Walkout Ends At Dart's

A strike called by the United Paper Makers and Paper Workers union, Local 938, at the Dart Container corporation, 432 Hogback road, last Wednesday came to an end as abruptly as it had begun.

For some 36 hours picketers made attempts at encouraging the 100-odd number of employees at the plant to go home until some agreement could be reached with management of the plant.

William Kittle, union representative from Livonia, told negotiating officials last Wednesday that if a contract wasn't signed between union and management there would be a strike.

William F. Dart, president of the corporation, said the area of disagreement centered about a clause in the proposed contract requiring the Dart Container corporation to maintain a "union shop."

"A union shop would require all employees to join the union regardless if they wanted to or not," Dart said. "Corporation officers felt and still maintain this stipulation is a basic violation of an individual's rights and refuse to sign a contract specifying a closed shop."

The first picketers, 14 in all, showed up at the factory just as the Wednesday midnight shift was coming on the job.

Ingham County Sheriff Kenneth L. Preadmore was summoned to the scene because picketers were blocking the drive leading to the plant. He informed management and union exactly what they could and could not do to remain within the law. Preadmore also reduced the number of picketers to insure employees not wishing to participate in the strike entry into the plant.

Many employees, even those that considered themselves members of the union, crossed through the picket line to go to work, Dart said. He indicated there was very little absenteeism during the strike and by Thursday several of the picketers had asked if they could return to work.

Factory employees voted to join the union last July by a majority of 4 votes. Since that time negotiations between management and union have been going on regularly with no contract agreement in sight.

There is no meeting scheduled by the union and plant officials at this time even though the picketing has stopped and workers have returned to their jobs.

All those who asked to return to their work were given their jobs back.

Forest Smith, Outstanding Farmer, Dies

Funeral services were conducted Monday for Forest Smith, 77, an outstanding Ingham county farmer, who had lived his entire life in rural Mason.

In 1917, Smith bought the farm at 3724 W. Columbia where he and his wife Daisy have lived ever since. For years he, his father, and his brother Howard L., operated their farms under the partnership of C.H. Smith and Sons.

During this time the main operation of the farm was shipping in and feeding western lambs until the animals were market size. The men maintained as many as 6,000 lambs each winter.

The Smiths would purchase the lambs in Chicago and have them shipped in by box car unloading them in Mason. The sheep were then herded down Columbia road to the farms with the help of several men and children.

In the spring the same operation was followed in reverse to get the sheep to market. It was a big event when the sheep shearers would come to the Smith farms in the spring to shear the animals and bale the wool.

The Smith family also was in the maple syrup business and furnished syrup for several large hotels in Chicago at one time. Following the death of his father and brother, Forest Smith actively operated the farms in a partnership with a son-in-law, Clarence Fry. Barry Wentland, a grandson-in-law, has also assisted. They have specialized in breeding and marketing hogs.

Smith was born March 2, 1889 in Aurelius township, the son of Caleb H. and Ella Dibble Smith. During his boyhood he lived on his father's farm at 4685 W. Columbia and attended Webb school and Mason high school, graduating in 1907.

He drove a horse and buggy to school in Mason. Smith married Daisy V. Lundberg, also of Aurelius township, July 17, 1907. They first made their home on the farm now owned by James Blauvelt. Some 10 years later they purchased the former Burt Sitts farm at 3724 W. Columbia road, which has since been their home.

The Smiths celebrated their golden wedding anniversary in 1957. They enjoyed traveling and spent a few weeks on several trips throughout the United States.

Services were at 2 p.m. from Ball-Dunn Funeral home with the Rev. E.L. Sutcliffe and Rev. Murl Eastman officiating. Burial was in Maple Grove Cemetery.

Pallbearers included William Fountain, Paul Rowe, Chellis Hall, Francis Burgess, Coe Emms, Ludell Cheney, Forrest Fry and E.D. Franklin.

Smith is survived by his wife; 2 daughters, Mrs. Leone Densmore and Mrs. Elleen Fry; 4 granddaughters, Mrs. Shireen Wentland, Kristine Fry, Vicki Densmore and Peggy Densmore; and 2 great-granddaughters, Laura and Jennifer Wentland.

'Bomb' Is a Dud

But Anonymous Phone Call Evacuates Junior High School

The telephone rang in the office of Donald Edgington, principal of Mason junior high school at 1:52 p.m. last Thursday.

"There is a bomb in your school; it will go off in 23 minutes," said a voice, and hung up.

Mrs. Strickland notified Edgington and students were told to get their coats and await a bell to evacuate the building.

At the sound of the bell the pupils filed out. The evacuation was completed in about 2 minutes.

By that time police and firemen arrived and began a thorough inspection of the building. In about 20 minutes of investigation they searched every nook and cranny but found no bomb.

The children returned and school picked up its normal routine, although about one class period was lost as a result of the "scare."

This "bomb scare" was the first one experienced here in 2 years, Police Chief Tim Stolz said. Holt high school went through a similar experience last week. There was no bomb found there either.

Propose Summer Pool Plan

A pilot program for summer use of the Mason high school swimming pool has been proposed by a special study committee composed of persons belonging either to the Mason board of education or the Mason Area Recreation committee.

Members of the board of education first saw the projected estimates of costs and number of persons expected to use the swimming facility at a special meeting of the board last Wednesday night, January 26.

The committee studied the revenues and expenses being

Teens To March Sunday Feb. 13

Bread for Polio

Some 50 Mason teenagers, boys and girls, will march Monday, February 13 in a house to house canvass in Mason in what they call the Teens Against Polio Bread Drive.

Each person who donates funds to be used to fight polio, will receive a loaf of bread free.

Bill Strait, a Mason high school senior and chairman of the Mason drive, said a goal of about $700 in donations is expected to be raised here.

Other members of his drive committee, Sandy Zigler, a junior, and Howard Batin, a junior.

The drive will start at 2 p.m. and is expected to be concluded about 4 p.m. Then the group along with 9 other similar groups throughout the county will be guests at a dance at the national guard armory on Marshall street in Lansing.

Students from 9 schools in the county will take part in the county-wide campaign. They will be from East Lansing high school, Everett, Sexton, Eastern, O'Rafferty and Gabriels high schools in Lansing, Mason high school, Haslett high school, Okemos high school and Holt high school.

All these schools are members of the Capital Circuit.

Schafer Bakeries Inc. of Lansing is contributing the bread for the drives. Officials there said about 15,000 loaves will go for the teen drive in Ingham county and the remainder to the drives in Charlotte and Grand Ledge.

Schools Receive Extension

Faced with a decision regarding the fate of the Webberville and Dansville school districts, which the state school reorganization study committee maintains are too small to operate a complete curricular program, the Ingham County School Study reorganization group last Wednesday night:

1-Decided to obtain more information from the Webberville and Dansville schools with respect to their school programs and curriculum offerings. The county committee will then evaluate the materials, prior to reaching a decision.

2-Named representatives of the county committee to consult with representatives of the state committee in relation to the 2 schools.

The county committee has called another meeting for February 23 to review its findings.

The state committee last week sent a letter to the county committee stating it could not approve the Ingham county study as presently submitted because of the Webberville and Dansville situation. The state committee asked for more complete reports on the educational programs offered in both schools and stated in its letter that "neither is growing at a very rapid pace".

Sometime ago following a meeting with the boards of the 2 school districts and that of Williamston, the county committee gave up a plan for merging the 3 districts into one because no interest for such a move was found in these districts.

Will Terminate Duties at Close Of School Year

Members of Board Accept His Decision with Regret

M. Chandler Nauts, superintendent of Mason public schools, tossed a bombshell into a meeting of the Mason board of education last Thursday night when he announced that he will not renew his contract for the 1966-67 school year.

He explained to the board that he is resigning not because of any animosity or dissatisfaction, but because he wishes to accept a position as principal of a high school where "I can be closer to the young people than I have been able to be as a superintendent".

He said he would like to locate in the central Michigan area but has no definite future plans at the moment. He will conclude his work in the Mason schools July 1, 1966.

Nauts came to the Mason school system from Almont in 1962 to become principal of Mason senior high school. When James H. Vander Ven retired as superintendent in 1964, Nauts was promoted to that position.

During his 2 years as superintendent Nauts can point to many advancements in the school system. During his regime a new 15 room elementary school - North Aurelius - has been constructed, a 4-room addition has been built at the Alafedon elementary school, a swimming pool has been built at the senior high school and a bond issue for $460,000 has been approved by the voters for a 12-room addition to the senior high school and a renovation job at the junior high school.

The board accepted his resignation with deep regret.

"We regret very much his decision to leave the school system," Robert Leonard, board president, said. "He has been an asset to the system from the time he came here. He worked well with the students and I regret to see him leave but it is his decision and I wish him well in his future plans. The Mason school system has made strides forward during his years both as a principal and as a superintendent. I am sure he will succeed wherever he goes."

Lyle A. Thorburn, board secretary, made this comment: "We certainly are sorry to lose Mr. Nauts. He has done a good job both as principal and superintendent. We certainly have made progress while he has been here. He has been most helpful in planning our pool facilities. He also worked closely with us in the building of the North

'Mason Has Hospital of Which To Be Proud'

"People of Mason don't realize what a wonderful institution they have in their community with Mason General hospital."

These were the words of Mrs. Larry (Nancy) Muschek, 23, a nurse anesthetist from Philadelphia, who was critically injured in an automobile accident at the intersection of US-127 and Cedar street last December 23.

"I'm alive and it is because of the care I received at this hospital," the grateful young woman said.

Mrs. Muschek balanced on the brink of death for days as doctors waited to see if any number of injuries would take a turn for the worst bringing death to the nurse.

In the accident she received a lacerated liver, pancreas and gall bladder, plus a fractured ankle bone when she applied the brakes on her car to avoid the accident and severe cuts over her face caused by crashing through the windshield.

But last Thursday Mrs. Muschek was released from Mason General to go home and open her Christmas presents, decorate the Christmas tree and give thanks for the fact she is alive.

Praise for the hospital, ambulance attendants, Ingham county sheriff's deputies and Mason people just pour from the girl.

"I have seen both sides of hospital life—usually I have been standing up looking down at a patient, but for 36 days I was down looking up at Mason General," she said. "This hospital and the people working here saved my life and if I had a million dollars I would give it to the hospital, but my husband and I are working people and can only afford to say 'Thanks.'"

Many people played a part in saving Mrs. Muschek's life; first there was the deputy who just happened to be within a block of the accident scene. Then there were the 2 ambulance attendants whose speed and gentleness brought Mrs. Muschek a little closer to survival.

Once at the hospital there were the 5 emergency surgeons and 2 anesthesiologists followed by nurses that stood watch for days and nights over the injured woman's bed following the 2 1/2 hours of surgery.

But also there were the little things. Nurses aides, Gray Ladies and Pink Ladies all wanting to call relatives, help the family in any way possible.

Mrs. Muschek, who received her training in a 2,000-bed hospital tells of her father sitting all night in the hospital cafeteria drinking coffee and waiting word of his daughter's condition.

"He says he drank at least a whole urn of coffee, hospital staff members sat with him offering comfort and not once did anyone ask him to leave or move," Mrs. Muschek said. "Believe me in a big hospital when the kitchen is closed—it is closed."

