Supervisors Approve $109,000 Wage Increase For All Elected County Officials and Employees

BROADSIDE COLLISION- A young Mason woman, Susan E. Brown, was killed when the car in which she was riding (above) was struck broadside Sunday morning by an auto driven by Charles W. Pointer of Detroit (at right), sheriff's deputies said.

Two-Car Accident Kills Mason Girl

A 1967 graduate of Mason high school was fatally injured in a 2-car accident Sunday morning at the intersection of Jolly and Okemos roads.

According to investigating sheriff's deputies, Susan Ellen Brown, 19, of 2660 Sandhill road, Mason, was killed when the auto in which she was a passenger was struck by a vehicle driven by Charles W. Pointer, 38, of Detroit.

The fatality car was driven by Ramona J. Gallagher, 19, of 4396 Okemos road, Okemos. Miss Gallagher and a passenger in the Pointer car, William Willis, 41, of Mason, were injured and taken to Sparrow hospital.

Hospital officials reported their condition Wednesday as Miss Gallagher in good condition and Willis in fair condition. Pointer was also taken to the hospital where he was treated for a broken nose and lacerations and released.

According to deputies, Miss Gallagher was traveling south on Okemos road when she was struck by the Pointer vehicle which was traveling east on Jolly road. The accident remains under investigation.

Funeral services for Miss Brown were Wednesday, April 16, from the Gorsline-Runciman East Lansing Chapel. Interment was in the Leek cemetery.

Miss Brown was employed by the George Worthington Wholesale Hardware company, a member of the Okemos Community church and a member of the Lansing Laurels soft ball team.

She is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cleo Brown of Mason; a sister, Mrs. Richard Brown of Lansing; a brother, Timothy of Mason; and grandparents, Mrs. Muriel Brown of Mason and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Longanacker of Lansing.

Ingham county supervisors handed out unprecedented middle of the year pay raises Tuesday night to almost all elected and appointed county officials and county employees.

Total additional cost of the package is estimated in excess of $109,000 for the balance of the year.

Supervisors Ted Fay of Stockbridge and Dave Buhl of Lansing, in proposing the salary schedule upgrading, as chairmen of the personnel and finance committees, maintained the action was necessary to keep faith with county employees who accepted a budget pay increase of $500 for the year when the old supervisors board pointed out that the county did not have the money for bigger raises.

Sup. Buhl pointed out that revenues far exceeded those forecast in the current budget and that there now is enough cash in the county coffers to take care of the new raises passed Tuesday night.

There was much discussion and some challenges.

When it came to upping the salaries Supervisor Eugene Wanger of Lansing voiced objections.

"This salary proposal covers almost 80% of our county employees and will cost more than $109,000.00 during the rest of this year. To grant such a raise at this time clearly violates the principle that massive salary adjustments should only be made as part of the county's annual budget process. In my considered opinion the public welfare and the wise use of public funds require that this principle not be violated. This is for three reasons.

"Only through the annual budget process - which is both lengthy and thorough - can all the needs and resources of the county be fully and carefully considered by the Board. The need for such consideration is made plain by the fact that our county's salaries presently total over $2,690,000.00 a year and that each salary increase is by nature self-perpetuating.

Take Advantage of Assets Architects Tell Citizens

Important Recommendations

Good start made on parks but a park system must be developed.

Should consider housing for all income brackets and endeavor to attract all areas of income for a balanced community.

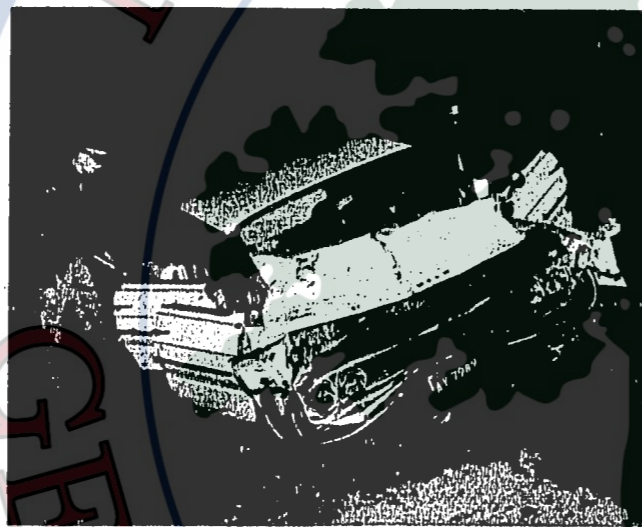

Control and plan development of industry. Industrial parks needed.

Municipal architectural design team needed to consider consistency of design for new building projects.

changes for Mason and citizens should take steps to see that the changes are a benefit to the community and its citizens," Sturgis said.

Recommendations set forth by the architects team hinged primarily around the Mason Area Community Development Corporation, recently formed by a number of interested citizens.

Warm Weather Forecast

Warm weather appears now to have settled down for a long stay. The Weather Bureau today said temperatures will average about 9 degrees above the normal high of 58 and the normal low of 37. The warm weather will continue until Sunday when it is expected to turn a little cooler. There will be showers during Thursday or Friday and again about Monday, the Weather Bureau said.

Rain probability tonight is 39 percent and on Thursday, 40 percent.

Announce Top Ten Students For Mason's Class of 1969

For Mason's Class of 1969

The top ten students of the Mason high school class of 1969 were announced this week by School Principal Robert Pruden. Leading the list as valedictorian and salutatorian were Dawn Marie Jacob and Paulanne Chelf, respectively.

Mason's 1969 valedictorian is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest J. Jacob, 616 S. Jefferson street. Miss Jacob is presently a cadet teacher at the Cedar street school, treasurer of the Drama club, yearbook and senior class.

In addition, the honor student is a Capital Circuit student council member, student director of the play "Farmer's Daughter" and the musical "Girl Crazy."

Miss Jacob is a Luther League board member and Sunday school teacher. She was also a district winner of the "Make it with Wool" contest.

Of special interest to Dawn is swimming, sewing, knitting and working with young children. Following graduation she plans to attend Central Michigan university and enter the field of elementary or special education.

Miss Chelf is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Chelf, 704 McRoberts street. The salutatorian is a national merit finalist, is named to be in "Merit Who's Who in American High School Students" and has received a tuition grant from the State of Michigan.

Paulanne is a member of the Pep and Drama clubs, was prom decoration chairman during her junior year and advertising chairman for the all-school musical, "Girl Crazy."

Miss Chelf plans to attend Olivet college and pursue the field of biological research or medicine. She is interested in biology dissection, sewing, softball and genetics.

The following are also members of the "top ten" students:

School Election Interest is High

Interest in the approaching June 9 school election is high.

So far there have been 5 petitions submitted by candidates seeking election to 2 vacancies on the Mason public schools board of education.

Those seeking election to date are Joe Johnson, David Lambertson, Incumbent Kenneth Kalember, Donald Dombrasuky and Larry Beckon.

The 2 board vacancies were created by the expiration of the 4-year term of Kalember's and the resignation of Richard Magel. The candidate successful in being elected to Magel's position will fulfill the remaining 2 years of his term.

Anyone interested in becoming a school board candidate has until May 12 to submit a completed petition with 30 signatures on it to the Superintendent's office on the second floor of the manual arts building. Petitions are available at the superintendent's office Monday through Friday from 7:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Evans Named Mayor of Mason

DeWayne Evans is the new Mayor of Mason.

At a meeting of the Mason city council Monday night 4 ballots were taken before a unanimous ballot for Evans was resolved.

At one time all councilmen, but Allen Shapley were nominated for the post. Nominated councilmen withdrew, until the councilmen included on the first slate were Evans, William Jacobs and Robert Sheldon. There were 3 votes taken with the results being 3-3-1 each time.

Councilmen moved to eliminate the candidate receiving one vote and declared the 3 balloting in error. When all was said and done Mason had a new Mayor.

Evans, Consumers Power company regional manager for Howell and Mason, is in his second term as a council member.

Elected as mayor-protem was William Jacobs, a Lansing school system teacher, who is presently serving his first term on the council.

As its first official act the new council presented out-going councilmen with service plaques. They were given to former Mayor Vaughn Snook, Councilman and former Mayor Gilson Pearsall and Councilman Howard Becker, Jr.

Population Growth Outlined for Area

Population reports and projections and an economic report covering an area embracing Alaiadon and Vevay townships and the city of Mason were discussed at a meeting of the planning commissions of the 3 areas Tuesday night at the board room in new offices of the Ingham County Road commission.

The report is one now in the process of preparation by the Tri-County Regional Planning commission. It is expected to be completed in June, after which steps will be taken to continue the study.

Based on demographic data compiled by the Tri-County commission, Mason is expected to have a population of, 6,130 in 1970, a population of 6,940 by 1975 and 8,360 by 1990.

The projected population for Alaiadon township in 1970 is listed as 2,795 with an increase to 3,190 in 1975 and 4,325 by 1990.

Vevay's projected population in 1970 is 1,955 with an increase to 2,255 by 1975 and 3,255 by 1990.

The Tri County commission has developed several charts showing the employe commuting trends in each of the 3 areas.

A total of 34.2 percent of Mason's population works in Mason, 39.6 commutes to Lansing, 1.7 percent to Eaton county, 1.7 percent to Alaiadon township, 9.5 percent to East Lansing and 10.4 percent to the balance of Ingham county.

Top Ten Students Named at Mason

H. Ashley, 1306 Willoughby road, received an award of excellence at the Michigan High School Forensic Association Student Congress for 1967-68, and was a first place winner in the district competition in Girls Extempore.

Miss Ashley is a member of the varsity debate team, had a supporting role in the musical "Guys and Dolls", and is corresponding secretary of the Student Library

Assistant's Association of Michigan. Her interests include camping, piano and reading. Following graduation she plans to attend the University of Michigan to major in pre-law studies and foreign language training.

Miss Nancy Jo Benson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Benson, 3155 Holt road, is interested in sewing, reading and mountain climbing. Last summer Miss Benson was mountain climbing in the Sawatch and Elk ranges.

Nancy's future plans include 8 weeks this summer in Bern, Switzerland as part of the Youth for Understanding exchange program. In the fall she will be entering Michigan State university where she will be a pre-med student.

Steve Jewett, the son of Mrs. Clara Jewett and Herschel Jewett, both of Mason, plans to attend the James Madison college of Michigan State university following graduation. During his high school years, Steve has been president of the student council and the Spanish club, participated in 3 school musicals, played football for 3 years, is a member of the M-Club, Pep club and the Mixed Chorus.

The young man is interested in politics, public affairs, history and the Tigers.

Charyl Dietrich, daughter of Charles T. Dietrich, Jr., 271 N. Every road, is interested in establishing her own school of horsemanship and a horse breeding farm in addition to continuing her education at Michigan State university specializing as an equine research veterinarian.

During her high school years Miss Dietrich has been vice president of the S.L.A.A.M., a Skeeter Hill 4-H horse project leader, was invited to participate in the Alumni Distinguished scholarship test at MSU and helped with 2 of the school musicals.

Charyl's interest centers around horses as she has been riding since she was 8 years old and showing American Saddlebred horses since she was 10. In 1967 she was the champion saddle seat equitation rider at the Michigan State Fair and for the State of Michigan and the owner-rider of reserve champion amateur 3-gaited horse for Michigan.

Sandra Face, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Face, 445 W. Maple street, was a member of the honor society, the Latin club, represented Ingham county in the State 4-H show and was worship officer for the Methodist Youth fellowship. During Sandra's senior year she received an Honor Scholarship award from Grand Valley State college.

Miss Face is interested in music, particularly guitar and flute. In the fall she plans to attend Grand Valley State college and major in mathematics.

Karen Philo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Juras D. Philo, 356 Willow street, hopes to enter the Peace Corps or VISTA after her graduation from Central Michigan university, where she plans to begin her studies in education next fall.

While at Mason high school, she has been a delegate to Wolverine Girls State, president of the Latin club, Junior class secretary, 1968 prom general chairman, an officer in the Church Teen Mission society and a student Council member.

Her interests center around sewing, outdoor camping and sports.

Susan Jane Sims, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lorne J. Sims, 4558 W. Barnes road, has been active in 4-H sewing and freezing projects. Susan also received the State of Michigan competitive scholarship award. Miss Sims is interested in all kinds of sports.

Following her high school graduation, Sue plans to attend the University of Michigan as a pre-med student.

Donna Schwarzwaelder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Schwarzwaelder, 405 E. Oak street, plans to attend Albion college following graduation and major in the areas of psychology or sociology.

Miss Schwarzwaelder is secretary of M.Y.F., was a member of the Honor society and received a grant from the State of Michigan. Her interests include sewing, cooking, anthropology and the study of narcotic usage.

Supervisors Approve County Wage Increases

"If we fail to follow the principle now, we will be regarded by many persons as having set the precedent. If we then try to follow the principle later - as I believe we must - we will be regarded as giving our employees the run-around which will severely injure the morale of the county service.

"As the several groups of our county's employees become better organized, the public interest will clearly require their cooperation in working out their salary requests within the annual budget process. How can we possibly expect that cooperation if we have violated the budget process ourselves? If after violating it ourselves, we try to force it on our employees we will in all probability be charged under the law with refusing to bargain in good faith. And for many the charge will have considerable plausibility.

"Notwithstanding these considerations, I am aware that many of our employees may be disappointed if they do not get this raise and get it now. I therefore emphasize that my objection, is to the time and manner of granting this raise, not to its amount."

Not covered in the mass wage upgrading were professional employees in the health department, juvenile court section of the probate office and welfare caseworkers. They received a supplemental pay raise last December after making a demand.

All elected county officials are jumped to, $15,500 with the exception of the prosecuting attorney who will now draw $24,500 and the county drain commissioner who will now draw $11,000.

A total of 42.7 percent of Vevay's residents commute to Mason, 32.4 percent to Lansing, 3.6 percent to Alaiedon township, 7.3 percent to East Lansing and 14 percent remain at home.

The tri county groups projection data on median family income includes Mason, Alaiedon and Vevay townships, Ingham county, Lansing and the tri-county region (Ingham, Eaton and Clinton counties) and covers a period from 1960 to 1970.

	1960	1970	Percent of Increase

Alaiedon township	6,453	8,500	31.7
Vevay township	6,213	8,000	28.8
Ingham county	6,393	8,800	37.7
City of Lansing	6,477	Not Available	Not Available
Tri-County Region	6,177	8,400	36.0

The Tri County commission report is now nearly completed. Still to be done are a traffic and utilities study, and a public facilities study.

William L. Bopf, Mason city administrator, says that the area (Alaiedon, Vevay and Mason city) has been placed at the top of the list in Michigan for future federal funding. This area involves about $10,000 of such funding which will be sufficient to complete the project.

Architects Give Recommendations

According to the architects, Mason needs an effective implementation program which will turn city planning into a reality.

