Dear Santa Claus,
I'm 10 years old and I want a watch for Christmas and a marble race game. I like Christmas very much and I also like you. Your beard is longer than last year it must have grown over the year. I saw you today in Mason. I'd like to be a bad girl and I won't get my gifts. I wish I could have seen you and I'd give you my helicopter to-day I will leave some cookies for you on Christmas eve.

Merry Christmas -

Centennial Planning Picks Up

Mason's centennial which is due for celebration next June is building up a head of steam. Tuesday night officers of the centennial organization heard Ed Morey and Charles Schaefer of Charlotte relate the experiences of the Charlotte centennial conducted last year.

Morey, chairman of the Charlotte organization, also spoke to Mason Kwantians before the centennial meeting.

Chairman Dick Magel has announced some appointments to the centennial organization.

Members of the executive board are Leonard Carter, Rev. Muri Eastman and Frank Guerrero. Named to board of directors are M. Chandler Nauts and Dick Brown with others to be selected this week. Tom Christensen has accepted the appointment as publicity chairman for the event.

The Charlotte men showed slides and movies taken during the organizational work, the parade and the pageant.

Artist's sketch of new Ingham county jail to be dedicated Saturday and put into use in January.

PUBLIC INVITED AT 1 P.M.

Jail Dedication Saturday

Saturday is the day that supervisors, Ingham taxpayers, Sheriff Kenneth Preadmore and his staff and to a lesser degree of enthusiasm, the jail inmates, have been waiting for.

At ceremonies in the chapel of the new Ingham county jail Saturday at 1 p.m. the key will be turned over to the county and the building will officially be ready for use.

The program will start with the invocation by Rabbi Philip Frankel of Lansing. Supervisor Paul Richards of Mason, chairman of the county buildings committee, will present the welcome. Remarks will be offered by Mayor Gilson Pearsall of Mason, Chairman Robert O. Bruegel of East Lansing and Clark Ackley, jail architect.

Gus Harrison, director of the state department of corrections, will give the address.

The dedicatory prayer will be offered by Rev. Joseph Nielson of Mason then the architect will present the key to Richards who will turn it over to Sheriff Kenneth Preadmore.

The benediction will be given by Fr. William Rademacher of Mason.

After the program the jail will be open for public inspection from 2 to 6. Open house hours on Sunday will be from 1 to 6. The next week and the jail will be open for public inspection from 1-6 on both Saturday and Sunday.

Getting the jail has been a long haul for supervisors. It will be an even longer haul for the taxpayers who will have to come up with the millage necessary for paying off the bonds.

The preliminary study on the new structure was started in April of 1961 after the structure now in use was ordered to either be remodeled or closed. The order came from the state jail inspector.

The construction plans were approved March 5, 1962 and the $1,750,000 structure was begun October 3, 1963.

Cell space and facilities are available to house 240 inmates with the basic service facilities designed to handle 500 prisoners if such an expansion should be necessary.

SPECIAL ARRANGEMENTS have been made with Santa Claus to publish the letters he gets from youngsters in The Ingham County News - like this letter that Mr. Claus sent the News this week. After Santa reads each letter, he'll send it to the News and as many as possible will be published between now and Christmas. To be published, letters to Santa must be mailed in Santa's special mailbox on the courthouse square in Mason.

Group Probes Reactivating Jaycees

First steps toward the reactivation of the Mason Junior Chamber of Commerce were taken at a meeting last Wednesday night at Turney's restaurant by a group of interested Mason young men, who hope to elect officers and swing into operation at their second meeting scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Friday, December 11 in the Vevay township hall.

Mike Trudeau, Mason insurance man, presided at last week's meeting as chairman. Present was a representative group representing insurance firms, Oldsmobile, Michigan Department of Health, Michigan Department of Agriculture, retail groceries, Michigan State university and county and local law enforcement.

Each person present volunteered to bring 2 other prospective members to the next meeting, which is expected to become a reactivation session.

Mason had a Jaycee organization until about 3 years ago. That group was chartered in 1947. It disbanded about 1961, but the charter still is in existence, and the new group will take it over if enough members can be obtained. Twenty five members is the minimum for organizing a junior chamber.

During its existence the early junior chamber in Mason raised about $1,500 in the drive for a new hospital here, helped in the creation of a park along Sycamore creek and was active in youth sports and recreation programs.

Jerry Erzen of the Lansing Jaycees addressed the group at its first meeting.

Meeting To Air Boys Camp

A public meeting has been called for Friday at 8 p.m. at the Vevay township hall to discuss a proposed camp for boys, known as Highfields on an 80 acre tract 2 miles east of Eden.

A representative group from the board of directors of Camp Ingham Inc. which will operate the camp, will attend to answer questions pertaining to the proposed camp and to explain the program.

The meeting was called by Wilfred Jewett, Vevay township supervisor, and other persons living in the vicinity of the proposed camp. It is open to the public.

Some opposition has developed to the site.

Stubbert Offers Mail Hints

"Please pack parcels solidly," was the plea of Postmaster James Stubbert at Mason.

The head of the Mason post office also reminded his patrons that the use of free "locks" and "out-town" separation bands will help move the mails faster. The bands are available at the post office or from most letter carriers.

December 10 is the suggested deadline for mailing out-of-state packages. A tightly stuffed package, with nothing rattling around inside, will have less chance of being damaged in transit.

All parcels should be addressed on only one side and should also have the address written on the inside of the package in case the exterior wrapping should come off.

Sheriff Holds Man Accused of Church Arson

The Ingham county sheriff's department cooperating with the fire marshal's office of state police at Jackson is holding in jail on a charge of arson Edgel Moore, 33, in connection with a fire at 1998 Catholic Church road, in Bunker Hill township on last October 24. Moore was arrested in San Fernando Beach, Florida. He waived extradition and was returned here November 23.

The Ingham county prosecutor's office last Friday issued a warrant charging Moore with arson and for violation of his probation. Moore already is on probation on another arson charge. Sheriff's detectives said the home burned was owned by Mr. and Mrs. John Moore, who live in a tenant house near by on the Jack Meyers farm. They left for Kentucky on October 24 to take Edgel Moore's wife to her parents there without notifying her husband. They picked Mrs. Moore up at St. Lawrence hospital in Lansing where she was a patient and drove to her home in Kentucky.

The fire was discovered by neighbors at 8:34 p.m. the night of October 24. Officers said there was an odor of fuel oil about the building when the firemen arrived and some of this fuel oil was found at the house. The occupants of the house carried no insurance on the house or its contents.

Neighbors said they noticed the Edgel Moore car move out of the driveway of the house while they were out rounding up stray cows, and then they saw the fire.

While his wife was in the hospital Edgel Moore is reported to have gone to Kentucky to get his mother and brought her back to take care of the Moore baby

Driver Injured

Thaddeus Slight of Kinneville suffered cuts and bruises Sunday at 1:07 a.m. when his car went into a ditch and rolled over. Slight told Ingham county sheriff's officers that he stopped on Kinneville road before crossing the railroad track and then started up rapidly, lost control of the car and it went into a ditch and rolled over.

Hospital Changes By-Laws

At a special meeting Tuesday night the Mason General Hospital board of directors changed the by-laws to make it easier for community participation in hospital affairs.

Membership in the non-profit corporation with voting privileges at the annual meeting will be contingent only upon signing the membership book at the annual meeting. A person signing the membership roll will be a member until the next annual meeting in January.

Prior to the change Tuesday night the membership requirements were based upon payment of $5 per year.

The change was made to increase participation in the annual meeting.

In other action the board authorized the start of a pension program for hospital employes.

Board Will Meet

Ingham county supervisors will meet Tuesday morning at Mason for the December meeting. Routine county business will be conducted.

Philippines Banker Visits Dart National

A banking official from the Philippines is in Mason this week visiting with the staff at Dart National bank. He is Romulo F. Trajano of the Central Bank of the Philippines and chief of the rural bank loans division. He is a house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Humphrey. Humphrey is executive vice-president of Dart National.

Trajano arrived in this country November 2 and will stay until March. He plans to observe several types of lending institutions while on his American visit. He is especially interested in the procedures used in commercial banks as practiced in banks such as Dart National, he said.

In the Philippines he oversees the operations of 278 rural banks and 50 large commercial banks. Trajano's visit to Mason was arranged by Don Curry, now with the Foreign Training Division of the International Agricultural Development Service and formerly an Ingham county agricultural agent.

State Takes Bids On Road Jobs

The state highway department opened bids Tuesday on 4 projects involving roads in the Mason area.

Of foremost interest here was the bid for an overpass at Columbia road and US-127.

Low bidders on this project, and on an interchange at US-127 and Bellevue road at Leslie and for an overpass at Territorial road in Jackson county were 2 firms, the MacLean Construction company and the Parmalee & Carpenter Construction company, both of Lansing. If awarded the contract, will do all 3 jobs jointly.

Their bid on the package deal was $791,779.

The highway department Tuesday also opened bids for the start of construction of the $5.6 million US-127 freeway between Lansing and Mason.

The first project, which will cost an estimated $2.3 million is for 3.4 miles of the freeway between I-96 and Holt road, and includes an interchange at Holt road and overpasses at Willoughby road and College road.

Contracts will be let early next year for the remaining 3.6 miles scheduled for completion in 1966.

Highway officials said that grading work for the overpass at Columbia road in Mason will start soon after January 1 with completion scheduled for 1966. Officials said however, it might be possible to complete the overpass by the fall of 1965.

A Challenge . . .

Mason blood donors gave 292 pints of blood last year compared to 391 pints given through the bloodmobile at St. Johns. Even though there are 603 more people in St. Johns than there are in Mason, there is a hard core of donors in Mason who will not be outdone.

The News has enough confidence in the Mason delegation to bet a new American flag that St. Johns donors won't stand a chance in a blood-letting race with Mason. The News hereby agrees to give a flag to be flown over the St. Johns city hall in the event that Mason donors do not surpass the trickle of blood now oozing from the St. Johns blood bank - with the understanding that Ink White at the Clinton County Republican News agrees to furnish a flag for Mason's new city hall (if it's ever determined where it will be) should Mason in fact donate more blood to the Red Cross blood bank than St. Johns.

Mason donors will have the jump on their St. Johns competitors next Friday, December 11, when the bloodmobile arrives at the Presbyterian church in Mason.

Car Strippers Hit

Lansing Council of Churches To Present Christmas Sing

The Third Annual Lansing Community Christmas sing and pageant, sponsored by the Lansing Area Council of Churches, will be in the Civic Center on Saturday, December 5, at 7:30 p.m.

The service will be centered around the Nativity, and a pageant of the Nativity Story will be presented by a cast of 31 performers - including professionals. Carl Clark will narrate the program as he portrays a Wiseman explaining the meaning of Christmas to a little boy, played by Jerry McGuire. The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald O'Berlin will lay in the manger as the Baby Jesus, while his parents act as Mary and Joseph. The audience will join with nearly 300 voices from local choirs to sing traditional Christmas Carols - the words of which will be projected on a huge screen easily read by everyone in the auditorium. The Carols will be accompanied by the East Lansing high school brass & woodwind ensemble, Gerald Bartlett conducting, and Carol Broughton at the Civic Center organ.

Special music by the participating choirs will include: "There Shall a Star Come Out of Jacob" - Mendelssohn, Westminster Presbyterian Church Choir directed by S. Earl Trudgen; "Born a King" - Peterson, First Church of the Nazarene Choir directed by Tom O. Thompson; "Sings in the Desert" - Jennings, First Methodist Church Choir directed by Andrew Erlich; "Come, Rise Up Early in the Morning" - Kuntz, First Presbyterian Church Choir directed by Dr. David Machtel; "Kyrie Elaison" - Dietrich, The Chorale of St. David Parland; "All Round de Glory Manger" - arr. Ehret, the Earl Nelson Singers; "All My Heart Today Rejoices" - Peeters, St. Paul's Episcopal High School Choir directed by Paul Eichmeyer; "Mary Had a Baby" - arr. Shaw, Lansing Orpheus club directed by William Steiner with soloist James McMahon; "O Tannenbaum" and "The Snow Lay on the Ground" - Sowerby, the Sexton High School Capella Choir directed by Frank McKowen; The Wesleyan Bell Choir of Central Methodist church, directed by Donald Alured, will play "Carol of the Bells" (Ukrainian), "White By My Sheep" (German), "He Is Born" (French), "Alleluia" - Mozart, and "O Holy Night" - Adam Ripley. During the free-will offering, the Lansing High School Brass & Woodwind ensemble will perform "Christmas Festival" by LeRoy Anderson.

Pageant soloists include Rudolph Strukoff, bass, as the first King, Wallis Palls, tenor, as the second King, and Leon Wheeler, tenor, as the third King. Donna Strukoff, soprano, is cast as the Angel.

The Lansing Council of Churches has planned this hour-long program for the enjoyment of the entire family - giving an opportunity at the beginning of the Advent Season for the Community to capture the beauty of Christmas.

Area Couple United in Baptist Church in Pre-Thanksgiving Rites

Miss Allie Madge Harris became the bride of Roger Ray Biesel in a ceremony performed in Mason Baptist church by Rev. Murl Eastman November 21. The seven o'clock ceremony was a double-ring rite.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Rex Harris of Mason and Mr. and Mrs. Otis Biesel of Dansville.

The bride, with her father, approached the altar gowned in a white floor-length dress of silk organza featuring a sabrina neckline edged with lace. The long sheer sleeves were edged in the same lace motif and the full skirt which was caught up in front by a cabbage rose was adorned with the lace also. Her tiara was made up of sequins and pearls and held her shoulder-length veil of illusion. She carried a bouquet of pink roses and white carnations.

Miss Hilda Heinz of Dansville, aunt of the bride, assisted her as maid of honor. She carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Robert Woodland, a friend of the bridegroom, served as best man and seating guests were Ron Webster, Dan Webster and Mitchell Harris.

Flower girl for the occasion was Miss Rhonda Honaker and ringbearer was Master Danny Heinz.

The altar of the church was adorned with bouquets of white gladioli and pink carnations.

Miss Lorraine Demore played traditional organ selections and accompanied George Murthum as he sang the Lord's Prayer.

The newlyweds were feted at a reception after the ceremony in the church social room where bride's cake, groom's cake, punch, nuts and mints were served the guests. Assisting with serving were Mrs. Dale Linniger, Miss Rose Galley, Miss Janet Laycock, Mrs. Aaron Clark and Mrs. Carl Heinz.

Miss Jayme Honaker registered guests at the wedding and reception.

