"I hope that the property owners of the district will turn out to the polls in droves next Monday to cast their affirmative vote for the passage of the swimming pool measure," Dart said.

"I know a lot of people who are going to vote "yes". Some of them are now paying out money each year to send their children to Lansing and elsewhere to get a swimming education.

"Some of these folks, too, have lost dear ones who could have saved themselves if they had had swimming lessons.

"Others who will vote for the pool are persons who simply want the best for the young people in our school district."

Dart pointed out that the valuation in the Mason school district (equalized) has of late years been increasing at a rate of $800,000 a year and more. This trend, he said, is expected to continue which means that the load will be shared among a greater number of people and properties, thus reducing the cost per taxpayer.

John O'Brien, chairman of the pool committee, pointed out at a meeting Wednesday night that Mason is on the threshold of great opportunities in the field of recreation and that "we need this pool to take advantage of these opportunities".

Maple Grove voters went to the polls Monday and passed a proposal calling for a levy of 10 mills for operation of Maple Grove schools during the coming year. The vote was 86 in favor of the proposal and 81 against it.

Much of the money is expected to be used to pay tuition of junior and senior high school students who will attend Lansing schools during the 1964-65 year. Maple Grove recently was an-nexed politically to Lansing but the merger of the school systems of Maple Grove and Lansinghave not yet been completed. Lansing. however, has agreed to accept Maple Grove students on a tuition basis until the school merger becomes effective.

I know an awful lot of the people who are going to cast this affirmative vote. Some of these folks are now paying a goodly amount of money each year, to send their child or children out of town to Lansing and elsewhere so they will have a swimming education. # Frederick-Cox Vows Spoken Wednesday In Saturday Ceremony

In a floor-length gown of peau de soie which she designed and made herself, Miss MaryAnn Frederick became the bride of David Frederick Cox Saturday in an afternoon ceremony at the Mason Methodist church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Frederick of Mason and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Cox of Toledo, Ohio. Rev. E. L. Sutcliffe officiated at the double-ring ceremonies before an altar decorated with white gladioli. Two vases of pink roses were also placed on each side of the front altar. Miss Frederick's gown was styled with a portrait neckline, full skirt and chapel train, with appliqued lace on the points of the long sleeves which ended at the wrists, at the neckline, and at the bottom of the front skirt panel. A bow accented the waist in back, and the chapel train was designed so that it could be gathered into a bustle for the reception.

Her headdress, which she also made, was a pillbox appliqued with lace and attached to a bouffant shoulder-length veil of tulle. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses accented with 5 pink roses and streamers of ivy. Miss Frederick also wore a string of pearls given her by the bridegroom as a wedding

The Acme Juicerator Council, a group conducting studies on nutrition, reports that Americans do drink 5,000,000 pints of such juices every day but that each man, woman and child can contribute considerably more to their well being by forming the habit of taking just two or three glasses of the fresh liquids regularly each day. Summer is an apt time to begin the practice, which will become second nature after a while. Whether it's the juice of

The bond issue we are asking is a maximum figure. Spread over a period of not less than 10 years, the cost will be small compared to the enjoyment the whole community can receive from a pool.

I am a strong advocate of swimming instruction in the elementary grades. It is a little more than a sport. It is training which later may prove a life saver for the swimmer or others he may be able to help. It is also one of the most healthful activities. People who cry about child delinquents should realize how many wholesome hours could be spent at a pool. Many adults now go to other cities on a regular basis for swimming instuction. This is a family facilitynot limited to any one faction. ### Farm Youth Is Injured

STOCKBRIDGE - Brian Sommer, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Sommer of Stockbridge was injured Wednesday while mowing the lawn at his home at 4044 M-52 N.

The boy's father said he heard a noise that sounded like a rifle shot while the boy was operating the rotary type power mower. Investigation showed nothing but a tiny hole in the boy's legbetween the knee and the ankle. Later in the day, according to the boy's mother, his leg went numb so he was taken to a physician and then to Foote hospital in Jackson for X-rays. The X-rays showed a piece of wire about a fourth of an inch long, lodged between the 2 bones in the leg. Doctors decided against surgery to remove the wire because of the location and the difficulty in reaching it.

