WALTER A. GRAFF

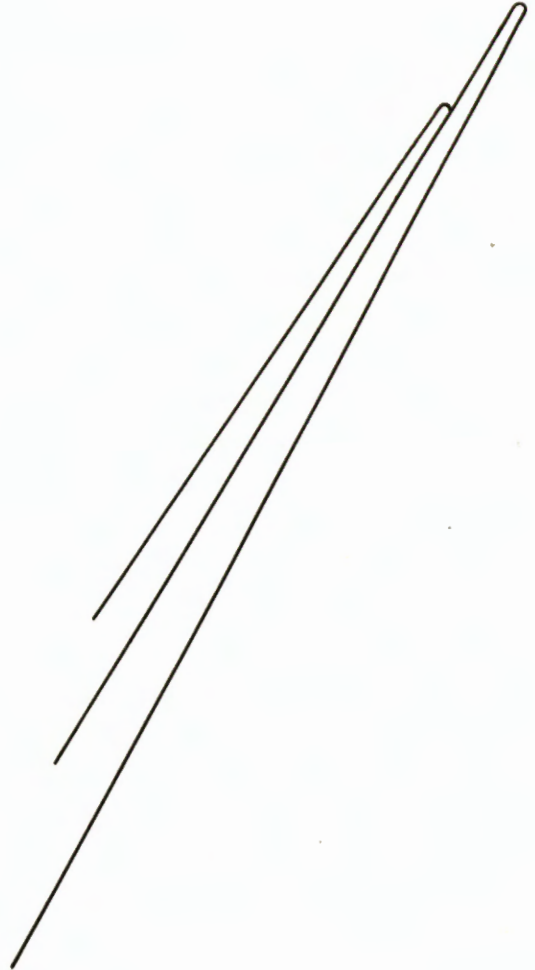

DEDICATION

To Coach Walter A. Graff, who has set high standards for Quaker Athletes and inspired them to many victories, the Seniors dedicate their 1933 yearbook.

EASTERN HIGH SCHOOL GYMNASIUM

Eastern High School Gymnasium, the scene of many contests, is one of the finest equipped athletic centers in the state.

FOREWORD

The Century of Progress International Exposition furnished the Seniors a timely theme for their 1933 Lantern. The World's Fair is designed to tell the complete story of the progress made throughout the world in all phases of life. The Lantern illustrates the progress made in Eastern during the past year in all the activities of school life.

SENIOR A CLASS ACTIVITIES

When this class entered Eastern as sophomores, the friendly spirit of high school life was extended to them through an invitation from the Hi-Y and Girl Reserves to attend a Central-Eastern mixer in the gym of the Y. W. C. A. At this party, the bashful 10B's made many new friends and met old ones whom they had not seen since leaving junior high.

Closed parties comprised the activities of the group during their Junior B and Junior A semesters. Robert Satterlee and Vivian Rosendahl were the party chairmen, respectively.

The Senior B Closed Party under the supervision of Donald Anderson was in the form of a Farmers' Dance. Don Boichot and the decoration committee had the gymnasium appropriately decorated with cornstalks and pumpkins. Marie Kerstetter, chairman of the refreshments committee, served cider and doughnuts to the students, many of whom were costumed in overalls or gingham dresses and sunbonnets.

The first all-school party sponsored by the class, known as the Pirate Prom, was presented during their Junior A semester in collaboration with the Senior A class. The general chairman was Bill MacDonald, assisted by the following committee chairmen:

Reception - - - - Jean Webb	Program - - - - John McDowell
Favors - - - - Marie Kerstetter	Finance - - - - Margaret Rowden
Decorations - - - - Donald Boichot

The Inaugural Ball directed by Jean Webb, was held March 3, 1933, in the school gym. This was the result of the combined efforts of the Junior A and Senior A classes. Members of assisting committees were:

Decorations - - - - Donald Dake	Advertising - - - - Una West
Orchestra - - - - James Atchison	Invitations - - - - Alice Webb
Reception - - - - Bill MacDonald	Checking - - - - Otto Danby
Favors - - - - Dana Wheaton	Finance - - - - Harry Shelden

The two months previous to the class's graduation were filled with numerous activities.

The Senior Prom was held May 19 under the direction of James Murphy, general chairman, and the following committee chairmen:

Decorations - - - - Donald Anderson	Advertising - - - - Harry Fitch
Orchestra - - - - Marie Kerstetter	Invitations - - - - Mary Roat
Favors - - - - Ona Hilliard	Reception - - - - Bill MacDonald
Property - - - - Donald Boichot	Checking - - - - Homer Page

Vivian Rosendahl acted as general chairman for the Senior Day Program, aided by Orin Huffman, chairman of the property committee, and Constance Hoesman, chairman of the costume committee.

The Senior Banquet held June 14, was planned by Howard Bishop, aided by Lorraine Knapp, Marie Kerstetter, Robert Fowler, and Jack Warren.

Baccalaureate services for the class were on June 14 and commencement June 15.

SENIOR B CLASS ACTIVITIES

Timid, quiet, and almost afraid of any group of Quakers they chanced to see, such was the nature of the new group of students who came to Eastern High School in January, 1931. Just a few days before, they had been proud 9A's, but now they were simply "wee sophies" who wondered just how hostile or friendly the Quakers might be. Eastern's students make friends quickly, however, and the new Sophomores discovered that they were to be taken into the regular school program as full-fledged Quakers.

Mary Clippert was chosen to lead them through their first year when everything was still somewhat new and strange. At a mixer in the Y. W. C. A. the Sophomore A's entertained them, and many new acquaintances were made. During the "A" semester, they in turn entertained the incoming class, with Walter Scutt as master-of-ceremonies.

The next year, when juniors, they felt as though they were returning to "Home, Sweet Home". Rex Brightman was made president for the junior year, during which time three social events were held: the Junior B closed party under the chairmanship of Rex Brightman, the Junior A "Careers" party (closed) under the chairmanship of Daniel Jozwiak, and the Junior-Senior Football Frolic.

January, 1933 arrived, giving a sense of ownership to all these students, for they were then seniors, and busy seniors at that, headed by Walter Scutt. Their first activity was the Senior B play, "Minick", with Paul Axline taking the lead of a cast of fourteen characters. Next came the Senior B closed party.

During the "A" semester, so many things are scheduled to happen that they will scarcely know how to keep up their reputation as good students. The Junior-Senior Prom will be held early in the term and later the Senior A Prom. Then a whole flood of activities will swoop down upon them all at once: Senior Day, when all the seniors will strut about the halls; the Senior Day program, and following soon, the banquet. Their days as regular students at Eastern High School will be closed with the Baccalaureate services and the Commencement exercises, two events which will never be forgotten by any of them. Happy, busy, senior high school days, you will soon be a thing of the past!

ATHLETICS

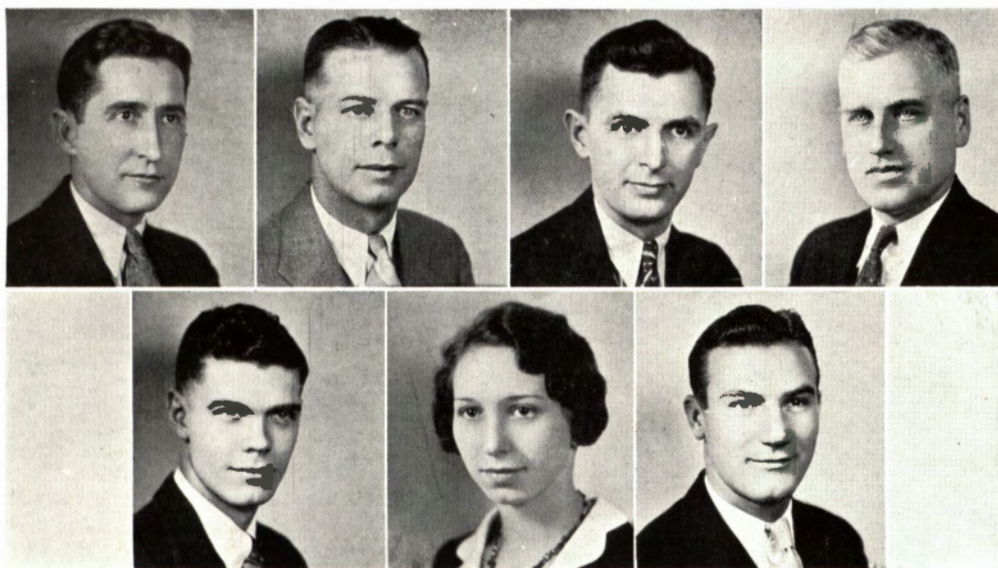

Soldiers' Field Stadium, with a seating capacity of more than one hundred thousand, has been and will continue to be the scene of many athletic events. In a similar manner Pattengill Stadium has witnessed many exciting events in the history of Quaker athletics.

BOARD OF ATHLETIC CONTROL

"The meeting will come to order. The business before the board today is to decide who shall receive awards for basketball and swimming." With these words Mr. Rich opens another meeting of the Eastern Board of Athletic Control. The membership consists of three representatives elected from the student body, Dwight H. Rich, Principal, Walter A. Graff, Coach, Don S. Wheeler, Athletic Director, and F. D. Manz, School Treasurer. The board approves all expenditures, as well as athletic schedules and awards. Three times each year they have charge of an assembly program for the awarding of letters. Under their direction the General Organization ticket is sold. The board receives a share of the money collected.

The boards in the past and this year's board are to be complimented on their fine, efficient work. In the fall of 1928, when Eastern High School first opened its doors, it was necessary in order to promote a sound system of athletics to go in debt for equipment.

During the summer of 1931 Eastern and Central officials met and decided to buy and install at Pattengill Stadium a floodlight system for night football. The equipment was purchased from the Giant Projector Flood Light Company. The total cost of $3,200 was borne equally between Eastern and Central. The system is the best high school set-up in the state, being lighted under a power of 72,000 watts. The venture has proved very profitable because it allows Eastern enthusiasts not free during the afternoon to attend at night; also it eliminates conflict between our schedule and that of Michigan State College.

In the five years that Eastern has been in existence a total of approximately 120,000 have witnessed athletic contests. Quaker teams have traveled about 18,000 miles.

VARSITY CLUB

Ever since Eastern High School awarded its first block L, there has been a constant demand for an organization to which students who won these letters could belong and take part in sponsoring certain things pertaining to athletics. During the past year petitions were circulated for such an organization. Having received enough signatures, the club was given a charter and under the supervision of Don S. Wheeler a constitution was drawn up and approved. Officers were elected and several projects were started. Active membership was given those students who had received letters approved by the Athletic Board of Control. Honorary membership was given to coaches, Principal Rich, and those lettermen out of school who applied for membership and paid a small fee. Eight hundred pounds of paper or magazines must be turned over to the club to be sold before gaining voting powers. A large sum of money is assured from the sale of this paper. The first project undertaken by the club was to pay all expenses incurred by the baseball team. During the year the members of the Varsity Club were especially active, showing initiative, and proving themselves to be efficient leaders in all their enterprises.

