pulling away to a 14-7 lead in the first period and a 41-28 lead at the half.

The second half wasn't so easy as the Raiders came back to pare 7 points off the margin in the third period and stayed even with the Rocks in the last quarter. The Rocks had 4 players in double figures with Steve Kuta leading the pack with 19 points. Larry Kish added 16, Skip Drouin scored 11 and Tom Nowosacki contributed

For the Raiders Pat Hartford was high with 18 points and Jerry Glazier added 17.

Williamston Edges Aggies

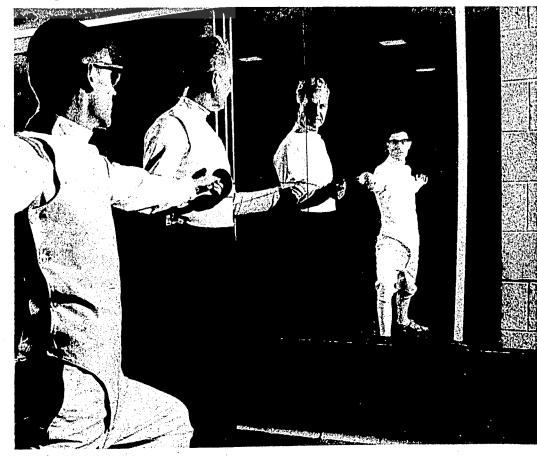

Williamston held on to its thin thread of hope Friday night by squeezing past Dansville 61-59.

That thin thread of hope depends on Fowlerville experiencing another upset day night which would enable Williamston to move into a tie with Fowlerville for first place in the Ingham County league standings.

Williamston had to rely on some last-second heroics on the part of Jim Oesterle in order to escape Dansville. With 8 seconds left in the game and the score knotted at 59-59 Oesterle let fly with a jump shot that parted the meshes.

Oesterle finished the game with 21 points on 7 field goals and 7 free throws. Langham and Langdon added 11 points each to the Williamston total and Milo Gaffner came through with 10.

For Dansville Colin Curtis was high with 20 points and almost tied up the game with a shot which just missed with the buzzer sounding while the shot was in the air. Arnold Wireman scored 18 and Jack Allen came through with 13 for the Aggies.

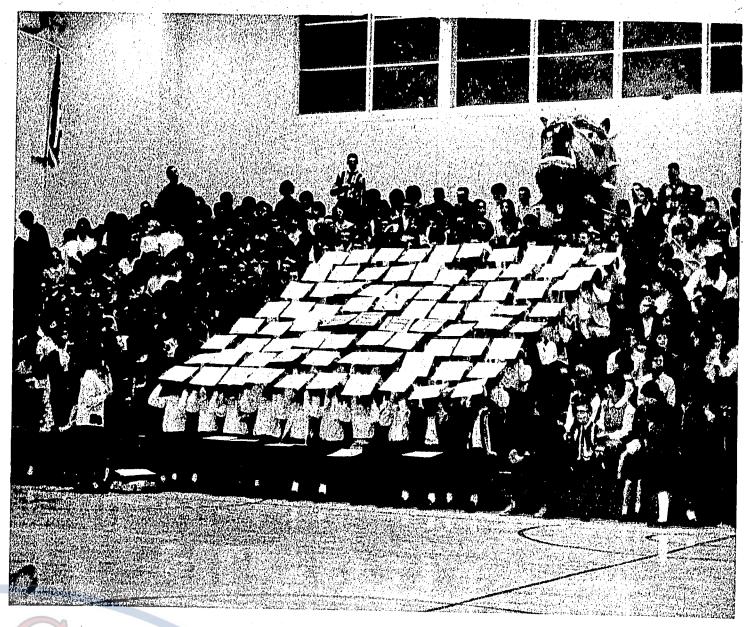

LEWIS LEONARD receives a tip on foil techniques from Spartan fencing coach, Charlie Schmitter. When Michigan State sets out to defend its Big Ten fencing title in a couple of weeks, Coach Charlie Schmitter will look to a strong foil contingent to carry more than its share of the burden. Mason's Lewis Leonard is one of three veterans upon whose shoulders will fall this responsibility. In his third season with the Spartan fencers, Leonard is having by far his best year. He's won 14 of 20 bouts with the season little more than half over. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Leonard of Mason, Lew is a chemistry major at MSU. Coach Schmitter also hails from Mason.

Royalty, Mascots, Cheerleaders, Fans All Part of the Basketball Scene

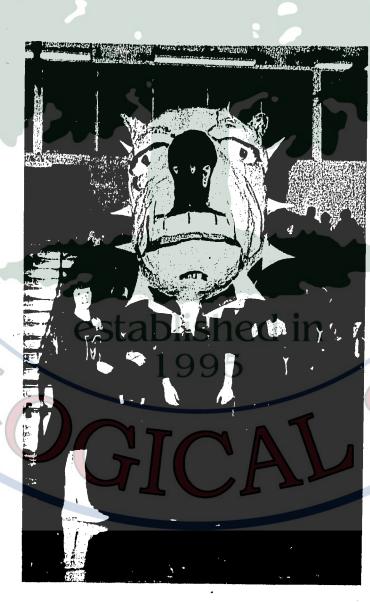

HIGH SPOT IN THE homecoming activities Friday night at Mason was the crowning of the king and queen. Last year's queen, Marcia Strait did the crowning honors on Queen Teresa Avery and King Stu Thorburn.

MASON'S BIGTIME CARD section was in full operation in the Eaton Rapids game. The Bulldogs boast one of the few high school card sections in the state. Not only does it flash the cards but it is probable one of the loudest yelling groups in the area.

CHEERLEADERS ARE AN important part of the basketball picture. In this shot Mascot Dynette Jackson, Karen Evans and Linda Parker are pleading the cause of dear old Mason high.

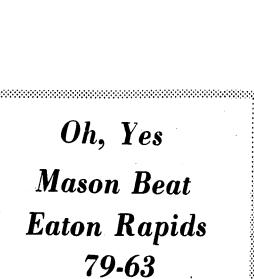

MASON TOOK THE wraps off a kingsized mascot Friday night. Ken Glynn's artistic talents provided the Bulldog head. Chuck Bates provided the body underneath the head and Cheerleader Ramona Shaw held onto the leash.

FANS ARE JUST AS important as players --- almost. Mason has a good group of faithful followers on hand both at home and away. And can they make noise!

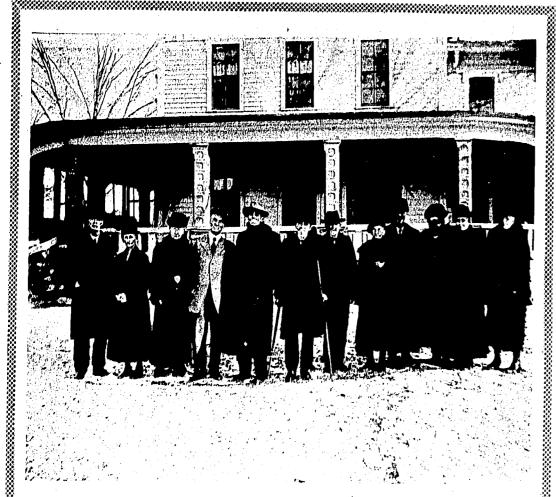

MASON'S CAGE ROYALTY took the floor for introductions before the start of the game. Queen Teresa Avery and King Stu Thorburn are the pair in the front ranks. Lined up behind them are Louise Snider, Don Wright, Valerie Harvath, Roger Hill, Debbie Dunn and Mike Combs. Paul Oesterle is the master of ceremonies.