As if that wasn't enough for one week, Mrs. Sommer said that after spending all day Thursday with Brian in the hospital, one of their best young cows myster-

One lad was overheard to say, "I think I will eat my popcorn taste better there."

On the lawn where serving tables had been set up, waitresses in their long dresses and bonnets were serving ice cream, pie, cake and lemonade.

Thomas Howlett, president of the board of directors of the society said the group had planned to serve home made ice cream but decided at the last minute to switch to the commercial product.

"It's a good thing too," he said, "we would never have been able to "turn" enough ice cream for the crowd we had." Mrs. Beckwith said she was simply delighted with the turnout and especially with the number of those coming from far distances to see what had done by a few really determined

Picking Candidates

During the primary session all the politicians are trying to have their man nominated by the voters. The deadline is growing closer (September 1, 1964). Tempers flare, political camps try to accuse each other in order to have their own candidate nominated. However, I feel strongly we voters shall seriously consider the following premises to elect good candidates in the November election:

To make a decision we have to decide does the candidate try to sidestep the real issue or does he have enough conviction and courage to discuss the issues,

2. Try to examine and review the candidates past and present voting record as well as his compassion and service to the com-

3. Try to find out where his campaign money is coming from, does he have any political or financial obligations to any special group.

4. Do not vote for any candidate in the primary election, who encourages individuals to cross party lines just to get himself nominated and then say you can go back to your own party in November. It seems to me all voters should have the conviction

Voting for any political candidate is a most sacred privilege for all individuals. I do not feel any mass media such as newspaper, TV, or radio is able to create any special image for any candidate. New Fish Planting Guideline

Once tied to the philosophy that the bigger the plantings the better, the Conservation Department's fish stocking program is being re-geared to the potential of waters for supporting fish. In the case of trout, the goal is to keep angling returns on hatchery fish at the present level in spite of planting cutbacks. This is to be done by concentrating plantings as shown here in waters where trout growth and survival is the greatest. Trout lakes are to come in for increased attention under the new plan. Taking a cue from the "single-species" idea of trout-only lakes, fish managers are moving ahead in the same direction with walleyes. Because they often fail to take hold where other areas. Because they often fail to take hold where other species are present, walleye fry are being planted to establish "walleye-only" lakes in waters which have had their fish populations removed by chemical treatment. For northern pike, the Department is preserving and improving spawning areas to increase these fish through natural reproduction instead of plantings. Pioneering research is being continued in a bid to make muskellunge stocking pay its way .-- Mich. Dept. of Conservation

Land of the Free

America has reached an age of achievement and of honorable renown; she stands pre-eminent among the nations of the world; she has in her accumulating masses and in the orperation of her new systems hidden powers which promise a happy and a glorious prosperity.

Education has reached a stage unequaled in the history of the world. Never were her prospects brighter than

Everything that modern ingenuity can contrive is now being used for the progress of mankind, but no invention which has ever yet been made, is so complete in its wormanship that it can not be further improved; and never has there been a demand for any article that some skillful hand has not been equal to the task.

Wonderful have been the discoveries in natural science. Though we can not understand the workings of nature; great scientists after years of experiment have made known to us some of her admirable methods. Yet secrets still lie hidden within her caverns awaiting some skillful hand to unravel their myteries.

Labor is the only road to success. Even this beautiful world of ours was not created without the labor of the Great Master, and only after many years of patient toil and labor did Columbus finally succeed in accomplishing his great work, the discovery of our native land, America.

Without our labor his efforts were in vain, except for our labor it would exist only in its rudest state, and arts, sciences, literature, refinement and religions would perish. But we Americans are an industrious people; the labors of many centuries have made our country what it is today. Wise men tell us it was intellect that did it. Intellect, that glorious gift of the Divinity. which guides labor and leads the way to all wonders and discoveries; but intellect, in its most abstract form can not develop itself without the co-operation of its fellow-associate, labor. Through the medium of labor it does all that it does. It is even dependent upon labor to carry out all its mechanical operations.

The intellect of today does not exceed that of former ages. But relying on the marvelous successes of the past and on the excellent advantages of the present, our country stands without a parallel.

America has put on the starry flower of liberty, and stands ready to reap the bountiful harvest, whose promising seeds were sown in ages past. Justly it can be said that success is full of promise till we get it, and then it is as last year's nest from which the bird

EDITOR'S NOTE: This editorial as timely as it is, was actually published as part of the Mason school yearbook in 1896. It seemed worthy of being dusted off and reprinted.