"It is up to the community to provide the tools for implementation which Mason has done with the development corporation, but in order to make this effective, it must be funded by a broad base of the populace," Sturgis said.

According to the visitors, the corporation should have a full-time staff which could include a director, secretary and possibly an engineering aide. This corporation could encourage the promotion of industrial growth while being selective about the type of industry secured for the community. In addition, it could get involved with parks and recreation, re-development of the central business district and funding of housing projects.

They advised that along with the corporation should go public awareness of federal programs available to communities which would provide funds at low interest rates.

Other recommendations included: formation of a governmental architectural review team to consider the consistency of design in projects before the planning commission or city council.

The architects indicated Mason should give more devoted efforts to developing a more complete park and recreation system making use of the natural advantages already within the community such as the Sycamore Creek.

They asked that the city give more serious consideration to a housing program which would provide facilities for all types of income families in order to provide a more balanced population for the community.

The architects recommended careful control and planning in the promotion of industrial growth. In this aspect they suggested the best way to handle industry was through an industrial park with definite restrictions on such things as setbacks, landscaping and building heights.

When asked about promoting an architectural theme for the downtown business district, the architects suggested that Mason already has one with its old-style, brick buildings.

"By maintaining and emphasizing the structures already here, Mason will have a long lasting theme which is pleasant to the eye," Sturgis said.

Ingham supervisors took steps Tuesday night to revamp the makeup of the Tri-County Planning commission. The Tri-County agency supported and financed by Ingham, Eaton and Clinton counties, has had more than its share of problems and criticism the last few months.

Tuesday night the supervisors approved a proposal to change the commission membership. All 3 counties will appoint 2 supervisors and one citizen at large with the chairman of each county board as an ex-officio member.

Appointed as Ingham's representatives on the commission were Supervisor Gordon Swix of Lansing, chairman of the supervisors planning committee, Supervisor David Buhl of Lansing, chairman of the supervisors finance committee, and Paul Richards of Mason, former supervisor.

In other action pertaining to the Tri-County commission, supervisors agreed to drop out of the soil mapping program. The mapping program fell on evil times when federal funds were slashed and cost estimates were adjusted upward to participating governmental units.

New District Court Building Proposed

Ingham county supervisors took initial steps Tuesday night to provide a new district court building and added office space on the second floor of the Hilliard building, formerly the old jail.

A recommendation of the county buildings committee to secure the services of an architect for preliminary planning for a new court building on county property next to the jail in Mason was turned over to the finance committee.

The building committee proposal indicated that a court facility carried an estimated cost of $150,000.

Presently the district court is located in leased quarters in Mason rented from the Ingham county road commission. The lease expires in January, 1970 and indications are that the building will go up for sale at that time.

The estimate on turning the second floor of the Hilliard building into additional office space was $70,000. This recommendation was also turned over to the finance committee.

Hearing on Meridian Petition Can be Set

Any persons desiring a public hearing on the Meridian township incorporation petition have been asked to contact the county controller's office in the court house before April 24, Supervisor Eugene G. Wanger announced Tuesday.

Wanger is chairman of the board's special committee on the petition. Wanger stated that any hearing would be strictly limited to the legal sufficiency of the petition because that was all his committee or the board was authorized to act upon.

Intermediate Board Seeks Furniture Bids

Its new office building under construction north of Mason and a proposed Vocational skill center occupied much of the meeting time of the Ingham Intermediate Board of Education here Tuesday night.

The board authorized bids to be taken on furniture for the new office building and approved the appointment of Manson, Jackson and Kane, Lansing architectural firm, as consultants for the skilled center now being contemplated for an area north of Mason. The proposed center, an intermediate spokesman said, would serve the occupational training needs of boys and girls in the Intermediate school district, which embraces Ingham county.

The board also authorized the continued selection study and purchase of some portable closed circuit television equipment to be used in vocational education to prepare tapes used by counselors and for programs to be used by parents and business groups to tell about occupations and occupational training.

Representatives of the intermediate district professional staff also appeared before the board with some possible requests for future fringe benefits.

WEATHER

Warmer weather is expected here during the next five days, the Weather Bureau said today in its forecast for the period Thursday through next Monday. Temperatures will average about 9 degrees above the normal high of 58 and the normal low of 37.

It will continue warm until turning slightly cooler about Sunday - Precipitation will total about 2/3 of an inch in showers Thursday and Friday and again late Monday.

There will be increasing cloudiness tonight, but it will be mild with temperatures in the upper 40's. Thursday will be mostly cloudy with a chance of showers. High temperatures will be in the upper 60's.

Precipitation probability tonight is 30 percent and on Thursday 40 percent.

Temperatures in Mason during the past week averaged 49 degrees, as compared to 50 degrees for the same week a year ago. Precipitation during the past week totalled .18 of an inch. Temperature readings were:

	High	Low
April 9	62	48
April 10	49	26
April 11	52	28
April 12	60	32
April 13	65	40
April 14	68	43
April 15	59	54

Old Letters Found Old

Mail Must Go Through-- Even If 39 Years Late

Workmen engaged in remodeling the building occupied for the past 17 years by the Hamburg Shop, 129 W. Ash Street, Mason, operated by Arthur Culham, came upon evidence this week that the building at one time was a postoffice.

Working amid the walls of the structure they discovered pieces of mail which had lain untouched for as much as 49 years as one piece of mail bore the date of 1927.

One piece of mail, bearing a one cent stamp, was addressed to William McCoslin of Mason and another letter was addressed to Mrs. Emma Darrow, Route 1, Mason. It bore no stamp.

The News contacted Mrs. Darrow who now resides at 3881 W. Barnes road and told her of the letter. She was much interested in seeing it and the News mailed it to her.

The letter contained a card thanking Mrs. Darrow for flowers she sent to Mrs. Stanley Hazel at the time of Mrs. Hazel's father's death in 1931. Mrs. Hazel resides at 3243 Barnes road, about a half mile west of Mrs. Darrow's home.

Mrs. Darrow said she has resided in the Mason area for 70 years.

Mason's postoffice moved around quite a bit before the present structure was built. Before it was moved to 129 W. Ash street, it was located in the Modern Cleaners building, prior to that in the Kean store about the 3rd building from the corner, and before that it was located on Maple street where the Dancer store is now. That particular postoffice building on Maple street burned back in the 1870's.

The postoffice was in the former Hamburg Shop for many years until the present postoffice building was built in 1938.

Celand Lamphere of Mason, who has the contract for remodeling the restaurant, found the pieces of mail behind some baseboards in the building.

The building is presently being remodeled for John Saites of Lansing who has leased it for 10 years and will establish a new restaurant there. He expects to open about May 1.

Celand Lamphere of Mason holds some of the mail items which were found behind baseboards of the former Hamburg shop on W. Ash street.

New Street Plan for Mason Is Suggested by Planner

By SCOTT KINGAN
Special News Writer

Did you ever have trouble giving a friend the directions to your house?

All too often that is the result of unplanned or illogical street naming says an area planning expert.

"This problem could exist in Mason," Charles Cairns, an associate planner with the Tri-County Regional Planning commission, said.

"There is often no apparent system or criterion for naming thoroughfares other than simply avoiding name duplication," Cairns said.

He said it might be more efficient to have all Mason "streets" running north and south and all "avenues" running east and west.

Such a system, Cairns said, brings order, reduces confusion and benefits the resident, the visitor and the local businessman.

Cairns cited the following street-avenue inconsistencies:

-Jefferson avenue runs north and south while Royce avenue runs east and west. -Park street runs north and south but Maple street runs east and west.

As an example of street name confusion, Cairns noted North and South streets run east and west while East street runs north and south.

Cairns said political boundaries can often cause confusion. Indicating Jefferson avenue, he explained that the same pavement becomes Hagadorn road to the north and Hull road to the south.

To the east, Ash street becomes Dansville road, yet Columbia street, a major east-west artery, does not change from one end of Ingham county to the other.

Cairns admitted that people often object to having their street name changed but he foresaw little opposition to switching a street to an avenue, etc.

Cairns said Tri-County often assists land developers who submit plats of proposed subdivisions including street names to be checked for name-duplication and conformity to overall planning standards.

"As communities grow in population and expand their area," he said, "the need for an orderly street identification system becomes more apparent."

Cairns indicated that Mason does not have the confusing street market cornered, however, as similar problems exist in many of the 78 communities within the 3-county region served by the commission.

More than 12 years old, the commission coordinates growth for Ingham, Eaton and Clinton counties and is obliged by law to compile a comprehensive development plan for the physical, social and economic growth of the region.

Police Ambulance Gets Mobile Phone

The police department ambulance is now equipped with a telephone which will speed up the response to calls for assistance. The telephone in the ambulance will make it possible for the ambulance driver immediately to call the ambulance attendant when the call for aid is received.

Persons residing within the city limits of Mason who are in need of the ambulance may call the police department number 676-2458 at any time day or night. That call will be received at the police station or at the sheriff's department from which the ambulance would be dispatched by radio.

Chief Tim Stolz of the Mason police, said Mason is the first city to have a mobile telephone in its ambulance.

Marijuana Cases Heard

Gary Osteen, 403 Beaver, Lansing, and Ray Karl Sinclair, 4710 Ora street, Lansing; charged with possession of marijuana and barbiturates and entry without permission, were bound over to circuit court after appearing before Judge James Edgar in District Court Thursday.

Both were committed after failure to post $2,000 bond. They will appear in Circuit Court May 5.

his education at the University of Iowa and Lincoln university.

He began his career with the Boy Scouts in Dallas, Texas, in 1940 before joining the Detroit Area Council in 1944. He was the assistant district Scout executive until 1953 when he became the director of community relations for the Detroit Area Council.

Gross is currently serving on or has been a member of numerous Michigan government and social agencies. Former Michigan Governor George Romney appointed him to the Northern Michigan University Board of Control in 1966. He continues to serve on that board. Romney also appointed him to the Michigan Corrections Commission in 1964. He served on that board until abolished by Michigan's new constitution in 1966.

Another Romney appointment of Gross was to the state Delinquency Commission and the Michigan Council on Crime and Delinquency which he continues to serve as vice-chairman.

The city of Detroit committees on which he has or is now serving include: the Coordinating Council on Human Relations; the Neighborhood Conservation and Improved Housing; the Citizens for School Needs; the Federation of Community Councils; the Social Workers Club of Metropolitan Detroit; the Detroit Roundtable (Catholic-Protestant-Jewish); the Border City Conference; Booker T. Washington Business association; the Lafayette Park Kiwanis club; and the Optimist club of Eastside Detroit.

Church and religious affiliations include: member, Grace Episcopal church; Detroit Council of Churches; Episcopal Diocese of Michigan; Cathedral Chapter of St. Paul; and the Jewish Committee on Scouting.

Gross and his wife, Margaret, are moving to East Lansing where the Panax corporate offices are maintained. Mrs. Gross was formerly head of the English department at Sherrard junior high school in Detroit.

Let's Get Serious

When the new concept of county boards of supervisors took over in January, it was expected that the newly formed boards with the new district setup would be a little slow getting off the ground. The new model anticipated a tough transition period.

But, it has now been 3 months and if the April meeting Tuesday night which lasted into the morning, was any indication, the new board, which is now not quite so new, is still spinning its wheels, bogged down in the divisive, obstructive and sometimes destructive quagmire created by a handful of supervisors intent on showing off their knowledge, or lack of it, concerning the grave responsibilities of the supervisors in conducting county business.

Supervisors David Hollister of Lansing, Supervisor Grady Porter of Lansing and Supervisor Thomas

Helma of East Lansing, the 3 Democrats on the board, spent another night Tuesday making a farce out of any desire for serious and efficient county government.

County government is too important and complicated a function and the board of supervisors have too many grave responsibilities to turn board meetings into a laboratory for testing rules of parliamentary operations, whether they be rules of order set forth by the experts, Mr. Roberts or Mr. Mason, or by self-proclaimed experts such as Messrs. Hollister, Helma and Porter.

The time is arriving when a small handful of supervisors should be growing up and exercising some mature judgment. County government is too complex and the problems too many for anyone to treat county government and the people of this county as toys.

Do It Yourself

If you want to have a job done right and done well, do it yourself.

Acting on that theory Mason has now a beautiful shelter and beautiful recreation area in Laylin park which lies between E. Maple and E. Columbia streets.

The park area covers 7 acres. It was given to the city by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Jewett. City employees cleared the area of scrub trees and cleaned out 2 mill ponds which make ideal ice skating rinks.

Then when it came time to build a shelter a call went out for volunteers to help build it. The volunteers came and worked hard and loyally with materials provided by local firms and now the park is ready for the summer season with wide areas of green grass, other areas of shade trees, a picnic area equipped with ovens, play areas for children.

What the park needs are a few floral decorations such as flower beds. Volunteers who would like to contribute something to the park would be welcome if they take on the flower project.

Other volunteers are planning to landscape the area around the shelter.

Thanks to community cooperation Mason now has a most beautiful park.

It all goes to show what can be accomplished if everyone turns with a will and gets the thing done.

Those volunteers deserve a pat on the back from the grateful citizens of Mason.

Will Humans Survive?

Will man survive his environment? Possibly not if we do not heed warnings until the situation becomes critical.

For years scientists have been urging the ban of pesticides but nothing was done. Now that the fishing industry is in question and the individual's health is in danger the cry is finally rising.

Unfortunately, it is too late.

This week the Department of Health Education and Welfare - Food and Drug Administration is supposed to formally adopt 3.5 parts per million as the acceptable level of pesticides in fish.

According to John Scott, fish biologist with the Michigan Natural Resource Department most of the fish particularly chubs and Lake Trout, 25 inches and longer already have a much higher concentration than this, however.

Naturally Lake Michigan is the worst, but even in Lake Superior fatty fish such as salmon have accumulated large amounts of pesticide.

What will happen? Will we be able to eat any fish at all if this 3.5 level goes into effect? How detrimental to our health will the pesticide be?

No one has the answers.

It is known, however, that DDT and other pesticides such as Dieldrin must be banned as even now the average person has from 10 to 12 parts per million DDT stored in his body from many different sources.

Prohibiting the sale of hard chemicals such as DDT, Aldrin, Dieldrin, Heptachlor and Methoxychor would have little economic significance to agriculture since phosphate insecticides have taken their place over the last 5 years, according to Ingham County Extension Director Jim Mulvany.

Mulvany points out it is the homeowner who is the culprit. These hard chemicals are used for gardens and mosquito control with heavy amounts sprayed in concentrated metropolitan areas. Much of the chemical is flushed down storm drains into our waterways.

It is up to us, the homeowners, to insure that legislation is passed to prohibit use of these chemicals and that we stop personally using them in our gardens.

