DAV Is Unhappy Over VA Hospital Closings

National Commander William J. Connolly recently announced that the Detroit VA Hospital would be closed as soon as a new one could be built. It is a common goal that each service man who returned from war, and the DAV Commander, feel that this was a disservice to the veterans and the public at large. The Detroit VA Hospital was built to handle the needs of veterans, and the DAV Commander believes that the facility should have been left intact. The Commander emphasized that the Detroit VA Hospital is a vital part of the American Veterans Association, and that the closing is a waste of money and resources. The Commander further stated that the veterans community should have been consulted in the decision to close the hospital.

Two Senior Knitters on alternate delegetes were selected to attend State 4-H from August 20 - September 2 at MU, to participate in the daily revue, which are open to the public and attend educational sessions especially planned for the clothing and knitting 4-H participants.

On The Bookshelf

By El R. Scott

Only a mystery by Lord Hy­ilton, August 31, 1966, is the eleventh novel dealing with the feebleminded burglar who tries his hand at crime. Since then the 0-3-story has had a number of sequels which have been accepted by the public. This one features the same character and many of the same situations in a different city. The book is a profitable and amusing one, with a good deal of adventure. It is a well-written and well-organized story. The author is well-known for his able handling of the detective story which he has made his specialty.

Senator Potter Reports

Last week, the Senate and the House were embroiled in a heated debate over the state's budget. The Senate proposed a $10 billion budget, which included increased spending on education, health care, and transportation. The House, on the other hand, wanted to cut funding for education and health care, while increasing funding for transportation and defense. The debate continued for several weeks, with both sides refusing to compromise.

In the end, the Senate passed its budget, which was then sent to the House for a vote. The House, however, refused to vote on the Senate's budget, instead proposing their own budget. The Senate and the House were unable to reach an agreement, and the budget for the next fiscal year remained unresolved.

The state's budget crisis has caused significant hardship for many of the state's residents, especially those who rely on government assistance. The lack of funding for education and health care has put many families at risk, while the increased funding for transportation and defense has led to a significant increase in the state's debt.

The state's budget crisis has also had a significant impact on the state's economy. The lack of funding for education and health care has led to a decrease in the state's workforce, while the increased funding for transportation and defense has led to an increase in the state's debt.

The state's budget crisis has also put a strain on the state's political leaders. The lack of agreement between the Senate and the House has led to a significant decrease in the state's political stability, while the increased debt has put a strain on the state's financial resources.

The state's budget crisis is expected to continue for several more months, as the Senate and the House continue to debate the state's budget. The lack of agreement between the Senate and the House is expected to lead to a significant decrease in the state's political stability, while the increased debt is expected to lead to a significant decrease in the state's financial resources.

WSU Researchers Work to Develop Artificial Heart

DETROIT - The day may be at hand when an artificial heart can be used to save lives. Dr. Thomas C. Gorman of Wayne State University says Dr. Thomas C. Gorman and his team at Wayne State University's Artificial Heart Laboratory have been working on an artificial heart for several years. The device is a temporary replacement for a damaged or diseased heart. Dr. Gorman and his team have been working on a heart that is less than 14 inches long and weighs less than five pounds. It is a battery-powered device that can be implanted in a patient and used until a donor heart becomes available. The artificial heart can maintain blood flow and pressure by constant pumping. It is made of materials that are compatible with human tissue. The device is controlled by a computer that senses the patient's needs and adjusts the flow of blood. The artificial heart can be made from a variety of materials, including metals, plastics, and ceramics. The device is designed to be used as a permanent replacement for a damaged or diseased heart. It is a revolutionary step forward in the field of heart disease and could save countless lives.
What Ingham County Churches Are Doing

"I Shall Keep This Lent"

"LENT" means springtime. It is an old Latin word which means a forty day fasting period next before Easter. It begins with Ash Wednesday and continues till Easter, exclusive of Sundays. It is a time for the conditioning of our soul...a time for our souls to become perfectible. It simply means that it is speeding up time, the season for planting seeds and for sowing blossoming trees.

In the realm of the spirit it is a call to get ready for the season of beauty and goodness.

Why should we fast with what we eat or in what we wear? Then is the quality for the Lenten season determined by our attitude toward the holidays of the year's copy. Our attitude toward mirth, joy, or laughter is determined by our attitude toward the season of Lent. This period of Lent is greater experience which leads to Newness of Life. A Society King of Lent said it well when he spoke the words, "I shall keep this Lent, and hope to refrain my zeal." Amen.
