THE SENIOR CLASS
of
HOLT HIGH SCHOOL

Dedication

To Larned G. Goodrich in sincere appreciation of his faithful service to the school and the community, the fine example he has set for us, and his readiness to help us when asked, we dedicate the 1931 Lone Pine Annual.

FOREWORD

WE, OF THE SENIOR CLASS, have attempted to produce a book which would be reasonable in price, but of good quality, and which would serve as a memory book of our school days. We have tried to make it as interesting and as truly representative of the life of the school as possible. We hope you like it.

THE JUNIOR CLASS

THE OFFICERS of the Junior Class for this year were: Robert Tripp, president; Beatrice Dickerson, treasurer, and Amos Evans, secretary.

The class presented the play, "Crooks for a Month," which was quite successful. The Juniors entertained the Seniors at the annual Junior-Senior banquet at the Tee-Off Inn at Charlotte. This event and the class play were the most important activities of the Junior Class.

The class this year is composed of thirty-one members.

The Juniors are real active in athletics, several members of the class having gained positions on the football, basket ball and track teams this past year.

There are prospects for a large, active Senior Class next year and we expect to finish our high school days with a busy and happy year.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

THE SOPHOMORES of 1930-31 began the year with many interesting projects. Our advisor, Miss Borgman, has proved a splendid supporter to the interests of her students.

The "Sophomore Parrot," a school paper with the usual High School chatter and oddities which attract the youthful eye, was the first object of interest; then the Literary Club, which met each Friday, where bits of literature, humor, plays, and news were brought to our attention, but this soon lost its interest in the eyes of the "original sophs," whose cry for something new and different is a marked characteristic. Splendid chapel programs have been provided through the united efforts of the ambitious sophs.

The class officers for the year were: President, Elton Barnard; Vice-President, Benjamin Bassler; Secretary, Virgilene Levi; Treasurer, Evelyn Drumm. The class colors were blue and gold.

We wish to express our regret at the thought of losing our fellow students, the Seniors, but we wish each and every one of them unlimited luck and success in their careers. We regret the farewell, but we welcome the incoming Seniors and we, too, shall soon be placed in the same position. Bidding you farewell, we shall remain loyal "sophies"—until we meet again—Juniors!!!

FRESHMEN

WE, THE FRESHMAN CLASS, with our class advisor, Mr. Mann, find our first year of high school full of adventures, thrills, and opportunities.

Our class parties have proven to be great successes. One, a weenie roast, was held at Sycamore Creek. A Hallowe'en party, held at the school house, and one other, a Freshmen-Sophomore party, which was held at the school house, were greatly enjoyed.

Mrs. Ellis, our civics teacher, took our class to court at Mason. We also went through the jail. A little later in the year she took us to visit the Holt State Bank. Many biology field trips with Mr. Mann have been enjoyed.

In the field of athletics both girls and boys have proven themselves very successful. May they keep up the good work throughout their high school careers.

The class officers are: President, Robert Adcock; Vice-President, Ronald Scribner; Secretary and Treasurer, Claribell Helmker.

VALEDICTORY

Parents, teachers, and friends:

As valedictorian of the Senior Class I wish to thank all of you for providing a high school in this community. Undoubtedly we have much more reason to be grateful for the training which we have received than we realize, especially because it has cost us, directly, very little except the effort we have spent in study—and not too much of that.

What we have learned will prove invaluable in the years to come. English and literature will help us in the business world, in college, and in the use of our spare time. Civics and economics enable us to better understand our government, our duties as citizens, and sound economic policies. Algebra, geometry, and Latin will also be of value to us, particularly if we go on to college. History informs us as to what nations and peoples have done in the past and enables us to avoid making the mistakes which they made. Book-keeping and typewriting will prove to be great helps to those of us who enter the business world. Physics, chemistry, and biology give us a glimpse into the world of science. In fact, every one of our studies will aid us at some time and in some way.

Other phases of school life will prove to be just as valuable, if not more so. The athletic sports develop sportsmanship and healthy bodies, while the ability to cooperate and to get along with people developed in the school life and social affairs will be indispensable. We cannot thank you too much for these things.

Therefore, we wish to thank the school board and the teachers for their efforts and their aid, our parents and friends for their help and encouragement, and the taxpayers for furnishing us a school and equipment.

We hope by living up to our motto, "ONWARD," and by continuing to grow in wisdom and experience, to make ourselves worthy of the things you have done for us and to pass on that help with interest, to the ones who come after us.

By V. E. SMITH.