Gold colored letters were awarded to the members of the State Championship Football Team and two gold letters to Maxim Kaiser, who won the Cross Country and Mile Championship of the state. The members of the football team were: Captain Swartz, Turik, Hulliberger, Sherman, Smith, Zimmerman, Miller, Fillion, Kowalski, Harkness, Adams, Hubbel, and Schray.

Other letter winners and their sports appear below:

Basketball—Captain Hulliberger, Turik, Kowalski, Roe, Brower, Swartz, Slabonek, and Sherman.

Track—Captain Kaiser, Godfrey, Frankford, Armstrong, Swartz, Turik, Spaniola, Spencer, Smith, Fuller, and Counsellor.

Swimming—Byelick, Hicks, Clark, Atchison, Gibb, Wingerter, Bartell, and Strauss.

CAPTAINS AND TROPHIES

The trophies won by Eastern athletic teams during the past year portray the fine brand of fighting spirit at Eastern High School. In order to win a Five A League trophy permanently it is necessary to win two legs on it. This year the Cross Country, Basketball, and Tennis teams won trophies for their respective sports. The Football team won their first leg on a trophy put up last year. They won the first trophy put for competition in 1930.

At the end of each season honorary captains are elected. Below are their sports and achievements.

Captain Walter Swartz—Football 1931-32.

Chosen as a tackle on official, Five A League and City teams. Captain of Remington's third state team.

Captain Donald Hulliberger—Basketball 1931-32.

Chosen as a guard on official Five A League and City teams.

Captain Max Kaiser—Track 1931-32.

State champion in the mile. Five A League record holder. Fifth in National Interscholastic Championships.

Captain Orvil Beckwith—Tennis 1930-31-32.

Won regional singles title.

Co-Captains William Hicks and James Atchison—Swimming 1932-33.

William Hicks—Backstroker, second in Five A League, third in state.

James Atchison—Anchor man on 200 yard Free Style Relay Team, fourth place winners in state. Backstroker on Medley Relay team which took fourth place in the state meet.

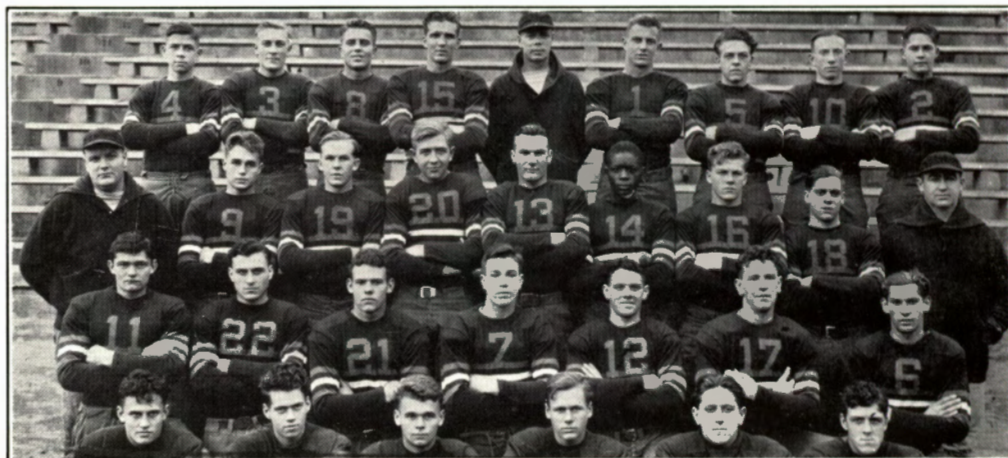

Captain Max Kaiser—Cross Country 1930-31-32.

State Champion ('32), Runner up ('31), Five A League Champion ('31-'32), state record holder. Undefeated in dual meets ('31-32). Record holder on every course he has run.

Captain Emil Hein—Golf 1932.

Captain Carl Estok—Baseball 1931-32.

Pitched a no-hit game against Howell.

1932 FOOTBALL REVIEW

On the first day of school, in answer to Coach Graff's call for football candidates, approximately 100 boys reported at the gym and were issued equipment. Out of this group, five were members of the 1931 team—Clarence Zimmerman, Donald Hulliberger, John Turik, Wilson Hubbel, and Walter Swartz. Last year they performed at R.G., F.B., Q.B., H.B., and L.G., respectively.

In order to strengthen the team, Coach Graff shifted Swartz from L.G. to L.T. and placed Filion, a new man from Detroit, at L.G. In the backfield, Turik went to L.H. and a sophomore, Lyle Sherman, was given a chance to run the team at Q.B.

After two weeks of strenuous practice, most of the positions had been filled, and the team was eagerly awaiting its first clash of the season. On the evening of September 23, Eastern met Ithaca under the flood lights at Pattengill Stadium. Although the blue and gold-clad warriors showed ability in downing their rivals 26-0, the cooperation between the line and backfield was not smooth enough to show the real strength of the team.

Coaches Graff, Burnham, and Bovard worked hard during the next week, trying to iron out the rough spots that had shown up in the game with Ithaca. The results of their efforts showed on Friday evening, when the invading Bay City aggregation was defeated 32-0. The Easternites flashed a smooth working combination which scored a touchdown in every quarter, and two in the third quarter. The line opened huge gaping holes, and the backs did some fine blocking and running after getting to the secondary defense set up by the Wolves. The Quakers scored in all departments of the game, twice after uninterrupted 65 yard marches down the field. Turik cut and ran his way 45 yards for a touchdown, and was on the receiving end of one of Hulliberger's deadly passes for another. Swartz, Zimmerman, and Adams were the main cogs in opening up big holes in the Bay City line, while Hulliberger, Turik, and Sherman, the sophomore quarterback, were constant threats in the backfield. The following Saturday, the Quakers packed their war bags and invaded Saginaw Arthur Hill. Eastern came home with the honors of the day, winning 14-0, but not without a real battle. Eastern looked bad during the first quarter, being repulsed on the two yard line and was barely able to stop a Saginaw march to the goal line. Showing more vim, the Quakers started on a goalward march in the second quarter after Hulliberger intercepted a Lumberjack pass on his own 35 yard line. After smashing their way to the 20 yard line Hulliberger caught the Saginaw backs sleeping and threw a perfect pass to Turik who took it in full stride to score Eastern's first touchdown. During the second half, the Easternites twice repulsed the Lumberjacks within their own five yard mark. Hulliberger broke loose through the center of the line, and made a fifty yard dash for the second and last touchdown of the game.

During the next week the coaches and trainers had a job on their hands, trying to get the boys cured of some bad bumps and bruises in preparation for the invasion of the highly touted Battle Creek team. On Friday night, under the flood lights, the two teams fought gallantly before a crowd of approximately 6,000 people, but when the gun cracked ending the game they were deadlocked 0-0. The Quakers set up a defense that held the Bearcats outside their 14 yard line during the evening, but their offense was only good enough to carry them to the Battle Creek 4 yard marker where they were held back. The Bearcats tossed pass after pass but the alert Quaker backs knocked them down just as often as they came. Several penalties were called on both sides for roughing. Smith, a sophomore, who did most of the blocking in the backfield, reversed the tables and proved to be the most consistent ball carrier of the evening. Filion, Eastern's star guard, played in Battle Creek's backfield most of the evening, several times stopping the runner before he could get started.

Recuperating from the hard Battle Creek game, the Easternites journeyed to Jackson for the second Five A League game on October 21. During the first half, the Quakers looked very mediocre scoring only one touchdown, a pass from Hulliberger to Adams in the first quarter, but in the last half they shoved Jackson all over the field to score a touchdown in the third quarter and three in the last, to win 31-0.

Coldwater was Eastern's next opponent. The game was played October 29, at Coldwater. It was a gala day for Coldwater; they were dedicating a new stadium. However, before the Quaker avalanche left the field, they had thoroughly subdued their spirits winning the game 32-0. Sherman and Hulliberger were the outstanding ground gainers, while Filion and Zimmerman made a wall of strength in the line. The reserve team played the last quarter and threatened to score several times but lacked the punch to drive it over.

The following week Ann Arbor's Big Purple team invaded Pattengill Stadium to furnish Eastern with its strongest opponent of the season. In this game Ann Arbor broke Eastern's perfect goal line record when they caught our backfield napping in the second quarter, and completed a pass for a touchdown. Miller blocked the try for point which finally proved to be the winning play of the game. Jennings, Ann Arbor's star quarterback, was held to one long run during the game. Turik sliced his way off tackle several times for long gains. Eastern scored early in the first quarter after Turik carried the ball on several long jaunts to the 13 yard line, where the whole line gave a mighty surge which left enough opening for Hulliberger to crash through for a touchdown. Swartz kicked the goal which proved to be invaluable. Harkness and Adams, Quaker ends, played a great defensive game turning Ann Arbor's end sweeps into Swartz and Kowalski, who stopped them dead. The center of the line was a bulwark of strength. When the game ended Eastern led the Five A League and Ann Arbor went home carrying a 7-6 mar on her fine record.

Following the Ann Arbor game, the boys practiced very hard for the annual Armistice Day game with Lansing Central for the city championship. Winning also meant the championship of the Five A League and at least a share in the mythical State Championship. It was snowing when the game started, and a crowded stadium stamped and cheered as the five year feud was renewed. Eastern scored early in the game when Filion broke through the line, blocked Look's punt on the twenty yard line and then managed to outrun and outslide a Central man to recover the ball on Central's seven yard line. Eastern's triple threat man, Hulliberger, behind a crashing line plunged it over in two tries. Eastern was then held scoreless until the third quarter, when they began one of their smashing goalward marches. Turik knifed and dodged his way from the Big Reds' 19 yard line to the four yard line where three men brought him down. Hulliberger made three yards on the first play and was held to half a yard on the next. Smith was stopped inches from the goal. Hulliberger then carried the ball and a good share of the Central team over the line for the second and last touchdown. Faithful Swartz kicked his twelfth point after touchdown. The forward wall was almost impenetrable and the secondary defense was well handled by the Quaker four horsemen.

Gold colored letters were given to Swartz, Hulliberger, Turik, Filion, Hubbel, Schray, Zimmerman, Kowalski, Miller, Adams, Sherman, Smith, and Harkness. The last six named will be back for another season. Turik and Filion were honored when they were picked for the official all-state team. Turik, Filion, Hulliberger, and Swartz were picked for the Five A League first team, while Adams, Zimmerman, Harkness, and Sherman made the second team. Kowalski received honorable mention. Swartz received a second team berth on George Lawton's all-state and the captaincy of the third team in the official all-state. Warren Miller and Donald Hulliberger received honorable mention. Nine boys were picked for all-city team: Adams, Harkness, Swartz, Filion, Zimmerman, Miller, Sherman, Hulliberger, and Turik.