When my husband first saw the hospital, he was real clutched because of its smallness and fear that I wouldn't receive the specialized emergency care that was needed, Mrs. Muschek said.

"As small as this hospital is, every piece of equipment necessary to keep me alive was available."

"Although emergency equipment is available there are many other incidental items that Mason could give to their life-saving hospital, which would be very useful."

After 36 days in Mason's hospital, Mrs. Muschek noticed things that the hospital needed. Much patient care equipment is available but only one piece of each.

"I know," she said, "because for several weeks I shared a wheel chair with another patient down the hall. The time and work it would save if the hospital had just one or 2 more of these portable chairs."

Mrs. Muschek urges everyone in Mason to realize what a "wonderful hospital" they have and give willingly of their time, money and thoughts to the institution.

It was a happy day for Nancy Muschek, as she hobbled down the hall of Mason General on crutches and her leg encased in a cast. Patients, doctors, nurses, aids, gray ladies, even the janitor wished her well and watched the young woman, who almost died, walk, healthy and happy, out toward the exit door.

Nancy's husband is a graduate student at Michigan State university. Mrs. Muschek was returning home to Lansing after working her shift at the Foote hospital in Jackson when the auto accident happened. Mr. and Mrs. Muschek will be living at 1421 E. Kalamazoo street, Lansing, until he finishes his schooling and they can return to the East.

GOING HOME - Mrs. Larry Muschek, 23, of Lansing, was all smiles Thursday when her husband came to take her home following a 36-day stay at Mason General hospital. The young woman was returning home from her work at Jackson's Foote hospital when she was critically injured in an automobile accident just west of Mason on December 23.

Mason Has 4,172 Phones; 292 Added in Past Year

More people are using telephones in Mason than ever before. In 1965 Mason gained some 292 additional phone users to bring the grand total up to 4,172 telephones in use here.

In 1964 there was only an increase of 220 new telephones in use. These figures were released in conjunction with an announcement of Michigan Bell Telephone company to spend a record $75 million to expand and improve communications services throughout the state.

Growth figures for Holt doubled from 1964 to 1965. There are some 311 new telephones in the Holt area, which were installed in 1965. The total number of phones there is 3,461.

The 1966 construction program, reaching into virtually every community served by Michigan Bell, surpasses last year's previous record by $40 million and is about to double the amount spent only 3 years ago.

William M. Day, Michigan Bell president, said in Detroit that much of the capital required to finance the program must come from investors willing to put their money into the telephone business rather than in other investment opportunities.

He said the expanded 1966 program will require hundreds of additional employees to supplement the company's present force of some 23,400 men and women. It will give substantial amounts of additional business to Michigan construction companies and suppliers.

"A program of this magnitude is necessary to keep pace with Michigan's economic boom," Day said. "This boom has led to service demands such as the company never before has experienced."

Day also attributed a good share of the surging demand to higher telephone usage stimulated by increasingly attractive prices. He cited the recent series of rate reductions and service improvements which "are making telephone service a constantly increasing bargain." As examples, he mentioned the declining costs of both interstate and intrastate calls.

"These economies are prompting people in general to use their telephones more and more," Day said. "In addition, many people without service now are ordering it, and others with lower grades of service are ordering private lines. This all adds up to the heaviest burden ever placed on our facilities."

Consumers Plans Big Expansion

Consumers Power Company will invest more than $5,400,000 during 1966 in its Lansing division on projects to expand and improve its electric and natural gas services, Robert H. Lawlor, Jr., Lansing division manager for Consumers Power, announced.

He said that gas department projects will require $3,000,000 in new construction, and electric department projects about $2,000,000. Miscellaneous additions and improvements in existing company buildings will consume most of the remainder.

Highlights of the 1966 program in the gas department include the extension of some 73 miles of gas service for the first time to the community of Dansville.

Electric department projects will include the addition of 1,500 new customers to the company's lines, and a number of related distribution line and substation projects. Typical of the latter will be the installation of additional equipment at the Holt substation to help strengthen the power supply to the surrounding area.

Lawlor said the Lansing division of Consumers Power now serves electricity to 56,000 customers, and natural gas to 79,000 customers, in a 2,700-square mile area.

The Lansing division's 1966 construction program is part of Consumers Power Company's state-wide expansion and improvement program, in which the company is investing a record $134,000,000 this year.

The company provides electric service to 950,000 customers, and gas service to 700,000 customers, in a combined service area which encompasses all but one of the 68 counties of Michigan's Lower Peninsula.

Weather

It didn't appear Wednesday morning that the groundhog would see his shadow during the day, so, maybe, spring is around the corner.

But the forecast for the next 5 days didn't indicate any immediate sign of spring. Temperatures will average from 5 to 9 degrees below the normal high of 30 to 35 and the normal low of 13 to 20. Only minor day to day temperature changes are expected during the period, precipitation will total 1/4 to 1/2 inches with a chance of snow Friday or Saturday and flurries Sunday or Monday.

But cloudy weather is in prospect today which wouldn't give the groundhog much chance to see his shadow and scoot back into his hole for another 6 weeks of winter.

The U.S. Weather Bureau in Lansing said Wednesday would be cloudy and a little warmer but colder tonight with a chance of snow flurries. Thursday will be cloudy and a little warmer. High today will be in the mid 20's and the low tonight in the low teens. Thursday's high will be in the upper 20's.

Temperatures in Mason during the past week averaged 7 degrees, as compared with 10 degrees for the same week a year ago.

Temperature reading were:

	High	Low
January 26	20	0
January 27	7	-9
January 28	8	-11
January 29	10	0
January 30	15	7

WE WISH to express our sincere thanks for all the many expressions of sympathy extended to us at the time of our recent loss of our wife, mother, and sister. The notes and cards, contributions to the Memorial Fund of the First Presbyterian Church, the beautiful flowers, and the food brought to our homes was all greatly appreciated. We especially thank Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Lute, all the Florida friends, the Rev. Stuart Werner, the Caskey Funeral Home, and the ladies of the First Presbyterian Church and O.E.S. Three motorists driving car with noisy mufflers were assessed $2 each. They were Gary Hoxsie of Mason, William F. Beecham of Lansing and Thomas F. Trierweiler of Lansing.
Luther Morgan of Lansing was given a fine of $3 or 15 days in jail on a drunk charge. He was committed.
The 7 others were assessed as follows:

James Breslin, Dansville, speeding, $10.
Dale Phillips, Mason, speeding, $8.
Frances F. Cannon, Deerfield, speeding, $25.
Paul Hamman, Lansing, speeding, $10.
Richard McCulloch, Mason, failure to stop in assured clear distance, $10.

Dansville To Vote on 3 Millage Propositions

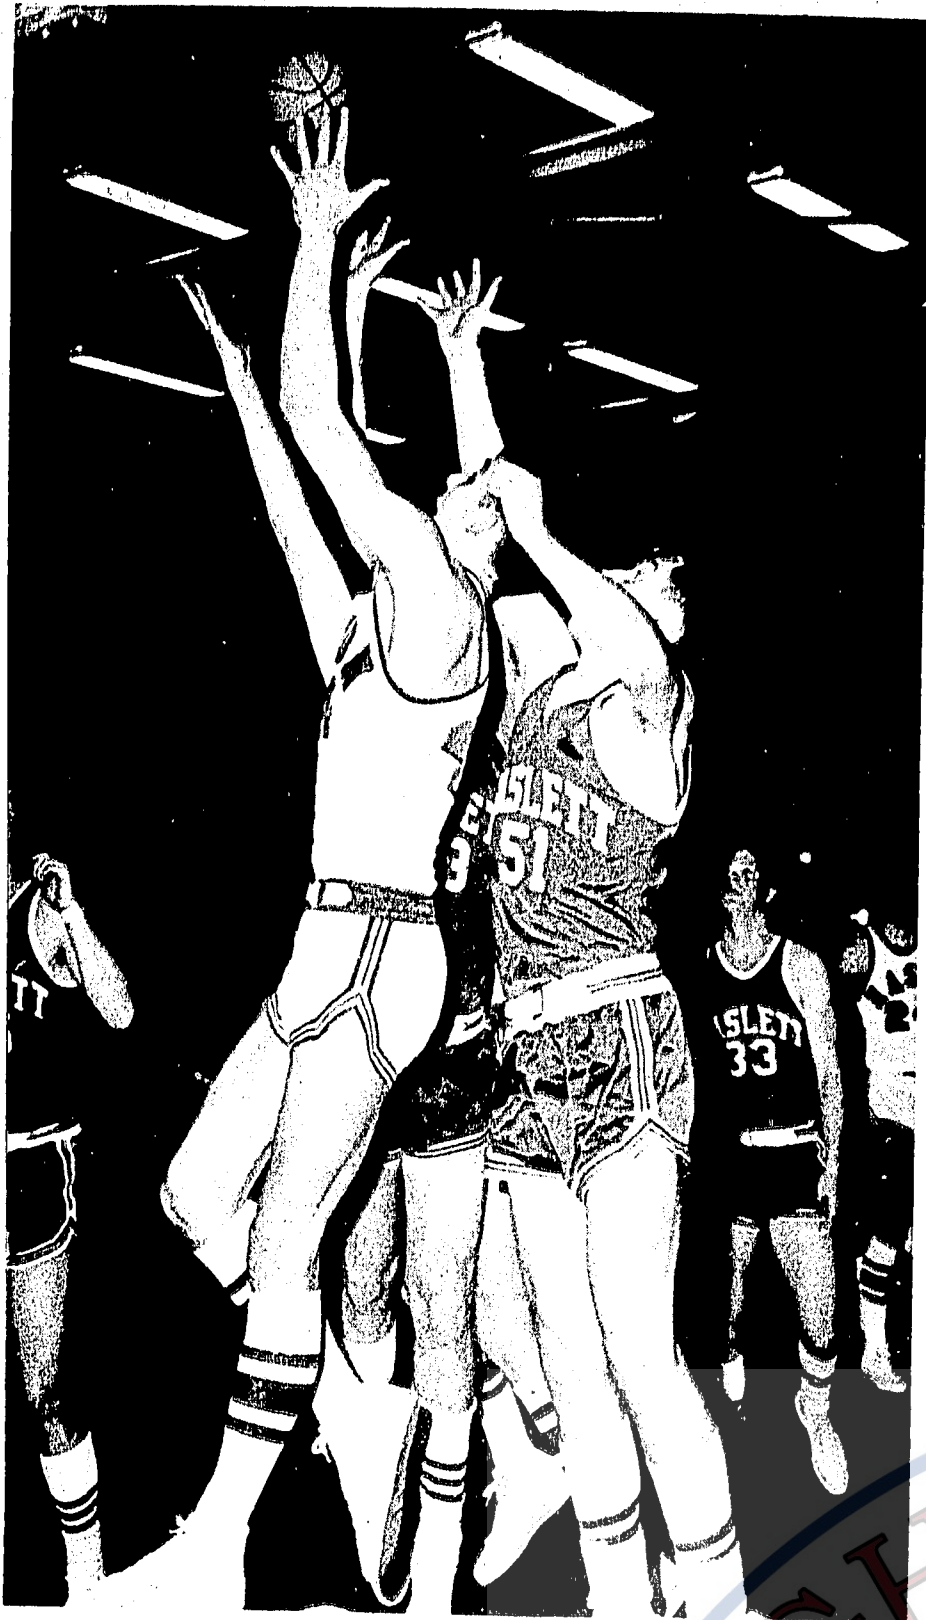

Voters in the Dansville school district will go to the polls next Wednesday, February 9 to vote on 3 separate propositions in a millage election. Polls will be open from 7 a.m. until 8 p.m. at the multi-purpose room of the Dansville Agricultural School.
The first proposition is for the renewal of a current 3 mill operation levy. This levy, which had been in effect for 5 years, expired in 1965. In order to renew the tax for another 5 years, it must be passed again.
This levy is used to operate Dansville Agricultural School; it pays for teacher salaries, the purchase of new equipment, teaching materials and fuel, electricity and repair for the school. It does not represent an increase in taxes; it is simply an extension of the present 3 mill school tax.

