HOLT HIGH SCHOOL, HOLT, MICHIGAN 1985

FACES OF NATURE . . .

*An ocean oasis,
Where waves smack against a rocky shore,
And gulls cry out in joy.
Where land and water become one,
And marine life grows in abundance;
Where SPARKLING WATER BECOMES A REFRESHING ESCAPE.*

1. HIDEAWAY! This peaceful spot seems to be just the place for some time alone.
2. REFRESHING is the word for tiresome Lana Howell's shower.
3. WATER, I NEED WATER! Varsity player Larry Kingsley takes a break during the 1984 Homecoming game.
4. WHAT A SIGHT! Holt's Valhalla Park gets double takes.
5. SPLISH, SPLASH . . . strokes an anonymous physical education student.
6. GULP, Cheryl Richards taps into Holt's water supply.
7. GETTING WET are a few of the Holt guys.

*Antarctic lands,
Of crystal, icy glaciers,
And SNOWY, FREEZING WINDS.
Where little life exists,
And few dare to venture;
Where a bright sun glares off the huge, white formations.*

1. HUDDLING! Zondra Sickles keeps warm during a Varsity football game.

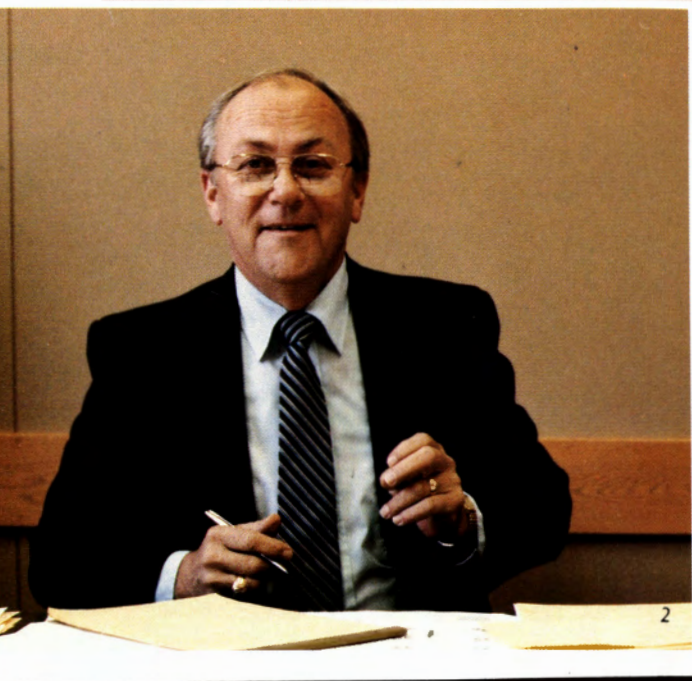

2. EMPTY. The icy lands of 7-11 and Caesars!

3. SNOW, SWEET SNOW!! A beautiful snowfall can take the bitterness out of winter.

4. POOF! Cheryl Fleming throws a snowball in Wendy Middlesworth's face.

5. LONER! Where does a snowman go when the snow melts?

*Snow-capped mountains,
That tower above the land,
Extending from Earth,
And stretching towards the heavens —
Bold SYMBOLS OF STRENGTH,
And power.*

1. WHITE CAPS upon the mountains of Germany.
2. NEW ASSISTANT PRINCIPAL Mr. Bowker sits in the seat of power.
3. A TOWER OF STRENGTH . . . Andrea Zaanglein raises up fellow Varsity Cheerleader Sandy Wear.
4. PUMPING IRON — Kathy Hunt pushes the curling bar in Holt's weightroom.
5. SHOWING "SENIORITY" is Lisa Doerr on her lofty perch.
6. SMILES REIGN from King John Chapman and Queen Staci Foster.

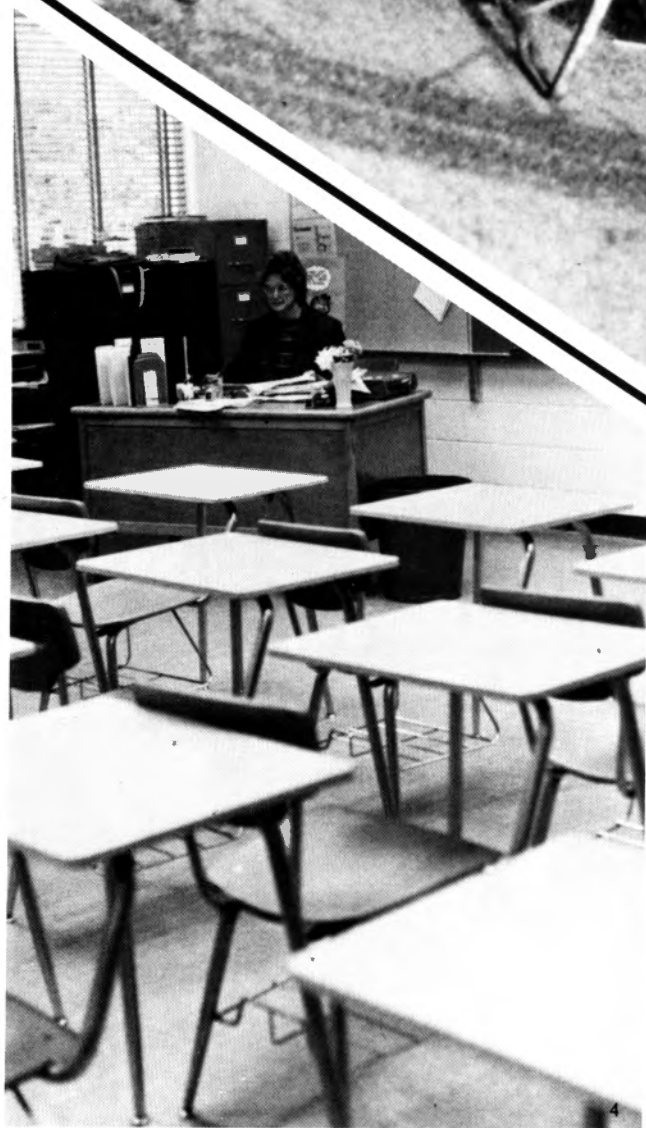

1. ALONE . . . this is the plight of a mascot (Lisa Parks).
2. VALHALLA'S DESERT SANDS are crossed by runners Terry Tatro and Jim Parker.
3. CONCENTRATION. Dan Komm is left to think it all over.
4. DESERTED Mrs. Fleishman corrects papers after the students have left for home.
5. EARLY OR LATE? A vacant hallway is rare in HHS.

*Desert lands,
Where sands whisk across a dry, dusty earth,
Carrying only faded memories of past journeys.
Where the burning sun beats down upon EMPTY
MILES,
And climbing dunes.*

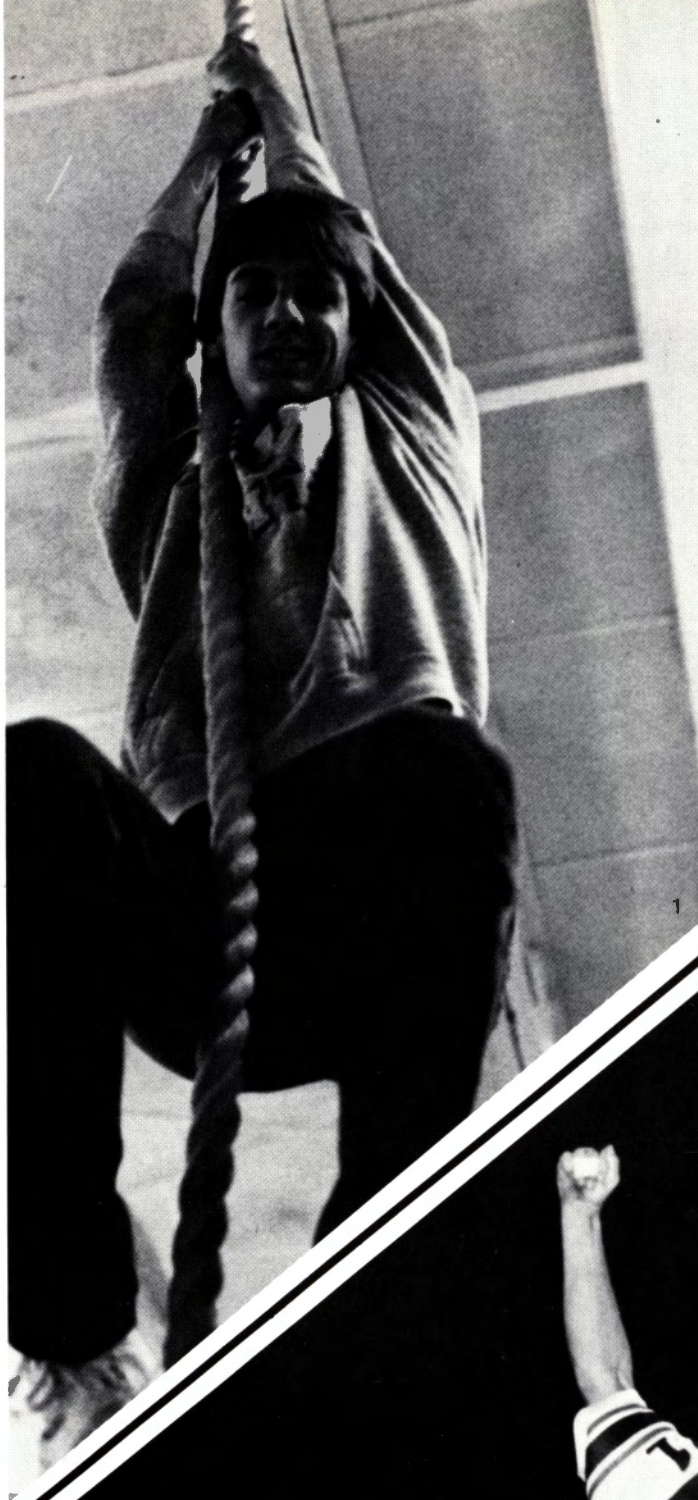

*A quiet country side,
Of grassy flowing fields,
And nearby rushing streams.
Where LIFE IS SIMPLE,
And humble farmers
Live off the rich soil.*

1. THE DULING FARM ... one of the most familiar and well known sights in Holt.
2. SERENITY! The peacefulness of nature.
3. FARMERS! Tammy and Phil Duling pose on their family tractor.
4. NEVER TOO CROWDED on an empty football field.
5. WHEAT FIELDS FOREVER!
6. A LOVE FOR ANIMALS. Senior Janna Whitesides shows off her big baby.

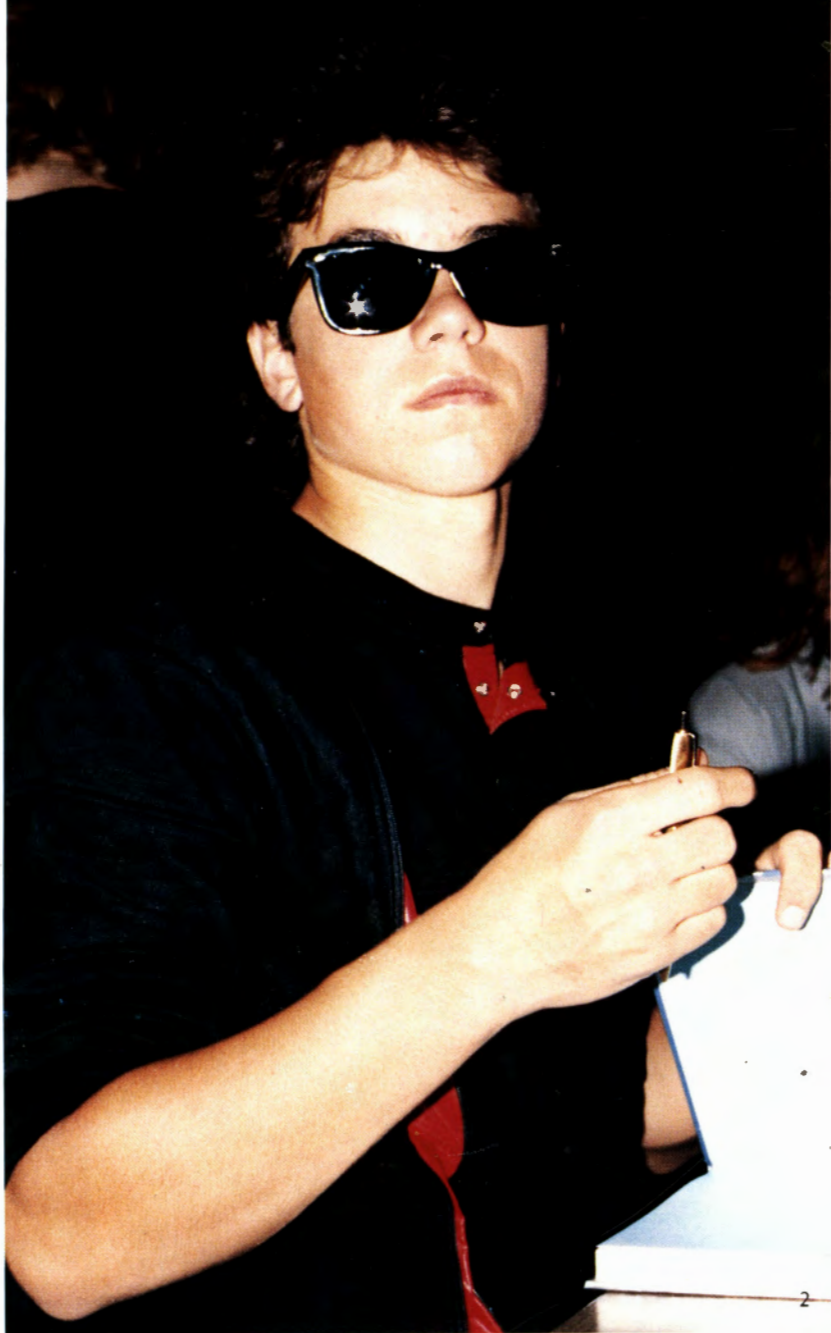

Ominous jungles,
Where vegetation grows thick,
Nurtured by heavy rains,
Where SURVIVAL IS PRIMARY for the creatures,
And death can mean new life.

1. HANGIN' AROUND, Phil Kruger takes on an interesting point of view.
2. LOUD CROWD! The sophomores are learning to get rowdy at the pep assemblies.
3. SURVIVAL! The Junior Varsity Football Team pumps themselves for an exciting game.
4. TANGLED IN THEIR WORK. These fellows happily immerse themselves in their Biology studies.
5. CROWDING IN ON "CHEESE"! Everyone in this group puts their best foot forward.

1. GAB SESSION. Yes, even the guys gossip.
2. RISKY BUSINESS ... Andy Zimmerle wears his sunglasses at night!
3. HOLT ROAD AND SOUTH CEDAR ... a busy intersection in Holt.
4. THE COMMUTER CROWD arrives at the early morning bus stop.
5. LOITERING! Before going on to class, LeeAnn Morgan and Wendy Rich stop for the usual gathering near the drinking fountain.
6. BIGMOBILES take over the students' new parking lot.
7. A RAM FAN CROWD ... who else smiles just for a chance to be in the yearbook?

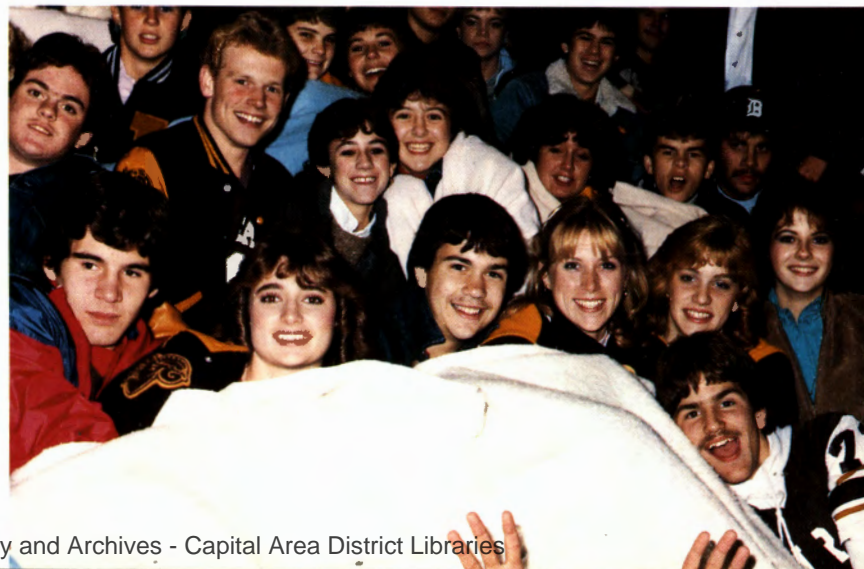

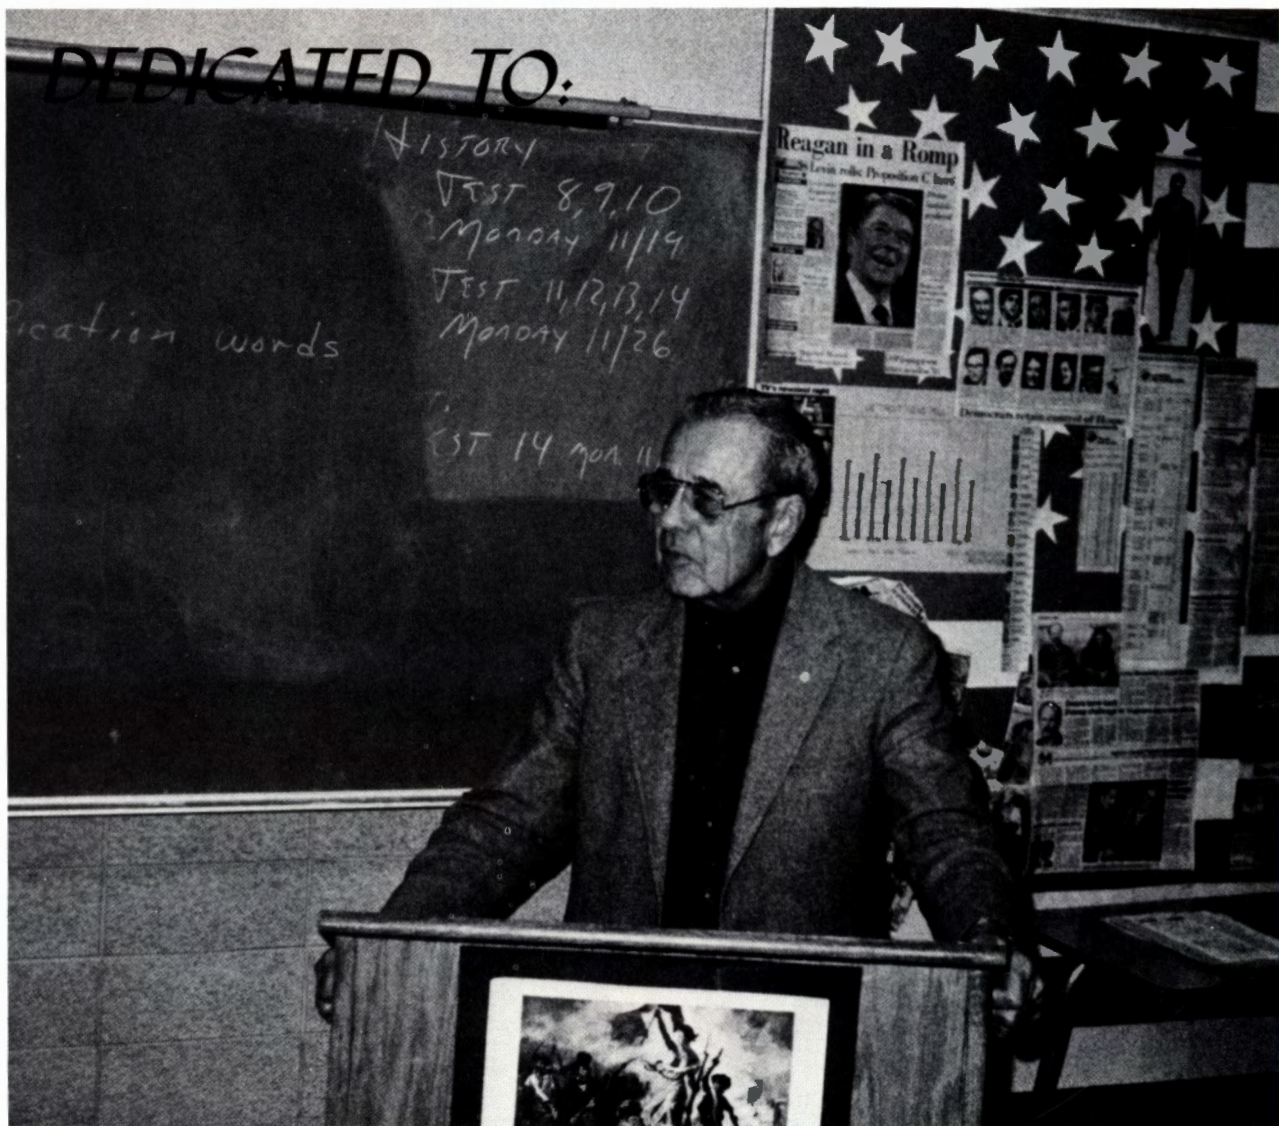

*Busy cities,
In which smog hides the sky,
And sunny days are a rare treat;
Where a DOMINATING MAN constructs buildings,
To avoid harsh weather.*

Mr. Alfred Forche is a dedicated teacher and parent of many years. After 53 years of marriage, four children, eight grandchildren, and four great-grandchildren he is still actively teaching at the age of 78. His son, Timothy Forche said, "He did what he was supposed to do as a parent and in that department I think he was perfect."

Mr. Forche worked his way through Eastern Michigan University and started teaching in Flushing and then Holt. Starting at the time of the depression, Mr. Forche worked on the WPA for the Ingham County Road Commission. During the war he worked at a defense plant in Lansing, and finally he became a chemist at Wyeth Laboratories. He often worked night shifts at the lab so he would be able to pursue his first love, teaching, as a substitute.

Current and former students remember Mr. Forche for his capability to tell a good story, especially about his travels to all 50 states as well as all continents except Antarctica.

"He speaks lots of languages and has been to so many places, I would love to travel like him," said current student Chris Thomas.

"He's cool! He tells real exotic stories, like me, and that's why I like him so much," said current student Adrian Arnold.

"I had him as a seventh grade Math teacher when he taught full time in Holt, 1936-37," said former student Iva Butler.

"I thoroughly enjoyed his teaching and being in his class was a pleasure," said former student Mrs. Alice Buxton.

"I consider him a great influence and help," said former student Mrs. Betty Drier.

*A peaceful paradise,
Where nature is Noticed, accepted, and respected;
Where MAN AND NATURE LIVE TOGETHER,
And help each other —
As it should be!!*

— David Coscarella

1. ALOHA!! Suzy Verlinde and Sheila Long show their junior spirit on Hawaiian Day.

2. SMILES are worth a thousand words from Rhea Bashore and Bob Cotton.

3. IN APPRECIATION . . . this tree was planted in the high school yard — a dedication to Mr. Alton Stine from Dr. and Mrs. Foy.