RESERVE FOOTBALL

"Let's stop the varsity tonight." This was the cry of the reserves as they battled the varsity. The saying, "The strength of your first depends on the strength of the reserves" was proved this year. Under the watchful eye of Reserve Coach "Pat" Feeman, the boys learned the fundamental principles of football, and won 2 and tied 3 out of 7 games.

Gold colored R's were given those men who were on the first squad but did not get in enough games for a letter. They were Kichak, Atchison, Strauss, Kedrock, Padgett, Rouse, Bengé, Roe, Droesch, Creyts, Dahlberg, and Byelick. Blue R's were given to Weaver, Joseph, Osgood, Kolberg, Shippey, Lamb, Polihonki, Smith, Allen, Jones, Space, Redner, Jones, Stewart, MacInness, D. Ross, Many, and Narveson.

CROSS COUNTRY

After three years of Cross Country in Eastern, a winning team was turned out by Coach "Winnie" Winston. The team showed a fine spirit in winning the City Championship, tying for the Five A League laurels, and placing Kaiser and Spencer first and third respectively in the state meet to take the runner-up positions in the team score.

On September 30, Eastern won their second city championship when they defeated Lansing Central 26-29. Kaiser and Spencer showed some good, early season form in setting a new course record of 10:45, shaving 5 seconds off from the old record.

On October 11, Eastern journeyed to Michigan State College where they met and were defeated by the Freshmen 32-23. The following week October 18, a return meet was held over Eastern's course and again the Freshmen emerged ahead with an identical score. The outstanding performer of these two meets was Kaiser, who won first place in both meets and also set a new course record of 10:19 for the college course and 10:35 for the home course.

At the end of the week our boys were tied by Lansing Central for the Five A League honors. Kaiser was pushed very hard and had only a couple yards to spare, but in winning he broke the old course record.

The following week the boys began to hit their stride and took Dearborn, defeating them 18-37; Kaiser, Spencer, and Goetsch tied for first place honors.

At Ypsilanti in the State Championship run they were nosed out of first place by Kalamazoo. Kaiser turned in a great race when he led the field home, cutting 9 seconds off the state interscholastic record of 10:23 which had stood since 1928. His teammate, Spencer, also ran a fine race and was nosed out of second place only by inches.

At the end of the season Spencer, Buell, Abent, Groesbeck, Goetsch, and Captain Kaiser were awarded letters. Out of this group only Goetsch and Kaiser are lost through graduation, and with the other four back as a nucleus, a fine team is expected next fall.

BASKETBALL

Hardly had the footballs been laid away, before the swish of the basketballs going through the net was heard at Eastern. Coach Graff had a veteran team plus some outstanding junior high school stars. Before the first game, it was evident that some of the regulars would have to divide their duties with some of the less experienced men. Lettermen back from the last year's team were: Roe, Swartz, Turik, Kowalski, and Hulliberger. When the whistle blew to start the game with the Alumni, the veterans were all holding down their old positions, but a few gave way before the game was over. The game was a real opener for the Quakers; with about four minutes of the regulation time left, Eastern led 21-15 but field goals by Wingerter, Jochen, and Fiddler tied the score. In the overtime period Fiddler's long tom, against a lone free throw by Sherman, who had replaced Roe, gave the victory to the Alumni 23-22.

On December 15 the Quaker basketekers traveled to Ann Arbor, and were defeated in the Purples' small gym 24-23. The Ann Arbor team had the best of it the first half and led 17-11. Eastern came back in the last half outscoring their rivals 12-7, and just missed a victory. Kowalski, giant Quaker center, scored 15 of the 23 points. On the next night Eastern made up for the first two set-backs by winning from Mt. Clemens 24-10. Kowalski again came through for 10 points.

After a rest over the Christmas vacation, the Quaker quintet journeyed to Bay City, and returned with a 23-13 victory. The Easternites rolled up a 17-5 score the first half. During the second half, Coach Graff substituted freely. On the following Friday Eastern and Lansing Central clashed at the Vocational School Field House. Both teams set up air-tight defenses during the game. Eastern led the Big Reds at the half, 5-0. In the second half Eastern ran the score up to 15, while holding Central down to two long toms and two charity tosses for 6 points.

Capt. Hulliberger, Turik, Kowalski, Sherman, Swartz

January 20 found the Quakers in Jackson. The Prison City five set up a zone defense but Turik dropped in a neat side shot and Eastern stalled until Jackson came out. After breaking up the Viking defense, Eastern went on to win 12-8.

The last game of the semester was a victory for the Quakers over the invading Battle Creek team. The Quakers played a whirlwind game and won 18-16. After the second semester had got under way the Easternites won a tough game from the Ann Arbor team 24-19. The victory placed Eastern at the head of the Five A League. During the next three weeks Eastern met defeat at the hands of Lansing Central and Jackson, but came back the last scheduled game of the season to win from Battle Creek 21-18, which left us in a three way tie for the Five A League Championship with Ann Arbor and Lansing Central.

In order to decide who would enter the state meet Eastern and Ann Arbor drew each other while Central played Flint Central of the Saginaw Valley League.

Eastern came through with an overwhelming victory. The Quakers grabbed an early lead and rolled up a wall of points which proved to be unsurmountable, winning 32-19.

On the following Monday Eastern drew as her opponent in the lower bracket Kalamazoo Central, last year's state champions. The game was played Thursday night on a neutral floor at Albion. The Celerymen got off to a fast start by garnering 5 points in the first quarter while holding Eastern scoreless. The two teams broke even the second quarter, both getting 5 points. During the last half the two teams went on a scoring spree but Kalamazoo sank 18 points to Eastern's 10, giving them the game 28 to 15.

At the end of the season letters were awarded to Captain Hulliberger, Turik, Sherman, Kowalski, Swartz, Slabonek, Roe, and Brower.

RESERVE BASKETBALL

Under Mr. Burnham, the reserve team learns the fundamental principles of basketball. Besides scrimmaging the varsity, they carry on a schedule of their own. This season the reserves won eight times, lost three, and tied one. Some very promising material has come to light and will be a big help to our next year's varsity.

Those who received R's for services on the squad were: Relf, Lamb, Kolberg, Allen, Bengé, Brower, Dahlberg, Danby, Groesbeck, Joseph, Kichak, Lyle, Melendy, Padgett, Parmater, and Wade.

BASEBALL

Entering the second year of competition in this comparatively new sport, Eastern's prospects were very good for a successful season. Largely through the efforts of Coach Bovard and the boys, new uniforms were purchased, making it possible for a completely equipped team to take the field for the first time in this branch of competition. After a flying start against Howell the team settled back and played mediocre ball for the season. Letters were given to K. Beagle, E. Beagle, Christy, Estok, Hack, Hubbel, Lamb, Kolberg, Roe, Smith, Grieve, and McConnell.

GOLF

During the year just past, Eastern's golf team competed in the Five A League Championships, the regional tournament, and won two dual meets from East Lansing, while losing to Lansing Central, Battle Creek, and Jackson. Jackson and Lansing Central were very strong opponents, having won first and second in the Five A League respectively. Jackson also won the state championship. DeWitt Stephan did some fine work, usually shooting in the low 80's.

TRACK

"On your marks; get set." Bang! The crunch of spikes biting into cinders and another victorious track season was on at Eastern High School. Coach Graff had the candidates working indoors for two weeks before moving outdoors. The letter winners from the last year's team were Stewart Frankford and Robert Barnhart, half milers, Robert Godfrey and Lewis Armstrong, hurdlers, Darrell Fuller and John Turik, sprinters, Harry Fitch, 440, Ernest Spaniola pole vault, and Max Kaiser, the mile.

On April 29 the Blue and Gold track squad met and defeated Lansing Central and the two Saginaw schools, Eastern and Arthur Hill. The final points were as follows: L. E. 48½, L. C. 45½, S. E. 30, S. A. H. 6. Godfrey won both hurdle events to tie with Baird of Saginaw Eastern at 10 points. Kaiser ran an exceptionally fast race to win in 4:35.8. With only two events left, the two Lansing schools were tied, but Armstrong and Turik scored five points in the broad jump and Eastern's relay team took second to cinch the meet for Eastern.

May 2, 3, and 4 found the Easternites engaged in their annual three day practice with the Michigan State Freshmen. Frank Hoff, former Quaker captain and star, scored sixteen points for the frosh, while Godfrey scored 10 points to lead the Blue and Gold. Kaiser suffered defeat when Tom Ottey ran the mile in 4:25.3 for a new freshman record. Frankford broke the school record running the half-mile in 2:05.

Next on the program was a dual meet with Lansing Central. The Big Reds had a well balanced team which proved to be too strong for the Quakers and won 57-47. A new threat was found when Fuller, a former 220 man, was shifted to the 440, which he won in 52:9.

After a week's practice the team journeyed to Ann Arbor where they competed for the Five A League honors. Under a new ruling this was classed as regional meet. Eastern qualified Smith and Kaiser in the mile, Frankford and Spencer in the half-mile, Fuller in the quarter, Turik in the broadjump, Godfrey in the two hurdle events, Spaniola in the pole vault and the relay team for the State Meet. Ann Arbor had too many men for the first places and when the points were tabulated Eastern had 35 points, $9 \frac{1}{3}$ points behind the winners. Kaiser set a new Five A League record of 4:34.6 for the mile.

Following a week of preparation, the boys who had qualified for the state competed at East Lansing. The weather was cold and disagreeable. Only one record was broken when Stein of Monroe pole vaulted 12 ft. $\frac{3}{4}$ in. Captain Kaiser gave Eastern five points when he won the mile in 4:35.2. Robert Godfrey placed second in the 120 yard high hurdles. Spaniola tied with five others for fifth place which gave Eastern a total of $9 \frac{1}{6}$ points.

The State meet out of the way, preparations went forward to take Kaiser, State Champion in the mile, to the National Interscholastic at Chicago. On June 4, Coach Graff, Mr. McIntire, Frankford, Godfrey, and Kaiser made the trip by auto. Saturday morning Godfrey competed in the high hurdles but was eliminated before the finals. In the afternoon Frankford failed to place in the half-mile. Kaiser ran his best race of the season, when he ran a 4:32.9 mile, but placed only fifth, 2.9 seconds behind the winner.

SWIMMING

In answer to Coach Winston's call for swimming candidates, about forty boys reported one night early in November. Molding of a team began immediately. With Atchison and Hicks, two veterans back from last year's squad, plus some sophomores and reserves, Winston produced a team which won four out of seven dual meets, and placed a third and a fifth in the state.