Perverting the Absolute

When all the problems of man and nature are analyzed there are comparatively few absolutes. Take such a basic item as time.

There are such time systems as your time, my time, Eastern Standard time, railroad time, radio time, Greenwich time and on and on. Which one is absolute?

The various systems of time are all based on what could be considered the absolute — the "divine time" based on the movement of the planets.

So it is with other fields.

Take opinion of man for example. It is a human fallacy to express opinion as an absolute thing. Particular interpretations of the Holy Scripture which might differ with interpretations of other church denominations are considered as absolute.

Decisions of the state and U. S.

supreme court are offered with regard to the constitution as absolute and by some with the opinions as absolute. Politicians offer their opinions as to the purpose of government as absolute

We are even in an era when politicians and the so-called free thinkers are working hard to substitute opinions for the absolute concerning such basic laws as the law of supply and demand.

Both sides of the racial controversy are putting forth contrary opinions as Communism and capitalism are locked in a struggle with opinions and creeds offered as the absolute.

What is needed is a way for individual man to differentiate between the few basic absolutes and the myriad of opinions which are proposed as absolutes. We should stop tampering with the basics.

Monkey Business

Reprinted from the Drovers Journal

Lives a chattering tribe of monkeys

There is always plenty to go around

And most times some to spare.

While most of them were satisfied

There were others who seemed to feel

On a sunny southern island In a sunny southern sea

Just as happy as can be.

That if they had a leader

They'd get a better deal.

So they held a big election

The biggest in the land.

And they did the thing up grand

And said my friends I guess

To straighten out this mess.

And throw them in the sea.

We'll have to get together

So they all got together

But then a little later

Was very very short.

What it was all about,

Is sadly in the red.

And they were left without.

And the weaker ones are dead

And we shouldn't make a fuss,

But how about the bunch of apes

In their leaders report,

And dig up every-other row.

And then a little later

I can plainly see

You've chosen the proper monkey

Now if we are to rightly prosper

When the peanuts start to grow

And they worked for days and days

For he promised them a profit

On the things they didn't raise.

They found their crop of coconuts

And before the common monkeys knew

The smart ones cornered all the food

And now the stronger ones are hungry

And the scheme to help the country

Of course it's only monkey business

That's doing the same darn thing to us.

We must take one-half our coconuts

And they chose this modest monkey

And he made a great acceptance speech

They live on nuts and foliage And each one has his share

On Monday voters will make the decision. As usual there are charges and counter-charges fouling up the issue as the same agins come out with their last ditch pleas and the fors try to justify their positions.

That's the unfortunate part of the swimming pool vote. There have been a certain few who have tried to pit farmers against city folks, retirees against those still chasing the dollar. Nothing can come from splitting a community yet there are those who delight in doing it for their own petty satisfaction. It has happened in school votes of the past. It will probably happen again, but that doesn't make it any sweeter smelling.

The pool issue should be decided on its own merits. If you think that teaching our youngsters how to swim is an important item and that the responsibility rests with the school district to do the job and you are willing to foot the bill then look at that part of the question and vote yes. If you don't think teaching youngsters how to swim is important then vote no.

There's nothing like a cold and wet week end in the resort belt to assist tourists in making up their minds. After 6 weeks of scorching and beautiful summer weather with hardly a cloud in the sky, the resorters caught a foul weather week end. All it took was 8 hours of dreariness to make people forget the 6 weeks of beautiful weather.

The highways were full Sunday of those hardy pioneer types who folded up their tents and trailers or closed up their cottages and cut their vacations short.

Actually they are missing a good bet. A drizzling day is the best time of all at a lake. It's the best time to walk through the woods and catch glimpses of deer and other wildlife.

While on the subject of the north country, here is the annual huckleberry report from Roscommon county. There are berries but you will have to look for them. I sent out my top pickers Saturday and they came back with a milk pail of berries, 2 bee stings, uncountable mosquito bites and one mild case of poison ivy.

Why I'll Vote 'Yes' For the Swimming Pool

Sure, a school swimming pool is a luxury. But so are a lot of other things in schools and homes. How about school gymnasiums? Or ball fields? Or your television sets? Or that cottage, or boat and motor or that vacation, or new car with all the frills?

