Spring Has Sprung

SPRING OFFICIALLY ARRIVED a week ago, but cold and snow didn't let up for the occasion. This week, however, is a different story. The Sycamore has shed its ice and bubbles forth with a seeming uncontrollable urge to tell the world that spring is really here. This picture was taken looking north towards the Ash street bridge.

Historymobile To Visit Will Stop at Mason

Two Brothers of the Brush and 2 Belles will act as hosts and hostesses for a museum-on-wheels, the Michigan Historical commissions' new Historymobile, which will be coming to Ingham county for a brief visit on April 6 through April 8, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. It will be on display at the former Al Rice building on S. Jefferson in Mason to remind our citizens of their Michigan heritage.

The Historymobile, which is valued at over $50,000, has been developed entirely through the cooperation of numerous Michigan businesses and industries, who contributed all of the equipment and supplies. Fourteen of the state's finest museums cooperated in the preparation of the 19 chronologically arranged displays which illustrate the colorful story of Michigan's development from prehistoric times to the present.

Stubbert Confirmed By Senate

It's official, James Stubbert was confirmed by the United States Senate Monday as Mason postmaster. He has served as acting postmaster for several months since the death of Postmaster Leslie Palmer. Stubbert was born in Pennsylvania. He is an army veteran with overseas duty during World War II in Germany where he was seriously wounded. After discharge from the service he moved to Lansing and then to Mason in 1947. In 1953 he began work as a clerk at the Mason postoffice. Mr. and Mrs. Stubbert have 2 daughters, Jackie and Sherry. They live on Hall boulevard.

Although several other states presently operate similar traveling exhibits, the Michigan unit is the first in the country to feature such an extensive cooperative display according to Solan Weeks, director of the Michigan Historical commission museum and coordinator of the project. The Historymobile is being sent to communities throughout Michigan, free of charge, as a service of the Michigan Historical commission. Local arrangements for the event are under the direction of the Mason area Centennial committee.

Name Pageant

Who is the brightest Belle or Brother of the Brush? The one who names our pageant, that's who. Any chapter or individual may submit names for the historical spectacle at the Mason Centennial headquarters until April 10. The final judging will be done by the Centennial executive board and a mustache cup or a chamber stick will be awarded to the cleverest guy or gal.

Concession Openings

All persons interested in having a concession during centennial week are invited to a meeting with the concession committee at 7:30 Friday evening, April 9, at the centennial headquarters.

Libraries To Receive Trust Grant

Public libraries of Lansing, East Lansing, and Mason have been named by the Ingham County Medical Society to benefit from the money collected during the oral polio immunizations last spring.

The Medical Society is establishing a $15,000 trust fund for the public libraries to be known as the Ingham County Medical Society Library Trust. Each year the interest from the fund will be used to purchase scientific books for the three libraries on the basis of population. The Finance Board of the Society will act as trustees of the library fund.

Voluntary contributions were made by the citizens of Ingham County at the polio clinics held in April, May and June of 1964. The bulk of the money collected was used to pay for the oral vaccine, use of the schools as clinic locations and other necessary supplies for the operation of the clinics. The funds are being returned to the community by the Medical Society through the public libraries.

Budget Airing Is Set

Tuesday night is budget hearing night for the city of Mason. The proposed budget, which has been open for public inspection at the city hall, will face the test of a public hearing and then be turned over to the council for final approval.

It is probable that the outgoing city council will adopt the budget Tuesday night or on the following Monday night before the new city council forms and takes over after the April 5 election. The proposed budget calls for an increase of $42,616 in city spending. The amount to be raised by taxes will be $149,789. This amount will be spread over the city's new valuation figure of $8,032,600 as set by the Mason board of review last week.

Invitations on Way

Mrs. Hugh Bartley of the hospitality committee reports that 1,000 invitations to the Mason Area Centennial have been mailed to former Mason area residents. Of these 1,000 invitations, 343 have found their way into 43 other states and 657 have been sent to 198 different Michigan cities. Nels Ferrily of the Centennial committee announced that a section of the old Al Rice show room will be the official hospitality center.

We'll Be Drinking Chlorine

State Claims Water Is Contaminated

Mason's water supply is in danger. State health department officials notified Mason councilmen Saturday that there is contamination in the city water system.

On orders from the health department the Park street well was shut down. Other steps ordered by the state agency were the immediate chlorination of the complete city system to disinfect the entire system and the flushing out of dead end water lines. Health officials have been leary of the shallow wells in the Mason system for some time, claiming that the possibility was present for contaminated water to get into the system.

Last week the regularly scheduled check of city water samples confirmed the fears.

At the Park street well the bacteriological reading hit 39. At the Cedar Street school 2 samplings also hit 39. At the hospital the sampling hit 15 twice. At the Baptist church the reading was 8.9 and at the city garage the reading was 15 while a sampling taken at the corner of Cedar and Columbia came up with a zero reading.

The chlorination of Mason's water supply may not be permanent, according to Mayor Gilson Pearsall. Once the system is rid of contamination and the source of contamination is found and rectified, the problem may be solved, he pointed out.

Councilmen have realized that there is a water problem and tests are underway right now as a preliminary to developing a deep well on the north edge of town. Drillers are down 250 with a test well.

Cost of chlorination of the water supply isn't going to be a problem. When councilmen ordered equipment for the fluoridation equipment last year they selected a dual purpose type which would allow the chlorination to be done without the addition of added equipment.

City Council Races Take Voter Spotlight

Monday is election time again in Mason and throughout Ingham county.

Most of the interest centers on city races but there is a county-wide proposition awaiting the decision of the voters. There are also several local propositions for the voters to decide. In Mason 6 candidates are trying for the 3 council seats up for grabs.

Those seeking the posts are: Mason Pearsall, 8-year council veteran who has served 2 terms as mayor. He is a Lansing junior high school teacher and is a former teacher and coach at Mason.

Nels Ferrily, former councilman, who is a long-time Mason resident. He is a salesman.

John Hamlin, Mason fireman and postal clerk. Hamlin is a Mason high school product.

Howard Oesterle, life-long Mason resident who taught school in Mason before going to Leslie. He is currently a school principal in the Leslie school system.

Thomas Miller, a physician with offices in Mason and a member of the staff of Mason General hospital.

Vaughn Snook, Mason high school counselor and teacher and former coach, who has been a resident of Mason for several years.

The top 3 vote-getters will get the jobs. On April 12, the 3 newly-elected councilmen will join the holdovers, Loren Shattuck, Richard Morris, Claude Cady and Muri Eastman.

The first order of business on April 12 will be the election of a mayor and mayor pro tem. He will be picked from the council ranks.

Voters will also have a city proposal to consider in Mason. It calls for changing the charter wording to make appointments to the board of supervisors for one-year terms. Currently the charter calls for appointment of the city representatives by the council but specifies no definite term.

The county-wide proposal calls for a fixed millage with specific millage set aside for the townships, county operation, school districts and the intermediate board of education. The ceiling on the millage would be placed at 18 mills if the proposal passes.

The approval of this measure would eliminate the annual hassle before the apportionment board by school districts and the county over splitting the available 15 mills.

Lansing and East Lansing voters are selecting city officials and Lansing voters have another annexation decision to make on a piece of land in Windsor township in Eaton county. In addition there are 2 charter change proposals, a bonding issue, school board candidates, a school bonding issue and other proposals.

East Lansing has a local proposition calling for changing the charter and the compensation for serving on the city council.

No Steam

Dick Morris has a reputation of throwing a hard and fast bowling ball but Sunday night he lost his steam. He wound up and fired his last one and came up with a wierd split but a second look bugged his eyes out. Not only were there pins standing on the alley but there was his bowling ball wedged between the standing pins. Chances of not rolling a bowling ball off the alley are remote but Morris did it. He is doing some body building exercises this week.

Thanks

Mason councilmen threw a going-off-the-job party Monday night for Councilmen Glen Coon and Russell Bement. The affair was at the home of Mayor Gilson Pearsall. Both men who are retiring and did not seek reelection were presented with plaques honoring their services to the city.

Rubinoff and Violin Booked for Mason

Rubinoff and his violin will present a public concert at Mason high school auditorium Thursday, May 27, at 8:15 p.m. The unusual musical event is a project of the Mason Kiwanis club and proceeds from the concert will be used for youth activities.

Rubinoff and his violin—a $100,000 Stradivarius made in 1731—present concerts throughout the country 9 months of the year. Born in Russia, he played a miniature violin at age 5. At 14 he was a graduate of the Warsaw Conservatory. Victor Herbert's early recognition of his talents helped to launch him on his career. John Philip Sousa first introduced him to school assemblies. Will Rogers inspired him, not only to play for students, but to lecture as well.

The magnificent violin of Rubinoff is one of the most precious instruments in the world; a Stradivarius which is insured for $100,000. The Romanoff Stradivarius was made in 1731 by Antonio Stradivari in Cremona, Italy. In time the instrument passed into the hands of the Romanoffs, the reigning family of Russia until the revolution. It disappeared during that time of stress but turned up later in Paris in the possession of a former Russian Prince who had taken the valuable instrument with him when he fled the country.

The violin bears the elaborately engraved and bejeweled coat of arms of the Romanoff family as well as the identification mark of Stradivari and the date.

The instrument is of a deep brownish-red lustre, perfectly formed and developed in all its intricate detail in a manner representative of the best work of the master.

Rubinoff purchased this famous Stradivarius from the Wur-litzer collection in New York in 1928.

Included in the program Rubinoff will present to the Mason audience will be Dance of the Peasant, Clair de Lune, Hora Staccato, Warsaw Concerto, Fly Me to the Moon, Jalouse, Polonaise, When Day is Done, Fiddlin' the Fiddle, Ah Sweet Mystery of Life and Square Dance Fiddlin'.

Tickets Available for Tiger Game Caravan

Tickets which will include transportation to and from the game and reserved seats at the game are available from Bob Jones. Deadline for buying tickets is Saturday, April 24. The Tigers are scheduled to play the Cleveland Indians in an afternoon game. Buses will load in downtown Mason approximately at 11 a.m. Those making the trip are to dress in centennial clothes.

Those interested in making the trip should complete the following coupon and submit it together with cash, check or money order to: Bob Jones, Centennial Ball Game Outing, 427 S. Jefferson, Mason, Mich.

Dear Bob:

With this coupon, you will find _____ to cover the cost of _____ bus-ball game tickets for the Detroit Tiger-Cleveland Indian game on Saturday, May 29. I understand that the ticket price of $6.50 per person covers the entire cost of transportation to and from the game and a reserved seat ticket at the game. Important: Ticket money must be in the hands of Bob Jones not later than April 24.

EXCLUSIVE ! Survey in Mason

What About Teen Drinking ?

How much teen age drinking goes on in Mason? School officials say there is some. Police say there is some. "We pick up several teenagers almost every Saturday night who have liquor in their possession," Chief Tim Stolz said, "but they are mostly kids from other towns." Mason is becoming a Saturday night town for teenagers, the chief points out, "because it is the only place in this area with a teen center."

Most of these outsiders come from Lansing, according to the police. Others come from Leslie, Holt, and even as far away as Ionia. Since January 1, Mason police have arrested 11 teen-agers for center, which, Stolz says, is operated exceptionally well and there is no drinking inside its doors. "The trouble," Stolz said, "comes when certain teen-agers bring beer or liquor to town and drink it in cars on the streets. They don't bring liquor into the center."

Where do they get the liquor? Stolz says several have admitted they acquire it in Ohio towns just across the border from Michigan, especially Toledo. Mason school officials say there is some drinking among certain high school students but Superintendent M. Chandler Nauts places much of the blame for it on the 18 and 20-year old group of students who have either graduated or dropped out of school. "Our biggest problem," he said, "seems to come from the older youths who have little direction to their lives and who are only marginally accepted by their own age group. They find they can gain acceptance from a certain type of younger high school student. This type of student is trying to achieve a maturity beyond his years and satiates this desire by associating with older youths. "These older boys believe that in drinking they acquire a stature in the eyes of the younger ones. And the younger ones feel that in following them, so to speak, they become more manly. "Most of our boys and girls, however, have a strong moral code which they observe. Drinking is not widespread but confined to a small group." Nauts believes that some parents are not teaching their children moral judgment. The schools do what they can, he says, but it is not their primary job. It is the job of the parents, he points out, and some of them are not doing the job, and adds that children who do not learn a true sense of values at home at an early age are very apt to have serious problems in their teens. "Churches could do more if they had a chance," Nauts said, "but they can only help when they come in contact with the young people. When parents do not attend services, children don't either. Parents must lead the way." Teen-age drinking is prevalent throughout Ingham county, Sheriff Kenneth L. Preadmore says, and his department is going to crack down on it. "We have met with police departments and with the prosecutor and we will obtain warrants for all violations of the liquor laws--furnishing, transporting and illegal possession," Preadmore said. "We are interested in stopping this teen-age drinking at its source and will prosecute all adults who furnish liquor to minors. Better than 50 percent of the persons of all ages involved in automobile accidents in Ingham county we find have been drinking." The sheriff also said that liquor can be traced to many of the acts of vandalism in the county. Many teen-agers, he said, obtain their liquor at home. Merchants are keeping a tight rein on liquor sales, but some teen-agers pay adults to buy the liquor for them. "We plan to enforce the liquor laws more stringently than ever before to put a stop to drinking and the unnecessary slaughter on our highways."

Johnson-Barnett Vows Solemnized at Onondaga

Onondaga Community church was the scene of the marriage of Peggy Anne Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Johnson of Onondaga, and J.B. Barnett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Barnett of Stockbridge, Saturday, March 27, at 2 o'clock.

Rev. Jack Short, pastor of the church performed the double-ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a floor-length gown of white elegant peau de sole with an embroidered net bodice and skirt. Her veil of illusion was held secure by a crown of seed pearls topped with rhinestones. She carried a white Bible with a bouquet of white carnations.

Mrs. Larry J. Stetler assisted her sister as the matron of honor and Miss Wanda K. Barnett, a sister of the bridegroom, was the bridesmaid. Their street-length gowns were of pink chiffon with matching net headdress and each carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Vaughn E. Barnett was his brother's best man. Douglas Barnett, brother of the bridegroom, served as groomsmen. Ushers were Larry Stetler, brother-in-law of the bride, and Donald Johnson, brother of the bride.

The flower girl and ringbearer were Beverly and Gregg Barnett, sister and brother of the bridegroom.

Miss Carla Townsend played the traditional wedding music and also accompanied Miss Jeanette Wright who sang Because and The Lord's Prayer.

A reception was held at Onondaga township hall following the ceremony for 100 relatives and friends. The hall was decorated in pink, blue and white crepe paper and accented with white wedding bells.

Mrs. Martha Arbuckle presided at the guest register.

Refreshments of cake, ice cream, coffee and punch were served by Miss Lorraine Taylor, Miss Marilyn Johnson, Miss Rella Bunker and Miss Marion Johnson.

Guests were present from Detroit, Manchester, Grass Lake, Lansing, Leslie, Stockbridge, Eaton Rapids and Onondaga.

Mrs. Barnett chose a black and white 2-piece spring suit for the honeymoon trip to northern Michigan. They will reside at 117 1/2 Main St., Munith, upon their return.

Artist Speaks To Eta Alphas

Eta Alpha chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met at the home of Mrs. Howard McCowan Wednesday evening, March 24. The meeting was co-hosted by Mrs. Leonard Carter. Seventeen members were present.

Gregory Baptist Church Scene of March 26 Rites

Miss Ann Howlett of Howell wore a winter white suit with pink accessories when she became the bride of Charles Jack Potts of Stockbridge Friday, March 26, in an evening ceremony which took place at Gregory Baptist church. Performing the rites was the minister of the church, Rev. Millard Heron. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

An aunt of the bride, Mrs. Neil Denton played traditional wedding selections.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Tom Howlett of Gregory and Charles Potts of Stockbridge.

A sister of the bride, Miss Christine Howlett, donned a suit of navy blue for her duties as maid of honor.

Austin Zimmerman, a friend of the bridegroom, served as best man and seating wedding guests was Edgar Marshall.

After the ceremony a reception was staged in the church fellowship rooms. There a dinner was served to 73 friends and relatives of the couple. Each table was decorated with an arrangement of white lilies and chrysanthemums. Assisting with serving were Miss Shirlee Hodges, Miss Ruth Barbour, Miss Margaret Kunzelman, Miss Elizabeth Ludtke, Miss Dorothy Hanson, Miss Irene Marshall and Miss Reba Marshall. The wedding cake was made by Miss Beatrice Lamborn who also served it to the wedding guests. The dinner was prepared by the Gregory Baptist Ladies Aid.