The first meet was with the Alumni on December 22. The old grads gave the Quaker swimmers a premature Christmas present by losing 28-40. The teams split even on the number of firsts won, but the Easternites garnered too many seconds and thirds. Shortly after the Christmas vacation the Blue and Gold swimmers met Lansing Central and lost 48-27. Hicks and the medley relay team were the only Quaker entrants to place first. On January 24, the Easternites pulled a surprise when they defeated the strong Michigan State Freshmen 41-34. Gibb and Wingerter won the diving and breast stroke, while Clark won two fine victories in the 50 and 100 yard free style. Following this victory they journeyed to Battle Creek, the home of last year's state champions, where they suffered a beating, losing the meet 52-20. The Quakers gave the Big Reds from the West side a real scare when they did some fine swimming to come within one point of winning; score 39-38. During the next two weeks the Quakers won easy meets from Ann Arbor and Jackson, beating them 44-26 and 48-27 respectively.

March 4 found the gold-clad swimmers journeying to Jackson where they participated in the Five A League championships. The Quakers duplicated their last year's performance when they finished in third place. In the state meet held at Ann Arbor on March 11, Hicks took a third place in the backstroke, Wingerter placed third in the breast stroke; the medley and 200 yard free style relay teams placed fourth to give Eastern enough points to place fifth in total points.

Letters were given to Byelick, Hicks, Clark, Atchison, Gibb, Wingerter, Bartell, and Strauss. Reserve letters were awarded to Armstrong, Gibbons, West, Reuffer, Kahler, Duckett, MacDonald, Spurway, Wilcox, Montgomery, and Reeves.

TENNIS

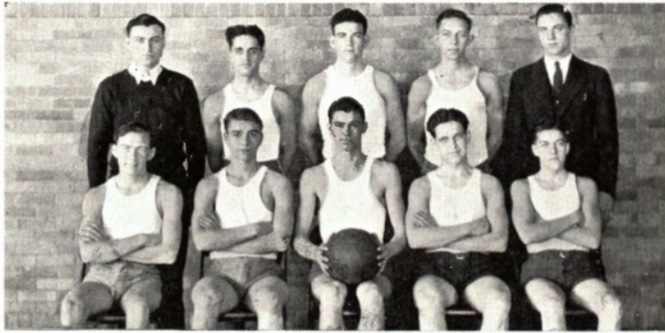

Another victorious chapter was written in the athletic record book when the 1932 racquet wielders continued a string of victories that have piled up over the past four seasons. During the four years that Eastern has been in existence, Coach Fox's tennis teams have won the regional championship four times. More brilliant is the dual meet record. During the four seasons they have lost but one dual meet, that to Flint Northern in 1930 when the Flint team was good enough to win the state title. The team won their second Five A League Championship in 1932, when they defeated Ann Arbor, Battle Creek, Jackson, and Lansing Central in dual meets.

Eastern started the season on April 10 by sweeping to victory over Owosso 12-0. On April 23 they met and defeated Saginaw Eastern 8-1. Continuing on through the season they downed Flint Northern 7-2; Battle Creek 6-1; East Lansing 5-2; and 4-3; their city rivals, Central, for the city championship 5-2; Jackson 7-0, and finally Ann Arbor, their last Five A League rival, 7-0.

Hardly had the boys completed this schedule within a period of five weeks before they were competing for the regional championship. Slashing their way through to the finals, Martin and Captain Beckwith, two team mates, fought it out, Beckwith finally winning 4-6, 6-2, 10-8. The same feat was duplicated in the doubles when Hershey and Brower defeated their team-mates Dahlberg and Kwast 6-4, 6-3, to win the regional championship.

Individual highlights were: Martin's defeat of Wallace, Saginaw Eastern's star, 4-6, 7-5, 6-4; Beckwith's dual win over Landon of Ann Arbor 6-3, 6-3; Hershey's decisive victory over McKibben of Central 6-1, 6-2; and Spurway's regional tournament defeat of Pat Johnson, Central's No. 1 player by scores of 0-6, 12-10, 6-2.

At the end of the season major letters were awarded to Captain Beckwith, Hershey, Spurway, and Martin. Minor letters were awarded to Dahlberg, Kwast, Brower, and Pazon.

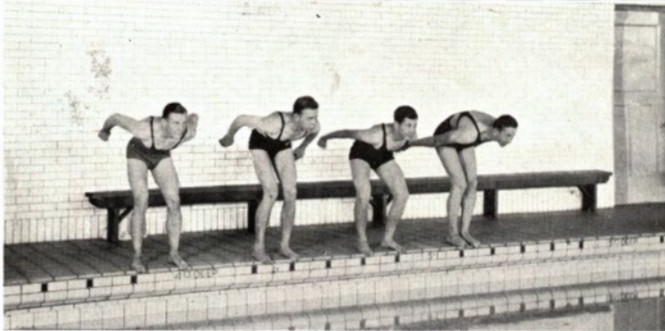

Senior A Basketball Champs

During the months of January and February a basketball tournament was held. In these contests the boys of the Senior A class managed to win nearly all their games with comparative ease. The post-grads gave them the hardest battle, but they sank a timely basket near the end to cinch the championship.

Senior B Swimming Champs

This year the annual intramural class swimming championship was won by four boys from the Senior B class. Clark was high scorer, winning the 50 and 100 yard free style and also swimming on the 200 yard free style relay team. Bartell won the breast stroke, and with these points plus some help from the others easily won the meet.

Girls' Volleyball Champions

Led by an all-round athlete, Martha Schmidt, the 11A class became volleyball champions. Although Martha had a fine team cooperating with her, many hard games were fought before they acquired this title. This team represented Eastern in three games with Central. They were victorious once, but lost two games after closely contested battles.

G. A. A. Squad Leaders

Each semester, squad leaders are elected by the girls' gym classes. Their work is to take roll, check points, and lead their squad in games, tumbling, drill work, and dancing. These leaders have regular meetings where they discuss plans for future gym work. They are thoroughly drilled in that work so that they can take back to their squad the work they have been practicing.

Girls' Tennis Champions

Tennis is fast becoming a favorite sport in Eastern. Last spring's tournament was exciting; the contestants were closely matched—a factor which made each set a hard fought-for victory. The winner of the singles was good both in service and returns. The winners of the doubles played a lively match, to become champions.

Girls' Basketball Champions

The 11A class gained their second title for the year by winning the basketball championship. Many exciting games were fought, but the juniors always came out on top. By their quickness in getting the ball, and their alertness in making clever plays, they became champions in this popular sport.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The governing body of Eastern High School, the Student Council, began its eventful first semester in the fall with a girl president, the first one in the history of the school. Jean Webb carried out the duties of this office in an efficient and friendly manner. At the beginning of the second semester the leadership was assumed by an outstanding student and speaker, Kenneth Beagle.

The Council sets its goal to attain the most satisfactory and efficient form of student self government.

The standing committees of the council are the moral ethics, friendly relations, pep, library and study hall, sub-friendly relations, and committee on committees.

The Friendly Relations Committee proclaimed a friendly week during which time the aim of each student was to gain at least one new friend. A tea, a dance, and an auditorium program were the main features of the week. An Honesty Week was introduced into the school by the Moral Ethics Committee. The committee prepared a questionnaire to be filled out by the students, and presented an interesting auditorium program.

At a party held at the close of each semester the president of the council was presented with a medal for his services to the school.

VARSIITY DEBATE

The success of the Eastern Debate Teams this season was attributable to the outstanding development and abilities of the six debaters.

The affirmative team was composed of three debaters who represented an excellent balance in abilities. Kenneth Beagle, a senior orator this year, contributed a pleasant personality and a delivery filled with audience appeal. Willis Bullard, a new student in Eastern, was outstanding for his ability to analyze the question and his knowledge of the subject. He will be the only member of the teams to return next year. Marie Dalton, the first speaker for the affirmative, received commendation for her clear and convincing delivery.

Harold Brockhaus opened the negative case. Harold achieved distinction in debate for his polished platform appearance. Jean Webb was valuable to the team because of her well known platform personality and Harry Shelden gave conscientious preparation and understanding to the question.

Mary Kroll

Mary Kroll, Sophomore A, was the successful contestant in the school declamation contest, and as winner represented Eastern in the 5 A League Speech Tournament, March 23. Her declamation, "Rats in a Maze" by Milton Dickens, was sincerely and forcefully delivered, winning third place. Our interpretive reader, Marie Dalton, won third place with her reading, "Ballad of the Harp Weaver."

Bullard, Brockhaus, Beagle, Mr. Odam

Eastern's team suffered only one defeat throughout the successful season. The first tilt with Battle Creek was won when our team displayed a strong case and superior analytical ability. In the second, our negative team defeated Ann Arbor's team. The third meet, with Battle Creek's affirmative team was the only defeat during the season. This team shared with Eastern the championship of the Five A Forensic League.

The Jackson, Ann Arbor, and Central High School teams were defeated by our affirmative team. In the State Elimination Series, a selected affirmative team went down before Saginaw Arthur Hill. This team was composed of Willis Bullard, Harold Brockhaus, and Kenneth Beagle. Both teams excelled in delivery and the elements of analysis, refutation, and material.

As a result of the debate record last season, Eastern received a University of Michigan wall plaque, and the 28 points acquired were applied toward the winning of the Five A League Speech Tournament. Eastern won second place in the contest with 36 points, being defeated only by Battle Creek who won first place with 39 points.

Kenneth Beagle, Senior A, for the second time represented Eastern as orator in the 5A League Speech Tournament. The excellent thought in his material and the effective way in which he delivered his oration, "The Challenge," won him second place. Willis Bullard, the extempore speaker, gained second place with his discussion on, "Payment of War Debts."

BAND

The Eastern Band, one of the largest and finest in the state of Michigan, represents the true spirit of our school. With its stirring music it inspires the enthusiasm shown at all our pep meetings and interscholastic games. It sends a thrill of pride over us to see the straight lines of boys marching and making formations on the football field during the period between halves of an exciting game. We stand breathless for one small moment while the drum major swings his baton over the goal post and faultlessly catches it again. Later on in the season we again feel a like pride surging within us while the band plays the "Quaker Pep Song," as the winning point in a basketball game is made.

The number of members in the band has increased to seventy. There are two band classes: the first, composed of the outstanding members, meets every Tuesday and Thursday; the second, made up of the less experienced boys, meets every Monday and Wednesday. Both groups meet together for practice on Fridays.

The band was honored by being asked to act as escort band for Vice-President Curtis when he came here to speak to the citizens of Lansing. Our school was represented by the band at every football game both in and out of town; it appeared at several Eastern P. T. A. meetings, the Armistice Day parade, and the Shrine parade. The band played an important part in the assembly program presented by the music department on February 27.

A few of the most popular numbers learned by the band during the last year were Ruy Blas, Black Rose, Introduction to a Bridal Chorus, Sakuntala, and Barber of Seville.

MADRIGAL CHOIR

The Madrigal Choir was organized in January, 1932, by W. R. McIntire. The members were selected from the glee clubs and from students who tried out, each one being chosen to fill a certain part in the choir.

The group of sixty-four young men and women, clad in new black robes with white collars purchased this semester, presented an especially impressive picture. The robes were partially paid for with money earned by the organization.