The 2nd proposition has to do with the establishment of a new building and site sinking fund. In order to create the new fund, a 3 mill increase on the 15 mill debt limitation is asked. The levy would run for 5 years.
This 3 mill increase would be used to build additional classrooms and improve present school facilities.
Construction and Improvement has been financed in recent years by transferring money from the general operating fund. However, according to Searl Briggs superintendent of the Dansville school district, this method of finance is no longer possible.

"With increasing teacher's salaries and rapidly rising operational costs, there just isn't money in the general fund available for transfer," Briggs said.
The 3rd proposal, if passed, would give the Board of Education the authority to levy the 3 mill increase asked for in the second proposition.
Without this authorization, the board would be powerless to collect the money. It is therefore necessary that both ballots pass for either to be good.
Should all 3 questions pass, property taxes would be increased in Dansville district as follows: Bunkerhill township $5.97, Ingham township $5.44, Leroy township $7.14, Leslie township $5.49, Stockbridge township $6.63, Vevey township $7.61, and White Oak township $6.14, for each $1,000 of property valuation as equalized.

Tax Cash Distributed; Mason Gets $1,208.52

Delinquent taxes collected in Ingham county in December totaled $55,372.31, Harry G. Spenny, county treasurer, announced this week.
They were distributed as follows:
General fund, $9,799.67; township and city fund, $43,092.65; county debt retirement

MASON WORKED the backboards to good advantage against Haslett Tuesday night and one of the hardest workers was Paul Allaire. Here he gets one away from Mike Kenyon and Andy Gordon.

Wrestling Tourney Draws Large Field

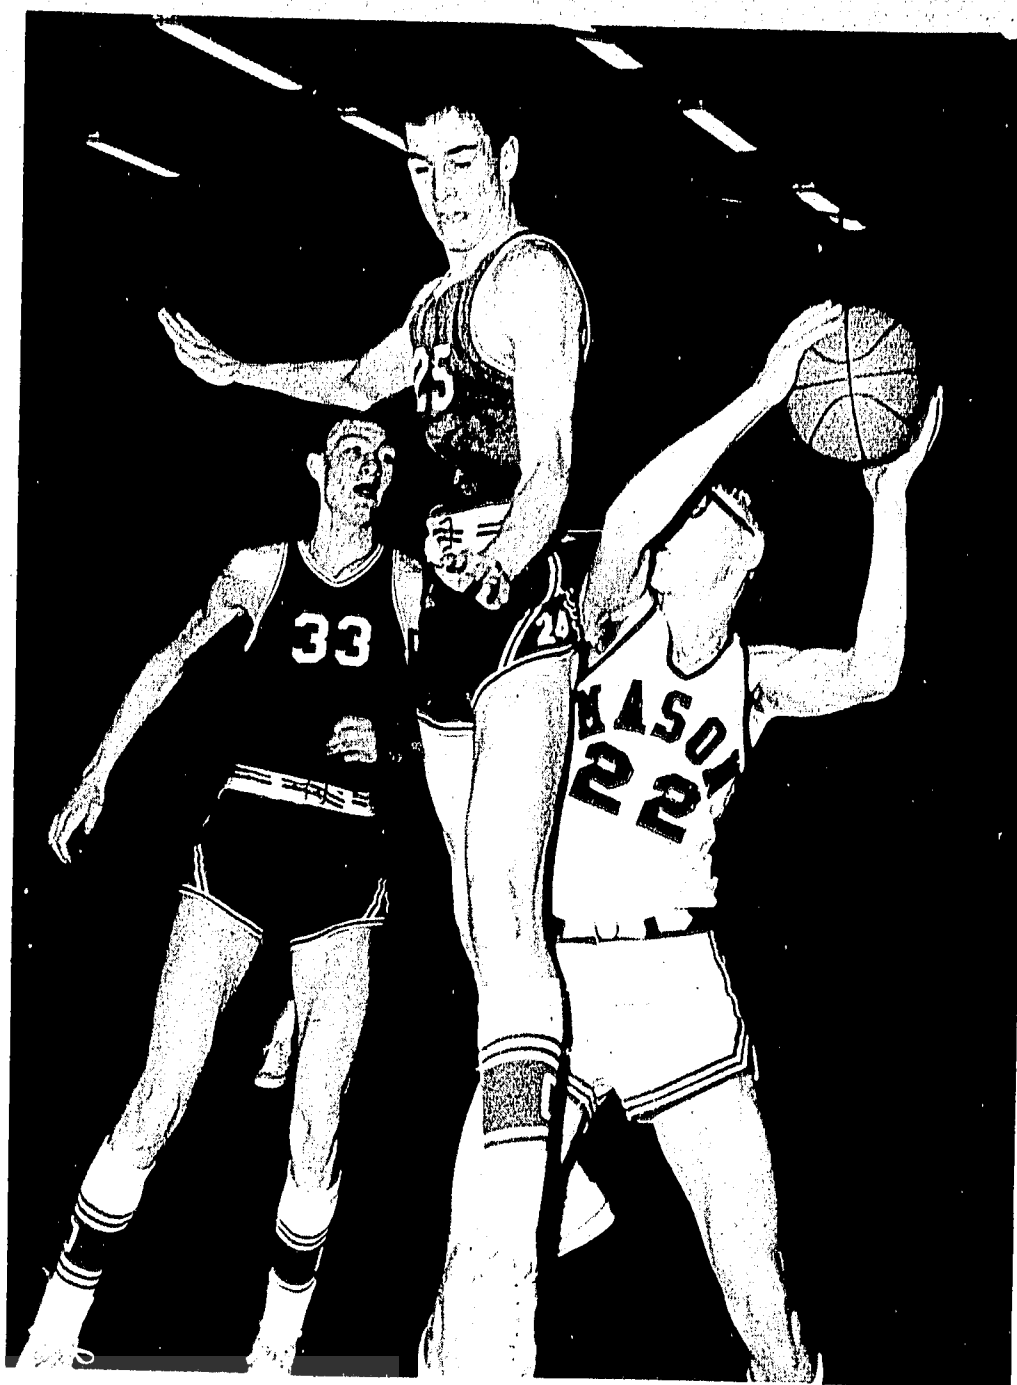

The first annual Haslett frosh-soph wrestling tournament was held Saturday January 16, 1966 at Haslett high school. The meet was limited to Class B and under schools and was open only to freshmen and sophomores.

Fowlerville and Haslett each had 3 champions, Howell had two and Eaton Rapids, Fenton, Holt, and O'Rafferty had one each. Okemos and Gabriels did not win a championship but each had one runner up.

Tournament manager and wrestling coach Willard Root said the meet was well balanced with all schools placing a number of wrestlers in the consolation and finals.

No team award was given but medals were awarded to the first 4 boys in each of the 12 weight classes. There were 105 wrestlers in the meet from nine teams.

Williamston Rolls

Williamston cagers didn't reach the century mark as other teams have been doing against Pinckney but the Hornets did have an easy time Friday night, downing Pinckney 87-33.

The win coupled with the Dansville loss to Leslie gives the Hornets another chance in the Ingham County league race.

That chance will come Friday night when the Hornets move into Dansville for the crucial game of the year. A Williamston win will give the Hornets a tie. A Dansville win will leave them out in the cold.

Pinckney, still looking for their first win, will try to find it Friday night when Fowlerville comes to town. Chances for Pinckney appear to be rather remote.

Williamston left little doubt as to its intention of winning big right at the start of the Pinckney game. The Hornets moved in front 24-8 and were never in any trouble although Pinckney picked up its scoring in the second and third periods. By halftime the Hornets held a 45-20 lead and at the end of the third period they were in front 64-33.

The crusher came in the last period when the Williamston defense limited the Pinckney shooters to only 3 points while the Hornets banged away for 25.

It was a night for fattening Williamston scoring averages. Mike McNeilly was high with 17 followed by Dunckel with 10, Lott with 11, Pierce with 10, and Koss with 16.

Stevenson was the high shooter for Pinckney with 14.

Mason Tops Haslett With Last Half Spree

Mason and Haslett hooked up Tuesday night in what started out to be a slow moving, low scoring game but Mason opened up in the second half to finish with a respectable 79-50 win.

The victory enabled the Bulldogs to stay out of the basement. It reversed an earlier loss at the hands of the Vikings.

Friday night Mason will have its hands full. The Bulldogs will travel to Holt—a visit which will come after 2 successive Capital Circuit losses after a fast Holt start.

The Bulldogs may find the Rams just a little bit upset and raring to snap their losing streak. The last time out Holt outclassed Mason in a second half spree.

Both Haslett and Mason had a hard time getting started.

At the end of the first quarter the Bulldogs were in front 15-8. Then Haslett came on strong to narrow the gap to 29-25 at halftime.

From there on out it was all Mason. The third quarter featured some under the board shooting by Paul Allaire and some out court shooting by Gary Barker. When the third period ended Mason had a comfortable 51-35 lead. It got even better in the last period as Jeff Cotton found the range to pace Mason with a 28-point spree.

Allaire ended up as top scorer with 20 points. Cotton finished with 12, Jim Powers collected 14 and Barker scored 10.

From the floor Mason out-shot the Vikings 27-16 at the free throw line. Mason had the edge 25-18.

Raiders Roll Over Bulldogs with Ease

Mason came out on the short end of a 81-68 count Friday night when O'Rafferty came to town. The victory enabled the Raiders to move back into the title picture in the Capital Circuit, especially in light of league leading Holt's successive losses to Gabriels and Eaton Rapids.

Mason didn't show much in the way of opposition to the Raiders until late in the game after the damage was done. O'Rafferty moved in front 20-13 in the first quarter and stayed there. In the second period the Raiders outshot the Bulldogs 18-8 and in the third quarter 19-13.

With the Raider bench taking over for most of the last period Mason put on a rally which accounted for 34 points.

Mason couldn't compete on the backboards until some of the big men for O'Rafferty left the game.

There was one bright spot.

Mason's Jeff Cotton came into his own with his best night. The Mason junior accounted for 24 of Mason points on 9 field goals and 6 foul shots. Bill Strait accounted for 14. Mason played without the services of Jim Powers, regular starter, who was incapacitated.

For the Raiders there were 4 men in double figures. Mark Fisher was high with 18, John Mlenko added 14, Bill Murphy put in 12 and Steve Oerplish added 10.

Wide Open

Eaton Rapids threw the Capital Circuit race into a wide open war Tuesday night with the season's top upset. The Grey hounds knocked off league leading Holt 63-57. In another bit of league action Gabriels topped Howell 76-67 to take over first place.