SALUTATORY

Friends and Classmates:

As a close to our high school career we enter Commencement activities. Through our high school years we have studied very hard and have had many happy experiences. Now that we are thus far we must be careful lest we think our toil is ended and our goal reached. But looking ahead we see the beginning of a new realm of life in which we shall try our luck. Looking at our motto we see the word "Onward." What does it mean to us? We must go onward battling with hardships and discouragements till we attain success. Quoting Farrington we find, "It's the way a man sticks to a thing that marks him as a success or a failure." We have stuck to our studies in high school and reached graduation, now let us stick to our work in life to gain success.

In behalf of the class I want to thank those who have worked faithfully with us and helped us when we were too discouraged to try again—our teachers. May they in the years to come see their efforts rewarded and may they be justly proud of our achievements.

Our parents we are indebted to for encouraging us and making it possible that we might go to school. May they be proud of us in the future and see their hopes for us fulfilled.

In behalf of the class here I welcome all of you to this program and hope you will enjoy it and consider it worth while.

By ROBERT LOTT.

CLASS HISTORY

THE FALL of 1918 was the beginning of our career in the Holt High School, which was then a three-roomed school.

Merle Pratt and myself are the only two members of the class who remember that year. Lewis Ahrens and A. I. Rich joined us the following year.

In the third grade came Robert Lott, one of our honor students from the Lott School of Holt.

Miss Elliott, our first, second and third grade teacher, and Mrs. Barnes, our fourth and fifth grade teacher, still remain here.

The year following this came Berniece Thompson, from a school southeast of Mason, to join us. During this year, 1923, our three-roomed school became so overcrowded it was necessary to build additional class rooms.

Again it became necessary that we enlarge our school in 1926, when more teachers were added to our staff. At the same time our ten-grade school was advanced to a twelve-grade school and placed on the accredited list.

The year following this our Valedictorian student, Victor Smith, entered our class from Lansing.

Three more of our students, Maner Nichols from Lansing, Robert Parker from Dewitt, and Gordon Chisholm, joined us in the seventh grade.

Geraldine Montroy entered our class the following year.

And then came the year 1927 when our class entered High School. Cloyd Taylor, Louise Lennon, Ruth Burchfield and Lila Larner came into our class, making a total of forty.

Many social activities were held during our Sophomore year. Class pins were purchased. Also, several of our boys excelled in athletics.

In the beginning of the year 1929-30, our Junior year, one member, Earl Nelson, was added to our class. Many interesting happenings occurred during the year. We enjoyed a fine party held at Mrs. Thurman's. In athletics we outclassed the others. Many of the members received letters and we were also victors in the inter-class basket ball tournament. We also sold candy at the school, which was managed very well by Victor Smith and Maner Nichols. During the second semester our time was taken up by preparations for the Junior play, "The Eighteen Carat Boob," which was a great success, and the annual Junior-Senior banquet, which was held at the Central Temple House at Lansing.

Then came the year of work and expense, our Senior year. At the beginning of the year 1930-31, four members left us—Maxine and Robert Chamberlain, now attending Mason High School; Lucille Spencer, attending at Rocky Ford High School, Rocky Ford, Colorado; and Helen Hart, who found it impossible to continue school. At the first of the year the Senior class was invited to a birthday party held at Mrs. Chamberlain's, in honor of Maxine. A very fine time was had by all. The remaining part of the semester was taken up by preparations for the Senior play, "The Wild Oats Boy." The play had to be postponed until the first part of the second semester, due to illness of some of the characters. We enjoyed a fine Christmas party held at Mrs. Ahrens. The semester was completed with examinations. After the Senior play was presented, which was a great success, the remaining part of the semester was taken up by the work on the Holt High School Annual, the second of its kind ever to be produced by any class in this school. This Annual was composed of sixty-four pages and of the most modern type. We all enjoyed a fine party at Mrs. Smith's, which was a surprise birthday party held in honor of Victor. The Senior Class enjoyed a fine party at Mrs. Ellis' home. With commencement, May 29, 1931, our High School career ended.

By MERLE PRATT and FLORENCE FLEMMING.

CLASS PROPHECY

WE HAD a class reunion last week. It was held at Mrs. Ellis' home in Lansing. Although we knew nothing of her plans, Mrs. Ellis had planned it ten years ago, when we were Seniors. We were greatly surprised and pleased when we received invitations to this party. And we never expected that all the class would get there. But they did. Some of them we could hardly recognize!

Lewis Ahrens has discovered a new process for making high-speed gasoline. It is evidently successful, as he arrived first. He uses this gasoline in both his Holt and Mason gas stations. Rumors are circulating in Holt regarding his engagement to a little blonde.

Lila Larner and Florence Flemming came in together. After attending Kalamazoo Normal, Lila worked up to the position of principal at Dimondale High School. All through High School days Florence planned to be an interior decorator and at present is established in Lansing.

After graduating from Michigan State College, Robert Lott taught at Cass Technical High at Detroit and is now professor of chemistry at Michigan State.