Take Home Skids

From 1965 to 1968, gross weekly earnings in manufacturing rose nearly 14 per cent, to $122.50, with about half the increase occurring in 1968 alone. Higher Social Security taxes and the surtax, however, held the gain in average take-home pay for the manufacturing worker with three dependents to 10.3 per cent. The consumer price index during the same period rose by 10 per cent, thus leaving a three year gain in purchasing power of only 26 cents a week.

That, in case you were wondering, is what is known as inflation - or running as fast as you can to stay in the same place.

The average worker was actually better off in 1962 through 1965, the newsletter points out. A more stable price level enabled him, to realize an annual average increase of more than $2 a week in his purchasing power during those years. (Goodbody & Co. Newsletter)

Treason Is Serious Business

When a youngster drinks a bottle of beer that is illegal to him, when a motorist exceeds the speed limit, when a violator shoots a deer out of season the law stomps on him hard for his affront to the peace and dignity of the community.

But when a group of anti-American conspirators shoot a policeman to death, seriously wound a second and openly declared their intention of opposing the peace, dignity and authority of the people of America, their treason is left essentially unpunished. Instead of action, we see the case clouded in a swirl of questionable court actions and a lot of hot air.

The action of the Detroit circuit judge in the recent case involving anti-American militants is not only disgusting - but itself borders on disloyalty to the country whose laws and way of life he has sworn to protect.

Treason is the very lowest crime that a man can be charged with. Traitors, and what else can one call such elements of the society, are deserving of the harshest and most summary of reactions from the law of the nation.

It is high time that the courts of this country begin to remember just what they were established for. Judges who are so misguided in their thinking that they cannot distinguish between honest and fair protest and out-and-out treason defile the dignity of the American court system. They should be hastily removed before their ignorance and their misunderstanding of what America is all about further threatens and endangers the peace, dignity and honor of the people they were elected to serve. A Handyman Named George

A friend down Florida way found himself filled chuck full with resentment towards people who wouldn't do anything, sat down at a typewriter and took out his feelings on the keys.

He sent the letter he wrote to no one in particular along to us for review. We're sending it on to you, just as it came, as this week's editorial comment.

Dear Fellow Citizen:

My name is George.

I'm an all around handyman, and I'd like you to feel free to use my services for any and all chores, errands and duties which you may be too busy to perform. Anytime there's something needs doing and you'd rather not get involved, you just let old George do it.

I'll write to your Congressman for you! Hell, better yet, I'll pick him for you. I'll write your newspaper editor or serve on the school board in your place. In fact, I'll do anything you are too tired, too pre-occupied or too lazy to do. With me around you can be as lack-adaisical and self-satisfied as you like. You can just have fun and let the future be damned!

THE MORE the merrier, I always say.

My services are available to you for all the tedious time consuming things you'd rather not get hung up with.

You haven't time to vote... so let George do it! And certainly you don't want to bother with all those messy precinct meetings that pick people and get out the vote. George will be glad to take over for you. There certainly is no need for you to concern yourself with town meetings or helping to shape policy, or attending business meetings. You don't want to bother with those committee assignments and extra responsibilities.

YOU JUST let old George tend to them. And I know you don't want to take a stand on anything controversial... it might slow down your social climbing or lose you a five cent sale, so, O.K... let George do it.

Now, you ask, why should you leave all those important things to me, someone you've never met? Well, that's a reasonable question, so let me put you at ease.

I'm no Beginner.

MAYBE I'M not as famous as Kruschew, for instance, but if it hadn't been for me, you'd never have heard of him. That goes for Mussolini, Stalin and Hitler, too. I made those guys. While the others were saying it couldn't happen, I made it happen. And the big time boys in the rackets in the United States, who pull the strings behind the scenes to make things work the way they want them to... you name 'em, and without me those guys would be nowhere.

Why do I want to run errands for you when I'm the guy who is really behind all these Big Wheels? Don't you see, I get my kicks from picking Presidents, school boards, running unions, establishments, counties and countries.

ALL THESE things you used to do before you took up chasing dollars, total security, golf balls and the like.

Oh, don't you feel that you're imposing, because I'm glad to be of service. In helping you, I'm really helping myself, you see. How do you think I was able to take and run a third of the world already? Because nobody else wanted to bother with it. Oh, I guess a few did, of course, but it was easy for me to name-call them back to oblivion and get the "leaders" to listen to me instead.

AFTER ALL, who picked these leaders? Well, since you didn't want to, and said "Let George do it"... I did.

Now, I'm taking over a lot more cities and counties in the United States, and doing quite well at the colleges also, thank you. And I figure it's just a matter of time until I'll have the whole country in my pocket.

I want to take this opportunity to thank you for making all this possible for me. Remember now, if there is any way in which I can be of help, I'm at your service. You just have fun... and don't worry about a thing... I'll even do your worrying, too!

Sincerely,
George

Barbs and Praise

By DICK BROWN

It's getting so the dictionaries are having a hard time keeping up with the word makers. And if the dictionary people are having a hard time think of us poor users of words who are getting more and more frustrated in trying to communicate with one another without benefit of recent acquisitions of various degrees.

A new release came in this week containing a thumb nail sketch of a speaker. Listing his educational background, the release said he had attended a particular college where he studied moniletics. That sent us all to the dictionary where we struck out. Old Man Webster didn't have the answer.

In a stubborn streak, the word was pursued with a call to the speaker. It turned out that the news release had misspelled the word and it should have been homiletics.

In case you are wondering what it means, it means the good pastor took a course in the art of preaching.

Chan Nauts, Holt high school principal, has had his own problems in keeping up with words and word use.

Like most school officials, Chan is concerned about the mushrooming narcotics problem which has shown signs of seeping from the urban areas out into the suburbs. Marijuana is reported as the leading culprit. So a few days ago when he heard about a program planned for presentation at Haslett in which the speaker was to address himself to the subject of "grass," he made it a point to attend.

That's when he bumped into trouble with words. Instead of a lecture on grass, the pep word for marijuana, the lecture was on lawn care.

So watch the Nauts lawn for the results.

Living is so complicated these days. The most overworked word is worry. Americans in particular are worrying themselves to the psychiatrist's couch in ever-increasing numbers. How much worrying is necessary? Consider these:

We worry about the Russians and/or Chinese invading Disneyland and then get run over by the neighbor's car.

We worry about radio-active fallout, then get poisoned by nicotine or by spraying our garden flowers.

We worry about youngsters running in front of cars and then pass ordinances making it mandatory that they ride bikes in the street.

We worry about getting the family car lubricated every 1,000 miles and then fail to get a medical checkup.

We worry about not getting enough exercise and then drive 2 blocks to buy a cup of coffee.

We either worry too much or we worry about the wrong things.

Just Thinking

Vern Brown in Cong territory

Well, another month has passed and tomorrow is a very special day here in Vietnam - April Fool's Day. To put me in a spot where I can do the most good on this holiday, they have me listed for KP duty - and that doesn't stand for the fraternal order of the Knights of Pythias.

To keep in the spirit of things they are showing a war movie tonight called "Anzio." That should be worth a few laughs.

KP and movies are only 2 of the benefits that we have here in the rear. When we were out in the middle of nowhere we didn't have all of this luxury, but we didn't have as many details either. I almost wish we would hurry and go back out. So much of a good thing, while resting our feet here in the rear, can get to you.

It has been an interesting week. Someone came up with a scrabble set out of nowhere and all of us have been going at it quite heavily. I never knew what great minds the army was hiding in its infantry.

Of course quite a few words have appeared that are not too familiar and without a dictionary handy there are some great debates.

Two of our instant genius types are pretty foxy and come up with some fancy words. Rich Lum, our own Hawaiian, outflanks us with a complete new language and Steve Sweetland from the big city of New York has a crazy way of spelling and is up on the use of Manhattan vernacular.

But this good old hayshaker Michiganan fooled both of them with the word, fodder. Neither the beachboy or the city slicker have ever been near a farm.

In fact Sweetland, the pride of third Avenue, almost accepted "fodder" and the opposite of "mutter."

Not much is new in the warm from my angle. There is one thing that upsets me though. The enemy has started using tanks and heavy artillery. That's not fair. We are the only ones supposed to have that stuff. If they are going to cheat like that I may send in my resignation and go home to fodder and mutter.

The Melting Pot

By HAYDEN PALMER

You probably have never heard of the FISH movement which started in England in 1961 and is spreading throughout the world.

It is an organization that has as its slogan: "Love thy Neighbor" and it acquired its name from the fish symbol secretly used by the early Christians during the centuries of persecution to identify themselves to each other.

The FISH movement began because a minister and a doctor in an English village was convinced that one of the main causes of many of our present day troubles can be laid to a decline in old time neighborliness.

So the FISH organization came into being and soon spread like wildfire. The church started recruiting volunteers for specific services of help to their fellowmen. A card carrying a picture of a fish was sent to persons in the English village. If the occupants of a home needed help or assistance they hung the FISH card in a window where passersby might see it and know that someone within was in distress and needed help. The FISH signal set a lot of things in motion and within minutes someone was at the home to provide what help was needed.

There is a FISH group in Ann Arbor today and another is being formed in Lansing through St. Paul's Episcopal church. The rector of St. Paul's, Rev. William S. Hill, discussed the program in a sermon a few weeks ago.

Rev. Hill said that one of the first FISH organizations formed in the United States was at Springfield, Massachusetts. It now has been established in more than 100 communities in the United States.

The Fish organization could be established in Mason, Holt or any other community as easily as it was formed in Ann Arbor or is being organized in Lansing.

A FISH chapter in a community has 3 basic requirements:

1. A group of committed persons willing to give of their skill to be of service to others. Some FISH workers agree to give one 24-hour period per month to the work; others make themselves available for a certain afternoon every week; still others put a specific skill - such as emergency legal advice - at the disposal of FISH.

2. Some kind of round-the-clock answering service. In many places this is done by a professional answering service and this, incidentally, is practically the only financial outlay that FISH has to make. This answering service puts the person in need in touch with a person qualified to be of specific help.

3. A measure of training for FISH volunteers. One matter which FISH workers have to be up on is, of course, the resources of the community, the social agencies and other facilities which can provide help. Moreover FISH workers have to be acquainted with what have been called "a few ground rules based on common sense!"

Apart from these basic requirements, rules, organizational structures and planned programs are kept to a minimum. Such as they are programs are tailored to the local situation.

Next week in place of this here erudite column may appear a nursery rhyme or a piece by Elvis Presley. Michigan editors are going into a huddle...to study ways and means of attracting juvenile readers. People who play the stock market depend upon other and quicker services for quotations. The stock market figures in newspapers are read by people who don't intend to invest.

The lovelorn columns are read not by people who need the advice, but by happily married folks who get vicarious pleasures from reading about the trouble other people experience. It often happens that older readers grab off what was meant for junior. Joel Chandler Harris wrote Brer Rabbit stories for youngsters but the older folks became the most avid readers. Funnies were first placed in newspapers to lure young readers but older readers abandoned the editorial pages to go for them. Now the funnies aren't as funny as the editorial pages.

Snatching of food from the young is not confined to the literary field. I know parents who give bacon to their babies and they eat the pabulum themselves. Many mothers wear the playsuits designed for their children and even some fathers now frisk around in junior's playpants.

While here at the Ingham County News little concerted effort has been made to attract young readers, we do rely on news tips from boys and girls. My younger daughter, Margaret, tells me some things which otherwise I might not know. Marcella Smith has given me several hot tips. Jane Everitt is another who keeps me posted.

Why not Not Cat Races?

By Jim Fitzgerald

(Reprint of March 1965 column)

Our awful cat, Cat, died last week and I'm almost sorry because it is obviously only a matter of time before cat racing comes to Michigan and our cat was pretty fast.

I might have made a buck on him, which would have been fine for feeding my bad habits. And it might have been nice for the cat, too, because certainly there never lived an animal more in need of some means to justify his existence.

Mother and Aunt Madeline will remember that our dog was killed the day before last Christmas and was immediately replaced by a puppy about which the less said the better. They may wonder if warm-hearted Old Dad brought home a kitty to take the sting out of Cat's demise.

No. My family pretty well agreed that Cat was a nothing and there was no clamor for a substitution. Oh, they all cried when an infection did him in, but our kids take after their mother and she cries when the corner gas station celebrates an anniversary.

I mention my total lack of remorse at Cat's passing not to anger cat-lovers everywhere. I have fought them before and I know when I am out-matched. My purpose is to dig our esteemed legislators by pointing out that I was kidding in the first paragraph. No matter how fast he was, and no matter how little I cared for him, I would never have entered Cat in the cat races.

You have doubtless read that it appears the lawmakers will bow down to the fast-buck boys and legalize dog racing in Michigan. Their reasoning is simple: If the state can make thousands taxing horse betting, why not get fat off dogs? And besides, it's good for tourism.

So, in a few years, why not cats? As long as the Water Winter Wonderland benefits, what the heck? Starve some cats, dangle a mouse in front of them, and let the suckers bet on which cat runs the fastest on an empty stomach.

That's how they work it with dogs. Greyhounds are trained on live rabbits which they sometimes catch. The night before the race they are locked in a cage, unfed. They hit the track starved and take after an electric rabbit they never catch. Some fun.

Detroit News columnist Doc Greene said it last week and I agree 100 per cent: "Until a horse or dog whispers it to me, I'm convinced that the animals do not enjoy what they are forced to do. A horse, by and large, runs out of fear and panic. . . A dog runs because he's hungry."

If people are convinced the state should feed off gambling, ok. But why pick on dumb animals? Why be such lousy hypocrites? Why not legalize huge poker palaces where the folks can get their bet kicks without the silly charade of watching horses or dogs run in a circle.

Sure, horse racing is the sport of kings. And it would attract about as many fans as tennis if a guy couldn't put $2 on the nose.

Once we've accepted the principle of lawful betting, roulette is as good as Rover and a crap table will generate as much excitement as Man of War.

Private enterprise will be tickled to turn Michigan into Las Vegas and the state can tap countless pots. Little old ladies won't have to sneak out to play bingo and police won't have to turn blind every time the Legion has a stag party.

Such a wide open life might be pretty rough on all us swingers who will bet too much and stay up too late and begin looking for more vices to legalize and tax so we'll have more take-home pay to swing with.

But people get pretty much what they ask for and what happens to them shouldn't happen to a dog. Or a cat.

Medical Maze

By Elmer E. White

WITHOUT MAJOR SURGERY, the state senate has passed a bill to eliminate the legal-medical maze over human organ transplants in Michigan.

The measure sailed through the upper chamber in much the same form it was introduced 3 months ago by Sen. N. Lorraine Beebe, Dearborn Republican.

Specifically, it designates who may donate a heart, kidney or other organ, and provides protection for physicians performing operations.

Some doctors and hospitals in Michigan are now reluctant to authorize transplant operations because of questions involving the medical, moral and legal aspects of the issue.

Anyone over 18 and of sound mind could will his organs for use after death if Sen. Beebe's bill makes it through the house and the governor's office. Doctors involved in the transplant procedure would be immune from liability.