Jayvees Take 2

Mason's Jayvees picked up 2 more wins but they didn't win big. Friday night the Mason cagers edged O'Rafferty 64-62. On Tuesday night they came out on top of Haslett 60-59.

Against O'Rafferty Coach Bruce DePue's boys started out with the lead and had to hang on the ropes at the end. In the Haslett game Mason started out trailing and had to come up with a last-quarter surge to nip the junior Vikings at the wire.

O'Rafferty spotted Mason a 17-15 lead in the first quarter and came onto outshoot Mason by one point at the half. The Bulldogs rallied to regain the lead at the end of the third period but the Raiders fought back in the last period, matching Mason basket for basket.

Mason got balanced scoring with 5 players in double figures. Dan Crowe led the parade with 18 points. Gary VanderVeen was next with 13, Doug Engle added 11 and Ron Underwood and Pat Birney each bagged 10.

Crowe was again high man in the Haslett game with 17. VanderVeen tossed in 15 and Engle and Underwood each added 12.

Spartans Keep Up Fast Pace

Webberville stayed in the thick of the Central Michigan D league race by stopping Ashley 94-87 Friday night.

The Spartans jumped off to a fast start with a 22-12 lead in the first quarter and added 5 more points to the cushion in the second period. Ashley came on in the third period to pare 5 points from the lead but the Spartans were up to the challenge in a red hot last quarter with each team coming up with 23 points.

Ron Vieceilli continued his hot scoring pace with 27 points on 9 field goals and 9 free throws but it was Jerry Arnold's night.

Arnold, besides controlling both backboards, tossed in 35 points on 17 field goals and one charity toss.

Waite came up with 17 points for the Spartans.

For Ashley Dave Polash was high with 28, Dan Follett tossed in 23 and Dale Yelsik added 22.

With Stockbridge beating Fowlerville and Dansville being upset by Leslie Friday night, the Ingham County League basketball race is beginning to tighten up somewhat.

Dansville is still in first place all alone but Stockbridge and Williamston are only one game behind, tied for second place.

The Panthers rallied from a 31-29 half time deficit Friday night to defeat Fowlerville 80-71.

Both teams scored heavily from the free throw line in the foul filled contest that saw a total of eight players sent to the bench on fouls. Three were from Stockbridge and five from Fowlerville. Stockbridge had its usual balanced scoring attack with Dave Mills getting 15, Rob Sooy 13, Tim Howlett 14 and Don Camburn 11. Camburn and Sid Smith who had seen little action prior to Friday night's game, came off the bench early and turned in excellent performances.

Mills led in the rebounding department with 11 while Camburn had 8 and Sooy had 7.

High point man for Fowlerville was Terry Ganton with 24.

Next Friday the Panthers will play host to the Leslie Blackhawks who upset the league leading Dansville Aggies Friday night.

Leslie Cuts Aggies To Tighten League

Dansville's Aggies lost some of their steam Friday night. Leslie clipped the league leaders 77-69. The Aggies still rest in first place but one more loss could do it.

Chances for that loss are not remote. Second place Williamston will be at Dansville Friday night. A win by the Hornets would bring on a first-place tie.

Leslie will have another chance to pull off an upset. Friday night the Blackhawks go to Stockbridge. The Panthers have come on fast as the season has progressed. It should be quite a game.

There was nothing freakish about the Leslie win over the Aggies. Dansville forged ahead in the first quarter 23-20 but the Blackhawks came back strong in the second period to leave the floor at halftime leading 42-41.

In the third period Lon Cooper gave Leslie a boost with some good shooting and the Blackhawks snapped them off. The final Aggie rally was snuffed out with less than 2 minutes to go when Chuck Lay tossed in a Leslie field goal and added 4 foul shots for good measure.

Cooper paced the Blackhawks with 19 points. Mumby finished with 17, Long had 16, Snow had 11 and Lay ended with 10.

For Dansville Jerry Ernst was high with 24, Colon Curtis bagged 20, Jim Mullins contributed 12 and Dave Beatty ended with 11.

MASON'S JEFF COTTON found the range in Mason's 2 games this week. Here he gets a shot away over O'Rafferty's Steve Perpich which accounted for 2 of his 24 points. In Tuesday's game with Haslett he picked up 12 points.

Families of Future To Have More Money, Leisure, Easier Jobs

The family breadwinners of the future will probably have easier jobs, more leisure time and more money to spend. This somewhat rosy picture of the future was painted by Michigan State university scientists involved in Project '80, a futuristic look at Michigan's rural potential for 1980. But the gaze into the future also included general projections for all of the economy. Here are a few of these glimpses of the future as seen by the MSU scientists:

—The national economy will likely total about a trillion dollars, in terms of today's prices—enough to provide the population with an income after taxes of $3,000 per capita. And this means that every man, woman and

You Don't Say

By Sally Robinson

Each week the Ingham County News inquiring reporter asks a question of 5 persons at random. This week's question is: "What would you think of a state operated lottery as opposed to a possible state income tax?"

Roy W. Adams, 331 W. Ash street, Mason, justice of the peace:

"I am opposed to gambling and this includes lotteries. This has been out-throughout most of the United States for many years and I don't think it should be allowed to start up again. "People begin the gamble and develop a fever for it. Soon they will do anything to get funds to carry on their gambling activities including all sorts of crimes, which they are eventually arrested for. I feel a state income tax would be preferable because allowing lotteries would be just one foot in the door to open legalized gambling on all levels."

Val DeRosa, 820 N. Hogback road, Mason:

"I would probably favor a state income tax to a state operated lottery. My feeling is with an income tax everyone is paying their fair share while gambling often involves those people who can't afford it and their families suffer."

DeRosa

"If you are making money you can afford to pay taxes. I don't think a state operated lottery would be too profitable in the long run anyway."

Mrs. Elliott Moore, S. Park street, Mason:

"I really think the people of Michigan are taxed enough. A lottery might be all right as those who wanted to participate could do so on a voluntary basis, not like taxes where everyone has to pay."

Mrs. Moore

"Taxpayers have to file federal income taxes now which is a big enough headache and to add on a state income tax would be just too much. Basically I am opposed to a state income tax and a state lottery."

Public Likes Gallon Milk Containers

CHIVALRY STILL LIVES - Billy Reeser, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Reeser, 516 W. Sycamore street, Mason, came to the rescue of Patricia (left) and Beth Ann Birney, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. James Birney, Jr., 525 W. Sycamore street, Mason. It is real rough even for a fella (note the milk puddle) to pour from a gallon milk container.

Michigan's newly reinstated one gallon milk containers have come to Mason and are creating quite a stir. Several stores have been carrying the new size for the past 2 weeks and indicate sales are very good.

Who is buying the king-sized containers? Grocery men say they have noticed the regular users are primarily young mothers with large families. One dairy supplying a Mason supermarket said anywhere from 350 to 400 gallons of milk were sold per week in this quantity carton at the particular store.

Why are the new gallon containers selling so well? One reason might be just the novelty of something new, but most people like the convenience of having a large supply of milk on hand.

Some of the Mason store keepers were skeptical about selling the 9-pound cartons of milk. Anticipated problems included additional storage space, possibility of the cartons' weight ripping out the bottoms of grocery bags and lack of customer demand. But the skepticism soon disappeared as the gallon containers were quickly snatched up by the store patrons.

Once mom got the gallon milk carton home there was an entirely different situation to deal with. How to pour from such a large spout, keeping the kids from trying their pouring luck, which usually ends in disaster, plus added space and weight in the family refrigerator.

Evidently the problems have been overcome, as more and more gallon cartons are passing through the check out stations at Mason's stores every day.

Soon the milk containers that are now novelty and a conversation piece will become "old hat" taking a back seat to another new container or product.

Today Is Groundhog Day

If He Sees His Shadow, Winter Will Stay for 6 Weeks;
If He Doesn't Balmy Days of Spring Are Near

This is the time of year when folks begin to think about spring and flowers and baseball and golf and all the other pastimes that come during the warm months.

Today is Ground Hog Day when the little woodchuck which has been hibernating through the winter months in a deep hole pokes his head out to look over the weather.

The day also has religious significance and is known as Candlemas Day.

Tradition has it that if the sun is out and the groundhog sees his shadow, he goes back into his hole and remains there for 6 more weeks for that is how much longer winter will last.

But if the sun is shrouded in clouds get out the garden tools and the golf clubs for spring is just around the corner. Mr. Groundhog stays out because he knows the winter weather will soon give way to balmy spring.

The custom of observing the weather on Groundhog Day to discover what the future will be was brought to America by immigrants from Great Britain and Germany.

In Germany it was the badger which broke its hibernation to observe the skies; in the United States the belief was transferred to the woodchuck.

The English and Scotch people have many rhymes in which the belief is embodied.

One of them went like this:

If Candlemas Day is dry and fair
The half o'winter to come and mair

If Candlemas Day be wet and foul
The half o'winter's gone at Yule.

And another:
If Candlemas Day be fair and bright
Winter will have another flight

But if it be dark with clouds and rain
Winter's gone and will not come again.

In the early part of the present century a group of merry wags living in Pennsylvania organized the Slumbering Groundhog Lodge.

On the morning of February 2 members donned silk hats and carried canes and went into the fields seeking the burrow of a woodchuck. When one found a burrow, he called to the others and they all assembled to await the wakening of the animal from his hibernation and his emergence into the outer air. They watched his behavior and then returned to their village where they interpreted his actions and reported to the public.

According to the records of the lodge, the woodchuck's prognostications were verified by the weather 8 times, were indefinite 5 times and wrong 7 times since the observance began.

Candlemas Day or the Feast of the Purification of the Blessed Virgin Mary also is observed by the Roman, Greek and Anglican churches. It is in celebration of the visit of Mary to the Temple in Jerusalem for purification which, according to the Jewish ritual, took place 40 days after the birth of Jesus and which is described in the 2nd chapter of the book of Luke.

Church historians are of the opinion the day was celebrated from very early times by the Christians in Jerusalem. For many years the celebration was on February 14 for Jesus was supposed to have been born on the Day of Epiphany. But when it was decided that Christmas Day fell on December 25, the Feast of the Purification was celebrated on February 2.

It is called Candlemas Day as candles are blessed in the churches on that day, symbolic of St. Simeon's references to the "Light to lighten the Gentiles."

Can a Disorderly Society Survive?

"Can a disorderly society survive?" That question was asked of former Supreme Court Justice Charles E. Whitaker by the Kansas City Star and the question and Judge Whittaker's reply was repeated in the Reader's Digest. His answer: "In all recorded history, none ever has. On the contrary, history shows that the first evidences of each society's decay appeared in the toleration of disobedience of its laws."

There can be no true freedom without the rule of law. Anyone has the right to protest any law and urge its repeal or change. But no one has the right to disobey laws which he simply doesn't like.

That's a fact of democratic life which Rev. Martin Luther King, other civil rights leaders, those protesting U.S. foreign policy by violating existing laws and in general, the American people, seem to ignore.

This week the Ingham County News received an unsigned letter to the editor--the variety of letter to the editor usually ignored--which points out how many people who consider themselves patriotic Americans and good citizens fight the orderly rules of law when it applies to them.

This letter, written by "I. Shop Elsewhere," evidently has been burned by being cited for a traffic violation by Mason officers. He maintains that "Mason's Barney Fifes" are out for the motorist's blood.

