This week the nation split over Lyndon Johnson and Barry Goldwater for the presidency but at least last week Angie Sherwood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sherwood of Mason, was twisting for Ringo Starr of the Beatle party. Angie took her guitar and this sign boosting Ringo and made her point at the annual Kiwanis-sponsored Halloween party in Mason Saturday night. Incidentally, she won first prize with her costume in the pre-school set.

Johnson Rolls Up Great Vote Victory

Romney Bucks Landslide With Near-400,000 Lead

Lyndon B. Johnson will be president of the United States for the next 4 years. He was returned to the office Tuesday in the greatest Democratic landslide since 1936 when Franklin D. Roosevelt soundly defeated Alf Landon of Kansas.

Johnson piled up, according to results early Wednesday, 486 electoral votes to 52 for his Republican opponent, Senator Barry Goldwater of Arizona, and captured 60 percent of the popular vote, estimated at around 71,000,000.

Goldwater carried his own state of Arizona with 5 electoral votes and 5 southern states, Alabama with 10 electoral votes, Mississippi with 7, Georgia with 12, Louisiana with 10 and South Carolina with 8, Johnson carried all the rest. Johnson defeated Goldwater in Michigan by about 3 to 2 to capture this state's 21 electoral votes. Michigan voters gave Governor George Romney, Republican a victory over his Democratic opponent, Neil Stuebler of Ann Arbor and Senator Philip Hart Democrat, retained his seat in the United States senator by defeating Mrs. Ely Peterson, Republican, of Charlotte.

In Delhi township all incumbent Democrats and one incumbent Republican were re-elected. The one Republican returned to office was Miss Enid Lewis, township clerk, Joe Kiersey, Democratic supervisor, defeated Marshall Hartig, Republican; Richard Dart, township treasurer, defeated Larry Albers, and George Hood and Earl Mead were returned to office as trustees. They won over their Republican rivals, George Kahres and Jay Parkhurst.

Ballot counters had a busy night and an even longer and busier morning as the result of the record turnout Tuesday. Final unofficial tabulations were not complete until noon on Wednesday as several precincts struggled through the split ballots which were cast in record numbers. After all the counting it showed that Ingham county followed the trend of the rest of the state in giving the presidential vote to President Johnson and President Johnson sweeping the rest of the state Democratic ticket with the exception of Governor George Romney who bucked the Democratic sweep for a resounding victory. At the Congressional level Senator Philip Hart was an easy victor over his Republican opponent, Ely Peterson while Sixth District Congressman Charles Chamberlain disposed of his Democratic opponent, George

Benedict. In the legislative races in Ingham county Republican incumbents Marie Hager and Harold Hungerford went down to defeat with H. James Starr defeating Mrs. Hager and Robert Dingwell taking Hungerford. But in the 59th district Republican incumbent Charles Davis of Onondaga was an easy victor over George Bubolz. Democrats swept the state board spots. It was a record voter turnout with County Clerk C. Ross Hilliard estimating Wednesday that between 85 and 90 per cent of Ingham's eligible voters exercised their privilege. In Mason the vote percentage hit 88 per cent. Last-minute orders were placed for ballots right up to 5 p.m. to handle the rush. Many precincts were down to a half-dozen ballots when the polls closed.

Court Jobs Filled

In the non-partisan balloting on Tuesday unofficial and incomplete results in the 2nd district court of appeals race show that Thomas Kavanagh, Louis D. McGregor and Francis L. O'Brien will be the probable winners. Judge of Probate James Kallman and Circuit Court Commissioner Frederick Stackable were unopposed.

Fair Profit Hits Nearly $6,000

Allan J. Stroud, Ingham intermediate superintendent of schools, announced Tuesday that he is accepting petitions from candidates for the board of trustees of the proposed Ingham County Community college. Residents of Ingham county will vote December 15 on the proposal that the county take over the Lansing Community college, elect a board of 6 trustees to operate it and levy a tax of one mill for operation of the college and future expansion. Stroud said persons interested in seeking a place on the new board of trustees should file with him at the Ingham Intermediate board of education offices at 147 W. Maple street in Mason. Petition forms are available at his office, Stroud said. Petitions must bear a minimum of 50 signatures of residents in the proposed district (Ingham) to be valid and these petitions must be returned to his office 30 days in advance of the election scheduled for December 15.

Adult Ed Enrollment Hits 69

Enrollment in adult education classes in Mason has reached 69, Chandler Nauts, superintendent of schools, told the Mason board of education at its meeting Monday night in Nauts' office in the junior high school. The adult classes meet once a week for 10 weeks. There are 15 persons enrolled in the art class, 32 in the class in typing, and 22 in the upholstery class. Mrs. Kay Webb teaches the art class, Mrs. Doris Patterson the typing class and Robert Wrook upholstery.

County OK's Jail Schedule

The Ingham county board of supervisors last Wednesday approved a request of architects and contractors in the new Ingham County Jail construction for extension of their contract from November 1 to November 28. Supervisor Paul Richards of Mason recommended the extension. He said the jail will be turned over to the county on that date. Richards said the work had been held up for about 13 weeks by strikes of plumbers and other unions. Richards said dedication ceremonies at the new jail are scheduled for December 5 at 1 p.m. This will be an invitational affair at which county and city officials, guests from other counties and state officials will attend. Tentative plans call for a series of public open houses when residents of the county may avail themselves of an opportunity to inspect the $1,750,000 facility at the northern edge of Mason along Cedar street. Public open houses have been tentatively set for December 5 from 2 to 6 p.m., December 7 from 1 to 6 p.m., and December 12 and 13 from 1 to 6 p.m. The jail will probably not be ready for use before January 1, since no operating funds will be available until that time.

Council Okays Merger

Mason councilmen approved a resolution setting in motion legal machinery necessary for annexing 30 acres of Vevay farmland to the city Monday night. The resolution followed a letter of approval from the Mason planning commission on the subject. Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Corbin own the property. They petitioned the council to have the land located on the south side of Columbia at the west city limits annexed. Next step is to present the petition and the resolution of an approval from the council to the township board of Vevay. Final approval may have to be left to the voters.

Munyon Resigns

Walter H. Munyon of Lansing submitted his resignation from the Ingham County Medical Hospital board of supervisors Thursday. The supervisors appointed Horace J. Bradshaw of Lansing to fill Munyon's term which will expire on January 1, when Bradshaw will assume the post for a full term.

Ceremony Set For Stubbert

Acting Postmaster Jim Stubbert will officially be sworn in Saturday morning at 11:00 in ceremonies in the lobby of the Ingham County News. As of Wednesday noon a speaker was still to be selected. Postoffice dignitaries will be on hand for the program.

State OK's Swim Pool For Mason

Mason's swimming pool financing got the blessings of the state municipal finance commission Wednesday. The state agency okayed the borrowing of $200,000 for the construction of the pool as an addition to the high school. These bonds were authorized by the electors of the school district on August 24; are unlimited tax bonds and will run until 1974. The school district is authorized to levy whatever taxes are necessary to pay principal and interest. With approval out of the way school district attorneys will set a date for the sale of the bonds.

County Audit Commences

Billie S. Farnum, state auditor general, has a crew conducting a state audit of Ingham County records. Farnum said that this is a routine audit which his department is required by law to conduct annually in each county. County audits are conducted to ascertain if the accounting systems and records conform to and are consistent with proper governmental accounting standards; if there has been any irregularity in the receipt, expenditure or disposition of any monies received or appropriated, or if such funds have been disbursed and used for any purpose other than that provided by law. The last state conducted audit of Ingham county was for the calendar year ended December 31, 1962.

Spud Crop Aids Income For County

More than 1,500 bushels of vegetables were grown at the Ingham county farm in Mason this year. The potato crop was almost double that of a year ago. This year 1,090 bushels were produced, as compared with 637 bushels last year. While it was a dry year, the vegetable crop at the farm was pretty fair, Derwood Dickinson, president of the Ingham county fair board, pointed out in making a report to the Ingham county board of supervisors last week. Jail inmate labor is used at the farm and the products are used to feed prisoners at the jail and for other county operated institutions. The garden this year produced 18 bushels of green and wax beans, 115 bushels of cabbages, 45 bushels of cucumbers, 10 1/2 bushels of green peppers, 1090 bushels of potatoes, 2,300 pounds of squash, 5 bushels of Swiss chard, 26 bushels of beets, 46 bushels of field beans and 8 bushels of onions.

Yeggs Enter Gas Station

Sheriff's officers are seeking burglars who entered Taylor's gasoline station in Leslie, removed a safe from the office to a garage and then tried vainly to open it by knocking off the dial and sawing the hinges with a hack saw. Taylor told officers the intruders failed to open the safe which contained money, but that tires, batteries and a box of spark plugs are missing from his establishment.

Farewell to Arnolds . . .

The community will have an opportunity to bid farewell to the Paul Arnolds Sunday, November 8. A farewell open house for the Mason pastor and his wife has been planned from 3 until 5 at the church with the public invited. Rev. Arnold has accepted a position with the Indianapolis Presbyterian church and his duties start this month.

Committee Considers Revamping Districts

Approximately 55 members of school boards in Ingham county and 20 other persons, including several school administrators, gathered at Mason senior high school last Wednesday night to select a county reorganization study committee in compliance with the reorganization study act No. 289, of the 1964 legislature. The meeting Wednesday resulted in the election of 10 members to the committee. They are: High school districts - Lyle Thorburn, Mason; Vernon Ebersole, Lansing; Gilbert Mouser, Williamston; Starr Keesler, Okemos, and Byron Caruss, Holt. Non-high school districts - Mrs. Sean Dexterhouse, Island school district; Mrs. Frances Ferrell and Mrs. Velma Roghan, Maple Grove district; Mrs. Alvin Launstein and Clarence Bird, White Dog district. Already appointed by the judge of probate, as set up by the act, are David E. Pfothenauer, Lansing; Michael J. Green, Lansing; George A. Hirschman, Lansing; Hugh Oesterle, Webberville and Mrs. Lucille Diehl, Dansville. The Ingham Intermediate board has appointed to the committee Mrs. Eleanor Luecke, East Lansing; Dr. A. J. Spencer, Stockbridge, and Donald Crakes, Leslie. Alton J. Stroud, Ingham Intermediate superintendent of schools is the non-voting chairman of the Ingham committee of 18 members. Also operating under the act

Petitions Due For Seats on College Board

The Ingham county fair of 1964 showed a profit of $5,978.61, Derwood Dickinson, fair board president, told the Ingham county supervisors at their meeting last week. He said all of the money will be spent in making improvements to the fairgrounds. He said blacktopping of the entrance to the grounds has been completed, and a new open class horse barn has been built. Stalls will be put in at a later date. A rest room has been completed at the south end of the grounds opposite the grandstand, and several other minor improvements have been made. "We feel our fair this year was very successful," Dickinson said, "and we would like to thank everyone for supporting it. Our attendance was about the same as last year but we were up on the rides, space and concessions. We paid out in premiums this year, excluding horse racing, $286.45 more than in 1963." Dickinson also presented to the supervisors a letter from K.G. Brown of Williamston announcing Brown's resignation from the fair board because of health reasons. The supervisors accepted Brown's resignation with regret and elected Clarence Puffenberger of Onondaga, to fill out Brown's unexpired term.