STRATEGY, ORANGES, medication and just plain resting take up the halftime. The halftime break Friday night was more relaxing than usual due for the most part to the fact that Mason left the floor with a commanding lead.

OLD FRIENDS paused for this picture in front of the Richard J. Bullen farm home in 1925. It was submitted by Mrs. Ward Bullen. No Move Is Better than the Wrong Move

There's only one reason for a fire department.

And that's to put out fires should they occur.

That's why it is so amazing that the Mason city council isn't listening to the unanimous judgment of the community's volunteer fire department that the council-proposed site for a new fire department is probably one of the worst in town.

Reason can be piled upon reason to support the firemen's contention that locating the fire station on Columbia street near Lansing street would create unnecessary risks to life and property. The main reason cited by the council committee recommending the site is that the property is cheaper. Cheaper than what?

If price is to be the criteria for picking a fire department site, why not locate it on city property somewhere out on the back side of the cemetery or at the city dump? That would be cheap, even though it might be a worse location than even the one proposed by the city council committee.

Here are some reasons expressed by firemen why they are opposed to the Columbia street site:

A nucleus of the present volunteer fire department is now able to run to the fire hall from stores and offices in the business district. Should the department be located several blocks away, many of these loyal volunteers would be forced to give up their service to the community.

The Michigan Central railroad tracks separate the proposed site from the main business district, from the court house, the high school, junior high school and Steele Street school and from the hospital and all nursing homes. A train on the track, therefore, could conceivably separate the firemen from their equipment and the equipment from any fire in the above listed buildings. Admittedly the most fire hazardous area in the fire district is the older uptown section — a section footing 30 percent of the tax bill.

The council committee is considering probably one of the most congested areas in town. Columbia street to the west leads to an intersection continually clogged with traffic. To the east, Columbia dead ends at the cemetery, of all places. The logical route for fire equipment headed east is either up through the corkscrew bends of State street and Maple street or through the maze of farm elevator congestion of Lansing street. Columbia street in effect goes no place.

Logical routes for fires to the north or south do not exist without running stop streets and using secondary city streets.

Firemen, to a man, are sick about the proposed location. And of course, without good morale in a volunteer fire department, fire protection is lessened.

The firemen have picked a site on Ash street across from the Ingham County News as the best site available for the new fire department. Naturally, it costs more money. And naturally, it's worth more money.

The sensible approach to the location of a fire department should be based on what relationship the location has to the effectiveness of the fire fighters. A short-sighted savings in land costs at the outset could and probably would be quickly offset by catastrophic fires out of control because firemen were too late in arriving at the scene.

The proposed Ash street location is ideal. Yet there are probably other good sites, too. Certainly, it will be a mistake for the council to proceed any further toward the purchase of the Columbia property. It is condemned by all firemen as being possibly the worst location in town.

Firemen should be heard in the matter of selecting a new fire department site. On the basis of their more than 300 years of collective fire-fighting experience, they have expressed the wish to retain the department in the present over-crowded fire hall rather than to make the mistake of picking the wrong site now.

Firemen and councilmen ought to get together. They owe it to the town.

It is no new experience for Morley Fraser of Albion college to be called a gentleman and an inspiration. The former Lansing coach and current football coach and baseball coach at Albion has always been known as a forthright man who said what he thought when he thought it would do the most good.

Those who watched him officiate at the Mason-Gabriels game Saturday night saw something which bears out the kind of a dedicated sportsman and gentleman the Albion coach is. With the feelings of the highly partisan fans running at fever pitch, there was an increase in the whooping and hollering during free throw concentration.

Most officials would ignore the booing and whistling — but not Morley Fraser. He stepped to the public address system and asked the crowd to be quiet during free throws. Everyone got the word except for the usual handful of jerks present in any crowd. Other officials could copy the Albion coach's actions.

Gabriels has a beautiful high school plant. Lansing parochial schools waited a long time to get what they wanted in O'Rafferty and Gabriels but the wait must be worth it when they see what they now have to work with.

Mason has an important election coming up Tuesday — a special election for 2 school proposals. Are you going to do your part or are you going to forget to go to the polls?

"Hov: you vote?" isn't half as important a question as the one, "Will you vote?"

A responsible citizen will avail himself of the facts and then vote as his mind dictates.

For this election the facts are evident. Modern education in Mason, at least as it is known today, is in jeopardy because of overcrowding.

If there is any doubt in anyone's mind about the overcrowding then they should try to walk the halls at the Jefferson Street school between 8:15 and 8:30 on any school day morning between now and election day. What the skeptic will see will turn him into a believer. He will find 924 pupils in a building originally planned for 400.

If, on a signal, the order were passed for everyone to find a desk to sit at, there would be many pupils left standing.

With the school enrollment going nowhere but up, it is going to get worse as far as the overcrowding is concerned.

No one likes to see taxes increase but under the present school financing there is only one source for expansion purposes and that is real estate.

Until someone comes up with a new concept of school financing or a new concept of education which doesn't require the school buildings and the teaching staffs of today's schools, it is up to Mason taxpayers to do right by the community's children.

So many people with a late-model car in their garage and inside plumbing in their house advocate returning schools and the school children to the days of the horse and buggy and the path to the outhouse out in back.

The Seaway Was No Road To Riches

(Reprinted from the Davison Index)

Some years ago, when the St. Lawrence Seaway was being dug, former Governor Williams and the late Senator Moody were stumping in this area.

Both these politicians hailed the Seaway as the answer to Michigan's prayer for more jobs. Mr. Moody, speaking from Cloud Nine that particular evening, said that the Thumb of Michigan would be so full of factories and people once the Seaway was completed, there would be no problem of apportionment in the legislature. We'd have so many people around here that we'd have as many legislators as Wayne county.

Some of our good friends around Brown City were so optimistic they started buying land, planning to resell it for factory sites, come the day of the Seaway.

Well, the Seaway got dug. If you can see any difference in the region brought about by the deeper channel, you're a better man than I.

Fact is, the Seaway traffic is 30 percent under estimates made in 1958, year of the opening. Deficits are piling up on the Seaway bonds, and some sort of re-financing will be necessary.

We're sorry that the great boom didn't come, but we really weren't expecting it. We never did have much confidence in Mr. Williams or Mr. Moody in the field of busi-

Nothing's too good for the GF. When she wants something I see that she gets it. Like last Saturday. She needed more clothes pins, so I told her to go right up town and buy all she wanted.

Over the years, she's grown a little touchy about not having a clothes drier like so many other people. I usually take the position that there is no more automatic way than to just hang the clothes up where the air can get to them.

At Smith hardware looking over the 1964 model clothes pins, she was hoping to raise some eyebrows with the comment that she had never in all her life owned a clothes drier. A clerk responded that such self-denial is to be commended, but that she had just purchased her first television set. There are few families today that do not have at least one television set. Many have 2. A television serviceman I know claims that there is 1.45 television sets per family in the country right now. I don't know the ratio of driers to families and I don't want to know.