He is unhappy over the long list of traffic citations processed by Mason justices.

What I. Shop Elsewhere doesn't seem to get through his head is that the Mason police don't write the laws. The Mason justices do not write the laws either.

But--law officers are charged with enforcing the laws. Justices are charged with the duty of hearing those cases and adjudicating those cases of alleged law violators. To do anything less would be shirking their oaths and responsibilities.

If laws are bad the American system provides for recourse and change through lawful methods. Too many laws are on the books which are ignored by the people and in some cases by the law officers and the courts.

If Mr. Elsewhere obeyed only the laws which he personally wanted to obey; if Mr. Law Officer enforced only the laws he wanted to enforce; and if Mr. Judge administered justice only on the laws which he personally was in favor of, then orderly government would be dead.

The best way to cut down on Mason's justice court business would be for the drivers to obey traffic laws. That goes for Mr. I. Shop Elsewhere, too.

Accepted with Regret

Announcement elsewhere in the News today of the resignation of M. Chandler Nauts as superintendent of the Mason public schools, will come as a deep shock to his many friends in Mason.

For 2 years he has headed the Mason school system and for 2 years prior to that he was principal of Mason's senior high school.

He did both jobs well--exceptionally so.

An unassuming, friendly person, he buckled into the job of superintendent and gave it all he had. But it was a lonely job for a man like Chan Nauts, who liked to be around and help school children on their way up the ladder of life.

He couldn't, as superintendent, do the things he liked to do--be around children and work directly with youngsters. Because of that he resigned.

He had no troubles here. Every member of the school board received his announcement of his decision with shock and finally accepted it with the deepest regrets.

He hopes to obtain a position as a school principal, so he can renew his greatest desire--to work and help youngsters.

Wherever he goes and whatever duties he pursues, the best wishes of Mason people go with him.

GUEST EDITORIAL

Before It's Too Late

Reprinted from TUSCOLA COUNTY ADVISER

A recent editorial in a state church magazine made these comments which are certainly worth repeating in part:

Nineteen great civilizations destroyed! That's the record of history. Destroyed, not by some greater and more powerful nation, not by the invention of some "inhuman" weapon of war, but by moral decay from within--a steady slippage of standards encouraged by affluent complacency.

That's where we are in America right now. Our greatest threat is not the destructive power of atomic weapons, the increasing power of Red China, the creeping blight of atheistic communism as an acceptable thought pattern for American youth, it's the same thing all over again--an acceptance of moral standards that border on filth.

In the time it takes you to read this editorial, a teenager has contracted a venereal disease. Every 14 hours 8,000 sex offenders are arrested in the United States. God only knows how many get away. 31 rapes are reported over every same period of time. In Michigan alone there has been a 17% rise in reported cases of VD within the 10-19 year age bracket.

There is a direct link between sex crime and pornographic materials which are becoming more readily available every day. Police report that in almost every case of arrest they find this kind of material in the sex criminal's possession. Recently we saw a display of current materials on the market in Michigan, pornographic comic books, playing cards, photograph albums, full color nudist magazines, lewd fiction fully illustrated, and sadomasochistic literature. The sale of such materials grosses $1,500,000,000 a year. Take another look at that total.

Now what's to be done to call it to a halt? It would be incautious to attempt the passage of censorship laws in abridgment of the First Amendment. These could be the proverbial nose of the camel. Organized boycotts are also improper because they are illegal.

The only answer seems to be a reversal of community standards. The impotent protest of the individual is still the most effective weapon we have in America. Vocal demands for this type of material must be countered by vocal demands against it. Silence can only be interpreted as consent...Plead for self-censorship, demand magazines, books, pictures, TV shows that develop rather than destroy. Don't support the other kind. Don't be swayed by the case for "realism." This is merely a device to make obscenity acceptable, so that it can be indulged in under the pretense of sophistication and "liberty." Most of the Moral Law is prohibitive, a call for restraint. We had better apply the brakes before it is too late.

September 11, 1947

On Tuesday morning I filled one of my rare speaking engagements. I appeared before a group of extension club leaders to tell them how to make the front pages with their organization news. Of course, the surest way is a killing, or running off with the preacher. There is not a newspaper in the United States which would not play up the story should women at an extension club meeting slash great gashes in the hide of the husband of the hostess.

Sad but true it is, and I so informed the women Tuesday, that good news, news of women doing good deeds, gets little play. But let a woman do away with her mate and that's front page news everywhere. Most people read every word of it.

A reputation is a fragile thing. Few of us have our reputations well enough established that we can stand a shooting charge. Even when great men are dead and gone ghouls like to dig up scandal against them. We know it is false, yet we all like to reflect that George Washington cut down the cherry tree, and just a few months ago another one of those scandalous books was brought out, one that hints about various indiscretions on the part of Washington.

A murder, any murder, is worth the writing. That's why most people everywhere are anxious to read about them; and anxious to write about them.

The best time for a murder from the viewpoint of the Ingham County News is on a Wednesday night or early Thursday morning, if the crime is immediately discovered.

Please report all shootings promptly. Phone 9011 Mason either on want ads or murders.

Barbs and Praise

All those people who have been squawking about the lack of the old-fashioned winter should be quite content.

Frankly, I have come to the conclusion that love for the great, snowy, frosty outdoors in inverse ratio to age. At least that is the way it works with me.

Sunday afternoon as I ran from car to house in an attempt to beat the cold, I couldn't help but think how happy it used to make me to see lots of snow on the ground and to be out in that snow.

The sub-zero weather of the weekend makes some people happy, regardless of age. I have in mind the fuel oil dealers, Consumers Power gas department executives and garages operating tow cars.

There were just as many tow cars in the Kellogg Center parking lot early Saturday morning as there were passenger cars. They just don't make hardy cars like they used to make them.

This was the weekend of the Michigan Press association, always a sure bet to bring on frigid weather.

It seemed as if there were just as many college publicists as there were newsmen at the convention. The subject seemed to always get around to how higher education is being short-changed in state legislative appropriations. The college administrators

The Melting Pot

It was my pleasure to attend the 25th annual dinner meeting of the Michigan Press association last Saturday night at Kellogg Center in East Lansing.

There was a full course dinner of foods grown in Michigan, a program of music and a most interesting talk by Inspector Bernard M. Slutter of the staff of J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation of the U.S. Department of Justice.

During his remarks, Slutter told a story that went something like this:

A group of people had assembled for an evening of discussion. Among the group were a famous actor and an elderly clergyman.

During the evening the group called on the actor to give a demonstration of his acting and rhetorical ability. He asked them what they would like him to do.

Someone suggested that he recite the 23rd Psalm. With all the rhetorical power at his command, he spoke fluently, words rolled from his lips like pearls of wisdom, his diction was perfect, his stage presence superb.

When he had finished there was a great roar of applause from the audience.

Then they called on the elderly minister. He, too recited the 23rd Psalm. The clergyman was old, his voice was unsteady, he had not the force nor the stage presence of the actor.

When the elderly man had finished the room was hushed. There was no applause, but there was not a dry eye anywhere among the assembled group.

The clergyman sat down. Then the actor rose from his seat walked over to him and placed his hand on his cite clutches of figures pointing to the lack of funds and how this lack of funds is a sin against our youth.

This weekend, after hearing speaker after speaker and conversation after conversation along these lines, I want to point out that I did my part. Twice I threw my quarter into Uncle John Hannah's Kellogg Center parking meter trap and twice the gate refused to open. I figure that after dropping 2 quarters in the mechanical marvel, I did my part for higher education so I took off across the curb.

One of my favorite press convention people is Vic Spaniolo, co-editor of the Cassopolis Vigilant along with his brother Jim. Vic and Jim originally were out of Charlotte. Vic got his first taste of newspaper work back in the late 1930's when he, along with Mason's Tom Green and Hal Schram of the Detroit Free Press, put out the Ingham County News a couple of weeks so that the Browns could get in a vacation.

Vic bubbles with enthusiasm on most any subject, especially if it is related to newspaper work. He's providing another Spaniolo to the profession, too. His son, Jim is on the editorial staff of the Michigan State News, where the old man labored at one time.

Dick Brown

shoulder.

"My friend", he said, "in my recital of the Psalm I reached only the ears of these people. But you have reached their hearts."

This touching little story appears to me to have a parallel in life.

The actor in the story is like many famous stars of the entertainment world who contribute much to the enjoyment and welfare of the nation.

But in the world outside the theater there are other "actors" of a sort, flashy individuals who talk and talk and say little.

And we also have the quiet, unassuming persons who work along day after day without applause, who do not seek the limelight but who in the long run accomplish what they set out to do. Their deeds speak louder than words and they reach the hearts of the real thinkers of America.

These people seek no orchids. They are the plodders but they are of the stuff that has made America great.

The volunteer firemen of Buckley won't let a stuck door stop them from going to a fire. They received an alarm the other day and rushed to their posts, but snow melting from the firebarn roof had frozen shut the upswing door. The firemen found themselves trapped in their own bar.

But Chief Ed Michaels was not to be stopped. "Drive through it", he ordered his men.

The truck crashed through the door and on to a garage blaze. The firemen got there in time to save the house.

Michaels estimated the cost of damage to the door at $150.

Farm Views And News

By JIM MULVANY

This week over 15,000 farmers from Michigan and surrounding states are attending Farmers Week on the campus of Michigan State University. Has anyone told you what it is like to be one of those 15,000 who visit the educational home of 36,000 students which is approximately 2 square miles in size?

It sounds like a lot of people, but have you tried to park yet? You should attend

Farmers Week not just because it is an opportunity to visit the home of agricultural research in our state but also that you may discover the reality of special problems involved in educating our population boom. The doors of MSU are open to you—take advantage of the opportunity.

Many local people are involved in professional organization's annual meetings

'this week. Richard Byrum, Onondaga, is secretary of the Hereford Breeders association meeting Tuesday; Loren Spink, Mason, is vice-president of the Michigan Cattle Feeders association meeting on Tuesday and Norman Smalley of Williamston is president of the Suffolk Breeders, also meeting on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Fogle of Mason will be recognized at the Thursday evening Farm Management banquet with a Farm Manager of the Year Award. This award is based on outstanding accomplishments in the farm business as indicated by Telfarm Financial and Production records. Dave Diehl of Dansville will give the farmer response at this banquet following the presentation of awards.

All of you will want to take in the Weed Control meeting at 2:30 in the Kellogg center auditorium on Thursday where Ola Sheathelm of Dansville will relate to other farmers in the state his experiences with new weed control practices.

It is said that Orla prepared his talk in the workshop by filing a good sharp edge on his hoe which still remains well scoured from last summer's bean crop. I think he is also going to mention other less successful practices that he has had experience with such as chemical weed control. On Friday at 12 noon the American Dairy Association of Michigan will hold its annual meeting at Kellogg Center. I still have a spare ticket. Representative Charles Davis, president of the association will give a report following the dinner and lead a discussion entitled "What Do You Think of your Organization?"

Aside from Farmers Week there is that less desirable subject of incometax that must be filed by February 15. Farmers Tax Guides are available in our office as well as forms of all kinds. Those of you who file your own tax will need a 3468 form to make sure that you do not overlook your investment credit.

These forms were not enclosed with the packet mailed to you. Items eligible for investment credit are machinery and other equipment, grain storage, silos, concrete yards, feed bunks, tile and fences.