Valuation Increases

State equalized valuation for Ingham county is listed at $706,099,100 according to a 1964 apportionment report approved Wednesday by the Ingham county board of supervisors. This is an increase of $20,737,500 over last year's figure of $685,361,600.

Good Decision

Late Monday night, the Michigan supreme court handed down a decision declaring the Sunday closing law applicable to retailers to be unconstitutional.

It was a meritorious decision agreed upon unanimously by the 8-man court. It has been vogue to criticize the courts recently for basing decisions as much upon personal beliefs about social problems as upon the constitution. The most recent decision to declare the closing law unconstitutional is heartening and smacks of good basic thinking on the part of the state's highest court.

A year ago, some forces in Ingham county sought to get the board of supervisors to invoke the local option as prescribed in the state Sunday closing law. At best it was a poorly written law seeking to curtail discount stores and supermarkets who chose to do business on Sunday. Some church leaders got into the foray on the basis of Scripture. The vocal Michigan Retailers association fought for passage of the law in Ingham with all their heart and with a lot of money.

Prosecutor Leo Farhat fought back declaring that in his opinion the law was unconstitutional. Others, including The Ingham County News, declared themselves against passage of the law on the basis of its biasness and its infringement on the freedom of a man ought to have in this country of being able to conduct any legitimate business any time he wants to.

The Ingham supervisors proved they were smarter than the legislators who passed the state law. The Ingham board turned down the local option clause of the state law over the shouting and pressures of special interest groups in the county.

And Monday, the supreme court backed up the consensus of the Ingham board of supervisors by throwing out the state Sunday closing law because it was unconstitutional.

Hooray!

Objective Reading

As this is being written an estimated 70,000,000 voters are casting their votes for the presidency. The outcome as of the moment is undecided. This is the moment of castigation of what used to be the Fourth Estate — newspapers, radio and television.

For generations, Democrats have been complaining about a one-sided press. We never took much stock in the charge, wanting to believe instead that Democrats were just poor losers. This year for reasons yet unknown, a vast majority of newspapers and every major radio and television network plus most major weekly magazines prostituted their professions absolutely with obvious efforts in behalf of President Johnson.

It now seems quite possible that the Democrats—and now the Republicans—are right in claiming that most American news mediums cannot be trusted to give readers and viewers objective reports of political events. Not being able to trust press and airwaves is a blow to everyon in a country which bases its strength on honesty and integrity.

Mass communication is a subtle business. Emphasis or de-emphasis of a topic, the raise of an eyebrow, a bit of sarcasm, a light touch of a serious subject, quotation marks around the right phrase, position of a story in a newspaper or magazine — all these are the sophisticated approaches to molding of public opinion.

As the best actors are those who make an audience concentrate on the character portrayed rather than upon the actor himself, so should a reporter or newscaster remove himself and his personal opinions from the minds of his readers. He should report — and let the chips fall where they may.

The Fourth Estate historically has been that fourth segment of society that has the responsibility of being the watchdog over government.

Thomas Jefferson said that if he were given the choice of a government without newspapers or newspapers without government, he most certainly would take the latter. He didn't say that because he liked to read the comics; he said it because he and his generation had lived at a time when free expression in print was reserved for English government thoughts only. All others including many Americans were thrown in jail, fined and otherwise harassed for daring to express opinions other than the official English line. He knew that free expression of thought was a basic control over any government bent on tyranny.

The people's right to know is basic in a republic. When knowledge is clouded with official doctrine to the point that the people do not know the truth, then the country itself is endangered.

Newspapers, radio and television industry and magazines are due for an inventory of Thy Self. They must return to a professional status of impartiality if the Fourth Estate is to be that watch dog over the people's government.

barbs, praise and consequence

As this column is being written on this beautiful Tuesday in November, voters are going to the polls and making their X marks. Thus comes an end to one of the bitterest and what some consider the foulest campaigns in modern history.

The pollsters have it all doped out. The soothsaying I leave to them. The only prognostication I can offer is that there will be 50 per cent of the candidates ending up happy and 50 per cent of them will be downright unhappy.

Between now and the next presidential election there had better be some soul searching on the part of voters and candidates over the bitter words, downright lies, mis-statements and other garbage tossed out to confuse, scare and coerce the voter.

A couple of Methodist pulpit politicians in Mason and Dansville should do quite a lot of soul searching, too, along with spokesmen for other various church groups throughout the land. Trying to equate candidates and political parties with the word of God, too many wearers of the cloth tried to give the impression they were speaking for Christianity when actually they were speaking for themselves.

I am no great Bible scholar but in the reading which I have done, I found no reference by name to Democrats and Republicans or to Goldwater and Johnson.
 Somehow or other I can't imagine a true disciple of God taking the pulpit and equating Christianity with partisan politics, using the measuring stick of such inconsequential as Cadillacs for wayward Republicans in his congregation. Yet this has happened right here in Mason.

There may have been a time when judging a man's politics on the basis of the clothes he wore or the car he drove might have been fairly accurate although it isn't accurate now. But I don't think there was ever a time when it was possible to use clothes, car or other material things to judge wether a man was a Christian or not a Christian.

I know a couple of good Republicans who don't even own a car and they usually have patches on the knees of their pants or no knees in their pants at all.

Saturday we got a call that a couple of Republicans had showed up at Mason party headquarters to make party donations. Further checking revealed that they were members of my own family. Bob, a fifth grader, and Tom, a fourth grader, have been so interested in the political battle that they tapped their capitalistic piggy banks and offered 9 cents and 6 cents, respectively and respectfully, to the Republican cause.

I am proud of them and long may their desire for being interested in the affairs of this nation and of politics prevail.

Thoughts for the Week

Read Psalm 90:10-17

That the aged men be sober, grave, temperate, sound in faith, in charity, in patience. The aged women likewise, that they be in behaviour as becometh holiness. —Titus 2:2-3

WHEN my oldest child was born, my grandmother wrote to say she had entered a new phase of her life. "I have tried to be a good wife, mother, and grandmother. Now I must learn to be a good ancestor."
 At each stage of life my grandmother acted herself as she was, and was her best self in each role. The impression left on the lives she touched was that of a person at peace with herself and at peace with God.
 A middle-aged friend, a radiant and serene woman, said to me recently: "It's good to be growing older. I don't have to pretend to be anything I'm not. I can just be myself."

Freedom from pretense permits us to clear away non-essentials and to grow in patience and charity. Growing old with grace frees us to concentrate our efforts on reflecting God's holiness, on becoming what God would have us become through Christ.

PRAYER: Almighty God, teach us to see ourselves as Thou wouldst have us to be, that the nearer we come to the end of this our training period, the nearer we will be to reflecting Thy holiness. In the name of Jesus Christ, who in human terms expressed Thee perfectly. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
 The beauty of holiness is available to all.

 Other garages in Mason have had the welcome sign out on Sundays but for one reason or another the Debating and Philosophical club has favored the Spenny garage. Perhaps the principal reason is that the management has always provided comfortable chairs and has always had a reserve supply of seats in the shape of soft-drink cases. The car parked on the showroom floor could also be used. A lot of questions have been brought up at the weekly sessions and many of them have been settled. Municipal power, the fire department, ice-fishing, summer fishing, surgery, morality, religion, baseball, the war, governmental trends, the rubber shortage, steam engine maintenance and repair, school problems, cookery, farming, dancing and vitamins have been popular topics.

I have learned a lot at the Spenny institute, learned from masters such as A. G. Spenny in engineering and fishing. Maurice Rickley in medicine and vitamins, Ray Bullen in philosophy, Leo Burton in theology and picking poultry, Doc Robbins in general science, Schuyler

Smith in fish shanty construction and embalming, George McArthur in cookery and the law, Walter Peters in drugs and pitch, John Noxin in farming, Mark Cave in baseball, Wilson Davis in naval tactics and summer touring, the Spenny boys in a wide technological range, and Leo Harrison in city and county government.

 My boy Jim recently attended a box social and gained some first hand information about community culinary experts. He was more than satisfied with the box he bid on, although he didn't know until after the bidding was completed that he was supposed to share it with the girl who provided it.

 Don Densmore has an explanation which he is anxious to give to a nice looking woman who believes Don called her a "hot number." Densmore received a stock of varicolored tobacco pouches last week and was trying to make a sale to Don Cady. Densmore was enthusiastic over his merchandise and was picking out the gayest pouches to dangle before the prospect. He was so interested in making the sale that he paid little attention when the door was opened and a woman stepped inside the store. Before turning away from the pouch display Densmore said to Cady, "Here's a hot number."

Of course, Densmore was talking about the tobacco pouch, but the woman took it otherwise. Her eyes flashed, her cheeks reddened, and she turned around and walked out of the store without giving the proprietor an opportunity to explain that his comments were meant to apply to the pouch and not to the customer.

Too little and too late. When wise guys last fall were buying new tires, I laughed at them. When men stood in line to buy new cars in December, I pooh-poohed the idea. Then came the talk about cuffless pants and one-pair shoes. I discounted that. So here I am with my old clothes, and old car, and an old set of tires. Come Easter morn and I will have a new suit by cutting off the cuffs and using them to patch the seat.

country and town

While politicians have been sowing seeds of discontent this summer, Emery Jewett and Jack Davis have been sowing a different sort of seed... or rather Emery has been sowing and Jack has been reaping.

For several years, Emery has let the Davis boys (all 5) into his pumpkin patch with a chance to lug away the biggest pumpkins for jack-o-lanterns.

Emery's only request is that the Davis team dig out the seeds and save them for Emery. Then the following year, Emery plants the seeds from the largest pumpkins of the previous year's crop. Year after year he repeats the cycle until lately he's been getting pumpkins so big they have to be dragged from the fields of harvest with a team of horses. (This I haven't seen but Emery claims it's true).

Mason is growing and I suppose that with an influx of new residents, there has to be a gradual breakdown in deportment among the area youth on Halloween night. There was a time in the community, old timers say, when Jefferson and Ash looked like an airline disaster area after Halloween. Mason Kiwanians, recognizing a problem, took an offense approach and staged a giant parade and free Halloween party for all youngsters with the understanding that youngsters would refrain from the typical "treats" of Halloweening. The idea was put to the school youngsters and they elected to give it a try. Over the years the success of the venture has varied from 100% cooperation to 95%. The parties have been getting bigger and each year the club members enlarge their budget to take care of more and more youngsters.