The couple honeymooned in northern Michigan after which they will make their home in Glasgow, Montana, where the bridegroom is stationed with the air force. The new Mrs. Biesel was graduated from Mason high school in 1963 and was employed at Art's Hamburger Shop; her husband was graduated from Dansville high school in 1962.

Area Couple Repeats Vows Saturday In Ceremony at Vantown Church

Vantown Methodist church was the setting for the November 28 wedding which united Miss Agnes Marian Webster and Joseph Edwin Bullen in marriage. Officiating at the two o'clock double-ring ceremony was the pastor of the church, Rev. Gilbert Strotti.

Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bullen of Mason. Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Webster of Williamston are the parents of the bride.

For her wedding, the bride made her street-length gown of lace over satin with a fitted bodice, round neckline and set in long sleeves that came to a point at the wrist with covered buttons. A softly pleated skirt with a cummerbund and a large bow attached gave the gown back detail. A crown of pearls held her shoulder-length veil of illusion. She carried an orchid with white and red carnations over a white Bible for her bouquet.

Acting as maid of honor was Miss Arlene Webster, sister of the bride. She wore a cruise blue acetate satin fitted street-length gown with a large bow in the back. The head piece was a large bow covered with a circular net to match. She carried white and red carnations.

Mrs. Carol Herrguth will be co-hostess. There will be an exchange of gifts. All members are invited to attend.

Cedar Street PTA will have sound-color movie of Communism Encirclement at their meeting at the school Monday, December 7, at 8 p.m. This is the 23rd anniversary of the attack on Pearl Harbor. The January 11 meeting will feature a speaker on Modern Math.

Serving as best man was Ron Schaad of Webberville, friend of both the bride and bridegroom.

Rex Bullen, brother of the bridegroom, and Fred Eames, cousin of the bridegroom, served as ushers.

The church was decorated with white gladioli and red and white carnations.

Guests greeted the newlyweds at a reception held at the Dansville town hall after the ceremony. A 4-tiered wedding cake, trimmed in red, was served by Mrs. Jeanne Sparks of Cassopolis. The punch was served by Miss Carolyn Pfister of Williamston, groom's of Mason, coffee by Miss Carolyn Johnson of Lansing. Mrs. Harry Damon, Mrs. Kenneth Pfister and Mrs. Bruce Damsby helped in the kitchen. Miss Velma Wickham of Williamston presided at the guest register. Miss Ida Webster played the organ.

The bridegroom's parents entertained the wedding party at a rehearsal dinner Friday evening at the bride's home.

For traveling on their honeymoon, the bride chose a royal blue jumper with black lace blouse that she had made and complemented the outfit with black accessories.

When they return from their trip, they will make their home at 6145 Curtice road, Eaton Rapids.

The bride is a 1960 graduate of Williamston high school and is employed at Capitol Savings and Loan in Lansing. The bridegroom is a 1958 graduate of Mason high school and is employed at the State Highway department in Lansing.

The bride was feted with 2 pre-nuptial showers. On November 6, Miss Joellen Bullen and Mrs. Joseph T. Bullen gave her a miscellaneous shower. November 14, Mrs. Jeanne Sparks and Mrs. Ellen Damon hosted a kitchen shower.

PREPARING for the December 13th performance of Handel's Messiah are a few of the Senior Music club of Mason. Left to right are Mrs. Dorn Diehl, organist; Gerald Woughter, director; Mrs. A.V. Smith, president of the Music club of Mason; Rev. Paul Tidemann, Messiah chairman and Mrs. Harry Smith, pianist. Over 100 will take part in this presentation which is hoped will become an annual event in Mason. The public is invited to attend.

To Be Presented December 13

Final Touches Being Given Handel's Messiah

The familiar Handel oratorio, the Messiah, which will be presented by the Mason Senior Music group Sunday evening, December 13, at 8 p.m. in the Senior high school auditorium, came into being during a period of 24 days, August 22, 1741 to September 14, 1741. Its first performance was at a charity concert in Dublin, Ireland, April 13, 1742.

A period of 24 days may seem an extremely short time to write a work of such major proportion as the Messiah. However, many of the numbers in the work existed as instrumental and vocal numbers in other works Handel had written earlier. These pieces were also parts of works by other composers and Handel extracted these numbers and set them to the appropriate text. Illegal in the 20th century but not in the 18th century, plagiarism was common practice for copyright laws did not exist.

What makes Messiah a great piece of music? First of all, there is a certain amount of musical freshness about it. The music keeps moving along and doesn't tend to drag as many works do at times. There is an equal balance between solo and chorus passages which help to keep the listeners' interest in the music. It might be added that the entire work is actually a number of individual pieces any one of which may be performed separately.

The text forms another important part. It was not arranged by Handel but by an important poet named Jennens. Some authorities feel that an associate of Jennens did the text. Be that as it may, it was skillful hands which took the words from the Bible and worked them into a unique sermon. The writer of the text used only words from the Bible and added none of his own.

The plan is rather simple. After the opening overture, the first of 2 instrumental pieces, the prophesy concerning Christ's coming begins to unfold. The follows the second instrumental number, the Pfia or Pastoral symphony. The first section of the work concludes with Christ's birth. Two more sections are presented which include His suffering and Resurrection. Surprisingly enough, despite the close association of the text with the life of Christ there are no direct quotations from Him.

The composer, George F. Handel, was born in 1685 a few miles from another famous man, J.S. Bach. Handel, who traveled to Italy when he was a young man, eventually found himself in England. In attempting to bring to England the Italian opera which he mastered in Italy, he became bankrupt. Because of Blue Laws which existed and the popular English ballad opera Handel suffered a major financial loss. Not to be left an unknown and desiring to once again be a popular composer, he turned to oratorios. It was during this time that he conceived the Messiah.

Lester Dayton Claims Girl As Bride in Southern Rites

Lester Dayton of Nags Head, North Carolina, son of Mr. and Mrs. Velmour Day of Leslie, claimed Miss Mary Frances O'Neal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Poyner of Chesapeake, Virginia, as his bride in a pretty ceremony at the South Norfolk Church of Christ Sunday, November 22.

The bride chose a white street-length dress of white featuring a modified scoop neckline and long sleeves. Her veil was attached to an open work crown of pearls and sequins. She carried a white orchid atop a white Bible.

Miss Wanda O'Neal served as her sister's maid of honor. She donned a pink dress and carried pink carnations.

Larry Dayton of Leslie served as best man.

A reception was staged after the ceremony in the church social hall. After a short honeymoon, the couple will be at home at the Bodie Island Trailer Village, Nags Head, North Carolina, where the bridegroom is employed as a park ranger for the Cape Hatteras National Seashore Recreation area.

Special guests attending the wedding from this area were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Sherwood and Mrs. Vera Casterlin, grandparents of the bridegroom, and Mr. and Mrs. Velmour Dayton and Larry.

Holt Couple Wed Saturday

Miss Jantice Rae Smith of Holt and Charles E. Little, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Little of Holt, were married Saturday in Zion Lutheran church. Miss Smith is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Jimison of East Gary, Indiana.

The bride wore a beige lace knit dress with a gold and bronze corsage.

Mrs. Jack Ames of Holt, sister of the bridegroom was the bride's only attendant. She was dressed in willow green with a yellow rose corsage.

Jack Ames was the best man and Kenneth Roberts of Gary, Indiana, brother of the bride, seated guests.

After a reception in the church parlors the newlyweds left for a northern Michigan honeymoon. They will make their home in Holt.

Special guests were Mrs. Fay Jimison of Onarga, Illinois, grandmother of the bride, and Bernard Schmidt of Holt, the bridegroom's grandfather.

Weather

We might as well face it. Winter is here.

The U.S. Weather bureau in Lansing Wednesday morning issued a warning of hazardous driving and snow warning today, tonight and Thursday. The prediction is for light snow today, changing to flurries tonight with new snow accumulation up to 2 to 4 inches by Thursday. It will be a little colder tonight and Thursday with the high today in the upper 20's, the low tonight around 15 and Thursday in the low 20's.

In its 5 day forecast, the Weather Bureau said temperatures will average 5 to 6 degrees below the normal high of 35 to 39 degrees and the normal low of 18 to 25 degrees. It will be colder Thursday with little change Friday through Monday. Precipitation will total about half an inch in snow about Friday and possibly Sunday.

Temperatures in Mason during the past week averaged 25 degrees as compared to 31 degrees for the same week a year ago. Precipitation during the past week totalled .78 of an inch.

Temperature readings were as follows:

	High	Low
November 24	46	21
November 25	53	25
November 26	48	23
November 27	52	26
November 28	51	22
November 29	21	13
November 30	22	11

Household HINTS by Helen

Dear Helen
I suppose every mother of daughters is at some time faced with the problem of having a lovely dress that is too short. I would like to contribute a couple of suggestions that might add a bit of length. If there is a worn line on the dress when the hem is let down it can probably be covered by sewing rickrack, or other appropriate trim over the line. Sometimes an insert of wide ribbon or material of contrasting color can be placed in the skirt. I hope other mothers can save a dress through these ideas.

time she used to clean the walls by covering her broom with a clean cloth. I fasten the cloth with a rubber band which she didn't have. I find this quicker and more convenient than using my electric cleaner on many occasions.

Send your helps to Helen, Box 5143 Lansing, Michigan. You will receive a dollar if your letter is published.

Newlyweds Honored Sunday

Dear Mothers,
Perhaps some of you have other ideas on this problem which you would like to pass on. I just lengthened my daughter's jumper by inserting length at the shoulder. I had to sacrifice the matching belt to do it. I will purchase a black patent leather belt for the jumper.

A wedding reception honoring newlyweds Lt. and Mrs. Roger Jones was staged Sunday, November 29, at Aurelius town hall by his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Roderick Clark of Leslie. Some 200 friends and relatives gathered during the afternoon to wish the newlyweds well.

The couple was married November 21 in Reidsville, North Carolina, the bride's home town.

A pink and white color theme was used for the event and the cake was made and decorated by the grandmother of the bridegroom, Mrs. Blanche Hatfield, and an aunt, Miss Shirley Hatfield, of Livonia. At the base of the tiered cake was a bride's and groom's hands made of sugar with wedding bands on. Other refreshments served were groom's cake, punch and coffee. Serving the cake was Mrs. Thomas Pease of Mason, Mrs. George Hatfield of Livonia poured coffee and the punch was poured by Mrs. Dorson Droscha of Aurelius.

Registering guests as they arrived was Miss Arlene Hatfield of Livonia.

Others assisting in various ways were Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Jones and Mrs. Michael Rowlee.

Guests were present from many places in Michigan as well as Mr. and Mrs. Clair Bouts from Okalahoma.

Lt. and Mrs. Jones have spent a few days with his parents, the Earl Joneses of rural Mason and left Wednesday morning for Sacramento, California, where he will be stationed at the Mather air force base for advanced flight training.

Mrs. Howard Bouts of Mason, an aunt of Lt. Jones, entertained several out-of-town and area friends and relatives at a luncheon before the reception.

Justice Court Is Busy

Cases involving charges of child desertion, illegal possession of liquor, a warrant charging arson and numerous traffic cases occupied the Mason justice court this past week.

The arson charge involved Edgelo Moore, 33, of Bunker Hill. He waived examination and Judge Roy W. Adams bound him over to circuit court on $3,000 bond, Richard Croyle of Lansing.

Three persons charged with illegal possession of liquor also appeared before Judge Adams. Robert E. Palmos of Lansing was given a fine of $30 and placed on probation for 6 months; Lawrence W. Hancock of Lansing pleaded guilty to illegal possession and was given a fine of $30 or 15 days. Lawrence D. Preadmore of Lansing, was given the same sentence as Hancock on an illegal possession charge. He also paid out.

Neil E. Tripp of Mason, charged with disorderly conduct, was given a fine of $30 and placed on probation for 6 months.

Brownlow Arnett of Mason was fined $25 for transporting an unlicensed gun in an automobile.

Motorists appearing before Judge Adams were assessed as follows:

Clarence D. Byrne, Lansing, improper backing, $5.
Charles V. Fellrath, East Lansing, speeding $25. (Found guilty at trial)

Henry Kinney, Mason, defective equipment, $4.
Rudolf Jelen, Jamilton, Ontario, excessive speed, $6.
Donald Campbell, Levering, Michigan, improper passing, $5.

the backboards or the shooting from out-court to compare with Skip Droun on the boards and Steve Kutas the shooter of last year.

Against Grand Ledge the Rocks stayed even with the Comets through the first quarter, finishing the period 19-19. In the second quarter the Comets pulled in front 38-30.

Gabriels regained some of the lost ground in the third quarter to pull up to within 5 points of the Comets but a Grand Ledge scoring burst in the last quarter put the Comets beyond reach. For Gabriels John Boerman came through with 14 points. Brian Novosacki and Jeff Larkin each tallied 10 points.

Doug Barbeau was high man for Grand Ledge with 20 points. Mike Dick and Ed Meister each contributed 13 points and Mike Edgel came through with 12.

Webberville Set to Start

The Webberville Spartans will meet Pottersville at Webberville for the first game of the season on December 4.

The starting 5 will be picked from the following boys, Ron Hoag, Ron Vicelli, Ron Lunstead, Ed Mac Kenzie, Greg Ross, Jerry Arnold, Mike Oakes, Doug Wel., Dusty Weaver and Tom Kalzinski. After finishing second in the central D league last year the Spartans can look forward to an even better season this year, according to pre-season reports.

The varsity cheerleaders will be wearing new uniforms to get things off to a good start. The cheerleaders are Ginny Hodge, Debby Dalton, Pam Lawe, and Susie Bowen.

Dansville Posts Win In Opener at Waverly

Dansville started the basketball season off with a bang Tuesday night by dumping Waverly 78-57. The Aggies capitalized on aggressive defense and the fast break to get started right.

While the Dansville shooting percentages were way off, the Aggies came through with plenty of layup opportunities and controlled the backboards. Main reason for the backboard control was the fine rebounding of Ben Weaver. Rebounding was not supposed to be one of the strong suits for the Aggies this year because Coach Searl Briggs doesn't have a man at 6 ft. or over.

The first quarter was close with Dansville gaining a 12-10 edge. The Aggie pace quickened in the second period to allow Dansville to take a 32-22 lead at halftime.

In the third quarter Waverly pulled up on the Aggies but Dansville cut loose with a 29-point scoring barrage in the last period to win going away.

Colin Curtis had a good night with 35 points. Jerry Ernst came through with 20 and Larry Heins added 10. Horton was high for Waverly with 19 and Hatch had 12.