A pool is a luxury in the sense that it's fun to use. But it's a lot more, too. Mainly, it can be used to preserve life - perhaps yours or the boy's or girl's next door. It's also a wholesome recreation. It encourages cleanliness and builds strong bodies.

In too many communities a swimming pool is built in memory of some youngster who has drowned in a gravel pit pond. It's always too bad when that happens. Building a swimming pool now, before it has to be a memorial to some unfortunate youngster is the way to do it.

It's going to cost money. No one knows it any better than the men who pay the taxes on the new News building and equipment. The pool assessment on that plus the old homestead isn't going to be any picnic. But balanced against the new era of a wonderful facility for every youngster (adults, too) in the school district, it's a bargain.

Adults talk a lot about good health, safety, wholesome activities for youth. Well, here's an opportunity to achieve all these goals in one project.

At the News we have a policy of not attempting to tell anyone how to vote. We think it's a good policy. We also have a policy of frankly saying what we believe. In the case of the swimming pool project, I believe it will be a good thing for the school district youngsters. And while it might pinch a little, the financial burden is bearable.

Down by the Sycamore

By Nelson D. Brown Edited by Margaret Brown

May 13, 1937 Speaking of eating;

victuals is a seldom used word these days. My grandmother used the word several times a day. She knew what it meant, too. There were always good victuals at Grandma's. I used the word the other night and people shuddered. They thought there was something disagreeable about the sound of victuals. That's what a radio announcer must have thought Saturday night. He pronounced it "vicktualls." The office dictionary gives "vittles" as correct. Just the way Grandma said it.

May 29, 1937 Romance flowered on the Sycamore Saturday. In the debris unearthed in a housecleaning, a batch of love letters with poems attached was brought to light. The letters and were written 16 poems years ago. They sounded good and I said as much. The kids never knew until Saturday that they had a poet for a father. What touched me the most was the belief that the letters had been .cherished all these years. Imagine my chagrin when the inspirahave been cleaning house every spring for 15 years and I just can't understand how I overlooked this junk for so long."

April 22, 1937

Strictly Sycamore news-Bill Hunter of the Everett sector can remember way back when sycamores were plentiful. And he has heard tell of the early days when sycamores were regarded as the most useful of trees. Most of the sycamore giants were hollow and the first settlers used the hollow trees as smokehouses. granaries, hog troughs, boats, and, of course, toilets. Most of them were single seaters—it was before the day when twoseaters and three-seaters came into style.

June 24, 1937

I probably should not have brought up school days in the column last week. One man who was in my grade at Hubbard when I left the farm for the city asked how come I didn't graduate until 1917 when he took a year to a grade and received his diploma in 1915. That's embarrassing for me. I was such a pet of the fifth grade teacher that she kept me in her room 2 years. Then in high school I got so much out of some subjects that I took them twice. I entered high school with the class of 1916. Along in the middle of my fourth year it came over me that I knew more than the teachers. So I quit school and went to work. A few months later Harold Hornbeck and I set forth for New York and Washington and the centers of culture in the East. Maybe I found out that I had overrated my knowledge. Anyway. I returned to school that fall and really studied and along the next June was given a diploma. It would have been a good thing had schools had opportunity rooms 30 years ago.

September 23, 1937

Patience is usually rewarded. I have received 2 wedding cigars the past week. Both of them were several weeks late, but better late than never. I really think a wedding cigar and the marriage itself means more when the grooms wait a month or so to pass the cigars. It shows that after calm reflection the men are still glad they are married.

Thoughts for the Week Read Luke 6:27-36

Grow in the grace and knowledge of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. To him be the glory both now and to the day of eternity. Amen.

—II Peter 3:18 (RSV)

MY husband and I were missionaries in China when Huai Yuan was a student in the mission high school. One Sunday in the Bible class he was challenged to yield himself to Christ in a new and complete way. This he did.

There was a man in the city who had wronged him and whom he hated. If Huai Yuan saw this man coming toward him, he would duck into a shop or an alley to avoid having to meet him.