The bride is a niece of the Stockbridge high school principal, Richard Howlett. She is employed at Howell elementary school. The bridegroom is currently a student at Michigan State university where he will receive his master's degree in June in special education. The bride was graduated from M.S.U. in 1963.

Belles Hear Mrs. Dregar

Mrs. Nila Dregar, general chairman of the woman's division of the Charlotte Centennial, met with the board of governors of the Mason Celebration Belles on Thursday evening, March 25, at centennial headquarters.

Money making is not the main object of Belle chapters, according to Mrs. Dregar. The main object is to have a good time while at the same time boosting Mason and the centennial. Some of the Charlotte Belle chapters had so much fun they are still active 2 years after the celebration ended.

Burgess-Thorburn Rites Spoken in MSU Chapel

In a pretty candlelight wedding Saturday evening in the Alumni Memorial chapel on the Michigan State university campus, Miss Marilyn Anne Burgess of Mason became the bride of Lyle Andrew Thorburn Jr., also of Mason.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Cates of Mason; the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Thorburn Sr., of Mason.

Arrangements of white flowers and candelabra flanked the altar where Dr. Wallace Robertson of People's church, East Lansing, performed the double-ring service.

For her early spring wedding, Miss Burgess chose a gown of silk linen and Venise lace. The fitted bodice was styled with a wide portrait neckline, on which were attached medallions of the Venise lace, as were the bottoms of the elbow-length sleeves. The sheath floor-length skirt included a detachable train which attached to the waist with a bow. The medallions accented the sides and bottom of it.

Miss Burgess designed and made her triple bouffant veil of imported French illusion. The hat was a pillbox of overlapping satin leaves trimmed with tiny seed pearls. The bride carried a cascade arrangement of white miniature carnations and yellow sweetheart roses as she approached the altar with her father, Clarence Burgess, of Lansing.

The couple is at home at 1107H University Village on the Michigan State university campus, where both are seniors. They are also 1961 graduates of Mason high school, of Lansing.

The senior Thorburns entertained members of the wedding party at dinner at Eyer's Steak House in Lansing Friday evening after the rehearsal.

men were David Snook, Lynn Farnsworth, cousin of the bridegroom, and Dale Schering. Ushering guests to their seats were Ronald Burgess, brother of the bride, and James Thorburn, the bridegroom's brother.

Paul Elckmeyer of People's church played appropriate organ selections during the service.

A reception honored the new Mr. and Mrs. Thorburn immediately after the ceremony in the chapel lounge. Miss Mary Wasson of Mason was hostess at the reception. Those who assisted in serving the wedding cake, punch, coffee, mints and nuts were Mrs. George VanAmburg of Mason, Mrs. David Cox of Detroit, Miss Kathy Brown of Mason, and Mrs. Wilfred Wardowski of East Lansing.

Miss Virginia Kent of Kalamazoo and Miss Mary Thorburn of Mason, sister of the bridegroom, presided at the guest register. During the reception, Bruce Cates, brother of the bride, and Joy and David Thorburn, sister and brother of the bridegroom, passed individually wrapped rice packets to the guests.

For their honeymoon to Detroit, Mrs. Thorburn wore a yellow wool suit and brown accessories.

The couple is at home at 1107H University Village on the Michigan State university campus, where both are seniors. They are also 1961 graduates of Mason high school, of Lansing.

The senior Thorburns entertained members of the wedding party at dinner at Eyer's Steak House in Lansing Friday evening after the rehearsal.

Stockbridge Man Claims Ishpeming Girl As Bride

Wesley Methodist church in Ishpeming was the setting for the March 13 wedding which united Miss Rita Mary Lindquist of Ishpeming and Jerry Lee Beauchamp of K.L. Sawyer air force base in marriage. Mr. and Mrs. Owen Lindquist of 139 Excelsior street, Ishpeming, are the parents of the bride and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Ted Beauchamp and the late Mr. Beauchamp of Stockbridge.

The bride, with her father, approached the altar in a floor-length gown fashioned with a chantilly lace bodice featuring a scalloped scoop neckline and long fitted sleeves. The bouffant skirt of organza was highlighted with lace appliques and lace edging in front. The detachable train fell from the shoulders and was edged in the same lace motifs as the skirt. Her forward headpiece of organza rosebuds boasted a bouffant French illusion veil. She carried an arm bouquet of 2 dozen yellow roses.

Performing the rites was the pastor of the church, Rev. Eric S. Hammar.

Mrs. Wayne Johnson of Ann Arbor, sister of the bride, was her matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Dennis Bluhm and Miss Nancy Richter of Ishpeming and Mrs. Dennis Krulac of Negaunee. All the attendants were gown in floor-length gowns of organza fashioned with embroidered bodices, scoop necklines, empire waists and elbow-length sleeves. Each gown was enhanced by a court train which fell from a bow at the waistline of the sheath skirt. Each wore a forward headpiece of an organza rosebud which held a short bouffant veil. Their bouquets were of white carnations and yellow rosebuds.

Attending the bridegroom as best man was his brother-in-law, Lee Redinger of Wausau, Wisconsin. Groomsmen were Larry Hope, Jerry Edwards and James Heard of K.L. Sawyer air force

Many Greet C. Howes on Anniversary

Nearly 90 friends, neighbors and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Howes of Leslie gathered at Leslie Grange hall Sunday to attend the open house given in honor of the couple's 50th wedding anniversary. The event was given by the Howes' children, Mr. and Mrs. Kendall Howe, Donald Howe and family, Mr. and Mrs. Oris Howe, Mr. and Mrs. Norris Howe and Mrs. Reginald (Marilyn) Meyer all of Leslie.

For the event the serving table was centered with a decorated anniversary cake. Other refreshments were also served.

The couple received many gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Howe were married March 7, 1915.

Engagement Announced At Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. Cassius Shaft of Holt announced the engagement of their daughter, Jacklyn Dawn Shaft of Cambridge, Massachusetts, to S. Stephen Rosenfield of Cambridge, Massachusetts, at a family dinner party, which took place at the Walt Koss Colonial restaurant at Williamston recently.

The bride-elect is a graduate of the University of Michigan and the bridegroom-to-be of Brown university. Mr. Rosenfield, now a senior at Harvard law school, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rosenfield, Milford, Massachusetts. A June 19 wedding is being planned.

Study Club Tours Europe

Mason Junior Child Study club members met at the home of Mrs. Frank Schmidt in Lansing March 24.

Program for the evening were slides of Europe shown by Mrs. Madge Kennedy who traveled there last summer. Pins were discussed concerning a belle chapter to be formed by the group and for the spring planning meeting.

One guest, Mrs. Dale McCalla, was present.

Refreshments of coffee and cake were served by the hostess. The next meeting will be April 21 at the home of Mrs. Terry Clark.

Holt Couple Exchanges Vows in Saturday Ceremony

Miss Pamela Joanne Reynolds and Dennis Lee Farrell were married Saturday, March 27, at Christ Methodist church in Lansing. Miss Reynolds is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Reynolds of Holt. The bridegroom, who formerly attended Michigan State university, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. N.H. Baker of Holt.

For the ceremony, Miss Reynolds chose a satin gown applique with lace and designed with a portrait neckline and chapel train. Her wedding bouquet was of white chrysanthemums and pink roses.

Miss Judith Christine Gilliam was maid of honor and she wore a pink brocaded sheath with a detachable overskirt for her duties. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and pink roses. Bridesmaids, identically gowned, were Miss Connie Smith of Holt and Mrs. Daniel Reynolds, sister-in-law of the bride.

Dale Nuoffer of Holt was best man and groomsmen were Daniel Shotwell and Daniel Eugene Reynolds, brother of the bride. Ushers were Lee Mitchell Halstead of Holt and Robert Etherton of Holt.

The bride's brother, Joseph Lynn Reynolds, was in charge of the gifts.

Edward Howeses To Be Honored

The children of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Howes will honor them on the occasion of their 50th wedding anniversary at an open house Sunday, April 11. The event will be staged at Eagle town hall from 2 until 5 p.m.

All friends, neighbors and relatives of the honored couple are invited to attend.

Special wedding guests were the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Sally Reynolds, and the bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. Angie Baker.

After a brief honeymoon, the newlyweds will make their home in Portland.

Mason Junior Play Scheduled To Open Thursday

By HOLLY HILL
 Mason High School
 The annual Junior play will be presented on April 1 and 2 at the high school. The play, "Everything's on Ice," is a farce in 3 acts written by Camilla McLaren Summers.

The play opens with Mr. and Mrs. Foley, played by Steve Barnard and Mary Peek, leaving on a convention trip. Bedlam breaks out shortly after they have left when the Foleys' daughters try to rent their parents' room. Utter confusion begins when too

Future Homemakers Install Officers

By RUTH CAMP
 Stockbridge High School
 At their meeting last Thursday, the Future Homemakers of America installed their officers for the coming year.

The meeting was opened with the reading of the F.H.A. Creed. Then the names of the newly elected officers were announced by Sue Frye. Each officer, accompanied by her escort went to the front, lit a candle and explained the duties of their office. Before returning to their seats each officer was presented with a rose.

The officers are: Carol Craft, president; Sue Stiffer, vice-president; Sue Bradley, secretary; Sandy Moffat, treasurer; Vickie Nagley, corresponding secretary; and Karlene Grosshans, historian. Ushers were Jo Ann Sutliff, Joan Lovings, Sandy Stoffer, Wanda Cole and Inez King.

Glenna Simonds accepted a rose for Karlene Grosshans who was unable to attend because of illness.

Vickie Nagley was awarded a cookbook for her efforts in selling over $120 worth of F.H.A. cook books.

 The meeting was followed by a dinner for all members.

Juniors To Present 'The Perfect Idiot'

"The Perfect Idiot," a comedy in 3 acts, will be presented by the Stockbridge Junior class April 1 and 2 at 8 p.m. in the old gym. Tim Howlett is the lead as Dan, boy-wonder and also perfect idiot.

Other members of the cast include Debbie Stephens, Dave Myer, Carol Lukenich, Jim Gibney, Rob Sooy, Tim Howlett, Bob Stephens, Carol Robinson, Marilyn Boyce, Sharon Frey, Royal Klingler, Linda Conley, Gary Stowe, Wendell Jarrell, Sandra Caudill and Dawn Streets.

While the actors have been concentrating on learning lines, committees on all aspects of the production have been hard at work. The set committee: Junior Wireman, Jim Lindstrom, Dennis Dixon, Judy Clark, and Janice Yerks have been working on building the set and making it look like a living room. Everyone from the set committee to the makeup committee helped hang wallpaper.

Sharon Holloway, press agent, has made posters and more posters. Barbara Clark, Nancy Trapp and Judy Rachow have assisted her in publicizing the play. Six girls volunteered to get all needed props for the production. Sharon Bristow, Kathy Sweet, Susan Biehn, Beverly Dixon and Bonnie Greenmeyer have found everything from hypnotic boxes to wigs for the cast.

Barb Prater promises to see to it that all in the cast look the part they are playing. Assisting her in the makeup department will be Bonnie Teach-many people try to move into the room.

During activity period several Prom committees assembled to report their progress. The invitation, refreshment and ticket committees met during the first half of the period and then the chairman of these committees met with Mrs. Jo Oesterle for a combined meeting.

Visions tests were given to the members of the sophomore class Wednesday.

The Square Dance club had a dance on Wednesday evening in the high school cafeteria from 7 to 9.

The second issue of the Hi-Life, the school paper, was sold on Thursday at noon and after school.

The Mason chapter of the Future Farmers of America met Monday night to choose next year's officers. Those elected were: Dave Droscha, president; Clare Everett, vice-president; Alan Droscha, treasurer; and Doug Shaw, secretary. The F.F.A. members also chose Bill Sherwood and Bill Rodgers as delegates to the state F.F.A. convention.

The Mason high school band is busy practicing for the oncoming state band festival. The band qualified for this chance by receiving a first division rating at the district festival, and will now compete on April 10 for state honors.

"I'll see you soon!"

The seniors are out in full force earning money for their senior trip. Their latest project is selling candy. They have 3 kinds and the price is one dollar per box, forty cents of which is their profit. The Washington club hopes to make at least $240 for their trip to Washington in May. As of March 26, Jean Dickinson was the top seller with $9 turned in and orders for 26 more boxes.

Last week a television set was put in the old gym at the high school to permit students to watch the Gemini space shot and also the landing of the Ranger rocket on the moon. Since all students couldn't be in the gym at the time of the space shot, radio announcements were broadcast over the public address system to all classrooms.

Jr. High News

By NANCY BROWN
 Friday morning at 10:00 students gathered in the auditorium for an honors assembly. The National Junior Honor Society, Sycamore Chapter, greeted 42 new members representing the seventh, eighth and ninth grades. Officers spoke to the new members and the students and teachers.

Friday, April 2, the honor society will have a reception for the new members and parents. Tuesday noon there was an honor society meeting. Advisors are Mrs. Louis Stid, Mrs. Joseph Spicuzza and Mrs. Paul Richards. At the assembly the members were presented certificates by principal Don Edgington, banners by Carol Fogle, Kathy Phillips, Jean Gilpin and Diane Peterson. Mrs. Spicuzza and Mrs. Richards presented the members with gold pins.

Student council officers and committees met Wednesday noon. Next week will be a full council meeting.

The junior high would like to thank Mrs. Virginia Birney for substituting for Mrs. Virginia McBride. Mrs. Birney took over for Mrs. McBride over a month ago when Mrs. McBride was stricken with pneumonia. We're glad to see Mrs. McBride back but we'll miss Mrs. Birney.

As the second semester rolls in, so do nice student teachers. Students are making them welcome. The teachers are student teaching in civics, history, music, and special education.

Mrs. Sid's ninth grade civics classes are spending 2 weeks on the newspaper. The Visual Education Center, Dubuque, Iowa in co-operation with the Lansing State Journal are furnishing each student with a free daily State Journal for 2 weeks. See you next week!

Jim Oesterle Wins MVP Award at Williamston

By LINDA LOWRIE
 Williamston High School
 An awards assembly was held during the sixth period last Friday, March 26. At this assembly cheerleaders, cheerleaders and the basketball players were presented their awards and given recognition for their fine work throughout the season.

Jim Oesterle was awarded "most valuable" trophy for the Hornet cagers, and Mike McNeilly was named the most improved player of the season, and also awarded a trophy.

Jim is a Senior, and Mike is a Junior.

George Eaton, a sophomore, was named the most valuable wrestler of the season, and Bob Maier, a senior, was selected as most improved.

The cheerleaders were also recognized for their work and undying enthusiasm and spirit throughout the year. Mrs. Lueck, advisor of the group presented them with their awards. For the girls on the first year Junior Varsity squad, a certificate was awarded. The girls in their second year on the J.V. squad, were presented a pin and certificate. All members of the Varsity squad received a pin and certificate.

Cheerleading tryouts are set for April 5 and 6, and practices began this last week. This year the girls again will have to make up an original cheer and do 2 others. The contestants will be judged by faculty members on pose, movement, facial expression, and "contact".

The F.H.A. met last Tuesday and the dance scheduled for April 23 was the main topic of discussion. The girls decided to make it somewhat like a Sadie Hawkins dance, with the girls taking out the boys for the evening. Also discussed was the treasury and a "problem" of too much money. A committee was appointed to decide what to do with the money. Suggestions presented to the committee were that something be bought for the school or for the city.

Attendance was good at a dance at the Brook Hollow Country club last Saturday night. More than 90 tickets were sold.

Mike McNeilly and Ates Omicar, Mike's "brother" from Turkey and AFS exchange student at Williamston, went to a dance at Eaton Rapids last Friday night, as guests of the Eaton Rapids AFS chapter.

Things are at a lull at the present time at WHS - right between spring vacation, track, the senior play, the junior-senior prom and banquet and the presentation of the '65 Hornet. Also coming up in the near future is graduation for the seniors, and senior trip, and many "last time" things.

DC&W Group Has Guest

D. C. and W. Extension group of Holt met at the home of Mrs. Lionel Moore Thursday, March 18. Arlynn Gantz, an artist who does background work for commercials for television station W.J.L.M. was guest of honor. He showed movies of the southern part of Germany through Switzerland into Central Italy, and also of Paris, England, the Netherlands and Rome.

Other guests were Miss Judy Gantz, Mrs. Richard Jindra, Mrs. Joe Matthysen of Phillips 12, Mrs. Donald Kern, Mrs. Russell Burghy and Mrs. Ben Arend Jr.

New members joining were Mrs. James Rowe and Mrs. Jack Gee.

