Over the Top!

Mason Blood Donors Give 148 Precious Pints

Friday was a moment of glory for the Mason bloodmobile effort. Donors turned out in record numbers to contribute more blood than at any time in the history of giving in Mason. There were 164 people who offered blood and the Red Cross bloodmobile ended up with 148 pints of blood to restock a dwindling blood bank at the county center in Lansing.

The stormy weather had been expected to thwart efforts of the bloodmobile team to gather blood in Mason. Yet the people came and came and came. Sixty-eight pints more blood were collected Friday than at the bloodmobile stop 3 months ago. Many requested that their blood be given in the name of Linda Kerr, the Mason youngster who faces heart surgery in a few weeks. There were several who gave blood for the first time in their lives. And the old-timers were there as usual. Not even the veteran workers at the bloodmobile stop in Mason could put their finger on all the reasons why the bloodmobile stop in Mason was such a success. But it was.

To top off the day at the bloodmobile stop, 11 gallon pints were earned by donors who have given a gallon or more of blood over the years. Those who qualified for one-gallon pins were Mrs. Jennie Clark, Tom Barker, Ralph Swinehart, Mrs. Lorraine Hulet and Leo Allaire. Those who earned pins for giving 2 gallons were Paul Mudgett and Perry Foss. Jim Brown earned a 3-gallon pin, Gordon Karslake and Ivan Kerr, 4-gallon pins, and Frank Guerriero, a whopping 5-gallon pin.

Mayor Exchange Coincidence

By one chance in thousands Mayor Gil Pearsall of Mason is going to get his wish in the annual exchange of mayors in connection with Government Day of Michigan Week on May 17 providing he is renamed when the Mason city council chooses a mayor for the coming year on April 12.

Pearsall went to school in Algonac and it was his desire to go there in the exchange. However, officials of the mayors exchange committee, headed by Mayor Robert Alexander of Oak Park, could not grant the request unless it was requested by officials of both cities. They had no request before them at the drawing from the 2 cities. In fact officials of Algonac were not aware of Pearsall's desire.

Officials of Saginaw, Bay City, Detroit and Lansing had previously asked the exchange committee to keep them out of the drawing and they in turn arranged their own exchange.

However, the names of Mason and Algonac were in the drum that included the names of 430 Michigan cities and villages.

The names are drawn by public officials and members of the mayors exchange committee, two at a time from the well mixed metal drum.

Pearsall can't believe it happened, but Mason and Algonac were drawn together, one chance in thousands.

Those who offered their blood in Mason Friday were:

The Ingham county board of supervisors Wednesday morning endorsed the "fixed millage" plan at a session Wednesday morning but not after a long argument for and against the proposal which voters will decide at the polls on April 12.

The fixed millage proposal is one under which each governmental unit is assigned a maximum tax rate. In this case 18 mills, which remains constant, year after year.

The supervisors listened to arguments pro and con on the plan before endorsing it by a vote of 26 to 12.

Opposing the proposal and speaking against it were Supervisors Joe Kiersey of Delhi township, Harold Slater of Lansing township, Robert R. Robinson Jr. of Meridian township and Fred Rutledge of Leslie.

Those speaking in favor of the proposal were Supervisors Glen E. Dean of Lansing, John M. Patriarche of East Lansing, Delmar Carr of White Oak township and Frank E. Warden of East Lansing and Alton J. Stroud, superintendent of the Ingham Intermediate school district.

While the debate never became heated, it did go on for nearly an hour.

Proponents of the proposal said the county needs the extra millage to meet programs ahead while those opposing it based some of their arguments on the claim that it was unrealistic and premature.

The 18 mills, if adopted at the polls in April, would distribute the millage in this manner: County, 6.55 mills; school districts, 10.25 mills; townships, 1 mill; intermediate school district, 2 mill.

After the discussion the board listened to a talk by Senator Don Potter of Lansing regarding the work of the state legislature. He discussed various bills now in the formative stage and invited the supervisors to participate in government and to "feel free to communicate with your legislators on matters important to you."

Mason recorded its first traffic fatality of 1965 at 7:50 p.m. Monday night when James J. Robinson, 9-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Robinson, 815 Brookdale, Mason, was hit by a car and killed when he dashed into S. Lansing street.

Mason police said their investigation showed that James and some playmates had just left St. James church and were on their way home. They walked on the blacktop on S. Lansing street and when they neared Willow street, the Robinson boy darted out into Lansing street in front of a car driven by Daniel Hartwick, 17, of 513 S. Aurelius road, who was driving in a southerly direction.

Hartwick was not held. He was alone in the car. He said he swerved the car to the left to avoid the boy but was too late to prevent the accident. Witnesses substantiated his story, police said.

Hartwick was taken to Mason General hospital after the accident suffering from shock.

Chief Tim Stolz of the Mason police said he presented the results of his investigation to the prosecutor's office and officials there found no evidence of criminal negligence on the part of Hartwick.

The group of children had been attending a Lenten Mass at St. James church.

Stolz said the Robinson boy was walking with Paul Philo, 10, and his brother, Gerald, 9, sons of Mr. and Mrs. J.D. Philo, 356 Willow street. The Philo boys' sister, Karen, 13, also was in the group.

Hartwick was on his way to St. James church to attend a catechism class taught by the Philo children's father.

The fatality was the first in Mason since last October.

James was a pupil in the 3rd grade at St. James school. Besides his parents, he is survived by 4 sisters, Deborah M., 11; Patricia E., 10; Theresa A., 8; and Karen S., 2, and one brother, Christopher L., 6.

Also surviving are his grandfather, Bud Coley Robinson of Jacksonville, Florida; his grandmother, Mrs. Gertrude B. Crum of Largo, Florida, and his great-grandmother, Mrs. Ella Huggins of Hattiesburg, Mississippi.

MEMBERS OF THE MASON high school band get a briefing from George Murthum, director of instrumental music in Mason schools, as they prepare to play 3 numbers at the band festival in Webberville last Saturday. The band went on to win 1st division rating in the contest.

Mason Band Gains Near Perfect Record

Mason high school band of 75 musicians was the unanimous choice of judges for 1st division ratings at the district festival for Class B schools at Webberville last Saturday.

The Mason band under the direction of George Murthum, director of instrumental music in the Mason schools, played 3 numbers at the festival. One "Symphonic Overture for Bands" was a required selection which each competing band played. The Mason musicians also played a march, "Thunder Crest" by Osterling and "Pageant", a modern number by Persichetti, a contemporary composer.

Bands from 6 Class B schools competed at the festival. They were Bellevue, Leslie, Haslett, Williamson, Fowlerville and Mason. Mason won a first in each division of the festival.

The Webberville festival also included a section for 7 Class C schools.

The 1st division rating given Mason represents unusually high standards of performance and musicianship for the event and worthy of being recognized as a first place winner.

Judges at the festival were Stanley Shoemaker of Jackson high school, James Hause of Western Michigan university, Kalamazoo; Edsel Farnham of Clio high school and Robert Talsma of East Christian high school, Grand Rapids.

The Mason band as all others with a 1st division rating in the district festivals will participate in a state festival in April. The site for the state event has not yet been announced.

Mothers Serve Hot Chocolate To Patrols

HOLT - All through this winter 5 Midway school mothers have taken turns providing hot chocolate for safety patrol members coming in from their posts on cold winter mornings. Each mother is assigned one day of the week. Each listens for the weather report her day. In days of the week when the temperature falls below 20 degrees, the mother comes to school and makes the hot chocolate, ready for the frosty patrol members when they come in from their corners. On very cold days, this means doubling the recipe, for on these days two shifts of patrol operate, relieving each other so that no one will have to stay out too long.

Materials are provided by the Midway School PTA, and the program is coordinated by PTA Safety chairmen, Mrs. James Reuter and Mrs. Millard Adams. Mothers participating are Mrs. Dale Balch, Mrs. J.W. Curran, Mrs. J. Lenon, Mrs. Glenn Till, and Mrs. C.E. Pollock.

MARVIN BOBB, physical therapist at Mason General hospital, practices his science on Ed Nowlin, who was injured in an auto crash. Physical therapy is a service added to the growing list of services at Mason General last year. Nowlin has progressed from the circle bed to a regular hospital bed with foot boards. Exercise applied and supervised by Bobb will soon allow Nowlin to progress to the crutch stage.

MUCH OF THE EQUIPMENT in the physical therapy department at Mason General has been donated by the Mason Hospital Auxiliary. Marvin Bobb, physical therapist, is shown assisting Mrs. Louise Johnson on the parallel bars. Mrs. Johnson is a fractured hip patient who started out on the bars and has progressed to the crutch stage. Shown at the right of Mrs. Johnson are Mrs. Fred Young, president of the Auxiliary and Mrs. Minnie Thorburn, one of the hard-working members of the volunteer group.

Physical Therapy Service Expands at Mason General

A Physical Therapy department was started at Mason General hospital on February 10, 1964, under the direction of Marvin Bobb, registered physical therapist.

Both in and out patients are being treated with a doctor's referral only. This past year there was a total of 2,261 treatments given. These treatments covered a number of disabilities, such as neck and back injuries, post fractures, rheumatoid arthritis, athletic injuries, strokes, nerve injuries, sprain and strains, crutch walking.

The department is open daily Monday through Friday, 7 a.m. to 12 noon.

The Ladies Auxiliary of Mason General hospital has donated the set of parallel bars which will enable early ambulation for stroke and fracture patients.

Marvin Bobb, registered physical therapist, is well qualified to serve the community. Bobb received his bachelor of science degree at Morning Side college, Sioux City, Iowa. He had 2 years of physical therapy training at Mayo clinic, Rochester, Minnesota, graduating in 1957.

Besides this he has had 4 years experience with cerebral palsy and 3 1/2 years general hospital care.

Bobb resides at 2673 Cahill drive, Okemos, with his wife, Edna, and their 2 boys, Douglas, 12, and Jim, 8.

Barbara Swan is working in the physical therapy department with Bobb as a physical therapy aide.

She resides with her family at 3330 W. Rolfe road, Mason. Since her graduation from Mason high school Barbara has been employed at the hospital.

The community hospital, Mason General hospital, sensitive and responsive to the medical care needs of the people it serves, faces demands for enlarging and strengthening patient services.

Physical therapy is one of these services which general hospitals are being asked to provide for their patients.

Those responsible for the care of patients in the hospital are increasingly aware of the value of physical therapy services to their patients and the community they serve.

There is an ever increasing demand for this therapy by the physicians of the community.

Physical therapy is no longer thought of as an exclusive service for certain types of specialized hospitals.

While physical therapy in the past has been identified for the most part with orthopedic problems, the recognition that a wide range of diseases and conditions benefit from physical therapy has accounted for its wide-spread use in recent years.

Patients who stay in the hospital long enough to cause concern over problems of ambulation, retention of circulatory and muscle tone or joint mobility are candidates for physical therapy. In addition there are the common problems of cerebral vascular accidents, arthritis, amputees, neurological diseases, low back disorders and accidents of all types.

Physical therapy is one of the patient services essential to those who need not only physical restoration but rehabilitation in the broadest sense. The focus is on the patient, the whole patient as an individual. The objectives of physical therapy are:

- 1-To aid the physician in the care of patients,
- 2-To combat the cumulative disabling effects of prolonged physical or mental illness,
- 3-To minimize residual physical disability,
- 4-To help return the individual to optimum living within his capacities,
- 5-To hasten convalescence and reduce time in the hospital,
- 6-To contribute to the comfort and well being of patients.

Physical therapists performing their duties must meet recognized standards of professional education and qualifications. Qualifications of a physical therapist is a person who has been graduated from a school or course approved by the Council on Medical Education and Hospitals of the American Medical Association or has been graduated from a school or course approved by the American Physical Therapy association or a registrant of the American Registry of Physical Therapists. Where it is a legal requirement physical therapists must be registered or licensed.

Physical therapy is an integral part of medical care and the services can only be obtained if the patient's physician prescribes the treatment. Teaching and demonstrating physical therapy procedures to patients and medical personnel are important duties growing out of the primary one of administering treatments.

They also make certain tests and measurements as requested by physicians. Most of the other duties performed by physical therapists are extensions and variations of these primary responsibilities.

Physical therapists are also called upon to participate in conferences and discussions with physicians, nurses and other staff responsible for comprehensive care and future plans for the patient.

Sid Caesar and Edie Adams are man and wife in Stanley Kramer's star-enchanted all-time laugh hit "It's A Mad, Mad, Mad, Mad World," in Ultra Panavision and Technicolor.

"Mad World" Is Comedy With Inherent Drama" - Stan Kramer

"I don't make pictures specifically because of a point of view," says Stanley Kramer, noted Hollywood producer and director. "I make them because I think they have inherent dramatic value."

The statement was made in response to the question "Why, after your remarkable record in producing and directing great dramatic films, did you turn to comedy?"

The comedy is his now-famous "It's A Mad, Mad, Mad, Mad World," Ultra Panavision-Technicolor United Artists release.

"It's A Mad, Mad, Mad, Mad World" has inherent dramatic value," Kramer explains. "It's a story of how a dozen seemingly normal people become involved in a frenzied chase for some buried money. What happens to them along the way is riotously funny. But the underlying theme of the human motivation for their actions makes this provocative entertainment."

Provocative pictures are Kramer's forte. For more than a decade he has been turning out—as producer, director and both—a number of subjects that have provided thoughtful entertainment.

In the last three years alone he has examined such vital aspects of contemporary living as racial tolerance in both "The Defiant Ones" and "Pressure Point"; the danger of global nuclear suicide in "On the Beach"; the continuing battle to free men's minds from the strait jacket of "accepted" thinking in "Hubert The Wind," and, of course, the great moral issues involved in his powerful "Judgment at Nuremberg."

Kramer is also regarded as the man who did more to lift the western into the serious entertainment class with his now-famous "High Noon." For his role in it, Cary Cooper won an Oscar. Some of Kramer's other motion picture achievements include "Cyrano de Bergerac," "The Champion," "Home of the Brave," "The Pride and the Passion," "Judgment at Nuremberg" and "A Child Is Waiting."

The story of "Mad World" is by William and Tania Rose and its music is by Ernest Gold. Kramer both produced it and directed it.

Edie's A Lady - A Funny Lady - In 'Mad World'

Nine years ago a comparative unknown named Edie Adams soared to immediate and spectacular stardom through her role in the Broadway smash "Wonderful Town."

She made them laugh and laugh. And she's been making 'em laugh ever since.

Which is why she has an important role in Stanley Kramer's laugh epic "It's A Mad, Mad, Mad, Mad World," in Ultra Panavision and Technicolor.

Before her appearance in "Wonderful Town," Edie was a night club singer, a career she took up after abandoning a dream of becoming a grand opera star. Before that she appeared in amateur theatricals. The "Wonderful Town" role won her the Daisy Mae part in "Lil Abner," and from there she went into the television and stage work which made her world famous.

Edie, a native of Kingston, Pa., was married to the late Eric Kovacs, a career she taught her everything she knows about comedy.

In "It's A Mad, Mad, Mad, Mad World," which is an original story by William and Tania Rose with music by Ernest Gold, Edie appears in a cast of over 10 great comic names assembled for this picture by Kramer. In it she plays the wife of the much-harried Sid Caesar.

class with his now-famous "High Noon." For his role in it, Cary Cooper won an Oscar. Some of Kramer's other motion picture achievements include "Cyrano de Bergerac," "The Champion," "Home of the Brave," "The Pride and the Passion," "Judgment at Nuremberg" and "A Child Is Waiting."

The story of "Mad World" is by William and Tania Rose and its music is by Ernest Gold. Kramer both produced it and directed it.

