WALT, THE POPULAR and successful coach (it isn't easy to be both!) had such a small head that Jack Heppinstall couldn't find a hat for him in his big supply. Charlie Bachman was coaching Michigan State at the time and after taking a look at Walt in scrimmages, even though Walt's hat kept falling down over his eyes and blinding him part of the time, he decided he wanted him on his team.

So they called up Jay Wyatt at Wilson's in Chicago (Jay died just the other day, by the way) and they made Walt up a special helmet. I don't remember the size, but I know it was something like 6⅛.

When the hat got there Walt began increasing his yardage in scrimmage runs, just as Charlie felt sure he would. The Champ, for that's the name the little guy came to bear, won letters three years handrunning, and wound up as team captain in 1942.

For the lack of a nail a battle was lost and Bachman almost lost a fine halfback because there wasn't a hat small enough for him in the Spartan stockroom.

"WALT" PAWLOWSKI

WE DEDICATE . . .

Admired, respected and loved by the students and faculty of Holt Senior High School, "Walt" Pawlowski has found, in his successful years as coach and teacher, the rewards which come only to the true teacher.

His love of profession is equalled only by his sincere interest in young people. Those who have been under his coaching and instruction have set him high in their esteem.

Because of his fine qualities in leadership and guidance we dedicate to him, the 1961 Rampages.