The lesson on weight reduction was deferred until another meeting.

Students Watch Gemini Blast Off

By CHERI RUEST
 Dansville High School
 Tuesday was a busy and exciting day at Dansville high school. The students in the last period study hall watched the blast off of the Gemini II space craft, the "Molly Brown" on a portable television. Students who were in other classes at the time listened to the flight of the craft on transistor radios.

Another event which took place Tuesday was the dismissal of school at 12:30, because of a snow storm which hit the area.

Sharon Bissell, president of the Dansville F.H.A. chapter, announced to all the students that the goal of the Barb Hicks' fund, which was sponsored by the chapter, had been reached. The goal, which was set at $100 was exceeded by $6.77, making the total amount collected $106.77. Sharon thanked the entire student body for its cooperation in making the fund a great success.

Wednesday, during the 2nd period, all the Senior high students of Dansville high saw a film entitled "I'm 20,000". The film, which has been shown in schools throughout Ingham county, showed the relationship between lung cancer and cigarette smoking. The film made quite an impression on the students.

The junior high students saw the film during the 3rd period Wednesday.

Chris Galbreath, president of the student council, announced Thursday that the newly revised Dansville high school constitution was posted on bulletin boards throughout the school. Chris urged all the students to look over the constitution before they vote on it later in April.

Open House Fetes Youth

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Mazurek of Holt entertained at an openhouse Sunday afternoon to honor their son, John, who partook of his first Holy Communion Saturday morning at the Immaculate Heart of Mary church in Lansing.

Special guests at the openhouse were Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Mitchell Jr. of Lansing, grandparents, and Mrs. Dorcas Stott of Holt, grandmother of the guest of honor. Forty-seven other relatives and friends were present from Woodland, Oxford, Detroit, Dearborn Heights, Holt and Lansing.

White carnations and angel candles decorated the table. Individual cake squares topped with a cross were served by the hostess at the buffet dinner.

Ingham County News readers may remember the Mazurek youth who suffered quite an ordeal last fall when he fell from a tree.

Garden Club Sees Dahlias

The Mr. and Mrs. Yard and Garden club of Dansville met at the home of Miss Maxine Fay of rural Mason Friday night, March 26. Of the 15 present 3 were visitors.

A business meeting was held at which time the proposed copy of the year's programs was passed around for approval and accepted as planned.

Following the business meeting, which was in charge of the chairman, Mrs. A.O. Greenough, Leland Perrine Sr. showed slides of a dahlia farm which he had visited. Many varieties of dahlias were shown many of which are new.

At the close of the meeting the hostess served refreshments of pie alamide, tea and coffee.

Seniors To Present 'Man Called Peter'

By PAT MARTIN
 Holt High School
 HOLT - The Senior Play "A Man Called Peter," will be presented Friday and Saturday nights April 2 and 3.

The cast includes Bob Hoffman, Linda DeBuxon, Connie Buxton, Vickie Hake, Geoff James, Joyce Kahre, Don Moore, Kay Shaft, Jay Dannelley, Jackie Adams, Zana Steuwer, Bob Williams, Lynn Krelnor, Karen Blankenship, and Julie Barker.

Committee chairmen are: Kathy Reynolds, tickets; Penny Lovejoy, publicity; Penny Stocckel, stage crew; Fran Koster, props; and Gloria Graves, program and ushers.

Athletic teams have been busy this last week as they are starting to prepare for the spring sports which will be starting soon. The varsity baseball team this year will be coached by Dan Hovanessian, the track team by James Green, and the reserve baseball team by William Peden. Because of the wintry weather they must hold practice in the gym.

The sophomore class potluck dinner was a great success. The dinner was good and students and parents seemed to enjoy the entertainment. Mr. Murphy, a member of the driving education committee in the state spoke and showed a movie. He discussed such matters as driving while under the influence of alcohol, driving at night and driving too fast for conditions. The movie was taken at General Motors testing grounds.

The class chose 3 boys as candidates for Michigan State Boys State. From the three boys chosen the teachers and administration will choose one to go. Don Houghtaling, Terry Rouse, and Jim Bobzien were chosen.

The class also looked over its budget and decided how much money to spend on their prom.

Friday was a busy day for many members of the senior class. Equipment was set up so refreshments could be served at the wrestling match. Many final things had to be done, such as setting up the gym, collecting money from tickets and everything else. Everyone who attended the wrestling match enjoyed this entertainment.

Not much has been going on except the regular practices of the athletic teams. Competition in these sports will start soon but until then not much will happen except practices.

"Pat"
 The dinner was climaxed by the serving of 3 decorated birthday cakes each for the 2 girls and one for the fathers.

Family Dinner Fetes Birthdays

Sunday, March 21, Mr. and Mrs. John Cause of Leslie entertained at a family potluck dinner in honor of the birthday anniversaries of their fathers, Leon Cause of Leslie and H.S. Pulver of Mason, and their 2 daughters, Sheryl and Susie Cause.

Thirty-eight were present for the family event and they were Mr. and Mrs. Leon Cause and Judy of Leslie, Mr. and Mrs. George Cause and family of Eaton Rapids, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Gray and David of Sparta, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Helms and family of Tecumseh, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Pulver of East Lansing and Mr. and Mrs. H.S. Pulver, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Pulver and family, Harold Pulver and Miss Kathy Morris all of Mason.

Leon Cause and H.S. Pulver celebrated their birthday anniversaries March 20; Sheryl Cause's birthday was March 6 when she was 8 and her sister, Susie, was 6 on March 17.

The dinner was climaxed by the serving of 3 decorated birthday cakes each for the 2 girls and one for the fathers.

The guests of honor received many gifts.

Rev. York Speaks to Holt Club

Rev. Bill York, pastor of Holt Sycamore Street Baptist church, spoke at the March meeting of Holt Child Study club last week. His topic was Knowing Yourself. He stated that the topic is the first step in helping to solve one's problems and family relationships.

During the business session the group discussed plans to attend the state spring conference of Child Study clubs April 28 at Grass Lake and voted to meet at Andy's restaurant near Charlotte for the May installation banquet of the local club.

Dr. Maurice Pernert, superintendent of Holt public schools will speak to the group at their April 21 meeting. His topic will be Education, the Ticket to Tomorrow.

The annual election of officers for 1965-66 will be held at the next meeting.

Co-hostesses for the March meeting were Mrs. Gale Lott and Mrs. Bernard Hope.

Eden UB's To Break Ground

Spotlight will be on youth Sunday, April 4, at Eden United Brethren church when the youth of the church will climax the Sunday school hour with a special program.

Another special service will climax the morning worship hour April 4 when ground for the church's new sanctuary and educational facility will be broken. As soon as weather permits the structure will be started.

This week will be the fifth week in the six week contest being staged for the Sunday school of the church. In addition to being a local contest to boost Sunday school attendance, the church is also participating in a conference Sunday school contest simultaneously.

Last Sunday was Mission Sunday during the Sunday school hour and Rev. Bill Smith, a minister from Honduras presently furthering his studies at Huntington college, Huntington, Indiana, spoke during the Sunday school hour and also during the morning worship hour. On Saturday night Rev. Smith was speaker at a dinner at an East Lansing restaurant which was attended by the young married couple's class of the church.

Following Palm Sunday and Easter Sunday, April 25 has been set for old-fashioned day at the church. Fashioned day at the church, parashoners are invited to wear old-fashioned attire and bring for display any antique items they may have. After the worship hour there will be a potluck family dinner followed by a 3 p.m. service.

Seniors To Present 'Man Called Peter'

By PAT MARTIN
 Holt High School
 HOLT - The Senior Play "A Man Called Peter," will be presented Friday and Saturday nights April 2 and 3.

The cast includes Bob Hoffman, Linda DeBuxon, Connie Buxton, Vickie Hake, Geoff James, Joyce Kahre, Don Moore, Kay Shaft, Jay Dannelley, Jackie Adams, Zana Steuwer, Bob Williams, Lynn Krelnor, Karen Blankenship, and Julie Barker.

Committee chairmen are: Kathy Reynolds, tickets; Penny Lovejoy, publicity; Penny Stocckel, stage crew; Fran Koster, props; and Gloria Graves, program and ushers.

Athletic teams have been busy this last week as they are starting to prepare for the spring sports which will be starting soon. The varsity baseball team this year will be coached by Dan Hovanessian, the track team by James Green, and the reserve baseball team by William Peden. Because of the wintry weather they must hold practice in the gym.

The sophomore class potluck dinner was a great success. The dinner was good and students and parents seemed to enjoy the entertainment. Mr. Murphy, a member of the driving education committee in the state spoke and showed a movie. He discussed such matters as driving while under the influence of alcohol, driving at night and driving too fast for conditions. The movie was taken at General Motors testing grounds.

The class chose 3 boys as candidates for Michigan State Boys State. From the three boys chosen the teachers and administration will choose one to go. Don Houghtaling, Terry Rouse, and Jim Bobzien were chosen.

The class also looked over its budget and decided how much money to spend on their prom.

Friday was a busy day for many members of the senior class. Equipment was set up so refreshments could be served at the wrestling match. Many final things had to be done, such as setting up the gym, collecting money from tickets and everything else. Everyone who attended the wrestling match enjoyed this entertainment.

Not much has been going on except the regular practices of the athletic teams. Competition in these sports will start soon but until then not much will happen except practices.

Family Dinner Fetes Birthdays

Sunday, March 21, Mr. and Mrs. John Cause of Leslie entertained at a family potluck dinner in honor of the birthday anniversaries of their fathers, Leon Cause of Leslie and H.S. Pulver of Mason, and their 2 daughters, Sheryl and Susie Cause.

Thirty-eight were present for the family event and they were Mr. and Mrs. Leon Cause and Judy of Leslie, Mr. and Mrs. George Cause and family of Eaton Rapids, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Gray and David of Sparta, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Helms and family of Tecumseh, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Pulver of East Lansing and Mr. and Mrs. H.S. Pulver, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Pulver and family, Harold Pulver and Miss Kathy Morris all of Mason.

Leon Cause and H.S. Pulver celebrated their birthday anniversaries March 20; Sheryl Cause's birthday was March 6 when she was 8 and her sister, Susie, was 6 on March 17.

The dinner was climaxed by the serving of 3 decorated birthday cakes each for the 2 girls and one for the fathers.

The guests of honor received many gifts.

Rev. York Speaks to Holt Club

Rev. Bill York, pastor of Holt Sycamore Street Baptist church, spoke at the March meeting of Holt Child Study club last week. His topic was Knowing Yourself. He stated that the topic is the first step in helping to solve one's problems and family relationships.

During the business session the group discussed plans to attend the state spring conference of Child Study clubs April 28 at Grass Lake and voted to meet at Andy's restaurant near Charlotte for the May installation banquet of the local club.

Dr. Maurice Pernert, superintendent of Holt public schools will speak to the group at their April 21 meeting. His topic will be Education, the Ticket to Tomorrow.

The annual election of officers for 1965-66 will be held at the next meeting.

Co-hostesses for the March meeting were Mrs. Gale Lott and Mrs. Bernard Hope.

Eden UB's To Break Ground

Spotlight will be on youth Sunday, April 4, at Eden United Brethren church when the youth of the church will climax the Sunday school hour with a special program.

Another special service will climax the morning worship hour April 4 when ground for the church's new sanctuary and educational facility will be broken. As soon as weather permits the structure will be started.

This week will be the fifth week in the six week contest being staged for the Sunday school of the church. In addition to being a local contest to boost Sunday school attendance, the church is also participating in a conference Sunday school contest simultaneously.

Last Sunday was Mission Sunday during the Sunday school hour and Rev. Bill Smith, a minister from Honduras presently furthering his studies at Huntington college, Huntington, Indiana, spoke during the Sunday school hour and also during the morning worship hour. On Saturday night Rev. Smith was speaker at a dinner at an East Lansing restaurant which was attended by the young married couple's class of the church.

Following Palm Sunday and Easter Sunday, April 25 has been set for old-fashioned day at the church. Fashioned day at the church, parashoners are invited to wear old-fashioned attire and bring for display any antique items they may have. After the worship hour there will be a potluck family dinner followed by a 3 p.m. service.

Mason Host 4-H Style Show

Junior Leaders, in Centennial dress, commented for the Ingham county spring 4-H style revue "Fashions A' Poppin'" at the Mason senior high school, Saturday, March 27.

Sweaters, knit coats, sports outfits, dresses, formals, tailored suits and coats, all were modeled by more than 160 4-H members, 14 years of age or over, with nearly 50 younger 4-H members selected as an honor group from the area style revues.

Centennial Belles commentating for the revue were: Kathy and Sue Cooper, and Cathy Downey of Sandhill 4-H club; Angel Northrup, Skeeter Hill 4-H club; Barbara and Joette Scheffer, Mason City Slickers, and Patty Smith, Bunker 4-H club, all from Mason; Diane Faulkner, Grand Valley 4-H club, Eaton Rapids; Susan Good, K and S 4-H club, East Lansing; and Sue Jankoviak, Bishopettes, Lansing.

Outstanding 4-H members in clothing and knitting were selected to participate in the state show clothing and knitting program at the Student Union Building, at Michigan State university August 31-September 2.

The Senior 4-H delegates, 14 years of age or older, attend a state show for the entire week and take part in the daily revues and educational programs.

The Senior Clothing winners were: Sandra Bailey, Canaan Lumberjacks, Mason; Susan Good, K and S, East Lansing; Barbara Scheffer, Mason City Slickers, Mason, Alternate winner from East Lansing is Cindy Cretcher, K and S 4-H club.

Senior Knitting winners were Laura Raymond, Skeeter Hill, Mason, and Donna Tabackki, White Oak, Webberville. The alternate delegate is Marilyn Boyce, Happy Hustlers of Stockbridge.

The Junior 4-H delegates attend the state show only one day to receive special recognition and attend the educational revue program. The public is also invited to these revue programs each day.

were Kathy Christiansen, Wheatfield 4-H club, Williamston; Jeaneen Blood, Mason City Slickers, Mason; and Sara Good, K and S club, East Lansing.

Junior Knitters who will attend State Show are: Linda Newman, Skeeter Hill, Mason, and Diane VanOstran, Vantown 4-H Club of Webberville. Alternate delegate is Lawrence Raymond of Skeeter Hill, Mason.

4-H members learn to knit and make their own garments, plan their clothing wardrobe, buy wisely, and they learn about yarns and fabrics and their use and care in their 4-H clothing and knitting project work. 4-H is open to all interested boys and girls 10-18 years of age. The program is under the leadership of local volunteer adults. For more information, contact the Cooperative Extension Service, Mason.

Car Crashes, Stockbridge Man Dies

A stockbridge man met death in a 3-car crash on highway US-27 - M-78 4 miles north of Dimondale about 3 miles east of Lansing last Saturday night.

The victim was Joseph Paul Butler, 22, of 2300 Catholic Church road, Stockbridge.

According to Sheriff Elwyn J. Smith of Eaton county, Butler was driving from the east on Millett highway and turned into highway US-27. He made the turn southwesterly into the northeast bound lane instead of the southwest bound lane and was hit head on.

In the 2nd car involved in the crash were Gene Reinhart, 30, the driver, and Henry Brewer, 29, a passenger, both of Lansing. In the 3rd car involved was Robert F. Young of Lansing, the driver. Young and his passengers escaped injury. Reinhart and Brewer were treated for minor injuries at St. Lawrence hospital.

Butler, a veteran of the Korean war, was born in Detroit January 6, 1932. He served in the U.S. navy aboard the USS Matfeh during the Korean conflict. He was employed by the Motor Wheel corporation in Lansing.

On January 21, 1956 he married Joan Dakley, who survives him, along with 4 children, Renee Roberta, Lori Jo, Bret Anthony and Fawn Marie, and his foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Quinn of Stockbridge.

Funeral services were Wednesday morning at the SS Cornelius and Cyprian church at Bunker Hill. A firing squad from the Mackinder-Glenn post of the American Legion provided a military salute. Burial was in the church cemetery.

Weather

At last! Eleven days after the arrival of spring, the weatherman was able to announce today that it is going to be warmer.

Temperatures during the next 5 days will average 2 to 4 degrees above the normal high of 47 to 53 and the normal low of 28 to 34, the forecast issued by the U.S. Weather Bureau in Lansing today. During the period there will be a gradual warming trend with about a half inch of rain likely Saturday or Sunday.

It will be partly cloudy and not so cold tonight with the temperature in the high 40's.

Temperatures in Mason during the past week averaged 24 degrees as compared to 27 degrees for the same week a year ago. Precipitation during the week totalled .18 of an inch.