The next Sunday, we asked Huai Yuan whether his stand for Christ the previous week had made any difference in his life. He answered, "You know, I met on the street the man whom I have disliked so much. Before I knew it—and to my utter surprise—I found I loved him." Surely this experience of love and forgiveness brought a new degree of glory to this young Christian.

PRAYER: Our loving heavenly Father, we thank Thee that Thou hast provided for our continual growth in grace. We beseech Thee to fill us with the fullness of Thy life and may we grow into Thy likeness. Help us evermore to dwell in Thee and Thou in us. In the Savior's name we pray. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

When we commit ourselves to Christ, He changes us increasingly into His likeness.

New Statute Aids Consumers

In the past, several non-food products bought every day by citizens did not show a declaration of net contents on the container because the law did not require it. But this will all be changed on August 28 when the new state weights and measures law goes into effect.

After that date net quantity content must be shown in terms of weight, measure, or numerical count. Furthermore, such information must be so it can be easily read. In the language of the statute, such data must be "definite, plain, legible, and conspicuous."

Formerly, some manufacturers of paint, varnish, anti-freeze, oil, soaps, detergents, household cleaners, and a whole host of other products where not required to have a Jeclaration of quantity contents did not do so. Most manufacturers did, but some didn't. The theory was that the size of the container spoke for itself, but if the container was not well filled, no violation was involved because no quantity was stated.

The new law will do away with containers of any product being short of the quantity contents the buyer assumed was present just because the package looked like a quart, etc. Now the container must be labeled as to its contents. Enforcement of weights and measures laws is the responsibility of the Foods and Standards Division of the Michigan Department of Agriculture which J. L. Littlefield is

In the opinion of Agricultural Director G. S. McIntyre, adoption by the legislature of the new law is a vast step in consumer protection and will work to the advantage of the industry because the chiseler must meet requirements that the honest member has complied with on a voluntary basis for years.

Backs Pool Plan

Aurelius Taxpayer speaks of a pool as though it were a recreational project alone, and claims that nine out of ten country children would not use it. He is forgetting that this pool is a school facility, and, as such, every child attending the Mason school system will not only have the opportunity to use it, but should be required to learn to swim. How much safer our children would be if every one of them learned to swim! Is this not a desirable addition to our educational program?

As an Alaiedon township taxpayer, I find myself resenting rather sharply the constant inferences that it is the country people who are unwilling to pay to provide adequate educational facilities in this area. The country people whom I know are progressive people who want everything possible for their children and are willing to sacrifice toward such ends.

Those most likely to vote down millage for school purposes are the many retired people within the city of Mason. These people have fixed incomes and it is understandable that they should feel they cannot afford to pay larger and larger taxes. But, the status quo cannot be preserved forever for them. Progress demands many material things our parents did not have whch we find quite necessary. Who wants to do without electricity now that it is here?

I don't believe the country people will vote no to a pool, but they may fail to vote at all. The senior citizens in Mason are close to the polls and it is of personal interest to them to vote no. They will be there to exercise their right of franchise. Will you be there, as a responsible citizen, to help get the most for the children of Mason? There are few things we still control as individuals in a community. Let's keep the quality of education so high that the federal government will never feel the need to take it out of our hands. We can afford the best under local management far better than we can afford the wastefulness of federal control. PATRICIA B. SEYFARTH

Vote No on Pool

Mr. Aurelius Taxpayer, I am with you 100%. But there are a few things you forgot to mention. Did you know if they get their old swimming pool for us to pay that next they will furnish a bus to take our kids? Keep school grounds for school addition.

Remember, people, when we voted the first time included in that was money to add on to high school. Then they dropped it so the vote would go through. But they have not forgotten that. There will be another vote (if) the pool goes through then look at taxes.

I say to heck with pool. Stick to schools. So let's vote "no" all the way. The city people think farmers have it made. Just let them go out to the farm a week and stay. Then they will think differently and see what work is. They'll see where farm children will not get any benefit by a pool and the farmer will only lose money and town people gain by it.

I don't live on a farm but was born and raised on one and know what it is.

I don't have a second car to transport my kids. Town children can walk to pool. I will say again, out loud if I could, vote no for pool and save for schools. MRS. AL TORBET Mason

School All Set To Open

DANSVILLE - Several school plant improvements at the Dansville school are underway and it is hoped most of them will be nearing completion in time for school opening September 1.