It's a unique program. If you're in doubt, just visit most any other community in Michigan the morning after Halloween and notice the difference.

But this year, too many young people didn't get the word — or weren't impressed with Mason's tradition. There was some pumpkin throwing in evidence and most windows in the business district were soaped.

Kiwanians aren't necessarily down-cast about the lack of cooperation this year. They recognize the need to re-sell the agreement that until this year has been virtually unwritten law in Mason.

By the next time Halloween rolls around, it would be well for those acquainted with the Kiwanis tradition to re-tell the history of the no-trick pledge in Mason. Those of us in the community also should take the responsibility to acquaint new-comers who perhaps don't realize what a unique place Mason really is.

A year ago, the News provoked some controversy with an editorial entitled "Mason's Big Problem: How To Get With It."

There were some who didn't agree with how and why Mason should "get with it", but most agreed that it helped get people thinking about Mason's needs. It was interesting this week, to read the paper of a year ago and notice how much has been accomplished in the past 12 months.

The editorial lamented the fact that the school district had turned down a millage request; the district has since approved a millage request.

The editorial pointed out that little or nothing had been done about developing the Jewett park on East Maple; the city is now in the process of doing a great job developing the park.

The editorial questioned the advisability of locating a fire hall on West Columbia street; the city now has plans for developing a fire hall on Jefferson.

The editorial chided the community for dragging its feet over a swimming pool; the school district has since voted to build one of the finest indoor pools in the state.

The editorial pointed out that the merchants had become disorganized and apathetic; they have since come back strong with the Silver Harvest promotion, a united front to secure off-street parking and other joint efforts. The editorial said merchants were not making property improvements; and in the past year several remodeling projects are completed, underway or in the planning stage and even some new commercial projects are in evidence.

A lot can be done in a year. Mason people proved that.

MEMBERS OF THE CITIZENS COMMITTEE of Munith are shown assembling at the Methodist church in the village Halloween night preparatory to keeping an all night vigil to prevent vandalism from breaking out in the area as it has done in past years. The committee members included many village leaders, clergymen, merchants, bankers and many other prominent citizens who were aided by state police and deputies from the Jackson sheriff's department. The night passed quietly.

HALLOWEEN is a great night in Munith. Residents dress up in Halloween costumes and stroll through the streets during the evening hours. Here are 2 of them, but in their makeup you probably won't recognize them. They are Paul Frye (left) and Boyd Huffine, both of nearby Fitchburg, who came over for the fun.

Halloween Pranks Leslie Survives

LESLIE - Leslie survived the Halloween pranks, remarkably well, according to Don Haynes, village marshal.

He commented that the masquerade parade through town by the youngsters was fairly well attended, but that most of the small youngsters were out-trick-or-treating. The Lions' club and village council also sponsored a party at Woodworth elementary school for the small fry following the parade.

Haynes commented further that he felt that the young people in Leslie deserve a lot of credit for no more damage than is done. Only a few windows display soap or wax designs as a reminder of the "gremlins."

Haynes pointed out further that Leslie has had no Halloween difficulty for at least the last five years. He said that destructive acts by pranksters would have to be considered the exception rather than the rule here. Last week-end was typical of Halloween here.

Stuart said that between 300 and 400 persons attended the auction. The Lions were somewhat concerned as attendance was poor at the beginning.

"Very few were there at the beginning, but they kept on coming and nobody left until the sale was over," Stuart said. Stuart also mentioned that the various members helped in collecting the articles for the sale and in organizing them for the auctioneer, Don Jenkins, who also donated his services as auctioneer.

Money raised from the sale will be used for the Lions' charitable activities. Stuart stated that part of it will be used to pay for the cost of piping in natural gas to heat the Scout building, supported by the Lions' club.

Leslie Music Boosters sold refreshments throughout the sale.

In Cadillac Church

Mary J. Lennon, George Boyd Wed

The First Methodist church in Cadillac was the setting for the October 30 wedding which united Miss Mary June Lennon and George David Boyd in marriage. Officiating at the eight o'clock double-ring rites was the pastor of the church Rev. David Crawford.

Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. George V. Boyd of Marlon, Michigan; John T. Lennon of Cadillac is the father of the bride.

For her wedding, the bride selected a floor length gown of candle light peau satin styled along princess lines with fitted bodice and full bouffant skirt adorned with appliques of alencon lace. The same lace motifs accented the bodice. The three-quarter sleeves were v-cut and the skirt terminated in a chapel train. A hat of lace petals secured her veil of bouffant illusion and she carried a cascade of yellow sweetheart roses, white stephanocis, bronze full mums and yellow pompons.

Acting as maid of honor was Miss Margaret Jean Bodell of Cadillac. Bridesmaids were Miss Nancy Gibson of Cadillac and Miss Kitty Sulpher of Lansing.

Each attendant was gowned in a floor-length dress of capucine taffeta featuring a wateau train attached to a bow at the back of the scoop neckline. The gowns also were styled with short sleeves and controlled pleats from a cummerbund at the waistline. Their headpieces were circular nylon veils attached to pill-boxes of matching material.

Each attendant carried a bouquet of bronze fugi mums, yellow pompons and yellow sweetheart roses.

Serving as best man was Don Van De Warker and groomsmen were Dick Swotton of Lansing and Bob Harcourt of Cadillac. Ushering guests were Mike Harcourt of Cadillac, Lonnie Boughan of Marlon, Steve Martinson of Marlon and Bob Eberhart of Marlon.

The church was decorated with baskets of bronze fugi mums, yellow pompons, yellow roses with fall colors worked through the bouquets, also palms and candelabras.

Don Barnes of Cadillac was the soloist and was accompanied by Mrs. Sluiter as he sang Shepard Show Me.

Guests greeted the newlyweds at a reception staged at the Knights of Columbus hall in Cadillac after the ceremony. A buffet of salads, meat, cake, punch and coffee were served amid bouquets of autumn colors and the cake also featured fall colors.

Assisting with serving were Mrs. Lyle Barber, sister of the bride, who cut and served the cake and Miss Sharon Willson. The rehearsal dinner was given by the bridegroom's parents at Miller's restaurant in Cadillac. For traveling on their honeymoon through northern Michigan and Canada, the bride chose a navy blue 2 piece suit which she made and complemented the outfit with red accessories.

When they return from their trip, they will make their home at 820 Bolchot road, Lansing. The bridegroom, a 1960 graduate of Marlon high school and a 1964 graduate of Ferris State college, is employed with the architectural firm of Frank and Stein in Lansing. The bride, who formerly attended Mason schools, was graduated from Cadillac high school in 1962.

The script, prepared by William Archibald, is being used as a framework on which to present the players interpretation of the James' novel. The various commentaries on the TURN OF THE SCREW have been studied by the cast and the production presents phases of each of the interpretations, just as the James' novel presents them. There are Freudian and religious overtones to the production, but it remains a ghost

Mason Chest Offering Is Declined

Thanks but no thanks. That's the sentiment the Mason area community chest received in a letter from the National Foundation-March of Dimes in response to the Mason agency's offer to include the March of Dimes in its program.

Here is the letter received from the March of Dimes group. The Ingham County chapter of The National Foundation is most appreciative of the generous consideration accorded by your Mason Area Community Chest committee, but at the same time we must request that you do not include this organization as a beneficiary of your fund-raising efforts.

As you may know, the local chapter is affiliated with The National Foundation-March of Dimes which has, since 1938, undertaken to finance its activities in its own campaign staged nationally and locally each January. This affiliation has served our community well during these many years.

In the opinion of chapter members, the annual March of Dimes campaigns have proven eminently successful in enlisting wholehearted public support for the attacks of this voluntary health agency against major health problems. Directors of the local chapter have affirmed their approval of continuing the policies of the national organization.

May we thank you again for your consideration although we will not be a participant. And may we extend to your Mason Area Community Chest every good wish for a successful campaign in support of the many other worthwhile activities which you have undertaken.

The annual chicken supper and bazaar will be held at the Plainfield Methodist church November 5.

Mrs. G. D. Culver will entertain the Home Culture club Friday, November 6 at 1:15 p.m. and the Delta Alphas November 9.

Moth Ball Hospital Is Ready

A 200-bed civil defense "moth ball" hospital arrived in Detroit October 29 for pre-positioning at the Wayne County Training school in Northville, according to Dr. Douglas H. Fryer, director of the Michigan Department of Health's Division of Special Medical Services.

The shipment of hospital equipment and supplies, capable of providing austere but adequate disaster medical care for up to 30 days, is part of a nation-wide program to assure the continuation of medical care in the event of a large-scale nuclear attack.

Michigan already has 74 earlier models of the civil defense emergency hospital stockpiled in schools, government buildings, county road commission garages, public utility buildings, etc., throughout the state. These units, containing provisions for two-to-three days, are in the process of having their capacity increased to 30 days with supplemental supplies.

With the addition of the latest "moth ball" hospital and three others scheduled for delivery later this year, a total of 15,600 additional hospital beds will be available to supplement the existing 33,500 beds in Michigan hospitals if the need should arise.

The stockpiled hospitals are similar to the Army Medical Corps field hospital used during the Korean War. They include x-ray equipment, surgical instruments, and operating room equipment, laboratory and pharmacy, an inflatable 1,500-gallon water tank, a 15 kw generator, sterilization equipment, cots, litter, blankets, and miscellaneous hospital supplies.

A total of 2,650 emergency hospitals are being located in all 50 states by the United States Public Health Service, which is also stockpiling approximately $200-million worth of medical supplies.

The Michigan Department of Health is conducting a training program to acquaint medical personnel in the vicinity of each pre-positioned hospital with the setting up and operation of the emergency units.

Patriotic Assembly Stirs Students at Mason High

By Holly Hill
Mason High School

If anyone happened to visit the high school last Friday morning, I'm afraid they might have been quite surprised. Everyone met in the auditorium for a patriotic assembly. After the playing of the Star Spangled Banner, Jo Ann Derry gave a short speech followed by some patriotic songs by the Girls Glee Club. Another speech student, Brian Doolittle, spoke between songs. When the Girls Glee Club finished, the Mixed Chorus sang. One of the songs they sang was the Gettysburg address. As the chorus provided a background, Allan Wolfe recited the Gettysburg address, which was very effective. Ted Jancha also had a solo when the chorus sang "The Battle Cry of Freedom." Other speech students, Patty Smith and Leo Bateman, also spoke.