Jim Noverr of the News staff will be observing his 7th birthday anniversary Saturday. Actually, he'll be 28 years old. He's one of the lucky who can expect to enjoy almost universal youth because he was born on Leap Year. We think he's quite a capable family man for just 7 years of age. Happy Birthday!

Another News staffer with youthful ideas is John McGuire, John is versatile in and out of the office. As far as duty versatility, his latest contribution to the News is cartooning. John sketched the spoof about. Police Chief Tim Stolz at the bullfight a couple of weeks ago and last week sketched Emery Jewett washing away the sins at the court house. I've always admired cartoonists and it's a pleasure to have one on the staff.

Nobody has been calling me a Johnny-come-lately. Mason's basketball team has lured me to the bleacher section for the past several games and I expect to hang right in there until the team has a crack at the finals. I'll confess there was a timewhen I didn't get enthused about the game until after Mason headed for the district finals. I started earlier this year and what fun! It's a pleasure to be a part of such community spirit. The amazing thing is that there are always plenty of seats available and there are few such shows in the community with such "live performers."

Friday night was the home-coming game. Students went all out for the occasion. The pep songs were peppier, the school yells were yellier. The art class unveiled a huge (and I mean about 5 feet high) paper bulldog head which was paraded around the gym. At half time a men's chorus entertained and naturally, the team came through with a strong win.

It's good to see so many people enjoying (and behaving) themselves

Thoughts For The Week

Read Psalm 5:1-5, 11-12

My voice shalt thou hear in the morning, O Lord; in the morning will I direct my prayer unto thee, and will look up. (Psalm 5:3.)

T was Henry Ward Beecher who said, "The first hour of the morning is the rudder of the day." For most of us, the first hour after rising is the most crowded of the day. Perhaps we think hurriedly of God or ask Him to bless the day, but do we pause long enough to listen to what He has to say to us?

The great scientist George Washington Carver knew the need of this "rudder." He called his laboratory "God's little workshop" and referred to God as his Senior Partner. Arising at four o'clock in the morning, Dr. Carver would go out into the woods alone.

Listen to his words: "Alone there with the things I love most, I gather my specimens and study the lessons Nature is so eager to teach us all. Nothing is more beautiful than the loveliness of the woods before sunrise. At no other time have I so sharp an understanding of what God means to do with me as in these hours of dawn."

PRAYER: O God, we thank Thee for the strength Thou dost give us and the direction our lives take when we turn to Thee in prayer. Grant us Thy guidance that we may spend the hours of this day in loving service; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

STUDY OF SCHOOL FINANCES IN INGHAM COUNTY DEC. 12, 1963

The two main sources of revenue for operating schools are local taxes and state aid. This study is an attempt to show what each district in Ingham County receives per student.

	Local Taxes	State Aid	Total
Lansing	$301.21	$167.62	$468.8
Okemos	243.28	175.41	418.6
Waverly	258.08	143.35	401.4
East Lansing	241.20	159.09	400.2
Webberville	155.30	191.30	346.6
Haslett	150.76	195.36	346.1
Williamston	158.85	184.03	342.8
Holt	108.77	199.78	308.5
Leslie	98.25	197.56	295.8
Stockbridge	104.33	191.40	295.7
Dansville	80.30	194.67	280.9
Mason	76.48	192.47	268.99

The two proposals, for operation millage and bonding for school construction, go hand in hand. Buildings without operating funds would stand idle. Operating funds without classrooms would leave us in our present overcrowded condition. The program has been worked out to be balanced and should be considered as a single issue when you vote.

Another method of estimating the increased cost in operation would be to multiply by 2 the amount paid on your 63 tax bill for the Building and Site Sinking Fund.

$40,000.00 presently in debt $70,000.00 deficit spending next year

This Is What We Can Have If Both Proposals Pass

Move sixth graders from junior high school to elementary schools where they belong

- 1. Our junior high school adolescents deserve enough room in their school to provide them with a less crowded situation.
- 2. The difference in the maturity of eleven year old CHILDREDN and thirteen or fourteen year old ADOLESCENTS is very great. All our sixth graders should have the opportunity to complete their elementary education in an elementary school.
- 3. Sixth grade children need playgound space in surroundings where the differences in age and physical size of playmates are not so great. At the elementary schools, where there is space, children of the same age play together.
- 4. Sixth grade classes at the junior high school are self-contained as are classes in all our elementary schools. Junior high school classes change every 40 minutes. Sixth graders are in the junior high school because there was no room in the elementary schools.

Mystery Solved

Several readers detected the mystery farm identity published in last week's Ingham County News. The winner, however, was James Stewart of Mason. He correctly identified the farm located at 3234 West Harper road, formerly the farm of the late Ervin Neal, Tenants are the Hallie Owenses. Stewart has a check for $5 waiting for him at the News office, and the Owenses can pick up a free enlargement of the farm at the News office. Another mystery farm will appear next week.

"Fathers and mothers who successfully launch their children into the world are usually those whose emotional lives do not depend upon the continuing dependence of their children." With this statement, Eugene Pisner, Michigan State university extension specialist in family life, conducted a study on parent relations with their older youths and young married sons and daughters. Fifty-six Extension leaders met Friday at the Mason court house to consider ways that children in these age brackets could be successfully fit into their adult life.

Since human beings are by nature so different, Dr. Pisner warned that there were no pat answers, formulas or recipes that would provide guaranteed results. It helps, though, for each age group to make an effort to understand the other's point of view. "Put yourself in the other's place," he said.

When a young person finishes high school, he faces a period of great adjustment. At the very time he's "trying on the world for size," he is making important decisions that affect the rest of his life. He is faced with the necessity of a career, deciding on his education, picking out a mate, learning how to judge and to express love feelings appropriately, choosing and judging adult values and moralities. As difficult as this may seem the parents, too, are facing readjustment patterns that force them to change from the role of counselor, disciplinarian, trainer, to that of friend and confidante.

These subtle changes can be helped if the channels of communication have been kept open through years of conscious cultivation.

The saying goes, "love the child, trust the adolescent and admire the adult." If a child identifies with his parents, eventually their values and beliefs show in the actions of their adult children.

These extension leaders posed questions that all parts need to consider carefu ly. How far should parents subsidize their young adults? As young children branch out into adult life, should they be expected to keep up their home ties? Are the parents interesting enough adults to these young people? Should duty and loyalty be the only reasons that call them home? How can parents know when their offspring are ready to be on their own? What role should well-meaning parents play in the selection of their offspring's mate?

In-law relationships were examined also. Scattered research reports that there certainly are difficulties encountered when a new member enters the family circle. However, those that reported difficulties said that they were accepted and loved and that they had developed a feeling of mutual respect for one an-

There was a better chance for harmonious relationships when children married persons of similar background, when traditional courtship and marriage customs were followed, when parents encouraged their children throughout life to become independent and self reliant, yet nurtured affectionate ties with them and when the 2 generations helped and assisted each other financially and yet not to the point where it undermined initiative, independence and self respect of the young people.