MY SISTER EILEEN

As the curtain rose and the lights went down, the anticipation for the 1984 fall play continued. This year Mr. Allen, director and organizer of the play, was unfortunately ill, but "the show must go on", so it did!

"My Sister Eileen" rehearsals were tough. Students practiced vigorously to perfect minor details while the crew worked on lighting. Without Mr. Allen to give advice and guidance, rehearsals were difficult at first. Principal Paul Jolly sat in on after school practices; and after a few days, the cast began to pull together.

Senior Terry Tatro expressed his feelings towards the play, "It was an unique experience, not only in learning the lines but working with the cast. I got a chance to become better acquainted with people I wouldn't have otherwise." Under the extreme circumstances the students presented a rewarding play.

1. ADVICE FROM THE BOSS. Director Mr. Allen instructs the cast during the final dress rehearsals.

2. WHAT A LUSH! Stumbling home drunk, Violet's (Carol Dombroske) family and friends gather around her with surprise and concern.

3. ROW 1: T. Tatro, K. Pierce, J. Smith, J. Chapman, T. Dickenson, M. Salisbury, J. Parker, K. Caruss, S. Gensterblume, C. Dombroske, M. Kohnke. ROW 2: B. Pierce, J. Parker, T. Kilvington, C. Shewchuck, D. Schafer, F. Levondowski, C. Smith, C. Smith, J. Bell, K. Maki.

4. IT WILL BE ALRIGHT! Eileen (Teresa Dickenson) comforts her landlord Mr. Appopalous (Jim Parker).

5. THE HEAT IS UNBEARABLE! As Chick Clark (Terry Tatro) first enters the play, he complains of the hot weather.

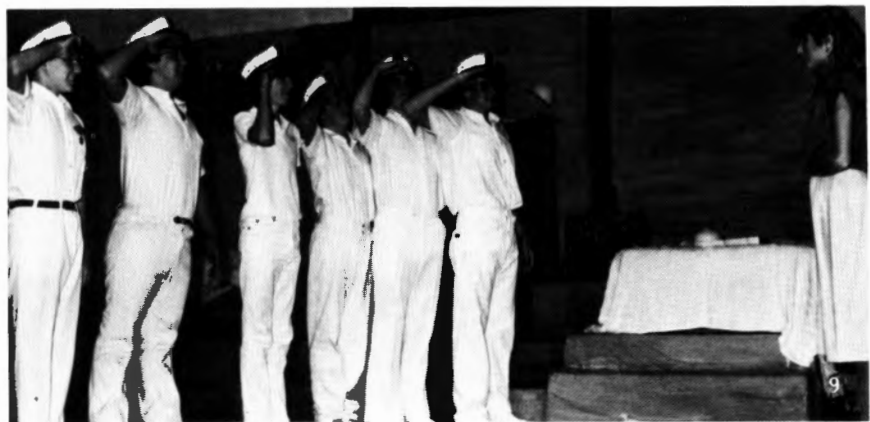

6. HUMAN DISASTER ... Steve Gensterblume better known as the wreck makes an unwelcomed guest of himself.

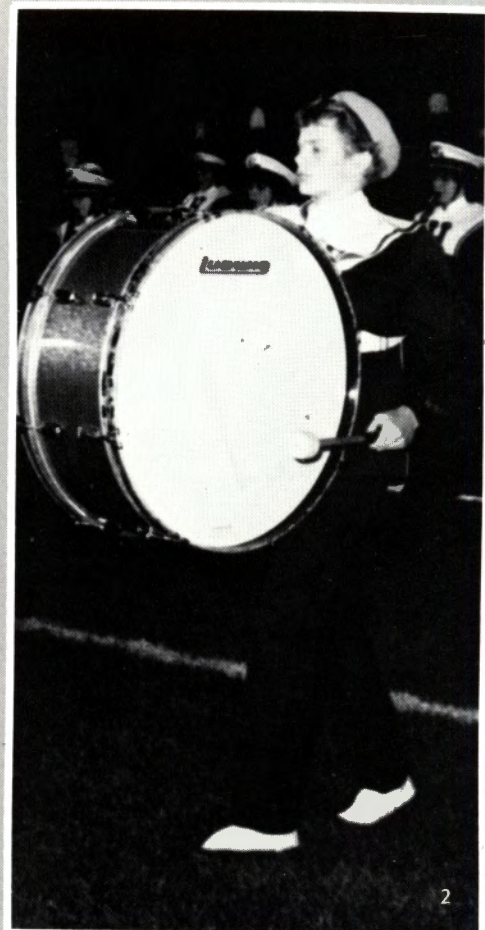

7. CONGRATULATIONS! Hellen and the wreck (Kammy Caruss and Steve Gensterblume) just got married; and Ruth (Jenny Smith) with her father (Mike Kohnke) are leaving the inn to go home.

8. A MOVER'S WORK IS NEVER DONE. He (Frank Levondowski) begins to remove Eileen's and Ruth's furniture, then they decide to stay.

9. SAILORS SALUTE ... to Eileen (Teresa Dickenson) with admiration and affection.

1. MAJORETTE: Tayna Colby. DRUM MAJORS: Jenny Scott and April Yeager. FLAGS: Karen Fitzgerald, Beth Williams, Jenny VanDyke, Michelle Ridley, Wendy Leaf (not pictured: Kelley Sweet).
2. BOOM! BOOM! Third year band member Tom Heller plays the bass drum during the fight song.
3. NEW AT MARCHING is Susan Cioigoi followed by two-year veteran of the band Matt Hooker.
4. LEFT, RIGHT, LEFT! The band marched in the Fall Homecoming Parade to the "Holt Fight Song".
5. TRADITION ... The Holt Band shows its ongoing spirit by the formation of the "H".
6. UP 2, 3, 4 ... Drum Major Jenny Scott directs the band as they play "Hello".
7. MARKING TIME! Chuck Goodrich and David Baker get ready to march into formation at halftime.

THE BIGGER THE BETTER

"Considering the majority of new people, the band really got going!" said Drum Major Jenny Scott. The band was larger this year having 77 members, up from 57. Because of the larger size there were more complex movements and routines. Band Director Gerald Winters said, "The band had very good precision and the sound was big, full and robust."

Keeping the crowds spirited during the 1984 football season called for a very energetic band. Helping out the band was a majorette, junior Tanya Colby, and six flags, junior Wendy Leaf, "We all put together a team effort and it really showed in our routine."

ENCHANTED EVE

An "animated homecoming" was a memorable event for everyone involved. To set the pace on Friday, October 22, students decorated the halls with posters showing great spirit. The day was filled with excitement and anticipation for the upcoming events. A fantastic pep assembly, expressing class rivalry, rounded out the afternoon.

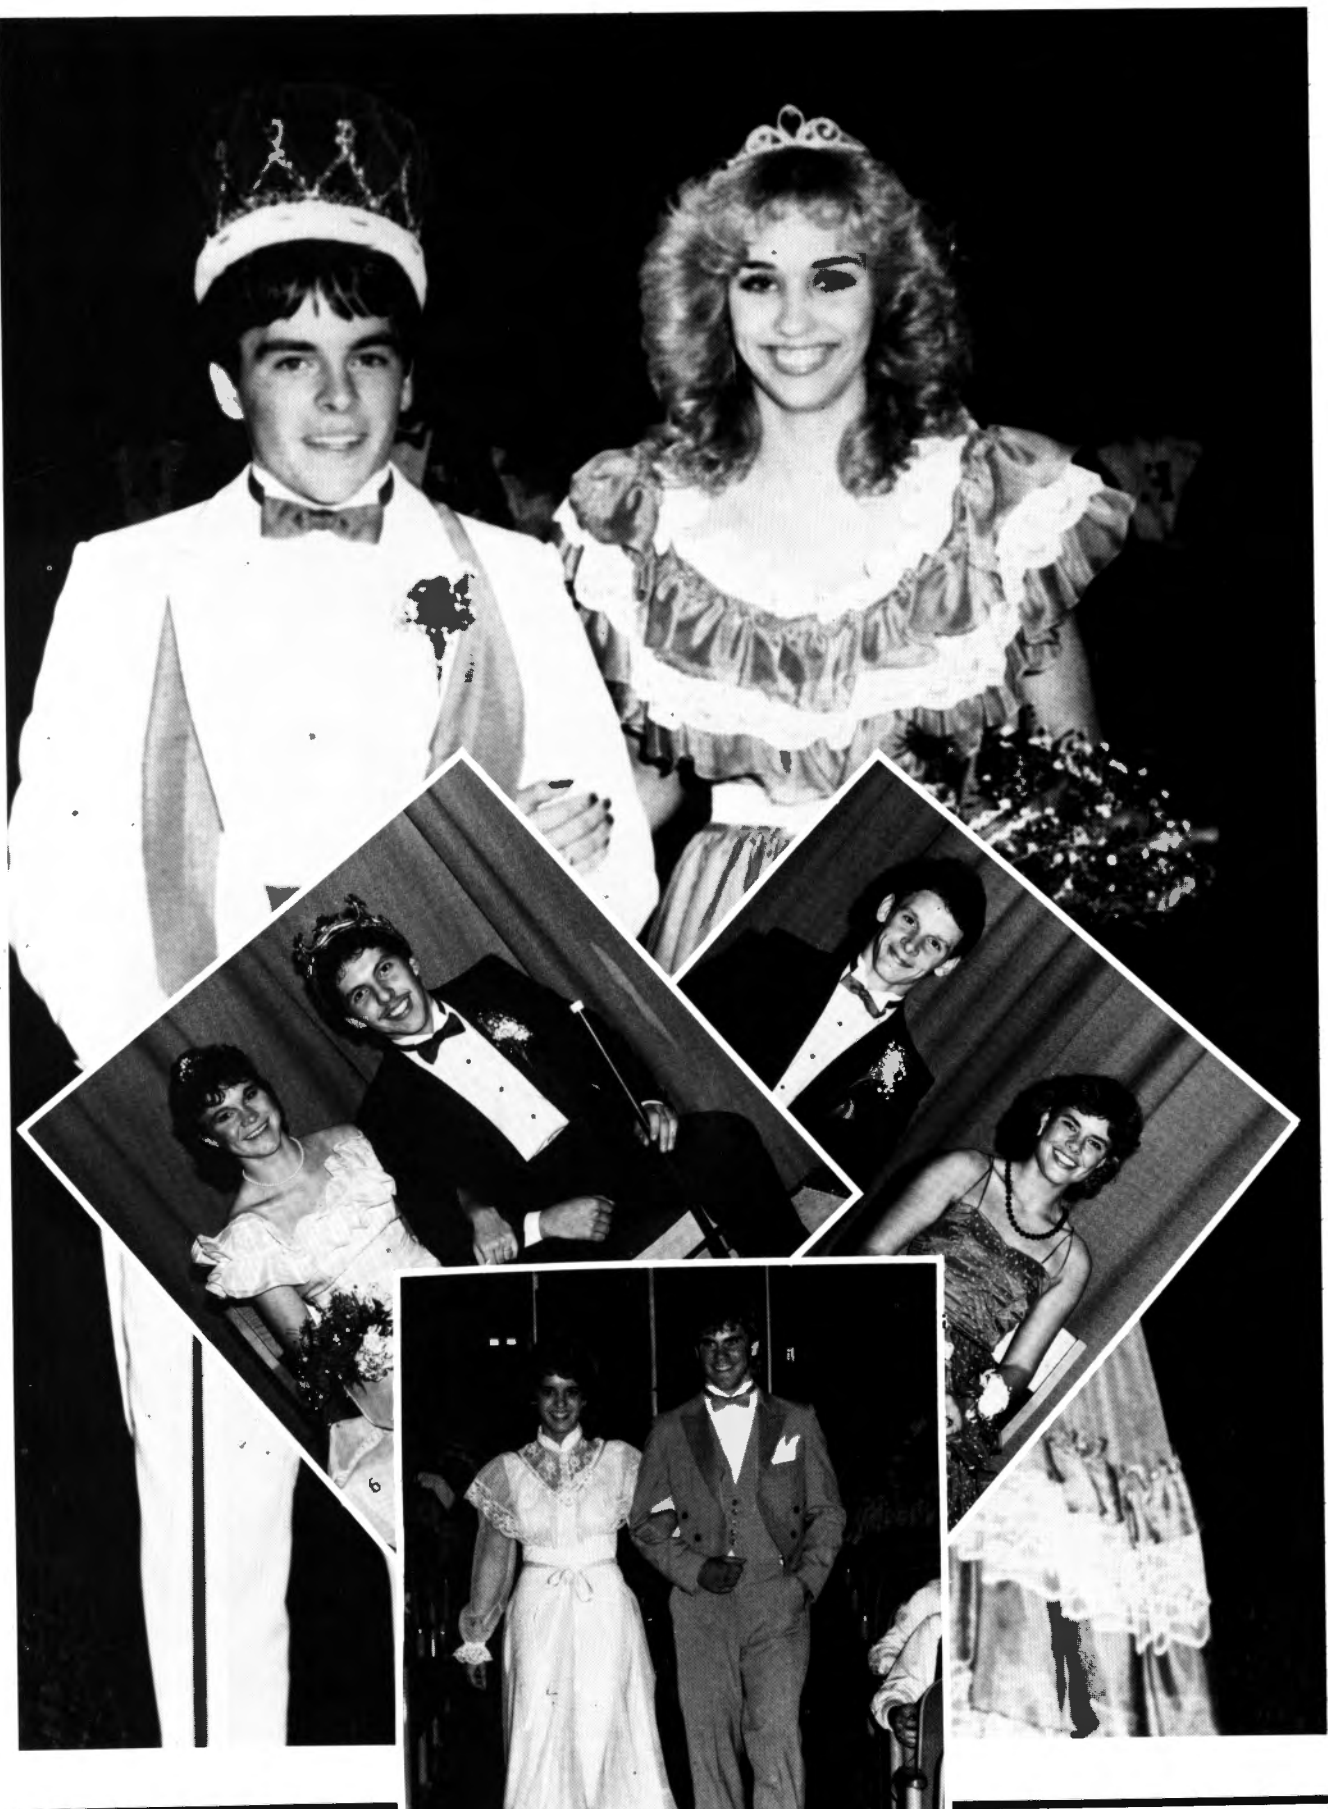

Next on the agenda was the Homecoming parade and the float competition with the Sophomores placing first. The Seniors and Juniors placed respectively.

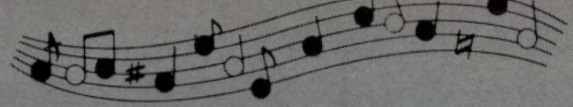

As the evening approached and the moon came out, excitement filled the air. Players came onto the football field and halftime activities peaked with the crowning of the royalty. Holt's worst fears were realized when Eastern beat Holt 19-0. At the dance the Seniors were announced the victors of the Homecoming festivities. To the sound of the Ovid-Elsie Entertainment System, the students danced the night away.

1. I TAW I TAW A PUTTYCAT ... is the Senior's claim.
2. PAC-MAN'VER ... is the theme for the Juniors.
3. SMURFIN' ... the Sophomores depict our favorite blue pal.
4. CELEBRATION ... the number one Seniors elaborately decorate their Homecoming hallway.
5. KING AND QUEEN ... Seniors John Chapman and Staci Foster.
6. PRINCE AND PRINCESS ... Seniors Erik Medina and Lisa Gafner.
7. JUNIOR COURT ... Lewie Taylor and Cheryl Tatro.
8. SOPHOMORE COURT ... Todd Glynn and Dena Bongard.

SINGING FOR AUDIENCES

Perfecting a song and learning the correct notes were not exactly easy. Choir was not the class for a student who wanted to slough off. Many long hours were spent working on one song — especially when the spring musical rolled around.

The group poured their hearts into both a fall and a spring concert, plus a successful rendition of the musical, "Oliver". Juniors Kim Wendt and Connie Corser agreed that the spring concert was the high point of the year. "I believe everyone worked together for a great performance," said Wendt.

Of course, not even teacher Mr. Ron Allen worked his class all the time. Sophomore Sandy Fowler, remembering his cute little stories and jokes said, "Mr. Allen does a great job. He's very talented and we love him lots."

Director Allen has plans for next year. "I hope the choir grows in size and also has more enthusiasm. This is true of the whole school; we need to work together," he said.

1. INTRODUCTIONS ARE IN ORDER. Bruce Schartzner proudly introduces the next song.
2. SHHH! The choir livens up their version of "They're Playing My Song".
3. SPIN YOUR PARTNER! Members of the choir sing and dance their way into the hearts of the audience at the spring concert.

A COMMAND PERFORMANCE

Off to a slow start, the Holt High School Concert Band was ready for the District 8 Festival after weeks of practice. Playing and waiting over an hour, the band was awarded a "2" rating.

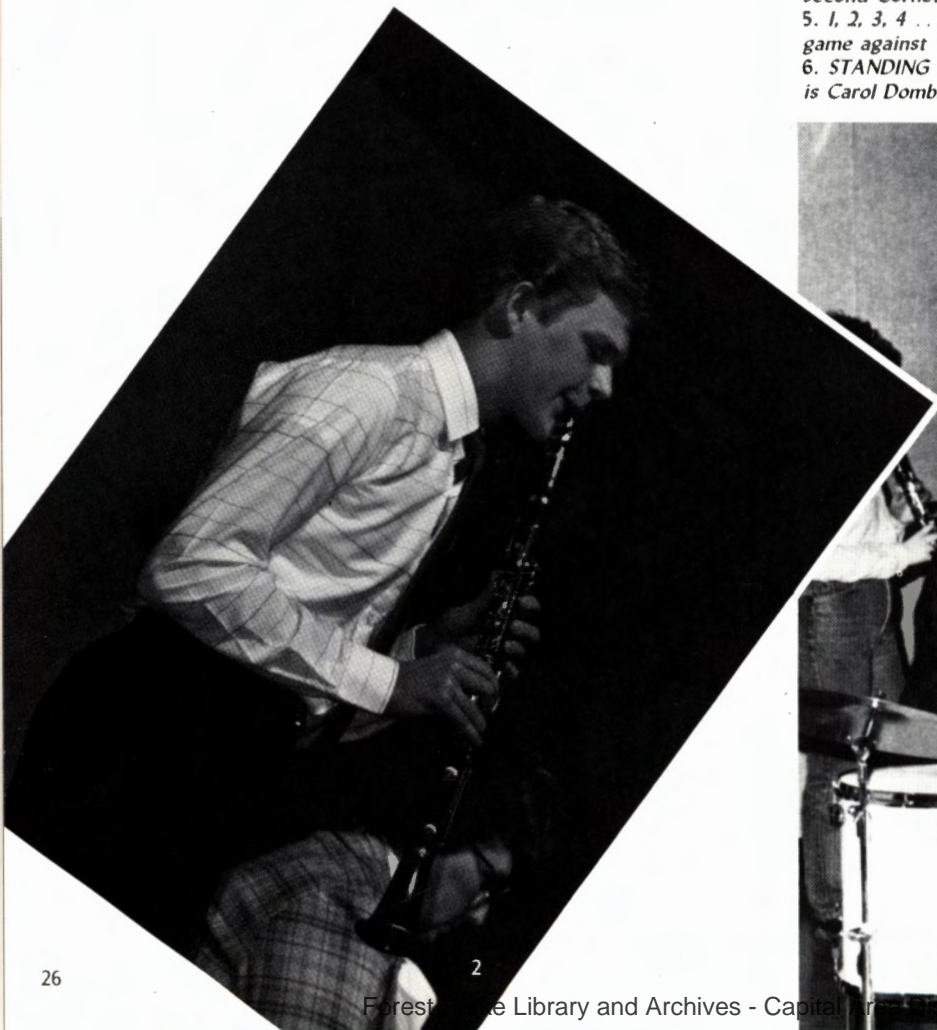

Mr. Winters said, "This years band had some gifted performers, but I think we could have worked a little harder." All in all the band season was a good one, and a lot of people are looking forward to next year. In Solo and Ensemble, senior Tom Heller (clarinet), junior Carol Dombroske (saxaphone) and junior Kim Hill (piano), all received "1s" at both the District and State competitions.

This years band performances included the Christmas, Pop, Lions, and Spring Concerts. They also played at the District Festival, commencement, along with some assemblies.

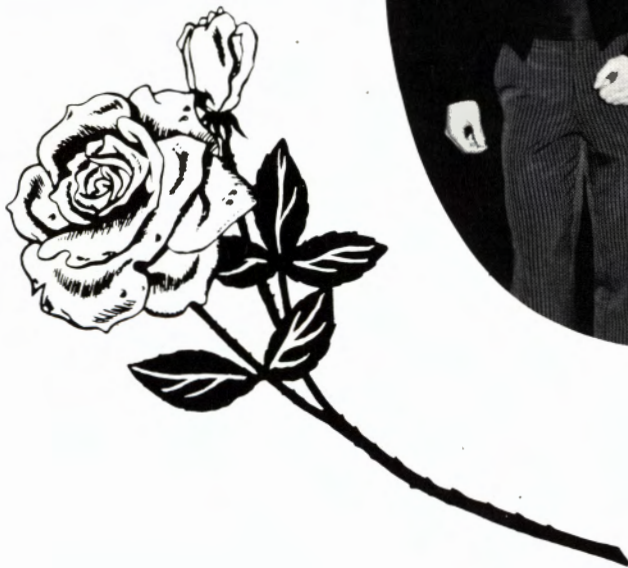

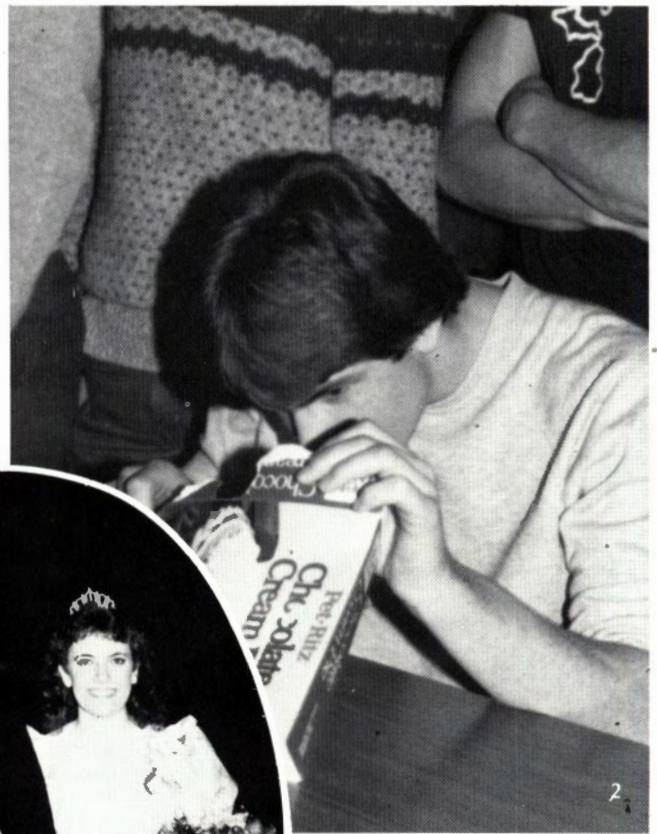

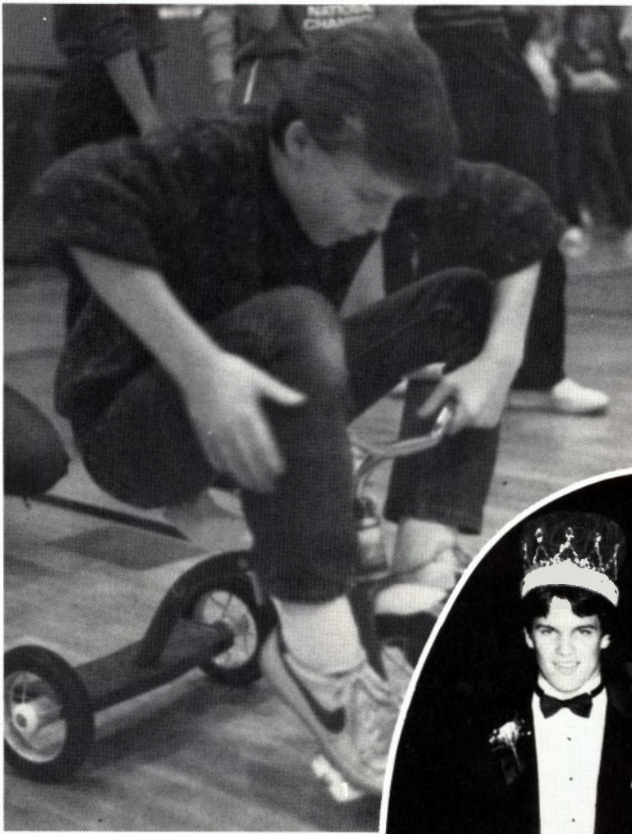

Despite the cut-back on pep assemblies the Holt Pep Band managed to keep the crowds spirits up. Led by Drum Major, senior Jenny Scott, it also played at Holt's Friday night basketball games. Drummer junior David Schafer said, "I really enjoyed playing the drums, it was good experience for me." Band Director, Mr. Winters also played the trombone for the pep band, bringing back some old memories.