The Madrigal Choir was requested to sing on various public programs. During the last year it appeared at the First Baptist Church, the Teachers' Convention, an assembly program at Central High School, the Exchange Club, the Christmas P. T. A. program, the Kiwanis Club, the Albion Alumni Banquet at the Central Temple House, a church program at the Mt. Hope Methodist Church, and at two music assemblies in our high school. In preparing themselves for the programs presented, the choir learned the following numbers: "Beautiful Savior", "Ash Grove", "Tenebrae Factae Sunt", "Song of the Winds", "In Time of Maying", "Ting-a-ling" (High Jinks), "Deep River", "Out of the Silence", and "Ave Maria".

Plans were made to select the cast for the annual school opera from this group, and the entire choir aided in presenting the opera, "Naughty Marietta". Esther Mastrovito and Verle Smith had the romantic leads, while other equally interesting parts were filled by Ray White, Rex Brightman, Audrey Purchis, Willis Massuch, Norman Whalen, and Marion Leatherman. The story was one of French Casquette girls who were sent over to America to acquire husbands. Marietta was of noble birth but to avoid marrying an old man she did not love, she posed as one of the Casquette maidens and came to America. When Dick, the hero, found out who she was, he took her to the old shoemaker to stay until her parents came for her. In the end she and Dick fell very happily in love.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The four letters on the seal of the Honor Society for Character, Scholarship, Leadership, and Service are the society's criterion. It is necessary for a person who belongs to this national organization to possess all of these qualities and he must be at least a Junior "A".

Each semester the standards for membership are being raised. It is a great honor to be chosen a member to this outstanding organization, the aspiration of every student in Eastern.

The Honor Society meetings were held bi-weekly during the noon period on Thursday for the first semester, but for the last semester, the meetings were conducted on alternate Wednesdays during the eighth hour.

Some very interesting and educational programs have been presented to the society. Miss Lois Manning spoke on the World's Fair to be held in Chicago this summer; Dean Elizabeth Conrad, of the Michigan State College, spoke on the importance of one's social life; Professor Lewis P. Waldo gave a speech on experience and education, and Mr. George Chadwick talked on marriage.

Lillian La Fraugh was the general chairman of the Honor Society party held at the close of the fall semester. A Bohemian dinner was served in the cafeteria and games and dancing were enjoyed later in the small auditorium.

To help establish a scholarship loan fund the annual play, "A Dollar Down", directed by Helen Benjamin, was presented on the evening of April 21. It was a delightful comedy-drama of a woman whose fondest dreams were shattered because of her over-speculative family.

The officers of the first semester were Kenneth Beagle, president; Eleanor Hinds, secretary; Donald Boichot, vice-president; Wilson Hubbel, treasurer. Officers for the second term were Harry Fitch, president; Betty Coy, secretary; William MacDonald, vice-president; Harry Shelden, treasurer.

QUILL AND SCROLL

The Quill and Scroll is an international honor society for high school journalists. To become a member of this organization a student must be a junior; he must be in the upper one-third of his class; he shall have done some superior work in journalistic or creative writing; he must be recommended by the supervisor of publications, and his entrance into the society must be approved by the National Secretary of the Quill and Scroll.

There are no dues, but a fee of two dollars is paid when one enters the society to cover the cost of a gold badge, a year's subscription to Quill and Scroll, and for incidental expenses involved in keeping records.

As a special project a history of Eastern High School was contemplated this year, but it has not yet been completed. Material was entered in the National Awards Contest by Donald Dake, Catherine Bowers, Eileen Ayers, Marguerite Conklin, Ethel Treglown, Michael Valentine, Phyllis Hooton, Edward Macal, Florence Wood, Ruth Wohlert, and Betty Hay.

LANTERN STAFF

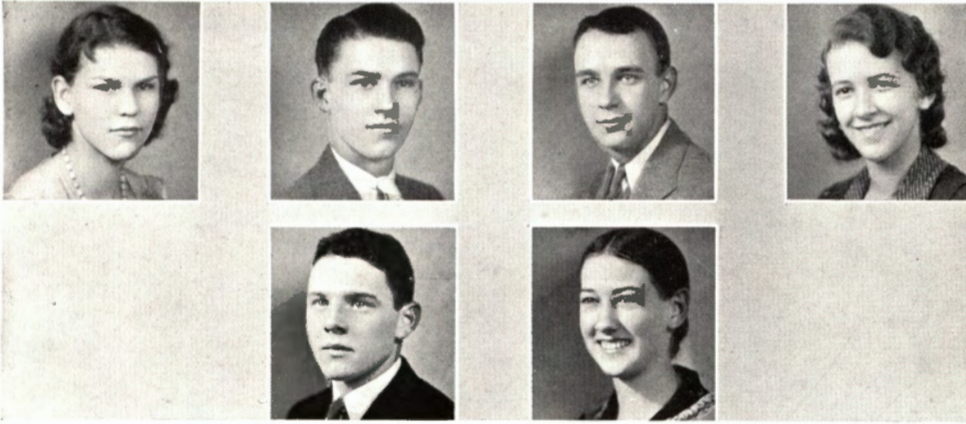

The talents of the literary staff and the business staffs were combined to edit the 1933 Lantern. Every third hour on Friday found this group gathered in some quiet spot visioning and planning for a book which would be worthy to stand beside its predecessors. A Century of Progress theme was chosen as early as September and at once inspired each member with ideas and novel plans for his section of the book. Each member on the staff had specific duties to perform.

Gordon Dahlberg, editor-in-chief, arranged the senior panels and was responsible for collecting and assembling all material for the press. Catherine Barley was chosen assistant editor. The opening section and the theme developments were written by her, and her other duties were to assist the editor in his work.

Louella Hard accepted the responsibility of the club section which necessitated numerous interviews and endless journalistic efforts. She and the assistant editor worked on the new honor awards page which appears at the end of the senior section. Charles McGill's school life section, including pictures gathered throughout two semesters, is designed to give lasting impressions of a very eventful year.

Maurine Krieger, who made all of the drawings for the divisional pages, was appointed the art editor. Her assistance was also given to the work of the literary staff. When the various editors had completed the first draft of copy, it was the duty of Jean Alleman, head typist, and her assistants to prepare all material for the printer.

Marie Kerstetter held the honor of being the first girl to fill the office of business manager. Appointments for senior pictures and all negotiations with the Versluis Studio were arranged by her. Harold Brockhaus assisted Marie in her duties on the business staff.

James Atchison and his assistant, Jack Warren, assiduously applied their business-like tendencies toward the financing of this year's Lantern, and have surmounted the perils of the depression and overcome the serious curtailment of funds.

The teachers' section and girls' athletics took Mary Clippert's time and attention, while Maxim Kaiser combined his versatility in sports with his literary talent to produce an unusual sports section. Vivian Rosendahl has depicted the activities of the various student organizations.

The Lantern staffs wish to express their sincere thanks to Irma H. Smith, Ralph B. Peterman, and Cleobelle Harrison for the incessant and patient assistance given them in their work. Miss Smith spent many months directing the literary staff in all the write-ups and picture panel work. A great many afternoons after school her room presented a busy scene of workers to the casual hall-strollers. Mr. Peterman has made the Lantern a financial success each year by managing the advertising and business staffs. This year the success of the business staffs has been exceptionally outstanding due to prevalent conditions. Miss Harrison willingly cooperated with her art classes toward the modernistic art motif in this year's annual.

Eastern was proud to receive notification last November from the National Scholastic Press Association that the 1932 Lantern had earned the All-American honor rating. This was the first time a Lansing publication had achieved this merit.

EASTERNER

Interest in Journalism has grown so greatly in the past year that it was necessary to form two classes. These classes met daily with Miss Grohe during the fourth and seventh hours. Their purpose was to learn the principles of journalism and put them into practice through editing the school paper, the Easterner. This was published every two weeks alternately by the fourth and seventh hour classes, with the fourth period class editing the first edition. "Journalism for High Schools" by Hyde is the textbook used for study material.

The work required during the semester from each student comprised ten news stories consisting of sports and news items, five editorials, five feature stories for entertainment, and five special contributions made up of humor, personal observation, or any other special columns.

Each class elected its own editor, assistant editor, and staff. As far as possible, each person performed the duties that appealed to him most in editing the Easterner. Three issues of the paper were put out by each of the journalism classes, and the two classes combined their efforts in doing the senior issue.

The fourth hour class of twenty-six members chose Harold Brockhaus as its editor-in-chief with Ralph Jennings for his assistant. Marie Kerstetter and Donald Anderson were selected as editor-in-chief and assistant editor by the seventeen members of the seventh hour class. It was the duty of the editor to select subjects for all articles, decide the position and length of each, and proof read them. He was responsible for the general assembling of the whole newspaper.

Several field trips were taken to different business establishments in the city by the Journalism classes last semester. They visited the Lansing Color Plate Company, the Lansing Typesetting Company, Franklin DeKleine Company, The State Journal where they saw the action of the presses, and the State Library where old newspapers were inspected.

In the first semester last fall, the journalism course was a general elective, but in the second semester it was an English 8 course. Miss Nellie Grohe, the literary adviser of the publication, has given a great amount of time to the paper since the beginning of our school and deserves much credit for achieving a First Class Honor rating the last two years through the National Scholastic Press Association. Ralph B. Peterman was the business manager and E. L. Courtney was the printing adviser.

GIRLS' LEAGUE

The Girls' League, organized in 1932, aimed to help the girls to become better acquainted and to teach many general helpful facts.

The six units of the league, each composed of one class, took up many worthwhile projects in their alternate weekly meetings. The Senior A's with Miss Baumgardner as sponsor, studied problems of the school and of senior girls; the Senior B's under Miss Toogood's direction, took up "Hygiene and Personal Problems;" the Junior A's with Miss Cole the first semester and Miss Gross the second semester, spent their time on "Social Service and Welfare"; the Junior B's studied "Recreation" under Miss Winter's guidance; the Sophomore A's directed by Miss Manning, learned about "Social Standards"; and the Sophomore B's studied vocations with Miss Baumgardner's help.

Interesting programs were planned for the different units each meeting. Two general meetings were called when Dr. Robert S. Breakey, a Lansing physician, talked on "Social Hygiene," and when the installation services were held. Other entertaining features were an open discussion on the book "Larry" in the Senior B meeting, Miss Madeline Thompson's advice to the Junior B girls on new spring clothing, a talk to the Senior A's on "Leisure Time Activity" by Miss Baumgardner, and a speech by Mr. Rich on "Senior Problems."

Miss Baumgardner, who has charge of the extra curricular activities and girls' vocational guidance in Eastern is the sponsor of the Girls' League.

The Eastern High School Friendship Club is our local Girl Reserves, a branch of the Young Women's Christian Association, an international organization. To promote friendship and friendly relations, sponsor service activities, create an interest in world fellowship, and to develop a high moral standard among girls are the aims of this group.