Leaders from this area attending and meeting dates at which these matters will be discussed follow:

The sale being successfully behind us and our small pockets bulging with cash, we could hardly wait for Departure or "Blast Off" as Aaron

We had purchased a tent and other camping gear and had decided to camp our way across the northern United States to Sweetgrass, Montana, north through Canada to Daw son Creek, north on the 1,500 miles of Alcan Highway. Then finally through Alaska to Fairbanks where our adventure would begin:

We were driving our 1962 Dodge Dart with a small utility trailer. All had been equipped with new tires plus 2 spares for the car and one new spare for the trailer. All equipment was checked and rechecked and in top notch condition. Which was to prove to be very wise in the weeks

All our packing had been completed, including the many, many boxes that were mailed, airmail, to Barrow, Alaska, to await our call weeks later and to require 3 float plane loads. This quantity I would not recommend, for the expense was enormous! Unless, of course, you needed to appease your

Fat Overweight

Available to you without a dector's prescription, our drug called ODRINEX. You must lose ugly fat or your money back. No strenuous exercise, laxatives, massage or taking of so-called reducing candles, crackers or cookies, or chewing gum. ODRINEX is a tiny tablet and easily swallowed. When you take CDRINEX, you still enjoy your meats, still cat the foods you like, but you simply don't have the urge for extra portions because ODRINEX depresses your appetite and decreases your desire for food. Your weight must come down, because as your own doctor will tell you, when you eat less, you weigh less. Get rid of excess fat and live longer. ODRINEX costs $3.00 and is sold on this GUARANTEE: If not satisfied for any reason just return the package to your druggist and get your full money back. not uncommon to see her weather, and a screen and roll searching the alleys for nice little packing boxes, night or day. One evening, the tele in style up front with the phone rang, I answered, "Is this the people going to Alaska?" "Yes," I said. "We heard your wife needs packing boxes, this is the department store and I have some saved if you wish." I thanked him and Helen was off in a flash and returned with a car load of nice little packing boxes,

We had many goodbyes to say and the last few days we spent in this way. Our neighborhood gave us a small party at which we received a Coleman camp stove as a gift. A gift that was to be looked upon, by Helen, as a Godsend in the next few months. A large party was held for us in the Mason area, where many of our dear old friends came to bid us well. Some senior citizens made a great effort to attend. Among them were Roy Hunt, Fred Fuhrman, Grandma Lehman and Grandma Anabel Clinton. This was to be Grandma Clinton's last public appearance, for just a few days after the party and only 3 days before our scheduled departure, we received the long dreaded phone call early one morning that Grandma had passed away. The entire family was thrown into a deep emotional shock, for Grandma Clinton was very dear to us and of course, Helen loved her very deeply. Our home was now

We were soon rolling along on the new expressway heading for the great Mackinac bridge. expressway and the bridge, 2 great achievements in Michigan's highway system. An experience in road comfort we were not to witness again for several months and I am sure we did not appreciate it nearly enough. Our thoughts were to roll back to its silky smoothness in the days ahead. Crossing the bridge was not a new experience for us; however, it still remains one of the highlights of the trip. Its beauty is difficult to match world-wide. All of Michigan should enjoy it and point to it with pride. The Upper Peninsula is very beautiful in May. The deep blue of Lake Superior and Lake Michigan hold the Upper Peninsula in its great arms. The green from the dawn of spring was beginning to bud. Winter had yielded to a new freshness that one could actually live and breathe. Our family seemed to be fully aware of spring.

We arrived in Marquette about 6:30 p.m. The trailer was fine. Ginger, the dog, "liked the trip" and saw the bridge for the first time through her screen with the rolled back top. All was well. The beginning had begun and somewhere reality had been lost in a misty cloud, not to reappear again for several weeks. It lay there like a cat waiting to pounce upon its prey.

MAPLE GROVE — Those persons in Maple Grove who want to annex politically to Lansing, now have the support of the Maple Grove board of education.

The board voted to approve annexation after receiving replies to letters it had sent out to Holt, Waverly and Lansing school districts asking them to accept Maple Grove.

Waverly and Holt both said no. Lansing said it would accept the pupils if Maple Grove annexes politically to the city.

Never before has the school board backed the annexation proposal. When it came to a vote last October, Maple Grove voters voted down the proposal to annex. The vote against annexation then was 417 to 334.

Petitions for annexation have been filed by a group which designates itself as the Maple Grove for Annexation committee with the secretary of state seeking another annexation vote. They hope to get in on the April ballot.

Mrs. Boyd Cheadle who heads the pro-annexation group, said the petitions presented to the secretary of state contained 2,270 signatures, of which 700 were from Delhi township and the rest from the city of Lansing.

When and if the annexation issue reaches the ballot, Delhi township residents must vote on it.

Photog captures this shot of President Lyndon B. Johnson, pondering the problems and challenges of the new year and his new job.

year has surely been the unprecedented debut on wax of The Singing Nuns, a group of Belgian mission nuns who have proved their ability to swing with the best of them . . . The monastery of Fichermont was constructed in 1928 and completed in 1959, a total of 31 years during which time money was hard to come by in order to proceed with the building plans . . . This has all been changed today, thanks to 30-year-old Sister Luc Gabrielle who cut the sensational album that has brought in more than $1,000,000 in royalties thus far.

Sister Luc Gabrielle, a former art teacher in a Brussels high school, has been with the monastery only three years . . . She does 12 numbers on the album, all written and sung by herself with several colleagues offering the background on a few of The solos she does with her trusty little guitar with which she merely entertained other nuns hitherfore . . . Most popular song of the group, Dominique was selected as a single and released in that form and it, too, is well on its way to fame

For "show business," Sister Luc Gabrielle chose the name of Sister Sourire, which means the Sister of Smiles, a name she has been called by other sisters at the monastery . . . She was discovered when a group of teenage girls making a retreat at the monastery were enchanted by her sweet, unstyled voice and light tunes and asked her to cut a record for them to remember her by . . . She will have nothing to do with commercialization and knows only that the record she was given permission to cut has been a success . . . She will cut a second one and then probably retire as she is awaiting an assignment to the Congo as a mission-

B ARITONE Alan McGill sings songs of faith and inspiration on The Way of the Cross, his Capitol LP debut . . . Recognized as one of the top singers in the religious field, he has spent more than 15 years singing songs of faith . . . In this album he includes several old-time favorites, How Great Thou Art and Amazing Grace, some more recent: Lord Keep Your Hand on Me and three new ones, Until We Meet Again, Just Up Ahead and Thank the Lord.