Among these improvements is the special education or type A room which will not be ready for the opening date. However, the same classroom which has been used previously for this purpose will be available until the new room is completed.

The Dansville school district is being reimbursed by funds from the Ingham county intermediate school district for this addition and the B. J. Siwek Construction company of Lansing is the contractor.

Considerable renovating is being done in the high school building and some of this will be in progress after school begins. Most of this is being done in compliance with the request of the state fire marshal when the building was inspected last spring.

The study hall and library are being rearranged to provide better library facilities.

There are some changes in course assignments for teachers. Mrs. Myrna Campbell is teaching a remedial reading class which is an elective for all students in grades 7 through 12. Loren Willey is in charge of 7 and 8 grade counseling and will handle the disciplinary problems for those grades.

The bookstores will be open Monday, August 24 at 8:30 a.m. and will continue each day through Thursday, August 27 and then will be closed until after school opens on Tuesday, September 1.

Football equipment will be issued to players during the week

Haslett 4-Hers Win 18 Ribbons

Two persons were chosen to exhibit at the State University State Show from August 31 to September 3. They are Michael Wing and Joseph Simon. There will be a meeting at the home of Mrs. Walter Simon on August 13th to report the activities for the past year.

Library Budget Slashed As Penal Fines Slump

The Ingham county library system will operate on a reduced budget through the present calendar year because of penal fines which are earmarked for the libraries were less than anticipated by $3,148. This was brought out at a meeting of the Ingham county library board last Wednesday when it met here.

Penal fines collected during each year are turned over to the county treasurer and earmarked for use by the libraries in the county. The Ingham system shares the fund on a per capita basis with the Lansing and East Lansing public libraries.

The budget for 1965 was discussed at Wednesday's meeting and the board will meet later with the ways and means committee of the Ingham county board of supervisors.

Burglars Get $12,000 At Okemos

OKEMOS - Burglars obtained approximately $12,000 in cash and checks at Schmidt's super market in Okemos Saturday night.

They knocked out a portion of an outside wall at the store, entered the building and poked another hole in a wall leading from a furnace room to the main store and then entered the manager's office in the front part of the store where they placed a large safe on a dolly, hauled it to the rear of the store and pried it open. Then they took a smaller safe from the large one and took the small one with

Last week I talked about the anti-litter campaign in Michigan and this week I want to talk about related subjects within the area

Some time ago I announced appointment of a special task force on Water Rights, Water Use and Pollution Control, I am confident that the work of this 22man group will result in a water policy for Michigan that will be the envy of all other states.

Water is a common denominator of our natural resource wealth. Its variety of uses --- for agriculture, for manufacturing, for transportation, recreation, public health---makes it essential that we develop now, before it is too late, a comprehensive policy to serve as a guideline.

The task force will do this. And our water, like our forests. will be managed on a multiple use basis. There is no reason why it cannot be done. It must be done, Peaceful coexistence among the users of water in this Water Wonderland is possible and very necessary. There is no need for serious conflicts of interest ... no need for clashes between those who would put our lakes and streams to work and those who would put them to recreation ... no need, that is, if water uses are placed in their correct perspectives.

I want the task force to define such perspectives and to make recommendations for action. And when they do this I will then do everything in my power to effect a workable, step-by-step procedure for water management ... for today, of course; but most importantly, for what promises to be a very busy tomorrow.

Definite progress in conservation was made by the Legislature this year. Personally, I am proud of the record. By the close of the session, I had signed twenty-four conservation bills into law. There were disappointments, to be sure. Certain water bills were defeated, as was the bill to abolish the fox bounty. And there were others; but the final result of legislative action was a strengthening of conservation. House Bill 401, pertaining to the liability of landowners who open their properties to hunters, fishermen and other recreationists, was especially significant. So too, was the elk hunting bill. Our Michigan United Conservation Club deserves much credit for the support they gave these measures.

All-in-all, I think conservationists throughout Michigan can be pleased with this year's legislative record. It was pro-

The importance of all this, however, is not in what has transpired in the past few months or in what is transpiring now, but what will be done in conservation in the years ahead. Here is where the real progress will be made. Here is where we will move ahead.

There is a reminder here to all the people of Michigan; our Department of Conservation, as competent as it is, cannot go it alone. New directions, new programs, new goals must continue to be a widespread concern.