Other key provisions designate accredited hospitals, surgeons and medical schools as parties eligible to receive organs for transplant, and allow an adult to make an organ gift by signing a document in the presence of at least two witnesses. There is also a provision for revoking the gift.

University of Michigan medical experts, who have performed three successful heart transplants, strongly supported the bill.

TIME AGAIN

MICHIGAN'S DIFFICULTIES over the time of day have taken another twist. The Upper Peninsula has been authorized to rejoin the lower part of the state in the Eastern Time Zone.

Congressman Philip E. Ruppe, a Houghton Republican, announced the action by U.S. Transportation Secretary John Volpe.

"Since the summer daylight time is not a legal option in Michigan," Ruppe said, "opinion coming into my office and into the department of transportation ran nearly 10 to 1 in favor of eastern zone."

TWO YEARS AGO, the federal government placed the U.P. in the central time zone, saying its economic ties were closer with those in Wisconsin than those in lower Michigan.

But 3 counties - Chippewa, Mackinac and Luce - at the eastern edge of the peninsula, had declared themselves in the eastern zone.

Now, Ruppe says, "some areas near the Wisconsin border express preference for central time." He said there were indications that some areas at the western end of the peninsula might decide to stay on central time. Ruppe, who represents the entire U.P. as well as several lower Michigan counties, said the zone change will become effective April 27, when most of the nation goes on daylight savings time.

BUT MICHIGAN VOTERS last November decided against going on DST. That means that Michigan, instead of being in time-tune with New York, will be in step with Chicago.

With Volpe's ruling, however, most of the U.P. will move its clocks forward one hour to line up with the lower peninsula.

FUN AND FIGHT

A bill has been introduced in the Michigan house to give cities 80 per cent of the $100 million recreation bond money, and outstate areas 20 per cent.

Rep. James Bradley, Detroit Democrat, chief sponsor of the plan, said the money should go "where Michigan's problems are."

Gov. William G. Milliken has recommended 60 per cent of the funds go to the cities. Conservationists and their friends in the legislature maintain voters approved the program with the understanding 70 per cent would find its way to outstate areas, and only 30 per cent to the urban centers.

BUT BRADLEY said there are lots of problems in the cities "and the recreation money is a good way to straightening them out. People living in the ghettos have as much right to recreational facilities as those who live in the suburbs and are able to get to state parks and other facilities."

Bradley's bill faces an uphill struggle. The sentiment of the lawmakers seems to be more along the 70-30 division proposed by outdoorsmen.

Aurelius Garden Club Is Ready For Spring

Spring was in the air at the Friday evening meeting of the Aurelius Garden club at the Aurelius township hall. Mrs. Lewis Bugbee, club president, called attention to the new program books. Carl Topliff reminded the members of the necessary spring clean-up to ready Columbia Creek park for the summer. The tables and ball ground back-stop will be in place soon, he said.

Those attending the Inter-city Council meeting at Eaton Rapids reported that slides were shown of the renovation of the Walker tavern at Cambridge Junction. The site has been purchased by the Michigan Natural Resource department for a state park and is currently being authentically restored.

The club voted to send a donation to the Michigan Federation of Garden clubs' project, the Indian scholarship fund. Deserving Indian young people may take college or vocational training that would be unavailable to them without aid. A donation will be sent to the Loda Lake sanctuary, a Federation project to preserve the fast disappearing native wild flowers.

The program was a "Trip to the Holy Land" by Mr. and Mrs. Ray Perkins, who showed film strips with a narration. The contrast of countryside where much of the territory was barren and bleak with very little vegetation, to other sections where irrigation was employed or there was a natural oasis such as Jericho was shown. The terracing of farms near Jerusalem and Bethlehem is a necessary conservation practice which also adds to the beauty of the region, the Perkins said.

Of special interest to the farmer garden clubbers was a 1400 acre communal farm in Israel called a kibbutz. Here they raise hundreds of head of cattle which after their prime production, are sent to South America for breeding purposes.

Members saw pictures of beautiful flowers growing near Jacob's Well and donkeys laden with vegetables near St. Stephens gate. The hot springs said to have been used by Herod were shown, causing the audience to wonder if anything we have used will be seen that many years hence.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Bugbee and Mrs. Esther Hemans.

The next meeting will be May 9 at 8 p.m. at Aurelius Town Hall. Mrs. Carl Topliff will be in charge of the program.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester E. Palmer of 352 North Okemos road, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Deborah Ann to Cpl. Richard Thomas York. Cpl. York is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Robert York of Lincoln, Nebraska.

The couple will be married on May 31.

McDonald-Bevills Nuptial Vows Said

Theresa McDonald of Mason became the bride of Chet Bevills of Lansing in an afternoon ceremony on April 12 in the home of Christine Bevills, Lansing, sister of the groom.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence McDonald of Dansville. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Bevills of Kentsett, Arkansas.

The bride wore a floor length A-line empire styled gown of chantilly lace and peau de soie. Her illusion veil was attached to a pearl crown headpiece and she carried a cascade of white carnations and roses.

Dawn Strouse, friend of the bride, was her maid of honor. Her floor-length empire gown was of pink linen, trimmed in white. Her headpiece was of pink clustered flower petals and she carried a cascade of white carnations and pink roses.

Bill Zuker of Lansing, friend of the bridegroom, was best man.

A reception was held at 8 p.m. at Vevay township hall. Lucia McMillan of Lansing registered guests. Kris Paulson of Lansing, Mrs. Douglas Fry and Deborah Fry, both of Holt and Mrs. Walter Krebs of Fowlerville, served the wedding cake, punch and coffee.

Guests included friends and relatives from Lansing.

Dansville, Mason, Holt, Fowlerville, Grass Lake, Webberville, Niles, Montrose, Munith and Kentsett, Arkansas.

The new Mrs. Bevills is a 1965 graduate of Dansville high school and is employed at the Ingham County News. Her husband is a 1965 graduate of Sexton high school, Lansing and is employed at Commercial Blueprinting, Inc., Lansing.

Following a honeymoon in northern Michigan, the couple will be at home at 315 South street, Mason.

Floral Demonstration Given At Meeting

Mrs. E.M. Collar gave a demonstration of flower arranging at the April 9 meeting of the Mason Area Garden club.

Using tulips, carnations and mums, she made a variety of spring arrangements for dining table, coffee table and buffet. There were 22 members and guests present at the home of Mrs. Ray Perkins, VanderVeen drive.

Members of the Young Mothers' Garden club were guests at the meeting. Mrs. Basil Chesley was assistant hostess. A salad smorgasbord and assorted breads were served.

Mrs. Francis Fiedler, vice-president, presided at the business meeting. The next meeting will be on May 6, with Mrs. Norman Good as chairman.

Mason Woman Spins Own Yarn

By SHIRLEY BECKMAN
News 'Womens' Writer

If you are afraid of catching enthusiasm and an old fashioned zest for living, stay away from the Joe Roe home at 118 East South street.

The springtime visitor to the big brick house is impressed first with the well-kept lawn and the welcoming row of brilliant crocuses.

Once in the house it is difficult to know where to look. Mrs. Roe's tastefully arranged antiques, her refinished furniture, the wall arrangement of seeds, pods and driftwood and the porcelain dolls she is painting, all catch the eye. However, the spinning wheel and yarn winder, in use, would attract anyone's attention.

Mrs. Roe is weaving yarn on the little spinning wheel, which she bought 25 years ago for $10. Several pieces of the wheel were missing, but she had it repaired and refinished. A little over a year ago she was successful in finding someone to teach her how to use it.

Mrs. Roe had made repeated trips to Greenfield Village, but was never able to find anyone there to show her how to spin.

Through her membership in the Lansing city recreation program, she met Mrs. Glenn Griffiths, who has taught her and others how to spin.

"She had us take the wheel all apart and put it together again," she says of Mrs. Griffiths and her beginning lessons.

Mrs. Roe does not know how old her wheel is but she is certain it is not a reproduction, but an original made by a young man for his wife. It was the custom in the days when a spinning wheel was in every home, for the husband to make a wheel to give his bride.

Mrs. Roe bought a fleece from an area farmer and admits she hadn't realized how much washing is necessary before the wool is ready to be carded. She washed the fleece with strong soap and dried it in the sun.

The next step is carding, which is aligning the fibers up so they can be spun, Mrs. Roe said. Carding is done by pulling the wool between two paddles which are covered with little sharp metal teeth.

The carded wool is placed in a holder of bent willow on the loom and is drawn through a hole in the shuttle and wound on the bobbin. The wheel is operated by foot power. When the bobbin is full, the yarn is transferred to the yarn holder.

"Spinning is simple," according to Mrs. Roe. All spinning is, is twisting. The important thing is to have a wheel that works.

Mrs. Roe plans to weave the yarn into material for a jacket for daughter, Jean Ann. She is interested in dying yarn with the natural products as our ancestors did. However, she will leave the coat material in the natural shade.

Marigolds can be used to produce a bright yellow, poke weed for a purplish blue and walnuts for brown, according to Mrs. Roe.

She does not have a loom, but does her weaving on the loom at the Cedar Street Craft center at 429 North Cedar street in Lansing. Anyone, who is enrolled in the city recreation program, may use the loom. It is necessary to make an appointment ahead of time, often as long as 3 months in advance.

Mrs. Roe has used the loom. Among the fruits of her weaving are a reboso for herself and a dress for her daughter. They are both made of black thread and are banded with wide intricate multicolored border.

She did her first weaving about 5 years ago. The thread may be purchased at the center. She is also saving scrap fabric for weaving rugs. The box of balls of fabric strips on the Roe back porch has over it a penciled chart she has worked out to aid her in getting the desired rug design.

This busy woman says she "has always gone to night school" and has always been learning. She started china painting when son, Jerry, now a senior at Mason high school, was a baby and ill. The painting helped her through this difficult time. Four lovely plates, depicting the four seasons are among the things she has painted.

The Roe family includes son Joseph B., a teacher at Midland, his wife and 3 children.

Mr. Roe shares his wife's interests. He frequently helps her track down items and refinish furniture. The couple enjoys traveling and Mrs. Roe is anxious to return to the western United States and observe more closely the Navajo women at their weaving.

She works the things she brings home from her travels into her home. A dried arrangement hanging on the dining room wall is an example. Each leaf, seed pod and piece of weathered wood in the arrangement has a special meaning to her. She can tell where she found each item.

The yard and gardens are wowing Mrs. Roe away from her spinning wheel these warm spring days. As the spring flowers start to bloom, she is eager to be out and gardening.

Interesting pieces of drift wood and rocks are arranged throughout the garden. A small Japanese stroll garden, with a quiet pool and statuary is an especially inviting spot.

There is much to see and do at 118 E. South street and the lady of the house obviously enjoys every minute of the doing.

Devotions Led By Cady

Don Cady led the devotions on Thursday evening at the meeting of the Baptist Bible Reader's class. The evening was spent playing table games. Hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Don Cady and Mrs. Helen Potter served hot biscuits and maple syrup.

Mr. and Mrs. Club Holds Meeting

The Mr. and Mrs. Euchre club of St. James church met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clark on Saturday. Thirty-two members enjoyed a dinner served by Dr. and Mrs. Vincent Guarnaccia, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Urban and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clark.

Special guests for the evening were the Rev. Brendan K. Ledwidge and his mother. Eight tables of euchre were in play with high prizes going to Mrs. Gerald Eifert and the Rev. Ledwidge. Low prizes were bestowed on Mrs. Mary Bergeon and Lester Palmer.

The next meeting of the Mr. and Mrs. club will be held May 3 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. Lyons.

Booklet Will Aid Morel Hunters

"May is Morel Month in Michigan" is the title of a bulletin available upon request from the Co-operative Extension service.

The bulletin, which is illustrated with color photographs, has been prepared to help insure the safe collection of morel mushrooms for food. In Michigan, the season for morels is the month of May, rarely in late April or early June. The booklet outlines the characteristics of the morel and the guidelines for safe collecting.

Anyone who is interested in going morel hunting in a few weeks may obtain a copy of the booklet by writing the Cooperative Extension Service, Michigan State University, East Lansing, Michigan 48823.

AMAZED...

I tell a few war stories—just like the rest. The censorship of good taste and modesty makes my experiences pretty drab. But Jerry thrills to them. He's proud of his Dad's Purple Heart!

My son would be amazed if I were to tell him the stories we never tell, our thoughts as we hit the beach... what it was like in those jungles... what war does to its dead... and its living.

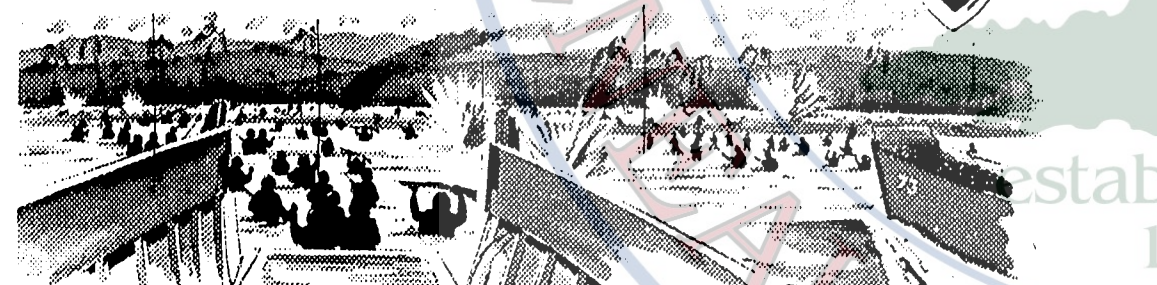

And in other ways Jerry would be amazed; for he doesn't know me as a man who prays often. He can't realize the depth of my Faith. He has never met the brave chaplain who brought me in when I was hit.

I'll never tell Jerry all of it. I don't think God wants me to!

I pray that Jerry's may be a different world. I want him to learn day by day, step by step, what his religion will mean to him!

That's why we're a church-going family!

Tigers Wind Up First Week of Season In 2nd Place with 3 Wins, 2 Losses

DETROIT - With the first week of the new 1969 season past, the Detroit Tigers find themselves in 2nd place in the Eastern division of the American league, trailing the division leading Boston Red Sox by one game. Baltimore is in second place, a half game behind the Sox.

The Tigers wound up the week with 3 victories and 2 defeats for a percentage mark of .600.

Mason Tops Raiders Thanks to Hot Bats

It looks like Mason is off and running this year in baseball. Undeclared in their first 2 games of the season, they're a strong possibility for season honors this year. And if Friday's game was any indication, they're in.