Lollobrigida Plays Five Lady Godivas

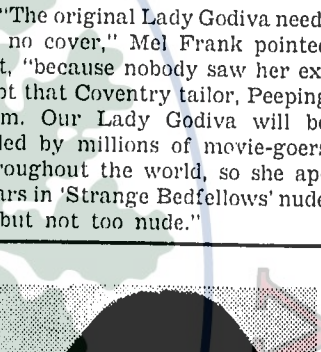

All five Godivas, incidentally, were portrayed by luscious Gina Lollobrigida.

In the comedy which co-stars Gina with Rock Hudson, Gig Young and Edward Judd, Lady Godiva gets into the act when a London protest group led by Gina decides to re-enact the celebrated ride through the streets of Coventry. Naturally, Miss Lollobrigida plays Lady Godiva in the sequence.

"Our problem was how historically accurate we could be without stirring a censor's scissors," Frank admitted. "As far as Gina was concerned, we could set our own limit of nudity. All we had to do was make the decision."

The decision was influenced by five different tests of Gina as Lady Godiva, utilizing different quantities of leotards, wigs and falls to cover — and uncover — Gina properly.

"The original Lady Godiva needed no cover," Mel Frank pointed out, "because nobody saw her except that Coventry tailor, Peeping Tom. Our Lady Godiva will be ogled by millions of movie-goers throughout the world, so she appears in 'Strange Bedfellows' nude — but not too nude."

Vivacious Italian screen star Gina Lollobrigida, who has been making films literally around the world, returns to Hollywood for the lead in Universal's hilarious Panama and Frank comedy, "Strange Bedfellows," photographed in Technicolor.

At Popular Prices Family Comedy

After a triumphal series of engagements at advanced price-reduced seat showings, Stanley Kramer's comedy hit "It's A Mad, Mad, Mad, Mad World," in Ultra Panavision and Technicolor, The United Artists release, from an original screenplay by William and Tania Rose, boasts of a cast which includes "everybody who's ever been funny," and includes some of the top names of radio, TV, pictures, musical comedy and night club entertainers.

The fact that the marriage state is not necessarily a state of war is demonstrated in the writing team of William and Tania Rose, the couple responsible for the zany script of Stanley Kramer's laugh triumph "It's A Mad, Mad, Mad, Mad World," Ultra Panavision, Technicolor United Artists release.

Stanley Kramer both produced and directed the funny, funny comedy and the music is by Ernest Gold.

Buddy Hackett and Mickey Rooney pilot a plane as it has never been piloted before in Stanley Kramer's hilarious "It's A Mad, Mad, Mad, Mad World."

Rock Hudson Aids New Movie "Sleepcake" Trend In "Strange Bedfellows"

Hollywood, normally directing its trends with the subtlety of a jackhammer, has moved slyly for a change to create a movie cycle calculated to replace what is modestly termed beefcake.

The new trend, friends, is toward "sleepcake."

One of filmdom's most celebrated exponents of beefcake, Rock Hudson, has found himself neatly maneuvered into "sleepcake" in a series of movie scenes that have developed relentlessly in his last seven films. In all of them, the Hudson physique—a trim 205 pounds on a 6-foot-4 frame—has been given exposure via the natural nocturnal route, usually involving bedroom settings.

"It's better this way, as long as producers insist on stuff like this," says Hudson, lounging around Stage 12 at Universal studios in a pair of pearl-gray pajamas as dictated by the script demands of "Strange Bedfellows," a comedy in which he stars with Gina Lollobrigida and Gig Young.

"In other years, beefcake in a movie scene was downright embarrassing. On the slightest pretense, the hero had to peel off his shirt, inhale deeply and pose. He bared himself to the waist to wash his hands, comb his hair or brush his teeth. Most people go to a barber for a haircut; Hollywood actors had to report regularly to have their chests shaved."

For another inexplicable reason, guardians of the codes of cinematic morals frown on hairy-chested movie sequences.

"At least," Hudson went on, "under the latest trend, there's a less embarrassing reason for stripping the male form in color and widescreen. Everybody has to sleep, everybody has his own version of nightdress, and almost anything is logical in a bedroom, from shorts to long flannels. It's better this way."

To get a firm idea of how "sleepcake" has inched its way past old-style beefcake on movie screens, here's a rundown on Hudson's cinematic treks in and out of dreamland:

- (1) In "Come September," he stood in pajamas on the balcony of an Italian villa, cracking open a bottle of champagne;
- (2) In "The Spiral Road," he was aroused from a cot in an equatorial jungle by a pretty native girl whose scant costume matched (in material, at least) the T-shirt and shorts being worn by Rock;
- (3) In "A Gathering of Eagles," Hudson, in pajama bottoms, leaps out of bed to answer the Red Telephone that governs every moment in the life of a U.S. Strategic Air Command wing commander;
- (4) In "Man's Favorite Sport?" with Paula Prentiss, he gets trapped in a mountain cabin with amorous Paula while both are

Library System in Holt Schools Growing

HOLT - The elementary library of the Holt public schools in the four elementary buildings or the system, is still in its infancy but the growth of the library has been prodigious over the past year and a half.

The library has grown from a collection of books housed in an empty classroom to an organized program, with rooms and in some cases, workrooms adjoining, especially planned as libraries. Midway and Dimondale schools have had libraries which were partially organized for several years. The fall of 1963 found Sycamore and Elliott provided with rooms especially planned for library use. Each of these schools has a room adjoining the library which is used for processing books and for housing instructional materials.

The overall collection contains nearly 13,000 books. This number includes reference books, books in circulation, and the professional library, which is housed at Sycamore school. Provision has been made in the selection of books for the slow reader as well as the accelerated reader.

Books of low vocabulary and high interest level are provided as well as books for the advanced student. This is true not only in fiction but in informational books as well.

The professional library contains nearly 400 books and is available to all teachers in the 4 elementary schools.

This is a constantly growing collection. Many of the books are gifts from teachers. Books have been received also from Michigan State university under the student teacher program. There is an excellent selection of books and pamphlets covering all phases of elementary education, including curriculum guides which are used by the teachers in their studies of the school program.

In addition to the individual libraries in each building the library at the Sycamore school functions as a central instructional materials center for all the elementary schools. At this center several large collections of materials are available for circulation throughout all four elementary buildings. Among these collections is a library of over 1,000 filmstrips, many with sound accompaniment. They cover all phases of the instructional program. There is a good collection of supplementary reading materials. These are for the use of all the elementary schools. This material covers all grades, kindergarten through the sixth grades. The teachers may visit the instructional materials center often and choose books for the enrichment of reading in their classrooms. If it is not convenient for them to come to the instructional materials center it is possible for them to call and their orders are boxed and sent to them via the school messenger service.

The school has begun a transparency library for use with the overhead projector. While as yet it is somewhat limited in size, still the libraries transparencies on health, science, social studies and mathematics. The plan is to enlarge this collection on a continuing basis.

A selection of felt and magnetic materials and a large resource file consisting of pictures and pamphlets which also may be checked out by teachers are an important part of the instructional materials. The picture files are complete, ranging from pictures of poster size to small pictures for closer viewing. These cover all areas of study. The pamphlet file is another source of materials for use in helping to teach many facets of present day curriculum. Prepared instruction kits in social studies and science may be requested and are sent for use in the classrooms. Each school is equipped with a motion picture and filmstrip projectors, record and tape players, overhead and opaque projectors and other machines for use with this growing collection of resource materials.

In addition the instructional materials center houses a group of audio-visual aids such as globes, maps, charts and models, which are circulated to the schools. Included is "Oscar" the human torso model, a skeleton, and a number of other scientific models of plant and animal life.

The record collection is varied as to subject matter. It covers holidays, plays, musical comedy, classical music, introduction to the popular rhythms such as jazz and calypso. There are also records for physical education, folk dancing, square dancing and rhythms for the early elementary. Recordings of historical interest such as World War 1 and 2 and Carl Sandburg's "Lincoln" are included. Each school has an individual collection in addition to the larger one at the instructional materials center.

The Holt school system is proud of its growing organization. Two part-time clerks were added to the elementary library staff last fall. Mrs. Pat Mayes has been at Midway for 2 years. Mrs. Maxine Carr at Elliott and Mrs. Barbara Montague at Dimondale were added to the staff last September. Mrs. Mary Hosler, librarian at Sycamore, has charge of the instructional materials center and acts in a supervisory capacity over the other elementary libraries.

As a student teacher recently said "I was told that I would probably find little to work with in supplementary materials, but I am constantly amazed at the things I find to work with here". This is somewhat the feeling of the entire staff. They are constantly amazed at the rapid growth of the library.

Each year the Parents and Teachers stage a carnival to raise funds. A large percentage of the money raised, particularly at the Sycamore school is used for the purchase of books for the libraries.

Today's high school libraries have become learning centers rather than libraries in the strict sense of the word. Along with a large and ever increasing selection of books, now over 5,000 volumes, and reference materials, audio-visual equipment is included in the library area. A large number of records and filmstrips are available for classroom use.

In addition to this there are filed pamphlets, newspaper clippings and pictures on all subject matter needed by the students for research. These materials are constantly added to and kept up to date. The high school subscribes to a large number of excellent magazines for pleasure reading as well as for reference. Back issues are kept three to four years and are indexed in the H.W. Wilson Abridged Readers Guide.

An excellent professional library provides much information for the teachers both for classroom use and for graduate study. This professional library is for the use of all the teachers in the Holt public school system.

The library is available for student use from 7:45 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. on school days and from 7 to 10 p.m. Monday through Thursday. The public is welcome to use the library facilities although only Holt high school students are permitted to check out materials.

Former students now attending area colleges are finding this a good place to study and are using the library materials quite frequently.

Another new important part of the library are the 3 small conference rooms for individual or small group use. These rooms are wired so that they may be

The skirt of the gown was bell-shaped. The only jewelry the bride wore was a single strand pearl necklace. Her fingertip-length veil of illusion was held by a pillbox. She carried red and white carnations on a white Bible

Ye Olde Mason Centennial Bulletin Board A Weekly Summary of Coming Events

SALES START

One hundred years ago people were important not only to the land but to each other. For one hundred years Mason and the area for many miles around have been bound together through necessity as well as friendship. Today, as the centennial date draws near, there is a group of men, under the direction of Val and Howard McCowan. There will also be old photographs of early life in the community in the program. Ralph "Bud" Swinehart is at the head of this committee.

In order to present this program to the public at the lowest possible cost, advertising space is being sold to firms and individuals. Kiwanis club members are contacting retailers and industries in the community and others who service the Mason area. Those who have not been reached by March 15, and would like to place an ad, can do so by calling Frank Guerrero. Ed Ware is in charge of the advertising for the program.

De Rosa, general chairman, who are also drawn together by both necessity and friendship. These men comprise the revenue division of the celebration.

As the name implies, the main function of this committee is to bring revenue from various projects to help in the financing of the centennial.

In keeping with the importance of the celebration, a historical program is being planned which will not only be a valuable memento of all the events planned for the centennial, but also a chronicle of Mason's century of progress written by Roy Adams

WOODEN NICKELS

"Don't take any wooden nickles!" are not the words to say to Frank Young, who heads the novelties committee. He will have a large quantity for circulation in about 10 days. These, and metal centennial souvenir coins for later distribution, will be legal tender in Mason and will be redeemable at centennial headquarters until the date specified on one side of the coins.

PEDDLERS PERMITS

Another project of the novelties committee is the selling of peddler's permits to any individual or company doing business in Mason during the centennial. Over one hundred permits have been sold so far.

CONCESSIONS

Ed Campbell and Bill Cummings are joint chairmen of the concessions committee. They have arranged for the Wade Shows to set up rides in the street on the block of Maple street north of the courthouse and along Jefferson street between Maple and Ash streets.

Four-H clubs, Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts have already evidenced a desire to operate concessions during the celebration. There will also be a barbecue. Other eating places would be welcomed.

BIG BALL PLANNED

SURPRISE, SURPRISE -- In this bit of action in the semi-final game of the Mason Class B district Eaton Rapids' Paul Basing found himself in trouble when he fell over Holt's Terry Faught. Spence Phinney is trying to either help or hinder his teammate with a leg lock.

Holt Is District Champion After Taking Eaton Teams

Slow starting Holt high found the range in the second quarter Saturday night to roll past Eaton Rapids, 73-55, and win the Class B district basketball championship.

The Rams failed to hit a field goal in the first four minutes of play, but recovered enough to take a 36-25 halftime lead and coasted home to victory in the last two periods.

Eaton Rapids outscored the Rams from the field, 23 to 21, but too many fouls hurt the Greyhounds. Holt hit 31 of 41 shots at the free throw line while Eaton Rapids bagged only nine of 15.

Holt advances to the regional tournament at Northville.

The Rams had 4 in double figures. Terry Faught had 24, John Walsh 19, Marv Burt 15 and Ron Karr 10.

John McHugh and Paul Basing paced Eaton Rapids with 15 and 10 points.

The Rams were forced to rally again to pull out a 65-62 semifinal triumph over Charlotte on Thursday night, which set up Saturday's title game against Eaton Rapids.

Charlotte, all but out of contention early in the game when Holt built up a 25-16 lead midway through the second quarter, rallied from a 35-32 halftime deficit and held a 47-46 lead in the first minute of the final quarter.

The Orioles shot out to a 51-46 advantage with 7 minutes left to play and still held the upper hand at the 4:09 mark 54-51.

Then just like in the Okemos game, the Rams battled back with free throws. Terry Faught's layup closed the gap to 54-53 and 2 foul shots by Mike Bostrom gave Holt a lead it never relinquished.

The victory broke the bubble for the Spartans who came into the tournament as a lightly regarded team. They defeated the Leslie Blackhawks in Wednesday's opening round 45-44. Springport's surprising team then knocked off the Dansville Aggies in the semi-finals 79-66.

Against the Blackhawks, the Spartans trailed for the first three quarters. Leslie jumped off to a 15-13 lead in the first period and increased the margin to 28-23 by halftime. The Blackhawks then turned ice-cold and scored only 4 points in the third stanza as the Springport team closed the margin to 32-31. In a see-saw fourth quarter, Neil Bienz scored the winning basket for the Spartans with 15 seconds remaining in the game. Leslie had gone in front for the last time at 44-43 with less than a minute to go.

In the opening round, Phil Brown led the Blackhawks with 12 points. Other Leslie scorers were David Mumby 9, Dave Lubahn 8, Chuck Lay 6, Bill McDaniels 4, and Jim Hart 2. Norm Vandermolen and Bill Hoag led the Spartans with 13 and 11 respectively. Other scorers were Bienz with 8, and David Taylor and Larry Mead 6 each.

In the semi-finals Friday night, Dansville's Aggies took a 7-0 lead before the Springport delegation could register a point on the scoreboard. By the end of the first quarter, however, the Spartans had lost their early victory after a close first quarter. With Northville, the host school, out of the way, the Rams are working up a storm for their Thursday night encounter with Orchard Lake St. Mary.

The Thursday night winner will meet the winner of Wednesday night's Okemos-Fenton game for the regional title Saturday night. Taking Orchard Lake St. Mary will be no easy task. Holt will be bumping into a team which has lost only 4 games in stiff regular season competition. In addition the Holt opponents boast a tall team which has had its own way on the backboards all season. The front line boasts a 6-5 center, a 6-3 forward and a 6-1 forward.

Okemos could make it an all-Capital Circuit final if it can get past favored Fenton, rated as one of the Class B state powers--and providing Holt can get past Orchard Lake St. Mary.