Soon Louise and Geraldine came. Louise became a graduate nurse at the St. Lawrence Hospital and took further training in Bay City. But they say she is planning on giving up nursing to join her husband on "The Rich Chicken Farm."

Jerry looks exactly as lively and full of fun as she did in High School. She is working part time at the telephone office and living with her husband on Ross-Common Avenue.

When Victor Smith came in, no one knew him. Slender Vic had grown to 200 pounds! He is now editor of the State Journal. For his hobby he has taken up landscape gardening.

Merle Pratt came in next, sober as a judge! He asked if this was the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis. We soon convinced him by our shouts that it was. He told us later that he is part owner of two drug stores in Flint.

It looked like the entire class was to be present. We heard a horn tooting in the drive. We all rushed to look out the window. The door of a Rolls-Royce opened and Maner Nichols stepped out. It looks as if he has made a great success of his truck farming.

Following a commotion in the hall, Cloyd Taylor stepped into the room. Buck studied at Michigan State and University of Michigan and is now physical-ed teacher and athletic coach at Lansing Central High.

Ruth Burchfield finally arrived. She has taken up painting and sculpturing as her hobby, but her regular occupation is stenographic work at the Capitol Building. She still believes that "singleness is blessedness."

Demands that A. I. entertain us were made as soon as he entered the room. He is a great comedian now on the stage. Everyone believes he will soon replace Charlie Chaplin!

Some one cried, "Here comes Prinny Thompson!" Berniece attended the Lansing Business University and became a private secretary. At present she is employed in the office at the Olds. Her motto still is "V. I. T. S. O. L.," or "variety is the spice of life."

Irving Parker thinks "milk" is worth more than all other foods put together. At least, so he tells us in his advertising campaign for the dairy company he is connected with. He is the manager of the company.

Gordon Chisholm has become a very successful business man. He is a partner at Vandervoort's Hardware. Anything connected with outdoor sports of any kind is interesting to "Chizzy."

Robert Parker, who always took part in the department of music in Holt High, has won fame by his musical ability. He is playing now with "Coon-Saunders Night Hawks" at the "Black Hawk Restaurant" in Chicago.

We were sure we wouldn't have the pleasure of seeing Earl Nelson, as it was getting late. But he came—late as usual! He is a newspaper reporter. Although you have to hurry sometimes at that job, there are no definite hours and this pleases Que.

In the gossip of the evening we heard about our dear teachers in High School.

Mr. Mann is the second Knute Rockne. Although the world mourned Rockne's death, Mr. Mann is rapidly taking his place. He is coach at the University of California.

Miss Bixby has given up teaching and established an "orphans home" in Saginaw, Michigan. She still has a weakness for Dodge automobiles.

Miss Borgman soon became tired of teaching and is now head librarian at the State Library in Lansing.

Mr. Goodrich is the only one of the five teachers who is still teaching. He is now superintendent of the schools in Detroit.

Our advisor all through High School, Mrs. Ellis, has given up teaching school and has settled down in a beautiful home in Lansing. She has taken up the teaching of golf as her hobby.

SENIOR POEM

*Oh ship of life, we've sailed with thee
Through all these happy years,
You have carried us through many a storm
Which has nearly raised our fears.*

*And now we end our happiest hours,
The hours we've spent in school,
And each a hand to the other lent
And learned the golden rule.*

*We now begin life's new journey
Where each must go his way,
And this our motto, ONWARD,
Shall guide us on our way.*

*And when our journeys are over
And each his task has done,
May we all meet once again
Beyond the setting sun.*

CLASS SONG

“31”

Tune of "There'll Be a Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight"

CHORUS:

Hail, Hail, to the Class of '31,
We have studied and our battle we have won,
Now we part and each must go his way,
To conquer and accomplish some day.

VERSE:

To the schoolhouse and our teachers we will bid a fond adieu,
And we'll not forget our classmates who have been so staunch and true,
We will journey on through life with each a task to do,
Let onward be our motto, it's one for me and you.

REPEAT CHORUS:

By ROBERT PARKER and A. I. RICH.

CLASS WILL OF 1931

WE, THE SENIOR CLASS of Holt High School, being aware that our High School days are ending, but being of sound mind and memory, do make and declare this to be our last will and testament in following to-wit:

First—We give, devise, and bequeath—Lewis Ahren's weakness for "blondes" to "Smoky" Guenther. (Here's luck, "Smoky.")

Second—With better success Robert Lott wills, to Gail Thorburn, the incident involved with the "Mysterious Ruler" in bookkeeping class and his red hair, "as per sample," to Stanley Miller.

Third—Earl Nelson bequeaths his loyalty to one girl to James Meissner, hoping that his choice is as good as Earl's.

Fourth—To Lloyd Hilliard, with the permission of Maner Nichols, goes tactfulness in skipping school.