DAV Is Unhappy Over VA Hospital Closings

National Commander William G. Dwyer of the Disabled Veterans again urged President Johnson and the Congress Friday to postpone indefinitely the close of 32 Veterans Administration facilities, including 11 hospitals.

The commander of the 215,000-member organization of wartime disabled veterans also asked the President to issue an administration policy statement "as to the future of veterans' programs in this country."

Disabled veterans will be hit hardest by this slash in services, said the DAV Commander. "If we felt that this was a dire economic necessity we would, as good members of this great American society, do what we could, as we did during the time of war, to come to the aid and assistance of our country," Commander Dwyer emphasized that disabled veterans deserve him of food is good for him because medical facts show that certain foods are harmful," said Dwyer. "We cannot understand how depriving services to the disabled veteran can be of help to him."

The DAV Commander pointed out that wartime disabled veterans have a kind of investment in the welfare of our nation that can be matched by no other group... "for what greater investment can an individual make than a part of his physical well-being."

Commander Dwyer charged that "the human factor has been disregarded completely" in the Administration decision to close the 32 VA facilities.

"Is this the 'Great Society'?" Are we to become so callous and indifferent to human suffering that we are no longer concerned with the individual and our only concern will be for the benefit of a great machine?"

The proposed VA closings are a major departure from the Government's historic policy of granting special recognition to men who served their country in time of war, said Dwyer.

Bill Parsons Heads Special Events Group

One of the primary reasons for having a centennial is for having fun. The special events division, with Bill Parsons as general chairman, has the responsibility of seeing how much fun can be crowded into the 8 days of the celebration week. This committee will manage all centennial public events and coordinate the daily events.

On Monday and Tuesday of centennial week, Mason merchants will again hold the annual old-fashioned bargain days sidewalk sale. Louis Lee is in charge of the merchants' promotion committee.

Jerry McKinley is at the head of the historical window committee. A contest will be arranged for fourth, fifth and sixth grade school children with prizes awarded to the ones bringing in the most antiques to be used as window displays during centennial week.

It is also part of McKinley's responsibility to encourage all Mason merchants to dress up their establishments with red, white and blue flags along with the official Centennial Seal. Decorations to match the store fronts are being planned for lamp posts by the Centennial committee.

The parades committee under the direction of John McCowan, is planning a parade for Saturday, June 19. This parade will last approximately 2 hours.

Among the marching bands will be the national champion V.F.W. band and the Lansing Shrine band, also a champion. A marine color guard from Lansing and the Jackson Zouaves drill team will also join in the celebration.

Mason area residents will have an opportunity to take part in the parade festivities. Many of the Brush chapters and Brothers of the Brush chapters are planning floats and other organizations are invited to participate. Warren Emrick is in charge of the music committee. It will be his duty to furnish vocal groups for any centennial occasion, amateur or professional... if the budget allows. Other musical ideas are still in the planning stages. Ideas such as roving troubadours for merchant nights.

The special days committee is headed by Charles Emmit. This committee will start out the festivities on Saturday, June 19, with recognition day, Sunday will be Faith of Our Fathers day with celebration observances in all Mason churches. An inter-denominational Freedom of Religion meeting will be held in the evening.

Pioneer and Homecoming day will be celebrated on Monday, Tuesday is to be Young Ameri-

Holt Pupils Pay Visit To Inkster

HOLT - Sixty boys and girls from Mrs. Karen Gann's and Mrs. Margaret Livensparger's sixth grade at Midway school in Holt boarded Greyhound buses early last Thursday morning for an exciting adventure in learning with the 5th and 6th grade students at Parkwood elementary school in Inkster.

This visit was part of the exchange program 3 years ago between Joseph Butler's students in Inkster and Mrs. Livensparger's students.

Upon the students' arrival at Parkwood they were greeted by Cyrus Brown and his committee, and taken to the multipurpose room where friendships begun last fall when Inkster visited Holt were renewed. After a short session for visiting, all the children settled down for an exchange of learning.

The 6th grade students from Parkwood presented a portion of the story "The Twelve Princesses" using marionettes they had made in art classes.

Boys and girls from Midway sang several Irish songs for the group. Douglas Ward played a piano solo. A brass quartet, Dean Brown, Roger Covell, Ken Hoffman, and Eric Trull, played "America." The woodwind section of the sixth grade band played "An Evening Hymn."

David Marcus closed Midway's part of the exchange by playing "My Wild Irish Rose" on his accordion.

Mrs. Wilzetta Brown, principal of Parkwood, greeted the teachers and students from both schools and introduced Elina Michelson, superintendent of Inkster public schools, and Mrs. Kathryn Muir, Elementary Curriculum Director.

The adventure in learning ended with several interesting science demonstrations by 5th grade students of Parkwood.

Students from Midway were taken on a tour of Parkwood by their friends.

Lunch was served to the group by the room mothers from Parkwood.

After lunch all the children visited the city hall, fire department, and police department in Inkster.

All too soon it was time to return to Holt, but the experiences will be long remembered.

The group was accompanied to Inkster by J.C. Swix, Mrs. Virginia Wagner, and Mrs. Lennan from Mrs. Gann's room.

Mrs. Norman Covell, Mrs. Robert Trull, Mrs. Donald Campbell, Mrs. Milton Gruhn, and Mrs. John Hogarth went with Mrs. Livensparger's group.

The cast is comprised of Mr. Campbell, Bill Strait; Mrs. Campbell, Jane King; Alice Foley, Jean Ann Roe; Jane Foley, Linda Johnston; John Foley, Steve Barnard; Jeanette Foley, Mary Peck; Don Foley, Barry Vanderveen; Gunda, Vicki Lyons; Mrs. Fletcher, Mary Coss; Earl Drummond, Roger Olney; Fisty McGuire, John Burhans; Clarence Clayton, Larry Zigler; Carol Davenport, Margaret Bolton; Bunny Mattson, Judy Robinson; Walter Graham, Bob Damon and the officer, Don Crater.

Central D Cagers Have An Outing

Webberville played host to the Central D League team and cheerleaders Friday night.

Buses brought students from Ashley, Potteryville, Fowler, and students drove from Portland St. Patrick.

"Champions on Revue" was the name of the dance. At this dance each year the Central D team is honored as well as one cheerleader from each school. The dance is arranged by the combined student councils from the schools participating. A disc jockey from WJIM furnished the music for dancing. As the schools were introduced the Webberville band played the school songs.

The cheerleaders honored were Ashley, Sandra Payne; Fowler, Marilyn Gensterblum; Portland St. Patrick, Linda McCrum; Potteryville, Mary Sutton; and Webberville, Ginny Hodge.

The team was made up of the following boys: Fowler, Jim Koengschnecht; Portland St. Patrick, Steve Shafer; Potteryville, Dave Joseph; and Webberville, Ron Hoag and Mike Oakes.

Death Claims George Munro

Death claimed the life of George B. Munro at 619 Park Place in Lansing Tuesday, March 30. He was born December 5, 1902, in Elsie.

Services for the Lansing man will be Friday, April 2, at 10 a.m. from Ball - Dunn funeral home. Burial will be in Elsie.

Surviving Mr. Munro are 3 sons, James Munro of Mason, George Munro Jr. and Douglas Munro both of Lansing; a daughter, Mrs. Geraldine Fisher of Lansing; several grandchildren; one great-grandchild; a brother, Harold Munro of Howell; and 3 sisters, Mrs. Pearl Clark and Mrs. Leona Everett of Lansing and Mrs. Myrtle Perry of Osoda.

Clyde H. Howe Rites Set

Clyde H. Howe, 58, of 1432 W. Territorial road, Leslie, died Wednesday morning at Mercy hospital in Jackson.

Mr. Howe is survived by his wife, Lois; a step-daughter, Mary Frances; 3 grandchildren; a sister, Mrs. Mattie Rountree of Leslie; 5 brothers, Vern Howe, Claude Howe, Charles Howe and Clarence Howe of Grand Lodge, also surviving are several nephews and nieces.

Funeral services for the Leslie man will be Saturday, April 3 at 1 p.m. from the Luecht funeral home in Leslie with Rev. H.L. Johnston of the Jackson First Nazarene church officiating. Burial will be in Woodlawn cemetery, Leslie.

Can You Sing?

Mason Choral Society needs singers for presentation of a sacred music concert later this spring. An organizational meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, April 6, at 8 p.m. in the high school chorus room. The Society needs at least 100 voices for the concert which will be Sunday, June 20, during the Mason centennial observance. The event will be in conjunction with the Mason Ministerial association, and will include instrumental numbers as well as choral work.

Male and female voices are wanted and people of all ages are welcome to join the choral effort, according to Chandler Nauts, a Society spokesman.

Leslie Co-Op Members Have Annual Meeting

Saturday employees, farmer patrons, friends, guests and management of the Leslie Co-Op met for their seventeenth annual meeting at the grange hall in Leslie.

A ham dinner was served at noon followed by a business report and meeting along with entertainment.

President Jim Lake brought the annual meeting to order. Bill Vicary and Rich Byrum were special guests. They just returned from a state FFA meeting where they were awarded the distinction of State Farmer and given gold awards for their efforts. Byrum also came back to Leslie as state president of Michigan FFA. The Co-Op gave each boy a $20 bill. Other presentations at this meeting was an award to Jess Conard for corn growing. He received the highest net return of profit per acre for his corn.

John Williamson, manager of the co-op, talked briefly on a debenture sale now going on to help raise money to construct a new fertilizer and grain plant. He went into the co-op's history to help explain.

"Back in 1947 when Leslie co-op was organized 10 men got their heads together and said we need a place to sell our produce and buy our supplies of a quality nature at the right price. So they incorporated by contributing $100 each in order to incorporate. These men went to work and sold $23,000 worth of stock at 4% interest to purchase the facilities and have some working capital. With guidance and financial support of Farm Bureau Services they were able to survive until 1955 when the stockholders felt the facilities must be improved and started a debenture sale program which wasn't too successful because of the history of previous years. These men did not give up but went on with 3 successful years and put themselves into a financial position whereby they could go to the St. Paul bank for cooperatives and borrow for further expansion. In 1958 they constructed a feed mill and office and in 1959 they constructed grain storage.

These were the last 2 major expansion programs. Leslie co-op has gone from a dollar volume of $450,000 in 1959 to a dollar volume of $825,000 in 1964. With a slight decrease this year the officers recognize the need for new facilities and are doing something about it, he added.

He then urged everyone to help in the new sale of debentures. President Jim Lake also added his endorsement.

The main speaker of the day was Elton Smith, president of Michigan Farm Bureau. Smith is regarded as one of the state's leading farmers and is well known as a prominent Guernsey breeder with a herd that ranks consistently at the top of the state's dairy lists. He owns and operates a 380-acre dairy farm in Kent county. Smith's talk was needed for your Cooperative. He stressed the importance of co-ops.

For the entertainment part of the program Russ Pettit, partner and vice-president of Stout Construction company, showed movies of his trip around the world. After the movies the annual meeting was adjourned.

On The Bookshelf

By R. E. SCOTT
Cain, A Mystery, by Lord Byron, is probably one of the earliest pieces of Science Fiction for the theater. Particularly so in the scene where Cain is required to look back at the earth while he and Satan are adrift among the stars. Cyrano de Bergerac had put S-F on the stage in the 17th century and Jules Verne reclaimed it for the novel in the 19th century (see Nicholson's Voyages to the Moon.)

Since then the S-F story has filled both books and motion pictures. Ray Bradbury may be credited with bringing the modern S-F story to its peak. This began with the Martian Chronicles in the 50's and the scene cited from Cain reminds one of the moving re-creation there of the first encounter between a Martian and an earthman.

In another collection, less successful, The Illustrated Man, the tattoos on a man's body come alive and each one tells its own story. These were Bradbury's early efforts which were followed by such gatherings as The October Country, A Medicine For Melancholy, The Machineries of Joy, and a novel-not S-F-Dan-dellon Wine, a beautiful account of a boy's one wonderful summer. Bradbury never writes without a serious purpose and once read his imagery and meanings stick.

Driving through the countryside dotted with rows of dead and snow-driven corn, his story "The Seythe" came to mind. Here each stalk represents a human soul, and the owner of this farm held the power of life and death; in the end he discovers that he is so human he cannot wield this supernatural force.

Bradbury tells much about people by placing them in a fantastical environment and then silently observing their very ordinary actions. His latest novel, Something Wicked This Way Comes, is a terribly realistic appraisal of human beings trying to live in and cope with such a world. It has the same imaginative psychology as Charles G. Finney's The Circus of Dr. Lao.

Bradbury has also written screen-plays (as all good writers do on the side-for-a-living!), the most notable being the recent adaptation of Moby Dick. A foreign company is about to release his own Fahrenheit 451.

Munith Students Build Bird Houses for Spring

When Chris Castle of Munith puts up his birdhouse this spring, he knows it will have a tenant. He made and painted his own robin as part of a study of birds now being made by fourth graders in the Munith elementary school.

With spring just around the corner and with it, the return of many of our feathered friends, Mrs. Elda Lehman and Mrs. E. C. Stanfield, 4th grade teachers at the school, began a study of birds in their classes.

Mrs. Stanfield's pupils each made a complete study of one bird, then compiled a booklet on birds. The students also made a free hand drawing of their bird, which they also painted.

Mrs. Lehman's students joined the Junior Audubon club, this in connection with their English class. In addition to the bird study, this group conducts its own meetings, following parliamentary procedure and even elected an officer.

Brush Meeting Set

An important meeting of the board of governors of the Brothers of the Brush will be held at Centennial Headquarters Wednesday, April 7, at 7:30 p.m. All chapter representatives are encouraged to attend and bring a suggestion for naming the razor to be buried on April 23.

From a Talk to the Mason Jaycees Tuesday Night By Nels C. Ferriby, Candidate for Mason City Councilman

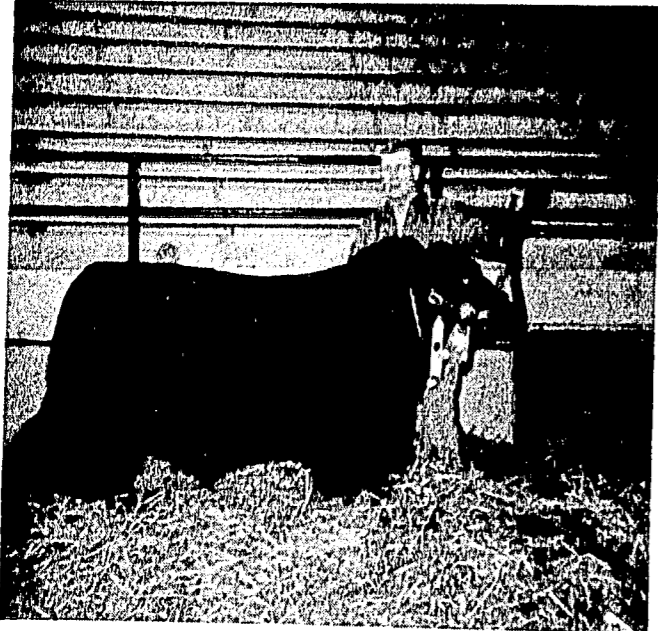

"... recently I have done a great deal of research on the word Courage and have found a definition which I feel is very suitable: "Courage is an intangible, which may not lie so much in the glittering heroic act, as in the stubborn persistence, or in the acceptance of a change." Every councilman must have courage of his convictions... I will have courage to support the charter, weigh resolutions and vote "No" when I believe the issue is not in the best interest of you, the people of Mason... I will not be pressured into expediency... I favor proper parking facilities... want a city manager... seek more industries... I will have the courage to work for the benefit of the many."

- Past president of Mason Lions Club
- Chairman of Centennial Hospitality Division
- Lived in Mason since 1940.
- Experienced in Business World since 1923

Vote For A Man With Courage...

NELS C. FERRIBY Monday, April 5
Candidate for Mason City Council

9 Flee Fire Near Leslie

LESLIE - A rural Leslie couple and their 7 children ranging in age from 10 months to 10 years were forced to flee when a fire swept through their home early last Friday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Silas Smith were forced to evacuate their home on Covert road near Eden road after fire broke out about midnight. No one was injured. Leslie firemen answered the alarm and called for assistance from the Mason department which sent 14 men and 2 trucks. Loss was estimated at $3,000. The home was owned by Veril Baldwin of Stockbridge.

COE F. EMENS and son of W. Columbia road, Mason, recently purchased the Champion Open Show Angus bull at the Michigan Angus association Futurity Show and Sale. The Bull, K. K. Paramount, was consigned by Mahogany Farms of Williamston.