Apathy must be battled, interand concern must be

It is then that we may talk confidently of the progress we have made...and the promise the future

Michigan roadside fruit and eye," says Don Hine, district extension marketing agent in southeast Michigan.

Following 2 years of careful study, 25 growers and roadside stand operators located in 9 southeastern Michigan counties organized the Michigan Certified Farm Markets earlier this year. Aim of the organization is to educate consumers to the high quality food grown and sold at members roadside stands, according to Roadside stands are a big volume business with some of the operations selling more than $100,000 worth of produce annually. Most members of the organization grow the majority of the produce they sell, but often turn to other growers as sources of certain specialty items. Membership in the organization is open only to marketers meeting rigid rules for quality, service and cleanliness and who are willing to abide by a special code of ethics. Consumers can identify members by a trademarked sign which is displayed in each roadside market.

"Our roadside stand operators are working in the interest of their customers as well as themselves," believes Robert Spicer of Linden, president of the organization. Spicer, a large fruit grower and roadside stand operator himself, expects to see the day when the "certified" emblem displayed in member stands will be associated with top quality produce by all consumers. Although the organization is only composed of roadside marketers in southeast Michiganthis year, Hine expects membership to grow on a statewide basis by next year.

Corn, Bean Day Set in Gratiot

Gratiot county farmers will demonstrate their highly efficient corn and bean producing abilities on Tuesday, August 26.

The field day will start at 10 a.m. at the W. M. Van Page farm located on Wisner Road south of Breckenridge, according to John Baker, Gratiot county extension director. Visitors will see 26 corn varieties and single cross varieties planted with up to 30,000 plants per acre and the use of varying amounts of atrazine to control weeds in corn. Baker points out that Gratiot county ranked second in the state for corn yields during 1963 with an 80.4 bushel per acre average. The state average was 65 bushels per acre. Gratiot county farmers produced over 3.5 million bushels of corn during 1963.

Still another morning stop will be the Ira Netzley farm, located across the road from the Van Page farm. Chemical control of white mold in beans and the use of nitrogen on red beans will be shown. The extension director noted that Gratiot county's bean crop-tops in the state for production--amounted to $8 million in income last year and continues to improve.

Visitors will move to the Elmer Humm farm, located one mile south of Breckenridge, at 1:30 p.m. following a noon beef barbecue at the Van Page farm. ranging from $3 to $7 per ton. If the farmer has more time in the fall, this could mean an ad-

Well Sodded Waterways Work Best

Properly sodded and red Property source and waterways protect farm from unnecessary erosion.

The most satisfactory time to shape and seed natural waterways is when sod fields are plowed, according to Russell Hill, Michigan State university soil and water conservation extension specialist.

Properly constructed waterways can combat:

--excess surface water flowing over unprotected waterways forming channels which erode into gullies. -- considerable silting damage caused by soil moving into larger streams, ditches and lakes. -- safety hazards to farm machinery operators and permit the efficient use of large agriculture equipment by reducing gully formation. "Poor waterways are flat instead of saucer shaped and are usually narrow," says Hill. "Water flowing over such waterways can then run around the

Tennis Tourneys Underway

Many children participated in several categories of the summer recreation program, 525 different children having registered in one or more activities. Approximately 150 took advantage of the weekly trips to the Y M C A to swim and play in the gymnasium. Over 100 attended the picnic at Potter park. Sixty-five availed themselves of tennis lessons. Activities at the 2 playgrounds were well attended with particular interest developing in table tennis, shuffle board, "kikit", painting, Monopoly and Risk. Tournaments were held in table tennis for adults and juniors, in tether-ball for the very young, in archery and badminton for those under and over 14.

At present a singles tournament for the boy and girl tennis players is being held. Next week will see the doubles tournaments under way. Mixed doubles and junior-senior doubles are also contemplated.

The current tournament was delayed because of Tuesday's rain; those scheduled to play Tuesday were re-scheduled for Thursday. Anyone wishing to play who has not signed up may merely come to the courts and will be given an opportunity to participate. The biggest upset in the matches played to date was a three-set win by Holly Stribley over Carol Campbell, 2 years her

Infra-Red Lamps May Dry Grain

Some day infrared lamps or burners may be used to dry grain as it is vibrated up and down at 1.000 cycles per minute.