After the musical part of the assembly, a panel discussion by members of each political party was conducted. Ray Tear, acting as general chairman, announced the speakers. As each one was announced, other members of that party rose and marched around the auditorium carrying signs and cheering. One party even threw candy and gum into the audience. An air of excited confusion filled the auditorium all during the discussion, and it reminded me of a slightly smaller political convention like the ones held this summer.

The speakers for each party were as follows: Conservacrats; Dick Clem, Larry Snyder, Jim Bodrie, and Rodney Rose; Freedom Fighters of America, Pat Allaire, Claudine Collar, Dee Dee DeShong, and Jane Guerrero; and the Plebians, Mike Lennon, Joel Schaeffer, Jim Frew, and Paul Eddy. They explained their platforms and then asked questions of the others.

The result of the election on Monday will be reported next week.

All in all, the assembly confirmed in the minds of the voters for which one they were going to vote.

that it was conducted outside. The band was in a concert formation as the students, led by the cheerleaders, poured from the school and made a circle around the band, from which they cheered. After the cheers, the band played the Fight Song in a spirited tempo while the student body sang.

Basketball cheerleading try-outs will take place November 23. There will be open practice after school under the supervision of Mrs. Doris Patterson, the girls' gym teacher.

The band's performance at Friday's game was its last for the season and last for many of the seniors. The half-time show had the theme of an election year. Another "Extra" performed by the band was the "Marching Bossa Nova." The Junior high band took its turn at marching when it joined the Senior high band in playing the Fight Song and National Anthem.

The after-game dance on Friday night was, again, a big success. Although we didn't have a victory, happiness prevailed.

On Saturday night there was a dance sponsored by the Kiwanis club of Mason in the cafeteria of the high school. Coke and doughnuts were served. A movie was shown at the Junior high school and both were a lot of fun. I'll be seeing you!

Arctic Explorer Talks At Williamston High

By LOUISE MILLER
Williamston High School

Monday, an assembly was put on by the Student Council. Introducing Captain Tim Ronne, was Len Stutman, Captain Ronne gave a talk corresponding with parts of his film on the Antarctic expedition when accompanying William Byrd. Captain Ronne flew over this Pole several years ago and later explored it on William Byrd's second expedition. He mentioned that his father went on Byrd's first adventure over this land. This properly, discovered by Ronne, is claimed for the United States. The film illustrated the life of the nine crew men and their work accomplished. This was a very impressive and worthwhile assembly.

The Student Council started the plans for our Annual Sno-Ball. This is our formal Christmas dance which everyone always looks forward to. Committees were set up at their meeting. They discussed if they should send a petition around to the student body asking what music they would prefer. Possibilities are having a dance band, albums, tapes or 45-records.

The Future Farmers association met on Thursday. They are planning the annual Harvest Ball for November 13th. The Future Homemakers of America also help make this dance a success.

The Girls Athletic association had a activity meeting Tuesday after school. They played volleyball and dodgeball.

The Seniors received the proofs for their senior pictures. Now the decisions must be made, choosing between poses of such handsome and beautiful faces.

The Seniors' government classes brought forth an interesting election rally this past Thursday.

Campaigning was erupting throughout the audience as well as the participants. Giving campaign speeches were: Lynda Wright, Jeanne Lewis, Herb Jones, Jeanan Raddatz, Dave Jones, and Gary Dwight for the Republicans and Mike Smith, Rick Little, Jim Gregg, Bob Allen, Mary Smith, and Milo Gaffner for the Democrats. Trish Southwell served as mistress of ceremonies.

Sandy Christensen explained the Massachusetts ballot and Marilyn Robinson explained the court of appeals. Cindy Lack demonstrated the "Do's and Don'ts" of voting. Many others did all the under ground work on various committees. A great deal of thanks and credit is given to Mrs. Constance Eck, the government teacher, and all the seniors for making this possible.

The official voting took place on Friday, October 30, in study periods or during lunch hours. All students had to be registered by last Wednesday or it was impossible for them to participate in voting.

The Juniors had play tryouts this past Monday and went to their first practices on Wednesday and Thursday. Three of the major roles are Mr. and Mrs. Lyndon Mathews played by Charles Lott and Virginia Runciman. Their younger daughter, Jennie, is played by Sherry Dahlke. It proves to be quite amusing as the cast was appropriately selected by the director, Mr. Alexander.

John Stanfield the W.H.S. counselor, Friday took Rhonda Baker, Gerald Christensen, and Louise Miller, Juniors, and Mike Murphy, a senior, to Michigan State university for counseling. They go and talk to individual counselors to get an idea of what is expected and, what subjects are available in various fields of college. You can also just talk about any problems or circumstances other than education.

There was a pep rally Friday to build up good spirit against the Stockbridge Panthers. Gerald Meidinger, the coach, recognized the 14 seniors who were playing in their last league game. On behalf of the student body, Kay Kitcher, one of the cheerleaders, gave a special tribute to the coaches of both varsity and junior varsity squads for their hard and continuous work throughout the season.

The band went to Stockbridge for a joint pep game and half-time musical show. A very impressive show took place as both bands were at their best.

The immediate week contains many important and vital decisions. Let us be concerned, and make our conclusions correct ones.

Junior Band Does Well in Parade

By Ruth Camp
Stockbridge High School

Seizing one of the rare opportunities to perform by themselves without the senior band close by, the Stockbridge high school junior band did an excellent job of leading the Halloween parade through Stockbridge Saturday night.

Keith Saxton, director of bands, decided that since the senior band had performed at the home football game on Friday night and made an all day trip to Detroit on Sunday, it would be a good time to let the younger group take over.

The parade formed at the fire station and after a turn around the square, moved to the athletic field. There were several hundred youngsters, dressed up in all types of costumes for the event which was sponsored by the Stockbridge Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Costume judging this year was done by the Stockbridge high school cheerleaders.

The staff of the Panther News, Stockbridge high school paper has been hard at work editing the first issues of their paper.

The student council met last week and appointed a committee to come up with some appropriate slogans to encourage clean up in our school. The matter also came up of having the council pay for the paper used by the cheerleaders in their various efforts to promote better school spirit. The cheerleaders have been making and putting up signs bearing encouraging slogans, throughout the school. They have also been making pins for students to wear.

The group also discussed the possibility of making Christa Baltch, our exchange student from Germany, an honorary member of the student council after she becomes fully acquainted with our school.

Stockbridge high school finally gets glass backboards in the gymnasium. As a result of many weeks of hard work last year by the varsity club on several projects, the money for the backboards was raised. Last week, teachers Duane Clark, Robert Boyd, Ronald Driscoll and Robert Woodman, assisted by students Orson Landis, Terry

Pupils Conduct Election

The mock election at Mason senior high school reached its climax at the election on Monday. Of the 535 votes cast, the Plebians received 126, the Conservacrats 184, and the winners, the Freedom Fighters of America, 225.

The FFA, a Socialist-Democratic party, advocated in its platform; to retain a superior nuclear force as "the best defense against a nuclear offense"; to work toward world disarmament (on the basis of inspection and the gradual building of trust) for it is only through this means that the world will be assured of "continual peace rather than immediate destruction;" to maintain the farmers' economic integrity and individualism by cheap credits, guaranteed "parity" prices and other policies designed to protect the small farmer against the threat of domination;" a program of medical care for the elderly to be included in the Social Security program; to carry out a total war on poverty; to work for full employment; to expand the Peace Corps.

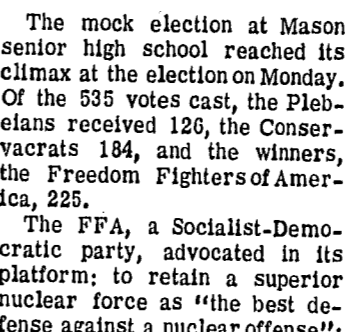

To give even more of our surplus feed in foreign aid programs but "these aid programs must be conditional upon self-help and progress toward development of free institutions;" to support the admission of Red China to the United Nations where she would be more easily restricted.

To give aid to the anti-communists in Cuba; and "to regulate and reorganize the economy for the benefit of the whole community," by rebuilding society on the foundation of cooperation rather than competition" (for example, they believe that natural monopolies in the field of public utilities be publicly owned and key industries such as coal and steel whose profitable management is vital to the whole economy should have more government supervision).

The platform planks were written by sub-committees and then debated on by the party's National Convention.

The presidential nominee for the Freedom Fighters of America was Pat Allaire, the vice-presidential nominee, Claudine Collar. Running for the Plebians Party were Joel Schaeffer, president; Jim Bodrie, vice-president; and Larry Snyder, vice-president.

Mason

SOME OF THE MASON - HOLT action spilled over onto the sidelines. That's Mason's Gary Blood snowed under by the Holt gang tackle. The game was marked with some of the hardest tackling ever seen on the Mason field with Mason and Holt defenses both playing for keeps.

Close Season at Howell

Blocked Punt Gives Rams 7-0 Victory Over Mason

Mason didn't beat Holt, the Capital Circuit champs, Friday night but the Bulldogs sure threw a scare into the Rams by holding them to a 7-0 win.

Except for a blocked punt and 60 yard worth of penalties in the last half, Mason played the Rams on even terms.

It was a rock 'em, sock 'em defensive battle all the way with Mason saving its best tackling of the season for the Rams.

The scoring came in the first quarter. After both teams had a chance at the ball and got no place, Mason was forced into a punting position. Mike Bostrum, one of the best all-around Holt players to come along in years crashed through to block Brian Doolittle's punt. Doolittle fell on the ball at Mason's 14. Mason gave up ground reluctantly from there but with the help of a penalty the Rams moved to the one-yard line. Then Ron Karr sneaked across. On the try for the extra point Bostrum slipped around end. That ended the scoring for both teams but it didn't end the determination, especially on defense, for either team.

The Bulldogs stopped the usually explosive runs of the Rams cold with Dennis Bodell playing an outstanding defensive game, roaming all over the place from his linebacking spot. He had plenty of help, too, from Bob Stiller, Larry Reid, Bob Brown, Dick Miller, Joel Schaeffer, Darrell Castelein and Ted Glynn.

With Barry VanderVeen, a regular defensive end, sidelined with a broken bone in his hand, Glynn and Miller spelled each other at the spot and covered themselves with glory.

Larry Zigler and the rest of the Mason defensive secondary came up with some bone-jarring tackles, too.

Holt had his share of stars on a night devoted to the defense. John Walsh, Bostrum, Craig Schultz, Marv Burt, and Gary Troop kept the Mason attack well in hand.

The Holt secondary covered Mason's receivers like a blanket in the latter stages of the game when Mason took to the air in trying to even the score.

Mason closes out the season Friday night over at Howell. The Highlanders are tough in spite of a mid-season skid. It will be a battle for the Bulldogs. The game will mark the final appearance for 15 Mason seniors.