Fifth—Irving Parker leaves to Robert Tripp the honor of being called the "Best Man," which was the result of a little misunderstanding between the two.

Sixth—Robert Parker wishes to leave behind his love for a certain "Sailor" to Russell Jessop. His musical talent he leaves to Tom Lennon.

Seventh—Merle Pratt leaves to Charles Rathbun his excess of physical strength; to Albert Wieland his six feet three inches of he-man.

Eighth—To William Coleman, with best of wishes, A. I. Rich leaves his athletic ability; his contortionist ability to Donald C. Smith.

Ninth—To Lloyd Hilliard also goes the abundance of Victor Smith's "A's." Victor also wishes to will his weakness for "chawing" on lead pencils to Clyde Parker.

Tenth—Cloyd Taylor leaves his taste for "knick-knacks" plus his habitual tardiness to Russell Jessop, and his genius for singing to Ellis Marshall.

Eleventh—Louise Lennon wishes to leave her popularity to Garnet Somerville, and her many hard luck stories to jolly Kitty Pratt.

Twelfth—We, most reluctantly, leave Jerry Montroy's everlasting humor to Virgiline Levi, and her adoration for Clyde Parker to Virginia Leyrer.

Thirteenth—Berniece Thompson leaves her weakness for a certain "Thorne" to Beatrice Dickerson, and her ability to shed tears to Florence Sieb.

Fourteenth—To Beatrice McQueen, with best wishes, we will Florence Flemming's art ability and bashfulness.

Fifteenth—Ruth Burchfield leaves her speed in typing to Mrs. Ellis' future typing classes, and her modesty to Betty Miller.

To Miss Bixby we will a handsome husband with straight black hair.

To Miss Borgman the acquaintance and friendship of Sinclair Lewis.

Mr. Mann is given the right to break the speed limit in his "T Model" Ford.

Mr. Goodrich is sincerely given the privilege to draw up a plan for a gymnasium for Holt Hi.

Mrs. Ellis is given the right to be a good, faithful wife and housekeeper.

We nominate and appoint as executors of this, our last will and testament, the Juniors.

In witness whereof, we, Lila Larner and Gordon Chisholm, to this our last will and testament, have hereunto set our hands and seal this 27th day of May, 1931.

JOKES

"I'll beat you up," said Mr. Goodrich's wife as she arose to get breakfast.

MRS. ELLIS to Bob Lott in bookkeeping class: "Why, this isn't right. Your gross profits are the same as your net profits."

BOB: "Oh, I wasn't planning to pay my debts."

JERRY: "Have I got any mail?"

MAILMAN: "What's your name?"

JERRY: "You'll find it on the envelope."

Vic entered a store. The clerk (Irving) said: "Can I show you a bicycle?"

VIC: "No. I'd rather see a cow."

CLERK: "You'd look funny riding a cow."

VIC: "I'd look funnier milking a bicycle."

TRUE

LILA: "Who was Muscle Shoals, anyway? A prize fighter?"

LILA (reading names from library blackboard): "Who are David Blaize and Lorna Doone? Do they go to school here?"

"Hey, Que, do you know Bob Parker?"

QUE: "I should say I do, I used to sleep with him."

"Roommate?"

QUE: "No, classmate."

JERRY: "Say, Louise, where do all the bugs go in the winter?"

LOUISE: "Search me."

MRS. ELLIS: "Earl, why are you late?"

EARL: "Because I didn't start early enough."

MRS. ELLIS: "Why didn't you start earlier?"

EARL: "Because when I started it was too late to start earlier."

Miss Bixby and Miss Borgman went for a tramp.
The tramp died.

BOB L. (being arrested): "But, officer, I'm a student."

OFFICER: "Ignorance is no excuse."

CONVENIENCE

MOTHER: "Willie, you've been a naughty boy. Go to the vibrator and give yourself a good shaking."

"Which kind of tires do you like best, balloon or high pressure?"

"I like balloons better."

"What kind of car have you?"

"I haven't any. I'm a pedestrian."

MISS BORGMAN, in Latin Class: "What conjugation is Moneo?"

RUS JESSOP: "Methodist."

MISS BORGMAN: "That will do, Russell. What tense is it?"

RUSSELL: "Pretense."

Says a contemporary: "The youth of former years was expected to say, 'Get thee behind me, Satan.' Nowadays the word is, 'One side, Nick, you're blockin' the road.'"

ANGRY DAD (to son in woodshed): "What's this? A folded up calendar in your breeches?"

SON, meekly: "Time will soften the blows, pop."

MR. MANN: "Richard Surato, your recitation reminds me of Quebec,"

DICK: "Why is that?"

MR. MANN: "Built on a bluff."