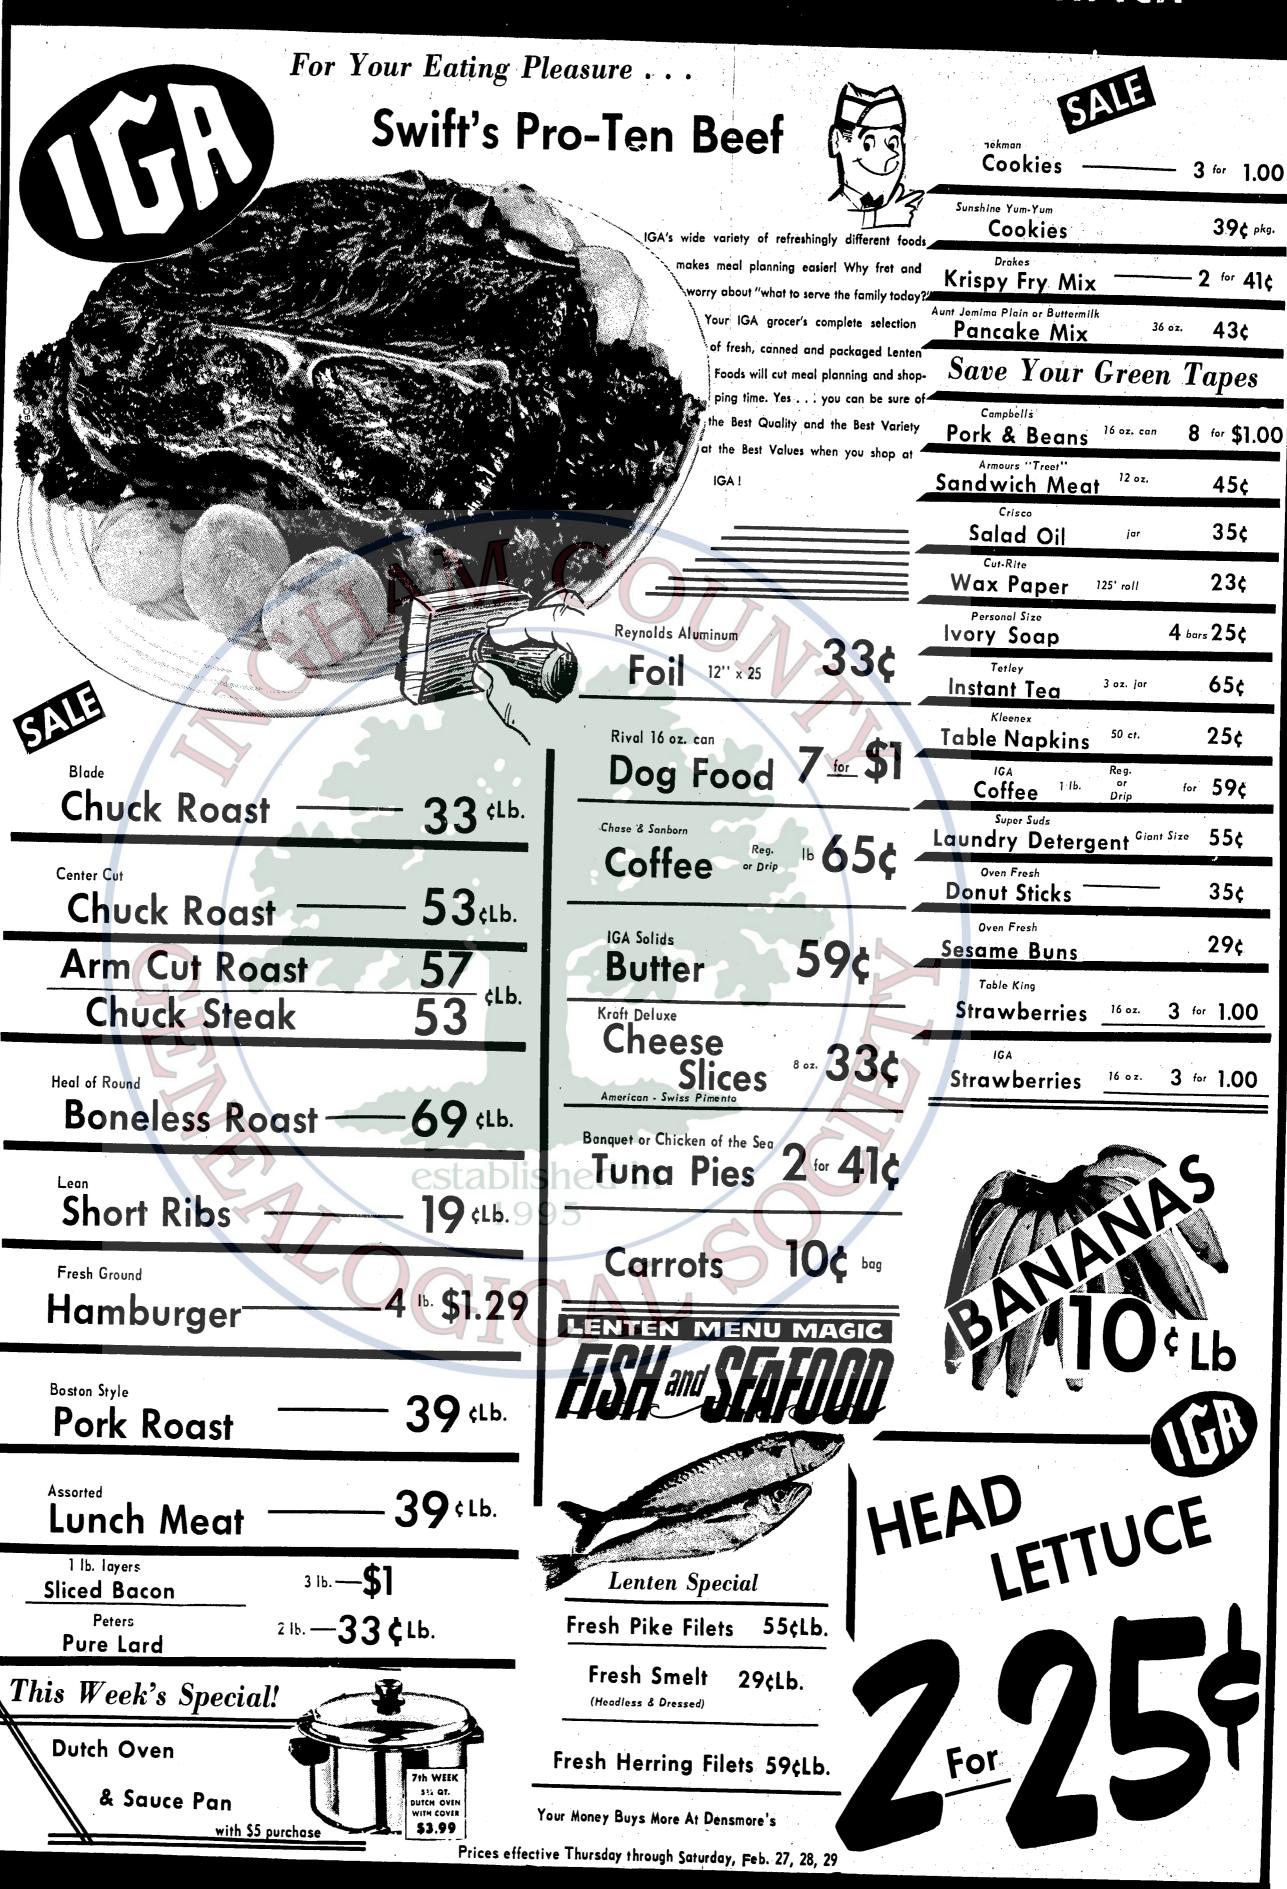

Although Danny Long is currently pounding the keyboard for Uncle Sam in the army's special services, he was still a civilian when another Capitol artist, Bobby Darin, heard him at a nightclub in Chicago and introduced him to Capitol . . . Jazz Furlough was recorded just before the talented pianist and composer entered the service and it contains several familiar tunes (I Can't Give You Anything But Love and Smile), in addition to five of Danny's own compositions—Save One for Bugs, Paul's Raffle, Part I and II, Penny, Audrey's Purpose and Mrs. E.T.