Junior Hi Eyes Start

Mason's 2 junior high caged squads and the freshman squad are toying the mark for the 1964-65 cage race.

Thursday night Mason freshmen will play at Okemos. Pat Birney, Ron Underwood, Dan Crowe, Doug Engle and Gary VanderVeen form the base on which the team is building.

On Thursday, December 10, the freshmen will play at O'Rafferty while the seventh and eighth grade squads will play at Holt.

Hornet Stars Make Team

Mike Honey, Paul Mahaney, Tom Eifert and Dave Grainger have been selected for their outstanding contribution to the Williamston Hornets this past football season as players on the 1964 Ingham County League all-conference team.

This team is chosen by the coaches in the league. For the first time both an offensive and a defensive team were chosen.

Dave Grainger, linebacker for Williamston, was one of only 3 sophomores selected for the team.

Mike Honey, halfback for Williamston, was one of the unanimous selections made by the coaches for the defensive team.

On Thursday, December 10, the freshmen will play at O'Rafferty while the seventh and eighth grade squads will play at Holt.

CONCENTRATION -- That's the game of basketball and Bill Tuttle, Dave Page and Joe Chmell, 6-7 center, of Jackson St. John and Les Jones of Mason were all concentrating on the ball in this bit of action in the opener which Jackson St. John won.

Okemos Here Friday

Mason Can't Match Shots With Jackson St. John 5

Lack of backboard control and no outside shooting cast gloom over Mason's opening basketball game. Jackson St. John came out on top 66-52.

The Bulldogs of Coach Bob Finch had to give away too much height and couldn't compensate for the height lack with the long shots.

Friday night Mason will bump into more height. The Bulldogs will entertain Okemos in the first league game. The Chiefs are touted along with Holt as the power in the Capital Circuit. Coach Bob Baker has a veteran team and plenty of the long-legged players which come in handy in the cage game.

Bill Breckenfeld, starting his fourth year for the Chiefs, will be the most dangerous man. He comes in at 6-4. Last year he paced the league in the scoring department. To go with Breckenfeld Baker has Dave Meleko, 6 ft.; Dave Premoe, 6-5; Dennis Zuver, 6-3; Doug Kettinger, 6-3; Mike Baker, 5-10; Jeff Smith, 5-10; Randy Weaver, 6-2; John Phillips, 6-3; and D. J. Drake, 6-11.

It wasn't all dark for Mason in the Jackson St. John game. Mason ran well and for a while the pressing defense had the Gaels stopped. It all handling smooths out, as it usually does after a couple of games, the run and shoot style of play will win some games for Mason.

Dave Page, the veteran Gael forward who is being touted for all-state honors already, lived up to expectation in the first quarter. He pumped in 4 fast field goals to shove the Gaels in front at the start. By the end of the first quarter Jackson St. John was in front 19-8.

Mason came on strong, though, in the second quarter with its best shooting of the game, both from the floor and from the foul line. In the first 5 minutes of the second period Mason closed the gap to 3 points but a flurry of Gael free throws allowed the Jackson parochials to leave the floor at half time with a 35-29 lead.

Holt Shows Class In Taking Hornets

Williamston's Hornets took a drubbing at the hands of Class B Holt for their first basketball match of the season. The final score was 70-51.

According to Coach Larry Dorow, Holt with its added strength really outclassed the Hornets in their first game. He said that the Holt team is probably the best that the Hornets will see all year.

Holt ran wild in the second quarter and hit on anything thrown at the basket. The Rams scored 24 points during that quarter and ran away with the game.

Their shooting percentage during the first half was an unbelievable 70%. This is quite unusual, even for college teams. Williamston scored low in the personal foul category, having only 11 called.

The Hornets scored 11 out of 23 free throws, while Holt made 8 out of 15 tries.

Jim Oesterle played an outstanding game for Williamston with a total of 18 points, Gaffner had 14 points.

For Holt Terry Taught had 17 points, Mike Bostrom and John Walsh each had 12 points.

The Hornets used a zone defense and every man on the team had a chance this first game.

On the Holt side of the ledger the Rams hit exceptionally well and got a lot of shots from the corner and the top of the key. They were as hot as if they had been playing all season instead of the first game.

The J V's also went down in defeat by a score of 66-36.

December 4 will see the Hornets take on Fowlerville there, Coach Dorow claims they'll be strong but he said that the Williamston squad will be able to find their strength and to play a good ball game against them.

From there on out Mason was out of contention.

For Mason Bob Malich and Les Jones shared the scoring honors with 12 points each. The rest of the points were scattered among 6 players.

Page was the hot shot for St. John with 25 points on 10 field goals and 5 free throws. Bill Tuttle bagged 15 and Kevin Blodgett came through with 12.

In the field goal department the Gaels outshot the Bulldogs 26-19. Both teams came up with 14 free throws.

IT TAKES A FEW GAMES to get over football techniques. Pat Dwyer of Jackson St. John and Les Jones of Mason found that out in the opener Friday night at Mason. Bob Malich is the Mason player zeroing in on the free ball.

SOMEWHERE there must be a basketball. Gary Blood of Mason and Kevin Blodgett of Jackson St. John were not resting, they were fighting for free ball in this shot.

Meridian Bridge Dedicated

A $300,000 highway overpass over the Grand Trunk railroad on Okemos road at Haslett was dedicated Monday with about 50 persons in attendance.

Present at the ceremony were Robert Bruegel, chairman of the Ingham county board of supervisors; members of the road and bridge committee of the board of supervisors, Louis Neller, chairman, Wilfred Jewett and John Petroff.

Also present was Supervisor Robert Robinson of Meridian township in which the bridge is located; Walter Toebe of Lansing, the contractor on the construction of the bridge and several members of his company.

Clarence E. Puffenberger, chairman of the road commission cut the ribbon to officially open the bridge to traffic. Also present from the road commission were K. G. Brown and Philip Mills, Norman Parker, field engineer, and R. O. Schaeffer, chief engineer.

City Hall Solution

The city of Mason has been trying to find the answers to 2 problems during the last year:

1. The city hall
2. Parking

The solution to both of these questions lies in one statement: Tear down the old city hall and build a new, modern one on the same site.

The new building would be constructed of brick and glass - three walls could contain large expanses of glass - the north, east, and south - the west would (of necessity) be brick.

There would be two levels of underground parking - to be entered from the south side of Ingham Court. Also, on the south side would be the fire barn, just where it is now. The fire department would have all of the ground floor, except for the lobby. From the lobby, stairs and an elevator would lead to the second, third, and fourth floors (the building would be about as high as the present one is).

The second and third floors would accommodate the city offices. The third floor would also contain conference rooms for both official and public use. These rooms would be reached through the main floor lobby but the offices could be cut off from them as is done at the high school (locked gates, doors, etc.).

The fourth floor would be a large meeting room - with some smaller rooms - to be used as present as the IOOF Hall, and to be rented for large meetings, gatherings, etc., from the Odd Fellows as in the past. This would solve the problem of the 99-year lease.

But what to do while the construction is going on? Easy - use the Chevy garage - without large-scale remodeling (just enough to squeeze by) - for the city offices. And use the old county jail's garage for the fire equipment, etc., and a lot of inconvenience. But when done, Mason will have a new, modern, efficient city hall and fire barn in a location that has proven itself over the years.

And note, the inside finishing of a building always takes longer than the actual construction. So, the fire barn (which wouldn't be fancy, only functional) will be done and ready for use before the offices. Therefore, the fire department would be able to move into their new quarters sooner than the other departments. This is important because of this department's special problems: large in quantity and size - equipment, traffic flow to and from the fire barn at the time of a fire, etc.

As for the parking - the underground parking would take care of the cars belonging to the employees and the visitors. The firemen will have no problem - what few times they are called there will be places for them to park in the Mason State Bank parking lot and along Ingham Court.

When the city hall is all done and the offices are functioning competently and efficiently in the new building, the Chevy garage will be vacant. So, tear it down and make a parking lot on the site. If in the future, parking again becomes an insurmountable problem build a parking ramp on this lot.

It seems to me that the people of this town try to make a problem harder than it is. Other cities and towns don't hesitate to tear down old, obsolete buildings and build new ones on the same spot. It has been practiced in Mason in the past. Why stop now?

Timely

By any chance has this ever caught your attention?

"It is a gloomy moment of history. Not in the life time of any man has there been so much grave and deep apprehension, never has the future seemed so dark and incalculable."

In France, the political cauldron seethes and bubbles with uncertainty. The United States is beset with racial, industrial and commercial chaos, drifting we know not where.

"Russia hangs like a storm cloud on the horizon of Europe - dark, menacing and foreboding."

"It is a solemn moment, and no man can feel indifference, which, happily, no man pretends to feel in the issue of events."

"Of our troubles, no man can see the end."

Timely remarks? Have you any idea when they were written? 1959-1964?

Actually, these appeared before World War II, before the depression of 1929, before the panic of 1891, before the Civil War. Taken from an editorial in Harpers Magazine, date line October 10, 1847!

Police Visitors

Chief Harold Fry of the Stockbridge police brought 6 of his auxiliary policemen to Mason Tuesday night for a course of instruction conducted at the city hall by Chief Tim Stolz of the Mason police.

Santa's Visit Starts Holiday Buying Spree

Santa Claus came to Mason Saturday in a rainstorm. As his helicopter came into the city from out of the eastern skies, some 2,000 children and adults who braved the elements to greet him, gathered in the Dart drive-in bank parking lot just east of the Ingham County News building on W. Ash street.

A loud cheer went up as the helicopter circled over the area. Santa was at a window of the whirly waving to the children. The copter settled down slowly upon the roof of the News building and the old gent with the long white whiskers and attired in a bright red suit, climbed out on the roof.

"Ho! Ho! Ho!" he shouted. "Merry Christmas! Merry Christmas!" and another big cheer went up from the crowd. The children saw that Santa was a big man but agile. He made his way quickly to a fire department ladder and came down to the children.

The children swarmed about him. He patted a little girl on the head and cracked a joke with a boy. Then he climbed aboard a ladder truck of the Mason fire department for the parade, which got under way immediately.

Led by a police detail the procession started east on Ash street to Park street, then north to Maple street and east on Maple to Barnes street. At Barnes it turned south to Ash street, thence west on Ash to Jefferson where it turned north and drew up in front of the court house.

Following the police car was the Mason high school pep band. Behind the band came the fire truck with Santa aboard. Mr. Claus waved and shouted to the throngs that lined the sidewalks along the line of march. Behind the fire truck were 2 troops of smartly uniformed boy scouts with their flags flying in the breeze.

After it was over, Santa climbed back on the fire truck and was rushed to his helicopter. He was last seen flying off into the west on his way to greet more boys and girls before returning to the North Pole to get ready for the Christmas rush.

Ware's drug and camera store has a large display of snapshots that won more than $31,000 in international awards. Fifty of the pictures are displayed in the windows of the store on Jefferson street. More than 100 others are available for all persons who wish to view them.

The traveling exhibit will be here until Friday. It includes 65 color prints as well as 104 black and white reproductions. The exhibit is the first public display in this area of the top prize-winning pictures from the 25th annual newspaper national snapshot awards. The exhibit includes eight $1,000 grand prize winners, 18 other major prize winners and 143 additional pictures, each of which won a $50 special merit award.

Pictures in the exhibit range from appealing and humorous shots of babies, and children to beautiful landscape studies, exceptionally fine close-ups of animals and pets and some excellent studies of everyday activities of young people and adults.

New Firm Opens Its Doors

Capitol Sales, a branch of Capitol Drug company of Lansing, last week opened a Mason store at 203 N. Cedar street in a former automobile sales building.

George Malson of Holt, is manager of the new establishment. The store has about 6000 square feet of floor space and an adjoining parking lot handles a line of toiletries, cosmetics, kitchen aids, toys, drugs, hardware, notions and sporting goods. Officials of the company say they plan to open a prescription department in January.

Gerald Teper is president of the company which operates 2 drug stores in Lansing.

Men Arrested As Violators

State Conservation Officer Walter Mutchler is bringing the long arm of the law down on game law violators. This past week Mutchler has been especially sensitive about shaming deer, possession of venison unlawfully taken.

Lawrence Hughes of Mason and Richard Warner of Dansville were arrested by Mutchler November 17 in Ingham township charged with shaming deer. Taken before Justice Roy W. Adams the next day, they pleaded guilty and were assessed fines and costs of $85 each. In addition, Hughes was given 6 months probation.

Donald Dilley of Grand Ledge was arrested by Mutchler in Onondaga township charged with possession of a shotgun and shells and no hunting license November 15. Dilley was arranged before Judge Adams November 20, pleaded guilty to the charge and was assessed fine and costs of $20.

William C. Seeley of Lansing was arrested last Monday by Mutchler on a charge of possession of deer unlawfully taken. Taken before Justice Adams, Seeley pleaded guilty to a charge of possession of deer unlawfully taken. He was assessed fine and costs of $97.30.

Joseph Manica of Lincoln Park was arrested by Mutchler on a charge of possession of a gun and no hunting license. He pleaded guilty and paid a fine and costs of $20.

Lyle W. Philo of Lansing was arrested in Ingham township November 22 on a charge of transporting and possessing a loaded gun. He pleaded guilty to the charge and paid fine and costs of $17.30.

Wrong Dog

In last week's Ingham County News there was a report of a dog mauling a Holt youngster. The dog was erroneously listed as an Alaskan Husky. It should have been listed as a German Shepherd. While the breed makes no difference to the injured youngster, it does make a difference to raisers of Alaskan Huskies who claim the breed is one of the gentlest of all.

Billiards Comeback

Out along US-127 just north of the Mason city limits is the Family Billiard Lounge, operated by Lewis Ellis, who opened the establishment last March after operating a grocery in Dansville for a number of years.

The Lounge is an attractive place, far different from the old type pool and billiard halls of yesterday. Well lighted, neatly furnished with 10 billiard tables and one snooker table, Hall's establishment is the equal of any in this part of the state.

Billiards, he says, is the coming game for young and old, families, women and children, and all these persons are among his patrons.

"More people are playing billiards today than ever before," he said, "and the game promises to become even more popular than bowling."

The color scheme throughout the large room, which contains 3200 square feet of floor space, is bright but not gaudy. The regulation, tournament size tables are done in light blue, green and tangerine and the furniture in similar colors.

Ellis also dispenses sand-

Ingham 4-H'er Writes Of 4-H National Trip

Jon Jenkins is an Ingham county delegate to the national 4-H congress in Chicago. Here is his account of the activities last week end.