STUDENT COUNCIL

THE STUDENT COUNCIL of 1930-1931 was the first organization of its kind in the history of Holt High School. The Student Council consisted of mayor, alderman-at-large, clerk, and two members of each class. Members were as follows: Robert Tripp, mayor; Victor Smith, alderman-at-large; Donald Adcock, clerk; Robert Lott, Ruth Burchfield, Edward Premoe, Amos Wrook, Virgilene Levi, Elton Barnard, Robert Adcock and Mildred Keeney, aldermen. Either Mr. Goodrich or Mr. Mann was present at each meeting.

A number of achievements were accomplished by the Student Council, including the making of the Constitution, the Calendar of the High School, and providing for dancing in the school.

The Student Council of '30 and '31 are looking forward to next year and the years following when the Council shall be taken into the hands of the advancing students of the Holt High School, who will strive to carry on the tasks which the Constitution that the students framed in the previous year has provided for.

“THE WILD OATS BOY”

THE SCENE of this comedy is laid in the home of Uncle George, who had adopted two children, Judy and Eddie. Aunt Anne is the housekeeper.

A telegram announcing the death of Uncle George in a hotel fire was received. He left a very strange will in which Eddie was to receive $50,000, providing he was at home in bed at eight o'clock each evening for three months and that he married Judy.

Judy and Eddie have quarreled and she refuses to marry him. If she does not marry him, but marries Jake, another relative, instead, they will receive the money. If she marries neither, the money will be divided among the relatives.

The relatives are Cousin Prue, a widow; her son, “Trouty;” Uncle Seth, Cousin Jake, and “Chuck,” an ex-prize fighter.

Pat and Eve, friends of Judy, fall in love with “Chuck” and Jake.

Mose, the colored servant of the family, is much frightened at seeing the ghost of Uncle George.

Danny, a detective disguised as the cook, Nora, falls in love with Della, the maid.

Danny discovers that Jake is an embezzler, and arrests him. After the three months were over, and Judy and Eddie had made up their quarrel, it was discovered that Uncle Seth was Uncle George masquerading to correct Eddie of his wild habits.

JUNIOR PLAY

THE JUNIOR CLASS this year presented George F. Mountford's play, "Crooks for a Month." The plot dealt with the escapades of three college boys, who tried to make easy money by setting up a Hindu fortune telling temple.

Jack Yorke was played by James Meissner, Marty Copping by Amos Wrook, and Winfield Bentwood by Robert Tripp—the three college boys. The three girl friends were Elizabeth Miller, who played the part of Doris Bentwood; Beatrice Dickerson, Eunice Cassels, and Clara Tibbits, Hilda Fields.

James and Alice Bentwood, parents of Winfield and Doris, were played by Don Adcock and Gladys Langham.

Kenneth Davis took the part of Fosdick, a salesman in Bentwood's office.

CHORUS

THE HOLT HIGH SCHOOL CHORUS held an operetta at the High School Auditorium, January 28 and 29, 1931. The name of it was "The Crimson Eyebrows." All three acts took place in the emperor's palace garden in the flowery kingdom, several hundred years ago. Our stage was decorated with beautifully colored flowers, singing birds, paper umbrellas, and Chinese lanterns, which made a beautiful stage setting.

The characters were as follows: Princess Ting Ling, daughter of the former emperor, Ruth Froedtert; Ah Me, Ting Ling's cousin, Gladys Langham; Wang Mang, the usurper emperor, Wayne Stockwell; Ye Kang, the court astrologer (nicknamed Star Eye), Ed Premoe; Ko Moo, a distant relative of Ting Ling (nicknamed Old Buddha), Clara Tibbits; Fanchong, leader of the Crimson Eyebrows, Cloyd Taylor; Hing Lee, an officer of the court (in reality a spy of Fanchong's), Irving Parker; and Yen Chen, an accomplice of Wang Mang who impersonated "Neptune," Robert Tripp. The remaining girls were Chinese maidens, and the remaining boys, soldiers. The accompaniment and overture were played by Victor Smith. Miss Alberta Phillips directed the operetta. The money which the chorus received went to pay for the bass horn, which the school was buying.

Miss Phillips taught chorus during the first semester and a little of the last. When she left for college, Mrs. Hinckley was hired as teacher of the kindergarten and music.

UNDER the leadership of Miss Borgman the Latin Club was reorganized this year and has a larger membership than it has had in any previous year. There are about sixty members who enjoy, besides the daily recitations, the monthly social and business meetings. At these they have a Roman dinner, or Cena, followed by the study of Roman life, the playing of Roman games, and the singing of Roman songs.

In this manner the students become better acquainted with the language, customs and the habits of the ancient Romans.