Although aficionados have heard several previous albums of bull-fight music from Spain on Capitol, the first offering of music of the bullring from Mexico is Capitol's Toros and Toreros featuring La Banda De Genarao Nunez . . . The Nunez band, known for its brassy sound, offers a selection of pasodobles of comparatively recent origin . . . Most of them were written in honor of celebrated matadors including Paco Camino, Capetillo and Del Olivar

AnimalWaste Meeting Set

How valuable is manure? What are the new methods of handling manure? Are legumes the answer?

These questions will be discussed on Wednesday evening, March 4, 8 p.m. at the Dansville town hall. The meeting is sponsored by the county extension office. Dairy, swine and poultry farmers are encouraged to attend.

An efficient manure handling system is essential to the success of any livestock or dairy farmers. It can save labor and avoid unnecessary disease problems. As farm enterprizes become larger, many farmers are facing new problems in handling and disposing of manure.

Charles Spillman, agricultural engineer, and Al Tinsley, agricultural economist, of MSU will discuss major factors to consider in planning for efficient manure handling. Advantages and disadvantages of legumes will be presented. John Smith, Williamston, will explain new liquid handling equipment that is being used on some farms in the area.

New Constitution OK'd By 4-H Club Council

A new constitution was adopted by the Ingham County 4-H club council at its February 19, meeting. It will go into effect October 1, 1964. The new constitution allows for election of 8 adults and 8 older 4-H'ers to the council. These members will be elected for 2 year terms on an alternating basis.

The addition of youth representatives to the council is a unique feature. It will insure that 4-H members have a major part in developing the countywide 4-H program. Along with the adults, they will help carry out the purpose of the 4-H council. As stated in the new constitution, "To plan, help advise and promote 4-H club work in Ingham county."

Also, at this meeting, enrollment trends since 1946, were studied by the members. Plans were outlined for a membership campaign next fall during National 4-H Club Week. The main reason for the campaign will be to offer 4-H to youth in communities where there are no active 4-H clubs at the present time.

IF IT'S TOO QUIET-TURN ON THE RADIO

Some of the finest comments that come to us from owners of 1964 Cadillacs concern the car's extraordinary quietness of operation.

A Cadillac owner remains comfortably insulated from the distraction and din of the heaviest midtown traffic. And we think that this remarkable characteristic tells a great deal about the quality and goodness of this extraordinary new Cadillac creation.

First of all, it indicates the car's high level of craftsmanship. Every 1964 Cadillac, in fact, now undergoes more than 1400 separate inspections. It indicates, too, how Cadillac's combination of functional styling, scientific soundproofing and advanced new suspension have reduced to an almost unbelievable degree the sounds normally associated with travel.

And, even more importantly, it speaks of the car's great engineering. Cadillac's dynamic new engine operates with flawless precision, despite its record power. Its new transmissions, both the Hydra-Matic and the Turbo Hydra-Matic, translate that power into smooth, hushed response . . . and combined with exclusive True-Center drive line, virtually eliminate vibration.

If you have not yet driven a 1964 Cadillac, you will find it a most revealing experience. Your dealer will have one ready any time that's convenient. Just let the car's amazing quiet do the talking.

In addition to the major display units being constructed by Michigan firms, probably most notably the auto companies, the special state participation will be timely.

"Michigan Day" at the World's Fair will be the first day of "Michigan Week" here. For the first time, the annual state promotion will have a natural national exposure. Ralph Swan, who has been associated with economic development projects and Michigan Week events for several years, is spearheading the Michigan Day plans.

Later that day Gov. George Romney will lead a delegation of an estimated 300 state government, business and industry leaders attending the fair on Michigan day.

With transportation facilities very convenient from many Michigan cities to New York, thousands of state residents are already planning trips to the World's Fair. State planners are hoping many of them will be on hand May 18 for the official tribute to Michigan.

1900 DEAD

Statistics can be deceiving, but a careful look at complete sets of records usually can give the full picture.

The traffic fatality toll for 1963, for example, indicated that at least 1,867 persons died. This was just a provisional total, however, and state police are now estimating the count will be closer to 1,900 when the last delayed reports are made to East Lansing.

This is far from the whole story on roadway tragedies. The full picture can only be seen by taking into consideration the total number of accidents, injuries and dollar

A staggering $340 million is the cost figure placed on 1963 Michigan traffic accidents by the National Safety Council.

This is based on a complicated formula including property damage, medical expenses, insurance costs and loss of HORSIN' AROUND An innovation in conservation work may be seen within the next year or 2. It could provide new avenues of recreation for Michigan's citizens.

A group of 21 senators led by Sen. William G. Milliken, R-Traverse City, has sponsored a measure to create a state system of horse trails and hiking networks

This idea originally came forth nearly 2 years ago in a report of a private organization, the Michigan Natural Resources Council.

Duties of setting up the 2 systems would be given to the state conservation department and a special riding and hiking trails advisory committee.

Under Milliken's bill a survey would be required to determine the available routes, develop a master plan and put the plan into use. The advisory committee proposal should meet previous objections relating to conservation matters in the state.

The proposal called for the Olsen Dairy conservation director to appoint a 7 member committee with 2 of the members from each of 3 districts. The upper peninsula, northern lower Michigan and southern lower Michigan would have regional members on the committee and the 7th person would be named on an at-large basis.

Camp sites are referred to in Milliken's measure but it would be left up to the committee and conservation department the extent to which such facilities would be included with the trails system.

Conservationists view the possibilities for development of this new system as tremendous. With a minimum purchase of land throughout the state many more scenic spots not now accessible by car would be brought close to the tourist.

Horseback riding, once considered on the wane because the urbanization of the state, could be revitalized greatly by facilities for its en-

MSU Plans Planetarium Dedication

Abrams Planetarium at Michigan State university will be dedicated in a formal ceremony at 2:30 p.m., Thursday, February 27.

The $530,000 facility was built through contributions to the MSU development fund including a gift of $250,000 from Dr. and Mrs. Talbert A. Abrams of Lansing.

Public showings will be presented 3 or 4 evenings a week starting in March. The opening date and hours will be announced later.

The dedication ceremonies will include remarks by MSU President John A. Hannah and Dr. Abrams, who is chairman of the board of directors of Abrams Aerial Survey Corp. The formal presentation of the planetarium will be made by Leslie W. Scott, chairman of the board of trustees of the MSU development fund.

Following acceptance by President Hannah, the first formal program in the Abrams planetarium will be presented by the curator, Victor

The ceremonies will include unveiling of 2 plaques. One plaque honors Dr. and Mrs. Abrams. It's got a frisky new engine

(that puts superior traction under you)

Ever see a Corvair wearing tire chains? Nearly 19 per cent more power in the Not likely.

And it's not often you'll find a Corvair owner bothering to switch over to snow

Why? Rear-engine traction. The engine weight over Corvair's rear wheels gives them remarkable gripping power without any assist from special winter driving paraphernalia.

Reassuring to know this time of yearand also in the months to come when all that tidy white countryside turns into a melting pot that's likely to add to the engine: It's bigger this year.

standard version. Which is something you'll appreciate most any time of year, fair weather or foul. You'll also appreciate not having to fool around with antifreeze. And not having to flush the radiator or fuss with hose connections. The engine's air cooled.

Matter of fact, we have a feeling that if more people knew what a cinch Coryair makes winter driving, there wouldn't be quite so many looking for excuses to duck South this time every year.