It is very quiet here in Chicago's "convention center", the Conrad Hilton hotel, after a very busy and inspiring day. There are 1,500 delegates here, who witnessed the opening National 4-H Congress, today at 2:00 p.m. The Windy City has been just that, windy, for the past two days. Most of us have stayed in the hotel to escape the cold, piercing November wind.

Breakfast this morning was at 8:00. Our Michigan delegation was the guest of The Michigan Farmer Magazine, Milan Grinnell, editor of The Michigan Farmer, was our host. At 11:00 a.m. we joined all other delegates in the Grand Ballroom for Sunday morning church services, a function of the Central Church of Chicago. Two o'clock this afternoon marked the opening of the Congress. The International Ballroom was filled to capacity with delegates, leaders, and extension officials. Dr. John Furby from General Motors corporation gave the opening address.

The ensuing days promise to be full of activities, including trips to the International Livestock Exposition, International Harvester Co., and the Museums of Natural History, and Science and Industry. Three members of the Michigan delegation will take part in the program at the International Livestock Exposition Wednesday evening. Among these is Mahlon Covert, an Ingham Co. delegate, and dairy project winner.

It is a great honor and privilege simply to be a part of such a great event. The 1,500 delegates here represent more than 2 1/4 million 4-H members across the United States. All 4-H club members should strive to attend this, the annual convention of their nationwide organization. In this way we can continue to follow the 4-H motto: "To Make the Best Better!"

Camp Ingham Protest

This is a letter to protest the building, in this area, of a so-called camp for problem boys. This is the camp for boys, who are men physically and 6 years old mentally, boys who have been affiliated with gangs and have already violated the law, boys who are not hardened criminals but who are headed for a life of crime.

Turning these boys loose in a wooded, rural area with no confinement sounds like an ideal arrangement for them, but what about the property owners who have lived here a lifetime? Do they have any voice in this matter? If not, why not?

I wonder if Mr. Drake, Mr. Guerriero, Mr. Stroud and all of the others who are pushing this project, would like to have this camp located next to their homes. They even want to get the problem out of Lansing where it rightfully belongs. That's how we, who live in this neighborhood see it.

MR. AND MRS. LEE LAYTON
Mason

Not Wayward

Thank you for your recent news story about the project of Camp Ingham, Inc. The excellent story was helpful to many people who had questions about the project. However, the person who wrote the caption for the accompanying picture apparently did not read the story! The caption writer indicated that the project was to reform wayward youth.

We have stressed many times that this project is not a reform camp - but rather an opportunity for boys to get help before they get into trouble. Most of these boys will not be assigned there by the law. Boys will be assigned by a community committee that will seek to help a boy make an adjustment to living that may have been upset by a broken home, drinking parents, etc. At this camp the vast human and spiritual resources of this great community will be used to help a boy help himself!

Thanks again for your past support and for your continued interest in this important project.
FRANK L. GUERRIERO,
Treasurer

USN Thanksgiving

Thanksgiving day, 1964, on board the USS Forrestal somewhere in the Mediterranean Sea.

Today the mess decks are a bee hive of activity. The cooks and their helpers are hard at work preparing a meal that will make this ship's crew forget that they are away from their homes and loved ones. Somehow, no matter how good a meal it is, the crew won't forget.

For the rest of the ship, it is holiday routine. We are taking a hard earned rest. In our minds we are many miles away. In places like Atlanta, Los Angeles, Boston and places like these all across the United States. Yes, even in Mason.

Sat in an eating place full of men. Usually it is a fairly noisy place with the men grumbling about the food or other things. This morning it was quiet. An air of loneliness filled the place.

Up until today most of us have been able to keep from showing our homesickness. But today, a day meant to be spent with family and loved ones, was another story.

On my left sat a boy of 17 or 18. He still had fuzz on his cheek and there were tears in his eyes. This was probably his first holiday away from home, but not his last. What was he thinking about to be so sad? His mother, or maybe his best girl. It didn't matter, he was homesick and lonely, and not ashamed to show it.

On my right sat an older man with a touch of gray in his hair and a gold band on his finger. I know what he was thinking about; he showed me the pictures of a wife and 3 children. There were no tears in his eyes, but it wouldn't have taken much to put them there.

Some of us have spent holidays away from home. We thought, at one time, we would get used to it. We never will. We except it, however, because it is our job.

Yes, it is Thanksgiving day and what have we to be thankful for?

We are at peace and we are doing a job to keep that peace. We are proud of that job and thankful that we have the honor of doing that job.

We are thankful that we are American citizens. Although we are separated from our homelands, and our loved ones, each of us is an extension of those homelands.

We are thankful that those at home are happy, secure and safe. We give thanks for our many blessings, both past and present,

Memories

I was interested in the picture on the October 14th issue of the old postoffice force.

As perhaps you do not remember, I was a substitute clerk in the office from 1916 to 1925, when I again entered the photographic field.

The occasion was a party with a potluck dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Orla Campbell, as a farewell to the outgoing postmaster, E. A. Densmore, and the welcoming of the new postmaster, Lloyd Doane. It was March 4, 1931.

Sitting - Mrs. Addison Densmore (E. A. Densmore's mother), Lloyd Doane, John Noxon, E. A. Densmore, Clifford Parrish, Arthur Buck, and Mrs. Charles Bassett.

Early Morning Car Crash Erases Lives of 3 Stockbridge Youths

By Charlotte Camp
STOCKBRIDGE - Anything that might have been accomplished in the equivalent of a lifetime extending to approximately 150 years was wiped out in seconds last week when three young lives were lost in a tragic auto accident near Stockbridge.

Four young people, the oldest of whom was 23, were riding in a compact car when the vehicle apparently went out of control and struck a tree on M-106 at the Ingham-Livingston county line east of here.

Killed instantly were: Connie Ranck, 16, of Jackson; Marcia Sweet, 16, of Stockbridge and John Murray, 23, of Munnith. The fourth passenger in the car, Donald Runciman, 18, of Stockbridge is reported in fairly good condition in Foote hospital in Jackson.

According to Livingston county sheriff's deputies, who investigated the accident, the car was travelling west on M-106 toward Stockbridge and as it negotiated a slight S curve, went out of control and slammed into the tree almost broadside, breaking the car completely in two.

The rear half of the car remained literally wrapped around the tree while the front section came to rest more than 36 feet away in the field beside the road. The Murray youth was pinned inside the rear section of the car and the two girls were thrown clear.

Although sheriff's deputies have talked with the lone survivor, his condition has not permitted extensive questioning and it is not known how he got out of the wreckage. It had previously been reported that young Runciman was the driver of the death car which was owned by his father, Gerald of Stockbridge, but as late as Sunday afternoon, Livingston county sheriff's deputies said it had not been determined exactly who the driver was.

Deputies said they will wait till Runciman has recovered sufficiently from the shock he suffered when he learned of the death of his three friends, to question him further in the hope that he can clear up several questions concerning the tragedy.

John Murray was known in Stockbridge as a hard working operator of a filling station he had taken over only last June. His brother, Donald, said that while business had been slow at the start, it had recently picked up, and had exceeded the projected estimates of the oil company by nearly 40 percent. He said this was primarily due to the fact that John himself worked from 12 to 14 hours a day seven days a week, hiring only what extra help he absolutely needed. Murray, who attended Stockbridge high school, served 4 years in the United States Mar-

Front section of death car.

RON TAYLOR, 14 year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Taylor of Mason got his first deer, a 12-point buck, Sunday afternoon, November 22, 2 miles from his home after failing to get one up north. The Taylors live at 1264 Meridian road.

Services Set For F. Fortman

Floyd J. Fortman of Munnith died at Mason General hospital Wednesday, December 2. Services will be from Ball-Dunn funeral home Saturday, December 5, at 2 p.m. with burial in Fairview cemetery, Dansville.

Mr. Fortman was born April 10, 1885, the son of Charles and Samantha Fortman on a farm in White Oak township in Ingham county. He lived there until his marriage to Myra Williams of Stockbridge October 10, 1908, after which they made their home in Dansville where he worked at his trade as a carpenter. In 1923 he moved to Holt and worked in Lansing. Then in 1928 he moved to Shiawassee county to work returning to Ingham county in 1946 living at 136 E. South street.

Survivors include a son, Kenneth Fortman of Albuquerque, New Mexico; a grandson of Albuquerque, New Mexico; a granddaughter, Theresa Rambo of Orlando, Florida; a brother, Byron Fortman of Dexter; 5 great-grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

Fairy Tales to Theme Senior Play Slated December 3 and 5

So you think you know your fairy tales? Sound like we're picking an argument? Well, we're not, this is just the title for the Mason senior class play which will be presented on stage Thursday, December 3, and Saturday, December 5, at 8 p.m. each evening in the Senior high school auditorium.

The public is invited to attend this showing to find out what really happened to Cinderella. The play was written by Sir Osbert Sitwell. The "Cinderella complex" is a new version of a fairy tale to delight both children and the most sophisticated. It tells of a different Cinderella—or perhaps "The Case for the Wicked Stepsisters."

So join in the fun and see how well you can cope with the Cinderella complex.

Cast as Cinderella is Kathy Hulet; Sir James is Lee Snook; Lady Laughtower, Mary Ware; Pamela, Barb Scheffer; Diana, Jeanne Recher; Humpleby, Elaine Parker; Flora, Dee Deshong; Bill Whitty, Pat Allaire; Dame Eva, Renee Bollman; Dame Lillith, Jane Guerriero; the Prince, Rick Johnson; the Herold, Allen Wolfe; Lord Scone, David Clinton; Lady Scone, Connie Palmer; Elspeth, Nancy Norton; Derek Banster, Ron Ketchum; Lady Carport, Bonnie Irwin; Mildred, Karen Knowles; Hugh Sacoey, Karl Sparks; and Jim Carven, Don Dudley.

The Great Can Be Bilked, Too

Vanity and great causes can get people in trouble. A recent Associated Press story clearly indicates that.

According to the wire service story President Johnson and President John Hannah of Michigan State were among a big list of easy marks for Warren Hunter, a New York slicker with 20 years of prison behind him and who is currently free on $25,000 bail awaiting sentence on another charge.

Hunter had a scheme going which used the school dropout theme to pull in the good names and the good money of some of the nation's leaders.

He presented a scheme whereby a fancy school building etching was presented in the name of some successful alumnus. The alumnus would be persuaded to lecture the student body on the desirability of staying in school and would also present each student with an autographed etching of the school.

MSU's Hannah and the chief of the California school system were duped into acting as co-sponsors of the plan.

Hunter is reported to have collected $2.50 per etching.

Hannah is reported to have smelled a rat early in the scheme and withdrawn.

The con men are always quick to jump on the band wagon of the great causes and entice well-known people into lending their good names and their cash.

Vanity sometimes comes high. Quite frequently the name of some famous and honored individual on the letterhead of some fund raising cause isn't all that it's supposed to be.

Rain Couldn't Dampen Spirits

Much more than the Christmas Spirit prevailed in Mason Saturday morning. There was a community spirit that seemed to capture all segments of the area from the smallest tots to countless adults.

The catalyst for the remarkable unity was the annual arrival of Santa Claus and his meeting with several hundred youngsters. Mason merchants planned probably the most lavish welcoming celebration for Santa in the city's history. Santa arrived in a helicopter atop the News building, lead a parade through the streets and topped off the festivities by treating all youngsters to candy canes. Merchants also unveiled one of the world's largest mailboxes on the courthouse square designed to exclusively handle youngsters' letters to Santa.

What made the day remarkable and a credit to the community was the support and response to the events in spite of a freakish rain which understandably could have dampened the spirits of the whole effort.

To be especially commended for "carrying on" during the rain were Mason firemen, the police department, Boy Scouts, Cub Scouts and their leaders, the courageous members of the Mason high school band and about 200 youngsters who seemed to be caught up in the spirit of the community effort and marched in the parade with rain running down their faces and soaking into their clothing. And of course Santa, himself, must be commended for his daring descent in the helicopter, scampering down the firemen's ladder, his ride on the fire truck and his tireless audience with the hundreds of youngsters and their "Santa, I want a . . . for Christmas" routine.

Mason merchants have made a great effort to decorate the community for the Christmas season. At a considerable expense the merchants together with the city are providing some of the most dazzling decorations of any city in the county — bar none. The community party Saturday and the new Santa's mailbox have been provided at considerable expense — and in the interests of making Mason the logical place for Christmas shopping.

There is community spirit in Mason. Wouldn't it be something if Saturday's enthusiasm exploded into a chain reaction to build this community into a dynamic community spirit?

It just might happen.

The People Have Spoken

It is the overwhelming opinion of the people of Mason that the city council re-study its announced plans to relocate the city hall and to take the people into its counsel. There is a strong likelihood that the council expects to do just that and in fact to ask a decision from the people through balloting.

Nothing could be fairer or more in the tradition of representative government. The council, acting within its rights and with the avowed conviction that it was doing what it considered the people wanted, purchased the Chevy garage for a city hall — fire station several months ago. Its intentions were to remodel the structure, move the seat of city government and the fire department into it and demolish the present city hall in favor of a parking lot.

While it is quite possible that the move could be made and the community survive, still, there has evidenced in recent weeks a growing number of people, representing every facet of the population who have posed important questions about the proposed project.

Firemen are objecting to the new quarters. School officialdom is opposed. Most merchants are opposed. And many, many taxpayers and community boosters are opposed. Such strong opposition and from such strategic quarters cannot be, and is not, taken lightly by the council.

In an interview with the News last week, Mayor Gilson Pearsall evidenced a sincere desire to have the decisions of the council reflect the thinking of the community. The mayor said the council based its decision to purchase the Chevy garage property in part upon the apathy and negative statements made at a citizens committee report meeting last winter at which the committee proposed a site for a new city hall — fire station to the council.

If this meeting influenced the council to purchase a piece of property with the intent of remodeling it, then the incident is an example of extremely poor communication. For those who can be remembered as asking discerning questions or in other ways probing into the citizens' committee report that night, are nearly to a man opposed to the action the council ultimately took.

If the council voluntarily puts the question of the city hall project up to the people, nothing could be fairer or more in the public interest. If the people should vote in favor of proceeding to remodel the Chevy garage, then the opposition will have to live with the decision in the great American tradition. And if the people should choose to have the council proceed with plans to build an all new city hall — community center — fire department, then the council will clearly have a mandate to comply.

The fact that the people of Mason seem to be concerned with their city hall should bring rejoicing among councilmen, not lamentations. In a day when people are often accused of not taking an interest in local affairs, Mason people seem to be asking for greater participation.