Behind the 7-hit pitching of Mike Johnson, Mason tallied 5 times to beat the Raiders of O'Rafferty 5-4. Mason scored first in the third inning to take a 1-0 lead. O'Rafferty tied it up the same inning with a run. Scoring runs in the fourth off of a bases loaded double by Paul Mudgett, Mason was in front at the end of 4 innings by a score of 4-1. Mason scored one more run in the fifth and it looked as if Mason had it all wrapped up as they went into the bottom of the seventh leading with the score 5-1. O'Rafferty had other ideas. The Raiders staged a 3-run rally before Mason finally cut them off bringing the final score to 5-4.

In other Capital Circuit action, it was Okemos over Haslett in a big way, 15-1, and Holt over the Shamrocks of Gabriels in a batter's duel 12-10.

JV Baseball Team Wins

The J.V.'s staged a come from behind performance Monday as they defeated Haslett in baseball 4-3. Behind 3-0 after 4 innings of play, Mason went on to score 1 in the 5th, 2 in the 6th, and 1 in the 7th. Dick Leonard and Tony Doolittle shared pitching honors, Dick going 3-2/3 innings, and Tony going the last 3-1/3 innings. One of the highlights of the game was Tony's 8 strike-outs in the short time that he pitched, striking out the last batter with the bases loaded to end the game.

Mason Runners Take Second in Triangular

In a triangular track meet last Thursday it was Waverly 75, Mason 40 1/2, and Holt 32 1/2. Mason earned 1st place points in the 880 yd. run with a time of 2:14.2 through the efforts of Dennis Howe. It was Steve Lockwood 1st in the 440 yd. dash with a time of 54.9 sec., and Dennis Lockwood, Dave Fisher, Dennis Lavis, and Dennis Howe 1st in the mile relay with a time of 3:48.

Capturing 2nd place points were Smith in the high jump, 5'6", Mike Johnson in the 220 yd. dash with a time of 24.7 sec., Mike Cook in the 880 yd. run, and in the 880 yd. relay with a time of 1:39. It was Rick Jancha, Mike Johnson, Dave Fisher, and Steve Lockwood.

It was Bob Leonard 3rd in the long jump, 18'5 1/2", Ramon Fuentes 3rd in the pole vault, Dave Fisher 3rd in the 440 yd. dash with a time of 56.9 sec., Mike Johnson 3rd in the 100 yd. dash timing in at 11.1 sec., and Rick Brown timed in at 23.3 sec. for a 3rd place finish in the 180 yd. low hurdles.

Picking up 4th place points were Kinney in the pole vault, John Hayhoe in the 2 mile run with a time of 11:42, Dennis Lockwood in the mile run with a time of 5:11, and in the 220 yd. dash, it was Rick Jancha with a time of 25.0 sec.

Mason Racquet Squad Wins Season Opener

Mason defeated Charlotte Tuesday in a non-league tennis match 5-2. It was Mason's first match of the year, after a postponement of their first scheduled match with Okemos because of wet weather.

The Bulldogs were in fine form as they took 3 single matches and 2 doubles. Denny Dancer defeated Robert Johns 6-1, 6-3, for Mason's first win, Steve Reeser won from Doug Cove 6-2, 6-1, and Mark Pinschall beat Ken Flees 6-4, 6-3 to round off Mason's 3 singles wins.

Their only loss in singles was Fred Carrier falling to John Russel 6-2, 6-2.

Dick Birney and Dan O'Brien teamed up to defeat Randy Carpenter and Mike Sutton, 6-3, 4-6, and 6-0, and the combination of Jim Hetzer and Jerry Derry defeated Dave Clarke and Fred Flower 6-1, 6-0. Losing in a doubles match was Kevin O'Brien and Raul Gonzales to Eaton Rapid's Dick Rohdy and Ron Hutchens.

In other area tennis matches this week it was Holt over Eaton Rapids 3-2.

A match to watch will be this Thursday as the Bulldogs tangle with the Holt Rams.

In Reserve action Tuesday, it was Mason 3 and Charlotte 1.

The 2 defeats came at the hands of the rampaging New York Yankees, after the Tigers had trimmed the Cleveland Indians 6-2 last week Tuesday and 12 to 3 last Thursday.

New York rolled into town Friday and made the Tigers look like sandlot players as they took the long end of a 9-3 count. Then on Saturday with Mel Stottlemyre on the mound, the best the Tigers could do was get one hit during the entire game, that a double off the bat of Jim Northrup in the 5th with 2 out.

Meanwhile Denny McLain, in his second appearance of the year, gave up 12 hits.

Joe Sparna Sunday made his initial appearance on the mound this season. He struggled through 5 innings to get a 6-2 decision over the Yankees.

Mickey Lolich relieved him in the 6th.

Sparna walked 8 Yankees but gave up only 6 hits.

Stan Bahnsen lasted 4 innings before being replaced by Fred Talbot. Bahnsen had trouble in the 1st inning. McAuliffe got a single, then Kaline drilled a home run which sent McAuliffe in ahead of him. It was Kaline's second homer of the season.

Norman Cash followed with a single and then Bahnsen issued walks to Jim Northrup, Bill Freehan and Don Wert to force another run.

In the 4th inning Bahnsen walked McAuliffe. McAuliffe attempted to steal second and was thrown out. Then Bahnsen walked Mickey Stanley. Al Kaline then hit an easy hopper to Bobby Muerter which Muerter bobbled and kicked away. The Tigers chalked up 3 runs in the inning to take a commanding lead. That was all for Bahnsen. Fred Talbot and Mike Kekich held the Tigers to one hit the rest of the way.

New York recorded its 2 runs in the 6th and 9th innings.

Lolich took over in the 6th after Sparna had walked Horace Clark and Roy White.

In the 9th the Yankees put 3 singles together to score their 2nd run on White's force out. Lolich then struck out Joe Pepitone to end the game.

The Tigers are on the road until April 25 with games scheduled at Cleveland, New York, Baltimore and Washington.

13 Stolen Bases Aid Mason 7-2 Victory

It was Mason's third win in a row as the Bulldogs ran over the Vikings of Haslett 7-2 Monday. Playing an errorless game, Mason was quick on running as the Bulldogs stole 13 bases, Webster contributing 5 of them.

Paul Mudgett was the big gun again, batting 3 for 4, as he raised his season batting average to .571. Sadler pitched a great game for the Bulldogs. He allowed 2 runs on 6 hits, and struck out 9 batters.

Scoring first in the third inning for 2 runs, again in the fifth for 4 runs, and a final run in the sixth, Mason led after 5 1/2 innings of play 7-0. Haslett's only 2 runs of the game came in the bottom of the sixth, and as Haslett went down one, two, three in the seventh, the final score stood at 7-2, with Mason collecting 6 hits for 7 runs and no errors, and Haslett batting for 2 runs on 6 hits with 6 errors.

That Time of the Season By Tim Goodwin

Spring sports is a great time to break into this sportswriting business. Besides having four sports to cover, the variables brought on by wet weather make it rather hectic on the new comer. Between make-up games and more cancellations, the spring sports schedule I have is practically useless. Luckily for me I have a week between papers to catch up on what's been happening in baseball, golf, tennis and track. What I can hope for is clear weather the rest of the season. That would be a blessing and perhaps too much to hope for, but I'll keep on hoping and try and make the best of it, so bear with me.

Athletes today are really something. Imagine making money just by shaving off a mustache for a television commercial. The change is here. Imagine, if you can, that All-American athletic look of clean shaven faces and short hair as past history. Even the high school athletes are in the picture. I don't think I've ever seen a better looking set of sideburns than what I saw on one Mason athlete, but no offense, it looked great, clean and neatly trimmed, I seem to recollect that it was in the late 1800's when these styles were last popular. Even the classic example of the old time football, when Harvard was playing Princeton, shows the players catching passes with nary a whisker out of place, and those baseball players of olden days, why the wax must have been so thick on the ends of their mustaches, the sun couldn't even melt it. It just goes to show you that people don't change, only their attitudes.

Holt Golfers Win 2

Holt high school golfers defeated Howell Monday at Chisholm Hills and Gabriels at Chisholm Hills on Thursday despite chilly winds and standing water. The Capitol Circuit rules call for 6 players from each team but only 4 count in the 9 hole contest.

Holt High's Varsity has experienced veterans in Randy Mastin, Bill Dowell, Joe Dillon, Dave Marvin, Chris Goodrich, Mark Flasky, Bob Griffith, and 9th grader Jack Sudberry who have all seen action so far this season.

Others on the team are Marty Rouse, Mike Orman, John Daft, Harry Wilson, Tom Bosworth, Rick Langs, Tom Dargan, Tim Sleight and Joe Cantin.

Unlike many sports the schools cannot provide a golf course, so practice and playing take place by arrangement with local golf course owner Alex Chisholm. Like all sports, the ones who work the hardest in practice are the ones who make the Varsity squad. Practice calls for hitting practice balls daily with each club, and determining distances with each club by measuring hits. Playing the game helps but nothing takes the place of daily practice.

In the capitol circuit Mason is the defending champion and has an excellent chance to repeat.

Mason Golfers Defeat Haslett in First Match

Mason won its first league contest of the Golf season Monday, defeating Haslett 161-175.

Ron Perrine was medalist with 39, while Rick Smith shot a 40, with Chuck Berg and Dan Lewis both turning in performances of 41. Perhaps a repeat performance of last year is in store, when the Bulldogs won the conference championship.

They're in great shape as they start the season with 5 of their 6 starters returning. Rounding out the Bulldog line-up this year is Ron Perrine, Rick Smith, Chuck Berg, Dan Lewis, Scott Strickland, and Dean Lewis.

This Thursday will be a better indication of where they stand as they play a tough Holt squad at Chisholm Hills Golf course. Holt has all 6 of its starters returning this year.

In other Capital Circuit action, it was Howell winning from Gabriels 169-171, Okemos over O'Rafferty 168-170, and Holt defeating Eaton Rapids 165-173.

Oldtimers Baseball Fish Fry

LANSING - The annual Central Michigan Oldtimers Baseball Association Fish Fry is scheduled for Monday night, April 21, at 6:30 p.m. at the Eagles hall in Lansing. The Eagles Hall is located at 4700 N. Grand River avenue (between Waverly road and the Airport entrance). The fish fry will consist of coho salmon.

This fish fry is for paid up members only. However, memberships will be accepted at the door the night of the event. The dues for the Oldtimers are $2. per year.

There is no charge for the fish fry.

Highlighting the evening's program will be the showing of the 1968 World Series film. There also will be autographed Tiger baseballs to be raffled off.

NOTICE

At their meeting of April 7, 1969, the trustees of the Greenwood Cemetery Association of Aurelius adopted regulations pertaining to the planting of shrubs, the setting of monuments and headstones, and the removal of existing trees and other features detrimental to economical maintenance of the cemetery grounds.

No shrubs shall be planted in Greenwood Cemetery unless a written permit has been granted by the Association. Shrubs planted without the written permit will be removed.

Existing trees, shrubs and curbing which are deemed to be a hindrance to the upkeep of the grounds or where plant growth infringes on neighboring lots, will be removed.

A written permit shall be obtained from the Association for the setting of monuments, headstones or other grave markers. Foundations for such monuments and headstones shall be constructed by the Association at its regular fee for such construction.

Artificial flowers may be used to decorate graves only from November 1 to April 15 each year.

Free.

Young Leslie Farm Couple Put Emphasis on Efficiency

LESLIE - Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Butler and their 2 children, Robert and Sheryl, are happy in their choice of farming as a profession.

The Butlers realize that farming is no cinch. Mrs. Butler was a city girl from Manistee but quickly learned the ways of a farm wife and helped in every phase of the farm operation in getting started from tractor driving in the field to washing milking machines and the bulk milk tank.

But here they are today-owning 400 acres and renting 250 acres more. They plant at least 400 acres of corn and have not had time to enter recording officially but Merrill keeps close track for production records and was happy to average 150 bushels of wet corn to the acre. Much of the corn goes into 4 farm silos as silage. They cultivate the corn at least once even though they spray with atrazine to keep the weeds down.

The Butlers have a full complement of corn harvesting equipment including a chopper and portable grinder. They even mix their own concentrates and high proteins. Of course with storage facilities for 2200 tons of silage there is little problem. All feeding is done electrically without being handled at all.

In addition to corn the Butlers grow 25 acres of oats and 50 acres of wheat. The balance of the acreage is in hay. They, too, have about 5 acres on one farm and 35 acres on another of wood-lot. They have sold some of the timber off the 35 acres with an idea of clearing it but Mr. Butler says there is still a lot of work to be done. They have also sold some gravel to level off a few hills.

There are 2 improvements that the Butlers have made that they both think tremendous!

One is the hiring of a full time hired man, Ted Lindsay, who with his wife and 6 children live on one of the Butler farms.

The other is the finishing of the Herringbone, double 6 milking parlor. They have individual feeders that are automatically refilled while the cows are being milked. They also have a 1,200 gallon stainless steel milk tank that cleans itself inside. Milk is introduced into it automatically from pipes. It is kept spicless and gleaming on the outside as well.

Off this room are 2 important smaller rooms. The one has a shower and clean-up area; the other is an office with a phone hooked up to the house.

The Butlers have both registered and grade cows. They use artificial insemination. They are milking 115 cows at the present time and expect to be milking 150 soon.

The Butlers have a pole barn with 130 free stalls where the cows may come and go as they wish. It has doorways instead of an open side.

The family has 2 horses. One is for the children and they have a pony cart which they use regularly when weather permits. The other horse is for Merrill Butler who enjoys riding.

Theirs is originally the old Launstein homestead. The old house burned. The present one is very large but has a number of things that need to be done to it, say the Butlers.

Now that they have achieved their Herringbone milking parlor and have the help of a hired man they can begin to think about needs of the house.

Merrill Butler used to be quite a huntsman. He has a covered gun case with a collection of deer rifles, 22's, shot guns and one hand gun. He says he has been too busy with cows the last 7 years to worry much about deer and other wild life.

Today, say the Butlers, you have to be sure that the very latest methods are taken advantage of to keep expenses down.

With their larger milk tank they have Kaye Douglas call only every other day to haul milk into Detroit to the Wilson Dairy.

Truly, they have found farming an interesting and lucrative business, with their eyes carefully trained on the many things still to be done to cut down the cost of overhead.

Their very young son is enthralled by every step his father takes. Even at his tender age he knows many farming angles not yet glimpsed by much older boys. Here is farming at its best. The joy of accomplishment is blended with tasks still to be done.

BRIGHT FUTURE-Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Butler of Leslie smile optimistically about their modern farming operation. They have found together the secret of farming is in staying ahead of the competition.

Farm Views And News

By JIM MULVANY

The five "Hard Chemicals" are in trouble again, due to new FDA checks on lake fish. This time public opinion is likely to throw the balance toward legislation to outlaw the sale of all hard chemicals.

The so called "Hard Chemicals" are DDT, Aldrin, Dieldrin, Heptachlor and Methoxychor. They are all related chemically in that they have chlorine attached to the hydro carbon chain.