But then you never know. Corvair's a kick to drive in warm weather. Another thing about Corvair's CHEVROLET too. Why not try one at your dealer's and decide for yourself?

If Michigan had unlimited financial resources to devote to human problems, it could not eliminate those problems without first establishing what they are and how they are to be attacked.

One of the greatest myths of our time is that money and government are sufficient to solve all of the problems of society.

It is wrong to believe that all we need is money to help the mentally ill and retarded, to help the senior citizens, to juvenile delinquency, to develop our enormous tourist potential to the fullest extent. or to assist in solving the many problems of youth.

All of these problems are so complex, and are of a character that is changing so rapidly, that it will take all of the imagination and creative energy we can muster to make significant progress toward their solution.

Imagination and energy are not to be found in government alone. We can make greater progress by drawing upon the experience, knowledge, wisdom and time of many citizens from many parts of the state and many different backgrounds.

Of course I have attempted to do this in the past, but the effort has been somewhat limited by the extraordinary amount of time required by the constitutional vote and recount, the need to concentrate on fiscal reform, and the special legislative session on constitutional implementation.

Last week I called together 2 groups of local officials for the first of a series of governor's conferences to explore some of the pressing problems which confront us.

The first of these conferences, both held in Lansing, wastattended by county officials, sheriffs, county clerks, supervisors, registers of deeds and others. The second was attended by city and village

The turnout at these meetings was most encouraging. All of the officials with whom I talked afterward agreed that the discussions had been highly beneficial in identifying problem areas and possible solutions.

I have scheduled additional conferences which I am confident will be just as success-

Delhi Women Host MSU Food Specialist

For women, either working depending on the size, take at outside the home or involved in one of the many kinds of community projects, feeding the family becomes a challenge in ingenuity. Mrs. Anita Dean, foods and nutrition specialist at Michigan State university told 22 extension women at Delhi township hall last Tuesday that the secret to success was in pre-planning a number of menus all at one time. "Take a little time to save time," she said. "You just have to be a better man-

Don't be afraid of planning menus, you do it all the time, consciously or unconsciously.

There are many ways to start. One way is to start with a meat or meat substitute and add foods to tickle the palate. Remember a menu is a word picture of a meal. Besides meeting nutritional needs it should provide variety in taste, temperature, flavors. textures and color. Even preparation methods should dovetail together. (Ever cook a meal where every dish in the house was dirty?) Constant practice can make you pretty skillful in doing this. No one else can plan your meals for yeou because you know your families needs, what equipment you have and the condition of your pocketbook.

Many women know that they should do this but simply get out of the habit. If she's working it's vital that she gets back in the habit. Plan first for a few days only, then for periods between shopping trips. The plan should be a flexible one and enough to make changes at any time to take advantages of special buys, changes in plans, etc. The important thing is that, once planned, those menus are a perfect work schedule and guide. You, and other members of your family, can look ahead and prepare foods ahead of time at times when vou are better able to do this.

Foods taking more time to prepare might have its preparation time broken down into separate times and fitted in throughout the week.

Good equipment saves time.

Take time to list foods, your family really likes prepared.

A pantry supply of foods, regularly kept on hand, helps the harried homemaker arriving home late from a meeting to put together some of those meals she has listed previously.

Convenience foods are a big help but with an eye to your pocketbook, you'll need to use them judiciously.

Some meals take only a half hour to prepare, casseroles,

On Youth Vote

After reading the Ingham County News on February 5, I sat down and wrote out my thoughts on lowering the voting age. As usual, I abandoned my ideas in the hopes that persons more influential and capable of communicating would do the job for me.

This week when I read the paper I found no one thought as I did so here is my think. ing on the subject.

Let's not underestimate our teenagers. The majority of them are mature and intelligent young people with a real desire to assume responsibility. Maturity can't be measured by years, as we all know. I pray that young people with the potential for leadership start putting it to good Harry, I would like to believe you are mistaken about them abusing the privilege of

Arriving at the age of 21 doesn't suddenly make a person want to know or even care how our country is run. They must be interested early and work at making our town and our country a place to be proud of. Too few are bothering to save our world and we should all make ourselves delegates to do something about

I would also like to say something on religion. We all need it and silence by those who realize that recognition of God is an important part of our national life may do more harm than the efforts of those who strive to remove all reference to Him.

LOLA PALMER

Defends Teacher Smoking

For the past several weeks you have had an influx of letters on teen-age smoking. Several of these letters have placed the blame for much of this smoking at the doorstep of teachers smoking in the school, i.e., Harry Doesburg, Ray Hawkins and others

As an ex-teacher who smoked while in the school and out I had no qualms that my action was in any way influencing my students. In the first place these students see their parents smoke and prime influence of a child comes from the home. If a child smokes it is mainly because of the parental influence, A teacher who smokes has the right to do so and facilities should be provided for them to do so. To expect a teacher to sneak around to do something which is his right is undemocratic and the sight of a teacher doing so lowers the image of the teacher in the child's eyes. It is better to bring this out in the open in the school and retain the students' respect for the teacher. The teacher is going to smoke, rule or no rule, and the sight of a teacher smoking in no way influences a child. Social pressure of this type from parents who should be willing to take the blame on their own shoulders instead of blaming the school, teachers, next door neighbors and what have you instead of themselves. If more parents would wake up and say when their child goes bad, "Where have I failed" instead of whining around about a series of totally unrelated topics then a large share of the juvenile delinquency problems would be solved. The only thing I blame a school or teacher for when a child smokes or is a delinquent is when they say to the parent, "We are doing the best we can" instead of "What are you going to do about it." If the school and teachers would start standing on their hind legs then these people would at least start looking for another scapegoat. I know they would never look to themselves where the real prob-

Smoke Stack Control

They say where there is smoke there is bound to be fire. It was on February 17, exactly at 2 p.m. when I gazed out of a large clear plate glass window toward our county jail located in Mason, when I said to a friend, "Look, I thing our jail is on

But after several minutes the great billows of smoke cleared away and there stood our old jail just as good as ever. I then drove around the square and sure was happy to learn that Mrs. Preadmore and neighbors didn't have their nice clean white washings out on the line.

I always thought every city of any size had a smoke ordinance to control every industrial smoke stack and the purpose of the ordinance was to keep the city clean, but maybe the smoke from a public smoke stack is not as black as some others,

What do you think. Mr. councilman?

Of course, I don't live in Mason but I do sort of like the town. Our lawmakers keep telling the people to use Increase city streets and highways clean. It would be nice if our board of supervisors would appropriate just enough to purchase one large smoke bag for our county jail smoke

'Silent Spring' Homework For Michigan Students

"I am having my class read Rachael Carson's 'Silent Spring' and I want my students to study more than one side of the story," writes an alert Michigan high school teacher.

Her request for "the other side, too" reached a group of concerned farm leaders who feel that a book such as Miss Carson's could only have been written in America, and in our age, when this nation alone enjoys the "curse" of temporary surplus abundance.

How overdrawn are the points Miss Carson makes against the use of poisonous pesticides?

