CLASS OF '53 PROPHECY

A look into the future for the class of '53
Shows everyone happy and as busy as can be.
Connie Alf Art Studios, down Florida way
Co-stars with Dianne Bollock, who teaches ballet.
Of dancers there are many, but teachers such a few,
So go to Barb and Bonnie, they'll teach you what to do.
Around the country in music shops,
Sandra's records now rate as tops,
And on 5th Avenue, Carol and Peg are well known,
They now have a modeling school of their own.
Margaret Courser styles costumes for skaters and fans,
While Jacque owns fashion shops just for "madams."
Bob Fox manages theatres to show the latest hit,
And Joyce Boettcher's sweet music is heard from the orchestra pit.
Ketha Larner, the singer, in Hawaii so fair,
Has her eye on Gerry, who is modeling beachwear.
Then from the studios we turn to T. V.
Where Jim Luks is now our biggest M. C.
Paul Hein a comedian, and Don Freeman a bachelor keen,
Consult with Janie Merriott who advertises "Drene."
The Hamilton Travel Agency arranges trips both east and west.
Among their famous world travelers, Linda Myers is the best.
And if you travel T. W. A., imagine your delight,
When you find Elaine Hancock is hostess for the flight.
Among our 53'ers, there are others of renown,
Janet Beurmann is a surgeon in a California town.
Dorothy Nelson is a skater and Bob Laderman a champion fighter too.
While Verna Blalock, Helen, and Betty work with Arthur Godfrey's office crew.
Jim Grieb works at acting, you can see him on the screen,
And in the field of learning, Loretta Hartig is a Dean.
Aletha, who loves foreign languages, interprets for the U. N.
While Marilyn, Phyllis, and Beverly work hard to please their men.
Duane and Sheila for business have a flair
Wayne Wirick and Gloria make an athletic pair.
Jim Shull as gym teacher has Dave Stott for football star.
The fame of Jim Andrews, the actor, is known both near and far.
Judy Fluke is happy at Vassar, the college of her choice,
While Bill DeChelbor studies at a college nearby, trying hard to develop his voice.
Many others stay in dear old Holt and work from day to day,
George Dunivon has a car sales, which brings the best of pay.
Gary and Dick are mechanics, while Ken sells furniture fine.
LaRue has a T. V. shop to help pass the time.
Dick Clever has won many prizes for his fine photography.
While Gene and Ron joined the Navy, and sailed away to sea.
And in the field of service, the last but by far the best,
Are Don Jackson and Dick Knowles who are ministers to the rest.
So ends our class prophecy, we hope your dreams come true
And may you find success in everything you do.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

As we turn back through the pages of history of our dear school we come upon a group of shy little children beginning their first years at school. This is the year of 1940. Of this shy little group we have remaining the following eighteen seniors: Joyce Boettcher, Richard Clever, Jacque Corser, Beverly Darrow, Bill DeChelbor, Elaine Hancock, Marilyn Miller, Bonnie Helcer, Helen Holz, Donald Jackson, Aletha King, Richard Knowles, Gerald Merriott, Richard Rodocker, Sheila Shepard, Pat Watters, and Wayne Wirick.

In 1941, this shy little group moved to the first grade where they were welcomed by three new classmates; Barbara Howard, Jim Grieb and Jim Shull. We lost Bonnie Helcer as she went to Phillips School for her first grade school days. Carol Dyer and Diane Bollock were new faces in the second grade. Linda Myers joined us in our fifth grade year and we lost Barbara and Diane. Janet Beurmann, George Dunivon, Judy Fluke, Robert Laderman, Dorothy Nelson, Betty Rummins were the new members in the sixth grade with Diane also rejoining the class. Barbara Howard returned from Kentucky to join us in the seventh grade. New arrivals in the eighth grade were Gene Benson, Bob Fox, Don Freeman, Kenneth Hays, Phyllis Oakley, Duane Ranshaw and Dave Stott. As we entered our Freshman year, Connie Alf, Verna Blalock, Keith Hamilton, Loretta Hartig, Bonnie Helcer, Ketha Lerner, James Luks, Sandra Morrison, Gloria Sweet, and LaRue Welch were added to the class roll.

As the years rolled by we found ourselves in our first year of High School, where we gained two members, Ron Helferich and Margaret Corser, but we also lost Diane Bollock again. Our class roll was again increased in the Junior year with Paul Hein and Janie Merriott. Also Diane Bollock returned to finish her junior and senior year.