TEST THIS RECIPE

A recent bride asked her husband to copy the radio recipe one morning. The husband did his best, but got two stations at the same time. One was broadcasting G. M. C. A. setting-up exercises and the other the recipes.

This is what he got: “Hands on hips, place one cupful of flour on shoulders, raise knees and depress toes, and wash thoroughly in one-half cupful of milk.

“In four counts raise both legs and mash two hard-boiled eggs in a sieve. Repeat six times. Inhale one teaspoonful of baking powder and one cupful of flour, breathe through the nose and exhale and sift.

“Attention! Jump to a stride, stand and bend the white of an egg backward and forward overhead, and in four counts make a stiff dough that will stretch at the waist. Lie flat on the floor and roll into a marble the size of a walnut.

“Hop backward and forward in boiling water, but do not boil into a stationary run afterward. In ten minutes remove from the fire and dry with a towel. Breathe deeply, put on a bath robe and serve with a fish soup.”

SCHOOL BANKING

IN THE YEAR 1923, the Holt Public School established a school banking system for the first eight grades. For a few years there was no school cashier. Lester Chandler was appointed to this position at the time of its creation.

This year Victor Smith is cashier, with Donald Wilson as assistant. The assistant becomes head cashier the succeeding year and a new assistant is appointed.

The regular bank day is Friday. The children bring money to the teachers, who count it and record it in the bank books. It is then sent to the two cashiers where it is checked over to see if it agrees with the deposit slips. Then it is taken to the bank. These two take care of the new accounts, also old books which have become filled or lost, are replaced. Each week the number of depositors, amount banked, number of children present, and the percentage of each room banking is tabulated. Any amount of money may be deposited.

This year the system used was "Thrift Inc.," being sponsored by the Holt State Bank. Although not a paying proposition, it helps create a spirit of thrift.

The amount deposited this year, according to the available records, is $355.66. The kindergarten had the highest percentage, which was 69 per cent. Their average weekly percentage was 45 per cent. The average of the school for the first eight grades was 19 per cent.

Due to the present economic depression, the withdrawals have exceeded the deposits.

THE SAFETY PATROL

THIS ORGANIZATION was established in 1929 and was sponsored by the Detroit Automobile Association. The first captain was Harry Barnard, who performed his duties very well. The Safety Patrol then had about twenty members who performed their duties equally well. The patrol was continued in 1930 with Robert Lott holding the honorable position of captain. This patrol increased its membership to thirty members, because of the new division, which was called the hall patrol. This kept order in the halls in the morning, at noon, and while the classes were passing.

In the following year, 1931, with Irving Parker acting as captain, we continued with the hall patrol with an increase of a few members. This has been a very successful year and we hope the patrol will continue with such good results.

DEBATING

THE RECORD of Holt's Debating Team this year exceeded that of last year in many respects. There were more students out for the team, larger audiences and more victories. The state question, quite a timely one, was: "Resolved, That National Chain Grocery Stores, Operating in the State of Michigan, are Detrimental to the People of the State."

The team as finally chosen was composed of Robert Lott, Robert Tripp and Amos Wrook, with Ethel Kinney as alternate. In the preliminary series Holt first met Okemos defending the affirmative argument, and won by an unanimous decision. Williamston provided the team for the second contest in which Holt upheld the affirmative side and in which our team won by a two to one decision.

In the third and fourth debates Holt was assigned the negative argument. The team met defeat at Leslie, but this was more than compensated when the team fittingly closed the season by defeating Bath by a score of two to one.

This is an enviable record for a school in which this activity is so young. With only one defeat in the entire season, and lacking but one point in winning a bronze shield, the team should indeed be congratulated.

ORATORY AND DECLAMATION

HOLT HIGH SCHOOL loyally carried on the tradition of the three previous years in the field of declamation, with a goodly number of aspirants venturing out. This year, in order to give the parents and general public an opportunity to be present, the local contest was held in the evening. The large audience was highly gratifying to the speakers. Beatrice McQueen, Vera Bouts, Russell Lott and Ethel Kinney did their best in declamation, and Robert Tripp represented the school in oratory. Russell Lott ran a close second to Ethel Kinney, who was awarded the "Losinger Declamatory Prize," presented by Mr. W. J. Losinger in honor of his wife, who was for six years an instructor in Holt High School.

At the sub-district contest, Ethel Kinney and Robert Tripp failed to place, but received fine dictionaries from the Detroit News.

Next year we hope as much interest will be shown as there was this past year.

"THE 18-CARAT BOOB"

THE CLASS of '31, then Juniors, presented the play, "The Eighteen-Carat Boob," very successfully. The plot dealt with the love affair of Jack Merry and Alice Bisnette. Jack was suspected of being the Crow, a criminal who had terrorized that section of the country.