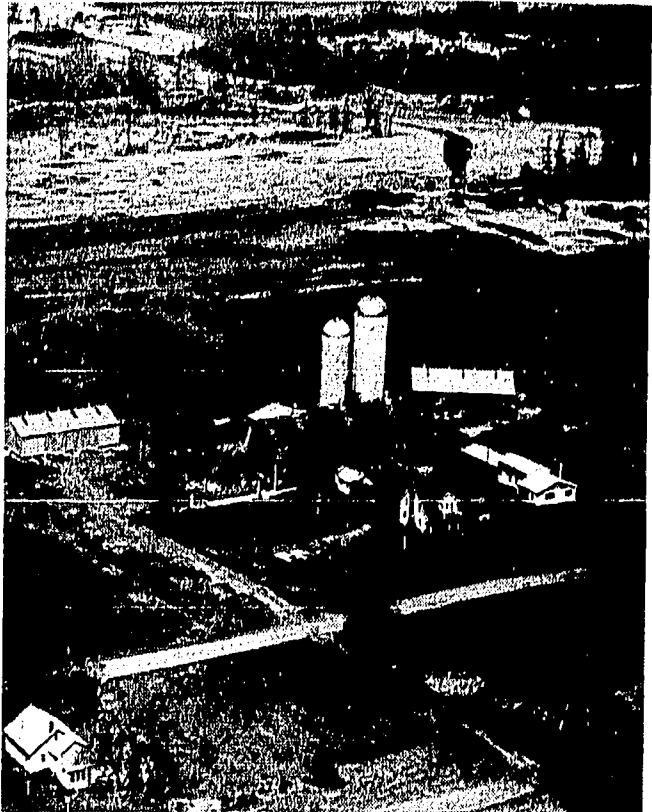

Who uses these chemicals? Agriculture has used about 50 percent of the quantities of these chemicals sold until about 5 years ago when other phosphate insecticides took their place. The new fruit spraying chemicals recommendations bulletin of MSU includes these hard chemicals in only one recommendation for early petal fall sprayings on apples.

There will be little economic significance to agriculture if DDT and its sisters are dropped from use completely.

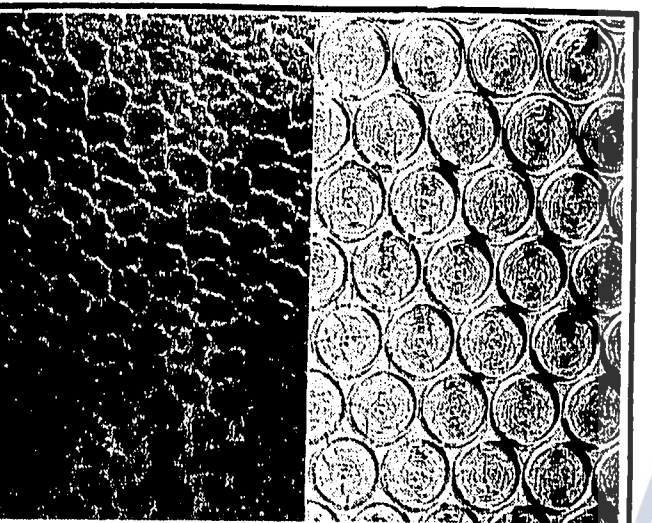

The guilty parties in misuse of hard chemicals are largely the municipalities in lower Michigan. Up until last year DDT was the only chemical used in control of Dutch Elm disease. In addition, large amounts were sold for home owners to use in gardens and for mosquito control. It is still being used by gardeners this spring.

When heavy amounts are used in a concentrated metropolitan area much of the raw chemical will be flushed down drain sewers and directly into streams. There is very little soil to filter chemicals for the slow break down.

Agriculture has a stake in how pesticides in general are legislated. Agriculture can't afford, and consumers can't either to have pesticides banned because of indiscriminate use of DDT by municipalities. The loss of some pesticides that are proven very safe, could have severe implications for foods and growers and purchasers.

Nitrogen Fertilizers Need Increased Lime

Because of the increased use of commercial fertilizers, Michigan State University crop scientist, contends A.R. Wolcott, Michigan State University crop scientist.

"Lime is as important for acid soils now when nitrogen is purchased in a bag or tank as it was when legumes and livestock manures were our principal sources of nitrogen," Wolcott says. "This is because the major nitrogen fertilizer materials are acid forming."

"Modern nitrogen fertilizers accelerate the development of soil acidity. If this process is left unchecked by timely applications of lime, severely reduced yields may result."

Soil acidity which develops at low pH is difficult to correct. A pH below 5.5 "greatly speeds up irreversible weathering processes," says Wolcott. "This may lead to alterations in important soil properties which cannot be corrected by lime alone."

Wolcott advises controlling soil acidity through regular soil tests and prompt application of needed lime.

County Takes Delivery Of Equipment, Supplies

New equipment and materials totaling approximately $326,000 cash outlay for the coming year are now being delivered to the Ingham County Road Commission, according to Superintendent Engineer Frank Evans.

Evans explained that in the beginning of March bids were awarded for 27 new pieces of equipment. Machinery purchased by the commission included 8 pickup trucks for $10,500 plus trade-in of old equipment, 2 special purpose trucks for $19,500 less trade-ins, 2 bituminous patch distributors for $6,300, 2 International low-boy mowers for the parks for $2,225 including trade-in, and 2 truck tractors gross vehicle weight 41,000 pound for $25,000.

The commission also purchased 2 truck tractors with gross vehicle weight of 25,500 pound for $8,000, one truck for $2,600, a 2 3/4 cubic yard articulated tractor loader for $16,300, a 2,000-gallon bituminous distributor, for $11,670, a street sweeper for $12,640, a material spreading unit for $1,996 and 4 dump boxes for $4,390.

Cash outlay for the new equipment totaled $101,122, Evans said. He added $225,000 was spent on materials.

County Children's Home Face-Lifting Underway

Ingham county now has a building which will be used for neglected children. Located at 600 Leshar Place in Lansing, the home will be able to house up to 20 children.

Leased to the county by the city of Lansing, the home is presently undergoing a face-lifting. Scheduled to be ready for occupancy in July, the building needs to be painted, cleaned and renovated in general.

Work started in earnest on this project under the guidance of Muri Eastman of Mason, who has contracted to repair and re-decorate the facility.

Saturday a work party of 60 high school and college students rolled up their sleeves and began to work. The young people scraped paint and plaster in addition to cleaning up portions of the grounds.

To help the county get the home ready for youngsters several businessmen aided with the clean up project by donating materials. Those contributing were Kerr Hardware and Garden center, Jewett Funeral home, Bob Jones Paints, Thorburn Lumber company and Painters Supply.

Michigan Has Laws to Control Registration of Pesticides

Michigan laws provide a completely adequate mechanism to control registrations of pesticides, including DDT and dieldrin, B. Dale Ball, director of the Michigan Department of Agriculture, announced this week.

His statement was made in response to suggestions that legislative action be taken to ban DDT and dieldrin, following seizure of frozen coho salmon by the Federal Food and Drug Administration, FDA said the salmon, taken from Michigan waters, contained DDT levels above the safety limits for foods.

"All we need as a basis for initiation of regulatory action are definite recommendations from the U.S. Department of Agriculture," Ball said. In a telegram to U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin, Director Ball requested immediate review of all federal registrations of DDT and dieldrin.

The request was made, he said, in view of indications last week from FDA that new scientific data has come to light.

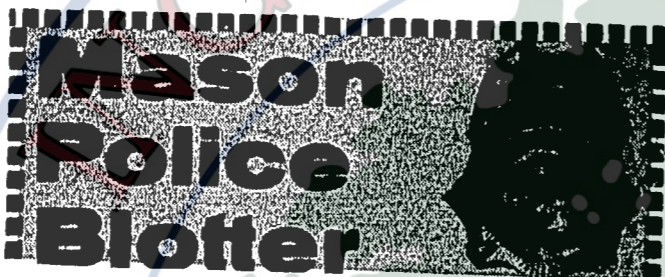

The federal registration review would involve evaluation of the latest scientific findings on pesticide residues by the USDA, Department of Health, Education and Welfare of which FDA is a division, and the U.S. Interior Department's Fish and Wildlife Service.

Ball pointed out that the Michigan Department of Agriculture, responsible for enforcement of pesticide registrations in Michigan, relies by law upon recommendations of USDA and the Michigan State university experiment station. He added that USDA has the power to deny registration of any pesticide moving in interstate commerce, if warranted by scientific data.

"We don't need legislation - what we need are definite recommendations as specified in Michigan law," Ball said. "We are fully equipped to do the job under existing laws."

He emphasized that agricultural recommendations for Michigan have almost completely eliminated DDT, and that no DDT has been used by the Michigan Department of Agriculture since 1962.

April 12 - Terry Vanger, 113 W. Sycamore street, reported a rear view mirror was taken off his car while it was parked in the alley behind the old bakery site on Maple street. The mirror was valued at $5.

April 12 - Richard Wilson, 316 E. South street, that 4 car wheels and 2 tires were taken from his garage. He valued them at $220.

April 9 - Police received a complaint from the Michigan State Highway department that someone cut down a tree 14 feet tall along highway US-127 between Kipp road and South street.

Bernard Patton To Quit Board

Bernard Patton, long time member of the Holt Board of Education, has announced he will not seek reelection in June, and 4 persons have taken out petitions to fill the vacancy, according to Dr. Maurice Pernert, superintendent of schools.

A leader of the board, Patton served as trustee in 1958-59 and as president of the board from 1959 to 1967. The last 2 years he has served as trustee.

"His experience and training in engineering and as a keen student of education dramatically aided this school district in its building projects," Dr. Pernert said.

A student of Holt high school and a graduate of Michigan State university Patton and his wife, Marjorie, have 6 children, Mike, 21; Kathy, 18; Colleen, 16; Molly, 14; Kevin 7 and Christopher, 15 months.

Four persons, Dr. Edward Jennings, Charles Stephenson, Mrs. Lyle (Velma) Herrington and Alvin Kaiser have taken out petitions for the position, according to Pernert.

Only Dr. Jennings has returned his to date, however, Pernert said.

In order to be eligible for the 4-year term a candidate must be a United States citizen, be older than 21, reside in Michigan for 6 months, reside in the school district 30 days, prior to the election, own property which is assessed for taxes and must submit a petition with the signatures of 38 registered voters in the school district.

Evangelist in Lansing

LANSING - Ingham county residents attending the Capitol campaign will hear Mel Dibble preach, his mother teach women's Bible studies and Murray and Jerri Turner sing at Lansing's Everett high school each night at 7:30 beginning April 20.

Dibble, a former Cincinnati television personality, was once on various programs including "Breakfast Party," "Hi-Life Hilarities," and "Straw Hat Matinee." He also had his own program "The Mel Martin Show."

Dibble's mother, Mrs. George Dibble, served as an associate of the Billy Graham team in its New York crusade. She now accompanies the Dibble team on all of its engagements, meeting with women in prayer services, Bible studies, and discussion groups. She will meet each morning during the campaign with Lansing area women.

Hot dog! The Dog 'n Suds is open at last. I watched yesterday as proprietors Richard Van Sickle and Ralph Lutz gathered their young charges for the grand opening and braced themselves for the rush of hungry Masonians. (or is it Masonites?)

As the floodgates opened and people ordered the foaming root beer and food, at the head of the line were Gary and Linda Blood, along with their little son, Brett. They will go down in history as the official first customers of the Dog 'n Suds in Mason.

After fifteen years as a Chevy dealer, Don Fray finally has made it. Yep. They gave him a clock for his efforts. Chevrolet presented Don with the fancy timepiece recently, which reads the time in numbers; Hours, minutes and seconds appear as they would on your car's odometer. Don says he can hardly wait till he reaches his next milestone. Twenty five years service. The suspense of wondering what present he'll get is just too much to bear.

A new concept in auto tune-up service is soon to be introduced in Ingham County. A new county firm called Auto Masters, Inc., plans to service vehicles right at the owner's home or place of business.

Manager of the firm will be Roy Kirkpatrick, with a branch office at 2417 Fielding drive, Lansing. Auto-Masters, Inc. works on the principal that car owners do not want to wait for their auto to be serviced at a dealership or garage when the work can be done at a time the car is not in use.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Higelmire

Lansing Couple Make 2 TV Appearances

Wallace Higelmire now of Lansing but a former resident of Holt and his wife, Lucille, have just completed 2 television appearances on Channel 10 and Channel 12. Both are musicians. Higelmire specializes in bringing music out of a saw and Mrs. Higelmire is a pianist. Higelmire also plays the dulcimer, zither, pianophone, Hawaiian tiple, the banjo nout organ, bones and also does some comedy work. Higelmire has been playing at various churches in the Lansing area for many years. His first wife, Eva, before her death in 1959 was well known in musical circles. His second wife, Lucille also is an accomplished pianist.

In the past 15 years Higelmire has played in rescue missions in Lansing and Chicago and in numerous talent shows in this area.

He and his first wife were known as the Higelmire Antique Musicians and played many old time instruments, some of which are now in the Michigan State university museum, Higelmire says.

Higelmire was born and raised 12 miles west of Mason at Columbia road and M-99. He worked for Reo Motors for 25 years and is now retired. He and his wife, reside at 139 1/2 Isbell street in Lansing. His parents, Andrew Higelmire and Minnie North Higelmire lived in the Holt area all their lives.

Higelmire now confines his musical efforts to the musical saw. He first saw this type of instrument 20 years ago and is now using a saw he purchased 15 years ago at a music store in Lansing.

Gary Blood brings his little family, Linda and Brett to Mason's new Dog 'n Suds restaurant which opened Tuesday evening. They were officially the first customers of the new drive in and were served by Lorraine Baker.

Delhi to Comply with State Order to Stop Polluting River

Delhi township officials finally agreed to comply with the state order to stop polluting the Grand River in a private meeting with Water Resources Commission representatives last week.

Originally at a public hearing conducted by the commission 4 weeks ago Delhi denied the charge it was polluting. Supervisor Joe Kiersey also explained the township simply does not have the $100,000 - $300,000 needed to remove the required 80 per cent of the phosphates from its sewage wastes.

Commission officials refused to accept the denial, however, and recessed Delhi's appearance in order to have more time to work out a solution.

John Vogt, director of public health pointed out the legislature responded to the will of the people and 290 other communities throughout the state are being treated in identical fashion.

At the meeting last week commission officials agreed to a later schedule for the construction of new treatment facilities.

The state-set deadline of September 1, 1969 for the preliminary surveying was delayed until January 1, 1970. The September 1, 1970 date for plans was delayed until January 1, 1971 and the June 1, 1971 date for starting construction was delayed until March 1, 1972.

"The December 1, 1972 date set by law for completion was left open," Kiersey explained.

He added, "The reason why I want such a long period of time is because the longer we wait in a growing community such as Delhi the larger the revenues from the sewer district will be."