The program for the year was varied. The first semester the club studied the conditions in Czechoslovakia. At one meeting the group studied etiquette and Mrs. Karl Brucker of Lansing was the speaker. In the second semester the club presented a play, "An Uninvited Member," in assembly for the entertainment of the students. Elizabeth Hunt was general chairman of the play and Alice Webb in the role of "Effie Warren" took the lead. A taffy pull and several Bohemians were enjoyed at other times in the year.

The girls from this organization may readily be recognized by their uniforms of the white dress and blue tie; the emblem of their club is the triangle with the initials "G. R." in the center. Miss Gracia Sexton, the new sponsor, guides this group of girls seeking betterment of social relations.

With the hope to create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community, high standards of Christian character—clean speech, clean scholarship, clean athletics, clean living—high goals are set by the Hi-Y boys. This organization is one branch of the Young Men's Christian Association and is a very active part of Eastern High School.

At the Teachers' Convention held in Lansing in October, 1932, the boys acted as doormen. Also as a special event of the fall, the boys held a weiner roast at the "Lion's Den," Pine Lake.

Bi-weekly meetings in the social room were largely given over to talks of interest to boys. J. W. Sexton, Superintendent of Lansing Schools, gave a talk using as his theme, "Peace on earth; goodwill toward men." William Otto, Secretary of the Lansing Chamber of Commerce, gave a discussion on "How Lucky We Are to Live in Lansing." The Varsity Club was the guest of the Hi-Y boys at this meeting. Mr. Russell Gilson, an adviser, told of incidents interesting to boys which occurred on his trip abroad the past summer. Mr. James Hasselman, formerly of Michigan State College, gave a talk on the value of sportsmanship at a meeting when football and cross-country squads were the guests.

Two discussion meetings were held which gave the boys an opportunity for constructive thinking in pressing problems of the day: the repeal of the 18th amendment, freeing liquor violators from prison, and taxation.

Mr. Russell Gilson and Mr. Jake Burnham are the teachers in charge of this club, and the boys appreciate the work done in their behalf.

S. P. Q. R., Senatus Populusque Romanus, is made up of a group of students having completed Latin IV or those still taking Latin who wish to acquire a fuller appreciation of Roman life and literature.

The first meeting of the fall was addressed by an Eastern student, Glenwood, Johns, who told of his interesting trip to the 1932 Olympics. He compared the modern Olympics to the games the Greeks and Romans used to hold. At the same meeting club members enjoyed games of their own including footraces, archery, and discus throw. At Christmas time the club observed the corresponding Roman holiday, the Saturnalia, by the sacrifice of a calf at the altar of the temple and the bestowal of appropriate gifts on the members.

Several projects were undertaken by the club. A committee was appointed to purchase material for Roman dresses and members of the club volunteered to make them. Some club members typed Latin songs and bound them in small books for use in club meetings. As is their custom the club entertained each semester those students who received an "A" in any semester of Latin.

Latin awards in the form of medals are given to those students who graduate "magna cum laude." The Eta Sigma Phi National Honor Society medal of bronze is presented for having completed four years of Latin with high average in the fourth year. The inscription on the face of this medal means "I try to subordinate things to myself, not myself to things," and on the reverse, "For excellence in classic language." The Bimillennium Vergilianum bronze medal is awarded to students who complete three years of Latin, if the third year is Vergil.

Miss Inez E. Cole, head of the Latin department gives valuable and indispensable aid in making this club a success.

The French Club purposes to create an interest in France and the French people under the guidance of Mr. William Sage; membership is open not only to those who are taking French, but also to those interested in France.

A varied program was followed the past year. Among the outside speakers were Mrs. Harold Patton who gave a delightful resume of her trip to Spain and Southern France, and Mr. M. A. Waldo, globe trotter and one-time resident of Europe, who spoke interestingly of his sojourns abroad. Norman Whalen of the club gave a well arranged talk on the manifold interests of France, stressing the less familiar industries outside of Paris. Constance Hoesman who spoke on the inexhaustible subject of "Paris" was particularly entertaining. Two short plays, "L'illustre Dupinche" enacted by Norman Whalen, Donald Hulliberger, and Barden Borst, and "Le Medecin Myctifie" with Constance Hoesman, William MacDonald, and Bethany Tyler as characters were well done and much appreciated. A musical program was held in the little auditorium at which the girls' quartette accompanied by Margaret Knight with her violin and Kenneth Dillinger and Barden Borst with their trumpets entertained.

The Christmas party patterned after one recently held in Paris was a Scavenger Party. Light refreshments and dancing were enjoyed. William MacDonald and James Murphy were responsible for the splendid success of the evening.

The annual French Club assembly was in the form of a rapid trip by auto bus, with William MacDonald as conductor, throughout France, visiting the famous and picturesque places to be found en route. Different phases of French life were displayed interspersed with humorous scenes, music, and adaptation of the celebrated play "Jongluer de Notre Dame." The closed meeting was a picnic arranged for the members and their guests.

Those who are members of La Sociedad Espanola are trying to become better acquainted with Spain and the Spanish people, under the able sponsorship of William B. Anderson, head of the Spanish department.

Club periods are both lively and interesting; cross-word puzzles in Spanish bring to light competitive spirit and oft times the corridor resounds with the music of Spanish songs. Two Spanish newspapers "La Luz" and "El Echo" add greatly to the interest in current Spanish affairs.

Several inspiring talks and reports were given this year and were enthusiastically received. Kenneth Beagle gave a report on "Spanish terms for playing bridge" and Harold Creyts translated a Spanish story, telling of many Christmas customs of Spain. Mr. Anderson explained the great difference between American and Spanish holidays. Mr. H. E. Thane, substitute Spanish teacher, addressed the club in Spanish describing Cuba and telling of his experiences while living there.

On April 13, the club presented a Spanish play "Zargueta" for a general assembly. The leading roles were taken by Spencer Spross, Mortimer Moore, and Melba Chew. The committee in charge of this program was Michael Valentine, chairman, Margaret Knight, and Veronica Peters.

A party was given in the little auditorium on February 25 under the direction of the club adviser. The guests were Miss Gertrude Adriance, Mr. W. R. McIntire, and Mrs. W. B. Anderson. Jig-saw puzzles were included on the program along with dancing and refreshments. Willard Martin was chairman of the evening.

"Der Deutsche Verein" was organized last fall and has had a very successful beginning. The purpose of the club is to acquaint its members with the culture of Germany and to cultivate a sympathetic interest in the German people.

The club has adopted the colors of Germany, red, white, and black; their club pin is engraved with the insignia "4 F" standing for four German words—frisch, fromm, froehlich, and frei, meaning healthy, religious, happy, and free respectively.

This group is attempting to learn a few German words, and reports on German customs, history, and literature are given. German songs are sung and at Christmas time the club learned and sang "Silent Night" in German. They also have the privilege of reading one German newspaper.

Probably a greater aim of the Club is to create such an interest for the students that the teaching of the German language will be added to the curricula of Eastern High School.

Mr. Emil Marklewitz who speaks German fluently and took work at the University of Berlin recently is ably fitted for the sponsorship of this club.

SECOND SEMESTER

To promote students in writing constitutes the purpose of the Scribblers' Circle.

The club secured Mrs. Helen V. Hyer of East Lansing, a recognized poet, who presented twelve rules for a beginner of writing to abide by.

At another meeting Miss Alice Wagenvoort, Assistant Superintendent of Lansing Public Schools, gave a book review of "Russia, My Home" written by Madame Ponafidine. She also talked on her personal contact with Madame Ponafidine when this noted woman came to Lansing to address The Lansing Teachers' Club.

The club was entertained by their adviser, Miss Mildred Toogood, at a Bohemian dinner on March 4. Bridge and jig-saw puzzles provided the entertainment. Favors in the form of patriotic hats were given.

The second semester each club member was responsible for the program of at least one meeting. These rising authors changed their name from the "Writers' Club" to the "Scribbler's Circle." A club pin was chosen engraved with the words "Scribbler's Circle, Eastern."

Club members are encouraged to excel in different forms of writing—poetry, essays, and short stories. Club periods are sometimes taken up by the reading of these works. These writers aim also to enter their work in contests of national importance and to win recognition in the "Harbinger," a small book of poetry published by Lansing Public Schools each year.

The Drama Club of Eastern was organized for those who feel that the natural urge for acting needs expression. Its membership is fifty-five and is open to any interested student. The club was directed the first semester by Miss Helen Benjamin, and in the second semester by Miss Margaret Winters.

Meetings were held once a week in the small auditorium. Committees had charge of the programs and each member served at least once. These meetings consisted of one act plays; discussions of negro, Italian, Irish, and other dialects; interpretative reading, study of make-up, diction, and gesture. Two talks were heard which the club greatly enjoyed. Professor E. S. King of Michigan State College addressed this group on "Dramatics." Miss Beulah Isles, children's librarian from the Public Library, gave an interesting discussion on "Story Telling."

The club presented plays for any organization desiring short entertainment. This was a new plan instituted by the members. At the Christmas season these young actors and actresses entertained the parents and teachers with the play "Christmas Carol" by Charles Dickens. Other projects undertaken by the club were an assembly program and participation in the City Dramatic Tournament, winning second place with the play, "The Calf That Laid the Golden Eggs."

The club pays due thanks to Miss Benjamin and Miss Winters for the untiring effort put forth in their behalf.

SECOND SEMESTER

Last September this club reorganized with nineteen loyal members and a definite purpose to foster interest in wild life. The club program was immediately commenced with a hike to Looking Glass River.

Mr. H. E. Feeman, the club sponsor, inaugurated a point system whereby he could determine the status of the club members and a list of projects was presented by which a member was able to earn these points. The main ones were the building of bird houses, work in taxidermy, participation in hikes and club programs, functioning on club committees, and special projects approved by the adviser. The point contest extending through the first semester was won by Louis Armstrong with 135 points, second place Robert Burhans with 126, and third Charles Wilcox 105.

Many snow hikes were held to practice tracking. Some of the routes were through Bancroft Park, north of the city, southwest of city towards Eaton Rapids, and Looking Glass River. Skiing parties were held at the home of the adviser and plans for the coming year were discussed.

The second semester found the enlarged club roster anticipating a club-owned cabin. Many suggestions as to location and style were forwarded, and it was finally decided to build a one room, stone cabin along the Looking Glass River. Land was acquired for this purpose and work immediately started. The boys have hauled the stone and gravel which was donated and the cabin has become an almost true realization.

To further the interest of aviation, to provide an opportunity for its members, to gain a knowledge of mechanics, construction, and operation of airplanes and other types of aircraft, to encourage the study of aeronautics and aeronautical engineering is the wide scope taken in by the aim of the Aviation Club.