Comedy was provided by the colored housekeeper and her husband, the chauffeur; "Dolly," supposedly from the country, and the squabbling of Kitty, who lisped, and Billy, who was terribly in love with her.

The cast was as follows:

JACK MERRY	Robert Chamberlain
ALICE BISNETTE	Lucile Spencer

FOOT BALL

THE gridiron prestige of Holt High was well upheld in the Fall of 1930. With only five letter men, a team was chosen from the twenty other candidates, with competition for positions, which gave the pigskin chasers a notable record during the season.

Captain Rich, who suffered from an injury all through the season, helped the fellows and did his part in the making of a successful team.

The season opened with a defeat by Charlotte, a school wholly out of Holt's class, but it showed that with experience we would have an equal chance with the competition of our county.

This practically green team of the season might well be called successful, losing but one game in the county, that to Williamston, by a very small score. Our most outstanding victory of the season was over the alumni, 25-0.

The following men are to be lost through graduation: Captain A. I. Rich, Cloyd (Buck) Taylor, Earl Nelson and Merle Pratt; also Lloyd Hilliard, who has played the limited number of seasons. These men will all be greatly missed among the fellows of the football squad.

Our season was ended by a football banquet given by the Athletic Association, when sixteen letters were given out to the following men: Taylor, Thorne, Surato, Pratt, Nelson, Love, Davis, Meissner, D. Adcock, Thorburn, Rich, Jessop, Evans, Robert Adcock, Wrook, and Gordon Chisholm, Athletic Manager.

Russell Jessop, our flashing fullback, was elected for the 1931 captaincy and we are looking forward to another successful season.

BASKET BALL--1931

WITH the splendid cooperation of Coach Mann and all the members of the team, Holt Hi completed a very successful year. The squad was victorious in eight out of the twelve scheduled games. Our opponents, Okemos, Williamston, Stockbridge and Mason, defeated us in the other four only after very hard battles and by very narrow margins.

A second team also was formed and has chalked up quite a record, having been defeated in only one game out of a total of ten.

Rigid practice was started just before Christmas vacation and continued until a fine team was developed. A spirit of real sportmanship and cooperation existed throughout the year. Holt Hi can justly be proud of the work of these men in upholding her colors and ideals.

The following members were awarded letters: Robert Adcock, Robert Lott, Edson Wilkins, Elmore Kendall, Kenneth Davis, Russell Jessop, James Meissner, Cloyd Taylor and Paul Jackson.

Members of the second team were: Donald Youngs, Stanley Miller, Russell Lott, Lester Laskowsky and Elton Barnard.

"Yes, ma'am," replied the polite stationer, "that is the very lowest price we can sell it for."

"How is it that I can get one just like it at Brown's for 90 cents?"

"I cannot say, madam. Perhaps Brown has taken a fancy to you. He is a widower and you are very beautiful and—yes, ma'am, one dollar. Thank you."

TRACK NEWS FOR 1930

THE track squad of last year was a team not exceptionally strong but one that caused plenty of trouble for the rest of the teams. While losing they gave every indication that 1931 was to be Holt's big year in track as they lost only a few men, have many new men coming in, and last year's men are more experienced.

They lost the county track meet last year by a few points behind Okemos, then the state champions. In the regional meet at Ypsilanti, the relay team, composed of Harry Barnard, A. I. Rich, Eugene Brazee and Donald Adcock, took first place from a very classy field of entries, while Donald Adcock took a first place in the 100-yard dash and a second in the 220.

Teams with more experience shut both Don and the relay team out of places in the state meet.

But with what we have, here's to a great year for 1931.

By CLOYD TAYLOR.

TRACK 1931

HOLT High School's 1931 Track Team distinguished themselves creditably by overwhelming their opponents in the Annual Ingham County Track and Field Meet at Michigan State College, Friday, May 8, 1931.