Don't forget the credit on the tile and silos on the new farm you bought this year. Remember when you have an expert tile for you, he is only an expert to the extent that you have informed him about your business. Poor record keepers pay the high tax dollar because income is easier to record than expenses and credits.

Navy Ratings Now Open to Ex-Servicemen

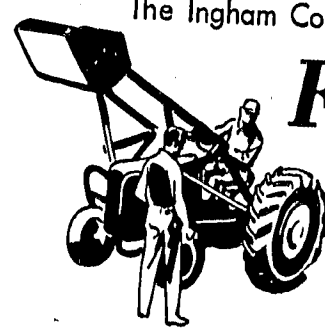

The Navy, as a highly technical organization demanding a great variety of skills and abilities in its personnel, has long recognized the need for the right man in the right job. To better meet this ever increasing demand of selection, training and proper placement of personnel, the Navy is able to offer formal rate training to all ex-servicemen.

This program of Formal Rate Training covers the full 65 Navy ratings including nuclear power, electronics, communications, aviation, engineering, radar, supply, dental and just about any other field in which a man could desire training.

All Formal Rate Training Programs are guaranteed in writing prior to enlistment and in many cases enlistment may be effected in the same pay grade held at time of separation.

Farm News

Wednesday, February 2, 1966 - Page B-4

A HAPPY OUTLOOK for the State of Michigan was forecast by Governor George Romney when he met with Detroit business leaders to outline objectives for 1966 Michigan Week. Judging from this photograph, Dale I. Sellers, president of Greater Michigan Foundation, and Noble D. Travis, chairman of the Finance Committee share the Governor's enthusiasm.

Agriculture In Action

Farm Labor—1966
"Not so hot"—"More of the same"—these are the opinions of experts concerning the 1966 farm labor outlook in Michigan.

The opinions are based on the obvious continuation of the present unfriendly attitude of the Administration toward importation of foreign farm workers, as well as the impossible-to-meet demands on the part of the federal government now attempting to set wage and living standards for farm workers.

Federal officials are plain in their opinion that farm worker wages should be pegged at around the $1.50 per hour figure, supplemented by "adequate" housing (with tight federal standards set) and a number of other worker benefits.

Growers predict that fresh market produce will become even more of a luxury as such pressure grows and farmers are forced into expensive mechanization to keep in business. Even at that, farmers haven't quarreled much with most demands, providing they receive value for their investment. All too often this has not been true, with the countryside dotted by upgraded migrant housing for workers since shut-out by the very officials who ordered the improvements made.

In California, growers are now voluntarily paying $1.75 per hour, plus major medical insurance and excellent housing. For this kind of treatment, they expect to receive a quality of work that reflects both intelligence and a professional attitude.

But there are fewer migrant workers of every kind, with Michigan figures showing total unemployment at the lowest level in nine years. The children of migrants are not staying in the business and most processing crop growers are moving into mechanization. Yet there are crops—peaches, for example—that may never be mechanized.

Florida citrus growers find demand for their product rising rapidly, and say they will need 25,000 more workers in the next two years, double that in ten. As growers who cannot mechanize become more desperate to find qualified workers, they reach out farther in their recruitment programs. Michigan feels the effect.

Biggest bone of contention lies in the definition of a "qualified" worker. "To a government agency, a qualified worker is anybody that shows up," one Michigan farmer snaps. "We don't exactly see it that way. . . ."

Servicemen

Electronics Technician Seaman Henry H. Willis Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry H. Willis of Holt, has returned from Vietnam aboard the destroyer USS Henderson, homeported in Long Beach, Calif.

Pvt. David L. Benson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Benson, Mason, participated in Exercise Silver Talon, a 15-day field training exercise in Germany ending Jan. 20. Purposes of the exercise were to provide the 3d Armored Division intensive training in command and control procedures against an aggressor force, and to further train the division to support itself logistically. The exercise was part of a year-round training program the 3d Armored Division conducts to insure maximum combat readiness. Benson, a communications specialist with Headquarters and Company A of the division's 45th Medical Battalion, entered the Army in January 1965 and received basic training at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo. The 22-year-old soldier is a 1962 graduate of Grand Ledge high school and attended Lansing Community college.

Money Making Farm Programs

Money making ideas that will keep the farmer of the future in profit making business 15 years from now will be unfolded at the Michigan State university 1966 Farmers' Week, January 31 through February 4.

"Every department has arranged programs that will keep Michigan farmers moving forward," according to general chairman Byron Good. Special programs for women and youth are also scheduled.

Exhibits will be open from Monday noon through Friday noon in the Spartan Stadium concourse, agricultural engineering building, livestock pavilion and at the dairy research center and livestock farms.

More than 30 farm-related organizations will hold annual meetings during the week with the dairy breed associations opening the week with sessions on Monday. Special honors will be presented to the "dairyman of the year," "agricultural engineer of the year," and to 3 farmers for distinguished service to Michigan agriculture.

On Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, all departments will have major meetings for visitors both morning and afternoon. There will be evening banquets and free entertainment programs most nights of the week.

Complete programs are available at county extension service offices and can be obtained at major exhibit and meeting areas on campus. Special parking and food arrangements are being made for the thousands of visitors expected during the 51st annual farm week.

Meat Inspection Training Begins 7 to Attend Regional Meet

The first in a series of schools to train men for the new state-wide meat inspection is being conducted by the Michigan department of agriculture's livestock disease control division.

In charge of training programs is Dr. Klaus H. Schwabe, federal technical advisor, who is working with Dr. Ralph Beebe, Michigan supervisor in the new mandatory meat inspection program which began January 1.

Fifteen men make up the initial class. They are undergoing training under veteran inspectors in slaughtering plants now under inspection. They will receive additional technical training at Michigan State university's meats laboratory. The training will take more than a month. It will be followed by other groups being prepared to be inspectors.

Dr. Schwabe has been loaned to the Michigan department of agriculture by the meat inspection division of the USDA's consumer and marketing service to assist in developing an effective meat inspection program.

Until adoption of the new state law, meat slaughtered and packed in Michigan for sale in this state was without inspection except where county or city ordinances required it. Meat coming to Michigan from other states had federal inspection which is required where meat is transported over state lines.

Dr. Schwabe also is arranging a training program for veterinarians who will work on the state program. A veterinary school graduate from a German university, he has had important meat inspection assignments at various points in this country.

Holt Area Man First To Sign Crop Agreement

Glenn D. Tooker, 1765 Aurelius road, Holt, on January 18 became one of the first farmers in the nation to have a Cropland Adjustment program agreement approved.

The announcement was made today by Frank Light, chairman of the Michigan State ASC Committee. Tooker owns and operates an 80 acre farm in Section 22 of Delhi township in Ingham county. Twenty-four acres of cropland are being diverted by Tooker to protective conservation use for a period of 5 years.

This consists of a 12 acre feed grain base and 12 acres of cropland normally devoted to non-allotment crops. In addition, Tooker has an 18.2 acre wheat allotment which was planted in wheat last fall.

He will qualify for marketing certificates in 1966 under the annual wheat diversion program for this land already planted to wheat. In 1967 he will be eligible to sign up his entire wheat allotment, plus the required minimum diversion, in the Cropland Adjustment program.

The voluntary Cropland Adjustment program will help farmers to divert cropland to protective conservation use for periods of 5 to 10 years. Participants will receive adjustment payments calculated as a portion of the value of the crops which otherwise would be produced on the land. They will be eligible for conservation cost share payments on the diverted land. Those who agree to permit free access for fishing, hunting, hiking, and trapping may get an additional per acre payment.

Light pointed out that this program is one of the features of the Food and Agriculture Act of 1965 enacted by Congress last fall to help local, state and other government agencies to acquire cropland for non-farm uses.

This could include the preservation of open spaces and natural beauty, wildlife development and recreation, and the prevention of air and water pollution. The program will share the cost with these agencies of establishing conservation practices on the cropland. It will make available for non-crop uses a large amount of acreage that other-

Farmers To Hear Engineers' Ideas

Agricultural engineering programs will have new ideas on parade for Michigan State university's Farmers' Week, January 31 to February 4. In displays of innovations in farm equipment and in discussions of new practices, engineers will aid visitors in planning modern farming methods.

Latest farm equipment will be on display in the Agricultural Engineering building all week. Visitors will find new ideas in farm building designs, sprinkler irrigation and crop and feed handling equipment. Tractors—extra large for big jobs, and compact for the backyard—will also be on display, along with just other farm machinery.

On Tuesday, ag engineers present a program devoted to the growing of more and better corn. MSU and midwest authorities will speak on all phases of corn handling—from growing to moving, to the storage of silage.

Since corn is a $138,000,000 annual crop—corn is "King for a Day!"

Tuesday night visitors attend the Ag Engineering banquet. Speaker will be Neil Burnside of Ford Motor company, Detroit.

"What's new in engineering for the farm," is the topic for Wednesday's discussions. A potpourri of new engineering ideas will be presented. Highlighted will be both the compact and high powered tractor, hydrostatic transmissions, liquid manure equipment and new uses for combines. Also discussed by the MSU engineers will be wide span farm building trusses, trends in irrigation, and innovations in crop harvesters.

Agricultural engineers are working constantly to reduce the stress placed upon farmers. According to the department, 80 percent of the problems facing farmers involve engineering.

The engineering show concludes on Thursday a report of the new facilities developed by engineers.

 Dear friends,
 The death of a relative or friend away from home, or the fact that interment is to be at a distance from the deceased's home need present no problem. Your local funeral director, thru his associations, can readily make funeral arrangements anywhere in the world. In either case, it will be most expedient and economical to promptly contact the local funeral director of your choice to arrange the necessary details.

Aurelius Center News

Mrs. Mary Sims

The party was called "Mad Hatter" when mothers and daughters got together Wednesday January 26 at Aurelius Baptist church. The girls furnished cookies and punch to their mothers. Each one attending made her hat and even though not swamped by designers it was a sight to behold. The following attended. (mother and daughter are placed together.) Mrs. Raft and Christiana, Mrs. Giza and Darcy Ann, Mrs. Hebrew and Becky, Mrs. Hill and Laura, Mrs. Dillingham and June; Mrs. Duke and Debbie, Mrs. Wightman and Kathy, Mrs. Kidder and Terri, Mrs. Stuffle and Tina, Mrs. Scutt and Dy Ann, Mrs. Sims and Sheila Jean, Mrs. Bugbee and Julie, Joyce Jackson and Margaret Taylor. Two mothers and two of the Pioneer girls did not attend. The following games of hat toss, words containing hat, and looking for hidden hats were played. Mrs. Lloyd Roberts and Mrs. Besonen are the leaders or guides. The Ladies Aid met at the home of Mrs. Frederick Raft with Mrs. Cleo DeCamp in charge of refreshments. Mrs. Lloyd led devotions and Mrs. William Fanson led the program.
 The next Parents' Meeting of North Aurelius School will be February 14.

Families

child in the country will have nearly $1,000 more to spend than he or she has now. Since most people will have provided themselves with the basic necessities, additional spending will go for luxury goods and nonessentials.

Of the additional $1,000 in disposable income, only about $100 will be spent on food. Most of this will go for processing and for other marketing services rather than to the farmer. But, of course, the rising population will enlarge the farmers' gross income.