He indicated he hoped the work could be done with only a small increase in fees to the sewer used or possibly none at all.

"If we agree to the order at this time and make application now or as soon as the preliminary engineering is done we will be the first in line for money when the state legislature passes the state clean water pollution bond bill," Kiersey concluded.

Job Opportunities Await This Year June Graduates

Salaries and job opportunities continue to rise for this year's June graduate, reports John Shingleton, director of the Michigan State University Placement Bureau.

The demand for accountants has been rising most rapidly, he said.

Technical majors are still very much in demand, Shingleton noted, and although defense and space firms have recently cut back in hiring, the overall demand still exceeds the supply.

Budget cuts in these areas have had a greater effect on the job picture for Ph.D.s, he said. The salaries of most Ph.D.s will increase about 2 percent this year, compared with 6 percent for bachelor's and master's degree winners.

Shingleton said that many firms are making an extra effort to recruit and train black graduates. They often find that few Negroes will interview during the regular recruiting visit, he said.

Blacks don't really believe that opportunities exist for them in industry, he said, and they traditionally go into education or government.

But Shingleton pointed out that those firms that are making an effort to send black recruiters and to attend special requirement days for black seniors find the effort pays dividends in qualified personnel.

The shortage of manpower in many fields has prompted business to continue to hire more women graduates, according to Shingleton. For example, businesses now welcome women auditors, he said, contrary to the entrenched prejudices of a few years ago.

"If women had the same career flexibility and continuity as men, there probably wouldn't be any problem for job-seeking girls at all."

"Besides good salaries, business must often promise creative, responsible jobs to today's college graduates," Shingleton said. "Today's students are much more career-conscious than their predecessors."

These students have a much higher expectation of their first job. They know they can find work, Shingleton explained, and feel perfectly free to hold out for the best offer.

Some of the salaries being offered June graduates are: accounting, $785 a month for a bachelor's and $862 for a master's; engineering, $820 for a bachelor's and $933 for a master's; and computer science, $817 for a bachelor's.

In the liberal arts areas, psychology majors are being offered about $620; social science, $615; history, $520; and English, $575.

WJIM-TV Country House Extension Group Visits

DANSVILLE - Several members of the Dansville Ingham County Extension toured WJIM-TV, Channel 6's Country House Tuesday and were guests at the Martha Dixon show. A tour of Gaegley Laboratories was conducted in the afternoon.

Mrs. Harriet Gier, assistant on the Martha Dixon show explained to the women how the show is produced and broadcast. The control room was explained and the news broadcasting studio was toured. The women saw how WJIM radio conducts its broadcasts from the Country House.

Attending the tour were Mrs. Loren Stid, Mrs. Russell Frisell, Mrs. Ralph Supiran, Mrs. Wm. Niswonger, Jr., Mrs. Allen Quillin, Mrs. Vance Mead, Mrs. Stanley Cornwell, Mrs. Robert Ferrier, Mrs. Victor Bodemar, Mrs. Lewis Freer, Miss Lynn Freer, Mrs. Wayne Kinne all of Dansville and Mrs. James Hinshaw and Mrs. Harold Kemler of Mason.

Gaegley Laboratories, built in 1957 at Michigan State university, test almost anything a consumer uses from food products to poisons to pesticides on seeds. Various tests were in operation the day of the tour which the Extension members were able to observe. Milk was being tested for water and fat content, noodles were tested for egg content, sausage was being tested for content and a new product, frozen, diced hard-boiled eggs was being tested before being put on the market.

Leslie Woman Visits GI Husband in Hawaii

BUNKER HILL - Mrs. Henry H. Castle has just returned from Oahu, Hawaii where she met her husband Sgt. Castle on his rest and recreation trip from Vietnam.

Mrs. Castle says her trip is a composite of the bluest water and sky, the greenest of grass and the most colorful of flowers that one could even imagine.

Things looked pretty serene and brown here by comparison, says Mrs. Castle. Flying from Lansing to Chicago, to Los Angeles and thence to Honolulu and coming back by plane to Los Angeles, to Muskegon, to Lansing, is all part of the dream that made up her meeting with Sgt. Castle in their R and R rendezvous. One never to be forgotten.

Okemos Brothers Win Ski Competition Honors

OKEMOS - Bob and Tom Vandervoort, brothers, took top honors last month at the central division, United States Ski association competition at Lutsen, Minnesota.

Bob, 18, participated in the open Class B races and won a first-place gold medal in the giant slalom. He also placed 4th in the downhill competition.

Tom, 11, competed in the Class D races which are limited to those under 12 years old. He was awarded the gold medal for first place in the slalom races and also took a third place bronze medal in the giant slalom.

They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Vandervoort, 2331 Shawnee Trail.

Mitchell Resigns School Board Post

LESLIE - Norman Mitchell who has served 3 years as a member of the Leslie school board, this week announced his resignation. Press of other business has made it impossible for him to continue as a board member, he said in announcing his resignation.

In other action, the board: Continued plans for getting a long term lease on property at the athletic field where a pool could be located for public use.

Designated Don Saykor, president of the board, as the voting representative from the school district for the June 2 election for the 2 positions to be filled on the Ingham Intermediate district board of education. William Craddock was named as alternate.

Adopted a resolution setting the annual school election on Monday, June 9.

Advised candidates submitting petitions for 2 board positions that the deadline is May 12 at 4 p.m.

Most of School Buses Given State Police OK

Almost 65 percent of Michigan's 9,000 public school buses received state police approval on first inspection in the annual safety program just completed, the department's safety and traffic division report shows.

This percentage represented 5,809 vehicles having no apparent deficiencies.

Additional checking of the 3,200 other vehicles resulted in a total of 12,037 individual bus inspections made by State Police officers in the three-month period. Inspection follow-up on vehicle corrections needed will be done by Department of Education personnel.

The report noted that deficiencies free buses were found in 95, or about one fifth, of Michigan's 534 public school districts.

Most frequently found deficiencies were inoperative windshield washers and wipers, lights, exhaust systems and parking brakes. Other inspection items included glass area, horn, steering gear, tires, mirrors, reflectors, fuel tanks, defrosters, service and emergency doors, fire extinguisher, flares, bus color and markings, bumpers, body condition, heater, first aid kit, steps and seats.

Pittenger in Hospital

State Representative Philip O. Pittenger (R-Lansing) has been admitted to Lansing's Ingham Medical Hospital for observation and tests on a leg infection. Representative Pittenger said the infection was the result of a bump he received on his right leg while entering his car last week. The leg is the same one he had severely injured when struck by a car in 1949.

"The most recent injury apparently caused the leg to become infected and while doctors have been treating it vigorously for 4 days now it seems to be getting worse," Pittenger said. "Tests will be run to determine the exact cause of the infection."

Onondaga Happenings

ONONDAGA -- The Onondaga Hall was especially decorated and great plans preceded the dance given Saturday by the Onondaga Community-Farmers 4-H Club as it presented its first dance. The music was provided by a band from Eaton Rapids made up mostly by teen-agers. Each club member helped provide brownies, cup cakes, cookies, and various articles to sell. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Todd headed the list of chaperones.

Mrs. Augusta Davis, worthy matron of the Eastern Star is the general chairman for the turkey dinner hosted for at least the past 15 years as the only money-making project of the group. It will be on April 18 from 5 until 8 p.m. A regular country dinner will be served by the ladies and a most sumptuous spread is the rule for these feasts say those who have attended in past years.

Classes at the Onondaga branch of the Leslie school were dismissed at noon on Wednesday, April 16. Parent-teacher conferences were conducted in the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Merton Baldwin have returned from Barrytown where they stayed with their daughter, Mrs. Dale Nowlin, while her husband was still in the Mt. Pleasant hospital.

Busy Week at Camp Highfields

ONONDAGA - Camp Highfields has had a busy week. Members of the camp went to the Youth Talent and Science Fair in the Lansing Civic Center. The camp had two entries and two placements. Quinten Colby mounted several animal skeletons and entered them in the biological sciences, junior class and placed third. He has had no formal training in this field but has shown great ability in it. James Futrell was given honorable mention in creative writing.

There was great excitement with the opening of the new cabin at the camp Monday, April 7. Twelve boys already at the camp were voted to go to the new cabin. In this way the new cabin became a goal and the democratic process of voting who should be in it was carried out. The six new boys received at the Camp will be housed in the main building. With the bringing in of six new boys and the opening of the cabin another night supervisor was added. He is Tom Wallace, a student in the graduate section of Michigan State University.

The boys are practicing soft-ball since they will enter two teams in the YMCA league.

Richard Sonandres, a graduate student at Michigan State University and the camp recreation therapist has arranged a sports clinic to be held both at the camp and at the Veterans of Foreign Wars Home on April 17.

Sonandres will also continue to have football and basketball heroes come out to the camp to talk to the boys. Coming from Michigan State will be Lee Lafayette, a basketball great and Jerry West and Charley Bailey of football fame.

The camp is continuing its Wednesday evenings of art lessons, guitar lessons, automobile mechanics and many presented by members of the MSU graduate school. Refreshments were served. Most of the girls came from Mason and Leslie.

The dance at the Camp Friday, April 11, had a near capacity crowd. Music and entertainment were supplied by Tom Hester's band, Joe Grifka, Tom Wallace and a friend supplied other entertainment. The dance was held in the dining room with nearly 100 in attendance. These included chaperones mostly from the men and their wives in the graduate section of MSU. Refreshments of cakes, cokes, punch, tea and coffee were served. Most of the girls came from Mason and Leslie.

There is some trouble mechanically with the bus which is used constantly. All of the ingenuity of the boys and their instructors as well as some outside talent has been pressed into service.

Dansville Hires Police Officer

Dansville village council has hired a police officer, Leslie Ried, on a one month trial basis. The action was announced at the Monday night meeting of the council and it is hoped that it will ease the problem of speeding within the village limits.

At the meeting in the town hall, Leland Perrine, council president, appointed Dart Stone as chairman of the cemetery committee. Councilman Patrick Risner and Jack Cook will serve with him.

Don Gailey, was appointed chairman of the street committee. Councilman Howard Merindorf and Vincent Carlen were appointed to the committee.

Chief Mel Battige of Ingham township fire department appeared before the council to discuss the possibility of an ambulance service, conducted by the fire department. No action was taken.

Letter to Editor

Legislator Outlines Parochial Position

The subject of state financial aid to non-public schools is becoming of paramount interest both in the state legislature and throughout Michigan. As your state representative, I believe it is in the public interest to express myself on this subject and to set forth some of the reasons why I cannot support such legislation.

First of all, I want to make it clear that I appreciate the benefits offered by many non-public schools. My son attends a non-public school which should attest to my regard for such a private school's special qualities. And it is for this very high regard that I will resist any further financial aid to non-public schools. We all know the strings that are always attached to public funds be they federal or state. Should non-public schools receive state aid in any large amounts, they will soon find themselves snarled in state red tape which most certainly will affect enrollment ratios, discipline, expulsion standards, religious decor, class size and content. Very quickly, the non-public schools we would pretend to save from extinction, would become public schools through default.

I have made a thorough study of the state constitution and can find no mention made of private or non-public schools. The constitution does make these 2 positions quite clear: Article I, Section 4. . . No person shall be compelled to attend, or against his consent, to contribute to the erection or support of any place of religious worship, or to pay tithes, taxes or other rates for the support of any minister of the gospel or teacher of religion. No money shall be appropriated or drawn from the treasury for the benefit of any religious sect or society. . . nor shall property belonging to the state be appropriated for any such purpose. The civil and political rights, privileges and capacities of no person shall be diminished or enlarged on account of his religious beliefs.

And in Article VIII, Section 2, it says: The legislature shall maintain and support a system of free public elementary and secondary schools as defined by law. Every school district shall provide for the education of its pupils without discrimination as to religion, creed, race, color or national origin.

Through the ages, non-public schools have carried the heavy burden of formal secular education. After all, the idea and reality of a free public education is relatively a new one. We should all be thankful that church oriented schools did carry the lamp of knowledge through to the present time. Now, however, no one can seriously contend that our public schools are incapable of shouldering the entire burden of secular education. I would hope that those religious orders who have in the past shouldered the responsibility of secular education would in time be happy to be relieved of the duty and thus be able to better concentrate on religious training.

Good legislation should be able to pass the test of time. We must remember that the definition of non-public schools most certainly encompasses more than the obvious wholesome parochial schools. In the future the term might well encompass schools with ideologies which none of us would want to support.

Finally, because the State of Michigan is required by the constitution to provide a system of free public education, I believe we can best do this by spending public money on one school system rather than on several. The concern must be for the children and not for the survival of any particular non-public school system.

I am anxious to hear from anyone in the 59th legislative district who might have views on this issue. I hope we can all look upon this emotional matter with a judicial eye and without bias or discrimination.

Woodworking Explained

The April meeting of the Aurelius 4-H club was, presented by the woodworking and electronic groups. Sixty four members and parents were on hand to see some of the items made by the members and hear an explanation of tools and how they are used.

There was also a talk about the history of Aurelius, illustrated with items that were made and used by the community's early settlers.

Understanding Today's Youth

By Richard W. Brown 4H Youth Agent

One question I hear often as I visit with 4-H leaders and other youth workers is, "How can we keep our teenagers in the program?" This is not a local concern but a concern that reaches all parts of this nation. I think it's an excellent first step that people recognize that teenagers are dropping out of youth programs, not only 4H, but all others as well.

What can we do about it? First, I think, we must recognize that our present programs are not meeting the needs and interests of most older youth. You might say that, "We're not doing anything different from what we did 25 years ago, so why are we losing the teenager?" That's precisely the point. Young people have changed as the whole world has changed, but many of our programs are still of World War II vintage.

Young people today want to be involved in decision-making, and they don't want parents and adults to make all the decisions for them. I'm convinced that in many 4-H clubs, leaders make most of the decisions for the member. We should not be doing anything for these kids that they can do for themselves! Certainly we need to give them guidance but we don't need to predetermine every step they take.

Youth want to be heard, they want to be listened to. Do we really listen when they talk? One of the most frustrating experiences any person can have, whether young or old, is to talk and not be heard. I mean really heard and understood.

In 4-H, members need to feel that the club is theirs. They can only develop that feeling if we give them some responsibility and then let them do it. Most young people desperately want responsibility and authority and all too often, perhaps for selfish reasons, we are afraid to let them have it.

If you're a 4-H leader, or a parent working with young people, who plans your club program? Who conducts your club meetings? Who makes the decisions?

Centennial Farm Marker Given to Mary Shopbell

A farm owned by Mary Bateman Shopbell of 1179 S. Onondaga road, Eaton Rapids, Michigan has been designated as a Centennial Farm by the Michigan Historical Commission.

The farm, located in Aurelius township, Ingham county, has been in the possession of the family since 1869. It was originally purchased March 13, 1869 by Dudley N. Bateman, father of the present owner, from John Simpson.