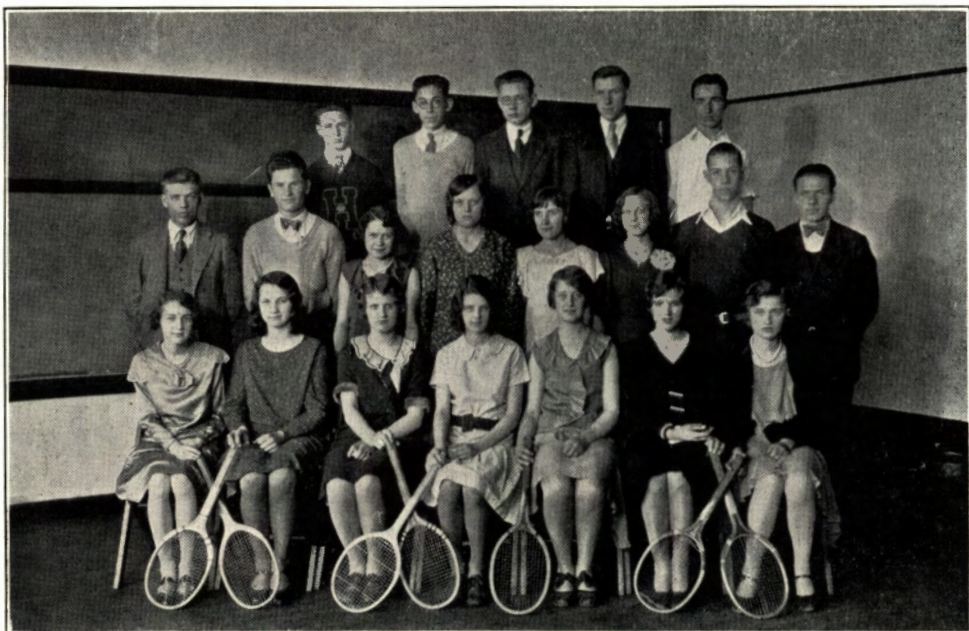

Presenting an array of material never seen before in the history of Holt High School, men were placed in twelve out of the thirteen events. Team strength was certainly evidenced in that only three first places were credited to Holt in all of the events but second, third, and fourth places were in abundance as was designated by the number of ribbons appropriated by our boys.

Although the trophy earned is not a permanent one, we are cherishing the hope that before the next two years pass, we may lay unquestioned claim to it.

Those on the championship team are:

Capt. Rich, Robert Adcock, E. Kendall, Barnard, Thorburn, Robert Lott, Russell Lott, Tripp, Taylor, Pratt, Larner, Jessop, Marshall, S. Davis, K. Davis, Richard Adcock, Jackson, Premoe, and Hunt.

By CHARLES MANN.

Back Row—Amos Wrook, Donald Smith, Victor Smith, Robert Lott, Wayne Stockwell.
 Second Row—Supt. Goodrich, Coach; Donald Adecock, Ruth Burchfield, Dorothy Murray, Claribell Helmker, Clara Tibbits, Russell Jessop, Russell Lott
 Front Row—Eva Parker, Eleanor Jackson, Eppa Ross, Dorothy Furney, Vera Bouts, Bernice Short, Beatrice Dickerson

TENNIS

IN 1928 A TENNIS CLUB was formed under the auspices of Leonard Andrews and L. G. Goodrich, and a court built on the property back of the Presbyterian Church. As the sport has been growing steadily in popularity since that time, it was decided in 1930 to organize a tennis team to replace baseball which had proved too expensive for the Athletic Association's meager finances. A meeting was called and a group of eight boys and six girls responded vigorously. Under the apt tutoring of Mr. Goodrich, who had had considerable experience in the field, tryouts were arranged and the exceedingly green squad was developed into a very commendable organization.

Our first meet was with Haslett, whom we routed royally by winning every event. We were not spoiled by overconfidence, however, and further honored ourselves by overcoming Okemos. The next week Webberville forfeited the match because of an epidemic which caused the school to be closed, and the next we met the strong Dansville team which dealt us our only defeat, giving us second place in the county league.

Those honored by positions were: Elizabeth Jackson, women's singles; Hazel and Lucille Spencer, women's doubles; Russell Jessop, men's singles; Victor Smith, Irving Parker and Eugene Brazee, men's doubles.

The 1931 season brought out a much larger group of enthusiasts and promises to be an unrivaled success. So far this season Vera Bouts has played women's singles; Ruth Burchfield, Bernice Short and Vera Bouts, women's doubles; Russell Jessop, men's singles, and Victor and Donald Smith and Russell Jessop, men's doubles.

By RUSSELL JESSOP.

In planning for convenience IN CITY OR COUNTRY HOMES

CONVENIENCE! Yes, convenience for the designer because Piatt Oil-burning Water Heaters combine Beauty, Adaptability and Utility. Piatts fit anywhere. Their brilliant beauty adds a colorful touch wherever they may be put. And their utility suggests their use not only in homes but also in schools, churches, garages, factories—in any building that requires hot water. Various requirements for volume are met by various sizes of Piatt Heaters.

For the owner, there can be no greater convenience than that provided by Piatt Water Heaters. Ordinary furnace oil is the fuel. Quantities of steaming hot water are supplied automatically any time—day or night. Merely light a Piatt. It burns without wicks, pressures or vacuum. No springs, weights, gas, electricity or glass containers are used. The Piatt burner operates on a new principle of combustion, approved by the Underwriters' Laboratories. Safety is one feature. Outstanding operating economy is another.

Truly, a Piatt Oil-burning Water Heater in a building provides both usefulness and economy. A full investigation is advisable. Suggestions about sizes, locations and mechanical layout will be supplied upon request—and without obligation, of course.