In the Tuesday night opener both teams were stiff in the first quarter. When the shooting ended the score was knotted at 12-12. After that it was no contest. Between the fancy shooting of the Rams and foul trouble on a pair of star Northville players, the Rams were able to move out in front 40-24 at the half.

By the end of the third quarter Holt had run the score to a 60-36 count. Northville made up some of it in the last quarter but the edge was too great.

To Meet
Aurelius Garden club will meet Friday, March 12, 8 p.m. at Aurelius town hall. Fred Cleaves of Eaton Rapids, who has been in England and associated with the Peace Corps in South America, will show slides of the work in which he was involved.

Refreshments will be sold throughout the program. There are special front-row reserved seats, reserved seats, and general admission. Plenty of seats are available to seat everyone, according to the committee members.

Williamston Advances In Class C Regional

Williamston passed its first test in Class C regional competition Tuesday night by downing Pontiac St. Michael 51-49.

Originally Williamston was to have met Detroit Country Day Tuesday night but the use of an ineligible player during the regular season and in the district brought on a withdrawal.

St. Michael, runner-up in the District, stepped in against Williamston.

Next stop for the buzzing Hornets will be a meeting Friday night at 7 in the Grand Blanc gym with New Haven.

If Williamston gets through the semi-final the next step will be Saturday night's final with the winner of the Byron-Flint St. Agnes game. St. Agnes is listed as the tourney favorite.

New Haven will pose some problems. The McComb county team has a neat regular season record and lots of size.

The Williamston-St. Michael contest was a nip and tuck affair. Williamston managed to lead most of the way but just couldn't pull away. Although giving away height, the Hornets won the game on the backboards and at the free throw line, getting 19 out of 27 attempted.

Jim Oesterle was the top scorer for Williamston with 19 points. Milo Gaffner was next with 13.

Stockbridge Secures District Cage Title

The Stockbridge Panthers added another trophy to their 1965 collection by defeating the Springport Spartans in the finals of the Class C district tournament at Leslie Saturday night. The Panthers outscored the Spartans 63-56.

Stockbridge, winner of the Ingham county league championship, entered the tournament as the favorite. With Jon Mills and Rick Owen leading the way with 22 and 16 points respectively, the Panthers eliminated the underdog Spartans.

Stockbridge started fast and outscored the Springport quintet 17-11 in the opening period. Stockbridge held a five point edge at halftime although the Spartans outscored the Panthers 15-14 in the second period.

Springport, which had fought an uphill battle throughout the three-day tournament, also outscored the Panthers in third quarter play 18-16 to narrow the Stockbridge lead to a precarious three points, 47-44.

Stockbridge regained the upper hand in the final stanza to outscore Jim Davis's Spartans 16-12 to win their first district trophy since 1922.

In addition to Mills and Owen, other scorers for Stockbridge were Brad Weddon 8, Rob Soay 6, Phil Collins 4, and Tim Howlett 2. Bill Hoag scored 21 for Springport. He was followed by Norm Vandermolen with 9, Larry Mead and Harold Webb 8 each, Ken Ott 6, and David Taylor 4.

Kiwanis Gets Award

Kiwanis International has won a Freedoms Foundation Distinguished Service Award for its "1964 Americanism program," it was announced today by Alton Stroud, president of the Kiwanis Club of Mason.

Kiwanis also shared with Radio Station WGN, Chicago, in receipt of a George Washington Honor Medal from the Freedoms Foundation for the monthly-sponsored weekly radio program, "The Constitution Series, from Inquiry." The Constitution Series is a thirteen-week set of thirty-minute panel discussions of the American constitution and the freedoms it guarantees. The program, developed by Kiwanis and WGN working together, is distributed in taped form by Kiwanis clubs throughout the United States. It is a segment of a larger, over-all program called the "Inquiry" series. The announcement was made on February 22 at Freedoms Foundation headquarters, Valley Forge, Pennsylvania.

Key Club International, the Kiwanis sponsored high school service organizations for boys, also was named an award winner in the February 22 announcement. Key Club received the George Washington Honor Medal Award for its "1964 citizenship program."

Circle K International, Kiwanis' college service organization, won a George Washington Honor Medal Award for its "1964 Americanism program," too.

Kiwanis, one of the oldest supporters of the Freedoms Foundation program, has taken an important award in the Foundation's annual series of presentations nearly every year since 1949.

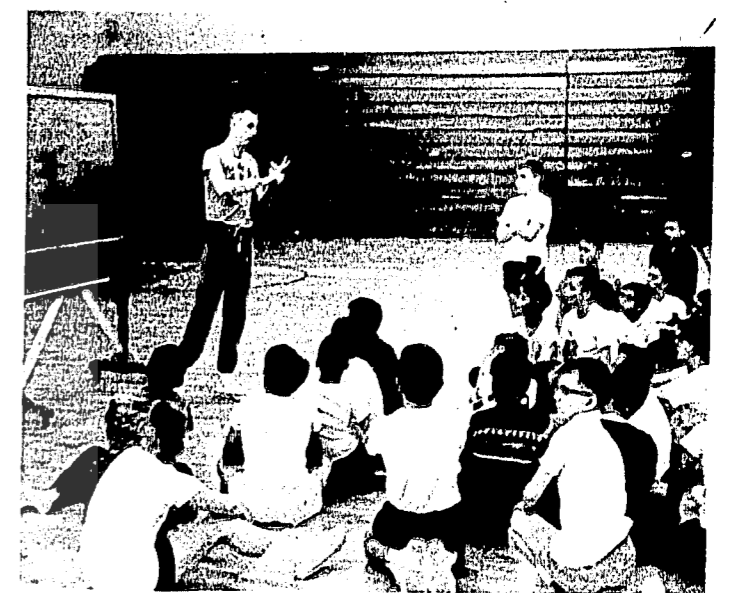

This year, because it is Kiwanis' fiftieth, the organization retroactively with the presentation of its own "Golden Service Award" to the Freedoms Foundation, Marshall E. Jetty, trustee of Kiwanis International from Hillview, Brockway, Pennsylvania, made the presentation. He said:

"To us in Kiwanis, Freedoms Foundation, with its uncompromising standards of excellence in citizenship and programs on behalf of citizenship, has been a beacon - a guiding light, if you will - pointing the way for us to follow in much that we undertake.

HAVE FAITH -- Help is on the way for Mason basketball. Mason has a sixth and seventh grade basketball clinic in operation Saturday mornings with over 60 enthusiasts showing up to get the grand strategy from Coach Ed Heiby and his assistants, Gary Blood and Jim Bodrie.

SUGAR AND SPICE by Bill Smiley

'Say, Who Hit You, Smiley?'
If ever you decide to do some research on the lower forms of wit, I can tell you how to go about it. Just get yourself a black eye.

I had a doozer recently. My wife gave it to me.

All right. Not that way. She was sitting in the car, waiting for me to carry the groceries into the house through the rain.

Just as I bent and reached for the car door to open it and ask her if that was all, she opened that door smartly from the inside to ask me why I hadn't brought out an umbrella.

Next morning, the orb looked like a purple golf ball. We patched it up as best we could, and I set off to face the wits.

The comments were hilarious. They ranged from the simple, dry brilliance of "Hoo hitcha?" and "Forget to duck, eh?" to the coy, insinuating, "I knew she'd catch up with ya some day."

They ran the scintillating gamut from the inevitable, "I suppose ya ran into a door" to the ineffably humorous sally, "Meet the former welterweight champ of the Smiley household."

I came back with some real funnies myself. "My wife," I replied. "Footwork isn't what it used to be." I admitted. "Yotta see the other guy," I quipped. I can go along with a joke as well as the next bird.

But after a while, in fact if I remember rightly, it was just after the fourteenth "Hoo hitcha?," I began getting a little sore. I mean, fun's fun, you know, but, after all.

So, when the next joker made his move, I told him, dolefully, that a maiden lady who didn't like my column had thrown acid in my face, and that I'd never have the sight of it again. He turned green.

I quickly disposed of an elderly lady, strong in the temperance movement, by informing her the injury had been received from my young daughter, when she clubbed me on the eye with a half-empty whiskey bottle. It's good sport.

Rams Outdistance Foe In First Tourney Test

Coach Dan Hovanessian's Holt Rams snowed under Northville Tuesday night in their first regional test in the Class B state wars. The Rams raced to a 79-50

CC Grads Hit Well

A couple of former Capital Circuit cage stars have hung up their basketball shoes for another season at Denver university.

Dave Arnold of Mason and Denny English of old Lansing St. Mary closed out their college season last week.

English, a regular guard for 2 years and the team captain for the last half of this year, not only closed out the season, he closed out his collegiate playing career. He is a senior.

Denver played an ambitious schedule against such highly ranked teams as Utah State, Utah, Wyoming, Louisiana State, George Washington, Cincinnati, Southern Cal, Air Force Academy, Colorado, Colorado State, New Mexico, Oklahoma City and others. It finished with a 11-14 record.

Arnold was the sixth man on the squad and is counted on heavily for next season, his senior year. He is the son of Rev. and Mrs. Paul Arnold, formerly of Mason but now of Indianapolis, Indiana.

Letters

Name Idea

We have been noting with interest the discussions relating to the naming of the new elementary school in the North Aurelius area. Sometimes an outsider can see a solution to a problem not apparent to those close to it. If you recall, Mr. Vandervan spent almost all of his working time in the present junior high building, also at the time the new school was built, he really wanted a new junior high. Your present junior high is obsolete, antiquated, and by many considered a fire trap. Its replacement in the near future is inevitable. Why not reserve Mr. Vandervan's name for a new junior high? This would be a more fitting recognition of Mr. Vandervan's years of service than an elementary school in some outlying district where his presence was unknown and little felt.

As far as embarrassment on the part of the school board is concerned the fact that its decision was not universally accepted certainly is not a new experience. There is no question here of educational policy or academic requirements and the board could do well to defer to the wishes of the people and reserve its decision making prerogatives to more important matters.

AN OKEMOS RESIDENT

Aggie Coach Will Move

Loren Willey, head football coach at Dansville high school for the past 4 years, announced Tuesday that he has resigned his position, effective at the end of the school year to accept a position as head coach at Clio, Michigan high school.

He and his family will move to Clio August 1 when he will take over his new duties.

Willey came to Dansville from Quincy, Michigan, where he was an assistant coach for 2 years. He will be succeeded at Dansville by John Van Winkle, now junior varsity coach.

Hornets Take District And Head for Regional

The sparkling performance of Jim Oesterle last Saturday night paced the Williamston 5 to a 46-46 win over Fowlerville to take the Class C district championship.

Fowlerville, though riding high on a 58-57 upset over top ranked Portland, could not generate the steam necessary to pass the Hornets test. Williamston had previously defeated Bath, 61-45 in the semi-finals at Sexton.

According to Coach Larry Dorow, the outstanding playing by Oesterle, who chalked up a total of 21 points, and made 11 out of 13 free throws was the deciding factor in the game. Mike McNelly, who managed to latch on to 17 rebounds for the squad, also deserves his share of the glory. Milo Gaffner made his contribution with a total of 12 points.

The game, which was extremely close all the way, was tied twice in the fourth quarter. Other than this Williamston led the entire game - at the half the score was 19-16, an extremely low score for any high school game.

Both teams were a little tight because of the importance of the game and neither put on any burst of outstanding speed. It was a close hard game.

For the last two and a half minutes Williamston stalled the ball, and Fowlerville fouled, in this period Oesterle made 4 out of 4 free throws and McNelly made 2 out of 2.

On the Fowlerville side, Gary Benjamin totalled 14 points and Dave Nelson also had 14 points.

Williamston made 16 out of 24 free throw attempts and Fowlerville completed 10 out of 19 tries. Free throws helped Williamston a great deal.

Coach Larry Dorow made the trip to Grand Blanc for the Regional Drawing last Sunday. If the Hornets win Tuesday they would next play New Haven. The finals will be Saturday night. These teams are considered some of the toughest in the state.

Eden Congregation Okays Building Plans for Church

The congregation of Eden United Brethren church has okayed the proposed plans for a new sanctuary and educational facility to be added to the present structure at a vote taken Sunday.

First the plans were submitted to the Michigan Conference Council of United Brethren churches for their approval; their recommendation was that the church should build as soon as possible.

Sunday plans, finances and projected finances were presented to the congregation before the vote was taken. Several members of the congregation stated facts and figures showing why the proposed structure is needed.

Jim Jackson spoke first and told how when he was Sunday school superintendent funds were set aside in a building fund for added room of some kind. The present Sunday school superintendent, Delmer Kramer, related to the congregation how crowded conditions at the present time made it advantageous to build.

Mrs. Paul Redman, president of the Women's Missionary society of the church, stated how building would affect the missionary work of the church. Then the Sunday school treasurer, Mrs. Franklin Patters, presented statistics on the building fund, past and present. Church treasurer, Larry Schoen, showed a chart of church finances, present and projected future.

When the vote was taken 87% of those voting indicated they were in favor of building and approved the proposed plans.

Ground breaking ceremonies have been set for Sunday, April 4, with excavating to begin April 6. The contract for the building will be signed in the near future.

Monday and Tuesday were the dates of the Mid-Year Council of the church which this year was staged in Detroit at the Tral-side church.

The Sunday school contest, now in its 3rd week, is moving rapidly with attendance growing. This Sunday is cradle roll Sunday and all babies present during the Sunday school hour will receive a prize and be placed on the church's cradle roll. Sunday, March 21, has been designated Parent Sunday and all parents are invited to attend this service to be honored.

Eden Congregation Okays Building Plans for Church

The congregation of Eden United Brethren church has okayed the proposed plans for a new sanctuary and educational facility to be added to the present structure at a vote taken Sunday.

First the plans were submitted to the Michigan Conference Council of United Brethren churches for their approval; their recommendation was that the church should build as soon as possible.

Sunday plans, finances and projected finances were presented to the congregation before the vote was taken. Several members of the congregation stated facts and figures showing why the proposed structure is needed.

Jim Jackson spoke first and told how when he was Sunday school superintendent funds were set aside in a building fund for added room of some kind. The present Sunday school superintendent, Delmer Kramer, related to the congregation how crowded conditions at the present time made it advantageous to build.

Mrs. Paul Redman, president of the Women's Missionary society of the church, stated how building would affect the missionary work of the church. Then the Sunday school treasurer, Mrs. Franklin Patters, presented statistics on the building fund, past and present. Parents of Girl Scouts are urged to attend a meeting in the Junior high school auditorium which will provide information about the Girl Scout camping program.

A representative from the Lansing Council will be present and films will be shown of Deer Trails camping facilities as well as those at Wacousta and Hunter Lake. Films will also be shown of Day Camp, Night Camp and the Roundup.

Parents and friends of the Mason Girl Scouts filled the Senior high school gymnasium bleachers almost to capacity Monday evening. The occasion was the Juliette Low program honoring Girl Scout Week. Each of the 19 troops had a part in the program.

Seated around a campfire, the 300 girls provided a colorful musical program. Besides the leaders and co-leaders of the troops, Mrs. Don Edgington and Mrs. Elwood Millard had much to do with the success of the program.

The Booster club of Dansville Methodist church will sponsor a public luncheon in the Lendrum fellowship hall of the church Thursday evening, April 1, starting at 5:30 p.m.

A free-will offering will be taken with all proceeds going to Miss Barbara Hicks who is still hospitalized following a serious automobile accident a few weeks ago.

Roy Parks of Williamston will be celebrating his 80th birthday anniversary March 11 and in honor of the event his sons, Lester Parks of Teconsa and Donal Parks of Williamston are hosting an open house for him.