If the council does agree to put the city hall question on a ballot, it will denote a measure of greatness. Clearly, the people are asking for an opportunity to join in making this important decision. Their concern over the proposed plans of the council is understandable, but most of all refreshing. This honest difference of opinion concerning the seat of city government and its full exploration by all of the people of the community will most certainly make for a stronger, healthier and progressive place to live.

barbs, praise and consequence

Every Mason area person with blood flowing through his or her veins is urged to mark Friday, December 11, on the calendar. That's the day for the Red Cross bloodmobile to make a stop at Mason.

Under ordinary circumstances this would be an important day because of the good done with the blood collected.

There is something else at stake this time, though. Ink White, publisher of the Clinton County News at St. Johns, has issued a challenge to the Ingham County News and the city of Mason.

On the same day that the blood taked crew will be at Mason, another Red Cross contingent will be at St. Johns.

Ink maintains that the Red Cross can get more blood out of St. Johns than it can get out of Mason.

I've got faith in Mason surpassing the St. Johns mark. Negotiations are underway between the Clinton County News and the Ingham County News on some sort of a wager to back up that faith.

community colleges instead of eying the 4-year classification.

Without trying to detract from the advisability of Ingham county school districts joining the Lansing district in the college venture, though, there is one part of the campaign which needs some clarification. That is the cost.

The average person has a hard time reconciling individual tax items on his statement with the collection rate and the valuation figure on the tax statement.

The old bugaboo, state equalized valuation, is the factor that makes the difference.

If one mill is assessed against a piece of property listed in the Mason tax rolls at $5,000 it would mean that the one mill would cost the taxpayer $1 per thousand or $5. However, when the state equalized figure is used as it is in the case of school taxes, that one mill becomes $1.49 per thousand or $7.45 for a piece of property with that $5,000 valuation figure in the corner of the statement.

Every taxing unit in Ingham has its own state equalized figure. Over in Delhi for instance one mill on $1,000 state equalized valuation would mean that the property owner would shell out $2.44 per thousand.

Which brings us to the definition of money—that which brushes past us on the way to the tax collector.

Greatest Gift: YOURSELF

(Reprinted from the Frederick, Colo. Farmer and Miner)

What have you given your child lately? Expensive clothes, the latest toys, plenty of spending money? Ah! Then you consider yourself a very good parent. You may be wrong.

Are you cheating your child of the most important thing you can give him—yourself? How much time have you given Tom or Mary lately? Have you told Tom that you would listen to his book report—later; practice football with him—later. Have you told Mary that you would enjoy her school program, but tonight you must watch your favorite program, or join your pals at bowling.

You could take Mary and Tom bowling with you, spend several dollars on them, and that might ease your conscience. But you know this is not the answer.

Tom and Mary do not need, or often don't really want, all of the things you've given them. They need and want you. When did you last attend a school meeting; did you honestly show a real interest in the last science exhibit or the band concert? Have you met your child's teachers yet? And when did you sit down, away from the TV set, and actually talk with your child, or just listen to him? You might be very surprised to discover what really makes Tom tick; what Mary's hopes and dreams are.

If you are among the many parents today who complain because they aren't closer to their children, look at yourself. Have you been there, in spirit, when Tom or Mary really needed you—or are you one of the parents who is going to get to know his child later? That may be too late.

Don't feel guilty if you can not buy that new bike for Tom, or the new dress for Mary. Do feel guilty if you can't find time to attend Mary's school program, or practice football with Tom, or just sit and visit with your child.

If you are giving your child only money, material things, so-called luxuries, you are depriving him of more than you will ever know. Give your child something he can take with him, when he is grown up and leaves the "nest." Give him a great deal of yourself, the only true gift you have.

Most of the school electors in Ingham county are eligible to vote in the special election set for December 15 which will decide whether Lansing Community college will become Ingham Community college.

country and town

The ultimate in planned parenthood was climaxed Thursday morning when Melissa Kathryn Brown was born at Mason General hospital. The third daughter and fourth youngster for the Jim Brown family was a thankful bundle on Thanksgiving Day.

In the banter of discussion among husbands in the waiting room and with nurses and mamas, it's pretty clear that most stork trips to a hospital are fraught with unexpected comedies of error that seem funnier after the ordeals are over than during the trials themselves.

Our Thanksgiving dawn ride to the hospital was no exception. I was summoned to action at 5:45. By 6 a.m. I was searching for the car key which until Wednesday night I had faithfully left in the ignition every night for a month or more in anticipation of the Great Moment. In another minute, I had found the key and had backed the car around to the front door with the heater in full swing so the mother-to-be would have a warm ride. Rushing through the pre-dawn darkness to help her struggle down the stairs and into the waiting carriage, we ran into each other on the sidewalk. She had first gone to the back door and seeing the car disappear down the drive, thought that Nervous Father had gone to the hospital without her. She had determined to walk the 2 blocks by herself. And for the trip, she had logically grabbed her knitting bag instead of her suitcase.

To get on with the drama, by 6:29 the child was born. Had Mama walked to the hospital, there is strong likelihood that Melissa would have been born in Art Jewett's corn field that stretches between our house and the hospital.

Dr. Donald Cairns was the attending physician. His Thanksgiving Day had gotten off to an early start. He told the wife that "some people will do anything to get out of stuffing a turkey."

Picking a name for a child isn't easy. Like daughter Amy said, "All of the good names are already taken." And in a neighborhood loaded with youngsters, there's hardly a handle known to Christendom that hasn't already been taken. We tried our best to tie the coincidence of the birth and Thanksgiving together, but few people who were consulted agreed to Priscilla and even fewer were agreeable to Pocahontas. Melissa was a compromise with the understanding that Tim (who had planned on having a baby brother) can call her Wishbone in commemoration of the holiday.

A word about Mason General hospital. It is wonderful.

As an observer of hospitals over the past several years and a confidante of patients who dote on such relatively important observations as attention and ability of nurses and aides, the general "esprit de corps" of the staff, the FOOD and occasionally the standards of medicine practiced, it can be safely said that Mason General ranks with the greatest.

The wife is a great cook and with a couple of exceptions, she claimed the food was excellent. She has nothing but praise for the wonderful "above and beyond" nursing care. It's probably not easy to instill a congenial, pleasant attitude in such a place as a hospital when such an institution is more often than not a place where pains outnumber pleasures. Yet Mason General is chock full of pleasant people who seem bent on doing good for others and in making things as pleasant as possible.

We're paying the full rate on the room used by Melissa and Mama. So if this sounds like soap suds, it isn't. The plain fact is that the area served by Mason General hospital has much to be thankful for. It's a facility that probably too few of us appreciate until for one reason or another we have to use.

Proof of the Mason General product is the little girl we brought home Tuesday. If you're interested in seeing for yourself, drop in at 300 S. Washington. Ask the Head Nurse to show you little Melissa.

3 Dansville Churches

Join in Union Service

DANSVILLE - The Thanksgiving union services of the Dansville Baptist, Free Methodist and Methodist churches was conducted Wednesday evening, November 25, at the Free Methodist church.

Parts of the program included special music by the Baptist and Free Methodist churches, Choral Anthem by the Methodist church. Prayer and reading of George Washington's First National Thanksgiving Proclamation by John Clark of the Baptist church. The call to worship was by Rev. Robert Sawyer and the Thanksgiving message by Rev. Gilbert Strotti of the Methodist church.

The offering was given for "World Vision" an organization founded by Dr. Robert Pierce of the Korean choir, for care of Korean orphans.

Tranquilizer Shots End Frolic of Two Heifers

DANSVILLE - Two wild Holstein heifers from a herd at the Diehl farm here at 921 N. Jackson street, met their Waterloo Thursday when well placed shots from a tranquilizer gun by Michigan State university police put an end to their frolic.

For the past 2 weeks the 2 yearlings have been having a ball, jumping over fences and knocking down others, tearing down gates and eluding the efforts of humans to corral them.

On Thursday they were being led into the barns when they broke away and began running wild.

A Michigan State university patrolman, called to the scene by Dansville officers, fired 3 shots of nicotine loaded tranquilizers, calming the animals sufficiently so they could be led into the barns.

A group of Angus steers was sent into the fields to lure the wild ones. The plan worked and the 3 shots ended their frolics.

The two young cows had been reared in the fields and went berserk when they found themselves being taken into the barns. The heifers had wandered 3 miles from the barn when they were captured in a woodlot at 314 Meridian road.

More on the way every day! Thanks for waiting!

Your wait for one of these new 1965 Chevrolets is about over — and we want to thank you for your patience. Come see us now. When you get behind the wheel, you'll be glad you waited!

'65 Chevrolet

This one's the year's handsomest surprise. It's longer, wider, lower. Swankier, more spacious, smoother riding, too. Everything about it smacks of expensiveness except one thing—its Chevrolet price.

'65 Chevelle

A brand-new idea last year, it's even newer now. Fresh styling. V8's available with up to 350 hp. A softer ride. But it's still an easy-to-handle size. After all, that's one of the things that make a Chevelle a Chevelle.

'65 Chevy II

Looks less than ever like a thrifty car but keeps on saving like one. Clean new styling, fresh new interiors, V8's available with up to 300 hp! Here's the liveliest, handsomest thing that's ever happened to thrift.

'65 Corvair

It's a new kind of Corvair. It's longer and wider. It's racier, roomier, flatter riding. With quicker steering, surer stopping and more power available—up to 140 hp in Monzas and 500's, up to 180 hp in the new Corsas.

More to see, more to try in the cars more people buy

Operation Spiritlift To Bring Yule Cheer To the Mentally Ill

"Operation Spiritlift" has reached its final phase. The annual project, sponsored by the board of the Ingham County Chapter of the Michigan Society for Mental Health to bring the cheer of Christmas to the mentally ill at Kalamazoo State hospital is successfully winding up its campaign to, outdo the 2000 gifts that were sent to the men, women and children last year.

The success story of the program is written about the 350 student Dimondale elementary school, its entire student council, teachers and their teacher-sponsors, the entire community got behind "Operation Spiritlift".

Mrs. William R. Waite, 3rd grade teacher, had read about the program and presented it to the student council. Response to the idea was warm and immediate and the student council members decorated a collection box, made posters which hang in the school corridors, the secretary of the council sent notices to the parents and the stores in the downtown area were alive with colorful drawings. Tom Feasel, student council president, Mrs. Margaret Wheeler, student council sponsor and Mrs. Ruth Zachalke, principal, are chairing the project for the school.

Mrs. H. L. Shade, of 10625 Riverside Drive, Dimondale, a board member of the Ingham county chapter is chairman of "Operation Spiritlift." She has announced that a collection box for gifts will be placed in the Women's clubhouse, S. Washington Avenue, Lansing from November 30 to December 4. Mrs. Leo J. Schassberger, Mrs. M.J. Seeton and Mrs. Harold Homer will sort and wrap the gifts for delivery to the hospital on December 7. Gifts will be wrapped at the hospital by the patients as part of their therapy and to enable them to participate in the spirit of Christmas giving. Mrs. Shade also announced that monetary gifts are still needed to fill requests from "family care" patients--the patients who may live outside the hospital in payable to "Ingham County Mental Health Chapter" and sent to Mrs. Shade.

Baptists Slate Gospel Film

Evangelist Billy Graham's latest motion picture The Heart is a Rebel will be a forthcoming significant event in the religious life of the city. The new feature length color production stars Ethel Waters, Georgia Lee and John Milford and is scheduled at the Mason Baptist church on Sunday, December 6, at 7:30 p.m.

The story is based on a conflict in the life of a modern young couple when the husband, an advertising executive, can't find a place in his scheme of things for his wife's sudden acceptance of the Christian faith. In a completely "down to earth" setting the situation provides a dimension of reality seldom afforded a religious motion picture.

According to the pastor of the church, Rev. Murl Eastman, the public is invited to attend the free showing of this film.

Joe Pardee Has a Birthday, Ice Cream 'n' Everything

STOCKBRIDGE - Joe Pardee of Stockbridge, thought he was going to spend his 60th birthday Sunday in the quiet peaceful way he spends every other Sunday, taking it easy, reading the papers and watching television. He got quite a surprise though when he went to visit his niece, Mrs. Ralph Anderson, at the insistence of another relative. When they arrived at the Anderson residence he found 14 family members waiting to wish him a happy birthday. Mrs. Anderson and another niece, Mrs. Donald Dickinson had planned the affair, complete with homemade ice cream and cake. Joe, who said his only handicap is arthritis, lives alone in a little apartment where he does all his own cooking and house-keeping. He has a Mexican Chihuahua dog named Sparky, to keep him company.

Before coming to Stockbridge a short time ago, Pardee lived in the Webberville area, where he was raised, having been born in a log cabin in Livingston county. He recalled attending a little red, one room school that is now a Masonic Hall.

Joe, who never married, said he worked in a meat market, was a farmer and later a mail carrier out of Webberville. He lived on the farm with his parents for 50 years before going to Clinton where he worked for a time for his brother in the lumber business.

He says he doesn't really feel at home here, although his two nieces and their families do an excellent job of looking out for him. He said the Andersons or the Dickinsons are always stopping to see if there is anything he wants.

He got his first driver's license in 1912, but in 1963 he decided to give up driving and sold his car. Since then he said his nieces take him for rides. "Then too," he said, "my neighbor, Spencer Pinckney, is the best friend a man could ask for."

Pinckney, also a retired mail carrier, stops in at least twice a day to visit and deliver Joe's mail.

Joe said his dog, Sparky, keeps him jumping. Whenever the phone rings, he jumps on top of it and barks till I answer it. Sparky also knows what time the paper boy makes his rounds and watches for him. The paper boy watches for Sparky too, also his pants leg at the same time.

"That's one habit he has that I don't like," said Joe.

"Yes, it was quite a party," he beamed. Even hours after it was all over and he was back in his little apartment, Joe was still expressing his amazement that all those people came to help him celebrate.

Is Job of Making Dry Hay Outmoded?

Is the job of making dry hay out-dated on modern farms? This will be the topic of discussion for the fourth in a series of dairy meetings to be held in the Dansville Townhall on Wednesday December 2, at 1:00 p.m. Dr. Ray Hoglund, MSU Agricultural Economist, will discuss hay making methods such as automated bale handling vs haylage in concrete silos. Hoglund says, "Several large dairymen in the state are storing all of their hay crop as wilted silage in concrete stave silos. They have experienced less labor in handling the feed and better quality over previous dry baled hay." Dr. Clifford Beck will open up the meeting with a continuation of calf diseases and health problems. Calves are a most neglected area of dairy farming. Everyone interested is welcome to attend.