1. GIVING IT HIS ALL ... Chuck Goodrich is determined to get the crowd going.
2. PURE TALENT ... First chair clarinet Tom Heller demonstrates his excellence before the Lions Concert crowd.
3. DETERMINED are Brenda Reed and Carol Kirkeeng to perfect "Prelude" by J.S. Bach.
4. CONCENTRATING on "West Side Story" is the first and second Cornet section.
5. 1, 2, 3, 4 ... The pep band performs at Holt's Homecoming game against Waverly.
6. STANDING NERVOUSLY playing her first-rated composition is Carol Dombroske, first chair saxaphone.

1. FANCY FOOTWORK! Scott Tatro gives his best to the Sophomore Class riding a tricycle at the pep assembly relay races.
2. SURPRISE, SURPRISE? Tom Duling surveys what he's gotten himself into by entering the pie eating contest.
3. PICTURE PERFECT. With smiles on their faces, Greg Wilton and Teresa Glynn accept their Homecoming crowns.
4. Y-A-W-N! Jack Wyzywany retreats to his locker for a between-class catnap.

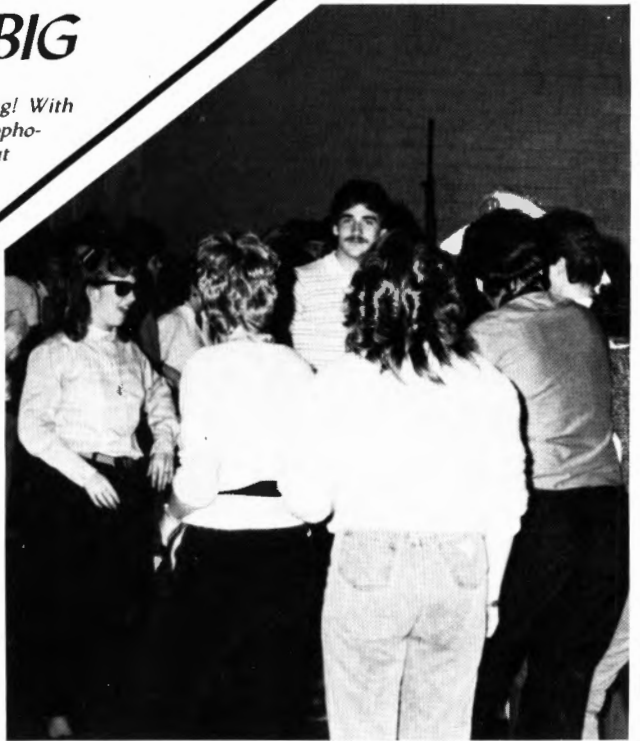

SENIORS . . . MAKIN' IT BIG

February was the month for lots of snow and . . . Winter Homecoming! With movies as the theme, the seniors chose musicals, juniors westerns and sophomores science fiction. The Sophomores won the half-signs category, but the seniors triumphed overall in the pep week competition.

The Homecoming court was introduced between the JV and Varsity basketball games. Teresa Glynn and Greg Wilton were crowned King and Queen while the rest of the senior court members looked on.

With total support from the "Ram fans", Bobby Simmons' Varsity squad handed the Waverly Warriors a 62-53 loss. The JV squad went down in defeat, but only after engaging in a tough, close battle.

The dance, accompanied by a light show, was a successful ending to the homecoming package.

FINE ARTS DAY FILLS MIDDLE SCHOOL

With teacher cooperation from the "new" seventh grade music and art curriculum and the longstanding high school fine arts program, Holt's Annual Fine Arts Day was a special one.

The event was hosted by Hope Middle School where the old gym and commons were used for musical performances and a main hallway was filled with 660 exhibited artworks and some student demonstrations. The "talent exhibition" was held Sunday afternoon April 21 from 3-5 p.m. The successful turnout showed that there still was an audience for creativity in Holt.

Participants were kindergarten through 12th grade Holt students, including the sixth grade band, the junior high choir, solo and ensemble groups and art exhibits.

Mr. Dorothy Anderson, High School Fine Arts Chairperson, explained, "Everyone has been so impressed with the growth of the Middle School Fine Arts Program, that we decided to show it off. Holt can be very proud of it's creative students."

THE MOUSETRAP

Lights, props, action. The 1985 mystery play, "The Mousetrap" was a success. Director Ron Allen who has been doing plays since 1976 noted, "It was very well done, but too bad more people didn't see it."

Because the cast was small, Mr. Allen double-casted several parts, allowing more students to participate in the play. Anne Jensen and April Reid, David Schafer and Chris Shewchuck, and Craig Smith and Jon Dorosk all shared major rolls. "Being double-casted is really kind of neat, because you can sit back and watch how the other person portrays the same character," said junior David Schafer.

Rehearsals were two and three times a week for about two hours. During that time the cast members learned to rely on each other to learn the lines of a very complex plot. Senior Steve Gensterblum, who has been in plays since his sophomore year said, "Putting a show on is hard work ... you take a group of students and make them into quality actors and actresses by giving them as much encouragement as possible."

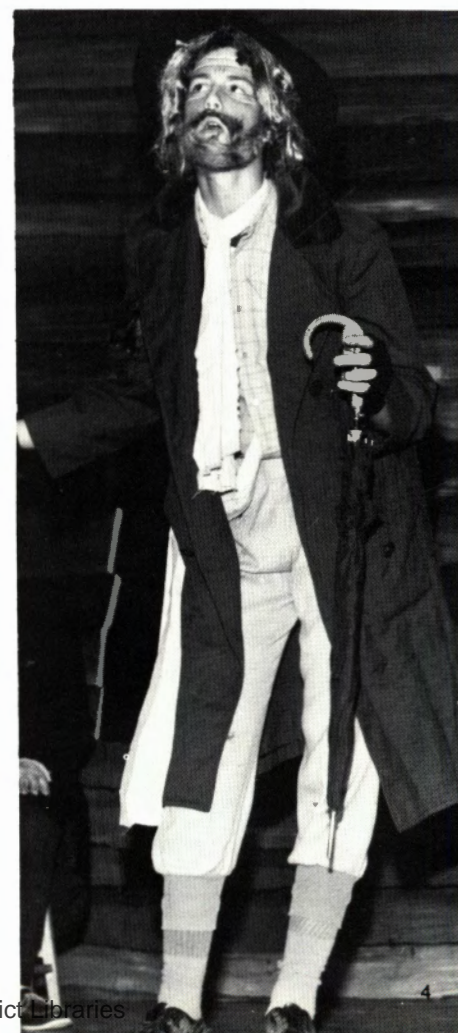

ROW 1: A. Jensen, S. Gensterblum, A. Reid, K. Pierce. ROW 2: D. Schafer, J. Smith, C. Shewchuck, J. Parker. ROW 3: C. Smith, J. Bill, J. Dorosk.

1. MURDER! Mrs. Boyle (Kelly Pierce) dies at the end of Act I.
2. HARD TO BELIEVE. Reading a London paper, Christopher Wren (David Schafer) tells Miss Casewell (Jennifer Smith) about the killing.
3. A MURDER HERE? ABSURD! Giles Ralston (Steve Gensterblum) comforts his wife, Mollie.
4. "WHICH ONE OF YOU DID IT?" Sergeant Trotter (Jim Parker) interrogates each suspect.
5. WITH A PLEASED EXPRESSION, Director Ron Allen watches the production.
6. "I'M NOT THE MURDERER," explains Christopher Wren to Mollie Ralston (Anne Jensen).

1. FIERCE ... Carol Dombrowske looks on as Frank Levandowski scolds Oliver (Dirk Wilcox) in the opening scene.

2. ALL DRESSED UP WITH NOWHERE TO GO ... Oliver gets a new set of clothes from Mrs. Brownlow (Mary Helgamo).

3. CURTAIN CALL ... The whole cast and chorus lines up to take a bow.

4. YOU'VE GOT TO PICK A POCKET OR TWO ... Fagin (Bruce Schartzer) lectures his students in the school of theft.

5. OOM PAH PAH ... sings the main female character Nancy (Amy Wilcox).

6. LOOK OUT FOR SIKES ... Bill Sikes (Steve Gensterblum) threatens the audience with his fearful presence.

7. FOR WHAT YOU ARE ABOUT TO RECEIVE ... bowing their heads in prayer are Oliver and his accomplices.

MUSICAL IS "OLIVER!"

"There's a little ditty they're singing in the city," and it was sung in Holt High School auditorium April 26 and May 2 and 3 and its music filled the air.

This year's musical, "Oliver", consisted of numerous characters, the high school choir and twelve elementary boys from grades five through seven. "The small boys were sometimes a pain, but they added something special to the performance," commented sophomore Kris Zaenglein.

The choreography was extensive and the scenery breath taking in this story of an orphaned London pickpocket.

The acts were full of convincing and heart wrenching acts of crime, misery, poverty and hope. With outstanding performances from leads Bruce Shartzter as Fagin and Amy Wilcox as Nancy and a great supporting cast, the musical was a raving success.

ASHHS: ROW 1: board meeting attendant, J. Weisinger; vice president, J. Chapman; president, J. Parker. ROW 2: secretary, L. Gafner; treasurer, A. Zadanglein.

ASSOCIATED STUDENTS OF HOLT HIGH SCHOOL

"The voice of the students", ASHHS kept itself busy with improvement oriented functions throughout the year. This outstanding group of officials organized many activities and fundraisers this year. They were the main backbone of the SADD committee and all homecomings. They financially supported classes when they needed money.

Another main event of ASHHS was the Student Forum. The Forum was a half day set aside to let students "have their say". Nine discussion groups had thirty minutes each to come up with concerns and possible solutions. The results were organized and presented to the students at the end of the day. The information gathered was then given to the Board of Education and various other organizations.

"Being involved in ASHHS was one of the best experiences of my senior year. I was proud of our work and participation," said board attendant John Weisinger.

ATTENTION LISTENERS ... Students gather to hear speaker Mr. Bill Drusell on "What does it take to be a winner?"

SENIOR OFFICERS: treasurer Amy Wilcox, Secretary Kathy Pifer, vice-president Debbie Shassberger, president Tonia Yarbrough.

"CLASS" OFFICERS

Did our student body know the functions of their class officers? According to senior Michelle McDowell, the officers "put forth a great effort doing functions that the students rarely noticed or acknowledged." Representing the ideas and suggestions of the three classes took a vast amount of responsibility and leadership qualities.

Sophomore president Bill Moubray felt, "We'll have more of a chance to get involved next year." Sophomore activities were few — a dance and a candy sale. The young officers had to get accustomed to the rules and procedures of student government.

Without having had many activities as sophomores, the Junior Class officers found a chance to dig in. The most major task was to organize the Prom. "This was their main concern!" exclaimed head sponsor Juanita Glover. As fund raisers they sold M & M's, picture frames and provided entertainment at school dances.

Having the seniority and the necessary skills perfected, the senior officers avoided "senioritis" and continued their duties throughout the year. They were involved with sponsoring dances and holding fund raisers, such as Holt Rams mirrors. Debbie Shassberger and all the officers agreed "the announcements, senior trip, senior tee-shirts and everything concerning graduation were the most fun and the most challenging undertakings."

All in all, officers felt they had to "be all that they could be," for Holt High School . . .

COMPUTER WIZZES

The Holt Computer Team competed in two different tournaments. The first was the Ingham County Tournament in which there was a four-member team consisting of seniors Tom Heller, Matt Malaski, and Ken Recker, the fourth member was sophomore Dave Morris. This team placed third, netting fifty dollars designated for equipment or supplies in the computer field. They purchased software for the new computer lab.

The second team of Heller and junior Kammy Caruss competed against fifty other schools from around the state. They placed seventh in this competition.

The students spent time after school and at home writing programs preparing for competition. All this work paid off! Adviser Mike Lehman stated, "I enjoy watching students use what they have learned in a fun competitive atmosphere."

PROGRAM PROWESS . . . demands after school practice time from members Dave Morris and Tom Heller.

SATISFACTION! Successful programming attempts are a source of gratification for Matt Malaski and Ken Recker.

SCIENCE OLYMPIAD TEAM: ROW 1: V. Keith, C. Parks, K. Ciezaldo, J. Whitesides. ROW 2: P. Wilson, K. Caruss, K. Pierce, D. Shafer, J. Hooker, M. Young, M. Harris, A. Jensen. ROW 3: C. Smith, L. Gafner, A. Zaenglein, M. Liles. ROW 4: T. Lee, S. Gensterblum, R. Ferguson, J. Russell.

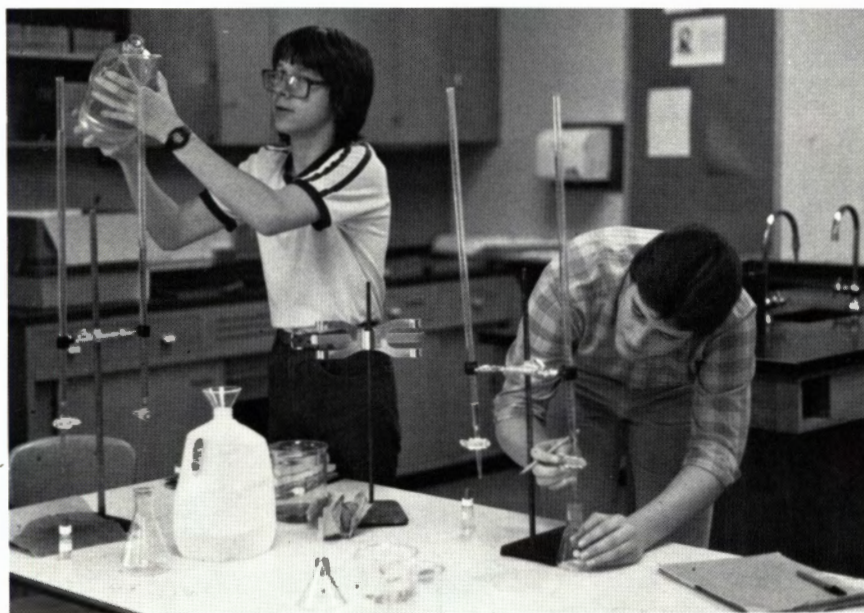

OLYMPIAD COMPETES

"After finishing fifth in the state in 1984, preparations began for a good showing in 1985. The Science Olympiad Team organized early in the year with 45 students trying for 15 spots. Practices were held in individual events. Competition among team members helped decide who would compete and who would become alternates. Once the team was set, the alternates helped at practices and at the Regional and State competition along with the coaches," explained co-adviser Mr. Larry Burgess. At Regionals Holt placed first out of 18 teams. Taking first place medals were seniors Mike Liles, Kim Augenstein and junior Jacob Hooker. Silver medal winners included seniors Steve VanErmen, Casey Parks and Augenstein, juniors Ty Lee and Hooker. Bringing home the Bronze were seniors Andrea Zaenglien and Lisa Gafner. There were also many fourth, fifth and sixth place winners.

The team had grown, not only in numbers but in abilities and expectations for the past year. At States Holt placed eighth out of 49 schools, an outstanding achievement. Placing in the top five were seniors Bill Selleck and Parks, juniors Mark Varble, David Shafer, Ed Wagner, Paula Wilson, Jeff Russell and Hooker.

TITRATION EXPERIMENTATION . . . During after school hours, Ty Lee and Mark Varble practice identifying substances.

COMPETITION . . . was head to head when password teams of Tom Heller and Steve VanErmen were defeated by Lisa Gafner and Andrea Zaenglein.

MUCHACHOS GRANDES GREAT KIDS

The fall hayride, a dinner at Chi-Chi's, ethnic food parties and a trip to Cedar Point were the attractions that made over 80 students join the Spanish Club this year. All the activities were financed either by club members or by the money raised by a fundraiser at Christmas.

Along with adviser Mrs. Juanita Glover were president Erik Medina, vice president Bryan Bullock and treasurer John Chapman. "It is almost too big of a group to work with," said Mrs. Glover, "but when they get into smaller groups, more gets done!" After being the adviser of the Spanish Club for the past fifteen years, she happily concluded, "It is a nice group."

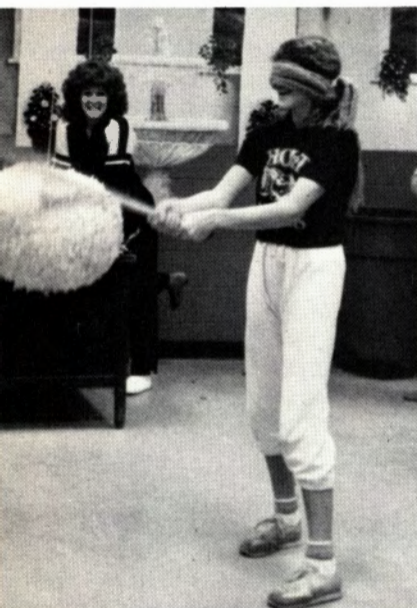

HEAD HONCHO Erik Medina picks up ballots after a vote to determine the clubs next activity.

CARUMBÁ! Melinda Baker winds up in a grave attempt to unleash the piñata's tasty contents.

THE GANG'S ALL HERE! During an activity period Spanish Club members line up and say cheese!

VIVENT LA FRANCE ET LE CERCLE FRANCAIS

Did you ever want to speak another language or taste foreign dishes? Well, the members of French Club had a chance to experience all of this and more.

According to senior Andrea Zaenglein, French Club was "a FUN way to know the French people and better understand their culture." "For my friends and me, Mr. Garnett has given us a treasure of knowledge and memories to carry on through our life!" expressed senior Blake Eitnien.

The club activities were few, but they were sufficient to instill that feeling of unity and brotherhood. Each member worked hand in hand making sure the crepes were not too crisp or the fillings too "American". During warmer days they played football (with sponsor Mr. Norm Garnett as quarterback of course!), ate hot dogs, and traveled to Cedar Point. Like the Three Musketeers, Mr. Garnett's philosophy was "all for one and one for all."

FRENCH CLUB 1984-85.

FRENCH CLUB OFFICERS: president Scooter Tropf, treasurer Brett Hake, secretary Kathy Pifer, vice-president Mike Powers.

NATIONAL FRENCH WEEK POSTER WINNERS: Kim Maki (second); Jacob Hooker, Tom Coulson, and James Decker (first); Paula Wilson and Carrie Priest (third).

TIME AFTER SCHOOL and weekends keep Lisa Aikman, Jennifer Crews and Mike Powers busy as they earn approximately $1,350 in total fund-raising events.

LEARNING ... Close Up members listen patiently as Mr. Northrup gives out information about the program.

YUM ... Chocolate hearts, the highlight of Valentine's Day.

CLOSE UP TO WASHINGTON

To Washington and back in six days! That was the experience four Holt students enjoyed as they traveled to Washington D.C. to learn first hand about our government system.

The organizer for the Close Up program was Mr. Gil Northrup. "This is not a club or organization as such. We are simply attempting to help raise funds for a small group of students from among 50 applicants," he explained.

Of several students in this program only four made the trip this year, but the money earned through fund-raising will allow others to go next year.

The D.C. trip took place April 18-May 4. Senior Jennifer Crews and Jim Powers, junior Mike Meyer and sophomore Cheryl Leighty all attended this busy week long seminar. They learned about such things as Reaganomics, U.S. volunteering and mass media events. Cheryl Leighty commented, "It was a lot of fun, we walked everywhere and saw the capitol. I learned more things in one week than ever before."

EARNING A LITTLE EXTRA $! Club members sponsored a dance at the junior high after a home basketball game.

YOUR ATTENTION PLEASE! Sponsor, Dave Fink pays close attention to guest speaker, Officer LeRoy.

ON THE RIGHT TRACK

A relatively new and intriguing club, the Law Club, was recently added to the vast variety of clubs at HHS. The Law Club was especially unique in one respect — it was career oriented. People joined the Law Club and anticipated important insights into the profession of law and order.

Unfortunately the club did not remain very active. Students who were members did gain some interesting knowledge of law occupations. Seniors Stacey Ebare and Amanda Bacon said, "We felt the Law Club could have been a great club for those interested in law. People did benefit from the club but there wasn't enough organization to keep it going."

ALL EYES FORWARD! Members look intently on as they are informed about some police procedures during an activity period.

NHS AIMS FOR SUCCESS

Academic excellence, leadership, service, and character were all requirements of the National Honor Society. In order to qualify academically the seniors had to maintain a 3.0, juniors a 3.3 and the sophomores 3.5. This group of intellectuals were involved with the blood drive, the candy cane sale, the bunny sale, the German exchange program and the support of the Brazilian boy.

144 pints of blood were given to the blood bank and the NHS members really worked it. "We greatly appreciate the support of the students in the blood drive," remarked senior Shawn Feeley.