Some day . . . but not just yet. Recent research by a Michigan State university agricultural engineer shows that infrared vibration grain drying is not yet as economical as the conventional heated air dryers now being used. But the modern infrared system offers some intriguing possibilities.

"For one thing, infrared vibration drying can be much faster than present-day grain drying methods," reports Verl E. Headley who recently competed a study of changes which influence infrared drying efficiency. "Heat energy is transferred directly from the source to the grain and air movement is kept to a minimum.

"With present dryers, air must first be heated and then blown through the grain. This is inefficient in terms of drying speed, but it is much less costly than the infrared systems not being investigated."

Headley says the capacity of infrared grain dryers must be increased before they can complete with more conventional systems. "We'll have to figure out a way to dry thicker layers of grain under the infrared heaters in order to make them more effective."

He predicts that gas-fired infrared burners -- instead of heat lamps will probably be used to dry grain in the future. This could increase heat intensity while reducing the cost of producing this energy.

The MSU agricultural engineer plans further research to study possible injury to grain and some of the factors which influence the efficiency of infrared vibration drying.

Heinz Reunion Ar Columbia Park

DANSVILLE - The annual Heinz reunion took place at Columbia Creek park, west of Mason, Sunday, August 9. New officers were elected as follows: Freida Harris, president; Norma Honaker, vice-president; Hilda Heinz, secretary, Madge Harris, treasurer.

There were 24 present with Amiel Heinz the oldest and his grandson Gordon Ray Heinz, 1year-old son of Herbert Heinz, the youngest.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Harkness of Leslie were among those present. The next reunion will be at Grand River park no 10. the second Sunday in July.

most of them previously unemployables are undergoing a one-year training program at the Michigan Catholic Conference Job Training Center. Religious background is not considered when enrolling students, and many faiths are represented.

The unique anti-poverty program, designed to make them employable, is being paid for by 3 federal agencies and is sponsored by the Michigan Catholic Conference which represents the Catholic Bishops of Michigan. However, few of the students and staff are Catholics.

Students attend classes daily from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. in old St. Mary's School. The program calls for 30 weeks of basic education and 20 weeks of vocational instruction. Students receive training allowances ranging from $20 to $48 weekly depending on their family status.

Average age of all students is 34. Married students have an "average" of four children: one has 12. Their formal education level is grade six. One in 4 students had less than 3 years of formal education.

The average earnings of each trainee last year was below $700. Francis J. Coomes, Executive Director of the Michigan Catholic Conference, said the program has received "outstanding support" from all major faiths in the Lansing area and other community organizations like the Lansing Community Services Council.

"Central Methodist, for instance, is operating a Nursery School for pre-kindergarten children of the Trainees," Coomes said. "And transportation for the pre-schoolers is being supplied by the Lansing Chapter of the American Red Cross."

Coomes said most of the students are making "good progress." "We're pleased with results of the program so far but the real test will be whether they can get jobs afterward," he said.

"If they can get jobs that will pay twice as much as they were receiving on welfare, then the training will pay for itself," Coomes said. ***

If Experience Counts Farm displays and other agricultural matters at Michigan's State Fair are in the hands of six experienced farmers. The Fair opens August 28 and closes the evening of Labor Day, Sept.

The six farmers who are in charge of exhibits include two who come from Centennial Farms, which means they have been operated by members of the same family for more than 100 years. One of these is Stanley M. Powell of Ionia. Powell is very active in the Farm Bureau and raises both prize milking shorthorn cattle and prize sheep.

The other Centennial Farmer is Delmont Chapman, South Rockwood. He has served on the State Fair Authority several times and in the State Legislature. He is the third generation to operate the farm and now raises prize sheep. His youngsters are also active in sheep

Former Director of Agriculture Charles Figy, a Morenci Farmer, is chairman of the State Fair Authority. Youngest member of the group is Robert Zeeb, 32. Chosen Outstanding Young Farmer of the Year in 1963 by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, Zeeb operates a 480 dairy farm with his father near Bath. Robert J. Noon, Jackson, has been on the Fair Authority for more than a dozen years. He raises swine, sheep and Shetland

Lyle Glover operates a 247 acre dairy farm near Fowlerville where he was born in 1907.