Foster Kin Gather for Holiday

The Foster family Thanksgiving day dinner was served at the Township hall in Dansville. Guests were Mrs. Agnes Fetzer of Lodi, Ohio, Jack Fetzer and daughters of Pittsburg, Pennsylvania, Bud Fetzer of Indianapolis, Indiana, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Foster of East Lansing, Mrs. Minnie Minnis, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Silsby and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Starr, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Harrison and their families, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Howe and Mr. Vivian Foster all of Mason, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Utter and son, Melvin Gene, Roy Glover and Mr. and Mrs. Terry Silsby and daughter of Dansville. The Fetzers spent the week end visiting relatives here and returned to their respective homes Saturday afternoon.

Meridian Briefs

The Old Home Round-Up will meet on Saturday, December 5, at the Ralph Stillman home on Double road. The bohemian supper at 6:30 p.m. will be followed by a social time.

Mrs. June Brown has returned home from a Lansing hospital where she underwent surgery. Miss Elma Wiegman and Miss Mildred Cardwell, retired county and state health department nurses, are making their winter home at Pompano Beach, Florida. Their new address is 312 S.E. 22nd avenue in that city.

The Sandhill Extension group will meet at a Christmas supper party on Tuesday, December 8, at 6:30 p.m. The hostess will be Mrs. Earle Hicks, the entertainment chairman is Mrs. Theron Downey. Husbands of members will be guests.

The Pioneer Ladies of Okemos will meet at the Capital Savings and Loan parlors on Wednesday, December 2, at noon. An afternoon program is being arranged by the hostess committee. Edith Bearup is chairman.

The Pioneer Farm Bureau Community group is to be entertained by Mr. and Mrs. M.H. Avery on Tuesday, December 15, at a 6:30 p.m. carry-in supper.

Dr. and Mrs. Erwin Benne visited their son, Dr. Richard Benne, and his family at LaGrange, Indiana over Thanksgiving. The rest of the holiday was spent on the Benne farm at Sturgis with their other son, Max, who is an instructor at Western State university at Kalamazoo.

Plan Yule Concert

WEBBERVILLE - There will be no regular PTA meeting in December instead the music department will give a concert of Christmas songs December 16. The concert will include music both by the Chorus and Band. This will take place in the Gymnasium in the new High School. Mr. John Green will be in charge.

As I See It

By Hayden Palmer

Within a few weeks we will observe another week.

This one, however, is one of which every good, law abiding citizen should take cognizance. It is Law Enforcement week.

Law enforcement week brings into recognition the policemen, the sheriff's officers, the state police and other agencies employed in upholding and enforcing the laws of the land.

We should be cognizant of these men, not perhaps for just one week of the year, but throughout all the year's 52 weeks. They are trained, dedicated men who take their lives in their hands every day to see that your property and your life is protected.

They are ever alert to danger, ever alert to protection of children, of property and to protecting life, itself.

Too often we take them too much for granted.

It has been my privilege to work with law enforcement officers as a newspaperman and I am aware of some of the problems they face, some of the dangers they encounter, some of the abuse they take from thoughtless citizenry and all for the paltry salaries that most of them receive.

The policeman or sheriff's officer or state policeman, after all, is a man, the same as you and I.

In most cases he is a family man, too, with a wife and children. His wife admires the badge of authority which he wears on his left breast and the smart uniform, but she fears the weapon that rests in a holster at his belt.

The policeman in most instances is a peace loving man, who works in his church and sends his children to Sunday school.

The gun he carries is never fired except in self defense.

The modern day police officer is an educated man, who is well versed in criminal law, who is a public speaker in many instances and a public relations expert for the unit of government he represents.

He is a walking or traveling information bureau for the area he serves. He works with school children in safety patrol organizations, he is a good automobile driver, he even is trained to be a midwife and to administer first aid.

He is many men in one and well trained in all his accomplishments.

His life is exciting--yes, but it is also dangerous and exacting. His work takes him into all kinds of situations. He sees life in the raw and he sees death in its worst forms. His job is no bed of roses.

He has at his command all the modern implements of crime prevention and crime detection. He uses these implements for only one result--to protect the law abiding citizen from the criminal.

Suppose we had no police officers, no sheriff's officers, no state police.

Where would we be? We would live in a state of chaos. Crime would run rampant, the bestiality of man would come to the surface and human life would be at a premium.

So be thankful we have law enforcement officers. Look upon them as your friends, your protectors, your guardians of law and order.

They are deserving of your courtesy and your cooperation.

WILLIAMSTON - Mrs. Patrick Kastner, Mrs. Eugene Powell and Mrs. James Waits were the 3 new pledges officially accepted into Zeta Gamma Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi last Tuesday evening, November 24.

Casa Nova lounge in Lansing was the scene of the banquet and ritual. Mrs. Jack Koestner, president, read the ritual and Mrs. Richard Pearson, vice-president was her assistant.

Mrs. Donald Emery, Mrs. Ivan Crittenden and Mrs. Conrad Tashner also took part in the investiture ceremony.

Other members joining in the reception were: Mrs. Robert Brunner, Mrs. Lamont Carter, Mrs. Dawn Casey, Mrs. Thomas Colling, Mrs. Robert Cozlik, Mrs. Dale Fulton, Mrs. Wayne Huffman, Mrs. Ronald Mead, Mrs. Keith Rogers, Mrs. Emil Schlager, Mrs. William Turner and Mrs. William Brunson.

8 Bowlers Win Turkeys

WILLIAMSTON - Monday night bowlers at Gold Star Recreation had an added incentive the Monday before Thanksgiving when 8 turkeys were given to those with the highest series on each team. This was sponsored and paid for by the 8 teams involved.

Winner for Williamston bakery was Allen Johnson. Hamlin Heating gave its turkey to Max Mason whose home burned that morning. He had bowled with the team for the past 7 years.

Rollie Harkness and Harold Horstman tied for the 7-Up team and settled it with a flip of the coin. Rollie Harkness won. Larry Mangles won for Miller's Hi Life. Tom Mahoney for Sign's Ford and Keith Rogers for Gambles.

Winner for the Hunis Body Shop team was Ron West and Doug Cooran won for the Bill's Barber Shop team.

Allen Johnson extended an invitation to all the members of his team and their families to enjoy a turkey dinner after bowling next Monday.

Couple Marks 50 Year Span of Married Life

WILLIAMSTON - On Thanksgiving day 1914, Joseph Speers and Olive Carver spoke their marriage vows at a home wedding at the bride's home in the village of Northport, Wisconsin. This year on Thanksgiving day they observed the holiday at their home on Rowley road near Wil-

Merger Proposal Discussed

WILLIAMSTON - Members of the citizens advisory committee and the Williamston city council met in a joint session on Monday, November 23.

This meeting had for its primary purpose a discussion on the annexation proposal concerning an area northeast of the city. The council wanted to acquaint the advisory group with ordinances concerning the proposed annexation and the advisory group discussed the progress already made on this proposal.

A number of questions had also come up for those circulating the petitions. These different areas were discussed. There were questions asked about the time limit on water and sewer hook up, about street lighting and about the paving and guttering assessment.

The city will furnish lighting and police protection immediately, but no time limit could be set for the sewers or the paving and guttering.

Only one property owner was present from the proposed annexation area which runs mainly along Williamston road. Ernest Banning appeared with a number of queries to be answered. He wondered why the city wanted vacant property such as his 45 acres instead of some areas that were more built up.

Answers were given to these questions and other areas were gone over to the satisfaction of those present.

Christmas Plans Started in Holt

HOLT - The Holt Community Council has launched its annual campaign to provide a merry Christmas for needy families of the area.

Members met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Chapman Monday night and set up the program which will start with the placing of baskets in all schools Friday and next Monday. Into these baskets pupils and teachers will drop canned goods and will also decorate the baskets in Christmas finery.

When filled, the baskets will be taken to the Delhi Charter township hall. There council members sort and check each basket.

The council is composed of representatives of churches, schools, clubs and other organizations in the community and every member does his share in the Christmas sharing project. After all donations have been checked and sorted, individual baskets for each family are prepared.

These contain canned goods, usually hams and staples. The hams and staples are purchased with council funds to augment the donations which come from the schools and from club and individual donations.

Several clubs supply toys which are distributed with the food baskets.

The collection is made until December 22 when volunteers gather at the township hall and pack the individual baskets. Then volunteers who include business men, students and others distribute the baskets to the homes. Names of the needy families are gathered by the schools, the churches and some are provided by the Lansing Christmas Clearing bureau.

Some 60 baskets were distributed to families in the Holt area last year.

Library Reading Room Open

DANSVILLE - A reading room has been added to the Dansville library. The council room of the Ingham township trustees, adjacent to the library in the town hall, has been converted into a reading room, nearly doubling the usable floor space.

A folding door separates the main library room from the council chambers when the trustees or the village council meet. The new room allows browsing and relieves congestion at the check out desk.

The library is most popular with school children, particularly those in the elementary grades.

Five classes a week from the school take out about 200 books, Mrs. Rolland Wing, librarian said.

Mrs. Wing started in the county library system in 1958 as a substitute and became head librarian early this year, succeeding Mrs. Edith Simons who retired. Mrs. Thomas Cooper is the new assistant.

The Dansville library has a selection of 2300 books on its shelves and about 1800 in circulation at all times. The library was established in 1938 as one of the 15 branches serving the Ingham county area with the Albert M. Hall Memorial Library in Mason as the headquarters of the system.

The earliest records available show that in 1941, the Dansville branch circulated 6,179 books and by 1963 had tripled its circulation to more than 18,000 books. To assure a continually new selection of titles, all branches of the system conduct a book exchange every six weeks at the Mason library.

At least one new book is assigned to the Dansville branch each week in addition to the regular exchange. The Dansville branch is the only one circulating paperbacks in addition to the hardbacks. A special shelf is reserved for 11 periodicals. After January 1, the number will be increased to about 40.

The Dansville library is open Wednesday from 2 to 5 and 7 to 9 p.m. Thursday and Saturday it is open from 2 to 5 p.m. On Thursday it is open for 2 hours in the forenoon to accommodate the elementary school classes.

Club Sees Films

HOLT - Edwin Clever, a Holt Kiwanian, showed films of a trip he made to Mexico at the dinner meeting of the Holt Kiwanis club at the Delhi Charter township hall Monday night. The club had planned for a discussion of a proposed swimming pool for Holt, but this discussion has been postponed until after January 1.

Interest Rate Hiked On CCC Certificates

The U. S. department of agriculture has announced that the rate of interest payable on certificates of interest issued to banks and other lending institutions participating in the financing of 1964 crop price support loans will be increased from 3.7 to 3.875 percent per annum, effective November 15, 1964.

The increase to lending institutions is in line with recent trends and is being made to encourage continued participation by private lenders in the financing of Commodity Credit Corporation loan programs, USDA officials said.

This increase will not be retroactive. Therefore, lending institutions which have invested funds in 1964 crop price support loans will earn interest on their investments at 3.70 percent per annum from the date of investment through November 14, 1964 and 3.875 percent thereafter. Notice of this increase will be published in the Federal Register. Reprints of the federal register notice on certificates of interest for grain and related commodities will be distributed to financing institutions by County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) offices.

Harry Ammon Weds Carol Hunt In Ceremony Saturday In Holt

Holt Presbyterian church was the scene for the marriage of Miss Carol Jeanne Hunt and Harry Robert Ammon Jr. Saturday afternoon, November 28. Both are seniors at Michigan State university. Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hunt of Mason are parents of the bride and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ammon Sr. of Holt are parents of the bridegroom.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a semi-sheath gown of de-lustered satin which featured a detachable chapel train. Other features of the gown included an empire bodice, cathedral sleeves and a rounded neckline. She carried a bouquet of red garnet roses and white carnations. A large fabric cabbage rose with fabric leaves held her shoulder-length veil of illusion.

Floor-length gowns designed with wine velvet bodices and pink crepe sheath skirts were worn by the four attendants. The attendants were Mrs. Thomas Hunt of Holt, sister-in-law of the bride, as matron of honor; Miss Mary Jo Dingeman of Detroit; Miss Bonnie Hunt of Holt, cousin of the bride; and Miss Joyce Christensen of Chicago, Illinois. Each carried an arrangement of red yuletide roses and pink carnations.

Lawrence Dodson of Holt served as best man. Ushers were Edward Macuga of Pennsylvania; Flynn Wheeler of Leslie, brother-in-law of the bridegroom; S.N. Corey Jr., brother-in-law of the bridegroom; Tom Hunt, brother of the bride; and Gary Fay of Holt.

Lynette Wheeler of Leslie, niece of the bridegroom, and Melissa Hunt, niece of the bride, were flowergirls and were gowned in pink. Ringbearers were Masters Michael and Mark Corey, nephews of the bridegroom.

For the event the church front was decorated with candelabra, palms and 4 tiffany baskets of white gladioli and red oak leaves. The pews were marked with lighted candles also.

Terry Hunt, brother of the bride, was soloist. He sang The Wedding Benediction by Lovelace and The Lord's Prayer accompanied on the organ by Mrs. Esther Carpenter.

After the ceremony the newlyweds greeted their guests at a reception in the Michigan room of the Jack Tar hotel. There refreshments of a 5-tiered wedding cake, groom's cake, finger sandwiches, champagne punch, punch and coffee were served. Fourteen round tables which were to seat 10 to 16 guests were each centered with a bud vase holding a soft pink rose.

The couple will take a honeymoon trip to Florida in the spring. The new Mrs. Ammon is an elementary education major and her husband is a packaging engineer major and has played on the Spartan football team. They plan to

Holt Juniors Do Well In Class Play

HOLT - The junior class of Holt high school recently presented the play "The Importance of Being Earnest" by Oscar Wilde. The setting was the 1890's, and brought the charm and easy paced living of that era to the audience.

The play is a situation comedy and the actors interpreted it correctly.

Neil Andersen and Don Griffin played the male leads well and exhibited pompousness and great interest in the feminine characters in the play.

Terry Hood enacted a plous minister, who was without a sense of humor, but who took excellent care of his parishioners, Judy Lester, Don Vernon, and Chris Mills played the servants. Vernon made a good unsmiling butler, and Mills and Miss Lester added to the play's setting of a wealthy well-run country home.

Lady Bracknell was an excellent status symbol of the upper-class English woman who wanted position and money for her daughter above all else. Diana Dart, in lavender-colored dress, and Cheryl Bennett, in an attractive 1890 pretty dress, portrayed young pretty eligible femininity and were appealing and successful in this portrayal.