---People will have more leisure time to spend this money. Most will be on a four-day week and will also enjoy another week of paid vacation time. More will retire at earlier ages.

---There will be more women in the labor force, and families will take advantage of an improved technology and more convenience foods. But the working man and woman of the future will expend less energy in their jobs. A higher proportion will be on production lines which will likely reduce the amount of calories needed for each worker to perform these duties.

---The total population will be around 245 million by 1980. Michigan should have around 10.2 million.

And there will be striking population shifts off the farm. Looking back to 1960, there were about 441,000 people making 5.6 per cent of Michigan's population---that were considered in the "rural farm" category in 1960. This compared with 21 per cent rural nonfarm and 73 per cent urban.

By 1980, only 2 per cent of the state's population is expected to be classified as rural farm. Rural nonfarm will jump to 23 per cent; urban to 75 per cent.

Along with shifts in population will come shifts in land usage. About 30 per cent of the land that was in farms in 1959 will be diverted to other uses by 1980. Some of this acreage will be used for urban purposes and for highways. The bulk of the disappearing farmland, however, will shift to the forest and recreation classification.

Farm numbers in 1980 will probably drop to 55,000 from 112,000 in 1959. Most of the decline will be farms grossing less than $10,000. Farms grossing over $20,000 will more than double.

Even so, there will still be a place for the small sized farm and the parttime farm. By 1980, a third of the commercial farmers will still be grossing under $10,000 and about four out of 10 of all farmers will be in the part-time or retirement classification.

These estimates of the status of 1980 Michigan are projections, not predictions. They are based upon analyses, assumptions and judgments. The MSU scientists say many things, including the reaction of people in rural Michigan to Project '80 itself could change the projections.

The 2-year Project '80 research project has now been completed and is being turned over to Michigan's rural leaders and industries for their consideration and use. They will examine the projections and determine what can be done---and what should be done---to make rural Michigan what they want it to be in the future.

Nielson

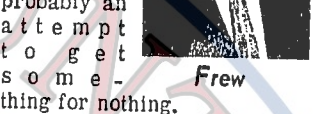

Joseph Nielson, 501 Hall boulevard, pastor of the First Nazarene church of Mason: "I am opposed to a state operated lottery for the following reasons: possibility of organized crime becoming involved; confuses individuals' thinking in that they feel they will get something for nothing or win easy money without working for it; gambling can become a type of addiction and legalized gambling means that the state condones gambling."

"We need to maintain in our society a personal responsibility for government and the services it gives to the people. We are becoming a society of mercenaries. I am opposed to gambling, finally, because of what it does to the human spirit. It robs man of the inner joy of personal achievement and warps his mind and soul of spiritual idealistic values."

James R. Frew, 725 E. Ash street, Mason;

"I feel the only sound way to gain income for government operation is through a state income tax. This state operated lottery proposal is probably an attempt to get something for nothing."

"A lottery probably would work, but it is a little hard on the compulsive gambler who is always spending. Eventually the income from a lottery would come from the lower income groups who can't afford to participate. A lottery is unfair as the 4 cents on a dollar sales tax. The sales tax hits the fellow in the low income group that must spend his entire pay check just to live week to week, not the fellow who is taking home $15,000 a year and has some money to stash away for a rainy day."

Peach Growing Industry Expands

The Michigan peach-growing industry has expanded steadily to a yearly production of three million bushels since the first pits were planted near St. Joseph by an Indian trader in 1775. Commercial peach production actually began about 75 years later when 25 acres were put into production near the area of the first planting.

A new Cooperative Extension Service Bulletin, "Peach Culture in Michigan" examines the historical as well as the practical aspects of peach production in the state.

Written by Stanley Johnson and R. Paul Larsen of the Michigan State University Department of Horticulture, the bulletin explains the practical positions of peach production from selecting a site to harvesting and handling the fruit.

Special emphasis is given to methods of training young trees and pruning bearing trees. Many pictures showing special procedures for training and pruning are used. Other production measures receiving the benefit of the latest research are varieties, pollinators, selection of nursery stock and soil management.

Free copies of the bulletin may be obtained from county Extension Service offices. Ask for bulletin E-509, it's the latest addition to the farm science series published by MSU's Extension Service.

Americanism

Liberty, as proclaimed by law and constitutions, can never have full meaning without the added ingredients of Fraternity and Brotherhood; without the spirit of friendliness and unselfishness... ...love for one's fellow. Those powerful qualifying attributes help spell out what Americanism is.

When one sees a family unit, parents and children, with Bibles in hand, attending church to worship as they please... ...then one is witnessing Liberty in its finest and most fulltime form. For that, too, is American. Freedom of religious worship is equally important, along with economic freedom and freedom from oppression, in America. Then worship God as you please but be sure to worship... ...that is Americanism.

Friday Big Day For Leslie Teens

By KATHY ISHAM
Leslie High School
LESLIE - Because of the scheduled exams this week, the usual activity day was canceled and no classes had business meetings.

Friday turned out to be the big day for students. There was no school because it ended the semester and students were given the day off so the teachers could mark report cards and school records. Students will receive their cards next Wednesday.

Friday was big in other respects too. To start the evening off right the reserves basketball team defeated Dansville to make their record 12 straight wins. Then the varsity squad kept the spirits high by beating the league leading Dansville team in a close, exciting game.

The evening was topped off by an after game dance sponsored by the F.F.A. with

KATHY

Douglas Edwards spinning the records.

The Junior class fared pretty well on a bake sale sponsored by their class Saturday. Members of the class baked cakes and cookies, then they were sold in downtown Leslie. Profits went to the class and will help pay for the Junior-Senior prom this spring.

Holt To Participate In UN Youth Trip

Holt--A teen-age high school student from the Holt school system will be selected by competition to take part in this year's 17th annual United Nations Pilgrimage for Youth sponsored by the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, Holt 562, and its sister organization, the Rebekahs, Holt 446, and the Mason Rebekahs 324.

The student selected to receive this enviable award will attend United Nations headquarters for one week, as an observer, as a guest of the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs. Eighteen students have entered the contest to date. Students eligible to take part in the contest are those who are at present juniors, or sophomores and who will not be more than 17 years of age by Aug. 1, 1966. The selected student must be in good health and physical condition.

The United Nations Pilgrimage for Youth project has been on the approved list of the National Association for Secondary-School Principals for the past ten years. In 1965 the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs sent 1,066 students at a cost of over $250,000. A total of 10,941 students have participated to date.

Interested students may enroll for the contest by filling out a "candidate's experience sheet" and declaring willingness to participate fully in the project if selected. All contestants will start the procedure of selection by taking, in February, a 100-question examination on the United Nations. "UN Study Kits" are available for interested students.

A selection committee will review contestants, and interview them to determine comparative qualities of scholarship, leadership, character, interest in community welfare, concern in world affairs, and general fitness to participate.

The winner will be determined by a public speaking contest among the ranking contestants. The contest must be completed and the "delegate" selected by the end of March, 1966.

More than a thousand students from all over the U.S. and Canada will take part in the 17th annual United Nations Pilgrimage for Youth. The project has been widely praised as one of the most outstanding in the country for educating teenagers in international understanding.

About 20 schools in district 8 of the Michigan School Band and Orchestra association will be represented February 12 in the district's solo and ensemble festival at Mason senior high school.

The festival, which has been in existence since 1934, will be judged by 6 area university and high school band instructors, according to George Murthum Mason public schools band director.

"About 332 events will be that Saturday," he said. "This will include students in grades 9-12."

District 8 includes Ingham, Eaton, Livingston, Jackson, Lenawee, and Hillsdale counties.

The results of the all-day affair will be the rating by judges of the students' performance. Constructive criticism will also be given, Murthum said.

Each soloist and ensemble will perform for 6 minutes and then will be rated by the judges.

Students will receive one of 5 division ratings established by the association. They include division 1 which represents an unusually high standard of performance and musicianship. Other divisions are 2, which represents an excellent performance in many respects, but not worthy of a high rating because of minor defects in performance or interpretation; 3, an average performance, but not outstanding; 4, below average performance, and 5, poor performance.

The six judges and the events they will judge are: Edwin Haynes of Hillsdale College, piano and string; Alan Walters, instructor at Flint Northern high school, flute; John Mohler, University of Michigan clarinet professor, "clarinet; Keith Bryan, of the University of Michigan, woodwind; Stanley Shoemaker, Jackson, brass, wood-wind, and percussion; and Clifford Lilly, University of Michigan cornet professor, cornet.

Murthum said the southern half of the district would have its festival in Tecumseh the same day.

Mason Studies Change In Student Council

By Pat O'Brien
Mason High School
A major discussion topic at the student Council meeting Thursday was the division of the traditional 9 month Student Council term into a shorter term. The proposal introduced by mayor Marcella Smith called for dividing the present term of office into two terms; the first terminating in the middle of January, and the second term ending in June. Elections would be held before the end of the first semester, allowing for completion of any unfinished business. Homerooms would vote either for the present Student Council representative or for another person they think better qualified to represent them.

Big Relief Finals Over!

By CONNIE BROWN
Holt High School
HOLT - The semester finals are over at Holt! Students were so busy this week that they had very little time to make news. Wednesday and Thursday students slaved over exams. Friday they had the day off and could relax but the teachers worked. The teachers spent the day correcting exams and compiling grades. Students will receive their report cards Friday, February 4, after school. Until then they must just cross their fingers and hope for the best.

CONNIE

Debate on this subject flowed smoothly and lasted nearly an hour. One of the advantages of the proposed system would be that more students would be given a chance to participate in the governing of the school. Another point made during the discussion was that perhaps better qualified students with good ideas on improving the school and solving the problems would be put in the position where their views could be heard and acted upon.

The biggest disadvantage in this motion would be the loss of progress in committees if many chairmen and key people were not elected again.

Dave Droscha, alderman-at-large, stated that because most Student Council members would be prejudiced, the final vote on this matter should be left to the students. This was accepted. To allow the student body to see the proceedings of the Student Council and to decide on the proposal, an open Student Council meeting was scheduled for next week.

Okemos Debaters Offer Views on Voter Age

By MARTHA ANDERSON
Teen Special Writer
OKEMOS--Members of the Okemos Capital Circuit debate team presented a debate on the lowering the voting age to 18 which will be coming before the state legislature in February.

D. J. Drake, student parliament president, introduced the debate team and told the students that it would be conducted like a regular debate.

Jim Downer started the debate with the affirmative side. He said, "Eighteen year-olds should have the right to vote in Michigan because they have excellent qualifications such as a higher standard of living and better schools. These same 18 year olds are old enough to represent the government, and this nation fought for freedom because there was taxation without representation. Now boys are going to fight for the country is more like a sacrifice without representation. "The 18 year old is responsible and deserving of the vote and it would also stimulate other people to vote."

Tonie Kissle first to speak on the negative side argued on 3 of the 4 points presented by Downer. She stated that teenagers do not have the qualifications to vote because they are not aware of current history and they do not take their education seriously. On the point of fighting for the country and not being allowed to vote she asked if those too old for the armed services should vote either and those teens in the service are dictated to by the older more capable officers. "Teenagers are responsible only because of the adults behind the scene," she said.