The event will be staged at Dansville town hall Sunday, March 14, between 2 and 5 p.m. All friends and relatives of the honored guest are invited to greet him on this important occasion.

The general meeting of the W.S.C.S. took place in Fellowship hall on Wednesday the past week. A noon luncheon was enjoyed and World Prayer was observed at the meeting.

FR. WILLIAM RADEMACHER, pastor of St. James Catholic church, is shown instituting the changes in the first part of Mass, the Liturgy of the Word, which marked the liturgical changes which went into effect on Sunday, March 7. Also shown is the new altar for celebrating Mass facing the people and the communion station both of which were built for the church by one of its member members, Max McCarn. Larry and Gary Evans, two sons of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Evans, and Tom Christensen are shown assisting in the service.

Liturgical Changes Made At St. James Church

Sunday, the first Sunday of Lent, St. James Catholic church, along with the Catholic church through out the world, instituted the latest liturgical changes as decreed by Pope Paul VI.

The first liturgical changes were instituted, by option of the local bishops at St. James November 29, 1964, the first Sunday of Advent. At this time Fr. William Rademacher, pastor, started celebrating Mass in the vernacular, English, language facing the people. To allow room for the new altar facing the people it was necessary to remove the communion railing. The faithful have been receiving Holy Communion standing at the communion station since this time.

The latest liturgical changes decreed by Pope Paul VI, as a result of the Vatican Council of Bishops scheduled to be concluded this fall, makes mandatory the changes previously optional to local bishops. In addition to the earlier changes there are 3 noticeable changes due to the new decree.

First the priest does not go onto the altar proper until he recites the Credo, which starts the second part of Mass the Liturgy of the Eucharist. The first part of the Mass, the Liturgy of the Word, is celebrated by the priest from the sanctuary but not on the altar proper.

The second noticeable difference is the instituting of the prayer of the faithful immediately after the homily, or sermon, on the day's Gospel by the priest. This prayer of the faithful is read by a layman lecturer.

The third noticeable difference is the more active part of the laymen, who serve as commentators and lecturers, have in Mass. These laymen, who are also in the sanctuary of the church read the intentions of the Mass, the Epistle, make any brief announcements that are required and lead the faithful in the responses.

The goal of the church is to bring the whole Christian people into full, active and understanding participation in the work of giving praise and thanksgiving to God, in both song and spoken prayer. By use of the vernacular in the Mass, through out the world, it is now possible for the faithful to respond to God in their native tongue.

Under the new decree the faithful are required to respond as a body to all prayers by the priest. This was formerly done for them by the altar boys.

The faithful participate in the offertory, in addition to singing a hymn, through members of the community who carry the spiritual and material offerings of the Mass from the back of church up the center aisle, in a procession, and present them to the celebrant.

It is the Church's hope that the changes which were instituted on March 7 will bring about an even greater love for God on the part of the faithful than they have had in the past.

The active participation of the part of the faithful will increase their knowledge that each Mass is Christ in action today. This in turn will bring a greater Christian love to the community.

As a result of the liturgical changes a Liturgical Commission of leading laymen of St. James church has been appointed by Fr. William Rademacher.

Gordon Byron serves as president of the commission. The members act as lecturers and commentators at the Mass. Various phases of the commission's activities and the member in charge are: Dr. Thomas Hopp,

200 Attend Dowding Open House

Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Dowding were honored at an open house Sunday March 7, in observance of their 40th wedding anniversary. The affair was held at the Tompkins township hall and was attended by 200 friends and relatives.

Hosts and hostesses were the couple's 9 children, Rex Dowding, Clifton (Spike) Dowding Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dowding, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Dowding, Mr. and Mrs. Solomon Dowding, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Schnepf, Mr. and Mrs. Leland McConnell, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Dack and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Meyers.

Presiding at the guest book during the afternoon were Miss Sharyn Dowding, Miss Charlene Meyers, Miss Yerna McConnell and Miss Ruthann Dack, all granddaughters of Mr. and Mrs. Dowding.

Refreshments of cake, coffee, mints and nuts were served from a table decorated in a red and white color scheme. A large 4 tiered decorated cake centered the serving table.

Clifton James Dowding and Alma Lucille Bartholomew were married March 10, 1925, in Charlotte. They have 25 grandchildren and 3 great-grandchildren.

School Glee Club Wins Superior Rating

For the second straight year, the Stockbridge high school girls' Glee club, directed by Miss Nellie Stephens, earned a superior rating in the District VIII Choral Festival.

Sponsored by the Michigan School Vocal Association, the district festival took place this year in Parkside high school in Jackson.

The group, composed of 61 singers, did "Little Boy Blue" for their required number and they chose "Beside Still Waters" as their selected number. In addition to the two numbers mentioned, the group was judged on sight reading. This involved receiving music the girls had never seen before and, after brief instructions from their director, being able to perform same.

The girls did an excellent job in all phases of their performance and drew some very fine comments from the judges, who were: Melvin Larimer, Traverse City high school; Thomas Hardie, Western Michigan university; David Strickler, Albion college; and William Koeppler, Detroit Public Schools.

Typical comments to the group and their director from the judges were: "Keep it up, you are producing thrilling music";

"Lovely singing, and a well trained group"; "A pleasant way to end a day, not much to criticize"; "Nice discipline displayed, fine to see," and from the president of the MSVA, "You love your director and show it."

Miss Stephens said she was extremely proud of the girls and their performance.

Contest at Dansville

10 Commandments for Teen Age Drivers

Dansville - The Dansville Agricultural School Parent-Teacher association is sponsoring a contest among the Dansville high school students for the best list of "Ten Commandments for Teenage Drivers".

The contest officially begins March 15 and the last day for submitting entries is April 1. Cash awards will be made to the 1st, 2nd and 3rd place winners as determined by a panel of judges.

A member of the Dansville P.T.A. has contributed $100 for a special fund to be administered by the P.T.A. and to be known as the H.R.S. Fund. The prize money is to be drawn from the special fund and the balance allocated to Barbara Hicks, Dale Rindfleisch and the family of Kenneth Sly on the basis of need, or in accordance with their wishes.

Barbara Hicks and Dale Rindfleisch were injured in an automobile accident some weeks ago in which Kenneth Sly succumbed.

The fund is designated as H.R.S. Fund and represents the first letter of the surname of the 3 youths who were juniors at Dansville high school.

To further emphasize the safety theme of the contest, H.R.S. is also the first letter of Heed, Respect and Survive.

The judges serving on the panel are, Rev. Robert Sawyer, Sheriff Kenneth Preadmore, Don Mueller, Dansville high school principal, Driver Ed. teacher, Loren Willey, Mrs. John Choulochos, English teacher, and Lucien J. Ruest, president of the Dansville P.T.A.

Winners of the contest will be announced around April 15. Anyone wishing to contribute to the fund may do so. Checks should be made out to the Dansville P.T.A., H.R.S. Fund and sent to Mrs. David Haarer, treasurer, in Dansville.

Mason H.S. Clubs Cash in on Tourney

By HOLLY HILL
Mason High School

This past week was a very busy one at Mason. The Class B District basketball tournaments were staged in our gym on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, and Saturday nights. The members of the M-Club sold candy, pop corn, and coke, and the Art club sold coffee and brownies.

The Holt basketball team was the final winner, and the other teams participating were Jackson Northwest, Charlotte, Eaton Rapids, and Mason.

The music departments were busily preparing for their music festivals on Saturday, March 6. First, in the morning, the vocal music students traveled to Jackson for the vocal music festival. The mixed chorus received a first division rating, the boys' glee club got a second division, and a third division was given to the girls' glee club. These groups are directed by Mrs. Astalos and Mr. Emrick.

In the afternoon, the senior high band, under the direction of George Murthum, went to Webberville, the scene of district band festival. The band received straight first divisions for the prepared numbers, the required number, and the sight-reading exercise. All of these musicians deserve a lot of credit for the hard work they gave to make their part of these festivals successful.

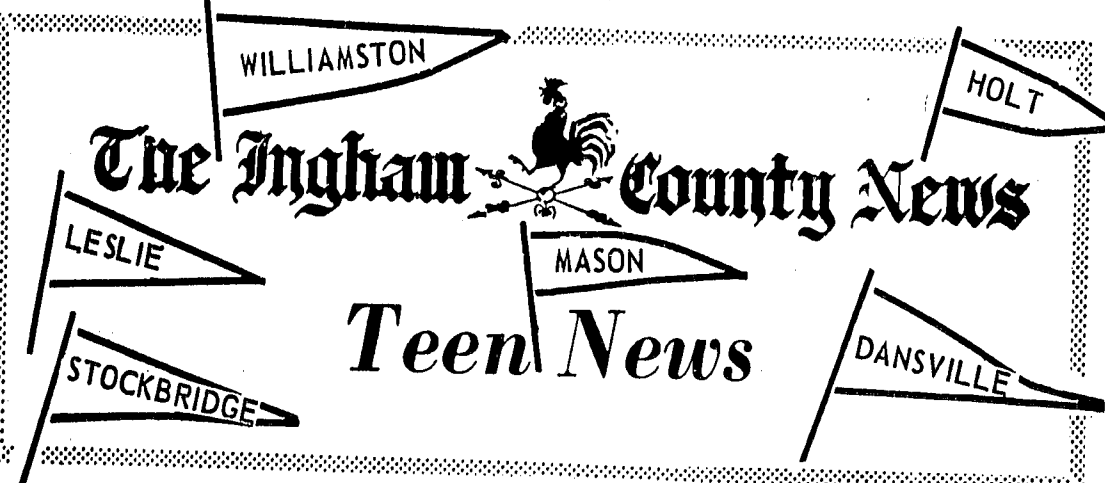

The members of the Junior play cast started practicing last week for the annual Junior play. This year, Mrs. Hibbard is the director.

The F.F.A. boys have started tapping trees for their sugar bush. This is a project undertaken by the boys last year and it proved very successful.

Boys who were interested in playing baseball signed up with Robert Cone last week. Baseball practice for the pitchers and catchers started this week.

The junior class steering committee has decided on the theme for the Junior-Senior prom, which will be "Japanese Gardens". The prom will be staged in the school this year. On Thursday and Friday of last week, Juniors signed up for the various committees on which they wanted to serve.

I'll see you next week!

Holt Key Club To Send 8 to Detroit Convention

By PAT MARTIN
Holt High School

The Holt Key Club met Tuesday at 6:30 p.m. in the shop room. Mr. Wilson, club sponsor, also was present.

Due to Ron Karr's absence, Lynn Reid conducted the meeting.

Plans were discussed to send 8 representatives to the State convention in Detroit on April 1. They will be chosen by a committee.

A Hootenanny is being planned for a later date.

The car wash at the Standard station Saturday also was discussed.

A treasurer's report was given by treasurer, Bob Crawford.

Senior members of the boys' and girls' basketball and wrestling teams and cheerleaders were honored Tuesday, March 2, at a pep assembly.

After a short resume of each player a crown was placed upon his head and this was followed by applause.

Seniors on the boys' basketball team are: Ron Karr, Mike Bostrom, John Warren, Bob Platt, Mary Burt, Terry Faught, John Walsh, Steve Perry and Manager Roger Adst.

Those honored on the girls' team were: Sue Murphy, Sue Phelps, Vicky Hake, Eva Roath, and Manager, Jeanne McNamara.

Cheerleaders are: Jackie Adams and Kathy Reynolds.

Dan Hovanessian, Charles Wilson and Miss Tomek were honored as coaches and presented trophies.

Students and faculty attended an assembly presented by a group of Swiss "Yodelers".

The small group, consisting of 4 men, sang, yodeled, and danced.

The singers are traveling around America to help acquaint Americans with the Swiss and their customs.

Judging from the applause concluding the assembly the event was much appreciated.

After their lunch performance at the Senior high they proceeded to the Junior high to repeat the act.

The local Oratorical contest took place Friday, February 19, at the Senior high school.

Congratulations to Don Griffin, (Junior) who was the winner of the contest. He will go on to the State and National contests, with awards of scholarships ranging in value up to $4,000 to the final winners.

Runner up for the area was Jackie Adams. Other finalists were Tom Towsley, Judy Bealey and Linda Barnes.

The event was sponsored by Diamondale Post No. 515, American Legion.

business meeting Thursday, March 4, in the library. Class representatives and Dan Hovanessian were present.

The Girls' Athletic association met Thursday in the cafeteria for a small meeting.

They discussed the play night planned for Tuesday, March 9. Waverly G.A.A. members have been invited to attend. Milk and cookies will be served after games.

The girls made plans to sell sweatshirts as has been done in previous years.

Long sleeved sweatshirts are selling for $2.25 and short sleeved for $2.10. Other facts about size and color may be obtained from any G.A.A. member. Members are given points for the number of shirts they sell.

The school's band concert, which was cancelled last week because of snow, was presented. The Junior high and Senior high bands put on a fine performance for the small audience present.

Saturday night after the final tournament game a Tourney dance took place. This dance, sponsored by the Varsity club was open to students from the area schools to celebrate the tournaments. Orange and black streamers decorated the cafeteria for the event.

Saturday also was a grand day for the Leslie band students. Members from the Leslie band joined many other bands at the Band Festival in Webberville. The band earned a number 2 rating which they are very proud of because it is an improvement over last time.

Many of the Juniors at Leslie were busy Tuesday morning for about 3 hours.

That was the time chosen for the Leslie students to take the National Merit Scholarship test which is given every year. A big percentage of the Junior class took the test.

The student council voted Wednesday at its meeting to start a Leslie chapter of the National Honor society. Leslie has never before had a set up such as this but are hoping it can be worked out.

The Future Homemakers of America are busily preparing for the state convention, which is to be April 1 and 2.

They also are busy planning a "splash party" for March 20. After swimming they will enjoy a pizza party. F.H.A. members are still selling cook books also.

A wrestling match is scheduled for March 26. This will be in the Leslie gym, sponsored by the seniors from Leslie.

School was dismissed 5 and 10 minutes early two nights this week because the drive was so muddy the students had to walk a block to catch the buses.

Now that both the basketball and wrestling season have drawn to a close at Leslie we would like to say congratulations to each and every team and each and every member for the fine job they have done this year in victory and defeat!

GAA at Williamston High To Sponsor Indian Pow Wow

By LINDA LOWRIE
Williamston High School

At the GAA meeting March 4, future events were discussed. The GAA will sponsor an Indian Pow Wow on March 16. This will be a program of Indian dancers, The Order of the Arrow. These dancers have been to Colorado Springs to dance with other Indian dancers, and have also traveled throughout the United States. In the near future, the GAA will sponsor an exhibition on fencing, and the trampoline.

Members of the Dramatics club went to see "An Italian Straw Hat", at the Fairchild theatre on the Michigan State university campus Wednesday, March 3.

The FFA is now selling seeds, and preparing for the state convention, at Michigan State university, March 23, 24 and 25. Williamston FFA representatives will be Dave Grainger and Ralph Pierce.

Also thinking ahead to a state convention is the Williamston FFA. The representatives of this group will be Bobbi Rutherford, Sue Hamlin (Juniors), and Kathy Lightfoot, and Yvonne Sobers (sophomores). The FFA also is planning a Sweetheart dance for March 26.

A little ingenuity on the part of the FFA group has created a new character at Williamston high, Prunella the Pig. "Prunella" is really a bank the purpose of which is to hold money for the Rex Todd Withers Scholarship fund. The scholarship fund was started this year and is being named after the State FFA advisor, Mrs. Rex Todd Withers.

At the Student Council meeting Tuesday, March 2, a committee of 3 seniors, Richard Wiegant, Jeanne Lewis, and Cindy Lack, was appointed to check the possibilities of a Safety week since many students do drive to school. This week would include car inspections, announcements and posters throughout the town and school.