Baptist Youths Attend Retreat

HOLT - The Sycamore Street Baptist youth joined with a group of young people from the Immanuel Baptist church in Lansing for the week end for a Youth Retreat at Baptist camp at Bambli lake. The theme "That I May Know Him" was carried out in a varied program and activities including Bible study, meditations and prayer times with prayer partners; youth films "Choosing a Career" and the gospel film "Teen-Age Rock" with sermon and decision time. The group enjoyed skiing and tobogganing during recreation periods. Rev. Bill York accompanied the Holt group.

Clinic Planned At Webberville

WEBBERVILLE - An immunization clinic sponsored by the County Health department is planned from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. Thursday, April 1, at the elementary school. Protection from most types of diseases preventable by inoculation will be available free of charge to Webberville residents. Health clinics are held in the school the first Thursday of every month.

Herrick Briefs

The Girls club met at the home of Mrs. William Priest last Thursday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Eldred House called on Mr. and Mrs. Loyal Shepler in Lansing last Sunday. Later in the day they attended open house for Mr. and Mrs. James Smith honoring their 25th wedding anniversary. Mrs. Russel Strobel returned home Thursday after having numerous tests and x-rays at Sparrow hospital. Mrs. Ruth House is spending a couple of weeks at the Gerald Daily home in Roseville. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dietzen and family were Sunday dinner guests at the Stella Knoch home. Mr. and Mrs. John Grant Sr. of Detroit called on the John Grants last Sunday. Mrs. Grace Strobel and Susie Gerhardslein assisted in serving the rehearsal supper at the Methodist church for Pat Cameron and Robert Nelson, last Friday.

Holt Girl D.A.R. State Finalist

HOLT - Ann Adams of Holt high school was among the state finalists in the Good Citizenship contest sponsored by the Daughters of the American Revolution. She was a special guest of the state D.A.R. chapter at a luncheon in Detroit in connection with the state wide contest. Miss Adams had previously won local and district competition.

Zing into spring! Corvair by Chevrolet

The steering's crisper, the ride's flatter, the style's racier—even the grass looks a shade greener from behind the wheel of this new Corvair

For all its finely calibrated instrumentation—tachometer, manifold pressure gauge, even an electric clock with a sweep second hand for rally buffs—the most important thing that happens when you get a Corvair Corvair out on the road doesn't register on the dash. It registers on you.

You feel it in the steering—crisp and precise—as you double back on a curve. In the flat riveted-to-the-road stability of the new fully independent suspension. In the response of the rear engine (up to 180 hp available now in Corvair's Turbo-Charged version).

Drop down to your dealer's now—while the trading's extra good—and see for yourself.

TOO MUCH

Veto numbers could easily reach new highs in the next two years of state history.

Whether this occurs probably will depend largely on how much legislative reversing the Democrats do.

Already at least one reversal has been started. A bill to repeal the two-year voter registration law and restore Michigan to a four-year registration system is better than half way through the legislative process.

Bitterly fought by Democrats when they held the minority position, the two-year registration law just took effect for the last election.

It was an improvement, then-controlling Republicans said, because it would help clean out dead wood in clerks' files and prevent fraud practices.

Democrats said the two-year system was designed to make it more difficult for the many people who normally vote only in presidential years. Most of these, they said, were Democrats.

Work began early in the current session to restore the four-year system. It progressed rapidly through the legislative process.

This is but one area of legislation bitterly opposed by the Democrats in past years when they were in the minority.

Reversal of this election law and others in the fields of workmen's compensation and unemployment compensation would presumably draw a veto from Republican Gov. George Romney.

It would seem a shame if much legislative work time were wasted on reversal legislation the majority party knows would be vetoed. Such action might well provide good campaign material but concentration on such matters would hardly provide the public service expected of state lawmakers.

Any doubts about the magnitude of Michigan's tourist industry are dispelled by a look at the calendar of events published monthly by the State Tourist Council.

It indicates not only the large number of events being conducted on a local, regional or statewide basis but also the great variety of activity available which makes Michigan the "Winter Water Wonderland."

Even in the harshest months of the winter, the Council calendar listed more than 50 events ranging from winter carnivals to sports car and dog races on ice, from auto shows to golf shows, invention displays and home shows.

The year-round impact of the industry is also indicated by the Council calendar of coming events.

A 12-month calendar distributed early in the year showed many communities were already busy with plans for special events scheduled in mid-summer or early fall.

Negaunee, for example, is thick in plans for its July 4 centennial celebration and Fremont has its "old fashioned days" set for July 23-24. Sault Ste. Marie's Hiawatha Festival September 26-October 3 was in the planning stages well before the first of the year.

As summer draws near an almost countless number of tourist-attracting events will be listed on the calendar, one of the most accurate barometers of tourist activity in Michigan.

Experts Say: Corn Gives More Energy Than Haylage

The feeding value of haylage properly stored in cement slabs is approximately equal to that which is stored in air-rigged silos, according to a Michigan State university animal husbandry researcher.

But the material fed from the cement silo is slightly drier which may indicate a slight nutritive loss.

"With the two types of silos producing haylage about equal in feed value, the farmer has to rely on other factors to decide which structure is best for his particular operation," says H. W. Newland. "He has to consider cost, management, use and flexibility of the two silos."

Newland adds that haylage cannot compete with corn as an energy producer on a pound-per-pound basis.

"Haylage, with its relatively high protein content, might well be worked into a feeding program to complement corn silage," he explains, "rather than feeding one instead of the other."

Newland points out that farmers who use haylage alone will have to add supplemental grain to make up for the relatively low energy value of haylage as compared to corn silage.

"It is difficult to compare haylage with corn on an acre basis," exclaims Newland. "Corn silage is far ahead because its total energy yield is greater."

He says the new Beef Cattle Research Center, recently constructed on the MSU campus, will help scientists make further studies of the merits of haylage under varying conditions.

Scientists Take Look at Pork Future

A Michigan State university animal husbandry researcher's "crystal balling" has revealed some expected nutritional changes for swine producers.

Dr. J. A. Hoefler says constantly changing and improved feeding standards will result in better swine rations for the producer still in business in 1980. Although corn and soybean oil meal are likely to still be the two main ingredients of the 1980 swine ration, new developments may increase the number of available ingredients.

Hoefler points out that swine producers can be expected to adopt more controlled feeding in the future and feed various classes of swine with particular objectives in mind.

The MSU nutritionist adds that the importance of feeding is so great that it justifies considerable research attention in the years ahead regardless of past accomplishments. Feed makes up approximately 70 per cent of total hog production costs.

Ed Miller, an MSU swine extension specialist, says there are probably only about 25,000 Michigan farms producing swine today. "The number of farms raising hogs will continue to drop in the years ahead although the number of hogs raised per farm will continue its upward trend," he adds.

Another MSU animal husbandry staff member, Dr. W. T. Magee, foresees the possibility of farmers marketing 200 pound hogs at five months of age in 1984. However, he points out that 98 per cent of the change that takes place in the physical makeup of the hog must be accomplished by the purebred swine breeder and not the commercial pork producer.

Servicemen

Seaman Apprentice David E. Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Johnson of Mason, participated in the recovery of project Gemini's astronauts and craft March 23, while serving as a crewmember of the anti-submarine warfare support aircraft carrier USS Intrepid.

A difficult task lies ahead for Michigan's state-supported colleges and universities.

It has several times been proposed that all 10 institutions join together in submitting a lump sum budget request to the Legislature.

Now a Governor's study committee proposes that not only this

Pupils Make Puppets and Plan A Show

HOLT - Mrs. Helen Vaydlik's 2nd grade class at the Elliott elementary school has been making hand puppets of paper mache which they will use in a puppet show to be staged for mothers and pupils in the school.

The pupils inflated balloons and placed the paper mache over them. Then they painted the faces. The hair was made of yarn and crepe paper. Mothers fashioned the clothes for the puppets and a stage has been built for the show.

Taking part will be Lee Ann Johnson, Kelly Covert, Kathy Meredith, Kathy Thurlow, Carol Lambert, Bonnie Farr, Lori Bugenski, Deone Yerman, Clayton Sheldon, Craig Wyman, James Post, Deane Townsend, Robin Jackson, Dick Mulder, Danny Partz,

Holt H.S. To Send 5 To FHA Meet

HOLT - Holt high school will be represented by 5 young women at the state convention of the Future Homemakers of America (FHA) in Grand Rapids April 1 and 2.

They are Peggy Dulink, Sherry Lawry, Kathy Stevenson and Susan Woods, all of Holt, and Loraine Murray of Dimondale. Miss Dulink is treasurer of Region 8 FHA.

Approximately 1,500 delegates, members, and advisers from throughout Michigan are expected. The theme of the convention will be "Citizenship: A Continuous Challenge." Mrs. Charles H. Wilson, Home Economics teacher at Holt is FHA adviser and will be in charge of the Holt delegation. Headquarters will be at the Pantlind hotel and convention sessions in the civic auditorium.

Among the speakers will be Dr. John Furbay, director of Air World's Education, Trans World Airlines, New York City; Mary Coleman, Judge of Probate, Marshall; Henry Schriver, farmer-philosopher-rhymer, Grafton, Ohio, and the mayor of Grand Rapids who will extend greetings to the delegates. Mrs. Rox Todd Withers, chief of the home and family living section of the Department of Public Instruction, who is the state FHA adviser and leader, will also speak.

The conference is sponsored by the home and family living section. On the program from the department of public instruction in addition to Mrs. Withers will be Miss Barbara Gaylor, Mrs. Thelma L. Graper, and Miss Marguerite E. Loftin.

Purposes of the convention are to summarize the year's accomplishments, to set plans for future projects, officers will be elected and the yearly awards of scholarships and honors will be made.

Susan Washburn, State FHA President of Saine Chapter, will preside over the convention with the assistance of 14 other state officers.

Parent-Teacher Conferences Set

HOLT - Holt elementary Parent-Teacher's spring conference time is scheduled for the afternoons of Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, March 31, April 1 and 2. Both morning and afternoon sessions of kindergarten on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday are to be dismissed and conferences for those parents will take place on those days. Conferences for the rest of the elementary school have been worked out through the afternoons and evenings of the 3 days.

A Hectic Week For the Myalls

HOLT - The past week has been a hectic one for the Michael Myall family of Holt. First their daughter, Theresa, caught the measles, Kevin their year-old-son had strep throat and Sunday their 4-year-old Marty took a pop bottle into the bath tub with him and broke it, resulting in a trip to the doctor who took several stitches in his hip.

Senator Potter Reports

Last week, the Senate and the House were confronted by a serious problem brought about by the adoption of new depreciation schedules on personal business property by the State Tax Commission.

At issue was not the matter of equity. The problem was stripping large chunks of revenue from local governments and the school districts without any means of making up the loss. The question then, was one of impact. Ingham county would be hard hit by the adoption of the schedules. Indeed this was one of the main topics of discussion when Rep. Davis and I had the pleasure of meeting with the supervisors from the rural areas some time ago, and it has been an item of concern to Lansing's Mayor Bowerman and the various school heads in the 24th district.

After considerable discussion, a bi-partisan effort was launched with Senator Levin and representative Snyder introducing a bill which would have suspended the new schedules through legislative action.

As a member of the committee on Taxation, it became apparent to me that the measure had the votes in both the committee and on the floor. The need of the local units for revenue is real. Adoption of the schedules would have thrown considerably more responsibility on the already overburdened homeowner in Ingham county. I voted to report the bill out, and would have voted for it on the floor.

At this stage of the procedure, the Taxation Committee, along with Senator Levin and Representative Snyder and others met with the Chairman of the State Tax Commission, Mr. Purnell and the Executive Secretary of the Commission, Mr. Kane. They readily admitted that Wayne, Kent, and Genesee counties had been permitted certain latitude in the application of the schedules. After considerable discussion, and checking with the other Tax Commission members, the following understanding was reached.

"It is understood that the State Tax Commission will immediately effectuate steps to reduce the losses in assessed valuations because of the new tangible business personal property schedules by a minimum of 50% and a maximum of 75% for any county where such a reduction is requested. This would be a reduction in absolute terms and not simply a reshifting of the tax loss. The Tax Commission will also take steps to insure that the above discussed reduction from the impact of the new schedules will be carried out throughout the process of state equalization and will be applied in the process of appeals to the State Tax Commission. This understanding will result in a similar reduction of loss as previously granted some counties."

In effect, this agreement permits the local units to apply for the same relief as was previously granted three counties in the state.

Following the adoption of the agreement, it was found that no provision was on the state statute books that would permit the reconvening of the Boards of Review. This was corrected in the Senate with the passage of a special piece of legislation. The House will probably have acted on the measure by the time you read this.

It was a busy week in the Senate.

We passed a bill that would bring 16 year old drivers under the point system. This bill closes the door to those drivers who are now permitted to pile up traffic violation tickets without losing their licenses. The Probate Judge is allowed to find in the case, and the points are determined on his findings.

Someone asked if we have raised any additional revenue in this session of the Legislature. Well, in the Senate, we passed an "Escheats Bill" which enables the State of Michigan to claim those monies and lands owned or willed to persons or their heirs who have not been located for seven years.

Some Senators feel that this means as much as $10 million in additional revenue in 1965. I rather doubt that figure. On average, it would appear that the passage of this measure would bring about $3 million per year into state coffers over the next ten year period.

The Senate approved the Construction Safety Bill. The key element in the measure was granting the Construction Safety Commission power to promulgate and enforce its own rules as other agencies do. Efforts to require that the Commission Director be a registered professional engineer failed, although there was a vigorous discussion on the subject.

Beef Tour Draws 100

There were 100 beef cattle feeders in Ingham county who observed the feeding operations of nearly 2,000 beef cattle recently. Stops were made at Joe Wilkinson and Son farm 3 miles north of Bell Oak, Gregory Brothers farm 4 miles northwest of Bell Oak, Mahogany Farms on M-47. These farms are feeding 1,500 beef steers by automatic equipment. The operator can feed these cattle the feed rations required in 2 1/2 hours time. It was pointed out that the total feeding facility amounts to an investment of $150 per steer. Hugh Henderson of MSU said this was not excessive as many Michigan feeders have $200 per steer invested in buildings and equipment.

At the dinner program at Locke Township hall 3 speakers from MSU presented valuable information on cattle feeding. Hugh Henderson urged cattle feeders to make high quality corn silage the basis of the rations. He said corn silage will produce twice as many pounds of beef per acre as the grain harvested from the same acre. Dr. William Newland, MSU beef researcher, advised the cattle feeders to include vitamin A supplement in their ration. He said this was good insurance against any possible nitrate toxicite in the corn silage. He stated that nitrate fertilization of the corn crop had little influence on high nitrate content of corn silage.

Dr. Clifford Beck, MSU Extension veterinarian, urged feed lot operators to be sure treatment is needed for disease or parasites in feeder cattle. The careless use of drugs can be harmful if not needed. Know what is wrong and treat accordingly as prescribed by competent practitioners, he said.

Market representatives forecast a better 1965 year for the cattle feeder. They did not see any radical drop in the market the remainder of the year. Many feeders have suffered heavy financial losses the past two years in the cattle feeding industry, according to R.C. Lott, County Extension Director.

Apply Nitrogen But Not Too Much

If wheat, oats or other small grains are scheduled in your crop rotation this year, consider the use of nitrogen fertilizer for added returns, advises a Michigan State university crop science specialist.

However, caution should be taken not to induce lodging or failure of grain to mature, says James A. Porter, in the case of small grains, too much nitrogen, while further promoting grain formation, may cause partial or total crop failure. This hazard is greatest in years of abundant moisture.

Porter stresses that the quantity of nitrogen to apply must be decided on the basis of such cultural practices as previous crop and soil treatment with commercial fertilizer and manure. "Usually a good legume plowed down or topdressed will supply most of the nitrogen a small grain crop can use profitably," he adds. "Previous experience with small grain on a particular field must also be considered." Porter recommends a nitrogen level of 30 to 60 pounds per acre. This includes any fertilizer that was applied at planting time, except in the case of winter grain planted in the fall.

Nitrogen should be applied sparingly where legumes have been plowed down, manure applied or where there is a natural tendency to lodge. The goal is to apply as much nitrogen as possible without inducing lodging. On heavy, fine textured soils, application may be from late fall to mid-April for wheat or up to a month after planting for spring grain. On sandy soils, nitrogen application should be delayed until March.

Governor Romney Reports

In view of recent developments in the Legislature in regard to Senior Citizen's Homestead Exemptions, I believe it is important at this time that there be complete understanding of the impact of such legislation if enacted at this time.