Holt will wind up the season Friday night against Eaton Rapids. If the Rams win they will be assured of the title. If Holt should lose the Rams might have to share the crown, depending on whether O'Rafferty can get past Gabriels Sunday afternoon.

Aggies Close Grid Season

The Aggies' football season will close this Friday with a game with Pinckney at Dansville at 4:00 p.m.

On Thursday evening at 7:30 the JV's will play their final game at Pinckney.

Boys who will play their last varsity game are Ben Weaver, Kenneth Woods, Don Chesley, Larry Heins, John Lienhart, Charles Linn, Tom Murdoch, Roger Pollok, Russell Rae, Robert Rogers, Danny Bradley, Gerald Laxton, and Robert Moore.

This will also be Dad's night and following the game there will be a coffee hour for the fathers of the players and cheerleaders. Basketball and wrestling will get underway the following week. Searl Briggs, superintendent, will coach the varsity basketball and John VanWinkle will coach the JV's. Loren Willey is the wrestling coach.

Ram Reserves Show Promise

Holt high school's reserve football team is boasting the best record in recent years. They have won 3 games, tied one and lost only one. They have 2 more games this season, playing Mason and Eaton Rapids. Halfback Tom Greenhoe has been outstanding in the 6-0 defeat over Gabriels, the 19-0 defeat over Haslett and the other 3 games. He has gained over 500 yards, including a 65 yard touchdown last week.

Also contributing to the team's success is Quarterback Russ La-Macchia, Center Tim Swick and defensive linebacker Ray Hoose. A key man in the Ram defense, Hoose has averaged 15 tackles in each of the last 2 games. The Rams won over O'Rafferty Thursday 12-6.

The coaches are Gerald Reynolds and Jack Crawford.

Lakers Win Close One

Haslett, picking up steam as the season draws to a close, came from behind to upset Howell Friday night 20-19. It took a heroic effort on the part of Larry Shoemaker in the last quarter when he raced 75 yards for the touchdown which put Haslett ahead and then a Howell touchdown pulled the Highlanders to within one point of the Lakers but the kick for the extra point was wide and Haslett had the victory.

There were plenty of heroes for the Lakers. Bill Finout, handicapped all season with injuries, scored the first touchdown with a one-yard plunge. He also added an extra point. Then he contributed another touchdown with a 2-yard plunge.

It was Steve Johnson, though, who engineered the touchdown drives with his play calling and exceptional passing.

Howell scoring was handled by Rick Heikenen on a double reverse, pass play which ended with Tom Hicks taking the pass for the score. Norm Paton smashed over from the 3 and then John Theil sneaked over. Friday night Howell will entertain Mason while Haslett will play host to Okemos.

Tie-Breaker Is Needed

Without the help of computers and polls 3 Ingham County News football prognosticators came through with identical near-perfect records last week. Tom Durbin of Mason, Gary Wilcox of Dansville and Lawrence Martin of Williamston called 15 of the 16 games right, with the Stockbridge-Williamston tie eliminating itself.

When it came to the tie-breaker, though, it was Martin's ball game.

So he has a check for $10 waiting for him at the Ingham County News office.

Aggies Top Hawks

Leslie's Black Hawks dampened Dansville's homecoming but only temporarily last Friday afternoon as the Black Hawks bowed 14-6 for their seventh straight loss.

On Leslie's third play from scrimmage, the Hawks scored to take a 6-0 lead as Ron Ekms capped a 51 yard drive with a six-yard touchdown run. Try for the extra point failed.

Before the first quarter had ended, the Aggies moved in front with a TD by Jack Prince to tie the score. Prince put Dansville out in front to stay by running over the PAT. In the second quarter, Jim Mullin scored on a pass from Larry Hines. Prince again ran the PAT over to give the Aggies a 14-6 lead.

The loss completed Leslie's conference schedule with an 0-5 record. Dansville will play the Pinckney Panthers (3-1) Friday night in hopes of gaining a second place tie in the Ingham County league.

Leslie travels to Potterville Friday night still seeking its first win of the season. Potterville has already clinched the Central Michigan D League championship.

Mistakes again hurt Leslie as they have all season. In the final quarter, the Hawks moved 90 yards only to fumble the ball on the Aggies' three yard line. After holding the Aggies deep in their own territory, the Hawks then fumbled the ensuing punt on the Aggie 40.

Although they dominated play in the second half, the Leslie 11 was unable to score. A combination of their own mistakes and a stout Dansville defense stopped them after their opening TD.

NERVES WERE TAUT on both sides of the field Friday night as Mason and Holt locked in a defensive battle. This shot of the Mason bench was taken when things were looking up for Mason. Assistant Coach Ed Heiby makes no attempt to hide his feelings as Coach John Axford, standing behind Heiby, yells encouragement.

Mason Sets Called-Back Touchdown Grid Bust Allows Hornets To Tie

Mason high school will honor its football team and cross-country runners Tuesday night at a sports banquet at the high school. Besides team members guests will be parents, relatives and friends.

The speaker of the evening will be Dick Raklovits, assistant football coach at Western Michigan university. Coach John Axford and Assistant Ed Heiby will comment on the team and prospects for next year.

Mason Frosh Post Win

Mason freshmen ran over and around Holt Wednesday night and ended up with a 27-0 win. Jerry Evans scored the first touchdown and Doug Engle added another. A little later in the game Engle went across again with Evans running the extra point. Howard Batin then got into the scoring act with Engle adding the extra point. The final touchdown came on another run by Engle.

Mason will take on the Howell freshmen Wednesday night.

MSU Coach Speaks

Head basketball coach Fordy Anderson of Michigan State university appeared before Mason Kivanians Tuesday night. Anderson showed slides taken during a cage tour with U.S. stars through Japan last summer. In addition he related the trials and tribulations of bigtime coaching and gave a rundown on this year's prospects.

Raiders Keep Alive By Taking Greyhounds

O'Rafferty hung on to its title hopes Friday night by stopping Eaton Rapids 19-13. Going into the final league game of the season the 5-1 Raiders will have 2 battles in mind. First they will have to get some help from Eaton Rapids. If the Raiders are to get a share of the title Eaton Rapids must knock off Holt Friday night.

After getting past this if, the Raiders will have to repel the Shamrocks from Gabriels on Sunday afternoon in the annual Lansing parochial battle.

Beating the Rocks is going to be an easier assignment than waiting for Holt to lose its first game.

Eaton Rapids spotted O'Rafferty an early score Friday night. After an exchange of punts Dan Stump fired a touchdown pass to Mike Lynch on a play covering 45 yards.

In the second quarter the Raiders struck again. After a prolonged drive to the Eaton Rapids one, Mike Heller plunged over for the score. The extra point try was good.

Eaton Rapids came back with a stronger defense in the second half but couldn't move the ball with any regularity. Finally, with 6 minutes to go Dave Delano found the blockers to spring him loose and he was off on a 68-yard touchdown run.

On one other occasion Eaton Rapids moved to the Raider 2 but lost the ball on downs.

Fowlerville Clinches County League Title

Fowlerville clinched the Ingham County league title Friday night by steamrolling past Pinckney 25-0. The win gave the Gladiators a perfect league season while Pinckney is currently in second place. Pinckney still has to get past Dansville Friday in order to stay in second place all by itself.

Fowlerville is all done with league play. Friday night the Gladiators take on Corunna. The Gladiators didn't leave anything to chance in going for their third straight Ingham County league title. Dave Copeland was on the mark with 3 touchdown passes with Greg Braun snatching 2 of them covering 21 and 96 yards and Dan Perraud picking off the other in a 16-yard scoring effort.

Perraud added another score on a dive for short yardage and Ron Russell added the final tally. Jim Perraud kicked 4 of the extra points and Dan booted the other.

THIS PASS WAS UP FOR GRABS. Mason's Ron Reynolds appears to be coming out second best but actually he gained control from Holt's Jim Hanson.

Shiners Find Sport Is Costly
Five Eaton Rapids hunters found that venison comes high, especially when you get caught shinning deer.

Conservation Officer Walt Mutchler nabbed Leonard West, Ray Hutchings, Michael Herrick, James Steel and James H. Pierce Thursday night in the act of using artificial light to hunt deer.

They were picked up off of Kinneville road in Onondaga township.

They pleaded guilty when they appeared before Justice of the Peace Leonard Rouse of Leslie. Each was assessed fine and costs totalling $115.

Okemos Sewer Okayed
Mason councilmen approved the Okemos street storm sewer special assessment roll Monday night. The controversial sewer job has brought full houses at public hearings. Those in the special assessment district can spread their payments over 5 years if they so desire.

Fixed Millage Is Subject Of Meeting

Members of the Ingham county board of supervisors and the Ingham Intermediate board of education and school administrators have been asked to meet at the office of the intermediate board, 147 W. Maple street in Mason, November 10 at 7:30 p.m. to discuss fixed millage allotments.

Among those expected to attend the meeting are Glen Dean of Lansing, Kenneth Dillinger, East Lansing; Delmar Carr, Webberville; Gilbert Glover, Dansville; Robert Walker, Lansing; Charles Bode, Leslie; Clarence Prentice, Okemos; Robert Bruegel, East Lansing; Fred Jappinga, Haslett; and Alton J. Stroud, Mason.

Pranksters Zero in On Mailboxes

Rural mail boxes took a beating over the Halloween week-end.

The Ingham county sheriff's department received several reports concerning destruction of boxes.

Two boxes were blown up, one at the home of Jack Keek, 4696 Cornell road, Okemos, and one at the home of Wendell Maier, 345 Button road, Williamston. Maier said there were traces of what appeared to be firecracker wrappers on the box.

Mrs. Earl Jury, 370 Linn road, said someone fired a gun at a mail box in front of a house, which she and her husband own at 331 Linn road and blew a hole in it.

Halloween Fun

EATING AN APPLE is usually a pretty simple task, but not the case at the Kiwanis Halloween party Saturday night at the athletic field. Eating apples from paper plates on the ground with hands behind your back (at least that's where all of them were supposed to be) isn't so easy to do. Here 3 youngsters, one looking like a pheasant, grapple with their apples.

SQUEALS, GIGGLES, shrieks and shouts accompanied the efforts of the eager participants in the Kiwanis Halloween party sack race Saturday night at the athletic field as each one tried to make the goal line first. Cowgirls, clowns, hobos and many other comically garbed youngsters entered the race to pit their jumping skills against the boundless energies of other Mason sackers. Jennifer Brown, second from the right, leaped to victory first.

PUMPKIN ROLLING was another fun game at the Kiwanis Halloween party for Mason youngsters Saturday night and it proved to be quite a puzzle for some trying to decide just the best way to roll the awkward pumpkins. The boy on the left seems to have the problem licked—at least when the picture was taken.