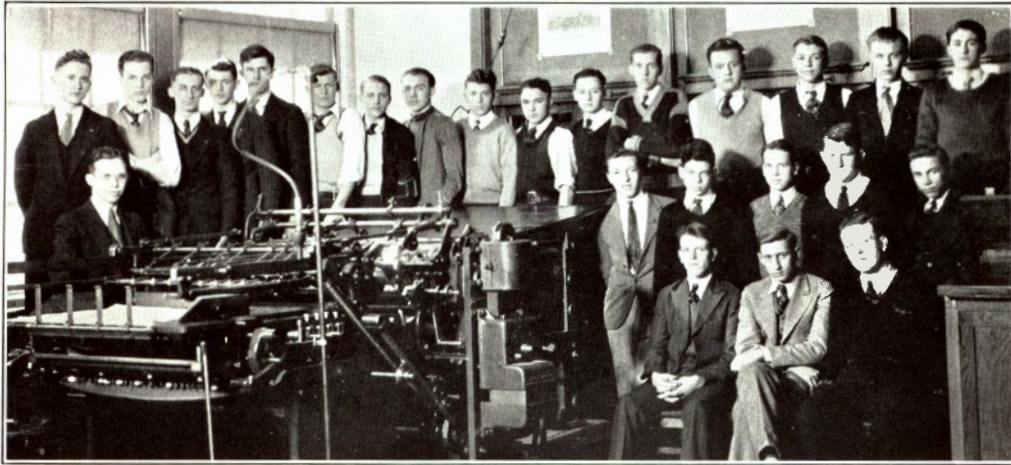

During the first semester the principal of our high school, Dwight H. Rich, talked to the club on air training camps during the World War. At another meeting Mr. Harry R. Wilson, a faculty member, related his World War experiences in England and France.

All club members have had the good fortune to take at least one ride in an airplane at some time or other.

In the second semester the club arranged to have their picture taken at the Lansing Airport. A very interesting meeting was the one at which the club secured for their speaker Mr. C. B. VanKirk, formerly with the United States air corps in Honolulu, and now connected with the Abrams Aerial Survey of Lansing. He gave a talk on his aerial duties in the Hawaiian Islands.

The club made their annual trip to Detroit in the spring to view the different models of airplanes displayed at the National Aircraft Show.

Mr. O. Flory, the club adviser, does much toward holding the continued enthusiasm in the club.

The Advanced Printers under the direction of Mr. E. L. Courtney aim to promote interest in high school printing, to learn how a better class of printing is acquired by other print shops of the city, and to accomplish better work in the school shop. Boys must have had at least two semesters of printing before they are eligible for this group.

As a special project the club printed the program for the 1932 Central-Eastern football game and from the proceeds gave fifty dollars toward the athletic fund. At the Christmas season a contribution was made to the Red Stocking Fund. During the first week after Christmas vacation the boys displayed a most interesting and decidedly educational printing exhibit in the main foyer. Lithographing, offset lithographing, roto-gravure, stereotyped plates and mats were shown.

Several very profitable and educational trips have been taken to concerns of this city such as the Hallenbeck Printing Company, the State Journal, Franklin DeKleine Printing Company, Lansing Typesetting Company, Lansing Colorplate Company, and Wagenvoord Book Binding Company.

Two talks were enthusiastically received by the club members. Mr. Fred Cook of Lansing Typesetting Company addressed the boys on the subject of "Getting Yourself a Job." Mr. Andrew Werback of the Lansing Colorplate showed slides and gave a talk on "The Production of Photo Engravings." The physics and the journalism classes were the guests of the Advanced Printers at this meeting.

The Radio Club, one of the most active groups in Eastern High School, maintains its good record under the leadership of Mr. H. R. Wilson. The purpose of the club is to become more familiar with amateur radio and to furnish information for those who want to obtain their operator's license.

Club periods are taken up with the discussion of building receivers and transmitters. Programs have been extended to include matters that pertain to electricity—such as small motors and generators.

Mr. Ralph Williams, owner of station W8AJC in Lansing, talked to the club on the use of crystals in radio. At another meeting with a receiving set in room 1-98 voices of club members were transmitted from other rooms in the school building. This experiment was carried out in five meters—ultra short wave. Each club member is responsible for one special report to be given at club meetings for the benefit of its members. Trips have been taken to the radio station WRDS of the State police at East Lansing. This group also had part in the Extra Curricular Assembly on February 23. They presented the thought reading stunt by the use of microphones.

During the Christmas season the club had a party called "The Hamfest" and as their guests they invited the local amateur radio operators. The evening was spent in games and pleasantries.

SECOND SEMESTER

One of the pioneer clubs of Eastern which has carried on a consistently profitable program is Miss Knevels' History Club. This group was organized to encourage the students in their pursuit of history and the social sciences.

Programs are both entertaining and educational. In October a trip was taken by the club members to Greenfield Village where they viewed several historical buildings; namely, the Chapel of Martha-Mary, and the Old Clinton Inn of the period of 1832. They visited Menlo Park where stands the laboratory of the late Thomas A. Edison, that has been restored by Henry Ford as part of Greenfield Village. The club visited Dearborn Inn, the Wolverine Hotel in Detroit, and also station WJR in the Fisher Building.

During some of the club periods several members of the faculty gave talks. Mr. William Sage gave an interesting discussion concerning the Latin Quarter of Paris and told the tortures people suffered at the hands of the ruling classes. Mr. Russell Gilson recounted numerous interesting and humorous events that occurred on his European trip of the past summer.

At another meeting Roger McIntyre, a club member, gave a talk on Siberia, discussing both social and economic conditions.

The first semester was closed with a progressive Christmas party held at the homes of Kenneth Dillinger, Irene Matthews, and Victor Spagnuolo, club members.

The study of the modes of travel, stimulation of an appreciation of travel, the broadening of geographical viewpoints, and familiarization of the members with the customs of other countries comprise the purposes of the Travel Club sponsored by Miss Lois Manning.

Mr. William Sage, a faculty member, gave a talk called "Mental Snapshots of My European Trip". Mrs. B. D. Niles of Lansing gave an interesting review of her experiences while traveling around the world and her stay in China. Mr. R. C. Leavenworth told of his trip around the world and Mr. M. A. Waldo gave a review of Russia. Marion Wilson, a club member, gave a delightful account of her trip to Yellowstone National Park. Jean Webb gave many interesting and historical facts that she saw on her trip East through New York. Mrs. Clare Johnson, of this city, told of her motor trip East in Washington, Philadelphia, and Baltimore. Mr. T. K. Clark, a faculty member, spoke on his "Impressions of Europe" received on his voyage abroad last summer.

The club had a display in the main foyer at the beginning of the second semester which included posters of France, shoes from China and Japan, scrapbooks of various anticipated or real trips, soap carvings of modes of travel, maps of Paris and of Richard Halliburton's travels.

An assembly program "Cliches" was given with Mr. William Sage and William MacDonald in the leading roles.

The etiquette of travel has been among the topics conscientiously studied during the club periods.

To advertise outside activities, to beautify surroundings, to create an interest in art—these comprise the aims of the "Paint Splashers".

Organized in the fall of 1932, the club immediately went ahead with its program. Club periods were taken up by metal work, leather work, and sketching.

The project of providing appropriate displays for the halls and the library was undertaken by the club and a committee was appointed for this purpose. The displays in the library were especially interesting, including border designs, still life studies, and pictures of the World's Fair. This group also had work displayed at the Board of Education office at different times.

The club took part in the "Extra Curricular Assembly" of February 23. Three members of the club, Howard Stebbins, Max Johnson, and Leslie Hard, gave a chalk talk. Howard Stebbins and Max Johnson furnished the witty dialogue, and Leslie Hard demonstrated his art ability.

On December 22, the club held a Christmas party in the little auditorium. The committee in charge of this event was Helen Parmenter, Vivian Andrews, and Maurice Brower. Gifts from a Christmas tree, bunco, and eats were enjoyed.

The Detroit Institute of Arts and Michigan State College exhibits were also objects of interest to the club. Trips to these places were highlights of the spring.

Miss Cleo Harrison, art teacher, new to the faculty of Eastern High School the past year, sponsors this group of artists and gives enthusiastic supervision.

Students in the commercial course or those who have at least two Commercial credits in the academic course are eligible for the Quaker Business Club, a group organized under the leadership of R. B. Peterman, head of the commercial department. Self improvement in the field of business, and mutual helpfulness are the purposes of this group. The club strives to have talks by professional men and women and to take trips to local concerns, thus gaining knowledge that will be a benefit to them in the business world.

Trips taken during the fall were to the Consumers Power Company and to the Administration Building of the Olds Motor Works. On March 8 of the second semester the club visited the State Journal office and there were liberally informed as to the business transactions of this local newspaper. Another trip that was thoroughly enjoyed by the young business people was the excursion to the Lawrence Baking Company.

Lois Chase, city treasurer, talked to the club about making a personal application for an office position. Mr. Robert Orr, a Lansing business man, addressed the club on his personal contact with business associates and talked on the "Better Business Letter."

Each semester the club aims to have a social meeting. On April 1, a meeting of this type was held in the Social Room; get-acquainted games and light refreshments were enjoyed.

A unique club was organized in Eastern High School solely for the purpose of service to the school and to any organization which desired its trained services. This group was called the Auditorium Club. Club membership is approximately thirty-five and members must maintain an average scholarship of "C". So popular is this club that a waiting list has been formed for students in the "10A" and "11B" classes.

The club members have acted as ushers and doormen at the Senior B plays, "Skidding" and "Minick", the opera, "Naughty Marietta", the faculty play, "The Thirteenth Chair", the Honor Society play, "A Dollar Down", P. T. A. meetings, and the Senior Day programs for Eastern.

The most attractive outside function at which the club services were used was the Michigan State College Opera, "Orpheus". It was the outstanding entertainment of the year. Other out of school functions were the Resurrection School play and Civic Orchestra Concerts.

One very enjoyable club hour was given over to a talk by Mr. R. C. Leavenworth who gave an illustrated lecture about his tour around the world. Other club hours were devoted to auditorium plans, study of staging production, and games.

A trip was taken in the late spring to Detroit where the club visited the historic Greenfield Village, radio station WWJ, and other points of interest. Mr. Nelson Van Liere, the adviser, was the sponsor of the trip.

SECOND SEMESTER

A group of camera enthusiasts formed a club last semester to promote interest in photography. This group worked in collaboration with the Lantern Staff to get snapshots for the school life section of the book.

Snapshots have been taken of the characters in the Senior B plays "Skidding" and "Minick," the opera "Naughty Marietta", the different football games, games played in the social room at the noon hour, various members of the faculty, and of Vice-President Curtis when he visited Lansing last October.

They secured as their speaker on several occasions Mr. M. F. Larner, a commercial photographer of this city. One talk, "Use of Chemicals in Developing", was especially remembered.

The club visited the developing and printing laboratories of Linn's Camera Shop and the photography laboratories of Michigan State College.

In their regular club meetings and meetings in the evening members take turns in developing and printing films which have been taken by them. As a club project, the boys are building an enlarger for their own use.