I am in full accord with the objective of developing an adequate program of property tax relief for our senior citizens. It is for this purpose that I appointed a blue-ribbon committee, chaired by Alfred Pelham, which will be submitting its recommendations not later than April 15. I have repeatedly pointed out the desirability of awaiting the committee's counsel and recommendations before proceeding upon a course of action.

But there are additional considerations even more fundamental in character to this issue. Fundamental to the welfare of every citizen of Michigan is the protection of our reputation for fiscal integrity on which our ability to meet the needs of all the people depends.

At every available opportunity in my communications with members of the Legislature, I have pointed out the necessity of avoiding a course of action that will plunge this state back into deficit, deficiency and difficulty. This warning has been devoted primarily to the area of state spending, where my recommendations for the coming fiscal year, related to foreseeable minimum needs of the subsequent year, leave no room for significant increases without being prepared to take tax action.

Now we have a proposed Senior Citizen's Homestead Exemption bill before the Senate, passed by the House of Representatives and originally described by its authors as costing $18 million. Recent examinations of the bill by experts indicate it could cost as much as $40 million.

It must therefore be obvious that the addition of an entirely new spending program of such magnitude to already record budget recommendations cannot be accomplished without making additional revenues necessary this year. Thus far there is no genuine evidence that those supporting the senior citizens relief legislation are prepared to raise the revenue required to pay for it.

A cause for equal concern at this time is the budget procedure—or the lack of one—followed by the House.

Consideration of this bill at this time was made possible by circumventing earlier sound budget procedures defined by Michigan's new Constitution. Thus an accurate determination of the impact of this entirely new program on the state's financial picture and our ability to meet the needs of the people without again losing our state's fiscal reputation cannot be made. The executive budget bills are still being studied but have not been acted upon.

To compound this situation, the normal function of the House Ways and Means Committee to study and analyze budget bills has been bypassed in this case.

There is no need for such rapid action. Nothing is to be accomplished for our senior citizens by immediate passage of this bill. Fulfillment of the commitment by legislative leaders that prompt action would be taken on regular appropriation bills would still permit action on senior citizens' property tax relief early enough to make it effective at the time indicated in the proposed bill. And there would be ample time for such action following receipt of the recommendations of the Pelham study committee.

I therefore urge the Legislature to reconsider the course upon which it has set itself and to review the potential impact on the whole state of the proposed action. I am certain that those lawmakers sincerely seeking relief for our senior citizens want to see such relief accomplished in a way that will not threaten the financial integrity of our state and our ability to meet the basic public service needs of all the people.

I am sure most senior citizens do not want the meeting of their needs to undermine the ability of the state to meet the needs of all citizens.

Proposed Work Act Changes Seen As A Blow to Farmers

"Michigan farmers are greggry from the one-two farm labor punches they have received this year." That is the testimony of Dan E. Reed, Michigan Farm Bureau legislative counsel, given before the joint house and senate labor committee, March 22.

The committee have been hearing farm spokesmen and others react to proposed amendments to the workmen's compensation act, which would provide for coverage of certain farm workers. Further, all farmers would be required to provide hospital and medical coverage to all employees, whether hired for an hour, day, week or year.

Farmers say that this coverage, which would be "in accordance with rules established by the department" would bring "major adjustments and expense to an industry which already often pays its employees more in wages than the employer receives in income."

In his testimony, Reed pointed out that Michigan agriculture is a family-farm affair, and that nearly all farmers employ some extra help because mechanization has allowed farmers to plant and care for more acres of crops than the family alone can harvest. Most of the seasonal help moves from place to place, and according to Reed, "often they are here today and somewhere else tomorrow." However, he explained, most farmers now carry liability insurance and many also provide hospital and medical coverage. Reed said that domestic farm labor in general includes many who are not physically or otherwise fit, or who lack work habits acceptable to industry or business.

"Screening through physical examination and interview does not seem to be feasible. Yet the possibility for claims for already existing conditions or those of an occupational nature is tremendous," the farm spokesman testified.

Some proposed legislation recognizes some consideration to agricultural problems, Reed said, however, he urged the committee to give further thought to the serious adjustments farmers are already facing this year. "We believe the full shock of the entire program proposed in the bills under consideration would have a serious adverse effect on Michigan agriculture and the entire Michigan economy. It would force many farm families to leave farming, and force others into production of mechanized crops, many of which are already in surplus and under government programs," Reed said.

As I See It

By Hayden Palmer

Has anyone who reads this ever known of a person named Julius Dae or Julius Da, who is supposed to have resided in Mason in 1926 and earlier?

If you know of him the staff at the Hall Memorial Library would like to be advised of the fact. They have received a letter from the Midwest Research Bureau of Skokie, Illinois asking for any information regarding such a person to help in settling an estate.

Uncle Sam is looking your way these days. That awesome day of the year is approaching -- April 15, we mean. On that day income tax payments are due.

Already, some folks have begun the annual task of figuring out how much they made in 1964 and how much of it is deductible.

These are some farsighted souls who have taken care of the yearly chore and filed the returns already. But they undoubtedly are in the minority and the great scramble to get the return in the mails will continue right up to the last minute before the deadline.

Whether this is significant or not, the deadline day for income taxes falls right in the middle of Holy Week.

Back in 1953 -- 12 years ago -- the light in the cupola of the Hall Memorial Library burned out.

Last week Clarence Phillips, branch library coordinator, checking over the attic of the building, discovered the burned out bulb. He replaced it with a new one of the 1965 variety and now the cupola light shines again like a beacon in a lighthouse.

Renwick Garryle, director of the Ingham county library system, said the cupola light will burn each evening the library is open to the public.

Did you ever hear of the Surf, the Swim, the Frug or the Monkey?

Well, they're new dancing steps which out-twists the Twist.

If they haven't reached Mason yet, they probably will, for the dances put together with the twist make up what is known now as the Discotheque scene.

Discotheque spots have come to the fore in cities from New York to San Francisco. Detroit has at least one.

Discotheque gets its name by reason of the fact that the music is provided, not by live musicians but by recordings presided over by a disc jockey, only in this new craze he is known as the disqualifier.

These new dances are becoming the rage not only among the teen-agers but with their parents as well and Discotheque places range from elaborate night spots to small clubs.

Dress is formal in some of the Discotheque spots and informal in others.

But wherever it is, Discotheque is described in an article in a recent issue of The Saturday Evening Post as "a noisy national madness that the anthropologists of the 21st century will find difficulty in explaining."

New Oat Seed Still Available

Certified seed of Michigan's two new, high yielding oat varieties is still available in limited quantity for planting in 1965. The varieties, Coachman and Ausable, have generally outyielded other varieties in tests throughout the state, according to Michigan State university crop scientists.

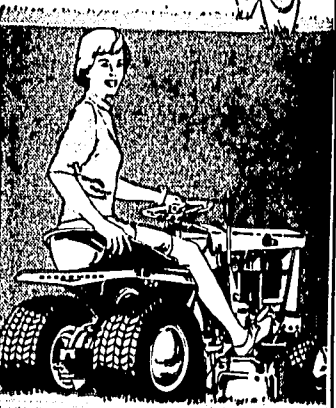

Coachman has plump, tan colored grain and is a stiff-strawed variety of Clinton maturity. It has good field resistance to red leaf and black stem diseases. It is also resistant to the prevalent races of leaf rust and has adequate resistance to stem rust.

Coachman is recommended as a replacement for Rodney and Clinton types in southern Michigan and as an early variety for the Upper Peninsula.

Ausable is equal to Coachman, but superior to present recommended varieties in field resistance to red leaf and to black stem diseases. It is resistant to leaf rust, but susceptible to several common races of stem rust. It is recommended for the Thumb and central Michigan as a replacement for Rodney.

Both Coachman and Ausable are products of Michigan State university's agricultural experiment station.

Mrs. William Musolf spent Sunday afternoon with her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Neale Musolf of Haslett.

Dansville Lodge Marks Century of Masonry

DANSVILLE - The Dansville Lodge No. 160 F&AM celebrated its Century of Masonry Wednesday evening, March 24, with a banquet at the Township hall. The meal was served by the Eastern Stars.

One hundred people were present from various lodges. Ivan Addis of Dearborn, junior grand warden, gave the address. David Woods, past master, gave a history of the lodge up to the present day. Clinton Dunsmore, worshipful master, introduced life members, past members and present officers. Joellyn Risch of Williamston then showed slides of her Peace Corp work in Brazil.

Board Selects M.Y.F. Advisors

DANSVILLE - The Dansville Free Methodist church board in a session last week conducted routine business and letters of commendable mission giving were presented. The board chose Jack and Darlene Cook as the new Free Methodist Youth advisors. The youth organization had charge of worship services last Sunday evening. Lyme Freer led the worship. Zane Gray of the Michigan state police showed a safety film in the FMY meeting and delivered a message at the evening worship service, relating the Bible principles to traffic safety.

Road Worker Bumps Head

Bruce W. Baker, 52, of 2391 Tomlinson road, Mason, a mechanic employed by the Ingham County Road Commission, suffered head injuries shortly after noon last Thursday when he walked under a truck at the road commission offices, 407 N. Cedar street and struck his head on a snow plow frame.

He was taken to Mason General hospital where he was treated and released. Baker has been employed by the road commission for 25 years or more, officials there said.

Two Churches Plan A Dinner

DANSVILLE - Dansville and Williamston Free Methodist church members will gather at the Dansville town hall for a Family Night dinner. Serving will begin at 7 p.m.

Open House Set

HOLT - Holt Methodist church will have an open house at the parsonage Sunday, April 4, from 3 to 5 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m. Rev. and Mrs. Phillip R. Glotfelty Jr. have invited members and friends of the church to a time of fellowship and to see new decor in the parsonage home.

During the annual enlargement campaign the 2 churches were paired for friendly competition. The dinner is to be a victory banquet for the Dansville group. It will also mark the start of another 6 weeks of friendly competition between the 2 churches. Following the dinner a program will be presented.

Club Seeks Funds To Aid Sports

HASLETT - A pancake supper is being planned by the Haslett Men's Athletic club April 3 at the Central school from 4 to 6:30 p.m. Proceeds will be used to carry on the program of the club in providing athletic supplies and improvement of sports facilities in the Haslett schools. The Haslett club has completed many projects for the benefit of the school sports program. These include improvements to the baseball diamond, seeding of the football field, building press box at the football field and sponsoring 2 banquets.

The club also, with the Chief Okemos auxiliary of the American Legion post 269, purchased a baseball pitching machine.

WSU Researchers Work to Develop Artificial Heart

DETROIT — "The day may come when persons with dilated hearts can have them replaced just as they would a faulty fuel pump on their cars," says Dr. Alan P. Thal of Wayne State University's School of Medicine.

"Out of 11 million adults in this country," says Dr. Thal, "it appears that 14 million have heart disease. Thousands die because of a diseased or injured heart's failure to meet the demands of an otherwise healthy body."

Dr. Thal has been working with the Wayne State University Biomechanics Research Center as part of a national program to develop approaches to the development of artificial hearts.

"Duplicating the human heart, the most perfect and efficient pump in existence, will be the medical triumph of the century," says Dr. Thal.

Doctors have found that the heart is controlled by a network of nervous and hormonal mechanisms that change blood flow and pressure by constantly altering the rate, force and duration of heart contractions and the calibers of blood vessels.

"The problems resulting from the subtle differences in tissue types, leading to rejection of the transplanted organs, are slowly being solved through research. Methods are being devised which will serve to prepare the body to more readily accept these foreign parts."

What Ingham County Churches Are Doing

"I Shall Keep This Lent"

"LENT" means springtime. It is an old Latin word which means a forty day fasting period next before Easter. It begins with Ash Wednesday and continues till Easter; exclusive of Sundays. It is a time for the conditioning of our soil . . . a time for our Souls to become penitent. It simply means that it is spading up time, the season for planting seeds and for setting blooming trees.

In the realm of the spirit it is a call to get ready for the season of beauty and goodness.

Who amongst us is satisfied with what he is or what he has been? Then let us qualify for the Lenten Season. Let us clear away the rubbish of last year's crop, cut under the old stalks. May we learn from our Lord to give ourselves to good conditioning during Lent. The miracle of Lent is genuine repentance which leads to Newness of Life. A Sainly Keeper of Lent said it well when he spoke the words, "I shall keep this Lent, and hope to refresh my Soul." Amen

Editorial Comments . . .

It's No Panacea

Last week 5 of Mason's 6 council candidates presented some of their views before a Mason service club. One of the questions tossed at them had to do with that old chestnut which gets dusted off every spring at election time--"what do you think of the city manager form of city government?"

There are those in most every community who look upon a city manager as a panacea for all civic ills. They are wrong. It still takes people and it still takes responsibility on the part of citizens.

There are fine examples of working city manager arrangements but anyone who takes the time to look will find a greater number of examples of sad city manager regimes.

One fact fails to get mentioned in many city manager vs. council debates and that is the solid fact that while city managers are available at a price people of Mason can afford to pay, the good ones are way out of our income bracket.

A city manager-engineer type with something on the ball comes high.

Mason has been fortunate down through the years in having good men offer their services for the council posts. Mason will continue to have responsible men offer their services--providing the citizens of Mason continue to place their faith and their voting energies in representative government.

The city manager system is comparable to the one-room school.

A one-room school with a dedicated and inspired teacher can be the best type of school organization while a one-room school with a poor teacher can be the worst.

So it is with a city manager. A good one could go a long way toward Mason's progress but a poor one could be a millstone around our necks.

Mason had a taste of the poor variety several years ago--a taste which hasn't yet been washed out of many mouths and our pocketbooks. Our city's brief fling with a city manager should point out the fact that unless Mason is willing to put out big money for ability, there is no cure-all elixir in city manager form of government. There are many towns in Michigan which will agree.

Remember . . . It's Only Temporary

Mason city policemen have moved into the city-owned former Chevy garage building and city works crews are gradually making use of other parts of the structure. Because the city owns the building and because space has been plenty tight in the city hall, making use of the vacant Chevy garage makes sense. But . . . let's not get too permanent on a temporary basis.

Last month the voters in Mason overwhelmingly endorsed a proposal to build a new city hall - fire station and implied in the vote that they did not want the old Chevy garage to be turned into a city hall.

Anyone who does much building knows the dangers of moving into a house or store building and putting up with unfinished things on a temporary basis. The woodwork that needed a second coat of paint somehow never gets the finishing touches because somehow it doesn't look so bad back there behind the davenport. We all know how permanent temporary taxes become. Yes, temporary situations have a way of becoming permanent.

It's with this in mind that attention is called to the osmosis of city government into the building voters have said should not become a city hall - fire station.

The city owns the old garage building and it's probably wise to make as much use of it as possible. But let's not forget the decision at the last city election when voters made it emphatic that they want a new city hall - fire station for Mason. City departments shouldn't completely unpack their suitcases - they should be prepared to cheerfully move out just as soon as better facilities are available.

The presence of city departments in the garage building should not deter the ultimate decision as to what to do with the old structure. If the council's decision is to sell the property, the sale shouldn't be jeopardized by the presence of the city departments. And the temporary easing of space problems at the city hall shouldn't deter city council zeal to construct a new city hall - fire station.

Let's remember that the move is only "temporary".

Gambling Is No Cure

From Clinton County News
Feeling a growing financial pinch in state treasuries, more and more legislators are considering some form of legalized gambling for revenue. Several states are currently considering bills to legalize sweepstakes, lotteries, beano, off-track betting, and other forms of gambling.

We believe legalized gambling is bad for government, bad for society, and bad for the individual. It creates far more problems than it solves. We hope that legislators will muster the courage to oppose it in all forms.

SOME PERSONS claim that the worst features of gambling can be reduced by providing a cloak of legality. We believe that experience shows otherwise. Far from reducing the severe problems which organized gambling creates, legalization frequently increases them.

Legalized gambling swallows up wages and savings of the community which, for the most part, would otherwise go into constructive community enterprises to meet legitimate human needs. Losses, moreover, fall heavily on the poor and underprivileged, thus causing individual and family hardships and compounding the community's social problems.

PROMOTION of gambling by state authority induces many to gamble for the first time in their lives. Gambling is not so much an inborn human instinct as it is an acquired habit. Once people acquire the habit, they seldom confine their participation to legally sanctioned programs of gambling. The result--a net increase in all forms of gambling.

The life blood of organized crime is gambling. Since legalized gambling stimulates illegal, it helps to finance the crime syndicates which dominate the underworld. Racketeers, moreover, find gambling an industry unusually susceptible to manipulation and have managed to muscle in even where gambling has been legalized. Legal as well as illegal gambling corrupts police, politicians, and other public officials and undermines respect for law and order. Those in a position to know most accurately state that gambling results in corruptio which rots the fabric of society at all levels, and they see no solution to the problem in the proposal to legalize gambling. Neither do we.