The student council is also scheduling another student council assembly, where the actual council meeting will be staged in front of the entire student body, the meeting procedures explained, and if any questions arise, they will be presented to some outstanding senior.

The juniors are now busy planning for their prom and banquet, scheduled for May 21 and 22. The theme of the prom is "Oriental Gardens". Various com-mittes for these events have been selected and are now making their plans.

The sophomores have chosen a committee headed by Carol Goetz to choose the class colors, motto, and flower.

Twenty-two girls from the GAA went skiing at Mount Holly, on March 2. At the lodge and on the slopes, they learned the basics of skiing, and although some made more "sitzmarks" than ski trails, all reported enjoying the evening and learning a lot.

Seniors Need $300 To Finance Trio

By RUTH CAMP
Stockbridge High School

The senior class, still lacking about $300 to pay for their senior trip, are seeking ways to raise the needed money.

One plan for raising funds, that of having a dinner, has already been called off because of lack of cooperation. All 88 seniors were to take a paper home to their parents and the parents were to sign up to either furnish food or help in the kitchen. Just 25 of the papers were returned at all and only 9 parents signed up to help in the kitchen.

Mrs. Cassidy, yearbook advisor, has given all members of next year's yearbook staff letters of instruction. They stated that the students were to come to her office and sign the sheet she had posted there. The sheet has listed on it many phases of yearbook staff work. Each student is to sign up for two different ones in which they are interested, but the final decision as to their assignment is Mrs. Cassidy's.

The first staff meeting will be Monday evening, April 5. This will be a very important meeting for all staff members.

Last Friday was a busy day for everyone at school. In the morning, second and fourth periods were omitted so the student council could present a special assembly. A film of the people and wild life in India was shown. In the afternoon the 6th period was cut by 20 minutes to allow time for a pep meeting at the end of the day. All day Friday was color day and students were wearing their school colors, orange and black.

The pep meeting Friday afternoon was an exciting one for Stockbridge. Coach Duane Clark told the students a joke before introducing the members of the team. The cheerleaders led the students in competition for the spirit jug which was awarded to George Rob, senior class president. School was dismissed after everyone sang the school song.

County Library Operation Records Busiest Year Yet

Library patrons borrowed more than 300,000 books last year or 5 books per capita for the 66,048 population in the area served by the Ingham county library system, Renwick Garypie, director of libraries, announced in a report made public this week for presentation to the Ingham county board of supervisors Tuesday.

"We must plan," the report said, "not only for today's public library service but also for tomorrow's. But before planning for tomorrow we must be sure we have a firm foundation on which to build. For this reason our byword in 1964 was quality, principally improved quality of staff and book collection, which are 2 essentials of our service. Improvements were made possible by a combination of increased efficiency and increased appropriations. For the latter we are grateful to the board of supervisors and to the state board for libraries, all of which improved their support of our operation in 1964."

In discussing the library's search for quality, Garypie listed book collections, personnel, film services, an improved bookmobile program, grants of periodicals, and improvement in branch libraries.

Garypie said that in order to attract and hold effective staff members it has been necessary to substantially increase wages and salaries.

"The national shortage of trained librarians continues to force salaries up," he said, "and in spite of substantial increases in the past 3 years, our professional salary scale is still below the national average."

In his report on personnel Garypie paid tribute to Mrs. Katie Schultz of Onondaga, a branch librarian, who retired.

"Mrs. Schultz is deserving of the highest praise and recognition for her faithful service during the years of development and growth of county-wide library service," Garypie said.

Mrs. Rosalind Casler succeeded Mrs. Schultz as Onondaga librarian.

The report pointed to film service provided by the library which this year subscribed to the Michigan Film Circuit, "a low cost means of providing some of the best 16mm sound films for the public." A collection to any church or community organization for special programs.

Garypie pointed out that the state library, using funds newly voted by congress, has given periodical subscriptions to all public libraries in the state. Ingham county's central library at Mason, he said, is now receiving 126 subscriptions to magazines under this program and each branch library 40 subscriptions.

In discussing branch libraries, the report pointed to spacious new quarters provided by Merri-dian township, new furniture at the Williamston branch provided by the Williamston Library Guild, and the redecorating of the Okemos branch by volunteer members of the Friends of the Okemos Library. A $12,000 bequest to Stockbridge township from Mrs. A.L. Mayer for library quarters promises to substantially improve service there, Garypie said.

He added that lack of space continues to be the most severe problem in branch libraries. Hours open have been increased slightly in several branches but should be increased further when the budget permits.

Garypie's report also touched on formation of a confederation of libraries known as the Central Michigan Library system with the Ingham county library headquarters in Mason as the central office of the new group.

Member libraries in addition to the Ingham county system are those at East Lansing, DeWitt, St. Johns, Maple Rapids, Charlotte, Dimondale and Potterville. "The Ingham county library," Garypie pointed out, "is benefiting immediately from this program by receiving 1000 new books this first year under the book grant program of the state board for libraries some $2000 worth as a participant and an additional $2000 worth for providing headquarters administration of this program. Other participating libraries also benefit directly on a proportionate per capita basis."

Total income for operating the Ingham library system in 1965 is listed in the report as $110,450 or $1.67 per capita. The appropriations include $72,000 from the county, $4,000 from the city of Mason, $4800 state aid, $28,850 in penal fines, and miscellaneous income of $800.

The report adds that "the 1965 appropriation from the county includes for the first time approximately $5800 worth of insurance and fringe benefits formerly paid directly for the library by other county appropriations, thereby representing a true increase of only about $10,200 over the previous year."

The report also points out that "the operating income figures do not include the value of certain services rendered in kind by the state library for the first time in 1965, valued at about $2500 worth of books and magazines. The true total for 1965 is therefore about $113,000 or about $1.70 per capita."

Wage-Hour Law Affects Farmers

Present indications are that there will be no Mexican or other foreign transients available for farm labor this year. The U.S. Department of Labor has made it very plain that only emergency cases will be considered for certification for either Mexican or West Indies labor. Their field people have said that the farmer must prove his need before they will be considered as having exhausted all local sources of labor. In the meantime, what does the farmer do with crop rotting in the field? One small pickle processor was candidly told that he might have to go out of business for lack of labor.

Then the Keynotes heard 2 piano solos based on American folk songs, A suite in Swanee and Old Black Joe, played by Jerry Roe and Kathy Richards respectively. To close the program, the Madrigals sang a group of folk numbers and the Federation Junior hymn.

Clod Busters Pick Officers

A group of men met at the home of Richard Cheney Thursday night for the purpose of forming a chapter of the brothers of the brush.

Seventeen were there sprouting some type of facial foliage for the chance to sign their name to the charter.

Officers elected were, Main Brush (president), Richard Cheney; Writing Brush, (secretary), Gib Strickling; Money Brush (treasurer), Phillip Hall; and Big Brush, (Board of Governors Representative), Dan Gilchrist.

Since all were closely connected with agriculture it was decided that they would hereafter be known as the Clod Busters, and be recognized by their wearing apparel of bib overalls, white tee shirts, and top hats, or derbies.

YWCA Sets Career Clinic

The annual job preparation clinic for teenagers, sponsored by the YWCA in cooperation with the Greater Lansing Youth Council, will be Thursday evenings, March 11 and 18, from 7 to 9 p.m., at the YWCA, 217 Townsend. The clinic, open to boys and girls between the ages of 15 and 20, is held each year to supplement what is being done in the community to help teens in their search for part-time and summer employment, in the hope of giving youth more confidence as they look for jobs, and to help them prepare for the responsibilities of employment.

Resource people will include representatives from the Michigan Employment Security Commission, Civil Service Commission, industry and professional people from various fields. They will discuss job possibilities for teens in camping, resorts, retailing, civil service, construction, industry and volunteer opportunities. Also covered in the program will be information on work permits, social security, letters of application and interviews. Part of the March 18 program will include a tour of an employment agency.

Registration will be held at the first session. The cost for both classes is 50¢. Students no longer in school are also invited to attend. Any parent or interested teenager may call Miss Robin Fox, Teenage Program Director at the YWCA, 485-7201.

The schools are an annual continuation of Clay's Farmstead Equipment specialist training course which originated in 1963.

Dealers received concentrated instruction in farmstead planning, installation and service of silo unloaders, mechanical feeders, barn cleaners, liquid manure spreaders and milking parlors.

State Joins Junk Yard Crusade

Michigan state highway department officials are working on plans to keep in pace with President Johnson's crusade to beautify highways by screening junkyards.

Acting Highway Director Howard E. Hill said a detailed study will be undertaken soon to develop the most economical plans for shielding unsightly junkyards from the views of motorists using state and federal highways.

A survey made at the request of the U.S. bureau of public roads revealed that at least 450 junkyards, most of them auto graveyards and many covering more than an acre, presently are marring the view of motorists using state roads.

In many cases, Hill said, the junkyards can be screened from the view of motorists by planting of trees and shrubs, but in some instances, other solutions must be found.

Federal funds are not yet available for this specific purpose, Hill said, but at a conference in Washington recently, it was indicated that swift action will be taken to eliminate highway blight.

Chapter and Beards Still Keep Growing

One of the newly formed chapters of the Brothers of the Brush met at the Doll House Monday evening for their organizational meeting. They have elected to call themselves the Doll House Muggers. So far there are 52 men in this chapter which is still growing; the men's hairy appendages are also still growing.

The next meeting of this chapter will be conducted Monday, March 15, at the Doll House. The meeting will last for an hour and the restaurant will be closed for this hour in cooperation with the men.

Plane Makes Emergency Landing

A Detroit pilot set his plane down in a corn field near Densmore's IGA store in Mason Monday after the engine conked out when he was 2500 feet over Mason Monday.

Ted Masco landed the plane safely. He was not injured and his ship was not damaged.

After landing a passing motorist took Masco to the Ingham county sheriff's department where he reported the incident. Masco, whose home is in Inksster, is a flight instructor for the Bentley Flight Service of Detroit. He was on his way back to Detroit after making a charter flight to Lansing.

He said he was over Mason when the engine suddenly stopped. He notified the Capitol City airport in Lansing that he was making a landing in a corn field. He made a 360 degree turn and set the plane down near the IGA store.

Masco told sheriff's officers that a crew from Bentley Flight Service would come to Mason to remove the plane.

Spraying To Continue

Mason's 300 elm trees on city property are going to be sprayed. Councilman awarded the spraying contract to Davey Tree Co. at the bid price of $1,600 a tree. Those property owners wanting trees on private property sprayed for Dutch Elm disease this spring can apply at the city hall, according to Councilman Dick Morris.

As I See It

By Hayden Palmer

If any of you youngsters who are attending school this year are thinking of dropping out, don't. That is, if you want to exist in this rapidly changing world.

For the number of unskilled jobs available in 1970 will be no greater than they were in 1960 which means that a lot of persons who lack the knowledge to hold skilled jobs will be looking for kinds of work that do not exist.

If you are going to get along in this world of today you must have an education.

William J. Kimball, extension program leader in community resource development at Michigan State University, points out that 3 out of every 10 youngsters who enter the 1st grade do not complete high school. When they become adults, he says, their only income will be unemployment checks and welfare payments.

That, if nothing else, should be enough to scare any youngster into staying in school and getting the education he can.

Kimball says that 40 per cent more youths are entering the labor force in the 1960's than in the 1950's and he notes that 2 of every 3 farm youths move to urban areas for employment.

"The great increase in jobs will be in white collar occupations," Kimball says. "No level of education--elementary, secondary or higher education--is providing the facilities that are needed.

In the old days a farm boy always could work on a farm, but today a total of 4,800 farm youths in Michigan are entering the labor force each year, according to Kimball, but only 400 operators of farms grossing $10,000 or more annually are retiring.

"Agriculture is a highly skilled occupation today," Kimball says, "and only those with skilled and scientific training will find occupation in agriculture."

Kimball sees one gap in the educational program today. He says it is a lack of a plan to train youths for careers in agribusiness--businesses that serve farmers. He adds that "there are tremendous opportunities in this field."

The old types of unskilled labor such as digging ditches, plowing a field behind a team of horses, even running errands are jobs that don't exist any more. Inventions and scientific machines have done away with them.

So study hard today, kids, if you want to survive tomorrow.

A law went on the state statute books last September that is being violated almost every day of the dark winter months and early morning periods such as we have been having recently.

The law states that it is illegal to drive a motor vehicle with only the parking lights burning. It states specifically if lights are needed, headlights--not parking lights--must be used.

Yet every day on these dark and foggy mornings motorists go whizzing along highways with only the small parking lights visible.

And to complicate matters some drivers make it even worse by not using any lights at all.

The law, like all safety statutes, is designed to make our roads and streets safer for motorists.

Most of these parking light drivers consider themselves lawabiding citizens and they probably are in all ways but in this one matter.

The law was designed for their protection and for other drivers as well.

It is a good law and should be observed.

The new 1965 telephone books made their appearance this week with a much more attractive cover than in other years. It contains 598 pages divided into 3 sections.

The first section of 196 pages includes listing of Lansing and East Lansing residents. The second section of 46 pages lists phone subscribers in Danville, Dimondale, Holt, Mason, Porterville, Aurelius, Bath, DeWitt, Grand Ledge, Lansing and Williamston.

The Mason listings cover 8 pages from page 32 through page 39. The first resident listed in the Mason section is L.E. Abbott who lives at 788 E. Maple street. The last name in the Mason listings is that of Dobri Zivic, whose address is given as 1160 W. Lamb road.

In addition to all this information the book contains 356 yellow pages.

Lance Corporal Hal F. Dangler, son of Mr. and Mrs. R.V. Dangler of Mason, is participating February 23 through March 12 in a major fleet training operation called "Silver Lance" off the coast of California while serving with the Seventh Engineer Battalion, First Marine Division, Camp Pendleton, California.

Senator Potter Reports

Last week, the majority party reported out the Governor's budget bills, then killed them on a straight party line vote. It was insisted that this was merely a procedural question, that the move was made merely to clear the decks for legislative action.

There is a serious question whether this move was really necessary. Even though the budget bills were re-introduced shortly after their defeat, they no longer are the Governor's bills. The Constitution of this state has been circumvented. Frankly, it would now seem that the majority party has taken full responsibility for state spending. It will be called to laccount when the time comes.

In the area of fiscal reform, a new development last week. A detailed report was issued, indicating what are called "constitutional impediments" to fiscal reform. It now seems clear that the majority party hopes to get out of facing this question on the grounds that while they may be for fiscal reform, the Constitution prohibits it.

Obviously, there is an effort to pin the blame for whatever might happen to the money structure of the state on the Constitution. This is, in my view a weak move, and one that will not work to the advantage of the people of this state.

There are two courses open in this session of the legislature. One is to have spending reform, and the other is to have fiscal reform. Put in its clearest terms, spending reform means cutting the budget and reducing state services in many areas. Fiscal reform means raising more taxes to meet the increased costs of government. It also means shifting the tax burden.

Neither course seems to be favored by the majority in the Senate. Somehow, a majority seems to feel that we can spend more while avoiding the crucial issue of raising more revenue. I suggest that such an approach is neither responsible nor workable.

To return to what seems to be the fast developing position of the majority the assertion that there can be no fiscal reform because of the "impediments" imposed by the new Constitution is, in my view, a convenient excuse for not considering the politically explosive question of more taxes and the shifting of the tax burden. Stated simply, it reflects the aversion that a majority of the Senate has to an income tax.