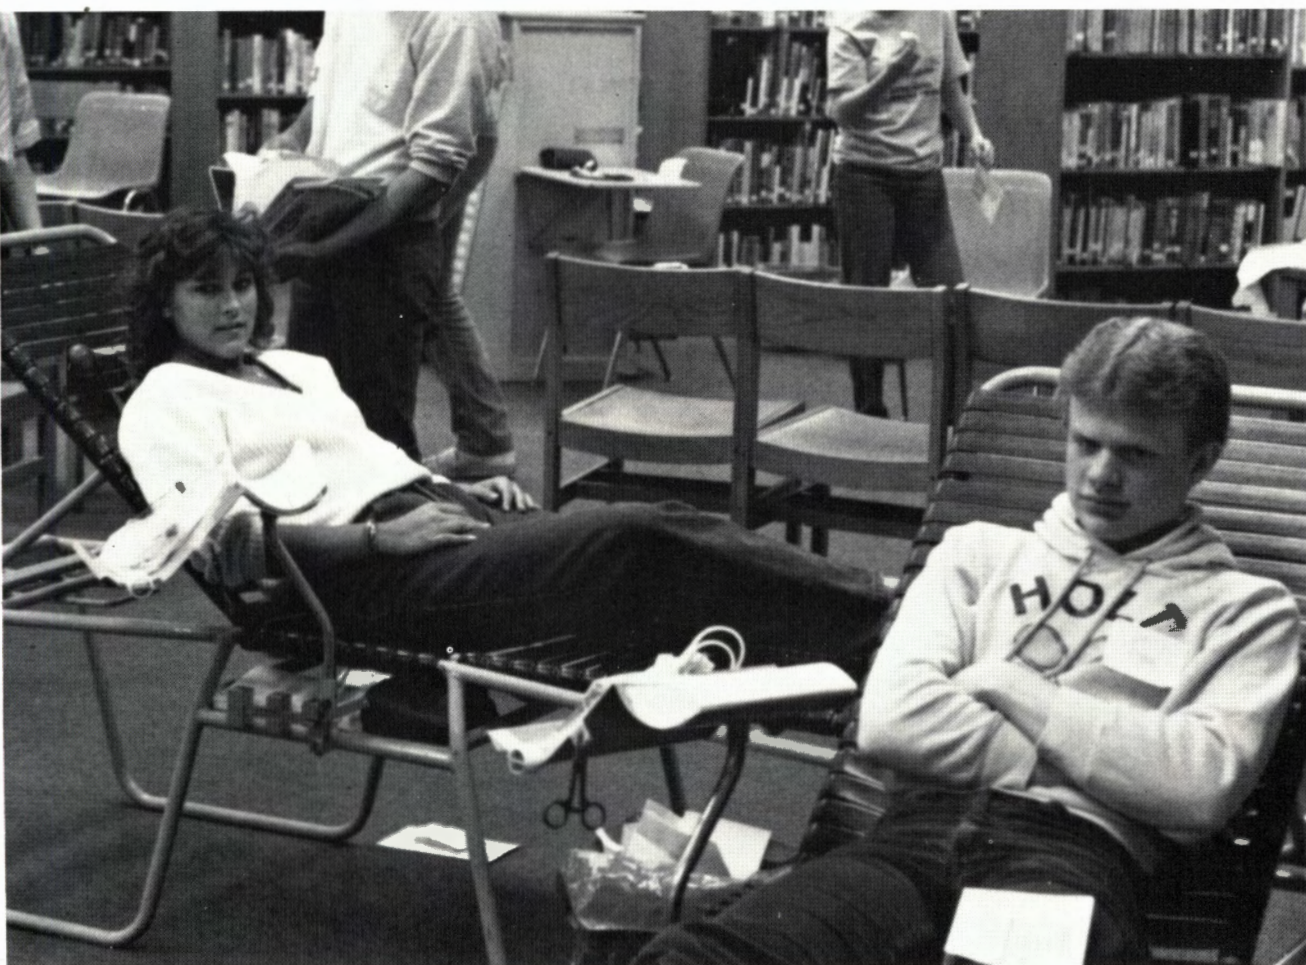

NHS NEW MEMBERS: (Alphabetically): Sophomores: L. Aikman, S. Baisel, G. Bird, J. Choe, G. Gamet, M. Heister, S. Hoerner, J. Hooker, C. Leighty, S. Lounds, E. Lutz, D. Miller, W. Mrazek, A. Pierce, K. Schafer, K. Shuler, K. Solomon, T. Tatro, J. Wiesinger. Juniors: K. Andrick, J. Baker, T. Black, J. Brija, G. Bussa, K. Caruss, A. Fritz, C. Heller, A. Jensen, W. Leaf, M. Maki, T. Nott, L. Pollom, J. Service, P. Thomas, P. VanDyke. Seniors: K. Conlin, J. Crews, T. Foust, E. Gafner, T. Glynn, C. Goodrich, M. Kohnke, M. Malaski, E. Medina, T. Poma, P. Pratt, K. Recker, L. Reeve, M. ORPHANED FROM BRAZIL . . . The NHS campaigned for his support throughout the year.

BLOOD DRIVE OF 85 . . . Tina Arend and Tom Heller were two of many people excused from class to donate blood.

KNOWLEDGE PURSUIT

More than just trivia made up Holt's Quiz Bowl Team. Practice twice a week was often a necessity since the members had to be prepared to answer questions and work out problems in many different areas including geography, math, foreign language, sports, literature, science, history, government and entertainment. This knowledge was needed since two losses meant deletion from the competition. "The hardest subject is physics," commented senior Jenny Smith, "No one knows anything about it."

Advisor Mary Gray said "All high school students are deficient in geography. Everyone can use more work in that area." Participation in the Quiz Bowl, according to Adviser Mrs. Alice Fleishman, "gave our academic students a chance to exercise their competitive spirit in the academic arena and receive recognition."

SIGN LANGUAGE IS HELPFUL for Mr. Garnett and Mrs. York as the faculty challenge the students.

FACULTY JOIN IN THE FUN. Administrator Paul Jolly believes that principals should have spirit too!

RAMBLER COUNTRY PROVIDES RECREATION

Despite Physic's labs, computer projects, tests and final exams, there was still time for having fun. During the school year Holt students found numerous activities to keep them occupied — club meetings, dances, sports and rehearsals. Through grueling hours of hard work and sometimes defeat, the participants never became discouraged. The most anxiously awaited school highlights were homecoming, spirit week and pep assemblies.

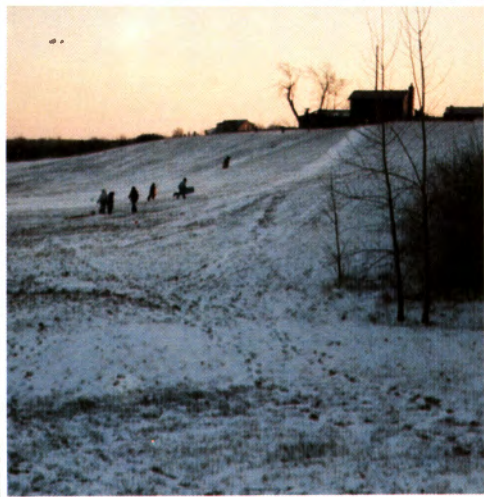

Students not involved in school organized events could just kick back and relax. The library, lobby and hallways were common comfortable places. However students spent their time, it was "Rambler Country" that brought good times and memorable events.

LOCKER CLEAN-UP! Warren Blevins could do without his prankster friends!

MORNING NEWS ... Starting the day right, Holt students read-up on current events.

ONCE IS NOT ENOUGH! Students are never too old to get hooked on sledding at Deadman's Hill.

WISHING FOR WARMER WEATHER... Jerry Preadmore, Steve Truax and Brian Gangluff try to keep warm.

OOPS! The storm's destructive powers are evident on Pat Gilland's pride and joy.

MAKE MY DAY... A three-wheeler is all Dan Crosslan needs to have a great time.

THERE'S NO DAYS LIKE SNOW DAYS

Snow and ice are not the world's most common substance, but they change the whole aspect of nature and sometimes cause much damage. This year, 1985, literally slid in with a heavy ice storm. The freezing rain caused over 50,000 to lose power for up to eight days. Some people were upset because they couldn't do anything without electricity, while others were mad because the storm happened over Christmas vacation. Others saw the beauty in it . . . "Everything looked like it was wrapped in crystal. When the sun shone it was almost blinding from the bright light," said junior Michelle Kennedy. Snow days were also beautiful in another sense too, no school! They were also popular since students could go snowmobiling, get in snowball fights, sleep in, pig out, go shopping — the list was endless. The overall opinion of the high school was unanimous, Holt people liked snow days because it gave them time to do their own thing.

A REAL ANGEL? A more than willing Greg Carr helps Kim Ellis with his snow image.

TALK IS CHEAP . . . unless Laurretta Bollinger is talking long distance.

JUST A COUPLE OF DIMES are being used. Stacey Ebare and Amanda Bacon spend their lunch hour on the phone; perhaps, calling a friend to see why he or she is not in school!

SENIOR REFLECTIONS

CLASS SONG: Can't Fight This Feeling, REO Speedwagon

*I can't fight this feeling any longer and yet I'm still afraid to let it flow
What started out as friendship has grown stronger
I only wish I had the strength to let it flow
I tell myself that I can't hold out forever
I say there is no reason for my fear cus I feel so secure when we're together you give my life direction you make everything so clear
And even as I wander I'm keeping you in sight
you're a candle in the window on a cold dark winter's night and I'm getting closer than I ever thought I might
And I can't fight this feelin anymore
I've forgotten what I started fightin for and if I have to crawl upon the floor or come crashin thru your door
baby I can't fight this feelin anymore
My life has been such a whirlwind since I saw you
I've been running round in circles in my mind and it always seems that I'm followin you girl cus you take me to the places that alone
I'd never find
And even as I wander I'm keeping you in sight
You're a candle in the window on a cold dark winter's night and I'm getting closer than I ever thought I might
And I can't fight this feelin anymore
I've forgotten what I started fightin for It's time to bring this ship into the shore and throw away the oars forever
No I can't fight this feeling anymore
I've forgotten what I started fightin for and if I have to crawl upon the floor or come crashing thru your door
baby I can't fight this feelin anymore*

DREAMS . . . DO COME TRUE

It was that special night you waited for throughout your school years — Prom night! You wore formals and tuxes and spent a very special evening with a very special person.

On May 25 that long awaited dream came true. Across Long's dance floor flowed rainbows of lace and flowers. Far behind strolled matching bow ties and tails.

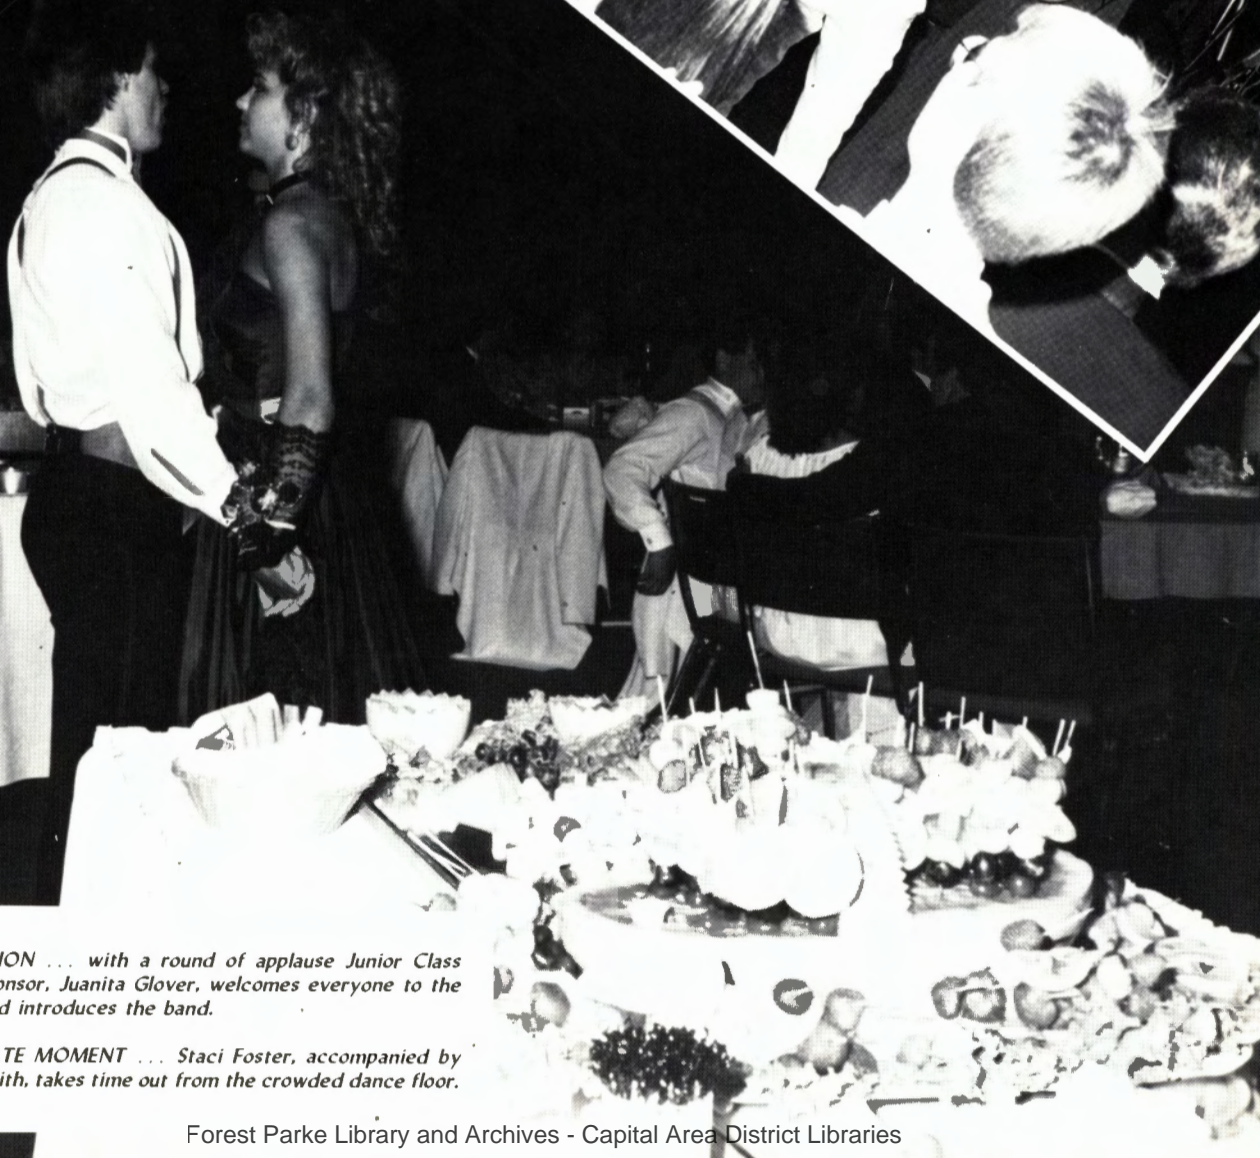

An added attraction was a full array of buffet food offered by the Junior Class. The band "Chariot" kept the crowd on its feet with many popular songs along with the class song, "I can't Fight This Feeling".

The Junior/Senior Prom was a first class evening and a cherished event for all who attended. Senior Chris Linderman added, "It'll be the most memorable night of my senior year."

HOME PHOTOGRAPHS . . . Juniors Michelle Davis and Kelly Pierce escorted by seniors Mike Ellis and Todd Faust pose before their parents' camera.

SWAYING TO THE MUSIC . . . Everyone danced when Chariot played a slow jam.

ATTENTION ... with a round of applause Junior Class head sponsor, Juanita Glover, welcomes everyone to the Prom and introduces the band.

A PRIVATE MOMENT ... Staci Foster, accompanied by Mike Smith, takes time out from the crowded dance floor.

LUNCHTIME — one of the few highlights of an ordinary school day. If you walked into the lunchroom you would see, people eating, talking to one another or doing their homework for their next class. For those juniors who had B lunch, the day was almost over. However, some preferred A lunch because it meant eating sooner. "First semester I had A lunch, but I didn't like it because most of my friends had B lunch. I was really glad when my schedule was changed," said junior Dorothy Gibson.

As a sophomore, the first year of high school was kind of scary. Everyone seemed to be so much older and wiser about what's cool and what's not. Well, when that student became a junior, things seemed to pretty much come and go with ease. The whole atmosphere was much more relaxed. Getting involved with in and out-of-school activities seemed to be more of a challenge rather than a dare. The junior was not the person watching the fight anymore, he or she was probably the one starting it!

Homework did not take up all of the students' time after school was out. Leisure time activities played a large part of Holt students' lives also.

Intramural and varsity sports took up a lot of time as well as part-time jobs at restaurants, gas stations and other varied places of employment. Some students were involved in clubs — scheduling meetings, get togethers and field trips.

Plays and rehearsals occupied a smaller, but an important, minority of the student body's sparetime. Weekend sporting events and dances were also great ways to pass otherwise boring evenings. No matter how high the homework piled up, Holt students managed to find some spare time for fun activities.

It was really embarrassing to be a junior and make a mistake! Like when you accidentally walked into the wrong bathroom, walked back out and your favorite teacher was standing there watching you; or, when a teacher asked a question to the class and you tried to answer it to impress the opposite sex on the other side of the room and you said the answer to the previous question. "My worst time was when my stomach growled while everyone in class was taking a test and they all heard," said Mandy West. Holt High students went through all these embarrassing times. But it seemed like no matter how small they were, everyone knew about them by the end of the day.

Did Holt students really have the Homecoming spirit? At both Fall and Winter Homecomings, students seemed to get crazy with the spirit week outfits, pep assemblies, class skits, hall signs, the game, and last but not least, the dance! "It gave me a chance to let loose and feel free!" quoted junior Steve Moore. Participation was great. Even students who had gone unnoticed before, caught the attention of the crowd and their fellow students. These were two weeks created especially to have fun!

The closer a student got to graduation the more concerned about post-high school plans he or she seemed to be. Some interested juniors attended a seminar presented by the Army. Other representatives from Michigan colleges visited our school with information regarding their programs. For the undecided student, the information proved to be very helpful. "The Army representatives provided information which helped me make a better decision about my future plans," concluded junior Lewie Taylor.

Ride the bus? Some thought it was uncool, but for others, it was their only means of transportation. Unless you were lucky enough to have your own car or live close enough to walk, most students resorted to the bus. For some it was a fun time to sit and rap with friends about the day's happenings. For others, it was just a long, boring ride home. "I hated riding the bus because it was always late, the seats were cold, and the radio never worked," said Brett Hake. Katie Kime exclaimed, "Riding the bus gave me a little extra time to finish up the homework I didn't do the night before."

Surprise! Did you ever come to school and your locker was decorated with balloons, streamers, and a huge sign down the whole door? Many students liked to do this for their friends on special occasions. It made you feel on top of the world knowing that someone cared enough to go through so much trouble to make your day special. The feeling of surprise crept up on you. "When you walked in the school and everyone was whispering and you couldn't figure out what was going on," said Tim Nott. "All of your friends would be at your locker, blocking the decorations in order to surprise you," said Traci Gingrich.

What is the price to be paid for "being in love?" Holt High School had it's share of romances. Couples were noticed sitting in the lobby, standing in corners of halls and jammed between locker doors. These couples could look forward to meeting each other throughout the day. They could help each other make it through a tough day or if lucky enough they could share a class or two together. The high school was not a very private location, but having a boyfriend or girlfriend in the same school had its advantages.

Waiting for the bell, juniors anxiously watched the clock for the last few minutes to go by. Some would talk, while others would take the opportunity to nap. The last five minutes of class always seemed to be the longest. Lab classes scurried to clean-up, but most classrooms were laid back. Sixth hour students, unfortunately, had the extra duty of placing the chairs on the tables (if such was the case). But once that bell rang, it was a dash into the halls and a rush to their next destination.

Did you ever wonder why the high school looked like a track meet between classes? The sheer anticipation of entering favorite rooms was enough to make any self-respecting student literally sprint to his or her destination.

A close study of the students even uncovered some pupils who actually enjoyed (and understood) such "fun" classes as Physics and Advanced Trigonometry. "My secret to getting good grades in these classes is that I always do my Trigonometry and Physics homework after Johnny Carson's monologue on 'The Tonight Show'. Besides that, I just do my best," intellectualized senior Tom Heller.

Fads were stronger than ever at Holt this past year. Originality was a must! In other words, if you wanted to catch someone's eye, you had to dare to be different. For some it was unusually styled hair and for others an array of watches (all set at different times no less.) Cropped jeans, Forenza sweaters, jean jackets and lace bows were just a few of the "in" styles.

Juniors must buckle down. New demands and exciting privileges required more courage and responsibility from juniors. They could attend the Prom, be eligible for varsity sports and could join clubs. Although, it was not all fun and games, it was difficult living up to the new expectations. Graduation was one step closer, future plans had to be made, college bound students were forced to think about grades, and ACT and SAT tests were taken. Those who wanted to enter the job market were concerned about learning occupational skills.

"Being a junior is a lot of fun, but the one thing that gets everyone down is the homework, there is too much!" said Sherry Barnes. Juniors were hit with more homework and great responsibilities than in years before.

No one could forget the anticipation over class rings! Remember going home and telling your parents you needed a ring because everyone else was ordering one? Averaging $90 in price, the purchase of a ring was not a light decision. When the day came to order rings everyone packed around the table screaming, yelling and asking others what type of ring they were getting. "Next," said the salesperson as you were sat down, sized and given a form to fill out. Four months later, you received your ring — you and everyone else. Now you felt a part of Holt!

Through shortages of tissues and football in the street, the Sophomore Class worked on their Smurf until he was the best thing possible. The Smurf, affectionately known as "Sophy," was built in Kristin Chapman's garage, but it came very close to not getting out. Sophy's flexibility was tested when it was discovered that he was too tall to get out of the garage. Luckily, Sophy knew how to touch his toes and he came out with inches to spare.

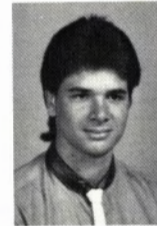

Spirit was the word that best described the Sophomores of '87. Their involvement in football spirit week, JV and Varsity sports, Pep Club, French Club and the sophomore steering committee showed a lot of ambition and courage. According to sophomore Mark Smith, "A 10th grader can sometimes be squirrely, outrageous, unreal, but VERY SPIRITED!" The nature of a sophomore grew out of new experiences and freedoms associated with finally becoming a part of the senior high school. Selecting classes, leaving the building during lunch hour, driver's training and dressing up for spirit week ... the sophomores tried it all!

Sitting in school for seven hours and twenty-five minutes was not many sophomores' idea of fun. Coming from the shortened five hour day at the junior high, they had to reprogram themselves for an extra hour at the end of the day. Sophomore Kelly Christensen seemed to like the six hour day, saying, "I prefer the five hour day but the six hour one offers more class selections." But some like Wendy Keeler were unhappy with the extra hour. "With the five hour day we had more time to do fun things like watch soap operas," she said.

If the world was getting computerized, Holt was keeping up with the times. Computers have been in the high school curriculum for four years. Many sophomores had already started thinking about computer careers and were sharpening up their skills in the Microcomputer class. This class was taught by Mr. Mike Lehman and Mrs. Lila Guenther. Sophomores struggled through "for-next" statements, nested loops and bubble sorts. "The class is fun because it is unlike any other class in the high school," commented sophomore Kristen Shuler.