JAMES H. VANDER VEN elementary school at Aurelius and Columbia may not be quite ready for classes yet but the perfect fall weather has allowed construction to move ahead at a fast clip. Builders hope to have the exterior work done including most of the masonry work before the deep freeze sets in.

Annual Meeting Booked For Red Cross Chapters

Fred E. Colwell, chapter chairman, announced that the annual meeting of the Ingham-Eaton Counties Red Cross will be held at the Y.W.C.A. on Tuesday, November 10, at 6:30 p.m.

Featured as speaker at the meeting will be Paul K. MacDonald, acting Region 4 director of the Office of Civil Defense. MacDonald's subject will be "The Government and the Red Cross."

MacDonald, who holds the rank of Major General USAR (retired), joined the civil defense office in 1955. He is responsible for regional implementation of federal programs for the protection of the civilian population against nuclear attack including fallout shelter, warning and communications, and assistance to state and local authorities in post-attack community services.

The local Red Cross organization includes among its services close coordination with the Office of Civil Defense in case of an emergency.

Also planned for the meeting are reports covering the past year's Red Cross activities such as the regional blood program, water safety, and first aid instruction. In addition, members of the board of directors and officers of the chapter will be elected for the coming year. The general public as well as all persons connected with Red Cross activities are invited to attend the dinner meeting. Reservations may be made by calling the local chapter office, at 484-7461.

History of Harper Hospital And WSU Blended in New Book

The book reviews the history of Detroit's Harper Hospital, intimately linked with the University's history through this building, erected in 1888.

The founding of Wayne's oldest parent institution, the Detroit Medical College, was a response to critical community needs in the immediate post Civil War era. It was in April 1884 that Army buildings known in that day as pavilions were erected in the Hospital area to serve as wards for wounded and convalescent veterans.

Detroit doctors then proposed a new medical school for the competent training of physicians to staff this group of hospital buildings, and this Detroit Medical College structure was decided upon.

Its creation was a matter of joining two of the temporarily existing together with a new central building, in that day considered imposing.

Since that time the structure has been moved to a new location in Detroit, where its architecture and other features are being studied by medical historians.

The original site of the building is part of Detroit's new multi-hospital Medical Center in which Wayne's new Medical Research Building (shown in the lower photo) is now rising. Only two blocks in distance but nearly 100 years of medical progress separate the two structures.

Authors of the historical volume are Frank B. Woodford, a former chief editorial writer for the "Detroit Free Press," now deputy treasurer for the City of Detroit; and Prof. Philip P. Mason, formerly director of the State Archives of Michigan, now archivist at Wayne State.

Ag. Census Enumerators Selected

Twelve enumerators have been named in Ingham county for the 1964 census of agriculture, Mrs. Phyllis Brown, crew leader, announced this week. Those appointed are Mrs. Doris Douglas, Mrs. Theo Wilhelm, Glenna VanOstran, Mrs. Mary Copeman, Robert Fuller, Mrs. Juanita Henselet, Mrs. Frances Cook, Mrs. Pauline Nottingham, Mrs. Erma Baldwin, John Edgar, Mrs. Claire Schertzling and Mrs. Beverly Glenn.

The enumerators will be trained in a special 4-day home study course designed to prepare them for the farm census in Ingham county are part of a force of 25,000 throughout the nation employed temporarily by the U. S. Bureau of the Census for this year's Census of Agriculture.

Enumerators are key workers in an agricultural census. It is the enumerator's responsibility to locate every farm within an enumeration district assigned to him (or her), determine if the operator of the farm has answered all questions on a questionnaire that will be mailed to the farmer by the Census Bureau, help the farmer complete any unanswered questions on the form, check answers for accuracy, and deliver the form to the Census Bureau.

A Census of Agriculture is taken every five years in the years ending in "4" and "9" to gather needed, up-to-date information on the nation's agricultural resources and production. Such information is vital in making decisions affecting many segments of the U. S. economy. Data gathered include the number and size of farms, acreage and harvest of crops, livestock inventory, information on farm equipment and improvements, production expenditure. Information also will be collected on use of fertilizers, insecticides, and herbicides.

Seventy-five singers were present at the first rehearsal of the Messiah and even more are expected next Tuesday. The newly formed community chorus met in the Mason high school choral room. Rehearsals will be every Tuesday at 8 p.m. The performance will be Sunday, December 13, in the high school auditorium.

Special thanks was made to the Ingham County News for their encouragement and assistance to the Mason Senior Music club during its formation. This club is sponsoring the community chorus.

Judge Warns Teenagers

The disturbance last Saturday night and Sunday morning at the Civic Center has brought a warning from Probate Judge James Kallman.

Although the Prosecuting Attorney's office, as of this time, has filed no felony complaints, as the result of this disturbance, for waiters to the Circuit Court; in order that there is absolutely no misunderstanding, the policy of the juvenile court in Ingham county will be that where serious disturbances occur, coupled with the striking of law enforcement officers or threats of violence, i.e. such as pointing a gun at a police officer, these acts will not be tolerated. Judge Kallman warned. The full power of the Court will be used to curb actions of this type, he said.

Any juvenile apprehended during such a disturbance, and in the act of committing a felony, will be waived to circuit court to be tried as an adult upon a waiver request being filed in said court by the prosecuting attorney's office.

WITH SCORES CROWDED into the Ingham County News press room, Gov. Romney stepped up to a blue ribbon that had been tied around the Goss Suburban web offset press - and cut it. The governor reflected upon the importance of newspapers in a free society and proffered the hope that the News would keep abreast of the dynamic growth of the Central Michigan area. He was willing to be photographed pushing the button to start up the big press, but one of his aides suggested that he cut the ribbon claiming that "pushing buttons isn't a popular campaign subject this year."

"WELL, WHY DOESN'T HE GO THERE," declared Gov. Romney, referring to Washington, D.C. where he claims Neil Staebler, his Democrat opponet, believes all solutions to all problems stems from.

SEVERAL HUNDRED listened to the Republican governor review his 2 years at the helm.

GOV. ROMNEY'S crowd in Mason was enthusiastic. An aide said privately that "the governor is sure wound up in Mason. This is one of his best talks of the campaign."

Governor Cuts a Ribbon On News' Offset Press

One of the last major stops of Governor George Romney's campaign caravan was in Mason. He gave an address at a rally at The Ingham County News last Wednesday night and later cut a ribbon to dedicate a recent News press expansion. An estimated 300 persons heard the governor and an entourage of state and county candidates. These pictures, taken by Archy Ammerman, cover the governor's appearance at the rally and later inside the pressroom. To get the crowd pictures, Archy scampered to the roof of the News building. During the ribbon-cutting ceremony, the photographer backed into a wastepaper basket - and fell in it. In spite of the handicaps of photography, the governor's staff said these pictures are among the best ever taken of the governor.

The successful rally was possible with the cooperation of several Mason organizations. Dart National bank helped clear its parking lot for the rally. Mason firemen and policemen were on hand with lighting and public address equipment. The Mason Republican headquarters helped organize the local effort.

INTENSE, Gov. Romney told the Mason crowd that his administration had only begun to rebuild Michigan and asked for 2 more years at the helm. The crowd loved it.

IN THE NEWS LOBBY, Gov. Romney stopped to visit with Mrs. Charles Davis and others.

Firemen Set Barn Fire To Try Out New Nozzle

HOLT - A barn on the farm of Earl Nichols burned down last Thursday night while firemen were on hand, but the whole thing was perfectly legal.

The Delhi township fire department has acquired a new type nozzle for its hose lines and they wanted to test it.

Nichols was planning to tear down the old barn anyway, and went along with the firemen's request to set it ablaze so that they could see if their nozzle would work.

The firemen set several small fires to try out the new nozzle before they set the fire in the barn.

The new nozzle is pointed and is capable of shooting a stream of water with enough force to pierce a wall and is ideal for reaching into places hard to get at.

Nichols was so pleased with the results he gave the firemen permission to conduct another test last Saturday night when the firemen set afire a brooder coop on the Nichols farm.

Lake Trout On The Rebound

Significant improvements are continuing to show up among lake trout in Lake Superior as the result of lamprey control in recent years. Records of commercial fishermen, whose catch is tightly regulated under special permits, point up an increase in the number and size of native lake trout. They also reveal improved survival among these fish, particularly the larger and older ones which are most vulnerable to lamprey attacks. Too, spawning has taken a marked turn for the better in some areas, reflecting another ray of promise for fish plantings geared to speeding recovery of lake trout in these waters. Helping to keep a pulse on latest developments are a small number of commercial operators with permits who provide fisheries officials with facts and figures about their catches. - Mich. Letters

Stormer's Book

Mr. John Stormer's book 'None Dare Call It Treason' upon reading, appears to be a very well documented piece of literature. Although I must admit I have not checked the references, I have all the documentation right at my fingertips if I care to do so. The quotations from books, text books, speeches, congressional investigation reports and newspaper items, etc. are all very clearly given, who said it, before whom, who wrote it, name of book, page numbers and dates, etc. It would be interesting to know the references which are "inaccurate". In other words, I would like to see the documentation for the statements made by the National Committee on Civic Responsibility of Cleveland, accusing Mr. Stormer's book of "at best an incredibly poor job of research and documentation and at worst a deliberate hoax and a fraud." This statement is the kind of half truth, innuendo and smear we've been treated to throughout this presidential campaign. Never a clear cut "It's a lie, it's not true, and here is the proof!"

Furthermore, just for the record, we deserve to know who the National Committee on Civic Responsibility of Cleveland is, where they are employed, the organizations to which they and their wives belong. Perhaps an "evaluation" of these people is in order since we don't know if their testimony is "necessarily always factual or true".

Isn't it strange there has been no court action instituted against the author for so much inaccuracy. Since the evidence presented against this book is no more concrete than the previous statement by the committee I must go along with Mr. Stormer and his documentation.

Post Election Letter

I would like to comment on the letter written to the editor by Joyce Hoedeman which appeared in the October 28th issue of the News. Joyce stated: "National prosperity has made Romney look good, but the fact is that we're enjoying good times in spite of George, not because of him."

The fact is that national prosperity has been in existence for more than two years. It seems to me that George Romney is the first governor of Michigan to have been made to look good by it. If that is the reason.

The fact is we are enjoying good times because we no longer have a $105,000,000 debt but a $50,000,000 surplus and 104,000 new jobs. Those are the facts. Michigan needs George Romney.

Ingham Jail Will Require More Deputies and Clerks

In 2 previous articles regarding the new $1,750,000 Ingham county jail, the Ingham County News has discussed the necessity for the jail and its physical plant.