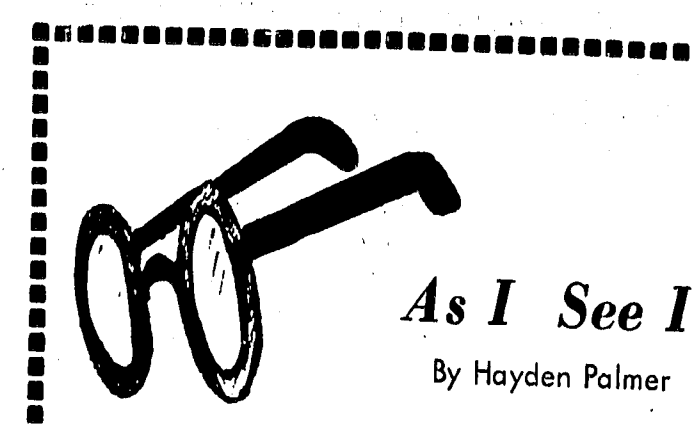

Certainly there is little public outcry for more taxes. Certainly there is little support that I have been able to find for an income tax. I suggest that if this is the case, then the legislature has no alternative but to cut the budget, retract state services, and conserve the surplus. Yet, there is no sentiment for this approach either.

I believe that each one of us, in and out of political office, must ask the question of himself and let his representatives in Lansing know the answer. The question is very simple. Do you want expanded state services enough to pay for them?

Governor Romney has said time and time again that we need tax reform in this state and we need it now. The Republicans in the Senate have formed a five man committee to investigate the present tax structure. I am happy to be a member of this committee.

Our committee stands ready to meet with the members of the majority at any time. I sincerely believe that we can have fiscal reform now, if that's what the people want.

On the other hand, let's not forget that the recent report entitled "Constitutional Impediments to Fiscal Reform" places a shadow over a good portion of our present tax structure. The majority party cannot have it both ways. Either they accept all of the report, or none of it. If they accept all of it, then they have placed themselves in the position of admitting that we have taxes on the books now that are unconstitutional. That being the case, they it is their responsibility and the responsibility of all of us, to review the tax structure in the light of the report, and make the necessary changes.

On The Bookshelf...

By R.E. SCOTT
It is becoming urgent in our complex and frantic age for people, particularly the younger set, to be able to communicate with one another on a more advanced level than ever before. No longer can we function effectively as human beings without being able to understand the 'why' of the things we do.

Communication on an adult level depends greatly on the way concepts are presented to us when we are young. For example, adults today are experiencing difficulty with the "New Math," generally much more than their children. We were not made to think about the 'why' of all those equations and square roots, and the teaching of these 'whys' is why this method is enabling our offspring to understand mathematics so much more quickly than we ever did.

The "New Math" is a symptom of our need to understand the deeper meanings of present day living; the application of this mode of thinking to larger units of our daily life is obvious. It would seem then that to develop these all-important communicative skills in our young the emphasis must be on vocabulary building, the art of listening and the use of the reasoning mind. It is never too early in life for a child to begin learning all three, reasons for this abound in books on the psychology of personality structure. The skills are acquired only with effort and guidance - and with time the power to reason well becomes natural.

Doman (see How to Teach Your Baby to Read) has shown that no child is too young to begin learning to read, and neither can he be taught to listen too early - and by virtue of both begin building his essential vocabulary. We at the Mason library heartily endorse this method of education, and with this objective in mind we are offering March 16 through April 27 a pre-schoolers Story Hour each Tuesday from 10 a.m. to 10:30 a.m. Mrs. Florence Miller, children's librarian, will read to the children from picture books, and a special collection will be on display for mothers and fathers accompanying their children.

10 years of research behind Purina Early Weaning Chow

Purina Early Weaning Chow for baby pigs is a highly palatable, highly fortified, highly nutritious feed made for hogmen who plan to wean pigs at three weeks... or wish to wean pigs earlier. It may also be used in early weaning of late-farrowed litters, for orphan pigs or undersize pigs at normal weaning age.

In six tests on 616 pigs, Early Weaning Chow-fed pigs gained as fast as pigs on sow's milk and creep feed from the 3rd to 6th week. They gained .77 lb. per pig daily - made 1 lb. gain from only 1.27 lbs. feed.

In on-the-farm tests, pigs followed the same pattern... weighed 23-33 lbs. at 6 weeks. Feed cost per pound of gain on good pigs, raised under good management, ranged from 12¢ to 14¢.

Rabbit hunting is stirring a lot of excitement these winter days at the Conservation Department's 3,000-acre Rose Lake wildlife research center near East Lansing. And that's a mighty good sign of shooting success on bunnies in other parts of southern Michigan. Generally, as cottontail kill goes at the wildlife center, so goes the rabbit take elsewhere in the southern region. This season, Rose Lake hunters are bagging bunnies at the center's record pace of 1957. In light of this, Department game men say there is a fine chance the region's current harvest will finish near that year's kill mark of about 1.3 million cottontails. Besides at Rose Lake, rabbit hunters can look for top action between now and the season's March 1 closer at southern state game areas which are also managed by the Department and open to the public.—Mich. Romney Reports

Interest Rates Hard To Figure

Because of the importance of this matter to all the citizens of Michigan, I want to quote for you the substance of the letter I sent House Speaker Joseph J. Kowalski and Senate Majority Leader Raymond D. Dziedzic concerning their rejection of my proposed special appropriation bills.

"I believe it would be most unfortunate to take such action at this time, and that the action proposed is both unnecessary and undesirable. The proposal of the Democratic Caucus could have serious implications for Michigan's hard-won fiscal integrity that I believe it is important that this matter be thoroughly discussed before further action is taken. There appears to be a serious misunderstanding of what the constitution requires and perhaps a lack of understanding of the reasons for the improved procedure.

The proposed Democratic Caucus action would in effect discard these key elements of the budget making process, which are desirable and important regardless of the constitutional requirements. It would return to the old system by which Michigan dropped into a period of fiscal chaos and as a result of which the people called a constitutional convention.

I would call your attention to these fundamental points which I urge you to carefully consider. First, the last session of the Legislature was able to follow the new constitution and adjourn in the late spring, even though my budget bills were not available as early as this year. I understand the Senate Appropriations committee is well ahead of its pace of last year.

PRESIDENTIAL THOUGHTS—National political aspirations in Michigan's second-term governor are becoming stronger, according to an increasing number of Capitol observers.

Much of the conclusion is based on a combination of factors. One is Gov. George Romney's recent position statements on national and international matters. He avoided any such statements like the plague during his first term.

Frequency of the Governor's acceptance of bids to speak at events outside his home state is another. It still being early in the legislative session, Romney appears to have spent nearly as much time outside as in Michigan since his inauguration.

This is nearly opposite his first-term policy of accepting a minimum of invitations to speak in other states.

Still a third cause for speculation about Romney's hopes in 1968 was his recent decision to personally participate in "Operation Europe Tour."

This long-planned event will take the Governor, Secretary of State James M. Hare, legislative and business leaders on a 10-day trip abroad in an attempt to widen Michigan's business outlets.

It was reported with apparently sound foundation back in January that Lt. Gov. William Milliken would be the Governor's official representative on the trip. As their apparent to the chief executive's chair and a leading businessman in Traverse City, Milliken was seen as a wise choice.

The spotlight covering the rather unique tour venture now will fall on Gov. Romney, increasing his national and international exposure.

BALANCE NEEDED—Michigan's new legislative auditor faces a tough job in the early months of his tenure.

Appointed strictly on a partisan basis and although he meets the Constitutional requirement of being a certified public accountant, Albert Lee must now view his work on a strictly non-partisan basis if he is to succeed.

The Constitution gives the legislative auditor the responsibility of auditing the executive branch of government and the privilege of complete independence from the executive branch.

Less than a straightforward approach to the job could easily result in a questioning of findings by opponents.

Since part of his responsibility is job performance audit, it goes without saying that his facts must be accepted by all if his recommendations for improving program performance are to be considered for their merit.

With an eight-year term ahead of him, the new appointee may see service under both parties. Where he now has been appointed by a Democratic legislature while a Republican governor is serving, the tables could easily be turned completely during his tenure.

set in 1964, but officials emphasize this encouraging drop should prompt more diligence.

The official 1964 death count for Michigan was 2,091 persons. This represented an increase of 13 per cent over the previous year.

The shocking toll last year prompted Gov. George Romney to make traffic safety legislation a major goal in his current program.

He has called for mandatory driver training for all ages, greater uniformity in accident reporting, stricter law enforcement, an increase in state police manpower, and a controversial change in the alcohol-test law.

These and other recommendations, culled from the views of many experts in the traffic safety field, would initially cost more than $9 million, Romney has said.

The Governor has become one of the many state officials who say, as he puts it, "The fulfillment of our public responsibility demands that we take immediate and informed action to stop Michigan's highway carnage and the 'massacre of the innocent.'"

Most who share this view contend that the action must be taken now, regardless of cost and despite the encouraging drop which has occurred in traffic deaths so far this year.

when I urged recognition of the need for tax reform now and adoption of a mutually acceptable procedure for bi-partisan cooperation, there have been a number of encouraging developments.

The need for tax reform now has been recognized and approved by both political party conventions. The resolutions adopted at the Republican and Democratic conventions stressed the importance of accomplishing fundamental tax revision this year.

But most heartening have been the initial steps this past week within our legislative caucuses pointing toward the establishment of legislative committees to develop a joint bi-partisan program of tax reform.

I commend your leadership and your membership on these forward steps. They indicate the Legislature may be prepared to proceed with this vital task. I urge you to continue these joint efforts.

We will continue to support such joint efforts and I pledge the resources and cooperation of the Executive Branch, including the Budget division, the Department of Revenue and my office.

I trust the culmination of these efforts will be the kind of tax system that will more equitably meet the needs of the people of Michigan.

Normal interest rate is the rate stated on an annual equivalent basis. This is the interest rate a person should be concerned about, since this is the usual concept of annual interest rate that most people use for comparison.

Interest is difficult to figure because there are so many loan plans," said John R. Brake. "Then, too, definitions are often misunderstood. Two in particular that are often misused are the 'nominal rate' and the 'true rate.'"

Brake pointed out that the true interest rate—sometimes called the compound interest rate—is the rate of interest per payment period. In other words, it would be a rate per month, a rate per quarter, or a rate per year on an annual payment plan.

What Ingham County Churches Are Doing

Our Symbol

One of our most treasured relics is the Liberty Bell. It is so-called because it was rung on July 8, 1776 to summons the citizenry for the terse announcement that the Declaration of Independence had been adopted. Today, it remains the greatest symbol of a nation free from tyranny in government and intolerance in religion.

... that nation is America. But one fact often overlooked is that when the historic bell was originally cast its makers turned to the Bible, to Leviticus, for the words inscribed around its contour: "Proclaim Liberty throughout the land unto all the inhabitants thereof." What a beginning! What a heritage! What a privilege to be a son or daughter of Freedom's Land. What a blessing to be an American.

How great is our Symbol!!!

One Year Ago--1964

One hundred thousand customers have rolled to a stop at the Dart National drive-in bank in Mason since the branch was opened about 3 years ago. Bill Davis of Charlotte got a surprise Monday when he stopped at the bank on business. Jack Davis, a bank director, and Mrs. Marion Block presented him with a basket of groceries, a $25 savings account and a transistor radio. He was the 100,000th customer.

Blood donors at the Mason bloodmobile stop Friday responded as never before in several years. A total of 97 pints was collected for the Red Cross blood bank in Lansing.

barbs, praise and consequence

Are you a thermometer or a thermostat?

That's the question raised by a Chicago minister in his comment on the great social, economic and moral issues of the day. It was a remark well taken.

Too many people, he maintained, are thermometers. All they do is react to the pressures of the day. Their individual ideals and philosophy shifts with the temperature of public opinion in a go-along-with-the-crowd attitude in much the same manner as a thermometer reacts to temperature change.

He went on to say that what we need are more people who have the ability, and most of us have, of being thermostats. We need to measure the pressures and the shifts in public morals and opinions much as a thermometer does, but we need to use our ability to control our own shifts and the shifts of those with whom we come in contact. We need to be thermostats.

There were plenty of thermostats on hand Friday at the Mason stop of the bloodmobile. Workers collected more than has ever been donated in Mason before. The thermometer in us recorded the heat of the great need in local hospitals and the thermostats in 154 people in the community reacted to bring the shortage of blood under control.

There are many other ways in which our nation, our churches, our states, counties and communities can be made better if only more people changed from a measuring instrument to a controlling instrument.

This hasn't been the year to shout as far as Mason's basketball fortunes were concerned. After 4 years of heady tournament fever Mason basketball fans are looking to such things as baseball, golf, fishing, tennis and next year. But not so in 5 other Ingham county communities.

Stockbridge, Holt, Okemos, Webberville and Sexton are still in the thick of it, or were when this was written Tuesday afternoon.

Many Mason diehards are attaching themselves to the bandwagons of those still in the state tournament picture.

Here's wishing them all luck and may some of them be around to take the big bow a week from Saturday over at the MSU field house.

Unfortunately there will have to be some losers.

Speaking of losing, many of us don't know what poor losers are until we try dieting.

has incorporated in the retirement oriented city.

Here's an idea presented to the News that ought to be given serious consideration by the Mason school board: Let's make a slight change in the name of Mason High School and call it the Stevens T. Mason High School. It would merely require the purchase of 8 letters and a period to bring the sign on the building up to date. And by doing it between now and the centennial observance this summer, it would forever link the school to an important link in Michigan history.

Stevens T. Mason was, of course, Michigan's first governor and often referred to as the Boy Governor which would give a youthful goal for Mason's younger set.

The centennial committee and the school district could invite a delegation of the descendants of Stevens T. Mason who live in Virginia to a special commemorating service for the name change. It could be an impressive part of the Mason centennial week. And all it would take would be a resolution of the school board.

Who thinks this is an idea with merit?

Children in the Legislature

Memories are short over around the state capitol.

For the last 2 years Democrats in the legislature have been whining because Republican legislators were not facing up to the fiscal responsibilities of their job when they were in the majority.

So what happens when Democrats take control of the legislature? They exhibit the same traits for which they chastised their Republican counterparts. That trait is best labeled with the word "pettiness."

Governor Romney has proposed a budget and general appropriation bills. The legislature under Democratic control and the leadership of Rep. Joseph Kowalski has sidestepped the appropriation measures and the budget contrary to the Constitution, the intent of the constitution and an opinion handed down by Attorney General Frank Kelly, a Democrat himself. Such action is detrimental to the operation of the state of Michigan.

It would appear that Democrats in the legislature are not interested in continuing the strong surge in improving the fiscal position of the state of Michigan. It would appear that Democratic legislators are not interested in getting the most efficiency in government services, efficiency which is dependent upon sound planning both by the legislative and administrative branches.

It is evident that Democrats are more interested in a policy of embarrassment, harassment, and logjamming of Gov. Romney's programs, even at the expense of the constituents who sent them to Lansing.

Legislators, both Republican and Democrat, should look at Gov. Romney's fiscal recommendations with critical eyes. Shelving them in a childlike display of strength is a vindictive pleasure Michigan can't afford.

Shelving them out of apparent pettiness is a childish and damaging action. It's about time the legislators quit acting like spoiled children.

Tell Your Congressman

A new bill before Congress is the best answer to the health care needs of the elderly.

It is the Herlong-Curtis Eldercare Bill (H.R. 3727).

Doctors, who care for the elderly and know their medical needs, support Eldercare - Here's why:

Eldercare would offer better care than Medicare. Both Eldercare and Medicare would cover hospital and nursing home charges, but... Eldercare would provide for physicians' services - Medicare would not.