Beakers, microscopes, eyedroppers, taking notes and doing lab reports were familiar to many sophomores. First semester science was all the basics; but, for the second semester, students had a choice of Zoology, Genetics, Human Physiology or Botany. The Botany class was cancelled second semester because of a lack of interest. Rick Iribarren commented, "I chose Genetics because I thought it would be a little more interesting than Human Physiology."

"Pride in our class and pride in ourselves is what makes us special," exclaimed sophomore Stephanie Gibson. When the sophomores entered the high school, teachers and staff were warned to keep an eye out for trouble. It took almost one month to let others know they were just a little rowdier than the average class, but they were also the largest class to enter the high school in a while. To make room, the Driver's Education Class had to move to Sycamore School and Mr. Dan Ernst's Business class had to meet in the choir room. But the Class of 87 soon settled in and settled down ... but never unnoticed, of course.

ATTENDANCE . . . Being a sophomore wasn't all fun and freedom. Excusing absences played an important part of their lives, too. Adjusting to the new senior high attendance policy was slow for some. Students at the senior high had only two days for their parents to call in or write a note excusing their absence. Teachers then received a computerized list of excused absences. If a student skipped, his or her name did not appear on that list. After 12 absences, a student could be kicked out of a class and lose their credit. Most sophomores learned the new rules . . . even though some seniors still haven't figured them out!

"Having Drivers Ed was one of the biggest thrills you encountered in your sophomore year," stated sophomore Kate Ramsey. Just the thought of having licenses gave sophomores shivers. After getting through the classroom stage it was, finally, "out to the driving range." Feeling nervous at first, sophomores found it hard to tell the brake from the gas pedal. But after one week with Mr. Mutch, they started to relax. The car radios were an added bonus. Drivers' Education did have a lot of fun times, and for all those students that stuck with it, it was worth while!

CROWDED HALLS! Ever since the very large Sophomore Class came to Holt High School. It has crowded out the juniors and the seniors. Todd Glynn said, "Juniors and seniors have a lot more power and it was hard for us sophomores to get through the halls." The Class of '87 had more than 400 students, overpowering the halls desperate to find lockers and classrooms. The halls were impossible the first couple weeks of school. Confused sophomores tried to get into the right room during the right hour. "With their schedules finally figured out, the halls became a little less congested," concluded Tony Doll.

WHAT DO YOU WISH TO IMPLANT IN HHS STUDENTS?

JOLLY: Knowledge. A sense that they have worth and are capable. A feeling of caring about others and an obligation to serve their community.

BOWKER: (1) That school can be exciting and interesting, (2) that of success, and (3) that success in high school is achieved not only through good study habits but also through attendance.

CRAWFORD: I would like to see all Holt students make more of a commitment to their studies, any sports that they participate in, and any other school activities that they are involved in. A lot of personal satisfaction and team success can be gained from giving a maximum effort.

BARENS: That attendance is important and that each student is responsible for their own actions.

Mr. Paul Jolly, Principal

Mr. Don Bowker, A

WHAT HAVE YOU SEEN AS GROWTH IN 1984-85?

JOLLY: Upgrading of our graduation requirements. Several of our students have made a commitment to be drug free. School improvement Committee and Student Forum provided some good information that will encourage growth.

BOWKER: (1) A drop in absenteeism — 1 percent to 2 percent per month, and (2) I have seen personal growth in that I have had the opportunity to become better acquainted with the faculty and have been in many classrooms observing many varied and excellent teaching techniques.

CRAWFORD: I can see an improvement in the grade point averages, of a number of athletes, which would indicate that the policy enacted in 1983, raising minimum academic standards, is serving the purpose for which it was intended.

BARENS: That students are being more honest.

Mrs. Donna Barens, Attendance Officer

Mr. Jack Crawford, Athletic Director

WHAT SATISFACTION HAVE YOU RECEIVED?

JOLLY: The satisfaction I receive usually centers around students who show maturity in their decisions, conduct and scholarship. I am encouraged when I see students smile and are enjoying their high school experience and each other.

BOWKER: I am enjoying my position and look forward to helping teachers whenever possible. I have gained a personal rapport with many students who I would not normally have contact with as a teacher.

CRAWFORD: As Athletic Director, I receive a lot of satisfaction from outstanding accomplishments of our athletes. Such as, Pat Whitford's state title in wrestling and Mark Smith's third place; Julie Farrel's fourth in the state in diving; Ed Wagner's third and sixth places in swimming; the district championship won by our Girls' Basketball Team; and Scooter Tropf's nomination to McDonald's All-American Basketball Team.

BARENS: Despite the repercussion the students still feel the importance of being honest.

THE "NATURE" OF THE JOB

QUESTION: What do you wish to implant in HHS students?

SIENKIEWICZ: I wish to implant the skills and knowledge to allow our students to be productive, happy members of society, who think for themselves and who will continue to grow and eventually lead.

QUESTION: What have you seen as growth in 1984-85?

SIENKIEWICZ: I have seen a greater dedication and seriousness of purpose in 1984-85.

QUESTION: What satisfaction have you received?

SIENKIEWICZ: The personal satisfaction I receive is in knowing that Holt High School graduates are well prepared to face the challenges of life and will make contributions in many fields in the years ahead.

DRIVING A BUS AT HOLT for seven years, Beth Pennock is still smiling!

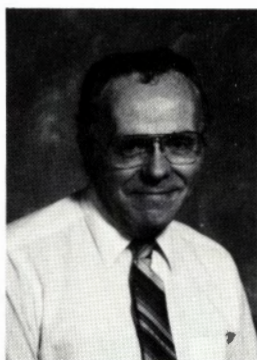

COOKIN' AND DRIVIN'

Two of the most important jobs at Holt, were given the least credit. Students did not realize how hard it really was to get the new menu ready at lunchtime. This year the job was placed in the hands of a new food supervisor, Mrs. Sally Burroughs. "This is a difficult task," Mrs. Burroughs explained. She intended to familiarize herself with the total food service operation before making any changes. In her new job she listened to peoples complaints, planned the menu and did the budget. "The staff has been very helpful and understanding ... just super to work with," she concluded.

Was driving kids to and from school really that easy? "Being a bus driver is really tough, especially when the kids are rowdy and those bad weather days," said bus driver Beverly McNeely. The people who drove the buses for Holt were trained professionals, and they were alert to the bad things that could happen enroute to school. "I've been a bus driver ever since the busing system began in Holt," said veteran driver Erma Parsons. Fortunately, there have not been any major accidents due to the weather. The rain, sleet and snow may have gotten the drivers feeling "under the weather", and driver Jean Reddington said her arthritis was affected; but, all in all, the students in Holt knew they were in good hands whatever the driving situation.

WELCOME NEW TEACHERS

Returning to a six hour day brought a lot of new faces to the Holt High School teaching staff. New to the high school, but not to Holt Public Schools were Mr. Dell Cory (Business), Miss. Nancy Hohn (Spanish), Mr. Doug Mumby (Art) and Mr. Steve Neureither (Technical Drawing).

For the brand new teachers at Holt, their job was a happy one. "All the students and my co-workers have made me feel at home," said Mrs. Valerie Martin, resource teacher, during her first week of teaching. "Holt is a very academic school and I am very impressed with the students," said Biology teacher and new girls' swim coach, Mr. Brian Templin. A former Holt student and new chemistry teacher, Mr. David Foy, had found that two things helped him feel comfortable at Holt — he was familiar with the teaching staff and found it extremely easy to get along with the students. Mrs. Leek, math teacher, first became acquainted with Holt while she was substituting. "It was then that I learned just how open and supportive the staff and students are at Holt. These qualities are not found in all school systems," she said. "The friendliness and enthusiasm of the students along with the faculty cooperation" was what Mrs. Sandra Callis liked about Holt High. This was her first position in teaching; her field is mathematics. New French teacher Sandra Bernier had held many previous teaching jobs, but liked Holt because, "I like the small town feeling where people are friendly and seem more concerned about one another."

AN EVEN LONGER DAY

The six hour day was back! Teachers were hired, more electives were offered and the school day was lengthened.

"One of the reasons I was hired was because of the six hour day," said new Algebra and Chemistry teacher Mr. David Foy. Six other new teachers were added to HHS, and Mr. Bruce Kutney was called back from being layed-off.

Many of the students liked the idea of the additional hour. "I like it because it gives me more credits," said junior Dan Crosslan. They also had the opportunity to take classes that were fun. "It gave me a chance for more elective classes," added junior Dave Coscarella.

Besides the staff, the daily structure was also altered. Classes were shortened five minutes, the activity period was back in the schedule and the lunch hour was 35 minutes instead of 40. Classes started 10 minutes later and got out 30 minutes later.

INCREASED LEARNING?

The class of 1988 will have to meet tougher graduation requirements. The Holt Board of Education passed the recommendations for increased required courses from nine to 13½. The increase came in the areas of mathematics, science, physical education, typing and fine arts.

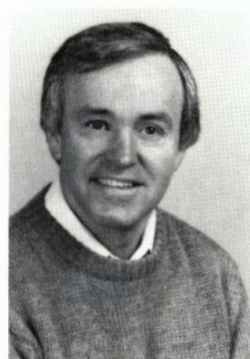

This change in requirements was geared to improve learning at the Senior High School. Most HHS administrators supported the increase. "I think the new requirements are super," said Mrs. Sally Beauchine. "I helped work on them all year long and it's great that they're having more classes required," she added. Mrs. Georgeanne Withey agreed, "I really like them. They'll make a big improvement in the school system." Even Principal Paul Jolly exclaimed, "Of course I think they're great, I helped decide on them."

A NEW WAY OF LIFE: ADJUSTING TO THE USA

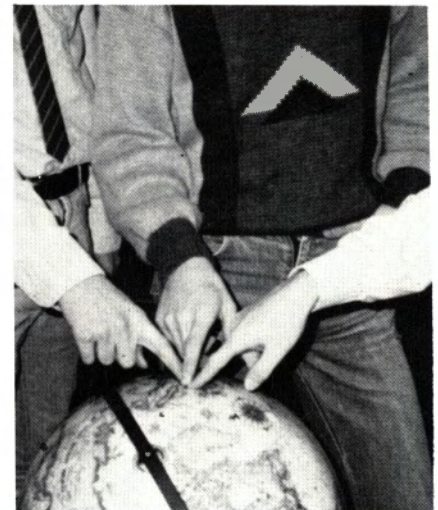

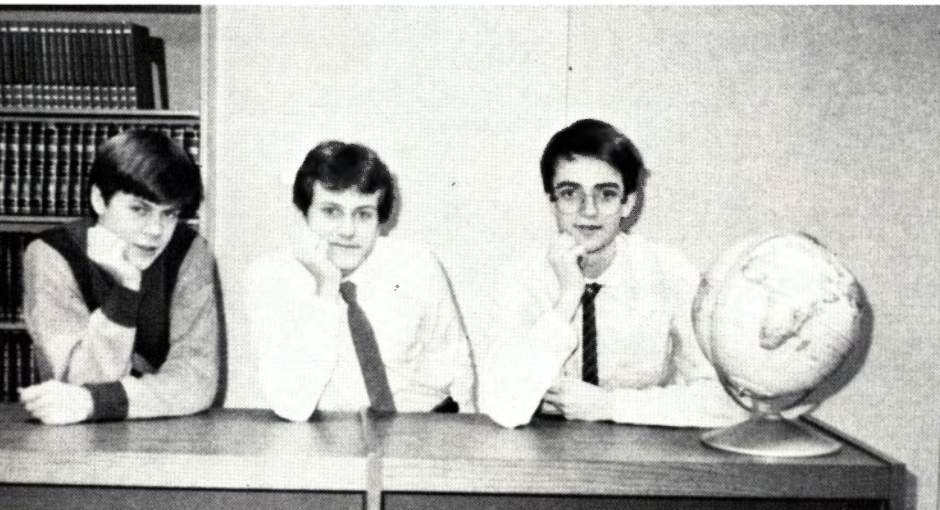

American schools seem so ordinary, but not to three of the high school students. This year brought many unexpected surprises to our three foreign exchange students.

He never anticipated how different HHS would be from his school in Germany. Michael Kohnke, an exchange student from Altenholz-Stift said, "This school is larger and I enjoy meeting more people." He also noted that our daily schedule remained the same; religion was not taught in the school, and more sports are offered. "I was very surprised at how many sports your school has," he added. When not busy in school, Michael enjoyed running with the Cross Country Team, swimming and acting.

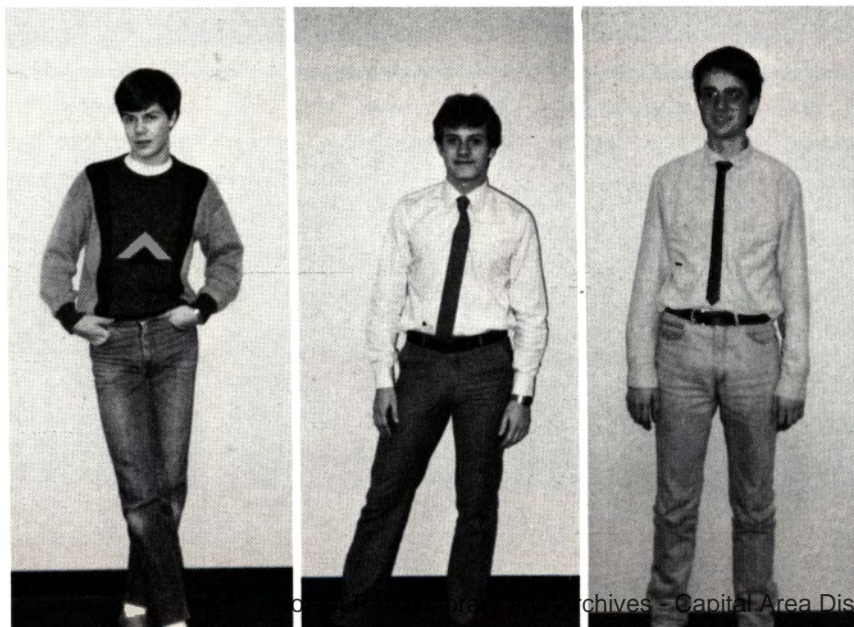

Schools in Denmark were very different from Holt High School according to foreign exchange student Ole Toft. For instance, Ole's school contained grades first through tenth with only five to six hundred students. These students remained in the same classroom all day while the teachers switched rooms. Students were required to have three years of English, and religion was taught up through the seventh grade. There were fewer electives, and grades were recorded on a scale of zero to 13.

Lars Olesen was one of two exchange students from Denmark at HHS. "The students and teachers were very warm and friendly," he said. "They really made me feel welcome and a part of their school." Lars really enjoyed going to the football games. "Seeing all those men in uniforms crashing into one another. I just didn't understand what was going on," explained Lars.

OPPORTUNITY TO TRAVEL ABROAD

New places and new faces filled the minds of the students who went to Paris and the German exchange students who came from Munich to Holt. For both groups the plane rides were long, but filled with anticipation of their arrival in Paris or Michigan.

Eighteen German girls from Elsa-Brandstrom Gymnasium arrived at the Detroit Metro Airport on March 26. An equal number of Holt students and their families were there to greet the foreigners with open arms and smiles. Three weeks of touring, sightseeing and fun followed. Among the organized trips were a visit to the capitol and a fun day at Greenfield Village. "Having an exchange student stay with you is a great experience," said senior Mike Wriggelsworth. "I made a friend that I know I'll have forever!" added senior Wendi Phenicie.

Over spring break, 10 Holt students, along with Mr. Norm Garnett and Mrs. Betty Garnett, took a week-long transatlantic trip to Paris, France. The week went quickly and was thoroughly enjoyed by each person involved. The students saw many well-known sights including the Eifel Tower, Versaille Palace and Fountainebleau castle. "It was a great experience filled with fun and friends. I'll never forget it!" commented junior Mike Powers.

THE WORK SAVERS THE TIME SAVERS

Holt High School teachers never know how much easier life could be until they had a student assistant. Even though a new restriction was imposed this year forbidding teachers assistants to use the ditto or photo copy machine, there were many other jobs an assistant could do to make the teachers day a little easier. Running errands, correction papers, typing and helping other students were common tasks given to assistants. "They got the work done I can't do during the day. They are real time savers," believes Mr. Dave Foy.

Besides easing the teachers responsibility being an assistant had personal gratifications as well. Learning appreciation for the teaching profession along with the actual experience were final rewards. "Finding out what teaching entails has been fun and very worthwhile" was how senior high school assistant Amy Wilcox felt.

There were many types of assistant positions available. Most common were the high school teacher and office assistants. Several high school students prefered to work with younger children and went over to Sycamore Elementary School for an hour of their day. "I like working with the kids and helping out the ones who need special attention," explained elementary assistant Cathy Heller. Others stayed in the high school and worked in the media department as library aides. No matter what positions they held, all assistants shared the qualities of hardworking, dependable individuals.

WORKING TOWARDS THE FUTURE

students had many opportunities.

The Capital Area Career Center was a great way to begin learning about a career. The CACC took in about 70 HHS students every day. They spent approximately three hours working in the field of their choice. This gave them a chance to learn while also experiencing their career goal.

Many students were excited about attending a course to better his or her career. "I enjoy working by myself at my own speed on something I like and want to do in my future career," said junior Linda Stine, a student in the medical assistant course. Junior Kristine Hudnut said, "It's teaching me things about data processing that I wouldn't be able to

An early career could begin with Holt's Co-op Program "Once enrolled in a program and taking a job-related class, the students "experienced, first hand, the work world," said co-adviser Mrs. Anne Kressler.

Released for no more than two periods a day during one year of school enrollment, workers spent a minimum of 15 hours a week at $3.35 per hour in a school approved place of business. Their pass/fail grade depended upon employer evaluation and instructors' on-the-job visitations.

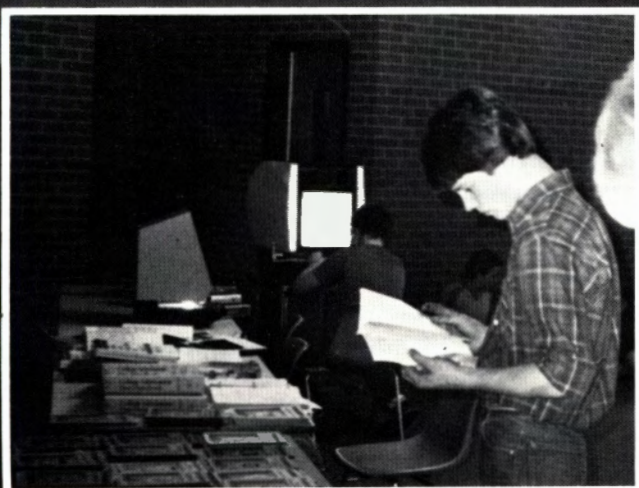

"Making money while getting an education," from senior Tara Thorton's point of view, seemed to be one of the main attractions for a successful program. Senior Pam Pratt recommended Co-op "because one received a feeling of independence and responsibility centered around learning a skill."

But leaving school for a half-day wasn't always "fun and games". While employees were practicing a profession, other classmates were enjoying school activities such as pep assemblies, spirit week, half-days, student forums and athletic practices and events. Others felt these were small sacrifices compared to the learning of a marketable skill.

For those students waiting until after graduation to begin career training the Counseling Center was the place to go.

Career Guidance Week, Moise, books, and pamphlets were used to help students to get information on the careers or professions that interested them.

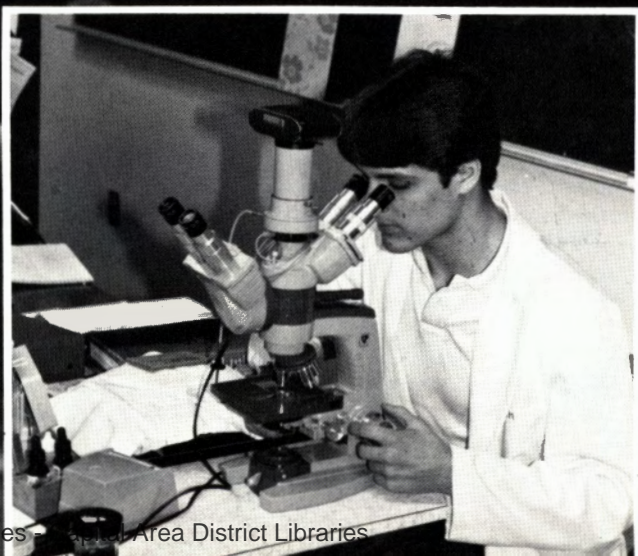

The Guidance Office was always open for questions and assistance in career planning. Representatives from colleges, universities and the military held discussions with potential students and recruits. "Knowing that I've helped someone, makes me feel great inside," concluded counselor Ms. Caryn Well

THROUGH THE CRISES, THEY KEPT RUNNING

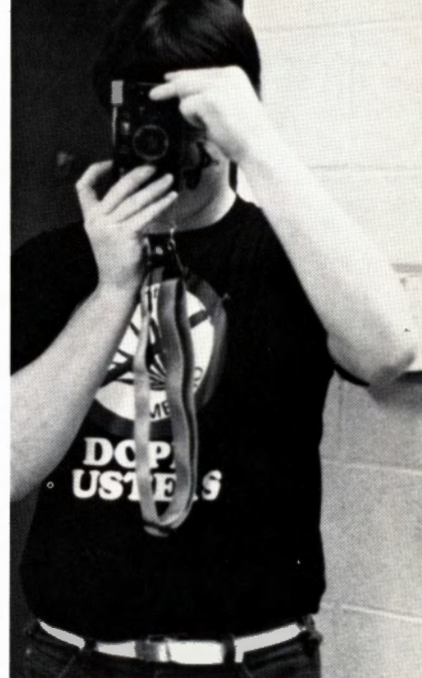

Thefts of large sums of money occurred in the Loft this year. Upsetting as it was, Mr. Scotty Shimnoski stated, "These thefts are what being in business is actually about. People will take advantage of you when you don't take precautions. The reality of the business world is certainly being driven home to each of my managers and workers."

The Loft definitely was a very big part of life at Holt High School. A major accomplishment of the Loft management was the designing of the showcase and Loft itself. There were many items of interest sold in the Loft: folders, shirts, sweatshirts, donuts (everyone's favorite), munchies and hats. A new item of the Loft this year was a pencil machine offering both Garfield and Carebear pencils.

The workers and managers each had their own view on what it was like to work in the Loft. "I like working in the Loft because it gives me retailing experience and it's just plain fun!" exclaimed junior worker Marlene Florian. Senior Debbie Wilton also felt the Loft offered good experience, but she added, "It takes more than what most people might think to run a business."

CREATIVITY MAKES A QUALITY YEARBOOK

Every year the Rampages Staff uses all their talent and creativity to produce a well put together yearbook. This year was no exception. All members of the Rampages Staff knew the feeling of pressure that came when the deadline for their pages rolled around. Each person was required to use his/her own ideas on yearbook pages. There was always that slight competition between staff members to see who could produce the most unique page.