Marl Richmond played the fairly difficult characterization of a prim governess and presented it well.

Mrs. Karen Larson, English teacher at Holt high school, directed this student production.

Schools to Send Gifts to the Mentally Ill

HOLT - The elementary schools in the Holt-Dimondale district are engaged in a project emphasizing the true meaning of Christmas. They are working towards bringing cheer to the mentally ill persons in the Kalamazoo state hospital.

Mrs. William Waite, third grade teacher at Dimondale read about the annual appeal made by the Ingham county chapter for mental health and presented the idea to the student council. Happily accepted by both the student council, teacher-sponsor Mrs. Margaret Wheeler, and the principal, Mrs. Ruth Zsachalke, the students went to work.

The shoppers for this project are Mrs. Leonard Silk, Mrs. Robert Trimby, Mrs. Dennis O'Brien and Mrs. Willard Doyle. Mrs. Denton Jolly, chairman of auxiliary services, heads a year round committee to fill requests for all types of articles both new and used.

A collection box will be at the side door in the Woman's club-house on South Washington avenue in Lansing from November 30 through December 4. Helping wrap and sort with the chairman will be these co-chairmen: Mrs. Robert Lundquist, Mrs. Leo Schassberger, Mrs. Harold Homer and Mrs. M.J. Seeton.

Under the direction of the council president, 6th grader Tom Fessel, the students decorated a box, made many colorful posters for school corridors and downtown business district. Notices were also sent to all parents in the Holt-Dimondale area. A general assembly was called and Mrs. H.L. Shade chairman of the "Operation Spirit" spoke about the many needs of men, women and children who are so often forgotten, or some who have no families to think of them during the holidays.

As a result more than 350 children from kindergarten through the 6th grade will, this year, give a gift to an unknown friend.

On December 7 the gifts will be sorted and packaged ready to be sent on to the hospital. Requests are still being received from Mrs. June Sherman, director of volunteer services at the hospital for special gifts for family-care patients, who live outside the hospital in private homes.

Monetary contributions are needed to purchase these items. Anyone in this area who desires to aid this campaign can send contributions to Ingham Mental Health Chapter or to any of the committee.

FHA Seniors Initiate Their 'Little Sisters'

By CHERI RUEST
 Dansville High School
 New members of the F.H.A. (Future Homemakers of America) were informally initiated last Tuesday into the club by their "big sisters".

"Cheri"

Every year, the senior girls who are in F. H. A., choose a freshman girl to be her "little sister." The Senior "big sisters" are to help their little sisters learn the F.H.A. creed, purpose, colors and flower. After the little sisters have learned all of these, the seniors have a meeting and discuss what the little sisters must do for their informal initiation. This year, the little sisters had to wear huge bows in their hair all day and then after school, they went home with their "big sisters". Here they had to perform many different tasks. Later Tuesday evening, the "big sisters" and "little sisters" met at the school for a party. The activities of the big and little sisters were supervised by Mrs. Margie Briggs, the F.H.A. advisor.

All last week, the students

A Tribute to Marcia

By RUTH CAMP
 The Thanksgiving holiday week end was saddened for Stockbridge high school students when one of our number died in an auto accident that also claimed the lives of two others.

Marcia Sweet, a sixteen-year-old junior and the daughter of Mrs. Maxine Sweet of 307 Mechanic street, was riding with three friends when their car hit a tree and broke in two. There was only one who survived the wreck.

Marcia was, as everyone who knew her was aware, an active girl, both in school and out. In junior high, she was in the junior band and junior high chorus. When she entered high school, she moved up to the senior band and became a member of the glee club. Last year Marcia was again in band, glee club and in addition, became a member of the mixed chorus. Having a fine soprano voice, she was in one of the acts in last year's variety show at the school.

She was the kind of girl who was always busy doing one thing or another, and was always a friend to everyone.

Marcia was liked by everyone and will always be remembered by her fellow students. It was a terrible thing that happened to Marcia and her friends but, I am sure, the memory of that tragic accident will remain imbedded in our minds for a long time and will serve as a lesson to all of us.

The name of the girl who was chosen will be announced soon.

The Latin Club had its initiation for new slaves last Tuesday after school. The group was supervised by Mrs. Dorothy Fink. Steve Strickland is the Latin club president.

At the junior high school, the 9th grade cheerleaders were chosen on Monday. The following girls made the squad: Nancy Brown, Betty Michtel, Carol Campbell, Julie Seyfarth, Mary Fink, Chris Lennon and Debby Frew, alternate. The first 9th grade game will be December 4. I'll be seeing you!

Library Now Open Evenings

By KATHY ISHAM
 Leslie High School

Leslie high school's Zora Greiner Library opened to the public for student and adult use in the evening on Monday, November 30. It will be open from 6:30 p.m. till 9:30 p.m. Monday through Thursday but no one will be permitted to remove materials from the library during these hours. This is just a trial and will be continued only if it works well.

"Kathy"

The Varsity club has been busy selling season tickets for the basketball games. Both adult and student season tickets were available. The profits from the sale of tickets are going to help a new wrestling mat and help pay for renovating the football field next spring.

The students at Leslie high school got a 2 hour break Wednesday. First, they were dismissed from fifth hour for an assembly in the cafeteria. The choir sang 2 songs to start the program then Carla Townsend read a poem. A solo was sung by the music director, Mrs. Crane. This was followed by a few words from Rev. Russell Hoover, minister at the Congregational church in Leslie. He also read George Washington's proclamation of the first Thanksgiving.

After the Thanksgiving assembly school was dismissed one hour and 20 minutes early for the Thanksgiving vacation. School resumed Monday.

The basketball players are all practicing hard. The second game will be Friday, December 4, with Stockbridge. Everyone is welcome to come and enjoy the game and look over the new gym. The Freshman team get down to business Thursday night at its first game.

The second sport underway for the season is wrestling. The wrestlers are practicing regularly after school. The band members have been busy distributing fruit cakes to those who ordered them during the last few weeks. These fruit cakes arrived at the school Wednesday morning.

The first pep meeting for the basketball season was Tuesday. Lon Cooper and David Southwick were both named to the Ingham County All Conference league for the offensive team this week.

The FFA is very busy planning its trip to Chicago for the last part of this week.

Yule Vocal Concert Set

Warren Emrick, director of Mason schools vocal music department has made announcement of the annual holiday concert which will be Wednesday, December 9, at 7:30 p.m.

Performing will be the mixed choruses of the 8th and 9th grades; the Girls and Boys Glee clubs; and the high school mixed chorus.

Assisting Emrick in directing the singers will be Mrs. Karlene Astalos. A donation offering will be gathered.

Pastor Talks At Holiday Assembly

By RUTH CAMP
 Stockbridge High School

The annual Thanksgiving assembly took place Wednesday morning in the new gym.

In other years, just one side of the gym's bleachers were used, making it necessary to have 2 programs. This year, however, students sat on both sides of the gym and the glee club was seated on one end.

The assembly was opened by the glee club singing, "Let There Be Music". Then the speaker, Rev. Boyd of the Baptist church was introduced by student council president Brad Weddon.

Rev. Boyd delivered an inspiring talk, telling us of the many things we have to be thankful for. He also explained how more young people are entering the ministry today as their life's work. An example of this he explained, is Bob Timberlake, outstanding quarterback for the Wolverines of the University of Michigan.

After his message, the Glee club sang another special Thanksgiving number, and the session was dismissed by Council President Weddon.

The student body as well as the faculty of Stockbridge high were excused from school Thursday and Friday for the Thanksgiving holiday.

To assure the faculty a complete holiday, principal Richard Howlett, jokingly ordered the staff to be out of the school by 3:45 Wednesday afternoon.

Tryouts for eighth grade cheerleaders were conducted on Monday, November 23, and the following girls were selected to lead their classmates in cheering their basketball team to victory this season. They are: Kay Baldwin, Kathy Fletcher, Cindy Grosshans, Mary Hartsuff, Kathy Jarrell and Sally White. They will cheer at all of the junior high basketball games.

Linda Esch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Esch, has been chosen by the Stockbridge High School faculty to receive the D.A.R. award for this year. Linda, a senior, is very active in various school activities.

The other two nominees for the award were Elaine Lathrop and Janet Mead.

Band, Glee Club, Chorus Present Holiday Concert

By LOUISE MILLER
 Williamston High School

The Thanksgiving atmosphere surrounded students of Williamston high school when the Band, Concert Chorus and Girls' Glee club presented an assembly for Thanksgiving.

"Louise"

Joan Salisbury, mistress of ceremonies of ceremonies, began with the pledge of allegiance to the flag. She then introduced the band under the direction of Ted Thompson. The band played 2 selections, "America, the Beautiful" and a hymn.

The Concert Chorus sang 2 selections, "Sing the Lord of Harvest" and "Triumph, Thanksgiving".

The Girls' Glee club sang 2 numbers and Janean Raddatz recited one of them. Janean closed with a prayer. The Chorus and Glee club were directed by Mrs. Rae Fleming.

The Girls Athletic association can be very happy about the turn out of their "Boys' Night Out" dance. The cafeteria included many proud boys who wore their stunning corsages. Some of the ideas their companions came up with were unique. Comments from the judges, our chaperones expressed the stiff competition. For the best qualified corsage they gave the prize to John Bloussy and his escort, Bonnie Westrate. Bonnie wrote a poem for several trinkets. The trinkets signified objects and occasions mutual to both. The poems expressed the reason why Bonnie included them.

The arrangement's background was a covered piece of cardboard. The prizes were 2 mugs containing coke. They had the theme and dance on the outside of the cups.

The Juniors earned $65 at the concession stand Tuesday when the Hornets met the Holt Rams. They considered this quite worthwhile for it was a week-night game. This money is always the Juniors responsibility and helps toward their junior-senior prom.

The Dramatics club met Wednesday. The members postponed their celebration of Shakespeare's birthday as there was too much going on during the time previously planned. Rehearsals are being set up for the various excerpts that will be read. They are planning to attend the next production by the Performing Arts company from Michigan State university. This is "The Master Builder". They will attend the drama day program at M.S.U. on December 5. There they talk about makeup for the students were then dismissed and the pep band played the School Song as we proceeded to our next class.

The Varsity Football Bar-B-Que for Holt's Champs was Monday, November 23 in the high school cafeteria. Approximately 150 football players, parents, and invited guests attended this annual event. Coach Donald Briggs announced that Mike Bostrom was chosen as "player of the year". The football squad was introduced to the group. Later, movies were shown of the Olivet Okemos games.

New co-captains, Mike Patton and Lynn Ried were presented by Briggs.

The student council met Monday to discuss the progress they had made.

Councilor Mrs. Alice Baumback, Carl Miller and Howard Bliss spoke on local guidance as related to seniors.

An informal question and answer period followed the speakers after which refreshments were served.

The Girls Athletic association met Wednesday, November 25, after school in the cafeteria.

The girls are making ragdolls for the small children who are less fortunate than they. Each class is responsible for so many dolls.

They have planned a play night for the near future.

Holt basketball cheerleaders had their first pep assembly Tuesday, November 24.

Dan Hovanestan, basketball coach, introduced the starting line up for the Varsity and reserve games against Williamston.

After the school song, the crowd sang a few cheers. The stage and evaluate the "Master Builder".

The committees for the Sno-Ball have been organizing. The decorations are under construction. The busy student council members worked Friday and Saturday of last week at Jeanne Lewis' making scenery. Publicity will start this Saturday when they all go to Louise Miller's to make posters for various places around the community and school. The program-souvenir committee met last Monday. They decided the style and consisting information.

The American Field service is planning a Christmas party at Bill Strong's December 21.

The Student Council gave two Thanksgiving baskets to 2 needy families. The chairman of this committee was Mary Adams. The committee delivered the vegetables and fruit right after the Thanksgiving assembly.

Farm Outlook

John Ferris, Michigan State University agricultural economist, gives the following outlook for farm products in Michigan.

MILK - Milk production in 1965 will be about the same as the 125.7 billion pounds for 1964. Marketings will exceed commercial use. About eight billion pounds of dairy products are expected to move to the Commodity Credit channels or be exported. Fewer cows, but increased production per cow will keep total production of milk at the 1964 level.

CATTLE - Fed cattle prices recovered some of the early October loss in late October and early November. Feeder prices were strengthened, while slaughter continues at high levels. From July to September, fed cattle marketed from 28 Federal inspection was up 12 per cent. The differential between choice and standard steers has widened to about $4.50. This past summer, USDA purchases amounted to 3 to 5 per cent of commercial production. The demand for beef will be stronger in 1965 with less competition from pork.

HOGS - Continued high level of slaughter this fall raises the question whether spring pig crop was down 8 per cent as the USDA estimated. Prices probably hit their seasonal low at $15 to $16. Prices should recover some this winter.

EGGS - Prices of Grade A large paid by wholesale distributors in Detroit averaged nearly 39 cents a dozen in October, and will likely remain around the 40 cent mark in November. Price may drop several cents in December.

WHEAT - About 48,000 wheat farms signed up in Michigan for the wheat program this fall. Wheat acreage in the Midwest should drop. Public Law 480 was extended for another two years and will help in surplus disposal.

DRY BEANS - Cool, wet weather delayed maturity and slowed harvesting operations in Michigan. Crop was estimated at 6,954,000 bushels, down 19 per cent from 1963. A further reduction in this estimate is expected for November. Market continues to register expectations of a possible short supply situation.

SOYBEANS - Prices remain well above supports. Since supply appears ample, no more than a normal seasonal price rise can be expected this crop year.

CORN - October 1 crop estimate of 3.6 billion bushels was 2 per cent under the September estimate, and 13 per cent under 1963. Total feed grain production this year is expected to be 12 per cent smaller than 1963. Total feed grain production this year is expected to be 12 per cent smaller than 1963. Michigan's crop is estimated at 100 million bushels. Prices declined to about $1.03 in mid-Michigan in late October. Prices will rise seasonally from around $1.15 to $1.20 next summer.

4-H Club Reminders

Livestock specialists at Michigan State University list the following tips for 4-H'ers starting beef feeder calf projects this winter.

--Good clean water for the starting calf is a must in every feed ration. Five to ten gallons of water per day is required for each beef calf depending on the size of the animal, the feed and the weather. During cold weather calves may not drink enough water unless the temperature is raised to 45 degrees or 55 degrees F. Water acts to control body temperature, move nutrients, remove body waste and distribute heat.

--Avoid nose-pressure water cups as calves have not learned how to operate them.