Eldercare would provide for surgical costs - Medicare would not.

Eldercare would provide for drugs outside a hospital - Medicare would not.

Eldercare not only would provide more benefits for people 65 and over - who need care and cannot pay for it - it would cost less.

It would cost less because it helps those who need help. It would not use your tax dollars to provide benefits for the wealthy, the well-to-do, and the self-supporting. It would be financed by federal-state funds through a program that already exists.

Eldercare would not require a new payroll tax.

Yes, Eldercare offers more benefits for the elderly... less cost to the taxpayers. By contrast, the Medicare tax plan would increase payroll taxes to provide benefits for everyone over 65, the wealthy included. Furthermore, the Medicare tax would hit hardest those least able to pay. The $5,600-a-year worker would pay as much tax as the $50,000 executive.

Don't you agree that when you compare - the choice is Eldercare?

Write your congressman and senators. Urge them to support Eldercare. (The Herlong-Curtis Bill, H.R. 3727) and to reject again the Medicare tax plan.

Goals for 1965

The Ingham County News supports these objectives:

1. A popular vote to secure the people's choice as to what type of city hall - fire station is needed.
2. Expansion of new and completion of existing city parks with emphasis on playgrounds and picnic areas.
3. Continued planting of trees with provisions requiring subdividers to plant at least one tree on each lot before acceptance by the city.
4. A community center with regular hours and projects for senior citizens.
5. An industrial park to be operated by a non-profit community corporation with the avowed purpose of attracting desirable industries.
6. A Mason museum.

American Investment in Canada

(From Lachute (Quebec) Watchman)

IN THE IMMEDIATE post-war years many of us were proud that Canada's natural wealth was a big attraction for foreign investors.

Our tremendous industrial development in the last 20 years, in fact, owes a lot to capital that poured in from abroad, mostly from the United States.

But not many years ago we awoke to find that American investors owned 50 per cent of our manufacturing, 70 per cent of our petroleum and natural gas industry and 60 per cent of our mining and smelting.

Among those deeply concerned was Walter Gordon, who headed a royal commission inquiry into Canada's economic prospects in 1956. When the Liberals came to power in 1963, Mr. Gordon, as finance minister, decided to try to do something to reverse the trend.

His first experience was unhappy. He wanted to offer special depreciation benefits on new equipment to firms at least one-quarter Canadian-owned and to impose a 30-per-cent tax on sales of large blocks of stock or assets of Canadian companies to non-residents.

The idea was to encourage American owners to make stock available to Canadians and to discourage American takeovers of existing Canadian firms.

However, the reaction of the business community was so violent that Mr. Gordon was left with little of his original plan.

Undaunted, he's trying again. But the difference is that he is working with an area where there is reasonable hope of success.

A bill approved in principle by the Commons places a limit of 25 per cent on foreign ownership of shares of federally incorporated life insurance companies, trust firms and loan companies.

Insurance companies already more than half foreign owned and mutual firms are not covered, but 12 of Canada's insurance firms will be affected.

Later bills will provide similar regulations for chartered banks and finance companies. The banks are all understood to be under the 25-per-cent limit now so that, although many bankers are annoyed at the extra bookwork that will be involved, they presumably will be able to obey the law.

The whole idea is that financial institutions under Canadian control are more likely to have Canadian interests uppermost when they lend and invest money.

There are some who question this thesis, and only time will tell whether it's a correct analysis.

What is important is that a move has been made in an area of affairs where it is possible to do something before - instead of after - foreign control has been established.

I went to my second tea last Friday afternoon. Two years ago I went to my first one and had such a good time that I was quick to accept Dr. Gertrude O'Sullivan's invitation to the College Club tea at her home Friday... Dr. O'Sullivan is one of the strongest characters I have ever known and I have known her longer than any other woman with the exception of my mother. Her leadership in this community and in all others where she has lived have been outstanding. No one has ever been able to say of Doctor O'Sullivan that, being a woman, she doesn't know her own mind. She not only knows her own mind but she is able to come pretty close to knowing what's on other people's minds. I admire Doctor O'Sullivan, as I have remarked before. She meets the specifications of King Lemuel's virtuous woman in Proverbs, her price being far above rubies. "She girdeth her loins with strength, and strengtheneth her arms; her candle goeth not out at night; she reacheth forth her hands to the needy; she openeth her mouth with wisdom, and in her tongue is the law of kindness."

March 1, 1945

Saturday was the first time I had been in dynamic Detroit since Dick enlisted in the marines three years ago. I saw no great changes in the three years except that more people seemed to be wasting their substance with riotous living. The cocktail bars and saloons were so packed with men and women that I could not have gained entrance even had I wanted to and even had my wife and daughters given me permission to look upon the wine when it was red.

On the way home we stopped at Brother Hugh's off Grand River and were delighted to find we had figured his schedule just right. He was just sitting down to a late supper or an early breakfast. At 11 o'clock he had to leave on a mail run to Chicago, and the table was loaded with victuals prepared by the good wife for her husband's nourishment and happiness. After just the right amount of coaxing, the five of us drew up chairs and waded in. Never have I tasted any better hot pecan rolls than Sister Edith kept hauling out of the oven and carrying to the table.

It really happened: A new employe here at the News whom we shall not name picked up his pay check in the office Friday, left the building from the side door and walked up to the News' drive-in window to have his check cashed - thinking it was a bank window. In the 18 months or so that the News has been in the new building, the office has been mistaken for a bank more than once. We had a chance to make a loan to a man in the office the other day, but convinced him instead that we were more used to getting loans than making them.

In the beginning, Dart National, which has the drive-in bank next door, got us to agree not to do any banking from our drive-in window and they in turn agreed not to take in any want ads. We've stuck to our bargain and as far as I know, the bank has stuck to its bargain.

Park City Now Has 550 Dwellings

Mobile Home Community Builds Up

New Recreation Center Is Area's Newest Facility

A 440-acre tract of land in the heart of Broward County's citrus and cattle region is rapidly blossoming into a full-fledged city.

Located four miles west of Rt. 7 on State Rd. 84, the community—known as Park City Mobile Home Estates—now boasts 550 mobile homes and approximately 1,100 residents.

In addition, it features two recreation centers, a growing commercial area, landscaped parkways, and its own water and sewage facilities.

And this is merely a fraction of what is planned, according to Walt Neal, owner and developer of the attractive mobile home venture.

OVER 2,000 ARE PLANNED

When completed, Park City will contain more than 2,000 dwellings as well as additional recreational facilities, he pointed out.

Neal, who acquired the previously dormant tract some three years ago, said that about 100 acres have now been developed, and "we figure on putting in an average of 150 units a year from now on."

Although about 75 per cent of Park City's mobile home buyers are retirees, the area is by no means being confined to that group. It is designed for adults of all ages as well as children of 14 years of age or older.

MODELS OPEN DAILY

At the elaborately-landscaped Rt. 84 entranceway, fully-furnished models of the various mobile homes being offered are open for public inspection daily.

Dwellings are available in a variety of sizes and shapes, and if larger homes are desired, two or more mobile homes can be joined in a number of ways, Neal explained.

Prices vary according to location. Inside lots, 46 feet wide and 80 feet long, cost $2,595, while corner sites are selling for $3,395. There's a charge of $20 a month for water, sanitary sewers and garbage collection.

All lots are completely sodded, Neal emphasized, and include sunken garbage containers.

NEW RECREATION CENTER

Most recent facility to make its debut in Park City was a $250,000 recreation center—the second to be opened in the mobile home venture.

It features a large 14,800-square-foot building under roof, highlighted by an auditorium that seats up to 685 persons. The auditorium contains a stage where residents of the community may produce their own shows and other entertainment.

Another feature of the center is a 40-by-80-foot kidney-shaped heated swimming pool with sprawling patio area.

In addition, there are 24 shuffleboard courts, three croquet courts, sauna rooms for men and women, a completely-equipped kitchen, laundry rooms, and craft and hobby rooms in the recreation center.

A Look At 1965

Home building activity in 1965 should continue at approximately the same level as in 1964, with about 1,525,000 starts being racked up, Perry E. Willits of Miami, president of the National Association of Home Builders, said this week.

"The number of multi-family units probably will decline slightly from 1964's mark," Willits predicted. "Single family starts, however, are expected to rise somewhat to something more than the 1,000,000 level."

Land, labor and development costs again are expected to be higher in the new year, he added.

Bill Richards Demonstrates the New Buick Amble Wagon to Walt Neal

When Walt Neal, formerly of Mason and Lansing, wanted to buy an ambulance to serve the people of Park City, Florida, he chose, of course, a 1965 Buick Amble Wagon at Bill Richards Buick in Mason. The equipment is now in use at Park City... a development that is receiving international recognition as an ideally planned community. We'd enjoy telling you more about Park City Mobile Homes Estates... and about the limitless advantages of Park City for your retirement home.

6 Ingham 4-H Delegates At Annual Leader Meet

Developing Human Resources through 4-H was the theme of the 9th annual 4-H Leadermete at Kellogg Center at Michigan State university, Saturday and Sunday, March 6-7, 1965.

The six Ingham county delegates attending were:

Mrs. Alfred Dowdy, Perry; Mrs. George Covert, Leslie; Mrs. Gerald Robinson, Holt; Mrs. Lyle Thorburn, Mason; James Cretcher, East Lansing; and Lewis Woods, Mason.

The Theme: Developing Human Resources Through 4-H was introduced with the lighting of a large candle which burned throughout the conference. The conference closed with each delegate lighting their own candle which represented the challenge to carry inspiration, new ideas, enthusiasm, and leadership back home to our individual 4-H club members.

Dr. Gordon Beckstrand, Assistant Director, Youth Programs, new to Michigan the first of March, was introduced and talked on "Adding Up" - a challenge to leadership. Other speakers were Mr. Paul Johnson, of the Prairie Farmer magazine; Mr. Jack Logan from Institute for Social Research, University of Michigan; and Dr. Carl Byers, former superintendent of schools, Parma, Ohio.

In 1964 there were 78,679 different boys and girls enrolled in 4-H in Michigan; 36% lived on farms, 41% were rural non-farm and 23% were urban.

There were 3813 different 4-H clubs with 15,139 adult 4-H leaders, and 57 4-H club agents in Michigan.

The 4-H club members' creed is:

I believe in 4-H club work for the opportunity it will give me to become a useful citizen.

I believe in the training of my head for the power it will give me to think, plan, and reason.

I believe in the training of my heart for the nobleness it will give me to become kind, sympathetic, and true.

I believe in the training of my hands for the ability it will give me to be helpful, useful, and skillful.

I believe in the training of my Health for the strength it will give me to enjoy life, to resist disease, and to work efficiently.

I believe in my country, my state, and my community, and in my responsibility for their development.

In all these things, I believe, and I am willing to dedicate my efforts to their fulfillment.

A new counting device is helping scientists keep tabs on--of all things--the northern Michigan deer herd.

Two Michigan State university wildlife experts, John Ozoga and Leslie Gysel, recently developed an inexpensive punch tape method for counting the number of deer passing along outdoor runways during a 24-hour period.

The simple device is made from an inexpensive alarm clock, a small mechanical counter and a four-inch brass rod. The rod serves as a lever to activate a counter and to punch a strip of tape attached to the clock mechanism.

The device is tripped by a deer's foot striking a 15-20 pound test fishline connected to the recorder and a tree.

And it works.

The MSU scientists tested 28 of the recorders near Houghton Lake for three months during the winter of 1963. Twenty of them were installed in a natural 100-acre deer yard. And eight were installed in a 40-acre pen which held 14 captive deer.

Nearly 800 deer were counted in 80 days in the deer yard, while about 1,500 were tallied during 56 days in the captive deer pen.

Observations from deer blinds, they say, proved that the recorders were reliable indexes to the time and intensity of deer activity.

The present 35 miles an hour limit will be lowered to 30 miles an hour if the Ingham county road commission concurs with the recommendation.

Troopers and deputies also reported they were satisfied with other speed limits on Aurelius road, presently at 45 miles an hour.

Agriculture in Action

"WE BEG TO DIFFER," It is not at all unusual for the suggestion to be made that all farmers and farm organizations "get together" and work toward common causes.

Usually too, the suggestion comes from sincere, if naive people, who are at a complete loss as to how to bring all this about. Adding to the pressure for such unity are those lawmakers who claim that the farmer's voice is so confused that actual needs are hidden from Congress under a welter of conflicting ideas and words.

Surely there can be no argument with the goal of a united front for agriculture, providing that such unity is a voluntary thing, achieved without coercion or compulsion. Any other kind of unity is repugnant to farmers, and is actually contrary to the basic concepts upon which our nation has been founded.

One farm organization, the American Farm Bureau Federation, scoffs at the idea that farmers are not speaking with a united voice, pointing out that nationwide membership in the organization now numbers six out of every eight commercial farmers. "Since when is not three-fourths a majority?" these farm leaders ask.

In Lansing, state Farm Bureau officials add that there are more areas of agreement between Michigan's major farm groups than there are areas of conflict and that basically all farmers are aiming at the same goals. Chief among them is improved income for agriculture. The most evident point of disagreement is how best to get this improved income.

Beyond this are many other issues on which all farm groups can work with harmony. Topping the list is reapportionment, with little argument among rural people about this issue. Most feel that if the present trend in reapportionment is allowed to continue the nation's most basic industry will be denied legislative representation in proportion to taxes paid and other contributions to the national economy.

Farmers say their concerns with reapportionment are tied to support for constitutional government, and that this is not a matter of city-versus-country.

Township Employees To Get Hospitalization Insurance

HOLT - The Delhi Charter Township board Monday night adopted Blue Cross-Blue Shield hospitalization insurance for full time employees of the township who express a desire to be covered by the group policy. The cost for the coverage of all employees would be $96.19 a month of which the township would pay half and the employees half. There are 9 full time employees eligible for the coverage.

The board also approved a motion by Kenneth Hope, board trustee, to have drawings prepared for a proposed 24 by 42 foot addition to the Holt fire station to provide living quarters for on duty firemen who it is planned to employ to handle incoming telephone calls and the alarm system from the hall.

The board referred to the zoning board for proper zoning for an addition to the present Higgins subdivision. The subdivision contains 26 lots numbered from 32 to 58 plus 2 outlots, and lies east of South Washington road between Willoughby and Holt roads. The board will seek to determine what future uses to be made of the 2 outlots, one of 6.2 acres and the other of 2 1/2 to 3 acres. The action was requested by the county register of deeds. The plot is owned by the Robert Higgins post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Louis F. Adado, a resident of Maple Grove castigated the board for not notifying him of a change in his property assessment when the change was made at the time Maple Grove was a part of Delhi township. Supervisor Joe Klersey told Adado that under law it was not necessary to so inform him as the change was made by the assessor, who is Klersey, and not by the board of review.

Board members told Adado that they were incensed at what they called an "indictment" of them for a phase of governmental operation with which they had nothing to do. They upheld Klersey in his action in not notifying Adado and several others when the assessments were raised by him and told Adado, Klersey was acting within the law in not making the notification.

The year in question, Klersey said there were approximately 800 pieces of property reassessed in Delhi township.

The board also received a notification from the Alameda township board favoring the Delhi township site for the location of the Ingham County Community college.

Received notice from the City National Bank of Detroit that a sewer bond payment of $26,348.25 is due April 1.

Authorized Supervisor Klersey and Miss Enid Lewis, township clerk to execute a warranty deed in the sale of a 21-acre plat adjoining the North cemetery on the east which was sold by the township to Miracle Mile Inc.

Approved claims totaling $5,041.18.