Wrenn Slocum stated that less adults would vote and it would become of little importance to the youth. If this bill were passed, taxes would increase to pay for the voters and more facilities. Teenage benefits would decrease, and these teens would be allowed to sign contracts, serve on jury duty and be legally liable. The new law would cripple the effect of responsibility. The ballot could easily be swayed by the new teen voters who base their opinion on idealism rather than realism as demonstrated at Burkley and in the Panama Canal Zone.

To Discuss Band Matters At Haslett Open Meeting

The Haslett Band Boosters club has called a public open meeting, Monday, February 14, at 8 p.m., at the high school.

John Dodge, Band Booster-president, announced that items on the agenda will be adoption of the new constitution, fund raising activities of the club, the February candy sale, and the needs of the band program for the 1966-67 school year.

Dodge stressed that anyone all persons interested in the activities of the bands and the Band Boosters will be welcome.

"The importance of this general meeting cannot be overstated, George N. Hessel director of bands, said "Certain vital questions with regard to the bands must be answered affirmatively by the people of the community. The progress of the Bands to this point has been possible with a great deal of time and effort by many people. The future progress of the Bands will be severely limited if basic needs are not fulfilled."

Holt Pupils To Send Valentines To Army Hospital in Viet Nam

HOLT—Mrs. Donna VeCasey's 3rd grade pupils at the Elliott elementary school here are busy making valentines which they plan to send to an American evacuation hospital in Viet Nam. This project is a part of a study in letter writing and learning about people in other parts of the world, Mrs. VeCasey says. But it also is a gesture on the part of the youngsters to show that they are backing America's fighting men overseas.

The pupils also hope that their efforts will bring a reply from some of the recipients of making valentines which they plan to send to an American evacuation hospital in Viet Nam.

Mrs. VeCasey's brother-in-law, Pfc Douglas VeCasey of Haslet is stationed with the army at Yung Tau. He supplied the class with the address of the 13th Evacuation Field hospital at Bien Hoa, South Viet Nam.

Vun Tau is about 30 miles southeast and Bien Hoa is about 15 miles northeast of Saigon, the South Viet Nam capital.

In Holt February 10 Area Growth Patterns To Be Explained at Meet

HOLT—The booming areas of Ingham county are looking ahead through the eyes of the Tri-County Planning commission to determine what pattern of growth is necessary in the rapidly developing urban areas.

Will the growth pattern mean the development of satellite cities, corduroy cities or Centralization? These are comparatively new words in the vocabulary of planners, but in the future they are to be heard more and more.

Satellite cities are ones spotted around an area with sparsely settled areas between them.

A corduroy city is one built along main roads and interchanges.

A centralization plan is one in which one central city predominates and others are situated around it. In Ingham county, for instance, Lansing probably would become the centralized city and the plan would embrace such smaller communities as Mason, Charlotte, Grand Ledge, St. Johns and Williamston, all within a 25 mile area of the centralized city.

All this is looking ahead some 25 years, but planners believe now is the time to start planning.

The plans will be explained at a meeting Thursday, February 10 at 7:30 p.m. in the Delhi Charter township hall in Holt when William Rowden, assistant director of the Tri-County Planning commission of Ingham, Eaton and Clinton counties, and Richard Ferris, consultant engineer of the commission will present through slides and discussion just how these 3 plans develop. They are to be explained in detail and a question and answer period will follow the discussion.

Joe Kiersey, supervisor of Delhi Charter township, will host the meeting. Special guests will be members of the Aurelius township board, the Holt Kiwanis club and the Delhi planning commission. Any interested citizens also are welcome, Kiersey said.

The Tri-County Planning commission plans to make the presentation in all townships of the county, Kiersey added.

On January 29, at 5:40 p.m., a call from Hartleys Gable City, where there was a reported bomb scare. Police do not think this is connected with the bomb scare at the Holt High school last week as this phone call came from a man.

At 12:33 p.m. on January 30 firemen were called to the Norge Laundromat and dry cleaning village, 1967 Aurelius road, where there was a short in a washer, causing excessive smoke. Some damage was done to the washer.

Dansville Needs 3 Yes Votes Feb. 9 School Head Says:

DANSVILLE - Three "Yes Votes" will be needed in the Dansville School District millage balloting February 9, according to Superintendent Searl Briggs. Voters of the Dansville school district will be given 3 ballots to pass on two millage proposals; one proposal is a renewal of a present levy, the other a new levy.

Proposition No. 1 merely renews an existing 3-mill levy for operational expenses which expires this year. Renewal of this levy is absolutely necessary in view of increased costs of school operation.

Some confusion may exist concerning Propositions 2 and 3, since each mentions three mills. According to the school attorney, Proposition 2 is necessary to give the board authority to raise the millage limit. This proposition does not levy any tax.

Proposition 3 gives the school board permission to levy the new 3-mill tax for building and site purposes.

Superintendent Briggs stated that the operational millage must be continued in view of the increased operating costs. A Yes vote on Propositions 2 and 3 is necessary in order that the new millage be available for necessary additions to the school facilities.

Polls will be located at the school multi-purpose room and will be open from 7 a.m. until 8 p.m.

Sallies from Sally

By Sally Robinson

Never depend on your own assumptions. Occasionally a little voice says to me--"that doesn't sound just right--check it out."

Repeatedly I have neglected to check and the little voice chucks up another right again. For instance, last week's women's page carried a story about Mrs. W. A. Bergin being elected to lead the Mason General hospital's Gray Ladies auxiliary.

True, Mrs. Bergin is a Gray Lady, but it so happens she is also a Pink Lady. In my travels to the hospital I have always happened to see her in a Gray Ladies' uniform so naturally assumed she was going to lead that organization this year.

False, she is president of the Pink Ladies. The little voice can say "I told you so" once again. For those of you who keep scrapbooks look somewhere at the bottom of the page this week and there will be a headline minus a story.

To make your historical record accurate just snip the headline off from last week's story and substitute the lonesome headline in this week's paper.

You historians have now had your first lesson in the principles of offset printing production.

This cut and paste business is kind of interesting because it is relatively the same way the Ingham County News pages are assembled in the production department. For someone first introduced to newspapers via the letter press method like myself, this offset process is so simple it is hard to comprehend.

Stop by the News office on a Thursday or Friday sometime and see just how your hometown newspaper is put together. Take my word for it--"Fascinating!"

While talking with Mrs. Larry Muschek, who was just released from Mason General hospital following a 36 day confinement, she tossed out a suggestion that some Mason people might like to follow-up on.

Anyone who has to stay in the hospital for any length of time soon runs out of things to do. In her case, she even ran out of magazines to read. Mrs. Muschek suggested that anyone with magazines they didn't want would do someone a favor by dropping them off at the hospital instead of in the trash barrel.

Often times young children are confined at Mason General and many tedious hours pass quickly if an old magazine is available for them to cut and paste from. The more current publications could be distributed to adult patients.

Dates Set For Classes

Another series of Expectant Parents classes will begin the week of February 21. Interested persons may attend this series of seven weekly classes at one of the following locations, Wesley Foundation Student Center, 1118 S. Harrison, East Lansing, Monday, February 21; Everett high school, 3900 Stabler, Lansing, Tuesday, February 22; E. W. Sparrow hospital, 1215 E. Michigan, Lansing, Wednesday, February 23 or St. Lawrence hospital, Nurses' residence, 1201 Oakland, Lansing, Thursday, February 24.

All series are taught by registered nurses and are sponsored by the Expectant Parent Class Committee of Greater Lansing. Enrollment is $3.00 per couple and each 1 1/2 hour class begins at 7:30 p.m. For further information, call IV 7-0111, extension 315 or 482-4814.

Baptist Women Have Meeting

The Baptist Women's Missionary society met Tuesday, January 25, 1966, at the church. The business meeting was followed by a program on Bacone college, an Indian school in Oklahoma. An interesting feature of the program, which was presented by Mrs. Bill Backus and Mrs. Durwood Collar, was the fact of substantial financial, as well as instructional help given the school by Dr. Gordon Palmer of Los Angeles, California, who was a former pastor of the Baptist church. The program was highlighted by Indian slides.

Devotions were led by Mrs. Agnes O'Brien. Hostesses were Mrs. George Murthum, Mrs. Bob Cooper and Mrs. Miriam Wixson.

Mrs. Hubbard was president of the club from September 1956 through May of 1957 and treasurer, September 1955 through May 1956. Various Beta Sigma Phi social, ways and means and service projects have also benefited from the leadership of Mrs. Hubbard.

Mrs. Hubbard also received a bouquet of yellow roses, the sorority flower, presented by Mrs. Robert Graham; a "Girl of the Year" charm, presented by Mrs. William Hamlin, and a scrapbook showing the highlights of her years in the sorority.

Fitting Ready Made Clothing To Be Topic Of Extension Meeting

Project leaders of family living education study groups will meet Tuesday, February 8, from 9 a.m. until 12 a.m., in Vevay town hall for training on "Fit for Fashion in Ready-to-Wear." Miss Bernetta Kahabka, extension specialist in textiles and clothing, will be the instructor.

Each of the more than 40 study groups in Ingham county is eligible to send 2 leaders to receive this training to be later relayed to her local group members. Leaders may wear or bring in clothing they believe does not fit correctly and some of their problems will be discussed.

Miss Kahabka will point out what a "good fit" really is, whether in ready-to-wear or custom made garments. She will discuss sizes available in ready-to-wear and how they vary to suit the figure types most commonly found among American women. Buying carefully in the size closest to one's own measurements and build, will mean that alterations can be held to a minimum.

Correct fitting of any garment insures not only the best possible looks of it on the wearer, but also the most comfort and best wear, since unnecessary stresses and strains on seams and fabric are eliminated. A well made, well fitted garment of good material will keep its shape and continue to look nice through a long service.

A thorough understanding of fit and how to achieve it will help anyone, man or woman, to get the best aesthetic and economic value from the dollars spent for clothing. Mrs. Margaret Foster, extension home economist, says.

The young woman, a graduate of Foote Hospital School of Nursing and employed at Mason General Hospital, attended Central 2 years before entering nurses training. Mr. and Mrs. Simpson and their niece, Miss Cathy Day of Parma, attended the commencement exercises.

60 Years or Older

Fun and Frolic Club Is for Sr. Citizens

A new activity is being organized for men and women senior citizens (60 years of age and older) in the Mason and Holt areas.

Called the Fun and Frolic club for Senior Citizens, the organization hopes to meet at least once a month at the Mason Lanes, 801 N. Cedar street, for an afternoon of whatever the citizens' hearts desire--be it cards, pool, bowling or just pleasant conversation.

Mrs. Carl Royer of Mason is president of the Fun and Frolic club. She invites anyone interested in the 60 and older age bracket to come out to the regularly announced meetings and see how much fun the club is, even if only to watch other persons work at improving their bowling scores.

The other officers are Mrs. Viola Hinkley of Holt, secretary-treasurer, and Nels Ferriby of Mason, publicity chairman.

A trial-run gathering met last Thursday. Those attending spent an enjoyable afternoon watching the alley activity.

Plans call for an organizational meeting to be February 10 beginning at 2 p.m. This is a particularly good time to have the senior citizen event as bowling tournaments will be in session to provide lots of viewing entertainment and excitement.

Sponsored by the Women's Bowling association, those attending the Fun and Frolic meetings will get a special bowling rate if they wish to participate. Refreshments and companionship are readily available for those who wish to just observe.