Mr. Kenneth Clark, the club adviser, enjoys the work with this group of boys because he is a camera fan himself.

ADMINISTRATION

The Administration Building is the keynote and model of all modern buildings of the Fair; so the students of Eastern consider their splendid building, and its faculty, the lodestar for all activities of modern life.

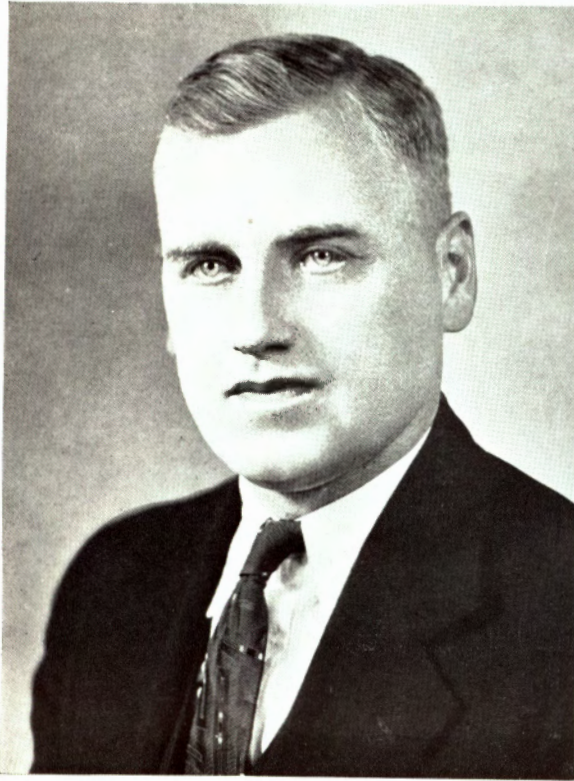

ADMINISTRATION

DARREI DE FAY

MAURINE KRIEGER

DWIGHT H. RICH, PRINCIPAL

Every school must have a leader: a man or woman who understands life, who is sympathetic and yet firm, who is a stern judge, yet just. Eastern High School has found in its leader a man who possesses all these qualities, and more. He is a clean sportsman and has instilled in our student body that attitude which makes us winners in the full sense of the word. Under his wise and good counsel we have become leaders in scholarship, athletics, music, and all outside activities in which we are interested. We have done our best and truly tried to co-operate with our faculty and advisers, not because we are exceptional, but because we have been taught that it is right.

In appreciation for these things that make our Lansing Eastern High School the best school in the world to us, we wish to thank Dwight H. Rich, our principal.

A SENIOR.

FAYE BAUMGARDNER, ASSISTANT PRINCIPAL

Education means learning how to live, with yourself and with others—not tomorrow but today. To acquire this education, the student must have more than the scholarship phase of schooling, he must have an all round development.

For the Eastern girl, whether she realizes it or not, the Girls' League is a big factor in the all round development process. Through its programs and activities the girl has the opportunity to seek to attain higher standards of character, of service, of scholarship and of health. Through the League she gains knowledge of social usages and standards; she broadens her circle of acquaintances and friends; she learns how to use leisure time creatively; she increases her knowledge of vocations.

The Eastern pupils who have availed themselves of the opportunity of participating in the club, athletic, and social activities have realized the values which the future holds for such a well rounded program.

GEORGE E. CHADWICK, DEAN OF BOYS

Vocational guidance in Eastern High School means the giving of advice, knowledge, or experience tending toward useful and helpful training for a vocation. The term "vocation" as we use it means a job, a position, a business, a profession, a career; that is, a life's work pleasing to the worker and of service to the community.

In our work with and for the high school pupil we do not contemplate the determination of a vocation for anyone. We try to leave the will of the boy or girl free and untrammelled. The vocation is to us a calling—the response to a voice within urging him or her toward a goal. This form of vocational guidance is not new. It has existed ever since there have been teachers or leaders. The true teacher or leader of youth desires education to be specific rather than ambiguous. With this thought in mind we approach you of Eastern High School—the men and women of tomorrow.

GEORGE E. CHADWICK.

ADMINISTRATION

The smoothness with which the machinery of government runs at Eastern may be attributed to efficient management by the principal, and the aid of a co-operative faculty. Through their influence and willingness to help, each student is given a chance to make a success, to uphold the high standards of Eastern, and to become finer young men and young women.

There are three courses from which a student has the opportunity to choose: academic, commercial, and industrial.

The academic course is designed as a preparation for college entrance; thus certain subjects are required. English acquaints the student with his own language, also with the customs and habits of his people. Its course contains grammar, American and English literature, dramatics, public speaking, modern world literature, composition, creative writing, and journalism. Three foreign languages are taught in Eastern: Latin, the foundation of all language study; Spanish, the language of its native land and South America; French, the voice of France. Social Science offers World History, the study of ancient periods; United States History, the beginning and rise of the United States; Economics, dealing with industry and finance; and Civic-Sociology which considers the social problems of civilization. To complete a real education, some branch of mathematics and science should be included. The former gives instruction in algebra, geometry, solid geometry, and trigonometry, while the branches of science are physics, chemistry, biology, and physiology. Music and art play a definite part in developing Eastern's aesthetic sense. The history and appreciation of art are given, also work in drawing, painting, and commercial design. Music appeals to many students through the boys' and girls' band, the glee club,

There are various courses in cooking which deal with food and its preparation. In Household Art, the choice of proper clothing as well as the actual making of garments is stressed. The physical welfare of the student body is greatly benefited by the work in gymnasium classes where calisthenics and swimming instruction are given, and games played. It is through the Physical Training Department that intramural sports are carried on.

In the business world today, only the best and skilled workers are chosen for the position. Thus it is that the commercial department aims to send out its students fitted to become self-reliant business men and women. The subjects offered in the commercial line are bookkeeping, commercial arithmetic, commercial geography, typewriting, stenography, commercial law, sales-manship, commercial English, and office practice. The students generally elect office practice in their senior year, for it gives the final polish to their entire program and prepares them to enter the business world.

The fundamental principles of trade are taught in the industrial course. By the use of the annex, which houses valuable shop equipment, the boys learn to operate and use these different pieces of machinery. The subjects taught in this course are industrial English, drafting, mathematics, trade technology, and science.

Through these three courses, a student at Eastern has every opportunity to gain a good education.

unusual advantages for those who are aware of future conditions and the necessity for business training.

We feature secretarial training concluding with court reporting.

The ideal training for a young man who has graduated from high school will be found in our C. P. A. (preparatory) course. We use the Walton System of Higher Accounting which is concluded with 7 volumes of Law. New classes will be organized the first Monday of each month.

This school is approved by the State Department of Public Instruction and meets the most rigid requirements of the National Association of Accredited Commercial Schools.

Hew to the line

The thoughtful man who first said: "Hew to the line—let the chips fall where they may," was probably possessed of more-than-ordinary determination. History doesn't tell how far along to Success he traveled, but it is a safe wager that he got there.

Hewing to the line—determination—is still a sage bit of advice. Determination breaks down all barriers, and recognizes no boundaries to the fulfillment of individual ideals and the achievement of individual goals.

Good luck.

A Message to "Grads and Under Grads"

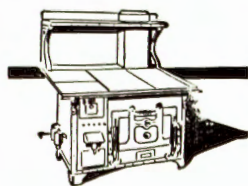

We at Motor Wheel truly appreciate the opportunity to be thus represented in The Lantern for 1933. This printed record of scholastic activity and achievement is a splendid tradition and we are proud that it carries our message. To the graduates and undergraduates of "Eastern" we extend best wishes for continued success in school and out.

Some day you will have a home of your own—a home entirely in keeping with your own progressive spirit—a home reflecting the magic of modern science in its every feature. Naturally, there'll be no place in this home for the dirt and drudgery of the coal bin and the ash pile . . . a modern MW Oil Burning

Weather Control Unit will eliminate all of that. You'll probably insist on an MW automatic oil burning Water Heater too—and an MW oil burning cooking range for your kitchen. Finally, of course, that trim, new car in your garage will be equipped with MW Wheels, recognized everywhere as the finest made.

LANTERN

THE CAR WITHOUT A GEAR SHIFT LEVER

REO SELF-SHIFTER

Makes Automobile History!

CAR THAT SHIFTS FOR ITSELF IS NATIONAL SENSATION

● Reo Motor Car Company presents the REO SELF-SHIFTER—greatest automotive advance since the self-starter displaced the hand-crank.

The car without a gear shift lever! The car that shifts for itself!

PROVED BY TEST

The SELF-SHIFTER is simple in operation—thoroughly tested, utterly foolproof. You can drive for hours if you wish, without once touching the clutch pedal or shifting gears. There is no shifting to do in the automatic range—because the SELF-SHIFTER does it for you.

In slow traffic, on steep hills, or wherever more power is required, this uncanny device automatically shifts itself back to second—then up to high again as speed increases!

HANDS FREE FOR THE WHEEL

There is nothing for you to do but steer. Your hands are free for the wheel. There is no "stalling" through failure to shift at the proper instant. The SELF-SHIFTER takes care of that.

One can never begin to appreciate all the advantages from a mere recital of the facts. Treat yourself to a ride! Try it at any Reo salesroom.

REO FLYING CLOUD SIX - - - $995

REO-ROYALE EIGHT - - - $1745

SELF-SHIFTER Standard on Reo-Royale. Slight extra cost on Flying Cloud. (Standard Models f.o.b. Lansing, plus tax.)

REO MICHIGAN SALES, 220 N. Grand Avenue - Phone 21421
Lansing, Michigan

Automatically shifts into second wherever more power is required.

Ample room for three passengers in front seat without interference to driving.

To determine forward or reverse speeds, merely touch a selector on the dash.

No stalling in traffic through improper shifting—the Self-Shifter takes care of that.

No danger of stepping into traffic—Gear lever eliminated—Easy exit from either side.

SAVE WITH A NEW CHEVROLET

Save on purchase price • Save on gas and oil

Save on upkeep

ANNOUNCING THE NEW TOWN SEDAN

The Chevrolet Master Six Town Sedan, smartest, most colorful car ever priced at only $545, f. o. b. Flint, Michigan.

"I see this Chevrolet Standard Six is advertised as the lowest-priced six-cylinder closed car."

"Well, at $445, it certainly is a great buy."

"Remember—in the old car, you always wanted the front window open, and I wanted it closed?"

"Yes—thank goodness for this Fisher Ventilation. Now everybody's satisfied."

You'll pay less for a Chevrolet than for any other six-cylinder closed car on the market.

You'll spend less on it for gasoline and oil than you would on any other full-size automobile. You'll also spend less to keep a Chevrolet in first-class mechanical condition.

Then, in addition to saving all this money, think how much better off you'll be in every other way. You'll own a big, comfortable Fisher Body car—a fast, dependable smooth-running six—one of the smartest, most attractive cars on the road today—and the most advanced car ever to appear in the low-price field. SAVE—with a NEW Chevrolet!