Big Building Boom Hits Williamston

By Carol Thornton
WILLIAMSTON - March arrived last week, and despite the bad weather, signaled the beginning of the most expansive building boom in the history of Williamston.

Building permits in the amount of $300,000 already have been issued by Lee Klingler, city treasurer. This compares with $500,000 for all of 1964.

Progress is beginning to show at the building site of the new Atlantic and Pacific Tea company and Fates Drug on Grand River avenue between the Sun theater and Signs Ford sales.

Residents of the city are watching with interest as the houses now occupying the site are taken down bit by bit to make the land available for the new stores. Two of the old houses are substantially dismantled at this time, with work progressing quite rapidly in spite of the rainy, wet weather.

At the site of the People's State bank building location at Middle and Putman streets, a crane and bulldozer have been busy pulling the huge stumps that remained and clearing the land.

Renlger Construction company of Lansing holds the contract for the A&P and Fates and the firm of Foster - Schermerhorn and Barnes of Lansing is constructing the new bank.

Also planned for the general Williamston area but not in the city is a new Watson Chevrolet building to be constructed west of Williamston on Grand River avenue near Crittendon's salvage.

In addition to this a large subdivision is to be started soon at the corner of Zimmer and Sherwood roads. Lyle Benjamin of Lansing is doing the planning for this project.

Club Hears About Life In Turkey

WILLIAMSTON - Atesh Onca, the foreign exchange student from Turkey now attending school in Williamston, was guest speaker for the Senior Child Study club.

Hosting the group for the March 2 meeting was Mrs. Joseph Toth. Atesh showed a number of slides of scenes around Istanbul and other areas of his native Turkey. He also told about his homeland and how he was chosen to come to the United States. Everyone present had a number of questions and there was a lively discussion period following his talk.

The Study club also enjoyed seeing the array of gifts that Atesh had brought from Turkey. There was a silver ring, fillagree silver items, a brass dish, charcoal stove and a Turkish water pipe.

Refreshments were then served to the large crowd by Mrs. Thomas Jeffrey and Mrs. Eugene Lockwood. Guests were Mrs. Bobbette Campbell and Mrs. Bert McNeilly of Williamston.

Facing Surgery

WILLIAMSTON - Danny Bauer, the 7-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bauer, 2405 Meridian road will undergo open heart surgery, May 9 at Ann Arbor. In the recent blood drive enough blood was designated to Danny to take care of his need in the operation.

Reassessment Ups Property 35 Per Cent

WILLIAMSTON - Tax assessment was the main subject of discussion at the regular March meeting of Williamston City Council.

A complete reassessment of the Williamston area has been completed and all property upgraded 35 per cent. State tax commission rulings and the supreme court decision against the City of Lansing for its policy of making appraisals were given as reasons for doing this.

This reassessment will increase the total assessed value but by doing this will more closely approach the state equalized value. This is to be required by next year.

This will also increase the city's bonding power, which is now limited by the percentage factor in the evaluation, increase the veteran's exemption allowance, and would help if a bill exempting elderly is passed. All of these are based on the state equalization factor, which for Williamston is now 1.9638. This is determined by the state equalization board and means that Williamston pays almost 2 mills or 2 x 1.9638 whenever any millage is raised.

When the assessment is raised by the 35 per cent then the state equalization factor will be lowered to 1.384 instead of 1.9638. This is based on an increased valuation in real estate and personal property valuations to $1,099,250. This would reduce the winter tax rate from 1964's $56.52 per thousand to $39.77 per thousand, provided the county tax allocation remains the same. This would carry over for any new millage increase based on the new factor of 1.384.

According to Arthur Whittington, city manager, tax inequities have not been eliminated, but the property was all upgraded by the same factor. In 1966 the state requires that all property have equalized value.

Meeting next week is the board of review and any interested person may present his case at that time. If the board approves the new assessment plan then the new tax rate can be set at the next budget meeting.

Boy Hit by Car, Seriously Hurt

WILLIAMSTON - Eight-year-old Rodney Weldon was seriously injured on March 5 when he was struck by a car driven by Clark Nicklow, 29, of 5783 Zimmer road.

According to state police the youngster, who lives at 4855 Meridian road, darted across the street in front of the Nicklow car to a school bus stop.

The boy was taken to Sparrow hospital and at last report was in the intensive care unit with serious head injuries.

Circles to Meet

WILLIAMSTON - The W.S.C.S. circles of the Williamston Community M.E. church which met on Wednesday, March 10, at 1:30 p.m. were the Kate Gorsline circle with Mrs. Lela Martin, Julia Chamberlain circle with Francis Turner, and Lottie Runciman circle with Nina Hull. The Millie Lane circle met on March 10 at 8 o'clock at the M.E. church in Fellowship hall with Frances Hayne, hostess. The Bess Barack circle will meet Thursday evening 9:30 p.m. at the church.

Benefit Nets $400

WILLIAMSTON - The Rich Hamlin benefit basketball game at Webberville Saturday night netted over $400 for the 19-year-old Webberville graduate who was injured December 4 in an automobile accident. He is still having therapy to help him regain his health.

Plan Is Submitted For Downtown Mall

WILLIAMSTON - A plan for a proposed downtown mall in Williamston was submitted at last week's council meeting by Councilman Gorsline. This plan is to be submitted to the planning committee for consideration at some time in the future.

In other business, City Manager Art Whittington, discussed a plan for a storm drain project in a section of northeast Williamston. The plan was drawn up by the Wolverine Engineering company and would cost around $55,000. This was tabled for the time being because of the absence of two council members, Barrett and Adams.

A new city well also was on the agenda with Manager Whittington telling of an offer to drill a test well for $1,75 per foot. The proposed area to drill the well is part of the recreation area on Highland street and plans call for the recreation and association to be contacted if water of good quality is found.

After the monthly police report was approved, Chief Ellis Nemer was reported to have learned that the county dog warden now plans to purchase a tranquilizer gun and would probably be available to assist the local police in capturing stray animals. Council felt this should be tried before a new gun is purchased by the city.

It was also announced that next month's council meeting would be postponed until April 12 because of the city election on April 5. Also on the election ballot will be a referendum voted by the county board of supervisors with the proposal that the county allocated tax should be 18 mills instead of the present 15.

A certification meeting is set for Thursday, April 8, to certify the newly elected council members.

Weather, Sickness Jinx Meet of Women's Club

WILLIAMSTON - The weather and sickness for the second time jinxed the Williamston Women's club meeting date. Scheduled to meet at the home of Mrs. L.D. Dunkel on Friday another storm kept several members home. Those who weathered the storm and roads enjoyed a pleasant afternoon.

Lydia Fraser who had prepared the program was unable to attend. Marguerite Volmar gave a book review. The hos-ness served dessert. Mrs. Harold Dolph and her mother, Mrs. Smith of Lansing, were guests.

Group Takes Part in Food Cost Survey

WILLIAMSTON - St. Mary's Altar society, in their March 4 meeting, participated in a statewide survey of consumer likes and dislikes conducted by Miss Mary Zehner. Miss Zehner is a Specialist in Agricultural Economics at Michigan State university.

This survey was conducted in connection with a talk by Irene Bell, consumer marketing agent for Michigan State university, on "Squeezing the Dollar".

For this survey the women present sampled applesauce which was found later to be a dried powder, that water is added for the sauce, dried cherries, and a new variety of potato. Questionnaires were also answered on preferences in egg sizes, ground beef versus hamburger and plastic versus cardboard milk cartons.

The questions and answers will be compiled from all over the state and the general opinions used in deciding on these new products and techniques for the future.

Following this Irene Bell explained how the average homemaker could feed her family the way she would like and still save money in the process. Different cuts of meat were analyzed also a number of new convenience foods from the standpoint of economy.

Among some of these foods were the new freeze-dried products, tomato or orange juice in a powder form, low fat milk, etc.

After the talk Miss Bell was presented with a small gift by Mrs. William Grady, who was chairman of the program.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Frank Smith, Mrs. William McMannaman, Mrs. Loren Huffman and Mrs. Mary Snyder.

Following the short business meeting a blind bake sale was conducted. Mrs. Frank Mikek was chairman of this.

Next month's meeting will be on April 1 with Mrs. Robert Heeg as chairman. A paschal supper and election of officers is planned.

Board Rehires Teacher

LESLIE - Groups of parents of Leslie school children laid 3 requests before the Leslie board of education Monday night.

They were:

1-A request that the contract of Robert Van Dyke, physical education instructor, be renewed for next year.

2-A request that the contract of Richard Moon as head football coach be renewed for another year.

3-A request that the contract of Charles Bode, superintendent of school not be renewed.

Answering the third request, Ray Blank, a board member, explained that Bode's contract has another year to run and that at the time he signed it he indicated he would not be interested in signing another.

The board went into executive session at 9 p.m. and remained until 11:45 p.m. After that the board issued a contract to Agnes Byndrian, high school librarian, for $435 above her contract salary for 3 additional weeks of work beyond the school year.

Russell Miller, ag teacher, was given a $400 increase on a 12 month contract.

Richard Moon was rehired as head football coach and Robert Van Dyke was rehired as a physical education teacher. John Smith, a board member, explained that, contrary to rumors, Superintendent Bode had been a strong supporter of Van Dyke, Lila Pierce, who will graduate from Michigan State university next June, was offered a contract to teach physical education to girls in the Leslie school system next year.

The board received 2 communications from the Leslie village council. One of which called attention to the fact that the drainage problem at the high school needs immediate attention during the spring and summer.

It was pointed out at the meeting that the village should put in catch basins to solve the drainage problem.

In its 2nd communication, the village council informed the school board that no parking will be permitted on either side of Kimball street and that posts and cables along the street must be removed as they interfere with grading.

Mrs. James E. Vasher sent a letter to the board inquiring into what she called misuse of driver training cars. The board requested that a copy of the contract be presented at the next meeting and a letter from the contracting company.

Superintendent Bode told the board some groups using the school building are not leaving them in as good condition as they found them and asked that the board establish a policy to cover this matter.

Douglas King, high school principal, explained the disbursement of receipts from the district basketball tournament in Leslie last week and Wilfred Wardowski, reported on an intermediate district meeting he attended.

The following bills were allowed:

General fund, $7,763.78; capital outlay, $4,667.01 for a total of $11,930.79, and building and site bills of $948.03.

About 60 residents attended the meeting.

It's getting so that choosing between our Wide-Track Tigers is as distressing as it is enjoyable. For instance, should you choose the incredible GTO with its extra helping of horsepower (360), or the way it comes (335)? In the battle for the mass mind, the public is viewed as a bunch of gullible fools by the establishment. The managers of the American concentration camps of the minds, are spending at least $20 billion dollars annually in their efforts to control the thinking and feeling of the American people on almost everything that affects their way of life. With this distrust and contempt for the public has come a widening use in our political life, by both Democrats and Republicans, of advertising gimmicks, slogans, labels, image-making and other theatricals to win and hold public support. In our distracted society some showmanship is indispensable, if only to gain headlines and attract attention.

But what does this showmanship hide? Most of the time these instant labels and gleaming slogans are designed to obtain an uncritical acceptance of a system of warfare and exploitation of the human race for the benefit of a small class of despoilers who rule the nations. Once in a great while the promoters of social chaos find it necessary to add more cloth to the curtain of ignorance that separate the public from the stark reality of human relations.

Following years of mutilation of all news from China and the East, the pack of distortionists try to put on an act of benevolence for the benefit of the multitude of social outcasts that their fake social order turn loose on society every year.

For sheer audacity and fine-spun hypocrisy, the proposed $1 billion dollar a year program for the abolition of poverty takes the first prize. When one looks beyond the label and examine in detail the "anti-poverty" measures approved so far, they hardly merit being described as a "war on poverty." Most of the money that has been allocated is going to train jobless workers, or to lift the educational level of younger people. Although these efforts are eminently "poverty." More important, nowhere in this whole effort does one find a real definition of the problem of poverty or, more accurately, of the many problems which contribute to poverty. No analysis has yet been made of the causes of poverty - of how many persons are made or kept poor by what conditions. Unless these basic causes are identified and measures adopted to attack them, how is poverty to be ended? The intensive analysis of what eliminating poverty entails may never be done if the public accents the "poverty drive" simply on the basis of its emotional appeal. This same principle applies to most areas of government. One crucial function of public opinion in a self-governing democracy is to help improve the quality of administration by reminding agency heads that they need to explain their actions.

All this can best be done by refusing to accept any slogan tag or sales spiel at face value. Like the shrewd shopper, we should figuratively poke the melons, feel the cloth, test the motor - above all, to ask questions and more questions. This exercise in constructive suspicion will not be carried through easily. Some citizens are too lazy to concern themselves with complicated programs, labels and other theatricals. But it is worth remembering that how we react to these things shows which we prefer - a government by salesmen or by thinkers.

Guilt by Inaction

In answer to the one who thinks the world is in such terrible shape. By the way he writes, I doubt if he has observed any of these acts first hand. Our world is not different than centuries ago, there is only more and more people and a better communication system. We used to know only about our own neighborhood, now we view the whole world in our living room.

I wonder if this reader has become personally involved in trying to sponsor teenage activity, in praising those in official capacity who are trying to solve civic problems, of joining groups doing volunteer work with groups of mentally or physically handicapped, of offering hope to those who desperately need it.

Does he personally know unwed mothers having children as a means of support. Childbirth is not that easy or child care. The amount of A, D, C, helps is only enough to barely cover necessities. There certainly is an easier way to make a living.

Has he observed the sadness, the depression of these mothers, when separated from their children by sickness or other problems, having to prove their ability to care for their children, before they again obtain custody of them.

Mothers who are constantly reprimanded by communities who never let them forget their mistakes.

If these happenings upset your reader so much, I'm sure he could not stand to watch American citizens being beaten and trampled as they try to obtain their rightful voting rights.

If he is only observing these acts and not trying to right them, he is as guilty as those who stand and watch another's life being taken.

The sun still rises and sets, the rains come, food grows, people are becoming more educated, have better paying jobs, are working for their brother's welfare.

This man has food on his table and a roof over his head. How well blessed he is!

A Tribute

A tribute to Mary Faulkner. Our nursing home feels a strange loneliness tonight because one of our loved members the "well done, good and faithful member," enters into the joy of the Lord. We are saddened because we have lost a friend.

We extend sympathy to the husband and to the sister who has been so patient in answering Mary's calls and to the children deprived of a mother's care for so long.

Our prayers will go with them and dear Lord be very tender with the little ones.

Wake Up

I quote from an editorial of last week, "Many state schools with Michigan State university in the forefront, have developed a mania for creating vast self-contained empires.

Conservative-thinking taxpayers have known this for years. They have cried from the top of the steeples only to be ignored. Our lawmakers have known this. Our present Governor takes 52% of our tax dollars to continue this drunken, reckless spending.

It would be interesting for some of our taxpayers to drive around the great empire of education in East Lansing. You would wonder where such money comes from. I suppose the people of Ingham county should be more than proud of such an institution for which they are. But waste should not take more from the taxpayer's pocket books.

That is not the only place of waste in Ingham county. Maybe our new Ingham county Penal institution would do well to advertise for some female prisoners. When the Taxpayers have to shell out enough dough every month to pay 3 matrons for the care of one fallen woman and a tremendous payroll for the care of maybe 70 or 80 male prisoners while the patrol cars sit idle for want of help, it is a sad situation. On April 5th the people of this county will be asked to vote for an increase in the millage limitation from 15 mills to 18 mills.

People, I said people wake up before it is too late and you lose all your rights.

There is nobody in Ingham county suffering on our public payrolls but there are a lot of senior citizens wondering what will come next.