Thoughts for the Week

JESUS' favorite expression for God was Father. When His disciples asked Him how to pray, He responded by telling them to say "Our Father" as they addressed God in prayer. He used the term Father in two of His prayers from the cross: "Father, forgive them" and "Father, into thy hands I commit my spirit."

In the story of the prodigal son, Jesus graphically portrayed what God is like. Here He gave us the true image of the Father God. Jesus mirrored what God is like by His great love and deep concern for every person.

A postmaster in a city of the Far East went to a Christian service one morning. The minister preached concerning the prodigal son. This postmaster had an encounter with God that morning. As he left the service of worship, he told each one he met, "My heavenly Father found me this very day." Men search for God, but God is also searching for every man.

Accepted as an excuse for violating the washday code.

Tuesday was always the day for ironing and then on Wednesday came the mid-week baking. Thursday and Friday more latitude was permitted but Saturday was a general housecleaning day and a day for baking the week's second batch of bread and some fancy baking for Sunday. Then on Sunday night the dirty clothes were put to soak, ready for the pre-dawn start of the week Monday.

April 12, 1945

Spring was officially welcomed at our house Sunday when my wife baked and served the first pieplant pie of the season. Nothing tastes better any time than one of my wife's pies and her pieplant pies from the first cutting are beyond comparison.

Watching the ascending divorce rate I often wonder if I am making a mistake clinging to the same mate all these years. Then comes such a treat as a pieplant pie and I am completely sold on the sanctity of marriage vows and of the solid foundation there is to the institution.

In 1942 there were 714 divorce actions started in Ingham County. By 1943 the number had leaped to 836, and this last year a further boost sent the total to 1,005. Peace will come to Europe before it does to the home front.

Rationing boards can do much to prevent divorces. Extra rations of sugar for pieplant sauce and pies this time of year and extra sugar for strawberry shortcake will do much toward building up morale on the home front.

EVERYONE PARTICIPATED in county fairs back in the good old days when the Ingham fair took over the business district. If you were uptown you were on the midway as this shot of the corner of Ash and Jefferson indicates.

Barbs and Praise

There are times when putting out a newspaper is a frustrating and exhausting job but there is always someone else who is having or has had a worse time. Take the case of the pioneer news man who moved to a frontier town in Colorado, unpacked his hand-set type and started his first issue.

As reported in the Chicago Tribune, this is the way it came out:

"We begin the publication of the Roccoy Mountain Cyclone with some phew diphpiculties in the way. The type phounder phrom whom we bought our outphit phor this paper phaled to supply us with any ephs or cays, and it will be phour or phive weeks bephore we can get any.

"The mistaque was not phound out till a day or two ago. We have ordered the missing letters and will have to get along without them until they come. We don't lique the looxs ov this variety ov spelling any better than our readers, but mistax will happen in the best regulated phamilies, and iph the ph's and the o's and the x's and the q's hold out, we shall ceep (sound the c hard) the Cyclone whirling aphter a phasion till the sorts arrive.

It's no joque to us--it's a serious aphair."

There are other areas where difficulty is experienced with words only these are of the spoken variety. In a Michigan Bell booklet was pointed out that unsurprising gem of knowledge that there are more phones per person in Washington, D.C., than anywhere else in the world.

That might account for all the phony talk in Washington.

There are 87.1 phones for every 100 people. That may be what's wrong in the nation's capital. They spend too much time talking.

There are 10 countries without a single phone. They are Greenland, Aden Protectorate, Bhutan, Maldive Islands, Sikkim, Yemen, Funafute, Nauru, Pitcain Island and Tokelau Islands.

I wouldn't swap my phone for Funafute. I had a taste of that rocks for several months once.

Dick Brown

country and town

Funny thing about the Fountain of Youth at St. Augustine, Florida. Last week I leaned over for a drink from the fountain and my Mason centennial mustache fell off. That's what a drink from the famous fountain can do for you. I told this story to one of the kids and he said, "Yea, and some of the fountain water must have splashed onto the bald spot on your head, too."

Smart kid!

In St. Augustine and points south for a wintertime respite last week, I almost sent a telegram to Dick Magel, Mason's centennial chieftain, suggesting that he call off the Mason event. This year St. Augustine is observing its 400th anniversary. My Mason 100-year badge only drew snickers in the country's oldest town. But upon reflection, few of us will be around to mark the 400th anniversary of Mason and so we had best get on with the centennial.

Speaking of Mason, that reminds me of Mason, Ohio. We made a side trip to our Ohio namesake on the way home from Florida. Though it's an incorporated village, it is not unlike Mason, Michigan, in many ways--even has a Kiwanis club. Wouldn't it be a good thing to invite Mason, Ohio, residents to the Mason, Michigan, centennial?

We were close to Cape Kennedy

when the U.S. fired its tandem rocket crew into space last week. We watched the whole thing on a television set just like other people across the country. It was a hopeless effort to try for a close-up look at the launching on the Cape. The main gate is miles from the launching pad. We did search the sky for a glimpse of the rocket as soon as we had seen it fired on the TV screen. But either the rocket was too fast or we were too slow, because we never saw it.

The highlight of a trip to Florida didn't occur in Florida at all. It was at Berea, Kentucky--home of Berea college. It's one of the most interesting and unusual colleges in the world. It is operated without a cent from the state or federal government. Tuition is free. Every student is required to put in at least 10 hours of work a week in campus industries. I'm putting together a feature of pictures and stories about Berea college for publication next week in the News. There might be something useful in it for Michigan educators. Oh, yes, Berea college, in the thick of segregation country, became an integrated college a century ago. Contrast that record with the Johnny-come-lately integration stances on other campuses today.

Down by the Sycamore

By Nelson D. Brown
Edited by Margaret Brown

Monday was a glorious day in the Sycamore valley. The sun shone down brightly to melt the few remaining banks of snow, there was a buoyant breeze, and best of all, almost every back yard in the valley was afluster with banners. It was the first washday in months that clothes could be hung comfortably and conveniently outdoors.

I like to look at well-filled clotheslines. They are so revealing. In our neighborhood I can always tell who has had company and who has been visiting out of town. When guests are entertained there are extra sheets and pillowcases, extra towels and extra tablecloths and napkins on the lines. When the family has been away, the Monday morning washline holds two suits of underwear instead of one for the man of the house, extra pairs of socks, and white, instead of colored, handkerchiefs. Where youngsters are in the family, the clothesline discloses the condition of their health. From week to week it gives a record of their growth and development and the progress made in their training. Last year our clothesline was loaded with those little square pieces of cloth. This year they have given way to other garments as Margaret has become housebroken.

There is a growing laxity about keeping Monday as washday. When I was a boy, the days were all set off, in our family and neighborhood, for special purposes. Monday was washday, and if a woman didn't have her washing on the line by eight o'clock the neighbors commenced to speculate upon what catastrophe had befallen the woman with the vacant clothesline. I have had some difficulty convincing my wife that only dire sickness or a breakdown of the washing machine can be ac-

Toby and Ora Slout in the old tent show days, 1948

Antiques Replace Theatre

From dramatic shows to antique shows.

Mrs. Ora Slout of Vermontville made the transition several years ago and likes her present job as well as she did when she was playing leading roles with the Slout Stock company, a traveling tent show back in the 1920's, '30's and '40's.

She talked about it last Sunday at the Civic Center in Lansing where she was in the last day of a 3 day run of her antique show.

Now she will rest awhile at her Vermontville home before getting ready for her next season's tour on the antique show circuit that will take her over a large section of the middle west and South west areas of the United States.

Before she and her husband, the late Vern Slout, got into the antique show business they were well known all over Michigan as one of the top flight tent show troupes that traveled the length and breadth of the state, presenting plays under canvas.

Mrs. Slout handles her antique show as she handled show business and finds the work stimulating.

She and her husband were troupers for many years at a time when the tent shows were in the hey day of their career back in the 1920's. Michigan was filled with such traveling companies then. The Slouts' show and a show owned by Dick and Fannie Henderson of Mason were among the 2 leading ones.

Slout formed his company soon after returning from military service in World War I. He played the old Rayner Opera house on many occasions. The old building is to be razed soon.

Mrs. Slout recalls when she and her husband were playing circle stock around central Michigan, they and their company lived in Vermontville and from there each day they would travel to the town where that night they were to perform. Mason was one of those 6 towns on their circuit.

After the show each night the company would return to Vermontville and the next afternoon take off again for the next town. They presented the same play one night a week in each of the 6 towns and then the circle started all over again, but with a new play.

During the mornings of the week the company rehearsed in Vermontville for the next week's production.

Vern Slout was a master showman, not only as an actor but also as a business man.

In later years of his career he created a comic character known

Mrs. Ora Slout as she is today as Toby, a none-too-bright bucolic youth, with bright red hair, who he wrote into each play he produced.

So well did he play the part that he almost became better known as Toby than as Vern Slout. Mrs. Slout played leads in all their productions. About this time Mr. and Mrs. Slout's son joined the company and the show became known as Toby, Ora and Bill Slout players.

In 1933 the Slouts decided it was time to retire from show business. They had hit upon the idea of staging antique shows in 1948 when they staged their first one in Lansing.

Their tent show operated through the summer months and in the winter they did antique shows and chautauqua work.

Death ended the long theatrical life of Vern Slout in 1955 and Mrs. Slout, carrying on the old tradition of show business that "the show must go on", continued the antique shows.

Today she is an astute business woman who drives her car about the country, books her spots, brings in the dealers and other exhibitors, stages the show and then moves on to the next stop.

In May she will start making preparations for the new antique season which will start in July.

These preparations include a tour to every city where she is booked to appear "just to see that everything is shaping up all right", she says. In each city she will confer with her sponsors, settle any difficulties and make final preparations.

During the season just closed she played Memphis, Tennessee; Tyler and Fort Worth, Texas; Lawton, Oklahoma City and Tulsa, Oklahoma; Springfield, Missouri, and Lansing.

Her July bookings include Las Vegas and Albuquerque, New Mexico; El Paso, Texas, and Denver, Colorado.

Then she takes a break until September when her antique show will play Peoria, Illinois; Wichita and Topeka, Kansas. In October she will return for a show date in Lansing and from here go on to South Bend, Indiana.

Mrs. Slout knows many old timers in show business. Among them is Everett Stone who plays "Doc" on the television western "Gun Smoke".

"Stone was a member of another stock company", she recalls, "but in those days no performances were presented on Sunday and the casts of all these various shows would gather in some central place and talk over old times".

Those days have gone now, but Mrs. Slout carries on in a different type of show business "just as Vern would have done".

Her son, Bill, a graduate of Michigan State University, is now in California where he has played some roles in television productions, one with Dennis Weaver the "Chester" of "Gun Smoke" who now stars in Kentucky Jones".

Bill Slout, who holds a bachelor of arts degree from MSU, is planning to enter the University of California, Los Angeles (UCLA) this fall to study for his Master of Arts degree, after which he plans to teach.

A few years ago he headed a stock company which played a summer engagement at The Ledges summer theater in Fitzgerald park at Grand Ledge.

VOTE FOR

HOWARD M. OESTERLE

MASON CITY COUNCILMAN - MONDAY APRIL 5th

Dear Mason Resident:

May we ask your help?

We share a concern for the operation of city government. We need well-qualified, thoughtful men serving as councilmen. We recommend to you Mr. Howard M. Oesterle as such a man.

Mr. Oesterle is a life-long resident of Mason. He knows Mason's strengths, its problems and its people.

Mr. Oesterle's profession is working with people. He is a teacher. He has taught in Ingham County schools since 1949 except for four years spent in the U. S. Air Force. He is presently the Elementary Principal for the Leslie Public Schools.

Mr. Oesterle has been elected to important positions of leadership in his profession. He is County Treasurer for the Ingham County Education Association and is a representative from Ingham County to the regional council of the Michigan Education Association.

Mr. and Mrs. Oesterle, daughter Linda and son Michael live at 537 W. Maple Street.

We believe Howard Oesterle will serve the city well as a councilman. We urge you to join us in voting for him Monday, April 5th.

In addition to Dansville, concerts are scheduled at Northville high school, Aldersgate Methodist church, Detroit; Clinton, Michigan, First Methodist

Old House Is Burned

WILLIAMSTON - A spectacular blaze brightened the Williamston area last Monday evening as the last obstacle to building the new Watson Chevrolet building was razed.

The old house standing on the property on Grand River next to Crittenden's Salvage had been advertised for demolition, but with no takers, so it was decided to burn the building.

Two trucks from the Williamston fire department stood by during the fire with Chief Kirt Hunt overseeing.

Plans have not yet been announced for the beginning of construction, but it is expected to be very soon.

Okemos Briefs

church of Adrian and the First Methodist church at Batavia, Illinois.

Included on the band's program will be "Suite for Concert Band" by Gerald Kechley, "Divertimento for Band, Opus 42" by Vincent Persichetti, "Symphonic Songs for Band" by Robert Russell Bennett, "Folk Song Suite" by Ralph Vaughn Williams, "Night Soliloquy" by Kent Kenman, "Chant and Jubilo" by Francis McBeth, "Molly on the Shore" by Percy Grainger, "We All Believe in One God" by Johann Sebastian Bach (arrangement by Gillette), "Brighton Beach" by William Latham, "Three Joyous Marches" by Ernest Krenek and "Danzon" by Leonard Bernstein.

The 4th Thursday evening Lenten service, sponsored by Okemos churches will be at the Faith Lutheran church this week at 8 p.m. Rev. Allen Wittrup will speak on the series topic, "Spiritual Renewal." Faith Lutheran church is on Doble road, south of Hamilton road by Okemos.

The Pioneer Ladies were scheduled to meet with Mrs. Frank Blackledge in Okemos Wednesday of this week.

The Friendly Class of Okemos Community church had a party at the Earle Leonard home Friday evening with 21 present.

Dessert was served at 7:30 followed by a hymn sign and social period. Birthday cakes honored Walter Southworth's and Ralph Stillman's birthdays March 28 and 29.

The Pioneer Farm Bureau group met at the Charles Delamarter home for its March meeting. Joe O'Leary led the discussion on how to meet changing farm conditions in such areas as service programs, farm labor and political affairs. One of the suggestions was the feasibility of the rented services of major farm equipment used in harvesting particularly. The group will be hosted by Mr. & Mrs. O'Leary on April 12 with a 6:30 carry-in supper preceding the business meeting.

Mrs. Luke Kelly has a new grandson, John Kelly Moore born to her daughter and husband, the John Moores of Ionia on March 10. Also of interest to some Okemos area residents is the birth of a son, Robert Charles on March 23 to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Savage of Albion. Mrs. Savage is the former Mary Buxton, daughter of Mrs. Leslie Buxton of Hagadorn road.

Woman Makes Lap Robes For Hospital Patients

OKEMOS - Mrs. Nova Whiting, a senior citizen in Okemos has been busy making lap robes for the Ingham County Rehabilitation center south of Okemos. In the recent months she has completed 47 of these robes which are made of pined cotton tops, flannel inner lining and cotton backed, tied off with yarns. The washable quilts are just a good size to use by patients who are up in chairs. Friends supply her with cotton pieces suitable for making the tops, with outing flannel blankets for the inner linings and particularly useful are the printed feed sacks for backings. Mrs. Whiting also does volunteer work for the hospital, sews carpet strips to be used for rug weaving, etc. and takes an active part in several local organizations.

PVT. RICHARD H. ODEN, son of Harold Oden of Mason, who entered the army December 2, is presently undergoing advanced training in the Medical Corps following basic training. His address is: Pvt. Richard H. Oden, US55802157, Co. B, 3rd Bn. USA MED TC., Class 126A, Fort Sam Houston, Texas, 78234.

Need Volunteers In Nursing Homes

An appeal for women to serve as volunteers in convalescent homes in Holt and the south Lansing areas was made this week by the Ingham-Eaton Counties' Red Cross chapter, according to Mrs. Jack Hueston, chairman of volunteers.

Red Cross volunteers provide extra personal services which the professional staff does not always have time to give. Training for volunteer assignments is given by Red Cross and nursing home personnel.

Persons who have time to give others may call the Red Cross office of Volunteers, phone 484-7461, for more information.

Announce Tourney Winners

WILLIAMSTON - Winners were announced last week for the Recreation association's bowling tournament March 7 through the 14 at the Gold Star Lanes in Williamston.