This, the final article, explains the operation of the new jail, the personnel required by state law, and the service area required to provide laundry, medical service, feeding facilities and maintenance of the new institution.

Michigan law requires that each floor of the new jail section and the receiving section must be manned 24 hours a day. The women's section must have a matron on duty 24 hours a day.

This supervision will require sergeants in charge of the jail section and the receiving section who are responsible for security control over prisoners, the cleaning of cells and corridors and the numerous other duties the institution will require.

The personnel requirement chart as studied and approved by the department of correction shows 16 security officers and 4 matrons will be required to operate the receiving and jail sections.

In order to feed the inmates, it was necessary to design an institutional type kitchen whereby food supplies could be purchased, prepared and distributed to inmates in their cells.

The kitchen has been so designed to permit volume purchasing and storage at the most economical cost.

Three meals a day will be served with menus prepared by 2 women civilian cooks as approved by the department of correction.

Food carts will be utilized to transport the food from the kitchen to the cells. Each cart will carry 40 trays.

This preparation of food, in itself, is an accomplishment. In the present jail on East Maple street in 1963 there were 118,000 meals prepared in the jail kitchen and served to prisoners. This will continue to increase as more inmates are incarcerated in the new jail.

Another major task is to provide 2 clothing changes and bedding changes twice each week for each inmate. In order to provide this laundry service at the most reasonable cost, a laundry is provided in the new jail. This room will be equipped with 2 commercial type washing machines and one commercial type dryer, all of which will be operated by jail inmates.

It also is the responsibility of the sheriff under Michigan law to provide medical care for any inmate in his institution. A small type clinic has been provided in the new jail in conjunction with an 8-bed sick room whereby the jail physician may provide treatment for sick inmates. An officer will be provided to assist the physician in providing medication under the doctor's orders. This officer also will be responsible for the identification and photography section of the jail.

The cost of medication and medical service, Sheriff Kenneth L. Preadmore says, will be greatly reduced by this system and prevent much of the hospitalization of inmates in area hospitals, which is a big saving to the county.

One of the major maintenance responsibilities at the new jail is the operation of heating the structure, of providing water for bathing and cooking and the overall maintenance of the jail itself.

The heating system is a gas-fired hot water type unit. The boilers in the jail are the type which do not require a fireman on duty 24 hours a day. Here, too, Sheriff Preadmore points out there is a saving to the county in salaries for boiler men.

A workshop is provided whereby 2 maintenance supervisors may repair and keep in operation the many maintenance services required for this type of institution. Here, too, the cost of employing commercial plumbers and electricians to service the jail is eliminated.

A service garage has been provided for maintenance of the fleet of police cars, jail farm trucks, prison bus, county library equipment and whatever other county equipment will be added in the future.

All minor maintenance of police cars and other county-owned vehicles can be accomplished in this service garage. In the future, as the county fleet grows, a mechanic will be employed to service all county vehicles.

One of the major requirements of an institution such as the new jail, is that all areas--both the interior and the exterior of the new jail and the ground areas around it--must be adequately lighted to prevent escapes of prisoners or any attempts by mobs to break into the institution to free a prisoner.

Electrical power also must be available to operate a radio system which service not only the sheriff's department, but also other small police and fire departments throughout the county.

Therefore, in case of a power failure due to tornadoes, winds, or electrical storms which could cripple the lighting and communication systems at the jail, an auxiliary power generator has been provided which would function automatically to provide security lighting and continued radio operation of the institution.

The maintenance of buildings and grounds would require a tremendous personnel, but inmate trustees of the jail will provide much of the labor of cleaning and yard maintenance of the institution, thereby earning good time from their sentences and providing a saving to the taxpayers of the county.

Careful planning and study prepared by Sheriff Preadmore, members of the building committee of the Ingham county board of supervisors and the architects, have provided the county with an institution that in appearance is not an eyesore to the community and which will be used for the purpose of securely holding prisoners as prescribed by law.

The building is designed with facilities to provide the management and supplies through the control of the Ingham county controller and the sheriff at the most reasonable cost possible.

Says Sheriff Preadmore:

"The taxpayers of Ingham county should be justly proud of this institution and the thought and work of all persons concerned with its development. When this building is completed and ready for public inspection we urge everyone to come and visit it."

PTA to Meet

As I See It

By Hayden Palmer

You don't hear as much about the 3 R's of education as you did 20 or 30 years ago. Like the little red school house they almost seem to have disappeared--lost in the overwhelming advancement of modern education.

And reading, writing and arithmetic--the 3 R's of yesterday--have found their place in the sun again. In fact by none other than some of the leading educators of the country.

These educators see in the 3 R's a way to solve the dropout problem which every year sees about a million youngsters in America quit school before they finish high school.

They propose the establishment of "slum schools" where children of pre-school age who live in slum areas would begin studying the 3 R's especially reading. And most of all the child must be given a sense of personal worth and dignity.

But first of all, these educators said, we must believe firmly that these children can be educated.

The educators regard reading as the first and foremost of all subjects in this pre-kindergarten training. And they believe, too, to train a new generation of teachers who must have faith and a strong unwillingness to give up in their work with these slum school children.

The special program already is under way in St. Louis, Missouri where a sort of middle class environment in a slum neighborhood school.

Samuel Shepard Jr., assistant superintendent of St. Louis schools says: "The heart and soul of our approach is hard work and an abiding faith that our pupils have the potential to learn."

The purpose of these pre-school schools is to produce an elementary school pupil well grounded in basic subjects and capable of handling a secondary school program. If he can do this he will not drop out of school and a long step will have been taken toward eliminating delinquency.

Shepard also points out that the plan to be successful must have the support of parents. So every effort is made to enlist their cooperation and to change attitudes from one of contempt for education to one of respect and esteem.

This program appears to be at least an effort to stop the dropout problem. It could work in Ingham county as well as it can in a big city area. Ingham schools have dropout problems as well as St. Louis schools or those of New York or Chicago.

While there are few if any so-called "slum" pupils in Ingham county schools, there are those who, now of pre-school age, could benefit from the program of pre-school grounding in the 3 R's.

The program, at least, appears to be a step in the right direction. It certainly can do no harm and it may do a whole lot of good.

Ingham county lost a college last week but stands a chance to gain another if the voters want it.

The proposed $30,000,000 osteopathic college of Michigan which had acquired a site in Delhi township, suddenly pulled up stakes and a lot of plans for this area because of the osteopathic school went up into thin air.

Now come November 15, voters of the county will be asked to decide whether they want a county community college of their very own, operated by a board of trustees of their own choosing and at a cost of a 1 mill tax levy.

If the proposal carried Ingham will have a college to which it can send its young people and which adults also may attend and gain instruction in a long list of courses which the school now offers.

It means that Ingham county people are asked if they want to take over and operate the pre-sent Lansing Community College--an already going institution--and make it a part of Ingham county's education establishment.

Churchman At Aurelius Will Speak

AURELIUS - Rev. and Mrs. Edwin Messerschmidt, of Winona Lake, Indiana, will speak at Aurelius Baptist Church on Wednesday through Sunday, November 4-8 at 8 p.m.

Edwin Messerschmidt represents the cause of Christian missions out of a world-wide ministry in Bible teaching and evangelism which has taken him to over 40 nations and where the Oriental Missionary Society is currently engaged in missionary work. As the Regional Representative of the North Central Region of the O.M.S., with offices in Winona Lake, Indiana, he gives a penetrating interpretation of the Society's multiple ministry of direct evangelism, training of national pastors, and establishment of indigenous Christian congregations, and relates it to the world impact of the Christian faith.

Mrs. Messerschmidt is a talented vocalist and flutist. She brings a delightful dimension to her husband's ministry. At the same time she speaks to serious minded Christians out of field experiences in South America where she served as a missionary.

Students in the case are Bonnie Lantz, Fay Nowos, Mark White, Tonnie Kisse, Dan Folle, Irene Townsend, Dee Dee Durst, and Arlo Peterson.

The 3-act drama, which was originally produced by Sam H. Harris at the Ethel Barrymore theater will be directed by Mrs. Carol Ford, Okemos high school speech teacher.

Regional Library Is Now Underway

A regional library system aimed to embrace Ingham, Eaton and Clinton counties, is underway, Renwick Garypie, director of the Ingham county library system, said this week, in announcing the receipt of a shipment of approximately 100 current 1964 books for distribution to the 3 libraries now enrolled in the system--Ingham county, East Lansing and Dewitt.

First orders for books are going in this week under the federal aid program. Shipments are scheduled to arrive every 2 weeks and the next shipment, Garypie said, will contain more than 100 volumes.

Each library has its free quota of books. If a library orders beyond the quota it must pay for the extra books from its book fund.

The quotas are set on a per capita basis of residents in the area the library serves. The state board of libraries has made a grant of $3,806 from federal aid funds to purchase the books for the new system.

On November 15 names of all libraries which have asked to join the system will go to state board of libraries for approval. When approved they will then join the system and share in the book collection plan.

The system is one of several created this year through passage by congress of the library service and construction act of 1964.

Agriculture in Action

There is plentiful evidence that apportionment and what it means to rural areas is foremost in farmers' minds.

It is the number-one topic at farm policy meetings in all parts of the state as revealed by stacks of apportionment resolutions tallied among all issues discussed at County Farm Bureau annual meetings. This time of year these proposed policies are forwarded to Michigan Farm Bureau headquarters at Lansing for further

TV Science Club To Meet

The first meeting of the new 4-H TV Science club will come to order in front of the home television set Saturday, November 7, over WMSB-TV, Channel 10, at 11:30 a.m. The program may also be viewed at 6 p.m. each Wednesday, starting November 11.

According to Forrest N. Armock, county extension agent 4-H, this will be the first meeting of the group.

Jim Culver is club leader. With the help of the studio 4-H club members, Maureen Keane, Karen Welman, Rex Gates, and David Gillespie, he will explain more about the club and give a preview of the club project.

Culver will also explain laboratory experiments which each 4-H'ers can do in their own home. They will learn how to preserve animals in alcohol, to make a sun dial, to make an iodine test for starch, or make a model air car plus many other exciting experiments.

Each show features a special guest who is an expert in the projects under discussion at each club meeting.

action by statewide delegate body, November 10-11-12.

On those dates upward of 2,000 farmers, among them nearly 700 official voting delegates, will add to the already crowded campus scene at Michigan State University for the 45th annual meeting of the Michigan Farm Bureau.

Governor Romney has confirmed his attendance to give the traditional Chief Executive's report on the state-of-the-state. Other reports will be made by farmer-officers who have been elected to oversee the work of the big farm organization. There will be special-interest conferences and nearly two days of work on a long slate of policy resolutions.