The Rampages photographer, senior Mike Wrigglesworth said, "To look back later in life and say, I helped make this is a rewarding part of this class. Junior Kris Bratton said, "We all worked together, and had fun but we still got work done, it's nice to do something that a lot of people will appreciate in the end."

This year the Rampages Staff acquired more than $4000 selling ads which helped produce a more colorful yearbook. The Rampages editor, junior Angel Curtis, exclaimed, "It's really rewarding and a lot of fun working on the yearbook especially in the end when you get to see the finished product. It makes you feel proud that you had some input on one of the major things in high school." The Rampages Staff certainly had a lot to be proud of.

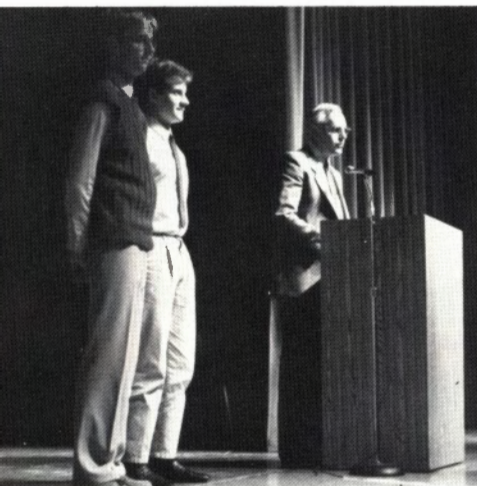

RECOGNITION FOR OUTSTANDING PERFORMANCE

After a long year, the students' hard work paid off. On Tuesday, May 28 at 7:30 p.m. in the Pernert Auditorium, Holt students and their proud parents gathered to attend the 1985 Honors Night.

A multitude of awards were presented to eager students. Among the awards were Band, Publications, Library/AV, Business, Foreign Exchange, Science and more. The biggest winner of the evening was senior Tom Heller. Heller accepted eight awards: five band awards, a science award, a math award and a scholarship award. Senior Kim Augenstein also received the Science Department Award, an honor that has not been awarded to a high school student for the past eight years.

The evening ended with the yearbook assistant editor, senior Teresa Glynn, announcing the dedication of the 1984-85 Rampages to substitute teacher Mr. Alfred Forche.

NEW PEOPLE OUTSIDE THE CLASSROOM

Some new important faces became familiar to Holt students last year — an assistant principal, the principal's secretary and an athletic trainer.

Mrs. Camille Esch, the new main office secretary, transferred from the Community Education Office. After six years of service in Holt Public Schools, the change was not a major one and there were only a few adjustments to be made. "I really like Holt as a community, the people, and I truly enjoy the friendliness of the students," said Mrs. Esch. "Not only do the students learn from us, but we also learn from them."

Mr. Donald Bowker took over the job of assistant principal. As a industrial arts teacher he felt a need to make a major change in his discipline. In dealing with discipline, Mr. Bowker said, "No one likes to deal with discipline, but it's something that comes with the job. I view my job as helping students and teachers with their jobs."

Coming from Fulton, Mrs. Mary Gray filled the position of librarian. Having seven years of experience as a librarian, Mrs. Gray attempted to make our library easier to use. "It's really hard for students to use because the layout is backwards," she said. "Everyone was really nice and made the change easier."

A new position of athletic trainer was held by Miss Mary Kapp. Miss Kapp had received her training from Central Michigan University and worked part-time for Sports Medical Center at Lansing General Hospital. "I really enjoy helping the students and it gives me the chance to feel needed," she said.

POWERFUL POWDERPUFFS

Never have any of these football players been seen in the men's locker room! Yet, they were some of the toughest competitors around. On Saturday, November 10, the senior women took on the junior girls in an exciting action packed football thriller. Although the teams practiced only three times, their natural organization and skill paid off.

A touchdown by senior Andrea Zaenglein followed by a safety by senior Debbie Shassberger highlighted the first half giving the game a score of 8-0. Throughout the second half the juniors remained scoreless.

The game earned $124 for the Senior/Junior Prom, and the fans walked away from an unbelievable event.

Versatility and smiles filled the 1984-85 Pom Pon Squad. From pom passes and somersaults to high kicks and flashy flips, the squad entertained it's audiences. The girls started their season performing during fall pep assemblies and ended up opening the halftime shows at the eight home basketball games. The decrease in members during basketball season couldn't stop the remaining ten dancers from giving top performances. "I liked pomming this season because we all got to jam to the tunes together," said sophomore Dorinda Kangas.

This year brought many new and fun experiences to the Pom Pon Squad. The girls attended a speed learning clinic in Shepard, competed in Regional competition in Ithaca, and hosted the statewide pom pon competition at Holt. During the end of July, the squad went to a week long camp at Saginaw Valley College. The girls did a great job and earned two second place trophies and numerous individual ribbons.

All the girls agreed that a special part of being on the squad was having a caring and involved adviser. Mrs. Karen Anderson was both of these and much, much more. "Working with the squad has been a very rewarding experience. I enjoyed watching the girls learn and communicate with each other as individuals," said adviser Karen Anderson.

One of the best parts of being on the squad was the close friendships that developed between the girls. Senior Kelly Fulk said, "Being a member of the Pom Pon Squad has left me with many happy memories and a lot of new friends!"

A CHANGE OF STYLE

Spirit Week was something all students could enjoy and participate in. No one was left out unless it was by choice. The halls were filled with spirited students dressed according to the theme of the day. Abnormal dress was seen during both Fall and Winter Homecoming Weeks. There were also many noontime games that pitted the sophomores, juniors and seniors against each other. The Friday pep assembly, the big game and the all school dance topped off the week. Why did this all happen? Well according to Cathy Heller, "It brought the students closer together outside of the classroom."

UM! UM! Hopefully chocolate cream pie is John Baker's and Mike Benda's favorite!

WHICH WAY IS UP? Andrea Zanglein and Amy Wilcox have a little fun at a Pep Club meeting.

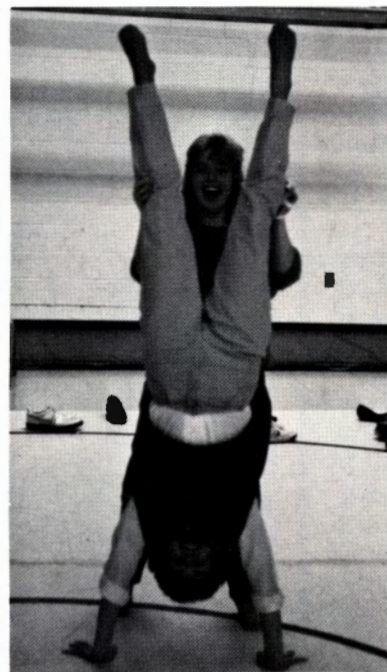

WHAT'S IN THE NEWS? The Homecoming game was full of new spirit ideas!

THE ROWDY "PEPPERS"

The Pep Club "peeked" during the football season. Off to a very active start, one could always hear the booming chants of the "peppers".

From the onset, under the supervision of Mrs. Barb Neureither and Mrs. Brenda Lynch, the club was excellently organized. It was divided into five sections: the fundraiser, new ideas, sports publicity, other publicity and pep assemblies. The plan was to have these groups meet separately and then report back at the end of the activity period. A small fee was required for dues. This money was spent on the teachers during Fall Homecoming. Placing an apple in every teachers mailbox, according to junior Eric Gafner, "was to show our appreciation for their understanding during our rowdy week."

HOLT VARSITY VOLLEYBALL OUT IN FRONT

GOING UP FOR A KILL ... Sue Kukulka assists for a point.

ANOTHER WIN ... Competing against Jackson, primary setter, Kathy Pifer, gets into the action.

LET'S GO HOLT! Starting players show their spirit during a home game.

"I GOT IT!" exclaims Lana Howell as she scrambles for the ball.

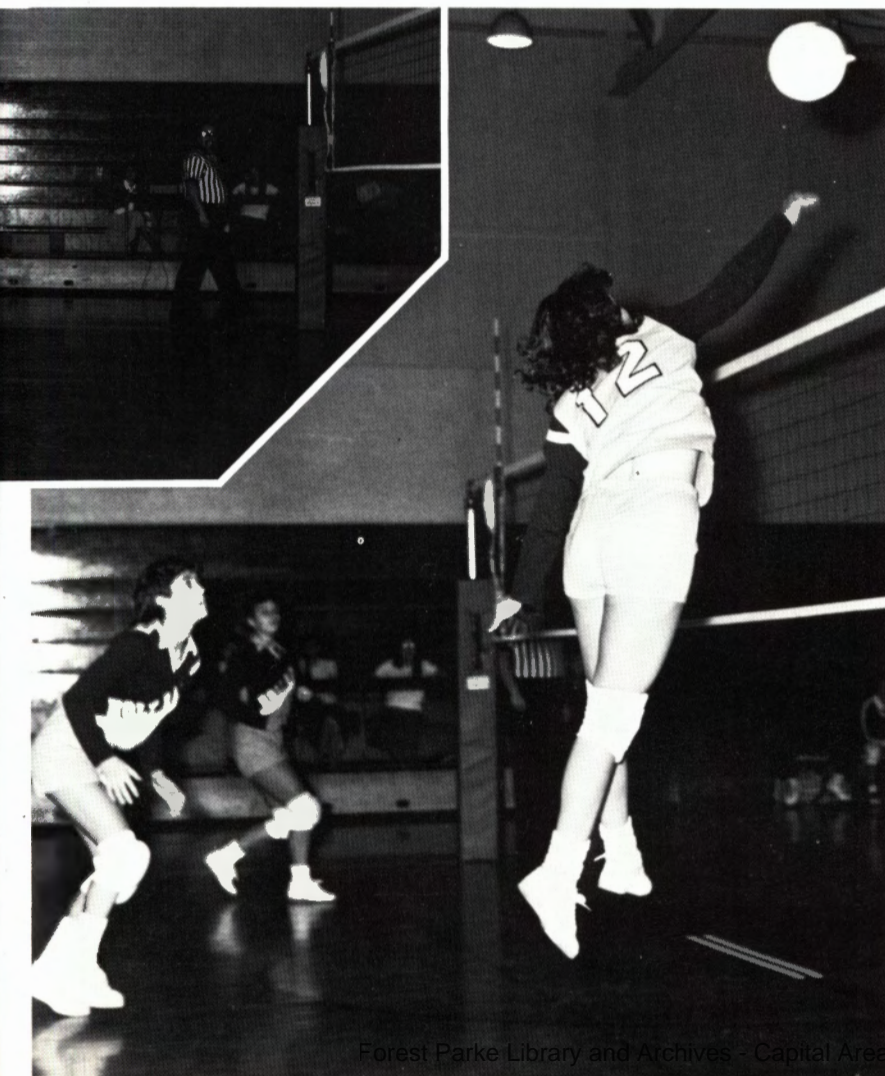

ROW 1: T. Davis, K. Schafer, C. Tatro, L. Parks, D. Harbach, L. Howell. ROW 2: manager T. Snively, manager M. Baker, J. Glynn, S. Kukulka, Coach M. Snively, S. Lehner, K. Pifer, manager A. Pifer.

"All fired-up" were words that described the Girls' Varsity Volleyball Team. According to junior Lisa Parks, the team was very strong and had extremely high goals and expectations for the season. The girls placed second in the CACs after a disappointing loss to Waverly, pulling off a 12-2 season and 12th place in the states.

The school spirit was great! Over 400 people attended the final home game. "If the team started to get down, the bench always got a little rowdier. We had to keep its spirits up," said sophomore Dawn Harbach.

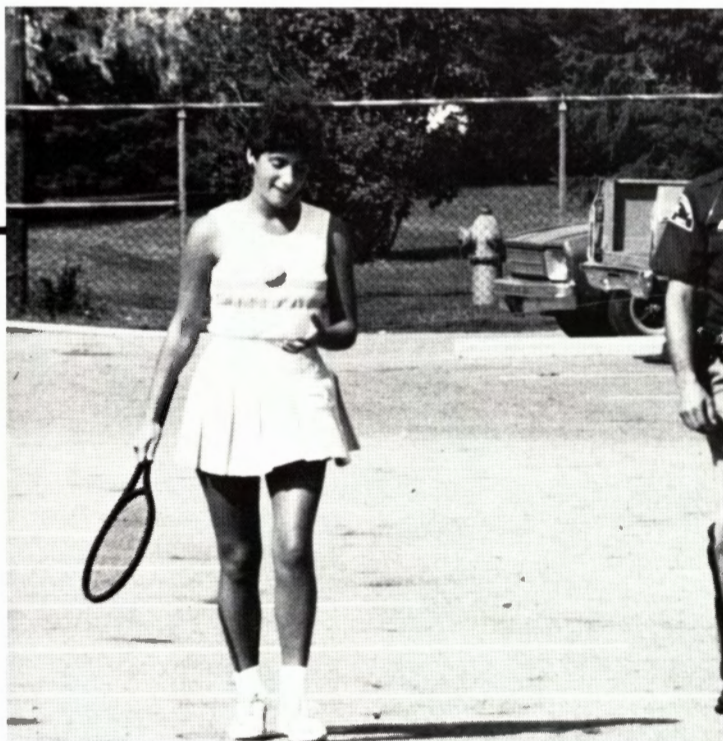

At the season's closing banquet, the Most Improved Team Member was awarded to Parks. Both Outstanding Player and Most Valuable Player awards went to Glynn. "This years team was the best Varsity team ever. We played some of the best teams in the state, and our talent as a team really stood out," commented Coach Snively.

SPIKE THAT BALL! ... Teresa Glynn gets in the last point to finish off the game.

BUSTED! Although Gretchen Pamer is not in trouble with the law, she was playing some strong "offensive" tennis for the Holt Rams.

ALL SMILES. First doubles partners Kristen Golden and Cherine Geymen break from tennis and pose for the camera.

ROW 1: L. Parks, C. Tatro. ROW 2: L. Cicigoi, C. Geymen, K. Essenburg, D. Keep, G. Pamer, M. McNamara, K. Havens, M. Newman, ROW 3: T. Arend, K. Golden, J. Brija, J. Whitsides, J. Kressler, L. Stein, L. Capps, P. VanDyke, K. Grout.

The matches were tough. Most of the players had mixed feelings when describing the 1984-85 Girls' Tennis season. "Our record could have been better, but everyone tried their hardest and that's what counts," stated junior Cherine Geyman. Junior Danielle Keep added that "though we won only three matches, I feel we did learn a lot from our mistakes."

Unexpectedly, the team lost its two best returning singles players causing the less experienced members to pick up the slack. "It was hard for the girls to have to move up a position and play where they did not expect to play," explained Coach Pat Sommers.

The girls, moving up to fifth place in the CAC, celebrated the season with dinner at ChiChi's Restaurant and with ice cream at the Country Parlour. Special awards were given to the seniors along with participation awards and varsity letters.

"The 1984 football season was very disappointing in that the Senior Class worked harder than any team I have ever coached during the off-season to become better players. Their attitudes and enthusiasm during the season were excellent. They deserved more success than they obtained. I am sure if we had not had so many key injuries they would have won more games," said Coach Dennis Bongard.

A few players received special recognition for the extra effort they put forth during the season. The role of captain was shared by seniors Scott Ammon and Greg Wilton. Ammon also received the Most Valuable Player Award. Pat Whitford was awarded Most Improved Player.

"Even though it was a tough season, we hung together as a team and had a lot of fun," added Mike Garland.

The season was tipped off by winning the Williamston tournament and seeing Sue Kukulka and Teresa Glynn named to the All-Tournament team. As the Girls' Varsity Basketball season progressed, injuries were directly reflected in the 13 win and 9 loss record. At one point, three starting players were out. Sophomore guard Dawn Harback said, "Our season was successful because of the team unity and the way we worked together."

"The season had its ups and downs, but as a whole we all learned something," said senior forward Margaret Baker. Kukulka set a new school record scoring 31 points against Grand Ledge. The season grew to a close, and the team went out with a bang, winning Districts against Grand Ledge and moved into Regional action. The season ended with a loss to Swartz Creek.

Honors were earned by Glynn who received All CAC and Kukulka, honorable mention. Kukulka also received All State Journal honors. Ms. Lila Guenther concluded, "I feel we were successful in our season, I enjoyed our teams defensive growth, we became a team to be respected for our defense."

The season started out on a good note. With a record of five wins and one loss, six games into the season, the outlook was very optimistic. Things didn't go as well as expected and Holt's Varsity Basketball Team ended the season with a disappointing record of seven wins and fourteen losses. "One of the best games of the whole season was against Waverly," stated Phil Kruger. "The support of the fans was great and the players performed to their potential."

The title of captain was held by seniors Scooter Tropf and Chris Thomas. "They both demonstrated leadership through the tremendous effort they put forth to make their team successful," remarked Coach Bobby Simmons. Holt received three transfers (senior Jeff Jordan and juniors Kevin Holt and Eric Trojanowicz) who greatly enhanced the teams playing power.

"I really believe that the players on the team will look back on this year as a very positive experience. We all had the opportunity to improve our skills and grow as individuals. This year we played more as a team and worked harder to achieve team success," summarized Coach Simmons.

NO GO! Forwards Scooter Tropf and Troy Pennell make it tough for a Waverly player to score.

This was a year of new direction for the Girls' Swim Team. A new swim Coach, Mr. Brian Templin, and a new diving coach, Mr. Chris Fayer, were introduced to the system. "It was really hard adjusting to begin with but the coaches really helped us out a lot," said co-captain Amy Wilcox.

Due to the unusually high number of injuries, the team had to pull together and make a mental adjustment. Despite the drawback Coach Templin was positive about the season, "I feel that we accomplished the goals I had of the swim team this year." As Michelle Nemshak summed it up, "We were really together, we worked hard and we had lots of fun."

Placing in the CAC finals were Amy Wilcox with a sixth in both the IM and backstroke; the medley relay team of Julie Farrell, Amy Wilcox, Kris Bratton and Kendra Smith placing fifth; and the free relay of Jenny VanDyke, Shawn Wright, Kristen Foust and Michelle Nemshak with a seventh place. Diver Julie Farrell took first in the CAC and Regionals, and she finished out the season with a fourth in the State Meet.

FINAL WORDS ... Coach Shipman gives the team some last minute encouragement before its victory over Eaton Rapids.

READY ... SET ... GO ... Diving off the blocks, Joel Service and Chris VanDyke stretch for that extra inch.

The Holt Varsity Swim Team did a one of a kind thing. During the 1984-85 season, the mighty Rams used their talents to bring Coach Dave Shipman his best record in his 15 years of coaching.

Lead by Captains senior Jon Russell, senior Todd Foust and junior Ed Wagner, the Boys' Swim Team ended their season with a 9-1-1 record and a third place at CACs.

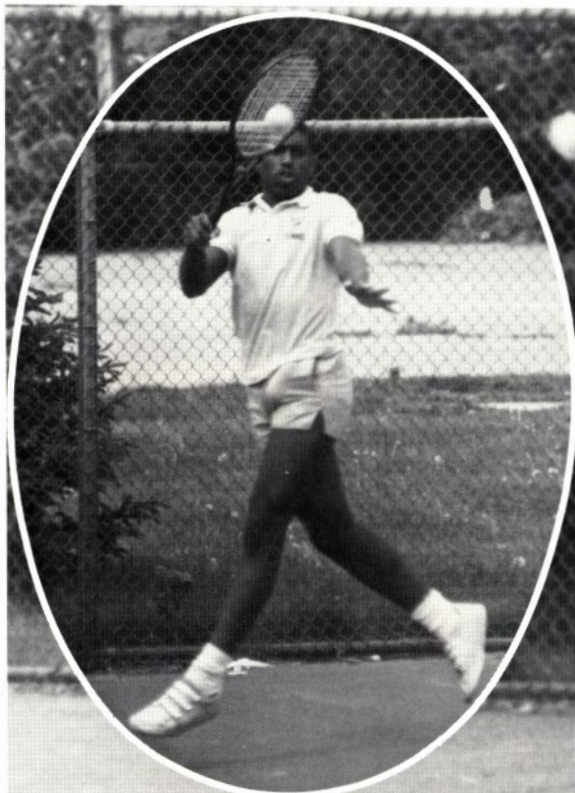

Two people qualified for state competition. Wagner swam in two events while sophomore Dave May competed in diving. When asked about next years prospects Coach Shipman said, "With only four graduating, next year we could finish second. East Lansing, who was eighth in Class A this year, has everyone back next year and will be great competition."

Challenge was the word that described the Boys' Varsity Tennis Team's 1985 season. The competition was tough and the team did their best to stand up to it. "We had many setbacks during the season, but I feel that each player improved his game," said senior Tom Heller.

The team finished seventh place in the CAC. Senior Kurt Nelson commented, "With the loss of two of our best players, it was really hard to end up in a strong standing in the CAC." Overall, the team's record for the season was 3 wins and 9 losses.

First singles player, senior Chris Thomas, had a strong match season. The first doubles team of Tom Heller and David Spencer also had a tough spot. "It was a difficult season in many ways, but I did enjoy working with the players. I appreciated the effort they put forth," said Coach Bill York. Mr. York returned to tennis coaching for the 1985 season after being a coach in previous years.

GOLFERS DRIVE THROUGH A TOUGH LEAGUE

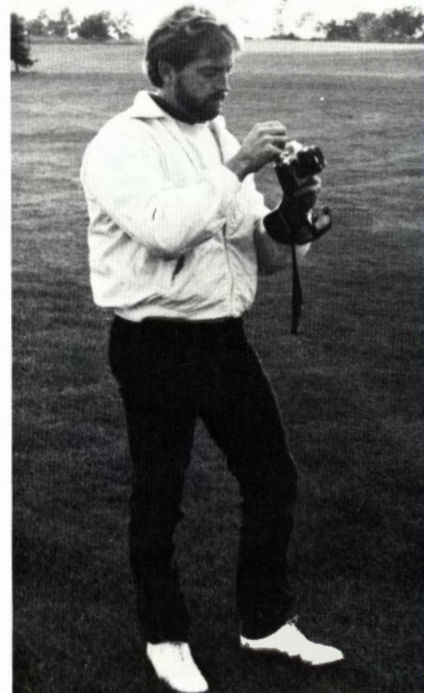

TEAM CAPTAIN Steve VanErmen gets his clubs ready for pre-game warm-up.

OPEN WIDE . . . Getting the tension loose before a meet John Chapman acts out once again.

IS THIS THE WAY IT GOES? Coach Bill Dowell prepares himself to take some team candids.

RELAXATION . . . After a hard day of teaching Coach Dowell relaxes with the boys at Eldorado Golf Course.

The high point for most of the players was the CAC league meet. "We finished in third place in the CAC, but in the final meet we finished fifth," said Bill Dowell. Chris Rule was a medalist with a 74 and John Chapman was fourth with a 78. The final season record was 6-10.

The low point of the season, said Todd Bosserdet, was "when we lost to Mason, a team that was low on talent." Another low point according to team captain John Chapman was "at the Regional Tournament. We knew we had the potential to qualify for states, but unfortunately we all played bad."

Coach Dowell said, "All the boys received valuable experience and played well in a very tough league. I felt the over all season was good." According to the team, Mr. Dowell was an excellent coach. He got the team fired up before each match. He was a real effective coach.