As February rolled around in our Junior year, we become truly excited and energetic because the time had come when we were to have a chance to display our acting ability. The play "Cheaper By the Dozen," having been chosen, the cast commenced to work diligently under the able directing of Mrs. Vener to perfect their parts in preparation for the great performance. About the first of May we remembered that we, as Juniors, had to present a Junior-Senior Prom. Using "Moonlight and Roses" as our theme and Gary Cutler as an orchestra, the night was one that will long be remembered.

As September came around we realized the full fact that we were now seniors and we knew our last year in the dear old school was to come to close in just nine short months. In this year we gained three new class members: James Andrews, Gary Booher, and Peggy Underhill. For our class officers we elected Dave Stott, president; Jim Luks, vice-president; Marilyn Miller Higbie, secretary; Barbara Howard, treasurer, Mrs. Raess, Mr. Smith, and Mr. Vorce were our senior class advisors. Mrs. Raess left us in December and, Mrs. Ellis became our class advisor. With the year half over we really began to exert ourselves and to try to expand our treasury, which was really in need of expansion if we were to have a senior trip. Of course the usual number of regular activities helped in the treasury department, but for extra money we tackled many projects which included selling Johnson's candy, greeting cards, a card party, magazines, and our senior play which was entitled "Her Emergency Husband". Our class treasury, now under lock and key had really increased and we began to look forward eagerly to a day not too hence when we would leave old Holt High for one glorious week in New York City.

Although we now look with eagerness toward the day when we shall walk with dignity up the last few steps and receive our diplomas, then truly a part of the wide world, we are still a little sad and lonesome for the happy school days we know we shall never again experience.

The Holt Rams finished second place in the Ingham County League standings. They had a season record of thirteen wins and three losses. Two of these victories were over Capital Credit teams: Mason, and Eaton Rapids. The highlight of the 1952-53 season was the Rams' 67 to 59 victory over Mason. This marked the second year in a row that Holt has dumped the Bulldogs. The scoring of DeChelbor, Phillips, Stott, and the rebounding of Merriott and Rodocker, payed off as Holt came up with a well deserved victory.

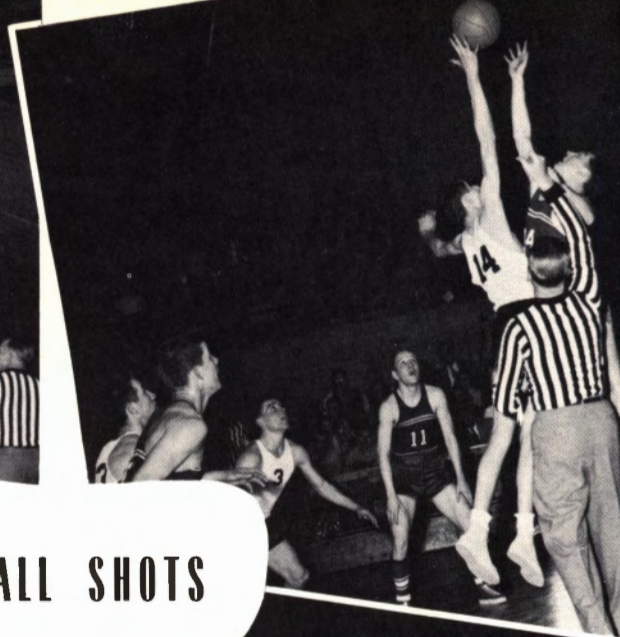

The Rams were eliminated in their first game in the district tournament.

The '53 baseball season saw Holt with one of the strongest teams in the Ingham County League history. Holt in this year, captured their first county league trophy while romping over their opponents to gain a 7 win and no loss record. Baseball was the only title which Holt held in their last year in the league.

Haslett, who had been undefeated in all sports in the 1952-1953 season felt Holt's wrath as they tasted their first league defeat 7-4.

Holt's team batting average in seven games was .302.

The Holt team will lose three seniors. These boys are Bill De Chelbor, Gerald Merriott, and Don Freeman.

The squad loses five seniors this year, but will have two freshman, a sophomore and junior back next season.

The group had a weekly meetings in which they set up their constitution and developed a points system for awards.

During the winter there was a bowling league which met once every two weeks. Junior and senior basketball teams were organized, but since they belonged to no league only two games were played. Dewitt seniors won both of these. The senior softball team met Dewitt again in two games this spring, being defeated in each game. A dance club was developed this spring. It met once a week to learn new steps and practice old ones. Boys were invited to one meeting for a square dance evening. Noon hour games were played in softball and volley ball between teams from the seventh through twelfth grades.