According to Secretary of State James M. Hare, whose department directs the activities of the Historical Commission, the Centennial Farm program in Michigan was established in 1948. Since the time, certificates and metal markers have been awarded to more than 2,500 Michigan farms.

According to Hare, a Centennial Farm is one which has been in the continuous possession of the same family for 100 years or more. For this purpose, the Historical commission considers a farm to be 10 or more acres having estimated sales of more than $50 yearly, or less than 10 acres but having estimated sales of $250 annually.

Persons owning farms who wish to apply for Centennial Farm certificates are asked to write for an application to Centennial Farm certificates are asked to write for an application to Centennial Farm Program, Michigan Historical Commission, Department of State, Lansing, Michigan 48918.

Starter Fertilizers

Starter fertilizers not only add nutrients to the soil, but they can also give an extra boost to weed control by affecting pre-emergence herbicide action.

Donald Penner, a Michigan State university crop scientist, has found that some combinations of nutrients and weed control chemicals can delay or prevent seed germination.

According to Penner, certain chemicals in many starter fertilizer mixes can make plants either more or less sensitive to herbicides.

For example, he found that atrazine, amiben, propachlor, dicholobenil and trifluralin slowed the production of phytase, a plant enzyme required for release of certain nutrients from seeds during germination. Inhibition was even greater when potassium phosphate was added.

Register of Deeds Reports Increases

Receipts received by the Ingham County Register of Deeds Office in the first 3 months of 1969 totaled $59,453.89, an increase of $4,802.44 over the same period last year, according to Mia Bell Humphrey, Ingham county register of deeds.

She added financing statements also showed an increase of 242 over the same period last year. Figures for 1968 totaled 10,205.75 and those for 1969 totaled $10,447.74.

Receipts for the first 3 months in 1968 including transfer tax were as follows: January-$15,462.53, February-$17,765.57 and March-$21,423.05. Those for 1969 were January-$21,661.88, February $17,751.71 and March $20,040.30.

$3,475,000 Bond Issue Before Haslett Voters

HASLETT - A $3,475,000 bond issue goes before Haslett school district voters April 28.

Bond issue funds are proposed for the constructing and furnishing of a new senior high school and swimming pool; remodeling the present senior high school for a new junior high; developing a new high school athletic field and the sites around the two schools; and razing the present junior high.

The bond issue would raise school taxes a maximum of 3.1 mills. Superintendent Richard Escott said the figure could be lower depending on the district's property valuation, number of students, and interest on the bonds.

Residents in the school district now pay 20.75 mills for school operation, 8.176 mills for debts and 9.197 county allocated mills for operation. Residents pay a total of 38.123 mills.

The construction program is slated to be completed in 2 1/2 years. Senior and junior high students could be in their new buildings at the start of the school year in 1971.

The construction plans for the building have been approved by the Haslett School Board.

The site of the new high school will be on a 130 acre plot located to the southwest of the present high school.

Fertilizer Efficiency Demands Good Management

Fertilized plants are more efficient, but indiscreet applications of fertilizer is neither good economics nor good soil management, cautions a Michigan State university soil scientist.

John C. Shieklna says Michigan corn yields have nearly doubled since 1950. And the keys to this increase are improved varieties and better soil management practices, particularly knowledgeable selection and application of fertilizers.

"But haphazard selection and application of fertilizer may lead to unbalanced fertility conditions that promote the uptake of excessive amounts of some elements and too little of others equally important for plant growth," Shieklna claims.

"The safest way to avoid such nutrient deficiencies is to have the soil tested and select fertilizers and other soil management measures on the basis of these soil tests."

Army Private David A. Johnson, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry O. Johnson, 750 Dart road, Mason, completed a field communications crewman course March 7 at Ft. Leonard Wood, Missouri.

During the 8-week course, he was trained to string wire from the field to the communications center. Instruction was also given in basic electricity, switchboard installation and operation and pole climbing.

Dansville Students Observe FHA Week

By SUSIE NOTTINGHAM
Dansville High School

"We are the Future Homemakers of America, We face the future with warm courage and high hopes." These are the first lines of the Future Homemakers of America's creed, which were spoken and in the thoughts of many as FHA Week began last Sunday in Dansville.

The week began with several members of the Dansville Chapter attending church. Each year the girls attend, as a club, a different church in the community. This year the girls attended the Church of the Nazarene in Mason.

Monday was proclaimed "Red and White" day since these are the national colors of the organization. All students of Dansville wore their brightest reds! Tuesday was "Dress-Up Day," and heels, suits and ties, and "less-casual" clothes were the order of the day.

Today, Wednesday, is the day of a "little bit of heaven" for the high school faculty. Students are teaching classes, and teachers are "getting revenge" by talking in class, passing notes, and asking seemingly "unanswerable" questions. After school, all teachers will report to the home economics room for a "Teacher's Tea," where they will be treated like "royalty" by the FHA officers.

Thursday is "All-round Girl and Boy Day." The candidates for All-round girl and boy were suggested by members of the student body and faculty members for their over-all activities and personalities. From the candidates, the All-round Girl and Boy for 1969-70 will be chosen by a vote of the entire student body.

Those running for All-round girl are Ann Clery, Louise Woods, Susie Regis and Susie Nottingham. Accompanying them for All-round Boy are Chuck Carlen, Randy Frost, Darrell Braman, and Chuck Smith. On Friday the winning All-round Girl and Boy will be announced to end the week with "a bang."

Not only will the All-Round Girl and Boy be announced, but also the school clown will be announced. The nominees for the school clowns are Charlie Galbreath, senior; Dan Lipstrow, junior; Jeff Francis, sophomore; Clata Hicks, freshman; Dale Arnett, eighth grade, and Rusty Carpenter, seventh grade.

The school clowns will be voted on by the student body by "money votes." Each nominee will have a container on the study hall desk, and for each cent placed in the container, that clown will receive one vote. Therefore, the one with the most "money votes" will be elected school clown.

Dansville will be represented to a five-day seminar at Central Michigan University this summer. David Sheathelm, a junior at Dansville, will attend the Young People's Citizenship Seminar July 21-5.

The meeting will place emphasis on four main areas: "The American Way of Life," people and governments around the world, the main "keys" in the American Private Enterprise System, and our American two-party political system function as the basis for our American system of government, society and enterprise.

The seminar is sponsored by Michigan Farm Bureau to help make students better citizens—somewhat better informed and more aware of their duties and responsibilities as good citizens.

To attend a student must be interested in the subject matter, capable of learning and discussing with leadership potential, a top-level student, with the ability to speak to groups of people after the conference, and recommended by various members of the faculty.

The alternate to the Seminar, in case Dave is unable to attend, is Mary Ellen Clery, and member of the sophomore class.

"And if elected..." the words rang out last week as the Future Homemakers of America of Dansville heard speeches, wore badges, saw posters and skits promoting candidates for next year's officers for the club.

Leading the chapter "Toward New Horizons," the national motto, will be Mary Ellen Clery as president. Serving as her "right hand man" will be Libby Carlen as vice-president.

Helping these girls will be Sandy Brooks, secretary; Sue Rae, treasurer; Chris Clickner, reporter; Lori Mick, historian; Deloris Williams, song leader; Terri Smalley, pianist; and Marilyn Kemler, student council representative.

Keep an eye out for these "sharp shooters" next year. They will be initiated as officers at formal initiation on May 1.

Last week was registration week for all eighth through eleventh graders. Both the seventh grade, who have only mandatory classes, and the Senior Class, who are "bustin' out," did not go through the questions, mix-ups, filling out of cards, decisions of what classes to take, and the squeezing in of nine hours into an eight-hour day. These class registrations are for schedule purposes next year, but may be changed, if a "fickle" student changes his mind.

Seniors are showing signs of "their last days" as they pay debts for graduation invitations, and rental for caps and gowns. This year the seniors decided on light blue gowns for the girls and navy blue gowns for the boys. Each senior with a 3.0 or better, is also buying or renting a golden "honor cord" to wear with the gown. All seniors are eagerly, yet also regretfully, awaiting the strains of "Pomp and Circumstance" to fill the gymnasium.

Noted Folk Singers Concert Set at SHS

Stockbridge High School
By FAYE CAMP

The day set for the Merrie Motor company to perform at Stockbridge is April 30. The girls Glee club will sponsor the group. One of the members is a fifth grade teacher at Smith elementary school.

Michael Fitro, the teacher, his sister, Cindy, and brother Gary, and Dan with a friend, Peter Fullenwider join together to produce a great sound. A record sold all across Michigan, is "Walkin' Down This Road," sung by the MM company.

Not only does the group offer talent, but the dynamic 5 performers represent a new sound. They use the refreshing works of folk writers such as Buffy St. Marie, Bob Gibson, Gordon Lightfoot, Mike Settle, plus a host of others.

Added to this are vast songs composed by themselves. The Merrie Motor company has toured with such great groups as The Lemon Pipers, The Royal Guardsman, The Cryan' Shames, and The First Edition. They have performed at many colleges, at parties and receptions.

Manager Steve Perpich of Lansing said that the aim of the group is to perform live and make each performance sound as good as the recording.

Miss Stephens of the Stockbridge Girls Glee Club, said that this is an excellent chance for the Glee Club and the Exuberating Merrie Motor Company to gain recognition in Stockbridge. Circle the date, April 30, on your calendar and don't forget to come to the concert of the Merrie Motor Company.

This Saturday the Girls Glee Club will travel to Jackson high school in Jackson to take part in the annual vocal festival. The number selected by the girls to sing is "Born to be Free" and the required number is "To Spring." Accompanists will be Sally White and Kay Baldwin.

Last year the girls received a II division rating. There is also a sight-reading performance besides the concert performance. The sightreading challenged the girls to clapping out various rhythms. It also usually requires the girls to sing a choral arrangement.

Last Friday the junior high students gathered in the new gym for the second junior high dance. The record dance was well attended.

The junior class steering committee is meeting to decide on the theme for this year's prom. The date is scheduled for May 16. As soon as the theme has been decided, students will begin the long task of decorating the gymnasium, selecting a band, and organizing the various committees.

A list of eligible students to run for student council president will soon be posted on the office window. The requirements for the job include that the person must be a junior and must have had experience either as a class officer or student council representative.

Last year the contest was between Don Hannewald, and Bruce Barbour. The entire student body voted for his choice, and Don came out on top. In the past, the elections have been extremely close, and this year should be a challenge also.

The student council representatives will vote on 2 candidates after they have conversed with students in their classes. After the candidates have been selected, they will have a week to campaign. Then the student body will meet to hear campaign speeches and then vote.

March Traffic Deaths 169

Michigan had 169 traffic deaths in March, four more than the toll in the same month a year ago, State Police provisional figures showed.

The March toll also was 13 more than the month's average of 155 for the five years 1964-68. Record high for March was 179 in 1966.

Mason High Becomes Fun House For Both Kids and Teachers

By BECKY BABCOCK
Mason High School

Fun and games, that's what went on Friday night! The Pep club sponsored a Fun Night for all high school students in the school gym, cafeteria and swimming pool. This gave the students a chance to come to school and relax for a while.

Basketball, ping-pong, volleyball, badminton, swimming and card playing were some activities which the students could choose from.

Refreshments, sloppy-joes, potato chips, punch and ice cream. Even the teachers got into the fun by "helping" the students in a fun game of volleyball, or a "thrilling" basketball game.

This past week was the first week for spring sports. It looks as though the Bulldogs are going to be a mighty "tuff" school to beat.

The varsity baseball team defeated O'Rafferty. Dave Sadler did a mighty fine job of pitching. At the track meet, held at Waverly, Mason came in second with 40 1/2 points, behind Waverly who had 79 points. Holt, came in third with 32 1/2 points.

On the Cascade golf course at Jackson, Mason was defeated by Louman Christie, 167 to 175. Chuck ("Birdman") Berg of Mason, had the lowest score of 40.

The SLAAM club will be traveling to Ann Arbor, Monday, April 21, for a library conference for all student librarians. Since this is a state organization, there will be some 800 kids; however, only 25 to 30 of these will be from Mason. Mrs. Margie Snook will be the only

Cinderella Ball Plans are Well Underway at LHS

By SALLY HAYHOE
Leslie High School

Students were busy with spring activities this past week after returning from spring vacation.

One of these activities is the Senior play which will be held on May 1 and 2. The seniors will be producing the play "Cheaper by the Dozen." The cast has already been chosen and has started working.

The juniors are also busy with last minute arrangements for the prom which will be held on April 26. The theme this year is "Cinderella Ball."

Something new is being tried this year. Instead of holding the prom in the high school gym the Lansing room of the Jack Tar in Lansing has been rented for the occasion. A banquet is also going to be held before the dance. For entertainment afterwards students will be able to bowl at the Airport Lanes in Jackson.

Spring season sports began this week with a victory by the varsity baseball team over Perry, 2-0. The team also played against Fowlerville. This game ended in a 5-5 tie.

Two Leslie boys were honored recently. Lee Gilman, a senior, received a I rating in state competition at the state vocal solo and ensemble festival. He sang "Desert Song" and "Eternal Life." Lee is the first Leslie student to ever receive this honor.

Bill Gingas, a junior, has been selected to attend Boys State. This event will be held at Michigan State university from June 11 to the 18.

BEHIND THE COUNTER

House Calls by Basil Chesley

Every once in a while, we hear complaints about a doctor's reluctance to make a house call, and this is often condemned as poor medical practice. We asked one of our medical colleagues about this, recently, and it seems there's been a lot of misunderstanding about all this.

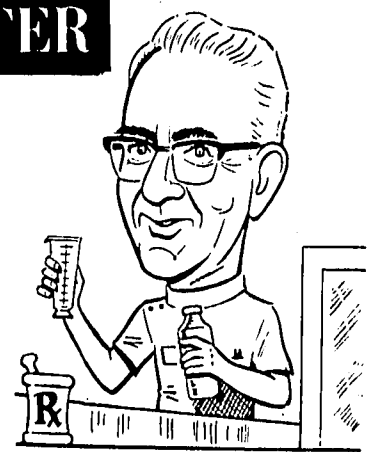

First of all, doctors do make fewer house calls than in the past, and they do ask that more patients be brought to the office or hospital. One important reason is that medicine is no longer practiced out of a little black bag.

Your doctor has quicker, more efficient and more complete laboratory tests and aids than were once available. These are more important than just treating the symptoms of an illness - giving an antibiotic just because a child's throat is red.

In other words, the patient receives more scientific, accurate and complete service in the office than in the home.

The reason you really phone a doctor is to seek his advice as to the best thing to do. You may not be an expert at making a diagnosis, but as you describe the symptoms the doctor can decide whether the patient should be brought to the office, be taken to a hospital, or remain at home. If you trust your doctor, you'll leave the decision up to him. If you don't trust your doctor, you should be looking for another family physician.