Large amounts of individual determination were not reflected in the 4-6 record of the 1985 Boys' Track Team. Senior Adrian Arnold led the team with an amazing 16 firsts out of 19 events. "I think I competed at my fullest potential to help the team," stated Arnold. Also, Varsity letters were earned by 15 runners.

The highlight meet of the season was an astonishing 118-18 triumph over Eaton Rapids. The team finished with a 2-5 league record, eighth in the CAC and 11th in Regionals. The team also competed in the Mason and Jackson Invitationals, placing fourth and eighth.

"I felt it was a fairly successful year, but to be the best, it will take a lot more work and determination my senior year," said junior Donnie McDaniels.

Everyone together led to the success of the Holt Girls' track Team. New members and overall improvement helped Holt finish with a winning season and a third place in the CAC. "I'm really satisfied with the way the year went. Many new people came out and contributed a lot," commented Head Coach Lila Guenther.

With help from Mr. Dennis Bongard and Mr. Will Griffin, Ms. Guenther was able to utilize the available talent to put together a winning line-up. For the first time in four years Holt was able to send qualifiers to the State Meet; senior LeeAnn Morgan in the long jump, junior Jeanie Hilton in the 800 meter run and the 3200 meter relay team of juniors Becky Barry, Wendy Leaf, Mandy West and Jeanine Hilton. "This year was a real challenge and lots of fun," summed up senior Wendy Phenicie.

HARRIERS STRIVING FOR A PERFECT SEASON

A GROUP DISCUSSION after the race gives the team a chance to talk about its times.

CAREFULLY PACING HIMSELF against rival Everett is Randy Cruz.

ROW 1: M. Olivas, J. Hooker, S. Distel, J. Parker, D. Schafer, T. Foust, M. Martin. ROW 2: Coach J. Gillett, M. Kohnke, R. Cruz, E. Flemming, J. Baker, T. Tatro, M. Young, T. Bell, (Not pictured: Manager K. Kime).

WARMING UP. Eric Fleming, Terry Tatro and Scott Distel stretch their leg muscles before a meet.

Pushing themselves for the last mile, reaching for the last ounce of strength, the 1984-85 Boys' Cross Country runners proved themselves a winning team. Ending with a 7-3 record, the season was highlighted by a win against long-time rival East Lansing. The team gave its best in three invationals and placed fourth in the CAC.

Senior Jim Parker who ran at the State Meet said, "I run because I love the sport and what it does for me ... running is a divine sport because it puts person against person in which you either win or you lose and the responsibility is all on the individual."

Coach Jerry Gillett was very pleased with the season. "The bulk of our team will be back next year and should be even more competitive than this year," he said.

Sophomore Tim Bell spoke for the team saying, "Coach Gillett is the best! Knute Rockne stand aside ... here comes Jolly Jerry Gillett."

READY, SET, GO . . . the girls' cross country meet against Eastern starts off with a bang.

FINALLY OVER! Crossing the finish line, Mary Moore takes her point card from Mr. Scott Shimnoski.

ROW 1: T. Bird, C. Heller, W. Leaf, M. Moore. ROW 2: J. Sible, L. Fulton, M. Heiser, N. Nichols, C. Fleming, J. Hilton, K. Barany, Coach W. Griffin.

"Love and friendship is what the team was made of. We're so successful because we didn't run just for ourselves but for each other," commented junior Jeanine Hilton. This made Holt a number one team.

The dedication and determination led the Holt Girls' Cross Country Team to a 7-1 record in the CAC duel meet! The only loss was to Everett in a very emotional race with Holt losing by only one point. CACs and Regionals were also great individual team races with Holt placing third at the CAC Meet and sixth at Regionals. "We all worked hard this season and showed lots of determination running to the finish," said junior Wendy Leaf. Leaf was the only runner who qualified for States. She placed fifth at CACs seventh at Regionals and 40th at the State Meet.

It was Coach Wilbert Griffin who was behind the team all the way. "Griffy helped me grow throughout the season. We learned much more than just how to win or lose," said senior Cheryl Fleming.

Mr. Griffin said, "The team had more enthusiasm than ever before. The togetherness of the team made a definite effect on individual performances. I was very proud of the team as a whole." When Griffin was asked if he was looking forward to coaching next year, he simply said, "By all means. I just can't wait!"

HOLDING UP UNDER PRESSURE . . . Dan Komm gives it his all to defeat his Grand Ledge opponent.

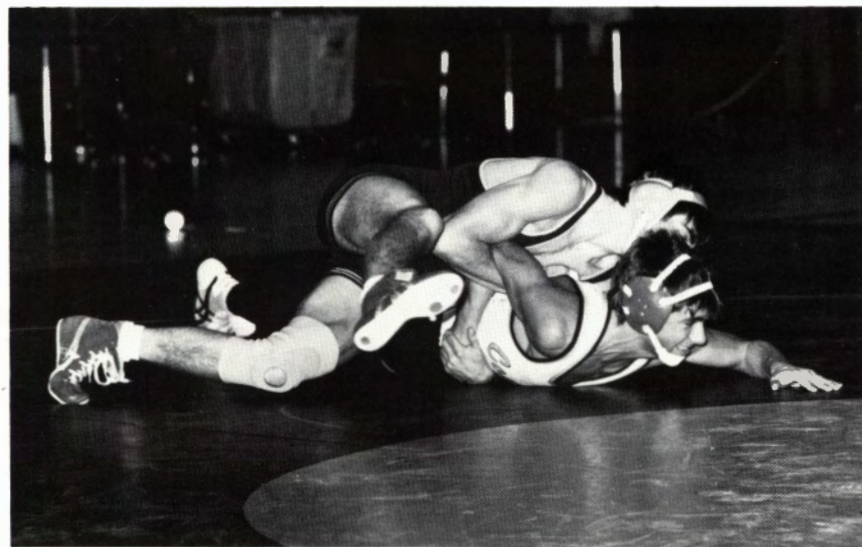

GOTCHA! The Comets struggle as Todd Keaton takes control at the 105 division.

CONCENTRATION! Grand Ledge is in a tight spot with Holt's Garrett Gamet going for a pin.

THE HEAT IS ON as Pat Whitford uses a difficult maneuver to defeat the Comets.

CAC Wrestlers: ROW 1: Coach R. Shaft, D. Komm, A. Dyer, Coach D. Green. ROW 2: T. Keaton, R. Jackson, M. Smith, S. Feeley, S. Ammon, L. Kingsley, J. Baker, G. Wilton, P. Whitford, J. Chapman, K. Bachman, G. Gamet.

Holt's new eligibility system hurt the Wrestling Team's potential by eliminating approximately 20 wrestlers. Those who survived the practices and the grades showed they could endure. Of those who "toughed it out", seniors Jon Mullen and Greg Wilton managed to get "most valuable A Class" at the Holt Invitational I. Sophomore Bill Duling and senior Pat Whitford received "most valuable" in the 145 division at the Holt Invitational II. Some felt the team was weaker than last year. Next years hopefuls include sophomores Garrett Gamet and Mark Smith.

The team's toughest competition was Eastern, but Holt held on for a winning season. Thirteen wrestlers went to CACs, and topping off the season, Whitford was crowned a State Champion. Coach Rocky Shaft summarized "the winning season, second in our league, winning three tournaments during the year, and concluding with a tenth place State Finish as a team ... I feel they did well."

POSING PROUDLY. Lori Detering waits in silence to perform her floor routine to "Ghost Busters".

"We had a lot of potential but we just couldn't get it all together" stated sophomore Marlo Haas. The 84-85 Varsity Gymnastics Team had an average season with five wins and five losses. At first, the team lost several meets because of a few injuries, but it made up for it later in the season.

The year had many outstanding gymnasts. Senior Lori Detering was a strong all around competitor and performed great throughout the season. The junior class provided Michelle Kennedy who will be a top qualifier for next year. Junior Kim Hunter was voted "Most Improved" because of her abilities and her increasing scores during the season. Sophomore Marlo Haas was the "Most Valuable" all around contributor to the team. She took a second place in the CAC all-around competition and finished ninth at Regionals in the all-around competition. Sophomore Sandy Bolwinski and Freshman Dawn Schmidt showed a lot of potential for next year.

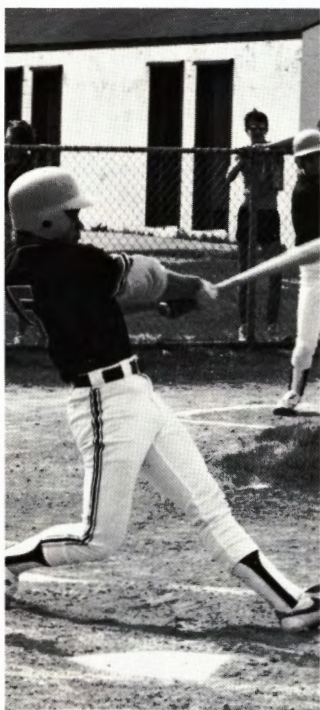

Second-year coach was Miss Anne Witherall. "She was an excellent coach who has many promises for the future," remarked Detering. "She tried hard to get the team together and next year the team hopes to win the CAC championship."

DOWN! Along with being called out at the plate, Mike Salisbury was ejected from the game for not sliding.

SHAKE IT OFF . . . Junior Catcher Eric Trojanowicz and third baseman Todd Bosserdet give reassurance to pitcher Andy Taylor.

With a defiant lack of senior leadership, but a blessing of three strong sophomores, the Boys' Varsity Baseball Team had an unusual season. With only two returning seniors and 12 underclassmen, the team had to rebuild. Coach Del Cory clearly stated that lack of leadership and the inexperience of the young team truly posed problems this year.

Although the team was "mercied" three times in a row, the players came back to play some decent ball. "I felt the season was worthwhile. You take every experience and try to learn from it," added Coach Cory.

The team may have lost 18 games, but it was a great season for Holt's three sophomores. Tony Doll was honored by being named the team's Most Valuable Player and Pitcher — most likely because of his 51 strike-outs on the mound and his 21 hits (seven were home runs). Todd Glynn added a .340 batting average and 19 bases on balls to the school record, while Mike Salisbury provided 14 hits for a .238 batting average. The team's defense was lead by senior Tim Nott with an error free fielding percentage of 1.000. The team leader on offense was junior Tim Lounds with a batting average of .395.

WARMING UP before a home game, shortstop Dawn Harbach is ready to go!

What a great year for the Girls' Varsity Softball Team. Taking first in the CAC, second in the Mason Invitational, and second in the Diamond Classic. Working as a unit, the team played to it's potential. It payed off with a record of 22-5, Holt's highest record ever.

The weather was great; there were no bad injuries; and when the girls were out there, nothing could stop them. At the Mason Invitational senior Teresa Glynn and sophomore Dawn Harbach made the All-Tournament Team. Junior Lana Howell and senior Wendy Rich were selected All-Tournament Team at the Diamond Classic.

For Holt to make it to districts they had to beat out St. Johns and they did with the score of 6-5. At Districts Holt beat Everett with the score of 9-1. Then going on to finals the girls had to play Grand Ledge. Holt lost in the 12th inning with a score of 3-2.

When All-CAC selections were made, Holt was honored with Glynn as pitcher, Harbach as shortstop, Mrs. Margo Snively as coach and Rich with honorable mention. All-Region selections were Glynn and Rich on the first team and Harbach with honorable mention. All-Area selections were Rich, Glynn and Harbach. Mrs. Snively was All-Area Coach of the year.

It's not whether you win or lose, but how you play the game. This is true of the 1985 Girls' Golf Team. Although the girls only had one win out of 14 matches, "the season was a great success in that all the golfers were beginners who had only played golf for three weeks prior to the start of the season," acknowledged Head Coach Pete Kressler. The team improved 109 strokes on their averages and were eventually able to place fifth in the CAC's.

The most outstanding golfer on the team this year, junior Jami Brija, was selected to second team All-Conference which was an honor considering she was competing against girls with two to three years of experience. High scorers were Brija and sophomore Kristen Schuler, shooting in the high 40's. Team member junior Pam Gilmore enjoyed playing on the team this season. "It was a great experience for me and I improved in areas where I needed it. We didn't meet all the goals we had hoped for, but in the long run it was all worth it," she said.

A LONG JOURNEY . . . Robyn Cook, Kelly Pierce and Maureen Maki eagerly start out for the first hole.

HARD WORK PAYS OFF

Inspiration, dedication and skill was what made the 1984 JV Football Team successful. The 5-3 season record was proof it was ready for anything.

High scorer, sophomore Adam Faught, with a total of 20 points and three touch downs, led the team to victory. The players ran a total of 626 yards and 119 points this year.

"It was an enjoyable year," said Coach Del Cory. "The players improved a lot from their freshman year, and it's nice to see people get better." He felt they really worked as a team and played excellent games, especially against Grand Ledge and Everett. It was teamwork and enthusiasm that made the Holt Rams JV Football Team successful. Junior Fabian ReCollet added, "I think we had a pretty good season. Hopefully we will continue and have a good Varsity team next year."

PROUD is the way to describe the JV team after another touchdown.

Challenged by high goals and high hopes, the Girls' JV Basketball Team pulled off a successful season. "The team was able to exceed expectations at the beginning of the year, considering its lack in height and lack of experience at the JV level," commented first year coach Mr. William York.

The season started with a loss but ended with a winning 12-7 record. After a disappointing loss to Everett, the girls came back to defeat second ranked Eastern. As the season continued to improve, so did the team spirit. "We all stuck together and kept helping each other even when we were behind," noted sophomore Stacey Stephens.

The girls ended the season fourth in the league and improved their record from last year. Christina Long, leading scorer with an average of 12 points per game, concluded, "When we played together as a team we did real well and our overall season was good."

JV GROWS TOUGHER

Award winning effort and teamwork were the dominate characteristics of the Boys' JV Basketball Team. Dedication was evident in each game even though the season ended with a disappointing 6-14 record.

A very proud coach, Peter Kressler, commented, "Our success should be measured on our effort and improvement. This group worked well as a team and did not value themselves as single units. The best thing that can be said about these young men is that they are gentlemen in the best sense." Team leader Todd Glynn added, "The season had its difficult moments, but all in all, the team's closeness always kept the season in an up."

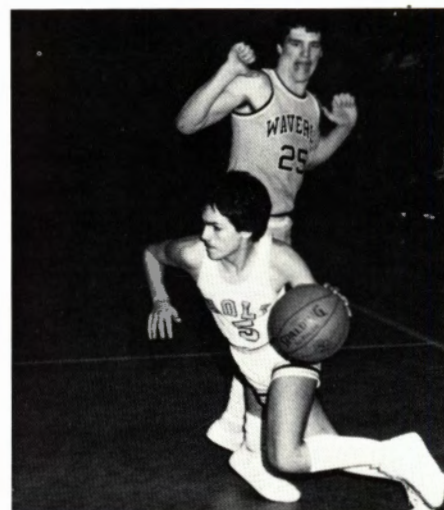

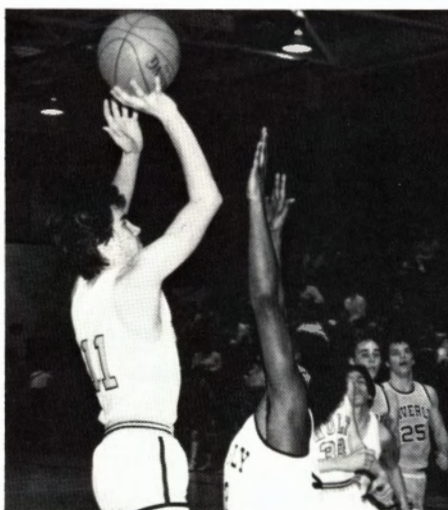

Although every player contributed to the success of the team, statistically Mike Salisbury was leading scorer with a 13 point average per game and Travis Faulds was second with 11 points per game. Outstanding in defense, according to Coach Kressler, was Rick Iribarren.

A team with a first-year coach is not expected to do very well, but Holt's JV Girls' Volleyball Team proved this to be wrong. Under the watchful eye of 1979 Holt graduate Robin Ramsay, the team soared to an 11-4 record. These top results earned them a first-place tie with Sexton in the CACs. "Watching the girls improve and gain skill throughout the entire season made me love coaching them," said Ramsay. Sophomore Kristin Chapman said, "The low point of the season was when it ended!"

DIFFICULT JV SEASON

The season could best be described as an all out struggle. Pitching appeared to be the team's biggest problem. "Trying to find a pitcher that could throw more than three innings at one time was what hurt us," explained Coach Bruce Larner.

On the positive side was the Boys' JV Baseball Team's second place finish in the Sexton JV Invitational. Adam Faught felt it was one of the season's highest moments.

Faught led the team at the plate with a .387 batting average followed closely by Kevin Folleth who hit .382. Ken Wolverton was the pitching ace with four of the team's six wins.

Although the team was not as united as it could have been, Coach Larner felt it still accomplished some of the necessary things at the JV level making it a worthwhile season.

COMPLETE CONCENTRATION. First-year coach, George La Framboise, watched the new moves of his JV wrestlers.

TOUGH JV

Keeping up the spectacular Ram wrestling tradition, the Holt JV wrestlers proved victorious with a 6-1 record in their dual meets. First year coach, Mr. George La Framboise, views his team as "Confident and always willing to learn." "It's a long, tough season. Anyone who sticks it out is a winner," Coach La Framboise said.

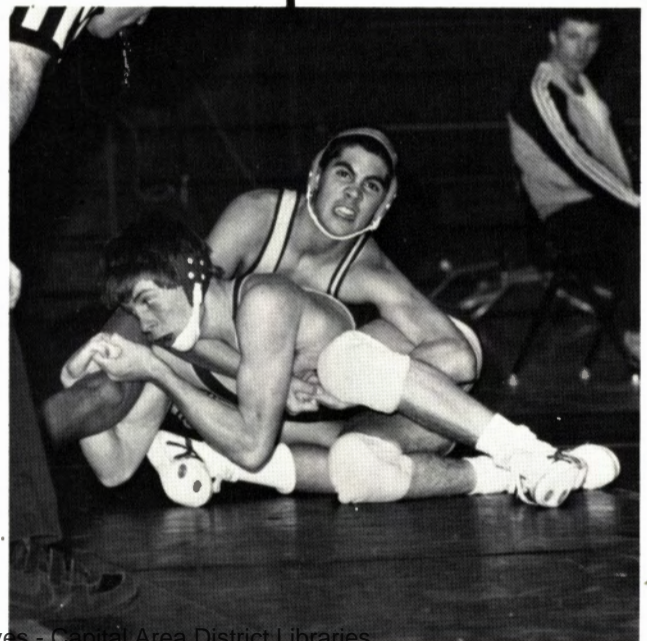

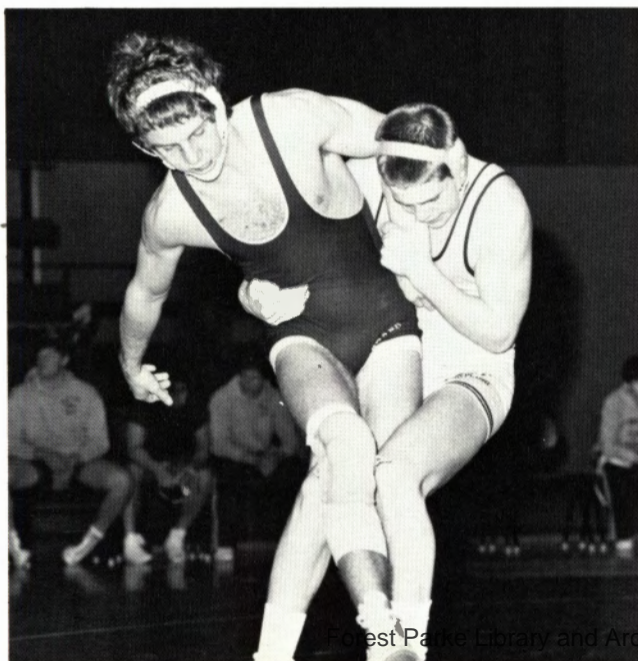

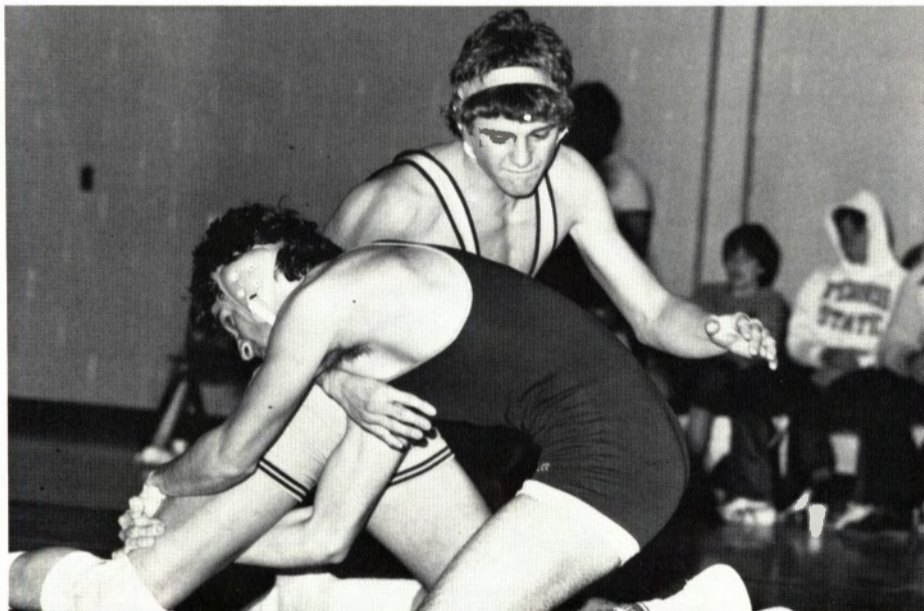

The wrestlers worked as a total team without a clear division between JV and Varsity players. Sophomore Bill Kingsley said, "I'd like to keep up the tradition of the wrestling team's 14 years without a losing season." Sophomore Joe Yeager also proudly stated, "As far as I'm concerned, being 'Top 10' in the state is great enough."

"The large sophomore class will be depended upon the next two years to fill many vacant spots and to make up for the lack of participation in this year's junior and sophomore classes," concluded Varsity Coach Rocky Shaft.

In a season of ups and downs determination was a key factor. The Holt Girls' JV Softball Team showed hard work paid off. The reward was a 10-9 record. Though there were more players than uniforms, all the team members proved to be competitors. "The best part of the season was when we beat Eastern by a mercy score, 14-2!" said third baseman Lisa Etelamaki.

Coach Mike Clark, coming back from last year's disappointing season, commented, "The team needs to improve on the mental aspects of playing the game, but they've got a lot of potential." This was the first time Mr. Clark has beaten Eastern twice in a season. But, on the other hand, the team had five disappointing losses all in the last inning of the game.

SIDELINE SEES OTHER ACTION

Participating in a sport didn't always mean being the best spiker, top wrestler or number one putter. A major role, if not the most important was being that "on-the-bench" supporter or sideline fan.