--Calves started on 1 to 2 pounds of oats, medium quality hay free choice, water and mineral mixtures free choice will soon be eating more grain. Cracked corn should be added to the grain ration gradually until it makes up 75 per cent of the grain with oats comprising the other 25 per cent. This grain ration can be fed up to 2 per cent of the live weight of the steer.

SUGAR BEETS - A record U.S. crop of 24.6 million tons was estimated in October. This is five per cent over 1963. National acreage limits of 1,375,000 were recently announced by USDA for the 1965 crop.

POTATOES - October 1 estimates of the 1964 fall crop were down slightly and 9 per cent less than 1963 due to heavy frosts. An orderly movement of potatoes through the storage season is suggested.

APPLES - Demand has been good. Prices have held well considering the size of the crop.

Dairy Records Set By Michigan Herds

Record-smashing performances by Michigan dairymen are becoming an annual occurrence. Larry Johnson, Michigan State University extension dairy specialist, reports that 1,970 members of the Dairy Herd Improvement Association have established an all-time high for both milk and butterfat production. The average of 12,490 pounds of milk and 469 pounds of butterfat per cow is well above last year's record breaking performance.

The highest producing herd for milk production was owned by Harold Cossen of Falmouth in Missaukee county. Their record of 18,819 pounds of milk for 34 cows was 690 pounds of milk per cow above the 1963 record.

Three other herds also averaged over 18,000 pounds of milk per cow. These were Ionia State Hospital, Ionia; William Post, Byron Center; and George Shuler and Sons, Baroda.

Johnson also pointed out that a total of 201 DHA herds averaged over 15,000 pounds of milk per cow. The number of herds averaging 600 pounds or more butterfat, 33 per cent of all DHA herds.

The first herd in Michigan to produce over 700 pounds butterfat per cow was owned by Carl Balsam of Ottawa Lake in Monroe county. However, the herd consisted of only nine dairy cows. It's average was 17,522 pounds of milk and 731 pounds of butterfat.

Ingham county had 50 herds with an average of 500 pounds or more butterfat.

The high individual record for the year was 1,067 pounds of butterfat. A registered Brown

Swiss animal owned by Patrick O'Connor of Williamston earned that record.

Ag Engineer Will Speak At Dansville

The third meeting in a dairy herd health course will feature Dr. Robert Maddex, Michigan State University agricultural engineering specialist. The meeting will be held at 1:00 p.m. in the Dansville town hall on Wednesday December 2.

Dr. Maddex will discuss and outline what is needed in housing facilities for small dairy calves. Dr. Clifford Beck, Veterinarian Extension Specialist, will follow on the program with a discussion of calf housing and facilities needed for calves from the aspect of health. Many dairymen do not realize the costly significance of losing a few calves from diseases and phenomena each winter. Few dairymen have adequate housing for the calf crop. Better calf raising facilities could be a good investment on dairy farms from a standpoint of labor cost alone, says Jim Mulyany, county agent. All dairymen are invited to attend.

Income Tax Short Course Set at MSU

Income taxes for farmers will be discussed December 2 and 3 at a Michigan State University short course.

The course will include review of the 1964 Internal Revenue Act, the Acts general problem areas and internal revenue procedures. The course will be open to anyone interested.

Several major changes in internal revenue taxes will be discussed including removal of several deduction limitations in medical expenses and charitable contributions.

Three general problem areas of the 1964 Internal Revenue Act to be discussed are retirement income, income averaging for a period of years and special income such as from the sale of Christmas trees.

The necessity of farm records, check up procedures of the Internal Revenue department and taxpayer appeal rights will also be discussed.

The instructors for the program will include eight members of the Detroit Internal Revenue Department and four faculty members of the MSU Department of Agricultural Economics.

Each participant will have an opportunity to practice preparation of income tax returns and ask questions about the material discussed.

A reservation form must be returned to Continuing Education Services at MSU. Registration will begin December 2, 8:00 a.m. on the second floor of the Union Building.

A $12.50 fee will be charged for the course. The fee includes a booklet containing summaries of all presentations.

Over night accommodations will be available in the Kellogg Center for $5.50 per person.

4-H Livestock Feeders To Exhibit at Detroit

Michigan 4-H club youngsters will be tested on their knowledge of efficient livestock production and marketing principles during the annual Detroit Junior Livestock Show and Market during the annual Detroit Junior Livestock Show scheduled for the Motor City December 7-10.

Although there aren't any formal examinations, the more than 400 junior-sized livestock producers expected to participate in this 35th annual event will be competing with each other for coveted livestock honors.

The annual show, sponsored by the 4-H Club department of the Michigan Cooperative Extension Service and the Detroit Junior Livestock Society, attracts 4-H youngsters and their prize pork, lamb and beef entries from all parts of the state.

The 4-H club members participated in small-scale agricultural projects aimed at "learning by doing." Youths exhibiting steers generally put 600 pounds of gain on their animals as they produce tasty steaks, chops and hamburger for the consumer's dinner table through efficient feeding.

Such gains are made only with the knowledge of efficient livestock production on the part of the 4-H livestock producers. It takes an average of 3,240 pounds of corn, 1,100 pounds of hay and 245 pounds of protein supplement to produce the meat animals demanded by livestock buyers and consumers alike.

Considerable enthusiasm was shown in last year's complete carcass evaluation program by 4-H club members, says Ralph Morrow, 4-H livestock extension specialist at Michigan State University.

This year's program will start on December 7 when carcass entries arrive at the Michigan State Fairgrounds and live evaluations of lamb carcass entries are held.

The arrival of other livestock entries and live evaluation of beef and pork carcass entries will highlight December 8 activities. Live evaluations of carcase entries, designed to let 4-H'ers see how their animals compare on the hoof and in the meat cooler, are held early to enable cooperating meat packers to slaughter animals before the Show is completed.

Lamb, swine and beef judging will be features of the December 9 program. Grand champions in all classes will be picked before the end of the day. Carcass evaluation of pork and lamb entries will also be held on Wednesday.

The traditional Wednesday evening banquet for exhibitors will be held in a downtown Detroit hotel. Besides recognizing outstanding 4-H livestock exhibitors, a $500 scholarship will be presented to a 4-H club member for study at MSU by the Independent Slaughterers of Detroit.

Beef carcass evaluations will be held the morning of December 10. Closing out the Show's list of activities will be the annual sale of livestock starting at 12:30 p.m.

Nearly 150 tons of beef, pork and lamb went on the auction block last year as 4-H club youngsters earned more than $85,000 to invest in livestock entries for this year's Show, for college expenses or to get started in modern-day farming.

4-H News

By aiming for higher yields and applying high rates of fertilizer, farmers have increased their need for zinc on mineral soils, reports Ray L. Cook, MSU soil scientist.

The state's need for lime is roughly 1,200,000 tons annually as indicated by soil type and soil test surveys according to James Porter, MSU extension soil scientist.

"It seems odd that some landowners invest thousands of dollars in irrigation equipment to put water on the land, while others make little effort to capture and hold natural rainfall," says Russell Hill, Michigan State University conservation specialist.

Farm youth who cannot farm might consider working as a Dairy Herd Improvement Association supervisor, says Larry Johnson, Michigan State University dairy extension specialist. Several jobs - visiting dairy farms and supervising weighing and butterfat testing of milk from individual cows - are open.

The use of fertilizer on Michigan farms rose from 611,000 tons in 1953 to 773,000 tons in 1963, according to Michigan State University soil scientists.

ASC Vote Scheduled December 10

Farmers today got a "last-minute" reminder about important elections which will take place in Ingham county on December 10. The elections are to choose ASC farmer-committee members who will serve for the next year as local administrators of national farm-action programs.

According to Ludell Cheney, Chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, "These ASC committee members have broad important program responsibilities, which makes it all the more urgent that representative farmers be elected to the job." He urged all qualified voters to be sure to cast their ballots.

Each year, the chairman explained, such qualified voters—farmers who are taking part or are eligible to take part in one or more of the farm programs which the committee administer—elect a community committee from among their own number. The chairman, vice chairman, and regular member of this committee also serve respectively as delegate, alternate delegate, and second alternate delegate to a county convention, where the ASC county committee is elected.

Programs administered by the committee include the Agricultural Conservation Program, acreage allotments, marketing quotas, commodity loans, the feed grain program, the voluntary wheat program, the Sugar Act program, the National Wool Program, and farm storage facility loans. Other duties are assigned to the committees by the Secretary of Agriculture as the need arises.

In Ingham county, eligible voters will cast ballots for community committee at a polling place set up for that purpose. The time and places are listed below:

Lansing and Meridian communities—Capital Savings and Loan Bank building, Okemos, Michigan, 8 p.m.

Williamstown Township—Township Hall located at Sherwood and Branch 8 p.m.

KIDS HURT

School district officials throughout the state are frustrated that their efforts to meet local educational needs were stalemated by a 1964 legislative act.

The local property tax is no longer adequate to provide revenue for the schools along with other community services, they say, and voters vent their ire on school millage proposals because of high taxes at all levels.

This year the Legislature adopted a law declaring a moratorium on all local taxes except the city income levy.

Now, local school board members are hoping a legislative committee will recommend to the 1965 session authorization for school districts to levy excise taxes rather than relying almost totally on the property tax revenues.

The committee headed by Rep. James N. Folks, R-Horton, has been told school districts suffer heavily in nearly every extra millage and school bonding proposal. Voters defeat such questions because they have no direct control over other taxes.

School districts now get part of the state sales tax, cigarette and liquor tax collections in addition to the share of local property assessments. A number of school officials feel they now should be allowed to impose excise taxes on items such as gasoline, cigarettes, intangibles, incomes or sales.

Other education-oriented spokesmen contend additional funds for local school operations should come from a bigger cut in existing or new state revenues.

"Education in Michigan needs a great deal more money and the only adequate way to meet this need is through a state income tax, a significant portion of which should go back to the schools," says Henry Lihne, Grosse Pointe president of the Michigan Federation of Teachers.

With a substantial surplus in the treasury from the last fiscal year, it is certain these divergent views among school people will be strongly represented in lobbying attempts next year to get a bigger share of state funds available.

GASSY AIR
Much has been heard in Michigan about the smog problems existing on the West Coast, largely blamed on Michigan-made automobiles.

Although the blame is more dispersed among several industries, some areas of Michigan also have expressed deep concern with the general problem of air pollution. Much less has been heard to date about this problem in Michigan, however.

Special authority to control air pollution of any origin has rested solely at the local level for many years, although the State Health Department has worked with community officials on projects to eliminate air pollution.

Next year, however, Gov. George Romney has indicated he will propose to the Legislature the first state-wide regulatory legislation and appropriation for an air pollution control program.

By proposing the creation of an air pollution section within the Health Department, Romney hopes the state will qualify for some federal funds under the new Federal Clean Air Act.

Romney may attempt to get a state appropriation which would give the new working unit about $80,000 in combined state and federal monies for the initial program.

The governor said the start of the program, "will be a major forward step toward assuring the people of Michigan that the air we breathe is as free from contamination as modern science and vigorous education and enforcement can make possible."

MACHINE WORKS
Voter rejection by a wide margin of the so-called Massachusetts ballot enacted by the 1964 Legislature came as a big surprise to many, including some Democrats in high positions.

Democrats organized the petition drive which led to ballot placement of the controversial measure.

It appeared to be a well-organized petition campaign and resulted in the filing of more signatures than ever before gathered on a referendum question.

The opposition movement then seemed to disappear. Little publicity was directed to urge a "no" vote on the state proposal.

One state elections official, a nonpartisan civil servant, said he was very surprised that the vote was so decisive. His reaction was based largely on the fact that the wording on such proposals is often unclear to many voters and rarely has such a controversial question been decided without an extensive campaign by proponents or opponents of it.

Another state officer elected on the Democratic ticket expressed similar surprise at the outcome of the Massachusetts ballot question.

"We were very lucky on this for some reason," he said. "Another time using a little campaign effort as was exerted after the petition drive we might not be so fortunate," he said.

Inner-Eye Secrets Probed By Machine at Wayne State U.

Operating the electroretinogram while watching retina responses is technician Barbara Siegler, who is also a pre-medical student at Wayne State University.

DETROIT—Secrets of the inner eye, once impossible to explore in patients who had thick cataracts, are now being revealed through a product of the electronic age.

The device has a long name, the "electroretinogram," but it makes short the work of diagnosis.

Specialists in eye diseases at Wayne State University's School of Medicine have found it so useful that they have recently developed a portable version that may be carried to patients.

"The obvious method of examining the eye is to look into it," explains Dr. Albert D. Ruedemann, chairman of ophthalmology, "but when an obscuring cataract exists, we can't get a good diagnostic look."

The normal diagnostic tool, called the ophthalmoscope, enables only to surmise the condition of the retina, so we use the electroretinogram.

"This machine tells us many things we need to know, particularly the information we need prior to eye surgery. Cataract surgery might not be advisable if the machine found a detached or otherwise badly impaired retina," he points out.

All Potato Dealers Must Be Licensed

Not all persons buying and selling potatoes at wholesale and bonded requirement of a Michigan law passed by the 1964 legislature.

G.S. McIntyre, State Agricultural Director, said 233 of such dealers have met requirements of this statute which is enforced by the Michigan department of agriculture's food and standards division. Estimates indicate at least 100 others are operating illegally.

Recently these persons were convicted for operating without the required license and bond.

The amount of a licensee's bond is in proportion to the volume of business with a $2,000 bond the minimum, said J. L. Littlefield, food and standards division chief who is in charge of issuing these licenses. The cost of the license is $15.

For their own protection, Mr. Littlefield suggests growers ask to see licenses of persons to whom they sell potatoes at wholesale. In this way growers may be assured they are dealing with individuals licensed by the state and that the transaction is covered by bond.

Although the national potato crop on November 1 was estimated to be 10 per cent smaller than in 1963, Michigan's autumn potato crop was estimated to be 13 per cent larger than a year ago. The state's production of 7,600,000 hundredweight, because of Michigan's supply there has been active movement of the state's potatoes with generally good prices that are attractive to housewives.

Fundamental belief in God

Dreamed of by millions, searched for by many, discovered by a few. Established, built, maintained, and governed by a Fundamental Belief in God. That is America — these United States. That is our home... that is you and me. How else could the heritage we hold come into being? A System? ... Not so! But a dedicated, consecrated way of life as set forth in the Sermon on the Mount. Through the grief and misery suffered at Valley Forge, shines the same light which has illuminated men's minds since time began. That same light — the Word of God — is now lighting and showing the way — the way of truth — to us as a nation and as individuals. Just so long as each of us, each day, rededicate our lives to a Fundamental Belief in God — shall we endure.