Here in Michigan, only one case of poisonous residue has been found in any of the hundreds and hundreds of samples inspected by the State Department of Agriculture, according to director, George McIntyre, "The one case involved a farmer who ordered one type of spray and was delivered another. He used it according to the way he would have used the one he thought he bought." The farmer reported the accident himself and none of the sprayed produce ever reached market. We forget that pesticides are a farm tool of production. As any tool, they must be properly used. Most disturbing is the obvious intent of Miss Carson's book to outlaw the manufacture and use of such pesticide tools. Plagues, malnutrition and starvation move in when the rats, ticks and mosquitoes are invited. In this country, there are 80,000 species of insects (2,500 kinds of ticks alone) plus 6.000 plant diseases. Add the rodents and similar vermin and one can understand how even with modern farming methods, we still lose from 4 to 5 billion dollars worth of crops each year.

Not that crops are all-important compared to people. But have we lost sight of what a lack of crops means to people? Much of the world continues to go to bed hungry at night.

And have we forgotten that pests and diseases attack not only plants and birds but are also fond of direct attacks on man?

Mackie was described as one of the nation's "most able and vigorous highway administrators."

Good Soil Use Makes Plant Food

ents come out of a fertilizer bag. In fact, some of the most important plant foods are supplied by good soil management," contends a Michigan State university soil scientist. "The nutrients used in largest quantities by plants are water, carbon dioxide and oxygen," claims A. E. Erickand oxygen to the plant root such vaccinations are recorded depends on the physical properties of the soil.

"Minimum tillage, organic deep tillage improve soil structure and make these nutrients available to plants." The MSU soil scientist says that irrigation can also be used to supply water, but the practice is often expensive. "Usually the best way to insure adequate water and oxygen in the soil is to preserve or modify the physical properties of the soil by good management practices,

Farm Surplus Investment Big

The U.S. government inreports that reductions in of 27.7 million head (which stocks held by the government was the largest in history) prothe big crops in 1963, significant parts of which are finding their way into government ing, better feeding, managestorage because of the price support program.

Of Calves At New High

The vaccination of calves against brucellosis, a contagious cattle disease that has cost owners millions of dollars, achieved a record year in Michigan in 1963.

This is shown in a report submitted to Agricultural Director G. S. McIntyre by the state veterinarian, Dr. J. F.

Calfhood vaccination has been proven a valuable tool in reducing brucellosis. It gives cattle protection against this disease during that period of an animal's life when it is most susceptible.

During 1963 calfhood vaccinations in this state totaled 136,627. This is an increase of nearly 23 percent over the previous year which was the high year up to that time. There are about 240,000 calves eligible for vaccination each year in Michigan.

Increase in vaccination has been attributed to passage of a state law. This law required "all female cattle born after January 1, 1963, sold or otherwise disposed of or moved to associate with other cattle of another owner for dairy or breeding purposes, after reaching 9 months of age, must have been officially vaccinated for brucellosis and accompanied by official proof of vaccination.

The law does not recognize brucellosis vaccination unless it has been performed by an accredited veterinarian and is on file with the Michigan deson, "The availability of water partment of agriculture. All in Dr. Quinn's office. There are more than 800,000 on file. Individual vaccination certifimatter and, in some cases, cates are sent to the animal's owner because of the influence they have on the animal's health status which affects value if the animal is later the nation's dairy herd continues to get smaller each year. But output per cow continues to grow. Today's dairy cow is about 46 percent more efficient than the average cow back in 1945. USDA dairy specialists point out that last vestment in farm surpluses year's dairy cows (about 16.5 on December 31 was $7.95 bil- million) produced nearly 125 lion, down only one percent billion pounds of milk. But from a year earlier. The USDA back in 1945, the national herd have been offset largely by duced only 120 billion pounds of milk. Increase per cow is the result of improved breedment and handling practices in the dairy industry.

Herds Drop Output Rises

"Consumers will eat increasing amounts of beef. processed vegetables and fruits, poultry and fresh vegetables," says Miss Marie Ferree, Michigan State university consumer marketing specialist. "Pork, cereals, animal fats and dairy product consumption per capita will decrease during the upcoming years."

Total pounds of foods and calories consumed per capita during the coming 5 to 10 years will probably decline slightly following a pattern of the past several years. "But our choice of diet foods will continue to reflect our income. concerns about health, weight control, nutrition and demands for added services," she explained.

Today's consumer has a hearty appetite and eats some 1,800 pounds of food per year at an average rate of 3,200 calories per day.

Per capita consumption of processed foods ranging from canned goods to the newest meal ideas will continue to in-

Added meat consumption will reflect both our preferences and higher incomes, Miss Ferree said. Beef consumption will increase at the rate of about one pound per person per year while pork consumption will decrease at about the same rate during the next 5 years. Lamb consumption will remain about the same.

Proper Care Saves Calves

The great majority of dairy calfhood diseases, causing some $2.5 million in losses each year, could be prevented by proper management and housing, according to a Michigan State university scientist. "If all known preventative measures were practiced there would be very few sick calves," says Dr. G. H. Conner, a Michigan State univerveterinarian. "Many times the common practice is to forget about prevention and then spend a lot of money trying to cure a sick calf."

Conner pointed out that some 85,000 calves annually die before reaching 5 weeks of age. Pneumonia, scours and navel infections account for about 97 percent of all calfhood losses. Enterotoxemia, white muscle disease and coccidiosis are others causing substantial losses.

Plant Industry Head Renamed

The head of the Michigan department of agriculture's Plant Industry Division, C. A. Boyer was re-elected representative from the central region on the National Plant Pest Advisory council. Boyer's re-election occurred recently at a meeting of the Central Plant Board in Madison, Wisconsin.

The group on which Boyer is central region representative advises the USDA's Plant Pest Control division regarding federal-state cooperative plant pest control programs.

At the Central Plant Board meeting, at which 13 states were represented, considerable time was devoted to a discussion of Michigan's cereal leaf beetle program. This was of major concern because the states forming the group are also the states that produce most of the nation's cereal grains.

The 1965 Central Plant Board meeting will be in Michigan in February.

Crops In Europe Exceptional

Private reports coming from Europe say that crops in many areas of the continent are in exceptionally good condition. Production, on the basis of present conditions, should top last year's disappointing output, slimmed by poor growing weather. These optimistic reports refer to western and central Europe and not to eastern areas under the control of the Soviet Union. Reports from the USSR don't hold out much hope for a significant improvement over last year's crops. Fall planted grains are getting off to a poor start, comparable with those of a year ago which turned out so badly for the communist bloc.

Grazing Areas Need Moisture

The cattle and calf census shows the significant boost in beef cattle numbers. It also implies there might be some danger in the rapid build-up of these meat producing cattle, especially in light of soil moisture deficiencles over broad expanses of the plains. If we don't get substantial amounts of snow and rain within the next month or so, the cattle industry would get hurt by lack of grazing facili-

The southwestern plains area has had some relief in recent weeks. But the central and northern plains and midwest need more, and plenty more, moisture soon. Without substantial amounts of moisture a lot of grass fed cattle might hit the markets within a comparatively short time, And that would put further skids under prices for slaughter cattle at the big livestock markets.

Most Big Farms In California

California leads all states in the percentage of its farms which classify as big farms. Based on the last census of agriculture 14.3 percent of all California farms had market receipts of $40,000 or more (in 1959). Texas was second with 11.3 percent, followed by Iowa with 8 percent and Illinois with 5.6 percent.