It was being a part of a team that counted. "Hearing someone cheering for you in the background seemed to spark some sort of extra energy!" commented senior golfer John Chapman.

But what happened between the competitions? Well, athletes were physically and mentally training. A few jumping jacks, wind sprints and lap running around the track were behind many Holt victories. Junior cross country runner Wendy Leaf realized that the team did not always win. "The losses were easily accepted when you knew you tried your best," she said.

FALL CHEERLEADERS STRIVE FOR PERFECTION

REACHING FOR THE TOP! Practicing before the game, Varsity Cheerleaders attempt a new mount.

RISE UP GATHER ROUND. Varsity and JV squads join together at Fall Homecoming.

SAY CHEESE! JV Cheerleaders Brooke DeMarko and Kristin Chapman take a break at halftime of the Holt versus Eastern game.

JV FALL CHEERLEADERS: ROW 1: D. Young, B. DeMarko. ROW 2: R. Zieger, captain D. VanDenBrink. ROW 3: K. Chapman, co-captain T. Barnhart.

Changes did not hurt the cheerleaders. One significant change was the hiring of a new coach. A senior at MSU, Melanie Brink was a former Holt cheerleader and a 1980 graduate. It was difficult at first to adjust to new rules and expectations of a different adviser.

The girls had an early start this year. Both squads worked hard at summer camps. The JV attended Michigan State University while Varsity went to Central Michigan. Later that summer, early morning practices paid off. In national competition the Varsity Cheerleaders placed 26th in cheering and third in skit. Senior Lisa Gafner topped Holt's individual competition record, placing 22nd while senior Debbie Shassberger placed 27th.

The JV Cheerleaders faced the fall challenge of getting football crowds enthused and spirited. "A six person squad was a set back, but I think we did an excellent job," explained sophomore Debbie VanDenBrink. Senior Andrea Zainglein summed up the feelings about the season, "Cheering this year has been a lot of fun and we really enjoyed working with Coach Brink," she said.

SOMETHING NEW! Male cheerleaders performed with the Varsity squad during a pep assembly.

AN INJURED KNEE didn't stop Varsity Cheerleader Debbie Shassberger from participating with full spirit.

Cheerleaders weren't always appreciated by the team and the crowd, but their spirit never seemed to die. They were just as excited and enthusiastic at the last game as they had been at the first. This years 1984-85 cheerleading squads put a lot of time and effort into all of their accomplishments. The Varsity squad had one major performance that was by far more outstanding than any of the others. They persuaded seven guys to cheer at the Homecoming pep assembly along with them! This drew screams and cheers of approval from the shocked crowd. The Varsity Cheerleaders also hosted the CAC competition at Holt in which they placed fourth. The JV did not attend a competition, but they showed all of their spirit at the JV basketball games.

Each squad had some new members who turned out to be great assets to the squads. Sophomore Trisha Barnhart stated, "At first it was hard for them to catch on to the new cheers, but later they improved." Junior Lela Weems added, "I liked being a cheerleader because it was lots of fun to help cheer our team on."

As for guys' IM ... it took awhile for the organization of the game schedule to be completed along with the picking of team members. But, as soon as the team rosters and t-shirts were spread around, the fun started! Nine teams fought it out for first place playing on Monday and Wednesday nights.

As senior Ken Toth of Bill's Hogs stated, "This year the competition was spread out more and scores seemed to become closer each game." Dan Komm said, "IM games gave guys a chance to be with their friends and get out some frustrations."

Tied for first-place in season games was Your Money and Bill's Hogs. Second-place also had a tie with Bud Boys and Terrible "IO" claiming the position. The remaining teams finished in the following order: Chew Crew, Who Cares, Kodiak Crew, USA, and finally the Bumms. USA came from behind in the season games to make it into the final tournament game against Your Money. Proudly, Your Money remained undefeated winning the tournament championship.

Only one team could be in first-place and according to senior Staci Foster, "Everyone wanted to be champs!" "It was hard playing at times," said junior Yvette Gallap of the Gee-Spots, "But overall everyone had a great time."

The season did see an increased number of forfeits. Jobs, cheerleading and other activities made it especially difficult to get enough players out for each team. But the season wore on and from it came two winners. Winning the overall season was the team Foxfire. But when it came down to the tournament action. Fresh came out on top. Cheryl Tatro said, "I had a fun time playing basketball with my friends and of course it felt great to be champs."

ATHLETIC AWARDS NIGHT: A TOUGH ROAD ENDS

MOMENTS TO HOLD ON TO ... as experienced by Teresa Glynn, the winner of the John R. Reid Athletic Scholarship.

WAY TO GO! As Jerry Baker receives his senior award, he also receives a warm smile and handshake from Lana Howell.

NEW CHALLENGES. The all-new members of the Girls' Golf Team receive recognition from Coach Pete Kressler.

WAITING IN ANTICIPATION is the Boys' Varsity Baseball Team to accept awards from Coach Del Cory.

The evening was to honor the spring sport athletes. A long season of competition ended with awarding numerous honors.

The Awards Night also gave special recognition to the graduating seniors. They received plaques for their accomplishments in athletics throughout their senior year. This special recognition was awarded by the Holt Booster's Club.

This traditional annual event did not always fit into all athletes' and coaches' schedules. This year Athletic Director Jack Crawford filled in for the track coaches who were attending the State Journal Honor Roll Track Meet.

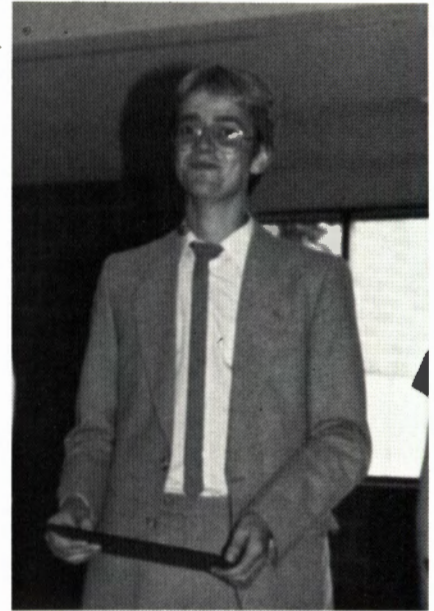

We Are

The Class of '85

SENIORS AWARDED FOR HARD WORK

Twenty-six seniors were invited to a special dinner given by the Board of Education. These seniors accumulated a grade point average of 3.5 or above. They received two certificates of recognition and a gold pin from Dr. Robert Foy and Mr. Paul Jolly.

Many delicious entrees, catered from Schmidts, were served to the guests. Afterwards, junior Kim Hill entertained the guests playing "Sonata Opus 2" and "No. 3 Diabolic Suggestions" on the piano. Her performance impressed most everyone there.

This group of students all have a lot of potential for future success. According to Principal Jolly, "The dinner is an opportunity to join parents, teachers and community honoring our top scholastic senior students. It's a 'classy' way of saying we recognize a 'classy' effort."

APPLAUSE ... the seniors are recognized for their scholastic achievement.

NOTICE! One of the foreign exchange students, Michael Kohnke, is a proud member of the group

"CONGRATULATIONS" says Dr. Robert Foy to honor student Shawn Feeley.

ALL DONE. After Dinner senior Todd Adams sits and waits until the presentation of the certificates proceed.

"TOP" OF THE CLASS

Amongst all of the activities involved with attending high school, most students are mainly concerned with maintaining a B or C average. This was not the case for the students at the Annual Top Ten Dinner whose main worries were whether they were going to get an A or an A- in Advanced Trigonometry. This dinner was held in honor of the members in the Senior Class who had maintained the ten highest scholastic averages.

Among the guest speakers at the program were Mr. Charles Loveless, President of the Holt Kiwanis, and Mr. William W. Lane, Vice President of General Motors and General Manager of the Oldsmobile Division.

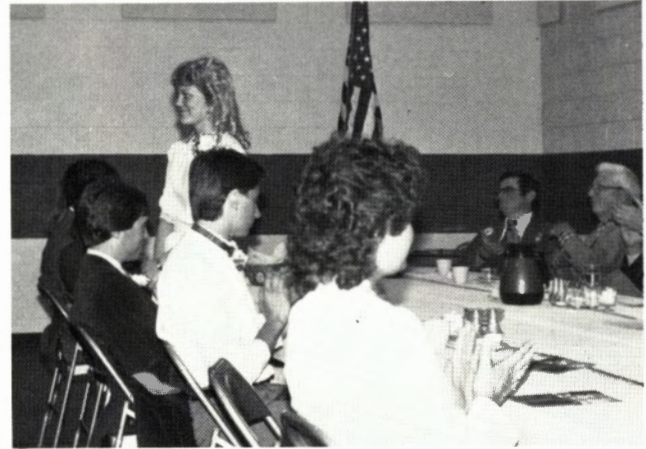

Senior Casey Parks, one of the honorees, said, "Many students look too much at their own achievements. The key is to see who helped with those achievements and true knowledge comes in knowing how to thank them."

"I can easily remember what I hear and read, I guess I'm lucky. I do all my homework, but rarely 'study' for anything else," said top student Kim Augenstein. For some, excellence comes easily.

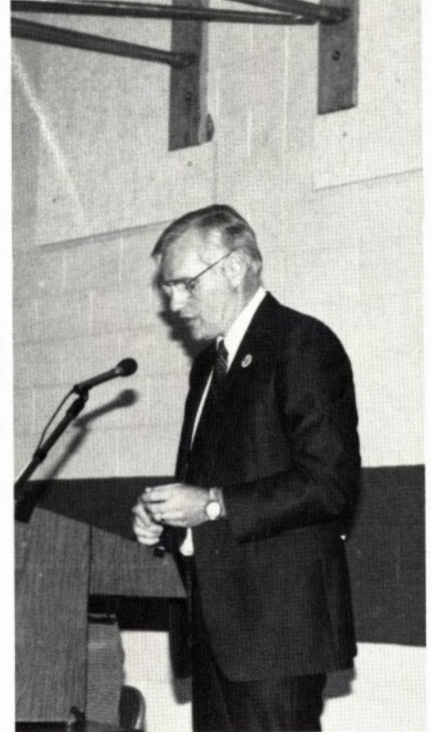

RAP SESSION . . . Tom Heller, Steve VanErmen, Debbie Shassberger and Kathy Pifer converse.

"THANK YOU," Debbie Shassberger receives the applause of well-wishers.

"GREAT JOB," Mr. Paul Jolly congratulates the Top Ten students in the Class of '85.

SENIOR TRIP

Besides the interference of student drivers tailgating the buses and the cold wind at the start of the day, the seniors made the most of their trip to Cedar Point.

The day started out by leaving the high school at 7:30 a.m. and the students returned to their buses at Cedar Point at 8 p.m. "It was great! It seemed like the whole park was filled with Holt seniors," said Tom Nequette.

At the park the whole Class of 1985 became one big family. Everyone knew this was one of the last big events together and wanted to make it last forever. As the day flew by, there were some sad thoughts running through the students' minds. "This was the closest I have ever seen my classmates throughout all the years we've been together," said Kelley Sweet.

FLYING HIGH on the sky swings are Chris Anderson and Lori Detering.

KICKING BACK at sunny Cedar Point are Mike Garland, Tammy Sykora, Allison Smith and Scott O'Dell.

HANGING LOOSE, Stephanie Schriener, Brenda Reed, Michelle Ridley and Wild Bill Selleck ride the White Water Landing.

After a week's vacation, it was old to see senior Holt trails. On June 6 at 8 a.m. it seemed as if every graduate was building. The "Señor Invasion" led to the beautifully decorated gym where tables were set up in preparation for the Senior Breakfast.

Headed by Mrs. Beatrice Soloman, the breakfast started with a welcoming from Principal Paul Jolly, picture information by Joseph Beck and a heartfelt anecdote relayed by Mrs. Soloman. After the prayer led by Mr. Mac Soloman, the seniors lined up to receive doughnuts and an egg dish. Juice, milk and coffee were served by volunteer senior parents. Everyone ate heartily and seconds were permitted. After every plate was emptied and all the mouths were wiped the seniors filed out on to Troost Field to prepare for the nights commencement festivities.

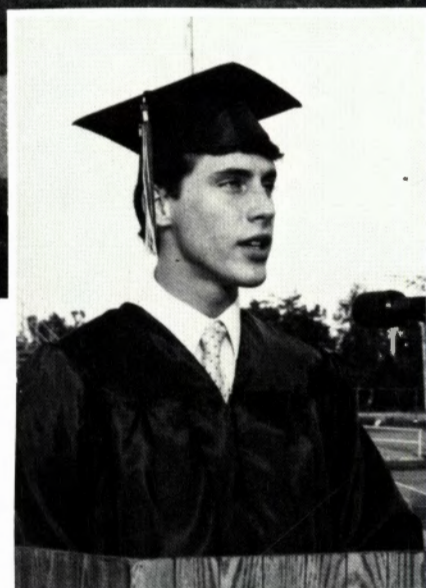

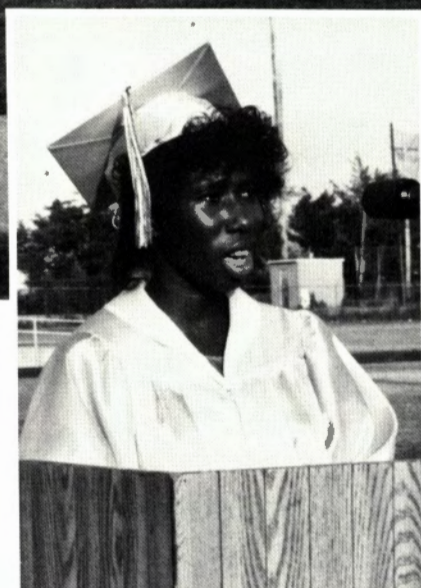

BOTTOMS UP ... Debbie Wilton seems intent to get the last drop.

DISH UP ... April Yeager receives an ample portion from a helpful mother.

GRUBBIN ... the Class of 85's favorite "chow hounds" get their fill.

WITH MIXED EMOTIONS the faculty conveys their sincere best wishes to each senior on the field.

PROUD MOMENTS ... Debbie Shassberger, Tonia Yarbrough and Terry Tatro speak for the Class of 1985.

LAST PERFORMANCE! Seniors join their soon-to-be alumni band for some final serious notes.

SUNNY SKIES SHINE ON CLASS OF 1985

BACCALAUREATE . . .

When feelings of graduation first hit the heart, it was on June 2. Seniors worshipped together in full formal cap and gown. Baccalaureate started at 4 p.m. with a prayer led by Reverend Denny Buwalda. Senior Angela Young recited the call to worship followed by special music from Don Besi and Roger Emerson. Litany of the Lord's prayer was read by Michelle Nemshak. Tammy Poma and Amy Wilcox sang and Thomas Heller played "Largo" Mozart's Concert in B flat on the clarinet. Mack Solomon recited an inspirational reading and John Gambil read the scripture. Mr. Ron Allen directed the choir and played the organ during the hymns. Baccalaureate was a very invigorating way of spiritually entering the adult world.

COMMENCEMENT . . .

The very last moment was here! It was time for the Class of 1985 to put on its' caps and gowns and receive the all important diploma.

Commencement was held at Troost Athletic Field June 6, at 7 p.m. It began with a surprisingly interesting speech by Holt Superintendent Dr. Henry Sinkiewicz in which he "graded" the class giving it a cumulative GPA of a whopping 2.5

Student speakers were Debbie Shassberger, Tonia Yarbrough and Terry Tatro. Shassberger began with a "recap of the past", including memories of everything from elementary "King on the Mountain" to the middle school commons to high school lunch options. Yarbrough continued with an eloquent, yet humorous, speech concocted "without the dictionary." Tatro concluded with an intellectual comparison of the Class of "85" and a school of fish.

The class remained unique even in the receiving of the diplomas. Jeff Jordan's "high five" handshake with Dr. Robert Foy combined with an airplane banner congratulating Jannalynn Whitesides completed the scene of the Senior Class final event.

BEST FRIENDS: TWO OF A KIND

Best Friends . . .

They are the ones who were never seen apart. One could even say they were virtually connected by the head, destined to whisper the latest gossip into each others ears forever. Those with best friends knew just how lucky they were. Best buddies knew each others secrets, dreams and ambitions. They stuck together through good times and bad. They were always there when you needed support, advice or just a shoulder to lean on. Some said that their best friends were actually a part of them — a part they couldn't do without. Best of all, having a best friend meant never sitting home alone on a Saturday night! The "dynamic duos" of Holt High knew the true meaning of companionship!

NAUGHTY, NAUGHTY

While most Holt students concentrated on grades, some concentrated on mischief. Their best class seemed to be "Everything You're Not Supposed to Do in High School". They usually kept themselves under control, but sometimes the "unexcused absences" added up too quickly. With the pressure of graduation upon them, the seniors fought back in a variety of ways to release their frustration. "Apathy '85" seemed to be the attitude of some of the graduating class. While "letting loose" once in a while was fun, the nagging reminder that report cards would soon be out kept most people in line.

ROCKEN' through their senior year, Ken Toth and Bob Moubray are hoping not to get caught with their box.

IT'S A FIGHT! Pinned down by Chris Patton, Mike Garland eats the grass.

SNEAKY Teresa Glynn and Tonia Yarbrough slip into the boy's locker room to cause trouble.

SENIOR PRANKS. Steve Stratton gets tossed in with the garbage by friend Tom DeClerc.*

WHERE'S THE FIRE? Prankster Freddy Mowrer pretends to pull fire alarm to get himself and friends out of class.*

1984 OLYMPICS

All of the excitement and enthusiasm that had been building since the 1976 Olympic Games was evident in Los Angeles, where the Summer 1984 Olympics were held. Athletes from all over the world finally got the chance to prove to themselves and the rest of the world who was the best. All who participated strived for personal goals, but most importantly to bring home the gold. Parades, parties and other special events were held to help our athletes celebrate their great victories.

SUBWAY VIGILANTE

A startling case that captured the public's attention was the case of the "subway vigilante" Bernard Goetz of New York City who decided to take a stand against violence in the subways when he was approached by four teenage boys who were carrying sharpened screwdrivers. Goetz supposedly took out his gun and shot, wounding each boy. This event aroused much controversy from the people and court system of New York City and throughout the entire country.

RE-ELECTION

In November, President Ronald Reagan was re-elected to his second, four-year term in the White House. Reagan had the majority of votes from every state except Minnesota, the home state of Fritz Mondale. Reagan was the oldest president elected to office, but his age did not stop his re-election.

1984-85 NEWS EVENTS

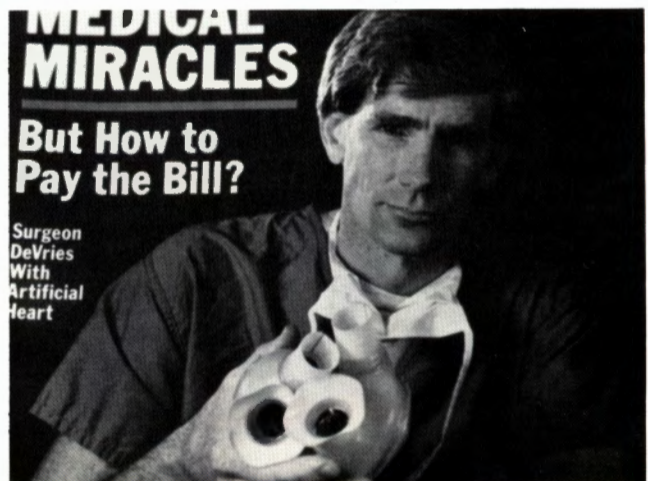

FIRST WOMAN ON TICKET

Geraldine Ferraro, a democrat, became the first woman vice-presidential candidate. This not only opened new doors for women, but it gave them another opportunity to prove themselves. Although Geraldine Ferraro and Walter Mondale lost the nomination, they introduced to the public a new attitude and opinion — a woman's!

STATUE OF LIBERTY

This year, the government began a 30 million dollar, two year restoration project to repair the weather corroded Statue of Liberty. This project was a symbol of American spirit and patriotism. Funds were donated from individuals and corporations from around the states.

USA FOR AFRICA

Forty-five vocalists joined together to raise money for thousands of starving Ethiopian children. Not only did their song, "We are the World," raise millions of dollars, but it reached the number one spot on the charts and remained there for five weeks. The group was not the first of their kind, however. Another group, Band-aid, published a song, "Let Them Know It's Christmas", to raise funds for a similar cause but they weren't quite as successful.

FASHION

Eye-catching outfits accented with vibrant new colors captured the attention of the fashion minded. Showing-off skin was in! Low cut backs and high cut skirts seemed to be the envy of all. Although, clothes weren't the only things to undergo change. Hair styles, for instance, seemed to be growing shorter for guys and girls alike.

MISS AMERICA 1984

For the first time in American history, the reigning Miss America Vanessa Williams was dethroned. Due to a scandalous photo session published in Penthouse Magazine she was forced by pageant officials to resign. The runner-up, Suzette Charles, was then given the title of "Miss America 1984" for the remaining two months. Miss Williams was not only the first to lose her title, but also the first black woman to become Miss America.

WORLD SERIES

The Detroit Tigers won the 1984 World Series for the first time since 1968. The Tigers took the series from the San Diego Padres, 4-1. Alan Trammell won the series Most Valuable Player award for outstanding defense and offense play. Other Detroit players who helped lead the way were Kirk Gibson, Lance Parrish, Lou Whitaker, Chet Lemon, Jack Morris, and Willie Hernandez. The Tigers win sparked excitement throughout the entire state. Fans who had waited since opening day last April could finally celebrate. Hats, T-shirts and banners were displayed everywhere as signs of spirit and happiness towards the World Champion Tigers.

TOP ALBUM AND MOVIE

Capturing the number one spot on the motion picture screen, and also on the music charts, was "Beverly Hills Cop". This comedy, starring Eddie Murphy, was the talk of all-young and old alike. The album featured such hit songs as "The Heat Is On" by Glen Frye and "Neutron Dance" by the Pointer Sisters.

MUSIC

Music charts this past year have been flooded by sounds of Madonna and Prince. Constantly competing for the number one spot, both musicians have a style very much their own. Madonna, with her unusual dress and lyrics, not only started a new sound in music, but in fashion as well. Prince, with his hit movie, "Purple Rain" and his sell-out concerts across the nation, stole the crown from last year's king, Michael Jackson.

GARY DOTSON RAPE CASE

An unusual case emerged this year involving a fake rape trial. Cathleen Webb, who had allegedly been raped by Gary Dotson, confessed that the rape had never taken place. Dotson was convicted of kidnapping and raping Webb in 1979 and had served six years of a 25 to 50 year prison term. Governor James R. Thompson of Illinois freed Dotson of the charges one month after Webb admitted the charges were false.

THE NEVER ENDING JOURNEY

*Life is like a long, winding road with its twists and turns,
And an unknown destiny around every corner.
Sometimes the road is bumpy and rough,
As the sea in a storm.
And sometimes it is smooth and serene,
As a day without wind.
Dark spots loom . . .
And beg you to end your long hard travels.
But if you are a careful driver,
The wonderful journey of life will last forever.
— Kari Krasuski*