Those who think of farmers as taciturn--halting of speech and incapable of self-expression, might be surprised by the eloquent wording and smooth phrasing of proposed policy statements.

On the apportionment issue, Ingham county farmers produced this example: "Gone is the 'equal protection' of thinly populated rural areas. . . . the citizens of these areas will be denied effective representation by the factor of distance alone."

"Stifled is the local initiative and individuality which has so enriched the political thought and ideals of our nation. Forgotten are the lessons of history which have repeatedly shown that majorities can be, and often are, disastrously wrong. . . ."

Next to apportionment, property tax relief is the most frequently mentioned policy matter. A state income tax is often suggested as replacement.

Farmers exhibit growing concern about the mushrooming hodge-podge of city income taxes, which they contend add to the burden without giving relief to property owners.

4-H News

Saturday evening October 24, Mason City Slickers 4-H club sponsored a hayride. About 100 participated in the hayride and program. Cider and donuts furnished by Larry Hagerman were served enroute to the Nesbitt farm on East Columbia road by Mrs. Gary Nesbitt.

The protection and safety of all members was provided by the Ingham county sheriff Kenneth Preadmore. Deputy James Maddix escorted the wagons through dangerous intersections. The tractor-wagon train with 3 wagons was provided and driven by Victor Montaven of Mason. The event was chaperoned by Mrs. Gary Nesbitt, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tarant, Larry Hagerman and the 4-H community leaders, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Judd.

Halloween a Big Night For Aurelius Boys, Girls

AURELIUS - Halloween always is a big event of the year in Aurelius and the 1964 observance was no exception.

First there were parties Friday afternoon in the Aurelius Center and the Barnes schools and prizes were given for the best costumes in each grade, games were played and refreshments were served. Nine mothers attended the program at the Barnes school.

But the big time came Saturday evening when the little folks of Aurelius sallied forth on their trick or treat adventure. Attired in all sorts of weird costumes, they visited every house in town and when they were through the bags they carried were bulging with apples, popcorn balls and all kinds of candy doled out by villagers.

For days before Halloween townfolk had been stocking up with trick or treat supplies. Most of the candy they purchased but some prepared popcorn balls and others had gifts of apples or other fruit waiting for the visitors.

It has been estimated that about 65 children took part in the canvass of the town for goodies and they all came home after it was over with enough eatables to satisfy them for several days at least.

It was a cooperative effort on the part of the townspeople of Aurelius to make a pleasant Halloween for the little ones. It's all over now and the funny costumes and grotesque masks have been put away for another year, but the adults and the youngsters are both more than happy with the results.

Keep All Night Vigil

Munith Citizens Guard Village Against Vandals

MUNITH - A group of Munith citizens, working with local and state police, stayed on the job all night Saturday to keep peace and quiet in the village.

Last year, gangs of youngsters had blocked the streets of Munith making it impossible for anyone to get in or out of the town. To build the blockades last year, as well as previous years, the youths had used such things as road signs, county road equipment, fenceposts, farm machinery, crates and straw. Last year matters were complicated when the straw was set on fire.

According to Lee James, a Munith resident, Halloween night in Munith and surrounding areas had gotten to be quite a problem, especially in the last five years, as groups of hoodlums roved the area trying to see who could do the most damage. James said that the gangs moved anything that wasn't nailed down out into the streets, completely barricading them. He said quite a lot of property had been wrecked by vandals on Halloween and often, most of Munith's street lights would be broken out.

So, the citizens of the village, including the bankers, ministers and other village leaders, in cooperation with Jackson County Sheriff's deputies and state police troopers, decided to do something about it this year. They formed a committee to work with the officers to keep peace and order and assure the safety of area residents against that element which had in the past demonstrated their disrespect for law and order as well as the property of others.

With the hiring of Robert Bechtol and Leonard Clark as deputies, things which for 14 years had been out of hand, began to be brought under control.

As a result, when Halloween night, 1964 arrived, the officers along with a volunteer citizen's committee of 15 men were ready for anything.

Deputy Bechtol said, "We know they are, but the ones who have been causing trouble here were not primarily teenagers. He said that many of them are married men, mostly in their early twenties and some of them with two or three kids."

James said: "We plastered the town with volunteers of the citizens committee and we also had state police troopers and Jackson County Sheriff's deputies making periodic checks."

James said that after some time patrolling the streets, the volunteers got into several cars and proceeded to completely spoil the "fun".

At latest report, the most serious damage in Munith were a few smashed pumpkins and one youth who got caught in the act and was asked by police to clean up his mess, soon disappeared and was not seen again.

Many Munith residents did have fun Halloween night however. The Methodist church was the scene of a costume party with adults as well as kids dressed up. There were witches and goblins in all sizes.

Somebody was heard to say, "For the first time in 14 years, people had fun and no one spoiled it."

Buck Hunting Success in 1963

Where was buck hunting best in 1963? The answer to that depends on what you count as best. Individual hunters in the Upper Peninsula were the most successful, but kill per square mile was highest in the northern Lower Peninsula where gun pressure was over three times as great. In the southern third of the state, a few spots measured up to some of the better northern areas with buck kill per square mile. All told, about one of every four Michigan hunters got a deer last year. Approximately 15 percent of the 502,000 hunters killed a buck, while nearly 10 percent took an antlerless deer.

Michigan Mirror

County boards of supervisors throughout the state have just begun what could be a long wait to determine whether the boards are legally constituted.

A court test of county board apportionment was started in Kent County Circuit Court and has now reached the State Supreme Court. There is every indication it will be carried to the U.S. Supreme Court regardless of the state decision.

Kent Circuit Judge Fred N. Searl ruled in September that the county board in his area was illegally constituted because it failed to reflect the one-man, one-vote factor set down for State Legislatures earlier this year by the U.S. Supreme Court.

Several cases now awaiting decision in the State Supreme Court have been there six months or more. There is no indication this case is being given any preferential treatment in the decision-making process.

Opponents of Searl's ruling, led by County officials, say the population factor does not prevail where county boards are concerned because they are administrative bodies rather than legislative units, as dealt with in the U. S. Supreme Court decision.

The Kent County case could well affect every area where there is a large city accounting for the majority of county population. In most counties of this type, the county boards now have less city members than would be provided under a strict one-man, one-vote basis.

Fewer Vacations

Schools of tomorrow, and particularly high schools, may bring even more changes than scientific advances of the past decade have brought.

Summer-long vacations and seven-hour daily sessions very likely will be just a memory, according to two leading Michigan educators.

Michigan State University President John A. Hannah recently called for high school administrators to consider keeping their doors open 12 months a year.

"The excuses for releasing pupils in the summer months are far less convincing than they were," he said. "And in the light of the amount there is to be taught and the limited time available it is our duty to ask ourselves if we can still afford the luxury of long, lazy summer vacations."

Use of high schools year-round would accomplish little, however, if the extra time was used "merely to expedite the completion of high school education at an earlier age," said Hannah.

Superintendent of Public Instruction Lynn M. Bartlett predicts that a longer school year and extended daily hours will be an accomplished fact within 10 years and that the extra time will be put to good use.

"There is no question in my mind that in 10 years not only will the school year and the school day be significantly longer than today, but also because of the tremendous increase in knowledge and the ever-growing need for more skills and training, our schools will be open on some basis the year around, perhaps on a 10-to-15-hour daily program," he said.

Bartlett notes significantly that 25 percent of Michigan's secondary schools have lengthened the school day since 1958 and 16 percent of the elementary schools have taken the same step. Nearly 15 percent of the schools on both levels have already extended the school year to some degree in the same five-year period.

PROTECTION PROBLEM
It was evident during the recent campaign that security measures were tightened considerably in the many public appearances of President Johnson around the country.

The same was not true in Michigan, where Gov. George Romney has virtually ignored any attempts to keep State Police aides close to him in all public gatherings.

Three State Police men are permanently assigned to the Governor of Michigan on basically a 24-hour guard. Usually only one, but on infrequent occasions two are with him when he attends public functions.

A sharp contrast in acceptance of police protection was noted between Romney and his predecessor, John B. Swainson.

Swainson, because of a war injury which required him to wear artificial legs, was glad to have his State Police aide and local officers near him constantly to clear his path.

In contrast, Romney is prone to wander into the thick of crowds where it is virtually impossible for one person to stay by his side.

Should a serious threat to Michigan's chief executive arise, it is presumed future governors would be required to accept close security protection in much the same manner as the President of the United States.

lighted the Raymond Fink party on Halloween. Eerie laughs, clanking chains and creaking doors accompanied the guests on their eerie walk.

Before this all the masqueraded couples enjoyed an old-fashioned hayride around the neighborhood.

Decorations of the traditional orange and black, with witches, black cats, skeletons and pumpkins were used to bedeck the house.

The couples then enjoyed dancing or playing cards, interrupted by a wiener roast around a huge bonfire in the back yard. The only illumination again came from candle lit pumpkins placed at intervals around the room.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Leon Norris, Mr. and Mrs. Leland Christensen, Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Palozzo, Mr. and Mrs. Ken McManus, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Blaxton, Mr. and Mrs. Duane West, Mr. and Mrs. Tim Totton, Mr. Paul Jones with Miss Nancy Totton, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Harshbarger and Mr. and Mrs. Ron Baker.

A Spooky Night At Brook Hollow

WILLIAMSTON - Brook Hollow Country club turned into Spooky Hollow last Saturday night for the club's Halloween dance.

Couples entered through only one entrance into a blackened room, the only lights used were black lights shining down on white gloves hanging eerily from the ceiling, from coat hangers and from any other vantage point. Cobwebs and spiders were scattered around the area and used with the gloves.

Around the other rooms were used orange fish nets with spiders other miscellaneous bugs and autumn leaves scattered over them.

Costumes were so very excellent that four finalists were chosen. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Huff were one; Mrs. Huff came as a box of Tarryton cigarettes and Mr. Huff came all bruised and

These HANDS of MINE

Whether building a life or a skyscraper is involved, a clear understanding of the project is necessary... a plan must be in mind. The man who starts to raise a family without first considering his earning power, cost involved and the necessity for God's help — faces serious difficulty. To correctly raise a building an architect, blueprint and a builder are essential. To properly build a man — prayer, Bible reading, Sunday school and church attendance are good tools to work with. To calculate the pitch a roof must be is easy but without God's help, to determine the worth of a young life is impossible. Architects design houses. Builders put them together. But only God can build a man out of a boy. The church, through these firm hands of mine, pictures to humanity the world's greatest designer... Jesus the Christ. World builders could not get along very well without Him. He has never poured a bad foundation, nor laid a sill out of level, nor raised a wall off plum. "Except the Lord build the house, they labor in vain who build it," Psalms 127:1.