Ninety-four women and one hundred and forty-two men entered the week long tournament. Individuals used their regular league score and donated one dollar. Fifty cents of every dollar was returned to winners; this made a $47 prize to be shared by the women and a $71 prize to be divided among the men.

In the women's category, $25 was won by Holle Schroeder with a 657 score. Joyce Turner earned $15 with 622, Beverly Schroeder was third with 621 and won $5. Winning $2 was Barbara Bachman with 617.

Tops for the men was Allen Cassaday who won $25 with a score of 691. Second for $15 was Jim Stark with 775, and third was Ray Ferrell, who won $5 with 670. Winning $2 was Don Lunsted with 667, Gayle Ripple with 662, Gary Whitford with 655, Dale Hemminger with 652, Jerry Larsen with 653, Auburn Perkins with 650, Dick Baker with 641, Doug Heeg with 640, Bruce Danstby with 638, Charles Parrott with 633, Russ Potter, Sr. with 633, Bill Lantis with 632 and Frank Mikek with 631.

Wool Payment Rates Set Up

Frank Light, chairman of the Michigan ASC Committee, announced this week that shorn wool payments for the 1964 marketing year will amount to 16.5 percent of the dollar returns each producer received from the sale of shorn wool during the period from January through December, 1964. This will bring the average wool price of 53.2 cents per pound up to the previously announced incentive level of 62 cents per pound under the national wool act.

Payments to producers will be $16.50 for every $100 received from the sale of shorn wool. This compares to a payment of $27.80 per $100 of marketings for the 1963 marketing year. This is the 10th year of the program.

Light also announced a payment rate of 35 cents per hundredweight on unshorn lambs. The payment on sales of live lambs that have never been shorn is based on the shorn wool payment and is designed to discourage unusual shearing of lambs before marketing. This payment rate compares to 54 cents per hundredweight for the 1963 marketing year.

No payments will be made on mohair sold in 1964, because the average price of 94.3 cents per pound received by producers was above mohair support price of 72 cents per pound.

Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) county offices will begin making payments soon after April 1. Applications for payment had to be filed with these offices by February 1. Payments will be made on shorn wool and unshorn lambs marketed from January 1, 1964 through December 31, 1964.

Don't Blame Me

Because I am a lazy farmer, as the neighbors all will tell, I would rather die of thirst than bring water from the well. I never get up early because I need my rest. After breakfast I always feel the best. I can sit and read the paper from noon 'til setting sun, and it never bothers me a bit if the work is never done.

Some folks worry about the weather, but me, I just don't care. I can watch it through the window from my good old easy chair.

My wife, she rants and raves because I am so lazy. If I was the nervous type, I know she'd drive me crazy, but I just sit and listen and let her blow her top. I know from past experience that when she's through she'll stop. I never get my oats sowed before the last of May and if I don't get any crop I can use the straw for hay.

I always plant a field of corn but I just waste the seeds. When harvest comes all I have is a big crop of weeds. The stables are all dirty and the flies are thick. When I do the milking it almost makes me sick. The manure pile is getting big, it's almost 10 feet high but I intend to draw it out some time. The fence is broken down and some times the cows will roam but when my neighbors find it out they will bring them home.

It happens very often that I milk but once a day. It takes a lot less effort and I get more milk that way.

But what the heck, I get along and little do I tell while my neighbors work and sweat to get something from the soil.

While I can live this carefree way, and still be just as lazy. I sure won't let that "Demon Work" pursue me 'til I'm crazy.

And dear Uncle Sam you made me what I am today and I hope you're satisfied.

Kill Right-To-Work Law

Congressman Charles Chamberlain reported that only 30% of the people in this district were in favor of repealing section 14b of the Taft-Hartley act. Due to the fact that we have never lived under the right-to-work law in Michigan, it is evident that we misunderstand the law.

There shouldn't be any doubt about the need to repeal section 14b of the Taft-Hartley act. Look at Indiana where they had a so-called right-to-work law. Those who had supported the law long ago now see their disillusion. One newspaper said the law actually increased labor tensions in the state's industry. The law gave no one a right to work. Ask the thousands of Studebaker workers in South Bend who lost their jobs when the plant closed.

Indiana legislators passed and the governor signed into law in January, a repeal of the 8-year-old Law. They had 8 years to live with the law and saw the harmful effects it had on working men and women as well as the rest of the state's economic life.

The right-to-work blight is on the entire nation and should be eliminated as quickly as possible. Write Rep. Chamberlain and let him know you are in favor of House Bill No. 77 which is to repeal Section 14b of the Taft-Hartley act.

By Charlotte Camp

The Stockbridge anti-poverty program got under way Monday night when the committee in charge met for the first time and elected officers. They are: Duane Ford, chairman; Richard Howlett, vice chairman, and Virginia Price, secretary.

That is about all that was accomplished at the meeting since the committee was unable to come up with anything solid in the way of ideas for a program that would ease the relief case load in the area.

Finally Ted Fay, township supervisor, offered a motion to appoint a subcommittee to draft an agenda for the next meeting on April 8. In this way the committee as a whole would have something definite to work on, rather than taking up valuable time by hashing over the same old questions as was done at Monday's meeting.

Questions raised repeatedly by a few were: "Why not take people off welfare and make them work?" and the charge that "These people have no desire to work."

Tom Perrin, Ingham county social worker, informed the committee that of the 32 families now receiving aid there are only 6 able bodied men capable of holding a job.

51 Boys Participate In Pinewood Derby

WILLIAMSTON - Williamston Cub Scouts and their fathers had a marvelous time with a Pinewood Derby Tuesday, March 23 at the Legion Hall.

Fifty-one boys, from 7 to 11 years old entered the contest. Each contestant was given a block of wood, paint and nails and from this they carved a small car, usually about six inches long. To determine the winner these small cars were raced and three winners were determined by the process of elimination. Fathers were given third place ribbons for their effort.

David Baker, David Priest and Ricky Cole were the three winners after all the races had been completed.

Ralph Shuck, former cub master, was given a set of engraved bronze bookends commemorating his five years as Cub Master.

Other awards given were: Bobcat badge to David Conklin and Randy Schleicher, Wolf Badge to Jim Nobach, Randy Cole, Scott Estell, and Ricky Cole; Bear Badge to Scott Estell and Ricky Cole; Lion Badge to David Leaning and Raymond Turner.

Lenten Service At Fitchburg

Rev. John Lover of the Liv-

Michigan Bell Reports 1964 As Big Building Year

Michigan Bell Telephone company has reported that in 1964 it spent more money than ever before on new construction and at the same time instituted rate cut-backs and service improvements adding up to more than seven million dollars in annual customer savings.

President William M. Day said in the company's Annual Report that the "continued vigor of Michigan's business and industrial activity" made it necessary to increase the 1964 construction program three times to meet demand. The final figure for the year was $107 million -- highest in Michigan Bell history and $2 million above the previous record set in 1957.

"In 1964 we were able to reduce rates and introduce service improvements that save our customers $7.4 million a year," Day said. "Such changes since 1960 are now saving our customers about $10 million annually -- twice the amount we are receiving from the last rate increase four years ago."

(The $10 million figure does not include an additional savings of more than $2.2 million to Michigan Bell customers in intrastate long distance rate reductions which became effective February 1 of this year.)

The company reported 1964 net income of $58.3 million, compared with $50.6 million the previous year. Earnings moved up 19 cents to $1.78 a share.

Day said the improved earnings "gave us an opportunity to further demonstrate that a public utility can furnish its customers better service at lower rates when it earns enough to take advantage of changing technology, replace worn out equipment, and plan beyond day to day requirements."

In 1964, Michigan Bell completed or began work on five new buildings and building additions in 28 communities. With average company investment brought to $63.5 million, the number of telephones Michigan Bell served at the end of 1964 totaled 3,428,939, a net gain of about 170,000.

On the average day throughout the year, Michigan Bell handled more than 17 million calls, and for the entire year switched more than 158 million long distance conversations -- both record figures for the company.

"People are reaching for their phones more often now than ever before and this tends to hide the fact that their telephone dollar buys more every year," Day said. "As the telephone population grows denser and exchange boundaries are extended, customers get more use from their basic local service; today the average customer makes 17 per cent more local calls than 10 years ago, and they cover greater distances."

Improved earnings, Day said, also "permitted innovation, experimentation, the introduction of new services, and a wider choice for customers."

Group Hears Debate on Gambling

WILLIAMSTON -- "Let's Match Wits" was the intriguing title for the program when the members of Zeta Gamma Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, met at the home of Mrs. Richard Pearson for the March meeting.

A six member debate team discussed the question of legalized gambling. Mrs. Thomas Collins, Mrs. Lamont Carter and Mrs. William Turner presented the affirmative side of the issue, with Mrs. Wayne Huffman, Mr. Emil Schlager and Mrs. Al Rideout discussing the negative side. Both sides were well represented and brought forth many thought provoking facts concerning the question. A lively discussion followed and all chapter members had an opportunity to voice their opinions.

The business meeting included the annual election of officers who will be installed at the Founder's Day banquet on April 27. Members taking office at that time will be: Mrs. Ronald Mead, president; Mrs. Wayne Huffman, vice - president; Mrs. Emil Schlager, recording secretary; Mrs. Dale Fulton, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. William Turner, treasurer.

Easter Seal collection envelopes were distributed and final details worked out for the house to house canvass which will be carried out by the sorority members and volunteers on Tuesday evening, April 6.

The sorority also made plans to attend the play "Mary Stuart" at the Barn Theater in Okemos on April 1.

Club Enjoys Dinner

LESLIE - The Welcome club enjoyed a potluck dinner at the Congregational Fellowship hall last Friday. Rev. Russell Hoover had charge of the meeting. He invited all to the church services Sunday, April 4, when the mortgage on the church parsonage will be burned. Rev. Hoover led in group singing, Mrs. Floyd Steffin and Mrs. Ralph Whitney sang 2 duets and Mrs. Myrtle Knauf gave a musical reading.

Rites Tuesday For Leslie Man

LESLIE - Funeral services were Tuesday at the Luecht funeral home here for Clarence (Sandy) Tension, 66, of Leslie and Lansing who died in Lansing Saturday night. Burial was in Woodlawn cemetery here. Rev. A.J. Berry of the Leslie Baptist church officiated.

2 Leslie Piano Pupils Rate High at Festival

LESLIE - Two Leslie piano pupils received excellent and excellent plus ratings at the south central music festival at Michigan State university Saturday.

They are Beverly Bailey and Clara Hutchinson, both pupils of Mrs. Clayton Jewell.

This annual festival is sponsored by the national and state Federation of Music Clubs and was established to encourage and promote interest among students through age 18.

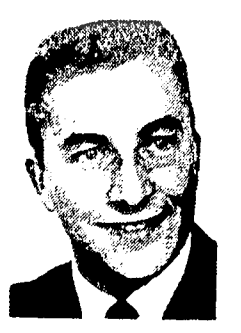

Festival entrants do not compete against others. Each is rated on his own merits. This means the festivals are designed not only for exceptional, talented performers, but also for the average student who seriously applies himself to his music.

Each contestant is required to play one number in his class and one number of her own choosing. Miss Bailey's required number in class 2 was the difficult "Will o' the Wisp" by MacDowell. As her choice number she played "Arietta" with variations, by Haydn. She received a rating of Excellent.

Miss Hutchinson's required number was in elementary Class I, "Very Important Puccini" by Harris. Her choice number was "Merry Farmer" by Schumann. Her rating was Excellent plus.

'Mad, Mad World' To Play Here At Popular Prices

A United Artists release, "It's A Mad, Mad, Mad, Mad World" boasts of a cast which includes "Everybody who's ever been funny," and points to Spencer Tracy, Milton Berle, Sid Caesar, Buddy Hackett, Ethel Merman, Mickey Rooney, Dick Shawn, Phil Silvers, Terry-Thomas, Jonathan Winters and Jimmy Durante to prove it.

Rose with music by Academy-Award-Winner Ernest Gold. It was produced and directed by Stanley Kramer, heretofore famous solely for his portrayal of the provocative and dramatic as exemplified by his "Defiant Ones," "Home of the Brave," "Champion," "On the Beach" and "Judgment at Nuremberg."

Symphony, Jazz and Choral Music Used In 'Mad, Mad World'

Background music for Stanley Kramer's hilarious "It's A Mad, Mad, Mad, Mad World," is provided by no less a famed musical aggregation than the 97-piece Los Angeles Symphony Orchestra, under the baton of Academy-Award-Winner Ernest Gold, who composed the music.

'Girl With Green Eyes' Another Film From Hit-Producing Studio

Following the original approach to movie-making that has resulted in such outstanding films as "A Taste of Honey," "The Loneliness of the Long Distance Runner" and the recent multiple Academy Award Winning "Tom Jones," Woodfall films is now offering the seventh in its short but amazing history in "Girl With Green Eyes."

The film, a Loren Pictures release starring Peter Finch and Rita Tushingham who starred in "A Taste of Honey," was filmed in Ireland, and its music is by John Addison, who served similarly for "Tom Jones" and won him an Oscar for it.

"Girl With Green Eyes," from the novel "The Lonely Girl" by Edna O'Brien who also adapted it for pictures, tells the story of two Irish country girls played by Miss Tushingham and Lynn Redgrave, the latter a daughter of film star Sir Michael Redgrave. Both girls come to Dublin and meet an older man, an experienced writer, played of that incredibly photogenic face and those eyes!"

The location shooting for "Girl With Green Eyes" was in accordance with Woodfall's experiences, which have produced successes both in the great North-England films, as well as in "Tom Jones" with its Irish countryside, farms and location shots in the City of Dublin were used, and where interior shots were necessary, actual houses, hotels, shops and other buildings were used.

The film marks the screen-debut as a film producer of the well-known English stage personality Oscar Lewenstein. It was directed by Desmond Davis.

by Finch. They are attracted to him. But it is Miss Tushingham who falls in love with him.

Miss Tushingham was personally chosen for the role by Tony Richardson, the film's producer and holder of the 1963 Best Director Academy Award for his "Tom Jones," because he was so highly impressed with her performance in "A Taste of Honey." He found her perfect for the "wide-eyed, naive girl with the beauty that first love gives" called for by the script, and her special charm, according to one critic, "spills out

OLD TIMERS Walter Brennan and Ed Wynn enjoy a bit of humor in Walt Disney's Technicolor feature, "Those Calloways." The unusual film drama stars Brian Keith, Vera Miles, Brandon de Wilde and Linda Evans.

'THOSE CALLOWAYS' STARS BOAST 160 YEARS ON STAGE AND SCREEN

If experience has anything to do with acting ability, and most authorities agree it is essential, the cast of Walt Disney's outdoor drama, "Those Calloways," has to be one of the best ever assembled. Altogether, Brian Keith, Vera Miles, Brandon de Wilde, Walter Brennan and Ed Wynn represent 160 years of experience in show business.

Listing them by seniority, Wynn, who is 78 now and still going strong, has been gagging it up for 62 years. The old fire Chief started out in the early days of vaudeville, and says he is going to keep it up "until they can't stand me any more." He plays a hard-of-hearing heckler who has a knack for saying the wrong thing at the right time in "Those Calloways."

Walter Brennan, who recently celebrated his seventieth birthday, started out as a movie stunt rider 46 years ago, and has played in scores of features and hundreds of television shows since. The three-time Academy Award winner plays a convincing town crier who takes up the Calloway cause in his first role for Disney. He is also the star of the TV series, "Tycoon."

Brian Keith has twenty years of acting behind him, ten of them on the New York stage. As Cam Calloway, a man of the woods with a dream as big as all outdoors, Keith has his most demanding role to date, and his eighth starring assignment for Disney.

Vera Miles, as beautiful and sweet as she was when she came to Hollywood as second runner-up in the Miss America contest seven years ago, plays Liddy Calloway, a buckwoods wife with an edge to her tongue and a heart full of love, in this her second feature assignment for Walt.

Brandon de Wilde was the tow-headed youngster who charmed millions in "Member of the Wedding" and "Shane" on Broadway and in motion pictures a dozen years ago. Twenty-three now, and a handsome lad, Brandon fulfills all of the promise of his youth as Bucky Calloway in the picture.

In color by Technicolor, "Those Calloways" was directed by Norman Tokar. Winston Hibler co-produced with Walt Disney. The screenplay by Louis Pelletier is based on Paul Annixter's novel, "Swiftwater."

Finch was born in London but spent most of his growing years in Australia. Before becoming an actor he was a sheepherder, waiter, reporter and vaudeville comic. His first attempt at acting came in 1935 when he joined a road company putting on shows in New South Wales and Queensland. By the time he was 23 he had twice won the annual award for radio acting.
